

Boyne Falls has first DARE class graduation

Members of the Boyne Falls Seventh Grade class were the first students to graduate from the D.A.R.E. program in Charlevoix County last week. The program is designed to teach children about all kinds of drugs and how to say no effectively to the use of them. 27 students from Mrs. Hellman's class showed off their new D.A.R.E. tee shirts, courtesy of the Boyne USA Resorts. General Manager Art Tebo was the guest speaker at the graduation and he told the children what they have learned will be very important later in life. Tebo said his resort company was involved because of job performance. "Drugs cost time and money and adds to the cost of production, whether it's a ski resort or a manufacturer. Many members of the law enforcement agencies were in attendance at the ceremony. The class was taught by Sheriff Department Deputy Sherry Martin and Boyne City police officer Randy Howard. D.A.R.E. stands for Drug Abuse Resistance Education. Other school districts will be starting the program next year within the county. Charlevoix also had a graduating class this year but their ceremony was held the next day.

County voters to decide millages, board members

Voters in all Charlevoix County school districts, Boyne City, Boyne Falls, Charlevoix and East Jordan will be going to the polls next Monday to pick school board members and giving their answer to the many millage questions on each ballot.

The annual election will see four millage questions in Boyne City, two in East Jordan, two in Charlevoix, and none in Boyne Falls.

Running for school board seats in Boyne City and Boyne Falls will not be much of a contest as all the candidates are assured of a spot on their boards.

In Boyne City Robin Hissong and Eleanor West are running for the two spots on the board to replace Gary Winter and Bill Christensen. West previously served on the board between 1980 to 1985 until she was defeated in the 1985 election. Hissong has never held an elected seat and this is her second try for the board. She ran last year for the first time and was not elected.

In Boyne Falls, Bruce Giem is the only one running for the two seats open on the board. Giem will be replacing either Andy Czerkies or Jim Churchill who have decided not to run for another term.

In Charlevoix, six are running for two spots on the board. Larry Levengood, Jon Myers, Janet Rathke, Phyllis Hess, and William Gengle are going up against incumbent Ron Moore who is trying for a second four-year term.

In Charlevoix, six are running for two spots on the board. Larry Levengood, Jon Myers, Janet Rathke, Phyllis Hess, and William Gengle are going up against incumbent Ron Moore who is trying for a second four-year term.

In East Jordan, five are running for the two seats open, previously held by Tom Galmore Jr. and Shirley Bauer. Both decided not to seek an additional term.

Those running include, Michael Burr, Barbara Malpass, Fritz Healey, Gary Ciszewski and Kevin Steely.

On the millage issues, Boyne City voters will be asked to approve four ballot questions. The first will ask the voter to approve a 22.43 mill request for operation which reflects a small 1.13 mills in addition to the renewal of the present 21.3 mills presently being assessed.

The second issue is asking the voter to approve funds to pay for school transportation. That issue is asking for 1.7 mills. The third request would provide .8 mill and if approved, would allow the school districts to purchase and replace needed equipment and school furniture.

All three requests are for three years.

The fourth question asks to allow the school system to collect the full authorized millage without the reduction due to the amendment to the state constitution.

In Charlevoix, the millage request was reduced from a previous special election issue to only 1.8 mills instead of the 3 mills previously asked. If approved, that would be assessed for two years. A second issue, the renewal of 15.25 mills for one year, along with a reduction in millage due to the facility improvement issue expiring, would leave the millage issue the same as it has the past year.

In East Jordan the two requests are for a renewal of the current 22.7 mills and an increase of 1.5 mills that would allow the school system to hire more teachers to cope with the growth they are facing in the elementary and middle school levels.

If approved, the school system will decide which of the ten types of teachers they will want as the issue will not allow for all of teachers to be hired.

New area arts organization gets name

A new arts organization established last month now has an official name and an exciting vision of how it will serve communities in the East Jordan area and Antrim County.

At a May 31 meeting at the East Jordan Family Health Center, the interim board voted unanimously to call the outreach group the Jordan River Arts Council. Interim President Fran Pletz expressed the hope that the name would convey the organization's intention to offer programs for residents beyond the city of East Jordan, where the Council will be headquartered.

The Council has been given an opportunity for a $1-a-year lease on the present Jordan Valley District Library building at 301 Main Street, East Jordan, after the library moves to a new building in late autumn.

Board members envision the building serving as the focal point for classes and workshops in various areas, including visual arts, writing, and performing arts. Programs such as concert series, live theatre, and artists' exhibits and demonstrations could be offered not only at the building itself, but at other community facilities, perhaps in cooperation with other like-minded organizations.

Board members said the group hopes to serve not only people in and around East Jordan, but all Charlevoix and Antrim County residents who find it difficult to use the services of Petoskey's Crooked Tree Arts Council, which has offered encouragement and support to the new group.

How to make their enthusiastic plans materialize was the topic of a presentation presented Tuesday night by Joann Ricci, community arts consultant for the Michigan Association of Community Arts agencies.

Dancers in full dress participate in festivities at East Jordan's 7th Annual Day of the Eagle Pow Wow. The Anishinabe Inter-Tribal Council, Inc., sponsored the two-day event held Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Over 7,000 people came to watch or participate in the celebration held at the end of Mill Street.

Detour problems raised at meeting

Detours and the traffic problems they are causing was voiced as a concern Tuesday at the weekly noon meeting of the Boyne City Commissioners.

The detours, caused by the work being done on the infrastructure, have really caused problems, according to some residents who complained.

City commissioners said after the meeting that the problems are only temporary and will be with the city for the next couple of years as they work on the sewers, roads and waterlines. "But, when it's completed," said Commissioner Bill Grimm, "the city will be a showplace of the north."

When asked by other commissioners as to what could be done, especially around plant shift changes, Police Chief John Talboys said that he would remove some of the stop signs on certain roads to try to improve traffic flow. Commissioner Steve Moody suggested temporary four-way stop signs.

The matter was turned over to the city engineer to try to find a solution.

The engineer will also be asking See Detours/Page 5

News Briefs

Boyne City roads will see another coating of brine as the city works to keep down the dust during the repair work this summer. The brine is expected by the end of the week and will be applied as soon as it arrives.

Lifeguards will start working today at the new Boyne City beach, according to city officials. They will be on duty for the rest of the summer.

Special four week swimming classes will begin June 13 at the East Jordan Community Pool. Offered are classes in lifesaving, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. Students must be 15 years or older and a good swimmer. Cost is $45. Aquatots for children 6 months old to two years and a parent meet on Monday and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 10:30, pre-beginner for children 3 and 4 years old and parent from 10:30 to 11 a.m. with a cost of $10 for either. Synchronized swim for teens and adults will be from 11 to 12:30. Preregistration is required as class sizes are limited. A second session will start July 11. For more info, call the pool at 536-2250.

Membership of the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild are urged to attend a special meeting Monday, June 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital board room to discuss the future of the Showcase Gift Shop. Several new policies will be discussed regarding the operation of the Showcase.

A special tree seminar will be held June 14th at the Boyne City Hall Commission Chambers starting at 9:15 a.m. A tree expert will be coming to explain proper trimming techniques along with pruning and planting. Call the County Extension office for more details.

THE MATTER OF PROBATE

Probate refers to the legal procedure that ensures the payment of the deceased's debts to his creditors and taxes due to the federal and state governments. The probate court oversees the proper allocation of the estate to its rightful beneficiaries. It also attends to the many peripheral matters involving the distribution of the estate. In fact, many matters often insinuate themselves into probate administration which needlessly prolong it, as well as frustrate those involved. That is why it makes proper sense to have a will drawn and an estate constructed in such a way as to avoid needless delay. A knowledgeable lawyer can suggest an arrangement of assets that will ensure that probate will be a less complex matter for the survivors.

Because the probate process is a matter of public record, it may encourage illegitimate claims.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

I always thought that weather like we are having was slated to happen in July and August, the traditional times for vacations.

But, although I don't have air conditioning, I am thinking cooler thoughts to help get me through the day.

Like reading a brochure about snowskiing at some summer camps held on the top of Mt. Hood in Oregon.

Or reading about ice fishing in a blizzard in some magazine that was left in the doctors office and having a dateline of January, 1978.

But barring that type of mind swaying, I will probably get another glass of pop and try that old remedy of putting a cold pebble in my mouth.

Someone once said that would cure a case of dry mouth that the heat can cause.

After I put the pebble in, I will then turn on the sprinkler system and find a beach chair and go sit under the spray.

Wait a minute, I can't do that. I just remembered I bought those new kind of impulse sprayers that turn around instead of a sprinkler like when I was kid.

I think I still have one of those though, so I will have to search through the hot attic to see if I can find it.

Then, I just know I will be ready to enjoy the water like many of the kids with their eight dollars swimming pools their mothers set up in the back yard.

With my luck, someone will see me in the pool, with my legs sticking out, and ask me to go back to work.

All I can say is that I feel like a prisoner with a rock pile. Hopefully, I will learn how to build that rock wall. I would really like to do it a little like Tom Sawyer whitewashed the fence, but with the help of a neighbor, I will still have to do quite a bit of the work.

If only the sun would slow down a little so the rocks wouldn't be so hot.

Maybe I should just remember having to shovel snow.

How we see the issues

If there is one thing that is certain, like death and taxes, (school millage issues fall into the latter), if the issues fail, the school boards will come back to try to appeal to voters to agree with them.

In the case of Boyne City, voters are being asked again to support operational millage. Charlevoix school district voters are also being asked a second time.

And if the issues fail again, we have been told that the school systems will either run out of money in September, have to curtail all and various programs, or come back to the voters for yet another election.

Frankly, we are getting a little tired of the scare tactics implied.

We do urge a yes vote in Boyne City on the first proposal which would give the school system only slightly more than what they had to operate on last year. But we have many concerns over the rest of the proposals on the ballot.

In Boyne, issue number two will ask for money to provide transportation. We feel that is asking the voters for a hand-out, especially when we see either overcrowded busses on some runs, and a total waste on other runs.

School officials say if they don't get this proposal passed, there will be no transportation, citing field trips, athletic trips and other uses. We say, fine, if the school administration cannot find enough money to provide for field trips, or athletic contests, then maybe they should take it out of their own salaries or the teaching salaries. Either way, the school should provide rudimentary transportation.

The third question asks the voters to approve money to buy or replace school furniture and equipment. Part of the equipment that the school system wants to replace are things like computers in the elementary school.

We find a lot of fault with teaching computer usage in the elementary level as well as many other levels the school curriculum dictates.

First, there is absolutely no need to teach basic programming on any computer. Computer programs can be purchased easier and cheaper that will do exactly what is needed. Those interested in programming should take the classes in a college. If anything is needed towards computer literacy, it is the need to teach typing skills and they can be taught along with writing skills using machines that are a whole lot cheaper than computers that become obsolete the minute they are purchased.

We also wonder why they need to purchase desks and why they can't maintain what they have. We are recommending a no on this issue.

The fourth issue will allow the school to collect the maximum amount of money allocated by millage. In a word, work around the Headlee Amendment which will allow the schools to collect more. The way it works today is that if the amount of money raised is higher than a percentage, the school will have to roll-back the amount of millage collected. If this is approved, there will be no roll-back and the schools will then collect more money. The issue can be confusing as you read the ballot question since it refers to the state constitution of 1963. The Headlee Amendment was added to the constitution several years ago while the constitution was approved in 1963. We think this should be approved by the voters.

In Charlevoix, the millage request was cut in half by the school board and we think this time should be approved.

In East Jordan, two issues face the voters. The first would be to renew the present operational millage which we think should be approved. The second is asking for an additional 1.5 mills so the school system can add teachers in the lower levels where they are facing growth. We think that should not be approved. School administrators in that area should find a better and more cost effective way to deal with growth than just the hiring of additional personnel.

In all cases, Boyne City, Charlevoix, and East Jordan, voters should ask themselves if the administrators are doing everything they should to make their programs cost effective. In all cases, we think more can be done.

Marshall Sayles

Herewith is a question and answer session. Those who do not care for these sessions may go and watch the progress being made on Boyne City's sewer system. Everyone should have something to do.

Q. What happened to young folks getting married and living happily ever after?

A. In today's society "ever after" is too boring.

Q. What happened to teachers who were as much afraid of the superintendent as the students were?

A. They formed a union.

Q. What happened to making whiskey in a barrel and letting the neighbors have a sip now and then?

A. Laws were passed so the state and federals could get in on the act.

Q. What happened to couples eloping in the middle of the night?

A. Have you checked the price of a ladder lately?

Q. What happens to the money the state makes off lotteries?

A. It goes to schools so teachers can tell students that gambling does not pay.

Q. What happened to common folks making startling achievements as in the old days?

A. I don't know. But a fellow said the other day that aspirin tablets and the Democrats were the two most outstanding achievements in the history of America.

Q. What happened to people getting married and staying married for the rest of their lives?

A. Modern society seems to have come up with a better idea.

Q. What happened when young couples decided to live together without marriage?

A. It ended civilization as our grandparents knew it.

Q. What happened to mailmen delivering mail to houses twice a day in Boyne City?

A. The post office said the price of shoes put a stop to it.

Q. What happened to not buying a used car from Richard Nixon?

A. Times change. Today we are not buying a used car from Attorney General Ed Meese.

Q. What happened to kids who dropped out when you were in school?

A. They grew up and ran for the schoolboard.

Q. What happens to people who decide to become newspaper columnists?

A. It destroys any chance for them to obtain honest work.

Letters

Proud of children's achievements—wants advantages for them

Editor,
This letter is directed to the voters of the Boyne City School District (especially the parents of our school children) in regards to the upcoming school millage.

In order to maintain what we have right now in our school system (excluding transportation,) we have to vote yes on Proposal 1, the 21.3 operational mills and the 1.13 additional mills.

I have heard many community citizens express their satisfaction of the band growing and becoming involved with the community activities and, most importantly, how much the kids like being part of the band. I know as an elementary school parent, I love hearing my child sing in the choir. It makes me feel proud along with her grandparent, friends and neighbors. Last year and this year, I was extremely impressed with the many talents of every student in our school. Each student in our school system had something displayed in the Spring Fair in the Park held in the High School. These are some of the things that we will not be able to enjoy from our children should the millage fail, plus the biggest loss will be what our children lose.

With the passage of proposal 1, we will be able to keep our academic enrichment program, which provides a way to meet the needs of academically talented students and those needs are as great as the needs of students who receive special educational services. Along with this are our school counselors whom we could lose. These are very important people in our schools. We unfortunately have many children who benefit greatly from these dedicated people. I know personally from being involved in the elementary school, almost every day, our counselor, Wendy Sewell has provided so much for many kids and parents to help keep some sunshine in their world.

Since 1985, when my daughter started kindergarten, she has had the benefit of classroom sizes averaging 20 to 25 students. I have had the benefit of being a volunteer classroom aide. With first-hand knowledge I can see how much more the children receive from their teachers who are able to give more to each individual child. After all, each child is different and requires different teaching techniques. This applies to all grade levels. For instance, according to the Metropolitan Achievement Tests our students perform higher than the National average.

In order to keep our children at this level with the National averages, we need to give them the current information included in up-to-date text books and library materials.

I have lived in Boyne City since 1973, I am extremely proud to be part of the community and I am extremely proud of our Boyne City schools. I would like my daughter, as well as your children, to be given the opportunity to be academically prepared to live competently and competitively in our society. I don't want to see us short-change our children's future by denying them a good education while we're trying to change our method of financing our educational system.

On proposal 2, a yes vote would provide our schools with school bus transportation. This includes all transportation to and from school, field trips, and athletic events. I know this is a very important aspect to many of our parents, especially those who live out of town and are working parents.

When you vote yes on Proposal 3, we will finally be able to replace thirty-year-old furniture and badly needed equipment. This adds to a smooth running system.

Approval of Proposal 4 would allow the school district to levy the Maximum authorized allocated millage and would prevent the school district from losing $21,234 for one year. This proposal would not add any additional taxes.

So please, let's all get out and vote yes on June 13 for our school millage.

Says educators are crying "wolf"

Editor,
So now they're threatening Boyne City school area voters (with the subtlety of a rocket blast-off) with no transportation for kids. Also, they're trying hard to confuse the area voters by asking her/him to by-pass the Michigan constitution, which seemingly wasn't necessary last March. And on the same deceptive ballot (when carefully figured) they're really only knocking off 0.17 (not even two tenths of a mill) from the March rip-off propositions. And as for their January 5th bonding scam, tradition has again dictated the usual dishonest methods.

But then, to deliberately mislead elected school board members and voters into OK'ing one "educational" falsehood after another, over the last eight years, has been carefully practiced by Boyne City's hired school officials, and many teachers with the full cooperation of their so-called "associations".

These self-serving schemes are presented by school officials as: "desperate" needs, as "urgent" needs, and-of course-as "unforeseen" needs for "more teachers' aides (there appears to be more money available than brains), more classrooms (the classic lament), and more et cetera, et cetera, et cetera.

Educators don't seem to be happy unless they're crying "Wolf".

The pattern is that of an out-and-out property taxpayer swindle.

School officials and many teachers operate under the pretense that our children will suffer irredeemable harm if we parents are mean and uncaring enough to vote "No" to their every proposal. Thus, every single election, they're out to make us parents feel as though we're the bad guys; naturally, the school educators always cast themselves as the good guys who can and will solve the distressing problems with the bad guys' money.

Yeah, sure.
But never within the mold of a long term, anticipatory budget.

So, we who will pay the freight must insist the "good guys" shape up. Our only leverage is the ballot. Sure, we all know dozens of ways that school spending can be lessened—a lot. That's not the problem now. The problem is persuading the "good guys" that costs be cut. Unfortunately, these "Wolf" cry-babies misunderstand constantly the word "No" (They say "No" to most reasonable expenditure of all millage loot, but demand-and keep insisting via endless ballot "offerings" - that area voters, in the long run, never get to say "No" to them in terms of reasonable results).

Therefore, it's time to help correct a very spoiled, extraordinarily expensive, and tiresomely pompous/alooof school system.

It's easy.
It will save you money.
This June 13th, vote "No".

One of the bad guys,
Karl Waldner

GRADUATION AND BRIDES

At graduation time I have noticed that the mother of the graduate has the problem of "What am I going to feed the out of town friends and relatives who are here to view all the "Pomp and Circumstance." The graduates themselves will no doubt be home just long enough to change their attire, then off to a party.

During the years when my grandchildren were graduating we found that it was necessary to have a big pot of soup or stew on hand for a quick meal. You will need something like chili, makings for tacos are always welcomed, also a couple of pans of lasagna and/or baked beans; all made ahead. Here is a suggested menu for the aunts, uncles, cousins and grandparents after the graduation ceremony.

Chili Beef Soup
Potato Salad and Cottage Cheese (from the Deli)
Navy Cake or other fancy one (from the bakery)
Favorite family beverages

CHILI BEEF SOUP

You will probably want to double this recipe.

1 pound ground beef
1 large clove garlic minced
1 to 2 tablespoons chili powder
1 pouch Onion Mushroom soup and recipe mix
¾ cup water
1 (16 oz.) can kidney beans
1 can (16 oz.) tomatoes, cut up
Sliced avocado
Shredded cheddar cheese

In a 3-quart saucepan over medium heat, cook beef with garlic and chili powder until browned, stirring to break up meat. Pour off fat.

Stir in soup mix, water, kidney beans and tomatoes. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat to low; cover and simmer 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Garnish with avocado and cheese. Makes 5 servings. From our "Church News"

NAVY CAKE

from Sally Shively

2 eggs
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup hot water
1 cup oil
1 teaspoon vanilla

2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
½ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking soda

Mix all liquid ingredients, then add all the dry ingredients, beat until smooth.

Bake at 350 degrees in a 9 x 11 x 2 inch pan for 40 minutes.

FROSTING

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 square of chocolate, cut up
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
5 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix the sugar and cornstarch, then the chocolate and salt, then the boiling water. Cook until mixture thickens. Remove from heat, add the butter and vanilla. Spread on cake.

If you have a bride's shower you will want delicate, fancy and pretty foods for the glowing bride. Here is a suggested menu for your happy bride.

Heavenly Fruit Dip
Fresh Fruit
Pineapple cheese ball
Crackers
Brides Cake
(decorated by you or from the bakery)

To start you can have a fruit dip which is whipped cream folded into a pineapple sauce and served with fresh fruit for dipping. You can have any fresh fruit in season cut into wedges and sliced for dipping. Peaches, nectarines, grapes, apples, plums, whole strawberries are some suggestions. It is a good idea to sprinkle the fruit with lemon juice to prevent it from discoloring.

HEAVENLY FRUIT DIP

½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup pineapple juice
1 egg beaten
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Combine first 5 ingredients in a heavy saucepan; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Let cool completely; fold in whipped cream. Serve with fresh fruit. Makes about 2 cups.

This pineapple cheese ball with your favorite crackers or chips will be the perfect accompaniment for the fruit and dip.

PINEAPPLE CHEESE BALL
2 (8 oz.) packages cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ cup drained, crushed pineapple
2 teaspoons seasoned salt
2 cups chopped pecans, divided
Fresh fruit to garnish

Beat cream cheese until smooth; add green pepper, onion, pineapple, seasoned salt, and 1 cup pecan chopped nuts, mixing well. Shape into a ball; roll in remaining pecans. Chill 1 to 2 hours; garnish with fresh fruit and serve with assorted crackers.

For years social scientists wore themselves to a frazzle writing books and appearing on television in order to tell the American people what's wrong with TV watching and why it will be the ruination of them, both individually and as a nation. They've not said much on the subject lately, though, which is not to say that critical analysis of TV programs and the results of watching same are not being covered, because they are. But the work is being done by those in a whole different field. And the conclusions they've reached are mostly a whole lot different too.

The Annenberg School of Communication of the University of Pennsylvania has two projects in progress on the subject. One of them has been going on for more than 20 years, the Cultural Indicators project. Its object is to find out whether long-term watching of TV dramas influences viewers as to their beliefs and actions.

Over the years, graduate students have spent countless hours watching prime-time TV dramas and analyzing them as to what each is about, what its moral value is, and the traits of the characters involved. The students record their views which go into a data base. Then a questionnaire is prepared and sent out to a selected sample of people to get their impressions of these shows and whether they see them as how life really is or only how it is in the shows. Included with the TV questions are questions about the respondents themselves. The information requested deals with the age, sex, income group, race, education, etc., of the answerer as well as how much TV he or she watches and which programs. The Annenberg Television Archives project requires students to research the after-effects of watching TV in much the same way. But it has on hand 95% of the scripts of the prime-time TV dramas aired since 1976.

The Dean of the Annenberg School of Communications, George Gerbner, says that the conclusions of the research so far show that the differences in values held by people due to race, sex, income, etc., don't get altered by occasional TV watching. But when it comes to those who watch TV dramas a lot, the values of people from different walks of life grow less distinct, slide closer together.

Gerbner denies that watching criminal acts on TV turns people to criminal deeds. He does say it makes them sense the world as more violent and they tend to arm themselves accordingly, which some might see as even more alarming.

Gerbner does concede that "TV has one controlling value: instant gratification." This requires that in whatever time allotted for the show, the problems of the characters involved are neatly solved. Of course, in real life, people often can't even find their car keys in such a jig time.

That no really bad results show up in the findings of the Annenberg projects, even for heavy TV watchers, should cheer up social scientists. And the families of heavy TV viewers can take a more philosophic view of them. They can cite the fact that while couch-potatoing isn't a noble endeavor, still it's handy to know where the practitioner of same can be located when it's time to sit down to dinner.

NOTICE-PUBLIC HEARING
BOYNE CITY ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
Monday, June 20, 1988
5:05 p.m.
Commission Chambers - City Hall

Pursuant to rules and regulations as set by the Boyne City Zoning Ordinance concerning the granting of variances the Boyne City Zoning Board of Appeals has scheduled a Public Hearing for Monday, June 20, 1988 at 5:05 p.m. in the Commission Chambers of City Hall, 319 N. Lake Street, to consider the following variance requests:

The request is from Walter D. Coyle, owner of the former Barrett's of Boyne Building, 202 S. Lake Street, Lots 90, 91, 92, property tax code No. 15-051-445-090-00.

Under the Zoning Ordinance, Article V - Schedule of Regulations, Section 5.10, requires a total height of a building not to exceed 35 feet and a total number of stories in a building not to exceed 2½ stories.

Mr. Coyle is requesting that a variance be considered to be granted to allow him to construct Phase II of this building plan to 36 feet in height and allow him to have 3½ stories.

More details and a location map of the lot in question is available for review at the City Clerk's Office. Every property owner situated within 300 feet of this area is being notified via the U.S. Mail of the Public Hearing.

All interested persons are invited to attend the Public Hearing and participate in the discussion for or against the granting of this variance. Additional information is available at the City Hall during regular business hours or call (616) 582-6597.

NOTICE IN CHANGE OF MEETING TIME OF THE BOYNE CITY PLANNING ADVISORY BOARD

Notice is hereby given that the Regular Monthly Meeting of the Boyne City Advisory Board to be held on Monday, June 20, 1988 has been changed from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. in the Commission Chambers.

The purpose of the change in meeting time is so that the Zoning Board of Appeals may meet at 5:05 p.m. to determine if Walter Coyle should be granted two variance requests.

If these variances are granted the Planning Advisory Board could then rule on Mr. Coyle's request to construct Phase II at the former Barrett's of Boyne building.

Public input will be received from the floor at both of these meetings. (See adv. concerning the Zoning variance request for more details.)

Boyer Valley Garden Club asks everyone to help celebrate Garden Week Michigan

June 5-11, 1988, has been designated as the annual Michigan Garden Week by Governor James J. Blanchard and the Michigan Legislature. The Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Inc. spearheaded the campaign to have the first full week of June proclaimed as Michigan Garden Week in 1988 and each year thereafter.

The Boyne Valley Garden Club is one of 209 clubs in the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan (FGCM). These 209 clubs have a membership of approximately 7,000 throughout the State of Michigan.

To help celebrate Michigan Garden Week, the members of the Boyne Valley Garden Club have been busy planting flowers at various sites in Boyne City, namely: City Hall, old City Park, Lake Street Bridge, City Library and Chamber of Commerce, to name a few. These areas will be maintained throughout the summer by club members.

The local club would like to urge all citizens to join in observing Garden Week by planting flowers and trimming lawns and shrubs in their own yards and keep Boyne beautiful.

the contractor to maintain better signage around the work locations. The request was also voiced by a resident who said he was surprised when he rounded the corner at Michigan Avenue and found the road filled with heavy equipment. City Manager Randy Frykberg asked the engineer to try to have the work in progress signs anchored so they would not blow over.

"No matter what we do," another commissioner said, "it will still be a mess."

In other action, the commissioners heard from the Boyne Valley Garden Club membership as they explained to the commissioners what they were accomplishing this year.

mended to the city to have a supervisory worker to work with the parks, to pick up rubbish before mowing, install the flowering Crab Trees in the new beach area, plan a park clean-up campaign for next June, replace the pine trees taken out several years ago by the Lake Street bridge, and try to have a man help with some of the heavy things the garden club needs moved as they attempt to make the community more beautiful.

The city then agreed to purchase a new van for the water and sewer department at a price of $8,800. The price came in cheaper than what the city had budgeted and city officials looked the van over completely before asking the commission to purchase it.

They also agreed to an amendment to the Granger Engineering contract, adding $1,200 to allow for the soil boring the company will be doing as part of the engineering work on the infrastructure repairs.

Tent caterpillars may not be cause for alarm

For the last two or three years, populations of the Eastern tent caterpillar have been quite high in Charlevoix and surrounding counties.

"This has been another banner year for tent caterpillars," says Russell Kidd, of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service. "However, while several 'nests' of Eastern tent caterpillar in a tree can cause complete defoliation, the tree usually re-leaves by the middle of the summer," states Kidd. "Therefore, this problem is often not going to kill a tree unless its been heavily defoliated two or three years in a row."

Before resorting to chemical control, homeowners should take the time to correctly identify a tree problem and determine whether control is really necessary. "In the case of the tent caterpillar," says Kidd, "this insect can be easily controlled. Simply pull the webs out of the tree, place them in a paper bag and destroy them. For people who are squeamish, use a stick or broom handle in place of your bare hand. Pesticides such as Dipel or Sevin can also be sprayed on the tree that will control the caterpillars as they feed."

For more information about the Eastern tent caterpillar or the gypsy moth, contact the Charlevoix County Cooperative Extension Service office at 582-6232 or stop by the extension office which is located at 319 E. North Lake St., Boyne City.

NOTICE

CITY OF BOYNE CITY

BOYNE CITY WATER SUPPLIES FREE OF LEAD

All community public water suppliers are required by Federal Law to provide notice of the hazards of lead, if it is present, in drinking water. A notice is required regardless of the lead content in local water. However, Boyne City water has been tested at the wells and at distribution points is free of lead.

The following notice is taken from suggestions provided by the State Health Department and is presented to comply with the Federally mandated Public Notice:

Sampling by the Michigan Department of Public Health has confirmed the presence of lead in drinking water from certain piping systems in communities other than Boyne City where the water has remained stagnant for a period of time. Levels in excess of the current drinking water standard (50 parts per billion) have been detected in some systems. We wish to report that the tests of Boyne City water indicated Boyne City water is good and no lead is present. Laboratory testing has shown that the principal sources of lead are lead piping and lead based solders and fluxes used to join copper piping. Based on these results and those from other studies, the Michigan Department of Labor, Bureau of Construction Codes and the Michigan Department of Public Health have supported legislation which prohibits the use of lead based solders and fluxes in potable water piping systems. The plumbing industry and homeowners who may construct potable drinking water piping systems must no longer use lead based solders and fluxes for joining copper piping. Other solder materials or joining methods are available and must be used. Lead piping has not been allowed for new installations for about the last ten years. Building copper piping water systems constructed to date, within buildings, likely contain lead based solder and flux.

Water is a universal solvent and even relatively stable water when stagnant for a period of even a few hours in contact with lead solder and flux, can result in a significant concentration of lead in the water. The Health Department is recommending that those piping systems in which the water has remained stagnant overnight or for longer periods be flushed for several minutes prior to using the water for drinking or cooking purposes. This typically has been found to satisfactorily reduce the level of lead and other metals that may concentrate in the water within the building's piping system.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead in a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not contain detectable levels of lead.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

1. if your home or water system has lead pipes, or
2. if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
 - a. if the home is less than five years old, or
 - b. if you have soft or acidic water, (the water in the Boyne City system is considered "hard" and slightly alkaline), or
 - c. if water sits in the pipes for several hours.

Besides lead in water from certain piping systems, there are other exposure pathways to lead including:

- air - from industrial discharges, automobile exhaust
- food - from airborne deposition of lead on crops and lead solder seams in some food containers
- non food items - lead based paint, dirt, solder, or any object containing lead

It should be noted that the major source of lead exposure and lead poisoning in the United States is due to children consuming lead based paint chips.

People who may have concerns about the concentration of lead from their building or household piping are advised to contact a reputable private laboratory for water analysis. Others who may have specific concerns relative to any possible health effects are urged to contact their physician.

For more information about this matter, please contact City Hall at 582-6597, or Ira Gabin, District Engineer, Division of Water Supply, Michigan Department of Public Health, at (517) 335-8330.

Members of the Boyne City High School Class of 1988, the 100th graduating class of the school system, showed off their top eleven students during the graduation ceremonies Friday night. The top eleven included Greg Talberg, Pete Smith, Travis Hartman, Karen Milks, Becky Rau, Toni Smith, Jenifer Simons, Troy Fall, Mike DeSchryver, Micki Bennett, and Mary Beth Archambault. Usually, there are only the top ten students, but a tie this year in grade point averages made for the eleven.

One of the honors of being a school board member is that many enjoy giving a diploma to their sons or daughters. But in this case Judy Follette had the honor of giving a diploma to her daughter and her mother, Lowina Hulsey. She completed her graduation requirements through the Adult Education Program.

BAC PAC party great success for BC

The all night graduation party for Boyne City's seniors sponsored by BAC-PAC, Boyne Area Community Parents for Alternative Choices for Drug Free Youth, was a success, according to a spokesperson.

Karen Meads, secretary of the organization, said over 60 of the 76 graduating seniors participated in the party held at the Cliff Dweller Lodge on Friday and Saturday. "We figured it would be a success if at least half of the kids showed up," she said, "but with that many it was really a success."

At 10 p.m. Friday the seniors were taken by bus from the high school to the lodge. They had to remain at the party until after the breakfast was served at 5 a.m. Saturday. The seniors could only leave the party before that time if escorted by a parent.

Among the activities offered at the party were a lip-syn, hula hoop or limbo contest dancing to the tunes provided by the band

Pyrl; or swimming. Over $1600 worth of donated prizes were also given away throughout the night.

"It was just our way to let the kids know it is possible to have fun without alcohol or drugs involved," said BAC-PAC member Merle Hilderbrant. "It was a way of letting them know we, as parents, care."

The BAC-PAC organization was started about two years ago by Greta Mackler who brought the idea up from the Detroit area. She helped to get the organization started in Harbor Springs and is also the Regional Director of Michigan Communities in Action for a Drug Free Youth.

BAC-PAC also works with children in the elementary and middle school helping to sponsor such events as pool parties and dances, always with the message that drugs and alcohol aren't needed to have fun.

It is still a young organization with a lot of potential for growth, according to Meads. "We need to make more parents aware that we exist and welcome their participation," she said. "Education in this area is the key for the kids as well as for the parents."

The BAC-PAC organization would like to thank the over 80 local services, clubs, churches and individuals who, through their donations and time, made the first annual graduation party a success. Without these efforts it would not have been possible.

Anyone interested in joining or learning more about the organization can contact Greta Mackler at 582-6831

EJ PAC has successful year

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

The E. J. PAC (East Jordan Parents for Alternative Choices) held its annual meeting May 19 and reviewed a busy, successful year. Plans were started for next year as new officers were elected and ideas were discussed for future activities.

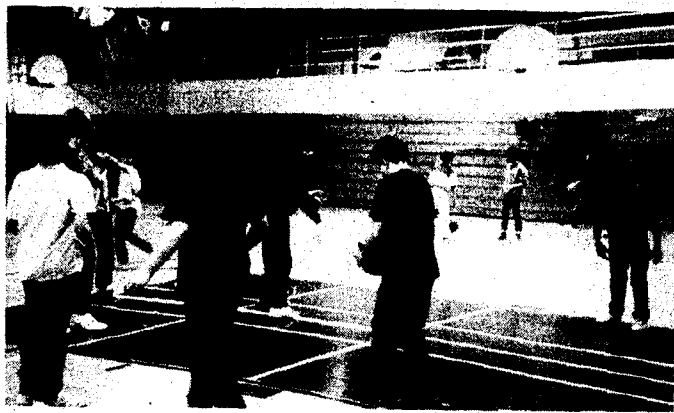

1988-89 officers are Gary Ciszewski, President; Steve Renkowicz, Vice President; Rev. Gene Mickey, Treasurer; Geri Barber, Secretary. President Ciszewski plans to hold regular monthly summer meetings to be ready for fall activities.

The E.J. PAC had a float in last year's Freedom Festival Parade, held several dances, a swim meet for junior high and senior high students. A special high school Christmas dance was a fond memory as well as a Valentine's dance for the middle school students. The Spring Fling held recently was a dance, open swim, open gym affair, giving high school students a chance to do many things.

The E.J. PAC and East Jordan Schools co-sponsored the BABES (Beginning Alcohol and Addictions Basic Education Studies) training for several Mrs. Nancy Sherman, Mrs. Joanna Moore, Mrs. Donna Tison, and Patti Schmitt received the training. The program was implemented in the lower elementary.

Co-sponsoring the Hazelden-Cork Program in the high school and the middle school was cited as a successful venture of the PAC. This program is an ongoing training and referral program which can be utilized by all school staff and all students.

Ms. JoAnne Lutze spoke at the annual meeting on "How Alcohol Affects the Family," a presentation was made on the BABES program, and Bill Huber, Aide for Representative Bob Davis, spoke on drug related topics.

On May 24 a video "Thank God, It's Friday; Thank God, It's Freedom" was shown to the entire high school population. This recently produced video is sponsored by Pepsi-Cola and Burger King and is received by grant request.

The D.A.R.E. program is being considered for next year for implementation. This program is run by police people, first in uniform and later in working sessions as plainclothesmen. This existing pyramid of drinking in lower grades such as 5th and peaking in seventh grade.

The E.J. PAC membership drive is open. Please contact any officer and become a member for the sake of the community's children.

EJ PTO looks on its first year's achievements

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

The East Jordan P.T.O. sponsored a gala "Spring Writing Fling" on May 16 as its final event for parents and students. The middle school gym was transformed into a maze of interesting areas, including springs (bed springs, cars springs, etc.), spring planting, spring animals, flings (bean bag toss, etc.), story telling, a wishing well, a cover making process, and book bindery for parents. Each student was given paper and pencil, asked to visit one or all of the areas and write about each of the areas visited.

Children need to be ready for complex society

Editor,
"OUR GREATEST NATURAL RESOURCE IS THE MINDS OF OUR CHILDREN."

By Walter Elias Disney

As we go to the polls again to provide for the education of the children of our community, Walt Disney's strong words come to mind and their message cannot be ignored.

We only deceive ourselves if we think that we can put good education off until "better" times; if we do wait, we will have missed the opportunity to work with this greatest of our natural resources. Yes, there will be school children in the years ahead, but the youths of today will have come and gone without receiving the best possible education that we can provide, and without the opportunity to make their contribution to our increasingly complex society.

For several years now we have been very smug in our notion that somehow our school system was providing an ever better education for our students without having to raise the extra moneys to pay for what is today one of the best small-school curriculums. The sad truth is that we used up our "savings account", or fund equity, to provide this education. With our savings depleted, we need to depend on our community to raise the necessary funds to continue our present level of quality education.

The mere thought of possibly allowing our greatest natural resource to go to waste is terrifying. Boyne City School District Voters, help your young people of today grow into the productive adults our country needs and vote "YES" on June 13th.

Effect of Headlee Amendment distorted, misrepresented

Editor,
• Did you know that the 1978 Tax Limitation amendment to the Constitution (Headlee) automatically allows local schools a cost-of-living increase in property tax revenue each year, plus the benefit of all new construction?

• Did you know that the Headlee amendment protects local government and education funding from State cutbacks, and that elected state officials have ignored the Constitution as it shifted the burden onto local taxpayers?

• Did you know that the Headlee amendment never cuts local school budgets, and is really the best friend education ever had in Lansing?

• Did you know that, hidden within many "school finance reform" proposals, are measures to destroy the taxpayer protections of the Headlee amendment?

Ten years ago, hundreds of thousands of Michigan citizens enacted the Tax Limitation Amendment to the Michigan Constitution, commonly known as the "Headlee" amendment. This essential part of our Constitution protects the funding of education and local governments just as it protects taxpayers.

Unfortunately, the effect of the Headlee amendment has been distorted and severely misrepresented in many news articles about local school finance. Many school officials, as well as many editors and reporters, have never had the opportunity to actually read the amendment and understand how it protects Michigan's system of public education and local government.

I hope you will take the time to read the attached analysis of the Amendment, which explains in readable terms what the Michigan Constitution says, and how it protects education as well as taxpayers. With hundreds of "Headlee override" elections approaching, and the possibility of a major school finance proposition on the statewide ballot, we all need this vital information.

In addition, I've included a one-page guide to understanding your local school's finances, which will help your reporters clearly distinguish State and Local funding sources and year to year growth by source.

While you cannot tell your readers how to vote, I am certain they respect your opinion, and the integrity of our system demands that readers have an understanding of our basic laws.

We have all watched as the quality of education in our state has dropped and many wonder where their hard-earned tax dollars are going. The issue is far too important to ignore. I'm confident that you share my concern that children in the future should be better educated, while future taxpayers are protected as well.

Sincerely,
Richard H. Headlee

Says 'thanks' for beautifying Boyne

Editor,
Many thanks to all those who purchased and planted a flowering crabtree recently in response to the "Beautify Boyne" project sponsored by the Boyne Valley Garden Club and supported by the owners and staff at the Boyne Avenue Greenhouse. Two hundred trees have been distributed and planted in the area as a result of the combined efforts of these two groups.

The project was so well received and supported that some consideration may be given to a similar project at a future date.

Boyne Falls' valedictorian and salutatorian honored

Christine Jarema is the valedictorian of Boyne Falls High School and is graduating with a 3.83 grade point average (GPA).

Jarema's extracurricular activities include being a member and secretary of the National Honor Society for two years, class secretary and member of the yearbook committee. She was also involved in band, basketball, cheerleading, bowling and drama.

She is the daughter of John and Pat Jarema, 01670 Springbrook Rd., Boyne Falls.

Jarema will be attending Aquinas College in Grand Rapids in the fall where she will major in business.

The salutatorian is Linda Koeman, graduating with a 3.48 GPA. She played basketball, softball, and bowling and was a member of the ski team. She was class vice-president, as well as vice-president and member of the National Honor Society for two years.

A band and drama member, Koeman was also on the yearbook committee.

She is the daughter of Russ and Sue Koeman, P.O. Box 35, Boyne Falls.

Koeman's future plans are to attend Davenport College in the fall and major in business.

PTO Free Fishing Weekend

sponsored recently for the candidates running for the two seats available on the East Jordan Board of Education. This forum was co-sponsored by the E. Jordan Education Association.

The P.T.O. has had many achievements in its first year. It sponsored a successful candy sales fundraiser, purchased cork stripping to go in the halls to allow teachers to hang student projects more readily for display, purchased a sign to identify the elementary, and contributed $75.00 to each teacher to buy things not covered by usual sources. Some of the purchases made by teachers were microscopes, calculators, a tarantula, books, unifex blocks, large maps, a bird feeder building project, newspaper and magazine subscriptions, National Geographic games and materials, the tilling and planting of a garden, computer software, swimming kickboards, and Mexican Fiesta materials as well as materials to supplement already existing programs.

The P.T.O. is looking forward to another full, busy year starting next fall.

Words to live by

Creativity is so delicate a flower that praise tends to make it bloom, while discouragement often nips it in the bud. Any of us will put out more and better ideas if our efforts are appreciated.

Michigan's third annual Free Fishing Weekend, slated for June 11-12, will allow residents and nonresidents to cast their lines for free in the State's prime fishing waters, and offer free boating access at all Department of Natural Resources (DNR) public access sites.

In addition, two Fishing Information Stations will be established June 10-11 to assist anglers with fishing information, along with a list of the many fishing clinics, derbies, seminars and tournaments planned for the weekend, statewide.

Veteran and novice anglers alike can fish Michigan's 38,000 square miles of Great Lakes waters, 12,000 inland lakes and 36,000 miles of streams without purchasing a fishing license, or a trout/salmon stamp during the special fishing weekend.

Licenses normally sell for $9.85 to residents and $20.35 for nonresidents. Trout/salmon stamps cost $9.85. DNR statistics show more than 2 million anglers fish in Michigan each year, including an estimated half million salmon anglers.

"People who have never fished, haven't fished for years or who have never tried trout or salmon fishing, have the most to gain from this free fishing weekend opportunity," said DNR Director Gordon E. Guyer. "It's our veteran anglers, however, who have the most to offer, by sharing their fishing expertise with others this weekend, and we hope that they will!"

Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend, authorized by Michigan Public Act 86 of 1986, is held each year in conjunction with National Fishing Week, the first full week of June. Michigan joins 24 other states this year in offering free fishing days.

Other groups planning to sponsor fishing events include: Michigan State University County Extension Offices, Chambers of Commerce, shopping centers - including Shopko Stores in Marquette, travel and resort groups, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Park Recreation Departments, tackle manufacturers, bait and tackle shops, marinas and community and sports groups.

Ned Fogle of the DNR's Fisheries Division, reminds sponsors to keep Michigan Master Angler forms handy at fishing events, so that anglers can apply for Master Angler patches if their fish meet minimum weight requirements. Master angler forms can be obtained from DNR District Offices or the DNR Information Services Center.

The DNR's 24-hour fishing hotline number, 517-373-0908, which is updated weekly, year-round, will keep anglers abreast of Michigan fishing conditions and fishing hotspots.

Free Fishing Weekend, with the 1988 Michigan Fishing Guide available from any of the State's 2,500 fishing license dealers, all DNR Offices, or the DNR Information Services

Smiths hold reunion

Dr. and Mrs. Tim Smith hosted a Smith Family Reunion over the holiday weekend at their new home in Scenic Shores, south of Holland, Michigan.

It was also the occasion of their son Keegan's third birthday. Seven month old brother, Brandon, joined in on the celebration.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Smith Sr. of Boyne City, Greg and Dee Smith with daughters, Markelle and Joelle of Bellaire, and Michael Smith of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ricci, who organized a similar arts group in a small Colorado mining community, led board members in brainstorming ways of making their enthusiasm for the area's cultural growth contagious, especially throughout the two county's southern and southwestern communities, including Mancelona, Bellaire, Alba, Elmira, Ellsworth, Atwood, Norwood, Central Lake, Antrim, and Alden.

"Now, while everything is in the planning stages, it is time for people to get involved," Pletz explained. "Speak out, and tell us what you'd like an arts council to contribute to the community. Get involved, and make it happen."

Input will be welcomed at the next board meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 20, at the Jordan Valley District Library when progress reports will be given by the program planning committee and the by-laws and constitution committee.

At a general meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 28, at the East Jordan High School library, the board will present proposed by-laws, constitution, and summer program possibilities. Upon acceptance of official by-laws and constitution, a permanent slate of officers and board members will be elected at the beginning of the fiscal year to serve terms as described in the documents.

At Tuesday's meeting two interim board members took on further responsibilities, Nancy Carey to serve as interim second vice president and Cindi Dalien as historian.

Just as the Jordan River is a source of pleasure for all the people, so does the Jordan River Arts Council plan to be.

The council's new name has an honorable and favorable heritage. Amos Williams, the first nineteenth century settler on the sparkling trout stream, reportedly chose its name for Palestine's famous River Jordan, celebrated in sacred history.

The river was noted for its wholesome waters and fish abundant enough to supply the nine cities and towns on its coasts, making its name particularly appropriate for a service organization.
