King and queen of EJHS

Anne Jeffery and Dan Pepin were chosen queen and king to preside over the homecoming dance at East Jordan.

Homecoming Week in EJ filled with activities

It was a typical spirit week in East Jordan. Cheerleaders posting signs on the front lawns of the football team members homes encouraging them to play their very best against the Trojans of Central Lake.

Students were buzzing from one float location to another to see which would win the honor of first place. The talk during the week was who of the king and queen candidates would be chosen to reign in 1988.

During the week, the cheerleaders picked a distinctive way of dressing for each day and gave prizes to students for the best costumes. Plans were completed for the annual pep assembly and the breakfast the cheerleaders cooked for the football team.

Friday night was the completion of the week with Homecoming Queen candidates Pam Decker, Michelle Beauvais, Rene Spence, Rachele Warner, Rhonda Hudkins and Anne Jeffery all riding in open cars around the football field to the home 50 yard line. There, they were escorted to the podium by the King candidates, Dan Pepin, Matt Bishop, Jeff Burks, Tim Brennan, Gerry Ciszewski and Mark Moore.

Then came the announcement the week was building up to, Queen Anne Jeffery and King Dan Pepin were to preside over the homecoming dance held at the high school after the game.

Trick or Treat hours set

Halloween hours will be from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday, October 31, after the Boyne City commission set the hours for Boyne City at the Tuesday noon meeting.

That, along with a change in a meeting place for the November Tuesday night meeting being changed from the Commission

Chambers to the City Manager's Office, were among the highlights of the noon meeting.

The commissioners approved the purchase of a new boiler for the waste water treatment plant as it was budgeted during the fiscal year. Haggard's Plumbing and Heating won the bid for

Recall drive announced in BC

Forms asking for the recall of five Boyne City School Board members were turned into the county clerk's office last Friday to get the wording approved prior to being sent out among the community for signatures.

The five, Board President Richard May, Board Treasurer David Guzniczak, Trustees Thelma Behling, Bea Reinhardt and Judy Follette.

Spokesperson for the recall drive, Archie Lundy, of 03085 Old Horton Bay Road, told the News Review he expects the drive will cause some members to be recalled.

The petitions say for each of the board members "Did (board member) operate the Boyne City Public School during the 1987-88 fiscal year in a manner that depleted funds available for transportation in the 1988-89 school year thereby depriving the children in the Boyne City School District of transportation needs and jeopardizing the children's safety in the 1988-89 school year?"

The petitions are expected to be distributed as soon as the election board can certify the wording. From there, the members wanting the recall will have a certain number of days, 35, in which to gather signatures of voters from the district. The number of voters and signatures needed will have to represent at least 25 percent of the number of voters who voted in the last gubernatorial election.

The drive to get signatures for the recall is caused by the school board members axing busing from the school budget in an attempt to bring the budget out of the red. Two previous elections have been held in an attempt to get the voters of the district to approve extra millage for busing, but both failed to garner support. Another election is slated for November 14, which will provide a great portion of the busing costs.

Lundy said that the drive will continue, even if the bus millage is approved. If enough signatures can be obtained, they will be turned in to the county clerk for determination of validity. If enough valid signatures are secured for the individual petitions, then the clerk will have to schedule a special election within 60 days.

Board members do not seem to think the recall drive will pass and they have expressed that they will continue to try to work out the problems which have been caused by previous school boards cutting class sizes, adding

BC planners finally see airport plan

Boyne City Planners, after months of trying to see what the airport advisory board was planning for the Boyne City Airport, finally had a look as the airport committee provided a presentation of what was being planned on the growing airport field.

They learned where new hangars were being proposed and why the grass strip was not being used by many aircraft, with a slideshow showing were possible development projects would be placed.

The planners had tabled a request for a new hangar at the field until the airport advisory board could show the planners what they were thinking. That request for a hangar was recently withdrawn by the developer.

The airport board made a slideshow presentation to the planners as part of their monthly meeting and set out four proposals to the planners on the development of the airport.

The first was to fence the west side of the airport and add a new entranceway off of Main Street.

The fencing was named as a priority because of the building of the new Boyne City Nursery School which is next to the airport property. Eventually, the airport board would like to enclose the whole airport with fencing. The large space where the former hangars were located is to be paved to allow for airplane parking next to and across from the terminal building.

The second proposal is to build and pave a new taxiway along the present grass runway. The taxiway would cross the paved runway and go along the Air-Industrial Park so business planes could use it to get to the runway from the park. The plan calls for the taxiway to be part of a circular pattern that would allow the runway to be cleared quickly so other planes could land or take off.

In presenting the proposal for the taxiway, the board told the planners that the grass strip is not being used. They said the number of landings and takeoffs from the paved strip to the grass strip was at a ratio of 300 to 1.

They also said the grass strip is too short for most aircraft in use today. They also told the planners the Michigan Aeronautic Commission had recommended the strip be closed, or at best, used only for local traffic. The long term plan is to close the grass strip.

The third proposal would be to have the present paved runway widened to 75 feet from the present 50 feet and to lengthen it another 800 feet.

The closing of the grass strip will allow larger hangars to be constructed along the north side of the taxiway and will allow for a future repair facility to be constructed near the terminal.

Planning board vice chairman Leigh Woodbury told the airport

Falls sees revised school building plan

Boyne Falls school board members looked at a different plan for the building of the four classrooms at the school after village officials asked if a different plan could be developed so that the road would not have to be closed off between the school and the playground.

The new design shows the classrooms in a cluster that would not be as far out into the street right-of-way as the previous plan, and would allow the street to remain open. Officials from D.E. M., the architectural firm doing the design work, said that if a meeting to be held with the village Wednesday night reaches an agreement, the firm will start doing the detailed construction plans.

The firm said the changes made will not cause a problem with the construction schedule if

Fowler receives honors in sports at Alma College

MEG FOWLER

Meg Fowler of Charlevoix is a co-captain of the Alma College field hockey team which is seeking to reclaim the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) Championship this fall.

During the past five seasons either the Scots or Calvin College has claimed the MIAA crown — Alma finishing on top in 1983 and

'84, Calvin in '85 and '87, and the two tying for the title in 1986. In an early 1988 matchup between the perennial powers, Calvin won by a 2-1 score although Alma dominated in shots on goal, 25 to 8. The two teams meet again on Oct. 6.

Fowler, an inner on the Scot team, is presently tied for second in goals for the season in the MIAA with 5 and is third in total points (two per goal, one per assist) at 10. She was recipient of the Alma Coaches' Award in 1987. She was an All-National Collegiate Athletic Association Great Lakes Region First Team selection and was a member of the All-MIAA Second Team. She ranked third in scoring in the MIAA, and she was Alma's leading scorer in competition against all opponents.

A graduate of Charlevoix High School, she is majoring in elementary education at Alma.

In 1987 the Scots won 9, lost 2, and tied 1 in the MIAA. Overall they were 11-3-3, losing only to MIAA champion Calvin (twice, by a single goal each time) and to Notre Dame University.

District Health Dept. suggests Halloween safety tips

Halloween "Trick or Treat" activities are happily anticipated by many young children. District Health Department No. 3 would like all parents to read the following safety suggestions.

Warn children not to eat any of their treats before they get home. Examine all treats carefully before allowing children to eat them.

Look for costumes, masks, beards, and wigs labeled "Flame Resistant." Although these items could still catch fire, such labeling indicates that they will resist burning and should extinguish quickly once removed from the ignition source. Flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts should be avoided to minimize the risk of contact with candles or other sources of ignition.

Make or buy costumes light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. For greater visibility in dusk or darkness, costumes can be decorated with reflective tape. Reflective tape is usually available in hardware, bicycle, and sporting goods stores. Children should also carry flashlights to see - and be seen - more easily.

Costumes should be short enough to prevent children from tripping and falling. Children should wear well fitting, sturdy shoes; mother's high heels are not a good idea for safe walking.

Hats and scarves should be tied securely to prevent them from slipping over children's eyes.

Apply a natural mask of cosmetics rather than have a child wear a loose fitting mask which might restrict breathing or obscure vision. If a mask is used, however, make sure it fits securely and has eyeholes large enough to allow full vision.

Swords, knives, and similar costume accessories should be of soft or flexible material.

Smaller children should always be accompanied by an older responsible child or an adult. All children should use the sidewalk rather than walk in the street, and they should WALK not run from house to house. Children should be cautioned against running out from between parked cars, or across lawns and where ornaments, furniture, or clotheslines present dangers.

Children should only go to homes where residents have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. Children should not enter homes or apartments unless they are accompanied by an adult.

Those receiving trick or treaters should remove anything that could be an obstacle from steps, lawns, and porches. Candlelight jack-o-lanterns should be kept away from landings, and doorsteps where costumes could brush against the flame. Indoor jack-o-lanterns should be kept away from curtains, decorations, or other furnishings that could be ignited.

Any parent with questions about the safety of their child's Halloween snack, or proper times for trick or treaters should contact their local law enforcement officers.

All the staff and Board of Health for District Health Department No. 3 hope that all children will have a safe and happy Halloween.

Last Sunday, Gregg and Margaret Smith hosted a family birthday dinner party honoring their granddaughters, the children of Gregg and Dee Smith of Bellaire. Joelle had her tenth birthday, and Markelle had her big 18th birthday.

Recent guests of Clifford and Margaret Frantz were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lohr, who have retired from the mission field in Pakistan after 30 years. Other guests were Mr. Frantz' sister, Lourene Wintermantle and Mrs. Ellen Allen of Rochester. Other friends here came from Ubyly, Michigan, and also Mrs. John Coddington and Mrs. Arnold DeLong of St. Mary's, Ontario.

Clara Rolls and Katherine Spaniak spent the beautiful Indian summer day of Saturday in Harrison visiting her son Donald and family.

Glen Schovey Jr. of Virginia was here over the weekend visiting his mother, Rose, and family and friends.

Doris Earl of Ypsilanti arrived on Sunday to visit her sister Hatti and Ray Dana and family. Mr. Dana entered Northern Michigan Hospitals as a medical patient, as he has been very ill lately.

Pat Conkle spent the weekend in Alpena visiting her daughter Mary Bray and children.

On Thursday, the games and bake sale afternoon at Grandvue was well attended, with all receiving prizes. The door prize of beautiful wind chimes went to Betty Boswell. On October 20th, those volunteers of Grandvue will be honored with a dinner at noon. An open house will be held on November 6. For those of you who have not been there for awhile, it would be well worth your time to see the newly decorated areas and enjoy the home atmosphere while visiting one (or more) of Charlevoix County's elderly. Through the efforts of the tag day sales and other donations, the newly updated furniture and redecorated areas make it a much more comfortable, bright and cheerful place to be!

On Tuesday, Ann and Tilly Jenkins were among those attending an In Service meeting of the Senior Companion Program held at the Gaylord Senior Center. Ann's daughter, Myra, is one of the coordinators of the program, which lets the able bodied seniors help others who are in need for 20 hours a week. On Tuesday the group listened to a talk on Memory.

On Saturday night, the Northern Slopes Farm Bureau met at the home of Raymond and Irene Speltz. Due to bouts of flu and bronchitis, the few members that were able to attend, enjoyed the evening discussing current events.

Gregg and Margaret Smith hosted a dinner party recently for the "Golfers" and their wives. Those attending were Herman and Doris Rasch, Garth and Jewel Bryan, and Dick and Edna May. The group enjoyed the hilltop view of the lake and surrounding area as well as the delicious meal.

June Morey and children Jessica and Jeremy of Traverse City spent the weekend here visiting her mother, Ann Jenkins.

On Sunday, Jean Marcham hosted a double celebration with brunch at Hilton Shanty Creek, honoring her daughter and husband, Marion and Tom Wallace of St. Clair Shores, on their 38th wedding anniversary and her friend Goldie Harrelson for her 79th birthday!

This past week's scores for the seniors were: Cleo Davis-476, Bob Rumlfelt-433, Dick Brannon-406, Jean Marcham-382, Jack Krussell-368, Chick Rickard-361, Pros Blanckaert-358, Ardyth Dorgan-320, Ken Kreger-314, Jerry Kimble-310, Pearl Frieden-306, Jan Krussell-303, Goldie-301, Clara Kimble-295, Beverly Kreger-385.

Many apologies to the seniors from Goldie! Somehow, the scores of Thursday's bingo games were misplaced...lost in the shuffle. She will hold on to them tight next week.

Boyne City O.E.S. holds installation

Evangeline Chapter No. 95 will hold an open Installation meeting at the Masonic Temple in Boyne City at 8 p.m. Saturday, October 22.

Charlevoix graduates receive scholarships from Alma

Six graduates of Charlevoix High School are among the upperclass students whose scholarships to attend Alma College have been renewed for the 1988-89 academic year.

Sean Ferguson (86), Margaret Fowler (85), Lynn McKay (85) and Timothy Plagge (86) of Charlevoix and Laura Reibel (87) of Petoskey are all receiving Alma Renewal Scholarships, awarded to students showing intellectual promise and outstanding academic achievement.

Plagge is also receiving a Performance Scholarship in instrumental music. Performance Scholarships are awarded to students who have demonstrated a high level of accomplishment in vocal or instrumental music, dance, art and design, and theatre.

Katherine Washburn (87) of Charlevoix has been awarded a Trustee Honors Scholarship, Alma's most prestigious competitive award given on the basis of superior academic and extra-curricular achievement.

A private college founded by Michigan Presbyterians in 1886, Alma College is a national model for integrating liberal arts education with career preparation.

Ferguson is the son of John and Glenda Ferguson of Charlevoix. He is a junior majoring in history.

Fowler is the daughter of David and Nancy Fowler of Charlevoix. She is a senior majoring in education.

McKay is the daughter of Janice McKay of Charlevoix, and William McKay, also of Charlevoix. She is a senior majoring in international business administration.

Plagge is the son of Dr. Merle and Mrs. Barbara Plagge of Charlevoix. He is a junior taking pre-veterinarian courses.

Washburn is the daughter of Sanford and Jill Washburn of Charlevoix. She is a sophomore planning to major in Spanish and psychology.

Reibel is the daughter of Lee and Marlette Reibel of Petoskey. She is a sophomore planning to major in Spanish at Alma College.

Letters

Let's wait for analysis

Editor:
Our electoral system provides a method for the removal of public officials from their elected offices when there is indisputable evidence that their actions have been contrary to the best interest of the public. The charges against members of the Boyne City Board of Education, presented in the current recall effort, lack sufficient evidence to warrant such action at this time.

The charge that the board operated the schools in a manner which depleted funds for transportation is based upon assumptions and not a detailed analysis of school revenues and expenses. Such a study is forthcoming, in the budget planning sessions being organized for the public by our newly hired school superintendent. The only real facts we have at present are that the voters have repeatedly rejected the additional revenues that the board claims are needed to fund both current curriculum and transportation. The independent audit of the school's financial status supports the school board's claim that there are no excess funds available. Our judgement of how effectively money has been spent should be reserved until after we have examined, in detail, all expenditures in the school budget.

The charge that the school board has jeopardized the children's safety is unsubstantiated. One could charge that those who voted no for additional millage for transportation have done just as much to jeopardize safety. The fact is that there are children standing unattended on the roadside in the early morning, and the potential number of injuries which could result from a single school bus accident are some of the concerns involved with the operation of school buses. No statistics have been presented which indicate that private transportation poses any greater hazard than public transportation, only the implication that parents are not capable of safely transporting their own children. All that the school board has done regarding safety is to shift the responsibility for that safety from a few bus drivers to individual motorists. This transfer of responsibility is hardly grounds for the recalling of any school board member.

We need to keep in mind that the transportation of students is not a requirement of the public school systems in the State of Michigan. Busing is an additional service which may be offered, and Boyne City is not the only school district in the state which has been forced to make a choice between curriculum and transportation. The Boyne City School Board has placed a higher priority on curriculum than transportation, while continuing to offer the voters opportunities to approve additional funding for busing. These actions clearly do not constitute a recall action.

Proposal A backers are wrong

Editor:
Beware Voters: The backers of Proposal A are trying to win your heart, mind and vote with a deceptive ad campaign, one that implies Proposal A will cut taxes and end tax paid abortions. It will do neither.

To be sure, the charge of deceit is a strong one, but it was made recently by none other than Patrick Babcock, Director of the Michigan Department of Social Services, and Rep. David Hollister, Chair of the House Appropriations Subcommittee for Social Services. You couldn't find two people in a better position to judge the effects of Proposal A on Michigan taxpayers than the Director of the agency responsible for the state Medicaid program, and the head of the legislative subcommittee assigned to keep tabs on the state Social Services budget. Their conclusion: Proposal A could cost Michigan Taxpayers up to $50 million per year in additional Medicaid expenses.

Amazingly, even in the face of this embarrassing revelation the backers of Proposal A stuck by their story that their efforts to outlaw state paid abortions for poor women are simply a question of taxation, and not a Right-to-Life ploy. Oh really? Let's look at the facts. The statewide coordinators of the "Committee to End Tax Funded Abortions" are Barbara Listing and Jane Muldoon. Their names may sound familiar; Jane Muldoon is the state public affairs director of Michigan Right-to-Life. Barbara Listing is the President of Michigan Right-to-Life. However, they would like you to repeat quietly to yourself, "This is not a Right-to-Life issue. This is not a Right-to-Life issue..." And when you look at the address printed on the back of their campaign literature, there's an astounding coincidence. Of the thousands of office buildings in Michigan, the Committee to End Tax Funded Abortions is located in Grand Rapids, on the very same street, in the very same building, as Michigan Right-to-Life. Figure the odds against that one while repeating quietly to yourself, "This is not a Right-to-Life issue..."

Again the ugly issue of a recall has been foisted upon the community by a small group of dissidents from the country. Again, we think a recall is not the answer to solving the situation and in fact, would do nothing but make them worse.

Worse by causing unnecessary expenses of another special election to determine if those named are really at fault, and then another special election to bring new members to the board.

At a cost of about $5,000 more, the school system cannot afford to hold those elections without going further into debt. We don't see those wishing the recall coming forward to pay for the election, or coming forward to pay for the busing that is the cause behind the recall.

They had their chance to two previous elections and will have another as the present school board acceded to the wishes of the community to try again to get enough money to provide buses for the students in November.

Evidently, those wanting the bus system to run, aren't willing to provide the cost. At least they haven't in the previous elections and in this system of government, the majority prevails.

But, thanks to the recall process, a small group can cause another type of election just so they can get their way.

We would also like to see many things be provided at the schools. We would like to see three or more languages being taught, would like to have a co-op program so the students could work out in the community, would like to see better facilities for athletics, teaching and learning. But I put my aspirin and stomach soda on the stand next to my chair and settled down to listen to the flap between two political sages. Men who knew what they were talking about, even though fifty million people weren't so sure.

Everyone was waiting for it: A dingdong argument over who is more fit to wear a halo in the oval office. Waiting to hear what they would do about this Rube Goldberg aristocracy now operating in our cowboy republic.

One thing I didn't like was giving a man only two minutes to tell how he would bring the Russian empire around to his way of thinking. That made me mad. It takes me more than two minutes to tell my wife that I am going to the bathroom. And she doesn't get a one minute rebuttle either.

I soon noticed that I hadn't brought enough aspirin and stomach soda to last through the verbal annoyance.

One man used the word "liberal" so often I looked it up to see just how nasty a liberal person could be. My dictionary says liberal means progressive, generous and hospitable. For some reason the Republicans don't seem to care for that sort of stuff cluttering up the White House.

The Democrats are generous and hospitable and a halo would fit their man just fine. I know because the man on the stage told us all about it. They have worked out a fool proof way to lead us into more safe and greener pastures. In contrast to the Republicans, they would give everyone at least one green pasture. It's almost enough to we also know that all of those things require money from the voters. And they haven't approved those either.

But, we haven't issued a call for a recall campaign just because we want those things added to the curriculum.

And we don't think the busing issue warrants a recall either.

And due to the time it will take to approve the wording, get the petitions out and find signatures, then return them for examination and finally the setting of an election, it will be late in the school year.

Even if the board members facing recall are found to be negligent in their duties, then another election will have to be set up to replace board members. By then it may be summer.

Just for the few that want to have their precious time alone after the bus picks up the student.

Folks, that is not what education is about.

It is about providing a means for a student to learn about the world, to learn skills they can take into that world, and to learn how to think of solutions to problems.

We urge no one sign a petition if one is brought around. We think the issue should be resolved by deciding what the community really wants, an education with a fine curriculum for the student and the future he/she faces, or buses and underwater basketweaving classes.

Do not sign for a recall and the issue will fail for lack of signatures. Then work to provide solutions to the problems of the school board.

Marshall Sayles

make me lean in their direction.

The people I will not vote for are members of the panel asking the questions. A person with half a brain and no water on the knee at all could ask more sensible questions of the men who want to shoulder the insufferable problems of the entire free world.

When all the clap had been trapped I was too sick to go to bed, so I listened to TV correspondents tell me what I had been listening to for the last ninety minutes. They had to, because they figured I was too stupid to understand what I had heard.

They were trying to tell us that it is useless to vote Democratic since their computers had already found the Republicans have enough electoral votes to win going down hill. That was and is their prediction.

What the experts are saying is this: the Democrats are going to have a tough time taking the GO out of the GOP.

I do not think it was necessary for all three networks to carry the squabble. One of them should have held off and shown Jake and the Fat Man.

APPLES

Driving through the multi-colored scenes in our Northern Michigan, I notice that "The trees in apple orchards, with fruit, are bending down." This makes me so hungry for a bite of a crisp cold Northern Spy. When I look back in time, I am so thankful that I grew up on a farm with a big orchard; I could choose any apple that I wanted, but none compared with the spy, the last to ripen and picked just before the first killing frost. Though if I wanted a different flavor, I ate one of those snow apples, so red on the outside and so snowy white on the inside, this apple tasted just like apple cider.

Our northern state has the perfect climate for apple orchards. At this time in history 35 states (led by Michigan, Washington and New York) produce about 200 million bushels of apples a year. About one half are eaten fresh.

It is no secret that apples are good for us. An average apple has about 85 calories; it provides quick energy with it's 12 percent of sugar. It aids digestion, it's pectin supplies fiber and helps to lower cholesterol levels. They contain potassium and vitamins A and C and are 85% water. This morning when I felt the need of some help to "get going", I made this pick-me-up and was delighted.

APPLE-PICK-ME-UP

Peel 1 medium large eating apple, cut in small pieces and put in blender with 1 cup milk, 1 to 2 tablespoons honey. Cover and blend until thick and frothy. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon or nutmeg. Serve at once. Makes 2 cups.

The old-timers made lots of apple butter, cooking the apples in cider for hours in a big iron kettle with a fire underneath, stirring for hours. My friend, Eula, and I were wondering how our people preserved this apple butter before glass cans were available. I am curious about this, thinking it must have been stored in crocks and kept in a cold room or cellar along with the bins of apples and barrels of cider. However with their large families it no doubt did not last long, anyway.

Last year I bought some delicious apple butter at Nashville House in Brown County, Ind. They make it there in large pans in ovens. Very good! I like to make this recipe using apple butter.

APPLE BUTTER CRISPIES

Trim crusts from 8 slices of bread. Spread with butter and apple butter. Stack, sandwich style, in buttered 8 inch square pan. Cut diagonally, combine 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup coconut, and 1/4 cup sugar, and sprinkle over top of bread. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 10 minutes.

I noticed on our tour this summer that many people were ordering bran muffins for breakfast. Many are making the kind that the batter keeps in the refrigerator a couple of weeks and they can bake any number when they please or bake them all at once and heat each serving in the microwave. Either method is good. This next recipe is so very delicious you forget about it being good for you and is perfect for any meal in the day with all of the good-for-us goodies in them.

- 1 pkg. (18.5 ounce) spice cake mix
- 1 can (20 ounce) apple pie filling
- 1 1/2 cups bran cereal
- 2/3 cup chopped nuts
- 2 eggs
- 1/3 cup oil
- 1/4 cup buttermilk

In large mixer bowl, combine all ingredients at low speed just until completely mixed, stirring bottom of bowl once or twice. Batter can also be mixed by hand.

If not baking immediately, refrigerate batter up to ten days.

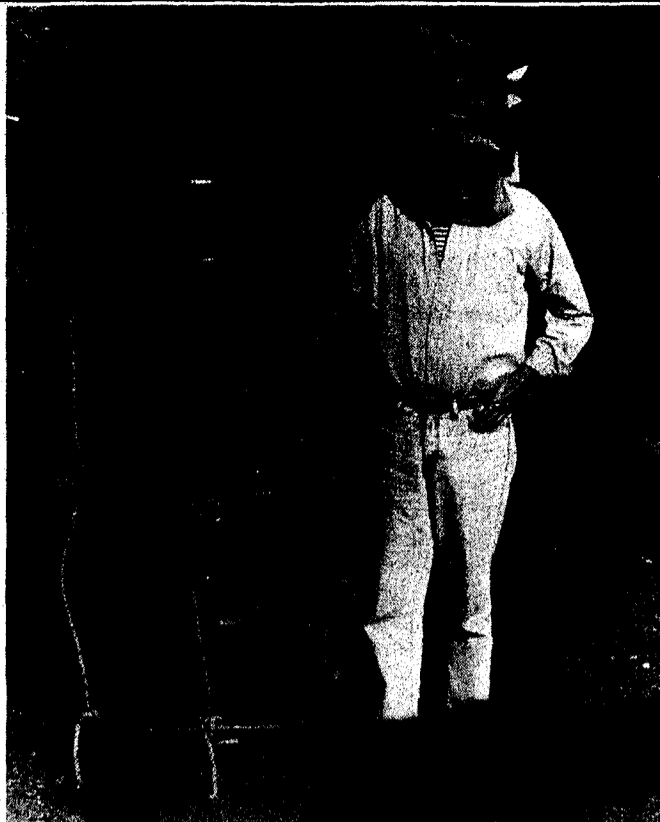

Directions for baking: Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Fill lightly oiled muffin pans 2/3 full with batter. Bake for 25 minutes or until done. Makes 2 1/2 dozen 2 1/2 inch diameter muffins. Friends say that these taste like apple pie in a muffin.

We all like apple crisp. Here is one made with honey.

HONEY APPLE CRISP

4 cups sliced apples
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup flour
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup walnuts (if desired)
Spread apples in shallow baking dish, sprinkle sugar and lemon juice and pour honey over all. In a bowl, mix flour, brown sugar, and salt and work butter in as for biscuits, making a crumbly mixture. Spread these crumbs evenly over the apples. Bake in 375° oven for 30 to 40 minutes. Serve warm with cream or whipped cream.

People have loved the apple since the dawn of time. Originating south of the Caucasus Mountains and spreading all over Europe. Archeologists have discovered evidence that apples were preserved by drying, as far back as the Stone Age. Apples are still drying them! I also like to think my ancestors, the Britain's ancient Celts believed in a "kingdom of the sun, the Isle of Apples" where there was no old age, sickness or sorrow.

Mr. X stands next to the "Space Age Materials" type of barrel he will use when he tries to go over the Boyne River Falls this Sunday. He is so named because he hasn't informed his family he is trying the trick in honor of the 87th anniversary of Annie Taylor, a former Bay City school teacher, who used a barrel to go over the Niagara Falls in 1901.

87th anniversary of falls drop to be held in BC

When you try to think up ways to make money, all you have to do is to brainstorm with people from the Banana Republic, specifically Jon Hartwell.

That is what the folks from Challenge Mountain did as they decided there was a need for a Pomalift at their ski hill near Walloon. They figured the lift, used to help disadvantage skiers up the hill, was going to cost about $12,000 more than they have in the funds to operate the ski area.

So Hartwell did some thinking, along with Barb Polinski, and came up with the idea of having a day to honor Annie Eason Taylor.

Taylor was a former Bay City school teacher who went down in history as the first person to go over the Niagara Falls in a barrel.

So Hartwell found a person, a barrel maker, and a falls that would work.

The person, called Mr. X, because he doesn't want his insurance company or his close friends to know, will make the dangerous trip over the fast running, but small, Boyne River Falls located just below the Boyne River Inn.

Hartwell had a special barrel prepared just to commemorate the 87th anniversary of Taylor's trip over the falls.

Just as she survived, Hartwell expects Mr. X to survive, although Mr. X has not notified his relatives because of the danger of the operation. Hartwell, acting as Mr. X's agent, assured the Press that there will be a doctor present to oversee any difficulties if the worst happens.

The barrel, a new "space-age" type was fixed up by barrel engineer Paul Bricker, but it is still untested. Previous barrels tested over the falls included rides with a mouse, a mole, and a stray skunk, but all were lost to the large rocks when they smashed against them. It is hoped the "Space-age Materials" of the new barrel will survive.

Those interested in watching the attempt to go over the falls are asked to stay clear of the precarious shoreline. The best watching area is from the old City Park in Boyne City. The event will take place at 4 p.m. Sunday, October 23rd. The event is listed as going off rain, snow or shine.

After Bricker inserts a bicycle pump into the barrel to ensure a fresh supply of air to Mr. X, he will cork up the many holes and send Mr. X on his way. About 20 feet from the falls, Bricker will throw a rock at the barrel to alert Mr. X to hang on and get prepared for the drop and all of the spinning and turning of the barrel.

All of this is similar to what Taylor had done when she went over the big falls back on October 24, 1901. Except in her case, she was set adrift at some point above the falls so the current would take her over the Horseshoe Falls side.

Just as she intended to do, donations will be accepted for the event, in the hopes that enough will be made to allow Challenge Mountain to purchase the ski lift.

After the event, the crowd is asked to move to Stafford's One Water Street to give their donations. Everyone is invited to attend.

WINGS OF FANTASY

Roger Dehring offers no bed just the floor to sleep on in one of his hotel accommodations. The floor has foam padding in places beneath the tan carpeting, though, prompting winter-weary guests to think of warm sandy beaches, which is what the California beach room is all about. For those with higher aim, a room lined with forest green and featuring leafy trees and a mini-waterfall is offered in the treehouse suite. I thought of Dehring's housing arrangements last Sunday while relaxing in a conventional hotel room where I'd spent parts of four days and I considered how I and like-minded conservation might feel ensconced in a Dehring fantasy room.

Dehring owns four hotels in Minnesota and Wisconsin and no theme for the fantasy wings of these places seems too far-fetched to him. For instance a whale, the insides of same in particular complete with ribs depicted, shows up in the Moby Dick suite. Pharaoh's Tomb is mostly the interior of a pyramid, which seems like an even less cheerful neighborhood than the whale scene. The tomb has cement and sand-sprayed walls cracked artfully to heighten the sense of authenticity, but the prices for rental need no further height at $165 to $195 per night. They could be considered more reasonable than going for spending the night in the real thing, I guess.

If the above settings don't appeal, the chance to retire in an igloo, a sheik's tent, a whaling ship, a '73 Olds and several other options might. Roger Dehring has twelve such rooms and suites in the fantasy wing of his Burnsville, Minnesota motel alone and similar rooms can be found in like wings of his inns in Antigo, Dodgeville and West Bend, Wisconsin.

The Don Q. Inn in Dodgeville which he bought in 1979 got his imagination going on the fantasy track. It has an 120-year-old barn as its restaurant and a steeple that houses a suite of guest rooms. These non-traditional arrangements defy conventional hotel management practice but Dehring noted that they attracted guests. So he told his mind to forget history and it came up with the fantasy wing idea.

Mike Isabella, president of Dehring's hotel group, doesn't object to the non-classical so long as it makes money and Dehring's rooms do. So the two of them in communion whip up new ideas to attract guests. They have a couple of humdingers that they're playing with right now: a 27-foot boat floating on real water for guests to snuggle down in for the night and an inflated hot air balloon for overnight nesting in. These ideas are the most ambitious of their noddle nuggets so far and, they admit, the toughest to turn into reality what with the hazards of water and keeping the hot air aloft and away from the paying guests.

With less danger-prone decor, Dehring's done a grand job in providing something different for guests who've tired of typical hotel rooms. Running on a more conventional track, though, I feel comfortable in traditional hotel rooms. I think I'd find a stage set for housing exhausting. I'd feel as though I always had to be alert, stay in character with my surroundings. I want to relax in my hotel room focusing only occasionally on the unaccustomed services of clean sheets and fluffy towels daily and toilet paper replaced for me when it runs low. I don't want to pay $16.50 much less $165 for the privilege of sleeping on the floor, never mind that it's padded and dressed up like sand. But then I don't want to bed down for the night on a real beach either, not even for free.

Arts Council plans Madrigal dinner and cultural series

The Jordan River Arts Council board approved plans to sponsor a madrigal dinner in early December and a six-event entertainment-involvement series to be offered from February through May 1989. Attractions include poets performing dramatic recitations, a storyteller, a classical soloist, a modern jazz dance troupe, a modern dance duet, and a jazz band.

The board voted at an October

11 meeting to approve an application for a mini-grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts for partial funding of the cultural series, which will feature dual performances in East Jordan and in Bellaire.

These locations will make it possible for all Jordan River Valley residents to have accessibility to the programs with no more than a 15-mile drive. One of the reasons for the arts council's founding was to provide residents of Antrim County and southern Charlevoix County easier access to cultural programs.

A committee was formed to finalize plans for a December fundraising dinner featuring an old English Christmas feast and madrigal entertainment.

The board also elected officers for one-year terms: president, Fran Pletz; vice president in charge of finance, Cindi Dalian; vice president in charge of membership, Nancy Carey; secretary, Rita LaVictoire and treasurer, Sharon Jackson.

the voting public.

In case Proposal A's backers have forgotten, this country was founded on the principle that voters have a right to decide issues of state and national importance after a full and open discussion of the facts. For that reason, I am deeply offended by the purposeful use of deception by Proposal A's supporters to win votes. What more telling evidence could there be of Proposal A's total lack of reason and compassion than the fact its backers feel the need to deceive voters in order to win support? Certainly, abortion is a difficult issue for all of us. But Proposal A is not the answer.

Billy D.'s Pizza opens, already plans expanded menu

They have been open about a week and already the owners, Bill and Gerry DeLyon, of Billy D's Pizza and Subs are thinking of expanding the menu and adding new products like a Detroit Style deep dish pizza and other products.

The new pizza parlor is located on North Lake Street across from the Essex Plant and is the first, according to Bill DeLyon, of a series of franchises to be called Billy D's.

DeLyon has been in the pizza business for 15 years, starting in the Detroit area. But his move to the Gaylord area several years ago caused him to buy a former root beer stand and convert it into a party store. That evolved into taking over the Mini Mart in Boyne Falls a few years ago and now, the opening of the pizza business in Boyne City.

In the new operation, everything is set up for fast and efficient preparation of food. Using quality components, the pizzas are made up and put on a conveyer oven for consistency. DeLyon says that in many cases, fresh pizzas can be made and delivered to your door, thanks to free delivery, within 30 minutes.

But pizza isn't the only food being prepared and sold by the firm. They also feature spaghetti, antipasta salads, 12 different kinds of submarine sandwiches, hamburgers, hot dogs, soups and chili.

Everything on the menu is made fresh every day including the homemade dressings, sauces and doughs.

For those who don't want the delivery or the takeout, there is seating for 24 customers at a time.

DeLyon said the main goal is to give excellent quality, fast service, and a whole lot for the money. He says when you leave, you will be full. He also said the firm intends on satisfying the customer at any cost.

The business opened Tuesday,

Members of the staff of Billy D's Pizza and Subs are waiting to serve the customers. The firm opened last Tuesday, and has already made plans to expand the menu to serve the city. They have four delivery cars to ensure delivery of a hot, fresh pizza or other item from their menu.

October 11, and has been getting better each day, DeLyon said.

DeLyon isn't alone in the operation of the businesses. His sister, Carol, runs the operation in Boyne Falls and his brother, Gerry, has joined him in running the Boyne City location. Gerry and his family live in Boyne City. His wife JoAnn and daughters Jill, 9, Michelle 6, and Andrea 4, also help out a little in the operation.

Bill DeLyon also has his wife, Suzanne, working in the operation of the stores and raising his children, daughters Nicole 6, and Jaelyn 17 months.

DeLyon said he is very happy to have an operation in Boyne City. He said that when he was looking for a location in Boyne City to serve those coming for pizza to Boyne Falls, he couldn't find a suitable location.

So he looked at the land in front of the trailer park and decided that would be the best location for a new operation. Bill purchased the land from Dee Adgate and along with a group of other investors, built the new Lake Street Mall, primarily for Billy D's, but he added additional store and shop space. Rental of the new location is in the $8 to $9 per square foot area.

Bill, in looking further at the city, expressed interest in the growth of the community as one of the reasons for locating here. He also said he intends to move here himself, as he like the community.

The pizza operation is open seven days a week from 11 a.m. to midnight, Sunday through Thursday, and 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. Friday and Saturday. The hours may be extended, DeLyon said, if the need calls for it. The carry out and ordering number is 582-7300.

the village okays the revised plan. They said it would be better if the village would agree to closing off the street for the protection of the students.

The firm then presented the board detailed cost breakdowns of the new construction in order to get the work finished. Donald E. Morgridge, the head of the firm, said that the first time the costs were figured, the building would have been over budget. But with the revised plan, he expected the addition will come in at the cost the voters approved in a recent bond election.

The revised building is about 800 square feet less than the original proposal.

In other action, the board approved the administrative salaries of Mike Wallace, the school principal, at $34,431, and includes the district paying for a $30,000 life insurance policy. They also approved the salary for Shirley Etcher at $20,566 and included payment for a $30,000 life insurance policy.

The board balked at approving the contract for Charles Smith, the school system superintendent. He was to get a three-year renewable contract for $38,160 per year with $125 per month for travel. The vote was 3-3 which caused the turndown of his contract.

Board President Bill Cousineau, saying that the details of negotiations were recommended to the board by the negotiating committee, asked a special committee be made up to work out a new contract with Smith. Named by Cousineau were Bruce Giem, John Hausler and Dave Carson, the three that voted not to accept the recommendation of the committee. They were told to negotiate and return to the board next month with a completed contract.

The board also turned down a request from a parent who wanted her son to be placed in a different advanced class. In making the turndown, again on a 3-3 vote, the board told the parent they would agree to move him up within the same type of class, but not to change from an English area to a science area.

They agreed to look at the policy to ensure the problem doesn't happen for another student.

The board did agree to let the senior class hold a citrus fruit sale to earn funds for their senior trip they hope to make to California next spring. Board members heard details of the trip from class sponsor Bill Aten.

The school system did agree to purchase 67 elementary desks and 30 high school desks as they were needed this fall. The money for the purchase will come from the Fund Equity and is about $7,400.

Kathy Massey, the head of the curriculum committee told the board of possible revisions the committee is considering and Wallace told the board the school system had the visitation by the U of M accrediting committee and was again approved for the next year. Wallace told the board the school received only a minor violation but many plusses as the accreditor went through the school.

Falls jv girls take

Alanson by five

BY BECKY HAUSLER
The Boyne Falls J.V. girls made a good comeback in last Tuesday night's game against Alanson.

Boyne Falls started the game well but were behind 11-13 in the first quarter. The score was 18-25 at the half and 30-33 at the end of the third quarter. During the last quarter, Boyne Falls caught up and pushed ahead to win the game 44-39.

The high scorer was Cheryl Wasylewski with 16, followed by Becky Carson with 12, and Christina Barnadyn with seven points.

The top scorer for Alanson was Heather Wurst with 19 points.

Smith estimated that would bring the cost down to about $4,500.

A water softener purchase was put on hold after board members learned the new building plan would eliminate the room where the softener was to be placed. They wanted to wait until plans are firm before taking delivery of the softener.

The school system did agree to purchase 67 elementary desks and 30 high school desks as they were needed this fall. The money for the purchase will come from the Fund Equity and is about $7,400.

The Devils led in the first period 19-7 and by 23 at the half. "Our press was working and the girls played well," said Coach Hines.

Top scorers were Burt with 23 points and 12 rebounds, and Buffy Kooyer (a sophomore) 11 points and seven rebounds.

East Jordan had 28 field goals, one three pointer and hit 13 of 20 from the charity line.

Lady Loggers lose

to Alanson

BY BECKY HAUSLER
The Boyne Falls Loggers lost to the Alanson Vikings Tuesday night in Boyne Falls.

The Loggers didn't really fall far behind until the second quarter when the score was 14-37. The Vikings went on to win the game 62-41.

The high scorers for Boyne Falls were Nikki Kerridge with 14, and Michelle Cousineau with 12 points.

Boyne City jayvee girls lose track

BY SCOTT KNIPE

Boyne City's JV girls couldn't get on track last week as they dropped two more, bringing their record to 8-3. Gaylord was in town last Tuesday, and the Ramblers just couldn't get anything going as they fell, 21-41. Thursday they met Grayling and took them for a roller coaster ride before losing 34-37.

Boyne turned the ball over 28 times against Gaylord, who were disciplined enough to know when to run the fast break, or when to set up an offensive play. In this manner they capitalized on a lot of Boyne's mistakes. The Ramblers never led in the game, trailing 8-15 at the half, 12-29 after three quarters, and finalizing it with a 21-41 score.

Crissy Gervasi and Kris Crozier were high scorers, each with eight points.

The Ramblers show against the Vikings was much the same as against Gaylord, even to the point of having 28 turnovers again. But the Ramblers played tougher defense and counter-balanced their mishaps by causing the Vikings to make just as many. In the end, it was Graylings superior firepower that won the game for them, 34-37, not to mention a two point field goal given to them inadvertently by a Rambler player.

No Rambler player hit double figures. The lead scorer was Aulani Kuheana with seven. Christina May, Crozier and Gervasi followed with six points each. April Silbar and Christina May were tops on defense, each with 12 rebounds.

His wife, Army Spec. Donna M. Williams, is the daughter of David and Carrie Kassuba of Gaylord.

He is a 1985 graduate of Gaylord High School.

EJ jv's can't catch Gaylord St. Mary's

Trailing 17-4 after one quarter, E.J. J.V.s came on strong, but could not catch the strong Gaylord St. Mary's team.

Leading scorers for the devils were Julie Healey with twelve points, and Angie Chase and Bernadett Carr adding seven. Leading the rebounding was Jenny Sherman with ten, followed by Bernadett Carr with eight.

The J.V. record now stands at 7-5, and they will take on the Ramblers of Boyne City Tuesday night at home.

Falls jayvees

lose to by 22

BY BECKY HAUSLER
The Mackinaw City Comets took Boyne Falls by 22 points in Thursday night's game at Mackinaw City.

Each team started with five players, then one Boyne Falls player fouled out. Another Boyne Falls player played while suffering from an injured leg.

Mackinaw City led 15-11 at the half and won the game 37-15. The high scorer for Mackinaw was Tammy Bonter with 11, followed by Fran Holsinger with ten points.

Top and only scorers for Boyne Falls were Christina Barnadyn with nine and Becky Carson with six points.

EJ jv's can't catch Gaylord St. Mary's

Trailing 17-4 after one quarter, E.J. J.V.s came on strong, but could not catch the strong Gaylord St. Mary's team.

Leading scorers for the devils were Julie Healey with twelve points, and Angie Chase and Bernadett Carr adding seven. Leading the rebounding was Jenny Sherman with ten, followed by Bernadett Carr with eight.

The J.V. record now stands at 7-5, and they will take on the Ramblers of Boyne City Tuesday night at home.

BY BECKY HAUSLER
The Mackinaw City Comets took Boyne Falls by 22 points in Thursday night's game at Mackinaw City.

Each team started with five players, then one Boyne Falls player fouled out. Another Boyne Falls player played while suffering from an injured leg.

Mackinaw City led 15-11 at the half and won the game 37-15. The high scorer for Mackinaw was Tammy Bonter with 11, followed by Fran Holsinger with ten points.

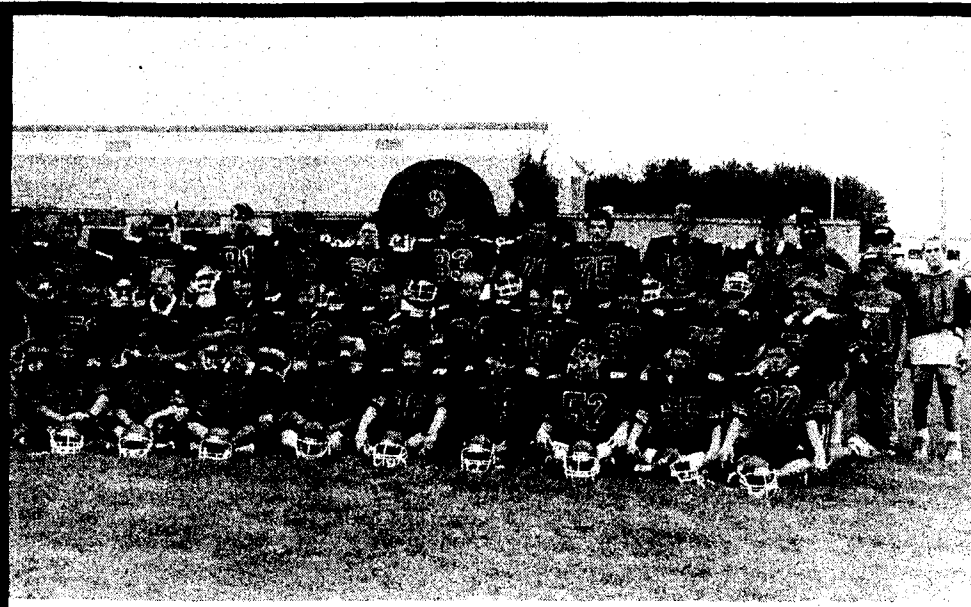

Top and only scorers for Boyne Falls were Christina Barnadyn with nine and Becky Carson with six points.

 board that the plan was exactly what the planning board wanted to see. He also said he liked the plan, a thought that others on the planning board concurred with.
 If the plan is followed, airport officials said the airport will be able to double its capacity for airplanes in the future.
 In other action, the planners have started to make plans for a future update of the Master Plan for the city. Planner Dale Parsons suggested the planners take a look at the plan after its being in place for about 10 years. He wanted to see if any area of the plan needed changes changes to comply with present requirements or needs.

 $5,319. The new heater will replace one that is currently working at about 30 percent efficiency.
 The city fathers then approved the writing off of $5,819.32 as uncollectable for the ambulance service. The money was billed to Medicare patients for services rendered but the government has only paid for 43 percent. The writing off represents a portion of those bills that Medicare was supposed to pay. Since those bills were on the books prior to the change the city fathers made last year of not being a full provider to Medicare, the city wanted the amount of money off the books to help balance the ambulance budget.
 City manager Randy Frykberg announced the leaf pick-up times. Those south of the river will have their leaves picked up October 31 and November 1. Those living north of the river will have their leaves picked up November 2 and 3. City residents are reminded to have the leaves bagged and the brush bundled and tied in order to help the city crews.
 A request for a new liquor license was recommended for denial after the city learned there were enough licenses within the city to serve the residents. The application by the Cedar Street Grocery, which is moving to the new mall on Lake Street, was recommended for no action. It will be up to the state to make the final determination.
 The commissioners then went out to the former landfill to see the work that is underway during the capping of the landfill. According to Frykberg, the construction company is about ready to put the plastic liner over the filled areas.

Lady Devils stay in race with win over Snowbirds

East Jordan won a big game Thursday night defeating Gaylord St. Mary's 62-47.

The Lady Devils led the first period 19-8, then managed to hold off a determined Snowbird team over the rest of the game.

Jill Burt led the team with fourteen rebounds and thirty points which included eleven field goals and eight of nine at the charity line. Buffy Kooyer and Sara Chase added fourteen points, and also playing a key role in the win were Dawn Noiro with six rebounds, and Christie Barber with three steals and six rebounds.

East Jordan had twenty field goals and had three from the three point range by junior Sara Chase who also only missed two free throws going 11 of 13.

Turnovers continue to plague Rambler girls as they lose two

BY SCOTT KNIPE

Boyerne's girls' basketball team suffered two losses last week. The first was to the hands of a taller and well disciplined Gaylord team, 37-60. The second loss was delivered by a hot shooting Grayling squad who did in the Ramblers 32-62.

The Ramblers came out strong against the Blue Devils, taking a quick lead in the first quarter, 15-14. The second quarter was Gaylord's charm, allowing the Ramblers only four points and taking a 19-35 lead. The Devils cruised from there on, leading 30-52 after three periods, and 37-60 when the final buzzer sounded.

One of the hardships Gaylord posed for the Ramblers was their dominating height and strong defense. They forced the Ramblers into 35 turnovers.

Tysh Crozier led the Ramblers in scoring with 16 points. Mindy Stadt added nine, Dawn Archambault seven, Nancy McCullough three, and Kristin Harvey two.

Facing off against the Vikings, the Ramblers again took the early lead, 13-8, but with two players not able to play that evening the team began to tire. They fought hard though, behind only by three at the half, 23-26, and kept it close throughout the third, 29-36. But with no reserves available, Boyerne had it hard against the Vikings who keep their players fresh. After a Grayling onslaught, the Ramblers lost, 32-62.

High scorer for the evening was Stadt with 11, followed by Crozier with eight and Archambault with seven. Archambault topped out the defensive action with 12 rebounds. Crozier contributed ten rebounds to the defensive effort.

Ottie the otter finds new home

BY REG SHARKEY

That rollicking, frolicking, aquatic acrobat, now dubbed Ottie, has lost her happy home with Sue Butler, Boyerne Country's licensed rehabilitator of orphaned and injured wildlife.

Some time ago I wrote about this little orphan I had called "Pixie." I related how her mother was killed by free-roaming dogs on River Road south of Petoskey; and how State Police trooper Andrea LeFeure of the Petoskey post picked her up and delivered her to Sue's doorsteps that same evening, where she responded to Sue's expert care.

Well, anyhow, I visited Sue and the little otter, off and on, to see how things were going.

I was captivated by this intelligent animal. Friendly, playful and so trusting, I would put the otter at the top of my list, yes even above the coon for adaptability to cohabitation with man. I say this because I doubt whether an otter could be as destructive and plain mean as young pet coons get.

But, be not mistaken, Sue did not take on the chore of foster motherhood, or nurse, for the sake of making furred or feathered animals pets.

Sue is an animal rehabilitator whose main interest is to get sick or wounded animals back in shape for release back into their habitat.

But, I know that Sue was taken by this fascinating little critter.

However, when she decided that other arrangements would have to be made for Ottie's future, she called upon Joe Rogers of Wildlife Recovery, Shepard, Michigan to take Ottie.

Due to the ways of otters in the wild, youngsters remain with the family group from birth to near yearling stage, or spring breeding season, in order to learn to—yes, swim—to hunt for food and how to cope with the harshness of the natural world, it was deemed necessary to find a future home for Ottie where she would remain for the rest of her natural life.

A better home could not be found for Joe Rogers is an expert in wildlife lore.

And better yet, Joe travels around the country with his entourage of furred and feathered creatures that will never be able to again face the rigors of a natural world, lecturing and showing them to school children and adults.

Surely Ottie will be in her glory for she's a natural born show-off, grunting happily at the attention and admiration of her human audiences.

When Mort Neff and I were at Sue's place to record the parting of the ways for Sue, Ottie and her collie playmate, I knew Sue was hiding her sadness.

I know how Sue felt for I, too, have had the same situation when I finally had to depart Big Mama, the woodchuck, and her last brood of nine "chucklets" some years ago.

Be that what it may, Ottie the otter will captivate the audiences she will encounter and entertain.

Her future well-being has been assured.

EJ homecoming hopes dashed by Central Lake

East Jordan was hoping to celebrate a win for their annual Homecoming game, but Central Lake had other thoughts as they took the opening kick-off and scored twice within the first six minutes of the first quarter.

Then quarterback Dan Pepin made a pass to Matt Bishop who ran for a 59 yard touchdown. Pepin again passed to Bishop for the point after and scored two for the conversion bringing the Red Devils back into the game. At the half, East Jordan was trailing by a 14 to 8 score.

In the second half, the Trojans came on strong, capitalizing on East Jordan mistakes. At 8:32 in the third period, the Trojans blocked an East Jordan punt in the endzone and then proceeded to score again making it 22-8.

Another East Jordan fumble and a Trojan recovery with a run-back completed the scoring with the Central Lake Trojans on top 30-8.

East Jordan had six turnovers in the game. Dan Pepin was 9 of 22 for 155 yards in the passing department and Matt Bishop caught five passes for 97 yards. The team only gained 102 yards on the ground with the leading rusher being Bill Gotts who had 40 yards.

Leading in tackles was Jeff Olstrom with 13, followed by Jeff Burks with nine and Dan Ruhling with eight.

The Red Devils travel to Gaylord Friday to take on the highly ranked Snowbirds of Gaylord St. Mary's.

Boyerne City plays well, but too late to save game

The good news is that the Boyerne City Football team showed it would play football with the gusto and exuberance it is capable of as in last Saturday's game with the Onaway Cardinals.

The bad news is that they waited until the closing minutes of the game to show they could dominate a football field.

The end result was that Boyerne could not pull the game out from a large deficit and the score ended with the Ramblers losing their seventh game of the season, 37-13.

Boyerne kicked off to start the game and immediately the Onaway offense put together a 65 yard drive that ended with them scoring their first touchdown a couple of minutes into the game.

After Boyerne took the kickoff, the Boyerne offense showed it was starting to jell as they put together 13 plays in a drive that was stopped when a pass was intercepted. A few moments later, the Cardinal team took the ball in for their second TD making the score 0-16.

The Onaway offense was passing just under the Boyerne defensive layout and was gaining ground each time as the team could not figure out how to stop the Cardinals by filling the holes.

Then an interception by Bo Williamson and a good series of plays by Boyerne, put the ball on the Onaway 35, but the drive stalled when Boyerne could not get the ball into scoring position. Onaway then took the ball and went on to score another TD.

Boyerne again took the kickoff and started a drive with Jason Hunt and Mark Harris adding up the yardage. Boyerne took the ball down to about the one foot line, pulling a scene from other games by other teams just seconds before the half ended. But the time ran out just as the Ramblers were in a position to score to end the half.

Onaway added two more touchdowns in the third quarter and that must have taught the Ramblers they would have to play football in order to catch up.

Boyerne dominated action in the fourth quarter with Hunt ending a drive to score the first six points of the game. Exchange student Marc Betruik kicked the point after making the score 7-37.

Boyerne then proceeded to recover an Onaway fumble and marched 64 yards up the field before Hunt again went over in a four yard run. This time the kick went wide and the game ended with the score Boyerne 13, Onaway 37.

Harris was the leading ground gainer with 71 yards rushing on 14 carries while Hunt had 51 yards on 16 carries. The Ramblers connected on six of 12 passes.

Defensively, the Ramblers had Steve Vincent with eight solo tackles while Harris, Hunt and Shawn Vondra added six each.

The Ramblers will try to do better this weekend when they host Newberry for Homecoming Friday.

DNR revises duck hunting rules

BY REG SHARKEY

A weak hooray for the Michigan DNR for upping and simplifying the 1988 duck hunting regulations.

Back on September 14th, I wrote about duck hunting in the "good ol' days." About the big bag limits, sans all the restrictions and hookum we have today.

I hope my tirade against the gobbel-de-gook and complications of rules and bag limits might have had some impact.

Well, anyhow, here are the revised rules and regulations that now apply:

The point system has been eliminated for duck hunting this year and replaced with a conventional bag limit. Daily limit is three ducks (excluding mergansers), no more than two of which may be mallards (one female), two wood ducks, one black duck and one redhead. Effective September 2, 1988, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service approved one pintail daily throughout the season, included in the daily bag limit. Canvasbacks may not be taken. Merganser limit is an additional five, only one of which may be a hooded merganser.

Steel shot must be used in the entire Lower Peninsula and surrounding waters and also for the Munuscong Waterfowl Area and the Potagannissing Flooding in the Upper Peninsula.

Ottie is getting acquainted with her new friend, Joe Rogers, of Wildlife Recovery, and will be making her home with Joe.

Ottie really turned up her nose at her dinner in this picture, but later on decided to eat it.
