BC merchants to start Boyne City Stamps promotion

Thirty-five Boyne City businesses are on line, ready to give out new Boyne City Stamps said Jack Fox, the Boyne City merchant who thought up the idea and followed through with it, getting retailers and businesses in the community to go along with the idea.

The Boyne City stamps program will be kicked up starting November 15, when the many stores will have their supplies of the little stamps.

"The idea is to help customers get some return for shopping in Boyne City," Fox said while showing off what the stamps will look like.

Series A

Merchants participating in the innovative for the north program will give out one stamp for every five dollars of purchases. When completed, a book of 198 stamps will be worth $5.00, which can be used in participating stores for same as cash on merchandise being offered.

Or, a group could save up the stamps and use them as a money making program for their special project, Fox added.

He also said that after the program gets going, he expects some merchants will use the stamp idea in promotions like double stamp days. But he said that will be under the control of the merchant himself and not part of the overall program.

Fox presented the idea to a group of merchants several months ago, showing them how the program could work. The merchants ironed out a few details and eventually ordered 500,000 stamps to be printed, along with the booklets and other promotional items.

Each participating merchant will have a sign to display in their store's window and each will be a collection site for completed books.

Fox said that 35 merchants had signed up so far although he expects others will join after the program is underway.

He said a flyer will be inserted into the APS system to explain the stamp program.

There are certain limitations to the stamp giveaway Fox added, but the rules for the program allow for a lot of leeway. He said the stamps are not going to be given out on sale merchandise, senior citizen discounts, charge card sales, layaway deposits until paid, alcoholic beverages or tobacco.

The stamp program is still at an experimental stage, as the current program is slated to expire on June 1, 1990. Those holding completed books must turn in the first issue stamps before September 1, 1990.

If the program looks like it will be a success, a second issue of stamps will be printed and given out.

Stores and businesses listed as participating include Boyne City Ace Hardware, Carter's Food Center, Huff Pharmacy, The Coffee Mill, Bob's Pharmacy, Self Indulgence Hair Care, Butler Drugs, The Winner's Circle, NuVision, Positive Image, Fineout's, REH Acres, Inc.

City asked not to sign marina/beach agreement for boat slips, fishing dock

From the agenda, it looked like it was going to be a short, quiet noon meeting of the Boyne City Commission, but John Howard, a resident looking into the proposed agreement between the city and the Harborage Marina asked the city fathers not to sign a proposed agreement until he and the others on the parks and recreation committee had a chance to meet with the Department of Natural Resources to resolve and clarify a few items in the agreement.

The agreement between the city and the marina, proposes to give four boat slips to the city in return for the permanent easement that would allow the marina access to four additional boat slips that would be connected to the new peninsula that was constructed for the city beach.

Howard's contention is that the proposed slips being offered to the city, do not meet the conditions of the permit the DNR gave to the city when they constructed the beach.

Howard said the slips being offered are only 32 feet in length, which due to the rip-rap along the waters edge, means that only boats around 20 feet long could be tied up to the slips.

He feels that since the DNR permit says the slips should be 40 to 60 feet long, the city should be compensated in some way.

Marina developer Rick Smith told the commissioners that the agreement between the two parties should be resolved soon, because of the time it takes to get the matter through the DNR. He was worried that the 1989 boating season would pass before the docks would be okayed.

Howard was supposed to have been meeting with a special committee to come up with a solution to the agreement that would be fair to both parties. Commissioner Bill Grimm told him he should meet with his committee before he leaves for winter vacation to try to resolve the differences.

Another point of contention, said Howard, is the construction of a cantilevered dock over the rock rip-rap at the end of the peninsula to fishermen could use the facility.

Howard claims that if the agreement is signed without that condition, then the fishing docks may never get constructed.

City Manager Randy Frykberg told Howard the city does not have money to build or pay for such a dock at this time. Howard told Frykberg that it is not a question of money, just conditions of the agreement.

Both the city and Smith have been waiting for Howard and his committee to propose changes that would satisfy each. Howard was supposed to work through the parks and recreation committee who would in turn, make the recommendations to the city.

Howard thinks the city is getting the short end if the agreement is signed without the cantilevered dock and the size of the slips being shorter than the

Recall petitions thrown out, reinstated

Recall petitions which were found to be not worded correctly were thrown out by the Charlevoix County Election Committee last week, but correct versions amounting to the same thing were resubmitted and approved for the petition gathering process almost within the same week.

The recall petitions are asking that five members of the Boyne City School Board be ousted because they allegedly "did operate the Boyne City School District during the 1987-1988 fiscal year in a manner that depleted funds available for transportation in the 1988-89 school year, thereby depriving the students in the Boyne City School District of transportation needs and jeopardizing the children's safety in the 1988-89 school year."

Up for recall are board members Richard May, David Guznick, Judy Follette, Thelma Behling and Bea Reinhardt. The other two members of the board are not eligible for recall as they have not served six months on the board.

The recall drive supporters have 90 days in which to gather signatures on petitions for each member they want recalled. If enough signatures are gathered within the period allotted, the board will have to schedule a special election to determine which members will be ousted.

Some school district residents have asked the board to reinstate busing and the board has ignored the request pending the outcome of a special election to be held November 14. That election will be the third effort the board has been asked to make by parents wanting the busing issue behind the community.

The other efforts at passing a millage issue to have busing available, failed — the last by 62 votes. The November election will be asking for 1.2 mills instead of the 1.7 originally asked for.

The Positive Side

"Look for roadblocks to progress, remembering that every obstacle is an opportunity."

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

It always amazes me to see the number of people in this fair community, good upstanding citizens, who get dressed up in wild and crazy costumes, just for a day called Halloween.

You would think the Satanists had taken over the city for the day, but in reality, it is just a friendly bunch trying to have some fun during what is usually a dreary time of the year.

Yes, folks, this is the start of the drears.

In case you never heard of the drears, it is the time when the town becomes a community for the "locals" as all of the tourist types and a great majority of the "snowbirds" have or are about to leave for the climes where they can make tons of money or, not have to pay out tons of money for heating costs.

Thank God the drears are one of the shortest of the seasons we have to face around here. It only lasts a couple of weeks.

And then it is hunting season, followed immediately by ski season and snowmobile season.

The two weeks or so of the drears is shorter than the color season, mushroom season and the summer season.

It is even shorter than the several weeks between the snow and the bloom.

But, we are in the thick of it, right now.

This is the time you see the streets of the area with no cars parked in front of restaurants and bars at times. This is also the time many businesses either think about closing up for the winter, or gear up for the upcoming winter season.

No matter which way you want to look at it, the drears are just that. Dreary.

All of the outdoor work that should have been completed before the drears is now being rushed to completion. The leaves have, for the most part, (except for one tree in my front yard that doesn't seem to want winter to come) fallen.

Yards are being raked up between snow/rain showers (again excepting in my yard while I wait for the tree to drop its leaves so I can do the job only once) by homeowners who are trying to keep up with the nice look Boyne City and other towns in this area are concerned with.

But, you say, the drears only come once a year while the summer or winter seems to last too long. And we need the drears to signify the changing of the season?

But, if I were king, we would not have the drears at all. I would decree that snows would start on the 13th of November to start the winter. Before that we should have nice sunny skies and relatively warm weather like in the 60s.

Then all the folks who leave us for the south to face weather in the 60s, wouldn't have to leave. They could still be out fishing, shopping and looking at the growth of the area.

Yes, I could do without the drears.

Judging by the size of the crowds at recent meetings about busing in the Boyne City School System, Boyne City has many enthusiastic citizens interested in supporting its students. I would like to urge these people to catch the spirit exhibited by our students and join one of the three organizations working to help our schools be their best.

At the elementary school, P.T.O. has sponsored the Reading is Fundamental (R.I.F.)

The newly organized P.T.O. at the middle school is helping to promote "Rambler Pride" through the sale of t-shirts and sweatshirts containing the Rambler symbol and the pride message.

Opinions

Who we'd like to see in office

Most newspapers across the land recommend and endorse the people they would like to see in office. We have done that in the past, but for this election, we will take each office and tell who we would like to see holding that position and why.

Starting with the national offices, we favor the Bush-Quayle ticket, mainly because we want to see the status quo of the present government. For the Senate Seat, we don't like either Jim Dunn or Don Reigle as they both seem to be afraid to make a decision. So we would like to see the Libertarian candidate, Dick Jacobs, gain the seat to see what he could do in the face of being a minority. For the Congressional seat, we like Bob Davis. He is finally in a position to be able to make some of the laws, something that Mitch Irwin would not be able to do. Davis is the ranking member of several committees and we would like to see him stay there. Irwin, on the other hand, is doing a great job in the State Senate and we would like to see him stay to finish out his term.

In the State Representative race, we think Ralph Ostling should be re-elected. His opponent Ellen Adington of Ellsworth, still doesn't know what state issues are and thinks from the state Rep seat, she could change world thinking.

For the rest of the ballot, the educational offices, we are tending to vote for the Republicans, only because they are inclined to be a little more conservative in their thinking.

For the contested offices on the county level, we think that Sheriff George Lasater should be re-elected. He has been doing a good job and is a known factor over the contender James Waier. The same holds true for Jane Brannon as County Clerk. We like David Manker, the Democrat for Treasurer, although we would be satisfied with Joan Balch, too.

And in Boyne City, we like Phil Johnson better than Rudolph Florenski.

For the hotly contested Probate Judgeship, we like Seberon Litzenburger better than the Frederick Mulhauser — department of social services campaigners.

For the other judgeships we favor the incumbents.

In the proposals being presented by the state for the voters, we feel they shouldn't have even been presented for our choice. Our elected officials should have been able to make the decisions themselves. But since they didn't, we think there should be a yes vote for proposal A, B, C, and D.

In the township races, we think many of the current incumbents should be re-elected and in Evangeline Township, Doug Shields should be elected over the write-in voting of Bessie Van Dorn.

Anyway, that is what we feel for this election. Remember, next week we have to go to a different poll to vote for a school millage election, at least in the Boyne City School District.

Marshall Sayles

It's November! Welcome to the merry month of gray.

Last Sunday we took a giant leap backward. We are now one hour behind ourselves.

It happened after the radio, newspapers and television insisted we turn our clocks back one hour. Otherwise we would not be swimming in the mainstream of life. (What an awful thing for a man my age not to be doing.)

There's a clock in each of the six rooms in our house. Some were gifts over the years, some were left by visiting children, some we purchased whenever a whim struck us. The others just seemed to have grown.

I'll not forget the time when the REA had an electrical outage along our lines. After the current came back on we checked to see how long it had been off.

As we wandered through the house we discovered to our amazement that the electricity had gone off at six different times.

The only clock right on the button is on the electric stove. When we need to know the exact time we go to the stove, bend over and peer closely at the clock. That's because all the others are busy being wrong.

Sunday, when I was half way through turning all the clocks back, I thought that maybe the mainstream of life wasn't for me after all. However, by late afternoon they were all adjusted, until I went into the garage and saw a clock that had the nerve to be one hour fast. And it is still fast; and it is going to remain one hour fast.

After all, next spring when everyone is rushing to turn their clocks one hour ahead, I won't have to fuss with it.

It says here that we have hundreds of highway laws. That's true and four of them are no right turn, no left turn, no stopping and no backing up. No parking isn't a law, it's a nuisance.

We went out to eat the other night. The sign on the door said: All you can eat for $7.50. Take as long as you wish. This is a fat food restaurant.

Did you know that within the next few days we are going to put two new men in the White House and four people off the school board?

Puts quality learning experience above busing

Editor:

The Boyne City School Board has steadfastly put the interest of students above the convenience of parents. Due to this unswaying attitude, we would like to say a public thank you to each of the school board members.

Thank you for the many hours of your time spent studying our school's problems and possible solutions. Thank you for continuing your efforts when some people attempt to charge you with creating problems merely because you have accepted the challenge to find viable solutions. THANK YOU FOR NOT ACCEPTING THE "THREE R'S" AND BUSING AS AN ADEQUATE PROGRAM FOR OUR CHILDREN.

Hopefully the next millage vote will allow busing to return to Boyne City. During the interim it's good to know that a quality learning experience is available for our children when they are dropped off at the schools.

Sincerely,
Jerry R. & Linda Van Treese

Has 'high hopes' that school in good hands

Editor:

I was pleased to hear you speak to our Rotary Club on Monday 10-19-88. I came away with "high hopes" that our school is in good hands.

We have been very close to this school system, as our children graduated from Boyne, and I was a board member from 1960-1970.

We are confident that once the busing problem is resolved, you will receive full support from the community.

We want you to know that you have our full support and will encourage others to do likewise.

Sincerely,
John and Ann DiMartino

EJ Garden Club greens market workshop Dec. 5

CASSEROLES
Sometimes I wonder who invented the first casserole? Maybe it was our first Americans, we know that they cooked mixtures of wild game, beans, and corn together, squash dried in strips and cooked and seasoned with herbs and berries gathered in the fall, all served in the cooking pot. We read about Esau's pottage in the Bible. When we read some French recipes we see "en-casserole" which means food cooked and served in an earthenware or glass dish.

I volunteered to furnish a main dish for our Genealogy Society dinner and that means a casserole for any potluck. Surely the church and club potlucks are responsible for the terrific popularity of the casserole. The tantalizing aroma from church kitchens still recalls wonderful dinners of the past and I am hungry just thinking of them: Macaroni and cheese, escalloped potatoes and ham, tomato puddings, and nearly always someone brought scalloped corn. So what will I make for our party?

There is no end to the lists of chicken casseroles and for a good reason; chicken casseroles are good! This one is extra special, the whole family will love it as it is sort of a glorified macaroni and cheese dish.

CHIP AND CHICKEN DELIGHT
1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 1/2 cups chicken broth or 2 bouillon cubes in 1 1/2 cups water
1 pkg. (8 oz.) shell macaroni, cooked and drained
1 cup cubed processed American cheese
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms, drained
1/2 cup slivered almonds
2 tablespoons butter
Potato chips
Combine chicken and broth with macaroni.
Add cheese and stir over slow heat until cheese melts.
Add olives, pimiento, mushrooms and almonds.
Turn into a 2 quart casserole; dot with butter and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees 20 to 30 minutes, until golden brown and hot. Just before serving rim casserole with big potato chips. Serves 6 to 8.
This next one uses good, old hamburger, a tasty family casserole or for the club.

GREEN BEAN BURGER RING
Will serve 8
1 cup regular rice, uncooked
2 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can cream of chicken soup, undiluted
2 eggs beaten
1/2 cup chopped parsley
Place rice, water, and salt in heavy saucepan. Quickly bring to a boil, cover tightly, and cook over low heat 14 minutes.
Brown ground beef and saute onion in skillet. Combine the hot rice, ground beef, onion, soup, eggs and parsley. Place in a six cup casserole and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven 350 degrees about 30 minutes until set.

Serve with buttered green beans.
To make this a little more fancy, bake in a 6 cup ring mold. Unmold and serve the green beans in the center.

Here is a delicious combination of foods in a casserole, something like our old-time escalloped potatoes and ham, using noodles and peas which makes it a real meal-in-a-dish. Serve with coleslaw, and hot biscuits with preserves for a delicious family meal, or take it to that church potluck dinner.

HAM AND NOODLE CASSEROLE
2 cups ham, cubed
2 cups medium noodles
1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
1 cup canned or fresh cooked peas
2 tablespoons pimiento
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup buttered cracker crumbs
3/4 cup mushroom pieces
Cut ham into small cubes. Cook noodles in boiling salted water for 20 minutes. Drain and rinse. Make sauce by melting 4 tablespoons butter, adding 3 tablespoons flour and 1 1/2 cups milk. Stir until thickened. Season.
In a casserole, arrange noodles, then meat, white sauce, mushrooms, peas and pimiento in layers. Top with the buttered crumbs. Bake for 40 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

You will notice that these recipes are easy on the budget, using rice, potatoes and noodles, the kind of meals that Grandma had to make to feed her large and hungry family; and she knew how to make them attractive as well as nourishing.

A Greens Market Workshop has been set for Monday, December 5 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in St. Joseph's Parish Hall which is announced at the East Jordan Garden Club's October meeting. Persons attending the workshop are asked to bring a sandwich, and coffee and cookies will be furnished. It was also announced that pre-orders will be taken and can be made by calling either Phyllis Malpass, Esther Porter or Deanna Hurwitz, the workshop chairpersons.

Joanne Schenck, program chairman, introduced Pat Pepin, who demonstrated the art of dried flower arrangement. Mrs. Pepin and her husband started out four years ago with 13 acres of mostly vegetables and a few flowers. Last summer they were growing all flowers and just six pepper plants. She dries her flowers on screens or by hanging in her barn. Some flowers are picked, wired the second day and then dried upright in Mason jars.

Using a wire heart-shaped wreath, the speaker showed how she wraps it with florist tape, then pipe cleaner, makes a base of baby's breath and completes the wreath by using a hot gun to fasten the dried flowers. Another specialty of Pat's is making herb wreaths and garlands using sage, thyme and oregano.

Following the demonstration, club president, Cynthia Burrows, conducted a short business meeting. Club members voted to send an additional $100 to the Little Traverse Conservancy for the North Point Project.

Awards Chairman Thelma McKinnon, announced that the yearbooks were sent in as a club project to the Federated Garden Clubs as an awards project. A committee has been appointed for Community Improvement consisting of Barbara Alderton, Fran Pletz and Cyg Riley. Landscaping for the new library was one of the projects under consideration.

Eleanor VanDyke gave a report to the club on the Conservation school at Higgin's Lake which she attended. She told of a bill coming up in the Michigan Legislature that will set aside 50,000 acres of sand dunes. Other areas of concern were clean water, hazardous waste and pesticides.

She also discusses Proposals C and D on the upcoming ballot. Proposal C addresses itself to finance environmental protection programs that would clean up toxic sites and other environmental contamination and Proposal D would authorize bonds for state and local recreation projects.

Eight members from the East Jordan club attended the District meeting held in October in the Waterfront Inn in Traverse City. Those attending were Marian Sherman, Evelyn Gidley, Martha Annear, Phyllis Malpass, Esther Porter, Joanne Schenck, Cyg Riley and Cynthia Burrows.

Sue Sherman and Donna Genette were introduced as guests at the recent meeting and Mary Clough was introduced as a new member. Hostesses were Martha Mathews and Eleanor VanDyke.

The District spring meeting will be held May 9 at the Homestead in Glen Arbor and the annual meeting of the State Federation of Garden Clubs is to be held May 31 to June 2 in Port Huron.

I've been a good sport about following advice from scientists about what their research shows I should and, more often, shouldn't eat and how long, how often and what kind of exercise I should insist that my body engage in. This latest thing, though, their being on the verge of deciding what my mind is up to by studying computer-created models of same and telling me the results of this research once they get it so I'll be able to shape up mentally is a bit much.

I read about brain research using computer models in an article in The New York Times recently, one which told of a conference entitled "How the Brain Works" that took place in Cambridge, Massachusetts, in late September.

EJ Family Health Center offers weekly presentation

The East Jordan Family Center will be offering weekly videotape presentations and discussions led by a medical professional each Wednesday evening, beginning November 9, at 7:00 p.m. On November 9, Vicki Moss, L.P.N. will be the presenter for "Childhood Immunizations and Early Childhood Safety" and on November 16, Barbara Weber, R.N. will lead the session on "Weight Nutrition, Exercise During Pregnancy".

These sessions will be held in the Community Room on the Lower Level of the Health Center in East Jordan, at 601 Bridge Street. There is no charge to the public.

Distinguished neuroscientists as well as researchers new to the field, and some philosophers too, attended the conference. While the assembled disagreed on the place of computer modeling in brain research, there was enthusiastic accord on the fact that they're close to finding out how the brain puts together what it perceives and makes people act and speak accordingly.

Doing research on the workings of the brain in live human subjects I realize is limited what with it involving opening up the skull, which isn't much fun and volunteers aren't stepping right up to have this done to them. Surgeons aren't volunteering to do it either, here in the States at least, for fear relatives of the looked into heads will sue, another troublesome aspect of such doings. As for animal research, those creatures with brains like humans, monkeys for example, can't answer questions. This limits their usefulness as Francis Crick, a discoverer of the structure of DNA, points out.

Crick thinks that some experiments can be done in the course of ordinary operations. I doubt that if I were his surgical patient I'd care much for this and I don't think others would consider it such a grand idea either.

All the aforementioned problems do make computer modeling the best way to go for conducting extensive brain research. Computers don't duplicate the chemistry of the neurons involved in thinking because scientists don't understand it, but researchers hope that the chemistry isn't important to the understanding of the thinking process. After all, they can get the computer models to exhibit rudimentary forms of thinking without taking into account chemical reactions.

I've wondered why anybody needs to know how people make their decisions in the first place and then if scientists think they must know, how they can be sure once they have answers, that they're the right ones. Patricia Smith Courtland, a philosopher at the University of California, San Diego, and conference enthusiast, gave a pretty good reason for the "why" of the research. She said that "if we understood more about what went into our decisions, we might be more sensible...more rational...perhaps less bigotted, perhaps less chauvinistic..."

If knowing about their thought processes makes people less unkind to one another, I'll admit it's worthwhile. Still, I think I'll feel less individual, less free having scientists presume to know how my mind works and advising me on how to make it work better.

They haven't gotten to that point yet, though, and knowing that things can happen to plans, even controlled computer-based plans, I can hope that supposedly useful data won't be reported for years, so many in fact that I'll have died or become too feeble to pay attention to any further health advice.

Proud of Boyne City kids

Editor:

As a parent who had four children graduate from Boyne City High School, I would like to make a comment or two on what Boyne City Schools mean to me.

First I would like you to read the short speech that my wife, Pat, who passed away two years ago, and I wrote and gave as host and hostess of the 1981 homecoming.

"We are always honored to be part of any event involving our Boyne City kids. When you look out here and see these beautiful young women and handsome young men, you are also seeing young people who have worked very hard in their school years to accomplish the many goals they have set for themselves.

We have all watched these young people start school, work and struggle and some breeze through each year. We have watched the bricks and the walls of "old Boyne High" shake and quiver through very exciting events. We've seen strange goings on around that school, below that school and on top of that school. This has all been part of a fun school life."

Pat and I have traveled with ning experiences of Boyne City's greatest asset - our youth.

Show our young people you care. The Boyne City Elementary and Middle School P.T.O.'s will meet jointly on November 15 at the elementary school at 7 p.m. Boyne City Schools Booster Club meets the 1st Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the B.C.H.S. in room 19. Come! Join! Get involved! Show your "Rambler Pride." It's fun and very rewarding.

many Boyne groups - the teams - the students - the Drama Club - the Band and anybody else that was leaving town and we want to tell everybody, especially you parents, you can stand tall and hold your heads high because when these kids are out on their own they conduct themselves like ladies and gentlemen at all times and you have a right to be proud, and we were always proud to say these are our kids and we're from Boyne City.

I guess the point I am trying to make is, if these kids can make us proud of them why can't we as a community take pride in our school system and pull together to further enrich the education of our kids.

Thank you

Come on folks, support your board

Editor:
The wrong people are being blamed. It's time the accusers look into the mirror and say, "It's time I step forward and accept the responsibility for what I did, not only once, but twice!" But instead, they are busy getting their names in the paper and on the news, insinuating that the public servants on the "Boyer City School Board" are not only serving their own interest (which is absolutely ridiculous), but also mismanaged the funds last year and spent the entire "fund equity." The fund equity is almost gone all right, but this has happened over several years, not just one. The reason for this was to spare the public a tax increase back when it was really needed—this was a wrong decision, granted, but this board is not responsible for it. Sooner or later it was bound to catch up with us, and it did. Don't blame this board!

The millage proposal in June was entitled: "Millage Proposition—Student Transportation." The vote at that time went 461 yes to 592 now. After the shock wore off and the people realized what they had done, they said—"But we didn't know that it meant no busing if we voted no." Well, give them the benefit of the doubt, assume (and we all know what that stands for) they didn't know the consequences. Now, along comes September, another election cost, the exact same proposal wording, with the people knowing full well what the consequences would be and the vote went 813 yes to 875 no with one invalid vote.

Now, twice the people have said they did not want to finance "Student Transportation" for the Boyer City Public Schools. They want the busing all right, they just don't want to pay for it.

Now, once again, comes another millage vote, for less millage, for less years, another $2,000 to $2,500 election cost—plus—the added attraction of a possible recall (still another election cost) of the people that have been on the "board" long enough to be recalled—all because these "very knowledgeable" people want to cover their own guilt by blaming someone other than themselves.

These people that claim to be so concerned about the welfare of the kids—and who have said no to busing twice—are really more concerned about their own inconvenience of being responsible for getting their own children to and from school! If they were really interested in our school system, where were they at the last school board election? There were two people that ran. Where were the ones that claim to have all the answers now? They have repeatedly asked the board to violate the law by furnishing "Student Transportation" after the people said they didn't want to pay for it. Is this a "responsible request" by "responsible people?"

Ask these people why they didn't run for the "board and they'll tell you - "I'm not crazy" —or "You would have to be nuts to put up with that stuff." Yet, they insist on publicly chastising the only ones that had enough interest and courage to do this thankless job. These are the same people that prevent the more responsible people in this community from offering their services.

Come on now folks, if you people are really interested in our kids, get off this publicity kick and give our current "board" the support they need to do their job and help pull this community back together — while we still have a school system that we can be proud of. Dr. Bob has said that he would review the budget to see where there might be some relief. Give him a chance. Get off their backs and help-stop this campaign to disrupt the entire operation. Vote yes on the millage — and, if it is unfortunate enough that it goes that far, vote no on any possible recall!

Says 'studies' are just 'conclusions'

Editor:

I hope that out of fairness you will allow me to respond to Ray Peurasaari's personal attack on me which appeared in the October 26, 1988 issue of the Charlevoix County Press.

I am willing to accept that Mr. Peurasaari's uncompromising sentiments are sincere. However, it is his tactics, and the tactics generally of the so-called "Committee to End Tax-Funded Abortions" that I deplore.

In his editorial, Mr. Peurasaari claims that as director of Northern Michigan Planned Parenthood, I am "employed with the country's largest abortion provider." The fact is, Planned Parenthood provides less than 5 percent of all abortions nationwide each year, and I think he knows that. Planned Parenthood is, however, the nation's leading provider of low-cost birth control services and pregnancy prevention education for teens and families. But that's not really the issue, and Mr. Peurasaari knows that, too.

The backers of Proposal A, including Mr. Peurasaari, claim that Proposal A won't increase taxes, but will instead cause poor women to practice better birth control. Sounds reasonable, if you don't dig too deep. To support their claim, they point to "studies" from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Georgia. What they don't tell you is that the "studies" they use to support their position are nothing more than conclusions drawn by former National Right-to-Life head Jacqueline Kasun, from studies she didn't even conduct. In fact, the prestigious Alan Guttmacher Institute, which actually did the studies, now states publicly that Kasun distorted their figures and twisted the facts to support her own preconceived notions. That, Mr. Peurasaari, is outright dishonesty.

Yes, I feel strongly about this issue. But I'm not afraid to honestly state the reasons why. Proposal A is wrong because it doesn't provide for birth control services or education, or even counseling about abortion alternatives. And since Mr. Peurasaari is so eager to see a law enacted which will deny rape and incest victims the means to end their pregnancies, I would very much like to hear his plan for helping these women and girls prevent pregnancy by practicing better birth control.

I'm quite capable of expressing my genuine, gut-level feelings without your help, Mr. Peurasaari. Maybe it's time you learned to do the same.

Says people avoid school district

Editor:

I am writing to you as a graduate of Boyer City High School and a taxpayer in the Boyer City school district.

As I read this fall about the problems in the Boyer City school district, I felt that I did not know enough about the details of the issues discussed to form an educated opinion. I see now, though, that this whole episode is just another manifestation of an overriding problem that has haunted the system for years. I think that there is a large group of people within the community who have the vision to see that we will get back everything that we invest. Too many within this group, either because they are apathetic or just too busy to pay attention, fail to speak out, get involved or even vote. This leaves us with a small, very vocal group which seems to be against just about anything which departs from the way things were in the past. To the credit of this group, they do take the time to get involved.

Here are a few observations that have come to mind this fall.

One is that we have a school system that people avoid. This is not speculation on my part — I know first hand of more than one case of business and professional people going to another community because of our schools. It occurs to me that these are the people we need in Boyer City. They are the ones who will open businesses and manufacturing plants and provide jobs. Their presence will raise the demand for and therefore the value of our property. They will provide services that we must now drive miles for. They will improve the standard of living of every person in the community.

Two, is that as long as our tax dollars are spent efficiently, we have a wonderful opportunity to subsidize the education of our children and the improvements to our city with other peoples' money. There is a huge tax base provided by non-residents and part-time residents who own and pay taxes on property, including, you guessed it, those condominiums that some seem to despise so much. Let's keep in mind that these taxpayers, who do not even use our schools and who benefit from our city services only a fraction of the year, will match dollars with us when we decide to invest in our future. What a deal!

Three, I do not envy the citizens who represent us on the school board. It seems that this job has become much worse than thankless. I am all for the close scrutiny of the way our tax money is spent. However, from all I can gather, they are being condemned for simply doing what we elected them to do: manage our schools in a fiscally responsible way with the best interests of our children at heart. They should be honored with a certain amount of trust. My guess is that any group of us, armed with the same degree of familiarity with the issues and the available options, would have decided in the same way. If this is the way we treat these people, it will certainly discourage participation in the future of the type of conscientious and responsible people we need to oversee our schools. I think the recall is frivolous and totally counter-productive.

Cary Adgate

They don't want you to vote!

Editor:

The election approaches. The National News Media, the leading Republicans, and a lot of people who have been very busy picking the buying public clean of every possible cent are hoping that you won't vote. Greed has been elevated to a position just short of sainthood. Take the rental business. If the old fashioned eight family three-holer — the privy of Chic Sales renown were permissible under zoning today, they would all be rented, hole by hole. Just check the rentals in your area if you think this is an exaggeration. If your renter is critically ill in the hospital, that is the correct time to serve an eviction notice. About five years ago on a main street in Boyer City, this was done. I know because I found the woman an apartment, went to the Boyer Ministerial Association and got funds for the security deposit.

Look at the food prices! When Michigan was declared a drought area in early summer, supermarkets were up in the middle of the night to raise prices — green beans $1.49 per pound. Many items that had no connection with the drought whatsoever were raised similarly. The motive is not need but greed! Senior citizens can remember the Depression in Boyer City, when Hylon Heaton had the theatre and kids could go to the matinee for five pennies. I watched him many times. Hylon Heaton never counted the pennies. Today the pennies are counted and if the kids can be blamed for any kind of deprecation, their parents are sued. This keeps the two bit lawyers off the streets and from begging bread. We can't have that in Reagan's Paradise.

I used to have respect for the National News Media as a source of facts and truth. That is no longer possible. Whatever is expedient to their own pocketbook and position is considered the truth. We are changing our national emblem from the Eagle to the Hog. I once had respect for the Republican party that at one time had the sense to put Abraham Lincoln in office, a man with integrity, honesty, and humility. Today what remains of that party wants to live and be treated as nobility and act like poor white trash — behold the debates! The present administration is running scared.

They don't want you to get out and vote!

Sincerely,
Constance Fraley

Students doing fine job!

Editor:

The announcement over the Boyer City High School public address system said, "The teachers and staff would like to compliment the B.C.H.S. students for their enthusiasm during "Spirit Week" for Homecoming, '88. The halls are decorated, the floats being built, and the pep assemblies have been led by the cheerleaders, with help from the Student Council and the Drama Department. Our "Hats off" to the students for being an excellent group already in the first month and a half of school!"

The above announcement is True! This year's students are cheering, standing, and singing at every pep-assembly. They are showing their spirit and being proud of it. This is what "High School" is all about.

We're glad to see students getting involved in activities offered by our school. This year 88 students came out for football, 72 students attended our first meeting for the up-coming drama season, 53 students took the P.S.A.T. (Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test) for possible college scholarships. Numbers such as these in a school of 350 young adults want to belong, take part, and to accomplish goals.

Once again, you're doing a fine job so far students — keep up the spirit! We have noticed!

Sincerely,
Bob and Jackie Wollenberg

Nature's slowest speedster

BY REG SHARKEY

When I first saw the great ash sphinx larva, it was inching its way across the driveway.

This three inch larva, with its horned tail, looks much like the larva of the five-spotted hawkmoth I wrote about in an earlier column.

But this undulating character got me to thinking: "Where was it going, and if so, how long would it take to get there?"

I can't imagine that these larva of the sphinx moths are going to a predestined place to pupate, usually underground or beneath forest mold.

So, I managed to pick the bugger up, regardless of a threatening attitude and placed it alongside the curbing on our driveway. It was a good spot to measure the speed of the larva. For some unknown reason, it blindly followed the course of the curbing. Needless to say, it wasn't a speed demon.

I knew the distance from one curbing joint to another and using the sweep-hand on my watch, I gave the critter the green light.

The only thing I was concerned about was, would the rippling racer run out of gas before covering enough distance to make an accurate calculation?

Nevertheless, it kept plugging along, stopping occasionally to rear up to shoot the sun, or whatever it was doing to keep on course.

On the first lap, it covered sixteen feet in two minutes. Lap number two was the same.

Well, anyhow, I got to thinking about how long would it take for the green dragon to cover a mile, that's if the last meal of white ash leaves would keep it fueled for that distance, or it didn't get squished under the wheels of a speeding highway juggernaut.

If my fifth grade math is correct it would take 11 hours of steady undulating to cover a mile.

Well and good. But, more than likely, it found a suitable place to pupate underground where it would manufacture a hard, dark shell, complete with a long, rigid tongue lapped back on the pupa case.

There it would sleep away the winter. Then, in early summer, it would burst forth from its hibernating overcoat into a powerful, swooping flier, complete with a long proboscis with which it would suck up nectar from blossoms, beginning at dusk, continuing on into the night.

Apparently this is why most people never notice these hummingbird-like moths.

Without a doubt these night-time fliers do serve man in a way. They help polonize flowers, domestic and wild.

Addendum: Soon I'll be making my annual winters forecast based on the color, tail attitude and conversation with the effervescent wood pussy, better known as the striped skunk.

We've got a couple of the critters coming about every night for handouts. One of them comes right up to the basement window to accept his evening's handouts, tendered by my wife.

Three EJ runners qualify for State

East Jordan had three runners qualify for the State Run in Lansing on Saturday.

Tim Brennan, an all stater last year, had his 12 roll winning streak stopped by coming in second at the regional meet, but still qualifying him for State.

Holly Johnson placed second in the regional event and Theresa Brennan placed 10th, qualifying both for state competition.

In the team event the boys' team took 10th place and the women's team took 5th.

Positive involvement promotes truth and progress

Editor:
The other morning on my way to work, as I approached the intersection close to our school, a crossing guard signaled me to stop to allow a group of students to cross. A very simple but profound drama was unfolding right before my eyes. These young people were looking to that adult crossing guard for leadership and guidance for safe passage from one side of the street to the other. Their attitude seemed to be poised for the learning activities of the day. "What an opportunity" I said to myself, "What a responsibility." As the last child cleared the curb on the other side of the highway, the crossing guard motioned us to proceed and this simple drama evaporated in my mind as rapidly as it appeared, or did it?

Like the crossing guard, I am a citizen of Boyne City and a resident of our school district with a deep feeling of responsibility and opportunity. If our community is to grow and be a respected place to live and bring up the youth of tomorrow, we must have good schools that contain all of the elements that make them a credit to the community. We must feel proud of our schools and support its leadership. We must give our board of education the support and guidance they so richly deserve. Our young people are this town's most important resource. We owe them the very best we can afford. If there are concerns that need to be addressed, we must have the wisdom and courage to come forward and affect change. To only voice your opinion at the polls is not only doing your schools a disservice, you are cheating yourself. "Get involved." Attend meetings and school functions. Listen to the issues. Freedom of education cannot work without responsibility and involvement. If Boyne City is to sustain its healthy planned growth, we must have a model educational facility to support this growth. Kids are people too. Let's not let them down; let's not let our community down; let's not let ourselves down. Become a positive spokesperson for our community, believe in yourself, you community, your youth. Support your schools. By getting involved with the process, you will have an experience that is second to none. Negative thoughts provoke rumors and defeat. Positive involvement promotes truth and progress. Give these young citizens at the intersection your support. Isn't it wonderful that you have that opportunity? Don't let it pass you by!

Jean Plight of Gemini Lanes in East Jordan presented a check for $500 in behalf of the "Bowling Proprietors of Michigan" to first graders (left to right) Gretchen Knight, Lindsey Malpass, Don Priest, Brian McNeil, for the R.I.F. (Reading Is Fundamental) program of the East Jordan Elementary School. R.I.F. is a non-profit organization which provides all children, grades K-8, with the opportunity of selecting a book to keep for their very own, for free, three times a year. For some children, these may be the only books that they own. To purchase the 2400 books necessary for each year, R.I.F. is almost entirely dependent upon community support. This $500 check will enable us to purchase approximately 375 books.

Solve school problems by working together

Editor:
We are writing to express our feelings on the Boyne City School System.
Presently we have two children in school, one in the high school and the other in middle school.
We too are concerned with the many issues facing the school district: busing, curriculum, over-crowding and budgetary short-fall.

However, we believe the only way we can solve these problems is by working together — parents, teachers, administrators, school board, students and ultimately the voting public.
Now is a perfect opportunity to move ahead and improve our schools. The hiring of a new superintendent and a new high school principal has given us the start we need.

Our school system is not only important for educating our children, but for attracting new businesses, with new jobs to employ these children.
We know what can be done. We have been very pleased with the changes in the middle school. The science program, physical education, art, music and athletic areas have all seen vast improvements.

There are many more things to be done and we face some tough issues. But with team work, communication and yes, money — we can continue to build on what has been accomplished.
We are proud of Boyne City Schools and its growth. Let's work together to make it better.
Cordially,
Alison and Gary Mellon

Basis is school quality

Editor:
The economic, physical, and mental health of a community depends more on the quality of its schools and educational system than any other influence. It's not even close. Caring parental guidance and our schools together create a climate that allows our kids to position themselves to compete in this complex world. The very least we can do is give them the opportunity to try to succeed. Positive communities support quality schools.

Thank you,
John Buick

Forget recall, work together

Editor:
To the voters of the Boyne City School District:
All of us have had an opportunity to voice our complaints. But now it is time to set aside these differences and move ahead. The recall initiative is ill-advised, non-productive and reflects poorly on our school and community. Let's forget it and start working together.
Further, we need to support our administration, school board, and teachers by voting yes for the transportation of our students. This support is critical to the community, our children, and the future of all of us.

Sincerely yours,
Robert P. Polleys, D.D.S.

Boyne girls fail to avenge earlier loss to Grayling

BY SCOTT KNIPE

Last week Boyne met two of their archrivals in important confrontations for the season. The girl's basketball team traveled to Grayling Tuesday with hopes of avenging an earlier loss at home, but suffered a sinking defeat, 40-58. Thursday Petoskey was in Boyne, and the Ramblers put it to them, winning 50-34.
The eighteen point deficit in Boyne's 40-58 loss to the Vikings understated the effort put forth. Tysh Crozier led the Rambler scoring attack with 16 points. Mindy Stadt followed with 8, Kristen Harvey and Dawn Archambault each added 6, Nancy McCullough put in 3, Amy Weeks had 1.
Against Petoskey Boyne had all pistons firing. They launched a strong and well balanced offensive attack while dominating defensively. Stadt led the scorers in this game with 15 points, followed by Weeks, McCullough, and Crozier, each with eight. Harvey contributed seven, and Archambault had four.

Boyne meets stiff competition this week when they go head-to-head against Cheboygan and Mancelona.

Boyne puts it together, takes season's first win

You could tell Boyne City came to play football for the last game of the season. The electricity was so hot it almost melted the snow off the field at Jo'Berg, but they had to use a snowblower along the stripes to clear away the three to four inches of white stuff that faced the Boyne Team.

Despite the frigid weather, the players knew they were better than the record showed for the season, zero wins, and the players resolved to change that attitude. They knew they played tough in every game, often losing by great margins and knowing that a few breaks and the elimination of mental errors would have made the record a lot better.

The players talked about it and the season in the cars taking them to the game at Johannesburg-Lewiston. It seemed to a few parents driving that a win was going to happen.

And it did. Boyne came to play and the team ended up going home with the first win of the season, beating Jo-Berg 12-6 in overtime.

"A young team that was made up of many juniors and a few seniors never did quit, I was proud of their efforts," Coach Shorty Smith remarked after it was over. "I'm glad for school, the many fans that stayed with us, the players and especially the seniors, who probably played their last football game ever...That's sad," he continued.

The seniors, Paul Molnar, Joel Smith, Curt Holley, Nick Evans, Jeremy Butler, Jim Baker, Mark Harris, Barry Matthews, Steve Baird and Will Polleys (sidelined with an injury, but there for support), all played one whale of a game according to fans at the game.

The team came up with a super effort and defeated an excellent football team, the Cardinals. It is funny how things turn around in football, just you think it might have been a long night playing a team like the Cardinals. They beat Onaway earlier in the season and Onaway blew out Boyne's Candle by a great margin. But Boyne turned around and beat the team that beat the team that beat them.

In the first quarter, Mark Harris took the ball into the endzone for the first score of the game, on a five yard run. But the Cardinals came back and pulled even on a fourth and one from the one yard line. Both teams failed to score the extra point and the score remained the same throughout the rest of the regulation play.

Then came the overtime. Jo-Berg won the toss and saw the ball put down on the ten yard line. But the Boyne defense held the team at a standstill on all four downs.

Then Boyne got the ball for their try to score from ten yards out. Quarterback Bo Williamson handed the ball off to Jason Hunt. The entire team knew what they had to do and they all executed perfectly to get the job done.

Hunt scampered around the right end and into the endzone, untouched, on the first play.

Then the excitement began.

The players mobbed Hunt in the endzone as everyone jumped on the pile. Between the players jubilation and the fans hugging and screaming, one could almost feel that the Rambler football program had come alive and the tone was set for the next season.

Hunt ended up with 16 rushes for 78 yards. Harris had 14 rushes for 77 yards and Williamson had four completions for 25 yards. Defensively, Holley had 11 solo tackles, Shawn Vondra had 10, plus Joel Smith sacked the Cardinal quarterback twice to stop two drives.

Molnar had the defensive play of the game when he intercepted a Jo-Berg pass late in the game. His play seemed to turn the hopes of the Ramblers around towards winning the game.

Despite the weather, neither team fumbled the ball. Smith said it was amazing that there wasn't a turnover in the game.

It was nice to end the season with a win, but getting it makes one appreciate what has happened to the team. Riddled with injuries, Smith couldn't even practice the team on several occasions when the opposition were preparing for Boyne's offenses.

Williamson played all season with a bad index finger on his throwing hand plus a bruised sternum, sprained knee and a shoulder pointer. Molnar was knocked out and required hospitalization and missed many games. Holley was hurt as well as Smith, Rob Towne missed a few games with a bad knee, Wayne Avery missed a few games with a shoulder injury. Bucky Anthony was lost for the season early. Hunt played with injuries for many games.

But despite the injuries, the team never quit.

And for the record book, let it show a win for the last game.

EJ ends season with win over Mancy

East Jordan's football team ended the regular season on a high note, beating Mancelona 39-16 by mixing the running game with the passing game and taking advantage of the Ironmen's mistakes.

In the first quarter, Dan Pepin passed to Matt Bishop for a 12 yard touchdown to start the scoring, while the East Jordan defensive effort held Mancy scoreless.

The second quarter added a second touchdown when Pepin hit Bishop again for a 26 yard TD as the drive started on the Mancy forty yard line. The point after attempt failed leaving the score at the half 12-0.

The running game was tried in the third quarter as the team ran for 37 yards and passed for 27 on a single drive that was capped by Pepin taking the ball in for a TD from the two yard line.

Mancelona continued to have costly mistakes and fumbled on their own 30 yard line. Devil Dan Ruhling alertly recovered and Mancy was charged with a late hit penalty moving the ball to the 15 yard line. On the next play, Pepin passed to Mark Moore for the team's fourth TD.

Fumbles continued for Mancy as they took the kickoff, marched down the field only to have Mark Moore fall on the ball when they were at the East Jordan 30.

Dave Freel then took the handoff and broke loss for a 78 yard run to another TD. Moore then kicked the extra point making the score 31-0.

But Mancelona started to come back in the fourth quarter, scoring twice and making the score 31-16.

With 2:52 left in the game, the Devil crew received the ball on the kickoff and started on their own 41 yard line. A Pepin to Ted Sherman pass meant another touchdown and a 59 yard play in the books. Pepin then ran it in for the two extra points making the final score 39-16.

Leading the attack for the Devils was Pepin who completed nine of 16 pass attempts for 201 yards, throwing for four TDs and scoring another. Pepin ended the season with 1030 yards passing.

"Dan is one of the top quarterbacks in the league this year, and probably the best EJ has seen in years," said Coach Ted Jeffery.

Also leading in the offensive effort was Dave Freel with 116 yards rushing and Matt Bishop with 81 yards receiving. Defensively for the Devils, Ted Sherman had 11 tackles, Aaron Brock and Dan Ruhling had eight each. Credited for fumble recoveries were Jeff Burks, Mike Rebec and Mark Moore.

East Jordan girls finish second in league

It was "do or die" for the East Jordan girls' basketball team last Thursday night as the girls had hoped to win their first Ski Valley Conference crown, but the win they needed to stay in contention was dashed when they couldn't stop the efforts of Mancelona and two team members from that school, Kim Corey and Stacy Duerkson who hit for a combined 47 points to defeat the Devilettes, 67-51.

Mancy led by four points at the half, but came on strong in the third period scoring 22 points and raising their lead to 13.

The Devils could only shoot 31 percent from the floor as Mancelona hit on 51 percent of their shots to the basket.

"We attempted to go inside and weren't able to get the passes in without Mancelona getting a hand on them," said Coach Hines. "They did that quite a few times, and we lost confidence trying to get the ball inside. We continued to rely on the outside game. We just didn't take the ball well enough to the basket."

The defense of Mancelona played one of their best games of the season, aside from giving up 29 points in the contest to compliment the scoring of Burt for the Devils.

East Jordan outrebounded Mancy 37-22, with Burt getting 12 and Buffy Kooyer eight.

The Devils were picked to finish about fifth in the conference, but surprised the league with good defense, plenty of fire power from the outside shot, and providing the leagues best scorer.

Yes the title belongs to a well deserved Mancy team, but in East Jordan, the Lady Devils are still number one.

EJ won the J.V. contest 49-15 with leading scorers Angie Chase hitting on 10 and Jen Stark and Bernie Carr each having six.

Grandvue to show off at 30th

The Grandvue Medical Care Facility will host an Open House at the facility, located two miles northeast of East Jordan, from 1:00-5:00 p.m. Sunday, November 6th, Mrs. Regina Shafer, facility administrator, has announced.

The purpose of the open house will be to celebrate the 30 year anniversary of the opening of the Medical Care Facility, and to introduce the public to the recent redecorating and refurbishing project, the first since the facility opened in 1958. The main entry and the corridors leading to the patient wings and the large all-purpose room utilized as a lounge and chapel-meeting room were included in the project. Folding doors separate the large rooms when necessary.

The renovation has been financed by a special fund set aside through the years from contributions by grateful families and friends of patients and from the 1988 Tag Day receipts contributed by the Grandvue Medical Care Facility Auxiliary, Mrs. Shafer explained, thus assuring the public that millage approved earlier this year for operation of the facility (and not levied at this time) is not being used for the present project.

In issuing the invitation to the public to attend the open house on Sunday, Mrs. Shafer urged at tendance so the public may see how their contributions have been spent for the benefit of the patients at Grandvue.

The decorating and refurbishing was done under the supervision of Barbara E. Eschrich of Americana Design of Rochester Hills, who specializes in the design of nursing homes and facilities serving the infirm and the elderly. In giving an overview of her role in the renovation at Grandvue, Mrs. Eschrich said, "An interior designer's work can set the tone for an entire facility, influencing what people think of it and how they live and work there. Too often a designer is thought of as a mere decorator, brought in to pick out patterns for carpets, upholstery and colors for the walls.

"Designing for the elderly, and not so elderly, requires a knowledge of certain physical characteristics along with rules and regulations set by the State of Michigan," Eschrich continued. "All materials used must meet particular classifications for the safety and wellbeing of the residents."

"One's vision changes in several ways as one grows older. Not only does it weaken, but colors may appear darker and muddier. A light, bright palette of colors should be considered. Colors should not be fadish; the rooms should look fashionable for years. Palettes of colors will change as we move on in the facility. Furniture must be stable, chairs should have arms, seats need to be a particular height for ease of maneuverability.

The final decision regarding the choice of colors and design was made by the Charlevoix County Department of Social Services committee, headed by Condit Drury, with Richard Tillen as secretary, and Mrs. Shafer, from suggestions made by Mrs. Eschrich. The committee oversees the operation of the facility for the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners. Serving on the committee with Drury and Tillen are Eliene Rouse of Boyne City and Jane Mayhew of East Jordan.

Grandvue Medical Care Facility was constructed in 1958, and at that time had facilities for 61 patients requiring nursing care. In 1968, 12 more beds were added, and in 1978, construction of a 27 bed Residential Wing was begun and completed in March of 1980 for patients needing less than skilled care, bringing the facility's capacity to 100 beds.

Grandvue welcomes everyone to visit on Sunday and help them celebrate 30 years of loving, caring service to the residents of Charlevoix County.

One of the comfortable new chairs at the entry of Grandvue Medical Care Facility lends itself to a short nap by Eliza Moby of East Jordan, a patient at the facility. Joining her is the colorful calico cat "adopted" recently by the patients and who now makes her home at the facility. Shown in the background is the colorful new wall covering.

permit calls for.

He told the commissioners the city would be giving up a potential $500,000 in income, if it was to sell the slips like the marina does.

He contends that if the city would require the marina to install 60 foot slips, the potential sale of the slip would be about $100,000 each. He also contends that a 32 foot slip is worth less than the 40-60 foot slip. "There is a lot of potential money going down the drain," he added.

Another part of the agreement calls for the slips to be transient dockage. Frykberg said that part of the agreement had been worked out between the city and the DNR that would allow for the transient slips to be traded for permanent slips at the city marina.

But, he added, the city has no money to develop transient slips at the marina.

Noon

Howard said he was bringing the matter to the city in hopes they will delay signing the agreement until next spring.

In other matters, the commissioners heard that the leaf pickup is still going on with additional pick-ups to be made this week, and the hopes are for the weather to clear enough so that the road pavers can get back to work. Frykberg told the commissioners they have about two days of work left to complete before the winter sets in.

In conjunction with the paving, one business owner asked when she could expect to see the sidewalk replaced in front of her business. She said business was very slow during the reconstruction on Park Street and she understood that part of the work. But she asked the city to see if they could get the sidewalk completed and the shoulder work done prior to the snow flying.

She was told the work was scheduled, and the weather was the thing holding up the works. The city agreed to continue to ask the sidewalk contractor when the work would be completed.

The police department was verbally commended by Andy Andrick for the amount of work they have been doing to control traffic going to the schools without the buses running.
