Memorial Services set for Monday

Boyne City Memorial Services will be held Monday, May 29, with both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars members and auxiliaries performing the parade and services.

The day will start with a combined breakfast for the V.F.W. and Legion members who will be visiting six area cemeteries to provide a service of remembrance for those veterans buried at each. The touring members will meet at the Country Star Restaurant at 7 a.m. for a breakfast prior to starting the trip to the cemeteries.

The first visit will be to Boyne Falls Memorial Park about 8 a.m. and the group will then go to Walloon Lake, Evangeline Township, Advance Cemetery, Wilson Cemetery and finish up at Maple Lawn Cemetery in Boyne City about 9:25 a.m.

From there, the membership of the two organizations will form up at the American Legion Hall for the annual parade to Veterans Park. The parade route will take the veterans from the Legion Hall north on Lake Street directly to the Veteran's Park where the ceremony will be held at the memorial site.

Warren Davis will announce the service while the Boyne City Band will play the National Anthem. The crowd will be asked to say the Pledge of Allegiance followed by the Rev. Lane Eddy of the Free Methodist Church providing the invocation.

The High School Band will play a selection and the Rev. Milton Walls of the Presbyterian Church will provide the address.

Walter Stahl and Ralph Moore will be leading the recognition followed by the placing of the wreath by members of the auxiliary units. The Rev. Lane will lead everyone in the Benediction followed by the gun salute from the American Legion Drill Squad.

The service will end with the playing of Taps by members of the band.

EJ going after junk hoarders

Violators of the East Jordan junk ordinance will be taken to court, and their properties will be cleaned up, Superintendent Mike Dionne assured concerned residents at city council meeting Tuesday, May 16.

Five concerned residents waited patiently through city council's complete agenda for the opportunity for visitors to speak. But Jan and Jim Rathbun, Deborah and Louis Peck and Ron Green had more than junk to complain about.

A delegation from their neighborhood in the Mill and Ninth streets area had presented city council on April 18 with a petition asking for an alley to be closed, but council voted to table their request. Both Jan Rathbun and Deborah Peck expressed surprise that the tabled issue was not on the agenda. They said they expected it to be brought up as old business.

The alley in question cuts from Elm Street to Ninth Street, but the Ninth Street access is obstructed by junk. Riders of recreational vehicles have cut a new alley from Elm Street curving to Mill Street, cutting across Rathbun property and gouging deep ruts in their grass and soil.

Jan Rathbun said rowdy boys have pounded on their garage at 1 a.m. and zoomed through their yard on motorcycles and four-wheelers at 8 a.m. on Sunday morning. The police come when called, she said, but always too late to see the offenders in action.

She said the violations had increased since an article about the problem in the April 26 Charlevoix County Press.

Council member Mike Burr suggested a temporary fence might be erected at the Elm Street entrance to the alley, but council decided to wait to see if court action might solve the problem.

The five residents also pleaded with city council to do something about the junk, and Dionne and City Attorney Scott Beatty said certified letters had been sent to offenders, telling them to clean up their messes, and because they did not, warrants would now be issued.

Contacted later, Deborah Peck expressed a feeling of futility in dealing with the problem. She said after her father-in-law died, they kept his car parked on their property, but the city made them remove it.

"You can't have a neat, unlicensed car on your property," Louis Peck said, "but you can have all that junk."

They admit that council members have driven in the neighborhood to ascertain the situation, saying that council members Dave Waldron saw their neighbors to the east unloading junk. They said they couldn't understand why he didn't speak out at city council meetings.

The Pecks say junk is unloaded on the property, and then some is loaded again and taken away.

At the April 18 meeting Beaty questioned if a business were being conducted on residential property.

Neighborhood residents wonder the same thing about a rabbit house being built to house an estimated 300 rabbits on Paul Liskum's property at 107 Ninth Street. Neighbors said last summer he had 50 rabbits, which he butchered and sold.

Dionne admitted that the city ordinance governing animals on residential property "dates back to 1898." The entire zoning ordinance is in the process of being updated by the planning commission.

Saying that Liskum has no building permit for the structure, Dionne said, "We're going to court over the whole matter, and as far as we're concerned, the structure is part of the junk. We'll have that removed when the junk is removed."

The city has been in court with Liskum before, and the court granted him until some time after the snow melted to clean up his property.

Asked if he would like the Water, sewer rates increased by BC

Water and sewer rates in Boyne City will be increasing two percent or about a dollar a month for the average user after the Boyne City Commissioners agreed to raise the rates to keep the water and sewer system in the black.

The system moved into the black for the first time in several years this year and the small increase was needed to insure the system stays in the black.

The city has been cited several times by the state during the past when the program was in the red, to do something to improve the negative balances.

Commissioner Sandra Stanley told the others on the commission that it was "Better to go up a little at a time instead of having to have a large increase every few years."

The actual rates will be going up for the basic services from $19 to $20 per quarter while the water

The East Jordan Board of Education is having a special meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 24, to recognize students with outstanding scores on the Michigan Education Assessment Program test. The board will present certificates to all fourth, seventh, and tenth grade students who achieved 100 percent scores on math, reading, or both.

Merchants in the Downtown Boyne City area are asked to help with the planting of flowers in the planters in front of their shops as soon as the flower committee of the Chamber of Commerce brings them around next Tuesday.

The annual Boyne City School Boosters Breakfast will be held Monday, Memorial Day, from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the Boyne City High School cafeteria. Tickets will be available at the door and the proceeds from the event will go to benefit the whole school district.

With the squeeze of the clippers, County Commissioner Larry Matthews officially opened the new County Transit Facility on Brockway in Boyne City last week as Art Sawarski and Kip Grimes, a MDOT official, hold up the ribbon. Grimes said that the new building was unique among the transit systems he works with throughout the state saying both the builder, Seals and Roberts Construction, and the architect, Richard White, were to be complimented. The facility was funded by the county, MDOT, and the U.S. Department of Transportation.

BC Schools accept asbestos bid

Boyne City Schools will get their asbestos problem removed, even if the cost is going to be about $10,000 more than the school board and administrators had planned on spending.

According to Superintendent Bob Nakoneczny, the problem was that the bids for the removal of the asbestos came at a time when the Federal OSHA rules changed covering the removal of the supposedly hazardous material.

The bids reflected the increased costs because of the way the new rules say it will have to be done.

The board accepted the low bid of the Worth Company of Port Huron who will do the removal this summer at a cost of $365,012. Bid acceptance for the replacement of the insulation that will be removed were tabled until some more information could be determined.

Nakoneczny said the previous way of removing the asbestos involved a glove bag which was installed around the asbestos. The material was then wetted down with water and the product was removed from the pipes while inside the bag.

The new way requires the contractor to seal off the whole room, provide a negative airflow to the room and then use the bag process.

The new rules came about because the federal OSHA inspectors said that some of the contractors were unscrupulous in the removal process. The change was mandated by the federal officials between the time the bid specifications were sent out to contractors and the time they were opened. The contractors learned of the rule change and submitted their bids accordingly.

The bid opening was a surprise to the board members when they were opened June 8th and they directed Nakoneczny to find out what the difference was and why they were quite a bit higher than expected.

Nakoneczny also said that supply and demand for the work was another factor in the increase in cost. He said many schools are trying to get the work done this summer and the number of contractors qualified to remove the material and available to do the work was getting smaller as more bids are being asked.

As an example, Nakoneczny told the board that previous to the rule changes, the bids were coming

There also will be a singspiration at 6:15 p.m. on Sunday, June 18. Everyone is welcome to come.

Charlevoix Area Hospital approved for "swing-beds"

A Certificate of Need has been approved by the State Department of Public Health for 10 "swing-beds" at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Swing-bed is a term used to describe a bed that is made available to a patient who has been receiving hospital care but is now eligible to go to a lower level of nursing care such as in a nursing home. Very often these patients stayed in the hospital because nursing home beds were not available. The hospital did not receive reimbursement for stays beyond what Medicare allowed for the acute stage of the patient's condition. The swing-bed program was approved by Medicare to assist smaller hospitals in utilizing excess beds interchangeably and to broaden their revenue base.

Patients will be eligible for swing-bed stays if there are no nursing home beds open within a 50-mile radius of his or her home. The patient must be Medicare eligible for skilled care services. Skilled care means that significant medical treatment is still required.

There is a 20-day maximum on the number of days patients can remain in a swing-bed and, if a bed becomes available in a nursing home, they must be transferred within five days.

To qualify for swing beds the hospital must be a rural hospital of under 50 beds and it must be one that provides rehabilitation services such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech pathology, as well as dental services, social services and discharge planning.

Currently inservice training for the hospital employees is being held to acquaint the staff with the requirements for swing-bed care. Charlevoix Area Hospital will accept its initial patient into the program beginning May 22.

The Monday Study Club met May 15, at the home of Edna May with twenty-seven members in attendance. The program for the evening included: "Collectable Inuit Art of the Hudson Bay Region" was given by Dr. Bernard C. Rink of Traverse City. A movie preceded his interesting lecture of the people of this region, who prefer to be called "Inuit" meaning "The Only People" instead of "Eskimos" which means "raw meat-eaters". It was interesting to see how they carved seals, walrus, trappers, etc. from stone with an axe. The dark gray or black soapstone was used to make this outstanding form of art. President Maryanne Watkins held a short meeting after the program. At that time, the June meeting was discussed. A delicious dessert was served by co-hostesses Olive Bernier and Marion Harper Davis.

The TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) organization held its annual convention at the Renaissance Center in Detroit on May 18-19, with 4,000 members attending. There were 13 from the Boyne City Chapter 1463 and their very own Jean Marcham was crowned "Queen" for having met her goal. Many congratulations also went out for Dorothy DeRoos, for her 155 pound weight loss!

Katherine Spaniak honored her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy (Virginia) Massey for their 29th wedding anniversary by taking them out to dinner on Sunday.

Alice Marcellus and her niece, Darlene Griffon, of Freesoil, spent a few days here this past week visiting her sister, Joy Brooks, and family.

Marion Gartman went to Romeo this past week to be with her daughter, Mary, and Jack Marceau. Marion also underwent surgery in a hospital there on Thursday.

On Saturday night, Larry and Marti Hutchinson honored their BCHS '89 graduate, their only daughter, Traci, with an open house at the Eagles. Sue Stone of Muskegon and Mary and Russ Knapp and granddaughter, Jennifer, also of Muskegon, were among the many friends and relatives there to join in celebrating Traci's special time and all enjoyed dinner and dancing to the DJ music! Traci will begin a trimester at the DeVry Institute of Technology on July 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Halloran and son Arthur Jr. of Detroit were here for a few days this past week and attended the funeral service of Carl Alldred on Wednesday.

There were many friends and relatives here from Detroit, Birmingham, Indiana, California, Florida, Grand Rapids, and the local area on Saturday to attend the wedding on Saturday of Todd Ward, son of Walter and Ann, to Melissa Brown at the St. Matthews Church. On Thursday, Dave Reinhardt entered Northern Michigan Hospitals as a medical patient, due to breaking his leg in several places following a nasty motor cycle accident.

Mrs. Jean Holland, Mrs. Margaret Holland, and a cousin, Josephine Sheridan, all of Grand Rapids, were houseguests of their sister-in-law, Peg Spencer, over the weekend and attended the wedding of Todd Ward and Melissa Brown on Saturday.

Alta Lewis, who had been staying at the Bortz Center in Petoskey, is now at home with her daughter, Sally Seelye.

A busload of 22 Charlevoix County Senior Citizens went to Lansing on Tuesday to join a group of over 7,000 from throughout the state for "Senior Power Day". One of the speakers of the day was Governor Blanchard, and the seniors listened to various updated information on future senior benefits. All enjoyed the box lunch before the return trip. It was also reported that the group's chauffeurs, Oral Sutliff and Art Saworski were great...serving them coffee and doughnuts on the way down, and then, enroute home, stopping at the Mall in Clare for shopping and supper at the Ponderosa. They had lots of laughs, story telling, and a lot of fun. Oral and Art really made the trip most enjoyable for them all.

Bowling scores for the Boyne City Seniors were: Ardyth Dorgan-562, Bob Rumpf-485, Pros Blancaert-456, Jean Marcham-445, Cliff Bradshaw-442, Dick Brannon-382, Mildred Sheldon-378, Irene Brannon-362, Eunice Bradshaw-362, Goldie-332, Clara Kimble-327, Pearl Frieden-321.

No bingo scores for this past week were reported.

EYECARE EYEWEAR

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Wanted, morel mushrooms. Willing to accept any and all by a man with poor eyesight after spending time in woods looking for them little things that seem to hide. Bring to County Press Office. Free donations accepted.

Maybe, just maybe, someone will stop in and drop off some so I can share them with a few others around town who have been having a hard time trying to find out what a morel mushroom really is.

One person told me Monday that after several hours of traveling through the woods and not finding any, he was ready to quit the search. I told him that the search was the most important part of the game. It is a little like a stolen watermelon or apple seems to taste better than if you just went to the farmer and asked if you could have one.

Or like eating peanuts in the shell. When you have to work a little to get to the peanut, it seems to taste a little better.

Or like working outside on the lawn all day mowing, clipping and raking up the clippings. That glass of cool water on a hot day like Sunday is really the thing that hits the spot.

I guess it is like a lot of things in life.

If you have to work for them, you will enjoy them better.

Now if I could only get the rest of the people thinking that way, then we could see some real progress in the human experience.

I mean, people wanting to work just because they know they will feel better.

Me, I feel better when I get it done. The only problem is that after I get the first job done, then I have about seven others that also need to get done.

And the list is endless. I plan on spending some time in my life just goofing off, doing what I want to do, when I want to do it.

If I want to paint the fence, plant the garden, finish painting the shed, then I will be able to do those jobs when and if I want. Not because someone says that they should be done.

I will admit that last weekend, I spent the days like I almost wanted. I took a nap both days.

It must be because I am getting older. I am looking forward to taking another nap some day, maybe this next weekend.

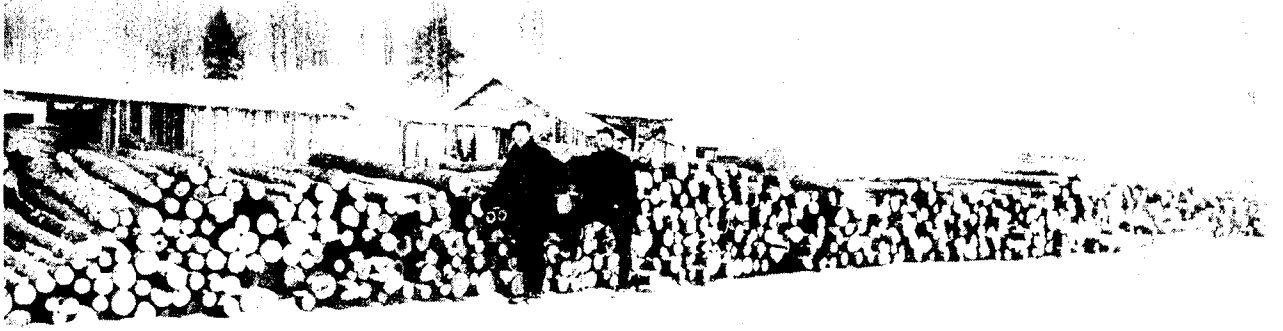

If I don't have too many other chores that need to get done.

That is one of the problems.

I have discovered I have a bad case of spring fever. Sure, it is a

One winter, about the time Bernie Kondrat and Ben Organe got together with an idea to start Boyne Falls Log Homes, the two went out into the woods and brought back a few cedar trees. They then spent the rest of the winter sawing them up so they would be the same length and easier to work with as they started their firm back in 1947. All of the wood shown in the picture was cut with a buck saw and crosscut saw by hand. If you have any old pictures of the area you would like to share with our readers, please bring them to our office on Groveland so we can make a copy for this feature.

Thanks Little League supporters

Editor: To all supporters of the Boyne City Little League:

We would like to thank the Boyne City Parks and Recreation Committee for the use of the site we built our new minor league field on. We also want to thank all the people who support the Little League Candy Fund Raising event as this allowed us approximately $2,600.00 towards the fencing on our new field.

We wish to mention the following sponsors whose donation of equipment, materials, and labor enabled us to complete the field. They are: Hodgkiss and Douma, Inc., R. Kruzel Excavating, Dave Rasch Builder, Fiel Construction, Seals and Roberts Construction Co., Kirk Kujawski Builder, Northern Monday is Memorial Day.

I can't believe it, even though the calendar and our lilacs don't lie.

Only yesterday, it seems, a skim of snow covered our back porch while the sun spent the day hiding in Canada.

Speaking of lilacs, have you ever been to the Mackinac Island Lilac Festival? Neither have I. Have you ever walked the long porch at the Grand Hotel? Neither have I.

But so many people are walking the porch the owners now are charging five dollars just to stroll the boards and look out across the straits. At five bucks per stroll, that's quite a bag filler when you realize that more than one thousand people are expected to walk and look this summer. Five thousand big ones with no work, what a deal!

Suddenly my money hungry and greedy nature moves me to think. We have a nice long deck on the front of our house overlooking Lake Charlevoix. Why can't we stretch the deck another two or three hundred feet? What a place to stroll and look out over the lake. Five bucks could not be too much to oh and ah as you see what the people are up to at Glenwood Beach, the State Park or Horton Bay. And if they came to my porch walk they would not have to pay boat fare to get here. Heavens, I believe I've got the Grand Hotel beat four ways to a bag full of money.

I mentioned this hot idea to a friend who closed the damper almost immediately. "You can't see Charlevoix from your porch, can you," he asked.

"No, not that far," I said.

I've never heard of anyone paying five dollars not to see Charlevoix," he said.

"Well, I could give a discount to those who didn't want to see Charlevoix," I said.

"And Glenwood Beach," he said. "What right do you have charging to look down upon the nice people there?"

"You've got the wrong idea," I said. "Take Horton Bay. People out there like to be seen. I have friends there who say, 'Come and see us.'"

"Will you be able to see Boyne City from your new porch?"

"Only about half of it," I said. Those big trees prevent us from seeing the other half."

"When people get upset because they can't see the other half of Boyne City, what will you tell them? Are you going to say the other half of Boyne City ain't worth five dollars?"

"Heavens no. I'll tell them it is worth every penny of it, even though they can't see it."

"What other attractions will your new porch have for the visitors?"

"Well, for one thing, I'll tell them that if they all stand still and listen closely they can hear the fire whistle blow in East Jordan."

"Suppose some of them don't want to pay five bucks to hear the East Jordan fire whistle?"

"Oh, shut up."

"What does your wife think of your idea of beating the Grand Hotel at its own game?"

"She doesn't like it. She says that if I want to earn more money I can mow lawns or something. But she doesn't understand. I'm in the extra money making business, not the working business."

Daniel Adkison shows off a plaque representing the first place he won in national competition among 3,000 apprentices of the Sheet Metal Workers of America competition. The apprentices all had to make a metal chimney cap and answer questions on a test as part of the contest. Adkison won as a first year apprentice with the program working for Robinson Brothers, Inc. He represented the firm as part of Local 7 of the Sheet Metal Workers of America based in Lansing. This was the 17th annual contest for apprentices and Hud Robinson said he is very proud to have Dan on his staff. RBI was the only shop in Michigan with two apprentices going on to state competition. With Adkison is Hud Robinson and his wife Patricia who is holding some of the other work that Adkison has made as part of the apprentice program.

The plan includes the placement of 132.09 miles of outside plant facilities, a remote building, a digital switching system, and new toll carrier equipment to improve long distance service. Once the plan is completed in 1990, all subscribers in Boyne Falls will be provided private line service. At that time the new digital switch will also offer Century customers custom calling features including: Call Forwarding, allowing the transfer of incoming calls to another location; Call Waiting, the ability to receive incoming calls while the telephone is already in use; Speak Calling, which enables telephone numbers to be dialed by using one or two digits; and Three-Way Calling, the convenience of adding a third party to an existing conversation.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the Board of Education of the Boyne City Public Schools, Charlevoix and Antrim Counties, will hold a public hearing to take testimony and discuss the levy of an additional proposed millage rate of 3.0831 mills for operating purposes in 1989, and a total tentative millage rate of 33.7186 mills for operating purposes in 1989, pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982. The public hearing will be held on June 1, 1989, at 5:00 o'clock p.m. at the Media Center of the Boyne City High School, 1025 Boyne Avenue, Boyne City, Michigan, 49712.

The Board of Education has the complete authority to establish that approximately 30.7186 mills be levied in 1989 from within its present authorized millage rate. In addition, the Board of Education will have the authority to levy an additional 3.00 mills in 1989 for operating purposes if the June 12, 1989, operating millage proposal for 3.00 operating mills is passed by the electorate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1989 by approximately 10 and 06/100 percent (10.06%) over what would otherwise be permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of the state equalized valuation of property located within the school district. Exact state equalized valuation (S.E.V.), additions and losses will be finalized and available on June 1, 1989 from Charlevoix and Antrim Counties. In the event that state equalized valuation, as finalized, is for any reason higher than stated for use in this hearing, the Board of Education must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The Board of Education levied 32.57 mills for the past year (1988) for operation of the school district. This represents 22.43 mills (renewal of 21.30 mills and additional of 1.13 mills) which was approved by the voters for three years on June 13, 1988, and 8.94 mills (9.10 mills less 0.16 Headlee Rollback) of the Count allocated millage, and 1.20 mills approved by the electorate on November 14, 1988 for one year for general operating purposes which included transportation for the last six (6) months of the school year.

The authorized millage for school operations in 1989 will be approximately 33.7186 mills including the additional 3.00 mills to be authorized pending approval by the electorate on June 12, 1989. It is therefore the intention of the Board of Education to levy an authorized millage of 33.7186 mills in 1989.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Education may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

Rezoning granted for E Jordan mini-mall and duplex

Although their vote was not unanimous, East Jordan City Council approved two requests for rezoning to allow construction of a duplex and a mini retail mall with laundromat.

The rezoning which allows the duplex to be built was a change from R-1 to R-2 on Nicholls Street property owned by Don and Teresa Skinkle, owners of 2.9 acres on the north side of Nicholls just west of Browns Creek. Council members Ellen Cihak voted against the motion to rezone.

The request to rezone a building to house three businesses under one roof, including a grocery store and a laundromat, was made by Jim Petrie Construction Company for property on East State Street, which is Deer Lake Road.

Mayor Russ Peck and council members Cihak and Mike Burr voted against rezoning from R-2A to C-2 to allow the shopping center, but the motion to rezone passed with a simple majority, with council members Jim Yettaw, Russ Gee, Dave Waldron and Ron Klooster voting affirmatively.

During discussions before the vote, Burr asked if the rezoning constituted spot zoning, and the consensus was that it did. There was no other discussion.

After holding public hearings on both issues, the East Jordan Planning Commission unanimously recommended the rezonings, except for commissioner Don Skinkle abstaining on the vote concerning his property.

The city has also been in court before with John Russell, 1008 Mill, and Albert Ablett, S. Maple, and new warrants are being issued.

Other warrants will go to William Russell, 807 Mill; Sharon Smith, 816 Prospect; Julius Metcalf, 902 Prospect; Eugene Norton, 111 Hurlbert; Nakoneczny said this is a classic case of the federal government forcing cost up.

While the board was not happy with the cost, they also were not ready to spend even more money to comply with the requirements of continuing to have asbestos in the school. The extra money will be taken from another part of the general fund so the board voted to get the work done.

Robert Browning's spirit should be wriggling with pleasure over the change of heart in America. Browning is the English poet who over a century ago wrote: "Grow old along with me! The best is yet to be..." In this youth-worshipping nation, this was long considered mere romantic twaddle, but now, for whatever reasons, many older Americans don't see it that way anymore.

According to a nationwide survey by the Los Angeles Times Poll of 3,050 adults, nearly two-thirds of those polled over 65 years old enjoy their lives. Those in the 50 to 64 year old age group are happier than those younger too but not as pleased as the older set.

The Times Poll found that less worrying is a big factor. The older people get, the less likely they are to worry about money, retirement, disease and death.

They're also less concerned about crime than ten years ago even though the crime rate has increased; in fact, they're no more so than younger people.

The pollsters didn't ask why on this or any responses. On this one, though, it's likely individual anyway, such as faith in the local police, or in lucky underwear.

Also fewer older than younger people feel lonely, a surprising fact to many, likely experts on aging most of all.

As for depression, almost three times as many senior citizens as youth say that they never get depressed, another statistic to baffle gerontologists.

With none of these results interpreted, explanations are anybody's guess. It could be, for instance, that the older people get, the less they expect of life, and perhaps of themselves too, in which case author Oscar Wilde's remark in his later years expresses the comfortable view they've come to hold: "I'm not young enough to know everything."

Also fewer seem to fuss with putting on pretenses leaving them more time to relax and enjoy life. "The closing years of life are like the end of a masquerade party, when all the masks are dropped," is how Arthur Schopenhauer put it.

Of course in this as in everything, there are differences of opinion on how the years are perceived even among the famous. Actress Helen Hayes doesn't think life gets good until farther down the pike, her theory being that the hardest years stretch all the way from age ten to seventy.

Then there's actor Jimmy Stewart who says, "After seventy it's patch, patch, patch." Put together, these two make all but the start of life sound like more trouble than it's worth.

Still, according to this poll, Americans have come to believe that Browning was right; growing older is good and gets better with the years.

There is a caution, though, that Browning didn't note and that is that if one plans to live long and happily as well, he'd best prepare for it. Otherwise he might end up as the hapless (and unidentified) fellow who mourned: "If I'd known I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself."

And before that it was hunting season and before that, boating season, and still going back, I find myself in the same place that I was in last year at this time.

Life does seem like it runs in circles, doesn't it.

And just like this column, I am back to mushrooms. I hope someone brings some in so I can break this circle.

rates will be going from 90 to 92 cents per thousand gallons.

Commissioners then signed a contract with the State Highway Department for work that is projected to be done next year on M-75 as it comes into the community from Boyne Falls.

The work has been projected for the past three years and has been put off by MDOT each year.

The contract calls for the city to share in the cost of installing sewer and water lines as well as sidewalks. It is expected to be in the range of $100,000. No money would be expended until the bids are let. That is expected to happen in December after the bid specifications are announced in November according to the City Engineer.

Then, in an attempt to increase the workload of city workers so the cemetery would get trimmed and mowed, a proposal for the city to borrow $3,000 from the bank to help pay for the overtime was defeated when the vote came out two for and two against.

The city has hopes of completing the cemetery work before the weekend but with the recent rains, the grass is growing faster than the workers can get it cut.

Commissioner Thelma Behling suggested that the people with the lots might want to cut their own plot to help save the city money.

The vote was turned down because the city is trying to control costs by eliminating as much overtime as possible. That frees up some money that has been budgeted for street improvement along with the infrastructure work.

In other action at the Tuesday noon meeting, the commissioners agreed to allow the closing of Escape Street in the North Boyne area between Court and Silver Streets. The city did ask that a 20 foot easement be granted for possible utility work.

They also allowed the closing of Willow Street, a street that has never been or, according to city officials, never could be opened. The street goes sixty feet up a cliff on property owned by the Hawkins family. They intend to develop some housing on their land with access to the homes coming off of Wildwood Harbor Road in Evangeline Township.

LOCAL FISH

When thinking of our local fish; smelt comes first to my mind, and some of our local restaurants are serving them. My friends all agree that smelt is to be served just floured or dipped in cornmeal and fried in a little butter. Season with salt and pepper and do not add anything to change the delicious delicate flavor.

As a child, I remember when cousin Ollie arrived every spring with the back of his Model T Ford with fresh fish which came from Saginaw Bay, packed in ice. I did not know what kind of fish it was. I just knew that it was good. It was also the season for fresh asparagus and there were green onions from the garden.

According to our newspapers, fishermen in our area are catching brown trout from Lake Michigan, steelhead, walleyes, lake trout as well as perch and rainbow trout from the lakes rivers and streams. So the fish are there, however where does a person like me go to find these special fish? I have smelt and salmon given to me occasionally and I have to buy the rest.

I called a few fish markets in our area and all they had in the fresh fish line was white fish from Lake Superior. Then I went to our local supermarket and they had, rainbow trout, cod, ocean perch in packages; these had all been pre-frozen. I bought the ocean perch. My friend, Ellery who has been a part-time fisherman through the years as a second job in Stoneington, Conn. says that I cannot go wrong with frozen fish as it is frozen the same day that it is caught, usually while still on the boat. This is better sometimes than trying to buy fresh fish.

We are living in a changing world and the preparation of our food has changed immensely. I find that with our quick easy foods, it is all the more important to get everything prepared to cook before the actual cooking begins. This is especially true with a fish meal as fish requires such a short time to cook.

A NOSTALGIC SPRING MENU

- Broiled fish fillets
- Asparagus
- Hollandaise sauce
- Potato salad
- Green Onions
- Bread or rolls

With this meal you will need to have the potato salad made ahead, (it could come from the deli) also the Hollandaise sauce. You will need to prepare the asparagus ready to cook and have the green onions cleaned and crisping in the refrigerator. Your last minute attention will be on the fish and asparagus. Believe it or not I was rushing from one thing to another, the timer was set for broiling the fish, another timer set for the asparagus cooking in the microwave when my smoke alarm went off! I have a very sensitive smoke alarm. I wondered which bell was which!! Now, Grandmother had no timers; when the food was done it was ready. Sometimes I wonder!

Do the fish this way to serve six:

- ENCORE FISH FILLETS
- 2 lbs. ocean perch fillets or your own catch
- 1/2 cup butter, melted
- 1 tsp salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 (10 oz. pkg.) asparagus or fresh asparagus
- Hollandaise sauce. (I used a Hollandaise mix following directions on the envelope.)
- Dash of paprika
- Thaw fish if frozen and cut into 6 portions. Place in a 10x15 inch baking pan. Combine butter and seasonings. Pour over fish. Broil about 4 inches from heat for 10 to 12 minutes or until fish flakes easily, basting with the pan juice once.

While fish is cooking prepare asparagus according to package directions or cook fresh asparagus ahead of time. Place fish on a warm serving platter. Arrange asparagus spears on top of fish and top all with hollandaise sauce. Sprinkle with paprika and serve.

Here is another recipe using

- green onions and trout fillets.
- 4 green onions, sliced using some of the green tops.
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 lg. clove garlic, crushed
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 4 trout fillets
- 1 lemon, thinly sliced

In skillet over high heat, cook onions, water, garlic, salt and Worcestershire sauce to boiling. Add trout and heat through. Reduce heat to low, cover and simmer 8 to 10 minutes until fish flakes; then carefully place on a warm platter. Pour pan liquid over fish. Garnish with lemon slices and another green onion chopped. Serves four.

Grandmother would finish this spring dinner with a rhubarb pie.

MARK LERCEL

REBECCA STALEY

Area top honors students named

Valedictorian and Salutatorians for both East Jordan and Boyne Falls Schools were announced by school officials this week.

Taking top honors at East Jordan was Mark Lercel with a 3.93 grade point average. He intends to go to Michigan State University next fall.

With the top honor at Boyne Falls, Robert Lewis Hausler plans to attend the University of Michigan with a Regents-Alumni scholarship next fall. His grade point average was 3.8.

Salutatorian honors at Boyne Falls were shared this year by Nicole Kerridge and Glen Alan Wasylewski. Both had averages of 3.7 on the 4.0 basis. Kerridge plans to attend the University of Michigan as a nursing student for two years before transferring down to Michigan State. He intends to study for a career in Public Relations and Advertising.

In East Jordan, Rebecca Staley took the Salutatorian honor with a 3.83 average. Her intentions are to get into pioneer work.

East Jordan High School, also announced their top ten students for the graduating class. Besides Lercel and Staley, the other eight spots went to Joshe Cote, Jill Burt, Keith Snyder, Rebecca Warden, Christine Umlor, Eric Fowler, Pam Decker, Christy Fuson and Heidi Gaunt.

President of the Boyne City Little League, Penny Hardy, Steve Johncheck, Rick Simon, Larry Monshor, Dave Seeley and Don Lockman. Johncheck was also given a plaque of appreciation by the group for heading up the project.

Boyne City's 1st Annual Triathlon to benefit Ambulance Dept. Heart Start fund

So you say that you are slightly out of condition and that the only sports you enjoy might be bowling, golf and pool?

If that is the case, then a group has the perfect sports tournament for you, called the Boyne City First Annual Triathlon.

Only this doesn't involve the usual events for a triathlon. No running for miles, no swimming across the lake or riding a bike from here to there.

All you have to do is enjoy the sports of golf, at Boyne Mountain's Alpine Course, with a cart, bowling at Victories Lanes in Petoskey, and be able to shoot pool. Almost everyone could participate in those non-strenuous sports.

The cost to enter the contest is only $120 each and includes the cost of golf, lunch at the Beach House, the bowling and the pool costs as well as a dinner.

Those wishing to enter will be put into four man teams to enjoy the day. Prizes for the tournament will be given out to everyone who enters with the top prize of $5,000. If a hole in one is made during the event the winner would get a bass boat. Many other prizes are also on hand for the entrants.

Dennis Shoreck, of Industrial Magnetics on M-75 is putting the affair together with the help of several others. He said he is going to try to get the local Lions Club to sponsor the affair.

All of the proceeds from the event will be used to help Boyne City Ambulance Department purchase a Laerdal Heart Start 2000, a semi-automatic defibrillation unit and a heart monitor machine.

Entries are limited to only 100 players he said, so call him up to enter this contest you will enjoy without having to train too much.

Trying to chuck a 'chuck

BY REG SHARKEY

There's a woodchuck out at the Jim Gillespie homestead at Good Hart that bested Jim in a deportation "shootout" a few days ago.

It all began early last summer when one of those furred bulldozers, lurking in the outback, observed the goings on and decided to establish squatters rights under a rick of firewood in the Gillespie's backyard.

Well and good. To the Gillespies it was a novelty; a far cry from metropolitan sylvan living in Dearborn where wild life was near non-existent.

But soon the tranquility of the retirement homestead was thrown into turmoil when the 'chuck began to raid the garden that Jim's wife, Helen, so tenderly nurtured. Rows of beans were mowed down to satisfy the voracious appetite of the garden raider. Other garden goodies also fell prey to the now unwelcome moocher. Persistently Helen replanted beans and other garden goodies. In desperation Jim erected a fence around the garden. But it did not deter the now pot-bellied 'chuck. Doing what comes naturally he, or she, tunneled under the fence.

Then in early fall the well-fed 'chuck disappeared and the Gillespies thought that their troubles were over. Little did they know their star boarder had crawled under the wood rick retreat to sleep the winter away.

With the returning warmth of the spring sun penetrating into the sleeper's underground chamber, the Gillespies soon found out that their star boarder was back ready to fill out a fat-depleted carcass.

This is where Jim met his Waterloo. Thinking that the 'chuck deserved a second chance Jim obtained a live trap, baited it and waited for the garden raider to incarcerate himself. Chipmunks persistently trapped themselves. So Jim switched to an apple. Success. Now it became the question of where to exile the 'chuck.

Putting the trapped 'chuck into the trunk of his car Jim drove to an open field near the Pellston Prison Camp. Lifting the trap from the back of the vehicle Jim set the incarcerated critter on the ground, opened the trap and waited for the trouble make to exit. No soap. In desperation Jim poked at the 'chuck with a stick. Now irritated at the shoddy treatment the 'chuck clicked his incisors and bit the stick. Picking up the trap Jim shook it vigorously and the 'chuck hung on for dear life. But finally Jim's efforts paid off and the angry animal was dislodged and the trap was put down. Back into the trap the 'chuck flew. Again a repeat performance of cage shaking until the 'chuck finally decided enough was enough and streaked for the safety of the parked vehicle. Down on his knees Jim attempted to dislodge the incisor-clicker from the running gear of the vehicle. But with additional vigorous prodding the 'chuck changed his last stand tactics, scrambling into the engine compartment. Again another repeat performance of stick fencing and prodding. No soap. From one place to another the defiant animal challenged Jim at every turn. Finally admitting defeat Jim got in his vehicle and started for home, thinking, perhaps, the 'chuck would make a suicidal leap from the speeding vehicle.

Stopping at the Good Hart village store, and neighborhood meeting place, Jim took another look under the hood. There sat the survivor with a nasty gleam in his eyes. Again a prodding by Jim with the 'chuck scrambling from one place to another, hanging onto hoses or anything that would furnish leverage. Disgusted Jim retreat to the sanctuary of the store. Picking up a paper Jim ordered a cup of coffee and perused the print, hoping the pestiferous "stick-tight" might have a change of heart and take off.

Back to the vehicle Jim decided to take one more look under the hood. There sat the 'chuck glaring in defiance.

Slamming the hood down Jim drove home and dejectedly entered the house. Jim had a tall drink to soften the pangs of defeat.

At the last report the 'chuck, now named Good Hart Phil, is still abiding at the Gillespie homestead.

Will Good Hart Phil be allowed to remain at the Gillespie's homestead after his fight for the "homeland," surviving near decapitation by the radiator fan, or frying by the hot manifold?

Perhaps there will be a part two to this saga of the Gillespies and Good Hart Phil.

Woodchucks like this sometimes stand on their back legs in order to take a look around to see who is taking a picture of them. This one stopped eating for a moment when Reg took his picture.

Twilight delight. Just $30.

It's a great time to play great courses at Boyne. After 3:30 p.m. on weekdays and Sundays, you can golf until dark on Boyne Mountain's Alpine or Boyne Highland's Moor courses. Just $30, including cart. Call for availability and tee times.
