East Jordan's Sno-Blast takes over weekend

The second winter festival in the area, the East Jordan Sno-Blast '90, heads up the fun for the weekend for tourists and residents who want to participate in the many activities.

The Sno-Blast features events more for the snowmobilers than anyone else, and the entire area is geared up to provide the fun starting with a snowmobile safari complete with a hotdog roast. The safari starts at 6 p.m. near the beginnings of the Jordan Valley Trail in downtown East Jordan.

If you think the weather is too cold for riding, then you can go to the high school basketball game and watch the team play against Harbor Springs, or, you could go to the East Jordan American Legion Hall for a try at bingo.

Saturday, the activities start at 9:00 a.m. when the broomball games begin, sponsored by the East Jordan Lions Club. If you want to enter a team of six, call 536-3602 or 536-7411 for more information.

Kids will enjoy coming to the Carnival which features lots of game booths at the Civic Center, downtown, starting at 10:00 a.m. That event is sponsored by the East Jordan Little League Auxiliary. At 10:30 a.m., the refreshment stand at the Tourist Park opens to serve hot chocolate and other warm foods, sponsored by the Great Northwest B.A.S.S. Anglers.

Then after registration opens at 10:30 for the annual radar run and the LeMans races in the pavilion, the event of the day which will provide the bragging rights for the year begins at 11:30. The first event will be the radar run followed by the LeMans event. Both are sponsored by the Jordan Valley Trailblazers Snowmobile Club. The annual "Bean Pot" opens for snowmobilers at the Rainbow Bar at 1 p.m. for those still hungry from riding the trail.

A new event for the Blast will be to bowl the last eighth, ninth and tenth frames on the snow at the Snow Bowl. The event takes place on the parking lot next to the Gemini Lanes Bowling Center, starting at 1 p.m. This event is sponsored by the East Jordan Lioness Club and Gemini Lanes.

For those not bowling, roller skating will start at the Civic Center at 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. courtesy of the East Jordan Recreation Department.

Then at 3 p.m. in the snowmobile slalom, a tough test of snowmobile driving skill on the lot next to Glen's Market on M-66.

Sunday, the broomball games will continue if needed to complete tie breakers, while those interested in eating breakfast can join up with others at the East Jordan Snowmobile Clubhouse located on Alba Road off M-32. The breakfast will be served starting at 7 a.m., until noon.

Then at noon, the annual Poker Run starts at the East Jordan end of the Jordan Valley Snowmobile Trail, sponsored by the Trailblazers.

The Lioness Euchre tournament will take place at 12:30 sharp at the Rainbow Bar. For those not interested in euchre, the bingo games will begin at 1:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

With all of the activities, people should find no reason to stay home. For more information, call the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce on their Sno-Line phone 536-7351 or 536-7343.

Boyne's Drama Club takes a 1 at districts

It looks like it will again be a contest between Boyne City and Charlevoix for the top drama honors of the state this year as both schools performed well over the weekend in district competition.

Boyne City's performance of their version of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" took the top honors while Charlevoix's treatment of "Godspell" took a second place along with some other schools.

Boyne City took the only 1 rating at the event while the others had 2s. According to Bob Wollenberg, the director of the play along with his wife, the district Boyne has to compete in a tough district with lots of good competition.

The play was performed by the high school students for the first time at the district competition as the planned first performance was snowed out last Thursday. The play will be performed again for audiences in Boyne City at 8 p.m. Thursday, February 1 at the Boyne City Elementary School stage. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

The play is a little different from previous plays the drama group has performed as this play is more

Perfect weather makes great Frostival

With perfect weather for a festival, Boyne City residents along with a smattering of winter tourists enjoyed sunny skies and warm temperatures for the day of the Frostival here in Boyne City.

"I think the crowds were down slightly this year," said Gloria Anderson of the Chamber of Commerce. "In some of the activities though, the crowds were up." All in all, it was a good time to have been outdoors in the winter as the temperature soared up into the low forties.

Although every event had winners, like the snow sculpturing contests, the clubs that were participating, like the Xi Gamma Sorority and the Boyne Valley Garden Club had customers all day long trying to sample the cookies and the chili dogs.

In the annual broomball contest, the winner was the Northport broomball team from Northport, Michigan. Sam's Bad Boys of East Jordan took the second place while the Boyne City Bombers finished up in third place.

One of the more popular events, the annual Dog Sled Race, which features the family dog pulling a small child through a course, was won by "Homer" with Peter Provolo as the rider. Homer is owned by John Provolo. Taking second in the short quick ride was "Kip" who pulled Seth Markham. Kip is owned by Justin Kelts. Third place went to "Blu" who pulled Ashley Schrader and is owned by Ken Schrader.

At the other end of town the sledding hill and the ice skating rink were filled with kids having

Taking the awards in the ice skating races were, for five and six-year olds, Kyle Hall for first, followed by Ben Hausler in the boys' division while Maureen Fruge took the first in the girls' division followed by Jenna Polard, second and Emily Polard, third.

In the seven-eight year old category, Skylar Handy took the first while brother Spencer Handy finished second in the boys; Nicole West, first, Kathy Van Hoosier second and Nicole Ferris in third for the girls.

In the nine and ten year old class, Gary Chrysler skated around the course in 26 seconds for the first place. In the girls' division, Becky Kauska took the first, Heidi Van Hoosier took second and Bethany Stackus skated to third place.

Nick Christensen took the first in the eleven-twelve year old class while Mary Beth Francis took the first place and Ann Hall finished second.

In the 13 and up class Michelle Kauska took the first place with a time of 26.87 seconds. In the boys' race, Nate Hall took the first place while Mickey Christensen finished second and Tony Ferris third.

In the "Professional Class for Ice Carving" sponsored by One Water Street last Friday night, the winner was Vic Ruggles with his rendition of a big dog with a bone. Second place was won by John Burkhardt with his sculpture of a woman with a bad dog. Third place, Tom Bradford with the surfer dude, a surfer being chased by a shark.

Boyne dot's i's-crosses t's

In a very quick 10 minute meeting Tuesday noon, the Boyne City Commissioners reaffirmed a franchise agreement with Northern Cablevision concerning the wording on a franchise agreement that was made last year.

The change was made to satisfy lawyers who questioned a sentence of the agreement. The sentence was rewritten to satisfy them and the agreement had to be reaffirmed by the Commissioners.

The franchise gives the company a non-exclusive franchise to serve the city and was approved for a ten year period last June.

The matter was the only item on the city's agenda as both City Manager Randy Frykberg and City Clerk Tom Garlock were absent from the meeting. Garlock was undergoing heart surgery and the city workers said he had come through the operation successfully Tuesday and was in the recovery room. Also absent from the meeting was Commissioner Sandra Stanley. Frykberg was attending another meeting outside the city.

East Jordan students try networking old-fashioned way

While many businesses have updated their communications systems through the networking of computers, Todd McNitt's science classes at East Jordan Middle School are learning about the old-fashioned type of communication: tin cans and string. The sixth grade students were studying a unit on sound. The students created their telephones and used them in groups of two. The students then intertwined their telephones and found that more than two students could listen to conversations at one time. Mr. McNitt then had students assemble in the cafeteria where they created a "network" of telephones. Some students were close to each other while others were far enough away to be considered "long distance."

Art class shares maze projects with primary students

East Jordan students in Pat Tinney's eighth grade art class shared their art projects with the junior primary students in Mrs. Haley's class. The East Jordan Middle School students constructed mazes from pieces of scrap wood. Each maze had a starting position and an end point, which allowed a bead to travel through the course of the maze. After building the projects, some students painted them to reflect their personalities or interests. One project contained a Batman theme and another was rainbow colored. The junior primary students enjoyed playing with the mazes as much as the eighth grade students enjoyed sharing them.

Help available for prescription drug bills

Help with those prescription drug bills is possible for low-income older people who file credit claims between January 1 and June 1, says Olivia P. Maynard, director of the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging. To determine whether or not you may be eligible, answer these questions. Are you age 65 or older? If single, is your household income less than $8,970, or if married, less than $12,030? Did you spend at least 5% of your household income for prescription drugs in 1989? If your answer is yes to all of the above and you are a Michigan resident, the credit is yours, says Maynard, whose office is working with the Michigan Department of Treasury to get the word out to senior citizens.

To apply for the credit, you must complete a Prescription Drug Credit Claim form and file it with the Department of Treasury no later than June 1. Drug credit checks will be processed and mailed out by Treasury after this date.

If you are not certain of the amount you spent for prescription drugs last year, you may want to contact your local pharmacist and ask for a year-end report of your 1989 prescription drug purchases. The amounts paid by Medicaid or which you were reimbursed by other insurance cannot be counted.

The maximum credit for a single person is $600. For a married couple, both of whom are over 65, the maximum credit is $1200. Credit claim forms can be obtained by contacting the Department of Treasury at 1-800-877-6424, or the Office of Services to the Aging at 517-373-8230. Your local Secretary of State or public library may also have forms available.

Opinions

Time for a change?

Now that Boyne City has had the Frostival, and has had one for the past few years, it seems that there is always something that helps detract from increasing the tourist and resident participation.

That something last weekend included the Petoskey Winter Carnival and the Harbor Springs winter festival. It seems that those who make up the calendar for the year's activities never look to see what the neighboring communities are doing, so Boyne City's Frostival bangs heads with the others.

While this detracts from drawing potential tourists who could spend money in this community, some locals may think that the Frostival belongs to themselves.

What we would like to suggest would be to change the dates so there would not be a conflict with another community. We would like to see the Frostival moved to the Presidents' weekend.

For several reasons than not having a conflict with other communities. First, if there is ever to be a Smeltania as part of the Frostival, the ice in February is usually safer and stronger. We could possibly bring back the aura of Smeltania, one of the more unique parts of winter in this immediate area.

Second, that weekend is when a lot of tourists come north to ski, snowmobile and otherwise have fun as they usually have a three-day weekend. With more tourists, the chances are that they would want to participate along with eating, buying gasoline and spending money on housing and other items during the three-day weekend.

Besides moving the date, we also need to have some other kind of activity that can draw crowds. Sure, our "Dog Sled Race" is fun to watch as the kids get dragged along by the family dog, but what about having a real dog sled race.

We think a sled race could be held at Avalanche Park on the same course that the cross country race uses, if we can bring back the cross country race.

We think the cross country could use the course in the morning while the afternoon could have the sled dogs make several trips around the same course.

The trail is about five kilometers. You could feature a five kilometer race, along with a 10 kilometer race for the cross country fans, and then host a 15 or 20 kilometer sled dog race in the afternoon.

One unique aspect of the sled dog race is that spectators would be able to see the teams, and who is leading, each time the dogs appear along the face of the hill in front of the spectators. It would be more interesting to race fans than just watching the teams work once as they come by in the woods.

Several of the other activities that are available today could also be used to round out the weekend.

If snowmobiles are making a strong comeback, perhaps we could stage a snowmobile hillclimb up the front of the hill. That is sure to draw crowds.

What we really need is for people to come forth, take charge of creating a special festival that could surpass places like "Tip-Up Town" and other large winter festivals.

We need to develop more and better activities, instead of resting on the laurels of the past and continuing with the same things.

Urges vote in recall

Editor,

The recall of Allie Chipman, Bay Township Supervisor, is February 12. I personally hope the people of Bay Township get out and vote—not only for themselves but their children. They are the ones that will have to live and pay taxes in Bay Township in the future.

The Michigan Township Association suggests each township have a Code of Ethics. In my opinion this means good and fair leadership for all the people and not just a few complainers.

The recall election for Chipman is being held for many reasons: He has been caught in so many blunders the past year both at board meetings and in phone conversations. He has held an illegal meeting, we have proof, also an illegal Planning Commission meeting was held. According to law purchases must be approved by the Township Board prior to purchases. The Cemetery Committee and Planning Commission have been spending money without prior board approval. There has been a lack of obtaining bids on major items. Hiring Great Lakes Appraisal to reassess the township and then the Board of Review needed to redo much of its work. How much property tax does it take to pay for $13,778.79 of assessing costs (9 months) Spending about $7,000 on Dyer Cemetery and only $145 on Horton Bay Cemetery - Why? $2500 for a cemetery building plus cost of its foundation to store what? a shovel or rake? Donations to items like 4th of July parade-$750, and flower barrels-$240, are not allowed by law. Ask Red Ehnis how he likes paying taxes on his paved road (Church Road)? Why township funds were spent on unsatisfactory road construction this past year and not questioned? Ask one of our neighbors if his trees are still alive that our supervisor saved by rerouting the Sumner Road onto another taxpayers property at township expense without buying property first. Ask the pushers of the noise ordinance if they have any trouble sleeping at night after having Mr. Gebauer and family evicted from their home shortly.

Remembrances

While it snowed a lot more, it seems back in the old days, the equipment to move the heavy snows was sometimes bogged down. This picture, taken in 1927 shows one of the vee plows that was used along with a Model T truck the Charlevoix County Road Commission used to remove the snow from the roads. Back then, there weren't as many roadways that had to get cleared as there are today. With the modern equipment it took just a few hours to clear the same roads it took days to do back then. This picture is from a collection of pictures from the County Road Commission. If you have any old pictures of the area, bring them to the office at 108 Groveland so we can make a copy for a remembrance.

Jottings

and it was the boss telling me to get up and get going.

I agreed with her, hung up the phone and rolled over.

The next thing I heard was some child tromping into the house saying words like "The school is closed, and they sent us home early. And what are you doing still in bed, Dad?"

So I got up, got dressed and figured out how to get out of the drive to get to the office.

Absolutely no reason to come in as nothing was moving, not even snowplows.

So that is why I like coming out into the sun once in a while. I like to see that the world out there is still alive, and the sun, complete with getting a winter tan, is just one more reason to live in the beautiful, but sometimes snowy, north.

BY JIM SILBAR

Attention all you folks in Floridaland and parts warmer.

I just wanted to let you know that you missed a duzy of a storm last week. Of course you also missed the sunshine that brightened up the sky the next few days also.

I think I am developing the typical Northern Michigan tan. You know, the one that starts about the forehead and goes to the top of the neck. After all, everything also is bundled up and can't get the effects of the sun.

For some, a winter tan is a status symbol. Like those that go to the south over the spring break and come back with a great amount of tan, forgetting all the information that says you shouldn't go out into the sun because of the risk of getting skin cancer or you will age faster.

I believe a body needs to see the sun once in a while, just to brighten up the spirits. That is why, I guess, I don't mind the kind of snowfalls like we can have during this time of the year.

I even have them figured out too. I figured out long ago it was just better to climb into a nice warm bed and sleep or nap your way through it. In my case last week, I decided that after delivering my student to classes at the high school, early, I should try to catch a few winks before getting ready for work.

The mistake was in climbing back into bed. The next thing I knew, was someone was shaking me awake and telling me that it was time to go to work. So I did the only right thing off the day and told her to go in my place. I then rolled over and fell into a deep sleep, keeping one eye open so as to see if the sky was going to fall upon me for saying those things to the real boss.

Evidently she just went off to the office and let me catch up with some more dreams. After sleeping for another couple of hours, I decided it was time to call the office to see if anyone was there. But as I reached for the phone, it rang

Interlochen gets grant from Allied-Signal

Interlochen Center for the Arts has received a grant from Allied-Signal Automotive and its parent company, Allied-Signal, Inc., according to Dean Boal, arts center president.

Among more than 200 corporate donors to Interlochen, their support represents a significant concern by business and industry leaders for arts education.

"Interlochen is grateful for the support of corporations such as Allied-Signal Automotive and Allied Signal Inc.," noted Boal. "It is through their generosity that Interlochen continues to flourish as an international arts leader."

Headquartered in Morris Township, New Jersey, Allied-Signal Inc. is a multi-national advanced technology company whose focus is in three segments: Aerospace, Automotive, and Engineered Materials. They have an Aerospace company, Allied-Signal Bendix-Courter Division in Boyne City.

For more than 60 years, Interlochen has furthered the education and training of talented young people in all of the arts. The summer National Music Camp and the school-year Interlochen Arts Academy, along with WIAA-FM public radio station comprise the prestigious Interlochen Center for the Arts, a non-profit organization which is supported primarily by tuition, grants, and donations.

YFI recruiting families

The Youth For Understanding International Student Exchange program is currently beginning to recruit families for the 1990-1991 school year. Host families provide three meals a day, a separate bed (students may share a room), and lots of tender, loving care for a high school aged student from one of 24 countries in Asia, the South Pacific, Latin America, or Europe.

Local volunteers throughout Michigan, such as Guy Baker at Elmira, match incoming students with host families and provide support to all program participants throughout the exchange year. Part of this support includes a series of four orientations provided for exchange students and their host families throughout their time together.

Students currently in Northeastern and Northern Michigan met recently with YFU volunteers to discuss their adjustment to life in the U.S., their perceptions and impressions of life here, and what they need to do to get the most benefit out of their remaining time in Michigan.

These students, representing West Germany, Denmark, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Belgium, Spain, Greece, Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, Australia, Japan, and the Philippines, are currently living in northern Michigan and attending high school in Alpena, Onaway, Posen, Hillman, Atlanta, Lincoln, Oscoda, Tawas City, Whittemore, Grayling, West Branch, Charlevoix, and Gaylord.

Youth For Understanding has exchanged over 125,000 students since its beginning in 1951. Each year between 6,000 and 7,000 high school students participate in the program, discovering the excitement of exploring human differences and similarities by living overseas with volunteer host families.

Any family interested in serving as a host family, or wishing more information about the possibility, should contact their local Youth For Understanding volunteer, Guy Baker at Elmira, or YFU Michigan, 6264 Dixie Highway, Bridgeport, Michigan 48722 (1-800)872-0200.

Boyne edges Charlevoix, tromps Newberry

The Boyne City Ramblers increased their boys' basketball record to 10-2 last week as they posted wins over rival Charlevoix and an Upper Peninsula threat, Newberry. Heading into the second half of the season, the Ramblers have established themselves as the team to beat in Northern Michigan.

Boyne hosted their arch-rivals from the other end of the lake

Tuesday evening in a game reminiscent of their district match-up last season. The Ramblers had already beaten the Rayders once this season, by 20 points in Charlevoix, but since then the Rayders had improved immensely and were seeking redemption. The Ramblers, who had not beaten Charlevoix for nearly a decade prior to last year's district matchups, were still hungry for more Rayder blood.

Boyne started out strong, grabbing a quick six point lead in the first quarter, 16-10. Foul trouble kept Charlevoix on the free throw line and allowed them to stay within striking distance. In the last minute of the half Charlevoix had an opportunity to tie the game, but a physical blocked shot by Rambler Wayne Avery spurred a hostile reaction from Coach Kanine of Charlevoix, which resulted in a technical foul. Avery split the technical free-throws and Boyne scored on the ensuing possession to take a 27-22 lead at the half.

Scott Knipe opened up the third quarter with a spurt, scoring on three consecutive possessions, including a dunk that livened up the Boyne crowds. After that, the Rayders got hot as Boyne could not contain Webb Friedly of Charlevoix. The Rayders made a quick comeback and pulled within one at the end of the third, 39-38. On the first possession of the fourth quarter Charlevoix took their first lead of the game off two free throws, and that was when Boyne put the clamps down. Eric Smith started a Rambler surge before fouling out half way through the final quarter, but the Ramblers found help from Joe Jankowski who played above the basket, as well maintaining an excellent team defense down the stretch. Boyne went on to the victory, 58-46.

Leading the Rambler offense was Scott Knipe with 14, Joe Jankowski with 13, and Eric Smith with 11. Wayne Avery, who played a bigger game than stats indicate, hit for 9 points. Kevin Smith added 8, and Scott Hammtree had 3.

Boyne was scheduled for a game in Newberry Friday evening, but inclement weather postponed it until the following evening. Coming off of an emotional win, combined with little practice time, coach Rob Neu looked at this game as a measuring stick for his team's consistency. Things did not look too good for Boyne either, as a sparsely attended gym and few fans did not provide for an intense atmosphere.

The Ramblers rose to the challenge, however. The first few minutes of the game seemed to indicate that it would be a close match-up between the two opponents who knew next to nothing about each other. Newberry, however, did not know enough to guard Eric Smith, who had a field day. Boyne led 22-13 at the quarter, and 47-27 at the half behind Smith's 26 points.

The second half was even better from the Ramblers. Although Smith had done well, several of Boyne's players were still feeling the effects of the lay-off early on, but by the third quarter the Rambler execution was starting to look better. Boyne rolled on to a 63-34 margin after three quarters, and maintained that lead throughout the final quarter, winning 83-54.

Smith led the Ramblers in scoring, knocking down 39 points, including several three-pointers and a swooping dunk that demoralized Newberry in the third period. Knipe was the only other Rambler in double figures with 18. Avery hit for 7, Hammtree had 5, Jankowski 4, Bo Williamson, Kevin Smith, and Eric Fisher all had 3 apiece, and Shawn Vondra scored one.

Boyne City's Wayne Avery (33) looks on as Kevin Smith (53) and Charlevoix's Jason Corwin each get a piece of a rebound in the game last Tuesday between the two county teams.

Bo Williamson gets a little higher on this jump shot to make a basket as Charlevoix's Bill Sherman tries to defend against the attempt. The tenacious offensive and defensive work of the Ramblers was credited with causing the win.

Loggers on roll!

BY BECKY HAUSLER

Boyne Falls Loggers had a good week on the basketball courts, taking wins over Harbor Light and Alba, completely dominating the two teams as the Logger crew looks for the District Championships in March.

In the game against Harbor Light last Tuesday, Boyne took the lead in the first quarter and scored 23 more points in the second. Harbor came back in the last half of the game to hit 22 points while the Loggers sank 42 to pad the score. The final was 81-42 with the Logger win.

Mark Reynolds hit 24 points to take the high scoring honors, with Kurt Wilson adding 16 and Chad Hanes hitting for 15. Steve Sparks made 13 while John Burns added five.

The Logger Jayvee team was victorious also beating Harbor Light 70-31.

Then, in spite of the weather that closed the school, the game between Alba and Boyne Falls was another shootout last Friday. The Logger varsity whipped Alba 79-40.

Boyne Falls scored 29 points in the first quarter alone while Alba could only hit for ten. The Loggers increased their lead to 47-19 going into the halftime break.

Coming out for the second half, the Boyne Falls team continued to hit baskets taking the score up to 63 to 25 in the third period. The Loggers closed out the game 79-40.

Reynolds again was the high scorer for the Loggers while Sparks contributed 14, and Hanes added 12 and pulled in 12 rebounds. Louie Sevenski made nine points and got eight rebounds. Tom Follette and Kurt Wilson made 6 points each while John Burns, Ryan Giem and Jim Matelski each had four. Giem and Wilson each had three steals.

The Jayvee team also had a lan-
