Oh, the witches, the goblins and the Ninja Turtles were out in force last Wednesday at the annual Boyne City Elementary School Halloween Parade. The trip around the football field is a real thrill for the youngsters and the parents who watch from the sidelines.

Ralph Ostling pulled out county victories after the final ballots were tallied in Charlevoix County Tuesday night in the statewide election.

Other winners included Democrat Richard Austin, Frank Kelley, and Carl Levin in the major races that were this year's campaign.

In the hotly contested race for the 37th district senate seat, George McManus pulled almost 56.50 percent of the vote to defeat Tom Weiss within the county, gathering 3,928 votes to Weiss' 3,000 plus.

For the governors spot, Engler took the county vote with 54.37 percent over Governor Blanchard's 43.82 percent. Engler drew 3,768 votes for the county total.

In the other state representtative race, Ralph Ostling will return to the seat in Lansing if Charlevoix County votes are considered, narrowly edging out Ellsworth's Ellen Addington. Ostling pulled 52.75 percent of the vote within the county to Addington's 47.25 percent.

Congressman Bob Davis had no problems carrying the vote total in Charlevoix County coming up with 67.65 percent of the vote over Marcia Gould.

For the U.S. Senate seat, Carl Levin pulled the most votes within the county taking Bill Schuette by almost 1,000 votes.

State Attorney General Frank Kelley pulled the most votes within the county, 4,221 or 61 percent to take the county over Clifford Taylor. Democrat Richard Austin also pulled very well within the county to win over Judy Miller. Austin had 60 percent of the vote.

In other races of county interest, James Behling took the County Commission seat away from incumbent Ralph Harmon with 60 percent of the vote. Other winners included Phil Johnson, Carl Price, Don Smith, Howard Hosler, and Walter Hufford.

In the county proposition, the millage renewal request for Grandvue Medical Center was the only one that voters agreed to approve. The issue won with about 61 percent of the vote.

Other county issues did not fair well though, both the proposal to have a separate tax limitation went down to defeat 58.32 percent to 41.68 percent. The proposal that would have set up a sinking fund to build a new courthouse and renovate the county building was soundly defeated by county voters with 82 percent of the ballots cast against the proposal.

With the failure of the proposals the new county commissioners will have to try to figure out another way to find space at the County Building for the offices and courts.

While these vote counts represent Charlevoix County, it was too early to determine statewide election results.

BCHS to host medieval festival Saturday

The Boyne City High School drama department will be presenting its first Medieval Family Festival this Saturday, November 10th from noon to 5 p.m. in the high school gym.

The event will include a medieval city with a royal parade, jesters, children's games arts, crafts, plays, and a large assortment of food from Boyne area restaurants. Sixty drama students will be participating in the event acting as townfolk, and providing the fun at the center stage for the main events.

Tickets are available at the high school or elementary school and from BCBS students, according to director of the drama department Bob Wollenberg.

After many months of meetings and false starts, it appears Boyne City will get a recycling program underway shortly after the first of the year, city officials announced at their Tuesday noon meeting.

The meetings have been held for the last several months that would involve the city working with Waste Management where they would provide containers for the recyclable materials.

John Talboys Boyne Police Chief to retire

City commissioners accepted with regret the retirement notice of Boyne City Police Chief John Talboys Tuesday at their noon meeting.

Talboys will be retiring February 1, 1991 after spending 34 years with the Boyne City Police Department.

He has been the Police Chief for the past 25 years, he told commissioners, a thing he has been most proud of doing.

City fathers will not be naming a new police chief until his retirement day gets closer.

Until that day, Talboys will remain in control of the city police force he says, working with the officers and the public to provide good protection to the citizens.

After retirement, Talboys says his plans are still not definite, but his hobbies through the years have been involved with antique clock repair, ham radio, model building and restoration of early and antique engines.

He will remain living in the city he says, doing a lot of yard work and housework.

He gave notice to the commission in order to process the retirement papers and to give the city time to name a new chief.

To start with, the containers would be used for residential customers of the area for plastics, newspaper and glass. Separate containers will be provided by the firm and placed near the City Hall. Containers will be for plastics, newsprint, green, brown and clear glass. For other recyclable materials, residents should call Recycle North for information where those items can be picked up or deposited.

In conjunction with the city starting a recycling program, Waste Management said they will be starting or converting to a bag system where their customers will have to purchase bags from area supermarkets and stores in which to place their trash. The price is set at $1.50 per bag which should help reduce the amount of material that is being dumped into the Waste Management owned landfill Material that can be recycled should be cleaned and placed in the special containers.

The containers will be open to the residents of the area during daylight hours, City Manager Randy Frykberg said.

Once Waste Management makes the switch to the bag system, they will not be picking up any other type of bags. Customers of the firm will have to purchase the special orange colored bags to identify them for Waste Management personnel to pick up.

Commercial firms using Waste Management for refuse pick-up will not be involved, city officials added. They also suggested that commercial firms at a later date may want to start their own recycling programs.

City officials think the bag system may help reduce costs of refuse removal for their residents as they think the residents will be forced to recycle materials and keep recyclable materials out of the bags as they are paying for each bag. One city official thinks this will reduce her refuse cost as she is only putting out one bag a week. Currently, she is being charged for the service on a monthly basis no matter how many bags she puts out on the curb for trash pick-up.

Analysis: Rising property taxes mean trouble lies ahead

The failure of Michigan's political establishment - Democratic and Republican - to address rising property tax rates ensures the issue continued prominence in our state's public policy debate.

The economic impact of soaring property tax rates for the northern Lower Peninsula has been astounding. Seven of the northern Lower Peninsula's 14 largest cities - Cheboygan, Gaylord, Grayling, Manistee, Rogers City, Traverse City and West Branch - exceeded the five-year statewide average increase in total and school property tax rates between 1983 and 1988. Four others - Boyne City, Cadillac, Charlevoix and Petoskey - surpassed the statewide total rate average, while Tawas City exceeded the school rate norm.

Rising property tax rates are not unique to the northern Lower Peninsula. High and rising rates have turned the American dream of home ownership into the Michigan nightmare. Across the state, families in middle-class areas find it increasingly difficult to maintain ownership of their existing home, let alone consider the purchase of a better one.

A crisis is developing as Michigan's property tax burden, already the fourth highest in the United States, continues to spike upward, creating an even greater burden for the state's middle-class. Why are property tax rates rising in areas like the northern Lower Peninsula? Consider three criteria - the total millage rate, assessed by local units of government; the school millage rate, levied for public education; and the increase in both rates between 1983 and 1988, the last year for which figures are available:

	1983	1988	Total/School Rate Increase
STATE	57.42/24.64	62.20/37.20	3.23/2.81
Cheboygan	52.13/29.50	56.80/33.06	3.67/3.56
Gaylord	40.61/25.41	47.52/30.29	6.91/4.88
Grayling	49.57/23.77	55.47/34.49	5.90/10.72
Manistee	57.39/29.47	62.96/34.82	5.57/5.15
Rogers City	50.17/27.06	54.80/30.91	3.63/3.85
Traverse City	50.04/31.35	56.74/35.90	6.70/4.55
West Branch	53.43/30.42	57.65/33.80	4.17/3.38

In all seven communities, higher school rates caused increases in the total rate. The school rate's portion of the increase in the total rate ranged from Rogers City's high of 106 percent to Grayling's low of 87 percent. Others were: Cheboygan (97 percent), Manistee (92 percent), West Branch (81 percent), Gaylord (71 percent) and Traverse City (70 percent).

This analysis holds true for other northern Lower Peninsula cities:

Boyne City	57.42/24.64	62.20/37.20	5.47/2.56
Cadillac	60.93/36.84	64.63/37.59	3.67/1.25
Charlevoix	47.00/28.74	51.35/29.44	4.26/7.0
Petoskey	49.87/28.07	53.90/33.58	4.12/5.1

Veterans Day 1990

One day each year Americans come together to honor all those men and women who have served their nation in uniform.

The day was born out of war — at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11, 1918, the fighting in World War I ceased with the signing of an armistice. The uneasy peace after that event was hard won by those who fought in the trenches of Europe. Since then, American service members have been sent around the world to defend liberty in large conflicts and what some people might call "brushfires." Combat is a deadly behavior, regardless of its scale, and those people who serve us and come home to rejoin the daily lives of private citizens have earned our respect, our admiration, and our gratitude.

Of course, on this Veterans Day, many of us will reflect on the current deployment of troops in the Persian Gulf region, and we pray with each military men and women around the world.

And with that service comes sacrifice. Many of the combat and support troops serving as a buffer in Saudi Arabia may be our next door neighbors, our doctors, lawyers, grocery clerks, and plumbers. In the American tradition of the citizen soldier, volunteer members of the Reserves and National Guard, the best and the brightest, are again setting aside their careers and postponing their futures to answer their nation's call.

Their presence in that far away region demonstrates that military service is not always easy, and that the unthinkable one day can become the routine of today. It is the devotion to duty we see every day that we salute on Nov. 11.

For more than a decade veterans fought to return Veterans Day to Nov. 11 from what became a convenient Monday holiday. The people who waged that campaign knew what others forgot — the day was set aside to honor those who sacrificed for their country. That is not a time to go to the beach. Rather, it is an appropriate time to pull back from the workday world and reflect on the sacrifices made by brave service men and women that have made America the envy of the world. It's time to say solemnly and sincerely, "Thanks."

Veterans Day activities vary from community to community, but the meaning of the day comes through no matter where you are. There can be no more appropriate way of spending a portion of that particular Sunday than to reflect on the service, the sacrifice and the honor of those who have kept of free.

Appreciates Schelde lunch

Editor,
As a member of a low vision group sponsored by the Friendship Club of Emmet County, I was one of twenty senior citizens from the club that was recently invited to lunch by the Scheldes restaurant of Petoskey. We were treated to an open menu and a no charge tab.
It was not only an excellent lunch served by a courteous, well trained staff and maitre-d, it was also a totally refreshing experience in this day and age.

If our country is to find its way out of this Golden Age of Greed it will be by people such as the personnel of Scheldes restaurant.
I am sure I speak for all twenty of their guests when I say, we thank you and wish you well.

Remembrances

Now that we have had the first snowfall, memories of what the loggers used to do after the snow fell brought this picture to mind of the crews working for Cobb Mitchell back in the lumbering days somewhere near Boyne Falls. The crews all lined up on their sleds filled with lumber cut over the summer to the rail head on the way to the lumber mills. The reason told us about moving the logs in the winter was that the sleds could carry more and still move with just a team of horses. They used a lot of teams for posed pictures like this, we counted 26 teams and sleds loaded with logs in the original picture brought to the County Press by Bernie Kondrat. If you have any old pictures you would like to share with our readers, bring them to the office so we can make a copy.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Isn't it nice not to turn on the TV and not hear a negative political ad?

I guess I am like a lot of people, I get to the point of turning off every politician who thinks I am so stupid as to want to watch his or her ad for the umpteenth time.

All I can say is that I am glad the silly political season is over.

Now we can get on with the really important things like who is taking the bets on whether or not the road work around town will get completed before the snow flies...oops, it is flying now, maybe we should say until hunting season when the asphalt place shuts down for the winter?

Right now, I would bet more than a nickle, (I only bet a nickle on sure things) that the work will not be completed before they shut down for the winter.

And I am wondering already, how the new curbs in front of the office will work when it comes to plowing snow.

That is, provided the piles of dirt and other garbage gets moved out of the way.
If they aren't, I guess I will have to sue the city, the state, the contractor and the engineers for screwing up the works and not getting the project completed.

In the meantime, I am lining up the lawyers who will want to take a sure thing case against them all.

I figure the case should be worth a couple of million bucks, at least. Then I wouldn't have to buy lottery tickets in the hope I will win that much.

You see, I need all of that money to pay for the schooling my children are getting at both the high school and the colleges they are attending.

With the cost of government growing higher every week, and more to hit us December 1, when the new taxes are started, I am going to need the mega bucks just to keep even with the anticipated out go.

But enough about the tax load, the cost of government that doesn't really help out the taxpayer who provides their income.

I just see that they will again get a pay increase, after the election dust has settled, that will keep them just above the millionaire level.

In the meantime, the rest of us have to just bear the cost increases by cutting back "Just a Little More."

For some of us that "Little More" may just be the straw that breaks our backs.
For those with a strong back and a weak mind, they shouldn't complain as they probably did not vote last Tuesday anyway.

MICROWAVE COOKING
The microwave gives us modern cooks time, a very precious commodity in our lives. I am thinking about the wives and mothers who need to cook dinner daily after eight hours in the work place.

The old-timers considered a wife lazy if she gave her husband cold beans for supper, and if he happened to be "in the dog house" at the time he just might get cold beans anyway. Now she does not need to build a fire in the wood range or light a kerosene burner to prepare supper. She can prepare her family tasty, nourishing and beautiful foods in her microwave in minutes.

For recipes that require more than an hour of cooking I like to use the regular oven however, how about serving the family cabbage rolls or pork chops with candied yams?

SWEET AND SOUR CABBAGE ROLLS

1 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup cooked rice
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
1/2 cup ginger snap crumbs
1/4 cup cider vinegar

Place cabbage leaves in 8" square baking dish. Cover. Microwave at high for four to six minutes, or until leaves are soft enough to fold easily. Set aside.

Combine beef, rice, onion, ketchup, raisins, salt, and pepper in a medium mixing bowl. Mix well. Stuff cabbage leaves with the filling, rolling up cigar fashion and folding in the edges.

Place stuffed cabbage leaves seam-side down in square baking dish.

Combine remaining ingredients in a small bowl. Pour over the cabbage leaves. Cover. Microwave at power level high for 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 minutes, or until cabbage rolls feel firm when pressed with the back of a spoon.

Let stand, covered, five minutes before serving. Serves four.

PORK CHOPS WITH CANDIED YAMS

6 pork chops
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 (16 to 18 oz.) cans candied sweet potatoes or yams
1/4 tsp. rubbed sage
Pinch of ground cinnamon
Pinch of ground nutmeg

1 large orange, seeds removed (thinly sliced)
2 Tbsp. orange juice
1/4 Tbsp. cornstarch

Arrange pork chops in a 13" x 9" x 2" oblong baking dish or one that fits your oven. Cover. Microwave at high for 15 minutes.

Slice the sweet potatoes thickly and arrange on top of the pork chops. Sprinkle with sage, cinnamon, and nutmeg. Top evenly with orange slice. Cover. Microwave at high for 10 to 15 minutes, or until chops are tender. Remove chops and sweet potatoes to a serving platter and cover.

Blend orange juice and cornstarch to the pan juices. Blending well. Microwave, uncovered, at high for 2 1/2 to 4 minutes, or until sauce is bubbly and thickened. Spoon over chops. Serves six.

SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

To serve 3

1/2 lb. bulk sausage, broken up
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 green pepper, diced
1-16 oz. can pork and beans
1-8 oz. can pineapple chunks, drained
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. dry mustard

Combine meat, onion and green pepper in a 10x6 inch dish, or one that fits your microwave. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave five minutes, stirring twice to break up meat. Pour off fat. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over meat. Cover and microwave 10 minutes, stirring twice.

You can even make freezer dill pickles this way.

FREEZER DILL PICKLES

1 qt. 1/4 inch cucumber slices (about 8 cucumbers)
2 cups sliced onion
4 teaspoons pickling salt
2 tablespoons water
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon dill weed

Mix cucumber, onion, salt and water in a glass casserole. Let stand two hours.

Combine sugar, vinegar and dill weed in a 2 cup measuring cup. Cook uncovered in microwave oven four minutes on high or until sugar dissolves completely. Set aside to cool.

Drain cucumber-onion mixture; do not rinse. Return to casserole. Add cooled liquid; mix.

Pack mixture into freezer containers; freeze. Makes two pints.

The Charlevoix County Department of Social Services honored its Foster Parents and Volunteers at a recognition dinner, October 23, at the Wolverine-Dilworth Inn in Boyne City. Over 70 were in attendance.

Foster Parents and Volunteers were entertained by the Barbershop Quartet, "The Pine River Four" of Dr. Robert Tollas, Dr. John Lignell, Dr. Robert Martin, and Bill Woodbeck.

Foster Parents were presented with certificates by Doug McCombs, Services Supervisor. Receiving certificates were: John and Charlene Bush, Lawrence and Sandra Bergmann, Robert and Rose Davis, Jake and Joan Janack, Pat and Gail Kubesh, Robert and Marilyn Oliver, Brad and Lynn Sweeney, and Michelle Zimmerman.

In emphasizing the important role played by foster parents, Doug McCombs pointed out that while the number of children placed in foster care has decreased dramatically over the past few years, the need for quality care of children who cannot reside with their parents remains crucial. Child development is very dependent upon the nurturance, guidance and other issues typically provided by parents. Foster parents not only must step in and fulfill this parental role, but must also help in minimizing the trauma of having been removed from their parents' home. We understand and deeply appreciate these difficult tasks that foster parents take on and that is why we have gathered to give special recognition to these caring people.

Presenting the Volunteer Certificates was Volunteer Secretary, Cathy Tillen. Receiving certificates were: Under one (1) year; James

Herman, Dannielle Meyer, Mel Morrison, Duane Nelson, Deborah Otto Beaudry, Marguerite Stokes, Chester Laginess, John Miller; First Year: Lloyd Cummings, Donna Decker, Louis Hooper, Frances Hooper, Ethel Kerner, Mildred LaBrecque, Lucile Martin, Floyd Peck, Kay Peck, Sheila Rake; Second Year: Frank Birdsall, Doris Birdsall, Sara Cummings, Lillian Martinek, Care & Share Food Pantry; Fourth Year: Robert Thomas; Fifth Year: David Ecker, Deborah Ecker, Dennis Gocha, Mildred Gocha; Seventh Year: Anna Willis, Charlevoix Community Food Pantry; Ninth Year: Raymond Ecker; Tenth Year: Constance Fraley, Marsha Smith; Eleventh Year: John Daniels; and Gerald Talberg. Over 500 hours of service, Kathy Peck, Gerald Talberg, Ernest Walden and Anna Willis. Over 2000 hours of service, Mildred Gocha and Dennis Gocha. Over 7000 hours of service, Raymond Ecker. Over 8000 hours of service, Raymond Ecker.

Vasco said that Volunteers provide that extra service that would otherwise go unmet, or if provided, would overwhelm case workers. Volunteers provide a variety of services anywhere from office work to working with clients in their homes. Some volunteers have regularly scheduled assignments, and some are on call, ready to go at the last minute. Volunteers are a valued and much appreciated resource.

Garter Snakes last to hibernate

Garter snakes are one of the few snakes that will wait until the last minute before dening up for the winter, says Sharkey.

BY REG SHARKEY
Most snakes native to this area have disappeared by this time. They are safely ensconced in underground cavities well below the frostline.

Whitetails Unlimited to provide hunter ID cards free

With the gun deer season right around the corner, sportsmen are preparing to take to the field in pursuit of the elusive white-tailed deer.

As part of its Project P.O.L.I.T.E. (Permission Of Landowner In order To Enter) Program, Whitetails Unlimited, inc. (WTU) has produced, and with a contribution from the Federal Cartridge Company, make, and license number. The ID card gives the hunter an ideal tool to supply a private landowner with proper identification. It has also proven to encourage hunters to ask permission prior to hunting on private lands.

On a national average, statistics support the fact that over 85% of sportsmen and women will be hunting on private property. What percentage of these sportsmen will obtain permission to hunt the site that they select?

How the program works: when a sportsman has selected where he would like to hunt, he approaches the landowner for permission. Upon introducing himself and requesting permission to hunt, the sportsman presents the landowner with a completed WTU ID Card.

DNR to set up information stations

Hunters heading north for the Nov. 15 firearm deer season opener can stop and take an information break at two Deer Hunter Information Stations located along US-27 at Clare and I-75 near St. Ignace, from Nov. 11-14.

The stations will be located at the US-27 John C. Mackie Welcome Center at Clare, and at the I-75 St. Ignace Welcome Center. "Last year, more than 4,400 deer hunters visited the two stations," said DNR Director David Hales.

Spice up the holidays with a holiday cheer party

Searching for a way to make your holiday festivities unique? The American Lung Association of Michigan is pleased to introduce the 1990 Holiday Cheer Campaign for those who want to make their holiday gathering even more meaningful.

The Holiday Cheer Campaign coincides with the 1990 Christmas Seal Campaign® and combines a typical holiday celebration with an atypical idea. Parties are held in homes, offices, and even restaurants with donations from the guests used to support the Lung Association's research grants and program activities, such as the Freedom From Smoking® clinics and asthma support groups.

The Lung Association will send each host a Holiday Cheer Packet that contains invitations, tips for a successful party and such Christmas Seal Campaign® touches as napkins and "The Story of Christmas Seals." What does the host provide? All that is required is a guest list, location and a great time!

Last year, successful Holiday Cheer parties included: An afternoon tea, a gourmet dinner, an office party, and even a "Christmas in July" barbecue. The 1990 parties promise to be just as creative and innovative, with one host planning a spicy Creole dinner.

For more information about participating in this exciting new campaign, please contact Cara Boeff at 1-800-678-LUNG. In the greater Lansing area, call 517-484-4541.

East Jordan nips Boyne 2nd time

BY JENNIFER BURR

East Jordan and Boyne City hooked up in girls basketball on Friday night and played a game that was a nail biter from beginning to end. The final outcome wasn't determined until Dawn Archambault's last second three point effort rolled around the rim and out to give East Jordan the win 47-44.

The first quarter score of 15-12 was a good indication of what lie ahead for the evening as each team played hard and determined.

The second quarter saw Boyne inch just a little closer as the half-time score of 24-22 proved, don't go home yet. The aggressive play of Boyne City caused some foul problems allowing East Jordan to score eight of its points at the free throw line while not giving up any.

The third quarter saw East Jordan make adjustments on Boyne's senior guard Dawn Archambault who had 14 points in the first half and caused all kinds of fits for the Devilettes. East Jordan shut her down and was able to increase its lead by five points to 39-33.

The fourth quarter was a spectators dream come true, with fun and exciting basketball. The clock read 7:11 and East Jordan held a seven point lead 40-33, but it wasn't over yet. During the next two and a half minutes Boyne trimmed the lead to one point 41-40. The two teams traded baskets and free throws to tie up the score 44-44 with just 58 seconds remaining in the game.
