Swan City Memories

Looking north on Main Street, the year is after 1910 – a guess based on the lack of motor cars and the presence of the two large buildings on the right, built about that time. Many of the buildings no longer exist, but an observant walk down the present day street may help readers identify those still around. (Many thanks to resident authority Dan Huckle for his expertise in identification.)

Local playwright wins award in state contest

A play by East Jordan playwright Lenore Bechtel was the 1994 first place winner in the statewide playwriting competition sponsored by Community Theatre Association of Michigan.

A cash award was presented to Bechtel for her two-act comedy, Hocus-Pocus, Sept. 24, at CTAM's fall convention at Boyne Highlands. The play revolves around a fun-loving hypnotist whose unorthodox methods of helping clients leads to some hilarious entanglements.

The original version of Hocus-Pocus was produced jointly by Antrim Regional Theatre and the Jordan River Players, the theatrical arm of Jordan River Arts Council, with performances in Bellaire and East Jordan. According to the competition guidelines, theatre groups belonging to CTAM may produce the revised version within the next year. Bechtel has had several other plays produced locally, including this summer's Jordan River Players' production of The Magic Flute, her adaptation of Mozart's comic opera. The JRP 1992 summer children's theatre festival featured her "Princess" plays: The Princess Who Never Laughed, The Dancing Princesses and The Case of the Kidnapped Princesses. For the 1993 festival, her plays, The Promises and The Wicked Princes, was one of three produced.

Bechtel's children's plays have been produced by Old Town Playhouse, Traverse City Children's Theatre, Richardson, Tex. Children's Theatre and Satellite Beach, Fla. Junior Theatre.

Her script Wagon Train was produced last October by Space Coast Fla. Sweet Adelines. Her one-act play, The Good Ole Galls was performed at Playwrights Experimental Theatre at Brevard Community College in Cocoa, Fla., in February.

City to hire professional recreation planners

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

The East Jordan City Council approved hiring professionals to develop a city parks and recreation master plan at the Oct. 4 meeting. "We don't get grants because there is no recreation plan," parks and recreation committee member Brian Sweet told council. He recommended Gove Associates, Inc. of Lansing for the job.

With the potential development of old Boswell Field, as well as the deteriorating condition of buildings at Elm Pointe in mind, members of the committee believe the future support of grants may be imperative to maintaining high quality facilities in the city park system. Without proper language, the DNR would be unlikely to approve the master plan - a necessary step to obtaining such grants.

Gary Roberts, of the East Jordan Rotary Club, encouraged the idea at a recent committee meeting. Rotary has already donated funds for a study on developing old Boswell. Those funds, which combined with the city budget contribution equal $1,500, will be diverted to finance the professional planning instead.

EJPD weekly report: watch for deer!

The East Jordan Police Department would like to remind everyone that hunting season is upon us and the deer are moving. Please drive carefully. Sept. 30

Patrick Symons, 17, and his passenger, Steven Sloop, 16, both of East Jordan, were traveling south on State Street when their vehicle was struck by a vehicle driven by Patrick Wozny, 30, of Commerce Township.

Wozny and his passenger Diane Wozny were traveling east on South

Maple Street. Wozny stated that he did not see the Symons vehicle and pulled away from the stop sign.

All four subjects were transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by East Jordan Ambulance. They were treated and later released from the hospital. The accident is currently under further investigation.

Oct. 1

Robert Everett, 17, of East Jordan, ran into the back of a vehicle driven by Grozdan Ristowski, 37, of Utica.

Ristowski was stopped at the intersection of Bridge and Water streets waiting to make a left turn. There were no injuries and no citations were issued.

Robbery suspect back in court

An East Jordan resident, in the Antrim County Jail awaiting trial for a June 15 bank robbery in Mancelona, now faces more legal troubles for allegedly assaulting a trustee in his jail cell.

A pretrial hearing was to begin Oct. 5 in 87th District Court in Bellaire for Paul Isaacs, 29, who was arraigned on assault and battery charges late last month. Isaacs allegedly smashed the head of the trustee against a window in his jail cell.

The assault charge is a misdemeanor punishable by up to 90 days in jail and/or a $100 fine. If found guilty, Isaacs could begin serving a jail sentence for the assault while awaiting or undergoing trial in 13th Circuit Court on the bank robbery charges.

Camcorder stolen from car

A tourist returned to his car after canoeing the Jordan River Oct. 2 to find his rear window smashed in and his camcorder stolen.

Robert Gaggioli of Palo Alto, Calif., told an Antrim County Sheriff deputy the break-in must have occurred while he was on the river, between 3 and 6:30 p.m. His car was parked on Graves Crossing Road near the river.

The stolen camcorder was in a black fabric carrying case that also held five video tapes.

Anyone with information on the theft is asked to call the Antrim County Sheriff Department at 533-8627.

what's cooking?

Recipes designed with East Jordan cooks in mind

"Don't forget, Mom. I have to take the snack tomorrow."

Are these familiar words from a child, arriving home from school in the late afternoon – or even worse – as you're putting her to bed?

For the many variations on this scenario, here is a quick and easy cookie recipe from the Classic Pillsbury Cookbook. Invite your children to help make the cookies (if you had more than an hour's warning before the event!). This will be fun for everyone.

Teddy-Go-Rounds

1 20 oz. pkg. refrigerated sugar cookies *
4 cups (216) any flavor bear-shaped graham crackers

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Slice well-chilled cookie dough in 1/4-inch slices. Place 3 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Arrange 6 bear-shaped graham crackers in circle around each cookie, with legs pointing toward center of cookie; press in slightly.

Bake at 350 F for 7-11 minutes or until golden brown. Cool 1 minute; remove from cookie sheets. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

*Tip: Refrigerated chocolate chip cookies can be substituted. Place dough in freezer for at least 1 hour before slicing. Bake at 350 F for 11-13 minutes.

THESE EAST JORDAN walkers for CROP appeared to really enjoy the brisk walk on the crisp October morning. Their efforts helped raise about $6,400 county-wide.

Walkers reap funds for food

The annual Walk for CROP drew 34 walkers Oct. 1 in an effort to fight hunger both locally and abroad.

East Jordan walkers began their trek at Elm Pointe and joined with 34 Charlevoix walkers and 25 Boyne City walkers to enjoy a picnic at Ironton provided by the Boyne Valley Lions Club.

Although sponsor collections are not yet completed, East Jordan coordinator Mary Glenna Malpass believes the group will total about $2,900. Combined with the other two participants, county walkers earned an estimated $6,400.

Although the figures are down significantly from last year's $11,238, Malpass noted that 1993 drew unusually high sponsorship for Nancy LaCroix of East Jordan, a wheelchair bound walker. LaCroix was unable to walk this year because of an injury.

Twenty-five percent of the county collection will be returned to be divided between the three food pantries of the participants. This was the 11th year for the CROP Walk in Charlevoix County.

I loved this book

People of the Lakes

By Kathleen O'Neal Gear and W. Michael Gear

This book is the latest in the authors' series of novels about prehistoric America. If you have ever stood on one of the hills of Antrim County, or really seen the mounds built by prehistoric Americans in the Midwest, you will thrill at this story of people who lived in our area over 2,000 years ago.

Did you know copper has been found from the Northern Peninsula in some mounds? Who knows - these traders may have lived in our county. There are reports of black obsidian Indian points found near Torch Lake.

In this story of Hopewell tribes in early America, you are introduced to Star Chief, the daughter of a prominent chief, who must save her people from the evil influence of a totemic mask and throw it in the torrents of Niagara Falls.

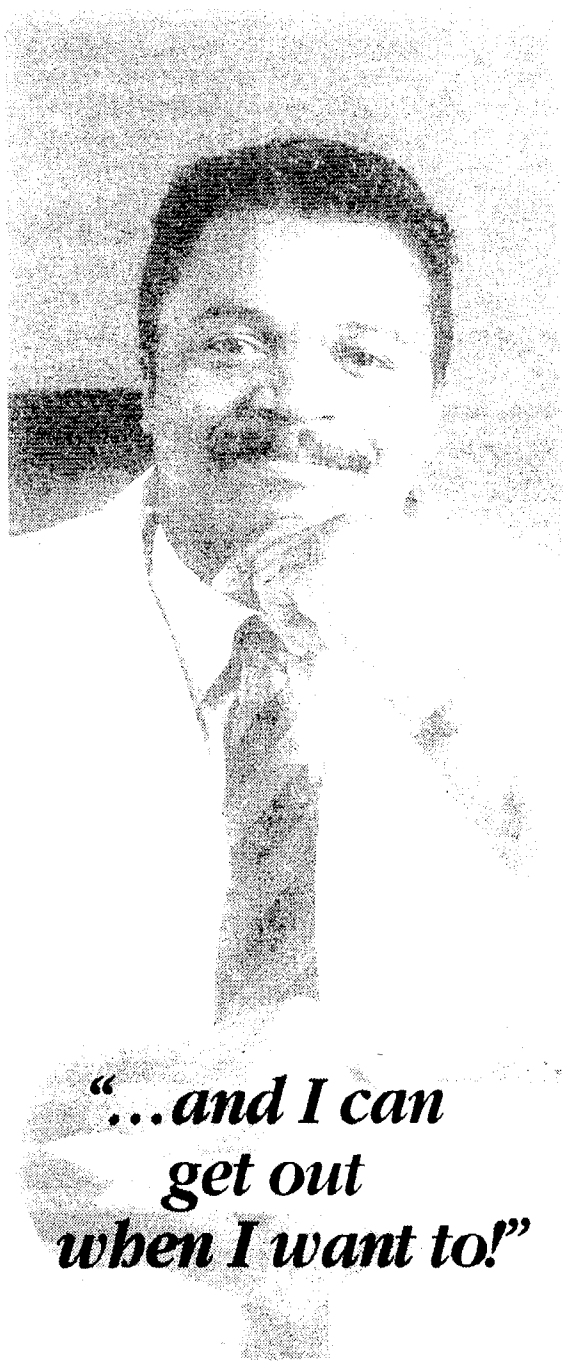

The authors, who are archaeologists and master storytellers, spin out the lives of the tribes of early North America. You learn why mounds were built and how; why traders traveled all over the continent; and more importantly, discover the splendor of life in the Great Lakes region centuries before Columbus.

This book and others by the Gears are available at the Central Lake Township Library.

an unlikely hero

We all like to hear and read about heroes. There are countless stories of heroic efforts, ranging from someone pulling someone from a burning building, to life-saving heroics on the battlefield. We have recently read of heroic efforts during the terrible raging floods in Georgia.

Heroic stories always tug at our heartstrings, even more so when the persons saved are small children.

This is a true story about a rather unlikely hero, but a hero nonetheless, one who saved the lives of many small children. In September, 1991, on M-119 in Bear Creek Township, our hero saved the life of eight-month-old David Hill of Charlevoix, when the vehicle driven by his mom was struck by another vehicle that drove left of the centerline.

Then in February, 1993, our hero struck again, saving the life of nine-month-old Logan Clark of Gaylord when the car he was riding in on I-75 skidded on ice, left the roadway and rolled over several times.

Often times, despite the satisfaction of saving someone's life, heroes are left saddened by the circumstances. That is the case with our hero. Our hero is heavy with regret that he cannot save more. That was the case in July in Osceola County, where a four-year-old girl, riding unrestrained was killed when the car she was in rolled over. Her two-year-old brother was seriously injured.

Yes, our hero is a child safety seat, a proven life-saving device, that is designed for the sole purpose of protecting small children from the number one killer of American children: traffic crashes. You see, both David's and Logan's loving moms had secured them correctly in child safety seats, an action that, according to police, saved both youngsters from fatal injuries.

The great majority of small children killed or injured in traffic crashes do not have to die. They would survive if they were placed in child safety seats.

C'mon folks, let's keep up the great American tradition of heroic efforts. Place children up to age 4 in a safety seat, and older children in lap and shoulder belts, every time they ride with you. Give our hero a chance to save lives.

By Bob Cullen,
Vehicle Safety Coordinator
District Health Dept. #3

NOW A SMILING four-year-old, David Hill of Charlevoix was saved from injury because he was restrained in a child safety seat when involved in a 1991 traffic crash.

Every area church leader is invited to participate in this rotating forum. Requirements for participation are few:

The first entry from every individual should be accompanied by a recent photograph (color is fine.) If no photograph is available, authors should stop at our downtown East Jordan office, and we'll cheerfully snap one.

Ellsworth man celebrates 90th

Andrew Kooyer of Ellsworth celebrated his 90th birthday on Oct. 5. He came to Ellsworth in 1908, arriving by train with his parents from Muskegon. The family walked to their recently purchased farm, a mile west of town.

Andrew Kooyer

Andrew grew up in an era of hard work and limited resources. He helped his father clear the land for farming and took care of farm animals.

He attended Ellsworth schools. During his school years, two buildings were lost to fire. He finished in the now demolished brick building, site of the present high school.

Andrew was employed at various labor jobs before spending 44 years at the Ellsworth canning factory. He was a volunteer fireman for 35 years. He has been an ardent fisherman all of his life and is familiar with all of the small lakes and streams of the area. He enjoyed small game hunting and as late as 1993 still suited up for deer season. He isn't certain about this year.

Mr. Kooyer enjoys good health and still lives in the family home he and his late wife Jessie built in 1941. They were married in 1935.

He is a member of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church and still walks to the services on Sunday.

His birthday was celebrated with a family dinner.

ID cards locate children

The realtors of Antrim, Charlevoix and Kalkaska counties are enlisting schools in Bellaire, Kalkaska, Elk Rapids, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Boyne City, East Jordan, Mancelona, Alba, Ellsworth, Boyne Falls and Central Lake in the effort to locate missing children.

The association provides each school with an annual supply of baseball-type cards that are used to identify school children who are illegally abducted. The cards not only have a picture of the child on the front, they include a complete physical description on the back.

Local schools and day care centers may contact Kathy Rouse at 547-4438 or Linda Byers, community service chairperson, at 547-1531 for information about the program and how to become involved.

The Bigger They Are, The Harder They Haul.

It's big, but just watch it move. The Polaris Big Boss 6 x 6 400L has a new 400 liquid-cooled engine. Plus on-demand six-wheel drive, and automatic Polaris Variable Transmission (PVT), with new E-Z shift high, low and low range reverse. A tilting, steel-sided loadbed that holds 850 lbs., and a front rack that carries 75 lbs. That should lighten your load.

Polaris six-wheelers may not be ridden by anyone under 18, and all riders should take a safety course. For safety and training information, see your dealer or call Polaris at 1-800-POLARIS. Six-wheelers can be hazardous to operate. For your safety, never carry passengers, and avoid excessive speeds.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

God Brings Good Out of Evil

"But Joseph said to them, 'You meant to do me harm; but God meant to bring good out of it by preserving the lives of many people, as we see today.'"

— Genesis 50: 20

One of the most exciting stories of the Old Testament is the story of Joseph, who was sold into slavery by his jealous brothers. Joseph rose to a strategic position in Egypt and supervised the grain reserves within that land. After famine broke out in Palestine, Joseph's brothers came to Egypt, at the request of their father, Isaac, to beg for grain. Joseph's high position enabled him to give them the grain they needed. As he considered the suffering in his life, Joseph realized that God was working through the evil to bring good for his family. Perhaps God is at work in your life bringing good out of what appears to be evil.

Red Devils homecoming win boosts ranking

East Jordan entertained Mancelona's Ironmen Friday night in Boswell Stadium, hoping for a homecoming win and a boost in the playoff rankings.

The Devils got both, using big plays and timely defense to roll on with a 28-13 win.

East Jordan caught break one, literally, intercepting a pass as Karl Redmer got in the way of one. Traver Goodrich did the same for Mancelona to start their next drive, which ended on a fourth and two at the Devils' 20 yard line, Matt Sherman and Sean Russell slamming the door for the Devils.

Two plays later, Sherman burst through the line for 72 yards and the first touchdown of the game, 6-0.

Three plays and an Adam Skrocki interception later, East Jordan was back in business.

Seven plays later, Yaro Middaugh went the final seven yards, gaining 21 on the drive, for score number two for East Jordan. Cory Cutler hit Skrocki for the conversion and a 14-0 lead in quarter one.

Mancelona finished the first period with a 35-yard run by Steve Buyze and a 39-yard pass to Rick Spires, starting the second quarter with a third and goal at the three. Two plays later, the hard charging Red Devils had the ball back, thanks to a superswift defense that was getting to the handoffs quicker than the rushers were!

Two Matt Sherman runs netted 14 yards, then Middaugh was stopped for a loss. Next play, Yaro wasn't stopped, going 79 yards for a touchdown, Solomon Townsend adding the extra point for a 21-0 lead for East Jordan.

Mancelona punted on the next drive, only to get the ball quickly back on a fumble, which led to an injury to Steve Schram, who went to the hospital for his efforts.

The teams traded possessions into the half's final minute, when East Jordan took a punt and two plays later watched Redmer loft a 66-yard touchdown pass to Steve Wiltfong with 41 seconds to go. The extra point gave Mancelona a 28-0 hole to try and get out of after the half.

For East Jordan, the half was glorious, from the juniors winning the float title with "Marvin and the Martians," to Yaro Middaugh earning the King, Belgie Caballero taking the Queen honors.

East Jordan enjoyed the pleasures of substitution as Mancelona tried to get into the end zone, finally combining a 19-yard run and a 36-yard scamper by Steve Buyze late in the third quarter to score. The conversion failed, leaving the Devils up 28-6.

Mancelona added a final score with 2.5 minutes to go as Tom Castle romped the final six yards, then kicked the extra point, ending the scoring at 28-13.

Mancelona's Steve Buyze won the rushing battle with 158 yards, Matt Sherman and Yaro Middaugh of East Jordan winning the war with 133 and 122 yards respectively and the win.

Tom Castle led Mancelona with 11 tackles, Josh Kruger with eight and Dan Thumm with six. East Jordan defense was keyed by A.O. Wood, Josh Spears and Toby Prevo.

The win boosted the Red Devil playoff bid considerably, while Mancelona's was deeply damaged. The Ironmen will need help, mainly teams losing that are ahead of them in the rankings.

Lady Devils snap losing streak

BY S.F. PUCKETT
Sports Writer

Anyone who tells you losing isn't so bad hasn't done enough of it. The Lady Red Devils gladly disengaged themselves from a six-game losing string with a Tuesday basketball victory over Boyne City.

It would not come easy, as the Ramblerettes stayed on the tails of the Red Devils all game. East Jordan inched ahead 14-12, moving the gap to 22-17 at the break.

Boyne City came back to cut the margin to 35-33 before East Jordan recovered and eked out the win by 57-53.

"We led most of the way, but not by much," confided coach Steve Hines. "This was some of the best ball we've played all season so far."

Leading the way was Amanda Pepin with 14 points, followed in close order by Kristie Loviska with 13, Dawn Meads with 12 and Kristina Ruhling with 10.

East Jordan scored big on the JV test, winning 42-10 with Ann Hettig, Dayle Looze and Kyle Krause doing damage for the Red Devil causes.

Thursday, TC St. Francis hosted the Devils, romping out early on East Jordan 14-6 before the Devils countered with a strong second period and took a 21-20 lead at the halftime.

St. Francis adjusted at the half, scored 20 in the third to assume a 40-36 lead, stretching the gap to 55-43 at game's end.

"At the start of the fourth we were just down four, but a few turnovers early and we trailed by 12," Hines said at the end.

Amanda Pepin scored 14 with Kristina Ruhling adding 10, Mandy Reid with five.

East Jordan won the JV contest 29-19, Jenny Falco, Goebel and McCready dazzling the crowd on the road.

Both squads finished with 51 points, Clare's sixth man finishing ahead of East Jordan, thus winning the title.

Mike Newkirk won the race in 16:33, with Josiah Middaugh close behind in second in 16:34.

Art exhibition in Petoskey will benefit AIDS victims

A gala opening for October Light: Paintings by Marlee Brown, an art exhibition benefitting H.A.N.D.S. (HIV/AIDS Network & Direct Services), will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Fri., Oct. 14, at Perry Sherwood Fine Art, 200 Howard Street, Petoskey.

Ms. Brown, a Petoskey native, is receiving national acclaim for her impressionist oil paintings of northern Michigan, Colorado, California and France. She and her husband, Daniel Musser, currently reside on Mackinac Island and Harbor Springs, where her summer studio is located.

Gallery director Zalmon Sherwood says that board members of H.A.N.D.S. selected Ms. Brown for this exhibition, "because beauty is an appropriate response to the horrors of the AIDS epidemic. Marlee's gorgeous landscapes inspire all who see them. And she happens to be a beautiful woman who is willing to contribute her immense talent to assist our local AIDS organization."

Tickets for the gala opening are available for a tax-deductible donation of $15 payable to H.A.N.D.S. In addition to the exhibition, there will be musical entertainment in the gallery. Wine and beverages will be served, along with hors d'oeuvres provided by Little Traverse area restaurants. Ms. Brown and the gallery will donate a percentage of that evening's sales to H.A.N.D.S., which provides AIDS support services in northern Michigan. The exhibition will run through Oct. 30.

For further information and reservations, call the gallery at 348-5079.

Couple discusses Haitian experience

"Understanding Haiti" will be one of two topics discussed at the Oct. 16 meeting of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation in Petoskey.

Services start at 10 a.m. with the question, "How Do We Give Expression To Our Faith?" At 11 a.m., Mike and Frances Sosadeeter will present information about the history and contemporary situation in Haiti.

The Sosadeeters now live at St. Ignace, but were in Haiti from 1986 to 1988 and have close ties with the country. Their teen-age foster son is from Haiti. They will tell of their support for social justice and their work in Haiti.

The public is welcome to attend the service which will be held in Temple B'nai Israel on the corner of Waukazoo and Michigan Streets in Petoskey.

I would like to Thank everyone for the love and kindness shown to my family during the loss of my husband Jim.

Jim was so proud of working for the Charlevoix County Road Commission. This was a big part of his life and he felt good to be part of a group of people that worked for our County of Charlevoix. He worked with a wonderful group of Co-workers. The unity they had for each other showed through in our time of need. They showed the love and respect for their brother by being there and taking time out of their own lives to be with his family.

Jim was given a great gift to gab and through this he made a vast amount of friends from every walk of life. He touched alot of people's lives and alot of people's lives were affected by his death. We will miss Jim so much, our lives will never be the same. We not only lost a family member, but a good friend.

It's so sad that Jim's life had to be lost, but for everyone that had known Jim knows he didn't die alone because part of us went with him. I think Jim would want us to look for something good out of his death.

Maybe to learn to show more love and understanding towards our fellow man. To uplift each other when times are bad. Love is the greatest gift God can give us. If wealth were measured in friends Jim Downey died a very rich man.

Sincerely
Charlotte K. Downey

School facility review at work

Although the FRC was otherwise empowered to make suggestions concerning the scope, design and financing of any construction project, members were also directed to provide rationale that "ensures the committee believes the recommendation satisfies the needs of students and the community both in the short term and with an eye to the future." A minimum projection of fifteen years was advised.

FRC in action

The FRC began operations from a well-informed base, each member having received a collection of statistics on enrollment, facility usage and financial information to review before the first meeting. Much of it was updated information compiled from the original review committee two years ago, and gave a solid background from which to expedite this go-round.

Working methodically, with "lots of good debate," according to Kempton, the group quickly came to consensus that the only logical choices are to add on to existing facilities or construct a new building.

The committee completed a comprehensive review of all present school facilities, graphing strengths and weaknesses of each facility, and prioritizing needs. After two months of meetings, the group had developed a list of 20 guidelines that should be contained within the scope of any construction project. The elementary/middle school complex was targeted as the one in most need of improvement.

Wayne Fries, an EJIW employee and father of an 11th-grader at EJHS, said the process has been very positive. Fries was involved with the original committee, which met over a period of two years, and he feels this has been a much more efficient and positive process.

He believes considering the construction options is perhaps difficult, but necessary.

"We have to make the decision on what we need, and what's good for the kids," he said, "not necessarily what we want as taxpayers."

Fries emphasized that the decision-making is still in process and the committee isn't ready to make a recommendation yet.

At the next meeting, scheduled near the end of the month, the committee will begin hearing solid figures. GBKB architectural firm of Traverse City, chosen from four candidate firms, will present initial numbers, along with possible designs for a new middle school.

Agenda for solution

If and when the committee recommends a building project to the community, all members have agreed it should:

- end the overcrowded conditions that currently exist.
- prepare the district for further growth.
- optimize learning success for all kids.
- reflect need and be without "frills."
- be at an acceptable price for taxpayers and voters.

Committee and board members alike realize the potential difficulty in selling the concept to the community. With the effects of Proposal A still undetermined in the minds of many voters, an added element of caution may also be involved.

Kempton reported to the board the committee's opinion that many community members will be unconvinced of the need for a new facility. Both groups will work diligently in the coming months to educate neighbors on the pressing needs of the district.

The district is presently paying off 2.25 mills on a bond passed in 1977 to build the high school. That debt will be retired in the year 2003.

Weather

It was the week that just got nicer - right up to the critical point, that is. County residents enjoyed balmy weather that nudged the 70-degree mark Friday, but Saturday dawned cloudy and delivered a virtually continuous rainfall that went from downpour to drizzle and back again. Sunday saw the rain clear slowly, with breaks in the precipitation stretching as long as an hour or two. But an overnight drop in the temperature and rising winds tempered the improvement. With a freeze predicted for Monday night, fall colors should peak this week. LAST YEAR: A blueprint for 1994, with glorious Indian summer days breaking for a cold-snap weekend that saw the year's first snow.

THE SEVENTH GRADE science classroom is a prime example of why the facility review committee was formed - teacher Matt Peterson is storing boxes of experiment materials in a pile by the wall, with glass jars and other lab equipment on open shelves. There are no closets in the room, or space for cabinets. Because the room was designed for general classes, there are also no sinks.

School facility review at work

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

The East Jordan School District may soon need to appeal to voters for a new building and is preparing to present a strong case.

A facility review committee (FRC) of community members has been meeting since July to develop a plan for the district that will serve the needs of not just the next few years, but decades into the future.

"The committee has been and continues to wrestle with many issues relating to creating space for our increased enrollments," committee facilitator John Kempton told the district board of education in a report Sept. 19. Kempton said group debate revolved around the best way to "intertwine the growth and educational needs of students with the anti-tax mood and general political distrust prevalent among the tax-paying population."

Overcrowding prompts committee
The school board decided to form the FRC earlier this year when census figures, coupled with already overcrowded conditions in the elementary and middle schools, made evident the increasing problem.

Remembering the sting of a failed attempt to convince voters more space was needed two years ago, the board appointed the FRC with very well-defined parameters, while empowering the group to make recommendations for the good of the community and the students as well.

The FRC represents a cross-section of East Jordan voters (see box). Although several board and administrative staff members attend meetings, none, including Kempton, are voting members.

One very firm direction given the FRC was that neither incorporating split-scheduling, or portable classrooms would be considered acceptable solutions.

"Those options are just not conducive to the quality education that is our goal for East Jordan students," district superintendent Chip Hansen empha-
