

Weather

Despite predictions to the contrary, local residents enjoyed yet another weekend of wonderful weather, with temperatures in the 50s under windswept blue skies. The week that preceded that unexpected weather bonus saw temperatures decline from perfect Indian summer status, but still warmer than usual for this time of year. While most trees have been stripped, many protected plantings have escaped the hard frost that brushed through the area in mid-October. LAST YEAR: Highs barely reached the 40s some days; only climbed to the 30s on others. Trick or treaters had temperatures in the mid-30s, but no rain.

EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN

Mayoral candidates discuss the future

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

For perhaps the final time, city voters will elect a mayor for East Jordan, Tues., Nov. 8.

If the proposed new city charter is approved by voters in 1995, mayoral election will move into the hands of the seven-member city commission, which in turn is elected in a general city vote.

Under the proposed charter, the mayor is elected annually by the commission from among themselves. To be eligible, the candidate must have served at least one council term. The duties of the mayor remain generally the same.

Whether present mayor Russell Peck, or his opponent Michael Burr are elected next Tuesday, one of the mayor's jobs in 1995 will be to help guide the transition government, if the new charter should be approved.

Incumbent Peck is seeking a seventh term as mayor. A native of East Jordan, Peck is active in a number of civic organizations, and is serving as president of the East Jordan Jaycees this year. He is employed at East Jordan Plastics.

Michael Burr

Peck believes that major changes are in store for the community, and he wants to continue being involved in them.

"I want to make sure we get this downtown development going," he said. "I'm very eager to see the dream of getting the new charter in place come true." He supports plans that continue to encourage new businesses in the area.

"After all, we're the fastest growing town in Michigan," he noted.

As mayor, Peck most enjoys handling public relations and meeting people. He feels he is performing a service - giving back to a community that he says has given so much to him.

Challenger Michael Burr feels that East Jordan is stagnating - he said one look around the downtown district is proof of that.

"I don't believe East Jordan is ready to enter the year 2,000," he empha-

Burr is a longtime resident and business owner (The Insurance Shop) in the city. Active in Little League and Sports Boosters, his political experience includes completing a vacancy on city council and his position as chairman of the zoning board of appeals.

He proposes solving the problem of stagnation by "a good aggressive mayor and council working together to promote the industrial base and labor base through promotion of the community."

Burr feels the concept of changing the charter is past due and expects the charter commission to come up with a well-researched charter with major renovations. His goal as mayor is to serve "the hard-working" people of East Jordan.

Partnership brings dealer show to EJ

An unofficial partnership between the East Jordan Jaycees, and the Jordan Valley Express Music Center is expected to have benefits for both, as well as local patrons.

The Jaycees, a non-profit service organization, is hosting the 1995 All Wheel Drive Extravaganza at the Express this Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 5-6.

According to show chairman Dan Pater, the Express is the perfect place for the display, with its 10,000 square foot dance floor providing an ideally open and attractive space. Owners Fran Themm and Tina Malpass negotiated a discount rental with the Jaycees.

"It gives them an opportunity to introduce the capabilities of the building," said Pater, adding that it served to give the Jaycees a first-class venue for

CITY COUNCIL

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

East Jordan City Council elections will look somewhat different one year from now if the proposed new city charter is approved. The concept of wards will become a thing of the past, as council members are chosen in a general election.

"There will be one ward in the city," explained charter commission Tom Sheridan. "Every individual has seven representatives instead of just one or two."

But for the time being, though, ward elections continue.

■ First ward seat

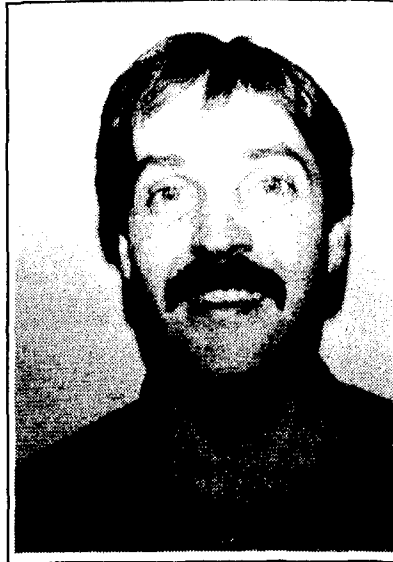

With the retirement of first ward council representative Guy Vallance, there is no incumbent running for the open seat. John Michael Dionne and Dan McKinnon will vie for the voters approval.

Dionne is a former superintendent for the city of East Jordan, serving as council administrator and DPW superintendent for 11 years. He would like to re-evaluate the city budget and taxation, and address the streets and sidewalks situation.

Having lived in the area for more than

John Michael Dionne

Dan McKinnon

13 years, Dionne sees all aspects of running a small city as interwoven. He is a business owner - South Arm International marine surveys and consulting.

"You've got to run a city like a corporation," Dionne believes. "If that's not happening, then you're not getting your money's worth."

Dan McKinnon believes as an accountant (he is financial officer for the East Jordan Family Health Center) he can "shed some financial light" with his involvement on city council. He is familiar with grant writing and feels he could be of use.

The East Jordan native isn't motivated by anger against past council decisions.

"It's not a case of 'what are you mad about,'" he explained. "I just think I can contribute to the decision making."

McKinnon supports continued growth and prosperity, but at the same time doesn't want to see East Jordan taken advantage of by developers. He would like to see care taken to make sure development doesn't focus on just one part of town.

Both support the DDA in concept, although Dionne feels the boundaries reflect a loss of focus where it should be, not in the more rural areas.

McKinnon feels that a DDA can work well for the city, but he is concerned about financing it through more taxes.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Howard Hosler

Harold Pletz

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

County-wide on Election Day, voters will decide on a millage renewal proposal for Grandvue Medical Care Facility. Charlevoix county commissioners in almost all districts are in competition for seats, including Howard Hosler, District 4 incumbent.

Hosler faces Harold Pletz in the contest. Both candidates recently discussed their campaigns and some of the issues.

■ Incumbent Howard Hosler

Hosler is asking for a third term as county commissioner. An East Jordan native, he feels his accomplishments include answering all requests, even if he was not able to always find a solution.

"I tried to work for all of Charlevoix County," he said.

He looks at his efforts toward expanding Grandvue as necessary and positive, and thinks it is time to consider expanding the county complex as well. He didn't feel that way until he started working there regularly and saw the crowded situation.

Hosler got involved in politics because he felt he had time as a retiree (from Guardian Industries in Carleton) and could help the community. He served two terms on East Jordan City Council, in 1966 and 1988.

Hosler hopes to finish some of the work he has started, but at the same time, he feels the county departments have developed into the best in the northern part of the state.

Working with five other people on the commission isn't always the easiest task, he noted, and he hasn't always gotten his way, but feels he really listens to the people.

"You've got to," he emphasized. "The voters should get what they want."

■ Challenger Harold Pletz

Pletz brings a long list of political involvement and accomplishments to his campaign, including eight years as South Arm Township supervisor, 12 years as a member of the East Lansing City Council, and two years as mayor of East Lansing.

Pletz calls politics his avocation.

"I have a wealth of experience to offer," he noted.

He sees the many problems the county will face in the near future, and views his role as a commissioner to research the problems and try to come up with solutions. Pletz served on several county advisory committees and would like to have a chance to follow through on some of that work.

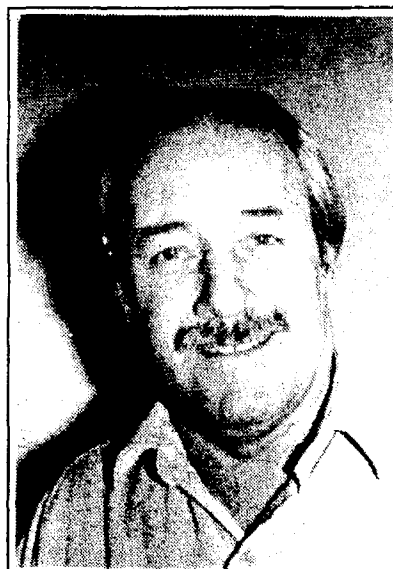

After so many long years of service, Pletz said people often ask him why he still wants to be so involved.

"I just say it keeps me busy and it keeps me in on things," he chuckled.

Pletz retired from 40 years running a auto dealership and service station with his father and began living full time in this area in 1982, having vacationed here since 1965.

Greg Chappuies

Ron Klooster

■ Second ward contest

Incumbent Greg Chappuies faces a challenge for his second ward seat from Ron Klooster. Completing his first term as a council member, Chappuies, a transplant to the area during his high school years, sees ones of his greatest contributions to the city in his position as chairman of the ways and means committee.

"I've been a strong advocate of a tight money policy," he said, explaining that when he took on the job the general budget had been consistently supported by the fund balance until there was no fund balance left. By fiscal restraint over the past two years, the city now enters a period where money will be available for street and sidewalk repair and other pressing issues.

Chappuis, part-owner of Wilmot Electric, Inc., would like to continue as a council member to see through some of the large issues that have come up during his tenure, including the DDA and the proposed charter.

"I want to be part of the transition team for the new charter," he said, adding that both developments will continue to help East Jordan in the goal to be a safe and attractive community.

Klooster, a native of the region, is manager of the Marathon Mini-mart and very active operating the Open Door Christian coffee house that meets bi-weekly in East Jordan. He served 2 terms in city council during the 1980s.

Klooster would like to see more focus on the older part of East Jordan—the east side and downtown areas. He said from what he knows of the DDA he feels he would support it.

"I think we should better what we have now," he commented.

■ Contestants in the Third ward

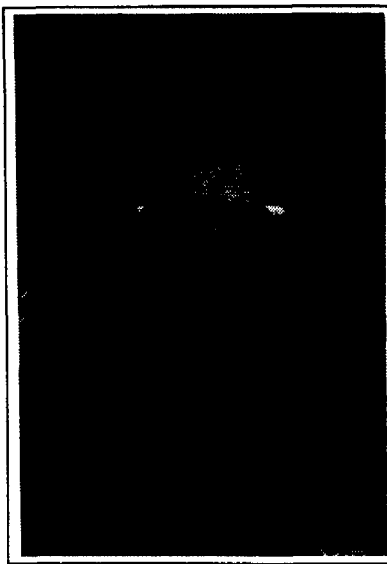

Incumbent Ruth Gee will vie for her third term against James Shivley. Gee is a teaching assistant at East Jordan Elementary School and a native of East Jordan. Her goal in seeking office is to continue to support the charter transition and stay involved with the work of the DDA.

"With East Jordan growing so quickly, I want it to grow carefully," she said. "This town has a unique personality — I'd like to keep the essence intact."

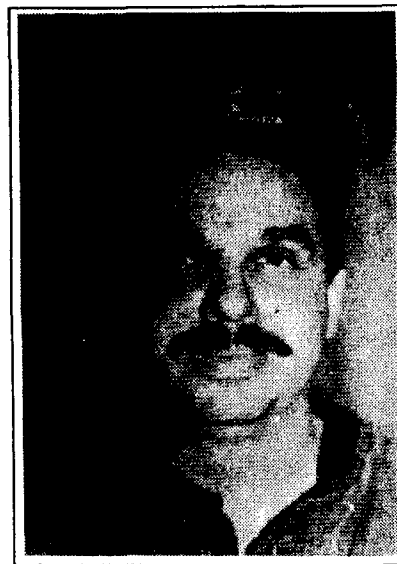

Gee feels good about her participation with the public safety committee and sees the department heads as doing an excellent job. She is especially happy with the work of police chief Jerry Alward, who she feels has revitalized the department, including the building.

"Alward stayed within budget constraints," she explained, "yet made the police office something East Jordan can be proud of."

Very active in a number of civic and

Ruth Gee

church organizations, Gee would like to see the city remain fiscally responsible while making East Jordan a safe and comfortable place to live.

Shivley is a business owner (J.R. Investment Corp., and Shivley's Victorian Adult Foster Care) who would like to see the city cut "unreasonable excess spending."

He feels the town hasn't changed much in his 33 years (born and raised in East Jordan).

"The town needs new blood to get things motivated," he commented.

Shivley believes that money from spending cuts should be used toward sidewalk and street updates and programs for youth, "to get them off the street." He plans to encourage community fundraisers and seek federal and state help for new programs, definitely not raising taxes.

"I can bring a grasp of the possibilities for investment to council," he noted. "Where to find money and the right way to use it."

Shivley does not support using a DDA to try to copy Charlevoix or Petoskey.

"We would never be like them, so I can't see wasting excess money trying," he said.

attracting dealers.

A number of dealers from across northern Michigan will display all wheel drive road vehicles as well as all-terrain vehicles. Accessories, travel, and financial vendors will be on hand, as will sales representatives from all the dealerships.

Utility vehicles and working accessories, such as plows and mechanical equipment are also expected to be at the show.

Pater said the show will be more than just inventory displays, though.

"It will be a real party atmosphere," he said, including live entertainment with local bands both days, and a live remote broadcast on WTCM with a disc jockey emcee.

Adding to the festivities, Pater said, there will be giveaways throughout the extravaganza. Prizes in store for lucky patrons include concert tickets, shirts, hats and cassette tapes, plus dealer giveaways.

While the show may be party-like, it is a family environment as well, since the Express is a no-smoking, no-alcohol establishment. And Pater noted, patrons can come just to view the vehicles, or make a day of it with plenty of on-going activities.

A variety of food will be available, with McDonald's and other concessions to choose from.

Profits from the show will be set aside as a building fund for a winter sports park in East Jordan. Although the plans are just on the ground floor, the group hopes to include a decent rink, indoor area, hill and parking area as part of the complex.

If the coming show is as successful as the Jaycees expect, the group intends to host another show, possibly in February, and a September 1995 snowmobile show, all in partnership with the Express. The goal is to continue to provide a unique selling environment for the vendors and an extraordinary way of shopping for the public.

The 1995 All Wheel Drive Extravaganza will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. The cost is $3 for adults; age 15 and under free.

Bank robbery suspect may use insanity defense

BY KEITH MATHENY
Contributing Writer

The attorney for an East Jordan man accused of robbing a Mancelona bank June 15 may present evidence of mental problems in an attempt to clear her client.

Janet Mistele, in a pre-trial motion Oct. 17 in 13th Circuit Court in Bellaire, asked Judge Philip Rodgers, Jr. to appoint an independent forensic psychiatrist to examine Paul Isaacs, 28.

"We're exploring the possibility of an insanity defense," Mistele said.

Isaacs was interviewed by a state forensic examiner in late August, and though the results are not yet back, Mistele felt compelled to ask for another independent examination. She intimated that her client may not have been treated fairly at the state interview.

"I'm very concerned about comments made to my client by the examiner," she said.

The court agreed to allow examination of Isaacs by Steven Berger, a Grand Rapids forensic psychiatrist. The psychiatrist will charge $200 an hour, Mistele said.

"It will cost roughly $2,000 to review all the materials and talk with my client," she said. "And it will take about the same amount of time for travel and trial testimony."

Mistele, Rodgers and prosecutor Charles Koop then discussed possible ways to cut taxpayer costs. One option under consideration would have deputies transport Isaacs to Grand Rapids to be examined, if it is more cost effective and workable by the Antrim County Sheriff Department.

"I know what I'm asking the court to do is expensive, but my client is facing two life sentences," she said.

Vandals damage hunting cabin in Jordan Twp.

Nothing was taken, but intruders damaged a hunting cabin in Section 22 of Jordan Township, it was reported Oct. 22.

Investigating Antrim County Sheriff deputies believe the vandals gained entry through a side door of the cabin.

Four gallons of stain were splashed around the interior, and three windows and a storm door were also broken.

An older pickup camper, which was on blocks outside the cabin, was tipped off the blocks and had windows broken as well.

Renting safety for your child

The Office of Highway Safety Planning (OHSP) has just created and released the new Michigan Child Car Seat Rental Program booklet. This booklet is organized by counties, and lets people know what hospitals or other organizations in the country will loan child car seats.

The booklet gives information about what type and how many of each car seat the organization has, as well as how much they cost to rent, and what the length of rental is.

If you are interested in renting a child safety seat, this booklet is available statewide through the Michigan Substance Abuse and Traffic Safety Information center. The Information Center has a variety of free materials available by calling 1-800-626-4636.

It is important to remember that child safety seats help prevent injuries and save lives.

Remember to use child seats correctly and they will keep your child safe!

RSVP volunteers honored at dinner

Retired & Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) members were honored for their generosity of time and spirit to the community at their 10th annual recognition dinner held at the Wolverine Dilworth Inn in Boyne City, Oct. 13.

Senior volunteers worked 38,000 hours of community service in the past year. Based on the IRS allotment of $7 per hour for volunteer service, members contributed $266,000 to the area of Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

RSVP stresses the positive potential of older persons and gives senior volunteers recognition that is often lacking in their later years. The 1994 Volunteer of the Year Award's were earned by Ms. Margaret Frederick of Petoskey (representing Emmet County), and Mr. and Mrs. Mae and Bill Bridge of East Jordan (representing Charlevoix County).

"The Volunteer's of the Year were chosen for their integrity, support of RSVP, and their commitment to their communities," said RSVP director Becky Mosser.

The 1994 RSVP Station of the Year Award was presented to Charlevoix Area Hospital (CAH). Accepting on their behalf was CAH director of Fund Development and Volunteer Coordinator, Mrs. Kathy Johnson.

"Charlevoix Hospital has been providing superior support for senior volunteers for many years," said Mosser. Station Award winners must advocate and utilize senior volunteers; support and recognize RSVP, its importance and commitment in the community; and provide volunteers with meaningful work in a supportive environment.

A special salute was issued to five volunteers who gave over a thousand hours of service: Glenna Arends, Naomi Miller, Marjorie McNamara, Marge Robarge, and Marie Zoberski.

"The strength of the RSVP volunteer force is in its diversity," said Mosser. There are 236 volunteers currently enrolled in the program, 96 in Charlevoix County, and 140 in Emmet County.

The following agencies graciously recognized the efforts and commitment of RSVP members to the success of their organizations by sponsoring this recognition dinner: Bergmann Center, Burns Clinic Medical Center, Charlevoix County Hospice, Emmet County Department of Social Services, Emmet County MSU Extension, Friendship Centers of Emmet County, Hospice of Little Traverse Bay, Little Traverse Conservancy, Northern Michigan Hospital, Petoskey Public Schools, and the Women's Resource Center of Northern Michigan.

RSVP receives support in part through a grant from the State of Michigan's Office of Services to the Aging, area United Way Agencies, and donation. Friendship Centers of Emmet County sponsors RSVP locally.

Recipes designed with East Jordan cooks in mind

It's time to begin planning for that feast of feasts - Thanksgiving!

We love putting together large dinners, and have been pouring over our vast collection of cookbooks to bring you new options or little twists on old traditions. As your turkey roasts, bringing water to the mouths of those eagerly awaiting, offer them some relief with this great "make ahead" appetizer.

Pine Nut Pesto Cheesecake

Don't let the list of ingredients intimidate you - this recipe is very simple and easy to make. To serve, simply cut it into small wedges like you would a regular cheesecake.

Crust:

- 1/2 c. dry Italian seasoned bread crumbs
- 2 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 tbsp. finely chopped toasted pine nuts
- 2 tbsp. margarine or butter, melted

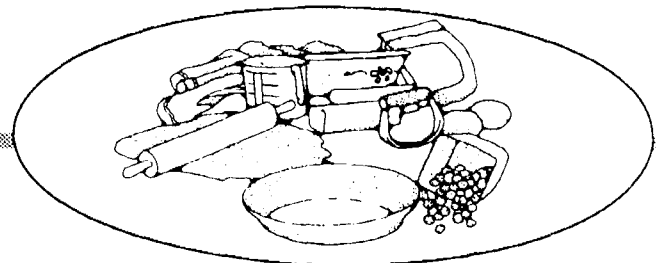

Filling:

- 2 8-oz. packages cream cheese, softened
- 1 c. sour cream
- 1/2 c. grated Parmesan cheese
- 3 eggs
- 1/4 c. finely chopped toasted pine nuts
- 3 tbsp. chopped fresh basil or 3/4 tsp. dried basil
- 2 tbsp. sliced green onion
- 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/4 tsp. white pepper
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 2-oz. jar of diced pimento, drained

Heat oven to 375°. Lightly grease a 9-in. springform pan. In a small bowl combine all crust ingredients; mix well. Press in bottom of greased pan.

In a large bowl, beat cream cheese until smooth. Gradually beat in sour cream and 1/2 c. Parmesan cheese. At low speed beat in eggs one at a time, blending just until smooth. Stir in remaining ingredients until well combined. Pour into crust-lined pan.

Bake at 375° for 30-40 minutes or until set. Cool on wire rack. Refrigerate at least three hours, or up to two days.

To serve, remove sides of pan. Garnish top with fresh basil leaves and toasted pine nuts. Serve with thinly sliced baguettes or crackers. Refrigerate any leftovers.

NOTE: Spread pine nuts on cookie sheet to toast; bake at 375° for 3-5 minutes, or until light golden brown, stirring occasionally. Pine nuts can be purchased in the produce section of the grocery.

As an accompaniment, a crisp Chardonnay would do very nicely. But if you prefer non-alcoholic, we have found a punch recipe that is very pleasing to all. Neither too tart or too sweet (like most punches), this one will be enjoyed by young and old alike.

Pour Man's Champagne

- 2 parts white grape juice
 - 1 part Canadian Club ginger ale (do not use Vemors)
- Pour above ingredients over ice cubes made with extra grape juice and serve. Be prepared - everyone always asks for more!

Proposal would constitutionally protect state parks

Genevieve Gillette proved that one person can make a difference. On Nov. 8, every Michigan voter will have a chance to follow her example.

They can do that by voting for Proposal P, a ballot plan that will provide a stable source of funding for Michigan's state parks system. The proposal would create the Genevieve Gillette State Parks Endowment Fund, which will be constitutionally protected from all government diversions.

The fund is named after the late E. Genevieve Gillette, considered by many to be Michigan's foremost park activist. Before her death in 1986, she spent 60 years scouting the state for potential park locations. She also worked to obtain proper funding for Michigan's growing park system.

Ultimate cowgirl expresses thanks

To Fran Themm and Tina Malpass, owners of the Jordan Valley Express; Lyn Ann Reid, coordinator of the pageant, judges of the pageant, sponsors (merchants) who contributed such nice gifts; Terri Sue Liford, Miss Michigan 1992; and to all who gave their support, I thank you.

*Connie Jo Donakowski,
East Jordan's Ultimate Cowgirl*

That's why she would be distressed by current conditions. During the last decade, state parks have seen drastic cuts in funding, forcing reductions in staff, maintenance, security and services.

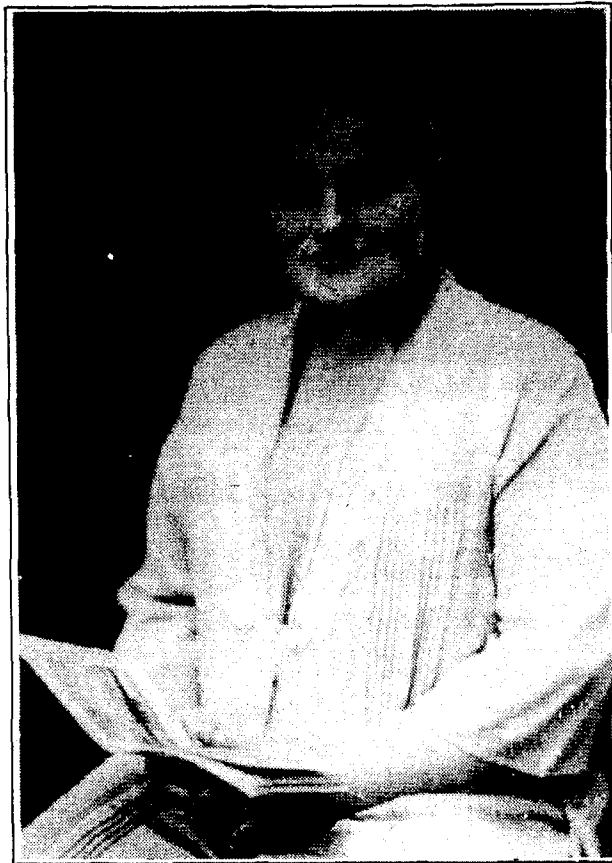

A particular problem has been the diverting of money from the Natural Resources Trust Fund. The NRTF is made up of oil and gas revenues from state land. It provides funds for the purchase of recreational or environmentally sensitive lands. But since 1984, $220 million has been diverted from the NRTF for projects unrelated to natural resources.

Proposal P would end all diversions and keep oil and gas revenues for natural resources. This will mean additional revenues for the acquisition and development of recreational lands and facilities in Michigan.

Securing this money is an investment in our future that will increase the quality of life in Michigan. It will help us maintain an affordable state parks system that provides outdoor recreation to 22 million visitors annually and generates an estimated $260 million for the tourism economy.

We also ensure a place for future generations to explore our rich natural heritage. Genevieve Gillette and other advocates spent their lives building a legacy that we must guard carefully.

Miss Gillette put it best when she said: "Parklands are something we should insist on while we're building, not after cement covers the ground. If people can just see the glory of a sunset, or hear a songbird or see a wildflower along the pathway, then they will learn the importance of things in life."

Voting yes on Proposal P will preserve the outdoor classrooms where such lessons are learned.

Offices close for holiday schedules

All 181 Secretary of State branch offices will close in observance of state holidays during November and December:

- Veterans Day on Fri., Nov. 11;
- Thanksgiving on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 24 and 25;
- Christmas on Fri., Dec. 23 through Mon., Dec. 26;
- and New Year's on Fri., Dec. 30, through Mon., Jan. 2.

Motorists whose driver licenses or license plates expire over any of these long holiday weekends should renew early. Customers can expect fastest service midmonth, midmorning, midafternoon and midweek. Most Secretary of State offices are open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Wednesdays, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. other weekdays.

Secretary of State Richard Austin reminded motorists of the Mothers Against Drunk Driving "Tie One On for Safety" campaign that begins Nov. 21. MADD encourages motorists to drive sober and tie commemorative red ribbons on their vehicles during the holiday season to discourage drinking and driving.

Austin also urged motorists to celebrate the holidays with a renewed commitment to safety belt use, even in vehicles equipped with air bags. Michigan drivers are required to wear safety belts as are all front seat passengers and all vehicle occupants under age 16.

Children under age 4 must use a child safety seat when in the front seat, and a safety belt when in back. All children under age one must use a safety seat no matter where they are seated in the vehicle.

Residents attend education meeting

East Jordan residents Constance Baker and Louise Hart were among those attending the annual meeting and convention of the Michigan Association for Family and Community Education (MAFCE), Oct. 18-20, at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. The theme was "ACE Bridge to the Future" with the purpose of strengthening families and communities.

Gail Martin from Washington DC, marketing specialist for the National Association for the Family and Community Education, was a featured speaker.

A business meeting and election of officers was held Oct. 19. Recognition was given for county educational programs, and a number of workshops were offered. A cruise on the Straits of Mackinaw included a special memorial service for deceased members.

Gil Ziegler Is Making

3 Simple Promises to the Voters in This District:

#1 Gil is not a politician and he won't become one.

- Gil supports congressional term limits and will only serve 3 terms.
- Gil will not accept PAC contributions and will lead the fight against special interest money.
- Mass mailings at taxpayer expense will not be the way Gil runs his office.

#2 It won't be "business as usual" when Gil's in Washington.

We need to restore accountability to Congress by:

- Passing a balanced budget amendment and giving the President the line item veto.
- Requiring all laws that apply to the rest of the country to apply equally to Congress as well.
- Cutting the number of house committees and staff by 1/3.
- Requiring three-fifths majority vote to pass any tax increase.

#3 Gil will be a Congressman who can look Bill Clinton in the eye and say "NO!"

- The budgets Gil votes for will either reduce the deficit or they won't get his vote.
- The 1993 tax hikes on Social Security benefits will not be repeated, and if Gil has anything to say about it, they'll be repealed.

A round tuit

By Anne F. Messerschmidt

Have you seen the clever illustration – “tuit” printed on a round disk of cardboard, or on pot holders? So many of us have said, “I’ll take care of (fill in the blank) when I get around to it,” or “I’ll finish that job ...” A familiar procrastination is “I’ll get to church one of these Sundays as soon as ...”

Excuses and more excuses are so common and quickly spoken, especially regarding church attendance. That is why many churches suggest keeping the round cardboard disks in a safe place – they are very rare and not easy to obtain!

If you have a round tuit, incredible accomplishments can suddenly be achieved, like cleaning out the closet, fixing a leaky faucet, losing weight, attending church, accepting salvation, and truly obeying God. Your whole personality can change for the better:

“Commit they works unto the Lord and thy thoughts shall be established.” Proverbs 16:03.

I’d like to also tell you about a character named Mr. Meant-to, and his comrade Didn’t Do. I just read about these two characters in a book entitled Joyous Journey, by Clinton T. Howell. In a poem (author unknown), Mr. Howell describes Mr. Meant-to and Didn’t Do as two fellows who live together in the house of Never Win, and they are haunted by the ghost of Might Have Been.

Please, overcome these phrases and characters and begin to honor and obey the Lord. Read the Holy Bible, meditate and pray daily, and you will soon overcome your procrastinations.

You’ll make time to attend church and fellowship. You’ll accomplish all those disliked chores. You’ll write that letter and make that phone call.

An even more wonderful change will come over you – you will begin to understand God’s Word and you’ll want to share it. Your friends will notice the change and ask how they too can find this joy, peace, love, and new direction in your life. And you will readily say, “I finally got around to it!”

Make some round tuits and present them to each of your friends. It really works!

Anne Messerschmidt is a 73-year-old “joyous Christian.” Readers can expect to see more of her writings in future issues.

“Holly Daze” volunteers are needed for hospital fundraiser

Volunteers are needed to assist with this year’s “Holly Daze” fundraising event for Charlevoix Area Hospital.

The event will be held at the Charlevoix Elementary School, Nov. 25-26 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Nov. 27, from 1-3 p.m.

This year, in addition to the wreaths and decorated gingerbread houses, there will be an exhibit of Christmas trees including an “Angel of Mercy” tree covered with angels made and donated by the Charlevoix Area Hospital nursing staff. Saturday will feature a “Teddy Bear Tea” for children and a variety of entertainment by local musicians.

Volunteers are needed to help decorate on Wednesday before the event and to help in the various “stores.” To serve as a Holly Daze volunteer call Kathy Johnson at 547-4024, extension 201.

Holly Daze is sponsored by the Holly Daze Committee, comprised of volunteers from Charlevoix and Antrim counties, and the hospital guild. Proceeds from the event will be used to purchase new and replacement equipment and to assist with the continuing renovation for expanded physical therapy and cardiac rehabilitation services.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

Christianity's Loving Nature

"But we were gentle among you, like a nurse taking care of her children. So, being affectionately desirous of you, we were ready to share with you not only the gospel of God but also our own selves."

— Thessalonians 2:7-8

Paul's words in his first letter to the converts in Thessaly offer a greater insight to the true nature of the faith Jesus preached than do many other scriptural texts. Gentleness, affection and sharing are what Jesus brought to His ministry, what His disciples took forward on theirs, and what the true Christian today feels and demonstrates toward not only those of like beliefs but to all fellow men. Are not love and kindness more uplifting qualities than hate and brutality? The soft word, the hand of help and friendship signify not only your acceptance of Christ's teachings but your desire to put into practice your beliefs.

Her favorite author

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

Years ago, when Echo Township resident Wilma Zoulek's children were still home, she, like many mothers, read them all of the "Little House" books by Laura Ingalls Wilder.

Wilma recalls that after they had completed the series, they all wondered about Laura's adult life. Of course in those days, they didn't have the advantage of watching "Laura" grow up on the long running TV series.

Wilma wrote to the real Laura in Mansfield, Mo., where she spent the last 63 years of her long life. In her letter, Wilma mentioned the upcoming birthday of daughter Patsy and requested the reply addressed to the young girl.

Wilma still remembers the delight of the family the day the answer came.

"Patsy got the mail the day Laura's letter arrived," Wilma related. "She was thrilled, and so were we!" (See Laura's letter in the accompanying box.)

Later, in 1979, Wilma and her husband Fred took a side trip to Laura's farm during a trip out west. She was impressed with how everything remained as Laura had left it. The home is a museum now, with a gift shop where Laura's books, including those published after her death in 1957, are available for purchase.

Wilma shared her enjoyment of I Remember Laura by Steven H. Hines for the weekly feature I loved this book in today's issue of the Journal. But she certainly doesn't need the help of any book to remember her very favorite author!

Historical society news

Banks Township Historical Society heard a very informative talk on life in the town of Essex from Clayton Smith of "Smith's Little Acres" in Charlevoix. His mother was a teacher in Essex and he had many experiences there trapping as well.

The historical society gathered information on Essex and submitted it to the state, in hopes of being approved for a marker within the next year.

The last meeting of the year was held Oct. 19, and included the election of 1995 officers. Elected as president was Natalie Postmus; Jim Kenner was elected vice president; treasurer, Mike Postmus; and secretary, Steve Chellis.

The society will be working on the 1996 calendar this winter. If any older local families have photos they would like considered, or birthdays or deaths mentioned, please contact Natalie Postmus. Please remember there is only limited space on a 12-month calendar!

There are about 20 1995 calendars left, which will be on sale at the Ellsworth Bazaar, Sat., Nov. 19.

Everyone is welcome to join, or attend meetings. See you in the spring.

Dear Patsy,

I am glad you like my stories and will tell you something more about my family and me.

After sister Mary graduated from college she lived at home with Pa and Ma. Carrie married and went to live in the Black Hills near Mt. Rushmore.

Grace married a farmer and lived seven miles from DeSmet. They had no children.

I am the only one of the family living now.

Almanzo and I, with our little daughter, came to Missouri in 1894. Almanzo died October 23, 1949.

Our daughter Rose Wilder Lane lives in Connecticut. She is our only child.

I am living by myself in the old farm house here, and am very comfortable and quite well.

Almanzo and I enjoyed riding in our Buick and Chrysler cars for many years after we gave up driving horses.

I wish you a happy birthday and many happy returns. Now is the time to be starting happy memories in your mind.

With love, your friend,
Laura Ingalls Wilder

I Remember Laura

By Steven H. Hines

You have probably watched Little House on the Prairie on TV. You may also have read the Laura Ingalls Wilder books. Six million copies of her books have been sold throughout the world.

Laura died at the age of 90 in 1957. The last 63 years of her life were spent at her farm home near Mansfield, Mo.

I Remember Laura is a collection of the remembrances of Laura's friends and neighbors in the Mansfield area. The book also contains some of Laura's own cooking recipes, plus an address where her cook book can be ordered.

Laura's home is open to visitors. I visited there in Sept. 1979. Things were kept as Laura left them - even the pot holders used to remove hot dishes from the wood burning range stove.

I also visited the cemetery where Laura and Almanzo are buried.

FINISHING UP the season, members of the 4-H soccer league were caught in action during recent tournament play.

EJ is playoff bound

East Jordan is back in the playoffs, wrapping up an 8-1 season with a slow-starting, solid-finishing 27-19 win over Charlevoix Friday, Oct. 28.

Also back will be the team East Jordan picked up a loss from — Traverse City St. Francis. They demolished Elk Rapids 34-12 to win the Lake Michigan conference and make the playoffs, one step behind East Jordan.

Boswell Stadium will be Friday night's pre-regional site for the playoff game between the Red Devils and St. Francis, the same place the Gladiators escaped from a month ago with a 20-6 win, the win that put East Jordan one game back in the standings.

Friday's match in Charlevoix started off on the wrong foot and tripped the Devils all the way through the first half, Charlevoix happy to hold a 13-6 lead. Karl Redmer optioned his way into the end zone to keep the spark in the East Jordan offense.

"We didn't come to play football in the first half," surmised coach Al Peterson. "We were overconfident. We didn't do much adjusting at the half, just went out and played like we are supposed to, the offensive line blocked, the defensive crew tackled."

Yaro Middaugh cashed in two touchdowns in the second half, with Redmer

Rayders win, EJ boys run second

Charlevoix ran well, as expected; East Jordan ran strong, and was rewarded; and Elk Rapids did so well individually, they can go to State Finals as a team.

The girls Class C regional, held Saturday at Schuss Mountain, was won by Clare with 45 points, followed by Charlevoix with 51, Suttons Bay qualifying third with 76 and Elk Rapids missing out in fourth at 105. The Elks didn't miss out after all, placing four runners in the top 10 individual runners and allowing them to advance their whole team to state.

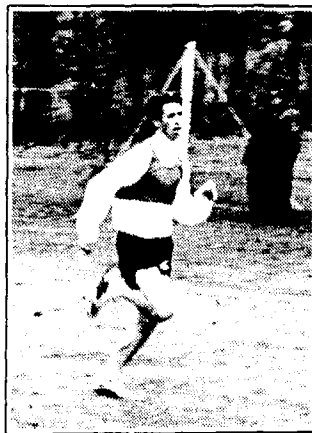

Traci Knudsen of Suttons Bay won the race in 19:19. Elk Rapids was rewarded because Megan Clone finished sixth, 20:24, Leah Cole 14th in 21:08, Meghan Pluckinski 19th, 21:19, Julia Schwarzkopf 22nd in 21:57, Judith Veliquette 49th, 23:34, and Jaime Yates 63rd, 24:07.

Mancelona ran three girls, led by Jenny Wilson in 34th, 22:38, Neva Alpers 50th, 23:35, and Cathi Swikowski 69th, 24:28.

East Jordan had two entries, Emily Niewendorp, 65th at 24:13, and Renee Perreault 66th, 24:15.

Charlevoix easily took the boys race with 65 points, East Jordan acing out Benzie Central for second, 90 points to 91. Mancelona was seventh with 208 and Elk Rapids 10th with 279.

Craig Beerens of McBain won the race in 15:53. East Jordan goes to state on the finishes of Mike Newkirk, 6th-16:17; Josiah Middaugh, 8th-16:34;

A STRONG EFFORT by East Jordan's Josiah Middaugh earned him a seventh-place finish in the boys Class C competition. Teammate Mike Newkirk did even better, coming in fifth in the race.

Andrew Otis, 10th-16:36; Nate Gagnon, 28th-17:16; Dave Miller, 43rd-17:49; Ed Hettig, 57th-18:15; and Nate Southard, 65th-18:30.

Mancelona, the host of the meet was led by Jon Harris, 23rd in 17:02; Kevin Vaillancourt, 33rd-17:25; Jeremy Davis, 45th-17:52; Jeff Plum, 56th-18:15; Geoff Clewley, 60th-18:21; Aaron Jeska, 70th-18:38; and Alex Gildas, 80th-18:58.

Elk Rapids runners were led by Chris Vranish, 13th in 16:41, good enough to qualify for state as an individual. Other Elks running were Dave Holst, 53rd-18:08; Ray Gaiser, 67th-18:36; Alan Chichester, 79th-18:57; Chris Willemse, 81st-19:01; and Mark Helveston, 114th-22:43.

State Finals are Saturday.

Devils sweep Loggers, Rams

Building up momentum is good, and doing it as Districts approach is even better. Just ask East Jordan, which has found its touch at winning games.

Tues., Oct. 27 saw the Red Devil ladies pick on Boyne Falls, nudging ahead 14-12 before dropping an 18-7 scoring bomb on their guests, followed by a 26-12 explosion in quarter three to run away with the win, 66-39.

Amanda Pepin matched Kristina Ruhling on the scorebook with 18 apiece to lead the Devils, Mandy Reid scorching the nets with 10 points.

The junior varsity game went the Red Devils' way, as Sara Malpass scored 16, Ann Hettig and Kyle Krause 12 each in the 62-41 win.

Thursday, the East Jordan squad matched up with Harbor Springs in the Rams' own house. The Rams came out and took a quick first quarter lead, 13-6, only to have East Jordan recover and tie the game at the half, 20-20. The third quarter would tell the story as the Devils took to the boards, converted the rebounds to baskets, and staked out a 20-10 advantage on their way to a 49-38 win and upset of the League's number three team.

Amanda Pepin took to the limelight once more, scoring 20 and rebounding ten times for the Red Devils, who won for the fourth straight time.

Kristina Ruhling scored 12, Mandy Reid grabbed an extra nine rebounds, and the rest of the team contributed at key times.

On the JV level, Malpass, Hettig and Krause led the way to yet another victory.

Tickle your funnybone at special free programs

The Michael Clayton programs are free and sponsored by the Alcohol and Drug Awareness Hour and Northern Michigan Hospital/Burns Clinic Foundation, in cooperation with CHADD of Little Traverse and the Friendship Centers of Emmet County. For more information call HealthAccess, 1-800-248-6777.

Drum construction class

The Jordan River Arts Council will host Dr. Glen Bell, instructor, in traditional Native American style drum making. After Bell discovered that the traditional drumming could help his patients during imagery therapy, he began making drums, preparing the materials himself.

The eight-hour course is presented over two days, with sessions scheduled—Thurs., Nov. 3 and 10, from 6-10 p.m.; Sun., Nov. 13 and 20; and Sun., Dec. 4 and 11. Sunday classes run from 1 to 5 p.m. All classes require pre-registration and a $25 deposit. The cost of the class is $100, which includes all materials. For more information, contact the JRAC at 536-3385.

Thank You

The Antrim County DSS and the Antrim County adult foster care homes would like to thank the East Jordan McDonald's Express for contributing the "All-American Meal" to the residents of our homes. Way to go! You really made a difference!

Local artist featured

East Jordan painter Lawrence Schumacher will be featured in a two-week exhibit at the Jordan River Arts Council, 301 Main St., East Jordan, this month.

Schumacher is a self-taught artist who has become well-known in the area as a teacher as well as an artist in his own right. His paintings can be found on display in area galleries.

The exhibit begins with an opening reception Sun., Nov. 6, from 2-4 p.m., and continues through Fri., Nov. 18. Gallery hours are 12-4 p.m. daily.

Local residents attend education conference

East Jordan residents Constance Baker and Louise Hart were among those attending the annual meeting and convention of the Michigan Association for Family and Community Education (MAFCE), Oct. 18-20, at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. The theme was "FCE Bridge to the Future" with the purpose of strengthening families and communities.

Gail Martin from Washington DC, marketing specialist for the National Association for the Family and Community Education, was a featured speaker.

A business meeting and election of officers was held Oct. 19. Recognition was given for county educational programs, and a number of workshops were offered. A cruise on the Straits of Mackinaw included a special memorial service for deceased members.

Snowmobile permits now available

In an effort to inform the public on new regulations for snowmobilers riding state-owned trails, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has contracted with the West Michigan Tourist Association to distribute and sell snowmobile permits in west Michigan.

New regulations stipulate that all snowmobilers riding on DNR trails must have a permit displayed on the windshield of their snowmobile. Snowmobilers may purchase these permits for $10 each through WMTA, Michigan's Sunrise Side

Inc. in eastern Michigan, the Michigan Snowmobile Association, or at any authorized permit agent.

Proceeds from permit sales will be used by the state to maintain and upgrade existing snowmobile trails. Individuals interested in purchasing permits for their snowmobiles and businesses interested in becoming authorized permit agents may contact the West Michigan Tourist Association in Grand Rapids at (616) 456-8557, toll-free in Michigan at 1-800-442-2084, or write to: WMTA-Snowmobile Permits, 136E. Fulton St., Grand Rapids, MI 49503.

Hunters – be informed to avoid delays

Knowing the requirements for purchase of hunting licenses in the state where you plan to hunt can help avoid unnecessary delays or disappointment.

To purchase a license to hunt in Michigan, anyone born on or after Jan. 1, 1960, must provide either proof of a previous Michigan hunting license or a Hunter Safety Certificate indicating completion of a hunter safety course authorized by the Department of Natural Resources.

Anyone who has lost either of these documents may fill out a "Previous Hunting License or Hunter Safety Certificate Affidavit" to purchase a license to hunt in Michigan. These affidavits are available wherever hunting and fishing licenses are sold statewide.

Hunters should be aware that the "Previous Hunting License or Hunter Safety Certificate Affidavit" cannot be used to obtain a replacement Hunter Safety Certificate for purchase of licenses to hunt in other states. Not all other states require a Hunter Safety Certificate; check requirements of the state where you plan to hunt before you leave Michigan.

If you plan to purchase a license to hunt in a state that requires a Hunter Safety Certificate, and you have lost your certificate, contact the Department of Natural Resources, Law Enforcement Division, Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909.

For additional information on purchasing licenses to hunt in Michigan, contact your local DNR office.

School goals: targeting continuous district improvement

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

Goals – past, present and future – were the focus of the Oct. 17 meeting of the East Jordan School Board.

District superintendent Chip Hansen reviewed the 48 goals developed in the years since the board began long-range planning in 1989. He noted that goals have become more general, with broader scope as district goal achievement improves.

Comparing 1989 and 1994 goals, Hansen also pointed out only five this year to 15 goals in 1989. The list of goals, he noted "represents district growth."

Hansen, in introducing the district annual report, noted that 28 of the 48 goals are reflected.

"There's a real connection," he said, between the report and the accomplishment of those five years worth of goals.

Goal setting, Hansen continued, has helped the district develop a central focus and systematic, continual improvement process.

On target financially

The board also heard a report, by accountant Jim Cusenza, of the Petoskey firm of Hill & Schroderus, on the 1993-94 fiscal year audit. Cusenza explained that although district revenue went down when the state stopped reimbursing FICA payments last year, revenues increased after the SEV freeze was withdrawn.

"The override (of the Headlee Amendment in Sept. 1993) kept Headlee from mitigating the SEV increase," he said.

"Without the override we wouldn't have had a positive financial statement," Hansen interjected. "It can't be overstated how important the override was."

Expenditures only rose three percent and the district continues to increase the fund balance. Cusenza said both developments were positive, although he would be more comfortable with a higher fund balance. The present $125,000 would carry the district budget for only one week.

Other information Cusenza noted:

- Sports revenues were down to $27,000 last year from $36,000 the prior year, but not hosting the regional basketball tournaments accounted for the difference.
- The debt retirement fund is in good shape.

• Because of Proposal A, next year's financial report will look much different. Many of the ramifications are as yet unknown, but state transfer of responsibility for teacher retirement funding to the districts will have a definite impact.

Other business

■ With financial goals performing well, the board turned to policy review. Changes in several policies were presented for a first reading, including:

- the addition of the word handicap to the non-discrimination policy in compliance of the American Disabilities Act.
- development of a process for dealing with sexual harassment charges.

• clarification of valedictory/salutatory appointments to allow for recognition of multiple student qualifiers.

■ The board heard an update on current state of 1994 goals, including:

- a report on the status of the steering committee membership for the recently adopted strategic planning process.
- continued staff training and implementation of mastery learning in the curriculum.
- a report on the second Business Services Technologies laboratory, now operational at the high school.
- the continuing process of the facility review committee.
