

Weather

An uneventful week, with 3 inches of snow recorded over the past seven days, bringing the year-to-date total to 24 inches. Daytime highs reached averages in the low 30s, with night temperatures dropping into the teens. A mild weekend saw highs in the mid-30s and lows in the upper-20s, under mostly overcast skies. Snow cover has been reduced to patchy, with above-normal temperatures and little precipitation predicted right through Christmas. Last Year: Only 17 inches of snow had fallen, contrasting sharply with 1992 Dec. 20 totals of 69.5 inches.

Swan City memories

Whether past or present, the face of a delighted child at Christmas never fails to tug at the heartstrings. Although we don't know the name of this long-ago cherub, the feelings sparked by receiving the perfect gift are familiar to us all.

Virginia's delicious fudge

My dear friend Virginia told me over the phone.

to me she would come to see, be it known.

And made by her, some fudge would be brought,

but in the making of the delicious fudge, she truly was high taught.

Therefore yesterday a knock came to my door,

a bag full of candy hung before me to explore.

Although I missed her by a moment true,

I went down the hall, and called her back too.

We had our little visit, and everything went well, but she was tired, so stayed awhile some work to do, she did tell.

But after dinner with all nutritious foods first on my plate,

I knew it was true, I had met my fate.

For I placed the bag of fudge on the counter before me, which kind shall I have first, did I choose it to be.

The chocolate fudge with nuts in it looked so good,

I never stood a chance, delicious and yum, yum as it should.

All of a sudden, it was all gone you see,

those walnuts in there, were all down my tummy.

Next I tried the peanut butter fudge we know,

I never stood a chance again it is so.

So the moral of the story, why go out of town, when close about, is the best fudge to be found.

None better fudge, could be found anywhere, than that prepared by my friend Virginia, tasty, delicious, scrumptious and prepared with care.

Classes offered to "kick-the-habit"

Anyone making a New Year's resolution to quit smoking, will find the "Freedom from Smoking" program at Charlevoix Area Hospital helpful. Orientation for the seven session program begins Wed., Jan. 11, at 7 p.m. in the hospital classrooms.

Successfully quitting smoking and having fun in the process is the goal of the program which is sponsored by Charlevoix Area Hospital and the American Lung Association. Weekly sessions will run from Wed., Jan. 11 to Feb. 22 with two sessions during "quit week" on Feb. 1 and Feb. 3.

Cheryl Jacobs, respiratory therapist and program leader, said, "The program really works because we don't quit 'cold turkey' the first night and people find the support they need in the group to make breaking the habit permanent." The first session is an orientation meeting when the program outline will be explained.

Pre-registration is required. A minimum of 12 registrations must be received in order to hold the class. Cost for the program is $65. For further information, or registration, call Charlevoix Area Hospital at 547-4024.

Grandparent Appreciation certificates available

To commemorate the Michigan International Year of the Family, the Office of Services to the Aging is making available "Outstanding Grandparent" certificates, state Rep. Beverly A. Bodem announced.

The 106th District lawmaker is encouraging families, schools and youth groups to recognize the vital link between the generations that grandparents and other older adults represent.

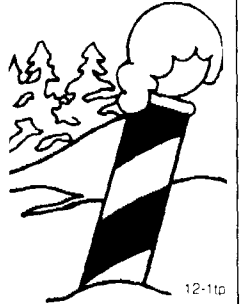

"As we approach the holidays, these certificates would make excellent gifts. They also highlight the many contributions that seniors make to our society," said Bodem, R-Alpena.

The free certificates will be available through Dec. 31. They are signed by Gov. Engler, Lt. Gov. Connie Binsfeld and Diane K. Braunstein, director of the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging. To order certificates please call the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program at (616) 347-5877.

Petoskey heart health program judged promising

Last September, six participants entered the Petoskey Heart Reversal Program, a program whose goal is to reverse heart disease without surgery.

The six pioneer participants, who make up this first heart reversal group, came with risk factors such as high cholesterol, high blood pressure, cigarette smoking, sedentary lifestyle, excess weight and diabetes. Some of them have actually had heart attacks and coronary bypass surgery.

In addition to sharing common risk factors for heart disease, they also share a sincere desire to become more actively involved in their health. The Petoskey Heart Reversal Program requires this type of desire since the lifestyle changes are comprehensive and take a great commitment.

The potential payoff can be significant however and these first six participants are showing some dramatic results. For instance, total blood cholesterol levels have been reduced up to 12 percent, and weight has declined by up to 17 lbs. Reports of angina have been reduced or eliminated and insulin requirements have been lowered by more than 50 percent.

Dean Ornish, M.D. was one of the first to demonstrate that heart disease can be reversed without the need for risky and expensive surgery. When asked what he felt most contributed to his success, he stated that the group support was especially important. He felt that group support helped reduce feelings of isolation as well as helping to implement comprehensive lifestyle changes.

The Petoskey group has exhibited this same type of group support. Initially the group concentrated on their own fears of heart disease. These concerns soon gave way to shared concerns and difficulties about the low-fat diet. In the future, the group's focus will no doubt change and evolve to concentrate on other important issues such as exercise and stress management.

A valuable part of the group concept has been the shared low-fat meal at each session. The meals have been prepared by the Petoskey Big Boy restaurant whose owner, Brian Ludlow and chef, Marco have been especially instrumental and supportive.

The Petoskey Heart Reversal Program plans to start a second group in January. To avoid the 1995 price hike, call the program at 348-0800.

A Christmas Poem

Do you know what I'd like to do when old Santa Claus comes knocking?
I'd like to squeeze up a little,
and hide behind my stocking.
Then when he opens up his pack,
I'll say BOO! just for fun,
and maybe it would scare him so,
he'd drop his pack and run.
Oh wouldn't that be fun!

Christmas

We have a list of folks we know, all written in a book.
And every year when Christmas comes, we go and take a look,
And that is when we realize that these names are a part,
Not of the book they're written in, but of our very hearts.

For each name stands for someone who has crossed our path sometime.
And in that meeting they've become the Rhythm in each rhyme.
And while it sounds fantastic for us to make this claim,
we really feel that we're composed of Each Remembered Name.

And while you may not be aware of any "special link"
Just meeting you has changed our lives a lot more than you think,
For once we've met somebody, the years cannot erase
The memory of a pleasant word or of a friendly face.

So never think our Christmas cards are just a mere routine
Of names upon a Christmas list, forgotten in between,
For when we send a Christmas card that is addressed to you,
It's because you are on the list of folks we're indebted to.

For we are but the total of the many folks we've met.
And you happen to be one of those we prefer not to forget;
And whether we have known you for many years or few,
In some way you have had a part in shaping things we do.

And every year when Christmas comes, we realize anew,
The best gift life can offer is meeting folks like you.
And may the spirit of Christmas that forever endures,
Leave its richest blessing in the hearts of
You and Yours.

Students enjoy musical treat

Recently the East Jordan High School and Middle School students were treated to a performance by the Traverse City Encore Society of Music ensemble, The Encore Brass. The performance was funded by a grant from the Malpass Foundation.

The ensemble presented an hour-long program, demonstrating many different styles of music ranging from Rondeau, a piece composed in the early 1700s, to Junk Man Rag, an early jazz piece.

Kathy Bowerman, a senior at EJHS, conducted the ensemble's performance of Sousa's Washington Post March.

During the performance each member of the ensemble demonstrated their instrument, and the different sounds that could be produced by them. Particularly popular with the audience was Richard Goldsworthy's demonstration of his trombone.

For his demonstration, he used a technique pioneered by Joe "Tricky Sam" Nanton, a member of Duke Ellington's band. The technique combined a "pixie" mute (a device fitted into the horn to change its tone), a common plumbing plunger, and "flutter tonguing" (the process of fluttering your tongue rapidly) to create a sound which drew scores of applause.

The performance was concluded with two Christmas selections.

Students in Who's Who

A number of local students were named to this year's edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

East Jordan High School students and graduates Catherine Bowerman, Sarah Gallup, Ryan Hoeksema, Cathleen King, Angela Massey, Angela Renae Scott, Kari Snyder, Celeste Townsend, Solomon Townsend and Mandy Wittingen were listed in the prestigious publication.

Who's Who features approximately 720,000 students, or just six percent of the nation's 12 million high school students. Traditionally, 99 percent of the students have a grade point average of B or higher and are college bound.

Students are nominated by high school principals, guidance counselors or teachers, and other youth leaders. Nominations are based on academic achievement and involvement in extracurricular activities.

Churches plan special services

Many churches in the East Jordan area have planned special services to celebrate Christmas. Following is a list of scheduled days and times:

- East Jordan Church of Christ - Christmas Day, 11 a.m.
- East Jordan First Presbyterian Church - Christmas Eve, 6 p.m.; Christmas Day, 11 a.m.
- East Jordan Missionary Church - Christmas Day continental breakfast, 10:30 a.m.; service, 11 a.m.
- East Jordan Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints - Christmas Day, 11 a.m., no Sunday School
- East Jordan United Methodist Church - Christmas Eve, 7 p.m.; Christmas Day, 10:30 a.m.
- Evangelical Lutheran Church - Christmas Eve, 6 p.m.; Christmas Day, 11 a.m.
- St. John Nepomuncene Catholic Church - Christmas Day, 8 a.m.
- St. Joseph Catholic Church - Christmas Eve Children's Mass, 5 p.m.; Christmas Eve Midnight Mass, 12 a.m.; Christmas Day, 10:30 a.m.

Christmas Memories

I remember when I was a little girl, seeing all the Christmas decorations, sent my heart a whirl. I remember going to my Gramma and Grampa Baker's every Christmas Eve, seeing their tree covered with tinsel filled my heart with glee. I remember the whole family got together every year, all of us kids would watch TV to see if they had spotted Santa and his reindeer. I have a lot of happy Christmas memories in my heart, those memories can never be taken away, and with them I will never part. I will hold my Christmas memories at my Gramma and Grampa Baker's very dear, and I will cherish the future Christmas's with them and the entire family, year after year.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

Mary, The Beloved of God

"And the angel said to her, 'Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God'."

— Luke 1:30

How was it that God chose Mary of all the women of her time to bear His Son, who would be known as Jesus Christ? One reason may be that under Judaic law, descent derives through the mother. Since the teenaged Mary was not only virginal but allegedly of the lineage of David, she was an excellent choice. The prophets of old had foretold of just such a coming of the Messiah. God also had shown favor to another of Mary's family, her cousin Elizabeth, a woman of advancing years yet barren throughout her marriage to the priest Zechariah. It was Elizabeth who would bear John the Baptist. Mary's was indeed a unique role in the working of God's wonder.

Did you know?

Reindeer have been kept by people as domestic animals since prehistoric times. They are used for milk, meat, fur, and leather as well as for pulling and carrying loads. Antler and bone have been used for making tools.

Reindeer make a clicking noise when they walk. The sound is thought to come from tendons in the hooves slipping and stretching. This sound is the " . . .click, click, click . . ." heard in Up on the Housetop.

The hooves are very broad. This keeps the animal from sinking in the snow and helps them dig through the snow for food. Tundra reindeer live mainly on moss and lichens and can eat many plants that are poisonous to other animals.

Christmas visions - Christmas dreams ...

CHRISTMAS JOY spans generations as Milt Veverka and Adeline Bowerman demonstrate. Milt was the "conductor" for the Senior Center Express Railroad, while Adeline shared her Santa poem with delighted youngsters.

WORKING VERY HARD to stay still, young Levi Warnos is "decorated" by Tina Downton during the annual funnighnt Dinner with Santa at East Jorc Elementary.

Sweets and greenery

The East Jordan Garden Club did a brisk business in fragrant fresh wreathes and an impressive array of treats and gifts at their Christmas sale in the downtown FMB, Dec. 9. Members Marion Veryzer (left) and Mabel Hudkins take their turn watching over the table.

what's cooking?

Christmas Dinner makes us think of that golden turkey that Mom roasts or a delicious baked ham. Let's not forget the Christmas goose. It seems every party you go to the menu consists of prime rib and chicken, or prime rib and fish, or just plain prime rib. We know prime rib is considered to be a great treat, but where is the creativity?

If you would like to create new holiday menu for your gatherings, we would like to share a couple of recipes with you that we served at our holiday party this year, we are sure you and yours will enjoy them.

Pork tenderloin is a welcome alternative. It's very easy to prepare and stands up well on a buffet table. The stuffing recipe is fun, easy, and a tasty accompaniment. We served potatoes, but rice or coucous are also excellent.

Of course, we are offering a dessert for your continued holiday pleasure. Our recipe for Peppermint Fudge Pie is very festive and almost too pretty to cut.

Pork Tenderloin Dijon

Two pork tenderloins, 1/2 lb. ea. 3 cloves garlic, mashed 2 tbsp. fresh parsley 1 1/2 tbsp. Dijon mustard

Make a paste of the garlic, parsley and mustard; put the tenderloins together, rub with paste. Wrap with 2 or 3 strips of bacon, putting toothpicks through the tenderloins. Let set 30 minutes.

Heat oven to 420° F. Put meat on rack for 40 minutes or until 170° with meat thermometer.

Lift out meat. Pour 1/4 c. white wine and 1/4 c. chicken broth over the meat and save the drippings to use as gravy.

Cherry and Pistachio Stuffing

1/2 c. butter or margarine 1 large onion, chopped
3 stalks celery, sliced
8 c. day-old firm white bread cubes
1/2 c. dried sweet or sour cherries
1/4 c. shelled, unsalted pistachios
2 tsp. dried thyme leaves 1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ground black pepper 3/4 c. water
1 large egg fresh flat leaf parsley sprig (optional)

In 8-quart saucepan, melt butter over medium heat. Add onion and saute 5 minutes. Add celery and cook until tender crisp. Stir in bread cubes, cherries, pistachios, thyme, salt, and pepper until lightly mixed and remove from heat. In a cup, combine water and egg; stir egg mixture into bread mixture.

Spoon stuffing into greased shallow 2-quart casserole.

Place into 325° F. oven about 45 minutes.

Serve from casserole or spoon stuffing into serving dish. Garnish with parsley if desired. Makes 10 servings.

Peppermint Fudge Pie

1 chocolate flavored ready-crust pie crust
1 6-oz. semi-sweet chocolate chips
2 c. miniature marshmallows
1/4 c. milk or cream 2 tbsp. chocolate-mint liqueur
3 c. whipped cream, divided
2 tbsp. crushed peppermint candies or candy canes

In microwave-safe bowl, combine chocolate chips, marshmallows and milk. Cook at medium (50 percent power) 2 to 3 minutes, stirring twice, until smooth. Stir in liqueur. Cool at room temperature.

Fold in 1/2 cups whipped cream. Spoon into pie shell.

Fold crushed candies into remaining 1/2 cups whipped cream. Spread over chocolate layer. Cover and freeze until firm, about 3 hours.

Pie may be made up to several weeks ahead. Remove pie from freezer and garnish with miniature candy canes and mint leaves if desired. Slice the pie. Let stand 3 to 5 minutes before serving. Store leftovers in freezer. Makes 8 servings.

jordan memories

From Looking around Jordan Township by Mrs. Vern Bundy (Rosalind Westcott) East Jordan News-Herald, date unknown

To introduce you this week's subjects, our neighbors Mr. and Mrs. William Kupp, I will take you back to the late 1890s. At that time a great deal of Jordan Township was still in timber and Detroit was just beginning to produce the first cars. It was then that a couple by the names of William and Minnie Kupp, Detroiters, became the proud parents of a boy whom they named William.

Young William grew with that city and in the next decade many changes came about in little William and also in the city. As the city was gaining width and breadth, William was acquiring growth too, both in knowledge and in stature.

In attaining a mature status Detroit espoused itself to the automobile industry, an industry that was born right in the city; likewise, William in maturity met a native Detroit girl named Lavina Lotz and made her his bride.

The years that followed were full ones; Lavina making a home for her husband and the sons that were born to them and William in his profession as school engineer, serving a full 30 years in that capacity.

The wear and tear of city life began to tell on Mr. Kupp though, for during the later years of their residence in Detroit, his health began to fail, so at every opportunity they availed themselves of the chance to vacation with friends who had a place in Deer Lake.

Besides enjoying these vacations thoroughly it was always a pleasant surprise to them to see how much Mr. Kupp's health improved after a few days or weeks spent in the north, and this finally convinced them that they would settle here permanently.

The home they bought in 1950 was unfinished, but that only provided them with something to do on weekends and vacations, and made them more anxious than ever to settle in their new home. This was finally accomplished on December 31, 1954, and this was the beginning of a new kind of life for them both. But born and raised in the city though they were, they adjusted like "ducks to water" and are very happy in their new home where Mr. Kupp indulges his hobby of carpentry and Mrs. Kupp likes to work outside in her garden or lawn.

Robert Kupp, the older son, is now 24 years old and is married to Mary Ellen Darling of Detroit and they have two daughters. A chemical engineer, Robert

Celebrate sensibly, moderation is key

Chestnuts roasting. Turkeys basting. Dancing gingerbread men. Rich chocolate fudge. Is it possible to indulge the wrath of the waistline?

The good news is that it is all right to indulge in holiday treats in moderation, according to The American Dietetic Association, as long as you follow a few simple guidelines:

- Set realistic goals.
- Keep eating habits in perspective. One food indulgence at a party is not your demise.
- Eat something small before a social event, such as fruit, salad or a whole grain roll and a glass of water. It is difficult to be in control if you are ravenous.
- Alcohol stimulates the appetite. Either opt for non-alcoholic beverages or alternate alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages.
- If you are at a party with a buffet table filled with food and desserts, indulge in a bite of your favorite foods to satisfy your taste. Keep portions small and have fun socializing to keep the focus off the food.

Jordan memories

spent his time in the atomic plant of Oak Ridge, Tenn.; since his discharge he has become employed by a private business firm engaged in the field of nuclear physics.

Though his home is in New Jersey, his business requires that he commute to New York, Boston and other points. At present he is enroute to Italy where he will visit Rome, Milan and other places which are to most of us merely another point on the map.

The younger son, William, is as yet unattached and has returned to Detroit where he is serving an apprenticeship as a pattern-maker.

Mr. Kupp's health, although improved, still keeps him close to home and Mrs. Kupp is seldom far away but when opportunity arises to visit with her, we find a fine person with a friendly manner and deeply devoted to her family.

We were proud to welcome these native Detroiters to our community and hope they will continue to be happy here for a long time.

Barbara Bush: A Memoir

By Barbara Bush

Former First Lady Barbara Bush writes her memories as a child through her years in the White House. It is a very interesting account of her travels and many contributions to literacy.

One of the best known programs she was instrumental in establishing is the RIF (Reading Is Fundamental) Program. This program allows every child to receive a book and stresses the importance of reading. She was instrumental in funding for many literacy programs and also stresses the importance and value of community public libraries.

In her account of their many travels to various countries, you learn a lot about the country and people. Also you learn about the White House, "this great house of the people," as she refers to it.

Throughout this book she stresses three priorities she and former President Bush have made their life's motto - Faith, Family and Friends - in that order, and it is very evident throughout the book.

I enjoyed her account of her life - her positive attitude and great sense of humor.

Barbara Bush's book can be found in the new book section at the Jordan Valley District Library.

Holiday pet decisions

With Christmas quickly approaching, we are all scurrying about deciding upon gifts for our loved ones. What could be more exciting than an adorable kitten or puppy bouncing about beneath the tree?

The idea sounds very tempting, but there are a few things to consider before giving a pet as a Christmas surprise.

The transition to a new home and separation from the litter are stressful and often traumatic times for a kitten or puppy. Even an adult pet experiences stress when adjusting to a new home.

With all the activity and excitement the holidays bring, will the new addition be overwhelmed? With the extra work load involved, maybe "someone's" extra needs might be overlooked.

Is the recipient of the gift willing and able to accept the responsibilities of a pet?

We've all seen the commercial where a child asks, "Where is the cute puppy you had last year?"

The reply, "He grew up and stays in the back yard now," as the camera pans to the lonely dog on a tangled chain. What a sad sight.

Please carefully consider the total picture. Pups and kittens are babies and require time and money to care for properly. They need food and attention, veterinary care and house training, among other things.

And they grow up. The little cute fuzzleball acquired this Christmas will become a grown-up pet in a short time. Be sure the recipient's interest span is one that doesn't end when this happens!

If after taking all this into account you know that this is a good decision, then consider waiting until the holiday uproar has settled before introducing your gift. An alternative might be to take a photo of the surprise and include it in a gift-wrapped package of suitable pet supplies such as a leash, collar and puppy toys or kitty toys and a brush.

Hazard alert

Pet owners — a reminder that with all the fun and excitement of the holidays, there are a few potential hazards of which to be aware:

■ Decorations are very attractive to pets. Your beautiful tree with lights, tinsel, and other goodies can really look inviting to your curious pet.

Chewing on wires can kill or injure pets and small children by electrocution. Glass ornaments should be placed out of reach and silver tinsel can be ingested and cause intestinal blockage.

■ Just as young children can choke on small objects, so can your pet.

Toxic plants can be a danger to both pets and children. Mistletoe, poinsettias, and holly should be kept out of the reach of inquisitive nibblers!

After you've enjoyed all the goodies of the holiday feast, be sure your pet doesn't have access to the table or trash can. Very serious intestinal upsets can be the result. Bones are a definite no-no.

Wishing you and your pets a safe and happy holiday!

Devils remain kings of their domain

BY S.F. PUCKETT
Sports Writer

No problem: four games, four wins, who's next?

East Jordan was expected to return a hardened bunch of players for the Lake Michigan wars on the basketball court, but to date they have performed almost flawlessly.

Dec. 13 saw the Devils visit Boyne Falls for a non-conference battle. Summed up Coach Del Ingalls, "On offense we did what we wanted, but the defense struggled and I'm not happy with that. They had good dribble penetration and got medium shots and a lot of fouls off of us."

Boyne Falls shot 30 free throws, not enough when the East Jordan cannons are blazing away at the basket.

Yaro Middaugh led the way for the balanced Devil attack, scoring a sweet 16. Andrew Otis added 15 points, Kirk Faleo 14, and Mike Newkirk and Josh Bears added 10 points apiece for the Red Devil cause. The junior varsity was in charge as well, winning 70-43. They were carried to their goal by Dan Fick with 15, Park Bluhm's 14, and Andy Stefanic's 12.

Int'l, the Lake Michigan Division went the Red Devils on Dec. 16. Kalkaska hosted and did their best to see the Red Devils toasted. The Blue Blazers hung close, down just 6, 30-29 at the half. East Jordan turned up the pressure and added 10 to the margin in the third quarter, placing five more late in the game to ease into a 68-52 league win.

Mike Newkirk led with 14 points, Steve Wiltfong was close behind with 13, followed by Andrew Otis' 11 and Carl Remer's seven.

Kalkaska ran royal over the Red Devil JV squad, winning 83-44 as Fick, Bluhm and Stefanic found their efforts thwarted.

The Red Devils will return to action Jan. 3 when they host the Central Lake Trojans of Ski Valley.

Red Devils score win at Inland Lakes

BY S.F. PUCKETT
Sports Writer

The East Jordan Red Devil freshman team kicked off its season Dec. 12 with a 60-51 win over Inland Lakes. The Devils roared out to a 30-18 half-time lead, stretched it to 44-27 at the three-quarter break and held on for the nine-point win.

Matt Morgan paced East Jordan with 12 followed by Dave Miller and Brad Carey with 11 each.
