

Only 2 inches of snow fell in the past week, bringing year-to-date totals to 72.5 inches. Weekday temperatures climbed to the 30s, with the sun breaking through Friday to brighten most of the weekend. Nighttime temperatures got down near zero, providing some of the coldest nights of the season. Little additional snow is predicted in the week ahead, and highs reaching 30 are expected. LAST YEAR: The freeze was on, with a reading of minus-29 going on the official record, and daytime highs in the single digits. Total snowfall reached 135 inches.

Board chairman: "We only corrected mistakes"

BY KEITH MATHENY
Contributing Writer

"There's been a lot of name-calling, head-bashing and bad press on your local board of review, and the township board as well," review board chairman Lawrence Nemecek told more than 30 audience members at the township board's Jan. 23 meeting. "I want to explain our position."

Many township residents are up in arms since the 1994 review board led by Nemecek lowered assessments on 49 of the 50 agricultural parcels they examined. The state tax commission said an unfair distribution of the tax burden was created in the property class, and a factor was applied to all agricultural property — effectively raising the taxes of those who didn't have their assessments lowered by the board.

Nemecek defended the review board's actions, saying they only corrected errors by township assessor John McDonald.

"There were a lot of mistakes," he said. "I could stand here and list 40-plus mistakes if I had to, but I don't have the documentation with me."

"Everyone of these properties examined had a mistake. That should tell you what shape your books are in, and the job that's being done."

Nemecek's assertion conflicts with a recent independent study by the state tax commission, in which they appraised 23 properties in Jordan Township whose lowered assessments they are preparing to contest before the state tax tribunal later this year. The tax commission study found all of the parcels examined were reduced too greatly by the review board.

Two former review board members spoke from the audience at the meeting, saying they didn't notice a poor performance by McDonald during their tenure.

"I couldn't find that many errors," said Fern Morris. "I did not find (McDonald's assessments) to be out of order," said Skip Osborne.

The agricultural properties appraised by the county equalization department, which are used to determine year-to-year changes in agricultural assessments, do not effectively portray property prices in Jordan Township, Nemecek said.

"Our (total) township SEV has gone up $1 million a year for three straight years," he said. "Technically, every (agricultural) assessment in Jordan Township is wrong, because of the appraisal property they use to set assessments."

Nemecek said the equalization department randomly picked out agricultural properties for appraisal, but then threw some out of the averaging because they deemed them "ridiculously low."

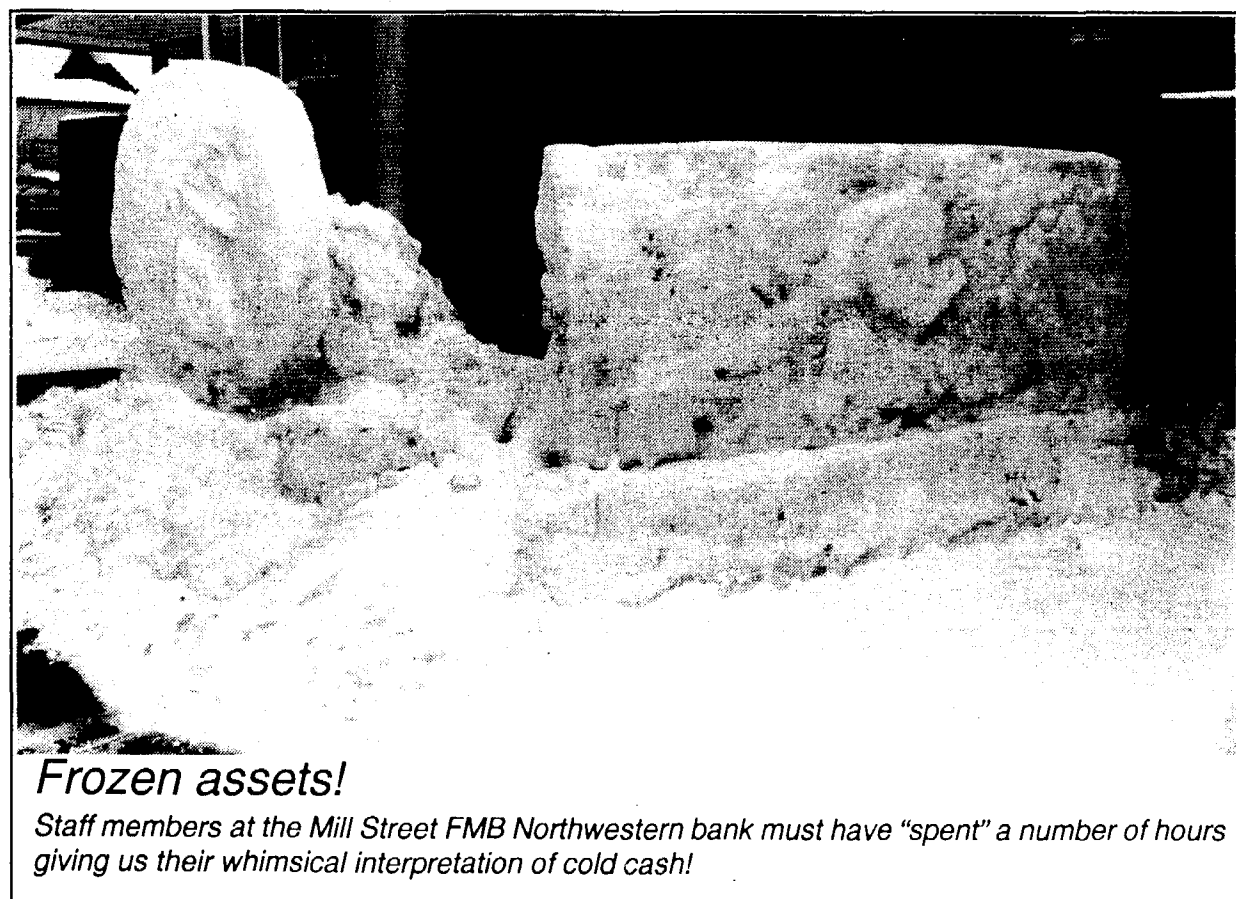

"When I went to school, we used the high and the low numbers to find an average," he said.

County equalization director Dan Bolle said he did not recall throwing out lower appraisals from the averaging in Jordan Township particularly, but said his department will take that action on occasion for more accurate averages.

"If there are a number of parcels assessed around a particular percentage (of total appraised value), say 48 percent, we will throw out the one or two at 35 percent or 78 percent," he said. "If the appraisals are all over the board, generally we factor them all in."

Nemecek asked at the township meeting why the School bond election scheduled for March 20

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

The East Jordan School Board met briefly Feb. 6 to approve a resolution scheduling a bond issue election for Mon., March 20. The board will ask voters to approve a 2.25 mill levy to pay for a new middle school and renovations to existing school buildings.

The board originally expected to hold the election a week later, but found the March 20 date to be available. Superintendent Chip Hansen said the earlier election will allow the district to purchase bonds sooner, possibly saving interest points.

The board's choice to finance at 15 rather than 29 years means a substantial interest cost savings, according to bond management consultant Susan E. Brennan.

"I praise the board for choosing this financing option," said Brennan, who is assistant vice president for public finance at Kemper Securities, Inc., of Lansing.

The price of financing will also be reduced by the district's debt fund balance on the 1977 2.25 mill bond levy that built the present high school. A balance of $180,000 will be applied in portions over the next few years to pay principle and interest obligations. These debt funds result from the 1995 reduction of the bond from 2.25 to 1.50 mills.

"It allows us, in effect, to pay a down payment," said Hansen.

If voters approve the issue, Hansen said taxpayers will actually pay just a 1.5 mill increase over present millage because of the reduction of the 1977 bond. The older bond retires in 2003, again reducing tax burden for the new construction.

Hansen emphasized that the two bond obligations will not be connected, and the older bond will retire as scheduled. He noted that if new construction is needed in 2010 because of further district growth, taxpayers will be debt-free before necessary new millage.

Brennan called the financing plan unusually moderate for a school district.

"This is the most conservative financing package issued," she told the board.

What will taxpayers pay?

If the bond issue passes, taxpayers will see a 1.50 mill increase on their tax bill. What does this amount to in real figures?

For a home or property with a $30,000 SEV, the bond proposal will cost the owner $45 per year. Other SEV's and costs:

SEV	Cost per year
$20,000	$30
$40,000	$60
$50,000	$75

30 YEARS OF SERVICE

Merry Christmas Happy New Year

FROM YOUR MAILMAN

Swan City memories

Archie Howe of Jordan Township served as rural mail carrier for 35 years, and sent this clever greeting reminding his customers of the changes through the years. After 1930, Archie gave up struggling through the snow with his team of horses when he began using a forerunner of the modern snowmobile. But the expense of fuel (apparently the early snowmobile was a real gas-guzzler) forced Archie to give up the contraption after three winters. The replacement — a Model A Ford.

Thank you for Memories

You cannot imagine my surprise and delight when I received my copy of the East Jordan Journal of Jan. 18, and read the article about my father Archie Howe (Jordan Memories).

Dad passed away in 1968 after retiring to Florida, and Mom, (who will be 98 this October) is in a nursing home here in Florida.

Yes, we had many a late meal when Dad made an extra trip to the country to deliver a parcel of newly arrived chicks or emergency mail, but knowing how much the farmers appreciated this thoughtfulness made it worthwhile. Our Christmas was always rewarded by these same people with gifts of homemade wine, pastries and always a pail of honey from the Penney family.

As you pass our home on M66, try to imagine Dad building a mail delivery sled in our living room and taking it out through the window on the north side.

Many thanks from our family.

Chamber event memorable

Sure to be one of this years most memorable Chamber events was our recent East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner Meeting held Jan. 26, at the Jordan Valley Express.

A record attendance of 134 people were treated to a very special evening. The unveiling of the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce Agenda for Economic Growth and Community Improvement was the highlight of the event. Speeches and presentations were given by State Representative Beverly Bodem, DDA past chairman Dick Joseph, Executive Director Mary Faculak, Chamber President Mary Ann Roberts and Development Coordinator Rodney Benson.

This years Annual Auction, a major chamber fundraiser netted $1749.50 as a result of the generous donations by chamber businesses and members. Special thanks to Keith Bulmann of Big Meadow Equipment and Auction Services for once again graciously donating his talents and time to help make our auction the most successful!

Also, special thank yous to Tina Malpass, Francis Themm, Lyn Ann Reid, Jerry Dugan and Dave Phillips at Jordan Valley Express for their gracious hospitality and help in making this year's Annual Meeting such an overwhelming success and beautiful memory!

Recall petitions filed on Jordan Township officials

BY KEITH MATHENY
Contributing Writer

Recall petitions seeking to oust three Jordan Township board members were submitted by the Jordan Township Citizen Committee to Antrim County Clerk Laura Sexton Jan. 26.

The three petitions call for the removal from office of:

- township supervisor Joseph Haney, Sr.
- township clerk Leona Stanek
- trustee Lucille Lercel.

The petitions state the named officials "do not have the township's best interest in mind by: a) Reappointing two members to the township tax board of review whose actions caused an unfair distribution of the tax burden; b) Repeated disregard of the wishes and opinions of the township citizens; c) Dereliction of duty to inform the board and the public of correspondence from the State Tax Commission and the resignation letter from the township treasurer."

A clarity hearing to examine the wording on the recall petitions is scheduled for Tues., Feb. 7, at 3:30 p.m., at the Probate Courtroom in the 1905 courthouse in Bellaire. The hearing is open to the public.

The three officials named in the petition voted to reappoint Lawrence Nemecek and Sue Falco to the review board through 1996. At the board's Jan. 23 meeting, no mention was made of letter sent to individual property owners from the Michigan Tax Commission, stating that their appraisals showed many agricultural properties were lowered too far by the board of review in 1994.

Treasurer Laura Stanek also sent a letter of resignation dated Jan. 17 to the supervisor. Neither the letter nor Stanek's absence were mentioned at the meeting.

Both Leona Stanek and Haney declined comment on the recall petition. Lercel said she had been away on vacation until the day of the Jan. 23 meeting, and knew nothing about Laura Stanek's decision to not attend meetings for the rest of her tenure and resign effective April 1.

Although her property assessment was lowered last year, Lercel pointed out her parcel is zoned residential, not the factored agricultural. She does not believe hers is one of the properties recently appraised by the state tax commission, and she said she has received no letter from them.

A county election commission, consisting by statute of county clerk Laura Sexton, county treasurer Beverly Edgington and Probate Court Judge John Unger, will examine the language of the petition at the clarity hearing to make sure it is not too vague or broad. They do not determine if the allegations contained within the petitions are correct or without merit.

The commission also cannot interpret or re-word the petition. If rejected, the petition can be resubmitted, in which case the commission then has 10 to 20 days to determine its clarity.

If approved at the clarity hearing, petitioners will have 180 days to gather signatures for the recall. To force a recall election, a particular petition must contain the signatures of 51 Jordan Township registered voters. That is based on a state formula requiring the number of signatures to equal 25 percent of the vote for governor in the township's last gubernatorial election. A total of 203 Jordan Township residents voted for governor last November.

Slippery driveway puts would-be thieves on ice

A slippery driveway at a residence in Eveline Township foiled the plans of three would-be thieves.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department responded to an intrusion alarm at the residence Feb. 1, and discovered the three male subjects in a vehicle stuck in the driveway. An investigation showed evidence the three had broken into the residence.

All three are Charlevoix County residents. The names are withheld pending arraignment in 90th District Court, Charlevoix.

The sheriff department was assisted at the scene by the Boyne City Police Department and the Michigan State Police.

East Jordan school district realigns curriculum director position

BY DEB S. HOBBS
Journal Editor

The retirement of East Jordan Schools curriculum director Anne Dingman at the beginning of the new year means changes for several other district staff members as well.

The administration views Dingman's departure as an opportunity to consider restructuring of the position. Superintendent of schools Chip Hansen said the district will cover the position internally for the remainder of the school year.

"Internal coverage will allow us to save money," said Hansen. "It will also give us the time we need to determine how to reallocate (Dingman's salary) in such a way that the dollars support students in the best way possible."

High school principal Gus Bishop will take on Dingman's curriculum and school improvement, testing coordinator, and Title V coordinator duties. To allow Bishop the extra time to perform these duties, athletic director Tammy Jackson has assumed some of the high school administrative duties. A substitute was hired to teach Jackson's high school health and physical education classes in order to allow her more time.

Hansen is acting as staff development director and adult/community education director. Elementary principal Charles Hershberger has taken Dingman's place on the district Technology Committee and middle school principal Shirley Bishop is administering Section 57/Chapter Two duties.

To prepare for any permanent realignment of the curriculum director position, the district will focus on completion of a K-12 curriculum that meets Outcomes Driven Developmental Model (ODDM) and mastery learning objectives. Another goal of the curriculum development is to improve Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) test results.

The first four staff in-services of 1995 have been dedicated to curriculum development.

"We want teachers working with the completed curriculum by next fall," said Hansen.

Hansen said Dingman will continue to assist in the process on a part-time contractual basis.

"Anne Dingman is a quality person who added a great deal to the overall strength of our administrative team," said Hansen. "We need her services through this transitional period."

Hansen said the process of restructuring Dingman's position will be considered within the bigger picture of continued district improvement. Any changes must be consistent with the recently adopted strategic planning initiative as well as ODDM objectives. The situation will be re-evaluated for the 1995-96 school year.

"We intend to realign the curriculum director's duties in a way appropriate to the changing needs of the district," said Hansen.

CMU names honor students

Central Michigan University's fall semester honors list includes an East Jordan student who placed in the top 10 percent of her class.

CMU senior Theresa A. Brennan was one of 978 CMU students named to the honors list. Of those students, 215 earned straight A's.

About 16,126 students attend the Mount Pleasant university. The fall semester ended in December.

Hospital offers Heart Month screenings

Charlevoix Area Hospital and District Health Department No. 3 have joined the Healthy Heart Coalition of Northern Michigan to promote prevention of heart disease.

On Fri., Feb. 24, from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., Charlevoix Area Hospital will hold a total blood cholesterol and blood pressure screening. No appointment is necessary and fasting is not required. Participants must be at least 18 years of age. Cost is $5.

Throughout the month of February the public is invited to stop in at Charlevoix Area Hospital's emergency department to have a free blood pressure check-up.

The events are being held during February, "National Heart Month," in cooperation with District Health Department No. 3, and other area hospitals and health departments who are coalition members, in order to help reduce the risk of heart attack which is the nation's leading killer.

Informational brochures are available at the hospital and health department, or will be mailed upon request.

For further information call Nancy Ellison at 547-4024.

CPR instructor course planned

A Basic Cardiac Life Support Instructor Renewal course will be held at Charlevoix Area Hospital on Thursday, March 2, from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.

This is an American Heart Association recertification class for those who have a current instructor card. The AHA requires renewal of certification every two years.

Participants must have a current Healthcare Provider Course C completion card and/or current instructor card. The agenda and new updated instructor manual will be sent as soon as registration is received. The fee is $22 and includes the new manual.

There will be a 50-question exam with 84 percent being a passing score, and a test on the manikins.

Charlevoix Area Hospital also offers on-going CPR classes for the public. No definite dates are available, however, those interested are asked to call to have their name put on a list and they will be notified of future class

Please call the Charlevoix Area Hospital switchboard operator to register for the instructor renewal class, or to express an interest in public CPR classes at 547-4024.

* Stacy Simon celebrated a birthday on Jan. 30. Happy birthday, Stacy.

* David Dipzinski will be 10-years-old on Feb. 5. Happy birthday!

People Up North has been featuring senior citizens of East Jordan and the surrounding area.

If you know of someone who is a long time resident, give me a call. I would love to tell their story, and I hope you will enjoy them.

Don't forget to let me know about birthdays and other events that People Up North was designed for.

Beryl Scott

When asked how many years she has lived in East Jordan Beryl Scott answers 90!

Beryl has lived here all her life, but you would never guess by her looks or by talking to her that she's 90 years old. She is very much up to date with current events.

Even though Beryl now lives at Grandvue, she loves to attend her church, East Jordan Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, very much, where she has been a member for over 80 years.

Anna "Beryl" Scott is one of six children of John and Anna Whiteford and was born on July 19, 1904. Her father built the home they lived in on the corner of Bridge and Echo Streets in 1900.

Beryl attended Westside Grade School until past the sixth grade, then she attended and graduated school on the East, at the public school. As a young woman, she worked at the Michigan Bell Telephone office in East Jordan for 15 years.

On June 20, 1924, Beryl married Theo Kenneth (Scotty) Scott. Scotty and Beryl had three children, - a daughter Betty and sons Theo (or Ted), and Robert John. Robert died at age three and a half.

Scotty and Beryl were caretakers of the East Jordan Tourist Park, from 1957 to 1967, when Scotty passed away. Beryl stayed at the park for another 10 years, while it was a park for homes year-round, then the mobile homes were moved out in 1977.

Beryl then moved to Lakeview Manor and had her own apartment for many years. After suffering a stroke, Grandvue became her home. She is very contented here, she said, knowing she is unable to live alone any longer.

Last July, when Beryl turned 90 years old, family and friends came from all over the states, celebrating her birthday. There were some 90 guests at the party.

Beryl would love visits from friends - I found Beryl to be a joy to visit.

Thank you Beryl Scott for making East Jordan your home for over 90 years!

It was a week for visits from the "old-timers." We were delighted when East Jordan sports legend Gayle Saxton stopped by our office for a chat. He'll be sharing some of the old stories in future issues.

Also around for a visit were Milt Veverka and regular contributor Norm Bartlett. They are always good for a story or two about East Jordan of the past.

Milt left us with a laugh as he commented about the drilling and construc-

TROUPE-Teen Theater: Thinking about the issues

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

Love, friendship, self-esteem, parental expectations, and drug and alcohol use were just some of the many issues East Jordan middle schoolers reflected on during a recent presentation by visiting teen actors.

TROUPE-Teen Theater, a program sponsored by Northern Michigan Planned Parenthood, features actors role-playing situations to which the audience responds. All the actors are teen-age volunteers from area high schools, and they develop their own skits to present.

Through entertainment and participation activities, East Jordan students were presented issues important to their daily lives, and given the opportunity to brainstorm problem-solving. As a follow-up, the students will complete evaluation forms so the TROUPE-Teen members have feedback on their effectiveness.

Responses from the audiences were mixed. While sixth-graders seemed to take the presentations seriously, and offered thoughtful questions and comments, middle school counselor Cindy Boss thought the behavior of some of the older students disrupted the possible effectiveness of the program for their groups.

Despite the problems, Boss said the program was successful for some students, and teachers got an education as well.

"Sometimes educators don't realize everything going on in the kid's life outside of the classroom," said Boss. "This was a reminder that sometimes there's a reason why the homework wasn't finished."

CHOOSING TO PASS on taking drugs was the lesson in this skit by members of Troupe Teen Theater, presented to East Jordan Middle School students.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

The Importance of the Little Toe

"But, in fact, God appointed each limb and organ to its own place in the body ... there are many different organs, but one body."

— 1 Corinthians 12: 18-19

Everyone is important within the body of Jesus Christ! Although each member has a different function, every member is crucial to its proper functioning. Sometimes we wonder if we are really important to the body of Christ. Particularly if our contribution is small, we wonder if the other members of Christ's body would even miss us if we were not functioning for a period of time. If you have ever experienced the pain of a dislocated toe, you know that when even a small part of the human body suffers, the entire body suffers. But when even a small member rejoices, the entire body rejoices. Everyone within the church, Christ's Body, is important ... and that means you!

a word fitly spoken

An update and a conclusion

"He that overcometh ... I will not blot out his name out of the Book of Life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before His angels." Rev. 20. 0

I'm sitting here updating my address book and feeling really good, for my loving and compassionate friends near and far sent letters along with their Christmas cards. These have been read and re-read, with mental notations made to correct or change an address and a promise to myself to correspond more frequently during the coming year.

As I write in my address book, I think about the fact that my name is listed in my friends' and families' books.

Each person who accepts salvation, making Jesus Christ their personal saviour, has their name recorded in the Lamb's Book of Life.

There is no greater joy and our joy rests in the fact that our names are written in Heaven, our final destination.

As we are obedient to the Word in our daily lives, we will receive our crown at the end of our journey - what a glorious day that will be!

As we review the past year's commitments and transactions, let us ask our Lord to continue to bless us and guide us that we may live our lives according to his purpose for God is so good!

PeopleCare needs donations

The Salvation Army and Consumers Power Company reported PeopleCare contributions to date are down 12 percent from last year's campaign tally, raising concern that the social service agency may have inadequate funding to effectively assist the state's low-income population. Both Michigan organizations are urging state residents to consider PeopleCare donations.

"Last year we had record low temperatures to help illustrate the need for PeopleCare contributions. This winter the mild weather may be working against us — though PeopleCare funds provide much more than a warm home," said Lt. Col. William A. Roberts, commander of the Salvation Army Western Michigan/Northern Indiana division.

A program operated jointly by Consumers Power and The Salvation Army to target the state's working poor, PeopleCare funds provide clothing, food or other emergency help, including energy bill assistance. In 1994, year-to-date contributions totaled $1204,893, compared to this year's tally of $92,266.

"Sometimes it takes bitterly cold conditions to warm people's hearts to the great need of our less-fortunate neighbors," Roberts said. "Though this winter's temperatures have thus far been mild, I can assure you that the need for this valuable program is just as great."

Consumers Power customers can contribute through a check made out to PeopleCare enclosed with their monthly bill. No donation is too small.

Since the first campaign in 1983, PeopleCare has raised more than $4 million in direct contributions and provided $4.8 million in energy bill credits.

PeopleCare funds totaled $466,117 in 1994, assisting 5,978 families. Consumers Power also provides $1.5 million in bill credits for low-income customers who need help paying for their electric or natural gas service. Bill credits became available on Dec. 1, 1994.

The Salvation Army is one of the oldest nonprofit organizations providing social service assistance in the United States. The organization was selected by Consumers Power to distribute funds raised by the PeopleCare campaign because of its vast experience in screening applications and processing aid.

East Jordan continued its relentless pursuit of victories by throttling two Antrim County teams last week.

Ellsworth was the host Jan. 31, and the Lancers made a show of it for nearly a half, cutting the Red Devil margin to just 31-30 late in the first half.

Steve Wiltfong, Karl Redmer and Andrew Otis then keyed a 10-3 run for a 41-33 halftime lead. The Devils then blasted through the Ellsworth defenses for a 29-13 third quarter advantage on the way to a 92-59 thrashing.

When the dust cleared, Wiltfong and Redmer matched with 17 points each.

Andrew Otis was close behind with 15, Yaro Middaugh had 11 and Mike Newkirk eight. Pat Zeitler led Ellsworth with 25 points.

Feb. 3 with the Elk Rapids Elks in town was a slightly tougher affair. The Red Devils set about to contain Kevin Ball, who averages nearly 30 points a game. They succeeded, holding the Elk star to six for the game, and East Jordan rode away with the 75-47 win, their twelfth overall.

Steve Wiltfong got the edge this time, scoring 23 to Karl Redmer's 17.

East Jordan won the JV game as well, Scott Haley's 21 leading the Red Devils JVs to the 67-53 win.

Devils gored by ER Elks

Elk Rapids was an unpleasant place to visit for the East Jordan Red Devil volleyball team Feb. 2, at the league-leading Elks ran roughshod over their guests.

East Jordan was scorched 1-15, 4-15, 5-15 by the Elks. The efforts of Kyle Krause, Amanda Pepin and Cathy Mills were the bright spots on the otherwise forgettable night.

Local man joins Auxiliary

Dan Miller, co-owner of East Jordan's Ben Franklin Store, was recently accepted into membership in the Charlevoix Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla.

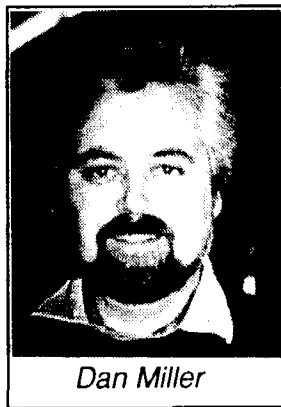

Well known locally as an avid boater and sportsman, Dan was one of the founders and 1994 director of Lake Charlevoix's first Walleye fishing tournament.

Dan's fishing expertise prompts many local anglers to consult with him about hot fishing spots and which lures are proving most successful. He has participated in tournament fishing since 1985, and often fishes just for pleasure and good eating. His fish dinners are famous among his friends.

A member of the Lake Charlevoix Walleye Association, Dan has been instrumental in aiding the rearing and releasing of the popular fish.

As a member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, Dan will help in promoting recreational Safe Boating and in aiding Coast

Recipes designed with East Jordan cooks in mind

Valentine's Day is usually filled with sweet treats. Rather than break that tradition, it is possible to enjoy a special Valentine treat without sacrificing good eating habits. We have a couple of options to share as our Valentine treat to you!

Bananas A La Kaluha

If your time is short, but you want to offer a light yummy dessert, this will be a hit with you and your family.

2 bananas, peeled and sliced lengthwise
1/4 c. Kaluha or other coffee flavored liqueur
2 Tbsp. brown sugar

Spray sauté pan with cooking spray. Sauté bananas, turning once. Pour Kaluha and sprinkle the brown sugar over bananas. Using a fork or small whisk, break up sugar and lightly blend with Kaluha. Simmer for about a minute.

Place banana strips on a plate and spoon the Kaluha mixture over them. The mixture will be slightly thick.

This whole process takes about five minutes and will serve two. Fat free vanilla ice cream on the side will add an extra smile without the fat.

Secret Strawberry Filled Angel Cake

Our other offering is a little more complicated, but well worth the effort.

1 angel food cake
1 envelop unflavored gelatin
1/4 c. cold water
1 c. vanilla low-fat yogurt
1/3 c. strawberry syrup Chocolate syrup whipped cream (see recipe)

In a small microwave-safe bowl, sprinkle gelatin over cold water and let stand two minutes. Microwave on high power 40 seconds. Stir well and let stand two minutes or until gelatin is completely dissolved. Cool slightly.

In a medium bowl, stir together yogurt, strawberry syrup and gelatin mixture until smooth. Refrigerate about 30 minutes or until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

Place cake on a serving plate. Using a serrated knife, slice a one-inch layer from the top of the cake. Lift off in one piece and set aside.

Cut a trench in the cake about an inch wide and 1 and 1/2 inches deep, leaving one-inch wide inner and outer walls of cake.

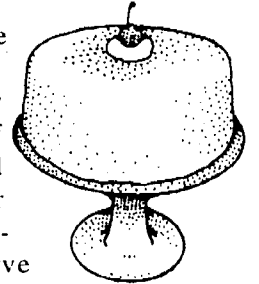

With a fork, remove cake in trench without breaking through side or bottom. Spoon strawberry mixture into trench. Cover with reserved cake top. Wrap cake and refrigerate while preparing chocolate syrup whipped cream.

Chocolate Syrup Whipped Cream

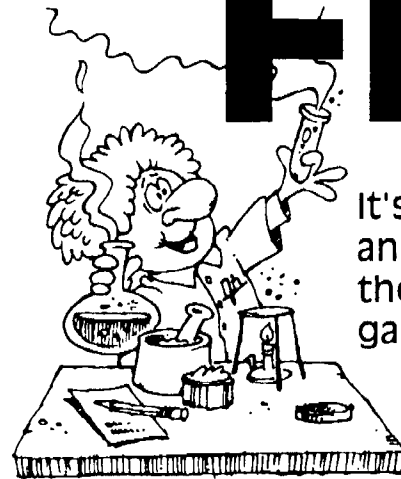

1 c. (1/2 pint) cold heavy cream
1/4 c. chocolate syrup
1/8 tsp. cream of tartar

In small bowl, with electric mixer at high speed, beat ingredients until stiff peaks form.

Spread chocolate syrup whipped cream evenly over top and sides of cake. Cover and refrigerate four hours or until center is set. Serve chilled.

Review board chairman: "We only corrected mistakes"

county didn't inform them they were nearing a point where the tax burden was unevenly distributed.

"If we would have had some help, we could have absorbed or adjusted the entire SEV in Jordan Township so we wouldn't have had a factor," he said.

Bolle subsequently said once assessment rolls are turned in by individual townships to his county office, they only note the changes enacted by the review board and check them against comparable surrounding townships.

"We have to assume that when they turn in their rolls, the assessments are uniform," he said.

Brian Meade, a Jordan Township farmer in the meeting audience, complained about property values - and taxes - that seem to increase every year.

"Wheat prices have steadily dropped for the past 15 years, but because of all the lakes in this county - even as far away as we are from them - our taxes go up every year.

"You can have five millionaires come in and buy up these large pieces of land at whatever price, and that raises everybody's assessment. To be put out of business because rich people can afford it - that's not right."

Nemecek closed his comments at the meeting by reasserting that mistakes were being made on assessments - and encouraging residents to get them corrected this year.

"Come to your board of review next spring," he said. "We'll be there."

EJ Police Department weekly report

January 16

A deer ran into the side of a 1985 Chevy pickup driven by Todd Spence as he was traveling west on Behling Road.

January 20

A 1993 Ford station wagon driven by Gary Abbott was traveling west on Water Street when a 1985 Dodge driven by Joseph Murphy slid north into the Lake Street intersection and struck Abbott's vehicle in the driver's side rear panel.

Both subjects were wearing seatbelts and no injuries were reported. Murphy was cited for driving too fast for conditions and no proof of insurance.

January 22

Carol Holoway had her 1992 Chevy parked in the parking lot at Jordan Hills Apartments when Michael Wallace struck it as he was backing his 1994 Ford pickup from a parking space.

January 27

Gregory Chappuies' 1992 Chevy van was parked in the Main Street municipal parking lot when it was struck in the rear by an unknown vehicle.

January 29

Michael Wirebaugh's 1985 Pontiac was parked on Spring Street when it was struck by an unknown vehicle.
