

Weather

A humid week just got stickier as persistent clouds finally started to dissipate Friday, clearing the skies for a bright, hot weekend. Daytime highs climbed from low to high 80s, with nights cooling nicely. Plenty of rain is keeping gardens green.

Roadsides are full of Queen Anne's lace and purple knapweed, interspersed with the final blooms of wild sweet pea. LAST YEAR: Only one day of rain in a week of sun with daytime temps in the 80s.

New city administrator is ready to listen

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

It has been a hectic few weeks for Carolyn Sutter. After packing up her household in southern California, making a marathon drive and facing a frustrating housing shortage, the new city administrator also faces a city full of people who want her opinion on a vast variety of subjects.

But Sutter is taking it all in calm stride. After all this was what she wanted, and she is happy for the new challenges. She had reached a time in her life where she was ready for the demands of administering a small town in isolated northern Michigan.

"Living in cosmopolitan areas, you learn to appreciate the virtues of small towns," she remarked.

But that wasn't the only thing that attracted her to East Jordan.

"I want a satisfying job - a job that at the end of the day, I feel I have done something worth doing."

Sutter sees her role as double-faceted. She will be a facilitator, helping the city to run smoothly on a day-to-day basis, and she will serve as a problem-solver when challenges arise.

Professionally, her own first order of business is to listen.

"I'll be talking to as many community leaders as possible over the next few weeks," she said. "I want to learn their ideas about the way things happen here, and I want to hear what they expect."

What she has already learned is that the people she will be working most closely with, the city staff, are "congenial and very competent." She has also found the other people she has met to be friendly and helpful.

Sutter has deep roots in Michigan. She attended elementary and high school in Kalamazoo, and her parents are still living there. Her bachelor of arts degree was earned from Calvin College in Grand Rapids.

Her early career in municipal management landed her jobs in several

Commission approves sewer agreement

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources agrees to finance $90,000 of the cost of repairing the sewer main that caused the city of East Jordan problems this summer and in the past. The funding is part of a joint city and DNR consent order.

According to popular opinion among city officials, that's only fair, since the DNR is responsible for the sewer main problems in the first place. An electrical weir about a mile upriver from the troubled pipe is considered the possible cause of current changes in the river.

Those changes exposed the previously buried underwater pipe, making it vulnerable to water pressure.

The weir was installed about four years ago for lamprey control.

The DNR financing does not come without a price. The city has to acknowledge before the DNR and the state attorney general the unfortunate discharge of effluent from the pipe that occurred on June 21. The leak caused a nearly three day closure of area beaches.

The state is allowing the city to be held free of liability in the accident. That's good, because liability for such problems can cost hefty fines.

But hefty fines could still be part of the package if the city ends up in a worst-case scenario.

That's because the state has tacked a timeline stipulation to the project that requires repairs to begin by October 1 and to be completed by December 31. The penalty for missing those dates is stiff - $500 per day for 1-15 days past; $1,000 per day for 16-30 days past; and $1,500 per day thereafter.

The start date locks in the funding, so

Basketball for kids

U of M coach Jay Smith (center,) still the state record-holder for all-time scoring at the high school level, passes his knowledge and skills on to area youngsters during his innovative basketball camp program. Hosted by East Jordan for the second year, the program is an excellent opportunity for the younger kids to improve their skills and have fun, as well as a great learning experience for his own players, many of whom serve as assistant coaches during camp week according to varsity basketball coach Del Ingalls. Bus driver accused of criminal sexual conduct

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

A former East Jordan School District bus driver has been charged with criminal sexual conduct with a teenage girl.

Michael Wayne Reed, 39, of East Jordan, was arraigned Aug. 1, in 90th District Court in Charlevoix, on the felony charge of third degree criminal sexual conduct involving a minor, age 13-15. Reed allegedly admitted to police that he had sexual intercourse with a 14-year-old girl between May and July, 1995. Charlevoix attorney Gordon Boydston was appointed as Reed's counsel.

The complaint against Reed was filed by Paul Timmons of the East Jordan Police Department. Reed was arrested at the Charlevoix County Jail, July 31, at 1:29 p.m.

Reed was employed as a full time bus driver during the 1994-95 school year. District superintendent Chip Hansen said the district took immediate action when he was informed of the charge, July 24. Hansen said Reed was interrogated, and based on the results of the interrogation, was terminated July 25.

Hansen noted that July 24 was the first the district heard regarding Reed's alleged behavior. He explained that a

Remember Ducky Derby

Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to remind everyone of the 2nd Annual Ducky Derby being held August 11 at Elm Pointe.

Any project like this (city decorations) is very costly, so only so much can be accomplished each year. Our primary concentration for Christmas '95 will be lights for Main Street.

Last year's Derby proved to be great fun and we hope many ticket purchasers will join us for the excitement of the race.

As of this publication there may be a couple of ducks available. Interested parties may call Debbie Chappuies at Jordan Valley Pharmacy (536-2331) or Laura Hansen (536-3416). We sell 100 ducks at $100 each. Prize money equals $5,000.

Sax says ...

Featuring Ronald C. Wilson
by Gayle Saxton

Ronald C. Wilson

Today, I'd like to tell you about a friend of mine - Ronald C. Wilson, attorney and counselor at law.

He was born in Traverse City, and moved to East Jordan with his family (including two brothers and a sister.) They resided at the intersection of Second and Division streets. He attended the schools and graduated from East Jordan High School in 1954. Four years later he graduated from Central Michigan University.

Eventually an attorney in Scottville, he earned his juris doctor degree from Wayne State in 1965. He taught high school at Carson City, Alma, and Garden City.

Prior to settling down in the Ludington-Scottville area, he also spent a short period of time with Chrysler Corporation in their Workman's Compensation division.

He and his wife June, an elementary school teacher, have eight children and five grandchildren.

Ron is one of three lawyers in the Wilson family and is the oldest of the three.

Ron is a self-taught naturalist. In 1980 he founded the West Michigan Mycological Society and served as president of the society for the first five years. Over the past two decades he has devoted himself to the task of identifying and photographing Michigan mushrooms, wildflowers and medicinal plants.

Presently, he has one of the largest private, slide-photograph collections of Michigan mushrooms and wildflowers. He also enjoys deer hunting, archery and bow hunting, collecting and identifying Michigan's semi-precious stones, and Indian artifacts, as well as researching ancient Michigan history.

East Jordan native Gayle Saxton has been writing, reporting, and broadcasting sports for many years. Now a retired educator in Houghton Lake, "Sax" will share his memories of East Jordan and his many friends through this column in future issues of the Journal.

Stories from Hitchcock

There was one event at logging Camp 10 that still gives considerable amusement whenever remembered and that is "The Case of the Creepers."

The victim was a late arrival at Hitchcock. He was not allowed to mingle, as no one wished to join him in his obvious misery, or partake of his bad smell. He, being willing to be less miserable, responded eagerly to the helpful ones who suggested that he take a kerosene bath.

What followed was a sight both repulsive and at the same time quite ridiculous. It was noticed then that he had blisters all over, and when he went to see Dr. Foster he was told that he had the small pox. He was quarantined to the Pest House, located over the blacksmith shop.

Of course, Dr. Foster made all haste to vaccinate all the men and fumigate the whole camp for safety. Then about a week later, when the victim seemed to be perfectly recovered and back in camp, it was decided that it was blisters from the kerosene that had caused all the excitement!

A new camp established

About 1903 when the bigger timber began to thin out, another camp was set up to take out cedar. By 1905, the main camp was moved to a lower site a short distance away, and this was known as Camp Two of Lower Hitchcock. Dick Freeman took over the foreman's job for a time. He was followed by Elmer Elce.

The accident probably remembered by the most people is the big crash. Twenty-two cars had been hauled onto a side track for loading at the top of a two-mile grade. The brakeman was new, and made the mistake of setting the brakes on only some of the cars and then uncoupling the engine.

The cars started rolling back and ran down the grade about a mile - then jumped the track and landed in a pile 20 feet high. Many of you will remember the picture of this wreck which hung in the company store for years.

Lower Hitchcock never acquired the hopes or the size of Upper Hitchcock, but there were several families, a store, and a water tank to supply the railroad engines. This water was piped a quarter of a mile through the woods from a spot where they had dammed up a spring and laid two-inch feeder pipe to the water tanks.

One of the men who ran the store in Lower Hitchcock was Steve Isaman, and the last one was Earl Hagen in 1909. The mushroom season was over and the first fruits of Hitchcock's natural resources had been plucked, but in their place rose a more permanent development, a model farm that has kept the name alive, not for nine years but for nearly half a century.

Top O'Michigan picnic set

Fun for the whole family is planned for the annual membership meeting of the Top O' Michigan Electric Company Sat., Aug. 12, at company headquarters in Boyne City.

Members of the customer-owned, electric cooperative will elect three directors to their board. Incumbents seeking reelection to three-year terms on the co-op's nine-member board are directors Warner Cheyne of Grayling, Fred P. Foltz of Petoskey and Frederick F. Vermeersch of Central Lake. The election and business meeting begin at 1 p.m. But the fun and activities for members and their families begin at 11 a.m.

Copies of Jim Hough's book, Right at Home, will be sold, and the author will be present for an autograph session. Proceeds will go for college scholarships for children of rural electric co-op members. The book is a collection of his Michigan Country Lines columns that reflect his warm and witty observations of life and the people of rural Michigan.

Food, refreshments and prizes will be provided along with music by the Epsilon Jass Band and entertainment by juggler/comic Tommy Tropic. Special children's activities are planned while mom and dad attend the business meeting, and chicken dinner will be prepared by the Rotary Club of Boyne City.

A silent auction of handcrafted items will also be held, with winners announced during the meeting.

City to conduct survey

The city of East Jordan recently received a grant from the Summer Youth Employment Program, of the MichCon Foundation, to conduct a family income survey of households within city limits.

The grant money, $1,000, will be used to hire two students to conduct the random sampling of city households door-to-door. In some cases, the survey may be conducted over the phone.

The students, Tracy Brooks and Matt Kamradt, are both city residents, and will both be seniors at East Jordan High School this fall. They will clearly identify themselves to all selected households.

The survey is a basic information questionnaire that asks:

- Number of people in the household
- Whether the occupants rent or own
- Range of income in the household (not actual dollar amount)
- Number of people employed

All information collected will be held strictly confidential. The survey is necessary to support any city request for grant funds under the Michigan Community Development Block Grant Program.

The city expects to begin the survey as soon as possible.

East Jordan man injured

The Charlevoix County Sheriff Department reported a July 30 one-car accident that injured an East Jordan man.

Timothy Stewart Nietupski, 27, of Manning Drive, was driving along Boyne City-East Jordan Road near Wilson Road, when his 1968 Ford left the road and traveled 118 feet in a ditch before striking a mound of dirt. The accident occurred at approximately 7:15 p.m.

Nietupski was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by East Jordan Ambulance. He was treated and released.

Deputy Sheriff George R. Lasater reported that alcohol was suspected to be a factor in the accident, which remains under investigation.

The sheriff department was assisted at the scene by the East Jordan Police Department and East Jordan Ambulance.

No injuries in two-car crash

An East Jordan man escaped injury in a two-vehicle accident near Walloon Lake, Aug. 3.

James Curtis Nicloy, 42, of Peninsula Road, after stopping at the intersection of US-131 and M-75 in his 1985 Ford pickup, apparently pulled into the path of a 1995 Oldsmobile driven by Dennis George Darnell, 46, of Goshen, Ind. Darnell, and his passenger, Sheila Kay Dolph, 46, also of Goshen, both sustained injuries and were transported to Northern Michigan Hospital.

Nicloy was not injured. All the occupants were wearing seatbelts.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff Department is continuing its investigation of the accident, which occurred about 6:47 p.m. Deputy Rex Behling, the officer at the scene, reported that no alcohol was involved.

July 27

At approximately 6:25 p.m., a two-vehicle property accident occurred when Gayle Harbaugh of Boyne City, driving a 1992 Ford, backed from a parking space on Main Street and struck a 1987 Chevrolet driven by Sarah Johnson, northbound on Main. Both drivers were wearing seatbelts and did not report injuries.

July 30

Steven Bernier reported his 1989 Ford F-150 pickup struck by an unknown vehicle while parked in Glen's Plaza.

August 1

Amy Johnson was traveling west on Bridge Street in her 1980 Dodge pickup, at about 4:40 p.m., and stopped to make a left turn near Water Street. After her vehicle stalled in the intersection, she backed up to avoid oncoming traffic and struck Michael Brennan, driving a 1984 Chevrolet. Both drivers were wearing seatbelts and did not report injuries.

August 2

At approximately 9:05 p.m., Jerald Stoops of Williamsburg was driving around the E-Z Mart building on Water Street when he struck a pole. He was driving a 1992 Chevrolet van owned by Gelco, Inc.

Auto theft increases

For the first time in 10 years, the number of motor vehicle thefts in Michigan has increased, according to a spokesman for the insurance industry. Thefts went up 6 percent last year after declining steadily since 1984.

The number of vehicles stolen in 1994, however, is still considerably lower than during the peak year. Last year, 60,216 motor vehicles were ripped off here, compared to 78,006 in 1984.

There were 19 auto thefts in Charlevoix County in 1994, an increase of 26.7 percent over the previous year. In Antrim County auto thefts increased 66.7 percent to 10 rip-offs in 1994.

Auto theft increased in 41 of Michigan's 83 counties last year, according to Terry Buckles, president of Michigan Association of Insurance Companies.

State motorists typically pay from around $50 to several hundred dollars a year per vehicle for theft insurance coverage. Rates vary according to factors such as geographic location and value of the vehicle.

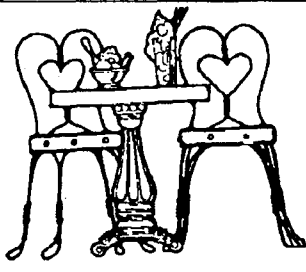

Protection against theft losses is included in "comprehensive" coverage, an optional part of the auto insurance policy. In recent years, premiums paid by some Michigan consumers for this coverage had decreased somewhat due to success of public and private initiatives which helped reduce auto theft here, Buckles said.

One such program, funded by auto insurers, pays for information leading to the arrest and prosecution of thieves and chop shop operators. Citizens can call the tip line at 800-242-HEAT (Help Eliminate Auto Thefts), with information on stolen cars and suspected auto theft activities. Qualified HEAT tips are rewarded with up to $1,000 each for information that leads to the arrest and prosecution of individual auto thieves, or up to $10,000 cash for tips that result in the arrest or binding over for trial of chop shop operators.

The Auto Theft Prevention Authority (ATPA), created by state law, has also had a positive impact on motor vehicle theft here. The ATPA provides financial support (through a $1 fee on each insured vehicle) to law enforcement agencies and private groups for theft prevention programs.

a word fitly spoken

Who says Christians can't have fun?

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Summer is the season for Vacation Bible School. VBS classes usually last one week, meeting daily, generally in the morning.

Let me elaborate on one such group. A missionary project is undertaken by 16 New Jersey teenagers, with their youth pastor, his wife and two other married couples assisting. The group does this project annually, and it entails an entire year of preparation.

These dedicated teens earn their own money for the cost of the trip, motel reservations, food and all incidentals, including some sight-seeing.

Commitment, perseverance and their genuine love for Christ Jesus and obedience toward our Lord makes this undertaking viable.

It is debatable who exacts the most pleasure, fun and education - the children being taught at VBS or the volunteers themselves. Many of the adults, especially grandparents and great-grandparents (often so young at heart!) are an integral part of the activities. What a bonding ensues!

Story telling, individual and group singing, crafts, and other activities feature God's Word in a happy, pleasant way. Periodic breaks for food, refreshments, and fellowship are always a part of VBS. And so it goes - an exciting program, laughter, excitement, and insights into Jesus' teachings.

Some special VBS activities I have sampled included puppets, and real animals in skits and programs.

Anytime Vacation Bible School is scheduled at any of our churches here in northwest Michigan, don't hesitate, go! Gather all the children you can, for it is fun and a viable teaching format for young children, saved or unsaved - a real way for families to bond.

Remember too, Sunday is the Lord's day - a day of rest and a day to pay homage to our Lord and Savior. Go to Sunday school and church with your children - they really understand, so give a positive message. And remember, your own actions always speak louder than your words.

It says in our Bibles that to accept salvation as an adult, we must be like a child and surrender all and follow Him - hear?

Health benefits counselors are needed

At the top of the list for many older adults is their health care coverage and related insurance needs. The Michigan Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program (MMAP), a free health benefits counseling service, is looking for a few good men and women to serve as volunteer health benefits counselors. MMAP counselors assist older adults who have problems or questions about Medicare, Medicaid, Medicare supplemental insurance, long-term care insurance and related senior issues. Volunteers are trained, certified and supported.

MMAP Counseling services can be performed at community centers, senior centers, hospitals, churches, etc., or other mutually agreed-upon locations. MMAP Counselors will also provide counseling service over the phone or in a client's home, depending upon the needs of the client. MMAP volunteers must be willing to commit to at least one year of service and serve at least 12 hours per month.

For more information about becoming a MMAP volunteer counselor and to get a copy of the counselor job description, please call 1(800) 442-1713.

MMAP is sponsored by the Michigan Office Services to the Aging and co-sponsored by the Area Agency on Aging of Northwest Michigan.

Seaman Salisz deployed overseas

Navy Seaman James W. Salisz, son of Jim J. and Colleen D. Salisz of East Jordan, recently departed for a six-month overseas deployment aboard the dock landing ship USS Comstock.

Salisz is one of 917 sailors and marines aboard the ship, which departed San Diego, as part of the USS New Orleans Amphibious Ready Group (ARG), which includes the amphibious assault ship USS New Orleans, the amphibious transport dock USS Juneau and the dock landing ship USS Mount Vernon. Equipped with a Marine landing force, helicopters, Harrier attack jets, high-speed assault hovercraft, armored vehicles and landing craft, the USS New Orleans ARG will provide area commanders with a wide range of capabilities.

Salisz and fellow sailors and marines spent the past year training for a variety of situations they might encounter during the deployment. They replaced the USS Essex ARG, which had been operating in the Persian Gulf near Iraq, and conducted the withdrawal of U.N. forces from Somalia.

Salisz will travel approximately 25,000 miles during the six-month voyage and will spend a majority of time at sea. While deployed, Salisz also will work with various foreign military units as they train in combined exercises conducting amphibious landings.

Salisz's involvement in the deployment is an example of how U.S. men and women are serving in the Navy and Marine Corps around the world from the Persian Gulf and Western Pacific Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea in support of U.S. interests. Whether projecting power ashore, delivering humanitarian assistance, cargo or troops from the sea, these highly trained naval forces provide a unique forward presence and crisis-response option, which can be withdrawn quickly when no longer needed.

The 1992 graduate of Boyne City High School joined the Navy in July 1992.

Let Your House Of Worship Be The Place To Cool Off

"...the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord." - Acts 3:19

The word "cool" used to be merely a term to describe a moderate and usually pleasant temperature; but in recent years it has been adopted, first by children and teenagers, and now by adults, to denote anything good or desirable.

One example of this, particularly at this torrid time of year, might be, "Going to your House of Worship is the 'cool' thing to do." In this case, it would mean cool in more ways than one. It is a good place in which to escape the heat, for the temperature there is refreshingly cool. In addition, you'll be inspired by its messages, as you would be at any time of the year.

Faith does not stop for the summer, as do many other things. It's a plan for all seasons, including this one. So beat the heat at your House of Worship; it really is the 'cool' thing to do.

Clean burning alcohol fuel isn't the only useful product that can come from the process of converting grain into ethanol. Meatballs, peanut butter cups, cookies, brownies, cake and crackers can all be made from a byproduct of ethanol production called distillers grains. These grains contain the protein fiber and other nutrients that are left after the starches and sugars are used to make ethanol.

Char-Em awarded grant

The Charlevoix-Emmet School-to-Work Local Community Partnership has been awarded a $20,000 local implementation grant, according to area lawmaker Beverly Bodem.

State Rep. Bodem (R-105th District) was notified of the grant by Gov. Engler and the Michigan Jobs Commission. The grant will be administered by the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District. The lawmaker said the partnership will be comprised of at least 51 percent private sector representatives, an employer chair and representatives from K-12 and post-secondary educational institutions. It also will include organized labor, community organizations, local government, parent and teacher organizations and the Job Training Partnership Act Michigan Works! agency.

"Such community involvement is crucial as we enter the 21st century," Bodem said. "The students of tomorrow will be challenged by the ever-changing technology of the information age."

Bodem said funding for the initiative is provided through the $49 million School-to-Work grant awarded to the state last summer by the federal government. Michigan's 45 local partnerships will receive 70 percent of the $8 million allocated for the first year, and 80 percent in the second through fifth years of the grant.

Michigan's School-to-Work initiative is being implemented through the Michigan Jobs Commission, the Michigan Department of Education and community partnerships.

School district reorganizes curriculum duties

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

After weighing the costs and advantages of two styles of administrative organization, the East Jordan School Board opted for a change.

Since the retirement of curriculum director Anne Dingman in January, the district has been experimenting with a plan that divides the responsibilities of the position between the three principals. The positive results of the trial convinced the board to continue in the new direction permanently.

District superintendent Chip Hansen said the change was in no way a reflection on the abilities and competence of Dingman.

"When Anne retired we began looking at other opportunities," he noted.

Because the principals — Charles Hershberger at the elementary school, Shirley Bishop at the middle school, and Gus Bishop at the high school — have taken on the added duties, some of their other duties have been redistributed.

The position of administrative assistant is now combined with that of Chapter One director at the elementary level, and athletic director at the middle and high school levels.

Diane Prescott, formerly a Char-Em Intermediate School District specialist, has been hired to serve the elementary school in the new position. Her duties will include: first-contact discipline, student supervision, Chapter One director, district information coordinator, and other duties as assigned by Hershberger or the district office.

Lyon Dyer will serve as middle school administrative assistant, and athletic director. Dyer, who has been on the middle school teaching staff several years, will continue teaching a half day. His other duties include: first-contact discipline, student supervision, and other duties as assigned by Shirley Bishop or the district office.

Tammy Jackson, who served in the same role last year, will continue as high school administrative assistant and athletic director. She will supervise first-contact discipline, and serve as Drug Free Schools coordinator, as well as any other duties assigned by Gus Bishop or the district office. The position is 2/3-time, leaving Jackson time to teach one or two classes.

According to Hansen, the reorganization should allow time for the three principals to manage school improvement, instructional leadership, and staff evaluation, previously supervised by the curriculum office.

Gus Bishop will also continue as the director of curriculum and instruction — he has been serving in that capacity since Dingman's retirement. His other duties are as a Strategic Planning internal facilitator, and Title V coordinator.

Shirley Bishop will supervise Chapter Two, and Hershberger will serve as Technology Committee chair.

Hansen said the organizational shift will save about $11,000 per year, as well as being more consistent with district strategic planning goals.

"Our thinking has evolved to this method of organization," said Hansen. "Supporting the principals is the best use of the reallocated funds." Other action at the July 17 meeting of the school board:

■ Members heard a presentation by Charlevoix County Community Foundation executive director Robert Tambellini. He reported on two district scholarship funds established through the foundation.

The Leatha Larsen Scholarship fund and the Alice Garlock Scholarship fund, both managed by the foundation, award eight $500 scholarships to EJHS graduates annually.

"This transfer of scholarships has been beneficial to the community foundation," said Tambellini. "It helps us get matching funds."

Tambellini explained that the Frey Foundation matches 25 cents to every dollar, while the Kellogg Foundation matches 65 cents to every dollar.

"That means we have an extra $23,000 annually," he noted.

The CCCF awards a number of grants back to the East Jordan schools and community annually, supporting such projects as the recent Sci-Tech collaboration between the district and Raven Hill Discovery Center. The foundation also sponsors the Youth Advisory Committee, which not only gives a number of local teens exposure in grant-writing and fund raising, but returns more dollars to the community through the YAC annual grant awards.

■ The school board accepted the resignations of elementary teachers Gwen Catt and Sheri Fitzpatrick. Catt has taken a position in Gaylord Schools, and Fitzpatrick will move into Boyne City Schools.

Scholarships send students to leadership conference

Two high school students at Beaver Island Community School are developing their leadership skills and learning more about democracy this week, thanks to a grant from the E. Darrell Dinwiddie Memorial Fund.

Kendra Wojan and Lindsay McDonough each received a $300 scholarship to participate in the Michigan Association of Student Councils High School Leadership Workshop at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids. The scholarships were awarded through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, which holds the Dinwiddie Fund.

Kendra and Lindsay were selected for the honor on the basis of their academic performance, extra-curricular activities, and community involvement. They join students from throughout Michigan who gather each year to develop and practice the lifelong skills necessary for enthusiastic, effective leadership. The workshop is designed to prepare student leaders to assume responsibilities in school councils, classes, and clubs — and later, within their communities.

The two students are the first to be awarded scholarships from the E. Darrell Dinwiddie Memorial Fund. The special fund was established last year to honor Dinwiddie, a respected accountant who gave generously of his time to advise many area businesses and individuals. At the time of his death, friends created the fund within the Charlevoix County Community Foundation as a way to continue his good deeds and provide young islanders with enrichment opportunities.

Only interest income from the fund will be used for scholarships and grants, so the endowment is a permanent tribute that can grow and give for many years to come. Gifts to the Dinwiddie Memorial Fund are tax deductible and qualify for a Michigan tax credit as well.

More information about the Dinwiddie Fund and other Community Foundation funds and programs is available by calling 616/536-2440, or writing the Foundation, c/o P.O. Box 718, East Jordan, Michigan, 49727.

Charlevoix Area Hospital holds annual meeting

"This hospital is not standing still," Charlevoix Area Hospital board chairman Mary Jason said at the hospital's annual meeting July 18. The hospital is reaching out to determine needs and then implementing programs and services to meet those needs."

Jason pointed to new surgical procedures, equipment updates, and a new physical therapy clinic in Boyne City as advances Charlevoix Area Hospital has made in patient care during the past year.

Board vice chairman John Buick reported the hospital is doing well financially. Total operating revenue was $10,021,068 versus $8,774,501 in 1994. Total operating expenses were up about 10 percent at $10,008,586, leaving net operating income of $12,482 for the year. Other non-operating income brought a net profit of $122,593.

Hospital president Richard Krueger expressed concern for the "tremendous" cuts in Medicare and Medicaid proposed by Congress.

"Our calculations project that our hospital would lose about $440,000 in payments by the year 2002 from Medicare alone," he said. "If these forecasts come true, we would have real difficulty maintaining all of our services and our quality."

Krueger pointed out that the health system is being reformed in ways which move it from a sickness to a wellness industry.

He said emphasis will be changing from treatment of illness to prevention of illness.

"For the first time in my experience, hospitals and local health departments are working together to assess the health care needs of the community," Krueger said. "They are finding out what health problems are of concern in our area, and what are the difficulties encountered in getting those health problems treated."

Guild president Ed McGee reported that Guild membership has reached 212 with 144 members who are active in hospital service.

Over 9,000 hours were donated last year, saving the hospital $70,000," he said. Last year the Guild contributed $7,500 to the hospital to help satisfy its $25,000 building campaign pledge. McGee said the pledge should be fully paid by year-end.

Two new board members were elected: Thomas Carey of Charlevoix and Mark Eckhardt. Carey returns to the board after serving 18 years from 1973 to 1991.

Merle Plagge, M.D., of Charlevoix, and Alan Weston, were re-elected for three-year terms. Jeannine Wallace of Charlevoix, is retiring from the board after serving 15 years. Ray Wood of Charlevoix is also stepping down from the board after serving for six years. Both retiring members were given plaques by Chairman Jason expressing appreciation for their dedication, support and insight.

Prior to the annual meeting approximately 100 members of the Charlevoix Area Hospital Lighthouse Club attended a reception in their honor. The Lighthouse Club is made up of nearly 600 businesses and individuals who donate $100 or more annually to the hospital.

Mail follows students to college

If you're heading off to college this fall, you don't have to lose touch with some of the comforts of home. Mail can follow college students anywhere in the United States.

Families don't have to shoulder the burden of forwarding cards, letters, and favorite magazines to students. The Postal Service will handle that chore. All it takes is a little advance planning.

The first thing to do is to find out the complete address of the campus or off-campus residence. Then, go to the local post office and fill out an official change-of-address form.

If the student plans to return home next summer, indicate on the form that you're initiating a temporary change of address, and also indicate when you'd like forwarding to the school address to stop. Temporary forwarding orders expire after one year.

When returning home at the end of the school year, confirm that the forwarding order has been canceled. Avoid the most common change of address pitfalls by remembering to:

- Indicate on the change-of-address form the full and complete address for the place you are moving to and the place you are moving from.

- Mark the "individual only" box on the form. This is very important, otherwise your entire family's mail will be forwarded to the school.

- Indicate the start and stop dates for a temporary forwarding order.

Greenman family gathers

The descendents of John Calvin Greenman, early settler of Banks Township, 1865, gathered at Barnes Park in Eastport on July 15 to hold their bi-annual family reunion.

Hosting the pig roast/potluck dinner were Larry and Maxine (Sudman) Kayner and Mike and Linda Borden. Both Maxine and Mike are fourth-generation descendents of Milan Alanson Greenman, son of John Calvin Greenman. The affair was attended by well over 100 descendents of the family, including descendents of John Wesley Greenman, Clara May (Greenman) Chamberlain, Frank Benjamin Greenman and Milan Alanson Greenman.

The oldest family member in attendance was Irene Greenman of Flint, wife of the late Orlin Greenman (son of John Wesley.) The youngest member of the clan was five-month-old Paige Pfaff daughter of Velma Jo (Malloy) and Tim Pfaff.

Family members traveling the farthest to attend were Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Fitzpatrick from LaGrange, Texas. Other members traveled from New York, Texas, Florida, New Jersey, South Carolina, Indiana and many locations in Michigan.

A raffle and auction were held to help defray the cost of the pig roast and park fee. A wide variety of items were donated by family members. Items raffled included two AM-FM radios, an oil painting, a wooden basket, a wall hanging, a basket with dried flower arrangement, a wooden scarecrow, a Santa, a Battenburg lace sweat shirt, and an afghan.

Paul and Ruth Chamberlain donated several jars of jam from their "Jam and Relish" business in Petoskey. Auctioned were two sets of hand-crafter Holstein cow dolls donated by Julia (Greenman) Wilcox from her "Family Heirlooms" business in Lapeer.

All seemed to have a great time meeting new members of the family and renewing old friendships. All look forward to the next reunion, which will be held on the second Saturday of July, 1997. See you all then!

By Maxine Kayner

Lambert family in Ellsworth

The Lambert Family held their annual reunion on July 22, 1995. Three of the remaining four daughters of Lewis and Zina Broderick Lambert were in attendance. Rebecca Lambert Spencer, Alyce Lambert Cunningham, and Daisy Lambert Wilson were honored at Wooden Shoe Park in Ellsworth with a picnic and music by Diane Lambert and Kaye Spencer.

The fourth and oldest sister, Bertha Lambert Groesser, who resides at Grandvue Medical Care Facility in East Jordan (born July 30, 1901.) was unable to attend this year.

Verd, Vern and Lilian had descendants at the reunion but Jack was not represented. At least 65 people were there and Vaughn Spencer of Ellsworth expressed these views of the happy event:

A family reunion is held just once a year
To see all the ones that we hold most dear.

There are grandpas and grandmas and uncles and aunts
They are grown up cousins and some in knee pants.

There's food in abundance with goodies galore
You eat 'til you're full, then just a bit more.

There are games to be played and babies to pet.
There goes a toddler and his pants sure are wet!

There are some who are here, and some who have been,
Let us pray that next year, we will all meet again.

We all get together just once in a year
To share our joy and maybe a tear.

The babies keep coming, while others pass away
But are still here in Spirit on this wonderful day.

Petrie family in EJ

The John A. Petrie Family held their 47th annual reunion at the Sno-mobiler's Club in East Jordan, July 29.

About 80 family members were in attendance. They traveled from many parts of Michigan, as well as from Florida.

up north outdoors

It's already August – the kids will be heading back to school in less than a month, summer league baseball is over and softball tournaments are wrapping up.

Now is the time to get out with the entire family and enjoy some of our beautiful state and weather. Need some ideas? Well, I have some events in mind that everyone can enjoy this August.

> The Jordan River Sportsman's Club Muzzleloaders Rendezvous, Aug. 12-13, at the Sportsman's Club located on Advance Road. There is a primitive camp area and plenty to see and do at the Rendezvous. It is also educational with plenty of events for the youngsters – they can learn how our forefathers lived 200 years ago in northern Michigan.

If you have a black powder weapon and would like to shoot it, bring it out and test your skill. If you don't feel that your skills are up to snuff, it is a great way to learn. Many of the participants are very willing to help you out by giving pointers or even starting you from the beginning.

> Take the family fishing. Lake Charlevoix is a great lake for August fishing. Lake trout are still on the bite and the walleye fishing gets better and better as the month goes on. Small-mouth bass aren't really receptive to biting in August, but they are catchable – especially with live bait in water depths of about 20 feet.

Anyone who needs more information on fishing, can stop in at my store (Ben Franklin/True Value, East Jordan.) I have plenty of info for you and your family.

> Not into fishing or shooting? There are still plenty of outdoor family activities. There are many area fairs to go to, and miles of woods to walk.

A walk in the woods at this time of year can bring rewards at the dinner table – just bring along a bucket and get out to pick wild berries such as raspberries or black berries. Wild berries also make great jellies and preserves for the breakfast table. Don't forget the camera – many wild critters can be seen, especially if you move quietly through the woods and meadows.

> Take a drive to the Pigeon River State Forest (Gaylord-Atlanta area) and look for the elk herds. Take along an ultralight fishing rod and some worms – the trout in the Sturgeon, Pigeon and other rivers are still ready to sample your offering.

> There is still time to enter in the Second Annual Lake Charlevoix Walleye Tournament to be held Aug. 26-27. Last year the participants had a great time and many have already entered for this year.

The entry fee is $110 per team – the format is two-person catch and release, so your boat must either be equipped with a live well or a cooler with an aerator to keep the fish alive for the weigh-in and then release back into the lake. If you need an entry form, they are available at the True Value, Arnold's, Signs and Letters, or the Chamber of Commerce office in East Jordan.

Don't delay – the tournament committee reported they ran out of entry forms and had to print more to keep up with the demand to bait and sport shops throughout the state.

It's August. Grab the family and get out, up north outdoors.

creatures great & small

Those pesky fleas are at it again – driving our pets and us crazy. Will it never end? Well, I have good news for pets and their owners.

A new product called Program has become available. But first, here are a few flea facts:

- After taking a blood meal, fleas leave your pet to lay their eggs.
- In one day a single flea can lay 50 eggs – a single breeding pair may produce 20,000 fleas in three months!

At that rate, it doesn't take very long to have a major infestation in your home.

- Flea bites can cause allergic reactions to pets and humans alike.
- Adult fleas are fairly easy to exterminate – it's the eggs and larvae which complicate the eradication process. Larvae spin cocoons in which they can remain for up to a year. When conditions become favorable they hatch out and the problem begins again.

Thanks to Program, a convenient once-a-month treatment for dogs and cats, there is now a way to break the fleas' extended life cycle.

Once the pet consumes the product it is passed through the pet's blood to the flea. The flea processes it through its own body, laying eggs which also contain the chemical. These eggs, in general, will not be viable – any few that may hatch will not go far into the larval stage. Pre-existing larvae (which feed on adult flea droppings) are also ingesting the chemical and further development is arrested.

This product is only available through your veterinarian and is dosed by the pet's weight. It comes in tablet form for dogs and a liquid for cats.

Talk to your veterinarian about Program for your pet. This latest development in the arsenal against fleas is a great weapon to combat an age-old problem.

• An extra note to the owners of our canine friends – we are still seeing cases of parvovirus in our area. Protect your dogs and puppies through vaccination! This deadly virus can be prevented.

southwest Michigan counties, before she was recruited into city management in Long Beach, Cal. She moved through the ranks there, serving as Director of Libraries and Museums, Director of Telecommunications, and General Manager of State Lands, all for the city of Long Beach.

For the past several years, she has been working as a free-lance consultant to local governments in the greater Los Angeles area. She recently decided she was ready for a change and accepted the East Jordan position.

She is, understandably, still in transition. Finding a home (she is required to live within city limits) is her personal priority. Although the housing shortage is a cause of some frustration, she looks on the bright side.

"A housing shortage is a good sign for a city," she said. "Better that than a surplus."

Her free time and relaxation pursuits tend toward intellectual rather than physical, she noted. She is spending a great deal of time reading — mainly sifting through reams of files as she researches the background of her new position.

"I don't want to reinvent the wheel," she said. "If a previous solution worked, why start from scratch? New ideas aren't always the best ideas."

Commission okays sewer agreement that also could jeopardized by a late start.

"It puts the city in a fairly precarious situation," said city attorney Scott Beatty. Beatty represented East Jordan in the meeting that resulted in the agreement.

The city already contracted the job with Ryba Marina of Cheboygan, before the DNR requirement for a deadline was known. Ryba has given the city a "conservative" starting date of September 15.

"If something caused a delay, we could be in a monetary problem," said Beatty.

Despite the fine stipulation, Beatty called the DNR agreement fairly reasonable. He explained the typical DNR funding is not locked in until completion of the project.

"In my opinion," said Beatty, "this is as good as it's going to get."

The consensus of the commission was that there is no choice but to accept the agreement. Since the contract with Ryba was already agreed upon, the city can obviously not pass the penalties on to the contractor. But arrangements were made to alert Ryba of the time constraints, with the hope the project schedule can be met.

"Ryba has a good relationship with the city," said commissioner Mike Dionne. "The firm has been reliable."

Bus driver accused of criminal sexual conduct criminal check on Reed's background was performed by the Michigan State Police at the beginning of his employment.

"Said check revealed no prior criminal convictions or other reason to suspect Mr. Reed would not be suitable as a bus driver," Hansen said in a written statement.

Reed listed himself as self-employed in furniture refinishing in court documents. He claimed his income as $700-$800 per month, provided by his wife's employment.

Reed was released from custody on 10 percent of a $2,000 bond, on the condition of having no contact with the victim. He was scheduled for a preliminary hearing, Aug. 10. He faces a sentence of 15 years in prison, and mandatory AIDS/STD testing, if convicted.

If Reed is bound over to the 33rd Circuit Court, District Court Judge Richard May can order him tested for sexually transmitted diseases at that time.

Sheriff reports high speed chase

The Charlevoix County Sheriff Department arrested a 22-year-old Florida man August 5, after a high speed chase on M-66 that originated near Holy Island Road in Eveline Township.

A motorcyclist was observed at about 8:35 p.m., traveling north on M-66 at a high rate of speed. When signaled by a deputy to pull off the road, the motorcyclist increased speed in an attempt to escape. He was finally stopped at M-66 and US-31, when he was boxed in by sheriff and Charlevoix City Police officers.

During the chase, pursuit speeds exceeded 100 miles per hour from Ironton north. The motorcycle was observed driving on the shoulder of the road, as he illegally passed many vehicles on the right.

The suspect was arrested and transported to the Charlevoix County Jail, where he was cited for reckless driving, and attempted flee and elude of a police officer. His name is withheld until he is arraigned in 90th District Court, Charlevoix.

Sgt. W.D. Schneider of the Charlevoix County Sheriff Department asks that anyone observing the chase contact the department at 547-4461.
