"Leaf Peekers" festival of fun

Don't forget to be a Leaf Peeker when this weekend comes around.

The new annual fall festival will feature color tours via an open trolley between East Jordan and Boyne City, and opportunities to shop and enjoy autumn activities in both towns.

Among the entertainment Sat., Oct. 7, will be exhibits at both the Jordan River Arts Council and the Portside Art and Historical Society Museum. Many East Jordan merchants are planning open houses and special activities.

The Color Four Trolley will be available for three cruises, on Saturday only.

If you enjoy pageants, attend the Ultimate Cowgirl Pageant at the Jordan Valley Express. Both the regional and state finals will be presented Saturday.

The fun doesn't end on Saturday. Sunday breakfast will be served at the East Jordan Sno-mobilers Club on Mt. Bliss Road, and a special open house is planned at the East Jordan Fire Department, celebrating Fire Prevention Week.

Glen's Market is also celebrating the weekend, with special events planned from Friday through Sunday.

weather

A glorious fall week, with plenty of blue skies and temperatures climbing into the mid-70s. The weekend saw accumulating clouds, and by Sunday intermittent rain kept the mercury in the mid-60s. Increasingly blustery Sunday winds stripped the earliest fall colors from local trees, but most are still short of the season's peak with color now at about 30 percent. LAST YEAR: The first hard frost hit this area Oct. 3. Temperatures in the upper 50s; slightly below normal.

Crash claims former resident

A Sept. 25 mid-day car accident claimed the lives of two young women from the same family.

The victims were Mary Ann Miller, 18, of Central Lake, formerly of East Jordan, and her passenger, Candice Lee Shelton, 15, of Mancelona.

The accident occurred at about 11:40 a.m., at the intersection of M-88 and Ellsworth Road, just north of Central Lake.

According to investigating Antrim County Sheriff Deputy Bill Smith, Miller was southbound on Ellsworth Road, and ran through the stop sign at the M-88 intersection. Her car was hit in the driver-side door by the westbound vehicle of Keith Anzell, 27, of Central Lake.

The passenger side was struck almost simultaneously by an eastbound vehicle driven by Barry Smith, 38, of Bellaire.

Voters approve new middle school

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

Despite the failure of most area bond issues this year, East Jordan voters proved their commitment to quality schools by saying yes to a Sept. 28 bond issue. With a comfortable margin of 195 votes, they approved the construction of a new middle school and renovation of present facilities at a cost of $5.3 million over the next 15 years.

Superintendent Chip Hansen, elated with the victory, promised the community will see action almost immediately, as workers begin soil borings needed to determine the exact site of the new building.

Although actual construction will not begin before the spring of 1996, Hansen said passing the bond now, instead of last March (when it failed by 65 votes), will have very little impact on the construction schedule.

"Fortunately, very little time was lost," he said. "This is the ideal time for construction. Costs will only go up from now on.

And there's no question that the district also faces continued growth, but now we will be ready for it."

Renovations on the present elementary and middle school building will not begin until the middle school relocates.

Hansen credits the work of the Facility Review Committee for the successful vote, as well as the East Jordan community.

"We're thankful to the parents, senior citizens and other community members who supported the issue," said Hansen. He noted the amount of parents voting Thursday tripled over the March turnout when the issue failed.

Searching for solution to unsafe conditions

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

The pleas of a group of physically challenged residents fell on receptive ears as the East Jordan City Commission made arrangements to begin finding solutions.

Paul Stanfield spoke for the group at the Sept. 19 commission meeting, about the problems visually impaired or otherwise handicapped residents have getting across most of the main streets of East Jordan.

The lack of visible crosswalks, an almost constant stream of day time traffic, and drivers who ignore speed limits create the difficulties for pedestrians, especially when attempting to cross South Lake Street (M-66), State Street (M-32), or Main Street in front of the senior center.

"We have one devil of a time getting across," said Stanfield.

Stanfield has approached the city for help before, and said he has seen no results.

"They haven't done one thing," he told the commission at the Sept. 19 meeting. He is frustrated with city explanations that nothing can be done on the state highways without the permission of the state.

CROSSING M-32 at Main Street can be a challenge for the disabled, as Paul Stanfield demonstrated in a photo taken last year. As he waited with white cane by the faded crosswalk, 35 vehicles passed before one driver stopped to let him cross.

"US-31 goes right through Charlevoix," he said, "And they have all kind of crosswalks and lights."

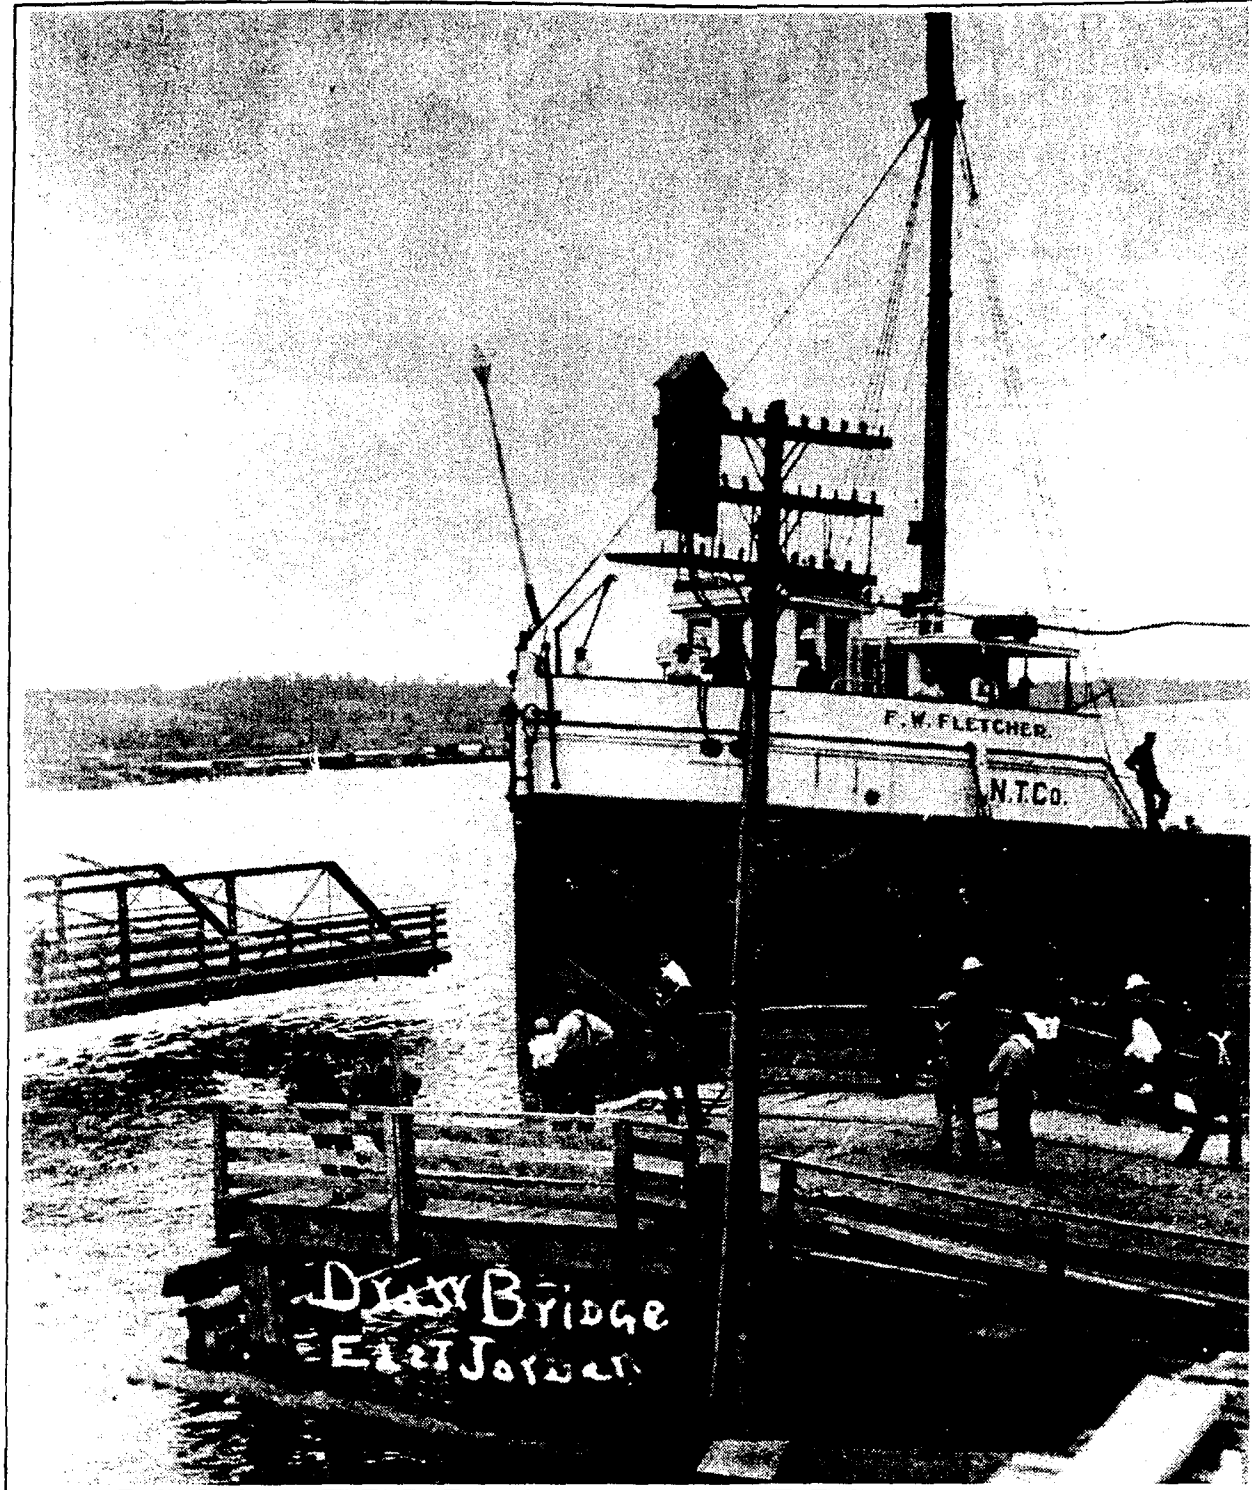

Stanfield, who is legally blind, has specific ideas on what is needed in the city. He feels there should be a three-way stop at Main and State streets; a lower speed limit with a manually activated crosswalk light on South Lake at Erie; sidewalks along M-

66; and a crosswalk in front of the Senior Center.

Commissioners and city administrator Carolyn Sutter were sympathetic, although the city is limited in its ability to address problems on the state routes.

Commissioner Mike Dionne said that two years ago, the state denied all requests

Swan City memories

A view of the South Arm, taken from the east side of the bridge, early in this century. Called a draw bridge in the photo, the structure, built in 1882, was supposed to draw, but never had enough power to do so. It was converted to a swing bridge in 1901 by Harry Steele Price at a cost of $3,235 - considered a foolishly low bid.

Chamber thanks business hosts

On behalf of the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce, I would like to thank Jim and Ronda Klomp of Shoreline Resort Motel, and Gary Roberts, Century 21 realtor for sponsoring our recent Business After Hours Sept. 20, at Shoreline Resort.

Over 50 people enjoyed a delectable buffet prepared by sponsor Ronda Klomp, while learning of upcoming community events and projects occurring in East Jordan. Several first-time guests were introduced and welcomed to the chamber and community. Guests were informed about the progress of the Downtown Development Authority and chamber projects.

Once again, the evening was an excellent opportunity for members to network and meet new business owners, industrialists, and residents of our area.

A very sincere thank you to our sponsors for their generous contributions and gracious hospitality.

Sax says ...

by Gayle Saxton

With girls basketball season in full swing, it brings back memories of my first experiences with the game - the first girls basketball game I ever saw, I refereed.

I was a year out of East Jordan High School, and at the suggestion of my former high school coach, was encouraged to register as an official with the Michigan High School Athletic Association. I wanted get a start as an official by working junior high boys basketball games.

During Christmas vacation that year, I got a call from the athletic director at Bellaire High School asking if I would be interested in officiating three basketball games that evening. My former coach was contracted to work those games, but he had been hospitalized earlier in the week.

I explained I was fresh out of high school, and had very little experience as an official. I recommended he get someone with more experience. If he could not secure a replacement, I said I might work the games.

That's where I made a big mistake. Later in the afternoon, I received a return call from the athletic director saying he was unable to get anyone to work the games, and would I officiate. The first of the three games was to get under way at 6:30 p.m., and reluctantly I assured him I would be there.

Keep in mind that games back then were refereed by a single official - and I expected to officiate junior high, reserve, and varsity boys contests.

I arrived approximately one half hour before game time, donned my officiating togs, and headed down the stairs to the gymnasium. To my surprise, there were two girls teams warming up!

Central Lake was Bellaire's opponent that night. They were foes of long standing, and believe me, back in those days small towns took girls basketball seriously. Right then I realized I should never have agreed to the job - not only had I never officiated a girls game, I had never even seen one!

Ignorant of the rules of girls basketball, I intended to officiate as I would boys teams. If it happened today, that would be all right, for the girls play basketball by practically the same rules as the boys.

My surprise continued when I saw six girls on a team. The court, smaller than regulation, was divided into three equal parts. There were two guards, two centers, and two forwards. The rules were the players had to remain within their own boundaries.

I soon learned there was no jump ball to start the game - instead, there was a throw in to one of the centers. Jump balls were actually not a part of the game, for it was a technical for an opponent to attempt to take the ball away. The same applied for guarding with two outstretched arms against an opponent in the corner. Gyms today don't even have corners.

Among the other things I learned the hard way were a player could bounce the ball just once before passing it off to a teammate, and that at least two passes had to be made before a team could make an attempt at the basket.

Somehow I got through the first half. As I came down the stairs to start the second half, I was confronted by two irate women coaches who asked if I knew the rules of the game.

Being truthful, I admitted I didn't and I would appreciate their assistance. I then attended the shortest - but most effective - rules clinic (less than five minutes) I have ever experienced.

I am happy to report the second half went much more smoothly than the first. The game ended without me being lynched, with the home team winning by a comfortable margin. I heaved a sigh of relief as I started the reserve game. By the time the varsity contest was over, I felt like a veteran official, gaining confidence with every call.

I had the opportunity to referee many girls games after that, but be assured I read the rules thoroughly.

For the three games officiated that night I received the tidy sum of $5 and no travel expenses. On the way home, I hit a deer and the damage to my car cost me three times as much.

Express hosts "Ultimate Cowgirl"

The Michigan state finals of "America's Ultimate Cowgirl Contest," a country fashions pageant, will be held at the Jordan Valley Express on M-66, Sat., Oct. 7. The pageant will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Preliminaries will be earlier in the day, at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend both events.

WTM Radio personalities Ross Biederman and Tom Clemens will serve as masters of ceremonies at both pageants. Connie Donakowski of Gaylord, the Jordan Valley Express Cowgirl of 1994, will be on hand to host the afternoon ceremonies, while Betty Sue Foster of Cadillac, Michigan's 1994 Ultimate Cowgirl, will host the state finals.

The "Ultimate Cowgirl" attracts many contestants who compete in modeling three styles of country fashions.

Pageant coordinator Lyn Ann Reid said the winner is chosen on the basis of the outfits she selects, poise, beauty, and personality.

A distinguished panel of seven judges representing a variety of backgrounds in the media, horse and rodeo activities, and pageant judging, will choose the lucky girl.

Reid said two East Jordan women may be competing, along with regional contestants from Holland to Levering.

This is the second year the Express is hosting the national competition. A number of other East Jordan businesses help support the pageant through sponsorships.

"We've had a tremendous response from East Jordan businesses," said Reid. "I'm so proud of them. They've been wonderful."

Grief recovery program offered

A series of five weekly sessions for those coping with a loss will be held from Wed., Oct. 18 to Nov. 15, 7 to 8:30 p.m., at the Boyne City Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The Grief Recovery program is sponsored by Charlevoix

County Hospice, Charlevoix Area Hospital, Community Mental Health and District Health Department #3, to provide help for anyone who is recovering from a loss.

Reverend Buzz Walls, Charlevoix County Hospice cleric spiritual advisor, will conduct the Grief Recovery sessions. Anyone is invited who has suffered a loss, or who is helping a loved one deal with a loss, and who would benefit from the support of others. These informative discussions will provide assistance in dealing with grief.

Class size is limited to 10. Those interested must pre-register and registration will be closed with no one admitted to the sessions after the first class.

Please call the Hospice office at 536-2842 to participate in this free program.

Bike-a-thon planned to benefit St. Jude's

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced recently that Charlene Roberts has agreed to be the coordinator of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital's Bike-a-thon in East Jordan, Sat. Oct. 14, at the Tourist Park.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases that afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and covers all costs of care beyond those reimbursed by insurance.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side-by-side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures, and prevention of these terrible killers. All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle-cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

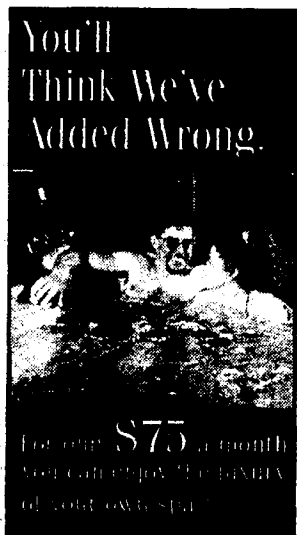

The Bike-a-thon program this year is dedicated to 10-year-old Jason Ferguson, who represents one of more than 13,000 patients who have been treated at this world-renowned pediatric research and treatment facility.

Jason was diagnosed with melanoma, and aggressive form of skin cancer, in February 1994. After Jason was referred to St. Jude Hospital by his doctor, he underwent surgery and then a series of chemotherapy treatments that ended in January 1995.

Although Jason's cancer was well-advanced by the time he was diagnosed, his recent check-ups reveal he is now cancer free. Jason feels well and loves to ride his bike. He is a living example of the successful research, patient care, and educational programs made possible by the Bike-a-thon campaign at this internationally recognized hospital.

In Michigan 128 children and their families have gone to St. Jude Hospital and received total medical care for a catastrophic illness. Thousands of others have benefitted from the research findings that have developed better and more successful treatment methods.

Care and Share in need

East Jordan's Care and Share emergency food pantry has had a record year in serving the needy. According to director Margaret Thompson, the pantry has already served over 36,000 meals this year, with some of the more difficult months still ahead.

Because of this extreme need, the pantry is running very low on canned goods and staples, and Thompson is appealing for any help the community can provide.

The pantry, located in the lower level of the East Jordan Medical Center, is open every Monday and Thursday, from 9 a.m. to noon, for any one who is in need of help or who would like to drop off donations.

Other times can also be arranged by contacting Thompson at 536-7375.

Help save the Castle

The Castle Farm Board of Directors is making an appeal for donors to help secure the purchase of the property as a non-profit community center.

The board has set up an escrow account for donations, separate from any other Castle accounts. If the funds to purchase the facility are not raised by Dec. 18, the property will revert to its former owner. In that event, all donations for the purchase will be returned.

Arrangements for contributions can be made through CB North banks.

We've got some good news and some bad news ...

First, the bad news:

Our East Jordan office closed on Sept. 29.

The reason is simple: Despite a steady growth in subscriptions and advertising (the essential components for every newspaper's success), there is simply not enough financial support to maintain an office here at this time.

As any good business person knows, when expenses outstrip income, adjustments must be made or the entire venture may be lost.

Now, the good news:

Our commitment to the East Jordan area remains unchanged. We will not only continue to publish the only newspaper focused on this community — we will continue to improve it!

For example, in addition to popular features like Sax says ... (a column by East Jordan native Gayle Saxton), Swan City Memories (a pictorial review of the area's past), and Jordan Memories (reader recollections of bygone days) we are currently seeking a sportswriter to bring a fresh focus to our athletic coverage.

And of course, we will continue to provide the in-depth coverage of East Jordan City and School District news that has become the hallmark of this newspaper.

Additionally, to minimize inconvenience for those with advertising needs, questions or comments, our East Jordan phone — 536-0044 — will remain in service. Your clearly identified photographs, articles, etc. can also be dropped off at the EJ Shoppe, 122 Main Street, East Jordan.

"Your Beacon to Real Estate"

a word fitly spoken

How frequently do you hear people say, "I don't have to go to church to worship God - I can do that out on the golf course, fishing, or camping with all the family."

You can add all manner of activities and rationalizations to salve your conscience. After all, like the expensive ads bombarding us ask, don't we "deserve a break today?"

Our busy lives often leave little room for spiritual renewal or Christian daily living. We are bogged down with responsibilities toward our jobs, education, parenting, and in many cases serving as care giver to elderly parents.

We often forget that a balanced life, including a commitment to our Lord Jesus Christ, is the key to coping with adversity. God's wisdom and love through scripture has the answer.

We have only once to die, and that day is fixed. If you die wrong the first time, you cannot come back to die better a second time. Upon dying without Christ, you can't come back to be converted and die a believer, for after death comes the Judgment.

A July 14 article in The Sword of the Lord (Christian paper) included a preacher's prayer for Sunday morning, wishing: fishermen would come home empty-handed; golfers would have a high score; late sleepers would be awakened by a nightmare of a hot oven with no escape - like Hell; and parents sending their children to Sunday School without them, have a vision of their children in the future doing the same thing, yet having no real values.

God intended Sunday as a day of rest from our labors. We should worship and praise God in church and in fellowship. Although some people must work - such as the medical community - most have an option and can make arrangements for rest and worship.

Let us make Sunday God's day, not a selfish "catch-all" day of our own volition. Only good will come from such a commitment.

To God be the glory!

Comparative theology discussion planned

The "theology" of Star Trek will be presented by Dean Drake at the Sun., Oct. 8, meeting of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Petoskey.

The public is invited to hear Mr. Drake's multi-media presentation making comparisons of the messages of Star Trek to the philosophy of Unitarian Universalism. Although in production only three seasons ending in 1969, the program has become a phenomenon of our times.

The service will be held at 10 a.m. in Temple B'nai Israel at the corner of Waukazoo and Michigan. Child care will be provided. A coffee hour will follow the service.

His Faith Guided Columbus

ACROSS THE UNCHARTED OCEAN

*When he crossed the wide sea, so determined was he
That he thought that wherever he sailed,
He'd discover at least a new route to the East,
While his faith and his courage prevailed.
With no map for a guide, but the Lord by his side,
The new land that his voyage had found
Wasn't what he had sought, yet his primary thought
Was to prove that our planet is round.
So with trouble and strife on your journey of life,
If the lessons of faith you'll obey,
Then despite your concern about which way to turn,
The Almighty will show you the way.*

Devils stun Lancers; nipped by Rayders

East Jordan won one battle with the neighbors, only to have the more important contest slip away.

Ellsworth came into Red Devil country with hopes of continuing a long run of dominance over the Devils. It didn't happen, thanks to a strong effort by all the Lady Devils.

The Lancers led early 18-17, then fell victim to the Red Devil attack, trailing the hostesses 32-24 with a half to go.

Ellsworth climbed out of the hole late in the game, taking a 55-53 lead. After tying the game up, East Jordan got the ball to Sara Malpass, who drained a trey and put the lead into the Red Devil hands to stay, 58-55.

Ellsworth got to within two, 60-58, with under a minute to go, but a Kristie Loviska bucket and a buzzer score finished the game with breathing room for the Devils, 64-58.

Loviska finished a great win with 17 points, second only to Amanda Pepin and her 19-point, 12-rebound effort.

East Jordan also won at the JV level, 36-19, behind nine points from Raissa Schroeder and eight from Ember Ransom.

Then came the Red Rayders of Charlevoix, leading the Lake Michigan division Sept. 28. East Jordan was ready and willing to meet the challenge, doing so after letting Charlevoix take a 7-4 first quarter lead. East Jordan returned fire and led 17-15 by the half.

Charlevoix made its next charge, leading 30-27 with a period to go, but the ball remained in Charlevoix hands for most of the fourth quarter, particularly at the free throw line, allowing the Red Rayders to sneak off with the win, 48-40.

Pepin's solid play continued as she grabbed 12 rebounds and scored 10 points. Sara Malpass added nine points while Dayle Looze chipped in with eight boards.

The JV Red Devils claimed another win, 57-52, Jennifer Goebel going golden for 25 points, Jenny Falco coming along with 15.

EJ downed by Rayders

East Jordan held its annual Parents Night football game Sept. 29, with the Red Devils hosting nearby rival Charlevoix in Lake Michigan action.

The parents had a lot to be proud of, but the final score was not one of those things. Charlevoix handled the Red Devils for the evening, culminating the night with a 34-14 winning margin.

The Devils did what they could, but Luke McLaren, Steve Burks, Chris King and Shane Swan spent most of the night with their faces full of Red Rayder tacklers. Josh Luck had little or none as the Charlevoix defense hounded East Jordan all over.

Seniors Joe Bender, Dan Harris, Brendan Ingalls, Ezra Jones, Joshua Spears, Sean Russell, Troy Dunson, Dan Whiteford, Corey Fortune and Justin O'Halloran will try to get the rest of the Red Devils motivated for this week's homecoming contest versus Elk Rapids, the final home game of their careers.

Beishlag wins logging competition

Despite lack of competition experience, a lifetime of logging and a positive spirit took local logger and business owner Eric Beishlag to the top of the field.

Beishlag, whose opponents included his son and partner Aaron, and nephew Jeremy Hauswirth, competed at the Michigan Regional Game of Logging competition held in Marquette, Sept. 9. He recently fine-tuned his skills in a summer of training (see Mastering the "game" of logging, EJJ, Sept. 6).

Weather at the regionals was cold, rainy and windy, but the loggers took it in stride - after all, they are used to working outdoors in a variety of conditions.

"You're judged on so many things ... and the difference between first and second might be just one point," Beishlag said before the competition. That turned out to be an accurate prediction, as he beat his nearest competitor by only one point.

Beishlag took first place with 92 performance points, winning $1,000. He will represent Michigan as a national competitor in Nelsonville, Ohio, Oct. 7. This is the first year Michigan will be represented separately from Wisconsin.

Along with each of the other national competitors, Beishlag will receive a professional Husqvarna chain saw.

LOCAL LOGGER Eric Beishlag (second from right) accepts a check for $1,000 as winner of the 1995 Regional Championship of the Game of Logging competition in Marquette.

The top prizes in Nelsonville are $10,000, $5,000, and $2,500. There will be 15 competitors from 14 states (Pennsylvania has two.)

Second place, at 91 points, went to Jeremy Hauswirth, of Rudyard. His prize was a new chain saw. Hauswirth is Beishlag's nephew, and was a member of the Beishlag Custom Forestry crew this summer. He is a junior at Northern Michigan University in Marquette.

Corporal earns honors

Marine Cpl. Keith A. Miller, son of Jerry J. and Holly J. Snyder of East Jordan, recently received the Navy Achievement Medal while assigned with 3rd Battalion, 12th Marines, Camp Hansen, Okinawa, Japan.

Miller was cited for superior performance of duty while serving as fire controlman. Displaying exceptional knowledge and initiative, Miller went above and beyond his regular duties to complete projects and improve his unit's readiness. Miller's hard work and dedication assisted his command to successfully meet all goals and missions.

With the Navy Achievement Medal, Miller joins a select group of men and women who have demonstrated their outstanding ability to excel in serving on the Navy-Marine Corps team. Whether assigned to ships, squadrons or shore commands around the world, men and women like Miller are making a difference as they work to improve their knowledge and skill as part of the most highly technical naval force in history.

The 1989 graduate of East Jordan High School joined the Marine Corps in April 1993.

Coast Guard celebrates

Coast Guard Flotilla Charlevoix celebrated its 30th birthday Sept. 16, with a dinner at the Argonne Supper Club in Charlevoix. Choice of the site was particularly appropriate, since the founding ceremonies were held there at a dinner meeting in 1965.

Established at that time as Flotilla 10 of Division 18, reorganization of divisions has resulted in Charlevoix now being registered as Flotilla 2 of Division 16.

Honored guests were charter members Roger Beckley and Robert Wexstaff. Carl Lures from Traverse City attended to share memories of traveling weekly with a fellow member of the Traverse City flotilla to teach a Boating Skills and Seamanship class, in order to allow the 20 founding members to join the auxiliary.

Forty-one people attended the festivities, including Chief Joe Traverse of Station Charlevoix, present and former members of the Charlevoix flotilla, and other auxiliaries from Cheboygan and Traverse City.

The driver of a 1974 Chevrolet left the scene of an accident in the parking lot at East Jordan High School.

At about 3 p.m., Christian Vrondran's parked 1983 Chevrolet pickup was struck by Steve Moore, driving the older vehicle. According to police, Moore then left the scene.

■ September 22

A 1988 Chevrolet Blazer driven by William Kraemer struck a light pole in the E-Z Mart parking lot on Water Street, causing damage to the right front fender. The incident occurred about 10:15 p.m.

■ September 25

Ron Klooster reported his 1986 Ford pickup was struck by an unknown driver while parked in the East Jordan Co-op parking lot. He reported damage to his left front fender.

■ September 26

Steve Blankenship of Boyne City was leaving the parking lot at the East Jordan Iron Works about 2:30 p.m., when his 1989 Dodge van was struck by a 1991 Chevrolet pickup driven by Floyd Bartig as Bartig backed out of a parking space.

Department of Natural Resources Director Roland Harmes announced that 165 Michigan residents have been randomly selected to participate in the state's September elk hunts. Of those selected, 85 individuals were issued licenses for the Sept. 12-17 hunt, and the remaining 80 were issued licenses for the Sept. 19-24 hunt.

"The opportunity for elk hunting this fall is the result of successful wildlife management efforts to maintain Michigan's elk population," Harmes said. "These efforts involve keeping the herd at a desirable size to minimize crop, range, and forest damage, as well as to maintain a viable herd for viewing opportunities."

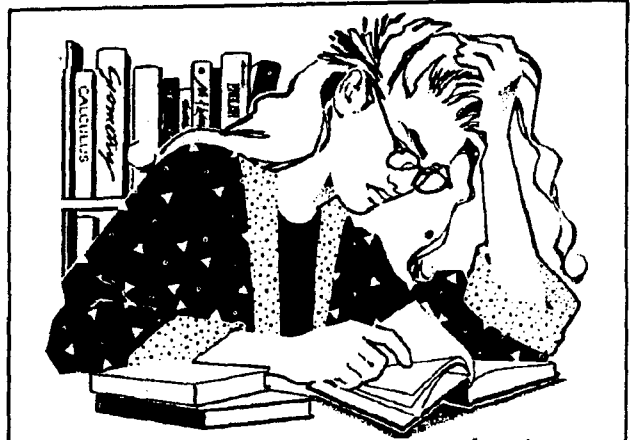

The individuals, including Dennis Graham and Garner Osborne of East Jordan, were computer-drawn from a pool of 23,150 eligible applicants for the September hunts. Letters have been mailed to the successful applicants.

Of the 165 hunters, 62 will have the choice of taking an antlered or antlerless elk, while 103 will be allowed to take only antlerless elk. Both East Jordan men were selected for Hunter's choice licenses.

This year's elk hunting areas will include portions of Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Montmorency, Otsego, and Presque Isle counties.

The unsuccessful applicants from the September drawings will be included in the drawing for licenses to hunt in a Dec. 12-19 elk hunt. Individuals may only submit one application per calendar year. It is estimated that the fall herd numbers about 1,270 elk.

Deer accident near East Jordan

Three teenagers were injured in a Sept. 16 one-vehicle accident on Ellsworth-East Jordan Road just west of Slough Road. The accident occurred about 2:20 p.m.

Scott Rodabaugh, 18, of East Jordan, was eastbound when he noticed a deer in the roadway. Swerving to miss the animal, Rodabaugh lost control of his pickup truck on the wet road surface.

The truck crossed the road, entered a ditch, and struck some trees.

Rodabaugh and two passengers, JoDee Cam, 19, of East Jordan, and Raymond Gooden, 17, of Fife Lake, were transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital where they were treated and released.

Sheriff offers security checks on residences

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department reminds residents of Charlevoix County that if they are to be absent from their home for any period of time, the department has a program to check up on the homes in their absence.

To participate in this program, the homeowner must contact the sheriff's office in person and request the security check form, or call the sheriff's office at 547-4461, and a request a form be sent to them. Even if a resident has applied for this program in the past, the request must be re-submitted each year.

This program does not take the place of private security programs, but adds to the coverage, while working along with private organizations.

From Looking around Jordan Township by Mrs. Vern Bundy (Rosalind Westcott) East Jordan News-Herald, Sept. 27, 1956

Archie Howe is actually not a resident of our township, but he has been a definite part of the daily life of this district for many years — 35 of them in fact. During that time, he has had the opportunity to observe and participate in a good many of the trends of our changing times.

In 1924 when, for reasons of health, Archie and his family moved from their farm into East Jordan, he took over rural postal route Number 5. This route was established in 1907, and in the previous 17 years, had changed carriers four times.

Walter Davis delivered the route for the three preceding years, and when he was transferred to the Post Office, Archie Howe was hired to fill his place.

Route Number 5 in 1921 consisted of 25.5 miles of road remarkable only for its degree of "badness" — gravel and deep sand, up hill and down, with U-turns and switch-backs. There were also occasional stretches of swampy land where the road bumped along over a corduroy bottom.

His faithful team of horses, "Dick" and "Bud," were more friends than servants to Archie, especially in the winter when storms and bad weather often kept him on the road from sunrise to sunset.

One especially bad time left a clear memory for Archie — the storm that hit on Feb. 21, 1922. It caught him at Charlevoix and he had some difficulty getting back home. Since no train was able to get through for 10 days, Archie's absence didn't cause much of a problem for delivering mail — there wasn't any!

But when the mail began to get through again, it piled in like an avalanche. For 24 hours the Post Office staff was shut in, sorting and organizing the outgoing mail. Even that did not finish the job — they did not put the final pile of sorted mail aside until two weeks later.

On the first of April, one month and ten days after the storm, the D&C train finally got through. My family was among the many waiting for that train.

Another thing I remember about heavy winter storms was when all the men in the neighborhood got together to break up the heavily crusted roads. Discs, drags and rollers were pulled by teams that frothed at the mouth as they waded belly-deep through ice-crusted snow. Snow and ice fell to one side, stained pink with the horses' blood where it had cut their legs as they broke through the surface.

With those experiences in mind, I can imagine the difficulty Archie faced when, with Dick and Bud, and a sleigh loaded to capacity, he started out to cover his 25 miles of country roads.

Those days of horse-drawn deliveries were not just hardships though, for there were many times the leisurely trip along country roads was a pleasure, especially for one who was raised on a farm. Each season had a special meaning and each crop adjoining the road was noticed.

Some amusing incidents come to mind — at least they are amusing in retrospect. One can not be sure if they seemed amusing to Archie at the time.

One day up in the Vance district, Mr. Vance's dairy bull got loose. Standing in the middle of the road, he disputed the right-of-way. There was some excitement for a while, as Archie had all he could do to hold the horses. But it all turned out all right when Mr. Vance's dog saved the day by chasing the angry bull back to where he belonged.

Several people have a special place in Archie's memories of those old days. One of them was Tom Bartholomew, who often invited Archie in to get warm by his fire, sharing hot coffee and lunch. Another friend in need was John Carney, situated on a very bad piece of road. John often got out early and cleared the roads for Archie, saving him much time and trouble.

That is what carrying the mail was like during the first 10 years of Archie's service here. There are still many interesting things to be told another time.

US-131 improvement planned for spring '96

A section of US-131 in northern Antrim County is slated for nearly $1 million in improvements in spring 1996, with funding coming from federal sources.

The 6.65 miles of the highway from the west junction of M-32 to Lynn Street in Boyne Falls are scheduled for a maintenance project to repair the joints in the concrete road surface, said Gary Karttunen, district design engineer for the Michigan Department of Transportation.

There will also be work in repairing and widening of damaged shoulders, and some guard rail improvements.

The project will be funded through federal monies, and was one of more than $1 billion in state-wide projects planned for the three-year period from 1996 to 1998 by the State Transportation Improvement Program (STIP).

The STIP will still need approval by the Federal Highway Administration and the Federal Transit Administration by Sept. 30.

STIP estimated the total cost of the US-131 project to be $982,000, of which $808,000 was estimated for the road, while the additional money covered engineering and planning costs, Karttunen said.

Bids are to be let out sometime this fall, with work expected to begin in the spring.

A section of one lane may occasionally be closed as work requires, Karttunen said, adding he expects the project to be completed within a couple of months.

The Keeping Quilt

Well-known local singer and storyteller Patty Clark tells the story of her great-grandmother's own handmade quilt along with other stories, both touching and amusing, from the early part of the 20th century. Clark presented the program for members of the Portside Art and Historical Museum Society at the final meeting of the year, Sept. 21. She also shared folk songs from the same period, accompanied by a variety of musical instruments.

CROP walk "harvest" to benefit area hungry

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

The East Jordan community will join in the 12th annual effort to raise money for CROP in Charlevoix County, Sat., Oct. 7, beginning at 9 a.m. The Church World Service/Christian Rural Overseas Project uses the funds to fight hunger in the United States and abroad. East Jordan walkers will begin at Elm Pointe on North M-66. The fundraiser directly benefits local food pantries by returning one-third of collected pledges, to be divided by the three Charlevoix County participants. East Jordan coordinator Mary Glenna Malpass said the East Jordan Care and Share emergency food pantry received about $700 from last year's CROP walk.

The county groups begin their treks simultaneously from Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan, meeting at Ironton for a picnic finale. Walkers gather sponsors to pay a certain amount per mile walked (about six miles altogether), or accept donations.

In 1994, 93 walkers (34 from East Jordan) collected $6,400, for an average of almost $61 per individual. Although last year's "harvest" was just more than half the 1993 record collection of $11,238, Marge Teske of East Jordan, treasurer of the county organization, said the group is hoping to edge back toward the record.

"So if someone can't walk, maybe they can pledge," she suggested.

Teske has sponsor forms available, or will be happy to accept pledges or donations. To contact her for more information, call 536-3128.

Searching for solutions for traffic signals except the one installed at Lake and Water streets. He said a request for lowering the speed limit through town on M-66 was also denied at that time.

Audience members and commissioners alike agreed that traffic through East Jordan has increased substantially since the light was installed.

"I suggest our administrator contact MDOT (Michigan Department of Transportation)," said Dionne. "I'd like to see them re-investigate the speed limit on M-66."

Commissioner Dan McKinnon conceded that state approval is required to paint crosswalks or make changes on the state roads.

"But it is of critical importance to them (Stanfield's group) to have safe passage," said McKinnon. "Can the city do something to help them now?"

Sutter arranged for a meeting with the group, scheduled to take place Oct. 3. She said she plans to tour the city with the group and see the problem spots.

"We'll look for local solutions, as well as appeal to the state," Sutter said.

Getting some progress on their safety concerns is exactly what the group is looking for.

"It's pretty near impossible to get across for those who can see," noted one senior. "Let alone those who can not."

Deputy Smith said the two teenagers were probably killed instantly.

Anzell was transported to Munson Medical Center, where he was treated and released. Barry Smith was uninjured.

The two girls were first cousins. Miller, who attended East Jordan schools, had recently transferred to Central Lake High School where she was a senior.

Miller was wearing a seatbelt, but it is unknown if Shelton was, the deputy said. The accident remains under investigation.

Voters approve new school

He noted over 80 community members volunteered many hours discussing the issue with others, and encouraging parents and others to vote yes.

Also included in the package is an addition to the high school and improvements of technology systems. The bond will start at about 1.15 mills, costing the average homeowner ($30,000 SEV) about $34.50 per year in taxes.
