Halloween safety tricks

East Jordan Trick-or-Treat hours are Tues., Oct. 31, from 5 to 8 p.m. To have a safe and fun Halloween, here are some "tricks" for children and parents to keep in mind:

- Wear a costume that makes it easy for you to walk, see, and be seen.
- Carry a flashlight so you can see and be seen easily.
- Use reflective tape on your costume so drivers can see you.
- A face mask may obstruct your vision – use make-up instead.
- Have a parent, older brother or sister go Trick-or-Treating with young children.
- Trick-or-Treat with friends – never travel alone.
- Cross only at corners. Never cross the street between parked cars or in the middle of the block.
- If there is no sidewalk, walk facing traffic.
- Wait until you get home to sort, check and eat your treats.
- If you are a driver, watch for children darting into traffic – take it easy and be alert!

Board approves Char-Em proposal

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

Future cooperation between school districts within the Char-Em Intermediate School District is expected to help expand technical and vocational offerings far beyond what any one district can offer its students, according to a report by East Jordan Schools Superintendent Chip Hansen.

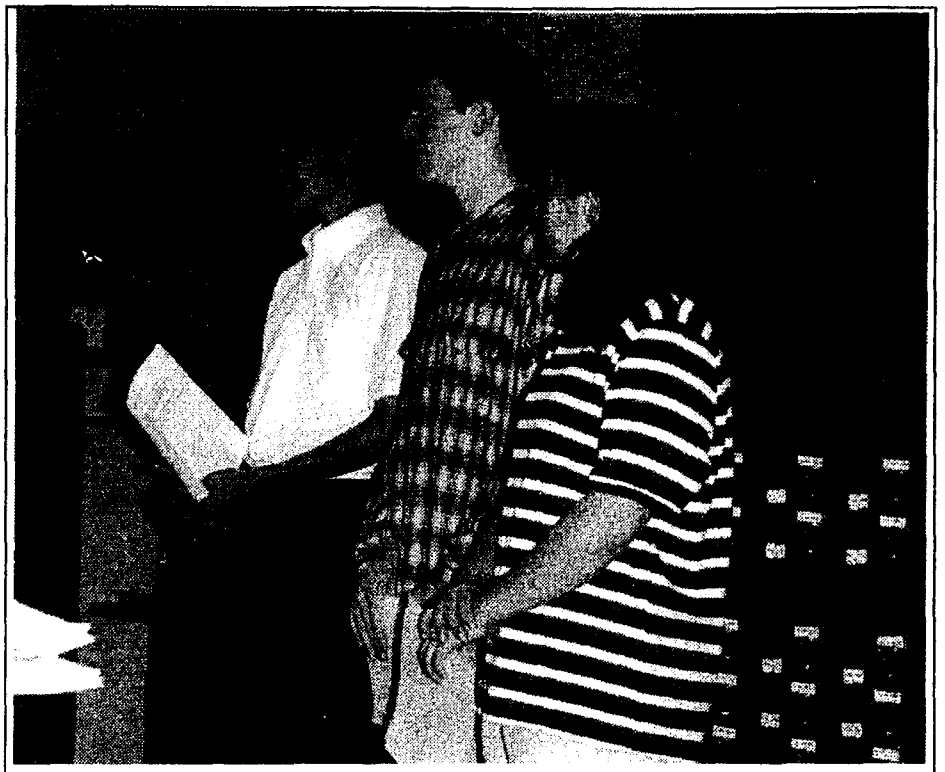

Hansen presented a resolution from Char-Em to the East Jordan School Board Oct. 16, requesting support for a vocational and career-technical education proposal. The program was devised by a task-force of district superintendents to improve the delivery of these services to high school students.

The committee examined several impediments to the delivery of vocational technical education to ISD students, then developed recommendations, including:

- Structuring the voc-ed program away from specific job training to training for clusters of jobs, broadening the employability skills.
- Make such "cluster" training available to all students equally.
- To improve and expand the program, capitalize on business, industry, and community partnerships, incorporating year-round apprenticeships or other types of co-op educational opportunities.
- Enhance vocational education with more accessibility to technologies, with computer-assisted instruction, satellite and interactive transmissions, networks between district schools, and other multi-media efforts.
- Increase efforts to provide programs meaningful not just to student populations, but to the community as a whole through adult education.

Financing the proposal

To implement this program throughout the ISD will take financing. The committee's recommendation is to take a millage request to voters, probably next spring.

"We would be expecting an extremely reasonable and quite small millage request," said Hansen, adding that he anticipated less than a 1.0 mill request. The ISD would use funds collected to provide up-to-date equipment, purchase supplies and materials, provide professional development for staff, enhance facilities, and support staffing of certified vocational instructors.

Hansen said the program could conceivably replace some local effort through program funding and staff, freeing some East Jordan funds for other programs.

The proposal supports present East Jordan district strategic planning, Hansen noted, and the recommendations for exit outcomes compares to present district outcomes.

"The list (of ISD outcomes) represents the best thinking of today for what kids will need in the future," he told the board.

In other business:

■ The school board heard the annual district audit report from Jim Cusenza of Hill, Schroderus & Co., of Petoskey. Cusenza reported what he called a substantial increase of 11 percent in district revenue over 1994.

"This obviously indicates the change in tax structure," said Cusenza. He noted spending also increased, but only by 5 percent, allowing a positive bolstering of the district fund balance.

Happy Halloween!

Friendly scarecrows, gracing the Charlevoix Properties corner, cleverly display some of the spirit of Halloween. The decorations were created by owner Gary Strange.

◀ 'Tis the season ...

Employees of the East Jordan Co-op Marathon station really got into the Halloween spirit this year, putting together a creative display throughout the store, including this ghostly array, accented with orange and black and plenty of scary decorations – and they did it all after hours on their own time reports store manager Ron Klooster. Bill Dean, Becky Graham, Bob Harris, Sue Murray, Amanda Paul, and Dorothy Warrington were the artistic masterminds of the project.

Band parents' activities update

WE ARE WELL into the 1995-96 school year and have already accomplished much. First of all we would like to thank everyone that helped out in our Freedom Festival Booth this year, as well as everyone who showed their support by purchasing snacks from us during the festival. That was actually the finale for 1994-95.

This year the East Jordan High School Band hosted its first marching band clinic Oct. 2. Six bands, including East Jordan, participated. What a great experience; everyone had good things to say about their time with us. The band parents sold lunch and snacks at the concession booth and that was a great success also. Thanks for all the help!

Next we held our annual Homecoming Pizza Sale between the end of the Homecoming parade and the start of the game.

Our next fund-raiser will be the sale of discount cards which can be presented at local businesses for discounts or free items such as a free drink with the purchase of a sandwich.

The money earned from these and future fund-raising events will be used to purchase additional new music stands; new band uniforms for all the band members (this will be done over a period of time); and possibly some instruments to be kept at the school for students who wish to play in the band but don't have an instrument, or as loaners while their instrument is in for repair.

We appreciate the continuing community support and would like to invite anyone who is interested to attend our monthly meetings, held on the first Wednesday of each month. You don't have to have a student in band to sit in on one of our meetings.

Express an opinion – write a letter to the editor!

Sax says ...

by Gayle B. Saxton

Despite the fact that I haven't participated in the art for a quarter of century, recently I was unjustly accused of being a practical joker.

A practical joker is one who is trained and has experience in telling jokes and/or pulling off pranks.

Recently I received a telephone call by someone posing as a General Telephone employee suggesting that I cover up my telephone because they were going to blow out the lines and he didn't want me to have to clean up the soot.

Now that was very thoughtful of him, but I didn't go for it as I remember having that one pulled on my dad sometime back in the early 1950s. The caller was a teenager put up to the stunt by his father, who I thought was a friend of mine.

I have been accused of many pranks down through the years. For example, putting an ad in the old East Jordan News-Herald selling someone's furniture; planting corn and peas in flower boxes in front of merchants' places of business; handing out a fake traffic ticket; parking a friend's car in another parking spot without his knowledge; jacking up the rear end of an automobile and leaving it so; and introducing a supposed celebrity although he was actually a look-a-like.

Oh, to be a teenager again – senior citizens do not try to pull off these types of shenanigans!

There are other pranks that I have been accused of in my lifetime, but I hesitate to mention them. I wouldn't want to have them come back to haunt me.

I'd rather keep people in the dark, like the three Michigan State troopers at one of the local eating establishments Tuesday morning!

East Jordan native Gayle Saxton has been writing, reporting, and broadcasting sports for many years. Now a retired educator in Alma, "Sax" will share his memories of East Jordan and his many friends through this column in future issues of the Journal. Today's contribution is a reprint of his column originally published in the Houghton Lake Resorter during the 1980s.

Preserve a place in history

If you want to have a place in East Jordan's history, the time to act is now – at least to be a part of the upcoming anthology of local history.

The project, organized by the Portside Art and Historical Museum Society and the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce, is divided into several phases. The first phase, collecting of materials for the publication, is coming to a close at the end of October.

Editors will then select the materials to be included in the book.

Contributions of articles and photographs are still being solicited. Any one interested in contributing stories, factual information, family histories or other types of materials is welcome to drop materials off at the Chamber of Commerce office on North Lake Street by the Oct. 31 deadline.

Cusenza said the general fund is in good shape, and applauded district efforts.

"We're not finding such good management in every district," said Cusenza. "Some districts have not handled the change as well."

■ Hansen gave an update on technological progress and expenditures, some of which will be funded by the recent passage of the facility improvement millage.

Included in the improvements is a fiber optic link between the elementary-middle school and the high school. This will allow the transfer of information via computer, video and voice on one network throughout the school system.

Each building will be installed with a fiber optic "spine" to deliver access to the network into every classroom and office.

Through an AmeriTech shared earnings program, the district will receive Internet access installation free of charge, along with a $210 per month user fee. The discount is the result of a citation the company received for overcharging customers.

The AmeriTech revenue overage was ordered placed in a pool for subsidizing national school access to the computer on-line services. The first 500 schools to sign on receive the best discount, with prices increased slightly for the next 500 school districts to join.

Hansen counseled the board to take the opportunity while it is still available, then work out the details of student on-line access later.

"This program is a great way for us to start - to create the conditions to access," said Hansen. He suggested that the Technology Committee deal with rules and other details before students begin to access the system.

The entire technology package is expected to cost about $200,000 over the next year, although the district will continue to update technology over the next several years, probably spending more than $1 million in that period. Funds will come from the millage, at-risk allocations, the general fund, and the library fund. Some may be in the form of grants.

■ Middle school students gave a presentation on the new media class introduced this year. The class, added as a supplement to the language arts curriculum, offers opportunities for the study of a variety of media including newspapers, video, radio and television.

Teacher Caroline Buesching, with the support of other staff, coordinates the course, which has about 18 students enrolled. While most the students are typically higher achievers, the staff is experimenting with inviting some students not working well in traditional language arts.

"These students are creative and interested in communications arts," said Buesching, adding that the outcome has been positive so far.

She called the course very career-based, and emphasized the hands-on nature of study - for example, students are regularly publishing a newspaper.

The students themselves are finding the new class very rewarding.

"I like that it's more independent," eighth-grader Kevin Penzien told the board.

Classmate Bryan McNeil concurred.

"I like not doing the same old thing," said McNeil.

A haunting in town

The Jordan River Arts Council will become a haunted house this Saturday night when ghosts, goblins, witches and other spine-tingling creatures welcome children to their temporary abode.

The arts center, located at 301 N. Main St. in East Jordan, will be converted to a 10-room house of terror for the fourth year in a row, with members celebrating Halloween as Frankenstein, the Crypt Keeper, and many other ghoulish characters, Sat., Oct. 28, from 6 to 11 p.m. Children will be chaperoned through the eerie maze by costumed escorts in a fun and scary tour that takes about 20 minutes, and costs just $1 per person.

Haunted House coordinator Rod Tinney, his assistant Casey Lyons, and volunteers from the East Jordan Health Center and the East Jordan Jaycees, are working along with the Jordan River Arts Council to create the terrifying aura. The tour begins at the back door of the arts center.

Local graduates to perform

Twin sisters Amy and Julie Mickey, Hope College sophomores, will perform in the college's production of Into the Woods.

Into the Woods, a musical written by Stephen Sondheim and James Lapine, takes the audience back to the days of fairy tale whimsy, wishes and curses. The plot revolves around three households, in which familiar fairy tale characters take on adult realities.

Little Red Riding Hood, the Wolf and other fairy tale favorites appear as the main characters, Cinderella and Jack, traverse the forest to fulfill their wishes, but end up with more than they bargained for. Responsibility enters fairyland, and the result is a humorous, inspirational jaunt "into the woods."

The sisters will perform as Cinderella's step-sisters. Amy will play the part of Florinda, while Julie will portray Lucinda. Amy and Julie are the daughters of Gene and Nancy Mickey of East Jordan, and are both 1994 graduates of East Jordan High School.

Hope College is a four-year, co-education, a Christian, liberal arts college in Holland, affiliated with the Reformed Church in America, and has 2,919 students from 42 states and territories, and 30 foreign countries.

Diabetes screening slated in Petoskey

Nearly 14 million Americans have diabetes; half of which don't know it. Are you at risk for diabetes?

Find out at a Diabetes screening at the Community Health Education Center on the campus of Northern Michigan Hospital in Petoskey on Wed., Nov. 1, or at Charlevoix Area Hospital on Thurs., Nov. 2. The events mark the kick off of National Diabetes Month in November.

Diabetes is a serious disease that can lead to blindness, heart attack, stroke, kidney failure and amputations, as the fourth leading cause of death by disease in the United States, diabetes kills more than 160,000 Americans every year.

There is no cure for diabetes, but with early diagnosis, proper treatment, and good control, complications can be prevented. Early detection by a screening such as those being offered is very important.

Warning signs include extreme thirst, blurry vision from time to time, frequent urination, unusual tiredness or drowsiness, and unexplained weight loss. You need to be screened for diabetes if you are over 30 and overweight, if you have a parent, brother or sister with diabetes, and if you are of Finnish, Native American, Hispanic or African American descent.

Anyone over the age of 10 can participate in this simple blood test to tell if you have diabetes. Those already diagnosed with diabetes will not gain any new information from this screening.

To participate in the screening, you should eat a high carbohydrate meal two hours prior to being tested. A suggested diet is cereal, toast with jelly and orange juice for breakfast, or a pasta meal with garlic bread and fruit for lunch or dinner.

Sponsors for the diabetes screening are Burns Clinic, Charlevoix Area Hospital, District Health Department No. 3, Health Wares, Lions Clubs of Charlevoix and Petoskey, Northern Michigan Hospital, and TIPDON Northern Michigan's Diabetes Outreach Network.

For more information on the times of the Petoskey screenings, call 1 (800) 248-6777. For the Charlevoix screening times, call (616) 547-4024.

Safety course offered for senior drivers

The way people drive changes with the rain and snow that come with the change of the seasons. There are new challenges, new obstacles, and less time to react to what is happening.

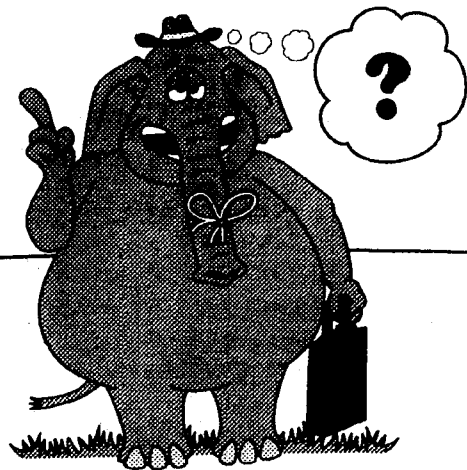

The Northern Michigan Hospital Burns Clinic Foundation, in conjunction with the American Association for Retired Persons (AARP), offers "55 Alive," a safe driving course for older adults.

The two-day course is being held Nov. 2-3, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The fee is $8, which includes all materials. Participants must attend both sessions.

"55 Alive" is designed to meet the particular needs of older drivers. Age-related changes, license renewal requirements, rules of the road and declining perceptual skills are covered in the class. AARP instructors use a combination of slides and group discussion to teach the course.

Class size is limited, and pre-registration is required. The class will be held in the Community Health Education Center, across from the main entrance of Northern Michigan Hospital. To register, and for more information, call Northern Michigan Hospital HealthAccess at (800) 248-6777.

Don't forget! Daylight Savings Time ends Sunday, Oct. 29 at 2 a.m. Set clocks back one hour late Saturday or early Sunday.

The MSU Extension is offering a "Winning at Parenting" program in Central Lake Mon., Nov. 6.

Families can use program information over and over as a key to positive family problem-solving and as a way to help children become responsible, caring, loving individuals who know how to think, not just what to think. In order to have a high sense of self-esteem, children need to develop a sense of positive power. Responsibilities and decision-making skills help to create this power.

This program is about: anger, aggression, sulking, mealtime, bedtime, money, fighting, chores, discipline, problem solving.

It is being presented by the MSU Extension Service and co-sponsored with Central Lake Elementary School.

The program will be held at the elementary school on Howard Street from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. For more information call the school at 544-3200.

Scouts sell popcorn

An annual fund-raiser that helps finance activities for area Boy Scouts started Saturday.

Sponsored by the Scenic Trails Council, the sale of Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn will continue through Nov. 13.

The sale is not the main source of income for the many local units that will benefit from the effort. Council popcorn chairman Dennis Craig emphasized the primary income for Scouting comes from community support through United Way and the council's Sustaining Membership Enrollment Program.

"However, escalating costs, the need for camp equipment and maintenance, and continued growth have prompted us to seek additional sources of support," said Craig.

Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn is available only through this Scouting sale. The fastest-growing non-sweetened snack in the country, popcorn is high in fiber and low in calories, sale organizers noted.

Eat well, eat wise

Has anyone ever told you that you could eat more and weigh less? Do you find that hard to believe? Well, it's all for real.

Join nutritionist Sandra Barkman of "East Well, Eat Wisely," Wed., Nov. 1 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Barkman follows the eating management principles of Dean Ornish, M.D., author of Eat More, Weigh Less, and discusses guidelines on eating for a healthy heart and how to achieve permanent weight loss.

The class is sponsored by the Northern Michigan Hospital Burns Clinic Foundation and will be held in Gamble Auditorium in Northern Michigan Hospital in Petoskey. For more information and to register, call HealthAccess 1 (800) 248-6777. The fee is $7.

Residents attend annual family conference

East Jordan residents Constance Baker and Louise Hart from Swan Sue Family and Community Education joined 250 leaders of the Michigan Association for Family and Community Education (MAFCE) at the annual convention held in Grand Rapids, Oct. 19-21.

Hart has been an active member of the organization for 46 years.

The purpose of MAFCE is to strengthen families through volunteer community support, leadership development and continuing education. The organization operates at community, county, state, national and international levels.

A recent focus for the group has been children's television and violence on television.

Richard Rolfe, president of the Dove Foundation was the key note speaker at the convention. He addressed Hollywood's influence on families and led a workshop.

An educational exhibit, trade show, demonstrations, cultural arts contests, and award ceremonies were also presented at the conference.

ejpd weekly report

At approximately 3:15 p.m., a three-vehicle property accident occurred when Daniel Harris, driving a 1982 Buick, rear-ended Michael Vallance, driving a 1992 Ford pickup, while he was stopped waiting for traffic near the intersection of Porter and Maple streets. Vallance's vehicle was pushed into a 1974 Plymouth driven by Mark Vincent, that was also waiting for traffic. All drivers were wearing seatbelts and no injuries were reported.

Another reported accident took place at about 5 p.m., when Russell Peck, traveling south on Maple Street in his 1992 Buick, collided with a deer that crossed the road in his path.

■ October 14

A 1994 Mazda driven by Duane Dougherty was parked

Charlevoix County Jail recognized

The Charlevoix County Jail and Charlevoix County Sheriff George Lasater were recently recognized by the Michigan Department of Corrections County Jail Services Unit (CJSU) for being in 100 percent compliance with the operational portion of administrative rules that govern county jails. The recognition ceremony took place at the Michigan Sheriffs' Association Educational Services, Inc. Annual Fall Training Conference, held Oct. 8-10, in Kalamazoo.

The Charlevoix County Jail opened in 1971 with a rated design capacity of 25 beds, with 22 beds in five dormitory style cells and three beds in three maximum security cells. An extensive maintenance program over the years has kept the facility, including the cells, hallways, multi-use areas, and kitchen, exceptionally clean and in good repair.

Sheriff Lasater was praised for his efforts in maintaining a proper jail environment for inmates and correctional staff alike.

The facility was most recently inspected by County Jail Services Unit specialists in January of this year. Charlevoix was one of 24 counties recognized at the MSA conference.

Castle Farm receives nomination to historic register

On Oct. 6, the Michigan Historic Preservation Review Board of the State Historical Preservation Office, considered the Albert H. Loeb Farm (Castle Farm) for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places.

In a unanimous vote, the Review Board nominated

Castle Farm based upon three of the four criteria for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. The criteria are that the property is:

- Associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad pattern of history
- Associated with the lives of persons significant in our past
- Embody the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction or that represent the work of a master, or that possess high artistic values, or that represent a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction
- Have yielded, or may be likely to yield information important in prehistory or history.

Castle Farm was nominated at the state level of significance as opposed to a local or national level of significance.

"The National Register of Historic Places is the federal government's official list of properties deemed to be worthy of preservation because of their important in American history and culture. Listing in the National Register provides recognition and assists in preserving our national heritage," wrote Kathryn B. Eckert, State Historic Preservation Officer. The federal government has forty-five days to respond to the state's nomination.

"This is truly a historic site for the citizens of northern Michigan," said John E. Porter, Castle Farm, Inc. Executive Director.

The builder of Castle Farm, Albert Loeb, Vice President of Sears and Roebuck, Inc. was a significant leader in business and agriculture. The architect, Arthur Heun was a prairie school architect.

"This property needs to be preserved for future generations. Our past is truly a prologue for the future. As we destroy the past we lose our roots and guidance for the future," said Porter.

Our Veterans Risked Their Lives To End The Fighting

"God did send me before you to preserve life." - Genesis 45:5

*In many earthly countries we have known,
 The seeds of human discord have been sown;
 With conflicts that can't seem to reach an end,
 For reasons that we cannot comprehend,
 We send our fighting forces without cease,
 With their instructions to restore the peace;
 And braving dangers in this enterprise,
 Deliver food and medical supplies.
 So pray that they'll come safely home again,
 And thank the Lord for these heroic men:
 Our veterans, who have so much to give,
 To make our world a better place to live.*

New sportswriter joins staff

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Journal Editor

Sports are Rich Clark's passion—especially local sports—and beginning today, he will put that passion and his wealth of knowledge to work as sportswriter for the East Jordan Journal.

A familiar face to East Jordan sports fans, Clark is a 1988 East Jordan High School graduate and football alumnus. He is the regular statistician for the junior varsity football team, and assists the coaches of both JV and varsity teams in any way he can. You'll usually see him at varsity games running video, filling in at stats or helping coach from the booth at home games.

Rich Clark

"I've been a football nut since I was six years old," Clark admitted, but although he calls football his specialty, he is happy watching, coaching or participating in any sport. He is a bowler, golfer, and snowmobiler, plays men's fast-pitch softball, hunts, fishes, and will jump into a basketball game when he gets the chance.

"If it's a sport, I've pretty much tried it," he said. One of the few sports he didn't enjoy was the one time he tried downhill skiing—he is happy to watch it on TV though!

Clark really enjoys coaching the flag football team (sixth to eighth-graders), and was very proud of the undefeated status of the team in 1993—his first season as coach.

His own high school career included playing on both the JV and varsity football teams and as a varsity baseball player. He said his high school days were definitely highlighted by membership on the 1986 Ski Valley Football Championship team his junior year.

When Clark isn't working on sports, he mans the counter at his father's store, Jordan Auto, Inc. And although the days are usually very busy, you can bet he'll still find a few minutes to talk some sports.

Lady Devils big over Harbor Light

BY RICH CLARK, Sports Writer

East Jordan's varsity girls basketball team just couldn't miss with a 93-47 victory over Harbor Light Christian.

Yes, you saw it correctly, 93 points.

"I haven't seen too many of those kind of numbers very often," said coach Steve Hines.

It happened because of good shooting and rebounding. East Jordan drained 42 deuces, only three freethrows and two three-pointers. The treys were donated by Kristy Loviska and Sara Malpass.

Amanda Pepin led all scores with 23, Malpass pitched in 15 and Dayle Looze added 12. Top rebounders were Pepin with 16, Looze with eight, and Charissa Gulotta with seven. All twelve players on the team scored.

"It was the team's best shooting of the year, and I was happy with the domination on the board, which helped control the game," Hines said.

The JV team did not play and the next girls basketball game is in East Jordan against the Harbor Springs Rams on Thurs., Nov. 26.

JV gridders defeat Bellaire Eagles

BY RICH CLARK, Sports Writer

The East Jordan junior varsity football team outlasted the Bellaire Eagles with a touchdown late in the fourth quarter. They won the game by a score of 28-14.

The Devils led the entire game but felt some pressure early in the fourth quarter when the Eagles had the ball and the score was 20-14 in favor of East Jordan. Bellaire moved the ball down the field to the Red Devil's five-yard line.

East Jordan got a break as the pitchout was mishandled and recovered by Matt McCoy of the Devils.

The Devils later ran down the clock and scored another touchdown to ice the game.

Leading the Devils on the ground was Dillon Antaya with 148 yards on 23 carries and a score. Park Bluhm was right behind him with 136 yards and a TD. Scott Haley and Andrew Wood also had touchdowns with two point conversions by Haley and Joel Bitler.

Leading the defense were Denzel Wilson and John Snyder with seven tackles each. Amos Skrocki pitched in with six stops and an interception. McCoy had two fumble recoveries.

Coaches Todd McNitt and Ted Jeffery were happy with the play of the team, especially in the fourth quarter.

East Jordan's JVs (6-2) hosts Kalkaska Thurs., Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. for their final game.

The East Jordan boys and girls cross country teams both came up third best in the Great Northern Conference meet in Charlevoix Oct. 17.

The host Red Rayders won the girls and boys races. The boys finished with Charlevoix 79 points, Kalkaska 82, and East Jordan 85 for one of the closest finishes in the conference ever.

Leading the Red Devils boys were All-Conference runners Josiah Middaugh second in 16 minutes 27 seconds, and Andrew Otis third with 16:37.

Other Red Devil runner included Dave Miller in 23rd; Charlie Hague 27th; Nate Gagnon 30th; Nate Sothard 31st; and Gary Brooks 40th.

In the girls event, Charlevoix led the way with 18 points, Central Lake had 70, and East Jordan 75.

Claiming honorable mention honors were Emily Niewendorp, 17th in 23:01, and Renee Perreault, 18th in 23:06. Anne Salo finished 23rd and Beth Purvis 29th to round out the girls results.

The teams also ran well at the Elk Rapids Invitational Oct. 21, with the boys claiming a second place behind McBain, and the girls placing fourth.

"Nate Gagnon is starting to run well since recovering from his ankle injury," coach Dennis Snarey said.

For the girls, Petkewicz was fourth in 21:27, while Niewendorp was 25th, Perreault 27th, Salo 31st and Purvis 43rd.

The cross county team will compete at Regionals Oct. 28, and coach Snarey said strong performances are needed from Middaugh, Otis and Petkewicz as they attempt to qualify for State.

Also at Elk Rapids, the middle school runners won both the invitational and conference championships.

JV Red Devils defeat Rams

BY RICH CLARK, Sports Writer

The junior varsity football team scored on its first five possessions enroute to a 37-6 victory over the Harbor Springs Rams.

Scott Haley started the scoring at the Oct. 12 game with a 55-yard sweep off the left side. The next score was a 3-yard run up the middle by Dillon Antaya. The touchdown was set up by a 40-yard circus catch by Parke Bluhm from Chris Murray.

Bluhm had the third TD on a sweep right. That run came right after a 33-yard sprint by Haley. Haley and Antaya led all rushers with 90 yards each.

The next two drives produced a 29-yard reception by Andrew Wood from Denzil

Wilson and a nice 3-yard run by Mike Mazzella produced the other two touchdowns in the first half. The final drive of the first half was ended as time ran out.

The first drive of the second half was all Antaya. He was featured in eight straight plays that finished with a 13-yard run for the final touchdown of the game.

The defense played well with 28 teammates getting at least one tackle. Team leaders were Mike Mazzella and Amos Skrocki with eight each. Josh Roberts and David Wheeler pitched in with six a piece.

With excellent 70° weather at game time, coaches Todd Menih and Ted Jeffery felt that the game was played very well by the whole team.

Devils get first gridiron win

BY RICH CLARK, Sports Writer

East Jordan's varsity football team scored on its first two possessions and rode the legs of Steve Burks to a 24-16 victory over the Bellaire Eagles.

East Jordan started the game with the ball in their hands. They didn't hold it for long, as five plays later Steve Burks rumbled 44 yards for a Red Devil touchdown.

On the Devils' next possession it took them 13 plays to go 68 yards. A 22-yard pass from Josh Luck to Luke McLaren put East Jordan up 12-0 to finish out the first quarter.

Bellaire end Mark Irwin had a 25-yard reception for a score. The two-point conversion made it 12-8 in favor of East Jordan at the half.

Eagle Kevin Bratschi scooped up a fumble and went 10 yards for the score to put Bellaire up 16-12 after three quarters.

Yet another loss on the way for East Jordan? Not a chance. The Red Devils came back with an eight-yard touchdown run from Shane Swan to once again take the lead - this time for good.

Justin O'Halloran had his second pick of the game to set up a Burks 27-yard scamper for the final touchdown of the game.

Coach Alan Peterson was very happy with the play of his offensive line, which has only three seniors.

He was also very pleased with his defense. "We stopped the run very well," he said. "Justin O'Halloran stepped in for the injured Troy Dunson and played a solid game at safety."

Steve Burks led the offense with 28 carries for 250 yards. Luke McLaren pitched in for 74 yards and the Devils racked up 370 yards total offense.

The defense was led by Dan Harris with 13 tackles, McLaren adding 10 stops. Chris King had an important fumble recovery to stop the last Eagle drive of the game.

Burks needs just 18 more yards for 1,000 yards on the season.

East Jordan visits Kalkaska for its final game of the season on Fri., Oct. 27.

jordan memories

From Looking around Jordan Township by Mrs. Vern Bundy (Rosalind Westcott) East Jordan News-Herald, Spring, 1956 or 1957.

I have some very interesting friends to introduce to you this week. Their names are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Austin. Although they are newcomers, they have made a real place for themselves in the community.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Austin were born in Michigan, spending their earlier years in the southern part of the state, where their two children were born and reared.

In 1947, they moved into Jordan Township on a farm that was once part of the Severance homestead. The main asset of the farm at that time was 12 acres of cherry orchard, much in need of care. The house itself was in a bad state of repair, too. Things were soon humming around the old homestead after the Austins moved in.

The house was completely remodeled and modernized. The grounds were landscaped, and the existing orchard was improved. More and more land was put into shape for trees. Now they have not only the original 12 acres of cherries, but also 650 pear trees, and 200 plums.

They have also added a 1,000-tree planting of various varieties of apples, which are expected to be in good bearing this year. They also have several varieties of fruit in small numbers which are kept for private use.

Mr. Austin is a member of the National Nut Growers Association and is much interested in several kinds of nut trees which he has planted.

Mr. Austin is not only interested in producing beautiful Grade A fruit, but also in what makes the fruit look and taste good. He has researched the secrets of the vegetable kingdom, so that he can produce fruit of wonderful flavor and tell you exactly what gives it extra flavor.

In the beautiful study which they recently built onto their home, I saw an impressive-looking manuscript on such subjects, written by Mr. Austin. You may see it in print some day, if you are interested in real down-to-earth subjects.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin would be a credit to any community.

Although they have already accomplished much, they are not the type to rest on their laurels, for their ambition and industry are boundless.

If they were magicians, I would have a feeling they still have plenty of rabbits in their hats – know what I mean?

Meanwhile they are looking forward to a good year for their fruit farm – they believe this winter was an ideal one for the trees and everything points to a year of top production.

Ladies squeak by Elks

BY RICH CLARK, Sports Writer

The girl's varsity basketball team, led by Amanda Pepin, with a strong team effort in the fourth quarter defeated the hometown Elk Rapids Elks 45-37, Oct. 17.

Pepin had 21 points, 11 rebounds, and three assists for the Devils. Dayle Looze pitched in with seven points and Kelly Woodard had four assists and six boards.

The game was close all the way with the score tied after the first quarter. East Jordan held the lead by one point at the half, and also at the end of the third quarter.

Woodard came off the bench with good passes and Sara Malpass had two big baskets in the final quarter to help ice the game. The whole team played well in the final two minutes of the game.

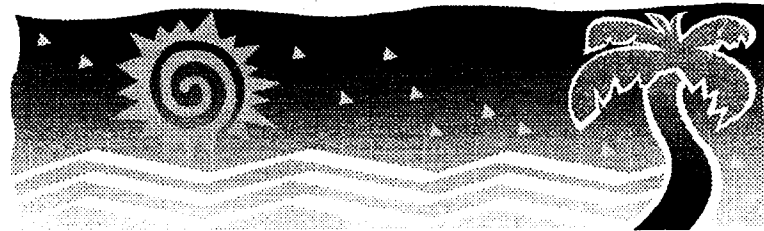

Coach Steve Hines was understandably happy with the victory.

"It was nice for us to get the win after the big loss to Kalkaska," he said.

With the win, the Lady Devils improve their record to 9-5, while Elk Rapids remains winless at 0-11.

The JV Lady Devils weren't so fortunate, taking a loss to the Elks, 50-30. Jenny Goebel led all JV scorers with 18 points.

Hunting information stations open Nov. 11-14

The Department of Natural Resources will host Fire-arm Deer Season Information Stations again this year in St. Ignace, Clare and Cadillac. Conservation officers and wildlife biologists will be available at three locations to provide hunters with deer hunting literature and answer questions about deer concentrations, hunting prospects, regulations, and places to hunt and camp.

St. Ignace, Department of Transportation Welcome Center (I-75 at the Mackinac Bridge) - Nov. 12-14, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Clare, Mackie Welcome Center (9599 U.S. 27) - Nov. 12-14, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Cadillac, Carl T. Johnson Center (Mitchell State Park) - Nov. 11-12, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"At these information stations, hunters will have an opportunity to talk with DNR conservation officers and wildlife biologists about the 1995 deer season," said former DNR director Roland Harnes. "We expect this to be an excellent year for deer hunting."

This year in Michigan, an estimated 700,000 hunters are expected to harvest 280,000 deer, including 180,000 antlered bucks, during the Nov. 15-30, fire-arm deer hunting season. As of Oct. 1, Michigan's deer population is estimated at between 1.8 and 2.0 million.
