

East Jordan students "enlist" in Union Army

BY IRENA GRANAAS
Journal Editor

On May 15, life as a soldier in the Union Army during America's Civil War became much more than a history book lesson for students at East Jordan Middle School.

Students participated in a special program by Michael Deren, an Ann Arbor resident who puts on enrichment programs for schools called "The Past in Person." While Deren talked about life as a soldier over 100 years ago, students in grades 7 and 8 were "inducted" into the Union Army, learning to assemble, march and follow orders.

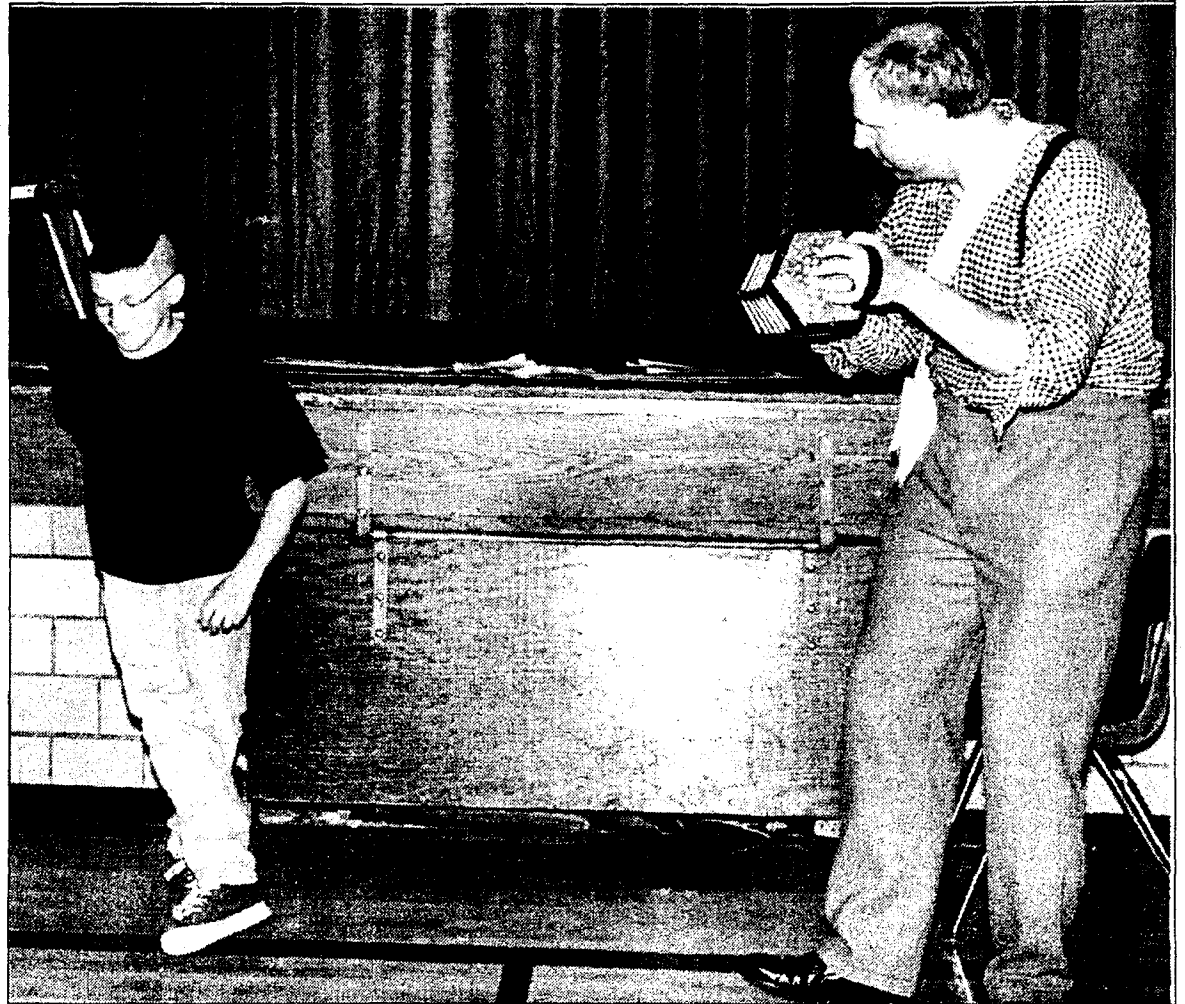

Teachers played their "sergeants," responsible for disciplining their troops. Some who couldn't stop giggling or who broke other rules found themselves marched away to stand against the wall - but they kept on smiling!

Deren related many details about life as a Civil War soldier. Students learned because of a cotton shortage, Union soldiers marched in wool uniforms summer and winter, even in 100-degree southern heat; and that diseases, heat exhaustion and infections killed more soldiers than combat.

He played various period instruments and led his "army" in song with ditties about hard tack and other elements of a soldier's life.

The program was about one hour long, but it was one students won't soon forget!

IN BETWEEN BATTLES soldiers battled boredom with songs and dances. At left student Jon Neumann performs an Irish Jig as Michael Deren provides musical accompaniment on the concertina.

A SOLDIER'S LIFE includes plenty of marching, as these East Jordan Middle School students found out while participating in a Civil War enrichment program.

AUTHENTIC REGALIA such as that worn by Steve Antoine at a previous pow-wow will be seen again this year, along with exciting traditional dances.

Grandvue takes next step toward Alzheimer's unit; meeting May 29

Grandvue Medical Care Facility invites residents, family members and any interested community members to attend an informational meeting Wed., May 29, at 7 p.m.

The topic will be a planned Alzheimer's unit. Citizens will have an opportunity at the meeting to ask questions and meet with the medical care facility's governing board and management to clarify details about the planned unit. Grandvue is at 1728 S. Peninsula Rd. in East Jordan.

"Grandvue is expecting to have approval of their application for a Certificate of Need (CON) for a 20-bed Alzheimer unit," announced Grandvue Administrator Penny Drury recently. "After our CON is approved, we're probably looking at a minimum of six months until final renovations are approved by the Michigan Department of Health."

Drury noted Grandvue submitted the CON application in February 1994, and has received preliminary approval. The facility is now waiting to draft a settlement with the Attorney General.

Currently, Grandvue has a 73-bed skilled unit and a supervised residential care (SRC) unit of 27

Pow Wow slated for June 1-2

Again this year, the Anishinabe Inter-Tribal Council, Inc. will hold the annual Day of the Eagle Pow-Wow in East Jordan on Sat., June 1 and Sun., June 2.

Visitors can expect much traditional dancing and musicians, and there will be traders, food and refreshments in a festive atmosphere. This year the pow-wow will be held at Boswell Field

(the old fairgrounds), located on M-32 about one-half mile north of C-48.

Featured Head Veteran Dancer is slated to be Wash-Esh-Kom. Adult admission is $5, senior admission is $3, and children 5 and under are free.

More pow-wow details will be included in next week's edition as they become available.

Grandvue takes next step toward Alzheimer's unit

beds. The SRC wing is to be converted to the Alzheimer unit. Drury explained the changes reflect a rapidly growing need for care for Alzheimer's patients. "The SRC is licensed under the Family Independence Agency and was designed to provide assisted living," Drury said. "Assisted living is intended for a person who remains quite functionally independent and mentally competent, but is no longer able to live alone. The SRC was originally intended to serve persons who were quite ambulatory, not incontinent and able to identify their own medications and able to take transportation for outings or appointments on their own. "Grandvue currently has a population that reflects approximately 63 percent with a diagnosis of Alzheimer's Disease or related dementia, and this is projected to increase to 80 percent by the year 2000," Drury continued. "The fastest-growing segment of the population in the United States is those over 85, and of those, nearly half will suffer from some form of dementia, according to the Alzheimer's Association." Given the expected demand for services, Grandvue expects the Alzheimer's unit to be full from the beginning and to have a waiting list, said Drury. "The new unit will greatly benefit both the Alzheimer patient and the alert resident," she said. "Both groups have different needs and would be better served in separate areas. The converted unit will feature a more home-like environment. The current nursing station will be removed. "Clinical charts, the call bell system and medications will be stored in wall units resembling a home office. The kitchen will be enlarged to become the focal point of many activities, much like we have in our own homes," Drury continued. "There will be a secured garden with a walking path added to help meet the need of the residents to wander during the early stages. The garden area will incorporate activities such as pitching horse shoes, bird feeding, tending flower gardens and hanging out clothes to dry." As part of CON requirements, the unit will also participate in research to incorporate and study the effects of music therapy on specific behaviors. This will be accomplished through singing and playing instruments, especially repeated rhythms with drums.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE
God's Banner Leads the Way
"And Moses built an altar and called the name of it, 'THE LORD is my banner, saying, 'A hand upon the banner of the Lord.'"
— Exodus 17: 15
Banners, flags, pennants, crests, coats of arms all came into being as a means of identifying a leader or a group which clansmen or warriors could follow. Moses knew that the people he had led out of bondage were God's chosen, but he was also aware that they would have many battles and trials before they reached the Promised Land and would need a rallying symbol to guide them. The gesture of "a hand upon the banner" emphasized the fealty Moses and his people gave to the Lord. God's banner embraces many more people than it did at the time of the Exodus yet there is always room for those who would share its shelter and pledge themselves to serve in its cause.

WHAT'S COOKING

Recipes designed in the kitchen of Debbie Chappuies, with East Jordan cooks in mind

While everyone else is in the woods hunting for Morels, I'm in the grocery store buying Portabella mushrooms. I've never really developed a taste for those delicate Morels, but I certainly have for Portabellas. The first time I picked up a package, there was a claim printed on the label that said they will taste like beef. I'm thinking "No way" and sure enough, you take a bite of one and it tastes like a regular ole mushroom. I didn't stop there however, even though I had strong doubts. After all, I had a recipe I was curious to try and to my utter amazement, once you grill or broil those babies, they really do take on a 'beef-like' quality and are simply wonderful. There's no need to get fancy or complicated with Portabellas. They are packaged whole or sliced and you handle them the same way. All you need to do is brush olive oil (very healthy) on each side along with a little salt (optional). Place them on the grill or broiler for about 8 minutes, turning once. I have served them along with steak but they are also great with meatless spaghetti. The 'recipe' I have today is really just a serving suggestion, but for those who must have a recipe in hand, it will get you started. I hope you will give Portabellas a try and will come to love them as much as I do. (My beverage of choice with Portabellas is either a nice Cabernet or a good beer.)

PORTABELLA SANDWICHES

Use quantities for amount of servings needed. Slice French or Italian bread into 1/2" slices. Brush both sides with olive oil and rub with minced garlic. Slice a tomato into 1/8 to 1/4" slices. Brush olive oil on both sides of either sliced or whole Portabella mushrooms and lightly salt. Using a grill or broiler, cook bread until crusty, tomatoes until heated through and mushrooms for about 8 minutes, turning once. Remove from cooking source. Place 1 slice of tomato on bread and sprinkle on a little more olive oil; salt & pepper if you wish. Then place one whole or 2-3 slices of mushrooms on tomato and top with another piece of bread. Enjoy! You could also add fresh sprouts and/or a slice of your favorite mild, white cheese. Experiment and make this your own creation. This is good stuff!

JVs come from behind to earn win

BY RICH CLARK

The East Jordan Red Devils girls softball team started out slow, but rallied big time in the second game of a double header.

They split two games against the Elk's of Elk Rapids by scores of 4-14 and 26-15.

Game one was not pretty. Terise Cutler and Kristine Nelson combined to hurl 11 walks, 11 hits and two strikeouts, while the offense sputtered getting only two hits, one each by Nelson and Sara Boyer.

The second game started out like the first. The Devils struggled as a team, but also made a remarkable comeback as a team. After one and a half innings, the scoreboard read 15-5 in favor of the Elks.

East Jordan started their comeback by getting six runs in the second inning and 10 more in the third.

The pitching and defense stepped up as well, blanking the Elks for the rest of the game enroute to their 26-15 win.

Jill Ciszewski and Betsey Banfield combined for the win. Both also helped their cause with Ciszewski getting two doubles and a single, while Banfield belted two singles. Becky O'Rear hit a single and a double. Andrea Derenzy, April Bergmann and Corrie Mayhew also contributed with a hit each.

Lady Devils place second in tourney

BY RICH CLARK
Journal Sports Writer

The East Jordan girls varsity softball team placed second at their own tournament May 11, falling 5-11 to the Pellston Hornets in both teams' third and final game.

East Jordan defeated the Ellsworth Lancers 16-6 and Sault Ste. Marie Chiefs 9-2 in their earlier games.

Heather McLaren pitched for the Devils in game one against the Lancers. She gave up seven hits, six walks and seven strikeouts in the win over Ellsworth pitcher Jenny Drenth. Heather Jackson was on fire, swatting four hits. Charissa Gulotta added two hits and McLaren helped her cause with two singles as well.

Amelia Fleming had a triple and a single. Kelly Woodard and Raissa Schroeder added a double each.

Game two of the day saw Pellston down Sault Ste. Marie 10-0 and turn around in game three to get a 14-13 win over Ellsworth.

Game four was all Devils, with a 9-2 win over the Sault. Angie Snyder gave up four hits, eight walks and collected two strikeouts in a complete game win.

Amelia Fleming led the attack with two doubles and a single. Kelly Woodard hit a double and a single. Snyder, Raissa Schroeder, Kyle Krause and Heather McLaren had a hit each.

Game five was won by Sault Ste. Marie 11-1 over the Ellsworth Lancers. Hall pitched the win, VanSteden suffered the loss.

The final game was the one for the trophy. Pellston rode pitcher Elaine Readmond to the win as she gave up five hits, four walks and eight strikeouts. McLaren pitched the loss with six hits, 11 walks and six strikeouts. Kyle Krouse smacked two singles. Schroeder hit a double, and Jackson and Fleming each had a single.

"The tournament went really well," said Red Devil Coach Meg Fowler. "Our girls showed a lot of enthusiasm all day. All of the teams displayed excellent sportsmanship. I wish Mother Nature had been a little friendlier. (The wind chill was about 25 degrees. Everyone seemed to have a good time.)"

Lady JVs fall to Blazers

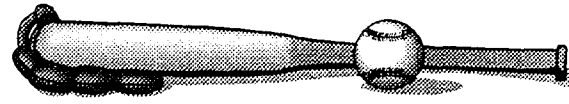

BY RICH CLARK
Journal Sports Writer

The East Jordan girls JV softball team lost both games of a doubleheader to Kalkaska Blazers by scores of 2-15 and 18-20 despite an offensive surge in game two.

In game one, Betsey Banfield pitched in the 2-15 loss. She tossed three stikeouts, allowed six hits and 11 free passes. Ember Ransom, Corrie Mayhew, Sara Boyer and Michelle Meads collected a hit each for the Devil offense. Anderia Loose pitched the win for Kalkaska.

Game two found a change in the Devil offense on the plus side, as nine players had at least one hit. It just wasn't enough as East Jordan fell two runs short.

Kristina Nelson pitched for the Devils. She gave up eight hits and 14 walks, with three strikeouts. Nelson also helped the cause with two doubles, Jill Ciszewski bagged a double and a single, Terise Cutler nailed two singles and Betsey Banfield legged out a double. Becky O'Rear, Sara Boyer, Andrea Derenzy, Ember Ransom, and Margaret Whiteford picked up a hit each. Tiffany Kleinow and Nicolle Hein pitched in the victory for the Blazers.
