

AN EYE-CATCHING artist's booth draws a passerby in close at a previous Portside Arts Fair exhibit.

Portside Arts Fair opens Aug. 3

The works of 100 local and visiting artists will be on display Sat., Aug. 3 and Sun., Aug. 4, at the 34th annual Portside Arts Fair, held at Elm Pointe Estate.

The estate is located on North M-66 Highway, East Jordan. Saturday's events begin at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m., while Sunday fair hours are from noon to 5 p.m.

This year's Arts Fair is dedicated to the late George Secord. (Editor's note: see related article in this issue.)

"People can visit from the water this year, because of the sand bar; it's shallow enough to wade in," said Portside Arts Fair Committee member Laura Hansen.

"That's a real unique aspect."

Returning artists at this year's fair include David and June Otis of Otis Pottery, East Jordan; Linda and Jerry Aydloft; Ron Abfalder; Kathy Leist; and Penny Pepin, all of East Jordan; and Cara Hockhalter of Charlevoix.

"And the fair will feature many new artists, many of whom are local, and numerous other favorites," said Hansen.

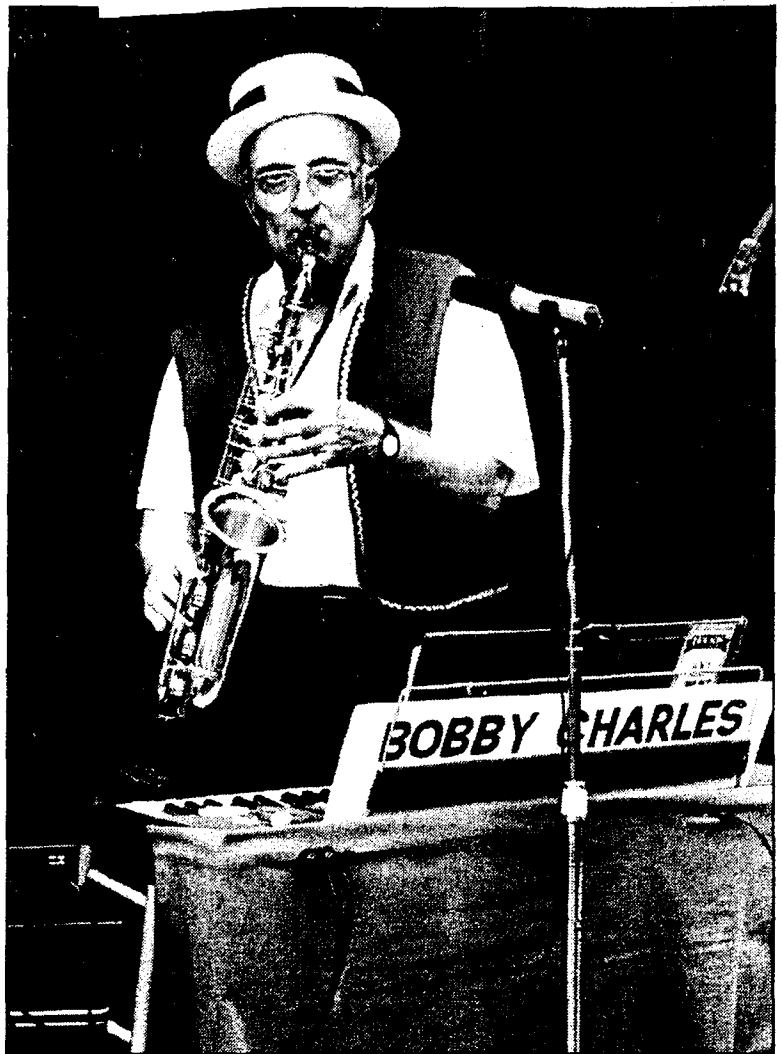

Media include pottery, watercolor, jewelry, wood carving, basketry, photography, gourds and walking sticks, bird feeders and bird baths, oils, mixed media, kaleidoscopes and blown glass.

"This will be one of the biggest fairs ever. For the past three years, we've been at full capacity," said Hansen. "This year, our local Boy Scout Troop will do a flag-raising each day and will also take it down each day."

At the Cyg Riley Art Gallery on Saturday until noon, each artist has a chance to enter one piece to be judged.

Two cash prizes will be awarded, and the winning art pieces will become property of the museum.

Refreshments including soft drinks, hot dogs, sloppy joes and pies will be available.

New museum exhibit honors George Secord

BY IRENA GRANAAS
Journal Editor

A gentle man whose legacy remains in the hearts of many in the East Jordan area is the focus of a new exhibit at the East Jordan Historical Society Museum.

The largely photographic tribute to the late George Norman Secord (1909 - 1994) opened July 18 with an ice-cream social at the museum site at Elm Pointe, East Jordan. Many of those who attended were friends of Secord, and everyone agreed he was an easy man to like.

The photo exhibit and video will be on display all summer. The Aug. 3 and 4 Portside Arts Fair is also dedicated to Secord's memory. (Editor's note: see related story in this issue.)

"What better way to honor this man than to pay tribute to his legacy and to the many contributions he has made to East Jordan in his lifetime?" said Portside Arts Committee member Lynn Carson, who with the help of East Jordan Historical Society and members put the exhibit together. "We wanted to give you, George's friends, the first opportunity to see it. I remember George with humor and wit, as many of you do, and I just wanted you to enjoy the exhibit."

Among guests at the exhibit's premiere was Aura Stevenson, Secord's first cousin, who remembers him well.

"George was very easy-going and easy to please. He loved food, and until the last few years, never put on a pound," she said.

Virginia Stocker, who was born and raised in East Jordan, said, "He was a good friend, a good dancer. We dated a lot."

"I knew George for about 20 years, and he was a real wit. He was such a joy," said Carson. "Anything in his home was available to anyone who needed it. He was the most generous man."

A tribute to Secord by Ontario artist Carol Wald describes Secord as a "gentle soul who was intrigued by history and who was a dedicated archivist."

Wald described how as an "artist in residence" and guest at Secord's home one summer, she was able to create 40 canvases.

Petrie lands school construction job

BY IRENA GRANAAS
Journal Editor

The East Jordan Board of Education has approved the bid of Petrie Construction of East Jordan in the amount of $4.09 million for construction of the district's new middle school.

The approval came at a July 26 special meeting. Petrie submitted the low bid of four submitted. Other bids were $5.09 million from Comstock Construction Company; $4.83 million from DeVere Construction Company; and $4.8 million from RCL Construction.

The bid came in about 10 percent higher than anticipated, and district officials will be working with the architect and Petrie Construction to adjust the project's design to accommodate the budget. The board discussed the design review and determined the product of such a review must not in any form compromise the instructional integrity of the building or the long-term care and maintenance of the facility.

Superintendent Chip Hansen noted the project's budget was determined nearly 18 months ago. He indicated that overall, the entire budget, which includes the new middle school, the high school addition, renovations to the existing elementary school and a substantial amount of instructional technology, is just four percent off initial projections.

"Considering the effects of inflation and the current construction market, we've done pretty well," said Hansen.

■ Staff hired, printers purchased

In other action, the board appointed Michelle Bergquist to the sixth-grade language arts teaching position.

The board also approved the purchase of 28 assorted printers at a bid price of $11,605. The successful bid was submitted by Computerland of Traverse City.

The printers will support the computers that were recently purchased and will be installed in classrooms in the elementary and high schools.

MINGLING AND LISTENING to music (above) provided a relaxing interlude before the official dedication of the tribute to George Secord.

Carson said Secord was an integral part of the East Jordan Historical Society and Portside.

"You could always count on George - he was kind of the curator (of the museum). He had a wide range of interests ... He loved the arts and he loved artists."

Carson noted those who put the exhibit together were well aware of Secord's habit of referring to the East Jordan Historical Society as "The Hysterical Society." Sharp-eyed visitors can spot the name on one of the photo credit plaques.

Secord's friends are sure he's smiling over that one.

National recording artist booked for Portside Arts Fair

Mark Handler, psychologist and national recording artist, will be performing selections from his Tender Passions musical album at the Portside Arts Fair Aug. 3-4, in East Jordan at the Elm Pointe Estate.

The fair hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. for both Saturday and Sunday. Handler's style is characterized by soft, soothing music through the use of a piano, string instruments, and a flute. His primary concept behind Tender Passions was to develop an album which would be an absorbing journey and which draws listeners into its deep soothing and calming effects.

Let pony ride owners tell their side

WE CAN CERTAINLY sympathize with Michelle Bos and her reaction to the pony rides at the East Jordan Freedom Festival.

Unfortunately, animal abuse does exist, and as intelligent and sensitive people we should do all we can to eliminate it, if it is indeed abuse. It is truly unfortunate if it should happen at such a celebration as the Freedom Festival. We were not there, so we don't really know.

This brings us to the point of our letter. Michelle Bos did not identify the pony rides in question. Since there are very few in our area, I have had to endure a few questions.

At Party Ponies we try to provide an environment that is safe and fun for children and ponies, and our customers know that. But for the information of all our future and yet unknown customers, we did not have the pleasure of entertaining at the Freedom Festival this year.

Perhaps Michelle could go one step further and contact the pony ride in question; maybe it would alleviate some of her concerns.

Sport club adds archery range

Now it's not just rifle users who can be catered to at the Jordan River Sportsman's Club.

The club, which was established in 1933, has a rifle range, and now, club member Steve Olds has announced the club has added an archery range.

"We've decided to add the archery. There's a lot of archery out there and we want to serve our members and guests better," he said. "It's a little bit of something for everyone."

The club, located about 1.5 miles north of East Jordan on Boyne City-Advance Road, has 102 current members and is open to new members. Contact Steve Olds at 536-0115 or 536-2062 for information.

Chamber float undergoes face-lift

The community of East Jordan will be well-represented at area festivals and parades this summer with a majestic float "fit for royalty," said East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Mary Faculak.

"The East Jordan Chamber of Commerce float recently underwent a major renovation and face-lift to get ready for the summer festival season," she said "The chamber spent just over $600 to purchase materials to revamp the ailing float."

Faculak expressed the chamber's heartfelt thanks to float repair volunteers on the committee chaired by Linda and Bill Chase and Cele and Bob Malpass: Scott Beal, Sara Chase, Jenny Malpass, Angie and Scott Nachazel and Mike and Shelly Peterson.

"Also, special recognition was given to Roger Bolser of East Jordan, who graciously stepped forward after a two-year search to pull the float for the chamber and community in all seven parades this year," said Faculak.

"All of these individuals have helped to make East Jordan shine even brighter throughout the region and to make our queen Angela Snyder and her court's reign even more memorable," she said.

WHAT'S COOKING

Recipes designed in the kitchen of Debbie Chappuies, with East Jordan cooks in mind.

I don't prepare or eat desserts very often, so when I do, I want something very yummy. One of my favorites is English Trifle. The recipe I have for you today is the calorie laden version, but I confess I could still eat the whole thing in one sitting! I do have a low fat version which I will share another time. Whether you try this one or wait for the low fat version, I hope you receive lots of pleasure from the preparation and especially the eating!

English Trifle

- 1 angel food or pound cake
- 1 6-serving size package instant vanilla pudding mix
- 2 1/2 cups milk
- 1 cup half and half or light cream
- 2/3 cup sherry
- 1 quart fresh whole raspberries or sliced strawberries (you may also combine berries, or use other fruits such as kiwi, cherries, blueberries or bananas)
- 1/2 cup sliced almonds
- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- 1 tbsp. sifted powdered sugar
- 1 tbsp. cream sherry

Prepare pudding according to package directions using the milk and cream for the liquid (you will be using more liquid than the package calls for.)

Arrange 1/3 of the cake in the bottom of a 3-quart serving bowl. Drizzle 1/3 of the 2/3 cup sherry over the cake. Top with 1/3 of the fruit and sprinkle 1/3 of the almonds on top. Repeat two more layers. Cover and refrigerate for 3 to 24 hours.

When ready to serve, whip together the whipping cream, powdered sugar and remaining cream sherry until stiff peaks form. Dollop on trifle and garnish with additional fruit if you like.

COUNT ALMAVIVA declares his love for Rosina during a rehearsal of "The Tale of the Barber of Seville." The count and Rosina are played by Jake Ryan and Becky Stevens.

Cast announced for new musical play

A cast of 14 will present the new musical play, The Tale of the Barber of Seville, an adaptation of Gioacchino Rossini's 1775 comic opera, as the second production of Jordan River Arts Council's fifth annual children's theatre festival.

Stage veteran Jake Ryan will portray the romantic count Almaviva, who disguises himself both as a drunken soldier and a music student to get near Rosina, with whom he is hopelessly in love. Ryan was Tamino in The Magic Flute and Rochefort in The Three Musketeers, both productions by Jordan River Players, the arts council's theatrical arm. He was Horace Vandergelder in Hello Dolly and Evelyn Oakleigh in Anything Goes, both East Jordan Thespians productions.

Rosina will be played by Becky Stevens, who was Princess Petaluma in JRP's The Princess and the Pea. Her guardian Bartolo, who schemes to keep the lovers apart, will be played by Paul Teske, who has had roles in five JRP productions. The barber Figaro will be Jim Nowka, who starred as the boy in JRP's The Boy Who Left Home.

Laura Borths and Patrick Teske are Berta and Ambrosius, Bartolo's servants, and Nichole Moblo is Fiorella, the count's servant. Ellie Priest is Basilio, the music master whose appearances interfere with the disguises the count uses to get near to Rosina.

Playing dual roles as musicians and guards are Jenny Dean, Amber Gettel, Ryan Gettel, Alynne Hillaker, Heather Stevens and Jeremy Scott, who also plays an attorney.

The play, written by East Jordan playwright Lenore Bechtel, is directed by James Taylor McKinney, with musical director Fran Tollas and stage manager Renee Stevens. Performance music was recorded by pianist Elizabeth Humphrey, and musical assistance provided by Margaret Thomson.

Lauri Petrie, costumer, designed and sewed the 18th-century Seville costumes, with assistance from Judith Mabee.

Performances will be at 7 p.m. Thurs., Aug. 8, and Sat., Aug. 10, and 2 p.m. Sun., Aug. 11. Tickets, available at the door 30 minutes prior to curtain, are $4 for adults and $2 for children.

The production is partially funded by grants from Charlevoix County Community Foundation and Malpass Family Fund.

Foundation increases support of local programs

Efforts ranging from emergency rescue and environmental awareness programs to parks, playgrounds, and public libraries have been given extra help from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation.

The local charitable organization and its Youth Advisory Committee recently announced grants totaling more than $38,000 to support a variety of programs benefiting residents throughout the county.

"Thanks to the generosity of many donors, our grants took a big jump this year," said Mike Stowe, president of the foundation. "As our foundation has grown, our grantmaking capacity and our ability to address even more local needs has continued to increase. We're really excited about what we've been able to accomplish."

So far this year, the Charlevoix County Community Foundation has pumped $128,900 into the area in support of recreation, human services, the arts, education enrichment, land preservation and civic improvement. That figure represents an 81 percent increase over last year's grant awards for the same time period. Since it began in 1992, the foundation has given out more than $309,000 to local nonprofit groups.

"Now we're starting to see the lasting impact this foundation can have on a community of our size," explained Robert Tambellini, executive director of the foundation. "Our community foundation is building a significant endowment that can help the area for many, many years to come."

Some of the programs chosen to receive foundation summer grants and amount of their awards include:

- Boyer Area Gymnastics. $2,000 to purchase mats and safety pads
- Chip Counseling Center,

$2,500 to implement a treatment program targeted for batterers and those who commit acts of domestic violence

- East Jordan Cooperative Nursery, $925 to purchase equipment and educational materials

- East Jordan Public Schools, $5,000 for playground improvements and the installation of a barrier-free, modular play station

- Raven Hill Discovery Center, $2,000 to enhance exhibits and programs at the hands-on science center.

- Top of Michigan Trails Council, $2,500 toward the development of a 127-mile recreational trail connecting Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties

In addition to these awards from the foundation's general fund, grants from the Youth Fund, a special endowment designated for programs benefiting area children and families, were also announced.

Projects chosen by the Youth Advisory Committee, made up of teens representing each high school in the county, and their amounts are:

- Boyer City Little League Association, $3,000 to develop baseball field facilities

- Boyer City Parks and Recreation, $2,000 for equipment to maintain the 4-H ice hockey arena

- Char-Em Housing Coalition, $500 to sponsor a home for the annual Paint Blitz

- Char-Em ISD Spirit Camp, $3,000 to support the day camp for special-ed and developmentally challenged children

- East Jordan Public Schools, $500 for Summer Sci-Tech Camp serving elementary school age students

- Grand Traverse Regional Land Conservancy, $1,700 to produce educational materials for the St. Clair/Six Mile Lake Natural Area

- Raven Hill Discovery Center, $2,135 for development of an electromagnetic spectrum and fluorescence hands-on exhibit

- Top of Michigan Trails Council, $2,500 to support the tri-county recreational trails system

The foundation will review funding requests from area nonprofit organizations and make grants again in the fall. More information about the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and its grantmaking activities is available by calling (616)536-2440, or writing P.O. Box 718, East Jordan, MI 49727.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

So the Blind Might See

"Can a blind man lead a blind man? Will they not both fall into a pit?" — Luke 6:39

Most of us are inclined to be opinionated, to think that our way is best. We feel that others should follow our example — even when we are wrong. Yet as Jesus pointed out in His parable, we are like the blind man leading another blind man. Clinging can only bring disaster to both parties. That doesn't mean that we can't learn and in time be capable of teaching others. Yet so can they do likewise. The true measure of a person's ability to lead is to first learn to follow. We must also learn the guidelines for living with and loving our fellow beings. And what better guide is there for clearing the mist from one's eyes than the words of Jesus as He taught us to venerate God and respect one another?

Jordan Valley Library renovations unveiled

Patrons of the Jordan Valley District Library had an opportunity to check out the recent $170,000 renovation at a July 22 Open House.

"We renovated the whole inside with new furniture," said library director Dawn Pringle. "The renovation project has been such a great improvement for the library — it has been so much more efficient for staff as well as the community. We are now ready to meet the growing needs of our community."

The architect was Fekete Designs of Royal Oak, and Joseph Skop Builder was the general contractor. Changes include lighter colors, a more open layout, and replacement of the old card catalogues by a computer system with five public-access terminals.

At the open house, the library board presented a letter of appreciation to the Malpass Foundation, which donated the new library in 1989. The donation permitted the library to budget and save for the automation and renovation project over several years without any additional cost to taxpayers.

Future plans include the addition of the children's holdings and full-text magazine articles on the computers, additional computers, Internet access and a library home page on the World Wide Web

A gathering of generations

Elementary students place in state track meet

Courtney Hammond, Willie Skrocki and a relay team of Tiffannie Bearden, Christy Steuer, Jillian Derenzy and Hammond became the first East Jordan Elementary students to place in the State Hershey Track and Field Youth Program in Howell.

This is the second year East Jordan has attended the meet, held the second Friday in July. Tied for first place in the 9-to-10-year-old long jump, with a 6-foot, 1-inch jump, Hammond was awarded an overall third-place finish.

In order to break a tie, the judges looked at the second best jumps out of their three attempts. Courtney was also a member of the fifth-place 9- to 10-year-old girls 4 by 100 relay team.

Steuer was the lead runner, followed by Derenzy. Anchoring the last 25 meters was Bearden.

Willie Skrocki threw a distance of 108 feet in the boys 9- to 10-year-old softball throw. That was good enough for a an eighth-place overall finish.

Each of the students was awarded a medal, with their name announced while on a standing platform, just as in the Olympics. The East Jordan students qualified through basic track and field events such as running, jumping and throwing in home town meets, which East Jordan held in May.

First-place winners at the state level are then compared to the times and distances for designated regional areas. Best performances then qualify for the National Hershey Track Meet North American Finals, which incorporates Ontario, Canada.

East Jordan students have to leave home the day before because the meet starts at 8:30 a.m. in Howell. Some children go with their parents but the school system provides transportation with an overnight stay in St. Johns.

Physical education teachers Jamie Smith stated that many students ride the bus because of the excitement of cook-outs, playground fun and the sleep-over in an elementary school. She also noted last year's trip was a real eye-opener.

"Students were amazed at how fast some of the downstate runners were, especially those who belonged to summer track clubs," Smith said. "This year, I was very proud of all the students who attended and represented East Jordan."

Others who competed were Danell Brooks, Samantha Callaway, Matt Weisler, Jessica Malfrid, Kevin Whiteford, Jessica Skop, Joe Sievertson, Nina Romera, Jim Gee, Patrick Teske, Scott Wiltjer, Ryanne McClung, David Lawson, Claire Niewedorp, Di Anna Bearden and Amanda McMicheal.

The Hershey Track and Field Youth Program is sponsored by the Hershey Food Corporation, located in Hershey, Pa.

A TEAM EFFORT paid off for East Jordan members of the 9-10-year-old girls 4 by 100 relay team and resulted in fifth-place medals for the quartet. From left are Christy Steuer, Tiffannie Bearden, Courtney Hammond (who also placed third in the long jump) and Jillian Derenzy.

"To The Retiree Who Wants To Protect Their Money, Income, And Assets From Being Wiped Out!"

Retirees who have not set up proper strategies can have all of their net worth wiped out when someone in the family goes into a nursing home. The government can literally make you spend down your CDs, savings, investments, IRAs...you name it!

One of the biggest myths around is that Medicare will pay for nursing home expenses. This is completely WRONG! In fact, Medicare usually pays NOTHING towards the costs of staying in a long term facility! YOU are responsible for every dime of long term care expenses! Many people think that Medicaid will pick up the costs of being in a nursing home. That's true. But, they will only pay after you've lost just about everything you own! You have to be broke before they kick in a dime!

Your home soon will be a countable asset. They can take your Social Security and pension checks, and have them direct deposited to THEM! They can attach to your IRAs, CDs...anything! Don't let this happen to you. You need the information that will teach you how to avoid being a victim of our government's awful secret. You can learn what you need to know by getting a FREE copy of a new report called, "How To Protect Your Life's Savings From Being Taken By Medicaid!" You can get your copy by calling 1-800-575-3459, 24 hrs., for a FREE recorded message.
