East Jordan, Michigan

In his short time on the job, interim administrator David White has found East Jordan is ...

'Moving on and moving forward'

While the decision over the proper protection of Sportsman's Park has not yet been made, city officials hope that they are closer to a solution.

"At the city commission meeting we presented the idea of a dusk to dawn closing of the park," said interim city administrator David White. "We have to do something to try to prevent further vandalism, and I don't know if this is the solution, but I think it is worth a try."

The suggestion will now be presented in ordinance form for further review by the committee.

Although White has been working on the Sportsman's Park situation, he has also had his hands full getting to know the daily workings of East Jordan.

Six weeks into his term as interim city administrator, White has been pleased to see that the community is moving on and moving forward.

"Over time, we have had a lot of studies and reviews done in this town," White said. "And I think it's time to put those ideas into action."

Since White has been in East

Jordan, he has been overwhelmed by the potential he has seen. "There are nothing but opportunities in East Jordan," he said.

"Coming in, I had the impression that this was a fighting community, who wasn't getting anything done. But I don't find that at all. It is a community that has been wounded, but wants to move forward. A community that is tired of only the bad news getting out into the surrounding areas, who is ready to get the good news out."

White adds that he is encouraged to see this desire to move forward, and is eager to help the community get things done.

"I enjoy city administrator work. Nine times out of ten a city administrator is brought in from the outside and given the ultimate authority to change the community. My job is to find out what this community wants, and do it."

Within the course of this week, White and his wife will decide if they want to apply for the permanent city administrator position. Applications for the position are due by Friday, Oct. 4.

Loyalty. For many it is only a lofty virtue, but for some it is an integral part of life.

For Mary Faculak, loyalty is the defining word for the way she manages her heritage, her career, and her community.

As a Charlevoix native, East Jordan business owner, and chamber of commerce director, Faculak has made loyalty to her commitments a way of life.

In her heart, Faculak is a country girl, which is nowhere more evident than at her third generation family farm in Charlevoix. It is here that she has learned to raise and race quarter horses, in both barrel and straight races.

"Barrel racing helped put me through college, and it has always been a real release for me," Faculak said. "I plan on getting back into competitive racing again some day."

Faculak's loyalty to her six registered quarter horses and the numerous dogs and cats on her farm have made them number one on her list of priorities and commitments, but have provided enjoyment and relaxation as well, making her home a haven.

Faculak's career as a business owner grew out of an interest she discovered while she was working for an area publication.

"My route covered eight counties, and I remember stopping in East Jordan and wandering into the E.J. Shoppe," Faculak said. "I thought that the shop was very cute, which I remembered a couple of months later when I read that the shop was up for sale."

Although Faculak had retail experience, her primary attraction to the store came after she witnessed the loyalty of the East Jordan customers.

"I walked into the store unannounced and overheard a customer hoping that the store wouldn't have to close," recalls Faculak. "She mentioned how important the store was to the community, and I was so impressed by this obvious customer loyalty and dedication that I was sold."

After purchasing the store, Faculak assisted during the transition between owners and immediately felt attracted to the community. "It just felt right, right from the beginning," Faculak said.

It wasn't long before Faculak was settled into her new community and she began to do what she does best — get involved.

"The first committee that I served on was the Miss East Jordan scholarship pageant," Faculak said.

Even though she found great success organizing the pageant, Faculak soon directed her volunteer efforts to her first love.

Enrollment up at EJ schools

Last Friday was the fourth Friday of the school year, making it a crucial day for area schools and their budgets for the upcoming year.

Total East Jordan enrollment is 1,283 for the Friday count. Individual enrollment at the elementary school is 634, middle school 300, and high school 349.

"Compared to last year, we are up 17 students at the elementary level, down 13 in the middle school, and up 28 students at the High School," said East Jordan superintendent Chip Hansen.

In Boyne City, the enrollment numbers are up from last year -- in all three schools.

For the 1996-97 school year, the first Friday count was 515 students in the elementary school, 461 in the middle school, and 430 in the high school. Total Boyne City Public Schools enrollment is 1,406.

Last year at this time Boyne City had 510 elementary school students; 451 middle school students, and 398 high school students - a total of 1,359.

Concord Academy Boyne has 164 students enrolled in K-9. Last year, the fourth Friday count was 160 students.

Boyer Falls enrollment is 137 students in grades K through 5, 72 students in grades 6 through 8, and 88 students in grades 9 through 12. Total enrollment is 297.

Review of zoning map and codes ready for public input

The East Jordan Planning Commission has completed the annual review of the City of East Jordan Zoning Code Text and Zoning Map.

Numerous changes have been proposed to the zoning text and two areas of the city are planned to be rezoned.

A public hearing to receive comments on the proposed text and map changes will be held on Oct. 10 at 5 p.m. in City Hall. Following this hearing, the Planning Commission will conduct its regular monthly meeting.

A copy of the proposed text and map changes is available at City Hall for review and copying during normal business hours.

Let the work begin

As the first official shovel of dirt was overturned at the new middle school, students were asked to symbolically take part in the project. Parents, teachers, students and community members gathered as Shirley Bishop, EJMS principal, summed up their feelings, "The sun may not be shining, but it's a glorious day for East Jordan!" Students turning over the first shovel full of dirt are, from left, Lisa Tallboys, Kevin Roberts, and Taryn Kolp. Back row, looking on, Matthew Malpass, Janelle Doebel, and teacher Phil Goebel.

CROP WALK IS SATURDAY

Each step helps in the fight against hunger

Many Boyne City, Charlevoix, and East Jordan residents are going to put their money (and their feet) where their mouth is this Saturday, Oct. 5.

CROP walk participants are undertaking a six-mile walk to raise money for CROP/Church World Service projects around the world, and local food pantries in their communities.

A group from each of the three cities will start their walk at 9 a.m., and after six miles, they will meet in Ironton for lunch. Boyne City participants have the special honor of taking the last leg of their journey by water, with the Ironton Ferry will carry them across Lake Charlevoix to the Congregational Church - their final destination.

Seventy-five percent of the money raised benefits Church World Service, who provide disaster aid in the United States, and work to help make people self-sufficient.

The remaining 25 percent of the money that is raised will be returned to Charlevoix County, and divided evenly among the three cities.

Money is raised by the walkers, who ask friends, family, and co-workers to sponsor them by the mile.

For more information about walking, or sponsoring a walker, call Diana Walls in Boyne City at 582-6485, or Marge Teske in East Jordan at 536-3128.

OPINION

IT'S ONLY LIFE

Teens need a place to call their own

By ROGER HUCKLE

We have a senior center, a civic center, an arts center, the health center, plenty of shopping centers and banking centers, but no permanent teen center. I've heard a lot of people talking about needing someplace for the teens to spend time together and I was very pleased to learn of the Boyne teens' initiative to create one of their own.

East Jordan used to have a teen center. It was called the DZ Den at one time and was located in what is now the Senior Center. I recall heading down there after school, getting a basket of fries and playing in eucyre or pool tournaments until closing time.

Unfortunately, teens in my day did not have very much extra spending money and, since the DZ Den was a private business, it didn't last very long. It wasn't long after it closed that the teens began hanging out on the corner of Main Street.

I think it's time the youth in our area had a permanent place to call their own. They need an environment that is free from drugs, smoking, alcohol, and gang influence - someplace their parents wouldn't mind them spending time.

The place I envision would have a soda shop/coffee house area with stage, study/meeting rooms, a game room, a media room and a chapel.

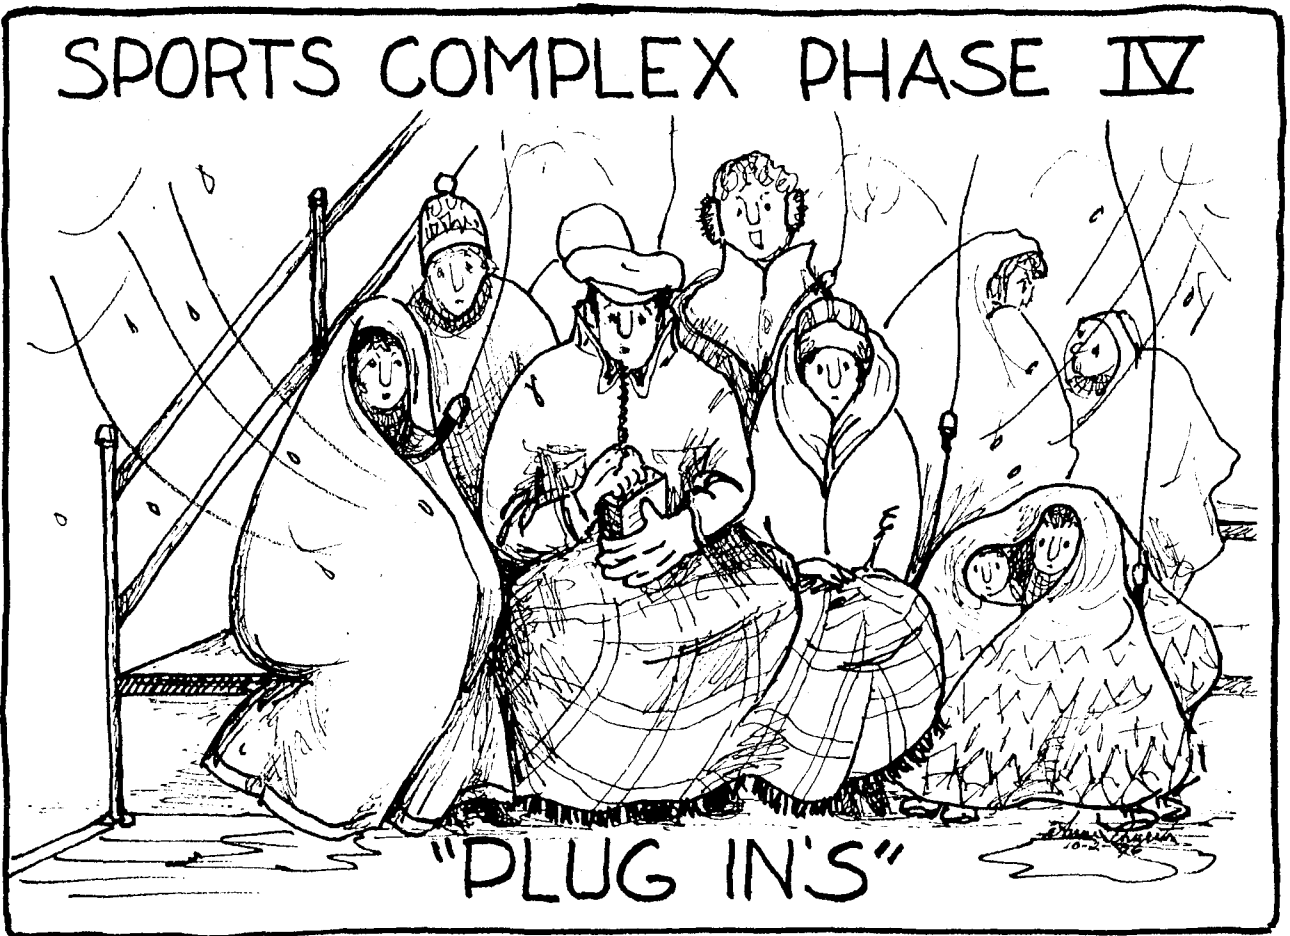

Students would become members by paying dues and contributing hours of work at the center to keep it maintained and staffed. Admission would be charged to non-members. Rooms could be rented to various organizations to generate additional revenue.

A non-profit company could be established as a vehicle to operate the center with a board of directors made up of elected teens and civic and religious leaders. A schedule of volunteer chaperons could be created, and various programs could be offered in the arts, entertainment, sports, and civics areas.

Initial funding would have to come from area foundation grants, private donations and pre-sold charter memberships with the ultimate goal of generating enough revenue to be self supporting. The only thing needed to start is a good business plan, and some good people on the Board of Directors. I'm sure the organizers could get some initial help on the business plan from groups like SCORE or the Northern Lakes Economic Alliance.

I hope there is enough interest in the area to make a good teen center a reality. A joint project of teens from both cities would be wonderful if a central location could be secured.

The only problem I foresee is trying to decorate it in both schools' colors and mascots. Maybe they could settle on red, white and blue...

A MOM'S LIFE

Garden's growing, now it's scrapbook time

By CINDI PLACE

This summer, I became a scrapbook addict.

Hobbies are a funny thing. In the very beginning when the excitement of learning a new craft is fresh, the activity can take over your life. For several months, whenever anyone in my family needed to find me, they first looked for the picture albums, then followed the trail of scraps and tape pieces until they located me.

I have found that I'm a fickle sort of person when it comes to how I spend my leisure (ha!) time. A few years ago, it was gardening. Back then, everything I did centered around my gardens. I spent the winter planning and ordering, and once the ground had thawed I was deep into dirt and manure and seeds.

But the thing about gardening is that once you've spent a few years cultivating and planning, the garden takes over and really doesn't need you anymore. Even the weeds seem to disappear. I can still enjoy the plants and flowers, but they can pretty much take care of themselves. Which makes my husband really happy; for a while there he was afraid that I was going to have him rototilling the entire yard.

Then, I learned how to hand quilt. Before I knew it, I found myself with very sore finger tips and about thirty small lap quilts with no place to go. Little, tiny pieces of calico were everywhere in our house. And stepping on pins and needles became an everyday occurrence. But after a few years I began to look for a new challenge.

I still enjoy many other hobbies, but there is always one that, for a time at least, is all-consuming. And right now, it's my children's scrapbooks. It's revealing to go back and relive the time when our children were small.

I found pictures of some young woman, a child herself really, holding a baby and then I realized with a start that the baby was my daughter and the young woman...me. When my husband and I watch a young family playing together, we can't believe that we were ever that young.

But pictures don't lie. Maybe the problem is that we can't believe that now we're this old.

It's also interesting to try and create a scrapbook for our children from the pictures that we have. Of course, we have thousands of photos of our first child. Pictures of her first roll, her first steps, ice cream, Christmas.

You name it, we snapped it. But then, this child also has a fairly complete baby book as well. When our second child was born, I did start to put information in his baby book.

And most of his really important milestones were recorded. If really pressed, I even think I could find the book somewhere in our bookshelves. And I did, honest, buy a book for our next child. Actually, it was one of those cute baby calendars where you use stickers to highlight special accomplishments. By the time our youngest son was born, I had determined that baby books were just another way of society making me feel inadequate, so you can forget this kid's milestone reminders. I'll just have to rely on my memory.

But, even though I was rather lax in putting our children's activities down on paper, I was pretty good about taking pictures. Problem was, all 16 years of them were dumped in a big box and now I was going to have to sort through them.

For our daughter, this was easy. Any pictures with the baby in a dress and the parents looking like children, had to be hers. But then it got a little harder. I had to rely on things like, well how many children were in the picture, and which house we were living in, or how long my husband's hair was, to try and figure out which baby we were holding in the picture.

There were even a few snapshots where it was a complete guess, but heck, the kid was a baby so how is he going to know whether it's him in the picture or his brother? They all look alike anyway.

Predictably, after just a few weeks, the memory book for our eldest child is beautifully complete. And I have started the next child's book. But what the hay, he doesn't graduate for a few years anyway, so what's the hurry, right?

Gregg was a great editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I visited Grandvue last Sunday afternoon (Sept. 20) since I know many people there. I inquired about Gregg Smith, former editor of the Boyne paper. They told me that he had died Saturday night.

I want to say that we have lost one of the best editors that we have ever had in this area. I worked in his office as advertising manager, and was also a news correspondent for Chandler Township.

Gregg and his wife, Margaret, really covered the entire area with human interest news. All of the townships had news correspondents. All of the churches were represented. All of the sports were represented. He had also worked with other local newspapers towards the betterment of the entire area, and wrote some very good editorials.

Gregg even got the Mushroom Festival going.

Gregg's paper served the people of the entire area in the best possible way. He will be greatly missed.

Volunteers are always welcome at schools

TO THE EDITOR:

I can't express enough how wonderful it was to see so many parents and faculty at the recent P.T.O. meeting at the Boyne City Elementary School. It would be great to see it continue throughout the year.

I would also like to say that with all the activities and events coming up during the year, VOLUNTEERS are greatly needed. I'm not sure if people are aware that volunteering doesn't always mean an all day event; one hour of volunteer time is just as precious.

It seems as if volunteers are always the same people helping over and over again and it would be wonderful to see some new faces. If you can spare just one hour or more of your time, maybe even a lunch hour, I know that it would be gratefully accepted.

If the community and the school continue to work together, just imagine all the wonderful things that could happen.

Having the itch to do some net surfing

By ELIZABETH MCKENNEY

It's 5:45 a.m. Monday. I awake with thoughts of hopping on line, just for a few minutes. But alas, I know myself better and a few minutes turns into hours oh so quickly.

With day care children arriving, lunches to pack, breakfast to serve and trying to wake two sleepy children, no time for exploring the web, at least until the bus comes.

ADDICTED: adj. devoted or given up to a practice or habit or to something habit-forming. Yes children, your mother is an addict.

Browser, plug-ins, upload, download, these are words that I love to hear. Forget the jewelry, clothes and dinners out, I want a scanner and ISDN adapter. Or maybe one of those nifty $600 graphics programs. Yes children, your mother is a geek.

Ah, the things you can do with a PC and a connection to the internet. Type in a word, any word, in that search engine and you're on your way to discovering things you never knew existed. Confused about the upcoming presidential election? Typing in: "Election '96" came up with 146,013 sites to explore. Whoa, now you're really confused, right? Not to worry, you can narrow your search to issues you feel are important, and find the candidate who supports them.

With a few strokes of the keys you can buy a new auto, sell a used auto, learn how to get that stain out of your children's T-shirt, or review the movie your children are begging to see.

E-mail, let's not forget e-mail. Send a message, write a letter, push a button and zoom - off it goes! No stamps needed, and it arrives that same day. My daughter's teacher and I use this medium to keep in touch; no notes to misplace or phone calls to interrupt.

It's the way of the future, face it, it's not a fad. Our children are going on line in their classrooms soon. I'm glad I'll be able to keep up and understand what they're learning.

Can't afford a computer? No problem. I understand our district library will have available for use some computers with connections to the internet for all to use.

Afraid of the words ram, rom, megs, bytes? Don't be, they're harmless and you will learn. The answers are all there on the WWW just waiting for you to explore.

Cyber space, to infinity and beyond! All this talk has given me the itch to do some surfin'....

(Elizabeth McKenney is a self-described Internet junkie. She lives between East Jordan and Boyne City and will be writing an occasional column on her internet adventures.)

Displaying her art

Charlevoix artist Marion Shea-Light's "Watercolors in the Barn" is currently on display at the Jordan River Arts Council Gallery, 301 Main St., East Jordan. The show continues through Friday, Oct. 11. Gallery hours are 12-4 p.m. A reception for the artist was held this past weekend at the gallery.

Walk raises a bundle for Alzheimer's Association

The Northwest Michigan Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association raised more than $10,000 from the Charlevoix Memory Walk. The top three fund-raising teams for the event, held on Sept. 14, were Grandvue Medical Care Facility, Charlevoix Respite and Charlevoix Area Hospital. Freida Russell was the top individual, raising $650, followed by Peg Crozier at $516 and Toni Lynn McWalters $250. All proceeds will benefit the 5,000 Northern Michigan residents who face the daily challenges of Alzheimer's Disease. Donations are being accepted at the Alzheimer's Association, 531 1/2 S. Union St., Traverse City, Mich., 49684.

Foundation awards soccer scholarship

A 1996 graduate of Charlevoix High School has been selected to receive the first area scholarship designated especially for soccer players. Theresa Taylor Johnson, a freshman at Olivet College, was chosen as the Alberto Moreno Memorial Scholar and awarded a $250 grant for the 1996-97 academic year. Theresa, who was captain of her soccer team, plans to study political science. She is the daughter of Judy and Dougherty Johnson. The Alberto Moreno Memorial Scholarship Fund, part of the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, was established earlier this year by local descendants of the immigrant who — although poor — instilled a love of learning in his children. Luxuries were sacrificed, but each child grew to become an accomplished, educated adult who earned an advanced college degree. The scholarship honors Mr. Moreno and seeks to encourage students who share his devotion to learning, said Robert Tambellini, executive director of the foundation. Each year, the Moreno Scholarship will be awarded to a young woman graduate of Charlevoix High School who has lettered at least one year in soccer and plans to attend a liberal arts college. The Moreno Scholarship joins several other scholarship funds held by the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. As a grassroots, community-based organization, the Foundation manages a number of charitable funds earmarked for education, the environment, civic improvement projects, and other programs that benefit the area. More information about the Community Foundation and the Moreno Scholarship Fund is available by calling 536-2440.

Chamber of Commerce," Faculak said. "Working there, I learned the importance of a chamber of commerce to the community, and I was eager to get involved in the East Jordan chamber."

For her first two years, Faculak worked on the board for the chamber of commerce, and in her second year she was chosen as the president.

Soon after, Faculak applied for the executive director position, and secured her place as a loyal and committed member of the East Jordan community.

Faculak's duties as chamber director include delegating authority and responsibility among the people that work with her, making sure that committees are formed and properly equipped to achieve their goals.

"The job is primarily people management, keeping things on track, as well as being a spokesperson for the community," Faculak said.

Although she works at the E.J. Shoppe full time, Faculak has developed a system that enables her to fulfill all of her duties.

"When I am in the shop, the customer's needs come first, but after that I'm always available."

Being available means that Faculak rarely has a free moment without a phone in her hand, or a visitor in the store, but this way of life has become easily accepted because it works.

"I enjoy my jobs, because I enjoy people," Faculak said. "For me, the ultimate reward is to have projects completed and goals met. That is both personally and professionally satisfying."

In seven short years, Faculak has become an integral part of East Jordan, for which she has been grateful.

"I have just seen East Jordan as an open frontier, full of possibilities, and it has been a gift to be part of it."

"It has been really beneficial to be both a business owner and the director of the chamber of commerce. It has helped me see and understand both sides of many concerns," said Faculak.

While working at the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce, Faculak has begun to realize the strength of working together with other organizations to achieve a common goal.

This cooperative effort has been displayed recently as the chamber of commerce worked together with the Portside Historical Society to create "East Jordan Remembers," the collection of East Jordan memories recently published.

In addition, Faculak has worked with other area chamber directors, jointly trying to attract visitors to the area.

"We realize that many visitors won't stay in one town, so we have worked with other chambers to help at least encourage them to stay in the county," Faculak said.

Keeping in touch with vacation trends as well as the needs of the community have kept Faculak busy. "I am always reading and learning."

As part of her ongoing education, Faculak will be attending a seminar held at Interlochen next month, on the Walt Disney Keys to Service Success. From this seminar, she hopes to bring back information that will be valuable to the community.

"I enjoy my jobs, because I enjoy people. For me, the ultimate reward is to have projects completed and goals met. That is both personally and professionally satisfying."

"My dream for East Jordan is that it continue to grow and improve, without losing its quaintness, and relaxed feeling," she said. "I hope that we can continue to use, and not abuse our assets without losing our environment or friendliness."

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

It's a good time to check your smoke detectors

Fire Prevention Week is Oct. 6-12, and the "Let's Hear it for fire Safety: Test Your Detectors" theme serves to remind people of the importance of testing home smoke detectors.

Fire Prevention Week is observed each year in North America and several European countries in remembrance of the Great Chicago Fire of 1871, which killed 250 people, left 100,000 people homeless, and destroyed more than 17,000 buildings.

The "Test Your Detectors" theme is fitting, even though smoke detectors aren't new. In fact, the single-station, battery-powered smoke detector became available to consumers in the 1970's. Since they were introduced, smoke detectors have saved many lives. Estimates from the National Fire Protection Association show that 93 percent of U.S. homes have at least one smoke detector. However, there are still major problems.

Thousands of people still die each year in home fires where smoke detectors aren't present. There are now more homes with smoke detectors that don't work than homes without detectors at all. Almost one-third of homes with smoke detectors that experience fires have smoke detectors that are not working, and hundreds of people die in these fires.

Captain Wade Schaefer, State Fire Marshal and head of the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal Division, said poorly maintained smoke detectors create a false sense of security among occupants. "Many people make the mistake of borrowing a battery from a smoke detector and never replacing it. Others forget to test their detectors monthly. Batteries should be replaced every year. A good time to do it is when you change your clocks in the fall."

There were 60,076 fires in 1995 reported by Michigan fire departments, an average of one every 8 minutes and 45 seconds. These fires resulted in 919 serious injuries and the deaths of 212 Michigan civilians and two firefighters. The total dollar loss from Michigan fires in 1995 is estimated at $404.9 million.

A working smoke detector cuts the chance of dying in a home fire nearly in half, Schaefer said. It's critical that a detector be placed on every level of the home, including the basement. The placement of detectors outside of sleeping areas is most critical.

St. Joseph's receives a new organ

St. Joseph Catholic Church of East Jordan was recently given an anonymous gift of a Rogers 530 organ. The weekend of Sept. 14, a workshop given by the Stannard Company of Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids. David Moore-Ashbolt from Stannard conducted the workshop for area organists and music lovers. Ashbolt presented an organ concert at the church on Sept. 15 which delighted organists and music lovers alike. He played variations of several hymns and invited the audience to sing with him. The organ will be dedicated at a later date.

Vintage Cruisers

There was the usual traffic on the roads of Charlevoix County this past weekend, but there was also a touch of the past. The Brass and Gas Chapter Veterans Motor Car Club of America came to the area for a fall color tour and you couldn't help but notice the vintage automobiles. Club members traveled to Boyne Mountain Friday and all of the cars on the tour were older than 1912. These vintage autos were cruising the Boyne City-Charlevoix Road near Horton Bay.

Grief Recovery series begins Oct. 24

A series of five weekly sessions for those coping with a loss will be held Thursdays from 7:30-8:30 p.m. beginning Oct. 24 through Nov. 21 at the Boyne City Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, on Vogel Street.

The Grief Recovery program is sponsored by Charlevoix County Hospice, Charlevoix Area Hospital, Community Mental Health and District Health Department #3 to provide help for anyone who is recovering from a loss.

The Rev. Buzz Walls, Hospice spiritual leader, will conduct the Grief Recovery sessions. Anyone is invited who has suffered a loss, or who is helping a loved one deal with a loss, and who would benefit from the support of others. The sessions are free of charge. Class size is limited to 10. Those interested must pre-register and registration will be closed with no one admitted to the sessions after the first class.

To register, call the Hospice office at 536-2842.

Aluminum pop tabs sure can add up

If you think pop can tabs are insignificant, take another look. The American Legion's collection site at Boyne City Elementary School provided 80 pounds of aluminum last year.

The money raised from the recycling effort is used locally for donations to area hospitals, ambulances and other charitable organizations.

Stan Hoover of the American Legion urges people to save their "pop tops" again this year.

Now Hear This!

Q. "Dr. Koskus, why do I have a more difficult time understanding my wife and most other female voices?"

A. Good question! This is a common question asked by husbands. The husband who has a loss of hearing in the high frequencies finds it difficult to "UNDERSTAND" his wife because:

1. Female voices are higher in pitch.
2. The husband has a loss of hearing in the high frequencies.

We all need to perceive the high frequency components of speech in order to better "UNDERSTAND" conversations. When the high frequencies are enhanced through the use of proper hearing aids, better understanding may be realized.

Shortly before 11 a.m. last Wednesday it was showtime at Boyne Mountain and what a performance it was.

In just three hours, the 21 towers for the resort's new chairlift for Disciples Ridge were lifted and put in place by Construction Helicopters of Saginaw.

The towers were laid out in the open space near the resort's base area. The helicopter would fly in, then hover low while workers connected the cable to a tower. The helicopter would then slowly gain some altitude and travel to the lift at the north end of the resort. There, the pilot would carefully lower the tower to the crew that would guide the tower onto the concrete pad, which measures 4x4x8.

When the tower was safely bolted down, a worker would climb the tower, disconnect the cable and the helicopter would be off to repeat the process.

Total time for each run was less than 10 minutes.

"Everything went well," said Ed Grice, Boyne Mountain's base area manager. "You always worry about the bolt pattern and if they are right, and they were."

What took three hours to complete last Wednesday, would have taken a crew of six with bulldozers one week to do, if it was done the way it has been in the past, Grice said.

The helicopter had a busy day Wednesday. After completing work at Boyne it flew to Petoskey where it helped place steel beams for the new Wal-Mart store. The week prior to coming to northwestern Michigan, the helicopter was in Ohio, and in North Carolina, where it helped clean up after Hurricane Hortence.

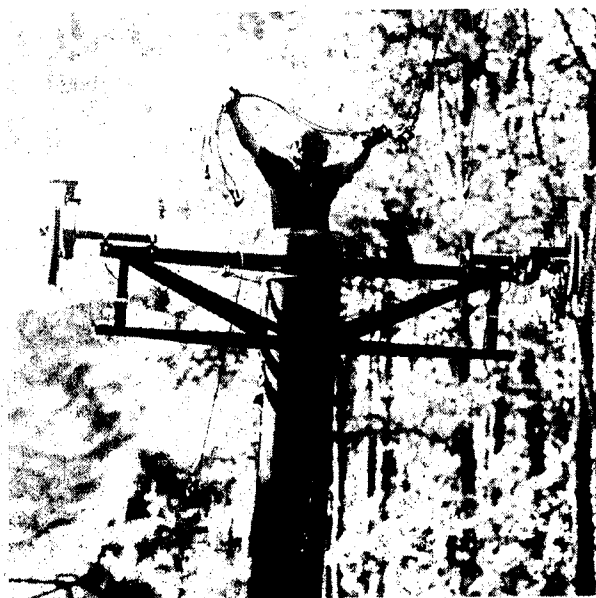

After its short flight, the helicopter moves the tower into position on Disciples Ridge.

Like a big foot ready to step down, the tower comes within reach of the workers who will secure it to the concrete pad.

As dust flies around them, the crew works fast to bolt the tower.

When it's in place, the cable is released and the helicopter heads back to pick up another tower.

For most homeowners, household maintenance and improvements are ongoing year 'round. Luckily, there usually is a season when it is most appropriate to undertake particular tasks, so caring for a home need not be too overwhelming.

With crisper temperatures upon us and memories of last year's severe winter, now is the time to think about readying a home for the cold days ahead.

To get homeowners started, the CertainTeed Home Institute has prepared the following guide for maintenance and home improvements this season:

- Clean and store outdoor furniture. It will last longer and be more quickly available in the spring if it is cleaned and thoughtfully stored now.
- Clean gutters and downspouts to prevent serious damage to your home resulting from poor drainage. To clean them, choose a dry day since you'll need to stand on a ladder. Stand below the level of each gutter and using a towel, scoop out debris into a bag or onto the ground for sweeping up later.
- Upgrade attic insulation. If your home was built before 1980, chances are it needs more insulation to meet today's Department of Energy recommended

- levels for residential insulation.
- Maintain garage doors. Garage doors should slide smoothly when going up and down. Lubricate the rollers (the small wheels attached to the sides of the door) with a few drops of household oil or spray a small amount of silicone lubrication onto their spindles. Also check that the hinges are fastened securely to the door panels and tighten the screws if they are loose.
- Organize the garage. The goal of a well functioning garage is to get everything you can off the floor. Walls, for instance, offer a wealth of storage opportunities. Hooks and pegboards are perfect for storing things like garden tools. Plastic bins or storage racks are good ideas as well.
- Caulk to prevent drafts. Sealing a home is especially important in the colder months. Caulking is a successful way to achieve a draft-proof home. Caulk when the temperature is above 60°F around stationary parts of window and door frames, where house siding joints at corners or meets the roof eaves and foundation, around wall and roof vents, skylights and chimneys, around exterior water faucets and where other

- plumbing or electric wiring enters the home.
- Weatherstrip windows and doors. Drafty windows and doors rob heat from homes. Sealing them with weatherstripping is an easy, quick and effective cure to this problem. For double-hung windows, use channel stripping. For doors, seal the sides and top of the door, then the bottom using foam edged wooden strips. Both products are available from your building materials retailer.
- Maintain storm windows and doors. Before the cold weather arrives, make minor repairs on storm doors and windows to prevent major annoyances later on. Rub frames and sashes with fine steel wool to rid them of corrosion. Then wipe with paste for further protection. Also, spray windows with silicone lubricant to keep sashes sliding smoothly.
- Prepare your heating system to begin working again. For safety reasons and because of the complexity of most home heating equipment, it is suggested that you call a qualified professional heating technician for inspection and service. These experts are available through your oil or gas supplier. Also, consider a professional chimney sweep to check fireplaces and woodstoves.

- Drain pipes to prevent freezing. When water freezes and expands inside pipes, it can cause major damage requiring expensive repairs. The surest way to prevent pipes from freezing is to drain them before the colder weather arrives. To drain pipes supplying water to outside faucets, first close off the shutoff valves on the pipes supplying them. Next, open the faucets letting any water in the pipes run out and leave them open until the water supply is turned on again in the spring. That way any water remaining in the pipes can expand if it freezes without creating damaging pressure.

HEIDI KORTHASE CONNOR of Grand Rapids and Deb and Jean Korthase of Boyne City were among approximately 125 people attending Saturday night's annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau held at Whiting's Park. Among the events of the evening was the tribute of a Michigan State University Scholarship in memory of Bill Korthase.

MARY HUTCHINSON is recuperating at her Litzenger Place Apartment following surgery at Northern Michigan Hospital. Her sister Alta and husband Emerson Cove of Goodells, spent a few days here with her.

A LONG TIME FRIEND, Bobbi Kolos, of San Diego, Calif., who was here visiting friends over this past weekend, was the house guest of Dolores Barnhart.

A WARM "WELCOME HOME!" from her Litzenger Place family goes out to Lelia Voelker, who returned on Tuesday after recuperating at Anna's Cottage in Charlevoix for several weeks.

THELMA BEHLING recently entertained with a dinner party of 12, which included her sister and husband, Olive and Ivan Smith, their son Joe, and wife Carolyn, who were here from Colorado Springs, Colo., another son, David Smith, and a granddaughter, Laurie McKinney and children, all of East Jordan.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT HAUSLER, formerly of Walloon Lake and now of Sibley, Mo., spent Wednesday with Ella Nulph. The Hauslers were here to attend last Saturday's wedding reception of their son, Perry Hausler, and wife, Patti, which was held in the Chandler Township Hall.

THE BOYNE CITY NAZARENE Church honored its visiting pastor, the Rev. George Smith of Wolverine, with a farewell party on Sunday night. The Rev. Smith has been filling in for the past three years. Beginning on Sunday, Oct. 6, the church will have a new pastor, the Rev. Charles Fowler of South Haven, Ind. He and his wife Pam and their two children, Andrew, age 15, and Sarah, age 10, are now settled in at the new parsonage.

LARRY AND PEG DAVIS of Rudyard were among the 23 friends and relatives who gathered for a surprise dinner party at the Country Star on Sunday to honor the Sept. 30 birthday of a really surprised Florine Davis. All enjoyed good food and fun, sharing the special occasion with cake and cards.

THERE WAS A GOOD TURN OUT at the Boyne City Free Methodist Church on Sunday night for their Zone Rally. Coming from Kingsley, Mancelona, Pleasant Valley, and the local area, they heard the Rev. David Jewell and wife Shirley speak, as church planners from Marquette. A social hour and light lunch and fellowship brought the late afternoon rally to a close.

A WARM "WELCOME HOME!" goes out to Elize Kipen from her Litzenger Place family. Elize spent most of last week as a post surgical patient at Northern Michigan Hospital and was well enough to return this past Friday.

DICK AND ELINOR DUBIN and Jim and Leanna McCarty left on Sept. 23 to spend some time in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. While in Kentucky they stayed at the Jenny Wiley State Park Resort in Prestonsburg. On the way home they stopped at Fort Boonesboro. They arrived home on the 28.

Scouts are tops

Boyne-area Scouts have learned their skills well. They showed their talents at a recent International Scout Rally held in Hessel, Mich. Boy and Girl Scouts from Boyne City and Boyne Falls made up a handful of the 778 scouts participating at the camp-out. Scouts practiced their skills in setting up a camp, fire building, outdoor cooking, first aid, team cooperation, and sportsmanship. Scouts had the opportunity to build confidence by climbing a seventeen foot wall. They also met scouts from Canada. Various contests for troops were held. Troops were judged on appearance of campsites, leadership, helpfulness, courtesy, ingenuity, hard work, being prepared, and Scout Spirit. Boyne City came home with top honors. Boyne City Girls Troop 287 came home with first place overall, while Boyne City Boys Troop 49 received second place overall and second place for cleanest campsite. Boyne Falls troop 53 took third place in the cross-cut competition.

Critters perish in pet store fire

Ninety percent of the animals and reptiles at Little Critters perished in a fire at the Boyne City business last Thursday morning.

The Boyne City Fire Department was called to the scene at 9:30 a.m. when smoke was reported in the All State Insurance office, located next to the pet shop in the Lake Street Plaza.

Firemen found the fire in the pet shop, believed to have been caused by a heating pad lying on the wood floor of a reptile cage, according to fire chief Nord Schroeder.

The fire was contained in the cage, but there was considerable smoke damage to the building complex, he said.

The fire, according to Daneen Dunnette, manager of Little Critters, "was real hot and smoldered for a long time."

The cage where the fire started was home to a 7 1/2 foot boa constrictor, which was found alive but later died, Dunnette said.

Killed in the fire, she said, were reptiles, fish, rodents, domestics, exotics, "anything you would think would be in a pet store."

It's amazing all the animals did not perish. "Why these made it, I don't know," Dunnette said. "God didn't intend for those guys to go."

Ron and Diane West own Little Critters and they were in the store around 9 p.m. Wednesday and found everything in good order, Dunnette said.

The Wests and Dunnette are in the process of figuring out their losses for the insurance company and cleaning up the mess from the smoke damage. No dollar loss has yet been determined. They hope to have Little Critters open by Halloween.

THE FIRE AT Little Critters was the second of the day for Boyne City firemen. In the early morning hours of Thursday, firemen were called to a house fire on Korhase Road in Wilson township.

Firemen arrived on the scene shortly before 1 a.m. and found flames showing at the Ronald Grogan home, Schroeder said.

The fire started in the electrical panel area in the basement, he said, and burned a hole in the entryway on the first floor. Structural damage, the fire chief said, was minimal, but smoke damage was significant.

Boyne City firemen were on the scene until 2:42 a.m. They were assisted by the Boyne Valley Fire Department.

Wood gathering permits not available until next spring

Permits to gather fuelwood from state forest land will be discontinued from Oct. 1, 1996, through Mar. 31, 1997, according to a release from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Permits issued by Sept. 30 will be valid for 90 days after the issuance date and will allow the permit holder to gather up to five standard cords of wood. All fuelwood collected must be for personal use.

Issuing permits will resume April 1, 1997, and continue through Sept. 30, 1997.

Congratulations Boyne Valley Printing

Phil Johnson, owner of Boyne Valley Printing.

Boyne Valley Printing has a new home and downtown Boyne City has a beautiful new addition. The move for the print shop was just next door. But it was a door that wasn't there a few months ago. Boyne Valley Printing vacated its home since 1981 last week and relocated to 209 Lake St.

The building has a Victorian design and is owned by Phil and BJ Johnson, owners of Boyne Valley Printing. The print shop occupies one side of the first floor, with its office up front and its presses in the back.

The other half of the first floor is available for rent. The upstairs is still under construction, but when done will have four apartments. Phil hopes to have the apartments available for rent within a few months.

"I think the contractors did an excellent job on this," Phil said. "I didn't dream it would come out so nice."

Boyne Valley Printing has been in business since 1979. Its former location has been sold to Mel's Marathon.

Good Luck!

Boyne teen competing in pageant

Melissa Sue Thompson, daughter of Thelma Thompson and Robert Healey of Boyne City, has been selected as an entrant in the 1996 Miss Michigan Teen All American Pageant to be staged in the Grand Ballroom of the Royce Hotel in Romulus on Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6.

The event will select Michigan's representative to the 19th annual Miss Teen All American Pageant staged at the Miami Airport Hilton and Marina in Miami, Fla., in August.

Melissa will be competing with young women from all over the state for the title of Miss Michigan Teen All American 1996. She attends Boyne City High School and has been an Honor Roll student for the past two years, receiving her high school letter for Academic Achievement in 1995.

RAMBLERS APPROACH PERFECTION IN 47-6 WIN OVER EAST JORDAN

This game belonged to the Ramblers

The high powered Boyne City Ramblers rolled over East Jordan last Friday on Homecoming night with a 47-6 win to remain undefeated in the Lake Michigan Division conference.

What a homecoming it was, as Boyne City rolled up over 300 yards rushing for the fourth consecutive game with 335 yards on the ground while allowing the Red Devils just 156 total yards.

"Our offensive line has done an excellent job executing their assignments," said coach Pat Klooster. "They're allowing us to run the ball like we are."

The win improved the Ramblers' record to 4-0 while the loss dropped East Jordan to 2-2. Both teams are in action this Friday with Boyne traveling to Harbor Springs, which has a 3-1 record after its 14-0 win Saturday over Central Lake, while East Jordan travels to Charlevoix, which lost to Elk Rapids last Friday 21-6.

The Ramblers are tied with Traverse City St. Francis for the conference lead. St. Francis is 4-0 after defeating Muskegon Catholic Central 14-0 Saturday. The two teams will meet in Boyne Oct. 25, which is shaping up to be the game of the year.

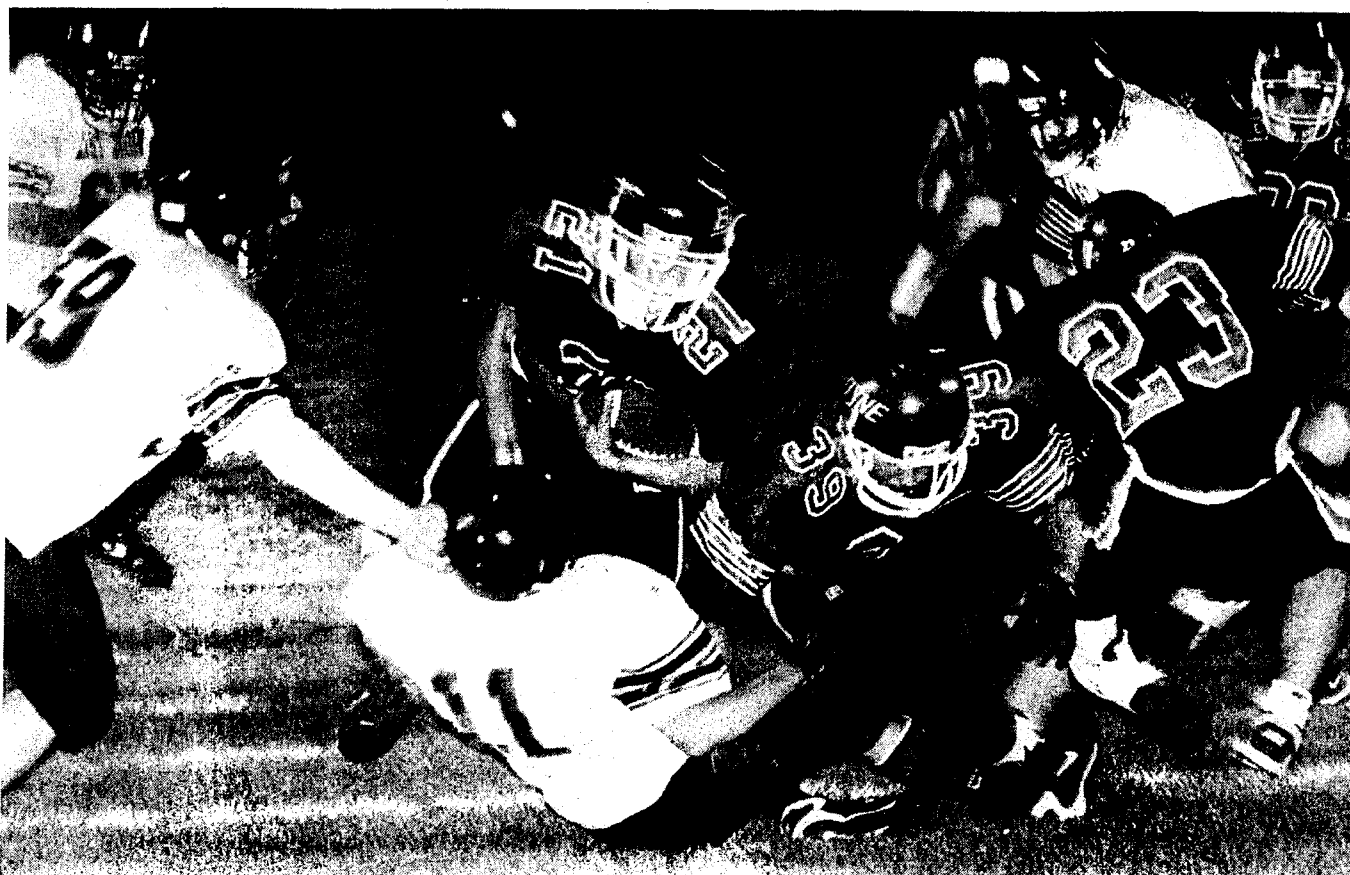

Dean Fiel and Scott Karaszewski led the Ramblers with two touchdowns each on runs of 2 and 6 yards each. Josh May had a 6-yard touchdown run while quarterback Steve Johncheck added a 2-yard score. Jeremy Andrews scored on a 1-yard plunge while Alex Berti kicked three extra points. Kurt Lockman scored a 2-point conversion on a pass from Johncheck.

On Boyne's first possession in the opening quarter, May put the Ramblers on top 6-0 with a nice 5-yard run for a touchdown. Berti bounced his kick off the crossbar for a 7-0 lead.

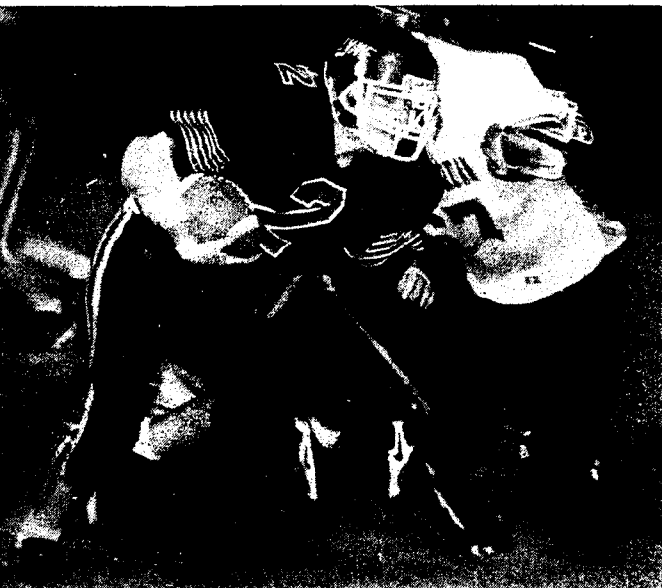

On the Ramblers' next possession, Johncheck hooked up with Brian Mapes for a 28-yard pass play to set up a Fiel touchdown from the two, putting Boyne up 13-0 just before the end of the first quarter.

East Jordan started to move the ball well early in the second quarter when quarterback Chris Murray picked apart the Rambler defense with short passes to his favorite target, Scott Haley, to bring the ball to the 3-yard line. Murray finally scored after three tries on a fourth and goal to put the Red Devils on the board 13-6 and it looked like the Red Devils found a way to move the ball on Boyne.

The short passes seemed to work well until Murray got picked off on East Jordan's next possession by Fullback Scott Karaszewski, number 39, clears the way for Dean Fiel as he scores one of his two touchdowns during the game. Karaszewski also had his chance to step into the end zone, when he scored on two short runs.

The Ramblers' ground game was nearly unstoppable all evening long and leading the way was Josh May, who gained 103 yards.

May. East Jordan didn't use the pass much after that.

It was all Boyne City from that point on as the Ramblers scored again in the second quarter with Fiel going in from the 2-yard line after a nice 28-yard run by Chuck Stanek to set up the play.

The Red Devils' defense was all over Jeremy Andrews as he tried to break outside.

Karaszewski added a 2-yard plunge late in the first half for another Rambler touchdown. Kurt Lockman scored the 2-point conversion on a pass from Johncheck for a 27-6 half-time lead.

Boyne took the wind out of the Red Devils' sail with another score open the half when Johncheck plunged in from the 2-yard line. Berti added the extra point for a 34-6 Rambler lead.

E.J.'s next possession ended in disaster after a botched punt attempt left Boyne in terrific field position at the Red Devil 8-yard line. From there Karaszewski needed two attempts to take the ball in for another touchdown. Berti added another extra point for a 41-6 lead. Later in the third quarter, Andrews added Boyne's final score with a 1-yard touchdown run.

Boyne City's stingy defense has allowed just 36 points in the first four games with every player to the man taking it personally when the other team scores.

"We have to be careful not to get ourselves up too high," Klooster said. "Anybody can be beat in this conference this year. There's a lot of parity."

"We've been improving each week. Our penalties were only five this week for 35 yards. That's pretty good."

Offensively for Boyne City, May had 103 yards on 11 carries. Fiel gained 92 yards on 13 carries, Scott Bradford had 42 yards on 5 carries, Stanek gained 32 yards on 3 tries while Karaszewski gained 31 yards on 5 carries. Jeremy Andrews carried 6 times for 18 yards.

Defensively, Corey Lockman had 10 tackles while Jason Richards had 7. David Miller and Wade Liest each added 6 tackles. May had 5 while Kurt Lockman, Stanek, Joe Helsley and Jesse Belford each had three.

For East Jordan, Murray completed five of 11 passes for 57 yards. Andrew Wood caught three passes for 38 yards, and Scott Haley grabbed two for 19 yards. Shane Swan led the ground attack finishing with 49 yards, while Don Bergman gained 25, Dillon Antaya 21, Mike Mazzella 18, and Chris King 12.

Defensively, Denzil Wilson led the Red Devils with 17 tackles, Mazzella had 10, Ryan Antaya 7, and Luke McLaren and Dillon Antaya each had 6.

Boyne City's next three games are on the road, starting Friday at Harbor Springs. East Jordan travels to Charlevoix. Both games start at 7:30 p.m.

Lady Red Devils beat Onaway, lose heart-breaker to Harbor

By RICH CLARK

The birthday girl, Amanda Pepin, lit up the hoop with 24 points to help lead the host East Jordan girls' varsity basketball team past the Onaway Cardinals by a score of 54-32 on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

Then two days later, the Red Devils lost a heartbreaker to Harbor Springs, 55-52.

East Jordan roared out of the gate against Onaway with a 17-7 lead after the first quarter. Most of the points came from the Red Devils' full court press which created turnovers and easy baskets.

In the second quarter, Onaway's defense awoke and snuffed out the Devils' fire. The Cardinals pulled to within three points midway through the quarter but that's as close as they got. The Lady Devils never trailed in the game.

The Devils came out of the half on fire and took over the game with a stifling defense that again caused havoc to the Cardinals and helped put them away for good.

Apart from Pepin's 24 points, Ember Ransom netted 10 points, and Ann Hettig canned 7 and snagged five rebounds. Jenny Goebel brought down seven boards, and Ransom four. Jenny Falco and Kelly Woodard swiped three steals each. Jackie Lyon led Onaway with eight points, Shelly Dittmar added seven.

"Other than the second quarter, our great defense made the difference in the game," said coach Steve Hines. "We rebounded well and shot better than the last couple of games."

The junior varsity also won its game, 49-33. Rachel Boss nailed 14 points and grabbed 16 boards to lead the Devils. Jill Ciszewski and Suzie Malpass hit for 9 points each. Melissa Kowalski pulled down seven rebounds.

Against Harbor, Amanda Pepin was on fire again, scoring 27 points and pulling down 17 rebounds. East Jordan led at the half 33-31, but then Harbor outscored the Red Devils 8-3 in the third quarter to take the lead for good.

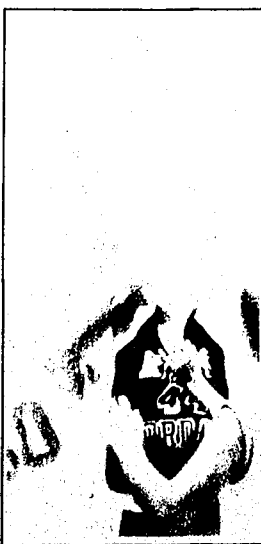

Dayle Looze scored 8 points and had 9 rebounds while Jenny Goebel added 7 points and 12 rebounds.

East Jordan is now 4-3 overall and 1-2 in conference play.

The JV's also lost to Harbor by a score of 56-44. East Jordan jumped out to an early lead but Harbor Springs battled back for the win.

Suzie Malpass scored 19 points and grabbed 14 rebounds, while Rachel Boss had 9 points and 13 rebounds.

East Jordan hosted Bellaire Tuesday night and travels to Charlevoix Thursday.

Amanda Pepin is fouled as she goes up for two of her 24 points against Onaway.

Time to regroup

Boyne City has a week to rest after two disappointing losses

By CHRIS WINKLER

The Boyne City High School girls' basketball team takes a much needed break this week after an overtime loss to Traverse City St. Francis last Tuesday and another conference defeat to Elk Rapids on Thursday.

Rambler Treana Fiel led all scorers against the Gladiators with 22 points as Boyne went down 52-47. Katie Jo Dhaseleer hit three of her four three-point attempts to pitch in with nine points. St. Francis' Jasmine Swaney scored 20 points to lead the Glads.

Fiel again had the hot hand in Elk Rapids, putting in 17 points and grabbing nine rebounds. Asked if Fiel has returned to her All-Conference honorable mention play of last season, coach Tom Neidhamer said, "Treana has definitely improved her game. And not only in points, but also as a floor leader."

Sarah Bobowski was all over the court, scoring 11 points and making eight steals. Erin Fry added nine points. Heather Copeland topped the Elks with 19 points in their 59-50 win.

"We're working hard and playing good ball, but we're not putting four quarters together," said Neidhamer. "In three of our last four losses, we have come up short in the fourth quarter. We've got to learn how to win the close games."

Neidhamer admits that some of the losses have come to teams that aren't always better than his team, and therefore it's frustrating. "It's all a matter of confidence. They have to believe that good things will happen."

Perhaps the time off is just what the players need. They have time to recover from a rough start to the season before playing in East Jordan next Tuesday. They can also look to the junior varsity and freshmen teams. At week's end, the freshmen record stood at 7-1 after a 41-14 win over Inland Lakes on Thursday, and the JV's were 5-3. Their efforts do not go unrecognized.

"The program is strong, and the girls are winning," Neidhamer said.

East Jordan Flag Bowl is Saturday

The East Jordan Flag Football League will hold its fourth annual "Flag Bowl" on Saturday, Oct. 5, at 6:30 p.m. at Boswell Stadium.

The first game pits the Red team against the Black team and Blue plays Gray in the second game.

Turnovers costly for Boyne Falls

The Boyne Falls Loggers turned the ball over 44 times against Alba last Thursday as they lost a key Northern Lakes Division conference matchup, 66-45. Boyne Falls' record slipped to 2-3 in the conference and 4-7 overall.

"We couldn't solve their press in the first half and we just threw the ball away," said Logger coach Ken Doty. "We had our chances."

Penny Marchinkewicz led the Loggers with 16 points while Andrea Kondrat had 12 and Beth Freck added 6 points. Marchinkewicz also had 11 rebounds while Karen Giem had 10. Andrea Kondrat had five steals.

For Alba, Aimee McClellan had 28 points while Kristin Banwell added 17. The Wildcats improved to 3-1 in the conference and 6-3 overall.

Boyne Falls made 20 field goals and was 5 for 12 from the stripe while Alba made 25 field goals, one 3-point shot and was 13 of 29 from the line.

Boyne Falls plays at Mackinaw City this Thursday in another Northern Lakes Division conference matchup.

Logger runners getting in mid-season form

Boyer Falls' cross country team narrowly edged out Vanderbilt last Wednesday in a Northern Lakes Division conference dual meet, winning 26-29. Then it took a sixth place on Saturday at the Central Lake Invitational in a nine-team field.

At The Farm Golf Club in Central Lake, Central Lake won its own meet while Wolverine took third.

Central Lake senior Ryan Shay took first place with a time of 16:13 to break his own course record of 16:39 while his brother Nathan placed third with a 17:46. The top 25 runners took home medals.

"Our top three runners improved considerably from last year's times," said coach Andy Place. "We did get to see the other teams that will be competing in the regionals and we did get a good look at what we have to do to improve as a team."

Curtis Hansen was the top Logger finisher at fifth place with a time of 18:47. Mike Kenney took a 17th with 19:30 while Jeremy Massey placed 18th at 19:38.

Other Boyne Falls runners in order of finish: 54th-Mark Bearss, 21:53; 56th-Pat Overmyer, 22:03; 63rd-Chad Matelski, 22:49.

Last Wednesday on their home course at Boyne Mountain, the Loggers narrowly beat Vanderbilt in an important league matchup.

Boyer Falls was without No. 1 runner Curtis Hansen but still managed a first place finish by Jeremy Massey.

"Jeremy's back to his mid-season form of last year," Place said. "Everybody pulled together and came through real well."

Vanderbilt's Adam Matelski finished second with 18:35 while Mike Kenny of Boyne Falls took third at 18:41.

Other Loggers in order of finish:

6th - Mark Bearss, 20:12; 7th - Matt Britton, 20:32; 9th - Pat Overmyer, 20:58; 11th - Chad Matelski, 22:45.

"Mark Bearss and freshmen Matt Britton each took a whole minute off their times on the same course they ran two weeks ago," Place said.

Shaylon Jones, a freshman from Boyne City running for the first time took a 14th place at 24:15.

Becky Kuhn of Boyne Falls had a time of 27:07 while Amy Place of Boyne City timed at 28:41.

The Loggers visit Mackinaw City Wednesday, Oct. 2.

EJ turns in a strong showing at invitational

The East Jordan cross country teams competed Saturday against 18 other class C and D schools in Carson City to test their speed and endurance.

Although there was a computer glitch that kept the timekeepers from accurately recording each team member's places, individual times were impressive, and for some, record setting.

The girls team placed fifth overall, with Holly Petkewicz placing 19th at 21:42. Other times were Beth Purvis 22:48, Debbie Bacon 23:08, Emily Niewendorp 23:10, Cassie Krause 23:46, and Autumn Dodge 27:24.

"Beth Purvis, our number 5 runner, ran number 2. Her time was a pleasant shock to herself and her coaches," said coaches Snarey and Peterson.

The boys team placed third overall and took home a trophy to prove it. Mark Penzien placed 11th at 17:30. Other times were Chris Bearden 18:01, Nate Sothard 18:06, Matt Shaw 18:50, Charlie Hague 18:51, Nate Gagnon 19:05, and Matt Birgy 19:25.

"Mark Penzien finally stayed focused for a whole race and ran a time we've expected. We know he'll give more," said Snarey and Peterson. "In addition, Nate Gagnon and Autumn Dodge were injured and it hurt their races, and Kevin Penzien ran an 18:35 in the J.V. race, receiving a 10th place medal."

Golf season winding down

The Boyne City High School golf team suffered a seven-stroke loss on Sept. 25 at Ye Nynne Olde Holles. Rogers City and Mancelona were spoilers at the match hosted by Boyne.

Rogers City won with a score of 174. Mancelona followed with a 193, and Boyne had an even 200.

Derek Friske once again was Boyne's top golfer with a score of 44. Phil Simpson had a 48, as did Joe Jones, playing for the junior varsity team. Tim Bouters and Derek Price each shot a 53.

This week will round out the regular season for the team. Tuesday it faced Inland Lakes and Kalkaska at Inland Lakes, and Wednesday will square off against Charlevoix and Harbor Springs in Harbor.

Friday is the Traverse City Invitational, and the conference and regional meets will follow later next week.

Boyer City jv's down Red Devils

Sophomore quarterback Jesse Simon led the Boyne City junior varsity to a 30-0 win at East Jordan last Thursday.

Simon ran for a 2-yard touchdown then hooked up with Jeremy Peck on a 27-yard touchdown pass play. The Ramblers remain undefeated at 4-0.

The Ramblers' Sean Ku had a 45-yard rushing touchdown while freshman Josh Bush had a 73-yard touchdown run. Nick Reihl, Simon and Bush each converted on the 2-point play.

Korky Persons and Nathan Howell each had fumble recoveries while Bush had two interceptions.

The Devils moved the ball well but could not convert on fourth down conversions for almost the entire game. The rain was their biggest enemy causing fumbles and missed reception because of the water soaked, slippery pigskin.

For East Jordan, Tony Prevo led the rushing attack with 57 yards while quarterback Jason Clark was 6 for 15 for 70 yards. Mike Wladiskin caught four passes for the Red Devils while Glen Lord caught two.

Defensively for East Jordan, Brian Banfield, Rusty Steinhoff and Rob Vincent each recovered a fumble while Chad Muma had 14 tackles.
