East Jordan, Michigan

at a GLANCE

Moonlight Madness is Thursday

The spooks and craziness will visit downtown East Jordan Thursday night for the community's annual Moonlight Madness event.

Festivities will be centered around an extensive children's program held at the East Jordan Senior Center.

From 5-8 p.m., the senior center will host programs for children, including pumpkin decorating, face painting, games and more. Debbie Peck, cook at the senior center, will also serve a sloppy joe dinner.

While these events take place, local merchants will be offering special savings and celebrations.

"It is a good time for people who work out of town to spend the evening in town, at the different business open houses," said Mary Faculak, East Jordan chamber of commerce director.

City will be gathering up your leaves

The City of East Jordan will conduct its fall leaf and brush pickup next week.

Items for collection are limited to grass, leaves and tree trimmings. All grass and leaves must be placed in city biodegradable bags available for purchase at City Hall. Bags are not to be placed at curbside prior to 5 p.m., Oct. 18.

Limbs and brush must be stacked on shoulder of roadway with butt end toward road. Limbs and brush may not be larger than 8 inches in diameter.

Unbagged grass clippings and leaves in pickups/trailers, or bagged clippings and leaves in city biodegradable bags, will be accepted free of charge year round at the city's transfer station.

INTERVIEWS SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY

Administrator search down to 3

Three finalists will be interviewed Monday night for the East Jordan city administrator position.

Among the three are interim city administrator David White, who will be the first candidate interviewed Monday. His interview begins at 5:30 p.m.

All finalists will be interviewed in the commission chambers at East Jordan City Hall. They are open to the public.

The East Jordan City Commission with the assistance of Tom McNabb, who does executive searches for the Michigan Municipal League, narrowed the field of 15 candidates to the three finalists last week.

McNabb will be attending the interviews Monday to assist the city commission in the process, he said.

Larry Heubner, the former county administrator for Wexford County, will be interviewed at 7 p.m. He was Wexford County's first administrator and served from 1985 until 1994. He now lives in Traverse City. Gordon Gallagher, currently the village manager of Lakeview, just south of Big Rapids, will be interviewed at 8:30 p.m. He has been there since 1994.

It's possible, but unlikely, a candidate would be selected Monday night. McNabb, who has 30 years of city manager experience, said he expects the commission to evaluate the candidates for a few days before making a decision.

Carolyn Sutter files suit

As the East Jordan City Commission enters the final stages of hiring a new person to lead city government, it has a legal problem with its past administrator.

Carolyn Sutter, who was fired by the city commission in July, has filed a lawsuit against the city. The 10-count suit was filed Oct. 4 in Charlevoix Circuit Court. Sutter is represented by Marshall Grate of Grand Rapids.

Named in the suit are the city, city clerk Kathy O'Rear, city

It's homecoming for East Jordan

While Homecoming has been on the minds of East Jordan High School students since last weekend, all residents can get into the Homecoming spirit by attending the second annual Community Spirit Rally Wednesday at the Jordan Valley Express.

Designed to "build community spirit and promote safe family fun," the rally begins at 5:30 p.m. Events include the introductions of all varsity fall athletes and the homecoming court, games, raffle give-aways, and the East Jordan Business Wagon parade.

The cost, which includes dinner, is $2 for adults and $1 for students. Children under 5 attend free.

Homecoming couldn't come at a better time for the East Jordan Red Devils, a team looking to rebound from four disappointing losses. They will face Harbor Springs which in the last two weeks has lost to Boyne City 17-0 and Traverse City St. Francis 43-6.

Gates will open at Boswell Stadium at 6:30 p.m. with the game beginning at 7:30 p.m. The king and queen will be crowned at half-time, and following the game the homecoming dance will be held in the high school gym. All alumni are invited to attend.

The homecoming parade begins at 5:30 p.m. in downtown East Jordan. The parade route is Main Street south to Mill Street — the parade will stop briefly at the corner of Main and Esterly for a short pep assembly — then head east on Mill Street to the Ben Franklin parking lot.

Transportation will be provided for anyone wanting to leave their car in the high school parking lot and be transported to the parade. Rides will also be available back to the school from the Ben Franklin parking lot after the parade.

For information about the parade call Alice McPherson at 536-2259 or Phyllis Olszewski at 536-3142.

SHE JUST ENJOYS BEING INVOLVED

If ever a volunteer, Mary Jason is it

By HUGH CONKLIN

You might just say Mary Jason likes to be involved — in a wide variety of things.

There's her work with the East Jordan School Board, the Michigan School Board Association, the Charlevoix Area Hospital, Lake Superior State University, FMB Northwestern Bank board, Char Em Intermediate School District, and, well, you get the idea.

Of all, just one pays her a wage: Lake Superior State. The others are all volunteer.

Her volunteerism is a family tradition. Take the East Jordan School Board for example. Mary's great-grandfather, William P. Porter, served on the board when East Jordan was just "cranking up." Her grandfather, Howard Porter, served on the board when East Jordan was consolidating with other schools in the township. Her father, William Porter, served on the board when the Twin Valley School District — the consolidation of Boyne City and East Jordan school districts — was in the works.

All three were president of the board.

So is Mary. It's a position she's had for several years. She was appointed to the East Jordan school board in 1976 after the Twin Valley consolidation was dissolved. She's been there ever since.

President is also a title she has with the Charlevoix Area Hospital Board. She's been on the board six years, the last three as president. She'll give up that responsibility later this year, but will stay on as board member.

It's easy, Mary said, being president of both boards. "Both have such good staff people that all I really do is direct traffic at board meetings."

Following in the path of her father, Mary is also a member of the East Jordan Rotary Club. She was the first woman to officially join the club.

Her dad is a dedicated Rotary member, not having missed a meeting in 56 years. Mary is following in his footsteps. She's yet to miss a meeting in her six years as a member of the club.

With all her time away from East Jordan, though, that hasn't been easy. When she was president of the Michigan School Board Association a few years back she did a lot of travelling, often out of the state. One week she was in New Orleans and joined the club there for its weekly meeting. It was a far different atmosphere than what she finds with the East Jordan club which meets Tuesdays at noon in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.

The New Orleans club meets at the Ritz Carleton and more than 500 people were in attendance for the "ritzy" breakfast meeting. Mary sat between a labor attorney for the City of New Orleans and a man from Holland, (Netherlands not Michigan) who was visiting a girl who stayed with his family a few years earlier as an exchange student.

"It's been an adventure," Mary said. "I have met some real interesting people through Rotary."

Mary's roots in East Jordan go way back. Born and raised in the community, she has a deep love affair with the area. It's that love that motivates her to serve.

"This was a wonderful place to grow up," she said. "It allowed me to do things I wouldn't have been able to somewhere else. I want to nurture that. I want the quality of the north to prosper."

Mary herself is a teacher. She taught fifth grade for two years in Stockbridge shortly after college. The north called, though, and she and her husband Dennis, Boyne City's street superintendent, came back.

Mary hung up her teaching career at the time and turned her full-

EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

In the big city fighting white-collar crime

By HUGH CONKLIN

Students graduating from high school can be compared to throwing a handful of feathers up in the air — you never know where they might land as the journey of life unfolds.

There may be college, the military or a job close to home. Their paths lead in many different directions.

The path for Boyne City native Timothy LaCroix has led to south Florida. A fax received last week from the State of Florida Office of the Comptroller announced a promotion he recently received. While very brief, it was long enough to spark interest.

It said Mr. LaCroix has accepted a position with the state of Florida's Attorney General's Office as a senior investigator.

It went on to explain that "Mr. LaCroix has over 10 years of investigative experience in combating white collar crime and has been invaluable to the Comptroller's office. Mr. LaCroix will be sorely missed, but we congratulate him and wish him well."

How does a Boyne City native become involved in fighting white collar crime in south Florida?

Tim's family still lives in Boyne City. His four brothers and one sister all graduated from Boyne City High School. But his family lived a few years in Boyne Falls in Tim's late years of high school and he graduated from Boyne Falls High School in 1978.

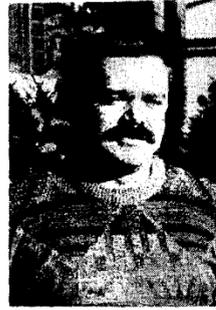

After high school, Tim joined the Navy for a career that would span eight years. For a few years he was assigned submarine duty. Then he worked with various inspector general offices in the Navy for nearly four years which opened the door to his law enforcement career.

After leaving the Navy he accepted a job in Vermont working in the state's securities division. He was attracted to the state for its skiing and other outdoor recreational opportunities. He was in Vermont eight years before accepting the job as financial investigator for Florida's Office of Comptroller.

As an investigator, Tim said he basically does crime investigations in banking, finance and securities. This includes telemarketing and wireless cable scams. He said he often testifies as an expert witness on federal grand juries and, yes, he has sent a lot of criminals to jail.

In his new job as senior investigator for the Florida attorney general's office, Tim, who lives in Miami, will be "doing the analytical end of investigations" into Medicaid fraud. There are 20 investigators in the office and he will be one of Tim begins his new job in two weeks. Until then he will be visiting family and friends in Boyne City.

A MOM'S LIFE

Trouble without a calendar

By CINDI PLACE

We run our busy lives on a schedule. It's an intricate series of dates, events and times that dictate where each member of our family needs to be or what they should be doing.

We have a monthly calendar on the side of the refrigerator and a weekly schedule board posted on the front. The problem begins when we have to transfer information from one to the other.

Monday morning was typical of what can happen. Just as the kids were heading down to the school bus stop, I began cleaning out my purse. I was actually looking for a receipt that I had misplaced. (Do you ever wonder if those stores that require a receipt for returns sit back and laugh every time we leave their business, knowing that at least half of us have left those valuable records of purchase with the cashier?)

Anyway, as I was searching in my purse I came across an old pocket calendar I had forgotten about. As is my nature, I looked curiously at today's date and ...oh no...we had an orthodontist appointment for 8 a.m.!

How I missed this appointment I don't know, but I now had less than 25 minutes to yell at the kid with braces to STOP and get back in the house. I dragged the kindergartner out of bed, threw sweatpants and sandals at him, searched for my shoes and keys and directed everyone into the van. Thank goodness I paused to look at the weekly calendar again and discovered that the 15th was Tuesday, not Monday.

As I announced the false alarm, I realized that this is why my kids think that I'm a bit "touched in the head." Our eldest, who during the whole episode had been sitting calmly on the couch, simply shook her head and laughed. So smug, that one.

But that's what happens to someone who lives by her schedules. And heaven help the person who actually tries to introduce change into our already tight calendar. My husband has yet to learn this all-important lesson. Being spontaneous is certainly not my strong suit, and you'd think that after nearly 20 years he'd remember this fact. It's not that I am not willing to do new and different things, but I do need some time to rearrange our lives.

Before we had children, we did pick up and go whenever we wanted. Even after our first child came into our lives, we pretty much traveled, ate and entertained on a whim. It wasn't until our kids began actually having lives of their own that we found ourselves acting like social secretaries for the five and under set. And now that we have teenagers, it's less a matter of where and when they have somewhere to go than when they will be home so we can have dinner together as a family.

Once when some friends were at our house for a meeting, I made the mistake of leaving them alone in the kitchen, with my calendar, for a few minutes. It wasn't until the next morning as I was perusing the weekly schedule, making sure that I know what was on the docket, when I noticed that I was scheduled to take 10 dozen cookies to the high school that day.

As I flew around the kitchen checking for baking ingredients, it dawned on me that I had no idea why I was baking cookies for the high school. Looking at that calendar again, I noticed that for the next seven days I was to make dinner for several friends, clean the next-door-neighbors house and take a flying leap into the lake.

Okay, they made their point.

KEYS FOR THE FUTURE

REQUIRED COURSE *101

Don't tinker with veterans' trust fund

TO THE EDITOR:

The Michigan Legislature created the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund in 1946. This trust uses invested funds to create income for emergency and tuition assistance programs. The invested money was intended to remain untouched.

Twice in its 50-year history, the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund has been liquidated, or "borrowed" by the legislature and later repaid. This cycle of loan and repayment costs Michigan additional tax dollars and threatens the future existence of this honorable benefit to our veterans.

Throughout our nation's history we have chosen men and women to protect and defend our freedom. Repay that honorable service with your vote to protect and defend their Michigan Veterans Trust Fund (MVTFF).

Vote YES on Proposal C. It aids our war-era veterans and their families, carries no hidden tax cost to you, and preserves the MVTFF for its original purpose.

Protect the trust.

IT'S ONLY LIFE

Does everyone have East Jordan's best interest in mind?

By ROGER HUCKLE

Where is East Jordan's long awaited and somewhat expected commercial development boom?

The city formed a Downtown Development Authority to plan and execute the infrastructure improvements, the state declared us the fastest growing city in Michigan, we have plenty of undeveloped properties in the commercial district, the Chamber of Commerce is working hard and enjoying unprecedented growth in membership — so where are the new businesses? Where are the entrepreneurs? What is everybody waiting for?

After looking the other day at the properties that remain undeveloped within the DDA district, I discovered that most of the them are up for sale or rent. A few questions later I discovered, to my chagrin, that the East Jordan DDA district (especially Main Street) seems to be the victim of some latter-day speculators.

These property owners, it seems, are not willing to invest any capital themselves to improve their properties or develop businesses. Consequently, all the developments currently under way or recently proposed are OUTSIDE the DDA district — while East Jordan's downtown continues to slowly deteriorate.

While these properties remain unimproved and vacant, fewer shoppers are attracted to the downtown area, fewer dollars are spent on Main Street, and the harder it is for any new or current business to turn a profit. I wonder if these property owners comprehend what it takes to make a commercial/retail establishment successful in East Jordan today?

By keeping the rental rates and purchase prices of these properties artificially inflated, these owners are actually contributing to the deterioration of shopper traffic on Main Street which, in turn, affects the perceived property values they so hope to cash in on.

East Jordan's current business owners have been working very hard serving on various boards, without pay, in an effort to improve the entire business climate of East Jordan. It is very disheartening to see them work so hard for improvements yet have growth stymied by a few property owners whose only goal, it seems, is to try and profit by the hard work of others.

East Jordan needs property owners willing to work together for the improvement of the city's economic vitality and its commercial districts by improving their buildings and offering reasonable rents that would allow feasible business plans to succeed.

(P.S. I would like to thank all of the individuals who have taken the time to stop by and discuss my articles. I enjoy writing them and receiving all the feedback (pro and con) you have felt necessary to relate to me.

East Jordan's Police Department is wholeheartedly behind the formation of a youth center. Chief Alward stopped by to volunteer his help in any way possible.

A couple of city commissioners related that compromises on the recently proposed developments are possible if the developers are willing to come back to the table. I hope they take advantage of the offer. R.H.)

Pie bakers for a day

While most everyone else was out enjoying a glorious autumn day Saturday, members of the East Jordan Lioness Club were busy making pies -- 320 of them -- at the elementary school cafeteria. Work started about 7 a.m. and by mid afternoon the pies were all baked. The event is one of the club's biggest fund raisers of the year. If you are hoping to buy one, sorry you're out of luck -- all the pies were pre-sold.

By late morning the pumpkin pies were done and looking good. On the pie-baking committee for the club were Nancy Labeau, front, Kathy O'Rear, Marie Yettaw and Roberta Nemecek.

Chamber accepting nominees for Citizen of the Year award

The East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce will be presenting three awards at its annual meeting on Jan. 11.

The Citizen of the Year award will be given to an individual for their outstanding contributions to the community. Anyone can make nominations for the award by filling out a nomination form, available at area banks, the chamber office, or the post office.

The final selection will be made by a citizens' committee made up of members of local organizations and service clubs, and last year's citizens of the year. The deadline for nominations is Nov. 18.

The President's Award will be awarded for outstanding contribution to the Chamber of Commerce. The recipient of this award will be chosen by the executive board of the chamber.

The Ambassador Award will be awarded to a chamber ambassador for their outstanding efforts on behalf of the chamber. The recipient will be chosen by the executive director and office manager of the chamber.

Sixth graders help build 'The Wall'

Grab a hammer, a handful of nails, a pencil and measuring tape.

East Jordan eighth graders will be turning themselves into carpenters on Wednesday, Oct. 16. As the sounds of swinging hammers, sawing wood, and young voices echo through the woods, The Wagbo Peace Center will be getting a face lift.

As part of a series of community service projects, East Jordan Schools will be helping to build a Group Initiatives Course at The Wagbo Peace Center, located three miles south of town on M-66.

The class will be constructing a 12-foot wood wall. Once complete, the goal of the wall element will be to successfully get each member of a participating group up and over it. Only the use of bodies, muscle, and sheer determination are allowed. The wall is a rewarding, though at first intimidating lesson in the importance of cooperation, group focusing, and conquering fears.

It will be one among many successive hands-on elements found through the Woods at The Wagbo Peace Center. Once construction is complete, the course will be open to area schools and people looking for a group building experience.

A day on the road

A share for the runners

Rotary serving spaghetti dinner on Tuesday

The East Jordan Rotary Club will serve a spaghetti dinner on Tuesday, Oct. 22, from 4-7 p.m. at the East Jordan Snowmobile Club.

The menu is spaghetti, garlic bread, salad, coffee or milk and a dessert. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12 years of age. Proceeds from the dinner will help fund Rotary's community projects.

The Snowmobile Club is located a couple of miles south of East Jordan on Old 66 (Mt. Bliss Road).

East Jordan Rotarians are selling tickets in advance, and tickets can also be purchased at the door. For more information Call Bob Tambellini at 536-2440.

BUSINESS

Korthase-Lindsay Insurance buys old Wolverine Power building

From his current office on the corner of Water and Lake streets, Bill Korthase, owner of Korthase-Lindsay Insurance, has a nice view of Lake Charlevoix.

From his new office he'll have a great view of the new Boyne City Sports Complex. That's important for the guy who is president of the Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence, the group that combined efforts with the Boyne School Boosters to build the complex.

After being vacant for more than seven years, the old Wolverine Power building will be home to Korthase-Lindsay Insurance on Oct. 22. The business will be closed Monday to make the move.

Korthase bought the building from Mike Gabos who bought Korthase-Lindsay's downtown office. Gabos said he currently has no plans for the building.

Korthase-Lindsay Insurance will occupy the first story of the old Wolverine Power building while Northstar Financial will have its offices on the second level.

"We needed space," Korthase said. "We are growing rapidly and either had to add on, which is pretty costly, or move to where the space already is."

"This will give us the room for now and the future."

Korthase also owns Korthase Insurance Agency in East Jordan "which will stay as it is," he said. "We're ecstatic about the growth in East Jordan."

Dr. Chris Fair

Fair Chiropractic has new home

Fair Chiropractic is settling in to its new home, just a few doors down from its old location in the Water Street Mall at 5 W. Main St. in Boyne City.

"We needed more space to service our patients better and expand our ability to serve the community better," said Dr. Chris Fair. The new office is 70 percent larger than the old location.

A 1980 graduate of Boyne City High School, Fair attended Chiropractic National College in Chicago. After school he practiced eight months with his father in Kansas and then decided the Plains were not for him. He moved back to northern Michigan and practiced with Dr. James Beno for two years, before setting up his own practice in Boyne City eight years ago.

His first office was in his home, then a year later he moved to the Water Street Mall on West Main.

Fair Chiropractic now has a personal trainer on staff who does exercise rehabilitation and the office is associated with masseuse Jeff Uloth of the Health Circle.

"The expansion also will allow us to see more people and meet the demand that is being placed on us at this time," Fair said.

To celebrate its move and grand re-opening, Fair Chiropractic is offering its patients free adjustments on Oct. 19 from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. in exchange for non-perishable food items that will be donated to the Boyne food pantry.

Wayne and Kathie Johnson

Johnson Furniture glad to be in BC

Johnson's Furniture opened earlier this month in downtown Boyne City.

Owners Wayne and Kathie Johnson have extensively remodeled the building which for many years was home to the Ben Franklin store.

The Johnsons have been in the furniture business several years, but their old store was one of the casualties of the natural gas explosion which damaged several buildings in downtown Mancelona about 18 months ago. After an extensive search for a new location, the Johnsons settled on Boyne City.

"We have been very well received here and are enjoying the prospect of being a part of the community for many years," Kathie said.

Johnson Furniture, located at 126 Water St., is open Monday through Saturday. Its phone number is 582-6067.

A four-wheel gift for Camp Quality

Camp Quality USA has new wheels.

The camp, with its national office in Boyne City, was given a brand new 1996 Dodge Caravan, valued at $20,000, by Terry Barr and Mark (Hoot) McInerney, two Detroit area businessmen. Barr is also a former kicker for the Detroit Lions.

Eleanor West, executive director of Camp Quality USA, picked the vehicle up earlier this month from Oakland Dodge in Madison Heights. The dealership is owned by Jim McInerney, Hoot's son.

As she does often throughout the year as executive director of Camp Quality, West was making a presentation earlier this year to Barr and McInerney and other possible donors on the camp's needs. From that meeting came the van donation, she said.

Camp Quality is a one week summer camp for children suffering from cancer. In recent years it has been held at Camp Daggett on Walloon Lake. Each camper is matched with a companion they have all year long. In addition to the camp, families and companions meet as a group in the fall and winter.

Other items on Camp Quality's needs list are:

An endowment fund, a national corporate sponsor, an air travel sponsor, a puppet program sponsor, a new computer, training equipment, fax machine, new telephones, camcorder, sailing camp director with boat, and new table games.

Anyone interested in making a donation can call 582-2471. The camp's office is located at 202 S. Lake St. in the Lake Street Mall.

Three injured in car wreck

An accident on US 31 near the Boyne City-Charlevoix Road late Saturday evening injured three occupants of one vehicle.

Just prior to the accident, an injured deer was in the road and two motorists attempted to pull it to the shoulder, according to the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department. Another vehicle, a small Ford two door, came from the north and stopped when its driver saw the deer in the roadway and the men nearby.

A second car, a 1977 Chevrolet 4 door driven by Raymond N. Honson from Interlochen, had been following the Ford and failed to stop. It collided with the rear of the car driven by Annette Vanderney of Boyne City.

She received injury to her leg, according to a report from the sheriff's office. Her mother, Jeanette Dustin who had been sitting in the front passenger seat, also received an injury to her leg and back. Charles Vanderney, age 10, Bethany Vanderney age 7, of Boyne City and Kristi Potter, age 15, of East Jordan were passengers in the back seat.

The occupants of the Vanderney vehicle were transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by Charlevoix Ambulance.

Honson was cited for following too closely.

BCHS band taking orders for anniversary, birthday calendars

Members of the Boyne City High School Band have been taking orders the past two weeks for the community birthday calendars and those who haven't yet been contacted still have a chance to place an order.

The community birthday calendars will be shipped to the high school the third week of December. Band members will then deliver them to your home.

Band members have tried to contact everyone in the community but if you have been missed contact Lori Mapes at 582-2121 or band director Rebecca Palmiter at 582-6587. Orders will be accepted until Oct. 18.

Calendars with family birthdays and anniversaries are $7. If you would like to support the band but do not want to have your birthday on the calendar, the calendars are $6.

Planning for the holidays

Santa parade moved to Friday after Thanksgiving

Halloween hasn't even arrived yet, but Boyne City has already begun planning for this year's Yuletide season.

Boyne City's tentative Christmas plans are already promising a jolly holiday for the northern Michigan area. Special contests, parades and holiday hours, along with other seasonal favorites make the soon-to-arrive winter a little less foreboding.

The first event of the season will be the Santa Parade, held on Nov. 29, the Friday after Thanksgiving, at 6 p.m. Parade entries of all sizes are welcome to participate in the evening parade. Walking entries should carry flashlights, and all floats should be lit if possible. Interested parties must register with the chamber by Nov. 1.

On Nov. 30, Dec. 7, and Dec. 14, the Eagles Gift Bazaar, Holiday Hobbycraft Show, and Tiny Tim's Arts and Crafts Show will give you an opportunity for Christmas shopping.

In addition, downtown Boyne City will also be featuring special retail holiday hours from Dec. 13-23.

During the weeks of Dec. 16-28, the trolley tour of lights will be making its annual rounds through the community to see the area's finest residential Christmas lights displays.

Applications to enter the Christmas lights contest will be available Nov. 30 at the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce, City Hall, Glen's, and Carter's.

While more events are still in the planning stages, it is never too early to mark your calendar for these events. Any other events or programs should be reported to the chamber of commerce so that they can be listed in the community calendar.

For more information on this, or any of the events listed, call the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce at 582-6222.

Holiday craft fair date set

Boyne City's annual Holiday Hobby Craft Show will be held Dec. 7 in the high school gym.

The Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence and the Community Education Department are sponsoring the show.

For more information, call Sue Breidenstein at Boyne City High School. Her number is 582-6587.

Helping others

The Boyne City District Library and the Boyne City Foundation For Educational Excellence were on the receiving end of two donations from the Eta Nu Sorority. The organization gave the library $1,500 and books. The money will be used to help upgrade the library's technical services. Eta Nu also gave the Foundation $1,500 for the sports complex.

Park of the Pines will be site of Beginning Experience weekend

Beginning Experience, a healing program for divorced, widowed or separated persons, is accepting reservations for the weekend of Oct. 25-27. The program will be held at the Park of the Pines near Boyne City.

The Beginning Experience is for newly single people of all faiths who want to begin a new life with renewed courage and joy. A divorce, death or separation must already have occurred.

Beginning Experience offers an opportunity to reflect on the past and find personal renewal in the present, said Alice Engle, a member of the organization. "It is a weekend away from tensions of everyday living, with time to be by yourself and time to share thoughts and feelings with others," she said.

"There is a single purpose to the weekend; to offer encouragement and support to make a new beginning in relationships with self, others and God."

For more information, call Martha at 616-941-8379.

CLUBS

Boyne Valley Garden Club

The Boyne Valley Garden Club will meet Thursday, Oct. 24, at Litzenburger Place at 1 p.m.

After the business meeting pumpkins will be painted and decorated to donate to Grandvue, Litzenburger Place and Bortz for Halloween.

As always all are welcome. Call Betty Shaver at 582-5545 for further information.

Churches hosting Family Renewal Weekend

"Going for the Gold" is the theme of a Family Renewal Weekend on Oct. 19-21, hosted by Boyne-area churches.

All men and women are invited to bring their families to the renewal weekend "to help strengthen and build a strong relationship with them," said the Rev. Gary Bondarenko, minister of the Boyne City United Methodist Church. Single persons are also welcome.

Dr. Kent Fishel is the keynote speaker for the weekend. He has worked with thousands of young people throughout the world and his ministries include speaking, counseling, and discipling students, one-on-one. He has taught and coached at the junior and senior high school and college levels and has ministered to professional athletes as well. He has also authored a number of devotional books specifically for teens.

Other speakers include Roger Spencer, a minister from the local area, and Pat Klooster, a teacher and the head football coach at Boyne City High School. Dan Mills, who teaches at Concord Academy Boyne, will provide music.

There will be four sessions held at Boyne City Elementary School. They are:

- Saturday, 9-10:30 a.m.: Grandfathers and fathers are invited to bring their children and grandchildren to the opening session which will focus on fathers and their children. Coffee, juice and donuts at be available at 8:30 a.m.

- Saturday, 7-8:30 p.m.: Men and women are invited to bring their spouses, children and grandchildren to the session which will focus on the family.

- Sunday, 7-8:30 p.m.: Men and women are invited to bring their spouses, children and grandchildren to the session which will continue to focus on the family. All are encouraged to attend.

- Monday, 7-8:30 p.m.: Young men and women of the community at the junior and senior high level are invited to attend the evening session which will focus on youth and a child's role in the family.

For more information, contact the Rev. Bondarenko at 582-9776.

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS: "I enjoy playing sports, hunting, and having fun with friends."

FUTURE PLANS: "I plan to attend a small college for about 4 years to pursue a business career."

NOMINATING COMMENTS: "Hardworking, energetic and enthusiastic are but a few adjectives to describe Wade's outlook toward work and life. Great student - Great kid!" said Mr. Fowler.

"Wade has been a very hard working student in my classes the past two years," said Mr. Rice. "I very much appreciate his strong work ethic. Keep up the good work!"

"Wade has a positive influence in his pre-calculus class. As a senior his work ethic and consistency is a great example for the rest of the class," said Mr. Fry.

NAME: Michael Greenman

PARENTS: Tony and Dottie Greenman

GRADE: Senior

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES: Football and basketball

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS: "I like to take walks through the woods by myself. I also like hanging out with my friends. I like to go hunting, fishing, and camping. My interests include watching animals and studying their behaviors. I also like studying the human mind and why people do the things they do."

FUTURE PLANS: "I hope to go to college and play some kind of sport. After college I want to get a good job that pays pretty good."

NOMINATING COMMENTS: "Mike has done a real good job in all my classes the past two years. Keep up the good work!" said Mr. Rice.

"Mike is a quiet leader. He leads by example. He gives 100 percent and it shows. He is a coachable young man who is a contributor to the team," said Coach Klooster.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

ARCHIE AND BETTY KLEIN returned last Tuesday from a seven day trip to Scranton, Pa., where they attended Archie's UDT 19 (Naval Frogman) Reunion. Their trip was very enjoyable they plan to attend next year's annual event which is to be held in Hawaii.

DARLENE BRICKER of Boyne City and Bill Duff of Gaylord spent a long weekend in Iron Mountain where they attended the fall conference for Purple Heart Veterans and also visited friends in the L'Anse area.

GORDON AND MARYLOU YAHR of Delaware, Ohio visited his mother, Ruth Yahr of Litzenger Place, over the weekend. It was planned that all would enjoy a color tour in the Upper Peninsula before their return trip home.

KATHERINE SPANIAK of Litzenger Place remains as a patient in the heart unit of Northern Michigan Hospital since her attack earlier this past week.

ARLO AND ANNA COXON and his daughter Tammy and family, all of the Concord area, were here visiting their Boyne City and East Jordan relatives over the weekend.

MARK AND LYNNEL JANETZKE and daughter Brook of Williamston spent the weekend here visiting relatives and enjoyed Sunday dinner with her Grandmother, Zola Hardy.

ROSE SCHWEM of Boyne Falls and sister in law, Lillian Kiss were recently accompanied by her step son, Marvin Schwem for a three day trip to Indiana, Pa., where they visited relatives and also the cemetery there.

CAL AND COLLEEN BRICKER and family and Bill and Dixie Lahti and family, all of Lansing, were among the caravan of trucks and cars carrying approximately 45 Bricker family members from Boyne City and surrounding areas for Sunday's color tour and hot dog roast and picnic along the Jordan River Valley. The group also enjoyed the beautiful colors of the landslide area of Alba.

RUTH FRALEY, former Boyne City

resident, now residing in Bellaire, enjoyed a visit from Boyne City friends on Sunday, in remembrance of her birthday of October 7. Other friends might like to drop Ruth a belated card at: Meadow Brook, Scenic Drive Hwy., Bellaire, Mich., 49615

JUNE MOREY and friend Lois spent last weekend here with her mother, Anne Jenkins at her Kuzmic Road home, east of Boyne Falls. All were impressed with Boyne City's Fall Harvest Festival at Veteran's Memorial Park and also enjoyed visiting the Jack Moreys in Vanderbilt.

THE FAMILY OF JESSIE PADGETT celebrated her 97th birthday with residents of her Grandvue home on Saturday, which was followed by another celebration dinner gathering on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Wilma Socia, in Walloon Lake.

MARIE SCHMITTDIEL of Boyne City spent the weekend in Mt. Pleasant, where she attended an all school reunion.

SERVICE BRIEFS

Marine Lance Cpl. DANIEL J. SYMONS, son of Nina Symons of East Jordan, recently received a Certificate of Commendation while assigned with Headquarters Battalion, 1st Marine Division, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The 1993 graduate of University High School of Bridgeport, Conn., joined the Marine Corps in October 1993.

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class MICHAEL L. MONT, a 1992 graduate of Boyne City High School has returned to his homeport in Norfolk, Va., after completing a six-month deployment aboard the destroyer USS Arthur W. Radford.

Mont is one of 350 sailors aboard the destroyer who completed the 27,000-mile voyage. Mont's ship was part of the 11-ship USS George Washington Battle Group, which included more than 80 tactical aircraft, ships and submarines armed with Tomahawk cruise missiles.

During the deployment, Mont's ship patrolled the Adriatic and Mediterranean seas, helping to enforce the international embargo against the former Yugoslavia.

The deployment enabled Mont to visit Bulgaria, France, Greece, Italy, Romania, Spain, Tunisia, Turkey and the Ukraine.

He joined the navy in August 1992.

Navy Seaman Recruit JOSHUA D. PEPIN, son of Daniel J. and Penny L. Pepin of East Jordan, recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Pepin completed a variety of training which included classroom study, practical hands-on instruction, and an emphasis on physical fitness. In particular, Pepin learned naval customs, first aid, fire fighting, water safety and survival, and a variety of safety skills required for working around ships and aircraft.

He is a 1994 graduate of East Jordan High School.

Jeanne White-Ginder speaking about AIDS at North Central

The North Central Michigan College 1996-97 Lecture Series begins Oct. 29 with Jeanne White-Ginder speaking on HIV/Aids.

In 1984 White-Ginder learned that her son, Ryan White, had contracted the HIV virus from a supply of tainted blood. People in her hometown of Kokomo, Ind., refused to let Ryan back in school. After a long court battle and unwelcome media attention, Ryan was allowed to return to school only to face teasing by his peers. After being threatened several times, the Whites moved to Cicero, Ind., where they were welcomed.

After Ryan's death in 1990, Jeanne was asked by Sen. Edward Kennedy and Sen. Ogin Hatch to come to Washington and lobby for the Ryan White Comprehensive AIDS Resource Act (CARF). The bill, which passed, provided federal funding for AIDS education. She also founded the Ryan White Foundation, of which she is president. The foundation serves to educate adolescents about HIV/AIDS and related issues.

Today White-Ginder continues to educate young people in a variety of ways, including public speaking. She will speak at North Central Michigan College on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 7 p.m. in the Library Conference Center. She will also address Petoskey High School students on the morning of Oct. 29.

Other NCMC Lecture Series speakers this year will include Barry Williams, Darryl Van Leer and Helen Thomas. All Lecture Series events are open to the public and free of charge.

For more information contact Greg Baird, director of student activities at North Central Michigan College, 348-6706.

East Jordan students will get sobering message about drugs

East Jordan High School students will receive a sobering message from two young people who know firsthand what can result from mixing drugs and alcohol with a motor vehicle. Rich Archuleta and Jason Feller will share their stories with East Jordan High School students on Oct. 17 at 9:40 a.m.

Archuleta and Feller, from the nationally-recognized auto safety program, "A Fine Line," will speak to East Jordan students Thursday, Oct. 18, at 9:40 a.m. The two are visiting northern Michigan high schools during a two-week tour sponsored by the Michigan Association of Insurance Companies (MAIC). The Students Against Driving Drunk Chapter at East Jordan High School is co-sponsoring the event.

During the presentation, Archuleta will recreate the night when a drunk driver tried to run his motorcycle off the road. Archuleta, who wasn't wearing a helmet, was forced to jump off the motorcycle and then hit a curb, permanently injuring his spinal cord.

Feller's story is different. He went out partying and attempted to drive home. He wasn't wearing a seat belt when he lost control of the vehicle and was ejected through the back window. He now has a permanent head injury.

OBITUARIES

Harry L. (Chum) Simmons

Harry L. (Chum) Simmons of Plymouth, formerly of East Jordan, died Sept. 12, 1996 at his home in Bradenton, Fla.

Funeral services were held in Plymouth on Sept. 19. The Rev. Dr. William Ritter officiated, with burial in the Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Simmons was a 1936 graduate of East Jordan High School and the oldest son of Harry Simmons, long-time police chief.

As a US Navy chief warrant officer in World War II, Simmons took part in the invasion of North Africa, Salerno, Anzio and Normandy. He married June Wagner in Detroit in May, 1941. She preceded her husband in death, June 8, 1977.

The couple had two children: Carole Darlene Hobbs and Barbara Beals, both of Westland, Mich. Other survivors are his wife, Marie; two brothers, William (Bill) Simmons of Traverse City, and Gerold (Dutch) Simmons of Pontiac; two sisters, Jean Strehl of East Jordan and Mary Woodcock of Richland, Mich.; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Home Improvements Keep People From Being Left Out in the Cold

As winter approaches and the temperature drops, homeowners are weatherproofing their houses in anticipation of heavy rain and snow. From top to bottom, they are making improvements to ward off potential damage.

One of the greatest dangers homeowners face is moisture damage. Therefore, they should check their roof to make sure the shingles are secure and the blacktop doesn't need patching. Next, they should inspect the exterior walls of the house, nailing any loose boards and shingles and touching up areas where the paint is worn. Also, hairline cracks in the chimney, siding and foundation should be patched. These repairs can help keep water where it belongs, outside the home.

Another wintertime problem homeowners face is the unnecessary loss of heat. Heat often escapes — and cold air enters — a home through spaces between the siding and window and door frames. Homeowners should caulk these areas, as well as replace all storm windows and make sure that all doors close properly, to help keep their home warm.

In addition to these improvements, homeowners also should inspect their heating systems, flooring, windows, plumbing and drainage systems, and fireplace to make sure their home can withstand winter's torment.

While these tasks may seem complicated, many can be do-it-yourself projects. People need to plan ahead to ensure that they have set aside enough time for the job, have the right equipment and materials, and understand the work that needs to be done. If they need a tool that they don't own, they don't necessarily have to buy it. They can rent it or even borrow it from a friend. Whichever option people choose, they should understand how the tool works and read any directions before using it.

If homeowners don't feel comfortable doing home-improvement tasks themselves, they should hire a professional. The key to contracting the right person is thorough research. Homeowners should find out how long a professional has been in business and check for any complaints against him or her with an area consumer-protection agency. It is important to ask previous clients for references and, if possible, inspect the workmanship of previous jobs.

Whether they make the improvements on their own or have someone else do them, homeowners are keeping themselves from being left out in the cold this winter.

It's dejá vu for 6-0 Ramblers

By TED KARASZEWSKI

Emotions played a big part in last Friday's game with Charlevoix. The Rayders were fired up for their homecoming date with Boyne City and they gave the Ramblers all they could handle before going down in defeat, 8-0.

Charlevoix played perhaps its best game of the season against Boyne City as the old rivals locked horns once again for a defensive battle and county bragging rights at least for another year.

"Coach Gowell had his team well prepared. They had a good game plan," said coach Pat Klooster. "They were a lot quicker than I thought."

"Their emotions played a big part because of their homecoming and because they were playing against us. Those emotions can work for you or against you. In this case, Charlevoix was ready for us and gave us a good test.

"The games are going to keep getting tougher from here on and we're going to have to get fired up for these remaining games."

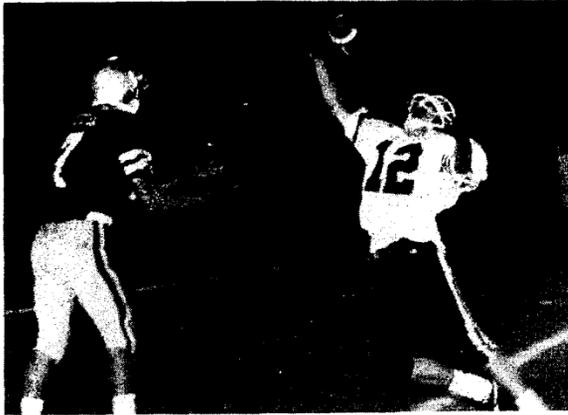

Boyne City plays its third away game in a row this Friday when it travels to Lincoln-Alcona and a win there would certainly help the Ramblers in their quest for a state playoff bid.

"This is where the bottom fell out on us last year with three games left," Klooster said. "We can't afford to look beyond this week's game. We'll certainly have our work cut out for us after a two-hour bus ride, but we'll have to get the job done. If we could win two of the remaining three games, we should make the playoffs but we can't afford to look beyond this week's game."

Boyne City couldn't get its offense going in the first half as it turned the ball over twice on two interceptions and missed a 30-yard field goal attempt that was wide right by a couple of inches.

"Looking back now I think I would have went for the first down instead of going for the field goal," Klooster said.

"It was fourth and one and even if we didn't make the first down we would have left Charlevoix deep in its own territory," Klooster said.

Photos by Vic Ruggles

As the receiver waits for the ball, Matt Johnnecheck lunges and tips it away to break up a big play for the Rayders.

"The field goal sounded like a good idea at the time and with Alex Berti's foot we had a chance to score. There was a time when we didn't have a reliable kicker so we thought this was a good time to try it."

Both teams' defenses did an excellent job all night long coming up with big plays time after time. Most notable was junior Matt Johnnecheck's breakup of a T.J. Carey pass to Dave Manker early in the third quarter that would have resulted in a big gainer if not for Johnnecheck's effort.

"Our team played four quarters of solid defense," Klooster said.

"The games are going to keep getting tougher from here on and we're going to have to get fired up for these remaining games."

--Coach Pat Klooster

"Offensively I felt we only clicked in the third quarter. We're going to have to do better offensively."

It was in the third quarter that the Ramblers finally scored as they took the second half kickoff 60 yards on 9 plays before Dean Fiel took the ball in from the 2-yard line. Josh May converted the 2-point try for the only points of the game.

Charlevoix made a bid to score early in the fourth stanza when Carey lofted a 26-yard pass play to a diving Steve Speigl setting the Rayders up on Boyne's 36 yard line. Charlevoix moved to the Rambler 14 yard line before the defense stiffened, forcing the Rayders to go for it on fourth and nine. Carey's pass intended for Manker was intercepted by Jesse Belford at the four.

Boyne City gained 219 yards on the ground led by Fiel's workman effort of 143 yards on 29 carries. Josh May gained 47 yards on 13 tries while Scott Karaszewski had 4 carries for 16 yards. The Ramblers had just 9 yards in the air on a pass caught by Fiel.

Charlevoix's offense was led by Chris Dominic's 16 rushes for 69 yards while Manker had 47 yards rushing on 12 carries. T.J. Carey completed 3 passes on 13 tries for 49 yards.

Defensively for Boyne, Wade Leist led in tackles with 10. Cliff Bates and Jeremy Andrews each had 7 and Josh May had 6. Matt Johnnecheck and Belford each had an interception while Keith Jones and Matt Johnnecheck each had a fumble recovery. Kory Lockman, Scott Karaszewski and Bates each had a sack.

Friday's game starts at 7:30 at Lincoln-Alcona.

Red Devils lose the game and their quarterback

By RICH CLARK

The East Jordan Red Devils' offense showed signs of life and the defense came up with some big stops, but it wasn't enough Friday night as Elk Rapids won its homecoming game 17-6.

And not only did East Jordan lose the game it lost its quarterback, sophomore Chris Murray, who suffered a broken leg in the fourth quarter.

"We played an excellent game, but we couldn't quite turn the corner," said head coach Alan Peterson.

"We were so close. Our defense stepped up and stopped the Elks for only two first downs in the fourth quarter. The bad news for us is that Chris Murray is out for the season. Denzil Wilson will take his place.

"We are going to work hard all week. The kids won't need much of a pep talk because of homecoming week. They are pumped up and ready to rumble."

Elk Rapids scored on its first possession to take a 7-0 lead, but then the defense buckled down on the next series to stuff the Elks. When the defense came off the field it fired up the offense which was starting from its own 20-yard line with four minutes to go in the first quarter.

Park Bluhm started the drive with a 17-yard scamper around left end. Three plays later fullback Dillon Antaya had an 11-yard carry up the middle to keep the drive alive. The next play saw quarterback Chris Murray roll out, and find a wide open Scott Haley, for a 54-yard touchdown pass. The conversion was no good.

Two possessions later with eight minutes left in half, the Red Devils started on their own 49-yard line. On the first play Antaya ripped a 14-yard pick up. Then Bluhm picked up 28 yards on three carries over the next five plays. The other two plays were incomplete passes.

The Devils moved to the one but their drive ended when halfback Shane Swan was stopped on the 5 inch line on fourth down. That was the closest East Jordan would come to scoring the rest of the game.

Dillon Antaya and Bluhm led the ground game gaining 85 and 80 yards respectively. Swan added 43 tough yards, Ryan Antaya and Chris King chipped in with runs of eight yards each. Murray completed three passes for 68 yards. Scott Haley hauled in two for 61 yards and Swan snared one for seven yards.

On the defensive side of the ball, Amos Skrocki led the team with 11 tackles, Matt Ingalls and Rob Reid each had seven and Luke McLaren had six. Denzil Wilson picked off one pass and returned it 23 yards.

Katie Bernthal is surrounded by East Jordan defenders as she tries to get a shot away during the Lady Ramblers win last Tuesday night.

After showdown, Boyne and East Jordan go different ways

By CHRIS WINKLER

It was quite an emotional week for the Boyne City girls basketball team.

Nothing could have been better than their 54-47 win over the East Jordan Red Devils on Oct. 8, but then they suffered a downfall while playing Kalkaska at home two days later. Following the East Jordan victory, an 86-49 defeat was not what they had in mind.

East Jordan, however, bounced back with an impressive 48-39 win over Traverse City St. Francis on Thursday. On Saturday the Lady Red Devils hosted Cheboygan in a non-conference game, losing 61-54.

The Ramblers came out of the gate strong on Tuesday, opening up an 11-0 lead. That margin soon diminished, though, and Boyne was only up by one, 26-25, at the half. East Jordan took the lead for a brief moment in the third quarter, but the Ramblers took it back with a 15-5 run. Three missed free throws down the stretch crushed any thoughts of a Devil comeback.

Treana Fiel topped Boyne with a quiet 17 points and nine rebounds. Bobowski and Bernthal scored 12 apiece. Erin Fry had seven boards.

Defensively, Bobowski made eight steals while shutting down the Red Devils Amanda Pepin. Pepin has been East Jordan's foremost player this season, but was held to just 16 points by Bobowski and fellow defender Sarah Vincent, who traded duties on Pepin. Jenny Goebel scored 12 for East Jordan.

"We were effective in stopping East Jordan because of our help-side defense, communication, and intensity on defense," said Neidhamer. "I was real happy with those concepts."

The Lady Ramblers finally won a close game, and Neidhamer was proud to bring that out. "We've been there before in a close game, and as I've told the girls, we will win some close ones and we will become tougher, smarter, and get the job done. They made the right decisions, which won the game for us."

"Boyne City really played a good game, especially on defense," said East Jordan coach Steve Hines. "They determined the pace of the game and they were the aggressors. We had good balanced scoring but our defense just couldn't stop Boyne City."

AGAINST KALKASKA, Katie Bernthal led the scoring against the Blazers with nine points, and also added five rebounds. Alison Polack scored seven, and April Roberts and Sarah Bobowski each had six. Bobowski made three steals and two assists, and Heidi VanHoosier grabbed five rebounds. Everyone scored on the Rambler bench.

"We ran into a real good team on a hot night," said coach Tom Neidhamer. "Sometimes there's not that much you can do."

For Kalkaska, Leigh Ann Dalton put in 27 points, one of which was her 1,000th. Dalton is a junior who has played on varsity since her freshman year, and her moves make her a fun player to watch.

"Obviously, she's a very good ball player," Neidhamer said. "She can score from inside or outside. I have a lot of respect for her, and unfortunately we'll see her a lot more before her career is over."

The Lady Ramblers are now 1-5 in the conference and 3-7 overall.

FOR THE RED Devils against St. Francis, Pepin scored 20 points while Ember Rnasom added 11. Ransom also grabbed nine rebounds, while Pepin, Dayle Looze and Anne Hettig had eight.

Against Cheboygan Saturday, the Red Devils, who led by two at the half, stumbled in the third quarter before losing by seven. Pepin led the team with 24 points and 12 rebounds while Looze added 14 points and 10 rebounds.

The Red Devils are now 3-3 in the conference and 7-5 overall. They host Kalkaska Thursday night.

BOYNE CITY'S junior varsity and freshmen have been on the winning track. Against Kalkaska, the JV Lady Ramblers rallied from six points down with a minute left to tie the game, and eventually win in overtime, 53-49. Brandy Barren hit two free throws with four seconds remaining in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 47. Barren was the leading scorer with 19. Staci Seelye added 15. Their record is 6-4.

The freshmen team is 11-1 following their win over the Blazers on Thursday. Jackie Cyr tallied 10 points to lead the Ramblers to a 39-26 victory.

Boyne City's varsity and junior varsity play host to Charlevoix on Thursday, while the freshmen played Inland Lakes at home on Monday.

Parke Bluhm found some daylight around the end and heads upfield in Friday's game at Elk Rapids. He gained 80 yards for the evening.

EJ runners sweep B-C invitational

It doesn't get much better than this.

East Jordan cross country teams enjoyed a clean sweep Saturday at the Ogemaw Heights Invitational. The varsity boys and girls won the Class B-C divisions and the middle school team won its race.

Runners from all classes ran together and team scores were tallied by classes.

"Anytime our team can be victorious against Class B teams, we have much to be proud of," said coach Dennis Snarey. "We are still going to need improvement if we expect success at Kalkaska for the conference meet."

Leading the way for East Jordan was Mark Penzien, who placed second with a time of 17:42.

Other places for the East Jordan boys: 13-Nate Sothard, 18:09; 36-Charlie Hague, 18:46; 37-Chris Bearden, 18:48; 43-Matt Shaw, 19:10; 51-Nate Gagnon, 19:27; 52-Kevin Penzien, 19:29.

Holly Petkewicz led the East Jordan girls by placing 21st in 22:41. Other places: 28-Cassie Krause, 23:13; 33-Emily Niewendorp, 23:34; 35-Beth Purvis, 23:40; 39-Debbie Bacon, 23:49.

Micah Middaugh and Tarn Leach finished one-two, respectively, to lead East Jordan to victory in the 14-team middle school race. Middaugh finished in 11:12, Leach in 11:22.

Other East Jordan places: 8-Corban Shaw, 12:18; 10-Peter Warnos, 12:33; 14-Jeremy Booze, 12:48; 26-Jim Nowka, 13:50; 28-Jeremy Penzien, 14:12; 33-Joe Niewendorp, 14:49.

Lady Loggers settle for a split at home

The Lady Loggers lost a non-conference game last Tuesday to visiting Leelanau St. Mary's by a score of 65-45 then bounced back to take a conference win from Vanderbilt on Thursday also at home by a score of 47-27.

Boyne Falls gave St. Mary's a good run through three quarters but faded after a relentless press from the visitors.

"We couldn't handle the press," said coach Ken Doty. "After we figured their press out, they took it off. It was frustrating."

Trailing 29-18 at the half, the Loggers closed the gap to 31-28 midway through the third stanza before going scoreless for four minutes and allowing St. Mary's to pull away.

Please see BOYNE FALLS on page 11

Curtis Hansen was in the middle of three Wolverine runners about two miles into last Wednesday's race. He later broke out of the lead pack and won the race.

Loggers' hold on conference title is shaky

The Boyne Falls Loggers lost a conference meet last Wednesday at home against a strong Wolverine team, 29-26, then took a sixth place finish out of 10 teams at the Fairview Invitational on Saturday.

Wednesday's loss at home to Wolverine ended Boyne Falls hopes of repeating as sole conference champions. The best they could hope for now is a co-conference title depending on how they do at their conference meet.

"If we can beat Wolverine at the conference meet Oct. 23rd, we can win a co-title," said coach Andy Place. "We're not out of it yet."

"We did have some bright spots in our race with Wolverine. Curtis won the race with his own personnel best of 17:19."

Matt Britton ran well and moved into the fourth spot on the team and Becky Kuhn set a new school record for girls with a 25:35.

Mike Kenny has showed steady improvement and "we closed the gap by three points from the last time we raced Wolverine," Place said.

Loggers in order of finish: 1 - Curtis Hansen, 17:19; 6 - Mike Kenny, 18:14; 7 - Jeremy Massey, 18:31; 9 - Matt Britton, 19:32; 10 - Mark Bearss, 19:46; 13 - Pat Overmyer, 20:25; 17 Chad Matelski, 22:14

Boyne City's Shaylan Jones had his fastest time of the season with a 23:57 to finish 18th. Amy Place also of Boyne City ran one of her best races with a 25:07.

Saturday at Fairview saw the Loggers take a sixth place, fourth among class D schools as Hansen, Kenny and Massey all medaled for the Loggers. Medals were won by the top 25 runners.

"Pat Overmyer just missed a medal by one place while running one of his best races of the year," Place said. "It was a unique race and a good experience for the runners."

Loggers in order of finish: 16th - Curtis Hansen, 17:50; Mike Kenny, 18:09; Jeremy Massey, 18:46; Pat Overmyer, 20:05; Mark Bearss, 20:43.

Shaylan Jones of Boyne City ran a 23:17, 40 seconds lower than his previous best time. Amy Place took 36th place in the girls' race with a 12:29. Mik Martin won the junior boys race with a 12:29 nearly a minute faster than the second place finisher.

The Loggers race again this Wednesday at Vanderbilt.

Lady Loggers

Boyne Falls could not catch up after that.

Penny Marchinkewicz led the Loggers with 14 points. Andrea Kondrat added 10. Trisha Kondrat had eight while Beth Freck added seven. Marchinkewicz had nine boards while Kondrat had five blocked shots, four steals and five assists.

For Leelanau St. Mary's, Julie Belanger led all scoring with 20 points while teammate Alissa Pasch added 13.

Against Vanderbilt on Thursday, the Lady Loggers improved their conference record to 4-3 with a 47-27 win as Penny Marchinkewicz led all scoring with 13 points.

Trisha Kondrat added 10 points for Boyne Falls while Carrie Hansen added eight.

Karen Giem led the Loggers in rebounds with 12 while Marchinkewicz added nine boards. Andrea Kondrat had seven assists while Marchinkewicz added five steals.

Marly Coultres had 10 points for Vanderbilt.

Boyne Falls, 6-8 overall, made 21 field goals and was 5 of 8 from the line. Vanderbilt shot 11 field goals, one 3-pointer and was 2 of 5 from the stripe.

Boyne Falls played Harbor Light Christian Tuesday.

Boyne JV's stay perfect

Boyne City's junior varsity team turned in another strong game last Thursday at home against Charlevoix as it handed the Rayders a 46-13 loss.

Boyne chalked up 280 yards rushing in what was an easy win for the young Ramblers.

Korky Persons and Casey Simmons had the bulk of those yards with 100 yards on 15 carries and 109 yards on 17 tries respectively.

Jesse Simon scored three touchdowns to lead the scoring while Persons had two TD's. Simmons added a touchdown and a 2-point conversion while Simon also added a two point conversion. Josh Bush connected with Josh Hall for another two points and ran for another successful 2-point try. Andy Douglas added another two points after Simmons touchdown to complete the scoring.

The game was over at halftime as Boyne had built up a 30-0 lead heading into the locker room. The Rambler defense was stifling as Charlevoix could only make one first down in the half while committing four turnovers on three interceptions and one fumble. Jeremy Grice, Simmons and Simon each had the interceptions while Jeremy Peck had the fumble recovery. Peck had another fumble recovery later in the game.

Coach Mark Ameel lavished praise on his offensive line of Chris Notestine, Josh Bernthal, Nathan Howell, Clyde Patton and Jeff Johncheck.

"Our line did a fantastic job enabling us to run like we did," Ameel said. Our defense played great too."

Boyne hosts Lincoln-Alcona this Thursday. Game starts at 6:30 p.m.

treasurer Susan Moreau, mayor Russ Peck, and commissioners Brian Sweet, Ruth Gee and Dan McKinnon. Only the city is named in each of the 10 counts.

In the suit, Sutter claims wrongful termination, breach of contract against the city; handicapper discrimination, defamation, invasion of privacy, tortious interference, and civil conspiracy to commit unlawful acts.

She also claims she was fired because she "reported or was about to report irregularities and suspected violations of the financial affairs of the City of East Jordan and suspected irregularities and violations concerning the city's purported relationship with the auditor."

Sutter is asking that she be awarded economic damages for back pay, lost fringe benefits, future economic loss, compensatory damages for pain and suffering, emotional distress, embarrassment and humiliation, and special damages for damage to reputation and career.

The lawsuit has apparently been turned over to the city's insurance carrier.

Mary

time attention to the couple's children. They have four: Nathan, 26, Amy, 24, John, 22, and Michael, 10. There was still time for volunteer work, but only during hours her children were in school.

She's worked for Lake Superior State University for the past 11 years as director of the school's regional center in Petoskey. Her office is at North Central Michigan College but she spends much time on the road recruiting and counseling students, scheduling courses and administering to all the details of her wide-ranging job.

When she's not working, she's probably attending a meeting somewhere. Between the bank, rotary, the hospital and school boards she said: "All are different, all are interesting, all are worthwhile."

She also strives to spend time with her family. "My family is still my first priority," she said. "We spend a lot of time together. Sometimes it might be in funny places, but we're still together." Whenever possible she'll have family members join her on out-of-town trips.

Mary has found serving on the East Jordan school board has been particularly satisfying because the "community has always supported the schools."

"One of the good things about the school board is that it has been for community service where in other areas it has been a political stepping stone. The board is there to do what's best for kids. We have some real good board members. They do their homework and come to meetings prepared. "For a school our size, we're a very good school district."

Much of what Mary does she describes as "cross pollination." Her work ranges from K-12 students, to Char Em, to the Michigan School Board Association and "the circle keeps going."
