Nomination deadline nears for chamber award nominees

The East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce will be presenting three awards at its annual meeting on Jan. 11.

The Citizen of the Year award will be given to an individual for their outstanding contributions to the community. Anyone can make nominations for the award by filling out a nomination form, available at area banks, the chamber office, or the post office.

The President's Award will be awarded for outstanding contribution to the Chamber of Commerce. The recipient of this award will be chosen by the executive board of the chamber.

The Ambassador Award will be awarded to a chamber ambassador for their outstanding efforts on behalf of the chamber. The recipient will be chosen by the executive director and office manager of the chamber.

Cops face off on the football field in Boyne

Don't leave too quickly after Saturday's high school playoff game — there's another chance to see great football as the Northern Stars take on the Lansing Blue Knights at Earl Brotherston Football Field.

The Northern Stars is a team of local law, fire and ambulance agencies. The Lansing Blue Knights is a team from the Lansing City Police Department. The contact football game starts at 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Proceeds from ticket sales for the game go to the Boyne City High School Athletic Complex.

The Northern Stars formed its team in the fall and has been practicing for about a month, said spokesman Kevin Lockman. Chuck Vondra of Straits Area Narcotics Enforcement is the coordinator.

The Northern Stars team is doing this for fun, Lockman said, as well as to benefit the complex.

Players from Boyne City include Todd Reeves, Kyle Lockman, John Bush and George Lasater Jr.

Tickets are $4 for adults, $2 for students and children under six get in for free.

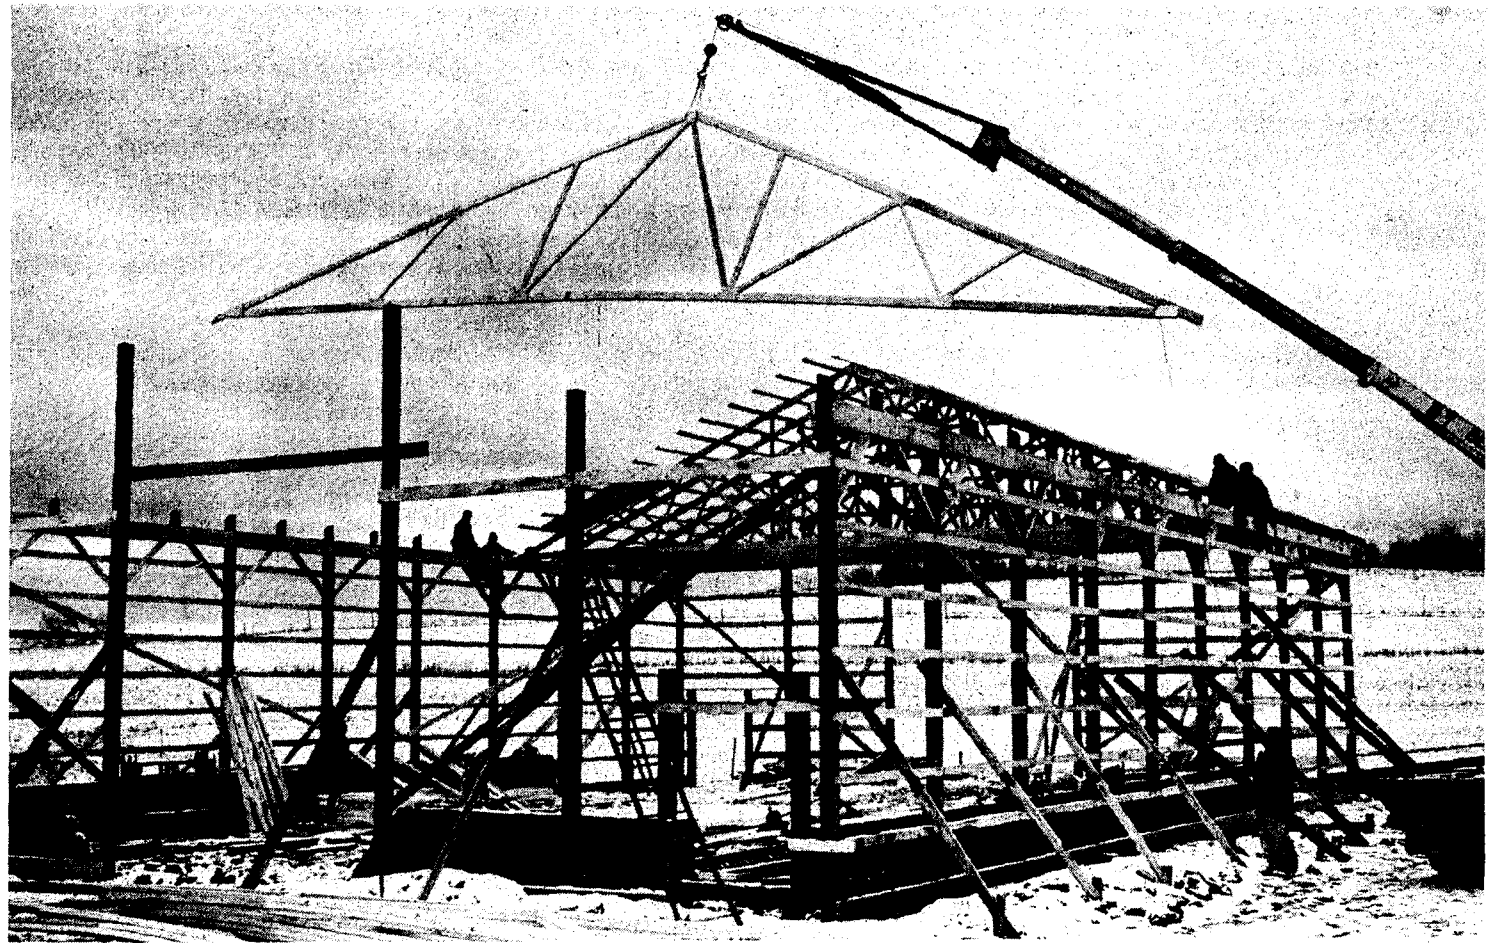

Holiday Fair is a start to the season's events

The holidays are approaching and East Jordan artists, community organizations and businesses are providing the community with plenty of activities for the season.

The Holiday Fair brings together more than 60 artists and craftpersons at the high school on Saturday, Nov. 9. An entertainment center will be set up for children to make their own Christmas item while parents shop for art work.

The Holiday Country Sampler takes place on Friday, Nov. 14, and Saturday, Nov. 15. Activities include tours of decorated homes, a fashion show, a bake sale and a raffle.

Despite wind and snow, the trusses went up on the Niewendorp barn last Thursday.

THANKS TO THE HARD WORK AND DONATIONS OF MANY

New barn rises from the ashes

From the ashes and debris of a devastating fire on the evening of Sept. 13 rises a new barn and a new beginning for the Niewendorp family.

With a tremendous outpouring of support, Greg and Marley Niewendorp and their three children, who have a 160-acre farm on Beishlag Road near East Jordan, can now look from their living room at a new metal-sided barn.

The scene is far different from what it was weeks ago when fire ripped through their old historic barn, destroying it in a matter of minutes. Not only was the barn a loss, but the Niewendorps' way of life was threatened.

"You just don't realize in your life all the people who you come into contact with that want to help you out," Marley said.

If you were to turn back the pages of history, what's happened at the Niewendorps is an old-fashioned barn raising.

The walls went up early last week, then Thursday more than 10 volunteers joined Greg and Marley to put up roof trusses. Raising trusses anytime is hard work, even in the most pleasant weather. Mother Nature could not have been more fierce than she was Thursday. Strong wind gusts, snow and cold combined to make it a brutal day raising the 19 trusses.

"I'm exhausted," Greg said Friday afternoon.

But he and several more volunteers were back at it on Saturday working on the walls and siding.

"It's wonderful to see people respond out of the goodness of their hearts," Greg said. "It's what Christianity is all about. It's the faith of God's people at work."

The past six months have not been kind to the Niewendorp family. Greg suffered a "very peculiar accident," he said, which caused him to black out and was hospitalized for two days. He is still undergoing therapy.

Also, Marley had a miscarriage. And then their barn burned.

But the community has responded. More than $8,000 has been donated. There have also been donations of lumber, and heavy equipment for clearing and preparing the site. With the donations and insurance settlement, the Niewendorps expect to have enough to build the new barn.

The East Jordan Lioness Club also helped by preparing food for the volunteers. "These women were excited to help," Marley said.

"People don't know us and they want to help."

Now the work begins for David White

He's looking forward to the challenges that lie ahead

By B. J. HETLER

David White wants to revitalize downtown East Jordan and make it a place where people want to visit and live.

To meet that goal, White sees his greatest challenge as getting the community behind the things that need to be done.

He said East Jordan has a negative connotation and he would like to change that. He questions the negativity and the reasons for it.

"I don't know why. I'd like to find out why," White said. "East Jordan has a lot of assets, it just needs to be spruced up and reactivated."

White is going to the community to talk about improving the city.

"I'm meeting with various groups now," White said. "I'm getting to know the community and they're getting to know me."

His top priorities are working on the infrastructure, specifically the streets and sidewalks, and development of the industrial park. He is working with the Downtown Development Authority and the city commission to make plans for turning these priorities into realities.

To fund the improvements, White is pursuing grants and looking at the city's general fund. The city has excess funds that will help in obtaining matching grants, he said.

'East Jordan has a lot of assets, it just needs to be spruced up and reactivated.'

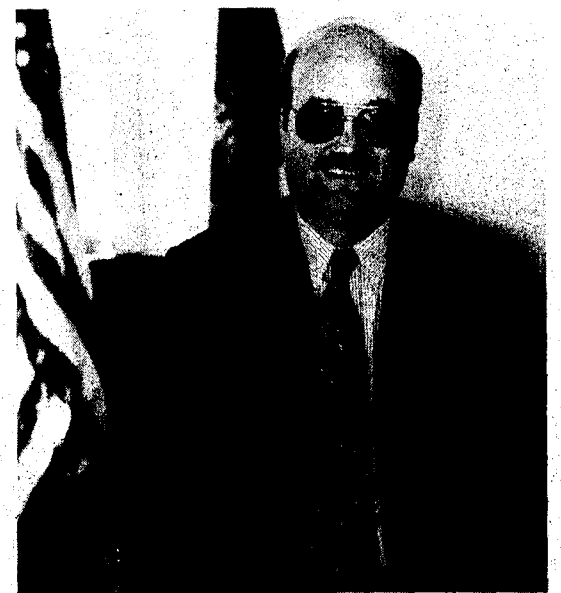

--David White

White officially became city administrator on Thursday when the city commission and he came to an agreement on a contract. White had been interim administrator since Aug. 12.

The contract has not been signed, but will be as soon as the paperwork is completed, White said.

The contract is an indefinite contract which means that it can be canceled, with proper notice, by either the commission or White. The salary is $52,000 a year and White will receive two weeks of vacation after three months, and four weeks after a year.

The contract requires that White live in the city, but the requirement was waived until July 1, 1997, to give White and his family time to sell their down state home and find housing in the city.

David White and the city commission agreed to a contract last Thursday which will pay the new city administrator $52,000 a year.

Not obeying school bus lights is flirting with danger

It's hard to believe, but apparently some drivers just don't get it.

They seem to be ignorant of what it means when a school bus has its lights flashing. For those of you needing a refresher: yellow means caution (slow down); red means stop. It's that simple.

In Charlevoix County we've been lucky, real lucky. There have been no serious incidents involving school buses and drivers who have their minds elsewhere.

But almost every day there is a near miss, or an "if only" incident. Talk to any school bus driver and they'll have a story to tell of some reckless driver putting our children at risk.

It doesn't make any sense. When you see a school bus, use your head. Pay attention. Stay alert. There are sure to be kids around. And when those red lights go on, STOP.

WHAT MORE CAN you say about the Boyne City Ramblers.

There were tremendous expectations of this team before the season started and it met them all. Undefeated. Victorious over St. Francis. And now Boyne City has the joy of hosting a first round playoff game.

The players deserve all the praise they are receiving. So does the coaching staff. When Pat Klooster came to Boyne City seven seasons ago, the football program had a lot to be desired. Over the years, he and his staff, particularly Dave Bricker, have raised the program to new heights.

Not only are the players well coached, but even more important, they are outstanding sportsmen. They're classy. Their behavior makes the community proud.

Mark Ameel and his junior varsity staff also deserve high praise. Mark, who had great success years ago as quarterback for St. Francis, knows what it takes to win and he instills the discipline a team needs to be successful.

Congratulations to you all.

A MOM'S LIFE

Kids just tell it like it is

By CINDI PLACE

Having spent an awful lot of time alone with my 5-year-old son recently, I find myself fascinated with his sense of logic.

He can go off on a tangent for hours about why animals sleep in the winter (because they're cold) or how we get chocolate milk from brown cows or why his best friend, who is a girl, is so much taller than he is (she grew up too fast). Listening to him is a treat, but it can also be exhausting.

Anyone who has had a 5 year old in their presence for more than 10 minutes knows they can talk — non-stop, incessantly for hours and hours. And such logic they have. Everything is so simple, like my son's idea that he shouldn't have to go to bed before it's dark outside because his eyes won't close in the daytime.

Honesty is very much a part of the charm of these single-digit little people. Recently, while tumbling together, my son managed to get above his father's head. Now, mind you a 5-year-old kid has no idea just how sensitive a newly turned 40-year-old man can be about his appearance. "Daddy," our sweet little child said, "I can see the top of your bare head." Needless to say the only person not laughing in the room was my husband.

Honesty, of course, can get one in trouble when dealing with these young people. Just ask a teacher about the stories she hears from her charges on any given day. I can remember one of my child's teachers telling us about a young student she had who was telling everyone how his father had shot a deer the day before.

Since it was not yet November and firearm deer season was weeks away, the teacher tried to gently correct the child, telling him that she was sure that his daddy was only out in the woods looking for deer. "No, Teacher, he shot that deer dead. It's hanging in our garage." I bet that child's father wishes his kid wasn't quite so observant.

It's also a little unnerving to find that our sweet, young children have a very acute awareness of what real life entails. When our eldest child was in nursery school, her pre-school teacher found out that she was going to have a baby. The teacher wanted to be honest with the children so before her pregnancy became too obvious she told her class about the impending birth.

She was shocked at the reactions of some of the children, which she claimed ranged from complete disinterest, to those children who looked at her suspiciously, "like they knew what events had occurred" prior to her announcement.

But my favorite story is about my grandfather, who was very talented with his hands and could fix just about anything. He had just passed away, and I overheard our two youngest children discussing his death. "Grandpa was sick, so he went to heaven so God can fix him and send him back," the youngest of the two explained.

"No, silly," the older, wiser child said. "Grandpa isn't coming back. God needs him in heaven so he can help him fix other people."

Buses carry our most precious cargo

TO THE EDITOR:

I read in the Petoskey News-Review on Friday, Nov. 1, that even police were fooled by bus flashers. The article stated that an Otsego County Sheriff's Department deputy failed to stop when a school bus he was driving behind signaled with its flashers. Sheriff Don Anderson said his deputy didn't ignore, but misunderstood the lights. I can't understand this statement.

As long as I can remember (even before I was a bus driver), yellow lights always meant warning/caution and red lights always meant stop. That goes for traffic lights, school buses or whatever.

If you are driving down the road and you see a traffic light that is yellow, most people will stop or at least slow down and get ready to stop. Why would anyone ever think that a school bus yellow light is any different than a yellow traffic light?

Some of the schools around still have a few of the older buses that don't have the new eight light system, so they use their four way flashers as their warning/caution lights.

This is no excuse for not understanding the lights. If they approached a truck or even a car with their four ways flashing, most drivers would slow down and get ready to stop. That has always been a warning device. Why would anyone ever think a school bus would be different?

If you see a school bus in any town between 7 and 9 a.m., you can be assured that this bus is picking up children and if you see a school bus between 2 and 5 p.m., you can be assured that it is dropping off children. And in lots of towns between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. they are either dropping off or picking up kindergarten students.

When you see this yellow bus, slow down and be alert, even if it doesn't have any lights on. Remember yellow means caution, and this big yellow bus has the most precious cargo in the world on board, our children.

Community Christmas needs everyone

TO THE EDITOR:

We touched a thousand lives last year with Community Christmas. We could not have done it without you, and we can not do it this year without your help.

We need money, food, toys, games, books and mittens and people to do the work. Send checks to Milton Walls, Jr., 320 Bay St., Boyne City, Mich. 49712. Take food and gift items to your church or school or call us to arrange for pickup.

Call Ardith Hawley at 582-7880 or Thelma Behling at 582-6870 with the names of persons who need help — give names, ages, exact address and phone number; tell us if you want to pick this box up or have it delivered.

Boxes will be packed Friday, Dec. 20, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, M-75, Boyne City. Food and donations can be dropped off at 9 a.m.; packers are needed at 10 a.m.; and we urgently need people to help with deliveries starting about 1 p.m. Please plan to share part of this day with us — WE NEED EACH ONE OF YOU.

We urge churches, scouts, schools, service clubs and all organizations to join with us to collect toys, canned goods, mittens and books. If we all work together, we can make Christmas very special for others. If you need help to plan your project call Ruth Witek at 582-3152 for suggestions.

THE WINNER'S CIRCLE

IT'S ONLY LIFE

Major parties need a kick in the pants

By ROGER HUCKLE

When you read this article, the votes will have been cast and the ballots tallied and another election will be history.

I hope each of you took the time to vote. As I write this, election day is yet to come and I think of how it might be interesting to receive an "Early Edition" (like the guy on TV) and know ahead of time the results — I'm not looking forward to the last minute media blitzes we'll all be receiving.

This year's presidential campaign was a disappointment. The negative campaign run by Bob Dole got to be pretty boring after awhile and every time I saw President Clinton standing tall in some posed photo-op I couldn't help but think of Rush Limbaugh jokes. I think Ross Perot's exclusion from the presidential debates was chicken-hearted and a great disservice to the voters.

I liked Perot's info-commercial style of campaigning. He was the only candidate who actually discussed reality in dollars and sense. The other candidates seemed to rely on their respective party lines full of ambigous concepts they tell us the "American people" want and how only they can deliver them. Doublespeak.

Personally, I am totally dissatisfied with the current two-party monopoly of our political system. I'm tired of casting my vote for the lesser of two evils, or "throwing it away" as they say on a third party candidate the pollsters convince us has no chance of winning. It's really no wonder why a large number of people become more cynical and apathetic about the entire election process. Year after year we continue to be lied to, taxes keep taking a larger percentage of our gross income, government bureaucracy keeps getting bigger, and the monopoly of power by the two parties never changes.

I'd like to see a third party candidate win the presidential election in my lifetime. It's time the old donkey and elephant get a little kick in the pants. They've grown complacent through the years and take their power for granted. With the high cost of campaigning and the two party monopoly we will never see true campaign finance reform and the special interest groups will continue to run the country.

I read a letter to the editor in an area newspaper last week that caught my attention. The author put forth the idea of banning political ads from television. I think this is a tremendous idea for lowering the cost of political campaigns.

Personally, I feel the networks (as part of their public service function) should allocate a certain number of prime time spots during election years for info-commercials. Each candidate would receive two half-hour slots selected by lottery at no charge to discuss his or her qualifications and platform. Additional time would be set aside for debates between the major contenders prior to election day.

Of course some qualifications would have to be in place to allow only bona-fide candidates to participate — I would hate to see the Nudist Party receive free television time. If any candidate wanted more time — let them buy additional 1/2 hour slots. At least we could choose whom we'd like to watch and when. I think it would make for cleaner campaigns and force the candidates to talk issues in plain language.

EVERYONE SEEMS TO BE 'IN A BIG HURRY'

Car-school bus incidents on the rise

Tragedy can strike anywhere. A few weeks ago it struck in Elmira when a six-year-old girl was killed by a driver who ran through the flashing red lights of a school bus.

It can also happen in Boyne City or Boyne Falls or East Jordan. But it hasn't, and that may have more to do with luck than anything else.

Vehicles failing to stop for school buses with their red lights flashing happens more than you might think. In Boyne City, "we've had quite a few," said Shirley Howie, Boyne City schools bus coordinator. By quite a few she means at least one incident every week.

"We've always had a problem. Lately it seems to be more," she said. "There's been a rash of them."

In Boyne Falls the problem this year has not increased over past years, but there is always a concern as there was last week when there were two incidents.

"We haven't had that many reported," said Shirley Etcher, secretary for the district. In most cases, she said, drivers are "just in a hurry."

In East Jordan, school bus coordinator Tim Drenth estimated one car a week fails to stop for the flashing lights, which is about the same as past years.

"People are getting less and less patient," Drenth said. "We need to get people to slow down when they see a school bus."

When a car fails to stop for the red lights, the bus driver tries to get a license plate and description of the vehicle, then radios the bus garage. From there, the sheriff or police department is called.

In some cases the driver is apprehended. But the biggest problem is getting a license plate number, since in Michigan a plate is only required on the back of the vehicle. Often times the only way it happens is when students on the bus see what happens.

The consensus from all three school districts is that people must slow down around a school bus. They don't want to press their luck any more than they already have.

Following is information provided by AAA Michigan on school bus safety:

How many school bus crashes were there in 1995?

Last year, 20,184 school buses transported 900,000 students in Michigan while logging 320 million miles. There were 1,423 motor vehicle crashes involving school buses, resulting in eleven deaths and 566 injuries. Most bus crashes were minor, while casualties were usually occupants of another vehicle. In Michigan, vehicles tailgating school buses was the number one cause of school bus crashes.

Of the 11 persons killed, eight were drivers and passengers of other vehicles; two were pedestrians; and one was an 11-year-old bicyclist struck by a school bus.

Nationally, each year an average of 20 school-age pedestrians are killed by school buses or vehicles used as school buses. Of the 20 school children killed in school bus loading zones during the 1994-95 school year, 11 were caused by the school bus and nine by passing motorists who failed to stop for the school bus.

What is the greatest hazard for students when using Michigan's school bus transportation system?

Data shows that very few students are injured while riding buses. Students are injured most often when preparing to get on a school bus or after getting off. The most serious incidents usually occur when children near the bus move out of the bus driver's line of sight or dart suddenly across the street without stopping or looking for oncoming traffic.

How can parents help ensure that the ride to and from school is as safe as possible?

Make sure the student arrives at the bus stop on time. Also, see that your child waits for the bus in a safe place well off the roadway. When possible, students should be at least 20 feet away from the road. Remind waiting students that horseplay can cause someone to fall or be pushed into the path of the bus or another vehicle.

If they must cross the street when exiting, the following procedure is recommended:

- Walk 10 steps forward of the bus
- Stop at the traffic side of the bus
- Observe traffic in both directions
- Cross when the driver signals it is safe

In addition, teach your child to never run near a bus, and always stay at least 10 feet away to avoid an invisible danger zone surrounding the bus where children could be out of the sight of the driver.

What suggestions do you have for motorists when they encounter a school bus on the road?

Drive with extreme caution; children could be nearby. Anticipate the bus stopping and obey this law: When a school bus with flashing overhead red lights is loading or unloading children, motorists must stop at least 20 feet away from the bus and remain stopped until the bus driver turns off the red overhead lights.

What can schools do to create a safe environment for children at school bus loading sites?

Eliminate vehicle congestion as much as possible where children load and unload.

For more information about school bus safety write to AAA Michigan Community Safety Services, One Auto Club Drive, Dearborn, Mich., 48126.

Consumer's employees honored for saving drowning man's life

A Boyne City man is among three Consumers Power Company workers honored Monday for rescuing a man from drowning in June near Central Lake.

Larry Ciesielski, a journeyman with the company, and his co-workers, Jim Nichols and Don Mattoon, were completing a service call when they saw a man thrashing about in the water at Henley Lake. The man, Arnold Brodie, had been fishing in a boat. The men ran to the shore where they found a row boat, but there were no oars with it. They grabbed pieces of lumber to use to paddle toward the drowning man. Ciesielski returned to shore to radio for help, while Nichols and Mattoon pulled the angler out of the water.

Consumers Power Company presented the trio with its "Exceptional Service Award" at its Boyne City office. The company's president, Mike Morris, traveled from Jackson to present the awards.

"It's a joy, a real honor to be able to give the award," Morris said. He commended the men for their creativity in getting to the victim.

"I'm touched how they set aside their own personal safety to help another human being."

Ciesielski said he felt embarrassed about receiving the award and that it was a nice gesture on the part of the company, but was not necessary.

"It was God's will that we were there," Ciesielski said. "It could have been anybody. It was our privilege to be there."

The rescued man, Arnold Brodie, died on Aug. 14 of unrelated causes, said company spokesman Jim Miller.

The "Exceptional Service Award" was initiated in 1975 and is presented to employees who have participated in life-saving rescues. Ciesielski and his co-workers are the 76th, 77th and 78th employees to receive the award.

Ciesielski has worked for Consumers Power Company for 26 years. He said this was his first rescue.

Lucky for teen a sheriff's deputy was there

TO THE EDITOR:

Please assist me in identifying the person/persons who made alcohol available to my teenager the evening of Friday, Oct. 25, after the historic game between Boyne City and Traverse City.

Had the Charlevoix County sheriff's officer not pulled over my teen's car that night, I have no doubt a fatal accident would have occurred.

I am sure there are other parents who would like to know their identity so that they are not left off the guest list. It's only fair that they attend the "showing," the "funeral" and the "burial" to share with the parents,

Please come forward so that all parents can commend you on your "real life" teaching method. I look forward to revealing you!

Taking shape

Boyne City middle school gym construction is on schedule

Recent winter weather hasn't slowed the building of the new Boyne City Middle School gymnasium and cafeteria, and unless the temperature goes below 20 degrees during the day, workers plan to forge ahead.

"The work is on schedule," said middle school principal Steve Smith. "They tell me the mud to connect the cement blocks can be made at 20 degrees or above."

The concrete walls are going up, and steel arrived Monday for the columns and the perimeter beams. After completion of the columns and beams, the next step is to pour the floors. The masonry work, which is dependent on the weather, should be completed within a month.

The steel for the roof is scheduled to arrive in January. Once the roof is on, workers will begin the inside work. Smith said the general contractor believes the weather will not prevent the project from proceeding on schedule.

The project covers approximately 16,000 square feet and will house a gymnasium, lockers, a kitchen and cafeteria, a custodial area and two half classrooms.

Smith said the $2 million project has gone a little over budget, but that adjustments have been made to fit the budget.

Smith expects the majority of the work to be completed by the first of August, 1997.

The school hopes to have the gymnasium and cafeteria open for students beginning with the next school year.

Community group tackles schools' needs

If all goes according to plan, by the middle of November a group of concerned Boyne City residents should have a recommendation for the school board addressing the district's short and long-term needs.

The Community Group was formed in September with the goal of determining what voters within the Boyne City School District see as the needs of their school system and what they will support through their tax dollars.

Membership to the group was open to any registered voter within the school district, with the exception of school staff. Members of the staff were seen as resource persons to the committee as the need might arise. Ten persons from the community responded to the invitation to work with Anne Thurston, who is serving as the group's facilitator. Judy Follette, president of the Boyne City School Board, has been the group's liaison with the board.

The 10 community members represent a wide variety of the district's residents. Members of the group are Kevin Welborn, Cindi Place, Michelle Cortright, Marty Moody, Jane O'Brien, Ann Wollenberg, Burt Moeke, Toby Wietzke, Fay Gerster, and Lindsey Adams.

"Their most important credential is an intense interest in the youth, their education and preparation for the future with work skills," Thurston said.

All are parents and their children range from pre-schoolers to baby boomers. Some were born in Boyne City, others have moved here. Some are self-employed, others are employers, while others are employees. A broad range of education and job skills are represented. Two are retired.

So far, Thurston said, the group has studied the history of the effort to bring change to the Boyne City Schools. They researched the original millage failures, the work of the FUS Committee and the Ryder Report with its detailed poll of the area's voters on who they are and what they want for their schools.

Scheduled for six bi-monthly meetings, the group is hoping to take its recommendations to the school board and the community in early December. Having completed four of the meetings, they have developed educational goals for the schools in the area of what should be taught to the students, kindergarten through 12th grade, in preparation for graduation. From that, Thurston said, they have determined what facilities in addition to the existing facilities will be needed to reach that goal. Then the group explored the location for such facilities. The next two meetings will cover funding and presentation.

The group has welcomed the assistance of outside resource persons as needed. They have viewed resource videos, read articles on various phases and taken field trips.

"Although the 10 members came together as strangers to each other in many instances," Thurston said, "their common goals have bonded them in their work. They have discovered that their goal has stayed on target and not changed in intent from the first gathering.

"The direction of their findings has remained common to each of the members. They respect the hours that many community members and school staff have given in the past to bring Boyne's schools forward. They are committed to success as they agree that Boyne's youth can not survive another millage failure."

Meetings are the first and third Mondays of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Boyne City District Library. The meetings are open to the public. Written comments are welcome.

Nutritional Notes

by R. L. Pethers, D.C.

Unlike vitamins, minerals are neither manufactured nor broken down within the body because they are basic elements. The only way to achieve proper mineral uptake is either through food or direct mineral supplementation. Food is the ideal source. Studies as early as 1936 resulted in Senate document 264. This document stated that the soil in which we grow our food in the United States was depleted of essential minerals. Minerals are the foundation of health. Without minerals nothing else will work in your nutritional program. In 1936, this investigation stated that no matter how much food you ate, if it is grown in soil in the U.S., you cannot possibly get enough essential minerals in your diet. This was in 1936. Do you think the soil has gotten better since then?

There are approximately sixty minerals essential to our existence. If they are not in the soil, they are not in the plant and therefore not in our food. It was as a result of this study that the veterinary industry began requiring that animal feed be supplemented with minerals to prevent disease.

More on this story and how minerals are utilized in the body in future articles.

Now Hear This!

Q. Mr. Richard Monthie of Indian River asks: "Dr. Koskus, I understand there is a new small hearing aid that fits just in the canal of the ear. What is it?"

A. This new hearing aid is called a "complete-in-the-canal" (CIC) hearing aid. It is virtually invisible and has a special pull cord to remove it from the ear. The advantages of the CIC hearing aid over other types are reduced distortion and wind noise.

It also gives fewer ear wax problems, pre-set volume control; increased volume with less feedback, and a sophisticated Wide Dynamic Range compression Circuit that helps you understand speech better in noisy conditions.

Local theatre goers may remember Eddy as Joshua, the irrepresible hypnotist, in "Hocus-Pocus," JRP's first theatrical production in 1990. He has appeared in 28 plays, the most recent being Antrim Regional Theatre's "Black Comedy."

Ryan was Count Almaviva in JRP's August production of "The Tale of the Barber of Seville" and has had numerous other leading roles both for JRP and East Jordan Theatians.

Franchino was the maid in JRP's 1995 "The Boy Who Left Home to Find out about the Shivers," and Leonard played the role of Alice. Leonard also appeared in "Baba Yaga" and was the Ogress in "Promises and the Wicked Prince," all JRP productions.

Tinney, well known as a watercolorist and arts educator, is making her local theatrical debut, her first appearance on stage since being on a regional championship drama team in high school.

"The Good Ole Gals" is directed by Charles Hershberger, who acted throughout high school and college and directed for Caro Arts Society and for church dinner theatre. Actors are Constance Nowka, Frances Pletz, Terri Warnos and Barbara Worgess.

Local audiences may remember Pletz as the evil Russian witch Baba Yaga and Nowka as her mysterious sister Ekatrin, who both amazed and delighted audiences in "Baba Yaga," a JRP 1994 production. Audiences will be equally pleased with their portrayals of good ole gals devoted to pursuing equal opportunities for women.

Worgess is making her acting debut, and Warnos acted with Lakeside Players, which presented dinner theatre in Boyne City.

Jordan River Players is the theatrical arm of Jordan River Arts Council, which premieres new, unpublished plays and sponsors an annual playwriting competition for their annual children's theatre festival.

IN HONOR OF VETERANS' DAY -- NOVEMBER 11

Volunteer guards honor and salute their own

By BETTY ARNER SHAVER

The Boyne City American Legion Post 228 volunteer military honor guard squad was formed in early 1946, soon after the end of World War II.

Cebert "Cebe" Gillespie, Don Dexter and Jimmy Hawthorn were the organizers, with Cebe serving as the squad leader. There were 15 men in this original squad, which was led by the color guard. Only three or four of the original squad still reside in the area.

The first parade took place on Memorial Day 1946. With no money to buy uniforms, the squad members dyed their service uniforms dark blue so they could all dress alike.

The squad participated in the Memorial Day and Fourth of July parades, which formed in front of the Legion Hall. The route took them north on Lake Street, where they turned east onto Water Street and proceeded toward the Dilworth Hotel. When the Boyne Falls Polish Festival began, the squad performed there also.

In 1947 the Legionnaires first began to honor their fellow veterans by visiting the Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake memorial parks on Memorial Day. Each service included a color guard presentation, along with the Legion chaplain offering a prayer for fallen comrades. The seven-person squad then fired three volleys at the end of the service, offering a 21-gun salute. As time went on, all nine of the area cemeteries were visited.

Military funerals were held in rain, snow, wind and heat. Despite the advanced age of the majority of the veterans, the squad has stood duty in every extreme of Michigan weather, from 100 degrees above to wind chill readings of 57 degrees below.

At one time the squad numbered 15, and when they fired the volleys at the end of the service to honor their comrades, the 15 rifle salutes made a thunderous expression of respect.

Cebe Gillespie has a somewhat humorous recollection of one of the squad members whenever they were standing at attention during the rain. This particular member wore glasses, and as the water running down the top of his nose got to the end of his nose, using great discretion, he would blow off the rain without batting an eyelash.

The squad performed close order drill for the 42 years Cebe was the squad leader. They held practice sessions behind the Legion hall for two or three days before an event. "Most of the squad had learned close order drill in basic training, it was just the Navy fellows I had to teach," Cebe said.

Some of Cebe's commands for their close order drill were: "squad one, to the rear march; squad two, to the rear march; squad three, to the rear march," and then he would repeat the same commands to get the men back in formation.

The Harbor Springs Drum and Bugle Corps was very active years ago, and continues to be. The Boyne City Legion squad would march with them, thereby creating a military marching cadence.

When the local squad attended district meetings in northern Michigan towns, they would stop in small towns along the way, towns such as Hillman and Atlanta. They would march down the streets in close order drill, which served as both a practice session for the squad and a performance for local residents. The squad also marched in Grand Rapids and Lansing during attendance at Legion conventions.

As the original members of the squad began to fade away, either due to illness or death, new members needed to be recruited and trained. However, the recruitment of Vietnam veterans proved to be very difficult due to the public mistreatment they received upon their return home. They became withdrawn and were not eager to be seen in public view as veterans.

As time went on, they began to realize that the American Legion was lobbying on their behalf in Washington, D.C., to address the multitude of health problems they were experiencing from the effects of being exposed to the war chemical known as Agent Orange. Through this understanding and comradeship they began to join the Legion and become active in the squad.

As the older veterans came to find it more and more difficult to march in the parades, the Legion invested in a trailer which is decorated as a float, thereby providing an option to march or ride.

Following the closure of commanding the honor and color guard squad for 42 years by their leader, Cebe Gillespie, one of the squad members, Jerry Evans, assumed the role of squad leader in 1988.

In addition to carrying on the activities of the original squad, the past three years they have advanced the colors at district meetings and most recently for the past two years have conducted honorable flag disposal ceremonies on Flag Day in Veterans Memorial Park.

The Boyne City Legion Post donated the flagpole to the new Boyne City sports complex. At the recent dedication ceremonies, the squad presented and posted the flag, presided over by John Mathers, the current squad leader in charge.

The squad continues to respond to the needs of all veterans and their communities by being available for patriotic functions, parades, memorial services and military funerals, with the haunting strains of taps concluding the service which pays respect to a fallen comrade. Every honorably discharged military veteran is entitled to receive this tribute from a military honor guard at his or her burial.

A sense of togetherness and pride is what keeps the following veterans answering the call to serve in this squad when called upon:

Hospice offers workshop on handling the holidays

Available to participants will be the booklet, Handling the Holidays, which contains a holiday planner, among other things.

The program is open to anyone who feels the need for help in getting through the holidays. The program will start at 7 p.m., in the lower level classroom. Following the program will be a time for sharing and refreshments. For more information call the Charlevoix County Hospice office at 536-2842.

IT'S BEEN A perfect SEASON SO FAR

By TED KARASZEWSKI

The Ramblers closed out a perfect 9-0 season last Friday for the first time since 1968 as they stifled Rogers City at home with a 29-7 non-conference win. Boyne City's defense was superb despite playing on a snow-covered field.

"That's been the one constant the whole season," said coach Pat Klooster. "Our defense has always been there even at times when we struggled offensively."

Boyne now awaits Whittemore-Prescott this Saturday at home for the opening round of the Class CC state playoffs. This will be the third time in four years that the Ramblers have made it to the playoffs. They have never won a state playoff game.

"I would really like to see us win a playoff game," Klooster said. "We've been there before. In 1994 we played Whittemore-Prescott and lost. This team is capable to make a run."

The Ramblers started out Friday against Rogers City just a little flat as they allowed the Hurons to march 56 yards on 13 plays to Boyne's 1 yard line before they stiffened and shut the door. Rogers City sent their best back three times from inside the five to try and score but the Ramblers said, "No way."

Boyne's goal line stand was the second in two games and it seemed to fire the Ramblers up as they held Rogers City to 146 total yards for the night.

The Ramblers moved the ball well their first two possessions but coughed the ball up inside the 20 both times. But 5:14 into the second quarter, Boyne struck when quarterback Matt Johncheck found Brian Mapes in the end zone for an 18-yard touchdown pass play giving Boyne City a 6-0 lead.

Boyne found the end zone again with 1:43 left in the half when Chuck Stanek took off up the middle on a counter play and scampered 33 yards for a touchdown. Josh May scored on the two point conversion for a 14-0 lead.

The Hurons were trying to get on the board before the half when out of nowhere Boyne's Wade Leist penetrated the Rogers City line and delivered a nasty lick on quarterback Greg Pietsch, separating him from the ball with seconds left in the half. Boyne's Cliff Bates, sensing that time was running out, picked up the ball and a blocker and ran 23 yards to the end zone for another Boyne City score. After Dean Fiel scored the two point conversion, the Ramblers took a 22-0 lead into half-time.

With 10:50 left in the game, Dean Fiel added another score as he took the ball in from the 1 yard line. After Alex Berti booted the extra point, Boyne led 29-0.

With under a minute left, Rogers City did finally score on a 2 yard run by Nathan Hentkowski. After the extra point kick, the final score was 29-7.

Boyne City's offense totaled 293 yards with 274 of that on the ground. Dean Fiel led the rush with 169 yards on 27 carries. Chuck Stanek had 55 yards on 4 tries while Josh May added 28 yards on 6 carries. Matt Johncheck was 1 of 2 passing for 18 yards with Brian Mapes being the recipient of that pass.

Defensively for Boyne City, Jason Richards had seven tackles, Wade Leist had six tackles while Steve Johncheck and Kory Lockman each added 5. Leist also had a sack.

In summing up the Ramblers' season, Klooster had this to say: "This has been a fun year. The seniors have shown leadership and a good work ethic. We've been fortunate to have a team with good size and quickness."

"The kids believe in what we're doing without question. They don't stand there wondering why we're doing a certain thing. That's the key to what we've accomplished this year. We're already looking at next year's players and so far we like what we see. I hope the juniors pick up the example that the seniors are showing them."

Kalkaska downs Red Devils in season finale

By RICH CLARK

East Jordan made a lot of defensive stops on a snow-covered field at home last Friday but it wasn't enough as the Kalkaska Blazers cruised to a 26-0 win.

"We played great defense," said coach Allan Peterson. "It should have been 0-0 at the half. We just couldn't get a break."

East Jordan couldn't buy a score and could get no closer than Kalkaska's 20 yard line. Turnovers and a swarming Blazer defense were too much to overcome.

The biggest play involved quarterback Josh Luck and ends Scott Haley and Andrew Wood. Luck rolled back and the ball slipped out of his hand, floated towards Wood who jumped up to slap the ball back to Haley for an exciting 16-yard gain.

Luck passed for 104 yards on six pass completions. Haley caught four of those passes for 64 yards. Parke Bluhm and Wood each caught one pass for 20 yards. Dillon Antaya led the ground assault with 44 yards rushing, Bluhm picked up 42, Shane Swan finished with 17 yards. Luck scrambled for 13 and Haley picked up 10 on an end-around.

Matt Ingalls had 12 tackles, Amos Skrocki 11, and Jessie Bacon had six stops, most in the first half. Haley made five stops. Denzil Wilson picked a pass and returned it 39 yards. Matt Mogan also snared an interception with a nine yard return.

Hockey teams gearing up for season

Boyne Area 4-H Hockey teams are ready to take the ice, if only there was some.

The hockey association recently completed its early registration and more than 95 players have signed up. The association has teams for mini mites (5 and 6 year olds), mites (7 and 8), squirts (9 and 10), pee wee (11 and 12), and bantam (13 and 14).

There will also be an instructional program for beginning players ages 9 to 14 years old, and a learn to skate program for players 3 to 8 years old.

Registration is open until Dec. 1 at the 4-H office located at Boyne City's City Hall, or call 582-6232.

The association has purchased early season ice time at Cheboygan's indoor rink and teams have begun practicing.

With several improvements to the rink in recent months and the city beginning construction of a storage building for the Zamboni the hockey association purchased last year, this is shaping up to be a good year for the hockey association. The building is expected to be completed before the end of the year. The Zamboni will be used on both rinks at Avalanche.

The hockey association is also selling team sponsorships and advertising boards at the rink. Advertising boards cost between $200 and $400 and sponsorships are $1,500.

Any business or individual interested in sponsoring a team or buying a board can call Kathy Keller at 347-3704, or board president Dan Adkinson at 582-2878.

Much of the reason for the Ramblers's success this season is due to the leadership of their seniors and they were a happy bunch following last Friday's win. Pictured are, front row from left: Steve Johncheck, James Persons, Alex Berti, Dean Fiel, Jeremy Andrews, Scott Bradford, back row: Matt Dhaseleer, Nick Dixon, Don Richards, Mike Greenman, Jason Richards, Josh May, Doug Archey, Brian Mapes, Cliff Bates, Wade Leist, Jim Zavesky, Kurt Lockman, Corey Lockman.

Head coach Pat Klooster and assistant coach Dave Bricker have led the Ramblers to a perfect 9-0 season.

Dean Fiel went low and Steve Johncheck high in a hard-hitting tackle on a Rogers City runner.

HE JOINS ELITE GROUP OF BOYNE FALLS RUNNERS

Curtis Hansen earns a state medal

Boyne Falls senior Curtis Hansen took home a medal in the individual race as he placed ninth amongst Class D runners at the state finals last Saturday.

The finals were held in Brooklyn at the Michigan International Speedway.

Hansen was one of a trio of Log-ger runners to earn a spot at the individual race. The others were juniors Mike Kenny and Jeremy Massey.

"All three of our guys ran great even with all the hype and distractions of a huge event," said coach Andy Place. "Curtis topped off a great season. He earned that medal by working hard."

"Curtis used his strength to power past at least 10 runners in the last mile of the race. He finished ahead of the three runners from Wolverine who had beaten him at the regional finals race.

"I am very proud of Curtis, everything that he accomplished this year he worked hard for," Place said. "He joins a very elite group of Boyne Falls runners to earn state medals. Only Joe Westbrook and Mike Sevnski have earned state medals from Boyne Falls." (Westbrook in 1988 and 1991 and Sevnski in 1988).

Mike Kenny and Jeremy Massey both ran good races. They finished strong, passing several runners in the last quarter mile of the race.

"Mike and Jeremy both are juniors and they gained excellent experience from running in this event. They're looking forward to next year," Place said.

The Boyne Falls team closed the season 6-2 in dual meets, were co-champions of their conference and sixth in the region.

Lady Ramblers: 'We're better than our record'

By CHRIS WINKLER

The girls finally had something to smile about. A much-needed league win over Elk Rapids on Thursday snapped the Boyne City varsity basketball team's five-game losing streak. The 62-43 victory came after a 60-46 loss at Petoskey Tuesday, and before falling to Benzie Central Saturday at Boyne Falls.

The Ramblers kept pace with the Northmen for the first quarter, even leading for a moment. After going into the locker room down 26-17, Boyne ran into some trouble. Petoskey went on a 13-0 run, and the Ramblers just couldn't come back.

Katie Bernthal led Boyne with 13 points. Sarah Bobowski played well in all areas of the game, with 10 points, seven rebounds, six steals, and six assists. Sarah Vincent, Erin Fry, and Alison Polack all grabbed four boards.

Boyne City could not have been more fired up for its game against the Elks. The visitors managed to score just two points in the first five minutes, as the Ramblers took the lead after one frame, 19-6, and at the half, 35-17. An important time for the team occurred early in the fourth quarter, when Elk Rapids tried to make a late run. Boyne called a time-out, regrouped, and held off any Elk comeback. That showed a lot of character, and coach Tom Neidhamer was pleased.

"A lot of the game of basketball is a mental game," Neidhamer said. "They made a little run at us, and we answered it. It feels good to win again, because we've come close so many times. We proved we are capable, and we have matured."

Bernthal continues to have the hot hand, putting in 22 points in the Ramblers' 19-point win. Treana Fiel had 19, along with nine rebounds and four steals. Vincent scored eight, snatched eight boards, and blocked two shots. Bobowski dished out seven assists and had six rebounds.

"Katie Bernthal's game has picked up and she's been scoring some points for us the last few games," commented Neidhamer on one of his sophomore starters. "Treana played real solid tonight, and a couple girls came off the bench to help us when we had foul trouble."

Tightly guarded by an Elk Rapids defender, Heidi Vanhoosler looks inside for an open teammate.

Against Benzie Central, the Lady Ramblers lost 74-61. The game was played at Boyne Falls Gym due to a concert. The girls traveled to Rogers City on Monday, a team they beat in the first game of the season, and will host East Jordan (another team they have beaten) on Thursday.

"The bottom line is, we're a better team than our record (4-12) shows," Neidhamer said. "But we have to prove that to ourselves and to other people. The challenge is ahead of us, and then we host districts on our court. We'll use this win as a confidence builder and a learning tool. Winning is fun, and hopefully the girls had fun tonight."

Rising by the lake

With all the construction on Boyne City's North Lake Street the past two months, the new marina building has been going up with hardly anyone noticing. On Saturday the lighthouse was set in place giving people a good idea what the facility will look like when completed. The building, which will have restrooms and a harbormaster's office, will be finished by spring.

EJ runners end their season at state meet

Two East Jordan High School cross-country runners competed at the state finals on Saturday, held at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

Holly Petkewicz placed 52nd in the individual portion of the Class C race with a time of 21:46.

Petkewicz is in the 10th grade and her coaches believe that her early accomplishments indicate that she will be even better next season.

Mark Penzien, a junior, placed 56th, with a time of 18:19 in his race.

His coaches said that he will be back next season and with summer mileage and more experience, he should have a great senior year.

Coaches Dennis Snarey and Matt Peterson say they are excited about next season. They will lose only two runners, senior Nate Gagnon and Ken Young.

Coach Snarey said he will particularly miss Gagnon, because Snarey was Gagnon's fourth grade teacher and has been his coach since Gagnon was in the fifth grade.

Red Devil junior varsity loses to Kalkaska

The East Jordan Red Devil junior varsity football team ended its season with a 42-0 loss to Kalkaska.

The Devils finished with a 4-5 record while Kalkaska was 7-2.

East Jordan may not have scored but it did move the ball to the Kalkaska four yard line as time ran out in the first half and had one drive of over 60 yards stall at the Kalkaska 15.

The Devils picked up 38 yards in the air on three passes from quarterback Jason Clark. Two passes went to Glenn Lord for 33 yards and one went to Mike Wladishkin for five yards.

Zach Jones pounded the frozen tundra for 38 yards. Ben Johnson plowed for 30 yards, Tony Prevo gained 21 yards, Matt Whiteford picked up 18, and Brian Banfield had 12 yards rushing.

The top tacklers were Tony Prevo for nine stops, Glenn Lord made eight tackles and Ryan Saganeck had five.

"This was the best 4-5 team I've ever coached," said coach Tod McNitt. "This team will be fun to watch two years from now when they are juniors and seniors. They're going to surprise a lot of teams."

Students fill shoe boxes with gifts

The students at Concord Academy Boyne are trying in classroom learning about other countries with active participation.

The "Gift of the Shoebox" is a project where students fill shoeboxes with a variety of items, wrap the boxes for Christmas and prepare them for shipment to children in other countries who can use the gifts.

Kelli Bradley, a sixth-grader, named some of the items she included in her box — toothpaste, gum, a towel, crayons and socks. She said it was fun to join in the project.

"I know it's going to someone from nine years to 11 years old," Kelli said. She said it feels good to give. "Christmas is about giving and not getting."

Dan Powers, who is in the fourth grade, agreed that it was fun to fill his box.

"The kids we're sending to have nothing, so we give them stuff to make them happy," he said.

The students are excited about filling the shoeboxes and sending them to other children, said Sari King who is organizing the project. Some of the students are sending letters and photographs to children, along with the items.

The shoeboxes will be sent to the Samaritan's Purse organization in North Carolina, and shipped from there to children in countries including Bosnia, Croatia, Guatemala, Palestine and Chernobyl. King said that nationally approximately 812,000 boxes were sent out in 1995.

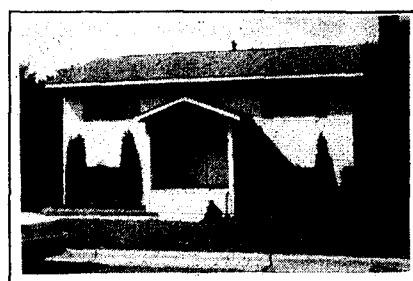

The school is raising funds to pay for shipping. The recent Harvest Festival was one of its fund-raisers. Area stores helped out by donating food and paper products for the festival.

The community is encouraged to participate. The boxes can be filled with school supplies, clothing such as mittens and socks, hygiene items and toys.

The boxes must be taken to Concord Academy by Nov. 15. Community members can call Sari King at 347-2063 for more information.

There will be many more Rambler football teams that walk victorious off Brotherston Field. But only the 1996 Ramblers will be the first. And these players seemed to realize the special moment as they celebrated their victory over Kingsey.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

SHAWN AND Elizabeth Aimesbury of Battle Creek and their two children, Hannah, 18 months, and new baby sister, Kala, 7 weeks, were here visiting Boyne City parents and grandparents, Carl and Peggy Aimesbury this past weekend.

THORNETA ROWE has returned from a five-day visit with her cousin Doris Young in Muskegon. En route home, she stopped to see her grandson, Steve Rowe and wife Wendy, and got acquainted with their new baby, Austin, in Cadillac and continued on, coming home for the weekend of snow!

MANY AREA WOMEN attended the 25th annual Win-some Women Retreat weekend held at Boyne Mountain. Among them were several from the Boyne City Free Methodist Church, as their pastor, the Rev. Lane Eddy was the guest speaker for the Saturday morning Prayer Breakfast.

JAN ARASIM and twin sister, Joyce Johnson, both of Boyne City, have returned from a quick four day trip to Santa Monica, Calif., where they attended the wedding of their nephew. Their trip might have been a longer one, if they hadn't been delayed because of mechanical failure of their scheduled flight out of Detroit, thus being transferred to Memphis, hence, a hasty return, due to prior commitments...but, they made it back, safe and sound!

CHARLOTTE HINER of Boyne City has returned to her Lakeview Village home following an earlier stay in Northern Michigan Hospital as a surgical/medical patient, requiring more recuperating time at a nursing home in Harbor Springs. Many were glad to see her attending church this past Sunday.

ERIC EDLUND, a student at a culinary college in the Carolinas, arrived from his home in Waleska, Ga., to be with his grandmother, Jean Korhase of Boyne City for the weekend.

SHIRLEY WUERTH, sister of Devere Middleton of Boyne City, who recently suffered serious leg injury on the football sidelines, says he is very slowly showing improvement and hopes to begin physical therapy in the near future.

LILLIAN CIKALO and Florence White, both of Boyne City, met Florence's son, Donald White, in Livonia and all journeyed on to Kentucky where Florence got together with almost all of her relatives there. The two Boyne residents returned this past Tuesday.

SUNDAY'S BEAUTIFUL SUNSET was even more so to Sue and Morrie Hobbs. In spite of the snowy weather of Nov. 2 and with the help of many friends, they moved into their new Boyne City home on Lakeshore Dr.

ZOLA HARDY of Boyne City returned to her Lakeview Village home following gall bladder surgery on Friday at Northern Michigan Hospital. In welcoming her home, Sunday callers were Violet Mueller, Doris Hardy, and her granddaughter, Kris Furgood and husband, Jim.

A GROUP OF 16 from Boyne City gathered at the Deb Korhase home on Tuesday night for a "Pampered Chef" party. Demonstrator Pam Greetis held their attention in exploring the use of a variety of foods to be prepared with her displays of utensils and other kitchen accessories. "A good time was had by all!"

GERI BURGESS of Boyne City and a couple of cousins recently returned from a 16-day bus tour of Scotland, Ireland, England, and Wales. Still re-living her trip, she could only say, "Fantastic each and every day!"

NYLE AND MARVEL GOULD were pleasantly surprised by Saturday's 50th wedding anniversary party in their honor. One hundred friends and relatives shared in their special time as they gathered at the Free Methodist Church Fellowship Hall in Boyne City for a buffet luncheon, congratulations time of money gifts and many cards, and a beautifully decorated cake by Madora Griffin. The lovely party was hosted by the couple's son, George Gould, who was here with his wife, Jean, and their two children, Jim and Stephanie, from Delta, Colo.; daughter, Wilma and Fred Bellville and son Nyle of Boyne City; and other close friends.

BILL AND LYNDA CHRISTENSEN of Boyne City met their son, Chris, and friend, Liz, in Rockford on Saturday and all attended the wedding of their niece and cousin, Tracey Christensen, daughter of Bob and Kathy Christensen, to B.J. White.

PAT WRIGHT flew in from Spring Hill, Fla., to attend the funeral of Judy Kelts Kuheana. She stayed at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Patti and Arch Wright, and also visited many friends.

ALSO HERE ATTENDING the funeral of their mother, Judy Ann Kelts Kuheana, were her children, Kimo and his sons, Corey and Kerrey Kuheana, from Spokane, Wash.; Keoki Kuheana from Honolulu; and/or chicken nugget Aulani and Earnest Rhea from Tulsa, Okla. Also attending was Earnest's mother Sandra from Indiana. Many out of town friends were also here.

(A note to those in the East Jordan area: Help me get acquainted with you and also let others who may be away keep in touch. I more than welcome your calls for Neighbors of the Journal and Citizen. Call me at 582-9174. Thanks.)

Boyne City band is busy raising money

The Boyne City band program has been busy this fall working on several fundraising projects, and more are in the works.

Recently band members hosted tail-gate dinners that were prepared before Boyne City home football games. They also organized orders for the Boyne Community birthday calendars. Currently they are working on the "JC Penney Supports Your School" donation certificate and the Florida fresh citrus fruit sale.

On Nov. 14, the day before hunting season opens, Penney's will sponsor a corporate-wide Charity Night. Penney's in Petoskey selected Project

Education as its charity recipient. The way this works is that each school district will sell tickets through groups within the school system that need money for activities, trips, or other functions not funded by the school.

Tickets to the evening event are $5 each. Proceeds from the sales go directly to the group selling the tickets. A ticket entitles the customer to take 25 percent off regular price merchandise in the store the evening of Nov. 14. Plus, each ticket will entitle the customer to take an additional $5 off a purchase of $50 or more. During the hours of 6-10 p.m., a ticket must be shown at the front door to be able to take part in the event.

Orders will be taken for fresh Florida citrus through Nov. 21. Available this year will be ruby red grapefruit; $12 for a 2/5 bushel and $19 for a 4/5 bushel. Navel's can also be ordered for $13 for a 2/5 bushel and $20 for a 4/5 bushel.

The fruit is scheduled to be delivered on Dec. 15 and can be picked up at the Boyne City High School from 6-9 p.m. Orders can be taken from any high school or seventh or eighth grade band member.

For more information on either of these community projects, contact Lori Mapes at 582-2121, or Joyce Zavesky at 582-2273.

SEE-North holding math-science night

SEE-North, a regional center for science, mathematics and environmental education, is having a Family Math and Science Night on Tuesday, Nov. 12, from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

The event is designed to provide an atmosphere where adults and children learn together by exploring ideas, solving problems and participating in hands-on activities.

The activities are geared for third through sixth grade students and their parents. Families will have fun experimenting with pendulums, roller coasters, electricity, the human eye, and much more.

SEE-North is located in the Mort Neff Outdoor Education Center at Camp Daggett. Admission is $4 per person. Pre-registration is required because space is limited. Refreshments will be served and many prizes will be given away.

SEE-North serves residents, students and teachers in 13 counties of the northern Lower Peninsula. Family Math and Science Night is one of many events conducted by the non-profit organization. For more information or to register, call SEE-North at 348-9700.

WHAT'S COOKING
Recipes designed in the kitchen of Debbie Chappuies, with East Jordan cooks in mind.

While unintentionally overhearing conversations at the grocery store, I am reminded I can't take for granted that everyone knows how to prepare foods that some of us consider a routine part of our diets. With this in mind, I would like to address the subject of squash. We love it at our house but perhaps there are some of you who are missing out simply because you aren't sure about what to do with those strange looking things. There are lots of recipes out there waiting for you to sample once you discover the simplicity of preparation and the pleasures of the taste. Acorn Squash is my personal favorite. You can identify it by its acorn shape. As far as I know, if it's in the store, it's ripe enough. Just don't buy one with any soft spots. One of medium size will serve two. I like to serve squash with turkey, chicken and pork as I make it sweet. You can bake it in the microwave, but I prefer the oven.

Baked Acorn Squash

1 Acorn Squash	1 Cup Water
2 - 4 Tbl. Butter	1/4 Cup Orange Liquor
2 - 4 Tbl. Brown Sugar	such as Triple Sec,
Salt & Pepper to taste	optional

Split squash into two cups and spoon out pulp and seeds. Slice a bit off each end so the two 'cups' will sit upright. Place squash cups in a baking dish large enough to accommodate them and a cup of water. Pour the water into the dish (not the squash cups), salt & pepper lightly and add about a teaspoon of butter to each cup. Bake at 350 to 400° for 45 minutes to one hour. You can poke the squash flesh around the edges to check for doneness. When soft, remove from oven and scoop flesh into a serving bowl and mash with a fork. Stir in additional butter, salt and pepper and brown sugar to taste. Add triple sec if you like a fresh citrus taste. Serve hot and enjoy!

Cooks Notes: The cooking times and amount of seasoning will depend on the size of your squash and personal taste. When mashing squash, if you find you should have baked it a little longer, just zap it in the microwave for a few minutes. I like to save the seeds and eat them just as they are. Some like them baked like pumpkin seeds. You can add things like nuts and raisins if you like - experiment!
