Freak accident kills boy while swimming

Holiday fun turned tragic late Saturday morning when a five-year-old Redford Township boy died while swimming in Lake Charlevoix.

According to the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, Jacob A. McIntvre was swimming in shallow water at the beach in front of his family's cottage in South Arm Township near Lalonde Road when he touched a boat hoist that was partially in the water and was electrocuted.

Family members immediately pulled Jacob from the water and began CPR. He was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by the East Jordan Ambulance where efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

A sheriff's office investigation revealed that faulty wiring to the boat hoist and attached light was the cause of the accident.

Jury selection postponed in Peck trial

Following a petition filed by attorney Stephen B. Graham earlier this month to suppress Breathalyzer test results, jury selection for the trial of East Jordan Mayor Russ Peck has been postponed until July 3 while the motion is considered.

Jury selection had originally been scheduled for May 8.

Peck was arrested in East Jordan on Feb. 8, four days after surviving a recall election, for allegedly operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol

A trial date will be set once jury selection is complete.

The deadline to RSVP for City Administrator David White's Welcome Party is June

The reception will be held 5:30-7:30 p.m. In the event of rain, the reception will be held in the Civic Center.

The event is sponsored by the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce, the City of East Jordan, The Charlevoix Community Foundation and Glen's Market.

Assistance will also be provided by East Jordan High School cheerleaders and

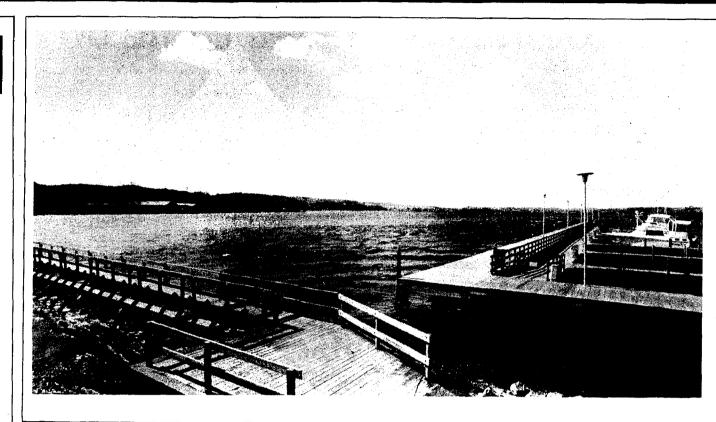

The event is part of East Jordan's Community Week, June 8-14.

Freedom Festival board members attend seminar

Two members of the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival Board recently attended a seminar presented by the Michigan Festivals and Special Events Association.

More than 100 representatives from festivals around the state gathered on April 19 in Frankenmuth for this year's Spring Seminar.

Among those attending were JVFF Board President Carol Galmore and board member Julie McGuire.

Room at the dock

While the warmer weather may give some the yearning for a swim in Lake Charlevoix, the water temperature is a frigid reminder of the icy stillness that reigned here not that long ago. But as the temperatures warm, the docks will fill and winter will just be a distant memory.

City administrator gets good reviews after his first six months on the job

Just a few weeks before he and his wife will be officially welcomed to the East Jordan Community, City Administrator David White received a glowing review from city commissioners at their meeting last Tuesday

White, who was receiving his six-month evaluation, was lauded for his work with special projects and his part in moving the city in a positive direction in the wake of the turmoil created when the previous city administrator was fired

"I was pleasantly surprised by the wonderful things that the commissioners had to say," White said.

During White's brief tenure as East Jordan city administrator, he has played an integral role in the acquisition of the Dahlquist Building, finding the first potential tenant for the city's air industrial park, the development of a cooperative day camp for area youth with East Jordan Public Schools, the Boswell Field improvement plans, and the beginning of the DDA Streetscape project.

As far as his goals for the future, White said, "Simply stated, my goals for right now are everything I've been working on since I started here."

In other city commission action, the winning slogan and logo design from the Downtown Development Authority's "Slogo Contest" were unanimously approved. The new logo, created by East Jordan resident Sarah Malpass, was revised somewhat from what was originally submitted. The most significant change was the deletion of the snowmobile and the addition of more water. Sarah is a senior at Interlochen Arts Academy where she is studying visual arts. Her drawing will now be given to a professional graphic artist to be prepared for reproduction on city stationary and the new manhole covers in the DDA's Streetscape

East Jordan resident Amanda Combest had the winning slogan with, "East Jordan, where river, lake and friendly people meet.'

New hardware

East Jordan City Administrator David White (left) and ambulance administrator Bernie Hammond (right) recently took delivery of another new ambulance from Ron Scholow of Michigan First Response Inc. The $77,060 vehicle is a type-three, four-wheel drive Ambulance that will replace an older rig. In March the city replaced its type-two ambulance as well.

Get a leg up

"Things aren't always as they appear," the old saying goes. And that's just the case with this deer who appears to have a fifth leg in this photograph. Due to a growing statewide population, deer are a common sight along Michigan's rural roadways, and can be quite a hazard to drivers.

Can you lend a paint brush?

Char-Em Housing Coalition needs all the help it can get for annual Paint Blitz

East Jordan and Boyne Falls need your help on June 21.

The Charlevoix-Emmet Housing Coalition (CEHC) has received 18 applications for is fifth annual Paint Blitz and it needs volunteers.

"We have an unusually large number of homes in Boyne City that need volunteer painters," said Kathy Johnson, coordinator of the event. "Of the applications we have received, we have seven in Boyne City, one in Boyne Falls and three in East Jordan. We just don't have the volunteers to paint them.

Usually we have a little better spread in the county. We are really heavy in Boyne City and we need

The coalition accepts applications for the Paint Blitz from low-income elderly, disabled or handicapped families living in Charlevoix and Emmet counties. Through donations of paint and money from area banks, businesses and individuals, Families living in Boyne City, the supplies for painting the houses are provided and volunteers do the painting. The group tries to pair up groups to the houses based on size and need. Usually a group of 10 can paint a one story house in a day, depending on the size of the house.

All volunteers receive a free lunch and an original design T-shirt. While the Housing Coalition is specifically hoping to receive calls from church or civic groups it is happy to hear from individuals willing to help and the coalition will create a group from those individuals. Volunteers are also needed to power wash the houses a week or so before the Paint

Anyone wishing to help paint, donate lunches for the volunteers, donate paint or money, should contact Kathy Johnson at 582-2715, or call the Coalition office in Boyne City at 582-2894. The Charlevoix Emmet Housing Coalition is a nonprofit organization and all donations are tax deductible.

FROM THE ROAD

Paradise found, it's time to come on home

By BETSY BAXTER BLONDIN

Aloha!

This column was conceived in Hawaii because I wanted to say hello from Paradise. Our visits to Oahu and the Big Island were more spectacular than I anticipated, and I wanted to share my magical experiences there.

Because time flies faster than I do, I am writing from Yellowstone National Park instead. Not to worry, though, Yellowstone is another fairy tale place. We have only been here a few hours and have already seen hot springs, mud volcanoes, a canyon, a waterfall, bison, a moose, elk, a pronghorn, and a grizzly bear.

The fact that winter is fighting spring for territory here dramatizes the scenery. Snow lingers in strange places, emphasizing the stark landscape left by the 1988 fire, and melted snow is now standing water everywhere.

By the time you read this, we will be well on our way back to Boyne, if not already in Michigan. We have made the turn east, and our last three weeks will roll by quickly.

When I stop to think about what we have seen and done in the last eight months on the road, I am

And we have spent invaluable time visiting family and friends during our journey.

I marvel at the variety of people we have met and at the great number who have been friendly and helpful to us. We will never forget the kindnesses we have received from strangers, and from our friends and family as well.

As we have traveled all these months, accumulated these awesome experiences, and put more than 13,000 miles behind us, one truth I keep rediscovering and confirming is this: Home is truly wherever I and my family or friends are, and Paradise is in my heart.

So, I can always say Aloha from Paradise.

A second career of helping others

(Editor's note: The following story about Robert Nulph was first published in the Journal and Courier of Lafayette, Ind. Mr. Nulph was honored by the paper for his volunteer work in the community. Robert Nulph, 71, was at a crossroads 10 years ago, when he retired as a chemist with Great Lakes Chemical.

"This community wouldn't be the same without the many volunteers who help," she said. 'Robert's professional attitude and gentle person ality enable him to relate well to those in need."

A MOM'S LIFE

Bathing and kids don't always go together

By CINDI PLACE

If cleanliness is next to godliness, then our kids have an awful long way to go before they get to use the big bathtub in the sky!

I don't know why taking a bath or shower is such a terrible trial, but these kids, especially the younger boys, will fight tooth and nail to avoid spending any time with warm water and soap.

I think that's why I enjoy the warm, summer season so much. For at least two months out of the year, our kids are clean. But the other 10 months, the battle to teach these guys good

Before dinner each night, I send the children into the bathroom to wash their hands. This is when the fight begins. Never mind that they've just spent three hours playing in the playground, plunged their hands into goodness knows what and wrestled with the dogs. These guys can't imagine why I'm insisting they get clean and use industrial strength soap. As we sit down to our meal, I notice that, although the children's hands are noticeably free of dirt, the cleanliness stops there. From their wrists up to their shoulders are the reminders of just how much fun they had.

These are the same kids who insist on using a bath towel only once "because it's dirty," and who can only seem to sleep in pajamas one night at a time. (Just how do they think this stuff can get dirty?) But heaven forbid I ask them to wear the same thing to bed two nights in a row!

These are also the same kids who refuse to drink from cups a little cloudy from dishwasher residue, who question every, tiny unknown seasoning in their food (are you SURE that this is not an onion, Mom?) and who go screaming from the room when the dog licks them.

But baths and showers they cannot stand. I tried everything...bubbles that are Ninja Turtle green, cute little soaps that turn into not-so-cute monsters, even shampoo that tastes like strawberries. Nothing seems to work.

I experimented with threats (if you don't get into the tub now, I'm going to show those cute pictures from when you did like to play with bubbles to all your friends); I promised not to tell anyone that they used to take baths together; I even re-decorated their bathroom. Then I decided to try what any good mother usually resorts to, I analyzed.

Why, I wondered, was bathing becoming such a tug of war. These kids had always loved the water. And playing in bubbles was usually one of their favorite activities. Why, I asked my youngest son, do you not want to take a bath and wash your hair? "Because," said my wise child, "It takes too much time.'

FROM UP HERE

It's getting hard to hide from phone solicitors

How many times has this happened to most of us: You are just sitting down to enjoy the first family meal in what seems like weeks and the phone rings, only to answer and hear the person on the other end of the phone say, "Good evening.
May I speak with..." When he or she horribly butchers your name, it's a pretty good bet that you are receiving a sales call.

In recent years, the phone solicitor has earned a reputation once reserved for lawyers, politicians and the IRS, with good reason.

Apparently, some marketing executives have decided that I don't know that I need his product or service, so they better call me and tell me that I need it. And I need it right away, so they'd better "encourage" me into buying it right now. What a relief it is to know that there are concerned people out there looking out for my well being.

Everyone understands that advertising is a key function of marketing. It is something that powers most all media including this paper. Most advertising is fairly passive. Mostly we simply are exposed to a message, whether it is a billboard, a TV or radio announcement, print ad or even direct mail. Even though many of these ads do try to create a perceived need, they are not directly pressuring you to action. Most of them are saying "Hey! This is what we have and you should buy it." Now I as a consumer know that they have it and if I want what they have I know where to get

Even if you feel intruded upon by advertising in the media, you still have the option to change the channel, close the paper, or throw away the item of mail.

With phone calls, we don't usually have this option until it's too late. Unless you purchase Caller ID or screen your calls with an answering machine or hire the FBI to tap your phone line, you don't know who is calling. The other option is to just not answer the phone, which defeats half the purpose of having one.

Therefore, I would like it heretofore known. that if I want a subscription to Underwater Basket Weaving Today, want to change my long distance service, want yet another credit card, or want to purchase life insurance on the cat, I'll call or stop by; thank you very much.

Fortunately, a call to the phone company can have your name removed from calling lists. When solicitors call, you can ask them not to call anymore and they are required by law to cease.

Ultimately, even after you are on the phone with one of these solicitors, the option of simply hanging up always remains. If you are like me, you sometimes feel badly treating another person so rudely. Especially when you think about the fact that they are just doing their job, and still have feelings like any other human being. But then I doubt they considered my feelings when they decided to call and ask me to subscribe to Earthworm Monthly.

BCHS earns top school improvement honors

The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCA) has awarded Boyne City High School top school improvement honors. BCHS was one of 30 Michigan schools honored for completing a five-year, eight-phase school improvement process.

The new school improvement model differs from traditional accreditation, according to information from NCA in that the school commits itself to a plan of continuous effort that concentrates on the improvement of student performance in selected areas. It helps schools document the effectiveness of their programs.

While Boyne City High School still meets traditional accreditation requirements (teacher preparation, number of books in the library, etc.), this school improvement cycle demands that schools document student improvement.

A team of peers, chaired by consultant Steve Alguire, visited BCHS during the improvement cycle to evaluate the success of the school improvement plan. Working in committees, the staff selected specific target goals. BCHS was able to demonstrate to the team that its students are performing better in the selected areas than they were before the process was implemented.

"By opting for this more demanding school improvement model," state NCA director Bill Bushaw said, "Boyne City High School and principal Xavier Gaudard have made a commitment to their students. Improving their performance is what

'school improvement is all about."

BCHS completed all eight phases of the process and were reviewed by a Commission on Schools' central reviewing committee. The school was awarded the highest school improvement endorsement by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Currently, there are 140 schools in Michigan that have completed the entire process successfully.

New program may help curb traffic problems

Are you tired of people using your road for a drag strip? If so, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office is offering a traffic safety program that may help solve your problem.

The concept, according to Sheriff George Lasater, is a concentrated patrol program aimed at reducing accidents in Charlevoix County.

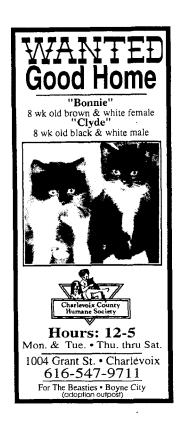

Under the program, any citizen of Charlevoix County who has a traffic safety concern for a specific road can contact the sheriff's office and request a concentrated patrol. The patrols will target problems such as speeders, careless or reckless drivers, and drunk drivers.

Once a concentrated patrol area has been designated, Lasater said, one or more deputies in unmarked and marked vehicles will be assigned to the patrol area for a designated period of time. The citizen requesting the concentrated patrol will be supplied with a written report at the conclusion of the special patrol efforts which will list the number of citations issued, traffic stops and arrests made and number of patrol hours spent on the problem area.

When requesting a concentrated patrol, citizens should include the following information: specific roadway and nearest cross road; types of violations occurring in that area, suspects (if any), and time of day that the violations tend to occur.

The concentrated patrols will be made in addition to normal patrols.

Those wishing to request a concentrated patrol may call the sheriff's office at 547-4461.

Seniors have seen a lot

By Chris Winkler

This year's seniors that will be graduating Friday, like any other graduating class, are unique in their own ways. As a junior, I have been following this class of 1997, literally, for a while, and have observed a few

First of all, Friday was the seniors' last day, and there were mixed emotions. There were the usual hummings of "Pomp and Circumstance", many tears, and occasional shouts of joy. The seniors have much to be happy for as the majority of the grade is a close-knit group, and it has accomplished a lot.

No one can overlook the sports teams. These seniors have seen the first girl's tennis team, one of the best football teams in BCHS history, a third place finish at the state ski meet, a couple of All-State athletes, among other things.

National Honor Society, drama, band, and the technology at BCHS have all made advancements since the class of '97 has been around. This year, the building trades class took on a huge house, and built with a strong group of seniors. Academics also proved to be a high point of the class, with three valedictorians with a 4.0 GPA, and a salutatorian with a 3.992.

The class of 1997 has seen changes at Boyne City High School, and they have left their own imprint on its history.

Athletic seniors off to college sports

Many of the class of 1997 will play football, baseball, and softball at college

By Kurt Lockman

As the classof 1997 prepares to graduate, many outstanding athletes are putting the final touches on their stellar athletic careers at Boyne City High School, A select few have plans a lot of hard work. I think that our of continuing their involvement in sports at college next fall.

Wade Leist and Josh May, both instrumental in Boyne's first conference football championship in 28 years, will become part of the Grand Valley State University football program. Grand Valley is located near Grand Rapids, is a Division II school, and is a member of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Leist, who earned All-State honors following his playoff performance last fall, will likely be a defensive lineman, while May, who was twoway starter for the Ramblers, will play fullback.

'It's a huge challenge involving winning experience at BCHS will help prepare us and we'll go down there with a positive attitude," said Leist. Another key member of the Ramblers' championship team, Matt Dhaseleer, has plans of walking on

Brian Mapes, the Ramblers' tight end and leading receiver last fall, is planning to play football at Albion College. Albion, a Division III school, participates in the MIAA and has a rich football tradition. Mapes hauled in 15 passes during the season for 421 yards, including the game-winning touchdown in the win over Traverse City St. Francis.

Don and Jason Richards, members of the Rambler football, basketball, and baseball teams over the past four years, will be attending Oakland University in Rochester to play baseball. Jason, the Ramblers' top pitcher this spring, is also an excellent catcher and the leading the team in offense. Don is Boyne's number two pitcher, plays second base, and is also dangerous at the plate.

The Richards made their college choice based on Oakland's respected physical therapy program and the fact that the coach seemed to run a good program. Oakland is currently a Division II school, but will make the move to Division I in the near future. This will result in tougher competition and increased travel opportunities for the Oakland athletic teams. "I am looking forward to bigger and better things," said Jason.

Treana Fiel, another Rambler athlete, is planning to play softball at college next fall. Although she is not set on where she will be going. She is looking at Olivet college, located southwest of Lansing. Fiel, the Ramblers' catcher in softball this spring, anchors a strong defensive unit. She is also one of the team's top hitters.

Working at their own PACE

By Erin Fry

When you think of the future, you think of an advance in technology. This is what is happening to the classes at BCHS. The school is finishing its first year with PACE (Providing Academics Cost Effectively) classes in the curriculum. The classes that were offered were creative writing, video production, Spanish, and

Students acquire the knowledge from these classes through a television. Teachers are located in a studio near Indian River, and they teach lessons not only to Boyne but other schools, such as East Jordan and Pellston, as well. The teachers and students are able to talk back and forth through special microphones and the T.V. Students can see and hear their teachers, but the teachers can only hear their pupils.

When asked her opinion of the first year of PACE, senior Becky Grainger said she liked how she Chris Winkler said, "You have to have the self-motivation to learn."

Both foreign language classes are planning trips to the native land of the language. The German class plans to go to Vienna, Austria in the spring of 1998. The Spanish class has plans to go to Spain or Portugal.

As the PACE program is new to the school system, the high school would like to hear any comments about what the future might hold for this interactive learning experience.

This year at Boyne City High School the new computer labs have been able to help even more student's studies.

Along with the new Gateway computers, the school has also followed the technology and got the network signed on to the internet and World Wide Web. Students are now able to log on and see the millions of web pages it has to offer. This will help for educational purposes in research projects, reports, and other school related activities.

Mr. Gill, who has control of the net program, hopes to improve things for next year. By that time, we hope to have each individual student logged on by using the student's own name instead of Mr. Gill's. This will prevent the traffic that we encountered this year.

This first year has had a few problems, but they will be improved upon for the upcoming school year.

Why go to college out of state?

By Amy Place

Going out of state for college is a big deal for many students. One of these students is BCHS senior Joe Ritcher, who has been accepted to the University of Rhode Island (URI).

Reasons for this big move from a small town to a distant state are because of the huge school, that URI has an excellent Pre-Med Program, which Joe would be majoring in, he can sail with the NCAA Division I varsity sailing team, and he felt that being so far away from home would be an adventure.

Ritcher will start school after Labor Day, but not before he joins the sailing team on a tentative rock climbing or repelling expedition F o r expedition anyone going out of state for college the costs might range from $18,000 to $24,000. But the costs shouldn't stop anyone from achieving your dreams, as Joe

School records fall

It has been a record breaking year for Boyne City athletics. A 39 year old record was broke this spring by Chuck Stanek. Stanek broke the BCHS high jump record with a jump of 6'6". The old record was held by Steve Williams who in 1958 jumped 6'5 1/2"

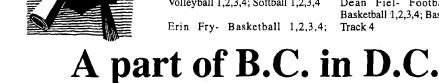

"I just went crazy, it was awesome. It took a couple of days to sink in." said Stanek, "The man asked me how high to raise the bar after my 6'4" jump and I told him our school record. So he said we're going to try to break it and raise it up two inches."

Other track members that broke school records include: Jackie Cyr run in the 800m and the girl's 3200m relay team of Cyr, Molly Bricker, Heather Erber, and Emily Bricker.

Three athletes from Boyne were elected to the All-State first team this year. Wade Leist was chosen for football, Jason Rozycki for basketball, and Josh May for ski team.

The historic place to visit for the May 19 agenda was Horton Bay, and 15 members and guest speaker Betty Fox Kelts rode the trolley to a very interesting program at the Horton Bay General Store.

Due to the weather, the scheduled walking tour was canceled and instead, the proprietor of the store, Gloria Wyn, served as the narrator, describing what Horton Bay and the general store were like many years

The store was the heart of this tiny community and the many activities which daily took place. It served as the location for the area farmers to meet and to bring their cream to be tested, it is told that it was an extremely friendly place.

Gloria related about Ernest Hemingway being married in 1921 at the Methodist church which was located next door to the store, and of the reception which included the entire community. Presently a photo of Ernest as a young boy fishing in the Horton creek hangs on a wall of the store, as well as a multitude of other memorabilia. The store was built in 1876 by the grandfather of the recently deceased Horton Bay resident, William Ohle. Over the years there have been 27 owners.

There are numerous books available on Horton Bay and many are on display at the store. One of the most recently written was by William Ohle entitled, How It Was In Horton Bay, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

Betty Kelts reminisced of how she grew up in Horton Bay and at the Red Fox Inn. Betty's aunt and uncle, Ben and Maggie Belknap, owned and ran the Horton Bay general store for 16 years.

The Red Fox Inn began serving dinners in the summer of 1921 and the price for a complete dinner of either chicken, fish or steak was $2.50. The Inn was a very popular place with the summer residents and visiting celebrities. Betty recalls how she began to help out when she was only eight years old. They generally served 100 dinners every night. When the Inn finally closed its doors in 1975 after 54 years, the price for a dinner had only risen to $8.50. All the members caught the trolley back to the home of President Leslie Boe, where a brief business meeting was held. Delicious refreshments were provided by Thorne Rowe, Skip Cromp and Leslie.

The final meeting of the 1996-97 year will be on June 16, for a ride on the Ironton ferry and lunch at The Landing.

TOPS

The TOPS morning and evening groups hosted an open house May 19 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The meeting was called to order by leader Georgene Alger and honored Janet Karl as TOPS person for the week. Attendance of 24 enjoyed fellowship, support, and the trays of healthy snacks from Carter's and Glen's markets.

Guests are welcome every week. or 582-7658.

THE XI GAMMA SORORITY met at the Boyne City home of Jean Odgers this past Wednesday evening. Guest speakers were board member of the Charlevoix County Human Society, Trish Wright, and colleague, Helene Valade. They told of the Humane Society's hopes to have a new building located in Boyne City this year, as the existing animal shelter has much to be desired, after serving the county-wide needs of homeless dogs and cats over the past 20 years. They also spoke of the immediate need for donations of puppy and dog food, cat food and kitty litter, and volunteers to walk the dogs or help with the animal care in whatever ways they can. The Xi Gamma members pledged to be included on their volunteer list. Tasty refreshments and fun conversations brought the meeting to a close.

B.C.H.S. 1997 GRADUATE Dean Fiel was honored on Monday by his mother, Jean, with an open house. He plans to spend the summer working at Petoskey Beverage and then continuing his education at NCMC.

DNR DONATES TRAPS TO LOCAL POLICE DEPARTMENTS

Help for those pesky critters

It's late at night, you're asleep. when suddenly a loud noise outside wakes you up. You get up, look out the window and see a raccoon running away.

After the same thing happens the next night and the night after that, you realize you have a problem on your hands. What are you going to do?

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has offered one solution. It has purchased live animal traps and given them to the Boyne City and East Jordan police departments and they have agreed to loan out the traps to residents who are having a problem with a nuisance

City police and DNR officers will not be responsible for tending the live traps or removing animals once they are caught.

These traps are provided for residents to take care of a problem on their own," said DNR conserva-tion agent Sgt. Jeff Gaither.

Conservation officers have traditionally been called on to trap or assist in moving unwanted or nuisance animals, but their duties have increased without raising the number of officers. This leaves little or no

Two accidents send seven to hospital

A two-car accident at the intersection of M-75 and US-131 sent four East Jordan residents to the hospital last Thursday, but fortunately there were no serious injuries.

According to the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, the accident occurred at about 3:50 p.m. when Bridgette McClintock, 29, of East Jordan was attempting to cross US-131 and apparently pulled out in front of a vehicle driven by Jacqueline A. Gearhart, 69, of Mancelona that was headed southbound on US-131.

Passengers in McClintock's vehicle were her husband Roger, Clayton McDonald, age 10, and Sandy McDonald, age 6.

All four occupants of the McClintock vehicle were transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by the Boyne City Ambulance where they were treated for minor injuries.

The jaws of life had to be used on McClintock's vehicle.

Gearhart and her husband Wesley also received minor injuries and were transported to Northern Michigan Hospital.

All six people involved in the accident were wearing seat belts.

The sheriff's department was assisted at the scene by Boyne Valley First Responders, Boyne Valley Fire Department, the Michigan State Police and a Charlevoix City Police officer who happened upon the scene.

THE SHERIFF'S department is also investigating a single-car accident Sunday that sent a Petoskey teenager to the hospital.

According to the sheriff's department, at about 10 p.m. Sunday a 1987 Ford Taurus driven by Lisa Ann Mover, 26, of Boyne Falls was headed west on Addis Road when it slid sideways on the road's gravel surface and went off the roadway. The car went into a ditch and struck a driveway, flew over it, landed on other side and traveled another 50 feet before coming to rest.

One 15-year-old passenger was transported to Northern Michigan Hospital by Boyne City Ambulance where she was treated for a broken arm. Mover and her other three passengers were not hurt.

Boyne started out the week's play last Tuesday at Elk Rapids with a split. Boyne took the opener 4-3, then dropped the nightcap, 2-1.

"I was disappointed by the one run loss," said coach Rick Simon. "We were by far the better team. It was our worst loss of the season.

Heather McClaren took the pitching loss for the Red Devils allowing four hits while striking out four and walking one. Kyle Krause had two singles while Heather Jackson and Kelly Woodard each singled.

East Jordan's Jenny Goebei gets some air in the long jump competition during the conference track meet held at Boswell Stadium last week. Goeble's jump, 14-4.25, was good for a fourth place finish in the event.

Jason Richards has been throwing strikes all season long and the Ramblers hope that continues into Saturday's district tournament.

Now it's time to play for keeps

Sometimes you have it and sometimes you don't. For the Boyne City Ramblers, they had it in the first of their two games against East Jordan last Friday, winning 14-0. In game two, however, it was a different story as East Jordan rallied

"We played with total concentration and confidence (in game one)," said Boyne City head coach Steve Kehrer. But in game two "we lost our concentration for the first two innings and had to battle back after a 3-0 deficit.

Both teams will be hoping to be at peak intensity this Saturday as they compete in the district tournament in East Jordan. The Ramblers play Mancelona at 10 a.m. while East Jordan will play Harbor Springs. The winners of those two games will play for the district championship.

Mancelona defeated Charlevoix 3-2 Tuesday to earn a berth

"The districts are going to be tough," Kehrer said. The Ramblers enter the game after finishing second in the conference behind Elk Rapids with a 9-3 record. Overall, they are 16-9. East Jordan finished 4-6 in the conference. In last Friday's game at Boyne City, the Ramblers' bats were hot as they pounded out 12 hits, including a home run by Jason Richards. Jason also had two singles and four RBIs. He was also the winning pitcher. He had eight strikeouts and allowed three Don Richards had a single and double and two RBIs, while Doug Archey had a double. Jeremy Andrews, Dean Fiel, Wade Leist, Scott Bradford, Scott Karaszewski, and David Cadarette each had a single.

In game two, East Jordan's Ryan Antaya was the winning pitcher, going the distance while allowing nine hits and two walks. Don Richards was the losing pitcher. He went three innings, allowed seven hits and three walks.

EJ, Boyne jv's play it tight

Boyne City's junior varsity avoided an opening game loss against a stubborn East Jordan team last Wednesday, but had to settle for a tie as it came back from a 9-1 deficit to tie the game in the sixth inning.

After eight innings the game was declared a draw at 12-12. The Ramblers won the nightcap, 8-5. Freshman Justin Callahan was on the mound at the start of game one and did a fine job. Callahan was the victim of some untimely errors and left the game after pitching 2 1/3 innings, trailing 9-0. Danny Arner came on in relief and pitched strong allowing Boyne to tie the game 10-10 after six. Arner gave way to Jesse Simon, who pitched the rest of the Arner led Boyne in the hit department with three singles and three RBIs. Arner also scored three runs and stole three bases.

Josh Bush had a double and a single while Simon, Jeremy Peck, Jeremy Grice, Noah Stanek, Tim Bouters and Nick Detlaff each singled. Simon had three stolen bases and scored three runs. Detlaff had two RBIs.

Game two was a five-inning contest with Jesse Simon on the mound all the way. Simon had 10 strikeouts while allowing six hits and giving up three walks.

Jeremy Peck led the attack with two singles and two RBIs. Josh Bush added a double and two RBIs, while Grice, Arner, Stanek, Derek Priske and Anthony Wormell each singled.

The JV team is 7-5-2 and will play its final games at Onaway this Wednesday.

DEFINITIONS

9. Building Height: The vertical height measured from the established grade prior to any excavation or construction, to the highest point of the roof surface for flat roofs; to the deck line of mansard roofs and to the mean height between eaves and ridge for gable, hip and gambrel roofs.
