East Jordan, Michigan

Lake level nears record high

BY STEVE ZUCKER

If the walk down to Lake Charlevoix seems a little shorter this spring than you remember it being last year, it's not because your memory is failing or because you are in better physical condition; the lake actually is closer -- 17 inches higher to be exact.

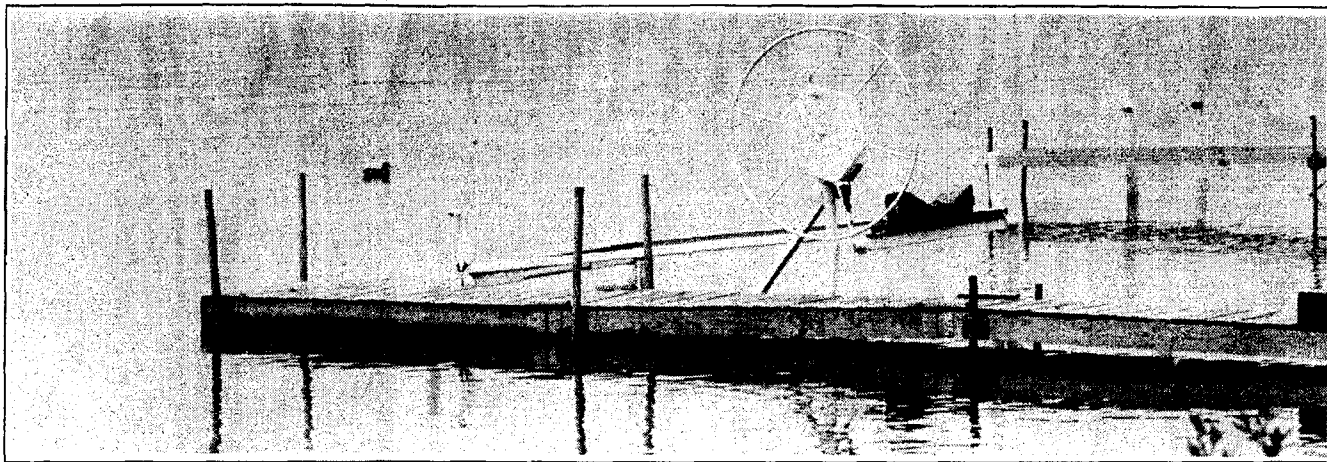

Many waterfront property owners along Lake Charlevoix and other area waterways are growing increasingly concerned about the rising water level as beaches are slowly consumed, waves lap closer and closer to buildings, and some docks are intermittently submerged.

According to an Army Corps of Engineers report published in mid-May, the Great Lakes are 17 inches higher than a year ago and only nine inches away from the all-time record high mark recorded in 1986.

Anyone who has lived near Lake Charlevoix or any of the Great Lakes for any amount of time is no stranger to the fact that lake levels vary from year to year.

What some aren't aware of is how much they can change. The all-time recorded low water mark was in 1964 when the lakes were 52 inches lower than the 1986 level.

Typically the lakes fluctuate in a cyclical manner, rising in the spring, cresting in the summer and receding in the fall. Last fall however, the lakes did not recede. Then, when this past winter's above normal snows melted this spring, the lakes began to rise once again.

The distance between docks and the water level on Lake Charlevoix has grown considerably smaller.

John McKinney, District Sea Grant Agent at the Michigan State University Extension in Traverse City, said, "No one really knows how much the lake levels will vary because records have only been kept for about the past 100 years; a very short amount of time in geologic terms."

McKinney added, however, that research has found old beachheads that indicate at one time the water was much higher.

"It's hard to tell when or if the water will go back down. It all depends on how much rain we get and how much evaporation takes place. We are pretty much at the mercy of Mother Nature when it comes to lake levels. About all we can do is help people prepare their shorelines," he said.

The biggest concern isn't the shrinking beaches consumed by the rising water, but the storm damage caused when high winds bring waves crashing ashore. The effects on property and buildings can be devastating.

Scott McEwen, Water Resource

Director at the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council said, "It's really something to think about when you build near a body of water. Many people built their houses or cottages at what may have been a safe distance at the time, and now have a lake lapping at the door."

Sandbags can act as a temporary fix to erosion problems until a permanent solution can be sought. Sandbags can be purchased at the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office in Charlevoix for 15 cents each.

More permanent fixes include the construction of sea walls, with cement, rocks or rip-rap, but permits are required for any permanent lake shore work.

McEwen said, "It's important that people don't try to undertake projects of this nature on their own. If done incorrectly, people can actually make the situation worse or make it worse for their neighbor."

Those seeking more information on how to protect their property from wave erosion can contact the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality at 517-731-4920, McKinney at 616-922-4620, or McEwen at 347-1181.

DIRECTOR AND COUNSELORS HIRED FOR SUMMER

Camp EJ gets ready for debut

With only weeks before the first campers show up for the first day of Camp EJ, Camp Director Sarah Werth has her hands full.

The camp was approved in mid March when East Jordan's Pat Brennan got together with East Jordan School Superintendent Chip Hansen and city administrator David White and presented the idea for a cooperative daycamp between the City of East Jordan and East Jordan Public Schools.

"The concept of the camp is two governmental organizations working together for the welfare of kids," White said.

With the full support of both governing bodies, the trio proceeded.

The next step was hiring a camp director. For that the trio didn't have to look far. In late April, Hansen approached elementary school teacher Sara Werth about taking on the responsibility.

"Sarah seemed to be a perfect match for the job from the start," Hansen said. "We wanted to have a teacher in the position because many of the kids will be from East Jordan and we wanted someone that they would already be familiar with. Sarah was ideal in that sense because she sees all 600 elementary school students on a regular basis by virtue of her position."

Werth is completing her second year as exploratory science teacher at East Jordan Elementary School. She is a 1991 graduate of Caro High School.

"Sarah does an outstanding job in her teaching role and we look for her to do great things with Camp EJ," Hansen said.

Werth said that all but one of the four camp counselor positions have been filled. The counselors already on board include Andrew Otis and Mandy Reid of East Jordan and Sarah Wolf of Boyne City.

The camp will serve between 35 and 50 children ages 5-12 and will run for eight one-week sessions beginning on June 23, and ending on Aug. 15. Hours for the camp are 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

A mix of recreational and educational activities will be offered such as swimming, surfing the internet, space and rocketry, trips and activities at Camp Daggett, Raven Hill, Au Sable Trails, Brown's Creek, Mill Creek and many more.

Each week of camp would have a theme and would include at least one afternoon of educational activity. Each week would also culminate in an awards program on Friday. Awards would be given for various events during the week and would include medals, ribbons, and certificates.

The base of operations for the camp will be East Jordan Elementary School, but campers will utilize several facilities within the city including the community pool, city parks and school facilities.

Tuition for the camp is $50 per week. However, those who attend all eight weeks will pay $350 instead of $400. Hansen said scholarships will be pursued for children who would like to attend the camp but might not otherwise be able to afford the tuition.

With an estimated budget of $16,500 the camp is expected to be mostly self-sufficient. Financial support is expected to be provided solely from camper tuition. Hansen said the camp has applied for a $3,500 start-up grant from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. Hansen expects a reply in the next two weeks.

"We don't anticipate the camp would lose money. In fact, we think that there is such a need for this in our community, that there will be little problem filling the camps," Hansen said.

Registration forms can be picked up at East Jordan Elementary School or city hall. Applications must be submitted with a non-refundable $25 deposit to secure each child's registration for each session. The deposit will be refunded if there is no room in the session. The balance of the $50 fee will be due at the beginning of each session. Applications are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Currently there is still room available in all eight sessions, but Werth said that a waiting list will be created should the need arise.

Werth said she is excited about the camp's inaugural year.

"The first year for any program like this is a lot of work, but we are expecting to have a great summer," Werth said.

For more information about Camp EJ and information about scholarships, contact Sarah Werth at 536-0053 ext. 5148.

School board trustees face no challenge

Voters in the East Jordan School District will go to the polls Monday as the district holds its annual school board election. The only names appearing on the ballot are incumbents Laurie A. Hurwitz-McNeil and Mary P. Jason. Both are running for one of two four-year terms.

Voters will also choose two members of the Char-Em Intermediate School District Board. The three candidates running for the two six-year seats are Barry Anderson, Carol R. McDonnell, and David S. Taylor.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the East Jordan Civic Center.

Chamber coupon books available

East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce Coupon Books are now available. The books offer 24 money saving coupons for 22 different businesses in the East Jordan area.

The books are available at all 22 businesses and at the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce at a cost of $10.

East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Mary Faculak said, "The books are an excellent value and a great way for people to discover area merchants that they haven't tried before."

The clothing is from a delivery from the "Larry Jones Feed The Children Ministry."

Clothing items include shorts, shirts, pants and coats from children's through adult sizes. Area residents are invited to come and help themselves.

For more information, call Margaret Thompson at 536-7375.

JVFF meeting planned

The Jordan Valley Freedom Festival Board will hold a meeting on Thursday at 6 p.m. in the Lakeview Manor Meeting Room. All board members are encouraged to attend.

COMMUNITY WEEK ON TAP

It's time to clean

This Sunday will mark the beginning of the first-ever East Jordan Community Week. During the week-long celebration of civic pride East Jordan residents are encouraged to get involved with cleaning up the city. Citizens will have plenty of opportunity to do just that as numerous events are planned throughout the week.

Community Clean-up Day will begin at 7 a.m. on June 9. On that day, Waste Management of Northern Michigan and city crews will pick up rubbish within the city limits.

On Tuesday local girl and boy scouts will be planting flowers in planting barrels throughout the city to give the town a splash of color. This will be the fifth year for the flower planting program and the second year the flowers will be purchased by the East Jordan Garden Club. Prior to the event refreshments will be served at the Senior Center. After the planting is done, the East Jordan Police Department will sponsor a pizza party for all of the scouts who participate.

On Thursday the City of East Jordan, the Charlevoix Community Foundation, the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce and Glens Market will sponsor a Welcome Reception and hot dog roast in Memorial Park from 5:30-7:30 p.m. for City Administrator David White and his wife Beth. The deadline to RSVP for the reception is June 6.

In the same civic spirit of the week, East Jordan residents Roger Huckle and Scott Harper are organizing groups to help senior citizens with their clean-up efforts. Anyone interested in helping out can call 536-7514 or 536-2515.

The 'tabernacle' at the Holiness Camp is not fancy, with its old church pews and movie chairs, but it is a place people come to worship, said the Rev. Lane Eddy who is co-president of the camp.

THIS IS THE 87TH YEAR FOR HOLINESS CAMP

'It's like an old-fashioned revival'

For 86 years, people have come to the Northern Michigan Holiness Camp in Boyne City and this year will be no different.

The camp's 87th annual meeting opens Sunday and runs through June 15. Services are at 6 p.m. Sundays and 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday. A children's Bible School will be provided Monday through Friday.

The Rev. Paul Dickinson of Fraser is the evangelist and vocalist for this year's camp.

Organized in 1910 by various Holiness churches in the area, the camp has been a meeting place for all people who desire to attend a camp meeting, said the Rev. Lane Eddy, pastor of the Free Methodist Church in Boyne City, who is co-president of the camp's board of trustees. He shares duties with Doug Yeck of the Salvation Army.

"It's like an old-fashioned revival," Rev. Eddy said, "and everyone is welcome."

The tent "tabernacle," with benches and sawdust floor in the early days, was later replaced with a wooden frame building. There were also tent and trailer spaces on the grounds. Later a dormitory with a kitchen and dining room was built, which has since been torn down. A restroom with showers was added as city water was made available.

Several area churches participate in the camp including the Horton Bay United Methodist Church, Boyne City Free Methodist, the Missionary Church of East Jordan and Petoskey, the Nazarene churches of Boyne City, Charlevoix and Alanson, and the Wesleyan Church of Ellsworth and Bellaire. The Salvation Army also supports the camp.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

BOYNE CITY HIGH SCHOOL 1997 graduates Matthew Rader and Andrew Frykberg shared an open house on Sunday. The beautiful weather, balloons, and party tent enhanced the Frykberg home on Lakeshore Drive, where the many friends, relatives, and classmates gathered for indoor and outdoor fun. Those here on behalf of Matthew were his Aunt Nancy Frazier and cousin Mark Frazier and Aunt Peggy Ballaneine, all of Traverse City. Matthew will spend the summer working at Bay Harbor and then will attend Grand Valley State in the fall. Those attending the party in behalf of Andrew were his grandmother, Lottie Rollins and Aunt and Uncle, Helen and Chuck Olszewski, all of Grand Rapids, Aunt and Uncle Barb and Michael Woven and cousins Dave and Don, of Oakland, and cousins Bob and Maryann and sons Billy and Bobby of Pearson, cousin Jeff Gillis of Grand Rapids, and close friends of the family, John and Terri Brancheau and son Jeff of Fenton. Andrew will be working this summer at Ye Nyne Olde Holles and entering Michigan State University this fall. The great party was catered by French maid, GiGi Hammond.

AND REALLY SURPRISED, she was! Zola Hardy, who sports a big sign of congratulations for her 91st birthday at her home, from the city of Boyne City, enjoyed a group of about 15 friends and neighbors on Wednesday. Supposedly meeting for a coffee hour at the Lakeview Village home of Bob Sheehan, they gave her a great party, beautiful cake, and more cards!

VIVIENNE AND FRED DUNCAN of Port Huron have been here visiting her sister, Glenda Planck and other relatives in Boyne City. They were especially here to see her brother, Willis Planck, who is recuperating at his Walloon Lake home since his recent stroke. The family also gathered this week to celebrate his son Willis' birthday.

THE BOYNE VALLEY TRIM & SLIM CLUB held its annual "Queen's Party" this past Wednesday at Litzenger Place. The club's president, Joyce Ecker, last year's queen, did it again this year. Losing the most weight in 1997, she received the gift of her own choosing, healthy bushes for her home garden, plus the treasured plaque that spends the year with the reigning queen. She was presented with a lovely bouquet of fresh flowers, crowned with the artistic crown created by Thometta Rowe, the center of pictures, and honored with a lovely buffet. All were winners in the white elephant bingo games that closed out the party!

NICOLE CUDAHY, her mother, Teri and brother, Andrew, all of Midland, were here on Saturday, visiting the Marshall Road home of her great-grandparents, Dick and Edna May. Nicole was especially here to attend the open house of her long time friend and Boyne City High School class of '97 graduate, Jared Maule, son of Roger and Diane Maule. The lovely outdoor picnic party of many classmates, area friends and relatives, was also attended by his great-grandmother, Iva Maddock and grandparents Richard and Margaret Seville, all of Flint, and grandmother, Elnora Maule of Boyne Falls. Jared will work the summer months at Allied Signal and enter Michigan Tech in Houghton this fall.

CHARLES AND IRENE RICKARD of Boyne City enjoyed several days out and about with their son, Charles Jr., who was here from Oscoda.

HEARTFELT SYMPATHIES of many area neighbors, relatives, and friends go out to the family of one time librarian, Versa Fineout of Walloon Lake, who died this past Friday.

PROUD GRANDFATHER, Bill Myers of Grandvue, with the aid of a wheelchair, joined his wife and family in attending the 1997 graduation exercises of Boyne City High School on Friday, in the interest of his granddaughter and class Valedictorian, Colleen Chapoton.

A REMINDER GOES OUT to everyone — to remember that the Boyne City Holiness Camp is starting earlier this year. Beginning June 8 through 15, the Rev. Paul Dickson will be evangelizing, with singing and speaking, each night at 7 p.m. at the familiar N. Park Street campgrounds.

DAVA AND DON MAAT of Boyne City hosted a lovely and lively lawn party and open house on Sunday afternoon for their 1997 B.C.H.S. graduate, Dustin Maat. 120 friends, classmates and Walloon Lake Community Church friends enjoyed this special time in Dustin's life. Dustin will spend the summer working at Boyne City's Wood Shop and then continue his education at NCMC in the fall.

THE BOYNE CITY FREE METHODIST Church honored their two high school graduates this past Sunday. Mike Carr, son of Margaret and Lyle Bennett of East Jordan and Scott Bergmann, son of Helen and Larry Bergmann of Boyne City, were also honored with a graduation dinner following the morning service.

BOYNE CITY HIGH SCHOOL class of 1997 graduate, Anna Lee Berry, daughter of Tony and Robin Berry Williams was honored with an open house at the home of her Aunt Kerri and Tracy Reinhardt and grandmother, Gerry Williams. Saturday's beautiful weather and the blue waters of Lake Charlevoix enhanced the deck and tent party of balloons, good food, and a fun time. Also among the many area friends and relatives attending were her grandparents, Don and Virginia Bunka of Okemos. Anna Lee plans a future of lots of traveling, and hopes to pursue art and music.

Two Boyne women attending national Lutheran meeting

Becky Palmiter and Jean Korthase of Boyne City's Lutheran Church will join thousands of Lutheran women of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, for the 27th Biennial Convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

The June 26-29 event will take place at the Charlotte Convention Center, Charlotte, N.C.

Jean Korthase is the treasurer of the Christ Lutheran Ladies Aid.

"Hold Up The Light" is the theme of the convention. It focuses on the convention goal: "The spirit of God's people is rekindled, so that they are living their lives with brighter intensity."

Before the official opening on Thursday evening, June 26, participants will be engaged in Servant Events in the Charlotte area and will participate in "Spirit Station," a place of "hands-on" personal ministry exhibits. The convention will close on Sunday, June 29, following a Praise and Thanksgiving Celebration.

The International Lutheran Women's Missionary League, (LWML) with a membership of nearly 200,000, is the official women's auxiliary of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. The LWML focuses on affirming each woman in her relationship with Christ to enable her to be in ministry among the people of the world. For nearly 55 years, the organization has been encouraging and equipping women to live out their lives in active mission ministries and to financially support global mission projects.

Exploring the lake

Sixth grade students go aboard South Shore

There was a lot of splashing going on in Lake Charlevoix May 20, 21 and 22 as more than 200 sixth grade students from Boyne City, Concord Academy and Charlevoix, plus close to 100 fifth grade students from East Jordan went aboard the Beaver Island Ferry Company's South Shore, to learn more about the lake during "Experience Lake Charlevoix" days. The program, in its third year, was sponsored by the Lake Charlevoix Association and the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council, who provided the opportunity for the students to learn about the water quality and aquatic life of Lake Charlevoix. The ship made three trips each day to accommodate all the classes.

The students visited three stations while aboard the South Shore and took part in activities that: 1) measured the water clarity with the Secchi disc; 2) collected a water sample and measured whether it was an acid, base, or neutral (pH), and 3) played a game to learn more about alien species (i.e., lamprey eels, zebra mussels, etc.) and their impact on Lake Charlevoix.

Volunteers staffed the stations and worked with the students providing hands-on opportunities to learn more about an important resource in their own backyard - Lake Charlevoix.

Young thespians have talent

Second grade students in Laura Houser's and Gordon Howie's classes got a feel for what it's like to get on stage.

They did that last week in four plays they performed in front of family and fellow students.

"Edward and the Kitemaker" and "Healthy Wealthy and Wise" were performed by Mr. Howie's class. "Peck a Hole to Chinaland" and "You can do it" were performed by Mrs. Houser's students.

Through the projects, students learn memorization, stage demeanor, stage poise, interdependence, teamwork, audience social skills, and public speaking, said Mrs.

Houser.

"A big thank you goes out to the parents who helped and sent cookies for after the performance," said Mr. Howie. "This was a great success and will be repeated in the future."

"Get ready Mr. Wollenberg, we're sending you a group of experienced thespians."

One of the plays performed by second graders was "Healthy Wealthy and Wise."

Prisoners' time put to good use

By STEVE ZUCKER

Last Thursday and Friday prisoners from the Charlevoix County Jail built a storage shed for Boyne Area Head Start located on Cedar Street in Boyne City.

For the past three years, groups of criminals have been visiting many Charlevoix County communities, and they've left behind many good works.

Three years ago Charlevoix County Sheriff George Lasater initiated a prisoner work program for inmates at the Charlevoix County Jail.

Since the program's inception, Lasater's office has supervised prisoner work details doing maintenance and clean-up work in township cemeteries and parks, as well as township halls throughout the county. County jail inmates helped with sandbagging operations in Advance during a flood that struck that community in August of 1995 and last summer a work detail re-painted the Horton Bay Church. This year Lasater has expanded the program to include help for senior citizens.

While some people may be concerned about having prisoners working in their community, Lasater said that residents have little to be concerned about.

"We only use prisoners who have been convicted of non-violent crimes," he said.

Although the work does not count toward any community service sentences, the $10 per day fee that county jail inmates are charged is waived for each day a prisoner works.

"Sometimes if we have someone that is a really good worker, I'll ask the judge to let them out a few days early," Lasater said.

Lasater said that later this summer, a work detail will be undertaking a project to clean up weeds and overgrowth along the banks of the Boyne River in Boyne City.

Boyne Area Head Start has a new storage shed, built by prisoners from the Charlevoix County jail. Materials for the shed were purchased by the school.

Guild gives hospital a gift

A gift of $805 from the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild to the hospital's CPR education program will purchase 10 baby and 10 pediatric Resusci-Annies for infant and pediatric CPR instruction.

Charlevoix Area Hospital is the designated CPR Community Training Center for the area and holds training sessions throughout the year for community members, EMT personnel, employees, and instructors.

"As a result of this donation, we can now offer more practice time to individuals attending," said Linda Sheppard, R.N., who is manager of the training center.

"We will also be able to offer more pediatric CPR classes including a session for our childbirth class participants," said Connie Roland, B.S.N., the hospital's education coordinator.

Guild president Ed McGee said the funds from a recent bake sale at the hospital were used to purchase the Resusci-Annies and the Guild hopes they will encourage more people to learn pediatric CPR.

Anyone interested in attending a pediatric CPR course can call Charlevoix Area Hospital Public Relations for more information.

District champs

Boyne City makes it a clean sweep

By TED KARASZEWSKI

Those amazing Lady Ramblers pulled off a double kill last Saturday at the East Jordan Class C softball districts for their first district crown since 1994.

Boyne City fell behind 2-0 early against Charlevoix before storming back to beat the Rayders, 5-4. In the district championship game against East Jordan, the Ramblers fell behind 3-1 before rallying to beat the Red Devils 5-3.

"They really worked hard in practice this week," said coach Rick Simon. "I've finally gotten through to them that through hard work, they'll reap the rewards. You could see it in their eyes that they wanted the district title really bad. I've felt all along that we were the best team in the district and these wins prove it."

Boyne City has really come together these last couple of weeks, winning seven of their last eight games and improving their record to 14-8 as they return to East Jordan this Saturday for the regionals. The Ramblers will face Rogers City at noon.

"We've been working on a couple of different plays at practice to spring on Rogers City," Simon said. "It's time for the girls to take their game up a notch or two and get more aggressive. They're really having fun now."

In game one, Boyne scored four runs in the third inning to take the lead for good over Charlevoix. Katie Bernthal doubled home a run followed by Katie Dhaseleer's RBI single. Sara Bobowski then drove home two runs with a single.

Bernthal ended up with two hits as did Heather Bingham. Brandy Barrens and April Roberts each singled.

"April had an outstanding day defensively. She threw out two runners at first base from her right field position," Simon said.

Abbey Roberts was the winning pitcher while her counterpart, Jenny Eveleigh took the loss allowing eight hits while striking out three.

Game two against East Jordan saw the Ramblers explode for four runs in the fifth inning to overtake the Red Devils for a 5-3 win.

Dhaseleer's bat produced a two-run double to tie the game 3-3 before Bobowski smacked a triple to score Dhaseleer with the go-ahead run. Heather Bingham drove Bobowski home with a single to provide a little insurance.

Bobowski, Treana Fiel and Heidi Van Hoosier each singled for Boyne while Abbey Roberts picked up the pitching win as she allowed just three hits while walking three and striking out three.

Losing pitcher, Heather McLaren, allowed six hits while striking out two and walking three. Kelly Woodard had two hits and Heather Jackson singled for East Jordan.

East Jordan beat Harbor Springs 11-5 to earn a berth in the district title game.

McLaren earned the win in that contest striking out 9, walking 3 and giving up 5 hits.

East Jordan's 11 runs were generated by a balanced hitting attack. Raissa Schroeder led the way with a double and a single, McLaren, Robin Reich, and Margaret Whiteford had two singles each, Kyle Krause had a double and Kelly Woodard and Kristina Nelson each added a single in the winning effort.

East Jordan coach Meg Fowler said, "Naturally we are disappointed, but I'm really proud of these players."

East Jordan finishes the year at 14-12.

There was plenty of reason to celebrate for Boyne catcher Treana Fiel and pitcher Abbey Roberts after the Lady Ramblers won the district title in East Jordan Saturday. Roberts was the winning pitcher in both games.

Ramblers win third title in five years

For the third time in five years, the Boyne City baseball team is the District Champion.

The Ramblers won their most recent baseball title at East Jordan last Saturday by defeating East Jordan 17-3 in the championship game. The Ramblers earned a berth in the finals with a 2-0 win over Mancelona in the semifinals, while East Jordan made it to the finals by defeating Harbor Springs 7-3.

While game one against Mancelona was a masterful pitching performance by Jason Richards, the Ramblers put on a hitting clinic in the championship game.

Jason Richards started the hitting barrage with a three-run homer in the first inning and it continued throughout the game. Jeremy Andrews and Matt Dhaseleer each had a triple and two singles, Phil Simpson had three singles, Wade Leist belted a double and single, Dean Fiel doubled (the ball hit the top of the fence and bounced back into play) and singled, and Doug Archey, Buddy Hayden and Dave Cadarette each singled.

While he was hot at the plate, Simpson also was impressive on the mound. He pitched a five hitter, struck out seven and allowed only two walks.

"Phil just did a great job for us," said head coach Steve Kehrer.

Ryan Antaya took the loss for the Red Devils. Denzil Wilson had two hits.

Against Mancelona, Jason Richards had his best stuff. He allowed just four hits, struck out nine and did not walk a batter.

"Jason was outstanding. After the first inning, he just took control of the game," Kehrer said. "We played flawless."

Wade Leist accounted for both Boyne City runs with a solo homer in the second and he drove in the Ramblers' other run with a double in the sixth. Don Richards had three singles, while Dhaseleer, Fiel, Cadarette and Jason Richards each singled.

For the Red Devils, Andy Stefanic was the winning pitcher over Harbor Springs striking out 8, walking 2 and giving up 3 hits. He also helped his cause at the plate with two hits. Wilson, Brad Carey and Rob Reid also had two hits apiece while Chris King added a single.

The Ramblers will return to East Jordan Saturday morning for the regional tournament. They play Rogers City at 10 a.m. and the winner will play the winner of the Clare-Mesick game.

The Ramblers and Rogers City met earlier this season, a game won by Rogers City. Still, Kehrer is optimistic. "We're real confident. It will be tough, but we should beat them," he said.

Loggers win, too

With all the excitement in area high school athletics last weekend, the Boyne Falls Loggers made some history of their own in Alanson when both the varsity baseball and softball teams brought home the first Class D District titles in school history.

To get to the championship game, the baseball team edged out Wolverine 15-14 in a 13 inning marathon game. Then in the championship game they downed Burt Lake-Northern Michigan Academy for the title.

The Lady Loggers had to come from behind to top NMCA 14-11 in the semi-finals before beating Alanson 16-12 in the final.

Both Logger teams will advance to the regionals which will be held Saturday at Hillman. Both teams will face Pellston. The girls' game will start at 10 a.m. and the boys' at about noon.

Records tumble at state

Amanda Pepin saves her best for last in 100 and 300 hurdles

If you heard a sound coming from the south on Saturday, it was probably the sound of two more East Jordan High School track records breaking as senior Red Devil Amanda Pepin made her final appearance in an East Jordan uniform. And she went out in style.

Pepin and six other members of the East Jordan track team participated in the Class C State Track and Field Meet in Comstock Park on Saturday.

Pepin, who led the girls track team all season long, ended her high school career with a bang when she took second place in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 15.78 seconds.

But her fastest race was in the semi-finals when she posted a time of 15.71, breaking the school record that she set last year by .17 seconds.

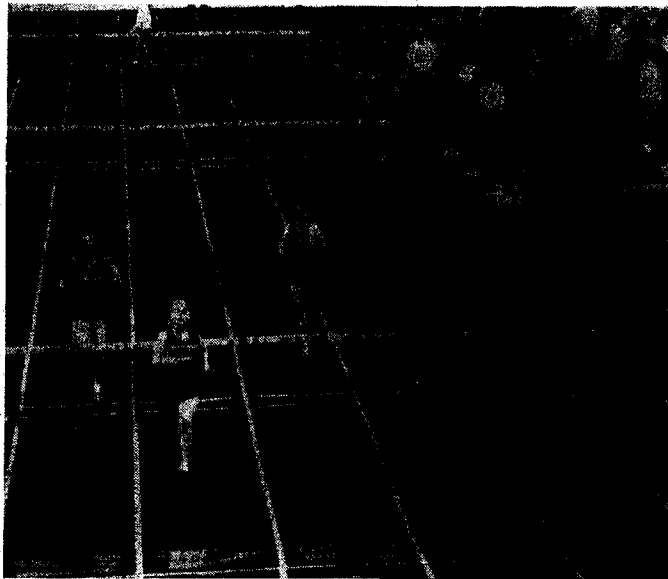

Pepin will also receive All-State honors as the top three finishers in each event are named to the All-State Team.

Although it wasn't good enough to earn another medal, Pepin also broke her own school record in the 300 meter hurdles running a 48.10, beating the old record of 48.41 which she set earlier this year.

Coach Dennis Snarey said, "We made a few changes before going to the state meet, and it looks like they paid off."

Pepin said that one of the biggest keys to her success on Saturday was "three-stepping" all the hurdles in all three races.

"I really worked hard on getting those three-steps down and staying as low over the hurdles as I could," she said.

Amanda Pepin, second from right, clears her last hurdle and sprints toward the finish line in the 300m event at Saturday's state track meet.

And low she was, as evidenced by the bruises on her knees.

"I wasn't too nervous in the final race because I knew that unless I fell down I had a medal. But I never expected to take second."

Pepin missed first place by .21 seconds.

Saturday's competition marked another apex in Pepin's track career. "I was able to beat a girl from Benzie Central and a girl from Kingsley that I've never been able to beat before," she said.

Snarey praised Pepin as he reflected back on her track career. "Amanda was such a joy to work with for the last four years. Not only is she an outstanding athlete, she's also a great person and that's what really counts. She has been a real leader for the team. We will really miss her."

For Pepin, Saturday's meet was her last, as in the fall she will be attending Lake Superior State University where she will play basketball. LSSU does not have a track program.

In the high jump competition, Jenny Goebel cleared the opening height of 4-11 before bowing out at 5-1. Senior Jim Malpass, the lone state qualifier for the East Jordan boys team, also cleared the opening height of 5-11 before bowing out at

'She (Amanda Pepin) is a great person and that's what really counts. She's been a real leader for the team.'
--Dennis Snarey

6-2. Earlier this year Goebel broke the school high jump record with a leap of 5-1.

Although the East Jordan 1600 meter relay team of Jennifer Falco, Jenny Doebel, Catey Moses and Goebel did not earn a medal in their event they were only a half second off the school record of 4:16.65 that they set at the regionals.

"We were very pleased with how they ran. They had a great season," Snarey said.

Boyne City's lone state qualifier, Chuck Stanek earned a medal when he tied for eighth place in the high jump with a jump of 6-1. Earlier in May, Stanek broke the Boyne City High School high jump record by 1/2 inch when he jumped 6-6. The old record had stood since 1958.

Fishin' is free this weekend

Has it been a while since you've dusted off that old rod and reel and done some fishing? Or maybe you'd like to introduce your children to how much fun a day at the ole' fishin' hole can be. Whatever the case you'll want to mark the weekend of June 7 and 8 on your calendar.

In conjunction with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' "Free Fishing Weekend," the District 5 DNR office in Gaylord will sponsor a free fishing clinic at Young State Park just outside Boyne City on June 7. This will be the second year for the event which focuses on introducing children to fishing. This year's event will be held at Young State Park on June 7 from 9 a.m. to noon.

The clinic will be held in the park's picnic area and, although the event is free, vehicles must still have a daily or annual Michigan State Park Motor Vehicle Permit to enter the park. Daily permits are $4. The DNR will have some fishing equipment available for those that have none, but recommends that you bring your own if possible. Bait will be donated by the Sportfisherman of Boyne City.

Although the event targets children, adults are welcome. In an effort to attract more people to the sport of fishing, each year the DNR's free fishing weekend allows anyone in the state to fish on Michigan waterways without a fishing license.

FORMER YOUTH AGENT ARRANGES EXCHANGE PROGRAM

4-H members heading to Big Sky

Fifteen Charlevoix County 4-H members will be making a trip to Big Sky Country this summer, but they need your help to get there.

Gallatin County (Montana) 4-H has invited Charlevoix County 4-H to participate in a cultural exchange between Michigan and Montana. From July 30 to Aug. 7, the Gallatin County group, based in Bozeman, will host 15 youth and five adults from Charlevoix County. Then next summer a group from Montana will visit Charlevoix County.

The exchange program was initiated by former Charlevoix County 4-H youth agent Todd Kessner, who moved to Montana two years ago and is now the Gallatin County 4-H agent.

According to Kim Stevens of the Michigan State University Extension in Boyne City, the goal of the program is for teens to gain a cultural experience by looking at how other 4-H programs are conducted in other parts of the country.

While in Montana, the Charlevoix County group will be staying with host families and will visit Yellowstone National Park, Lewis and Clark Caverns, and Big Sky (Boyne USA) Resort. The group will also be white-water rafting, fishing, and horseback riding. The cost of these activities and transportation is about $500 per person.

To raise the funds, the group has scheduled a number of fund-raisers.

On June 14, the group will be hosting a Golf Day at Boyne Rapids

Adventure Golf on M-75 South in Boyne City. On that day, patrons may purchase tickets for mini-golf, the par three chip and putt and a two-person scramble on the par three course. Half of the ticket price will benefit the exchange program. Prizes and a 4-H concession stand will be available.

On June 18, the group will hold a can and grocery receipt drive in Boyne City and Charlevoix from 6-8 p.m.

On June 19, Boyne City McDonalds will donate a portion of its sales from 4-8 p.m. to benefit the 4-H trip.

Additionally, anytime during the month of July, members of the 4-H group will be selling tickets for movies at the Boyne Cinema. Tickets are $2 for any age and 100 percent of the price will go to the trip. Tickets can be purchased from the 4-H office, Dr. Karkosak's office in Boyne City or any exchange program participant.

For more information on the exchange program, contact the Charlevoix County 4-H office at 582-6232.

Bike registration is Saturday at PD

The Boyne City Police Department is holding bicycle registration from noon-3 p.m. this Saturday at the department.

Children and adults are encouraged to have their bikes registered.

Now Hear THIS!
Q. "Dr. Koskus, why do we have earwax?"
A. Earwax, called cerumen, is a moist waxy substance that is secreted within the ear canal. Too much ear wax can cause a temporary loss of hearing. However, ear wax can also benefit the ear by keeping the ear canal moist and lubricated, deterring insects from entering the ear and trapping dust and other debris before it reaches the eardrum.
 A simple look in the ear canal with an otoscope can determine whether you have too much ear wax.
