Two EJ teams will make presentations at NCA Conference

East Jordan Public Schools' curriculum and school improvement process will be highlighted for educators around the state at the NCA annual conference Oct. 14 and 15 in Lansing.

High School Principal and Curriculum Coordinator Gus Bishop said the presentations will be a celebration for East Jordan schools and an opportunity for other schools to pick up on what has been deemed a success for East Jordan.

North Central Association (NCA) for Colleges and Schools provides evaluation and accreditation services for schools, colleges and universities. Schools which become accredited do it either through NCA or through the State of Michigan. East Jordan is one of 101 K-12 districts in Michigan to have all of its buildings accredited by NCA. As an added service, NCA hosts this annual conference as an opportunity and a resource for educators to collect information on promising programs, assessment and accreditation.

The conference includes keynote speakers from around the country. Smaller, one-hour sessions are scheduled at which schools like East Jordan present information about their programs. Other Michigan schools like Grayling, Bellaire, Sault Ste. Marie and Sutton's Bay are making presentations, as well as educators from around the country from Colorado, Kansas, Illinois and Massachusetts.

Stephanie Inman, Teresa Noiro, and Kathy Stangas, representing East Jordan, will be presenting. Please see CONFERENCE on page 3

Autumn glory

The final score was not what East Jordan football fans were hoping for, but the spectacular scenery at Boswell Stadium Saturday was unmatched. Mother Nature was very kind as well with clear blue skies and warm temperatures, a far cry from what it was earlier in the day.

OPEN HOUSE AND DEDICATION IS OCTOBER 15

Welcome mat is out at new school

When members of the community gather at East Jordan Middle School Oct. 15 they'll see more than a bright new building which feels more like a college campus than a junior high. They'll see the results of a community-wide commitment to the school.

"I think they'll walk away feeling tremendous pride for the community of East Jordan and East Jordan schools and also to have them recognize what a tremendous gift they have given to children today and the scores of children who will occupy (the school) in the years ahead," said Superintendent Chip Hansen.

The dedication and open house for the new facility is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15. The brief ceremony will include comments from School Board President Mary Jason and Bob Stowe of the GBKB architectural firm, a presentation of an American flag from American Legion Post 227, and an updated video presentation of the vision and mission of East Jordan Public Schools by Hansen. The presentations will be followed by a tour of the facility.

The middle school was constructed over the last year with occupancy of sixth, seventh and eighth graders taking place at the outset of the school year Sept. 2. The project is the culmination of a community-driven process of identifying school needs and an effort to bring community leaders and voters on board to support it.

The first request for a bond issue to support the project failed March 20, 1995. Hansen described the defeat as devastating. He believes holding the election just days after tax assessments were distributed was a factor in the proposal being defeated by only 64 votes. With the community-based Facility Review Group still committed to providing a new middle school for the district, the same bond package was put before voters six months later and passed by nearly 200 votes. An additional 161 voters went to the polls for the second election.

'I think they'll walk away feeling tremendous pride for the community and East Jordan Schools.'

Hansen said the two elections were approached in the same way. With the school board standing behind the recommendations of the Facility Review Committee, a parent and community group, "Quality Schools for Quality Kids," planned a marketing strategy for passing the bond issue, and parents talked to other parents face-to-face to disseminate information about the school needs and how the bond issue would meet them.

"We really felt there was broad support for the bond issue in our community," Hansen said of the failed first election. Losing by such a narrow margin during tax season led the school and community groups to exercise the same strategies for the next election. And it worked.

The bond issue of $5.3 million includes $400,000 for the Math, Science and Technology Center, an anticipated $200,000 for renovations of the elementary school (the former middle school), $300,000 for the wiring and cables for computers and the new voicemail phone system throughout the district, and $4.4 million for the new school. Contractor bids for renovation of the elementary school will be accepted through Oct. 15. Along with a few finishing touches to the middle school, the two-phase renovation project will complete the projects comprised by the bond issue.

East Jordan saved some money on the project by not hiring a general contractor. Hansen said the project went smoothly without one and the savings of $400,000 directly correlates to the funding allocated for the Math Science and Technology center. The building also includes a shared space for the band and stage productions, and a common area which serves as a cafeteria and for large group presentations in the school. The school features separate wings for each grade level, and each wing includes computer labs and project rooms which are shared by two classrooms each.

The new school doesn't include everything on the wish list the Facility Review Committee, but it is a facility which everyone supports, Hansen said.

Sutter and her attorney part ways

A scheduling conference in the lawsuit against the City of East Jordan by former city administrator Carolyn Sutter is Oct. 13.

But as of last week, Sutter was without legal representation since she and her Grand Rapids attorney Marshall Grate parted ways.

In a letter to Circuit Court Judge Richard Pajtas dated Sept. 19, Sutter said another Grand Rapids law firm had agreed to review her file but because of scheduling conflicts had not yet done so.

"Therefore, I do not yet have substitute representation," Sutter wrote to the judge.

Grate, who works for the firm of Roberts, Betz, and Bloss, P.C. of Grand Rapids, withdrew from representing Sutter on Aug. 27. In a letter to the court, he cited two main reasons:

- Communication between himself and Sutter had "broken down to the extent that meaningful exchange is now impossible."

- Sutter had asserted "her lack of comfort and confidence" in Grate continuing to represent her.

At the scheduling conference, dates and times for deadlines in the trial will be set.

Sutter filed her suit one year ago against the City of East Jordan which includes the claim she was fired because she was about to blow the whistle on suspected financial irregularities in the city.

The suit also claims defamation, invasion of privacy, wrongful discharge, and breach of contract. Named in the suit are city clerk Kathleen O'Rear, city treasurer Susan Moreau, mayor Russ Peck, commissioners Brian Sweet, Ruth Gee and Daniel McKinnon. However, only the city is named in each of the 10 separate counts of the suit.

Sutter seeks a monetary award for economic loss of back pay and benefits and for future economic losses due to damage of her professional reputation, plus attorney fees and costs.

Sutter was suspended from her duties by a divided city commission in June 1996, and fired a month later.

"It's important to note in any process it's impossible for every individual involved to get everything they want," Hansen said. Many divergent opinions came together to support the concept of what is now the East Jordan Middle School. "The bottom line is it wasn't a bad proposal for anybody."

The committee representatives were well-intentioned people with differing viewpoints, Hansen said. "By drawing them together we were able to come up with a common viewpoint that everyone could support."

Hansen and the Facility Review Committee are hoping the new middle school will meet East Jordan's needs for at least 10 years to come. That, along with the criteria of avoiding the use of portable classrooms and split days for students, was one of the three mandates by the board to the community-based group which defined the plan for the bond issue. Before the process even began the school board told the committee it would support a proposal which met those criteria and solved the space needs of the district.

Hansen believes having the board's support from the outset was a factor in the overall success of the bond issue.

The superintendent says what other schools might learn from East Jordan's success is that community involvement is key to the success of a bond issue request. "This was successful because it was community conceived and community designed," Hansen said.

OPINION

A MOM'S LIFE

Getting a kid clean is not as easy as it sounds

By CINDI PLACE

I sent our son to the showers the other day...three times. For some inexplicable reason, he had taken a long, hot shower, and still came out dirty. The first time I sent him back was to use soap. The next trip back was to wash his hands. His palms were clean as a whistle, but the back of his hands still had the remnants of a recent visit to his favorite black dirt pile.

The final return was to wash his hair. Now, explain to me how a kid can spend that much time in a shower and not get his hair wet. I can't imagine the kind of gyrations that feat must have required.

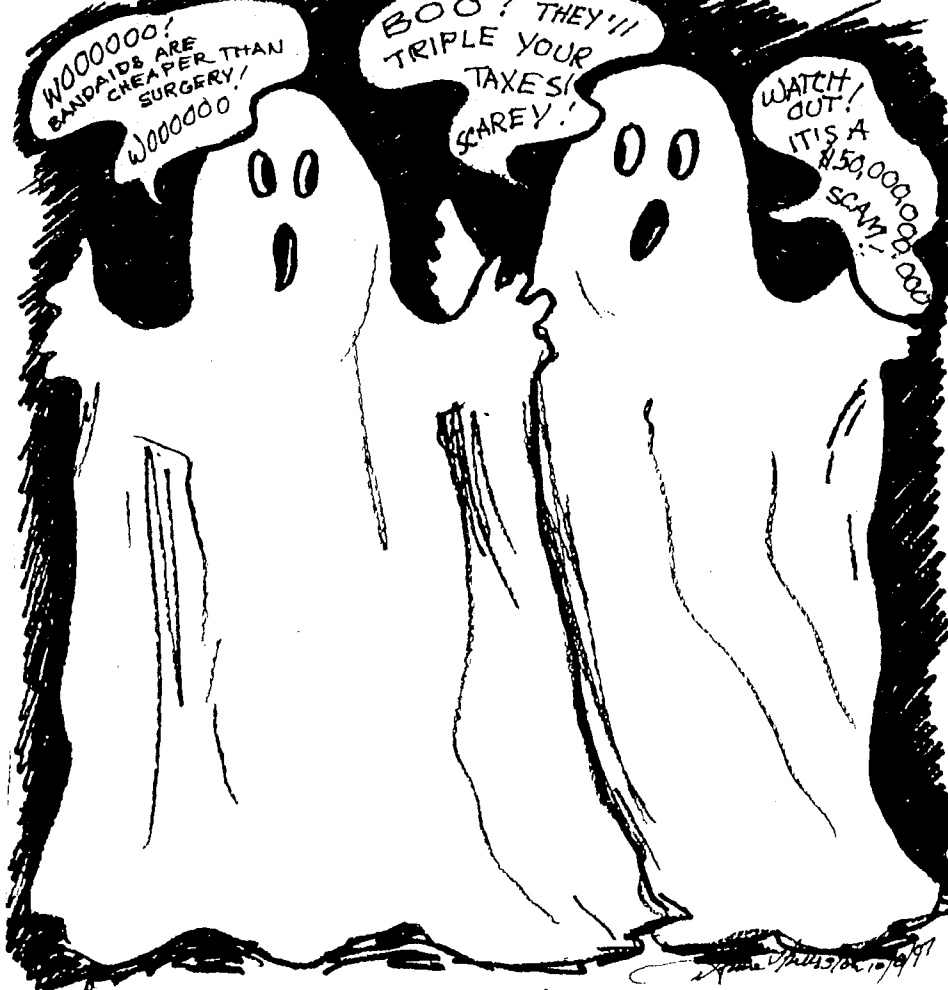

Why is it that a child who absolutely loves to swim, who is the first one to request a dip in a hotel pool, and who spends so much time each summer in the water that his hands have a permanent prune-look to them, hates to get clean? He says he doesn't like to get water in his face. So how does he swim in the lake with his eyes open?

My theory is that he's developed a rather nasty attachment to the dirt. I tried to scrub behind his ears one time and was afraid that the neighbors would report us to the authorities for child endangerment. He was screaming that loud! And even before I actually touched him.

It's like he's afraid to wash away the memories of his good times. Just by looking at him, I can identify what he has eaten recently, in which part of the yard he was playing and whether or not he was wearing socks with his tennis shoes. All by looking at the different dirt on lines on his body parts.

I can remember asking him once why he hadn't washed his face after eating an ice cream cone. "But Mom," he said, "that's the leftovers." Somehow, I doubt that his future employer will appreciate the humor.

LETTERS

Adding rooms not the answer

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing in response to a recent letter to the editor. The letter stated Boyne City Schools have 255 students less than the original planned capacity. The government sets rules the public schools have to follow. This includes setting aside classrooms for special activities and children with special needs. This can change original specs.

Many people who have toured the Boyne City Schools are aware of the needed updates. The high school lab and boiler are two good examples.

Also, the thought of just adding classrooms is pretty scary. Is that what the fifth grade portables are? It has been mentioned to me by other parents that there is mold in the walls of these "classrooms". After one month of fifth grade, my daughter has had problems with wheezing and coughing requiring breathing treatments. There is a strong history of asthma and allergies in my family. We were hoping our children would be exempt. It is now possible that daily exposure to mold may be an allergy and asthma trigger for my daughter.

My dad attended Boyne City Public Schools during the depression. He feels some of the classroom conditions may have been better then.

I am hoping that vote #7 will finally be the successful one making it possible to provide a safe learning environment for our children.

CITY HALL NEWS

City considers change allowing snowmobiles at Avalanche

By SUE HOBBS

WITH THE high water levels, there have been questions about why city crews are not putting more reinforcement along Lakeshore Drive to prevent erosion. The city originally placed stone along the Lakeshore through a Charlevoix County Emergency Services program. The city policy is similar to that of the Charlevoix County Road Commission, to not place additional reinforcement along the shoreline unless the street is threatened by the high waters.

SEVERAL YEARS ago when Water and Lake streets were resurfaced and new infrastructure installed, it was done in two phases. Water Street was done the first year and Lake Street the second. Therefore the new sewer line, when installed on Water Street, was tied into an old existing line on Lake Street. A new manhole was put in and the old manhole was left intact. When Lake Street was done the following year, they relocated the sewer line to the west side of Lake Street from Main to Water, then installed a manhole at the westerly end of Lake and Water intersection, went east a short distance and installed a second manhole to line up to the old sewer line. This is why there are four sewer manholes in that intersection.

This created many bends and corners in the sanitary sewer at the intersection. Adding to the problem is the number of restaurants in the area which send grease into the sanitary sewer line. There have been problems with sewer back ups in that area for the past four or five years, about once every 18 months.

This fall the city is scheduled to install a sewer line to connect the Lake and Water streets sanitary sewers and eliminate two of the manholes and several bends. In the process, we will eliminate two of the four manholes. Unfortunately this will require the intersection be torn up. Also, routine inspections of area restaurant grease traps to make certain they comply with all regulations will be implemented.

THE CITY AIRPORT Advisory Board has submitted a grant application to the state for airport improvements. In the past, local matches for projects were 50 percent. Recently the match requirement was changed to a 10 percent local match. It definitely was the perfect time to get some much needed upgrades done to the local airport. The applications will be reviewed in October and those which make the first cut will be invited to Lansing for a presentation during November. If you see any of the Airport Board members, please offer appreciation for the volunteer work they do at the airport.

ON TUESDAY, OCT. 14, city commissioners will hold a second reading and consider adoption of an ordinance allowing snowmobiles at Avalanche on designated trails. If you have an interest in where that trail should be, or whether or not snowmobiles should be allowed at all, attend either the Parks and Rec meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday Oct. 9, or the commission meeting at 7 p.m., Oct. 14.

(Sue Hobbs is Boyne City's acting city administrator.)

GUEST COLUMN

A sacred gathering in our nation's capital

By TIM ARNER

On October 4, Promise Keepers held an event in Washington, D.C. called, "Stand In The Gap: A Sacred Assembly Of Men." That day a multitude of Christian men gathered, not to demonstrate strength or political power to the country, but to display their spiritual poverty and failings to a holy God. I had the privilege of being one of those men who knelt to confess their sins and to repent for failing to stand in the gap for the church and the nation.

God says in 2 Chronicles 7:14 that "... if My people, who are called by My name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land." That was the heart behind Stand In The Gap — that it would be a catalyst for a prolonged season or revival in the Church, and, if God so pleases, would stir awakening in our nation.

A Sacred Assembly is not something new. The Old Testament records twelve instances when Israel was called by God to gather for one or more days of prayer, fasting, confession and repentance of sin because the nation had wandered away spiritually and morally.

My journey began at 3:30 a.m. on Friday morning, when I met five members of my church at the parking lot so we could travel to the village of Walloon Lake to meet over 180 other men from the immediate area, to fill four chartered buses for the 14-hour ride to D.C. When one of the buses did not arrive, we were not worried. We squeezed into three buses and rode to Gaylord, where we met the fourth bus, which had come from Washington, D.C. to pick us up.

The trip to Maryland, where we were to spend Friday night, went smoothly. The early rising, cramped seating, and lack of sleep did not bother anyone because we truly believed that we were called by God to attend this assembly. There was an unbelievable feeling of purpose, and an awareness that hundreds and hundreds of thousands of other men were also traveling to D.C. at the same time for the same holy purpose.

Many passing motorists, including many other Promise Keepers, gave honks of encouragement. I remember in particular one 18-wheel truck driver who pulled up along side of our bus on the turnpike, and, while doing over 70 miles per hour, held up a handwritten note to his window which said something like, "God loves what you are doing." A few minutes later he slowed down and stuck another note in his window with a similar message.

We arrived in Maryland about 7 p.m. on Friday night, and after checking into a very nice hotel, we went out for dinner at one of the local Italian restaurants. Many local people would ask us where we were from and what we were doing, and of course we would tell them. We received nothing but positive feedback.

Since we had to ride the subway system from Maryland to D.C. (about a 20 minute ride under normal conditions), and since we had no idea if the conditions would be normal, our group leaders informed us that we had to be out in front of the hotel to board the buses at 5:30 a.m. The Sacred Assembly officially began at noon. We waited for our bus from 5:30 until 6:10, until we decided that once again our bus was not going to show up. So, once again, we squeezed into the other three buses, and rode about 3 miles to the subway station.

Much to our surprise, the subway system was not yet crowded. Although we had to stand, the ride into D.C. only took about 20 minutes. By about 7:15 a.m., we were out of the subway station

Conference

Jordan's elementary, middle and high schools, respectively, will provide Michigan educators with models of the finished curriculum developed by East Jordan Public Schools. They'll share information on how all members of the faculty as well as research materials were used to develop effective instructional strategies for East Jordan students.

Bishop said the curriculum is "brain friendly" or "learner friendly." By this he means teachers throughout the system work together to provide students with concepts which can be built upon year after year of education. For instance, kindergartners may begin learning about "conflict" in literature by defining the "problem" in a simple story. Teachers at higher levels then build on that concept until in high school those same students understand the complexity of conflict. Teaching and building on the same concepts gives continuity while allowing instructors to tailor the lessons based student interest appropriate for the age level.

Administrators Chuck Hersberger and Shirley Bishop will give a second presentation on East Jordan's School Improvement Process. Their presentation will focus on how East Jordan insures that students really move from level to level within school by meeting certain criteria. A goal of East Jordan is also to make sure students are successful after high school by enrolling in a training program or being gainfully employed within six months of graduation.

Gus Bishop said East Jordan's program strives to give students a connection between what they're learning in school and where they want to go in a career. They want students to not only get good grades, but to learn to be productive members of the community.

Bishop said East Jordan schools proposed its presentation on its curriculum. NCA called East Jordan and asked them to present on the school improvement process.

Glimpses from homecoming

Reigning over East Jordan High School's Homecoming festivities were Queen Jenny Goebel and King Tracey Johnson.

Downtown East Jordan was alive with music by the high school marching band.

OBITUARIES

John Ragnar Morken

The Rev. John Ragnar Morken, 77, of East Jordan, died on Thursday, Oct. 2, 1997 at Northern Michigan Hospital.

Funeral services were held Monday, Oct. 6, at Belltower Reformed Church in Ellsworth. The Rev. Thomas Welscott officiated, with interment in Itasca Cemetery, Grand Rapids, Minn.

He was born on Feb. 16, 1920, the son of Hans Michael and Ragafrid (Hagelien) Morken, a few minutes after his twin sister, Sue, at the family home in Coleraine, Minn. His mother passed away shortly after giving birth to the twins.

He attended Itasca Junior College, received a teaching certificate from the University of Minnesota, and received a degree in pneumatic/electronic controls through Honeywell Control Data.

During high school and college, he served as a missionary in Bergland, Ontario, a lumberjack, and technician at the U.S. Steel Trout Lake Ore Washing Plant in Coleraine, Minn.

In 1940, he began a 23-year career at Blandin Paper Co. in Grand Rapids, Minn. From 1963-82 he worked for the University of Minnesota, several paper companies in Maine and Kalamazoo, and for the Kalamazoo Public Schools.

In 1987-88, he worked at the Bergmann Center in Charlevoix and coordinated the workshop and consulted with families of the disabled. From 1989 to 1994, he worked as head of maintenance at Boyne Mountain. He also worked maintenance at Camp Daggett and delivered "Meals On Wheels" in East Jordan.

His most meaningful work was his ministry, which began in a Home Missions Church in Kelliher, Minn. in 1959. He was ordained in 1968, and received his Divinity Degree in Theology in 1970 from Olivet College in Kankakee, Ill. Together, John and Evelyn served in the pastorate in the Nazarene churches in Mancelona and Boyne City. He also served as interim pastor in the Nazarene Church in Kalamazoo; filled the pulpit in many local churches in East Jordan, Ellsworth, and Boyne City; and served in many prison ministries.

He was a writer and had a small book of poems published, called Leaves, Root and Bark. He was a member of Belltower Reformed Church in Ellsworth, and associate member of the First Methodist Church in Zephyrhills, Fla. He was a member of East Jordan's Ministerial Association and a local Bible study group.

On May 31, 1953 in Grand Rapids, Minn., he married Evelyn Seeling and their marriage remained strong for over 44 years. Rev. Morken was a kind, caring, thoughtful, loving husband, father, and grandfather.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn, of East Jordan; one daughter, Tobilyn (Allen) Fameree of Saginaw; one son, Brad (Christine) Akre of Park Rapids, Minn.; six grandchildren, Karla Dison, Lisa, Benjamin and Rachel Fameree, and April and Daniel Akre; two great-grandchildren, Sydney and Riley Dison; one sister, Alyce Blakely of Sarasota, Fla.; and several nieces and nephews, and extended family in Norway.

Donald King

Donald King, Sr., 65, of East Jordan died Friday, Oct. 3, 1997 at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Oct. 6, at the Paullin-Penzien Funeral Home in East Jordan. The Rev. William McKeon of St. Joseph Catholic Church officiated. Interment followed at Rockery Cemetery, Jordan Township, Antrim County.

Mr. King was born on Feb. 23, 1932 in Grand Rapids, the son of Jessie James and Myrtle (Richards) King. On Nov. 10, 1951 in Grand Rapids, he married Juanita Sweet. He had worked at what is now known as Dura in East Jordan.

He enjoyed making bird houses with popsicle sticks and making people laugh.

He is survived by his wife, Juanita King of East Jordan; six children, Barbara (Jerry) Brooks of East Jordan, David King of Wyoming, Jessie James (Kathy) King of East Jordan, Donna (Lee) Erwin of Charlevoix, Donald James (Cyndy Taylor) King, Jr. of East Jordan, and Robert Lee (Philamene) King of Suttons Bay; thirteen grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; two brothers, Robert King of Wyoming and Kenneth (Pat) King of Alto; one sister, Shirley (Jack) Wilson of Charlotte; and several nieces and nephews. Mr. King was preceded in death by two sisters, Mildred and Arlene; and one brother, James.

Gerald W. Dole

Gerald W. Dole, 56, of Boyne City, died Thursday, Oct. 2, 1997 at Northern Michigan Hospital.

A Memorial Mass will be held Saturday, Oct. 11 at 10 a.m. at St. Matthew's Church in Boyne City. The Rev. Francis Partridge will officiate.

Mr. Dole was born Feb. 13, 1941 in Mt. Pleasant, the son of William and Aletha Berg Dole. He graduated from Clare High School in 1960. On Sept. 26, 1964 he married Linda Lee McQuiston. Together they moved to Boyne City in 1972, where he had been working for Bayko Concrete Services for 27 years. He was a member of Petoskey Eagles, Knights of Columbus, and St. Matthew's Church.

Survivors include his wife, Linda, of Boyne City; three sons, Mark (Charlynn) Dole, Anthony, and Merrill, all of Boyne City; three daughters, Rebecca (Joe) Santee of Kitzingen, Germany, Carmen Dole of Boyne City, and Lisa (Dave) Cole of East Jordan; his mother, Aletha M. Dole of Clare; eight grandchildren; five brothers, Bruce, Edward, Glenn and Stephen, all of Michigan, and Phillip of Illinois; and three sisters, Rose Capin, Linda Crivac, and JoAnne Dana, all of Michigan.

The family suggests memorials to St. Matthew's building fund or to the American Heart Association. Envelopes will be available at the service. Stackus Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Joseph E. Nessen

Joseph E. Nessen, 81, of Petoskey and formerly of Boyne City, died Monday, Oct. 6, 1997 at Bortz Health Care of Petoskey.

Funeral Mass will be Thursday, Oct. 9, at 10 a.m. at St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Boyne City. The Rev. Francis Partridge will officiate. Burial will be in Maple Lawn Cemetery, Boyne City.

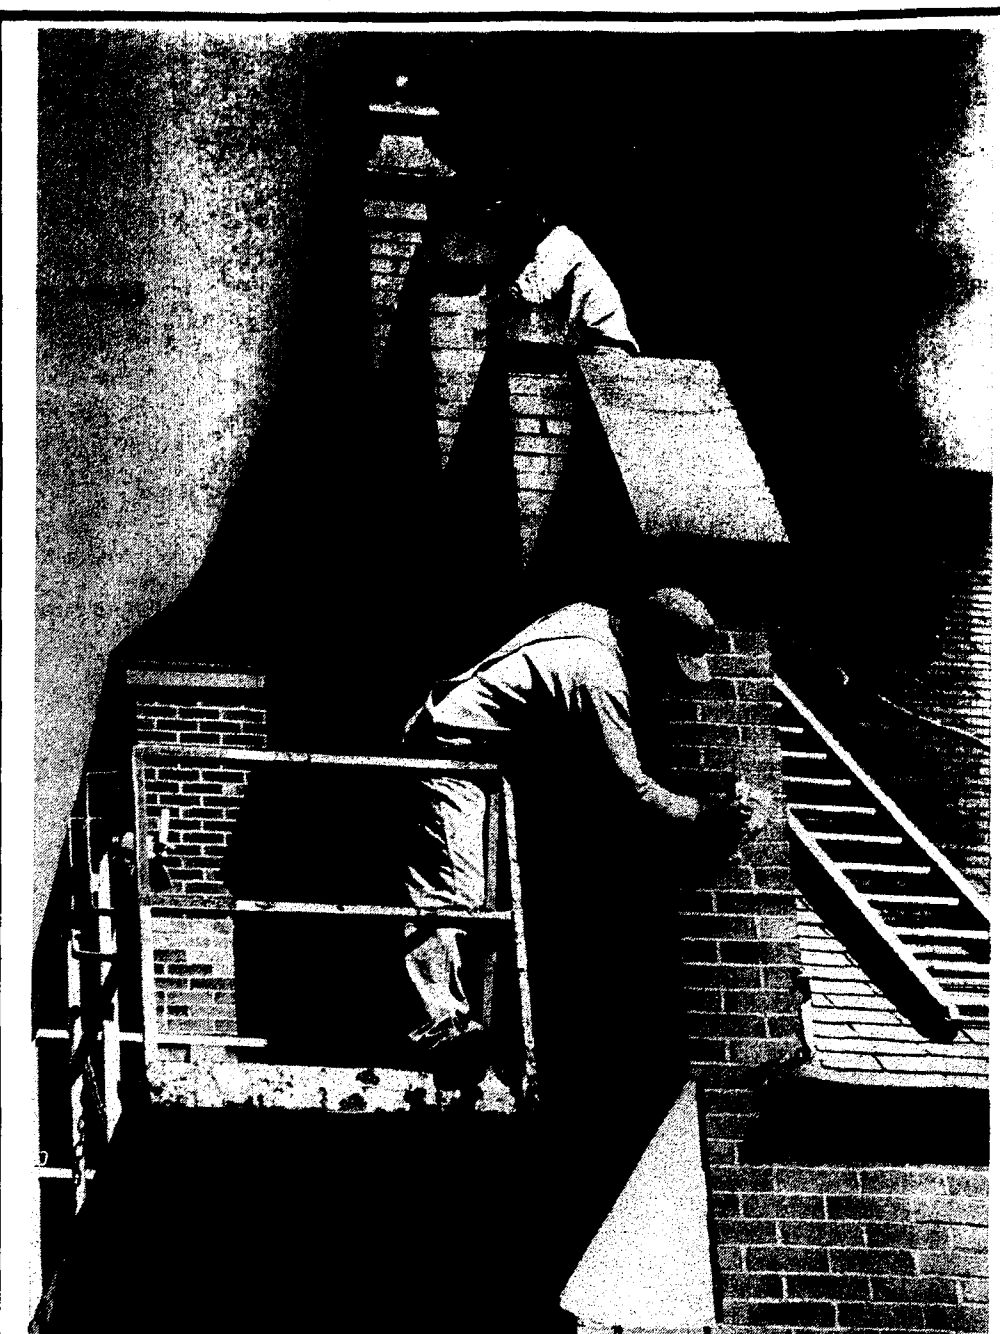

He was born Nov. 9, 1915 in Boyne City, the son of Henry and Nellie Czekowski Nessen. He graduated from Boyne City High School in 1935. He played high school football for four years. He married Mildred Weeks in 1936 and she preceded him in death in 1972. In 1973 he married May Livingston. Together they wintered in Arcadia Florida.

Mr. Nessen worked for Howe's Brothers Tanning and Extract Co. for 33 years until its closing and then went to work for Essex in Boyne City until his retirement in 1977. He was a member of St. Matthew's Church and Advance Board of Commerce.

Survivors include his wife, May, of Petoskey; children, Shirley (Carlton) Howie of Boyne City, Carol (Jim) Duff of East Jordan and Donald (Kitty) Nessen of Boyne City; six grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; six stepchildren, Bob Livingston of Rock, Carol Guzniczak of Durand, Roberta Malec, Hank Livingston, Marilyn Hughey, all of Petoskey, and Martha Fent of Watervliet; 19 step-grandchildren; and 24 step great-grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, the family wishes memorials to St. Matthew's building fund or to Camp Quality. Envelopes will be available at the Stackus Funeral Home where friends may call on Wednesday, Oct. 8 from 4-9 p.m.

Lofty brick work

Even bricks need care as they age and that's what Steve Hansen and Jack Geiger of Karr Tuckpointing are giving the exterior of Boyne City's First Presbyterian Church. Several areas around the church have broken bricks and decaying mortar which is being replaced by the crew.

POLICE REPORT

The number of cars damaged at the Boyne City-Kalkaska football game on Sept. 26 continues to climb.

As many as 25 vehicles, and there may be more, were scratched with a sharp object causing paint damage. The damage is estimated at $300 per vehicle, but some apparently suffered more damage than others.

Boyne City police are still gathering information and sorting through complaints, but at least two juveniles are believed to have been involved.

Vehicles from Kalkaska were also involved.

The gazebo in Old City Park took another hit from vandals this past week. On Tuesday, Sept. 30, two rails were kicked off the gazebo. The incident occurred between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. A warrant is being sought for a suspect in the vandalism.

Boyne City firemen were busy the past weekend with at least four calls.

A car fire was reported shortly after 6 p.m. Friday at Parkview Apartments. The fire was put out by the time firemen arrived.

A power pole was on fire Saturday near Clare's on the Boyne City-East Jordan Road as fans were returning from the Boyne-East Jordan football game.

Later in the day, firemen responded to a boat fire on Park Street. The fire was accidental and was put out with a fire extinguisher.

During the week of Sept. 25 through Oct. 1, the Boyne City Police Department handled 71 complaints. Among them were:

- A two-car accident at the intersection of North Park Street and River Street on Sept. 25. Drivers were Eric Allen Carson and Kelly Anne Garrett. Garrett received minor injuries, but sought her own treatment.

- A report of a hood ornament stolen from a citizen's vehicle while parked at a municipal parking lot downtown. The vehicle was a 1976 Cadillac Eldorado.

- Larceny from a motor vehicle from residence at 325 Vogel St. A purse was stolen containing $120, also approximately 76 CDs.

After fifty years in business, the superlatives just keep adding up.

The Buck stopped here

When you set out to explore, you never know what you might find. That thought must have been going through the minds of members of the Boyne City Yacht Club when they made a recent trip to Drummond Island. There they met Buck, who couldn't resist joining the visitors for a group photo. Getting acquainted with their new friend are, front row from left: Carol Ross, Lynn Osterbeck, Leah Shay and Shirley Mueller. Back row: Tom Mueller, Gary Osterbeck, Buck, Hank Ross, Walt Coyle, Susan Coyle, and Bud Shay.

JONATHAN EASTERWOOD AT U of M MEDICAL CENTER

Burn victim remains critical

Jonathan Easterwood, who was injured in an explosion on Sept. 25 remains in critical but stable condition at the University of Michigan Medical Center's burn unit.

Mr. Easterwood's wife, Patricia, reports that an operation which took place this past week was not as successful as they had hoped for. His vital signs appear to remain strong under the circumstances.

Mr. Easterwood's injuries resulted from an explosion when he was cutting the top off of a 55-gallon drum with a torch. The explosion and fire left him with second and third degree burns to over 60 percent of his body. He was working alone at the time. Employees working near the scene rushed in and extinguished his clothes which were still burning.

Mr. Easterwood continues to welcome letters and cards of encouragement. His address is: Jonathan Easterwood, University of Michigan Health Systems, Trauma Burn Center, 1500 East Medical Center Drive, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48109-0035.

SOMETIMES BEING LOW IS THE WORST.

SOMETIMES IT'S THE BEST.

Sometimes a few low numbers can really bring you down. Unless, of course, you're talking about the rate on a loan. And right now, our Great Rate Home Equity Loan scores impressively low. You can use the equity in your home for anything at all—home improvements, college expenses, even high-interest debt consolidation. There are no points, no closing costs and no application fees. The interest could even be tax deductible.

All it takes to get the Great Rate is to choose automatic payments from an NBD checking account. But it's for a limited time. So visit any branch or call 1-800-CALL-NBD toll-free to apply for the loan that earns high marks all around.

THE GREAT RATE HOME EQUITY LOAN
8.99% APR
With Automatic Payment

8.99% Annual Percentage Rate (APR) for loans of $15,000 to $49,999 with terms of 85 to 120 months, with automatic payment from an NBD checking account. Assuming a $25,000 loan for 120 months, your payment would be $316.33 per month with automatic payment or $319.95 per month without automatic payment (9.24% APR). Owner-occupied 1-4 family property in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Florida only with up to 80% Loan-To-Value. You must apply by October 31, 1997 and the loan must close by December 31, 1997. Rates subject to change. Call us for our great rates available for other loan amounts, terms and lines of credit. ©1997 NBD Bank, Member FDIC.

Boyne School Board has full agenda for Monday's meeting

The Boyne City School Board's next regular board meeting is Monday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school media center.

Scheduled for discussion are the following topics: Revised policy on the budget planning and curriculum review process; 1997-98 board goals; school improvement plans; technology plan; and high school open campus for juniors and seniors.

"The implications of the board goals, school improvement plans and the technology plan are very far reaching," said board president Kathy Anderson.

"The board would appreciate community input on these topics. Copies are available at the Superintendent's Office upon request. We hope to see many parents at our meeting. If you cannot attend, please contact a school board member by telephone or in writing."

The board has also scheduled a special meeting for Thursday, Oct. 9, at 6:30 p.m. to discuss board member relationships.

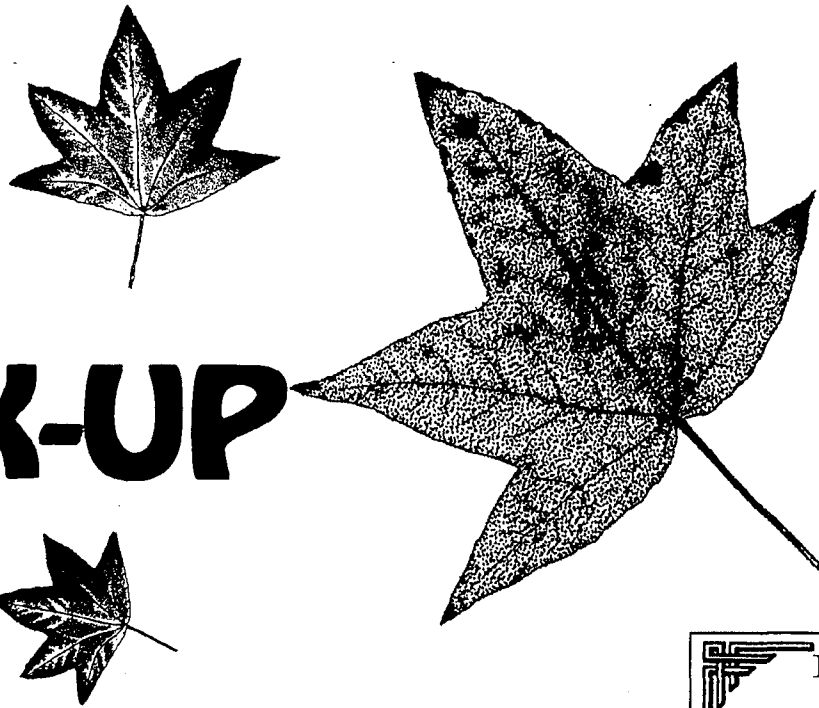

Boyne Area Medical Center sets dates for flu shot clinics

The Boyne Area Medical Center at 223 N. Park in Boyne City, is offering flu shot clinics on Tuesday, Oct. 14, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m., and Monday, Oct. 20, from 5 p.m.-8 p.m.

Area residents are urged to take advantage of the clinics to help avoid the spread of influenza throughout the community this winter. It is especially important for those with chronic diseases, reduced immune systems, and the frail elderly, to protect themselves from the virus.

The cost for the shots is $10 with Medicare coverage available. Call 582-5314 for an appointment.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

"AND THEY SHALL BE led by the children", said Pastor Kathy Slaughter of the Horton Bay United Methodist Church. She had been unable to participate in the recent CROP walk, due to a prior commitment, so she put out a challenge to her congregation. It would be the men vs. the women. She, personally, would cook breakfast for the winning team. Ed Chamberlain countered her offer. Seven women walkers raised $400. This past week, Pastor Kathy learned that 6-year-old Steven Robinson, who was accompanied by his older sister, Amanda, walked the whole distance and raised $360 all by himself! They were all winners and the whole church family enjoyed gathering for breakfast this past Saturday.

NANCY AND BILL TODD of Rochester Hills, spent a few days in East Jordan visiting her brother, Bill Bridge and wife Mae. They enjoyed golfing and seeing the fall colors.

DICK DUBIN of Litzenger Place was admitted to the Charlevoix Area Hospital early last week and is now a medical patient at Northern Michigan Hospital.

MARY JANE AND BOB KROLL have returned to their Deer Lake home after spending two weeks with her mother in Palatine, Ill.

She joined her sister, Annette Duray, in planning a special birthday party for mom, who will be 90 in December. The Krolls enjoyed seeing their daughter, Linda Reike and her son, their grandson, Ryan, and other friends and relatives while there.

STARY AND EDNA PACKARD of Belding were here visiting friends and relatives in the area.

JANET AND CARL MASSEY of East Jordan enjoyed the weekend of camping and the fall colors of the Upper Peninsula.

LORETTA MALLOY moved back into her "like new" apartment at Litzenger Place over the weekend. Beautiful, it is, after being totally damaged by the fire of July 17.

MANY AREA PEOPLE climbed the steps and walked the pathways of Avalanche Nature Preserve over the weekend, which surprisingly looks to be very near the peak of the color season....from the many comments I've heard.

CHRIS FALL-KNIGHT has recently returned from Columbus, Ohio, where she attended her third yearly decorative and folk art painting workshop and seminar. She joined artists from all over the United States, attending to improve their skills in using new techniques of acrylics, water colors, and oils. The classes were taught by nationally recognized and accomplished artists. Chris is now prepared to teach these same skills, with the addition of cake decorating. Enrollment classes are now forming. For more information, call Chris at 582-7284.

RECENT VISITORS at the Boyne City home of Florence Kominski were her brother-in-law, Dick Frazier and wife Kay of Elgin, Ill. They made the journey home by way of Wisconsin, to enjoy more of the fall colors.

JOYCE AND MARK ECKER of Walloon Lake spent the weekend in Eastpointe, where they attended her 50th class reunion of East Detroit High School.

A LOVELY "WELCOME HOME" tea was held at the Beardsley House on Saturday, honoring the return of former Boyne City High School graduate, Midge White Ackland. She spent many years away in Miami Lakes, Fla., and has now purchased a home here on Hannah Street. She and daughter Amy enjoyed the beautiful day and seeing many old friends and neighbors. The afternoon was hosted by Dave and Vicki Standen.

(To submit items to Nancy, please call 582-9174.)

She's the best

In the opinion of vendors at Boyne City's Farmer's Market, Mary Berg is the best young salesperson around. And Saturday morning they honored her with a Youth Award for all she does and brings to the market. Mary, who's been coming to the market since she was five, celebrated her ninth birthday Monday. She is the daughter of Becky and Daniel Berg of Charlevoix. She comes to the market each week with her mother while her brother works the family's booth in Petoskey and her father works at the Harbor Springs market. Mary says she likes working at the market because it's "better than picking."

Korean evangelist singing Sunday at Boyne's Free Methodist Church

Bong Oh Chang, a Korean song evangelist, will sing a program of traditional hymns at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 12, at the Free Methodist Church in Boyne City.

His coming to North America as a missionary was a vision, he said. "One hundred years ago, American missionaries planted seed in Korea, very strong missionary. I am willing to go and introduce results of their planting, the fruit of their sacrifice. I am a living report."

Chang is touring the eastern Upper Peninsula and northern Michigan with his ministry of music.

Funded entirely by his family, he asks that anyone wishing to express thanks to him do so by contributing to the relief efforts for the famine in Korea. His father, a retired mathematics professor, and his mother fled North Korea in the early 1950's. Chang remembers a childhood influenced by the continued American military presence years after the armistice in 1953.

Chang interrupted his studies in Korea, as a construction engineer, to come to America. He is now enrolled in the Northland Bible College in Goulais River, Ontario, Canada. The public is invited to attend.

Gathering

and walking the fairly short journey to the mall in downtown D.C. Even at this early hour, some 5 hours before the event was scheduled to begin, the streets were filled with streams of men walking in the same direction toward the mall. The feeling of anticipation, of being part of what may be recorded as one of the most historic spiritual gatherings in the history of our nation, was indescribable.

Our group of 180-plus had already been split up by the subway ride. We all wore the same caps, the intended purpose of which was to help us find other men from our group when we got separated. Not a chance! By the time we arrived in the mall about 7:40 a.m., there were already hundreds of thousands of men sitting and standing in the mall. If you have seen the photograph in the Record Eagle or the Free Press of the crowd, you will note that the stage for the speakers was situated near the Capitol Building, and that there are jumbo-tron television screens set up about every 100-150 yards down the middle of the mall. The photo that appeared in these newspapers shows the stage and a total of 5 jumbo-trons. There were actually over 20 jumbo-trons used, in a crowd that stretched all the way to and around the Washington Monument, and then continued on three quarters of the way to the Lincoln Memorial. Tens of thousands of men were not even able to see any television screens because they could not get close enough. Our group of six sat in the middle of the mall, right behind the fourth jumbo-tron.

The time from 7:30 to noon was spent meeting the men around us, and singing and watching occasional video clips from PK. The man directly behind me was an eye surgeon from California. The man to my right was from Oklahoma. The man to my left was in the military and stationed in D.C. Once the event began, it focused on three elements: (1) An Extraordinary God, where we acknowledged the one and only God and lifted up Jesus for who He is; and (2) An Extraordinary Response, where we acknowledged our need for Jesus in a time of personal cleansing and repentance; and (3) An Extraordinary Hope, where we learned about understanding God's heart for a united people. These six hours were filled with powerful singing. Have you ever had the opportunity to sing with a large group of people, maybe at your church at a special holiday service? You know how much better the music sounds and feels in those situations, right? Imagine yourself standing in the middle of a men's choir of a million or more members, who are so filled with the Holy Spirit that many are in tears. I can't do justice to describing how it felt to be part of that choir.

'There were people, standing shoulder to shoulder, as far as the eye could see, and they all loved the Lord.'

The six hours were also filled with prayer. The most amazing thing I remember was that when the speaker would announce over the public address system that we were going to pray, instantly this sea of men became quiet. Have you ever tried to quiet down a large group? You know that it can take a few minutes to do so. Not this assembly. You could hear a pin drop among the hundreds of thousands of men anytime the call to prayer was made.

The assembly was supposed to conclude with a video message from Billy Graham. However, the leaders of PK promised the Park Service that the program would end exactly a 6:00 p.m., so when 6:00 rolled around, and the program was running long, the speaker said, "It's six o'clock, and we promised to be done at six, so we apologize to Billy Graham for not being able to show his video. Good Night". A promise is a promise.

The last big unknown was wondering how long it was going to take all of us to get out of downtown D.C. Again, things went very smoothly. We walked to Union Station, where we waited only 45 minutes to board the subway back to Maryland. By 9:00 p.m. we were on the highway heading home (Yes, our bus actually showed up this time). After a fairly sleepless night, we arrived back in Wallton about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday.

As I have been reflecting on this Sacred Assembly, and attempting to figure out how to best describe it to people who ask, a thought came to my mind that, through this assembly, God gave those who attended a small taste of what heaven is going to be like. There were people, standing shoulder to shoulder, as far as the eye could see, and they all loved the Lord. There was no fighting or arguing. Everyone was polite and considerate. There was a sense of peace and purpose that permeated the crowd. There was a heavenly choir singing praises to God, too beautiful to describe. You could turn to any person around you, and although you had never met him, you could strike up a conversation with him as though you had known him all your life.

If this Sacred Assembly is anything like what heaven is going to be like, it will truly be glorious beyond our human imagination. By the grace of God, it is a gift available to each and every one of us. We need only accept it.

Bardens celebrate their 60th

Aldwyn and Regina (Jean) Barden are celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary.

The couple was married on Oct. 11, 1937 at St. Francis Church in Petoskey.

Their three children held a party for them on Sept. 29. Barbara, the oldest is a nurse and lives in Rochester, N.Y. Ed is co-owner of F.O. Barden and Son and Carole is a teacher in Harbor Springs.

The Bardens also have 12 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. All but three of the family members were able to attend the anniversary party.

Aldwyn semi-retired from Barden's in 1981 and now he and Jean spend six months of the year in Lakeland, Fla.

Robert Novak kicks off NCMC lecture series

North Central Michigan College's 1997-98 Lecture Series begins with Robert Novak speaking Oct. 16.

Other speakers in the series include Julie Oliver, Norman Kopy and Sharon Gitau from "The Real World Reunion Tour" on Nov. 13, John Powers on Feb. 11, and Nesse Godin will speak on April 14.

Novak, an accomplished journalist, often appears on NBC's "Meet the Press." He serves as co-executive producer of CNN's "Capital Gang." He is a frequent visitor to CNN's "Crossfire" and also appears on CNN's "Evans and Novak."

His career as a journalist has enabled him to travel around the world to report on wars, revolutions and international conferences.

Novak's lecture begins at 7:30 p.m. All lectures are open to the public and free of charge. For more information, contact Greg Baird at 348-6706.

A journey to the past

Students follow the steps of early settlers

Step by step, they made their way.

When they finished, several hours after they started, Boyne City eighth grade students had reached their goal: Little Mossback Amelia's homestead on Chandler Hill.

The approximately 11-mile journey started on Old State Road, just as the sun was rising and burning off the early Friday morning haze.

It was a glorious fall day for the students to bring to life "Little Mossback Amelia," a book about life and the difficulty of travel in northern Michigan back in the late 1800's. The book was written by Francis Margaret Fox, who chronicled the life of Mossback Amelia, whose family settled in the Boyne Falls area in the late 1800's.

The book has been a topic of discussion in the eighth grade social studies class and this is the second year students have made the journey. Its purpose is to give students a better understanding of what it was like in the area a hundred years ago.

While their feet were sore, the students' stomachs were full. More than halfway into the journey they stopped at Michelle and Charlie Utley's farm and had lunch.

Actually it was closer to a feast. All the food was cooked outdoors by students over an open fire. The menu included turkey, venison and squirrel for the main course, along with nuts, berries, jams, homemade breads and muffins, fruit cobbler, fresh fruits and vegetables. Students prepared the foods as authentically as possible before the journey. They picked the fruit for the jams and applesauce.

And like any feast, there was entertainment. Bob Jones played his guitar and sang folk songs about Michigan. (He also slipped in a Grateful Dead tune, much to the students' delight.)

Following Old State Road, students crossed US 131 then walked Skop Road to Springbrook Road to Fraley Road, where the homestead, now nothing more than a pile of rocks, is found.

"The students did really well the first seven miles," said teacher Amelia Ryan. "Then they ate, relaxed but had to get up and do another four."

With some prodding all 104 students made it and the day was a great success. "We were just thrilled. Everything went real smoothly," Ryan said.

Staff members involved in the project along with Ryan were Sue Martin, Peggy Wilcox, David Willson, Rob Bergquist, Dale Thomason, Michelle Utley, Pat Towne, Katie Bobowski, and Nancy Belford.

BOYNE SPOILS EAST JORDAN'S HOMECOMING

Ramblers' running game is alive

The Ramblers have bragging rights for at least one more year as they defeated rival East Jordan last Saturday for a 40-0 win, raising their record to 3-2 overall and 2-0 conference. East Jordan's record is also 3-2 overall, but is 0-1 in the conference.

Boyne City appears to be ready to make a serious run for the conference crown as their offense and defense both played their best games of the year. The Rambler running game has been non-existent for most of the season until the match up with the Red Devils on Saturday. Boyne churned out 308 yards on the ground, led by tailback Ryan Seeley's 125 yards on 18 carries.

"Our offensive line made some good holes and Ryan did a good job following his blockers," said coach Pat Klooster. "We really controlled both sides of the ball. When we can sustain long drives like we did we can keep their offense off the field. That way they can't score. I was happy with the way we played."

East Jordan coach Allan Peterson agreed with Klooster's assessment. "They beat us off the ball. They were a lot more aggressive. They wanted it more than we did," he said.

The Rambler passing game was not needed much as quarterback Matt Johncheck threw the ball just three times. One of those was on the Ramblers' first drive of the game when he hooked up with Jesse Belford for a 55-yard touchdown. After a missed extra point attempt, Boyne led 6-0.

Boyne City's next possession of the opening quarter resulted in another score as Boyne used nine plays to reach the end zone. Chuck Stanek scored on a nine yard run and Scott Karaszewski bulled his way through the Red Devil interior line for the two point conversion and a 14-0 lead.

Tailback Phil Simpson scored next for the Ramblers on the first play of the second quarter as he slashed his way through to the end zone for a five yard touchdown run. After the missed extra point kick attempt, Boyne led 20-0. That's the way the score stood for the rest of the first half.

"They were a scrappy team," said Klooster. "We expected a battle. I think the strength of our schedule early in the season helped us prepare for our conference. When you play tough teams like we have, you have to rise to their level."

The third quarter saw Boyne score twice as Johncheck went 10 yards on a keeper and Simpson added another touchdown on a one yard plunge. Casey Sulak added the final tally in the fourth quarter when he took the ball in from the five yard line for a touchdown.

Seeley led the Rambler rushing attack but he was helped out by Stanek's 76 yards on six carries. Phil Simpson added 42 yards on eight tries while Karaszewski chipped in with 35 yards on eight carries. Jesse Simon had 35 yards on six carries while Korky Persons gained 14 yards on three tries.

Defensively, Boyne still had trouble stopping the run, but rose to the occasion several times to stop the Red Devils. After a 44-yard run by Dillon Antaya, East Jordan was set up on the Boyne 14 yard line. The Ramblers stopped that drive cold when quarterback Chris Murray's pass to the end zone was intercepted by Bill Case. Case had two picks for the day.

David Miller led Boyne in tackles with six. Dave Cadarette and Jesse Simon each had five while Travis Garrett had three. George Grundner had an outstanding day with several big hits and an interception.

Dillon Antaya had an outstanding game and led East Jordan's rushing attack with 143 yards on 15 carries. But the Red Devils were hurt by the absence of Parke Blumm who was nursing a sore knee. He is expected to return for this week's game.

Overall, Peterson said his team was just flat. With homecoming week and all the distractions that go along with it, "it seemed like we weren't focused," he said. "But they played a whale of a game."

Peterson also says his team needs to step up its game as it moves into the tough part of its schedule. "We have to bring it up a level," he said. "We're capable of doing that."

On defense, Mike Mazella had 13 tackles and two sacks while Matt Mogan had 12 tackles and Denzil Wilson added nine.

Boyne City will host Elk Rapids this Saturday for homecoming while East Jordan goes to Harbor Springs on Saturday. Both games start at 1:30. Elk Rapids is 0-3 in the conference and 2-3 overall. It lost to Kalkaska last weekend 30-6.

Harbor Springs is 4-1 overall and tied with Boyne for second place in the conference. Both are 2-0 in conference. St. Francis leads the way at 3-0 in conference and 5-0 overall.

Logger runners face tough challenge

Boyne Falls won a double dual cross country meet last Wednesday between the Loggers, Vanderbilt and host Alba. The Loggers beat each team by the same score, 24-31.

"I was pleased by our times," said coach Andy Place. "Everybody improved. Matt Britton really turned it up and was our number two finisher. Ryan Fiel improved his finish significantly. Hopefully everyone keeps improving."

Mike Kenny was Boyne Falls' top finisher as he took second place with a 17:35.

Other Loggers in order of finish: 4th - Matt Britton, 17:52; 7th - Jeremy Massey, 19:03; 9th - Ryan Fiel, 19:31; 19th - Paul Howard, 21:16; 27th - Ben Britton, 23:38.

Boyne City runners placed well in the meet, although their scores didn't count. Ramblers in order of finish: 5th - Shawn Weisler, 18:25; 6th - Mik Martin, 18:48; 11th - Adam Hubble, 19:57.13; 12th - Jordan Brandt, 19:57.93.

Lady Ramblers in order of finish: 24th - Charlotte Stackus, 23:04.48; 25th - Beth Stackus, 23:04.84; 28th - Emily Roland, 24:17; 29th - Amy Place, 25:16; 32nd - Laura Cassidy, 27:20.

The Loggers will be in for a real test this Wednesday when they visit conference foe Wolverine.

"They have a strong team again this year," said Place. "We're hoping for a decent showing and to be competitive. Hopefully our guys can get up for this meet."

After Wednesday's meet at Wolverine, the Loggers travel to the Fairview Invitational on Saturday.

Ramblers at The Palace? It's possible

The Boyne City Ramblers and Petoskey playing a boys' basketball game in the Palace at Auburn Hills? It's an idea that's been suggested and the Boyne City athletic office wants to know what you think.

Here's what's being discussed: The Ramblers and Petoskey would play the afternoon of Dec. 26 at the Palace. The cost would be $15 and would include the Detroit Pistons-Miami Heat game that evening. A Pistons' ticket is usually a minimum of $22.

The kicker is whether local fans would be willing to travel to Auburn Hills the day after Christmas.

Boyne City Athletic Director Steve Beyer wants to hear your opinion. Call him at 582-6765.

LADY RAMBLERS SEE THEM AT THEIR BEST

Harbor shows rating is no fluke

By CHRIS WINKLER

When the Harbor Springs Rams started rolling Thursday night, it seemed all the Boyne City girls basketball team could do was sit back and watch.

After a fairly tight couple of minutes to start the game, the Rams went on a tear, finishing the game with an 81-32 victory over the Lady Ramblers.

"We ran into a very good team that was executing on all cylinders," said coach Tom Neidhamer. "They took us out of the things we thought we could do. Offensively, we couldn't score. Defensively, we couldn't stop them. It's definitely not time to hit the panic button, but it was a reality check against a very good team."

So good, in fact, Harbor Springs was recognized as the fourth-rated team in Class C at week's end.

"They deserve to be ranked," Neidhamer said. "That's an asset for our league, and it sets the standard for our league."

The Rams ended the first quarter leading 26-11. Things didn't get much better for Boyne with the score 48-17 at the half. After three quarters of play, Harbor had opened the lead to 61-22.

Neidhamer points to the bench as a positive point to draw from the game. "Some of our reserves did a super job. They've been there all year, and they did get some minutes and played well."

Sarah Bobowski scored eight points, all in the first half. Alison Polack had eight points, along with three steals. Katie Jo Dhascleer scored seven. Katie Bernthal, the Ramblers' scoring leader who had 32 points against Elk Rapids, was held scoreless.

"I have confidence that the girls can learn from this. Today is a new day and we're preparing for Kalkaska. We can still play Harbor two more times, so anything can happen."

The Rams and Ramblers will meet again, in Boyne, in the first week of November.

Both the freshmen and the junior varsity won in Harbor. Nicole Kurtz led the JV's with 19 points, while Leah Senter added 11 in the 52-50 triumph. In the freshman team's 48-30 victory, Nikki Peck scored 15 and Ali Swaim seven.

The varsity and junior varsity were home against Kalkaska Tuesday and host Traverse City St. Francis on Friday. The frosh will host Kalkaska Tuesday and East Jordan Thursday.

Just how good is Harbor Springs? Ask Katie Bernthal, Boyne's leading scorer. Harbor's defense swarmed her all night and held her scoreless.

More than 300 children have been chasing the white ball this fall for the Boyne City Youth Soccer League. To accommodate the growth of the program, games have been played this year at Rotary Park and at school fields. If you haven't had a chance to watch a game, you should hurry. The season ends Thursday.

Wrapping up another soccer season

Occasionally coaching young players means more than just talking the sport. Sometimes you sit down and lend an ear, as Brian Price did during half time of one of his team's games.

Lady Red Devils rebound against St. Francis

After suffering the wrath of powerful Harbor Springs, the East Jordan Lady Red Devils took out some revenge on Traverse City St.

Francis last Thursday. The Lady Red Devils lost to highly rated Harbor Springs at home Tuesday 74-30, but then reversed the tables, defeating St. Francis 42-17.

East Jordan, 4-5 overall and 1-2 in league play, was in control early against St. Francis and never looked back. The Lady Red Devils led 21-9 at the half and 31-14 after three quarters as their defense shut down St. Francis.

Rachel Boss had 11 points for East Jordan and was a terror on the boards, hauling down 13 rebounds. Ember Ransom, Raissa Schroeder and Jenny Falco each had seven points.

St. Francis won the junior varsity game 32-28.

Against Harbor Springs, the Lady Rams lived up to its high rating and swamped the Lady Red Devils with a 29-6 lead after the first quarter.

They slowed some in the second period, but by then held a 41-9 lead to put the game away.

For East Jordan, Ember Ransom and Suzi Malpass each had eight points.

Harbor Springs also won the junior varsity game 44-32. Lindsey Malpass led the Lady Red Devils with 16 points.

East Jordan won the freshman game 37-36. Linda Slough and Katie Brooks scored seven points each.

Golf tournament a benefit for Foundation

The second annual Last Chance Scramble will be held at Dumnglas Golf Course on Sunday, Oct. 12.

Registration is at 11:30 a.m. with a shotgun start at 1 p.m.

The scramble is a benefit for the Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence.

The format is a four-person scramble and the cost is $45 per player. Special contests will be offered for closest to the pin and longest drives on both the front and back nines.

Chili and hors d'oeuvres will be served after the tournament. For more information, call 547-4653 or 582-2408.

EJ runners turn in two strong performances

The East Jordan cross country teams turned in excellent performances on Thursday at the Mancelona Invitational and Saturday at the Claire Martin Invitational in Charlevoix.

The boys won the meet in Mancelona with 53 points to Manton's 80, while the girls finished a close second, scoring 74 points to 72 from McBain.

In Charlevoix Saturday, the Red Devils turned in another strong showing, with the boys finishing third behind Traverse City and Petoskey. The girls did not have a full team competing.

Leading the boys for the Red Devils at Mancelona was Mark Penzien, who placed fifth with a time of 16:51. Chris Bearden, who ran a 17:12, took eighth place. A third top-10 showing came from Micah Middaugh, who finished tenth by running a 17:21. Other finishers for the team include Tarn Leach, 17:32, 14th; Kevin Penzien, 17:37, 16th; Charlie Hague, 17:37, 17th; and Matt Shaw, 17:45, 21st.

For the girls, Emily Niewendorp continued to run well, taking eighth place with a 21:03. Holly Petkewicz followed with a 21:40 time and an 11th place. The rest of the field turned out like this: Beth Purvis, 21:52, 15th; Catey Moses, 21:54, 16th; Debbie Bacon, 22:30, 24th; Cassie Krause, 22:34, 25th, Kristina Nelson, 26:19.

"Both teams ran very well today," said coach Dennis Snarey. "If we continue to improve we should do very well over the next few weeks. All the runners shined, but particularly we were pleased with Emily Niewendorp and Matt Shaw."

At the Claire Martin Invitational, Mark Penzien took sixth place with a time of 17:35. Chris Bearden was 11th with a time of 17:45. Other finishers for East Jordan were: Micah Middaugh, 18:01, 14th; Tarn Leach, 18:11, 17th; Charlie Hague, 18:43, 24th; Kevin Penzien, 18:47, 25th; Matt Shaw, 19:06, 30th; Brian McNeil, 19:57, 40th; Nate Sothard, 20:22, 42nd; and Eric Fischer, 20:23, 43rd.

For the girls, Holly Petkewicz finished 21st and Debbie Bacon was 34th.

"We're running well," said coach Matt Peterson, "but we need our up-front runners to pick it up some more."

"The boys ran well against A and B class teams," coach Snarey said. "The next few weeks are crucial if we are to meet our team goals."

Lady Loggers win two

Even though they were overwhelmed by Ellsworth a few weeks ago, the Boyne Falls Lady Loggers did get some valuable practice breaking a full court press.

They used what they learned against Alba last Thursday and went on to earn a 71-50 victory.

"We really handled their press," said head coach Ken Doty. "I expected it to be a real tight game, but the kids played well, pressed the whole game and everyone scored."

It was the second win of the week for the Lady Loggers. On Tuesday they defeated Northern Michigan Christian Academy 54-22. Overall the Lady Loggers are 6-4 and they are 3-2 in conference play.

This week, after traveling to Leelanau St. Mary's on Tuesday, Boyne Falls hosts Mackinaw City

Thursday.

Against NMCA, the Lady Loggers jumped out to a quick 20-0 lead in the first quarter, en route to a 25-7 half-time score and a comfortable 43-18 margin after three quarters.

Penny Marchinkewicz paced the Loggers, scoring 17 points, along with grabbing 11 rebounds, making nine steals, and dishing out four assists. Andrea Kondrat had 15 points, 12 rebounds, and six steals. Trisha Kondrat scored nine points, and had six rebounds and steals.

In the win over Alba, all eight Loggers scored. Marchinkewicz again led Boyne, with 22 points and 12 boards. Trisha Kondrat scored 15 and had 11 rebounds. Erica Simon and Kristine Giem each put in eight points. Simon had nine assists and Giem 11 boards.

Boyne jr's cruise past Red Devils

Boyne's junior varsity improved its record to 4-1 last Thursday as they rolled over East Jordan, 26-8, handing the Red Devils their first loss of the season.

Boyne City scored first in the opening quarter when quarterback Josh Bush took the ball in the end zone after a 17 yard run. Norman Moore scored early in the second quarter after a run of 15 yards.

Bush hooked up with Moore on a 42-yard pass play with Moore running in the two-point conversion, giving the Ramblers a 20-0 half time lead.

East Jordan scored early in the third quarter when Kyle Bjorem ran for a touchdown. Quarterback Ken Slough found Mike Wladischkin alone in the end zone for the two-point conversion, putting the Red Devils on the board 20-8.

But that would be all for East Jordan as the Rambler defense closed the door. Boyne would score again in the fourth quarter when Moore scored his second touchdown of the night on a 30-yard run for the final tally. Moore finished a great night of rushing as he went 106 yards on 18 carries.

Boyne coach Mark Ameel praised his offensive line for solid play while giving his defensive players high praise also. Noah Stanek, Aaron Belcher, Danny Washburn, Nick Detlaff, Luke Reinhardt and David Suttle were all mentioned.

For East Jordan, Nate Swan ran for 86 yards, Bjorem had 76 while Slough hit 5 of 9 passes for 31 yards. Defensively, Lyon Livingston had nine tackles, Rob Vincent had eight while Ben Johnson had a pass interception.

Boyne City plays at Elk Rapids this Thursday while the Red Devil jr will host Harbor Springs. Games start at 6:30 p.m.

Arlie Frey welcomes Allan Ordway to the Boyne City Carter's.

Carter's has new store manager

Allan Ordway is the new store manager at Carter's in Boyne City.

He takes over for Arlie Frey, who has been named the store's co-manager.

Ordway started working for Carter's in 1987 at its Gaylord store as the assistant produce manager, and then transferred to Cadillac. Ordway then transferred to Carter's Plus in Big Rapids as the store's produce manager. He was then promoted to co-manager of the Big Rapids store.

He held that position until transferring to Boyne City as store manager. "I am very excited about joining the Boyne City community," Ordway said. "Arlie and I plan to continue Carter's commitment to service in the community."

In the past Ordway has worked with the American Heart Association, Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, and Toastmasters. He also enjoys computers, camping, fishing and coaching youth sports. Ordway and his wife Laura have two children, Gregory and Danielle.

Frey joined the Carter's team in 1987 at its Cadillac store as a produce clerk. He then transferred to the Boyne City store as produce manager, and held this position for five years, before becoming the store's manager.

Before working with Carter's Frey was produce manager for Allied Supermarkets in Flint for 14 years. Previous to that he was a produce manager and Assistant Store Manager for Mr. B's Supermarket also in Flint for 13 years.

A native of Arkansas, Frey and his wife Janet have been members of the Boyne City community for nearly seven years. They have two daughters, Dawn and Robbin, one son, Brian, and nine grandchildren.

Carter's, Inc. was founded in Charlotte by Theo Carter in 1952. It has 17 supermarkets throughout Michigan and employs 50 associates in Boyne City.

Top O' Michigan Energy Services holding free heating seminar

A heating seminar for residents looking for ways to heat their homes more comfortably, efficiently and safely will be held by Top O' Michigan Energy Services at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14, at its Boyne City office.

Energy Services' staff will be available to answer questions and acquaint customers with heating systems that offer maximum comfort and lower operating costs. That includes high-efficiency gas furnaces and geothermal heating and cooling which is one of the most environmentally-friendly systems available.

Those attending will also hear how indoor air quality and proper air ventilation and filtration methods can improve their home comfort.

"People aren't used to options," said Energy Services co-owner Jeff Aiken. "We want to educate consumers so they can spend their energy dollars wisely."

The free seminar will be held at Top O' Michigan Electric Co. headquarters located at 1323 Boyne Ave., Boyne City, where the new Energy Services division is housed.

WRITING INSTRUCTOR BARRY LANE GIVES HELPFUL TIPS

Putting pizzazz into prose

A typical sixth grader might describe their room as "messy." But after a session with nationally acclaimed writing instructor Barry Lane, East Jordan students might say, "There's a pair of dirty socks on the overhead fan going round and round."

Lane educated and entertained sixth, seventh and eighth graders last week by teaching them to look for the "slow motion moments" which make writing more fun for both the writer and the reader.

Using an imaginary pair of binoculars, Lane showed students how to adjust the focus so more details come into view. A floppy hat becomes more than just soft and brown. It becomes cocker spaniel-like ears drooping onto someone's shoulders.

The story of The Three Little Pigs takes on a whole new perspective when told by Lane. The wolf might have all sorts of reasons for blowing down those pigs' houses but students will never know what they might be until they look at the story from the wolf's point of view, he said.

Through verbal anecdotes, brief writing assignments, and modified fairy tales, Lane illustrates the new possibilities students can see in their writing if only they take the time to use their binoculars to sharpen the image.

"When I leave, the kids have a concept of the craft that will help them to own it and to see new possibilities in their writing," Lane said. "They'll see that writing is not just spitting out words for a teacher and an assignment. It's how you see the world. You see it, you create it."

"It was really good. I enjoyed it," said eighth grader Zak Forster of Lane's presentation. "I'm not a good writer in the first place, but it gave me ideas." Zak, who will have a poem published later this year in a volume of poetry called "Salute to Michigan Young Poets," said Lane's suggestions will help him improve his prose.

"I can tell just from today how much it's helped me already," Zak said.

His classmate Kyle Birdsall said

Barry Lane held the microphone for Jonathan Laisure as he shared his thoughts with other students.

he will think differently about his next writing assignment for school.

"All he really taught me was to put some fun into writing," Kyle said. When asked if he thought the lesson would have a long term effect, Kyle nodded and said, "I'll probably be teaching my kids this stuff."

Lane's exercises are all about getting to the details — being specific about what is described.

"It doesn't work to tell kids to expand more," Lane said. "Because they'll say 'here, I wrote it bigger.'" What teachers have to do, and what Lane does in his seminars, is to show students how to pick out certain points of a story that have the potential to be written in slow motion. A trip down a roller coaster doesn't have to be captured in one sentence. It can be a whole page which describes the thrills and chills experienced on the hair-raising ride.

Students often feel they have nothing interesting to write, Lane said. They think their life is boring. The techniques of using the binoculars and taking snapshots to capture the details around them often make students realize there's a choice about what to put into their stories.

Lane, who travels around the country giving seminars for both students and teachers, said teaching kids is always a new experience. While he says he could make a lot more money consulting with corporate America, Lane prefers to work where he can be an influence on education. Working with kids puts him closer to the heart of education. An unusual place to be for someone who never intended to teach.

While working on his master's degree at the University of New Hampshire, Lane was offered a teaching assistant position and was surprised to find he loved it. Because he wasn't happy with the writing resources available at the time, he and his roommate, Bruce Ballenger, collaborated to write "Discovering the Writer Within." He has since written several books on writing, one of which evolved into the seminars which he now gives about 100 days a year. He's working on a new book for teachers as well as on a young adult fiction novel he hopes to publish within the next two years.

Lane said his seminars are becoming popular in states which have tests such as Michigan's MEAP. School districts feel his tips will help them improve performance on the state mandated tests. "They hire me to raise test scores, but I really help kids write better," Lane said. Fortunately, he added, better writing does improve the test results.

The East Jordan seminar was partially funded by a grant from the Malpass Foundation.

Fire safety stressed this week

"Know When to Go: React Fast to Fire," the theme for Fire Prevention Week which runs through Saturday, is a reminder to everyone to develop home escape plans in the event that fire strikes.

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) estimates that approximately 80 percent of all U.S. fire deaths occur in the home. A quick and decisive response to early warning signs of fire often makes the difference between life and death. Whether at home or in a public building, you need to react immediately if a fire alarm or smoke detector sounds.

A home escape plan should be developed with all family members in mind and the plan should be practiced by the whole family, according to the State Fire Marshal's office. An adequate plan should include everyone in the house knowing at least two ways out of every room. An outdoor location in front of the home should be established as a place for everyone to meet after the escape. The escape plan should be posted in a visible area of the home for everyone to see.

"Fires in Michigan caused the deaths of 205 of our citizens and one of our fire fighters in 1996," said Capt. Wade E. Schaefer, State Fire Marshal. "People don't realize just how often fire strikes. They never think it will happen to them. Unfortunately, that's not the case."

In Charlevoix County there were 99 fires in 1996, according to the State Fire Marshal's office. The loss of property/contents was $667,737.

Fire Prevention Week is recognized each year in North America and several European countries in remembrance of the Great Chicago Fire of 1871, which killed 250 people, left 100,000 people homeless, and destroyed more than 17,000 buildings.
