East Jordan, Michigan

The first year hasn't been dull for David White

Last November, David White made a five-year commitment to East Jordan. A year later, he doesn't foresee having any problem living up to that promise.

White became acting administrator in August last year when he was working on starting up a governmental consulting business. His job at Society Bank had been eliminated and he was in the office of the Michigan Municipal League at the right time to hear about East Jordan's need for an acting administrator.

"I had no intention of applying for the (long-term) position at that time," White said. But, with encouragement from staff and council members, and a few too many trips on Chicago's subway while interviewing there, White threw his hat into the ring about a week before the application deadline. And he doesn't regret it.

Although White stepped in at a time when the city commission had just fired its administrator, Carolyn Sutter, after a lengthy and unpleasant battle, he didn't let that recent history bother him.

"I came in in the perfect situation," White said. "I didn't know anybody. I had no background (in East Jordan). I had direction from the city commission on what had to be done. I didn't care about the past. There was enough present and future to deal with. I didn't need to worry about the past."

Various groups in East Jordan were "factionalized," White said. Different groups had stopped communicating because of misinterpretations or comments taken out of context. But what he quickly learned was that all of these different groups wanted the same thing: To move East Jordan forward.

White doesn't give himself credit for getting people talking again, but he said today, just one year later, city government, the chamber of commerce, residents and industry all are rolling up their sleeves and working as a team for the advancement of East Jordan.

"One thing I'm finding in East Jordan, that I haven't found to a larger degree in other cities, is support from business and industry," White said.

If anything needs to be done, the business and industry leaders jump in and help out, he said.

"To the extent I've seen it here in East Jordan, that's very unique and very special to the community."

For the city's part, the development of an Industrial Park which has been in the conceptual stages for more than 25 years, and improvements to the city's infrastructure are sure signs of the commission's commitment to make East Jordan a place where existing businesses will stay and new businesses will locate, bringing new families along with them.

"East Jordan's a town ready to turn the corner," White said.

There are many areas to be improved upon in East Jordan, White said, citing the water and sewer systems as an example. The city's goal is to accomplish these improvements for those who have already made a commitment to East Jordan, and to provide opportunities for newcomers as well.

Please see DAVID WHITE on page 16

David White has been pleasantly surprised with the support the city receives from business and industry.

New tech director comes on board

School district, Iron Works will share position

The East Jordan Board of Education implemented one more facet of its strategic plan Monday by hiring a director of technology to oversee the growing technology network throughout the school system.

Rob Billideau, formerly with the school's computer consultant, Computerland, was hired to support the 270 networked PCs in the district, as well as the voice mail system and video network. He will work part-time with the school and part-time with East Jordan Iron Works.

Between the school and the foundry, Billideau will have the equivalent of a full-time job with benefits.

Computerland always did an excellent job, Hansen said, but it was not on site every day. "We need to provide more direct support to the faculty and staff and students by giving them access to the troubleshooting expertise the 'tech' director can give us," he said.

Hansen relates the technology support needs of the school to pop corn popping. Each problem pops at a different time, he said. "Every day there will be a little glitch in something that needs to be fixed." Billideau will be available daily to address software, hardware and infrastructure issues throughout the school.

The agreement to share a staff member with the Iron Works made the director of technology position affordable for the school and attractive to the candidates who applied, Hansen said. Billideau is expected to begin work Nov. 3. He will work at the foundry in the morning and spend the afternoons at the school.

Leading the way

East Jordan runners Chris Bearden and Mark Penzien set the pace at last Wednesday's conference meet and lead the team to victory. Penzien won the race and right behind him was Bearden. Other East Jordan runners in the lead pack are Micah Middaugh, Charlie Hague and Kevin Penzien. The cross country team heads to the regionals this Saturday at Benzie Central.

Arts Council gets ready for Holiday Fair

If you haven't begun your Christmas shopping yet, Nov. 8 is a great time to get started.

The Jordan River Arts Council's seventh annual Holiday Fair provides an opportunity to scratch a few items off your list, collect new holiday decorating ideas, and sample some of the finest gourmet treats.

The juried fine arts and crafts show is from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. at the East Jordan High School. More than 60 artists will participate in this annual fund-raiser for the Arts Council.

For a donation at the door, each visitor will receive a raffle ticket for hourly drawings of gift items donated by participating artists. Each purchase throughout the day, for wares such as pottery, children's wooden furniture, hand-crafted clothing, jewelry and more, will earn additional raffle tickets.

Barbara Worgess, who co-chairs the event with high school art teacher Pat Tinney, said several new artists are taking part this year, including one who displays hand-decorated, simulated cakes. Although not meant for consuming, the "cakes" are so beautifully decorated they look good enough to eat, Worgess said.

As the buying public has come to expect, the show will feature a good mix of artistic creations, Worgess said. Hundreds of people return to the show each year because they can get good value for the money spent, she explained. "The consumer continues to come back because of the high quality of the merchandise available," Worgess said.

Equally popular as the crafts themselves, Worgess said, is the full luncheon menu and gourmet desserts offered throughout the day. The Arts Council prepares the menu which annually delights the palates of show-goers.

Shopping parents also have the option of utilizing the Children's Entertainment Center. For a small fee, children can work on a craft item to take home while Mom and Dad peruse the show.

at a GLANCE

Celebrating the season with music

East Jordan will host its Fall Band Concert Oct. 30 at 6 p.m.

The concert will feature the seventh and eighth grade bands, jazz ensemble, percussion ensembles and soloists. Admission is a $1 donation to the school's music program. Children attending the concert dressed in a Halloween costume will receive a treat.

The following day, bagpiper Lyman Williams will present a bagpipe master class for East Jordan's seventh and eighth grade bands.

Williams, a retired teacher, lives in Traverse City and plays for the Traverse City Pipe Band. During the summer, he teaches nature exploration classes at the Interlochen Arts Camp.

Girl Scouts holding pop can drive

The East Jordan Senior Girl Scout troop will have a pop can and Glen's slip drive on Saturday, Oct. 25. Members of the troop will pick up the items at homes in the East Jordan area on that day.

Proceeds will be used to fund a trip in June. For more information call Connie Roberts at 536-7195.

Making it official

About 350 people left footprints on the welcome mat at East Jordan's new middle school during last Wednesday's dedication ceremony. And according to superintendent Chip Hansen, that's not all they left. "We got tremendous feedback from community members who visited," he said. "It was a marvelous dedication and a lovely ceremony." Visitors enjoyed music provided by the eighth-grade band, brief comments from school board president Mary Jason, Hansen, and middle school principal Shirley Bishop. A new school district video was shown, after which everyone was invited to tour the new facility and have refreshments in the commons area. The new middle school houses about 300 students in grades six, seven and eight, features 110 computers for students, and total construction costs totaled $4,109,500. At right, Herb Griffin, American Legion member and longtime past East Jordan school board member, presented a U.S. flag to Mary Jason. In addition to the flag, Local American Legion Post 227 donated a fagpole for the new school.

Architect Bob Stow of GBKB Associates handed the keys for the new middle school to Shirley Bishop.

Property tax credits are available

(Editor's note: The issue of property tax credit in regards to the upcoming Boyne City School bond election has surfaced recently. In an attempt to help alleviate questions, an area accountant was asked to explain the property tax credit.)

There seems to be some confusion regarding the Michigan property tax credit. Yes, you may receive part of your property taxes back in certain situations. If there is an amount on line 31 of your 1996 Michigan Income Tax Return, or if you filed form MI-1040CR, Michigan Homestead Property Tax Credit Claim, you did receive part of your property taxes back.

In general you may be able to claim a property tax credit if all of these apply:

1. Your homestead is located in Michigan, second homes do not qualify;
2. You were a Michigan resident at least six months of the year in question;
3. You pay property taxes or rent on your Michigan homestead;
4. Your household income is less than $82,650 (1996 cap);
5. Your property taxes exceed 3.5 percent of your net household income.

If your property taxes exceed 3.5 percent of your net household income you may be eligible to receive a credit of 60 percent of the excess not to exceed $1,200. Individuals 65 or older may receive up to 100 percent of the excess, also not to exceed $1,200.

Household income is, in general, total income (taxable and nontaxable) of both spouses or of a single person maintaining a household, less certain adjustments, such as IRA contributions, moving expenses, medical insurance premiums paid, alimony, etc.

Property taxes eligible for the credit include the general ad valorem property taxes that were levied on your homestead including collection fees up to 1 percent. They do not include special assessments (for drains, sewers, etc.) that are not based on state equalized value or taxable value or are not applied to the entire taxing jurisdiction.

For renters, the State of Michigan considers that 20 percent of your rent is for property taxes. For example if you pay $400 per month or $4,800 a year, it is considered that you paid $960 ($4,800 x 20 percent) in property taxes, and you use that figure in computing your homestead property tax credit claim.

You can claim this credit by filing form MI-1040CR. This form may be filed by itself or included with your Michigan income tax return.

Confusing, to be sure, but to see if you are eligible for a refund of part of your property taxes. I suggest that you check your 1996 Michigan Income Tax Return or check with your tax advisor, if you have one.

Horton Bay parade theme comes to mind

TO THE EDITOR:

Like the Horton Bay 4th of July theme, a lot of senior citizens and moderate income residents of Boyne City are asking the same questions about the planned school bond issue scheduled for November.

How come you are planning the school bond proposal for November? Is it because you think that the majority of voters who voted "no" will be gone for the winter? The school bond was not defeated by the older age group alone.

How come the school board doesn't look at the annual salary of our teaching and administration staff then compare it to the average taxpayer's salary for the majority of us working folks in Boyne City? I think that those salaries should be published in this newspaper and the Petoskey News Review.

How come we have to pay the social security tax for our teachers? Why can't they pay their own like the rest of us working folks?

How come the school board doesn't realize the school debt is big enough already? We are already paying for a new gym, a district library, and the existing school debt. And don't forget — we helped build the new sports complex too with our donations.

We aren't against better education and better schools. We're against the way you intend to remodel and the burden you are placing on many of us. High taxes are forcing many of us out of our homes, especially a single parent or one who has lost a spouse and is living on a limited income. We have a "locked in" income and even though we plan carefully for our retirement, we don't plan for catastrophic illness, high medical insurance, prescriptions, etc.

We're not all blue heads sitting on green park benches, many of us older folks have gone back to work in order to keep our homes of which we worked darned hard for!

So, all you people who are against this crazy school bond proposal and plan to be gone on Nov. 12, get your absentee ballot and vote NO again. How come we're not so dumb?

A MOM'S LIFE

Excuses get better the older kids get

By CINDI PLACE

Ever notice how our kids' excuses become more and more imaginative as they get older? Take, for instance, their reasons for not going to bed on time. The younger children will simply claim that they're not tired. Or that they want a snack. Simple delay tactics.

But as they get a little older, they seem to think that simple excuses aren't worth the time it takes to mutter them. "But Mom, every time I go to bed on time, I wake up too early," is a favorite at our house. Now, what could be so bad about waking up a few minutes early in the morning? I tried to point that out to our oldest son the other day, but his return argument was that getting up too early messes up his internal clock for the whole week.

Getting the children to do their school work on time is another pet project of mine. First, I have to ascertain whether or not there is any homework. And you would think that this would be a fairly easy task. Not so. I've learned that I have to ask just the right questions. "Do you have any homework?" isn't good enough. I usually ask the kids first thing after school if there is anyone with school work. Generally, I get a negative answer. So we proceed with all the evening activities and then comes time for bed and guess what? Someone can't go to bed until he gets his homework done. The reason for not doing it right after school? "I thought you meant did we have homework that had to be done right then" is the usual answer. "I don't need it until 4th hour tomorrow, Mom" is the excuse.

Then, of course, there are the class projects. These are assignments that teachers make which need to be done in the future, so our kids don't even think about them until the night before the future ends. So now I've learned to ask not only if our children have work to do immediately, but I also check to see what projects they have due before the next millennium.

Now that we have two teenagers in the house, enforcing evening curfews has required a bit of special attention. Apparently all the clocks in our home are at least ten minutes fast (and the television networks are running a scam with parents) because the eleven o'clock news (which coincides with the children's curfew time) always seems to come on way before we see their cheerful little faces coming in the front door at night. "You better get that checked," our eldest child advised us recently.

But the best excuse, the most imaginative award goes to our youngest son. When asked recently why he took so much time getting up in the morning, he looked me square in the eye and said, "If you'd let me stay up all night, you wouldn't have to get me up in the morning." Where do they get this stuff?

Recent tragedies raise awareness of domestic abuse

TO THE EDITOR:

"Fatal Relations" "Gunman Kills Woman, Self in Plant Rampage" (Detroit Free Press), "Killings Stun U of M Campus" (Detroit News) headlines from down-state papers scream. With the recent murders in Michigan and all of the national media coverage in the past few years, domestic violence is becoming part of our national consciousness. Most everyone today would acknowledge domestic violence as a major social problem. Battering and abuse are being kept less and less behind closed doors and put more and more into the courtroom and spotlight than ever before.

This media coverage has helped add to the public's awareness of, and to dispel some of the myths surrounding, domestic abuse. People are seeing the reality that domestic abuse claims many lives every year; statistics claim that four thousand women are beaten to death annually. Between October 1996 and September 1997 there were forty-five murders in Michigan. People are hearing that alcohol or drug use does not cause domestic abuse ... in some cases, it may contribute to an increase in severity.

People are learning that domestic abuse does not discriminate by race, religion, age, economic, or educational levels — it can happen in any neighborhood. The public is beginning to understand that domestic abuse is a pattern of controlling behaviors carried out by one person in an intimate relationship in order to maintain power and control over the other. Abuse can be emotional, physical, sexual, economic, and/or include use of isolation, intimidation, blaming, and threats. It is not the victim's fault.

The national coverage and down-state headlines may lull us into believing that domestic abuse is a problem that only happens somewhere else to someone else. The truth is, domestic abuse happens every day right here in our community to our neighbors, co-workers, sisters, and our mothers and daughters.

October is National Domestic Violence Awareness Month. This month we would like to take a few minutes to let you know what is being done to combat domestic abuse in our communities, and to thank those who have joined the battle. Domestic violence is a crime, and we'd like to thank the police officers who help keep victims safe by arresting perpetrators. We'd also like to thank the prosecutors who follow through with charges, judges who impose sentences that hold perpetrators accountable, and treatment programs to hold batterers accountable for their actions. We'd like to thank social service agencies, friends, family, employers, neighbors, and co-workers who come to the aid of victims in need of help. Last but not least, we'd like to thank all of the survivors of domestic abuse for the courage and strength they've demonstrated in the past year struggling to live their own lives free of fear.

The Women's Resource Center of Northern Michigan, Inc. offers counseling and advocacy, information, and support. We have an ongoing educational group for past or present survivors of domestic abuse in the community. We've recently published a "Domestic Abuse Handbook" that contains valuable information for survivors of abuse or their friends. If you or someone you know is struggling with domestic abuse, please call our Petoskey Office at (616) 347-1572 or, long-distance callers, call 1-800-275-1995 for more information.

LETTERS

Board should reflect the will of the people

TO THE EDITOR:

Marty Moody's attempt to patronize me was about as silly as his attempt to justify Paullin's contract with the Boyne City School Board was. His whole letter is an excellent example of the difference between education and intelligence. He can apparently read but lacks the intelligence to understand what he has just read.

Explain please how paying Paullin nearly $1 million to use a very questionable design build method will save the taxpayers 10-15 percent of the total bond issue when we will still need architects, engineers and contractors exactly the same if we use the proven conventional method? Paullin will not move a spoonful of earth, lay a brick or even sweep the floors.

Now let us assume the bond issue passes and Paullin has been paid for all of his services up to this point. Now sharpen your pencil Marty and we'll have a lesson in arithmetic boy. The main bond issue is for $19,965,000. Paullin will get 4 percent or $798,000. If we were to add $35,000 to the bond and make it $20 million Paullin would only get 3.5 percent of this or $700,000, or $98,600 less. It's in the contract Marty.

So if the bond issue goes to at least $20 million Paullin adds the new garage at a cost of $830,000 to bring the total to $20,795,000 he gets 3.5 percent of this or $729,825. So if he builds a new garage he gets $73,975 less than if we just say no to that proposal and go for the new school only. What's going on Marty? Do you suppose he is offering a proposal that he knows the people will turn down so as to have a much better hand to get the main proposal passed and give him $73,975 more. Explain that gimmick away. It's all in the contract. Isn't the garage bait?

Now we have received a letter from Kathy Anderson, also a member of the school board. She would have us believe some of the proposed new millage might be refunded. While it is true that all our taxes go into the same pair of pants, those pants have several different and separate pockets. The school millage goes into one of those pockets that has never, or does it now or will it ever in the future refund any part of it back to the taxpayer. To imply anything different is simply not telling the truth.

I have always been under the impression that the school board was to reflect the will of the people. Can either of you two mentioned above tell me why you are failing to do so?

Everett K. Sayles

Boyne school numbers tell the true story

TO THE EDITOR:

Marty Moody, your manipulation of Boyne City's school K-12 population numbers is grossly unfair to all voters. Below are numbers you chose to ignore.

But first, neither Mr. Sayles nor myself appreciate being told what we think by a whippersnapper upstart. As for our being plagued by a "It was good enough for me..." syndrome; students nowadays should have it as good as we did. You, Marty, don't know squat regarding Mr. Sayles' or my education. I'll venture to say, however, that it was far more thorough than your own. There, now, we're even.

As for the numbers you so slyly ignored in your reply to Mr. Sayles, readers of The Citizen, and myself you state there are altogether 1,426 students in the Boyne City K-12 school system. Marty, you're dead wrong.

How so? Because you've added in some 46 alternate education students which, as you very well know — or certainly should — go to special separate schools (Hemingway Education Center and Porter Creek at Advance) which house students the regular three Boyne City schools can't, or won't, deal with. Subtract these 46ish students from the figure you use above, and the more truthful total figure in the three schools is 1,380. A very seriously misleading addition.

Then, too, there are some five adult education — night school — students who are included in that 1,380 figure. Subtract them and we come down to a 1,375 total.

Finally, perhaps you could tell school area voters, Mr. Sayles, and myself, what some 43 nonresident students from Petoskey (6+/-), Boyne Falls (15+/-), Charlevoix (8+/-), East Jordan (12+/-), and - for gosh sakes - Gaylord (2+/-) are doing attending the Boyne City schools?

Forget the last paragraph. Subtract 1,375 from 1,690 (K-12 original capacity) and the answer is some 315 student spaces presently empty or misused; backed by school records.

No amount of double talk will make these numbers go away.

'Silently Waiting'

(Editor's note: Triple T Archery in Boyne City recently held an essay contest on the subject of "Bow Hunting." The contest was open to students 12-15 years old and attracted 17 entries. Richard Derenzy, a seventh grader, was the winner. His essay is titled "Silently Waiting," and for his efforts he won a new Browning Micro Midas bow. Following is his winning essay.)

By RICHARD DERENZY

I have been waiting for this moment for as long as I can remember. There is a soft autumn breeze blowing, as the brown and red leaves fall to the ground. My dad is in the tree next to mine and we are silently awaiting the setting sun. On the other side of the hayfield my grandpa is also enjoying the peaceful setting, waiting for the deer to appear.

As the sun slowly sets it becomes more and more difficult to be patient. Yet I realize from all of my dad's lessons and my grandpa's stories, I must be very quiet. I hear a faint rustling in the woods behind me. The noise brings back memories of my first bow hunt when I was sitting next to my dad in his tree stand.

As we sat there in silence a small fawn stepped into the clearing. I became very excited and started yelling. "Shoot it dad, shoot it!" As the deer ran back into the woods I was a little disappointed that my dad didn't take the shot. Later that night when we returned home, my dad explained that the fawn was too young and small to shoot. I was still disappointed but I understood.

Since that day I have learned a great deal about bow hunting. I got my first bow two years ago, and have been practicing ever since. My dad and I practice together and he has taught me many things. I have learned how to shoot, how to stay patient, how to check my aim and how to make sure my arrow heads are tight. I have learned to concentrate as I take my shot, and listen silently as deer may approach at anytime.

This year my dad and I put a tree stand up next to his so that I can be near him, as this is my first year bow hunting. I think bow hunting is a great experience, you are able to be out in the woods and be a part of the outdoors. Being out in the woods and listening to the quiet is also a wonderful way to relax. I never realized all the sounds that nature makes before I began sitting with my dad.

One of the reasons I love bow hunting is that I enjoy a good venison meal. I am looking forward to eating some of my mom's delicious venison stir-fry. Hopefully we will be eating venison from the success I have during my first bow hunting season. Although, the most important reason I love to hunt is the time I get to spend with my dad and grandpa, silently waiting.

THERE WILL BE a special meeting of the Parks and Rec Board on Thursday, Oct. 23, at 5 p.m. at Avalanche Preserve in order to walk the proposed snowmobile and cross country ski trails. All of those interested in the trail development, please join in the walk.

CITY STAFF HAS recently benefited from a staff development seminar presented by a representative of the Michigan Municipal League. Boyne City is lucky to have employees who care about Boyne. This is evident in that most of them give of their personal time as volunteers for many groups. These staff development sessions will be ongoing in many different formats in order to continually improve how we serve citizens.

THE SCRAMBLE IS on to complete all paving projects before deer hunting season begins. High and Kunert streets are prepped and hopefully will be paved by Wednesday. The end of Second Street and the airport parking lot are scheduled yet this year. The airport parking lot was not on the schedule to be paved, but extension of the fencing along the area where Grandma's Day Care is located was budgeted. However, Hafe Kerbawy swung an unbelievable deal to construct the fence, which left enough money in the budget for the airport board to recommend improvements to the parking lot.

THE LEAVES IN Boyne City don't seem to know about the leaf pickup schedule this year. When leaf pickup is scheduled, it is impossible to know when nature will decide they will fall later in the year, so it's a wild guess. This year the leaves are clinging tight. Although your leaves might be on the tree, be assured that we will pick them up. The schedule will be extended to accommodate all that we possibly can. As a reminder, the north Boyne site is also open if it is more convenient for you to take them there yourself.

(Sue Hobbs is Boyne City's acting city manager. New city manager Eric Strahl is expected to be on the job the first week of November.)

Boyne Falls Methodist Church holding bazaar

Boyne Falls United Methodist Church is having its annual Christmas Bazaar on Saturday, Oct. 25, from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

include chili, chicken noodle soup, cinnamon rolls, salads and desserts.

The cost for the luncheon is $3.50 for adults, $1.75 for children 6-12, and free for children 5 and under.

VFW serving Swiss steak dinner

Smelt City VFW Auxiliary 3675 will hold its monthly Swiss steak dinner on Oct. 25 at the post home on 1108 Division St. (M-75 South), Boyne City from 5-7 p.m.

Cost of the dinner is $6 for adults, $3 for children 5-12, and free for children under five.

A salad and dessert bar is available for $4.

LARRY AND DARLEA MATTHEW have returned to their Walloon Lake home after having traveled to Springfield, Ohio, where they attended an Old Engine Show. They continued on for another 5 days at Norris, Tenn. where they enjoyed the Annual Appalachia Fall Homecoming, which included good music, crafts, and lots of sunshine and 90-95 degree temperatures!

PAM HEGERBERG SCHMIDT returned to her home in Daphney, Ala., on Wednesday after having spent a few days at the Boyne Ridge home of her mother, Virginia Hegerberg.

RESIDENTS OF LITZENBURGER Place, who had honored Dorothy Crandell with a bridal shower earlier in the month, were pleased to be among the family and friends attending her wedding this past Saturday. The community room was overflowing with guests and music, as Dorothy became the bride of Elmer Daniels, with the Rev. Buzz Walls officiating. The celebration continued with an abundant dinner party and reception at the VFW Hall. The newlyweds will be living in Harbor Springs.

BETTY KELTS has returned to her Boyne City home after last week's surgery. This past Sunday morning, she and her family attended a Memorial service at the Trinity Fellowship Church, in honor of Judy Kelt's Kuheana, who died a year ago, on Oct. 22. Kimo and Candace, Keoki, and Aulani and Earnest, Judy's children and their spouses, sent a dozen beautiful roses, in honor of their mother. Betty was adorned with a corsage, and the brothers and sisters, boutonnières. Outside, a Maple tree was also dedicated in the memory of Judy. The Kelt's family then enjoyed their own family gathering with dinner, cooked mostly by Jerry, in the basement of the Methodist Church. "It was a sad time, but a fun day too. . . it was good to have the family all together!" said Betty.

A WARM "WELCOME NEIGHBORS" goes out to Betty Bradley and Martha Savage, who both moved into their apartments at Litzenburger Place over the weekend.

TWO CARLOADS of St. Matthews parishioners went to Cheboygan on Sunday to attend Mass led by former Boyne City Priest, Father Denny.

HAROLD AND MARY BRADFORD of London, Ontario have been here this week visiting the Marshall Road home of their son, Jeff and Julie Bradford and family and touring the area. Julie's niece and husband, Antoinette and Pete Knappe of Grand Rapids and children, Calvin and Sophie, were also here over the weekend with the Bradfords, and her father, Garth Bryan.

THE FAMILY and many friends and neighbors of Lyle and Rita Taylor of Camp Daggett Road gathered at Whiting's Park on Sunday afternoon in celebration of the Taylors' 25th wedding anniversary!

SIXTEEN OF LABERTA'S Busy Bees attended Thursday night's 13th annual R.S.V.P. Dinner at the beautiful Stafford's Bay View Inn. The lovely dinner and evening of volunteer recognition was enjoyed by all. Three at LaBerta's table, Dolores Barnhart, Elize Kipen, and Mary Smith, were lucky winners of attractive table centerpieces. "I was glad to see all the girls taking part this year and really enjoying themselves...there were some who couldn't make it that night. I received a nice compliment from one of the ladies in our group. She is active in a lot of other things but said she liked coming to Busy Bees best, because she can see where the work goes." Busy Bees provide quilts, lap robes, bibs, bean bags, and other hand sewn items to various agencies, foster care and nursing homes.

NANCY AND BRUCE LAWSON of Rochester were here this past week visiting the Deer Lake home of her mother, Jean Korhase. On Saturday night, Bill and Deb Korhase, Jean, and Bruce and Nancy enjoyed dining at the Argonne Supper Club in Charlevoix, in celebration of the Lawson's 3rd wedding anniversary and Jean's upcoming birthday of Thursday, Oct. 23.

DIANE AND VIC AYERS of Boyne City have returned from an 11 day trip. In Ft. Collins, Colo., they attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Jennifer Fornwald, daughter of former East Jordan resident, Linda Ayers Mally, to Kevin Lutke. From there, they went to Nevada. Earlier this fall, the Ayers enjoyed a family reunion at Whiting's Park, where 79 relatives came from throughout the state to attend!

THE ADVANCE BOARD of Commerce will meet on Nov. 4. A Christmas dinner of turkey and all the trimmings will be served at 6 p.m. All those not on the planning committee, please bring a favorite salad and dessert. Members are also reminded of the gift exchange and to think positive about the weather and make a real effort to be there. This will be the last meeting of '97!

MILDRED SPELTZ of Deer Lake is at Grandvue recovering from a stroke. Cards and visits would be appreciated. She is in Rm. 303, Grandvue Medical Care Facility, 1728 S. Peninsula Rd., East Jordan.
(To submit items to Nancy, please call 582-9174.)

4-H Endowment Fund nearing its goal

The Charlevoix County 4-H Council recently announced that the final plans have been put in place to meet the goal of raising $5,000 during 1997.

The 4-H Endowment program began when an anonymous donor decided to give $5,000 to the fund if the Charlevoix County 4-H program would undertake the challenge to match that amount during the year.

"We are very pleased with the support that our community has given in making sure that we move steadily towards our goal," said Rosemary Karkosak, 4-H Endowment Fund Committee chair. Currently, about three-quarters of the goal has been reached through cash contributions and pledges.

"We still need to raise $1,374 between now and December," she said.

The Charlevoix County Community Foundation has helped develop the process from the very beginning. Pledges have even been coming in from young people who gave up their allowances and babysitting money to support the future of 4-H in Charlevoix County. "This is the kind of grassroots support that we were looking for," Karkosak said. The fund-raising efforts of local 4-H clubs have been a steady source of contributions to the fund. Income from the investment of the fund will support such future programs as college scholarships, awards, educational trip awards, leader/member recognition, leadership education, leader training, county workshops and local 4-H sports groups.

For additional information on how to contribute to the "4-H Endowment Fund," contact MSU Extension-Charlevoix County at 582-6232. A donor packet is available upon request. If you are interested in making a contribution, make your check payable to the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, with a notation that it is for the Charlevoix County 4-H Endowment Fund. Checks and pledges should be sent to P.O. Box 718, East Jordan, 49727. In addition, potential donors may contact the Charlevoix County Community Foundation directly at 536-2440. All contributions are tax deductible and all donors are eligible for a State of Michigan Community Foundation tax credit.

A reception is being planned in early 1998 and will be held prior to the annual 4-H leader/member recognition banquet. All donors will be invited and recognized during the short program.

"We want the community to feel good about 4-H and the great things that we have going on for our area youth," Karkosak said.

Beanie Babies are among the prizes to be given away, so be sure to visit every activity station to register for a prize. Jan Korthase of the Friends of the Boyne District Library will be on hand to answer questions about the Friends group and register new members. "Our Universe is an Open Book" T-shirts will be on sale for 20 percent off the regular price. Sign up for a library card and check out the display and printed bibliography of parenting books. Halloween costumes are welcome, but not required.

NANCY FULKERSON HAS generously agreed to be put in jail for the Muscular Dystrophy Association Lock-up on Wednesday, Oct. 22. Get Nancy out of jail by donating to MDA to help Jerry's kids. Cash, checks, or pledges will be accepted at the library, or at the Dilworth Hotel on Wednesday.

THE FALL PRESCHOOL STORYTIME was a big hit with the children who attended. Geri Barber has done a wonderful job, offering stories and crafts for 3 to 5-year-old children in the community. We are planning another session in the spring, and would like feedback from parents about convenient times. Please call the library at 582-7861, or stop in to tell us what days and times you would like to see storytime offered.

LIBRARY BOARD MEMBER Marlene Schraw resigned her seat effective Oct. 2. Her hard work and dedication are greatly appreciated, and will be missed. Thank you, Marlene, for giving your time and effort to the Library and the community.

Friends give Jordan a cleaning before snow flies

The soon-to-fly snow won't be hiding much trash in the Jordan River watershed area this winter, thanks to the Friends of the Jordan (FOJ) annual fall cleanup that took place on Saturday. The cleanup, with help from some 15 hard-working volunteers, had the cooperation of Mother Nature, as the weather was superb.

"We were fortunate to have such a nice day this late in October," said John Hummer, program director of FOJ. "It was perfect cleanup weather, and made for a very enjoyable barbecue afterwards."

Once again, a diverse array of refuse made its way into the dumpster, provided in-kind by Northern Quality Waste Disposal Service of Bellaire. An old rusted-out refrigerator, a muffler, a hole-filled culvert, and some small appliances were among the items found throughout the area.

"The worst area was by the snowmobile trail which parallels the river near East Jordan," said Dick Bjorem, volunteer and FOJ board member. "That's one area that really needs some extra work." Several scrap tires were also picked up from that area.

"We'll need to go back to that area in the spring to finish getting the rest of the bigger debris. I know there is still an old stove in there that we just couldn't get to this time," said Bjorem.

Among the volunteers were FOJ members and Grand Rapids area residents Tim and Lynn Goodwin.

"We were up here for the weekend and heard about the cleanup. We were glad to have had the chance to participate," said Tim.

All told, the crew covered nearly the entire Jordan Valley, as well as the Deadman's Hill overlook. "It was another successful cleanup," said Hummer. "We take pride in keeping the Jordan beautiful."

EJ police and sheriff's department recover stolen property

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Dept. arrested a 21-year-old East Jordan/Avon Park, Fla., resident following a joint investigation with the East Jordan Police Department.

The EJPD investigated the report of the theft of a purse from the Jordan Valley Laundromat containing approximately $600 in cash and jewelry. The victim provided a description of a possible suspect. A deputy located the suspect in Eveline Township and recovered all money, jewelry and the purse.

Kristie Dawn Davis has been arrested on two felony charges of lar-cy in a building and possession of stolen property. She has posted $5000 surety bond and has been released from jail.

The theft occurred at 11:45 a.m. on Oct. 10. Davis was located and arrested and all property recovered by 3:30 p.m. the same day.

WOW!

Bob and Chris Poniatowski present Eleanor West of Camp Quality a check for $17,000.

On Sunday, September 14 the Sportsman Bar sponsored our annual Sportsman Tournament for Special Kids, a golf tournament to benefit Camp Quality.

We were overwhelmed by the generosity of all who participated - golfers, sponsors, contributors and volunteers. Due to the generosity of all these individuals we will donate over $17,000 from this one day event. This is the largest donation the Tournament has ever made - an increase of over $1000 from 1996.

This year's tournament was blessed with 26 teams, dry weather, good food and of course the auction. It was heartwarming, in this age of complacency, to be a part of this event.

The special children who attend Camp Quality as a result of our efforts will benefit by a unique experience that extends beyond the week of camping. As one mother wrote "I'm finding it difficult to express my gratitude... I could have never afforded a camp experience like this for my children. This has been a blessing."

Words alone cannot express our thankfulness. God bless everyone who made this year's tournament a success.

With deepest appreciation,

Bob & Chris Poniatowski

Students get a taste of life in the work world

Boyne City High School teacher Rick Fowler is helping students look beyond the classroom to the world around them. In Fowler's Junior Technical English class, students work on a research project which helps them apply their knowledge and skill to the "real world." To begin, each student is asked to select a career that they are interested in pursuing after graduation. Then, through the participation of many business partners, students are allowed to visit the workplace for a one day Job Shadowing experience. Students "shadow" a mentor and experience what it is like to work in that particular career. Before students reach the work site, they will have completed a significant amount of research in the areas of training, job requirements and skills, the job market and salary, as well as other aspects pertaining to that specific career. During their day, students keep a journal of the day's activities and their impressions. In addition to being the mentor's "shadow," each student conducts interviews with people at the workplace in order to get a realistic picture of what is involved with doing that job. The project is designed to give the students a chance to look into the possibilities, opportunities and challenges of the current job market. "Local businesses and community members are opening their doors to help create meaningful learning experiences for our students," said Winnie Parker, the school district's community career specialist.

DEFENSE HAS SHUT THE DOOR OVER THE LAST 15 QUARTERS

Ramblers roll to fourth straight win

By TED KARASZEWSKI

Boyne City rolled to its fourth straight win and third straight shutout as it crushed Harbor Springs last Friday, 43-0. The Rams were averaging 500 yards a game before Friday's contest but were held to just 87 total yards by the swarming Boyne defense.

"I kept waiting for them to break out with some quick scores but that just didn't happen," said coach Pat Klooster. "Even when we were up 28-0, I wasn't comfortable. They're a good team but they haven't had a very tough schedule."

On the other hand, the Ramblers (5-2, overall, 4-0 conference) are starting to come together as a team as they have not allowed a point for 15 straight quarters. Their running game is also starting to gel adding another dimension to the already potent passing attack.

"I think early on the boys were living in last year's shadow, trying to do what last year's team did," Klooster said. "Now they don't even talk about last year's team, they're coming into their own now. They're taking a lot of pride in what they do. I think it's a combination of some coaching moves and them taking more pride. We'll see how they respond the rest of the way."

Boyne City scored on its first possession of the game when Ryan Seeley broke out for a nice 14 yard touchdown run. Seeley added the two-point conversion for an 8-0 lead.

Still in the first quarter, the Ramblers used 10 plays to reach the end zone when Chuck Stanek plunged in from the two for a score. Seeley added the two-point conversion for a 16-0 lead.

"Part of our game plan was to keep their offense off the field. We knew in order to do that we would have to effectively run the ball using long drives to score," Klooster said.

Boyne tallied again early in the second quarter when Scott Karaszewski took the ball in from the one-yard line for a touchdown and a 22-0 lead. The two-point conversion was no good.

The Ramblers scored again before half-time after a nice punt return by Jesse Belford set Boyne up at the Harbor Springs 35 yard line. Two plays later, Karaszewski broke out and rumbled 20 yards to the goal line where he coughed up the ball. Luckily, Travis Garrett was in the right place at the right time and he just picked the ball up in the end zone for a touchdown and a 28-0 half-time lead.

Klooster praised the play of the offensive line. "They've really answered the challenge. They're doing a nice job, taking a lot of pride in what they do. They're the big reason we've been running the ball so well."

After a nice punt return by Garrett, Boyne was set up on the Harbor Springs 36 yard line early in the third quarter. Two plays later, junior Korky Persons scampered 52 yards for another Boyne City touchdown.

The moon was rising full and bright for the Ramblers Friday as they celebrated their 43-0 win. Boyne City's Scott Karaszewski, above, ran over the Rams for 108 yards and two touchdowns.

Photos by Vic Ruggles

Persons ran in the two-point conversion for a 36-0 lead.

Karaszewski scored the final points still in the third with a 12-yard run and an extra point kick for the final score of 43-0.

The Ramblers' ground attack was led by Karaszewski's two touchdowns and his 108 yards on 11 carries. Korky Persons added 85 yards on five carries while Seeley added 74 yards on 11 carries. Stanek ran for 38 yards on five tries while Phil Simpson carried twice for 24 yards. Matt Johncheck ran for 15 yards on three carries. Johncheck also was 2 of 6 passing for 52 yards. Stanek caught one for 33 yards while Belford caught one for 19 yards.

Defensively for Boyne, Garrett, Nick Mandeville and David Miller each had a fumble recovery. Andy Douglas had an interception. Matt Seiler had 4 1/2 tackles. Stanek had 3 1/2. Sean Ku had three tackles while Buddy Hayden and David Miller each had 2 1/2. David Cadarette and Persons combined on a quarterback sack. The pass rush was exceptional as the Rams' quarterback was flushed out of the pocket the whole game.

"We had them out of their game," Klooster said. "Their quarterback (John Kenoshmeg) couldn't throw on the run. We chased him every time he dropped back to pass."

Boyne will play its last two games on the road with Charlevoix this Friday and Traverse City St. Francis for the final game.

"We won't be taking Charlevoix lightly. Although their record only shows one win, I feel they're a better team than last year," Klooster said. "They'll be ready to play us if for nothing else but pride. If they beat us, that would make their whole season. We can't let that happen."

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

FRESHMEN IMPROVE RECORD TO 14-1, JV'S ARE 10-3

Five games in 10 days test Lady Ramblers

By CHRIS WINKLER

With the possible exception of powerhouses Harbor Springs and Ellsworth, it is tough for any school to win a girls basketball game in northwestern Michigan. That fact couldn't be truer for the Boyne City Lady Ramblers.

Tuesday, they defeated a good Rogers City team that had beaten them earlier in the season, and then gave Petoskey a run for its money as Boyne sought revenge on Thursday. After playing well in both of those games, the Ramblers fell apart in the fourth quarter to lose at Charlevoix on Saturday.

In the narrow 57-55 win over the Hurons, the Ramblers (7-6 overall, 4-3 in the conference) trailed the majority of the first half, with a 32-27 Rogers City advantage at the intermission. Katie Jo Dhaseleer tied the game at 32 midway through the third quarter with one of her four three-pointers. Boyne took over after that. Dhaseleer hit her final trey with three minutes left to put the Ramblers up 57-51.

Katie Bernthal led the scoring with 16 points. April Roberts had 15, while Dhaseleer finished with 13.

Thursday found the Ramblers playing close with Petoskey, even leading 19-13 after the first quarter and 35-32 at half-time. With just two minutes remaining in the game, the score was tied. Petoskey then began to creep away by sinking crucial free throws. The final ended up with the Northmen on top, 69-61.

Boyne City's Katie Jo Dhaseleer led the Lady Ramblers against Petoskey and Charlevoix.

Boyne received a stellar game from Dhaseleer, who put in 26 points. Bernthal added 13, and Sarah Bobowski chipped in with 12.

The Northmen were paced by Sarah Norton, with 27 points. Jane Rossi added 13.

The 59-47 loss to Charlevoix was a game that the Ramblers should have won. In fact, they had the game won. Boyne stormed out of the locker room trailing 26-25, but shut down the Rayders en route to going up 41-31 by the end of the quarter. All the Ramblers had to do was keep up the constricting defense they had during the third period. That didn't happen.

Charlevoix went on a tear, outscoring the Ramblers 28-6 in the closing frame, sending Boyne City home with a split in the season series between the teams.

"Their man-to-man pressure and execution of their plays caused us to break down," said assistant coach Tim Hardy following the Charlevoix game. "We also sent them to the line 20 times in the fourth quarter."

Dhaseleer again led the Rambler offense, this time with 20 points, including three treys. Bernthal had 11 and Bobowski contributed ten. Bernthal had six rebounds and three steals, while Bobowski grabbed five boards. Dhaseleer made four steals, while Heidi VanHoosier dished out four assists.

For Charlevoix, Jamie Gowell scored 21 and Sarah Dominic added 12.

"It's been an interesting week," said coach Tom Neidhamer. "We've talked about being mentally tough enough to win five games in 10 days. We did some good things against Rogers City and Petoskey, but we're still in the learning process of being mentally tough to finish games."

The final contest of that five-game stretch was Tuesday in East Jordan, a team the Ramblers beat earlier this season.

"As today proved," Neidhamer said as the Charlevoix High School gym was emptying out, "the second time around doesn't mean anything. East Jordan is a very good team, and it won't get any easier after that. We'll try to learn from this."

The junior varsity squad improved to 10-3 on the season with victories over Rogers City (44-33) and Charlevoix (42-29), while losing to Petoskey 52-35. Against the Hurons, Nicole Kurtz had 17 points and Maggie Doherty scored 10. In the Petoskey game, Kurtz again led Boyne with 20 points, while Leah Senter added eight. And against the Rayders, Kurtz turned in another outstanding performance, with 20 points. Alicia Maule had 11 rebounds, and Jackie Cyr snatched 10 boards.

And even though the varsity and JV teams have been playing well, there is another team in Boyne City that deserves more credit than it gets. The freshman team is currently 14-1 after a trio of victories last week, and the single loss came at the hands of Petoskey, in a pre-season tournament. The team has since beaten the Northmen twice, the latest in Petoskey on Thursday.

"The girls are playing really well right now," said coach Michelle VanDamme. "We've got great guard play along with a strong inside game."

For the season, if the team can keep up its intensity, "we should be 19-1," VanDamme said.

Conference meet next up for Loggers

Boyne Falls' runners were in top form last Wednesday as they took three of the top four places against Mackinaw City for a 25-31 dual meet victory.

Mike Britton won the race with his fastest time ever, 17:21, more than 30 seconds better than his previous time.

"He's never ran that fast before," said coach Andy Place. "I am not really surprised by his time though. He's been giving a consistent effort all year. He started the season running in the 20's and now he's running in the 17's."

Mike Kenney and Jeremy Massey took second and fourth respectively at 17:48 and 18:22.

"Mike and Jeremy both ran well," Place said. "This was a good race to get us ready for our conference meet next week."

Boyne Falls will compete in the conference meet this Wednesday, Oct. 22, at Alba. The race will be held at the Lakes of The North Golf Course.

Other Loggers in order of finish: 7th - Ryan Fiel, 19:28; 11th - Paul Howard, 21:47; 14th - Ben Britton, 23:38.

Master of his division

Dedication and hard work pays off for Kirk Kujawski

For much of his life, Kirk Kujawski has spent a lot of time in the gym working out.

Five years ago, he decided it was time to get serious and last Saturday evening he reaped some reward for all his work.

Kujawski earned the top ranking in the 1996 master's body builder division awarded at the National Physique Committee's second annual awards ceremony. The event, attended by more than 1,500 people, was held at the Redford Theater in Detroit.

Kujawski qualified for the award by winning one of the five competitions sponsored by NPC last year. From that, five people in each weight class/division were voted finalists through a nominee voting ballot that appeared in an issue of Great Lakes Fitness Guide. From that vote, one person in each division was selected as champion. For the year, nearly 2,000 athletes competed.

Masters is for competitors over 40 years old. Kujawski is 45.

Due to his new job as the district transportation-building grounds supervisor and assistant athletic director, Kujawski's competitive schedule has been curtailed. But he plans to be active again next year.

Kirk Kujawski started working out seriously about five years ago.

In stride

For the first time since 1989, Boyne City competed at the conference cross country meet and both the boys and girls had respectable finishes. Beth Stackus, left, runs with teammate Charlotte Stackus early in the race last Wednesday. Right behind them is East Jordan's Cassie Krause.

Parents' night is Thursday for Lady Loggers

After jumping out to an early lead, the Boyne Falls Lady Loggers had to hang on before escaping with a 46-40 win over Vanderbilt last Thursday.

The win improved the Lady Loggers' overall record to 7-6 and 4-3 in the conference as they head into the stretch run of the season. On Tuesday they played at Harbor Light and Thursday they host Wolverine for Parents' Night.

The Lady Loggers led by 11 after the first quarter and went into half time with a nine point lead. But then Vanderbilt rallied and took a five point lead late in the game.

The key play for the Lady Loggers came in the final minute when they ran a "press breaker" which freed Erica Simon for a lay-up. On the play Penny Marchinkewicz was fouled and hit both free throws to put Boyne Falls up for good.

Marchinkewicz had a strong game and led the Loggers in scoring with 17 points. She also had 17 rebounds and three steals. Kristine Giem had nine points and Andrea Kondrat scored eight. She had 10 rebounds, four blocks and four assists.

Coach Ken Doty also had high praise for the play of his bench.

"Amanda Jarema, Sara Skop and Monica Conklin all played a real good game," he said.

Vanderbilt won the junior varsity game 40-32. Renee Fiel scored 17 points for Boyne Falls.

Boyne's junior varsity keeps on winning

Boyne's junior varsity improved its record to 6-1 last Thursday at Harbor Springs with an easy 32-16 win over the Rams.

All 32 points were scored in the first half with Norman Moore scoring the first two touchdowns on runs of one and 12 yards. The two point conversions were scored on runs by Josh Bush and Moore.

Bush scored a touchdown from 10 yards out early in the second quarter with Moore adding the two point conversion on a run. Casey Sirmons added the final touchdown on a five-yard run with Joe Hellebuyck catching a pass from Bush for the two point conversion and the final points.

The Ramblers received fine offensive line play most notably from Cody Belford and Aaron Belcher. David Suttle had his usual fine game at center and on the other side of the ball at the nose tackle position.

Defensive standouts were Noah Stanek, Luke Reinhardt, Moore, Bush and Daniel Washburn.

Moore had 126 yards rushing on 14 carries while Stanek had 76 yards receiving on five catches.

The Ramblers play at home this Thursday against Charlevoix. Starting time is 6:30 p.m.

St. Francis defeats EJ junior varsity

East Jordan's junior varsity offense moved the ball but its defense struggled last Thursday night in a 38-18 loss to Traverse City St. Francis.

Kyle Bjorem rushed for 128 yards and scored two touchdowns for the Red Devils. Nathan Swan ran 52 yards and scored one touchdown. Ben Johnson rushed for 45 yards.

"It was a great job by our offense," said coach Todd McNitt.

Defensively, Rusty Steinhoff led the team with 10 tackles. Swan had eight tackles, Nathan Diller 7, Joe Lansing and Justin Whistler each had six.

The Red Devils will be back in action Thursday when they travel to Kalkaska. Kickoff is 6:30 p.m.

Early turnovers doom East Jordan

One simple three-letter word was all East Jordan coach Allan Peterson needed to summarize what he witnessed on the football field Saturday evening at St. Francis.

"Wow." St. Francis, ranked number one in Class C, put on an impressive show against the Red Devils, winning 55-7.

"That's the best St. Francis team I've seen since I've been coaching against them," Peterson said.

"We made some mistakes early and they got us down in a hurry. But they are bigger, faster, stronger. They are great athletes. That doesn't mean our kids didn't play hard, they were just outmanned."

For more than half of the game, East Jordan was also without Chris Murray, its starting quarterback, who broke his foot. He had a similar injury last year. Jason Clark will take over at quarterback in Murray's absence. "He'll do a good job," Peterson said. "He's a good kid. He works hard."

Josh Evans, who was just returning to the lineup after nursing a knee injury which kept him out of the Harbor Springs game, re-injured the knee and had to leave the game.

"They were just good hard hitters," Peterson said.

After watching St. Francis, Peterson said they may be even better than the Iron Mountain team that knocked East Jordan out of the playoffs and went on to win the state title a few years ago.

East Jordan did no favors for itself early in the game, fumbling the ball away the first two times it had the ball: the first on its own 10 yard line and the second on the 13.

The end result was two St. Francis touchdowns, 30 seconds apart. The Gladiators were up 27-0 after the first quarter and 41-0 before East Jordan's Dillon Antaya broke free for a 48-yard touchdown. Parke Bluhm also broke free for a long run, but the drive stalled before the Red Devils could score.

Bluhm rushed for 68 yards while Antaya had 49. St. Francis finished with 393 total yards.

The loss was East Jordan's third of the season, all against outstanding teams — Benzie Central, Boyne City and St. Francis. The Red Devils return to Boswell Stadium Friday evening to host Kalkaska in their final home game of the season. Benzie beat Kalkaska last week 41-14.

This time it was Red Devils' turn to win by 1

Earlier this season, the Lady Devils lost a heartbreaker to Cheboygan by one point.

Now, Cheboygan knows how it feels to lose a close one.

East Jordan gained some revenge last Thursday when it defeated Cheboygan 36-35 in girls' basketball action.

"It was an outstanding game," coach Steve Hines said. "We played well. We rebounded better, and cut our turnovers almost in half. We also shot well from the free throw line."

For the evening, the Lady Red Devils were 13 of 17 from the charity stripe.

This week the Lady Red Devils hope to continue their strong play. They hosted Boyne City Tuesday night and Thursday they host Kalkaska, a team that beat them eight days ago by a score of 66-48.

"Even though we lost, it was one of our better performances," Hines said. "We just ran up against a good team. We were down by 11 after the first quarter, but other than that we played even."

Against Kalkaska, Jenny Goebel led the team with 17 points. She was the only Red Devil in double figures. Leading rebounders were Suzie Malpass and Rachel Boss, each with nine, followed by Ember Ransom with eight. Jenny Falco had four assists.

Goebel also led the Red Devils at Cheboygan, scoring 11 points. Ransom had 10 points as well as 10 rebounds. Malpass had nine rebounds and Falco was the assist leader with six.

East Jordan took the lead early in the game and held it until about two minutes were remaining. They got it back when Raissa Schroeder hit a basket and increased it when Goebel went to the free throw line and hit both shots after being fouled on the same play.

Cheboygan came right down the court and made a basket but the clock ran out before they could get another chance.

Holly Petkewicz was the top finisher for the East Jordan girls at both the conference meet and Elk Rapids Invitational.

Running to the conference title

Over the hilly course at the Charlevoix Belvedere Golf Club, East Jordan's Mark Penzien and Chris Bearden ran together.

And at the end they were there, one and two, leading their team to the Lake Michigan Conference Cross Country title.

Penzien was the first to cross the finish line with a time of 16:31. Bearden was seven seconds behind him.

The Red Devils won the team title with 24 points followed by Elk Rapids with 41, Traverse City St. Francis with 108, and Charlevoix with 127. Boyne City finished sixth.

In the girls race, Holly Petkewicz was third overall and led her team to a second place finish behind Charlevoix. Petkewicz finished with a time of 20:26.

Charlevoix's girls won the title with 30 points, followed by East Jordan with 44, Elk Rapids with 70, St. Francis 82, and Boyne City with 125.

The top five runners from each race were named all conference.

"The boys ran real well," said East Jordan coach Dennis Snarey. "We were very pleased with that effort. With the girls, we had hoped to do better, but to finish second against the number 10 rated team in the state is good."

The Red Devils carried momentum from their conference win to Elk Rapids Saturday where the boys took first place at the invitational while the girls finished third.

"With regionals Saturday at Benzie Central we are pleased with our teams' performances," Snarey said. "We feel both should be in contention to qualify for state, but we realize we will need to run even better to achieve this goal."

Mark Penzien and Bearden set the pace again for the boys. Bearden finished fifth overall with a time of 16:33 while Mark Penzien was in ninth place, nine seconds behind him. Petkewicz was again first for the girls, finishing 10th overall with a time of 20:41.

The top three teams from the regionals qualify for the state meet. Individual runners can also qualify even if their teams don't, by finishing in the top 20. The state meet will be held at Michigan International Speedway.

Students will be painting the town red for Red Ribbon Week

Joining other schools and communities across the country, Boyne City Public Schools will celebrate Red Ribbon Week Oct. 23-31 as a way of promoting a drug-free society.

The campaign, which began in 1988, is an effort to show intolerance for the use of drugs and the misuse of alcohol in schools, work places and communities, as well as to celebrate the lives of the country's drug-free young people.

Boyne City Schools has planned three theme days in support of the campaign:

- Pledge Day is Thursday, Oct. 23. Students will be asked to pledge themselves drug-free by signing bulletin boards and pledge sheets.

- "Wear Red Day" is Tuesday, Oct. 28. Everyone is asked to wear red in support of the national campaign.

- "Red Ribbon Day" is Thursday, Oct. 30. Students will be given red ribbons to wear and to tie onto car antennas.

Following is a history of the founding of the Red Ribbon celebration:

At 2 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 7, 1985, Enrique ("Kiki") Camarena, age 37, stashed his DEA badge and his service revolver in his desk drawer and headed for a luncheon date with his wife, Mika. Kiki, a U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent, had been in Mexico for 4 1/2 years on the trail of Mexico's marijuana and cocaine barons. He was due to be reassigned in three weeks, having come dangerously close to unlocking a multi-billion dollar drug pipeline which he suspected extended into the highest reaches of the Mexican army, police and government.

As he stepped through the consulate portal into the sunlight of the warm Guadalajara winter day, he moved to his pickup truck, turned off the truck's burglar alarm and unlocked the door. But he was interrupted before he could get into the cab and grab the two-way radio, with which he could alert his partners. According to the DEA's reconstruction of events, five men appeared at the agent's side and shoved him into a beige Volkswagen Atlantic. That was the last time anyone but his kidnappers would see him alive.

Kiki Camarena's body was found one month later in a shallow grave, 70 miles from Michoacan, Mexico. He had been tortured and beaten and brutally murdered. He left behind three children.

News of the tragedy was hitting newspapers, radio stations and television news broadcasts, and members of the National Family Partnership (formerly the National Federation of Parents for Drug Free Youth) were angry and sick of the killing and destruction caused by alcohol and other drugs in America.

In 1988, the National Family Partnership coordinated the first National Red Ribbon Week, an eight-day celebration proclaimed by Congress with President and Mrs. Reagan serving as honorary chairpersons.

CLUBS & ORGANIZATIONS

Horton Bay Pony Club

The Horton Bay Pony is having a Halloween party this year.

If you don't have a costume, you have to pay $1. You have to pay $2 for pizza (if you want pizza). Events will include apple bobbing, name that part (of the horse), spookhouse, and pinnafe.

If you want to take candy home, you should bring a bag of wrapped candy. For more information call Carol Hellstrom at 582-7509.

Friendship Club

The Boyne City Friendship Club will meet Monday, Oct. 27, at noon at the city hall auditorium.

Those attending are asked to bring a dish to share and their own table service. Anyone over 50 is welcome to attend.

Six Mile Lake Association

The Six Mile Lake Association of Antrim and Charlevoix counties now has a neighborhood watch set up.

Les and Audrey Moore introduced Antrim County Sheriff Deputy Don Bean and Sheriff Deputy Rex

Behling from Charlevoix County at the September meeting. They offered guidelines on how to set up the watch. Signs will be posted at various places around the lake. Neighbors will be watching other neighbors' homes when they are away and questioning strangers who possibly shouldn't be there.

The association is also involved in fish planting, keeping a natural "green belt" all along the shoreline, and was instrumental in establishing the Six Mile Lake/St. Clair Lake natural area between the two lakes. A board walk, provided by Evans Home Center, gives access to the area from Ellsworth Road. The association also participates in the Fourth of July Freedom Festival and at its annual picnic in August it has a lighted boat parade on Six Mile Lake.

No cuts in BCHS athletics?

By Chris Winkler

The question has arose, and many BCHS students are wondering, "Is a no-cut policy for our school in the near future?"

The concept of the policy was brought up at a school board meeting by two board members.

The only sports that would be seriously affected by the proposed policy are boy's and girl's basketball. With more than 20 kids trying out for certain basketball teams, the coaching staffs are given no choice but to cut.

The notion for the policy has been passed to an Athletic Council, which is composed of four coaches, four school administrators, and four Boyne City citizens.

Tom Neidhamer, head varsity girl's basketball coach and member of that committee explains his views on the policy. "A no-cut policy would be very hard to implement and still keep high standards of performance. We offer a full menu of opportunities and are successful at reaching the needs of kids. Athletics are not for everybody."

Coach Neidhamer is right. Boyne City High School can not afford to install a no-cut policy. We can't have just anybody walk in off the streets and join the basketball team. That would take practice time away from the athletes who worked hard in the off-season, and know what it takes to play the sport.

Alternative band Derf rocks BCHS

By Kara Dietze

In the crowded basement of the Bernthal's house, there lies a lot of talent. Scattered among a few couches and chairs, Derf has no problem expressing it. From their own version of "Brown Eyed Girl" to Andy Douglas' singing of "TNT" to Josh Hall's excellent recreation of "New Pollution," the band proves they can play almost anything.

Derf was formed about two years ago, when a few friends got together and decided to make music. The band from BCHS consists of Hall on lead vocals and guitar, Douglas on rhythm guitar and vocals, Josh Bernthal on drums and Lee Durfee on bass guitar and vocals. Durfee is a new member of the band, who joined this summer. Chris Winkler also stands in for "New Pollution" on the alto saxophone.

Playing mostly alternative music, Derf learns the majority of their songs by ear. They have also been working on writing some of their own songs. The band practices almost every day, but for now, it's just for fun. They are undecided on whether they will try to pursue a career in the business industry.

Derf, which is actually Fred spelled backwards, was just a spontaneous name. The band is looking for a new name and is open to suggestions.

They are also interested in playing for an audience outside the walls of BCHS, so keep Derf in mind for any upcoming gigs.

First year for Saturday homecoming

By Laurie Ford

The start of homecoming began the morning of Oct. 11. The parade for the homecoming floats and court began at 11 a.m. Even with this being the first parade BCHS has had on a Saturday morning, there was a great turn out. Students and community members gathered on the streets. The floats came down in their order of finish, seniors, freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

The football game started at 1:30 p.m. With the sun shining and the bleachers full, it was a beautiful day for a 28-0 Boyne City Rambler victory over Elk Rapids. At half time of the game, the Queen was to be announced. People surrounded the field to watch as the crown was given to Katie Kujawski, and the runner up to Molly Bricker.

The day ended with the dance at 9 p.m. The gym was filled and everybody looked their best. Dylan Mandeville won the king crown to end a long and exciting day.

Long distance athletes at BCHS

By Derek Price

On this year's varsity football team there are two students who have to travel a long way every day just to play football.

The students are Clyde Payton and Nathan Howell. Clyde lives in Elmira, but goes to school all day in Boyne City. Nathan lives in Boyne Falls and attends BCHS half the day. Both players are juniors, and both start on the defensive line. Clyde is a defensive tackle and Nathan is a defensive end.

Since Clyde lives in Elmira and attends school in Boyne City he has to get up early in the morning and leaves his house by 7:20 a.m., while the people living in Boyne don't leave for school until about 8. He usually doesn't get home until 6:30 p.m. or 7, which by that time the Boyne City players have been home for about 40 minutes. Also, Clyde's parents had to buy him a reliable car so he could drive himself, so this makes it very expensive.

Nathan, on the other hand, has to leave Boyne Falls High School halfway through the day and come to Boyne City for the afternoon. This also becomes expensive because he had to get a car for himself.

Nathan and Clyde must overcome a great obstacle every day. They both choose to do it because they both have the desire and love to play football. Good luck to both of them and congratulations on a great season so far.

Third year starter a key to basketball success

By Travis Garrett

It is not often that you find a three year basketball starter at the varsity level, but Sarah Bobowski is one of those rarities. Sarah, now a senior, has started on the girls' varsity basketball team for three years in a row.

Many things have happened to the girls over the years. When asked how Sarah's outlook has changed from her sophomore to senior year, she replied, "It was an honor to play on varsity my sophomore year, but it was not all that fun. I didn't know anybody. All my friends were on junior varsity. My senior year has been the best. I feel like a leader, and that I contribute more to the team."

Obviously, the girls teams are vastly improving, thanks to the help of senior captain Sarah. "Our team, now, is the best we've had in a long time, we have great team unity. No individuals, just a team." Sarah thinks that based on this and the fact that fan support is much better now than in the past, the girls have stepped it up a notch.

If Sarah could do it over again, "I would remain the same. Playing three years at the varsity level helped me prepare more for this year. Although at some times I wasn't having much fun, the experience helped a lot."

The girls are off to a great start. Keep up the hard work. Behind Bobowski, there could just be an upset in districts.

Cross Country team running strong

By Bo Reinhardt

The Boyne City High School cross country team is growing. The 1997 team has ten members, up from two last season. The team is: Amy Place, Beth Stackus, Emily Roland, Laura Cassidy, Charlotte Brandt/Stackus, John Gibbs, Adam Hubble, Mik Martin, Shawn Weisler, and Jordan Brandt. They are coached by Andy Place.

The Ramblers travel with the Boyne Falls Cross Country Club and compete as a club. Throughout the season, both the boys and the girls have placed high in their meets. The team had its conference meet on Oct. 15 at the Belvedere Golf Course in Charlevoix. "The boys have a good chance of having a strong showing," said the only returning runner, Amy Place. "I think Boyne City will eventually get a real cross country team."

They will compete at regionals on Oct. 25. Only three members will be graduating, so the team hopes to continue to grow.

BCHS pageant hopeful tells her story

By Katie VanTreese

Contrary to popular belief, beauty pageants require a lot of dedication, preparation and hard work. Pageants are not only strolls down a catwalk in an elegant evening gown; they also require grueling rehearsals, hours of practice, and produce many expenses. BCHS senior Melissa Thompson is an experienced contestant.

Thompson began participating in pageants when she got an application in the mail. She sent it in with a picture, and within a week she was accepted and received a chance to enter the competition. She was in Melissa also competed in the Miss Michigan Teen All American, and placed in the top twelve. This contest required swimsuit, interview, and evening gown competitions, and had many talented candidates from all over the state.

Melissa said that she may continue in the pageant circuit, but will participate in fewer competitions in the months ahead. After graduation, she plans on attending North Central Michigan College for two years, then transferring to Central Michigan University to pursue a career in elementary education. She feels that her experiences in the pageants have taught her many valuable lessons that will help her in the future.

Her advice to others considering admission to pageants is: "Making the top ten is not as easy as it sounds, but don't get disappointed, just have fun with the competition and enjoy the experience. Pageants are a great way to meet new people and try new things. If you do win, enjoy your reign while you can." Melissa says that winning is not really what the pageants are all about, it is the new friendships that she will remember most.

Senior Melissa Thompson flashed this smile to win pageants.

Middle school dedication

The red carpet was out at the dedication of East Jordan's new middle school last Wednesday evening. About 350 people attended the ceremony, and according to superintendent Chip Hansen, those who came were not disappointed in what they saw and heard. Visitors enjoyed music provided by the eighth-grade band, brief comments from school board president Mary Jason, Hansen, and middle school principal Shirley Bishop. The new middle school houses about 300 students in grades six, seven and eight, features 110 computers for students, and total construction costs totaled $4,109,500. At left, the East Jordan eighth-grade band entertained community members during the dedication ceremony. They were led by band director Michael Haynes and played "On Line March" and the national anthem. Above, visitors inspected the computers during a tour of the middle school's computer lab.

Architect opens office in Boyne

B. Stephen Wiseman, an architect from Lexington, Ky., has relocated his firm, Wiseman Traditional Design & Planning, to the Railroad Office Building in Boyne City.

Wiseman has 20 years experience in the architectural profession and specializes in the traditional and classical design idiom as well as historic restoration, preservation, and conservation. He is a full member of the American Institute of Architects and Classical America, NYC. His firm is also an approved architect for Duany Plater Zyberk's latest neo-traditional community in Cashiers, N.C.

Wiseman's current project is a new home on Coastal Drive, Bay Harbor.

Wiseman said he is excited about Boyne City's commitment to appropriate development that preserves the many historic buildings in the area. Although the area is known for Victorian architecture, it is also rich in many beautiful American Renaissance buildings such as the library and post office, he said.

He also appreciates smaller projects and working with local contractors and building suppliers. In fact his published works include a modest 200 square foot porch addition in the 1930's colonial revival style. The project has been featured in the September/October, 1997 edition of Traditional Building Magazine.

Wiseman and his wife Tina have four children, Clayton (14), Chase (12), Christina (9), and Stephen (6).

The family came to Boyne for vacation the second week of August and immediately fell in love with the beautiful surroundings. During the course of the week they found a home to purchase and an office.

By Sept. 9 the move was made. "The entire family loves living here in Boyne and have settled in quite easily. They find the people and schools to be fantastic, much friendlier and safer than in Lexington," Wiseman said. The Wisemans attend Safe Harbor Baptist Church in Charlevoix.

Wiseman's office is located at 112 S. Park St. The phone number is 582-0406.

well.

In the next year, White said he expects to continue many of the same projects, as well as to seek grants to improve the old Boswell Field into a community recreation facility. He also plans to continue building partnerships between the city and other entities in the community.

"I believe in partnerships," said White, who has a degree in intergovernmental relations. "I don't do this job alone. I can't do this job alone."

Because he has only been on board a year, White said he doesn't know everyone in the community. He hopes people who have questions will call. Part of his job, he says, is to be out in the community talking to people.

"The city is out there, not here," White said, gesturing to his office. He believes talking and listening to people in the community is an essential element to the city's forward growth.

"Every town has a life, a fabric, a history," White said. "That's why each town is different." White said learning the fabric of East Jordan will be an on-going experience that will never end as long as he's in the office.

Marching at Boswell

A dozen bands that planned to compete at Traverse City's Thirby Field headed north to East Jordan Monday for the 1997 Marching Band Expo. East Jordan Superintendent Chip Hansen said a conflict with a rescheduled athletic event created the opportunity for East Jordan to host this annual event. If it seems to be popular, Hansen said East Jordan may come up with a competition of its own. "We've always kind of toyed with the idea of hosting our own festival," he said. "If it goes well, we'll stick with it." The event was planned through the Traverse City schools. East Jordan schools provided the location and the Band Boosters ran concessions for the event. The East Jordan Marching Band, which competes annually in the Band Expo, was first to perform on their home field at Boswell Stadium.

Friends of the Jordan holding annual meeting

The Friends of the Jordan will hold its annual meeting Wednesday, Oct. 22, at the Jordan Valley District Library Community Meeting Room in East Jordan.

The business portion of the meeting will begin at 7 p.m. with the program to follow at 7:30 p.m.

The featured keynote speaker is Keith Charters, chair of the Natural Resources Commission. Charters will address the audience on the topic of "New Designs for Growth-Linking Community, Economy, and Land in Northwest Michigan." The program's mission is "to formulate new patterns for rural land use that enhance Northwest Michigan's natural features, regional economy, and cultural heritage by joining with communities to establish innovative tools to provide for change."

In addition, FOJ will have some photographic works, primarily shot in the Jordan Valley, on sale from two of the group's members. Proceeds will benefit FOJ's programs and projects. The public is invited to attend.

For more information, contact John Hummer, FOJ program director, at 533-5063 or John Richter at 536-3132.

Business After Hours is Thursday

East Jordan's Business After Hours is Thursday, Oct. 23, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. at Toki's Italian Restaurant.

Toki's and Vincent's Yamaha are sponsors. Hors d'oeuvres and refreshments will be served. The cost is $3 for chamber members, $4 for non-members.
