TEN CENTS

Over the Back Fence

By Marshall

Having heard a lot of discussion about northern Michigan communities losing their population to Detroit and southern cities in the past 30 years we decided to check census reports and see how serious the shift south has been.

U. S. Census figures for 1920 and 1950 were checked for the following cities: East Jordan, Boyne City, Charlevoix, Mancelona, Petoskey, Gaylord, Harbor Springs and Cheboygan.

In 1920 these cities had a combined population of 24,151. In 1950, 30 years later, the total was 24,417. The combined population of the cities had risen 266.

These figures may surprise some people. It may be true that people left the north in "droves" after the lumber was cut, but often we do not take into consideration the large number of others who have moved into the north over the years.

In the 30 year span East Jordan lost 659 people; Boyne City, 1,280; and Cheboygan 135. All the rest gained.

Charlevoix gained 446; Harbor Springs 8; Petoskey, 1,367; Mancelona 41; and Gaylord 562.

Boyne City lost more people than any other northern Michigan city. Petoskey gained more than Boyne City lost.

In 1920 East Jordan had 2,428 people; in 1950 the city population was 1,769.

The big shift south we often hear about hit only Boyne City, East Jordan and Cheboygan, all former lumber towns. But the entire area gained over the years until today the population is more than when things were "booming."

Enough people now have moved into the northern area to bring the population back after a few years slump. Disregarding Cheboygan which lost only 135 people in 30 years, East Jordan and Boyne City are the only communities that failed to snap back.

It would appear, therefore, that these two cities failed to supply sufficient employment after the lumber was gone to hold their people at home.

However the pendulum now is swinging back. Both East Jordan and Boyne City are gaining population. Slowly, to be sure, but additional industry and thus more employment is attracting more residents.

Thus, taking northern Michigan as a whole, the population shift southward over the last 30 years has not been as serious as it may appear.

Chamber Grows At Advance

Little Advance, that well known community between East Jordan and Boyne City, has turned up with a Chamber of Commerce boasting nearly 200 members.

The chamber ordered 24 chairs for its new chamber building and now the members are buying the chairs and having their names painted on the back. Two chairs cost a member $6.74. In the above photo, right, Chamber President Forest Clark is accepting money from William Sanderson who purchased two chairs. Looking on at left with their chairs are Mr. and Mrs. Lance Russ.

The chamber has held bake sales and other money raising activities to help pay for their new cement block meeting building. The group holds its meetings each Tuesday in the month and boasts that Advance has become widely known through its smelt stream, its many resorts, its good trout fishing and huge rural electric plant. Residents Call For Probe Of Antrim County Offices

State Investigation Starts As Citizens Demand Action

Governor Williams and Frank G. Millard, state attorney general, have launched a sensational investigation into the affairs of the Judge of Probate and Register of Deeds of Antrim County.

Chief of the Attorney General Department's Criminal Division, Harry W. Jackson, was to meet C. D. Gibbard, of East Jordan and Harry T. Cook, Antrim County Prosecutor, at Bellaire today to confer with them.

The governor ordered the investigation after his office received 30 petitions signed by nearly 400 county residents who want to know if the county offices are being operated according to law.

Home addresses of those signing the petitions sent to the governor were in East Jordan, Charlevoix, Central Lake, Kewadin, Alba, Elmira, Ellsworth, Rapid City, Mancelona and Elk Rapids.

Although Charlevoix and East Jordan are in Charlevoix county, their rural routes extend into Antrim county; and many residents on these rural routes signed the request for an investigation.

C. D. Gibbard, of Pleasant Valley, near East Jordan sent the petitions to the governor for the hundreds of Antrim county residents who signed them.

Because of this the attorney general's office is meeting with Gibbard today in the first move of the investigation.

Gibbard said there had been so many rumors concerning the affairs at the Antrim County court house that he as a citizen and the group as a whole as citizens understand that they have a right to find out whether the county offices are being operated according to the laws of Michigan.

This action is non-political, Gibbard said. The petitions were headed in four ways:

"We the members of the Antrim County Farm Bureau; We the members of Antrim Pomona Grange; We the members of 'Citizens for Clean Government'; and We the members of a group of civic-minded citizens."

It was pointed out that the petitions made no specific charges. The people called upon the Governor's office for a thorough investigation of the Antrim County Probate Court and the office of the Antrim County Register of Deeds.

Gibbard told the News Herald Wednesday that:

"The reasons for this resolution being signed and sent to the Governor and Attorney General is that the people of Antrim County feel a thorough investigation is in order, to find out for sure if these county offices are being run according to law."

"The different groups throughout the county signing the resolution included members of the Farm Bureau, the Grange, Farmers Union, church organizations and various community groups interested in clean government."

"This was started by a few civic minded citizens in Pleasant Valley a small rural community and it spread through the cooperation of everyone contacted throughout Antrim County."

Antrim County's Probate Judge is William Severance, who has held office for 22 years; the county Register of Deeds is Lawrence Isaman, who has held that office for nine years.

This investigation is following a first investigation started three weeks ago by the Attorney General into the use of Social Welfare funds in Antrim County.

This started the first on the spot investigation of the County's Welfare Department.

Detective Ferrill Babcock, of the State Police and Albert Westal, of the Auditor General's office, will meet with Harry Jackson, Gibbard and Prosecutor Cook today. (Thursday.)

The Governor's office acted quickly upon receiving the Antrim County petitions this week since the state had already ordered another investigation into the probate court situation as it "may pertain to welfare cases."

During the session guests attended a showing of Gossard's fashion highlights. The Dress & Gift Shoppe carries the well-known Gossard line of merchandise.

Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Robertson of 306 1/2 Third Street, will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary Friday.

Mr. Robertson, a native of Denmark, was united in marriage to Mary Ann Gidley, September 11, 1888 at Eastport. They lived in that vicinity until three years ago when they came to East Jordan.

They have two sons, Stanley of Greenville, and Wilbur of East Jordan.

Red Devils Train For First Kick Off

The East Jordan High School "Red Devils" began their second week of pre-season football drills Monday with one of the smallest squads in recent years.

Coaches Saxton and Downing are working with a squad of thirty boys, many of whom lack game experience, in getting ready for the opening game with Traverse City St. Francis here Friday afternoon September 18th.

Regulars back from last fall's unbeaten but once-tied eleven include offensive backs Keith Evans Ray Gee, and Robert Romback; offensive end, James Weisler and defensive guard Steve Hayden. Gee, Romback and Evans were also regulars on defense along with Bobbie Danforth.

The team will be short on reserve strength as they face a rugged 8 game schedule and injuries may play an important part in this year's chances.

Starting lineup is far from set at this early date but in practices sessions so far Floyd Cutler, James Weisler, and James Petrie have been alternating at the end positions. Tackle candi-

Starting guard assignments are still up for grabs with Jack Zoulek, Ronald Wilson, Pete Nemecek, John Brock, Larry Sweet and Frank Russell battling it out.

Two centers vying for starting births are James Blabs, and Thomas Sheridan. Backfield prospects in addition to Danforth, Evans, Gee, and Romback are Robert Russell, Larry Woodcock, Dennis Wilson and Alan Somerville.

A number of freshmen on this year's squad still have not experienced contact work and to see their possibilities are still unknown.

Do your shopping at the store and pay for it at the bank. That's a new idea catching on around the country. The Wall Street Journal says several cities are using the plan. The customer identifies himself with a credit card from the local bank when making purchases. At the day's end, the merchant deposits the sales slips at the bank where they are in turn discounted at a rate depending on the store's monthly charge volume. Then the face amount less the discount is immediately deposited to the merchant's account. The plan is going big in Kalamazoo.

There will be a hearing Tuesday morning in Traverse City to talk over a proposal for a federal order to regulate the marketing of milk in this area. The proposal is being made by the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Cost of educating Michigan children figures to about 25 cents an hour per child, about $147 per school year.

This year's slogan for Nation Newspaper Week is: "An Informed Press Means an Informed People."

Wright Patterson of the Publishers' Auxiliary says many people do not realize that information is not the property of the newspapers, but of the people. The people, including the business organization of a community, keep information, in which the people of a community would be interested from the newspapers, and so keep it from the people. That can, and frequently does have an important bearing on the editor's efforts in the promotion of a better market place for the community, he says.

Allotments Explained For Farmers

There has been some misunderstanding among farmers and others about certain provisions of the 1954 Wheat Allotment according to LeRoy Hardy, Chairman of the County PMA Committee. He states that it is very important that farmers understand these provisions prior to wheat planting time.

First of all, said Mr. Hardy, a farmer must stay within the wheat allotment established for his farm if he is to be eligible for the government 90% price support loan or purchasing agreement on his crop. This is true regardless of the size of the farm allotment and regardless of the fact that marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1954 crop of wheat.

Under marketing quotas, Mr. Hardy explains, the penalty provision applies only to those farms planting more than 15 acres and where the wheat allotment is exceeded. For example a farm with a 17 acre allotment with 20 acres planted would have a 3 acre excess. A farm with an 8 acre allotment with 17 acres of wheat planted would have a 9 acre excess. However, a farm with an 8 acre allotment and with only 15 acres planted would have no wheat subject to marketing quotas and no penalty would apply. In each of these examples the farms would not be eligible for the 90% support price since the farm allotment was exceeded.

A farm without a wheat acreage allotment and planting more than 15 acres for 1954 will have the entire acreage of wheat considered as "excess acres" and all of the wheat will be subject to penalty.

The penalty for excess wheat will be 50% of the basic loan rate as of May 1, 1954 which would be about $1.10 per bushel according to Mr. Hardy. This penalty would be assessed on the normal production or on the actual production, whichever is the smaller, of wheat from the excess acres.

STRAIGHT FROM LANSING

MICHIGAN MIRROR

BUCK PASSING on Bingo and other forms of "charitable" gambling is responsible for one of the dizziest political situations in years. Every government agency finds it wise or necessary to point its finger in another direction. Result: Any one trying to fix responsibility gets goggy running a circle from office to office.

BOILED DOWN, the situation can be simply described. Banning of bingo depends on the prosecutor and sheriff in each county. These officials can order arrests. If they prove their cases, courts have little choice must find defendants guilty. State law and legal precedence are unplain. Bingo and raffles are unlawful according to Supreme Court interpretations.

"OUTS" exist for just about everyone. The Governor whose office permits him to remove a local official not performing his duty, refuses to become involved. "It's strictly a local issue," he says. The Attorney General cannot yield to requests that he permit "charitable" bingo games. He explains, he "can only interpret the laws as they are written."

State Police have a long standing policy of taking part in local law enforcement only when requested by local officials or when ordered by the governor. It is natural that they should maintain this practice with bingo. And they do.

DUCKING out from behind the eight ball are local police officials and prosecutors. Cursed if they do and cussed if they don't, they face the dilemma of angering part of the local population no matter what they do. Since they are elected officials, their job may depend on the keenness with which they analyze hometown sentiment.

If sufficient pressure is brought to bear, local officials forbid such lotteries; otherwise, they tend to overlook them.

SO LOTTERY is permitted in one part of the state; forbidden in others. Detroit firemen, who hold an annual raffle of automobiles at a field day, were warned and Mrs. LeRoy Sherman this week.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntire and children who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Palmeter, returned to their home at Ypsilanti this week.

Mrs. Suleaga, daughter Mar-iam and the Rev. Maurice Grigsby left Friday for Grand Rapids and Hastings.

by Detroit Police Commissioner Donald Leonard that they would be arrested if they sold tickets this year. They countered by securing an injunction from a Detroit Circuit Judge preventing enforcement of the gambling law in their case. Copies of the injunction were served upon Detroit and State Police Commissioners, prosecutors and the Att. General. Legal mills grind sufficiently slowly so that tickets were sold and the raffle held before anything could be done. If anyone had wanted to do anything!

ONLY SOLUTION, says the Attorney General's office, is for the Legislature to make new laws which would permit "charitable" gambling; make practical definitions about the other forms of lotteries and games of chance.

FEELING RUNS HIGH on both sides of this argument. In the minds of some legislators, the harm done is more theoretical than practical.

For these reasons, no one should be surprised if the Legislature is "too busy with more pressing matters" to consider the question at all.

"ABOUT 70,000 MORE children are starting school this year than last September," says Clair L. Taylor, superintendent of Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Youngsters in school relieve mothers of worries during class hours but the vastly increased number of them add up to a man sized headache for school administrators in crowded areas. Most difficulties are encountered in lower grades of schools in metropolitan districts, those areas adjoining Detroit, Flint Grand Rapids, Lansing and other cities.

BIGGEST educational problem is also an old one. Teachers and their salaries. Although pay in many areas is fair, average salary for all school teachers in Michigan is only $3,900 per year. This compared with $3,030 starting salary for untrained stenographers under state civil service does not seem an amount to attract people into the teaching profession.

FINANCING schools will be more difficult, too. Mr. Taylor expects about $185 million to be available for school districts this year. That is one million less than last. Michigan's 1,250,000 school children need 45,000 teachers (2,000 more than 1952). Figured on a per student basis, schools must operate on $147 per year, a decrease of $10 as compared to last year.

RESIDENTS must be prepared to hear more and more about education problems. This year's increase of 70,000 students is largely made up of children born since the close of World War II. They mark the first part of an increase which is expected to swell each year. The meeting of this challenge is a primary consideration of leading educators. Even now they point out the inadequacies of schools at all levels from kindergarten to college.

Why Fat Test Varies From Time To Time

"Why does my cows' milk vary in butterfat test from month to month?"

That's a question many dairy farmers ask. The dairy scientists say the variation usually is normal. They cite these examples:

Two weeks after freshening, milk from cows in good condition may test high. This is temporary and generally milk tests least during the first few months of a cow's lactation. Then the test increases. It's usually highest near the end of the lactation period.

Milk usually tests highest during the coldest winter months, then decreases with warmer weather. The test is lowest during June or July or during spells of hot, humid weather. It rises again later until the peak is reached in January or February.

The shorter the time between milkings, the richer the milk. And the completeness of milking affects the test because foremilk often is thin, while stripplings may be very rich.

The fat content of milk from different quarters of the same cow is not constant. Certain breeds give higher fat content milk than others.

Underfeeding tends to increase the test of milk, but it decreases the milk yield to a greater extent.

The SERVICEMAN'S LETTER

Hi Fellas:
 Bob Pearsall and Tuck Thompson, got together over in Seoul a short time ago. Bob has been in the 8th Army Honor Guard but has just been transferred to a jeep patrol. His new address is: Pfc. Robert Pearsall, 668 MP Co. APO 301, c-o PM San Francisco, Calif. Bob, if you get near the Marine Air Base about 30 miles south of Seoul, you will find Wade in or about there. His address is: Cpl. David Wade, MAMS 12, MAG 12 c/o FPO San Francisco, California.

Looking toward the other direction we find that Jim Meredith is leaving for England aboard the USS Markof on the 14th of this month. He expects to be gone about 6 weeks. His wife, Gloria, will stay on in Newport and can be found working in the Office at the YMCA.

Here's a new address for Mike Brennan who is enroute to Japan and possibly Korea. Pvt. Michael T. Brennan, Casual Personnel Section, Poyon Co. 1510, APO 290, c-o PM San Francisco, Cal.

Joe Hammond has been transferred again. He's a LST man now. His new address is: Joseph H. Hammond, FN, BT 3 2nd Div. USS LST 533 c-o FPO New York, NY. Let me know if you ship out, Joe, and we'll put you on the Air Mail list right away.

Speaking of this Air Mail list reminds me that at times I have a feeling that we (that means you servicemen) are not always making full use of the service offered. I often find that a man has been overseas, or on the high seas, for some time before it is reported to me. Especially in the case of you Navy men. If your ship leaves the States, even if for only a week or two, let me know at once. As long as the Service Club is and can continue to afford to send out the Air Mail we might just as well make full use of it. Following is a list of the papers going out to overseas and high sea addresses this week. If anyone knows of addition or corrections to this list I would appreciate your advising me.

Robert Anderson, Norman Beal, Michael Brennan, Donald Brownell, Joseph Chanda, Herbert Chew, Ivan Chew, Claude Crandall, Donald Cutler, Robert Cutler, Leo Danforth, Charles Dufore, Floyd Dufore, Howard Evans, Robert Farmer, Gerald Olson, Delbert Folsom, Brock Peacock, Dale Gee, Robert Pearsall, Earl Hart, Lyle Peck, Vale Keller, Ralph Pollitt, John Keishner, Miles Prevo, Clare Loomis, Kenneth Richards, Fred Looze, Raymond Romback, Richard Lundy, James Russell, Claude McGeorge, Richard Somerville, James McLaughlin, Rodney Steenbergh, Darwin Morris, Duane Thomson, Delwin Morris, Donald Trojanek, Robert Mosher, David Wade, Forest Muma, Robert Whale, Harry Webster, Murray Nelson, Paul Wilson, James Meredith, Glen Young.

Thanks in advance for your cooperation.

A letter from Pete Lundy locates him at Camp Sasebo, Japan expecting shipment to Korea soon. He writes, "I guess it's time to drop you a few lines to let you know where I am. I'm in Camp Sasebo, Japan. It's awfully hot

"Well Jake, I'll bet the news sounded good when they said they had signed the Armistice. It sure sounded good to the soldiers and especially to the GIs who were in Korea; the men on the lines, behind the lines, and the P.O.W.s.

"I've been given my shipping numbers for the 24th Infantry Division and will be shipping sometime soon — don't know just when.

"I guess I'll close for this time and will let you know when I move to Korea. Tell the fellows to write once in a while. Pvt Richard Lundy, Prov Co SE 1483, APO 2 c/o PM, San Francisco, California.
