Where The Money Goes

We have state sales tax collection figures for Charlevoix and Emmet counties covering last June. These figures should be mighty interesting to folks in this area.

Population for Emmet county is given as 16,534; and Charlevoix county, 13,475. There are 3,059 more people in Emmet than Charlevoix county.

The state collected nearly three times the tax in Emmet than Charlevoix county during June from sale of automobiles; nearly three times as much for clothes and more than twice as much for furniture.

But tax collected on food sales was only $2,000 more than in Charlevoix county.

Which means people in Emmet county are just about starving themselves to death to make big automobile, clothes and furniture purchases; or people outside Emmet county are spending their food money at home and making major purchases in Emmet county.

 Mrs. Susan Healey, 73, one of East Jordan earliest settlers, died at the home of her daughter in Grinnell, Iowa, Monday. Her father, Charles Cunningham, a grocer in Lapeer, in 1867 loaded his household goods and grocery stock in vans and with his wife and children started for northern Michigan, locating in Antrim. Two years later the family homesteaded a quarter section southeast of South Arm. A log building contained South Arm's only store. The stock consisted of a single bolt of calico. Groceries had to be carried from Charlevoix, 25 miles away, over rough forest trails.

Nine people knew their multiplication tables perfectly in our first test. They are Peter Knudson, Susie Stinchcomb, John Newman, Mary Porter, Helen Addis, Stanley Bennett, Judy Kotalik, Sharon Sweet and Tommy Healey. Several others missed fewer than five combinations.
We have been working on a poem called, "I Believe in America" by Toni Taylor. We read it and talked about it. Then we drew pictures to illustrate each part of the poem.
The fourteen people who are in the fastest reading group are working independently. They are doing some extra reading in social science, drawing pictures, and writing quizzes. The drawing and written work will be added to their social studies notebooks to be taken home at the end of a unit.

Mary Porter and Gerald Peters are our room representatives in the Grade School Student Council.

We also had our weekly reader test on Monday. This test will help the teacher to place us in the proper reading group.
Mr. Ogden's speech class demonstrated how a discussion should be given. Their topic was "Should Atomic Warfare be Outlawed."
We have been working on discussions in English so we benefited greatly from this discussion demonstration.

ROSE LAKE ROSIE
Here's that fabled wild bunny herself, posing reluctantly for a formal portrait in the hands of a conservation department biologist at Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near Lansing. She has just been released from a live trap, the 51st time captured in the last three years. She has helped game men learn a great deal about food and cover habits of cottontails, the extent of their ranges, physical development and the baby bunny production rate, which for Rosie, has been high. Rosie celebrated her fourth birthday this year, and game men say she is now at least a great, great grandmother.

FOURTH GRADE
Mrs. Nemecek
We had four visitors in our room last week. Tuesday Chris Schroeder's mother and little brother were here and on Friday we were glad to have Charles Gardner's mother and little sister with us.
We are sorry to hear of Billy Dietrich's accident in his home last Friday. We hope he will be able to be back with us soon. We made cards and sent them to him.
We made posters on our bulletin board. Each one tells a good safety or courtesy rule. These rules were made by the boys and girls of our room.
We chose a girl and a boy to represent our room at the grade Student council. They are Josephine Nemecek and Larry Eichelor.
We are enjoying our new subjects, especially the study of our world.
The pretty waxed leaves give our room a cheerful and bright look.

FOURTH GRADE
Mrs. Grace Galmore
Wilburn Hoover, a new boy from Star City, come back Monday. He had been in school with us for about two weeks but left last Wednesday to go to another place.
Our two representatives to the Grade Student Council elected last week are Donna Mary Clark and Roy Dougherty. We think they will have some good ideas as to how to make our school better.
Our new bulletin board display is a three-dimensional harvest scene. Many people in the room helped.
We are trying to make a play out of one of the Dr. Doolittle stories. Friday we worked out part of it.
Mrs. Seiler sent our room a lovely bouquet of zinnias. We wrote a thank you note to her.

ROSE LAKE ROSIE
Here's that fabled wild bunny herself, posing reluctantly for a formal portrait in the hands of a conservation department biologist at Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near Lansing. She has just been released from a live trap, the 51st time captured in the last three years. She has helped game men learn a great deal about food and cover habits of cottontails, the extent of their ranges, physical development and the baby bunny production rate, which for Rosie, has been high. Rosie celebrated her fourth birthday this year, and game men say she is now at least a great, great grandmother.

Wait until a crust has frozen over the ground to mulch your strawberry plants, suggest Michigan State College horticulture specialists. This prevents thawing of the crust and consequent heaving.
A strawberry mulch cuts down cold injury to crowns and roots and delays undesirable early blossoming. That means cleaner berries and fewer muddy spots in the patch later. The specialists recommend a coarse straw that is free from weed seeds for a mulch.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barnett spent the weekend visiting relatives at Muskegon, Sparta and Grand Rapids. His mother, Mrs. Clara Barnette, accompanied them to Muskegon where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Ploughman and family.

Power Company Keeps Word To Lower Its Rates

Some 29,000 electric customers of Consumers Power Company in territory formerly served by the Michigan Public Service Company now pay the same rates as other Consumers customers.

The 29,000 customers are distributed through a sixteen county area that includes Baldwin, Boyne City, Cheboygan, East Jordan, Elk Rapids, Gaylord, Kalkaska, Ludington, Mackinaw City, Manacelona, Northport, Whitehall and many other communities.

They are on the same rate schedules as some 700,000 other electric customers of Consumers Power Company in the lower peninsula of Michigan.

Consumers bought the Michigan Public Service Company three years ago. It announced it would bring electric rates in the area into line with Consumers Standard rates in a series of four reductions beginning in September, 1950 and ending in September, 1953. The changes now in affect complete the adjustment.

East Jordan Aids Child Guidance

The Advisory Board of the Petoskey Child Guidance Clinic is conducting its annual program of raising funds for the current fiscal year. Although the salaries of the professional staff are paid by the State Department of Mental Health, the remainder of the expenses are raised from sources within the area served. This amounts to less than one third of the total budget.

EAST JORDAN HELPS

In the past the funds have been contributed most generously by the boards of supervisors of Charlevoix, Cheboygan and Emmet Counties; the City Council of Petoskey; the boards of education of Boyne City, Charlevoix, Cheboygan (both city and county), East Jordan, Harbor Springs, Petoskey and Pellston; and the Burns Foundation. Although there have been contributions from interested individuals, these have not been solicited since the initial drive to get the clinic started on a sound basis.

For the first time in the clinic's short history the staff is complete. It consists of: Henry G. Zimmerman, Director; Robert Gillespie, Psychiatric Social Worker; Lucrene Warren, Clinical Psychologist; and Paul H. Jordan, M. D., Psychiatric Consultant. They work together as a team to meet the needs of Charlevoix, Cheboygan, and Emmet Counties, and are in the process of expanding to include the counties of Antrim, Otsego and Presque Isle.

1200 INTERVIEWS

The Petoskey clinic is one of 14 such child guidance clinics established throughout the state where children with problems may receive psychiatric, psychological, social, and educational assistance. Last year almost 200 children and their parents were seen for a total of approximately 1200 interviews at this clinic. In addition to this service the staff spoke to 42 different meetings explaining the purpose and function of the clinic.

It is sometimes difficult to measure the success of the work done with individual children but many fine expressions of appreciation and gratitude have been given the staff by grateful parents, teachers, school superintendents and others interested in the health and happiness of children.

During the past year an innovation was started by the Petoskey Clinic which is of particular interest to Charlevoix County. Part of the staff is spending a day a week in Charlevoix to better meet the needs of this area. At the first, space was generously donated in the City Hall, and when it became necessary to make use of these offices for city governmental officials, the city schools made rooms available. Whether or not this service continues on its present basis is entirely dependent on the extent to which it is used.

Any child enrolled in school (or not more than 16 years of age if not in school) is eligible for clinic service. All that is necessary is to obtain permission of the parents or guardian and write or phone the clinic for an appointment time. Because the clinic is financed jointly by the state and community no fees are charged for any clinic service.

EAST JORDAN MEMBERS

The following members of the Advisory Board reside in Charlevoix County: Mrs. Kit Carson and Mrs. Dean Davenport, Charlevoix; Dr. Litzner burger and Mrs. Louise Goodwin, Boyne City; and Mrs. Theodore Malpass and Mrs. Wilbur Robertson, East Jordan.

Young Violinist To Play At Petoskey

The Northern Michigan Community Concert Association will begin its Seventh Season on Thursday night, October 15th with Michael Rabin, violinist at Petoskey high school auditorium.

Michael Rabin is the sensational lad who conquered a continent at his first appearance. When he was only fourteen, he appeared as the youngest soloist ever to be starred on the Telephone Hour, on August 7, 1950. Other great violinists—Kreisler, Heifetz and Francescatti—had been chosen by this famous program, and Rabin joined the Hall of Fame on this occasion.

Before he made his recital debut, in Carnegie Hall on November 24, 1950, two conductors had given their blessing to the young virtuoso.

Set Gaylord Production Meet

Directors of the Gaylord Production Credit Association of Gaylord have set Thursday, November 5th, as the date for the association's annual stockholders meeting.

According to A. J. Townsend, secretary-treasurer, this year's annual session will be of special interest because observation of the 20th anniversary of the production credit system will be a highlight.

The meeting will be held in the VFW Hall at 11:00 a.m. with a business session. Speakers will be announced later.

"I Swallowed The Atom"

In the American Weekly with this Sunday's (October 11) Detroit Times, read "I swallowed the Atom." It's the first-hand story of a man who volunteered as a medical guinea pig, swallowed a radioactive solution and proved that the deadly atom can be a lifesaver. See The American Weekly with Sunday's Detroit Times.

Hugh Graham, A. D. Graham and Mrs. Mary Lord left Monday for Detroit to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Graham.

Mrs. Ruth Moore and Mrs. Vera Gee called on Mrs. Carl Elsworth Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howes and children of Grand Rapids spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson, Sr.

"I Remember Mama" Next Week In Petoskey

The Petoskey Little Theater will open its 1953-54 season with "I Remember Mama" dramatized by John Van Druten from Kathryn Forbes' familiar story, "Mama's Bank Account." Two performances will be given in the High School Auditorium on October 12th and 13th. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

A cast of 22 under the direction of Ross Stoakes, Jr., assisted by Mrs. R. Leo Brown, will bring the appealing story to life. Season tickets are still available from any member of the Little Theater group, or they may be purchased at the door on the night of the play. Single admissions will also be sold, but there is a reduction in price by buying a season ticket.

East Jordan, Boyne City To Meet Under Lights Friday

Coach Saxton's Red Devils will travel to Boyne City Friday night where they will meet their long standing rivals on the Ramblers' own field under lights.

With neither team having won a conference game this year, it looks as though the Red Devils have the edge. Boyne City has lost to Traverse City St. Francis and Mancelona. East Jordan has lost two games and won one.

Mancelona and Charlevoix remain in a first place tie in the Northern Michigan C league.

Mancelona whipped Boyne City, 49-0, and Charlevoix beat Gaylord, 19-0. Harbor Springs topped Pellston, 14-7.

At Mancelona Quarterback Dick Derrer racked up another 24 points and threw one touchdown pass as the Ironmen won their second loop game of the season. Halfback Bill Dalton scored two touchdowns and kicked an extra point and Fullback Earl LeDere and Halfback Don Phillips each scored on line plays to complete the scoring. Boyne City never threatened.

At Gaylord, Halfback Bobo Bennett scored from the seven on a reverse in the first quarter to open the scoring for the Rayders. Tom LaBlance, on a quarterback sneak, accounted for the second tally in the second period, and Fullback Joe McDermott added another in the third period when he went through the line from the 11-yard line. Don Smith converted following the first touchdown.

The other kicks were blocked.

At Harbor Springs, Halfback Leon Sterly scored from the three in the first period, and End Stan Pifer scored on a pass from Quarterback Tom Clark from the 15 in the second period for the Rams. Tackle Rod Pontius kicked the extra points. Glenn Aurrand, Pellston halfback, went over from the four to score the Hornets' only tally with Quarterback Bob Rudy passing to End Harold Drier for the extra point.

Red Devils Whip Onaway, 39-6, In Non-Conference Tilt

The East Jordan Red Devils overpowered an Onaway eleven 39 to 6 to win their first game of the current football season and prove the locals have improved in all departments.

Coach Saxton's men scored in every period with Quarterback Keith Evans scoring 27 points, and halfback Ray Gee and Fullback Bobbie Rombach each scoring 6 points.

Halfback Bobby Danforth set up a touchdown when he intercepted an Onaway pass on the 4 yard line and moved the ball to Onaway's 3 before he was stopped. Evans carried the mail into pay dirt.

Onaway's outfit managed to pick up a score in the final quarter via a line plunge from the 2 yard line.

It was a non-loop game, but put extra fire and determination into the locals who expect to become a greater conference threat as the season progresses.

PETOSKEY . . .

Petoskey's Northmen staged a spectacular recovery to snatch a 19-18 victory from the Cheboygan Chiefs on the Cheboygan field Friday night.

With the fourth quarter well under way and Cheboygan leading 18 to 6, Coach George Schuster's team struck suddenly for two touchdowns and added one extra point for the victory.

Highlight of the game was the 98-yard kickoff return for Petoskey's second touchdown by Don Hufford, unheralded back. He picked up the kick on the Northmen's 2 yard line, started up the center of the field, carefully lining up his blockers. Nabbed early in the run, he squirmed loose and moved to the sideline. Cornered again, he twisted out of a melee and cut artfully right and left as two Northmen knocked down the last Cheboygan men.

GOOD HUNTING—AND BE CAREFUL!

As hunters take to the open fields and woodlands around East Jordan they should take special precautions against starting fires which could destroy not only crops and timber but also the game which they have come to hunt.

The true sportsman, of course, observes all the laws—including the law of common sense. He is careful not only about fire hazards but also about the hunter on the other side of the field or woods, who may not be too careful where and when he shoots. Let good sense go along with good hunting.

LETTER BOX

To All Members of the Ground Observer Corps:

In tribute to the thousands of Michigan citizens, who unselfishly and voluntarily are serving as members of the Ground Observer Corps, the week of October 5 through October 10, 1953, has been officially proclaimed as Ground Observer Corps Week.

In our state more than 13,000 volunteers, at approximately 900 observation posts, stand duty as airplane spotters, scanning the skies day and night for unidentified aircraft which, in these uncertain times, conceivably could be hostile bombers flying from bases overseas to attack our country's great industrial centers.

These volunteers, upon whom our Air Defenses must rely to supplement our radar network in the detection and tracking of low-flying planes, by giving freely of their time and effort, are making a vital contribution to the overall defense of our state and nation.

Every resident of Michigan should be deeply grateful to these patriotic citizens, who in every sort of weather are on the alert for threatening danger, and all our people who are able should volunteer for this most necessary work. Since it is impossible for me to thank all our loyal sky-watchers individually, let me, through this letter, convey to them my personal thanks and the thanks of every citizen of Michigan.

Sincerely, G. Mennan Williams, Governor

New Use For Electricity Can Win You A Free Trip

If you have an idea for a new use of electricity on the farm, you can win a free trip to Michigan State College, says Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

M.S.C.'s agricultural engineering department and Michigan power companies want to give new information to farmers that will help reduce labor and provide more farm income. That's the reason for the free trip award.

Suggestions are screened and the person who sends in the best idea during a month will be a guest of the agricultural engineering department and Radio Station WKAR at the college. There will be dinner at Kellogg Center and a tour of points of interest on the campus, and membership in the "Electriclub."

Do Fall Chores Now, County Agent Advises Farmers

A lot of fall chores need doing around the dairy farm before cold weather really sets in, says Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Rehman passes along these reminders from George Parsons, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. They include some of the activities that are going on right now at MSC dairy barns.

Clean the drinking cups. They get filled easily with hay, straw, grain and small pieces of corn cobs. A cow needs plenty of water.

Take a look at the stanchions. Maybe you need to put in some bolts where baling wire had to suffice during the busy summer.

Wash the windows—especially the inside. Replace the panes that were casualties from the pranks of the grandchildren last summer.

Fix that balky door. Sometimes a barn settles and affects the working of the door. And fix loose boards around the barn.

If the bull pen needs redecorating, it's a lot easier now to dig holes and drive spikes than it will be during a February gale.

Unfrost the outside of light bulbs — wash off the fly spray and fly specks.

Get a bag of ready-mix cement and seal up rat holes and broken places around the stanchions and walls. Do it before the cows are in all day and all night.

Charles Stanek Adds Purebred Bull To His Herd

Charles Stanek, East Jordan, has added to his herd by the purchase of Rainbow Melody Bates 4th, a red yearling bull, from Floyd and Hattie Scott, East Jordan.

The new animal is a purebred Milking Shorthorn and the record of the transfer of ownership has been made by the American Milking Shorthorn Society at Springfield, Missouri.

If you're painting the outside of a house, don't begin painting in the morning until the dew has dried from the surface. Then follow the shade, if possible. It's easier on you — and on the paint.

STRAIGHT FROM THE FIELD

FARM GOSSIP COLUMN

What are Michigan farmers now paying for hired help? We contacted 721 farm operators throughout the state, and here's what we found out.

While 77 percent of the operators hired labor in addition to that furnished by their own families, only 40 per cent of these farmers paid total wages amounting to more than $200 a year. Of those farmers paying at least $200 a year or more for non-migrant labor, about one-half hired on the hourly basis. About one-third hired by the month. The remaining hired by the day or week.

Of those farmers who hired by the month, about twice as many paid a cash wage, and provided a house and extras, as those who paid cash and furnished only board and room, or a house and no extras. The dollar-value placed on the extras by farmers averaged $31.42 per month.

The items most commonly provided in addition to a house and a cash wage were as follows: 93 percent furnished milk; 68 percent some meat; 46 percent fuel 12 percent lights and fuel; 29 percent eggs and 17 percent a cash bonus. The amounts of farm produce most commonly reported as being provided were about 200 pounds of beef and pork, 4 quarts of milk daily, and two dozen eggs per week.

Forty-three percent of the farmers who gave a bonus in addition to a monthly wage based it on 3 to 6 percent of the monthly milk check. Other bonuses were paid in lump sum at the end of the year. Twenty eight percent of these were figured at 3 to 5 percent of the net income—while the others were given outright.

The most common basis of hiring labor in all districts of the state was by the hour. Of the farmers who hired on this basis, eighty-one percent paid only cash—while 19 percent, in addition to cash, provided board which usually consisted of a noon meal.

Monthly cash wage rates varied from $100 to $300 and averaged $172.78 for the state as a whole. Hourly rates varied from 75 cents to $1.75 and averaged $1.00 —Karl A. Vary, MSC.

See Big Spud Harvest This Fall

Michigan's potato harvest is heading into full swing with prospects for a bumper crop that must be marketed over several months. Michigan State College farm crops men urge growers to guard profits by careful handling and storage.

Crop reports indicate Michigan will harvest 10,545,000 bushels or 185,000 more than last year—while the national crop outlook in September was 380,926,000 bushels or 33,422,000 more than 1952.

In late crop states like Michigan production is up only 6 1/2 per cent, but the producers' picture is changed. In 1952, early potatoes were in short supply to make a good summer market and aid the fall potato price; this year there has been a plentiful supply of both early and summer potatoes to affect the price tag.

Consumers need potatoes all winter, however, and this long period of marketing will help—if growers use care in handling and storage of potatoes to avoid grading losses.

Growers should use vine killers ahead of digging in the areas where late blight has appeared, and spray the residue with eight to ten pounds of copper sulfate per 100 gallons of water. Dig potatoes on bright days, he advises, and ventilate storage well.

Michigan's production will include a half million bushels of certified seed potatoes, to be listed by Michigan Crop Improvement association later this fall.

Corn Crib Need Air And Proper Drain

Here are some tips on locating your corncrib for this year's crop.

Michigan State College agricultural engineers say the corncrib should be located away from other buildings and should not be near high embankments, tall trees or dense shelter belts. These tend to reduce air movement during drying weather.

To get the most air movement through the crib, the long way of the structure should run north and south. Plenty of air and ventilation are needed if the corn is to dry properly without spoilage.

Another important item, the engineers point out, is to be sure the crib is located on a site that will give plenty of drainage away from the structure. Don't locate the crib on the lower side of a sloping barnyard.

Authorities in the construction field agree that finished basement, with walls and floors in fireproof material like clay tile, is the least likely to be a source of destructive blazes.

Hi Fellas: Don Whiteford joined the Air Force last week and one a few few who passed his examinations at Detroit. He left there for Sampson AFB on September 30. His address at present is: A/B Don Whiteford, 3650 AF Mil Trng Wing, Sampson AFB, Geneva, New York.

Harry Webster writes from Eta Jima, Japan — "I just got my first paper OK and got caught up on the news. I was very surprised to read that Pete Lundy was at Sasebo. The boat he was on came in a day later than the one I came on. The only guy I saw there from home was Mike Brennan so we must have just missed him.

I have just three more days here at Eta Jima to complete the CBR course and then we are on the move again back to Sasebo for shipment to Korea. I sure will be glad to get a permanent station as this moving around from place to place fouls my mail all up and makes everything a general mess. Pvt Harry Webster, Prov Co SE 1534, APO 2, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif."

Roger Benson arrived in Sasebo this past week and at the last word was there awaiting assignment to Korea. His address is: Lt Roger R. Benson, Casual Pts Sec, APO 613, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Here's Bob Saxtons Fort Lee Address: Pvt Robert G. Saxton, Holding and Processing Co., 2nd QM School Regt., Fort Lee, Va.

A letter from Walter Moblo finds him still in Texas: "How's everything up Michigan way? Guess it will be time to go hunting soon. Too bad I can't be there. I have my orders to report to Korea for 12 months duty working with the jet planes. When we return my wife and I plan to come to Michigan and stay awhile. Will see all you guys then. Will you send my paper to the following address and I will send my new address when I get it: A/2c Walter J. Moblo, Box 234, Hole Center, Texas."

After being in and around Norfolk for the major part of his enlistment, Don Dixon is finally being moved to another port. Here's his letter — "I have been on the LST 1071 for the last two weeks for training but we go to New Orleans the 4th of October to get our new LST which will be a little better than the one that Joe Hammond is on.

"We are sitting anchored right now but we go in to the pier sometime Wednesday and get off. My new address will be, c-o Dixon, FP-3, USS LST 1166, c-o FPO, New York, N. Y."

Claude Crandall seems to like this new edition of the paper. "Looks like the paper got a little bigger and better when I got the last one. I am now in love company as a machine gunner. Wouldn't go back to the far east so now I'm stuck in the line company. Just got back from maneuvers near Monte Carlo. 195,000 took part in it. 120,000 Americans and the other personnel were Belgian, French and British. The Monte Carlo lasted seven days with F86 and F84s flying sorties each day.

There is a boy here now from Mancelona. We are getting a lot of men in from Michigan. Detroit and Upper Michigan mostly. The weather has been rainy for four days now here in Bamberg, Germany. So long, Cpl Claude H. Crandall, Co L, 26 Inf Regt, APO 1, c-o PM New York, N. Y."

Saw four servicemen home this past week. Jim Lewis, Rod Gibbard, Bob Haney and Jim Pollitt. Understand that Jim Ruskell is expected home any day. Rod Gibbard finished school at Fort Harrison, Indiana on September 17th and is to report to Camp Kilmer on October 23rd for shipment to Germany through Bremerhaven.

Jim Lewis came home last Wednesday and is to leave for Camp Kilmer this week.

Bob Haney was called home through the Red Cross on emergency leave to visit his brother Fred who is seriously ill in a veterans hospital. Fred had a blood clot in his left leg which had to be passed by operation.

Jim Pollitt is just home from Korea. He will be here on leave until October 25th when he has to report back for 16 months more service. He hopes to be assigned to the Soo for the remainder of his hitch.

Last, but not least in this letter for this week is a note from Pete Lundy over in Japan. "I was reading in the paper where I got with 24th Infantry Division which was in Korea. Well, I'm not in Korea now. We were at Prisoner of War Camp No. 2 at Pusan, Korea and now we have moved out of Korea and are at North Camp Fuji, Japan, a few miles west of Yokohama and 12 miles south of Tokyo.

It may be that you fellows don't get to write to you very often but the paper is really appreciated by all the GIs in Service from East Jordan.

"If I would have got the paper I left Korea and found out that Anderson was at Koji Do I would have gone to see him because it's only 4 hours ride on the boat. But anyway I'm going to Yokohama and try to find Roger Benson and I'm going to try to get down to see Joe Chanda at Camp Jima.

Trout School Opens

A trout "training" program got under way at the conservation department's Oden fish hatchery recently, designed to teach trout how to provide better sport for fishermen and how to survive longer under stream conditions. Here, two members of the Psychological Research Associates, Inc., prepare electrical equipment in one of the hatchery ponds for use in the experiment. The attempt is to teach fish things they should know for survival in the wilds—when and where to feed so as to avoid predators and other enemies. Joseph L.
