School starts 8:50 a.m. September 7th.

Seven new teachers have been hired for the local school including Donald Carey, of Charlevoix, who will be assistant football coach and history teacher.

Supt. E. E. Wade said the school will be dismissed at noon on Tuesday and the afternoon will be used to issue books and arrange schedules.

Agriculture instructor will be Donald Stormer, of Empire, Michigan. Others are: Miss Betty Brooks, of Ellsworth, second grade; Earl Leatherman, of Napoleon, Ohio, commerce; Mrs. Mary Ann Watkins, of Boyne City, English; and Mrs. Frances Bray, of Boye City, 5th grade.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

BY MARSHALL

Checking the city's huge community building behind the post office the other day, we learned two interesting items pertaining to it.

The "fort" (it's made of solid concrete and steel) was built by the government as a WPA project; and since it wasn't finished when the government program ended, special permission was granted to continue the work after all other such federal projects were ended.

When the building was finished, it was discovered that the big cement mixer inside was too large to move through any door. Workers found themselves in more trouble than the man who painted himself into a corner.

Sometimes a woman is known by the company she avoids.

Don't fail to read the "Pedaling Pair" in another section of this issue. Read how the boys run across Bill Malpass, 1500 miles from home.

Being a freakish sort of a cuss we're not adept to being correct 100 percent of the time; and 4,269 1/2 people told us about this last week when we fumbled the date of the boat race on Lake Charlevoix. It is this coming Sunday, not last Sunday as many people now have learned.

And speaking of boats on the Lake here, one of any size always attracts plenty of attention. A huge launch came in last week made a couple of sashays and went on its merry way back to Charlevoix.

A lot of people gaped at it. But there was a time when our harbor was crammed with huge boats and no one gave them a second look.

Back in 1909 East Jordan's harbor shipped out as much rough lumber as any other port in Michigan.

A report back then said: "The coming and going of barges is such a common occurrence that our townspeople take hardly a passing notice of them except our Longshoremen who have axes to grind with them."

In May of 1909 the following boats left East Jordan with about 2,000,000 board feet of lumber:

HOW INDUSTRY COMES

Brief Discussion Here Moves Branch Plant To Indiana

East Jordan was the scene of a discussion on industry recently which resulted in a manufacturing plant being established in Indiana.

Which proves that many big things have their beginning in a small way.

A former East Jordan resident, Tom St. Charles, Jr., was here on vacation. So were two Indiana men, Jim Cagle and John Hines of Terre Haute.

Editor's Note: Here is a story with concrete proof that boosting your home town pays off, and in dollars to everyone. This story proves that residents should speak well of their home town no matter where they may be.

The men were introduced to each other by Postmaster Tom St. Charles, Sr.

And from the discussion which followed Jack's Tasty Snack Corporation of Oneida, N. Y. set up a branch plant in Terre Haute, Ind.

Here's what the Terre Haute Tribune had to say about how that city obtained a new manufacturing plant:

"A new enterprise, Jack's Tasty Snack Corporation, a food industry with home offices in Oneida, N. Y., announced today the opening of a branch plant at 2770 Wabash avenue.

"Back of the official announcement lies the story of two civic minded young Terre Hauteans, whose interest in their home town led to bringing the new industry to the city.

"They are Jim Cagle and John Hines, who while on a fishing trip at East Jordan, Michigan met Thomas St. Charles, son of the postmaster of East Jordan and vice-president in charge of production of Jack's Tasty Snack Corporation.

"In brief conversation which followed at East Jordan, St. Charles made it known that his company, which had been extremely successful in Oneida, was seeking a new location in which to expand. (It had to be in the Middle West.)

"Cagle, who operates a filling station and Hines, who works for Pennsylvania Railroad, began to tell St. Charles the story of Terre Haute.

"As a direct result of their enthusiasm for their native town and their belief in its people and its future and after some correspondence with the chamber of commerce, St. Charles visited Terre Haute.

"Many Terre Hauteans join today in praising Hines and Cagle who through their enthusiastic story of their home town brought a brand new industry to this city."

Fr. Malinowski Takes Part In Dedication

The Very Rev. Joseph J. Malinowski of St. Joseph's Church in East Jordan, took part in the blessing of the Calvary Cross program at the Catholic Shrine at Indian River Sunday, August 22nd.

The 14 ton, 55 foot redwood cross was dedicated and blessed by the Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, bishop of the Grand Rapids Catholic diocese. Placed on a bluff overlooking Burt Lake, the cross is so high it has a beacon on top to serve as a guide for airplanes and boats on the lake.

Built at a cost of $10,000, it was donated by Miller L. Keller, an Indianapolis printing company executive and a non-Catholic. A figure of Christ is planned for the cross and also figures of the Blessed Virgin, St. John the apostle and Mary Magdalene to be placed at the foot of the cross. Marshall Fredericks, well known Birmingham sculptor, has been commissioned to build the figures from iron or bronze.

Local Team Wins Petoskey Tennis Contest

Jerry Dedoes of East Jordan was crowned the champion in the men's singles Saturday night as he defeated Harold Hayner of Petoskey 6-2; 6-2 in the finals of the Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament at the Petoskey Municipal Courts.

Dedoes then took the doubles title with his partner Bob Darbee as they downed W. Granstra and Vic Kishigo of Harbor Springs 6-0; 6-3 to give East Jordan a clean sweep of the men's division.

The boys singles and doubles titles also went to East Jordan as Bob Danforth defeated Tom Gibson of Cadillac 6-3; 6-0 in the singles and the team of Lyle Johnston and Danforth turned back Dick Smith and Mike Lurie of Petoskey 6-2; 6-0 in the doubles finals.

Smith and Lurie had previously defeated Joe Gibson and Bob Hitesman of Cadillac 5-7; 6-3; 6-4 in the semi final earlier in the evening. Smith was playing in place of Bob Woodruff who was sick.

RURAL EDUCATION

Only 7-One Room Schools Left In Charlevoix County

Charlevoix county's seven rural schools will open the day after Labor Day calling about 250 students from summer vacation.

Charles Robinson, county superintendent, reports that all rural school teachers have been hired. Most of them received salary increases this year, he said.

The county's rural schools are at: Norwood, Ironton, Horton Bay, North Bay, Murry School, Bay Shore and Chandler.

The county's rural one-room schools are vanishing in the wake of the consolidation trend.

Some of the seven remaining one-room structures are considering consolidation with nearby schools, Robinson said.

He points out that a rural school cannot operate with less than 10 students.

Work With New Prospects On Possible Location Here

Members of the East Jordan Businessmen's Association will hold their monthly meeting at the Jordan Inn 7 p.m. Tuesday night with discussion centering around the group's current industrial activities.

Board members and committee chairman have increased their industrial negotiations within the past three weeks, working with plant officials.

Currently the board is in negotiation with two different prospects who have expressed desire to investigate East Jordan as a possible city in which to locate.

Rotary To Sponsor Polio Drive

The Rotary Club voted Tuesday to sponsor a Polio Fund Emergency Drive. A quota of $300 was set and a Ways and Means Committee appointed.

Ted Malpass, Chairman of Community Service, will head the drive and will be assisted in planning by Howard Porter, Robert Campbell, Lysle Johnston, Ted DeHaven and Chris Taylor.

Every member of the club is expected to assist in the execution of the plans drawn up by the committee.

Free Ticket

East Jordan high school is conducting a good sportsmanship contest among students.

The prize? A season ticket for all home sports contests this coming season.

The school is looking for the most concise and yet complete definition of sportsmanship. The definition must be turned into Mr. Keith Annear's office where it will be judged by a faculty committee.

The definition must be original and typewritten. Only junior and senior students may compete.

A committee headed by Chris Taylor held meetings with one plant representative last week with negotiations still underway.

For the first time in a year the East Jordan Industrial Development Corporation was called upon to assist with the work of encouraging a prospect.

The corporation meeting was called by the merchant's board of directors when negotiations had developed to the point where the corporation's advice and assistance was needed.

Attending the meeting were: Robert Campbell, Chris Taylor, M. N. McDaniel, Leo Somerville, Clarence Healey, Dr. Van Dellen, Donald Clark, Marshall Sayles, Al Sinclair and Fred Vogel.

The city council held a special meeting Tuesday night in connection with the new industrial prospect.

A second industrial prospect more recently contacted has expressed desire to visit East Jordan in view of checking available manufacturing sites.

Present industrial work has resulted in several meetings, with members showing increased enthusiasm for the city's industrial program.

EDITORIAL NEWS

School News . . .

Michigan State College has just released the findings of a survey conducted to see how Michigan newspapers reported news of local schools

After checking a long list of daily and weekly newspapers the reported showed: Most newspaper space relates to the schools deals with athletics and student affairs.

The vital problems and business of schools have received scant news treatment. The least space is given to telling the public how the children are educated.

For the majority of topics, the content is concentrated in two or three months of the year, which for some subjects is illogical, the report said.

Some newspapers feel, however, that many schools are reluctant to air the business side of the school in public.

Their showing in the park was resuscitated by the closing of the Charlevoix County Fair.

During the war, while the Fair was closed, 4-H'ers annually displayed at the picnic. All the exhibits will be judged and ribbons awarded.

Exhibits are to be in place by 10:30 a.m. 4-H clubs are urged to plan a club picnic dinner.

South Arm Farm Bureau

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Partee entertained the members of the South Arm Farm Bureau for the August meeting.

"Farm Inheritance" was the discussion topic. Every year in Michigan, farms are lost to farm families because of a lack of proper preparation for inheritance. The group was of the opinion that wills, deeds and insurance policies should be checked to see that everything is in order.

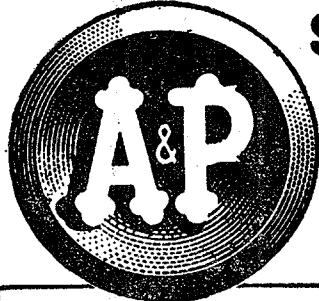

Alston Penfold was guest at this meeting. The September meeting will be at the Del Ingalls home and there will be an election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kamradt and family of Traverse City, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kamradt of East Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stolfa of Brookfield, Illinois, called at the August Bulman Home Thursday evening in celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gilkerson and daughter, Kay, and grandchildren, Judy and Claud, called on Mrs. Rose Duplessic in Charlevoix Sunday.

A CITY IS BORN

48 Voters Make History In Rip Roaring Snow Storm

A February snow storm decided the fate of East Jordan back in 1911. There had been much discussion in South Arm Township about the village of East Jordan becoming a city. The fat was chewed for many a day.

Then at least, South Arm decided to hold a public vote and see if its residents wished to incorporate with East Jordan as a city. Election day was not the only thing that arrived; for with it came a severe February storm, an old-fashioned blow.

So fierce was the storm that only 258 turned out to the polls instead of 500 or so voters.

After the snow had cleared and the votes were counted 153 wanted to live in a city, while 105 wished to remain in the township.

As a result, East Jordan became a city by the will of 48 voters.

If there had been no storm, East Jordan may have become a city and it may not have.

And then came the great day. The first city election. It was held July 24, 1911.

Voters had to elect a city commission and to approve the brand new city charter.

The charter, the same one used today, was passed, 315 to 64.

Ora D. Cleveland beat A. E. Cross at the polls to become East Jordan's first Mayor. He won 210 to 158. Cleveland was general manager of the East Jordan Cooperage Company.

Cross was already in office as president of the village and looked forward to becoming first mayor of the city.

Again the weather had something to do with the election. While the people voted, a heavy rain and windstorm was attacking the village.

Following the election the new council held a series of rapid meetings.

Following the first meeting the councilmen, city employees and members of the charter commission went over to Taylor's Inn where a victory party and banquet was sponsored by the new mayor.

The mayor named the following city workers: Otis J. Smith, clerk; C. C. Mack, treasurer; Henry Cook, chief of police; Eugene Adams, fire chief; Dr. Frank Ramsey, health officer; city attorney, E. N. Clink.

The council felt it necessary to appoint a policeman to work under the chief. They named Thomas J. Smith. He got no salary but was paid whenever it was necessary for him to carry out his duty as a police officer.

City officers were paid annually as follows: Clerk, $300; treasurer, $300; police chief, $900; city attorney, $100; health officer, $75; and fire chief, $50.

One of the first official acts of the new commission was to vote to extend the time for collecting city taxes for 30 days.

All this took place 43 years ago.

Now, after nearly one half century, the city council is working toward the possibility of revising its city charter.

A revised city charter must have the vote of the people of East Jordan—wind, rain or snow not withstanding.

Many a candidate has been elected and many a proposed measure has failed because of the weather on election day.

After all, a city was born during a rip roaring snow storm.

Pedaling Pair Meet E. J. Friends In Colorado, 1500 Miles From Home

The last of a series of articles concluding the bicycle tour of the Pedaling Pair, Parker Seiler of East Jordan and Lyn Neal of Muskegon.

Although much of western Colorado is arid high plains and plateaus and the eastern portion is part of the Great Plains, there is a wide strip through the middle called the Rocky Mountains. Leaving Steamboat Springs, a little resort town so named because it once was the sight of springs which chugged like a steamboat, we entered this Rocky Mountain area.

For ten miles we had a real struggle with the grades as we climbed up into the beautiful pine-studded mountains and reached Rabbit Ears Pass. The pass is located on the Continental Divide at an elevation of 9,680 feet.

It was a wonderful coast down the other side, but we knew we still had a higher pass to conquer. We descended to 7,322 feet and spent the night camped by the mighty Colorado River, which is smaller than the Jordan at this point.

When we told folks of our intention of riding through Rocky Mountain National Park, some shook their heads and said something like, "Do you know what you're doing?" "Trail Ridge is low gear for cars," or "You won't be able to get enough air at that altitude," etc.

I'll admit they had us wondering, but we still wanted to try.

Near West Entrance a sight seeing bus jammed with tourists turned out to be the Malpass station wagon with Bill and Mary Glenna, Carolyn, Billy, Susy and Freddie Malpass and Julia and Charley Stuart.

It is fun to meet one's next door neighbors 1500 miles from home! After picking up the latest home town news and conversing a while we continued—convinced that if Bill could make it over the mountain with that load, we should be able to pedal it!

After camping (and shivering) at the 9,000 foot level, we hit the "big boy" in the morning when we were fresh. We were actually amazed at the ease with which we climbed over 10,759 foot Milner Pass. This marks the seventh time we have crossed the Continental Divide on bicycles.

We were offered a ride in a pickup. The driver said, "You still have a long way to go!" We turned him down as we have many others, for we have never "hitched" a ride while on any of our bicycle tours.

When we reached the timberline (about 11,000 feet at this latitude) we began to notice the wind was stronger and the air was thinner. At Fall River Pass, still higher, we puffed to a stop by the museum. The presence of our cycles at such an altitude caused a stir among many of the tourists and our picture was taken by at least a dozen. We could have answered questions there all day for people were genuinely interested and seemed amazed that we had come from San Francisco and pumped all the way up these mountains.

We have been asked questions all over the country but never have we been swarmed by so many adults as at that point in the high Rockies. We can now an (Continued on Page 7)

Hunters Need Early License For Special Deer Season In This Area

Applications to hunt in Michigan's special one-day any-deer season on December 1 in the northern lower peninsula will have to be filed before the hunter knows if he will get his buck during the regular season, H. D. Ruhl, chief of the conservation department's game division points out.

"There was no other way we could do it," Ruhl says. The job of collecting and sorting the applications and of drawing and distributing hunting permits, he notes, must be done in time for sportsmen to make their fall hunting plans.

"The job is just too big to be done any later than the October deadline," he adds.

However, if the hunter gets a special season permit and then also gets a buck during the regular season, the permit automatically becomes invalid; each hunter is allowed only one deer per calendar year, regardless whether he takes it in the archery, regular or special season.

Applications for permits for the special season are in process of being printed now and are expected to be available from the state's 4000 license dealers sometime early in September. The application forms must be filled out and postmarked not later than October 10. Successful applicants will be notified after the planned October 20 drawing.

Longer Rainbow Season Underway September 1st

The extended fall rainbow trout season gets underway September 1 on a large number of lakes and streams and will continue through the end of November, the conservation department reports.

The regular trout season is open on designated lakes and streams until September 12, but the extended season opens a large group of other waters for the months that rainbows are in migration.

Waters in 61 counties, in addition to most Great Lakes waters will be open for the fishing. Certain Dickinson, Isabella and Livingston county waters will be open to the fall fishing this year for the first time, and the total statewide list includes about 90 streams and about 160 lakes.

Anglers interested in the fall season may request lists of waters to be open from the department's fish division at Lansing, 26, or from local district conservation headquarters offices.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. William Gaunt and children spent Saturday evening with the E. H. Phillips and the Root Williamson families celebrating the anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips.

West Peninsula

The neighborhood was saddened last Friday to hear of the death of Mrs. Addie Barber at the Grandvue Hospital. She will be greatly missed by all. Funeral services will be held Thursday, August 26 at the Presbyterian Church at Boyne City with burial at Maple Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Marie Howe, an old resident of this region died at Detroit last Friday evening. Burial was at Charlevoix where she was buried beside her husband, William Howe, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard and daughter spent the weekend in Flint visiting relatives.

Those vacationing at the Rustan Resort were Mr. Doster and family of Wadsworth, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beadle of Columbus, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Jason Du Palk and son of Flint.

Benny Organie of Boyne Falls was a Sunday caller at the Rustan Resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bennett and family and Mr. and Mrs. Mae McDonald drove to Rudyard Sunday to spend the day with the Jay Riley family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gaunt Sr., spent Sunday evening with their daughters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crowell.

LIBRARY NOTES

Gifts this week include three books for the children brought in by Mrs. Herman Kamradt,—"The Land of Oz," "Dorothy and the Wizard of Oz," and "Ozma of Oz." Mrs. Kamradt also brought us two books by Mrs. Hill, to replace copies nearly worn out.

Mr. Murdick has brought us 26 pocketbooks, 14 of them Westerns and 11 mysteries, 1 a novel by Wodehouse, author of Jeeves.

Mrs. Veronica Williams gave us 14 pocketbooks, 12 of them Westerns and two mysteries.

We expect to change to the winter schedule on September 8. This means the Library will be open both Wednesday and Thursday evenings that week as well as during the noon hour on Friday, to accommodate the children from the rural areas.

THIS WEEK AT GRANDVUE

Admitted this week were Genevieve Stocum of East Jordan on the 17th; and Marilyn Kunkleman of Boyne City on 20th who gave birth to a baby on the 21st.

Notes

By C. Fairman

Thursday, August 26, 1954 * East Jordan News-Herald * Page 7

In regards to peaches and our experiments of spraying with arsenate of lead this year, we would say not to use it in any mixture nor any amount, especially on peaches.

And also be careful of the drift with the wind when spraying other fruit trees. While we used arsenate of lead on only a few trees, the results were bad.

We are receiving many cards and inquiries in regards to many of the older varieties of peaches such as Rochester, St. John, Crawford, etc. These old and good varieties are replaced by the Red Haven, Fair Haven, Hale Haven, Kal Haven, etc. This will answer many of the inquiries.

We have had favorable winters for peaches for a good many years although many orchards in the southern part of the state were frozen out a few years ago. Peaches stand the spring frosts and freezes but do not stand mid-winter temperatures such as 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

participate most of the questions which will be asked. Most boys must know, "How fast will they go?" Usually we are asked many questions about our bikes and we can be sure to be asked, "Where are you from" and "Where are you going?"

Some folks wish to know why we do it, and many assume we are college students. Occasionally we are asked, "Are you married?" to which we reply, "No, that is why we can travel this way." We are sometimes asked, "What kind of mileage do you get?" We have a ready answer, "About 100 miles to the gallon of milk!"

Still we gained altitude and the wind increased its fury. We had to stop each few hundred yards toward the last, but finally we reached 12,183 feet, which is the highest point on a through highway in the United States. It was a thrill!

Short of time and money, we did not cover the park well but coasted on down the eastern slope and it was a thrilling ride through beautiful scenery and past awe-inspiring viewpoints.

We passed several cars on the winding road, for you see, we can take the corners on two wheels!

Western Colorado is in the Uranium Rust belt and the northeastern part of the state may develop into a great oil center. Underlying Colorado are coal beds huge enough to supply the world for 1,000 years! With several rich agricultural districts and good hunting, fishing, skiing and resorting spots with a great mountain area tourist trade, the Colorado folks seem to have their share.

We carry a tent, blankets and air mattress and usually camp out. Sometimes we stay in hotels or motels if camping isn't convenient, but in Akron, Colorado we tried a new twist and slept in the rodeo grandstand. It was fortunate we had a roof over our heads for it rained most of the night.

We won't go into detail, but we have had more tire trouble this summer than the 4 other years combined. This is because we let our dealer talk us into using sew-up racing tires instead of our old reliables.

Yes, we have had troubles, but those many smooth days when we are pedaling along America's scenic highways, we would not exchange places with anyone!

miles from the Nebraska line and since we didn't have a good spare, he put on one with a slow leak. By stopping every 5 miles and pumping up the tire, he was able to limp 30 miles into Nebraska and we concluded our 2,000 mile tour at Benkelman.

We have now toured 21,000 miles on bicycles through a portion of 39 states, Canada and Mexico. We feel that we gain a more accurate picture of our nation at 15 miles per hour than do most speeding motorists. We have seen many beautiful and wonderful spots throughout America and we have met many friendly and interesting people through our method of travel. Bicycle tourists enjoy a healthy appetite and sleep like a log, but perhaps the best ad for our sport is the final statement—

"Our bikes are not for sale!"

Get the FACTS about—
FOOD FREEZERS

Freezing at low temperatures (0° F. and colder) is the easiest, fastest, most satisfactory method of food preservation.

In flavor, color, and texture, frozen foods are superior to most foods preserved any other way.

There is little or no loss of vitamins or food value through freezing. Low temperature freezing controls harmful organisms that might cause spoilage or food poisoning.

Nearly all kinds and types of foods can be frozen satisfactorily. All fruits and berries, vegetables that are cooked before eating, meats, poultry, game and fish, bread, pies and cake, ice cream and all dairy products . . . these and many other foods can be frozen and kept at top quality in today's Modern Electric Food Freezers.

G. I. NEWS

Page 8 * East Jordan News-Herald * Thursday, August 26, 1954

Hi Fellas:

There were no letters this week but we have a few changes of address. Gerald Evans, while still being with the 7th Infantry has a change of duty within. His new address is: Cpl Gerald E. Evans, 7th Infantry Division (Rear), Comdt. Section, APO 7, c-o PM, San Francisco, California.

Carl Decker and August

Schultz arrived in town this past week. Carl has a 30 day leave but thinks he will not stay out the whole time. Nothing to do he says. August Schultz has 17 days. They both are going back to the same base. Carl is a B-47 mechanic and August is at present working on trainers.

Paul Wilson's paper is being discontinued this week. He will be starting for the States on September 1st.

Larry Streeter should be back on duty at his new base by now. His new address is: A-1c Lawrence E. Streeter, 318 Ftr Sq, Presque Isle AFB, Presque Isle, Maine.

A letter came this week from Leonard Lick, Jr. from Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois.

Hi Jake, I have enjoyed your paper, but will be shipping out before long. I have just about completed my course in electronics. My guess is that they will probably send me overseas. Will notify you when I get to my next base.

I have hoping they will give me a leave before I go.

I guess Don Whiteford has started school down here. He is in electronics also and lives in the next squadron over. This electronics course is a 125 day tech school, and it teaches as much as a college student has in 2 years. So it should be of some use to us when we get out.

Bye, Leonard Lick, Jr.

As I told you last week, this will be my last letter to you men. I want to say that it has been a great pleasure to know all of you through the letter. It has given me quite a thrill to get letters from you wherever you were all over the world. Just remember this, the paper will continue to come to you as before. I understand that Mr. and Mrs. Sayles are going to continue to enter your letters in the paper as you write them in. So keep those letters coming. Let the home folks know where you are and what you are doing. So for the last time, I'll say "So Long." Take care of yourselves and may God continue to bless you and keep you safe.

Your Friend,
"Jake" Snyder.

That was the first week of the shipping season.

Next Sunday, 45 years later, there'll be a boat race in the same harbor now bare of commercial ships and visitors from northern Michigan will come along to have a look.
