OVER THE BACK FENCE

BY MARSHALL

The first man to slide a fish shanty onto the ice of the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix will get a free subscription to the News-Herald. The person claiming the award must have at least one eye witness vouch for him. We said one eye witness not one eyed.

We don't expect anyone to report for the award for a couple of weeks yet. And remember, the South Arm doesn't run all over Charlevoix county. It quits somewhere this side of the Iron-ton Ferry. That will be the boundary line for this highly unusual and worthwhile contest.

Speaking of contests we read an article sometime ago which gave a run down on people who had won large amounts of money in various nation-wide contests.

It was a national survey telling "what happened afterward." Everything happened. Some couples couldn't agree what to do with the money and the argument ended in divorce. Some winnings broke up whole families. Other winners were immediately sued. Many winners were so beset by salesmen they feared for their sanity. After paying taxes and lawyers some winners wished they'd never seen a contest.

So take it easy with this fish shanty contest deal. We don't want to start something.

There's a string of people in town as long as your arm and down to the little finger who haven't got their deer yet. Some of them at random are Frank Strehl, Harry Simmons, Vern Whiteford, Bud Hite etc. etc. etc. Most have the same answer: "Oh, I'm going back out again."

If it turns out that one of them have got their deer when this is published there will be all kinds of heck to pay.

A little boy up at the school told the teacher he couldn't bring his report card back just yet. He explained that he got an A this semester and the folks hadn't quit mailing it around to relatives.

Someone dropped an extra large sized coter pin in the flower collection at Rotary. But-tons we can understand, but what's with this coter pin stuff?

As the winter winds blow and the streets get icy, remember. Drive carefully; don't insist on your rites. (We're stealing some of this stuff from a book.)

Einstein never should have made that statement about his wanting to be a plumber rather than a scientist. Newspaper columnists from Calif. to Whitefish Bay pounced upon it and made funny statements.

Happy Thanksgiving to you!

New Employment, Building Hikes East Jordan Payrolls

MISS EILEEN LAGEER, missionary from Nigeria will be the first speaker at a weekend Missionary Convention to be held at the United Missionary Church beginning Friday night, November 26th.

The Saturday night speaker will be Rev. Edward Benedict, missionary from India. He will be showing slides of the work there. For the Sunday morning service at 11 a.m. Miss Ethel Young, missionary from Egypt will bring a missionary message. The closing service of the convention will be held on Sunday night with Mrs. Mabel Umel, missionary from Nigeria, speaking. The evening services will be held at 7:30 p.m. November 28. Everyone is welcome.

Pick Kings At Annual Hunt Parties

Mayor Chris Taylor crowned two King Deer Hunters at annual hunting parties last week. Judges chose Clarence Reich-enback, of Wyandotte as king of the Hunters Ball at Cal's Tavern.

At the American Legion's annual party Harry Goodman, of Highland Park, son in law of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saxton, was named king of the hunters.

Industrial Notes Ready Next Week

The East Jordan Industrial Development Corporation announced this week that promissory notes for the East Jordan Businessmen's Association industrial project are available.

Corporation treasurer Robert Campbell said those entitled to the notes may pick them up at the State Bank next Monday or Tuesday, November 29th and 30th.

Campbell said one year's interest on the notes is due and payable January 1, 1955.

Checks for the interest will be mailed to note holders on January 1st, he said.

City Mourns Mr. Swoboda's Sudden Death

East Jordan residents and many northern Michigan businessmen mourned the sudden death Sunday of William Joseph Swoboda, Sr., 63-year old manager of the East Jordan Cooperative Company's gasoline distribution station.

Mr. Swoboda died from a heart attack at his home about 10:30 Sunday night.

Mr. Swoboda was an employee of the East Jordan Cooperative Company for the last 25 years making many friends throughout the north.

He was born January 11, 1891 in Jordan Township, Antrim County, where he lived on his parents' farm until he married Florence Mosier at Marquette City in 1912.

The couple moved to East Jordan in 1922. The present home address is 516 Main street.

Mr. Swoboda, who leaves his wife and one child, William Jr., was a member of the Catholic Church.

He also leaves one grandchild, two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Joe Nemecek, Sr., of East Jordan; Mrs. R. J. Corrin, of Coronado, Calif.; John Swoboda, San Diego, Calif.; Leo Swoboda, also of San Diego.

Services were held 9 a.m. November 24th at the St. Joseph Catholic Church with Very Rev. J. Malinowski officiating.

Relatives and friends coming to East Jordan for the services were: Mrs. Joseph Stanek, of Lansing; Mrs. Otto Mosier, of Flint; Jack Stanek, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cox, of Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanek, also of Lansing.

Bearers were: William Stanek, Joe Nemecek, Jr., Robert and Jack Stanek, Francis Nemecek and Orville Cox.

Burial was at Calvary cemetery.

Jack Zoulek, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zoulek of Rt. 1, East Jordan, was named as an outstanding lineman among teams in station WWTW's listing area.

Zoulek is a 175 pound senior and a top student in the East Jordan FFA activities.

He has earned three football letters as a Red Devil guard and one for track.

Flash Fire Tuesday At Duck Inn

The fire department was called to the Duck Inn about 12 o'clock Tuesday night after the alarm was turned in by Night Patrolman Joseph Wilkins who spotted a flash blaze coming from the corner of the roof.

Firemen reported in less than 10 minutes and in the meantime hand fire equipment got the blaze under control.

It was reported that over head wiring from a sign caused about $100 in damage. It was the second night building fire in East Jordan in nearly four years.

Iron Works Expansion Will Bring More Production Contracts

Construction has started on a $40,000 expansion program at the East Jordan Iron Works, Ted E. Malpass said this week.

The firm which is one of the oldest in northern Michigan, is installing more modern operations to meet competition, Malpass said.

The new project will include a structure 74 feet wide, 136 feet long and 65 feet high. It is being constructed with steel and concrete block.

THE NEW building is under the direction of construction foreman Cecil Murray and T. D. Malpass, engineer.

It was said the foundry will install sand conditioning and production centers which will eliminate the shoveling of molding sand. Much of the new operation will be above the height of the present buildings.

PTC To Hold Third Meeting December 1st

The East Jordan Parent-Teachers Club will hold their third meeting of the year Wednesday, December 1st in the high school gym beginning at 8 p.m.

The program will include a panel discussion made up of high school students with Mr. Gillespie of the Petoskey Child Guidance Clinic serving as moderator. The topic for discussion will be "What we need to develop healthy personalities."

Refreshments will be served.

Expect Biggest Turnout For Second Annual Gathering

Officers of the East Jordan Businessmen's Association are making big plans for the group's second annual meeting at the American Legion Hall, 7 p.m. next Tuesday night.

On that date, November 30, the association completes two full years of operation.

In addition to the group's annual election and yearly reports of activities, members will hear a short address by Lawrence Lind, of the Western Michigan Tourist & Resort Association, Grand Rapids.

Coinciding with the annual meeting date, promissory notes will be issued to those taking part in the association's industrial project.

Report 33 Deer Killed This Season

Thirty three successful deer hunters in the East Jordan area have been reported to the News-Herald so far.

They are:

CHRIS TAYLOR, 8 pts. 151.49517 lbs.

Ed Portz, 165 lbs., 6 points (Canada); Howard Pinney, 8 points, 113 lbs.; Joe Haney, 5 points; Max Damoth, 93 lbs., 2 points; Stanley Scott, 167 lbs., 10 points; Bob Humphrey, 130 lbs., 8 points; Fred Eichler, 113 lbs.; Glen Campau, 113 lbs., spike.

Ronald Green, 8 points; James Ahlberg, 2 points; Roy Elsworth, spike; Jerry O'Brien, 7 points; Jack Brown, 6 points, 150 lbs.; John Umlor, 4 points, 150 lbs.; Earl Leatherman, spike; Dick Shaw, 8 points.

Phil Gothro, 4 points; George Stanek, 5 points; Russell Gee, 120 lbs., spike; Archie Kidder, 4 points, 115 lbs. and Harold McDonald, 6 points, 90 lbs.

The notes will be issued by the East Jordan Industrial Development Corporation, Monday and Tuesday. Interest payments will be issued January 1st.

The group will elect five members to the board of directors. After the election the new board will name its own chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer.

MEMBERS WILL hear a report on the increase in business, industrial and residential construction and activities covering the past two years.

A round-up report will be given on East Jordan's tourist park and a yearly treasurer's report.

Members now holding office are: Chairman Fred Vogel, vice-chairman Elgy Brintnall, secretary Marshall Sayles and Treasurer Minnie DesJardins.

Other board members are Merritt Shaw, Robert Strehl, Bill Huckle and Basil Cummins.

The nominating committee for next Tuesday's election is made up of Chairman Dr. George Bechtold with Dr. David Pray, Dr. John Savory and Dr. J. Vanden.

THE ASSOCIATION'S board of directors will meet at the city hall Friday night with the nomination committee to prepare for the annual meeting.

COMING EVENTS

FFA News

The East Jordan FFA chapter is engaged in many projects. One of the money raising projects is the cutting of pine boughs to be sent to Boyne Falls. And the work program in classes is nearing completion. Farm Shop boys are making many useful objects such as a loading chute, wagon, stove, boat, etc.

There were many entries from East Jordan in the potato and apple show at Petoskey.

$10,000 In Yule Checks Mailed Here

Checks amounting to $10,000 are being distributed this week by the State Bank of East Jordan to about 180 members of the bank's Christmas Savings club.

This represents a gain of about two thirds over last year.

Robert Campbell said the plan is enthusiastically received by members and also merchants. are pleased that the amount is saved for holiday shopping.

Campbell said a new club is being formed for next year and members will save from 25c to $5.00 per week for the next 50 weeks.

It's A Girl!

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Snyder are announcing the birth of a daughter, Linda Jane, weighing seven pounds and fifteen ounces, Monday afternoon, November 22 at the Charlevoix Hospital. Both mother and daughter are in good health.

Thanksgiving Sermonette

BY
REV. DALE LARSON

I have yet to meet a person who didn't have something for which to be thankful. However, I have met many people who are under the impression they have nothing for which to be thankful. They are usually those who think that they can be thankful only when they have a superabundance of material things.

Do you recall the circumstances out of which our present Thanksgiving Day grew? A fatigued and wearied group of colonists decided they had much to be thankful for, despite the fact that since their arrival to the New World, America, they had experienced little else but poverty, disappointment, suffering, illness and death.

It's strange, isn't it, that the Pilgrims could set aside a day in which to thank God for their blessings, when apparently they had considerably more for which to be miserable, unhappy, and dissatisfied? It's strange, too, but the people I've met in life who are the happiest and most content are those who apparently possess the least of material goods. Maybe it's because they know fundamentally that God's blessings have little to do with things, circumstances, or wealth.

Show me a person who is happy and content, and I'll show you a person who is appreciative of God's blessings. It's that kind of a person who can say with the Apostle Paul, "For I have learned, in whatever state I am, to be content. I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound; in any and all circumstances I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and want. I can do all things in Him who strengthens me."

Don't sit around waiting for something for which to be thankful. It's like searching for a tree in a forest. There is so much God has blessed you with that it may be difficult to single out any one particular thing. You have loved ones, friends, schools, churches, and the most wonderful country in the world in which to live. Even if you may be faced with adverse circumstances, even if there is much in your life contributing to your misery and unhappiness, surely you can't discount the many blessings God still imparts to you daily. It could be worse, you know—a lot worse. Things will never be better than when you realize there is so much to be happy about and so much for which to thank God.

In The Cause Of Peace, by Trygve Lie, the story of the United Nations during the first seven years when Mr. Lie was serving as the Secretary-General one of the most responsible positions in the world.
The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill, by Herman Hagedorn, takes the reader right into the lovable family of Teddy Roosevelt, one of America's greatest personalities.
Home on the Bear's Domain, by Martha Martin, is another true family story, under vastly different circumstances. This family lives in Alaska and life is rugged but they find great happiness together and share it with two little Yugoslavian children.
He Was Not My Son, by Madeline Joys, is the true story of the accidental switching at the hospital of two babies, one of whom is twin to another child who lives in the same town. It is seven years before the mistake is found out in spite of the fact that the twins do not look alike nor have similar traits. When it is finally proved they are not twins, the separation is heart-breaking for both families involved.
Islands Apart, by A. P. Ryan, is the story of Ireland from St. Patrick to DeValera, the complex, fascinating problems of religion, politics and economics, the rich variety of life and all told with spirit and wit by an author who has no axe to grind, so can tell the tale with objectivity.
The White and the Gold, by Thomas Costain, is a history of Canada under the French regime. This is the first of a number of volumes planned to cover all the history of our neighbor country, and to be written each by a different author, but under the general editorship of Mr. Costain.

FIRST GRADE Marion Brooks

We wish you all a very happy Thanksgiving Day and hope you will see us as little Pilgrims in the Thanksgiving assembly. We made some Pilgrim log cabins.

We made clay animals like Dick, Jane and Sally did in the story, "We Make Something."

We are enjoying morning milk in our room now. Some days we are treated with cookies or crackers by one of the children.

Lennie Thomas brought her kitten, Blackie to school on Friday afternoon. We let it walk around the room, everywhere it wanted to. It walked across our tables, played with the plants in the sand box, then curled up in a little upside down chair and went to sleep. While Blackie was exploring our room, Mrs. Brooks read us a story that told us how to take care of cats and to make them comfortable and happy.

SECOND GRADE Agnes Johnston

Glenda Knudson and Fred Malpass will represent us on the Grade School council.

We are busy learning how to write letters. Last week we wrote a letter to Mrs. Liskum and her second grade accepting an invitation to their room to see a play and hear them sing a song. The play was very interesting to us since we had read and played the same play in our room. This was a Weekly Reader play and it was very entertaining and fun.

We contributed $2.25 to the Junior Red Cross drive which ended Monday. Most of us received pins to wear.

Last Friday, we helped Kathy LaPeer celebrate her birthday. Kathy's mother treated us to delicious cup cakes. Monday Billy Murray and James Barnard celebrated their birthdays. Mrs. Murray and Mrs. C. Healey served us delicious cake and ice cream. We were happy we could help our class friends celebrate their birthdays. We made cards for Kathy, Billy and James.

FIRST AND THIRD GRADES Adelyne Bowerman

This week we are summarizing the work we have had during the last five weeks.

The first graders have completed their first three pre-primers and the workbook to go with them and a supplemental reader "Guess Who." In a word test, nearly everyone knew most of the 58 sight words we have had. In numbers we know to tell which is more and less, the meaning of numbers, how to make the "teens" and the numbers by 10's to 100.

The third graders are improving greatly in "story problems," knowing whether to add, subtract or column addition. We are working each day on speed in addition combinations and following Thanksgiving vacation we will concentrate on subtraction. In spelling, we compared our second six week weekly marks with those of the first period and nearly every one noted improvement.

SIXTH GRADE Alma Larsen

Today we saw a movie called "The New Paul Bunyan." It showed how machinery is used to cut down forests.

The sixth grade boys started gym classes to day under the direction of Mr. Saxton.

Tuesday, we went to Petoskey to see a play "Little Women" It was very good.

My cousin visited school this week. Her name is Bonnie Lou Hazelmeyer. She lives in Muskegon.

Nematodes or root louse on young fruit trees:
I have one lousy cow, but when spring comes, she goes down among the cedars and the lice disappear.

A portion of young fruit trees are either stunted in winter storage cellars, in transportation, or the roots are hit by sun or wind at planting time. And often they are planted too late in the spring and hit a dry time before much growth starts.

These weak trees are easy prey for root louse. Now and then a poor type of soil will be in the hole.

Use a good quality of black soil to pack around the roots. Each tree should be hand hoed during May and June. Have your trees arrive in the fall and single them out in a deep trench and fill with earth. They should be in a protected spot.

Plant very early in the spring while it is cool and wet. The fast growing tree will not be affected by nematodes.

that challenge Man's faith, in the light of the Apostles' Creed.

Your Horse, by Dr. Saunders is an absolutely up-to-date manual for the horse owner who must care for his own animal, and it covers just about every problem the horse or pony owner will meet.

In Darkest Childhood, by Richard G. Hubler, is the account of a father's struggles to raise two little sons alone. It is warmly humorous in most parts, and though you may not agree with all his methods, you are sure to be entertained as well as to find food for thought.

Three new mysteries are: A Key to Death, by Lockbridge; The Case of the Restless Redhead, Gardner and The Heard Horse Snickered, by Thomas.

The Deserter, by Lowell Barrington, is the story of a man who served out a seven year sentence in a Disciplinary Barracks, but still claimed his innocence and made every effort to prove it, only to find that the one man who could prove his contentions is now hopelessly insane.

Walk Toward The Rainbow, by John Clayton, is the story of an alcoholic's long fight to conquer his compulsive dependence on drugs and alcohol.

Love Is Eternal, by Irving Stone is the story of the love of Mary Todd Lincoln for her famous husband. It is an attempt to show that Mrs. Lincoln was often unjustly criticized by the President's political opponents, and even by the Northern Press, which made much of her Southern relationship.

To Fame Unknown, by Alderman, is an excellent historical novel of the French and Indian War. Mr. Alderman was compared to Kenneth Roberts by critics when his first book The Arch of Stars, was published, and this book is felt to be another which the Robert's fans will be the first to acclaim.

In My Brother's Keeper, Marcia Davenport poses a riddle; Two brothers men of good family, with a background of cultivation, education and ample means. Living and dying in the squalor of a rotting, tar-infested glory-hole, in apparent poverty but with plenty of money in the bank. Why? How had it all come about? Read it and see whether you agree with Mrs. Davenport.

Books for the young folks: Gabee of the Delta, by Steve Benedict, is the story of a boy and his father who trap in the marshes of the Lower Mississippi, and have many adventures together.

Captive of the Delaware, by Evelyn Nevin, is an Indian story that is based on the truth. Time: two hundred years ago.

William Penn, Founder and Friend, by Virginia Haviland, begins with the boyhood of the great leader in England and Ireland, and follows him through the years in the new land, his friendship with Indians, and his government of Pennsylvania.

The Secret of the Old Sampey Place, by Frances F. Wright, lies in a mysterious brick chimney on the farm Judy's family have inherited, where many very exciting things happen.

All My Love, by Amelia Walden, is a story of College days for a young girl who finds it very different from High School.

Struggle at Saddlebow, by Barlow Meyers, is an adventure story for boys. Sheep raising in Montana, two brothers who do not get along together the truth about the stampede that killed their father, make this story as interesting as it is different from the usual Western.

Cannons over Niagara, by Harriet Hubbell, has hair-raising adventure with a real historical background: Eben escapes from the Indians who have captured him, but finds his father has given up the hunt and joined the Army, and finally he gets there, too, and at last meets his father after a series of thrilling adventures.

Nursing Assignment in El Salvador, by Dorothy Deming, herself a registered nurse, as well as the author of several other nurse stories for the young folks is the book the girls have been waiting for, for sometime, for it tells more about Penny Marsh.

Cherokee Bill, Oklahoma Pacer, by Jean Bailey, is a horse and boy story, along the Kansas-Oklahoma border, when hundreds of eager settlers were living in tents and covered wagons awaiting the opening of the Cherokee Strip.

Wish on an Apple, by Shannon Garst, is the story of the Walker family who travel around wherever there is work for the family helping farmers to harvest their crops but always dreaming of the day when they can have a fruit farm of their own.

Island Summer, by Hazel Wilson, starts with a Colorado family vacationing in Maine. It has everything from Shipwreck to, believe it or not, a Tiger Hunt! Hound Dog Moses and the Promised Land, by Edmonds, is

Farm Bureau To Hold Annual Meeting Sat.

The Charlevoix County Farm Bureau will hold its annual Roll Call Kick-off meeting on November 27th at the Peninsula Grange Hall at 8:30 p.m. starting with a dinner. Wayne Saunders, Chairman of the membership committee, says that he expects a large number of Charlevoix County Farm Bureau members at the meeting.

These folks will be working on the canvass for new members that starts on November 29th. The Charlevoix County goal is 100 new member families. There will be more than 6,000 workers in 64 counties active during this week in this drive. They will seek to raise the membership in the Michigan Farm Bureau to 65,559 farm families.

The speaker for the occasion will be Francis Burt of Lansing. He will speak on the advantages of Farm Bureau as an organization through which farmers can plan and take action together on many questions and projects important to agriculture.

Leslie Sheridan, president of the County Farm Bureau says that for this year is a membership of 100 new families.

The Roll Call manager for this year is Walter Fowler. He is assisted by the following town ship captains: South Arm, Douglas Gilkerson; Hayes, Edward Shanahan; Norwood, John Wieland; Eveline, Ole Nielson; Marion, Franklin Cellner; Melrose, Louis Jones; Chandler, Roscoe Howard; Wilson, Robert Reidel.

Margaret Hebden, Maurice Murphy Married Here

Margaret Marie Hebden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Hebden, Sr. of Central Lake was united in marriage to Maurice Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murphy of East Jordan at the United Missionary parsonage Saturday, November 6th. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Thompson.

The bride chose a winter white rayon faille street length dress, cut princess style. A hat of winter white covered with rhinestones and a matching rhinestone necklace completed her accessories. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations tied with a silver ribbon.

Martha Hebden, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a aqua street length dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

Robert Howard of East Jordan assisted as best man.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue nylon dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue rayon faille dress. They both wore corsages of white carnations tied with white ribbons.

A reception was held at the Echo Township Hall in Pleasant Valley at 8 p.m. The gifts were received and guests seated by the brothers of the bride. The room was decorated in blue and white streamers which centered around a four tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink rose buds topped with a miniature bride and groom. Lighted white tapers were set at each side of the cake. A large white wedding bell hung over the bride's table.

A lunch of sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee was served the 160 guests. The wedding cake was cut by Martha Hebden. The coffee was served by Vale Gee. Others assisting in serving were Mrs. Christopher Hebden, Jr., Mrs. Roy Hebden, Mrs. Jessie Seaton, Mrs. William Hebden and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dennis.

Bride and groom cakes were made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Jesse Seaton.

The couple received many beautiful and useful gifts. The gift list was kept by Mrs. Tony McKenney.

Out of town guests came from East Jordan, Bellaire, Ellsworth, Boyne City, Charlevoix, Freesoil, Lansing and Grand Rapids.

lived in the Hitchcock area for about 50 years, and had many acquaintances in this area. Mr. Shaw spent many years working in Porter's logging camps and the East Jordan and Southern Railroad.

Surviving are four sons, 7 daughters, 41 grandchildren and 28 great grand children. He was the father of two East Jordan residents, Wallace Shaw and Mrs. L. W. Kent.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frank were hosts to the November meeting of the South Arm Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Ed Kamradt gave a very interesting report of the Annual Conference of the Farm Bureau Women at MSC.

Mrs. T. F. French and Mrs. J. M. Ingalls told about the County Women's meetings and the County Board of Director's meeting.

Walter Fowler led in the discussion of the importance of Farm Bureau work and listed the accomplishments of the total state membership and the national organization. Much more may be done for the benefit of farmers if more of them will support the Farm Bureau.

The drive for new members will start November 29th and continue until January 15th.

The group received a letter of commendation from the recent Farm Bureau State President, Carl E. Buskirk for reporting conclusions on all assigned discussion topics.

Little Bruin and Per, story and pictures by Haaken Christensen, is about the same Little Bruin the children already know.

The Sod House, by Coatsworth, is a tale of pioneers who settled in Kansas just before the Civil War. It is written for children from 6 to 8, or older.

900 Buckets of Paint, by Edna Becker, is about an Old Woman, her two cats, (Pansy and Violet) her donkey, (Arthur), and her cow, (Bossy), who have quite a time finding a new home that will suit them all. The 900 buckets of paint help them find just the right house. You'll be surprised, too.

G. I. NEWS

Page 6 * East Jordan News-Herald * Thursday, November 25, 1954

A news release from abroad the USS Columbus with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean tells us that crew members from that ship and others of the Sixth Fleet recently visited Genoa, Italy as the ship's third port of call. While there the men were offered the opportunity of making a three day tour to Venice, almost 200 miles across the country.

Included in the ship's tour party was Earl F. Bowers, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Stucker of Ellsworth. The eight hour train ride from the west coast to Venice carried the tour party through Milan, and across farm lands and thru villages to the bridge expansion that joins Venice to the Italian mainland.

Highlights of the tour were the 883 years old Church of St. Mark, the Palace of the Doges, and the Piazzetta of St. Mark.

From Fort Lewis, Washington we get a change of address from Floyd Detloff. He says: Dear Editor, Well, here's another change of address for you, my third in 5 1/2 months.

They are organizing the 71st Infantry Division here. 34 men from my company are going.

I will still be in the Signal Corps however. I was in a Signal Co. here in the Second Div. and I will be in the 71st Signal Co. also.

You see, there are three forts here actually. North, South and Main Fort Lewis. I have been at Main and am moving to the North Fort. It is about three miles away.

My new address is: Pvt. Floyd L. Detloff, US 55 475 404, 71st Signal Co., 71st Inf Div, Fort Lewis, Washington.

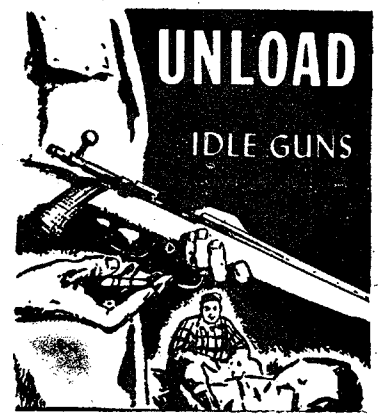

P. S. Why don't some of you bus drivers of the class of '53 drop me a line?

New addresses include the following:

- Pvt. William G. Shaw US 55 474 048 Hq Co 35th Eng (Const.) Gp Fort Hood, Texas
- A-3c Harold G. Olson AF 16 450 282 2901st Acft Rep Sq Kelly AFB, Texas
- A-3c Ernest F. Kopkau AF 16 462 932 312 Ft Bomber Wing Clovis AFB, New Mexico

And we also have a notice to discontinue the paper for Larry Bergman. He's home in East Jordan now.

Also Mr. and Mrs. James Meredith from Newport, R. I. are home for a visit.

Payrolls Jump As City Builds And Expands

deling permits were issued at an estimated cost of $2,465.

Remodeling permits issued for 1953 and 1954 totaled 18 at a combined estimated construction cost of $26,000.

The happy financial outlook spread to construction of new retail business buildings in the last two years.

In 1952, the city clerk's records show, only one new business building permit was issued. That was for an estimated $3,500 construction project.

In 1953 and 1954 there were five retail business building permits issued at a total estimated construction cost of $141,383.00. These were for entirely new buildings, not remodeling jobs.

In 1950, 1951 and 1952 (three years) the city clerk issued seven industrial construction permits at a total estimated construction cost of $62,000.

This is compared to the four industrial construction permits issued in 1953 and 1954 which totaled $251,000.00.

These figures do not include construction of a $200,000.00 municipal sewage disposal system nor a $16,000.00 city dock.

The records show that East Jordan is undergoing a "construction fever." For the past 12 months there was no time but what at least one major construction project was under way.

AT PRESENT the State Bank of East Jordan is building a new $25,000.00 bank and East Jordan Iron Works is starting a $40,000.00 expansion.

Total private East Jordan construction jumped from only $25,000.00 in 1952 to $290,000.00 in 1953 and $251,383.00 in 1954. To this figure you can add $216,000.00 for a city constructed disposal plant and city dock.

Thus about $750,000.00 or three quarters of a million dollars has been spent on construction in East Jordan in the last two years. This is compared to about $60,000.00 for the two previous years, 1951 and 1952.

In the wake of the economic change came a flurry of real estate activity up and down Main street.

In 1953 at least seven places of business changed hands. And in 1954 there was not a month went by without a business changing hands or a new retail business starting up.

In 1952 there were seven empty business buildings in the retail section of the city. In November alone of that year it was reported that 23 families had moved away to find employment. In 1953 and 1954 not one retail business folded up. Several have been added.

Today, East Jordan is nearing a stage where something will have to be done about the housing situation.

New employment is attracting new residents. The new people want new homes or nearly new homes.

NEW EMPLOYMENT schedules and new residents have boosted local buying power far beyond early estimates.

Phone local news to the News-Herald office, LE 6-2371.

Visitor at the Clarence Healey home was deer hunter, Grey DeForest.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Whiteford returned Saturday from Mount Ayr where they attended the funeral of a relative, Dr. T. I. Moffet. Gladys McKinnon accompanied them, going on to Independence, where she will spend the winter with her sister.

Jordan Jingles

By PAT and MARIAN

And another six weeks rolls around! But somehow it doesn't seem so bad when the school week lasts only three days! Those six-weeks tests have us scared . . . but then we keep thinking of all that holiday . . . just can't wait to dig into that big, fat, juicy turkey with all the trimmin's—one of the best parts of the five days of freedom!

Senior play practices have been going strong these nights and are really taking up a lot of that Senior time . . . but guess we wouldn't miss all the fun that goes with it. If everything goes right, you'll be able to see it sometime early in December. We hear that the Sophs want to have one this year—good idea . . . and that the Juniors are thinking about their's.

Just another reminder of that big dance . . . Friday night . . . 8 p.m. with orchestra . . . etc!

Curious as to who got that deer? Take a glance at the list on the window of the News-Herald office . . . be sure to call your's in too . . .

More fun at that Student Council party . . . our thanks to all who helped toward making it so . . .

Speaking of fun! Sadie Hawkins Dance—which had a wonderful crowd. And that trio of Pat Cihak, Martha Lord and Deanna Lehrbass (by the way, congrats—Dee!) really had some of those bashful boys on the run (ha!) Funny, there seemed to be more boys out on the dance floor during twirp week . . . but we girls are glad in one way—no more do we have to foot the bills . . . (Are you broke, Martha G.?)

This year is the year for parties . . . a what? A belated "happy birthday" personally from us . . . to Ruth Ann Crowell—and we all had one swell time at that party. Speaking of birthdays. There seemed to be quite a few in the Senior group. . . Helen Haney is now 18;

Jack Zoulek, 17; Pat Gilpin and of course Ruth just hit 17 too. As we say every week—see you next week!

Pat and Marian

Mary Keshick and baby daughter of East Jordan, were discharged on the 16th.

Ruth Heumann of East Jordan and infant son were discharged on the 18th.

On the 19th, Agnes Washigeshnik of St. James was admitted.

Among the treats given the patients this week were the candy given to all by Cecil and Ben Drost of Charlevoix and the Thanksgiving fruit baskets passed out to all by the American Legion of Charlevoix.
