Rural Zoning

A new manufacturing plant, a school or a shop or store springs up in or near your community. Everyday you can see these and other indications that the city is overflowing into the country.

These trends are pointed out by Louis A. Wolfanger, Michigan State University zoning specialist.

These developments, brought about by the great growth of population and industry in America, have been gathering force for many years.

Unless we are careful, unwise use of our land may accompany this urban expansion, Wolfanger says. Here he names some of the consequences of unplanned and unguided developments.

Frequently, unwelcome land uses pop up near our homes, farms or business enterprises. These developments should be in their own part of the community just as a living room table should be in the living room.

When homes are crowded into a rural area, safe water and safe sewage disposal become problems because the soil can't properly absorb the increased sewage.

Buildings standards are often low and fire protection inadequate. Rural schools overflow. When new schools are built or old ones enlarged, taxes go up. Farmers' taxes go especially high because of their above-average property values, Wolfanger says.

Unless he is protected by careful planning, the suburban resident is in an unstable position. He never knows what may happen to his home or business. Thus, he may be unable to get credit at reasonable rates.

As towns and cities overflow into the surrounding area, they occupy good farmland that we may need to help feed our ever-increasing population.

Wolfanger stresses that urban as well as rural land is valuable. As with farmland, one area may be fitted for one purpose and a second for an entirely different purpose. It is important that we avoid wasteful intermingling of stores, homes and factories.

How can we be sure that our land is used wisely? Michigan counties and townships are entitled by law to plan and establish zoning ordinances.

If these laws are to work, we must understand them. — Ed Reberman, County Farm Agent.

FIRST GRADE
Marian Brooks
We wrote invitations to our parents to come to Open House and were happy that so many came. Thirty adults registered and there were many small children too.

Leonard Thompson and Bobby Eichler are celebrating their birthdays. They are six years old.

We have a pretty turkey to stick on our writing paper today. Our writing line says: Thanksgiving is coming. We are happy to have a Thanksgiving vacation.

FIRST GRADE
Mrs. Stokes
We were happy that so many people came to see us at open house during American Education Week. Fifteen mothers, three fathers, five grandmothers and several friends dropped in. Very few children have not had a parent visit us at all this year. We like to have our parents, grandparents and friends come to see us anytime.

SECOND GRADE
Mrs. Liskum
We were glad to welcome so many visitors to our room last Wednesday. Almost every mother who came had an opportunity to hear her youngster read in class.

We have been learning about the Pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving so long ago. We are trying to remember to be thankful for all the things we have.

Thank you, Mr. Wade, for the new swings and teeters on the playground.

SECOND & THIRD GRADES
Alice M. Nesman

We were pleased that so many of our mothers came to visit our room on Open House day.

Our room is decorated for Thanksgiving with pictures of Pilgrims, turkeys and Indians. One bulletin board is devoted to a large colorful Indian Mural. Jimmy Dunson had charge of it and was assisted by Darrel Schumacher, Petie Kraemer and Joan Sough. The pupils made Indian designs which formed a frame for the mural.

We are reading "Red Deer, The Indian Boy," a reading skill-text and are hearing the poem of "Hiawatha, by Longfellow."

For story time we had the authentic story of a little Pilgrim boy lost in the forests and found by the Indians called "First Adventure," by Coastworth. In writing we have progressed far enough so that we have had enough letters to write Red Deer, Chief Eagle and many Indian names.

Lorna Beischlag brought an authentic Indian doll dressed in deerskins and Billy Gee brought a canoe and plaster of paris Indian head painted by himself.

SECOND GRADE
Agnes Johnston

It was fun to see so many of our parents and friends visit our room last Wednesday, during American Education Week.

National Book Week comes November 25 to December 1. The motto this year is "It's Always Book Time." We have a pretty bulletin board display showing the types of good books children should read. We found out there are many good stories for children to read. We are learning something about the care we should give books.

We have been learning about "The First Thanksgiving." We are happy and thankful we live in America and can spend Thanksgiving the way we choose. "News Time" Wednesday was taken up by each child telling about the things he should be thankful for.

THIRD GRADE
Marie Hughes

Our biggest news for this week concerns open house last Wednesday. At least 30 adults came to see us at work. It was a proud group of children that helped to show our citizens what a lovely school we have and how we work in school.

Our children reported 7 deer shot so far by members of their families.

We are enjoying the stories about our pioneer ancestors. All of us are looking forward to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Wednesday, Nov. 14 the doors were open because it was Open House. Many parents came to see our folders. We wished that all of them could come.

As you all know last week was American Education Week. Three girls — Virginia Moblo, Karen and Sharon Clark made flowers on the back chalkboard. The flowers were made with colored chalk. They were very pretty indeed.

We made a plantation of the Virginia Colony. We had fun making the different houses like the shoemaker's house, the tannery and lots of other houses, too.

—Linda Ayers

Thanksgiving is almost here. We have lots of things in our room about it. Signs on the bulletin boards are: Pioneer Times, Let Us Be Thankful and Plantation. For the plantation there is a big house, a smoke house, tobacco shed, two docks with little barrels to be put on the boats, a tannery, slaughter house, carriage shed, baking house and worker's cabins.

You Pay Less

TRUCKS ARE VITAL to every industry in Michigan, and no service or commodity which affects your day-to-day living could reach you without trucks.

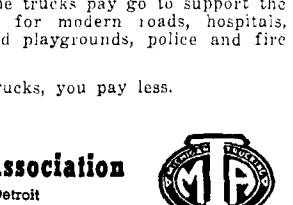

That is the basic way in which trucks serve you. But they benefit you in other important ways, too.

For example—latest available figures show that Michigan's trucks pay over $50,000,000 annually in State registration fees and gasoline taxes alone, plus several millions more in mileage taxes and special taxes levied on the larger vehicles. In addition, of course, trucks pay all the other taxes charged against any business enterprise in Michigan—real estate property taxes, personal property taxes, business activities taxes, sales taxes, intangibles taxes, franchise taxes.

All these millions in taxes the trucks pay go to support the general welfare, to help pay for modern roads, hospitals, schools and colleges, parks and playgrounds, police and fire protection.

So, you see, thanks to the trucks, you pay less.

Thanksgiving

Dear Lord, we have so much to thank Thee for!
Spring's bright promise gloriously fulfilled
In plenteous harvests. Peace throughout our land,
And all the joys of life that help to gild
The passing days—home, work, love, laughter, friends.
But most of all we bless Thee, Lord, for these:
The right to walk in safety, speak our minds,
And, without fear, to worship as we please.
God keep us strong and show us how to share
These blessings with our brothers everywhere!

Here's How To Enjoy Your Venison, Tough or Tender

If you can prepare beef and lamb for your family's food fare you should have no trouble coping with your husband's prize trophy of venison.

Even though you get a deer that is tough or has a strong flavor, there are ways of preparing it for the table that will make it palatable and appetizing points out Clare Brown, Charlevoix county home demonstration agent.

Use moist heat methods of cooking for tough cuts and use bacon, vegetables and fruit juices to give different flavors. Spices such as bay leaf, thyme, garlic and savory may be added to suit your taste.

Clare says it should not be necessary to try to conceal the flavor of venison. The characteristic flavor seems to be concentrated in the fat and if it is strong, trimming away excess fat will help. But, venison is a rather dry meat and is often improved by adding suet, butter or other fat when roasting, broiling or frying it.

TO ROAST the loin, round or shoulder, put it in a slow oven (300° to 350° F.) and allow 20 to 25 minutes per pound. Extra fat can be added by placing bacon strips or beef suet across the top of the roast.

You've enjoyed beef and chicken barbecues; how about serving that deer meat in the form of a venison barbecue.

Clare suggests this as one way to serve venison. Sear three pounds of venison in a frying pan with slices of salt pork or other fat. Cover the venison with a barbecue sauce and roast it in a moderate oven (350°) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Turn it occasionally.

The sauce recipe includes: 1 cup catsup; 1 tablespoon salt; 3 slices lemon; 1 onion, sliced thin; 1 1/2 cup beef steak vinegar; 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar; and 1 tablespoon chili powder (for hot sauce). Bring this mixture to a boil and stir to avoid burning.

For those venison steaks that aren't so tender, the MSU specialists suggest Swissing them. Dredge 1 1/2 pound round steak with flour and season with salt and pepper. Then brown it in fat. When both sides are brown, add 3 large onions, sliced; 1 medium stalk celery, chopped; 1 cup tomatoes; and 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce.

Cover the pan tightly and cook in a medium oven (350°) or over a low heat on top of the range until tender (about 1 1/2 hours). Remove the meat to a platter and make a gravy from the drippings in the pan. Serve it with baked potatoes.

Orchard Notes . . .

By C. FAIRMAN

We have a new man for the head of the Cherry Growers Association to replace Ted Stebbins. The boys I have met expect good leadership in the interest of the growers.

Sweet and tart cherries still seem a good bet for this part of the country. Sour will take somewhat lower land than sweets and a slightly poorer location.

Some cherry orchards blow down, some are too old and will soon go out. Cherries are not grown inland.

The cherry belt follows the big lake from Harbor Springs to the Indiana line. However the north has averaged more regular crops than the south.

Traverse City is called the cherry capital. Cherries were grown on Old Mission peninsula long before canneries came in. At that time cherries were clipped with shears, packed in sixteen quart crates and shipped to city markets in ice cars.

Taste Sells The Milk

Taste is one of the big reasons why people drink milk.

At least, that was the reason named by a majority of city milk drinkers in a survey taken recently by two Michigan State University researchers.

Duane Gibson and Charles Hoffer of the sociology and anthropology department surveyed 101 families to find answers to a variety of questions on milk drinking habits of urban people.

The majority answer to the first question is most convincing evidence that dairymen would be wise to guard constantly against off-flavors in their milk. The families listed their other answers although they were a minority:

Because milk has a high food value; because milk is important to restore health; because there were children in the home.

Fifty-five of the 101 families had one or more members who drank no milk. In many cases the researchers found, the dislike for milk was acquired in childhood. The dislike for milk ranged all the way from the homemaker who would drink it only with chocolate in it to the man who not only disliked milk in all forms (such as in soups, pies and cakes) but who wouldn't even eat a meal with milk near him at the table.

OFF TO CHICAGO

East Jordan FFA Students To Have Look At Farm Show

Twenty-three East Jordan FFA boys and four chaperones will leave East Jordan Thursday, November 22nd at 6 p.m. to attend the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

The students will travel by school bus and stay at the Chicago YMCA.

Chaperones are Jack Newsted, agricultural instructor; Lyle Peters; Bill Grimm, farm planner and Clayton Healey, well-known area farmer.

The boys' Chicago program is as follows:

November 23 — Attend the livestock show in the morning and visit International Harvester plant and see the horse show in the afternoon.

November 24 — Visit the International airport in the morning and the Museum of Science and Industry in the afternoon. Free time later.

November 25 — Church in the morning. Museum of Science and Industry and free time in the afternoon.

November 26 — Chicago Mercantile Exchange in the morning. The group will leave Chicago at noon, Monday, November 26 for the return back to East Jordan.

Camp Kett

The kick-off of Camp Kett, Michigan's new 4-H club camp last week when its name was announced in tribute to A. G. Kettunen, retired 31 year 4-H leader in Michigan, and when it was given a financial boost of $25,000.

Kettunen, who retired from his 4-H career this past summer and who is affectionately known as "Kett," was told of the camp's name and the $25,000 contribution at a banquet held in his honor during the annual Michigan Cooperative Extension conference.

Three hundred of Kett's friends watched as George Haggarty, Detroit attorney and member of the Michigan 4-H Club foundation board of trustees, made the announcements. The camp, located in northern Osceola county on Center Lake, has long been a goal of Kettunen and the Foundation. Its initial gift of $25,000 was from the Detroit Youth Activity fund.

DURING THE banquet program Kettunen was also honored with a bound volume of letters from friends all over the world. It was presented to him by Mrs. Igrid Bartelli, consumer marketing information agent in Marquette and former 4-H local leader.

Given in appreciation of Kettunen's 31 years as State 4-H club leader, slide projector and screen was presented to him by Nathan Knowles, chairman of the state 4-H council from Manitowish Beach, Lenawee county.

Another announcement completed the list of tributes to "Kett" when Fred Bernhardt, Delta county 4-H club agent, told of the acceptance of the official seal of the Michigan 4-H club agents' association. The seal is in the form of the 4-leaf clover tie stud which Kettunen gave to all his 4-H agents last spring as departing gift.

City-Farm Week

Only about 13% of us have an RFD address. Our national thinking tends toward an urban pattern. However, many more people are engaged in buying, selling, processing and packaging foods today than a few years ago.

Paul Miller — director of Michigan Cooperative Extension Service says under these circumstances it's doubly important that all sectors of agriculture assume the responsibility of telling agriculture's story to the entire American public.

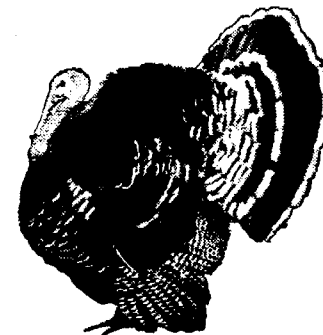

Pres. Eisenhower has designated the week of Nov. 16 to the 23rd as National Farm City Week. Miller says this is an ideal time for rural people to tell their side of the story to improve understanding between rural and city people. In fact, each group has much to learn from the other. However, farm people have the greater responsibility since — as food producers — they are so essential to the health and welfare of our nation.

Farm-City Week in Michigan — Nov. 16 thru 23 — is designed to launch a year round program to improve understanding and appreciation between rural and urban groups.

Miller says success of the program will be determined in a large part by your participation in your own local groups. Young people in 4-H clubs, FFA and FHA chapters have a wonderful opportunity to tell the farm story to urban young people by arranging visits to the farm.

Farm people have a terrific story to tell. Let's tell it!

Thanksgiving Is Here!

As the turkey is the symbol of Thanksgiving . . . so Thanksgiving itself is a symbol of Americanism. On this day we give thanks for the many good things we have received and for the wonderful promise of the good things to come.

Attend the church of your choice to render thanks

The Union Thanksgiving services in East Jordan are to be held at the Methodist Church, Wednesday, November 21st at 8 p.m. Rev. Edward O. DeHaven of the Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermon.

Let Us Give Thanks

Ever since the time of the Pilgrims, Americans have taken one day each year to give thanks to God for the bountiful blessings of America. It is a precious heritage, purchased at great cost by our forefathers.

It is up to us to guard that heritage for ourselves and for our children. The friendship . . . the good will . . . the abundance . . . and the thankfulness that is symbolized by Thanksgiving is ours now. Let us keep it ours forever.

Give thanks on Thanksgiving at the church of your choice.

Neighboring Ellsworth and Mancelona both have new gymnasiums under construction and with continued mild weather favoring construction, Mancelona hopes that they may be able to play the tail end of their 1956-57 schedule on the new court. Ellsworth's new layout will not be ready until sometime next summer.

Ellsworth plays its home games in the community building which was constructed in the late 1930's. So with the beginning of the 1957-58 school year, it will mark the first time in almost twenty years they will have a gymnasium at the school.

George Mikan "Mr. Basketball," one of the nation's all-time court greats at DePaul University in Chicago and later with the Minneapolis "Lakers" of the National Professional Basketball League conducted a basketball clinic at the Traverse City St. Francis High School Gymnasium on Monday night. Many of the area coaches and their Varsity squads were in attendance. Tom Joynt of the Billmar Sport Shop sponsored the event. Joynt is a former local athlete now residing in Traverse City.

Coach Sheldon Mills' Ellsworth Lancers will be seeking their sixth straight Antrim County D League title this winter.

The final tabulations of the Grand Rapids Herald Football ratings of Class C West Michigan teams had Boyne City on top followed by Traverse City St. Francis.

The East Jordan Red Devils who have a somewhat abbreviated 14 game court schedule this winter are in hopes of being invited to some holiday tournament this winter thereby assuring themselves of a full 16 game slate.

Speaking of new gymnasiums going up around the state, a new feature has been patented where by the height of the baskets can be regulated at 8', 9', and 10' levels; thus making their use much more practical for junior high and elementary students. The innovation is highly recommended by physical education teachers and coaches.

The Michigan State University basketball coaching staff is holding its annual basketball coaching clinic at East Lansing this weekend, November 23rd and 24th.

Did you know that high school cagers throughout Michigan made better than 60 percent of their free throws last season according to a survey conducted a year ago?

Do you know that nationally basketball is far and away the most popular spectator sport?

Gary Vandenberg, Charles Dennis and Guy Swanson of Charlevoix were members of the undefeated Northern Michigan College Football squad this past fall.

The Class D Antrim County Basketball League will hold its annual County Tournament at Bellaire January 2nd, 4th and 5th.

Two Northern Michigan Class C Conference teams get their 1956-57 basketball schedules underway tomorrow (Friday) night. Defending champion Boyne City will travel to Petoskey where they will tangle with the Class B Petoskey Northmen. Mancelona will be at home Friday night, when they play host to Coach Edwin Chalker's Kalkaska five.

Gaylord also got a jump on the other members of the league when they travel to Cheboygan next Tuesday to take on the Chiefs in a nonconference clash.

Conference action gets underway for all eight teams a week from tomorrow evening, November 30th as Boyne City travels to Grayling. Mancelona moves in on Charlevoix, Gaylord goes to Harbor Springs and East Jordan will be hosts to the Pellston Hornets.

Three of the eight teams in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference will begin their 1956-57 basketball schedules with new coaches at the helm this winter.

Steenbergh

Rodney Steenbergh, a junior guard on the local grid eleven this past fall, was picked by the players of the Northern Michigan Class C Conference on the Petoskey News-Review Annual All Opponent first team.

Steenbergh polled a total of 26 points to top the voting for league linemen. Only Boyne City's Carl Charon, who landed 35 points as a unanimous choice, ranked higher than Steenbergh. The East Jordan red head has one more year of eligibility remaining as he is only a junior. As a sophomore he lettered as a defensive lineman.

Other East Jordan lads receiving recognition by their opponents were linemen Ray Walker, Ralph Shepard, Glen Kowalske and Robert Crowell and back Larry Woodcock all of whom received honorable mention.

HERE'S THE first eleven as compiled by the News-Review: Ends John Holstad and Dexter Bailey of Mancelona; tackles Edward Barden of Boyne City and Duane Hughey of Mancelona; guards Rodney Steenbergh of East Jordan and Harry Wolf of Gaylord; center, Donald Lauer, Harbor Springs; backs Terry Davis and Ken Balch, Charlevoix; Mikh McKillop Gaylord and Carl Charon Boyne City.

It was the second year in a row that Charon has been picked on the first team. His teammate Ed Barden was a second team choice a year ago.

ACCENTUATE THE PHYSICAL. That's what going on at East Jordan high school as the 1956-57 girls' physical education program gets into full swing — an all new class requirement. Topping off the above pyramid is Shelby McClure; next is Lyn Hopley, an Australian visiting foreign student with Mary Martinek. Bottom row includes Susie Cutler, Carolyn Malpass and Carol Klooster. Instructor Mrs. Cynthia Burrows looks on. (Photo by Huckle)

A long awaited hope became a reality in the East Jordan school system this fall as a full-time physical education program for girls of junior high and high school was initiated into the curriculum.

During the 1956-57 school year all girls in grades seven thru twelve are taking part in the program under direction and supervision of Mrs. Cynthia Burrows.

About 110 girls take part in the various activities, one hour each day three days a week. Under the present set up, all girls will be required to have two years of physical education prior to graduation.

At Gaylord, the Blue Devils' activities will be guided by James Mongeau, a Central Michigan College graduate. John Teth of Michigan State University will hold the reins of the Pellston Hornets, and the Harbor Springs Rams will be guided by Charles Paige of Eastern Michigan College.

Jake Schurman will be starting his third campaign as head coach of the Mancelona Ironmen. Don Carey of Charlevoix and Paul Phaler of Boyne City will each be starting second seasons at their respective schools.

Coach Gayle Saxton is beginning his seventh season as head of the Red Devils but is surpassed in tenure by Grayling's Bruce Smith, who starts his ninth year.

CLASS D HARDWOOD

Antrim League Players To Hit Baskets Next Week

COACH HAROLD Edson will be short of experienced personnel at Alba High School this winter as he makes ready for the opening of the 1956-57 Season Tuesday evening November 27th at Fife Lake.

A member of the Antrim County Basketball League, Alba suffered heavily through graduation last Spring. Only two boys Gilbert Stark and Wallace Tucker will begin the current campaign with any previous experience. Each saw only limited action during the 1955-56 season. So Edson is faced with the task of practically starting from scratch in building this winter's

Red and White aggregation. Edson, former Ellsworth High School cage star, is beginning his third season at the Alba helm. COACH RAYMOND "Chirp" Swafford has been working his Central Lake High School cagers hard the past three weeks in preparation for their season's opener against Rapid City Tuesday evening November 27th.

The Orange and Blue have six lettermen back from last year's outfit and loom as one of the strong contenders for the league crown this winter. Swafford counts among his returning lettermen seniors Owen McDowell and Doyle Wilson and sophomore Carl Lingman, all full-time regulars on the 1955-56 quintet and a pair of brothers Larry Dawson a junior and Arvin Dawson, a senior, who alternated as starters a year ago.

Another letterwinner Phil Lundy, a senior, and Bob Labean, a sophomore up from last year's Reserves, will complete the nucleus of this winter's varsity.

Swafford, a Western Michigan graduate, is beginning his second year as head basketball coach at Central Lake. Prior to World War II, he coached at Mecosta.

FIFE LAKE High School, one of the two new members added to the Class D Antrim County Basketball League this winter, opens its season at home Tuesday evening November 27th playing host to Coach Harold Edson's Alba five, according to a report from Robert H. Sarasin, Principal and Athletic Director at Fife Lake.

The Green and Gold, coached by Cecil Vincent, University of Michigan graduate, have three returning lettermen back from last year's quintet, they are Neil Smith, a senior, and a pair of juniors, Tom Dupuis and Curt Smith. In addition to these three experienced lads they have a good group of underclassmen up from the Reserves and they hope to make their presence felt in the tough seven team D circuit.

COACH DONALD Smith of Bellaire will build his 1956-57 cage quintet around four veterans from last winter's aggregation, which finished second behind Ellsworth in the Class D Antrim County basketball league.

Smith has twenty-three candidates vying for starting berths on the Varsity and Reserve outfits, which will open their current campaign at Elk Rapids Friday evening November 30th.

Letterwinners Bill Hierlhy, Dutch McCutcheon, Jack Unger, and Phil Wilks will form the backbone of the team that is expected to be a strong contender for this year's title.

The Eagles, the only school in the league sponsoring football, thus will be somewhat behind several schools in the loop in getting in actual competition.

Bellaire will also be host to the Antrim County League Tournament there January 2nd, 4th and 5th when all seven teams are expected to take part.

Schedules . . .

Sports fans are urged to watch next week's News-Herald sports page for a complete run down on class C and D schedules for the coming season.

Sportsmen To Take To The Hills

The northern portion of the Lower Peninsula is rapidly becoming a sportsman's paradise.

This week and last, deer hunters from the hundreds have been pouring into the north country. This influx is but a paltry sum compared to what is to come in the ensuing winter months when Boyne Mountain, Caberfae at Cadillac, Mt. Mancelona, Harbor Highlands of Harbor Springs, Avalanche of Boyne City, Holliday Hills of Traverse City and Hickory Hills practically within the city limits of Traverse City serve as weekend pleasure spots for the ever-increasing hordes of wintersports enthusiasts.

Increasing popularity of the skiing sport has led to the offering of new and improved facilities in this area.

Boyne Mountain has been moving ahead by leaps and bounds each year to where now it is one of the foremost ski resorts in the nation. A snow-making machine and an addition of another J-bar lift are the major items of improvement at Boyne Mountain this winter, not to mention an ultra-modern cafeteria and a lodge of forty rooms being added. Austrian Olympic champion Franz Gabl has been hired to supervise Boyne Mountain. His staff of teachers will come from America and Europe.

MT. MANCELONA has undergone quite some change to a point where this area just north of the city limits of Mancelona has ten ski runs, miles of ski trails, a snack bar, a club house and outside of Boyne Mountain is the only area in western Michigan to employ a T-bar lift for its patrons.

Caberfae, located 16 miles west of Cadillac, counts among its assets 28 slopes, a 25 acre slalom bowl, numerous tow ski shops and ski shelter and a very capable instructor in Monty Montague.

Boyne City's Avalanche, a municipally operated ski area, is lighted for night skiing, has two ski runs, rope tows, a club house and a ski school. Traverse City is blessed by
