CARE IN TIME SAVES LIVES
FIRE PREVENTION WEEK
OCTOBER 4th-10th
MAKE SAFETY A HABIT

Members of the Ellsworth Fire Department received certificates for completion of an 18 hour standard Fire Course led by firemanship training instructor Bernard Hammond, of East Jordan. Twelve members of the Department, of which Grant Hastings is Chief, received the certificates. Both the East Jordan and Ellsworth departments are observing Fire Prevention Week and readers will note other fire department stories in this issue.

"QUARTERBACKS" MEET THURSDAY

Last Thursday's session of The Downtown Quarterbacks was attended by a number of residents who saw films of both Kalkaska and Pellston football games.

Coach Barry Johnson described the plays, pointing out the strong and weak points of each play.

Thursday night of this week, residents will see the films of the Boyne City and East Jordan game.

The sessions are free in the upstairs ballroom of the Duck Inn.

Equipment used for the films has been paid for through local sports program advertising and the films themselves are purchased through the sports fund.

All residents interested in boosting high school sports are being urged to attend the Quarterback sessions each Thursday night.

New Autos At Sinclair's

The 1966 Chevrolet is now on display at A. R. Sinclair Sales in Boyne City, according to Al Sinclair. He is inviting East Jordan residents to stop in this weekend, have coffee and donuts and see the new automobiles. Door prizes are also being offered during the Thursday, Friday and Saturday special showing.

Gaylord To Meet Devils

The East Jordan Red Devils will entertain the Gaylord club on Boswell Field here Friday night after dropping their first one this year to Boyne City, 20-0.

East Jordan's fumble-itis on the Boyne field prevented a sure score from the one yard line. Another sure tally was prevented by a penalty which brought the ball back up the field.

Although East Jordan showed much improvement in the passing department, they were unable to outdistance the Ramblers, losing the ball once via

(See Page 16)

Mrs. William Rebec, Sr. was expected to undergo major surgery in Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey Wednesday of this week.

Jean Slough, of East Jordan has been selected to be a member of the Central Michigan University Concert Choir.

The annual "kick-off" meeting for the 1965 East Jordan Community Chest campaign fund drive has been slated for next Tuesday night, 7:30 at the Jordan Inn.

The full scale drive will get under way the next day, Wednesday, with workers soliciting funds in residential areas, the city and rural areas.

This year's goal has been set at $7,000 and deadline for the drive is November 5th.

Chest President Tom Breakey will be on hand at the "kick-off" meeting to brief workers on their duties and to distribute campaign kits.

It is expected that all ward captains and many workers will attend the meeting.

Captains for this year's drive are:

First Ward: Virginia Giacomelli; second ward, Betty Boswell and Phyllis Malpass; third ward, Roman Dubas and Keith Annear.

Bill Grauel and Jason Snyder will canvas the business section of the city and rural area will be in charge of Marian Sherman and Tom Breakey.

Charles Landers has been named to contact local factories during the drive.

The community chest monies are used for a long list of civic causes including the summer recreation program, the city-school health program and the American Legion Christmas Basket program, Little League and many others.

It is the hope of Chest Board members that residents this year will help the Chest go "over the top" by November 5th.

They are asking residents to give when a solicitor calls upon them, remembering the many civic causes that are helped annually by the Community Chest.

Here are the grade students who won prizes in the East Jordan Fire Department's fire prevention poster contest for grade children. It was held this week during Fire Prevention Week. Prizes were handed out Tuesday by Assistant Fire Chief Bernard Hammond. The children are: First grade: Kathy Strehl, James Meredith, Phyllis Hammond. Second Grade: Glenda Murphy, Jean Chew, Roberta Ruhlman. Third Grade: Linda Prebble, Linda Williamson, Wayne Johnson. Fourth Grade: Kim Jeffery, Victoria Sweet, Don Anderson. THE ROAD TO CENTRALISM

Since the new Department of Housing and Urban Affairs will be headed by a Secretary with Cabinet status, it might be well to speculate on the long-range effect on federal-state-local relations.

Will this action, along with the mandatory reapportionment of state and national legislative districts, help silence the voices of the small towns and rural areas in state and national legislatures? Will this move increasingly solidify federal intervention into problems once considered the sole province of city and state?

Only time will tell. However, it does seem that the quickest way to solve local problems, to create homes of dignity and neighborhoods of pride, would be to give the cities tax sources now preempted by the federal government and let them solve their own problems.

It is ludicrous even to assume, that a Washington bureaucrat is in a better position to judge what is good for the local community—today and tomorrow—than astute leading citizens of the community.

However, because it is sometimes difficult to obtain the necessary finances locally for community betterment, the temptation to run down to Washington for the funds seems to be the easy way out, even though the community many times loses control of civic projects in the process.

The fallacy of permitting more and more control of government to be centralized in Washington will become clearer in the days ahead. It is hoped that this community will weigh carefully the consequences, and will decide accordingly.

Thoughts from Outer Space

By Marshall Sayles

I hope I flutter better after I'm fifty. All men should, really. But if I don't, heavens! It will be more annoying than a monthly magazine with no mention of the Kennedys.

After fifty, many men fasten themselves to by gone days and resent these changing times.

But I feel I have just enough education not to do like that. There is some virtue in the present and it should be given a little consideration by young and old.

A youth is told that his day will come, as though his presence at the moment means nothing; and some of us older folks often say "back in my day" as though we were dead and speaking directly from the grave.

Thus the present often takes a beating it doesn't deserve.

President Johnson pays more attention to the present than any other man in the country; what with the war on one hand and John Birch on the other, there's little else he can do.

So his past and future will just have to shift for themselves.

But most of us are not president of the United States; and we are free to treat the past and the future as shabbily as we please, fighting these changing times for all we are worth.

Occasionally a middle aged upstart will tell you that he makes his own future and that the past and present have nothing to do with it. Upon these occasions I always step outside and laugh my bosom dry. For only from a well mixed past and present do we get the future.

True, the mixing ain't always just right and we sometimes get a future that looks kind of fooie, but that's nature and you can't fight it.

Perhaps we older folks should dwell less upon the past, sweat out the future the best we can and concentrate the majority of our fiddling upon the present.

In this manner we can tolerate the day and prevent times from changing behind our backs.

Area Cities Attend E. J. Oil Fire Demonstration

Fire Departments from four area cities took part in an oil fire demonstration at the local fire department's demonstration pit, Monday night, September 27th. In the session firemen learned efficient ways to put out a huge oil fire using high pressure fog. The visiting firemen took part in the training are seen above putting out the demonstration fire. All of them had attended fire schools conducted by Instructor Bernard Hammond and were guests of Chief Roy Gokee and the local department on training night. The men were from Mancelona, Ellsworth, Bellaire and East Jordan fire departments. Instructor Hammond conducts area firemanship training schools for the University of Michigan extension department.

Are you paying more than 11½¢ a gallon for your residential heating oil?

If you are, you're paying too much.

If you are now using natural Gas (or plan to) for cooking, water heating, clothes drying or Gaslights and your use is equal to that of our average residential customer, you can get your Gas for heating under our special service rate at a cost equivalent to fuel oil priced at just 11½¢ a gallon. And the nice thing about our Gas rates is that the more you use, the less it costs per unit. That's a bargain in anybody's book.

(Can't pay for the cost of conversion right now? Here's good news: Whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, Michigan Consolidated will pay for it and its installation by a qualified heating contractor. And it won't cost you a penny until July 1, 1966!)

So why not make your present oil furnace more economical this winter? Have it converted to economical natural Gas. Then you can start putting your money in the bank for a change. Instead of in your furnace. For full details, call us or your heating contractor today.

E.J. FIRE DEPARTMENT OBSERVES FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 3-9

Fire killed 11,900 Americans last year, over half of them in their own homes, according to National Fire Protection Association estimates.

Fire destroyed over $1.65 billion worth of property in the same period, in a total of about 2,360,000 fires.

The great tragedy of these statistics, Fire Chief Roy Gokee points out, is that most of the waste of lives and property is avoidable. The record could be far different if everyone would assume personal responsibility for observing the rules of fire safety at home and on the job. "Don't Give Fire A Place to Start" is the watchword.

Fire Prevention Week, which this year falls in the period October 3-9, provides an excellent opportunity to re-emphasize the fact that preventing fires is everybody's job.

The local observance of Fire Prevention Week will be sponsored by the East Jordan Fire Department, according to the Chief.

The traditional fire safety drive is sponsored internationally by the National Fire Protection Association in conjunction with other organizations.

interception. The locals reached the Rambler four and one and came close to pay dirt in the second half.

East Jordan's defense showed improvement against the Ramblers and general team enthusiasm was maintained throughout the game.

Red Devil fumble trouble, which has been noted since the beginning of the year, has been costly. Without fumbles and penalties, it looks as though the Ramblers were about one touchdown better than the Red Devils Friday night.

The spirit and determination of the Red Devils is high this season, which made Friday's loss much less disappointing. The Devils will be winning their share of contests this season.

They face a team here Friday night that see-sawed up and down the field all night against Charlevoix with neither team scoring. Gaylord, earlier billed as a threat in the loop this season, has not proven to be that in the first three games.
