Residents Plan Winter Snow Rally

East Jordan residents interested in a winter snow rally sometime after January 1st., are being invited to a meeting to discuss the possibility of holding such an event here.

A one-day snow cat race held at the athletic field last winter with area snow machine owners taking part.

The meeting will be held 8 p. m. Thursday (Tonight) at the fire hall, under sponsorship of the chamber of commerce.

Area men and women owning snow machines are being urged to attend the meeting and to make suggestions for the proposed program.

Rotary Governor To Visit

East Jordan Rotary Club members this week were making plans for the annual visit of the Rotary District Governor, Glenn H. Olsen.

The district governor will attend next Tuesday's dinner meeting of the club at the Presbyterian Church and later will hold informative sessions with various Chairmen of Rotary's regular activities.

While Mr. Olsen is attending Rotary here, his wife will be honored by local Rotarians' wives at a luncheon at the Jordan Inn, according to club President Charles Landers.

Volunteer workers were in the area Wednesday seeking funds for the East Jordan Community Chest as the organization starts its 1965 drive in the city, and rural districts.

The annual "kick-off" meeting was held at the Jordan Inn Tuesday night where workers were briefed and campaign kits distributed.

The chest this year is seeking $7,000 for the fund; the monies are distributed to a long list of needy groups and organizations, with most of the total remaining here at home.

It is the hope of the Chest that residents will be prompt to give when called upon by the solicitors.

It is through the Community Chest that funds are raised for the city-school health program, the summer and winter recreation programs and other civic causes.

Red Devils At Mancelona Friday

The East Jordan Red Devils will seek their second conference win of the season as they invade Ironmenland at Mancelona Friday night.

With the Mancelona squad at the bottom of the standings with no wins, the Red Devils should receive the nod for this one.

Players' injuries and disciplinary action hacked away at the Devil's force last week; although they held the Blue Devils to a scoreless first half, the locals were unable to forestall Gaylord's Terry Walker who accounted for the visitor's two tallies via break aways and long yardage.

Grayling's 19-7 win over Mancelona put them in third place in the loop, leaving the Ironmen at the bottom of the heap. And regardless of the Red Devil's internal strife, the home team should take this one Friday night.

East Jordan's defense blocked Gaylord throughout the first two periods and it wasn't until the third quarter that Walker began to roll with the Blue Devil's defense.

Walker shifted from end to the backfield and then scooted 35 yards to score. In the last period Walker did it again from the 35 with East Jordan losing its second loop game of the season.

PRIVATE INITIATIVE

In solving America's economic and social problems, we sometimes lose sight of what can be done and is being done through private initiative.

We seem so willing for the federal government to take over education, health, housing and other programs, and we keep hoping the private enterprise system will somehow continue to make enough money to pay the bills.

Richard C. Cornuelle in his newly published book, "Reclaiming the American Dream," puts his finger on the trouble when he says, . . . "our thinking is that we have fallen into a habit of two-value descriptions. We talk of the 'public sector' (meaning government) and 'private sector' (meaning free enterprise) forgetting that a vast 'independent sector' devoted to public purposes but paid for by private individuals exists in the in-between land that used to be such an honored part of the landscape."

He cites the national organization that practically wiped out polio, the Mormon church in taking care of the welfare needs of its members during the depression, the United Student Aid Funds, Inc., which guarantees bank loans made to boys and girls seeking college educations. In three years the fund guaranteed 68,000 loans totalling $40 million, proving to Mr. Cornuelle's satisfaction that the need for federal aid to education "is an illusion."

Thoughts from Outer Space

By Marshall Sayles

The government has placed a finger upon my personal habits and warned me that I should quit smoking. The sage advice has filtered down after several years of research paid for by my friends and neighbors.

I appreciate the government's concern for my bellows, but I can't forgive it for not going further; it has not suggested harmless ways to soothe my nerves. It tells me to lay off tobacco, but it won't tell me how to get down out of this confounded tree. I would give the government half my kingdom for such advice.

It seems to me that those who quit smoking are liable to resort to secret ways to soothe their nerves; and that's something the government shouldn't let happen. For there are enough rumors around the country as it is.

Yes, soothing the nerves of a quitter is just an important governmental function as patting the back of the unemployed.

I certainly envy the man who has never smoked. He is free and all set. His stomach, lungs and head are in good shape. You can tell that by looking at him; and if that doesn't work, listen to him for a while.

All hail the non-smoker.

When I was on the smart alec side of twenty I had the mistaken notion that Franklin D. Roosevelt was an intelligent man; and I thought that smoking like he did would cause some of his intelligence to rub off on me; and I later strengthened this belief with the thought that the more old Winnie smoked, the smarter he got. Look how he successfully sweat blood and tears.

The clincher was the sight of old Mac with that corn cob. I noticed with deep satisfaction how he whipped the Japs with a pipe in his mouth.

But I'm sure the government has done the right thing by fostering a non-smoking kick. I'd believe our good, old government if it told me that water was unhealthy in those months without R's.

But I do mourn the loss of my tobacco. It always gave me something to do while I was working.

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE FOR SENIORS

State Representative Clayton T. Morrison (R-Pickford) is alerting high school seniors that the deadline for registration to be eligible for a state college scholarship is October 31.

Morrison said, "Unfortunately every year these deadlines go by and students who might qualify miss out. There are almost 6,000 scholarships available for the next academic year, 1966-67, and I want to make sure all high school seniors have a chance to apply."

"To apply", Morrison said, "Students should:

- (1) Obtain a State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship registration form from their high school;
- (2) Mail self-addressed envelope, the registration form and a $1.50 fee by October 31, 1965, according to the registration instructions;
- (3) Take the State Competitive Scholarship examination at 8 a.m., Saturday, November 20 at the assigned center."

DEFICIT SPENDING—"It is one thing to engage in deficit spending to meet an emergency," says Rep. Catherine May (R-Wash.) "and quite another to continue deficit spending in a period of national prosperity. Such a fiscal policy weakens the value of the dollar, intensifies the outflow of gold and leaves us with little with which to meet possible emergency, be it an economic downturn."

I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shall go.—(Psalms 32:8)

Every problem has its perfect answer in the Mind of God, but we must be quiet all our thoughts long enough so that we hear the answer. God is always speaking the perfect word of guidance for each moment as it comes, but we must listen for this guidance.

Why Must I Pay $1.00

The "$64 question" in Michigan these days centers about the payment of $1.00 . . . the sum which all persons with liability insurance will have to pay into the state's new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund when they begin registering cars and other motor vehicles November 1.

The question is usually about the same . . . "Why me? Why do I have to pay when I already carry liability insurance?"

The answer is simple, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare. "The dollar actually buys insurance protection."

Hare said the $1.00 fee along with the $25 from each uninsured vehicle owner will be used to finance the Fund from which innocent victims of accidents with uninsured drivers will be able to draw upon when the claims are filed starting January 1, 1966.

"The dollar paid into Fund actually protects the insured motorist against accidents with negligent uninsured drivers."

"It protects against contingencies such as personal injury in accidents with hit-and-runners and persons driving stolen vehicles, and out-of-state uninsured drivers who are involved in Michigan accidents."

Hare cautioned against dropping the private uninsured protection rider, however.

"The Fund and the rider offered by private insurance companies compliment one another," Hare said. "One covers any contingencies in Michigan, while the rider offers complete protection outside the state."

"With most persons traveling outside Michigan these days," Hare said, "my advice is to continue or buy the private option." There is legislation which would make such coverage mandatory.

Hare said one of the main intents of the Fund is to force as many uninsured motorists as possible into the insured category.

"Percentage is about 85 percent insured as near as we can presently calculate," says Hare. "Most funds of this type have resulted in about half of the uninsured getting into the insured class which would bring Michigan to more than 90 percent insured drivers."

"I'm hopeful of getting it even higher than that," Hare said.

He said he doubted that too many of the "high risk" drivers would buy insurance. "Actually, the $25 they will be paying into the Fund is a small part of what they would pay for complete liability coverage. Being a realist, I doubt that many of these people will become insured."

"Persons who drive without liability coverage are taking a terrible risk," Hare said. "They are gambling with their future solvency . . . because a bad accident could mean that they would have to pay back into the Fund hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars."
