Biggest Area Attraction In '66

The most widely aclaimed year-round tourist attraction in the Jordan Valley area for the past year was the Jordan River Sportsmens' Club Park where the club sold nearly 10,000 bags of corn to visitors who came to feed the wildlife. Sale of corn totaled nearly $1,000 in the past 12 months. In past years workers have counted 800 cars which drove into the park in a single day. Under constant development, the park now has modern rest rooms built this past year and caretaker Elmer Green is extending his appreciation to all those folks who volunteered their time to help in building the restrooms and who worked around the park.

I received the package yesterday, the 13th of December. The box was in very good shape. The mail service to us over here is very good, considering how far it has to go and some of the places it has to go to get to us.

Right now I'm with the rovisional Arty Bn. We have got 4 duce (107 MM mortars), 81 MM mortars, and six 155 MM towed howitizers.

Your Hometown Newspaper Moves Into Its 71st Year

As the News-Herald completes its 70 years of service to the people of East Jordan and the Jordan Valley area, the publication continues under the most promising circumstances of its long history.

Established here in 1896, today's newspaper continues as a consolidation of various weekly newspapers published here from time to time in the past three score and ten years.

The newspaper has survived great wars and little wars, recessions and the big depression that shook the very foundation of the United States; and through the years it has advanced from a Washington hand press (one sheet printed one at a time by hand) to more modern letter press equipment and now on to the latest electronic offset equipment available.

The mechanics of newspapering saw few major changes from the turn of the century until sometime after World War II. Then the means of offset publishing was made available throughout the country. The great inovation makes it possible to set up newspaper pages, photograph them and make page plates to be used on newly designed presses. Since then weekly newspapers by the hundreds have discarded the old letter press equipment.

High cost of new offset equipment has developed central publishing houses where many newspapers are printed in one plant for distribution in the publishers' home town. In some areas there are as many as 50 weeklies printed on the same centrally located offset press. Each paper retains its individual owner thip and community identity with everything but the press work being done at home.

Falling into line with the nation-wide trend of offset publishing, the News-Herald is printed on the most modern equipment available.

Such rapid changes in the field have naturally given rise to questions and sometimes rumors. Who owns the newspaper? The News-Herald is solely owned and solely operated by the present publisher as it has been for the past 15 years; and its loyalties and responsibilities are dedicated to the people of the Jordan Valley area. A sworn and published statement to this effect is made to the federal government

once each vear

It is our firm belief that a community stands forever in vital need of its own newspaper, a newspaper that accurately reflects the mood, the actions, the pride and the development of the people it serves; this is compared to the cold, crisp and sometimes highly inaccurate surface reporting of outside publications reaching the community.

And so the News-Herald remains today, as it has for the past 70 years, a "hometown newspaper". Its existence is made possible by subscribers and its advertisers who have shown a high measure of support and loyalty, matching that of any other weekly newspaper.

And because of the increasingly wide acceptance of the hometown paper, both by subscribers and advertisers, 1966 has been the News-Herald's most successful year.

As the newspaper enters its 71st year of publication it is our firm pledge to maintain all of the present services to the public and to increase them regularly as the need and opportunity occur.

Members of Local 1403, UAW, who have been on strike at Courter Products in Boyne City since mid-October, have been joined by members of Local 982, AIW, employees of Howes Brothers Tannery in Boyne City. $40, 000 in federal funds made available for this purpose. The center will be the only one of its kind in northern Michigan and will serve the district that extends from Mackinaw City to Central Lake.

Charles A. Robinson, superintendent of the district, said the monies would be used to establish a professional library of reference books not now available for teachers in the area and to add to the existing $25,000 educational films library maintained by the district for use of all teachers in the Intermediate district.

The ski season, with the aid of an almost continious snowfall for the past two weeks, was launched in a big way over the holiday weekend. Skiers, singles and in groups including ski clubs flocked to the slopes that boasted nary a flake of snow one year ago this week. You may remember that the temperature reached the 70 mark on December 31, 1966, setting an all-time record throughout the area.

Keep Your Muscles Busy And Keep Yourself Alive

Regular exercise is one of the best ways known to medical science of averting or de-laying heart attack or stroke.

The Michigan Heart Association says this is The Michigan Heart Association says this is because lack of exercise is one of the more important of the coronary risk factors — those medical conditions or habits associated with increased risk of the artery blockage, which causes most heart attacks.

Lack of exercise, like the other preventable risk factors -- cigarette smoking, over-weight, and a high cholesterol level and blood pressure has been spotlighted by studying the health stories of whole populations of various cities and areas

In contrast to the other lisk factors which can be gauged, accurately measuring the ex-ertion of large groups of normal people is virtually impossible

But statements such as, "he never walked if he could ride," or "he walked 10 miles every day," have made it clear that men who exerise get fewer heart attacks, get them later in life, and make a better recovery afterwards than those who refuse physical activity.

This conclusion is confirmed by the well known study of the busmen of London, Eng-land, where the buses are double decked. The drivers, who sit on the job, got many more heart attacks than the conductors who walked constantly in the alses and up and down stairs to collect fares. Comparisons of sedentary workers with laborers in some Chicago indus-tries showed the same results.

There are several reasons known --- and more unknown - as to why exercise benefits the heart. Most important, according to the Association, is collateral icreulation, which can occur in any part of the human body.

When a part of the body does not get enough blood to do its regular job-either be-cause of exertion or an impeded artery ----the adjoining arteries expand and carry more blood. This collateral circulation is especially important in the heart because it can become a life-saver to the man with severe coronary blockage. That part of the heart that would die because its blood supply is cut off may stay alive on blood from collateral arteries,

This process, brought about by regular ox-ercise over a period of time, explains why exercise that is recent counts for a great deal more in keeping a healthy heart than having been an athlete 20 years ago, explains the Association, a Michigan United Fund Agency,

Recently, doctors have been using exercise for bundleds anging pectoris. Known to manklind for hundleds of years, the disease is caused by a partial block in the coronaries; a heart that is short of blood during exertion can generate a sharp pain in the chest.

An airlines pilot got a pain in his chest when he made a landing. His doctor put him through a series of graduated exercises, similar to those a professional athlete uses to get in shape and in three months his angina was gone

Some facts about exercise are:

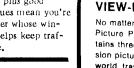

Intense exertion for a person not physical-ly fit and unused to exercise can be dangerous.

Regular exercise will benefit any muscle and keep it strong and healthy.

Lack of exercise is often associated with overeating and obesity, itself a risk factor,

Different from other muscles, the harder the heart muscle works, the more efficient it becomes. This has been demonstrated by hal-ysis of the carbon dioxide content of blood coming from a better ming from a heart performing measured exertion.

If you want to get into shape, begin with mild exercise and increase it greatually. Rea-sonable exercise cannot hurt can only help-you. If you don't know how much is than able, ask your doctor. For further information about exercise, write to the Michigan Heart Association, 13100 Puritan, Detroit, dist.

TOURISM. RECREATION RECORDS

WAR ON DIRTY WATER

Michigan's recreation boom continued to make big noise in '66. One of its major upshots echoed loud and clear in the state's tourist industry which hit the magic mark of $1 billion in business' for the first time.

OUTDOOR RECREATION GETS BOOST

Already giving Michigan's outdoor recreation program a much-needed boost was the new Land and Water Conservation Fund. The fund made more than $4 million if federal matching money available for state and local recreation projects for the past and current fiscal year.

NATIONAL LAKESHORE ESTABLISHED

Also figuring prominently in Michigan's recreation future was the signing of a bill passed by Congress which established the o7,000-acre Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore between Munising and Grand Marais in Alger County. DEER FIGHT RENEWED: NEW VOICE GIVEN Controversy flared anew over the Department's deer management program and out of it the public was given a greater voice in setting deer seasons when the Conservation Commission established eight northern Citizens' Advisory Committees on Deer.

DEER VIOLATORS CATCH IT

Sportsmen and other Michigan citizens rallied behind the Conservation Department in its escalated campaign to catch game law cheaters by providing more than 1,500 solid leads on deer violations in November.

FOREST INDUSTRY HUMS

The forest industry, one of Michigan's biggest money-makers, enjoyed a bullish year in 1966, paced by pulpwood production which was estimated at an all-time high.

FOREST FIRE TOLL JUMPS

When the smoke cleared at the end of the state s 1966 forest fire season, Michigan's burning toll stood at 13.693 acres. This was more than four times greater than in 1965, when fire damage was held to a record low of 2,885 acres. MINERAL OUTPUT REACHES RECORD

Preliminary Department estimates indicate that Michigan's mineral might was flexed to the tune of over $571 million in total production during 1966. The year's mineral output reached a new record, with the value of iron ore again leading the way.

MIXED HUNTING RETURNS

Michigan's 1966 hunting seasons produced miced returns for sportsmen with the usual ups and de downs recorded in kill totals covering the state's various game targets.

For firearm deer hunters, shooting success finished in the "down" category. Pegged closely to a 36 - percent cut in antlerless deer permits, the whitetail harvest dropped to about 91,000 animals, nearly 20 percent below the 1965 take. MORE PUBLIC HUNTING LANDS

Regardless of how they scored, many hunters had one thing to their liking: Under the new federal Cropland Adjustment Projetim, more than 100, 000 additional acres of private lands were opened to public husting last fall,

MOVE-URALD ---- Best Jordon, Michigen

Mr. Edward Burrows, boys' physical education. drivers' education, and biology teacher, spent his Christmas vacation working on an ige skating rink at the three tennis courts adjacent to the school.

The actuality of the ice skating rink became known late Tuesday night, December 27, about 9:30 when Mr. Burrows and a City plow plowed the area smoothly. Small 'walls' or dams surrounded the perimeter of the rink to prevent the water from flowing outside of the area when the rink is being frozen or when the ice thaws. The plow did not complete its task until 11.10 p.m. Mr. Burrows stayed to flood the rink and did

Not much choice, is there? Anyhow, the answer is The East Jordan News-Herald. It's hitting another new high in mail and news stand sales this fall.

Let's face it, there's not much choice when it comes to newspapers keeping pace with today's fast expanding J ${\tt ordan}$ Valley Area. And the News-Herald is the only choice for readers and advertisers who want "in" with the folks who make this area their home.

Did you pick the right Newspaper? 2,000 people in the Jordan Valley Area are doing it every week.
