OVER THE BACK FENCE

BY MARSHALL

We heard an old familiar song the other day. "Just a little street where old friends meet." So we looked it up to see how old it was.

People were singing that back in 1933 when money was as scarce as a first rate TV movie.

Those were the days when both the Boyne City and East Jordan railroad systems were having difficulty because the hauling of lumber was a thing of the past.

In January, 1933 the East Jordan and Southern Railroad made certain proposals to abandon its line; or to operate as far as Mable and cut off the 12 miles on to Bellaire. (Mable is a community of which we lack all kinds of knowledge.)

The railroad company contended that with the exhaustion of the timber supply in 1928 freight shipments were reduced to a point where the road was operating at a loss. And in 1933, they were not alone.

Many others, including yours truly who was operating as a single unincorporated individual, were functioning at a loss, also.

However, it now is 1955. And if you will go out and walk down the street you'll note that the E.J.S. is still operating a railroad between East Jordan and Bellaire. Like many of us, they pulled through.

At that time maintenance costs for the railroad were $600 per month. And in 1933 that figure was something you went to bed and dreamed about. The railroad represented an investment of $274,397.00 back then.

Along about that time one heard about the BCG&A, also. Boyne City-Gaylord and Alpena Railroad was in trouble.

And it wasn't until January 11, 1935, two years later that the late Judge Parm C. Gilbert announced receivership sale of said railroad.

The road was sold to a group of bond holders with the idea they would continue to operate the section running between Boyne City and Boyne Falls. At that time the tracks ran through to Alpena and had not been used for several years. The idea was to rip up the tracks from Boyne Falls to Alpena.

The new purchasers assumed responsibility for a bonded indebtedness of $800,000.

If you'll step over to Boyne City you'll note that the railroad is operating between that city and Boyne Falls.

And so both railroads, which long served this section of northern Michigan, are still in operation, having come through the great depression, perhaps bloody but unbowed.

That song: "It's just a little street where old friends meet" did not, however, come through the depression.

How we got side tracked from music to railroads is something only a visiting historian can tell.

Checking over this stuff we discovered that it was also about this time that Mrs. Over The Back Fence was gaining space in numerous Michigan newspapers. It says here that she walked off with first award in a Michigan "National Educational" contest sponsored by the Federal Housing Administration.

She represented Michigan in Washington, D. C. on June 15, 1935 and walked out of President Roosevelt's office with fourth place in the nation. She'd written an essay on Better Housing.

We've been a painting and plastering and fixing up ever since. We hope to have our living room done by spring—1955.

What really bothers us about 1935, however, is a state egg law which required all Michigan eggs to be sold by weight instead of per each.

This law went into effect November 1, 1935. And if it is still on the books a whole lot of people have goofed.

Farm Contest Sponsored By Thorsen Lumber

Thorsen Lumber Company announces that farmers in this area can make improvements in their farm buildings and compete for prizes that will pay all or most of the cost of their projects.

This opportunity is presented by the 1955 Farm Building Improvement Contest, sponsored nationally by Better Farming Magazine and the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. Al Thorsen is participating locally.

The contest offers $10,000 in cash prizes. There are two grand prizes of $1,500 each and also two prizes each of $750, $500 and $250, plus 40 prizes of $100.

Eligible to compete are such projects as a new farm building, the remodeling of an old one, an addition to a building or the construction of such things as pens, chutes, feeders and other specially-designed devices.

Anyone who has begun a farm building improvement since January 1, 1955 and completes it before November 1, 1955 can enter, according to Thorsen.

Entry blanks are free; there is no charge or fee of any kind to enter. Local farmers can obtain information about entry blanks and other details from Thorsen's.

County Cancer Workers Hear Dr. VanDellen

A group of volunteer cancer workers met in the dining room of the Methodist church at noon Tuesday, February 1st to further plans for a more active organization of the American Cancer Society. The dinner meeting, attended by representatives from the Charlevoix and East Jordan units, listened attentively to Dr. J. VanDellen, medical chairman for the county, discuss various cases within the county where the society has helped and also responded to the questions raised by the group.

Mrs. Ronald Scott, county commander, introduced Mrs. Bernard Sargent of West Branch, who is Northern Michigan's district representative. Mrs. Sargent outlined plans for a more complete and active organization for Charlevoix county. She expressed a desire for more volunteer workers in each community within the county to better promote the educational program and also to make dressings more readily available to patients needing them.

Mrs. Sargent will continue in organizing the volunteer workers into a complete unit so as to have an active organization working by the time the annual drive for funds is conducted in April.

Red Devils Move Back Into Top Tie With Charlevoix

Name County Red Cross Chairman

The Rev. Forrest E. Mohr of Boyne City has been named fund chairman for the annual American Red Cross Fund drive which will open March 1, Peter H. Timmer of Charlevoix, Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter chairman, announced this week.

The 1955 quota for Charlevoix county has been set at $3,200 or $570 less than the 1954 quota of $3,770, Mr. Timmer said.

Local chairmen for the various communities of the county will be named shortly.

East Jordan's Red Devils, who have lost out one conference game this season, moved back into their first place tie place with Charlevoix Tuesday night when they gained a 23 point lead over Mancelona on the home court, 56-33.

The locals will meet Gaylord on the latter's court Friday night

In Tuesday's game with Mancelona, East Jordan had no trouble leading the Ironmen throughout the evening. Halftime score stood 25-12.

Bob Danforth was high with 15 points for the local team.

The Little Red Devils also took the Ironmen, 40-37.

Tuesday's game gives the varsity 10 conference wins with one loss to match the Charlevoix Rayders' playing thus far.

Gaylord, Boyne City and Pellston are to be met in that order before the season closes.

Boyne City and Pellston are the big threats to the locals as conference play nears the end.

World Day Of Prayer, February 25

Rev. Lloyd Schloop of the Charlevoix Methodist Church will be the guest speaker at the annual World Day of Prayer services to be held in the RLDS Church here at 2 p.m. Friday, February 25th.

A committee of women from the churches of East Jordan are working together to plan the services under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard McKinnon.

This regular annual observance began in 1887 when Presbyterian women in the United States designated a day to pray for home missions. In the early nineties Baptist women appointed a day for united prayer for foreign missions. In 1919 they came together with groups from many other churches and in 1920 the women of Canada joined them.

At that time the first Friday in Lent was chosen as the day of prayer for missions, home and foreign. In 1927 at the request of friends in other lands it became a World Day of Prayer.

In 1942 the planning, printing and promotion of the program became the task of a committee of the United Council of Church Women, now the general department of the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches.

MISS NYLAND travels to Grand Rapids as guest of the Cherry industry to compete in the state contest.

Winner of the state meet will represent Michigan in the national contest in Chicago.

The Lancers have five more games scheduled the last game of the season to be against the league leading Alba quintet. Alba defeated Ellsworth, 54 to 33, in a previous game this season.

Proclaimed as Dairy Food Festival week, all Michigan retailers are promoting greater use of these natural foods.

Local stores are carrying signs and banners telling shoppers about the big dairy festival going on in their stores.

The festival is receiving intensive backing locally by the Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery, makers of the famous Valley Lea Butter.

East Jordan Civic Building Michigan's Last WPA Project

Michigan's last federally constructed WPA sponsored building, a "white elephant" for the past 13 years, has finally been put to civic use.

East Jordan's huge community building, idle since 1942, now houses the only indoor ice skating rink in this section of northern Michigan.

Two projects, both sponsored by the East Jordan Rotary Club, were the only successful efforts advanced to put the building to community use.

Covering more than 15,000 square feet, the building was enclosed in 1942 and left idle since the war effort prevented purchase of additional materials.

A FRONT PORTION of the building facing Main street has for several years housed the East Jordan post office and an information room, but the greater part of the structure, not visible from the street, has remained empty.

The interior contains room for a basketball floor, a bowling alley, bleachers, balcony, furnace room and one other room.

The recreation floor was never completed, having only wood ribs sunk into concrete.

When the building was started by WPA, residents of East Jordan approved a $6,000 bond issue to raise funds for its final interior completion.

The bonds were never cashed, however, since the war came and it was impossible to purchase materials.

With the closing of all Michigan WPA projects, city officials in 1942 feared the building would be left without being enclosed.

CLARENCE HEALEY, East Jordan's mayor at that time, made two trips to Lansing requesting that the federal project be extended until the building could be enclosed.

Work of enclosing the building was done after all other WPA projects in the state had ended.

The local Rotary club for a while sponsored community activity in the portion now used by the post office.

A few weeks ago the club sponsored an indoor skating rink in the rear of the structure in cooperation with the city council.

The ice rink, which gained rapid fame and interest, is the only successfully sponsored project designed to make use of the long idled structure.

Several ideas have been advanced pertaining to use of the building such as a place for a small industry, independent indoor sports etc. But many residents have felt the building should be finished and used for the purpose for which it was originally constructed — a civic community building.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

(Compiled by the News-Herald Staff)

Time and time again you can trace the early life of a wealthy man or top executive to a small town. Take Warren E. Avis, for instance. He lived in Onaway, went to the army. When he came back he started a car rental business at various airports. The other day he sold his business for $8,000,000. His "Avis Rent-A-Car" system had spread to 330 agencies across the United States.

Two Michigan state policemen of the Gaylord post walked six miles on snow shoes to deliver an emergency message concerning the death of a man's father. Thus they do something besides arrest people, and popular opinion is again wrong.

Crazy Jack should ought to have been a man of letters rather than a four-wheel-with-spare-salesman. For lo! He is turning out better column copy than many of those so called reporting authorities in New York and like cities.

We have missed the bright and smiling face of our brand new county sheriff lately. Haven't seen him around.

WE SEE WHERE there will be a horse pulling contest in Lansing soon. Since Lansing is the political seat of our 83 counties we thought horse trading was the big contest down there.

How come Charlevoix county doesn't have one of these things: State Police Post, State highway garage, State supported school, State area conservation headquarters, State hospital?

If it is our geographical location, the excuse is weak. Because we can remedy that pronto. For back in the days of yore Beaver Island came into our fold when Emmet County needed some land to the north of us. So there was some horse trading that changed the geographical location of Charlevoix county.

It can be done again. This time we would keep Beaver Island and trade off some other part of the county which would make us more centrally located.

If we were to give Walloon Lake to Petoskey and East Jordan to Chestonia, the state might put a police post in Boyne City to look after any illegal arguments. With which, of course, the area would be promptly frought.

Or we might give Boyne Falls to Boyne City and East Jordan to Charlevoix and draw the political boundary line—which would be scattered with men and water pistols at ten paces.

WE RAISED this questions before about no state supported institutions in the county. But that is all that happened. The question was raised.

The man reading this over our shoulder reports that other things must be settled first. That is the location of a new county court house building. One man said the county seat has been in Charlevoix for more than half a century and the chairs are getting warm.

Being a farming territory, folks in East Jordan might call this a hot potato.

This central location farce has always been a private riddle to us. Manufacturing plants which once moved into Detroit's industrial area to be centrally located now are moving out faster than a Russian leaving a UN meeting.

Some people now agree that state and county institutions no longer have to be centrally located to serve the public. But many still cling to the idea like Traverse City to its Jet Base foolishness.

IF ALL GOVERNMENT, state and county institutions have to be centrally located to best serve the people, then our vast strides in transportation and communication are something of a washout.

Read back through this material and you'll notice that at no time have we mentioned politics. That's because, like scrambled eggs, they have nothing to do with what we've been talking about.

Next week we will discuss a less complicated and more easily understood subject—say the immortality of the soul.

Janet Overman and Don Whiteford Marry At Lee's Summit, Missouri

Janet Elizabeth Overman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Overman of Lee's Summit, Missouri, was united in marriage to Donald James Whiteford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern J. Whiteford of East Jordan, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Lee's Summit Sunday, January 16th at 4 p.m. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Ronald Becker before an altar decorated with baskets of white mums, pink carnations and roses in a green setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of imported clipped chantilly lace over net and bridal satin. The basque bodice featured a sheer yoke outline with scallops and a throat hugging lace collar. The long lace sleeves came to a traditional point over the wrist and the very bouffant skirt of clipped chantilly was edged with a deep pattern of lace scallops that outlined the tulle duster. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was held by a lace tiara trimmed with tiny seed pearls and she wore a single strand of pearls given to her by the bridegroom.

The maid of honor was Sue Basye, room mate of the bride from Lee's Summit. Bridesmaids were Darlene Wright of Raytown, Missouri and Betty Jo Roberts of Kansas City. Both were room mates of the bride at Central Missouri State College.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of emerald green velvet styled with fitted basque bodices, crushed sleeves and tiny velvet covered buttons down the front. The bouffant gathered skirts worn over full crinolines were waltz length. Matching emerald green bands of simulated wheat were worn on their heads.

The best man was Kenneth Isaman, Jr., brother-in-law of the groom from Hazel Park. Ushers were Dean Wells of Kansas City and Rex Wildermuth of Independence. The Acolyte was James Overman, brother of the bride and ringbearer was Gary Isaman, nephew of the groom from Hazel Park.

Soloist was Ted Scott of Independence, cousin of the groom, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love." Organist was Mrs. Arnold Wiley.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue street length dress with a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a chartreuse street length dress with a corsage of white carnations and pink roses.

A reception was held after the wedding at Unity Inn with friends and relatives of the bride assisting in the serving.

The bride's going away costume consisted of a beige suit with a pink blouse, hat and gloves and alligator shoes and bag. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

The bride will join her husband later in England where he is stationed with the U. S. Air Force.

Janet Overman, the bride, graduated from Lee's Summit High School in 1953. She attended Central Missouri State Teachers College for 1 1/2 years.

The groom, Don Whiteford, graduated from East Jordan high school in 1952. He attended the U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., for two years and then enlisted in the U. S. Air Force.

According to the "Eastern Fruit Grower," a magazine published at Boyce, Virginia, a large apple grower could fail even on one year's short crop. With present day high labor costs and all operating costs a grower could make fair money on a good crop year. But on a low crop year the expenses would equal the value of the farm.

A real drought year may completely ruin an orchard. Irrigated orchards that had a medium amount of water produced a better quality of apples than those that had a heavy supply or not any.

It is hard to realize just what a nice spot we have here for growing all fruits. Sweet cherries in the west have a great many diseases that we do not have. Montmorency can not be grown commercially out there. Our fruit belt here is sure to expand and prosper.

I call our fruit belt by location starting at the South border, highway 72 and extending north to and around Lake Charlevoix. I've had extensive travel in many sections and states working for large fruit companies. We can grow better quality and also a larger variety of more kinds of fruit. Such as peaches, pears, apricots, prune plums, quince, crab apple, sweet and tart cherries and many varieties of apples.

SCHOOL HI-LITES

SECOND GRADE

Sadie Liskum

We are making valentines to give to members of our families. We are trying to learn to spell the words we need to write on our Valentines.

We had our mid-year Weekly-Reader test last week. Almost everyone did very well with three people testing fourth grade in silent reading.

We have our gym class in our room because the gym is too cold early in the morning. Mrs. Bray teaches our gym class and Mrs. Liskum goes up to the fifth grade room to lead a 4-H Conservation Club.

We are learning some new songs about winter. Most of us can read the words of our songs from the song books. Sometimes Mrs. Drapeau brings the rhythm band instruments and then we really have fun.

SECOND GRADE

Agnes Johnston

During our "News Time" last Wednesday, we talked and made plans for our part in the February assembly. We are going to work out a health act from our study of the different phases of health. We are going to plan the program so everyone in our room will have a part.

Some of our language periods have been devoted to the subject of thrift. We all made a poster showing the bank we have at home where we save our money. Some of the posters were very colorful.

Our room calendar for February is the shape of a huge heart.

Steady progress in spelling is a goal that we are striving to attain.

Last Monday we helped Lee Omland celebrate his eighth birthday. Lee treated us all to sticks of candy. We all made a birthday card for Lee.

Last Thursday, during our gym period, we had fun playing the game "Tommy Tucker Run For Your Supper."

Mrs. Johnston is reading to us the book "The Bobbsey Twins in the Country."

New Room Helpers were chosen Monday.

Our attendance record is improving.

Frederick Vincent is a new little boy in our room. He comes from Gaylord. We hope he will like his new school.

FIRST AND THIRD GRADES

Adeline Bowerman

After we had our Weekly Reader test Mrs. Bowerman handed us the test we did the first of October. Nearly everyone raised their score. The two tests were put away until we have the third test near the end of the year.

Last week we started our third phonics skill text. We are learning many new terms and find that these books are helping us in our reading and spelling.

We had lots of fun planning and preparing for our part in the Assembly. We want to thank the parents who helped us with costumes. We were glad that many of them could come to the program.

In continuing with our communications study our next project will be the post office which we will have until our valentine party.

Our boys and girls voted to "adopt" a family of three little boys for our valentines. Instead of buying valentines for our friends, we will buy a pair of anklets, underwear, or a toy for one of the boys who lost everything they owned in a recent fire. They have been invited to our Valentine party.

Bobby Hart's mother treated the children to Dixie Cups on Tuesday.

THIRD AND FOURTH

Grace Galmore

Our room had a nice treat Friday. Jack Murray had a birthday. He brought some cupcakes with chocolate frosting. They were very good. By the time he passed them out it was recess. We sang Happy Birthday and thanked him.

Monday, January 31st Mr. Glenn Malpass came and told us about Eskimos. He went on a trip to Alaska. He showed us some slides about Alaska. He told us all about how Eskimos live. He told us what they wear all about what they eat and a few other things.

—Martha Groh
We had a visitor. He was Mr. Glenn Malpass. He showed us pictures of a mouse rabbit, bears, sheep, ptarmigan and many other animals. I learned a lot about these animals. They were very interesting.

Got a nice letter from Floyd Detloff in Fort Lewis, Washington. He says: "Hello Marshall, I get my East Jordan paper and want to thank all the folks there. It is a source of real pleasure to me. Sounds like the old home town is growing. Hope it doesn't change too much because I like it just the way it is."

So the deer kill was light this year. Glad to hear that, there will be more chance for me when I can go hunting again.

The game here is plentiful. There's lots of deer right on the Post. I went up into Elk country a couple of weeks ago. There's an open season on them, and if a guy wants to, he can shoot a deer and then buy a tag and shoot one of those too. One country here has a $35 bounty on black bear. There's also mule deer, pheasant, mountain lion, mountain goats and many others.

There's a river on the post too and there are pictures of steelhead catches in the paper every day. Steelhead fishing starts December 5 and lasts into February. Salmon fishing is even better. The runs are in the spring and fall.

You can fish salmon in Puget Sound the year around and you don't need a license in salt water.

I am about 70 miles from the Pacific Ocean and just a little ways from Puget Sound. There's a mountain range between here and the ocean. Where I am now, we don't have snow but can see it on the mountains. The coldest it's been is 25 degrees, and sometimes it's warmer than 45. It's cloudy most of the time and rains often.

Best of good luck,

According to reports this week five boys are on their way home. The first letter is from Sgts. Delwin and Darwin Morris. They write: "Dear Marshall, Should have written before, but never seemed to get at it. We want to thank all of you back home who made it possible for us to get the paper. We are leaving here February 14th so you can stop sending it, but have appreciated it each week."

We've had a little snow here in spots but never more than 3 or 4 inches at one time. We spent yesterday skiing in the mountains. They had 3 or 4 feet of snow, but it was too warm for good skiing.

Thank everyone again for making it possible for us to get the paper. Will be seeing everyone in the home town in about a month.

Sgts. Delwin and Darwin Morris.

Dear Jake, I am writing regarding the paper that is being

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hitchcock and sons of Flint spent the week end at the Minnie Beal home.

Della Lavanway had a nice letter from Magreta Hite saying she is happy in her new home at 417 W. Easterday, Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. Magreta would be happy to hear from any of her friends.

Cub Scout News

The local Cub Scout Pack, No. 128, has on exhibit in the News-Herald office window samples of a few of the activities the dens have carried out during their first year. Each month the boys have a general theme on which they work. Their study, songs, craft and skits center around this theme. Various achievements and electives can be passed by participating in the projects.

The boy's display will be judged sometime during the week by representatives from the northern district of the Scenic Trails Council.

Last Sunday 31 cub scouts attended as a group the service at the Methodist Church. Several boys took part in the service.

On February 22nd, the first "Blue and Gold Banquet" will be held in the school cafeteria as the boy's regular pack meeting. The theme for the month, "Let Freedom Ring" will be carried out for the banquet.

Rebekah's Meet . . .

The Jassamine Rebekah lodge met on February 3rd with Noble Grand Kay Braman presiding. There were 26 members present and a very good program by Clarissa Goodman. Adeline Bowerman reported on the progress of the Rebekah sponsored Girl Scout program. Jane Foote and Irene Wright each sponsored one girl scout each. There are now nearly 100 in all.

Rebekah Visitation night is March 8th at Charlevoix. Program committee for the next meeting will be Mary Hitchcock and Anna Keats.

Mrs. Mary Hitchcock was hostess to a gathering of 25 members of the Jassamine Rebekah lodge at her home Monday evening. Mrs. Kay Braman and Mrs. Hattie Murphy were co-hostesses.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Ethel Brown of Grand Rapids, a former East Jordan resident and a member of the lodge. The evening was spent visiting and playing games. A delicious lunch was served. Mrs. Brown expressed her gratitude for the opportunity to meet with the lodge members.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown returned to Grand Rapids Tuesday.

Plan Now For Living Fence

Now is the time to plan for a living snow fence and windbreak on the farm, advises Ed Rebmam, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

A short trip over Charlevoix county's countryside, he points out, can tell how badly trees are needed for that purpose.

Robert E. Dils, a Michigan State College forester, says the snowbreak is needed mostly in these areas: In narrow valleys where snow piles up on the road, on exposed side hills, for protection of road cuts and on level, open country where wind has a long sweep.

A living snow fence has many advantages, according to Dils, and farmers can afford to plant one for their own convenience as well as the public.

A snowbreak will reduce the cost of snow removal by about one-third, according to the forester. It will save the cost of snow fences, it may serve as a shelterbelt and it provides cover for birds and game.

That's in addition to the beauty it gives to a roadside and to the farm, Dils adds.

Information on Windbreaks, shelterbelts and snowbreaks may be obtained at the county Extension office at Boyne City. Or you can write to the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State College. Ask for Extension Folder F-118.

Jordan Jingles

By PAT and MARIAN

This month of February brings us here again with a little more chatter 'n nonsense . . . it also has brought about some pretty cold weather. Seems as though it makes that skating rink a big attraction to all . . . 'cept us, that is . . . all we can do is cruise around on our ankles . . .

Congrats to Mr. Acitelli and those band members who took time enough to go to Gaylord and come back with some pretty high ratings . . . nice going clarinet quartet . . .

Well, the season of basketball is coming to a close very soon, what with Mancelona last Tuesday night and Gaylord this coming Friday, we have but two more battles to fight . . . Pellston and Boyne. And by the way, fellas, nice going on those games . . . our record sure is something to be proud of. Now after these three games . . . we face those tournaments . . . let's go team!

Can't help but notice that the Juniors are going all-out on practicing for their play . . . we're waiting! Seniors are in the midst of putting out the best yearbook ever . . . been seeing someone burning the midnight oils at M. Karr's lately . . .

Saw a couple having it out the other day . . . she was saying "Flattery is 90% soft soap and soap is 90% lye!" Any truth in that statement?

Senior girls, planning on having another toboggan party? Or is this snow too much or something . . .

Been noticing some of the younger set all duded up in their Boy Scout best . . . if you have a minute, take a look at their display in the newspaper office.

Wooden legs are not inherited, but wooden heads are . . . hmmm . . . is THIS what you learn in Biology? Never did find out how the Senior English students came out on the Essay contest . . . all's quiet . . . Speech students are now having a big time with dialects . . . so if you hear a little French or German rolling off the tongue of some Dramatics student, there's the explanation.

Here's a note to remember when things pile up on you . . . It isn't how high we climb, it's the way we get up after a fall—and it isn't the load that breaks you down, it's the way you carry it . . .

Fresh out of any more news!
