Now they are talking about Detroit being the "Bowling Capital of the World." That's because Frank G. Mitzel is the newly-elected president of the American Bowling Congress. His picture will be printed 600,000 times; his signature 3,000,000 times.

Mike Barnett was reappointed City Assessor by the mayor last week and approved by city council. Mike has been assessor for some time. This was omitted from the list of city appointments in last week's issue. It was done through a typing error.

A small time merchant at a wee whistle stop once wrote a debtor who had promised time and again to settle his account but never did. He wrote: "You are just a mule eared liar. If you don't settle up, I aim to clobber you until there won't be nothing left but a pair of suspenders and a wart. I want my money and I want it now." Then he signed the letter; "Please excuse pencil."

We see where Eric Johnson has a Jordan River Plan. But as we read further we find it is a plan for the Jordan River in the Arab countries and Israel.

The talk is there will be a couple of new used car lots in town. One next to the bowling alley and the other across from the sewage disposal plant.

We see that Don Clark is hard at work installing the approach to our new city dock.

Also the shoreline along Veterans' Park is being improved.

Bill Lucke has been appointed to look after the city dock and boats which pull in to tie up. Proper name for such a person is Harbor Master.

Floy's Beauty Shop has opened at 110 Echo Street. No appointments necessary, she says.

East Jordan's tourist park looks the best it has in 20 years. Thanks to Tom St. Charles and those who have cooperated with him. Two trailers last week, already.

Mac unfroze his Tasee Freeze and there's plenty for the stepping up and buying. Big opening next Saturday.

Frost attacked the cherry trees and everyone is holding their breath.

Car salesman Al scraped a deer off the front of his car the other day. Only damage was that done to the deer and to Al's nerves.

Mayor Vern Whiteford has been doing some fishing over at Police Chief Harry Simmon's cabin.

Stop light Bader has a mighty nice bed of flowers growing next to his all modern car wash area.

Those sight-seeing seniors will be home in the a.m., fresh from a personal survey of the East.

How much do you pay toward operation of the East Jordan school? The school's annual budget is around $225,000 per year. Local school taxes make up about 10 percent of this, or $25,000 per year. Not counting other costs, the teacher payroll alone is $112,000 per year.

We're going to look up and be mad as all get out if we don't get a guaranteed annual something — like a half page ad each week for 52 weeks from every advertiser. Seems to be the popular song to sing.

POPPY DAY Proclamation By Mayor

All citizens of East Jordan are urged to wear a memorial poppy on Friday or Saturday, May 27 and 29, in a proclamation issued by Mayor Vern Whiteford setting the days aside as Poppy Days. Pointing out that wearing of a poppy is an individual tribute to the memory of America's war dead, the proclamation stated:

"Whereas young men of the City of East Jordan are still serving in defense of our country and are taking their places among our honored citizens alongside those who have served in wars, and

"Whereas the roll of those who have given their lives in the nation's defense is increasing;

"Whereas the memory of those citizens of East Jordan who make the supreme sacrifice for America should live forever in the hearts of all citizens of our City, and

"Whereas annual wearing of the memorial poppy is an individual tribute to the war dead, showing that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices in our behalf, now

"Therefore, I, Vern Whiteford, Mayor of the City of East Jordan, do hereby proclaim Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28, to be Poppy Days in the City of East Jordan, and I urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing the memorial poppy."

Bowling Season Ends With Successful Year

Forty-two bowling teams consisting of 210 bowlers who used East Jordan Recreation every week since last September has turned East Jordan into a bowling center of the north.

A number of men and women bowling out of East Jordan took various honors at State, Regional and National bowling tournaments this year.

The East Jordan Recreation, managed by Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson, closed Sunday with one of the firm's most successful years.

The Women's Bowling League with the Dress and Gift Shoppe the winners, held its annual banquet at the Jordan Inn, May 6th. There were 12 teams in the league.

The winning team was made up of Minnie DesJardins, Edna Wilkins, Shirley Taylor, Mary Lou Breakey and Fran Sutherland.

The men's bowling included 26 teams in all. A joint banquet was held at the American Legion home May 9th with members of the Merchants' and Inter City League attending.

East Jordan Recreation team won the Merchant's playoff. Members were Jack Valencourt, Charlie Hitchcock, Hugh Hawley, Ervin Bennett and Andy Anderson.

The Temple Theater team copied Inter City League honors for the season. Members were: M. N. McDaniel, Guy Russell, Fred Vogel, Julius O'Brien and Andy Anderson.

Drewry's number one team took the City Association Tournament. The members were: Joe Wilkins, Bill Cole, Gordon Riddell, Larry Marks and Frank Erickson.

Mother-Daughter Banquet To Be Held May 19th

The Presbyterian Women's Association will sponsor its annual Mother and Daughter banquet Thursday, May 19 at 6:30 p.m. at the high school gym.

Mrs. Jason Snyder will be toastmistress. Invocation will be given by Mrs. Vern Whiteford.

The toast to mothers will be by Janet DeHaven and the toast to daughters by Mrs. E. O. DeHaven.

There will be skits by the dramatics class under direction of Vaun Ogden and Mrs. Grant Hastings of Ellsworth will give readings.

Benediction will be by Mrs. Vernon Vance and Mrs. T. E. Malpass will furnish the dinner music.

Softball

All East Jordan softball enthusiasts are asked to be on hand at the high school tonight (Thursday) at 7:00 p.m. At this meeting softball plans for the coming summer months will be drawn up, a softball association formed, officers elected, and city and outside competition discussed.

Vale Gee will act as chairman and all team representatives as well as interested individuals are cordially invited to be on hand.

Murphy Heads Dem Ticket Sale In County

Archie Murphy of East Jordan has been appointed ticket chairman for Charlevoix County for the 1955 Jefferson-Jackson Dinner May 21 at Masonic Temple, Detroit.

The annual dinner, the major Democratic rally of the year, will be addressed by Governor Robert D. Meyner of New Jersey. Tickets are $35 for husband and wife or $25 single. Funds raised are divided between the state and national committees.

MEGGISON SAYS . . .

A package of three bills, HB 419, 417 and 450 concerning the sex deviate problems, passed by the House, should be of great interest to all the people. The first bill allows the Judge to impose, after finding a defendant guilty of a specific sex offense, an indeterminate sentence (minimum of which is one-day and the maximum, life) upon the defendant if it is determined in accordance with HB 417 on a presentence examination that he is a sex delinquent. H. B. 450 concerns the defendant after he has been sent to Jackson prison and protects him from life sentence by allowing him to appeal to the court of original jurisdiction in the event that a psychiatric clinic does not give him proper periodic review of his case.

HB 472, appropriations $2,000,000 to the State Health Department for the purchase of polio vaccine to be furnished free to the high risk group (children under 10 years of age, and pregnant women), passed without a dissenting vote, and was given immediate effect. It is expected that the Senate will pass favorably on this bill next week.

Another issue which provoked a long emotional discussion was HB 350, which passed with a 63 to 42 vote, transfers the Howell TB San from the Tuberculosis Sanatorium Commission to the Mental Health Commission to house mentally retarded children. During debate, proponents brought out the information that TB facilities were only 50% occupied, while there was a crying need for more beds for mental cases with something like a waiting list of 1,500 mentally retarded children already committed by the Court, and no place to put them. Some of the cases, it was claimed, had been ordered committed for as long as two years.

HB 137 appropriating $37,000 to the Regents of the U of M for completion of program plans and for expenses preliminary to organization of a 2-year University program in cooperation with the Flint Junior College, with a provision that completed plans along with a budget covering estimated requirements for the beginning of senior college operations in September of 1956 passed the House 89 to 0, and was given immediate effect.

Time Needed To Discover Fruit Loss

Falling temperatures all the way to 18 above were unofficially reported around Charlevoix County Monday.

Official government reports for East Jordan showed 23 degrees and canning company officials said although fruit was damaged by frost it was too early to tell the extent.

Many farmers built fires in an effort to save their cherries, but the lack of a breeze caused their efforts to fail for the most part.

One official said it will not be until the "June drop" before the real extent of frost damage can be accurately told.

Don Cutler, aged 22, former East Jordan High School football star, who received his Army discharge this past winter, was in the starting lineup for the White team in the Annual Green-White football game at Michigan State College last Saturday. This game marks the close of spring practice for the MSC football squad.

Cutler, an outstanding back while playing under Coach Dan Devine here at East Jordan, was left tackle Saturday afternoon

Track Team Places Second At Cheboygan

The East Jordan Red Devil track team placed second in a four-way meet at Cheboygan last Tuesday afternoon. Other schools besides the Jordanites taking part in the meet were; the Class "B" Cheboygan Chiefs Pellston and Harbor Springs.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold their regular meeting Wednesday, May 18th at the Legion Hall.

Attend Conference

Mrs. Hilda Hartlep, manager at Grandvue, spent three days last week attending a conference on hospital management at the Kellogg Center on the MSC campus at East Lansing.

Following is a resolution passed by the Charlevoix County Farmers Union dance committee and presented to the News-Herald for publication.

"Deer Lake Dance Committee reports a special meeting was held Saturday night, May 7th.

Resolutions passed commending law officials for their assistance in helping clear up some of our problems.

We also recommend courts give more severe punishment to those selling drinks to minors.

We have decided to ignore the remarks in the press, which leaves people with a false impression on the facts of the raid because, now that we have the police protection that we have been trying to get for the past two years, we will continue to do our best to run a decent dance hall for respectable people to have a good time, as we have in the past.

It has always been the wish of the dance committee that parents attend with their teenagers."

Signed: Dance Committee
Charlevoix County Farmers Union.

Editor's Note: This newspaper released two news stories concerning the police raid. One appeared in the Grand Rapids Press; the other was published in the News-Herald last week.

No other news stories or information concerning the raid came from this office.

Neither of these two stories mentioned the Farmers Union Hall at Deer Lake.

At the time of their writing it was not known to us who legally owned the building, or who was legally responsible for the dances. Nor did we say the raid was on or at "the hall."

The two news stories released from this office said the raid was on "the dance area."

The News-Herald accepts no responsibility for related stories appearing in area newspapers.

Teen-Age Driving

This is an open letter to a boy, about 18, who forced me off the road while cutting in sharply and passing me on a hill yesterday afternoon.

Dear Son: You may think you are a good driver, and perhaps you are. But I'd like you to keep in mind that most of your "skillful" driving is due to other motorists.

Anybody can whip along the road as fast and as carelessly as you were doing. There's no trick to that—the new cars are loaded with power and pickup—too much so, I'm afraid.

Just remember that it was my alertness that prevented an accident on the hill, not yours. And the driver who was approaching us also had to brake suddenly and swerve in order to save your life and his.

IT IS NOT your courage or dexterity that has kept you alive as long as of other motorists. You have been trading on our good will and sense of self-preservation.

I wish it were possible to point out to you that your kind of driving is nothing but bad manners—it is not heroic, or adventurous or manly.

Suppose you ran down a crowded street, pushing people out of your way, knocking packages out of ladies' hands and kicking children into the gutter. What would be so heroic or manly about that?

Nothing, of course. Then why do you suppose that having 2,000 pounds of steel under you makes it any better? There's nothing to be proud of in driving fast—any fool can do that. It's a form of cowardice to threaten other drivers, not courage.

SUPPOSE YOU beat me at the getaway, or up the hill? What does that prove? Nothing, except that the car you bought is faster. You didn't make it; it's a commercial product. Anybody can buy one like it—and anyone can drive with a maniacal disregard for safety.

So don't take any pride in your deadly accomplishment. A real man is considerate and polite—and takes chances only when it counts when his honor and conscience call out for it.

On the highway, most of all, it's easy to tell the men from the boys—for the men have to save the boys from the consequences of their foolish and needless bravado. —The Detroit Free Press

School enrollments are still growing by leaps and bounds. By 1965, more than 40 million children will be crowded into the nation-wide school picture. This means the same increase in the next ten years as in the last ten.

To have adequate schools for tomorrow's children, each community today must study the picture at least ten years ahead. Some communities will find they have to plan for much more than the average increase of 26%—others, less. But whatever the local picture, a long-range plan must be a vital part of any program that is designed to meet the needs of our schools.

The national aspects of the crisis in our educational system are so serious the President has called for a White House Conference on Education, to be held later this year. Throughout the country, local communities are planning to hold their own conferences to study and discuss their own particular school needs. If you are interested in finding out more about how to hold such a conference in your community, write for the new free booklet on community conferences, Better Schools, 2 West 45th Street, New York 36, N. Y.

KNOX SAYS:

Academy Exams Await Young Men Here

I am aware of the fact that many young men in the Eleventh Congressional District are interested and would like to be considered for nomination to the United States Military Academy, the United States Naval Academy, or the United States Air Force Academy.

The examinations will be conducted in the following cities in the Eleventh Congressional District: Alpena, Cheboygan, Escanaba, Gaylord, Manistique, Petoskey and Sault Ste. Marie.

Before May 31, any and all interested young men should write me in their own handwriting indicating their interest and preference of service. I will then file the names of the applicants with the civil service commission which will enable them to designate the post offices where the applicants will write the examination.

Every high school Junior and Senior boy should consider taking advantage of this opportunity if he is interested in a career in the service of our nation. Candidates who pass the Civil Service examination are still required to meet the particular ac-

More Fine-Car Features than any other car priced so low!

CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY? CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS

POWER—Pontiac's husky 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor, optional at low extra cost, delivers more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of its price. And road records show this power is teamed with the greatest economy in Pontiac history.

STYLE—No car at any price is so beautifully distinctive. Pontiac's future-fashioned Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning set it apart from all other cars—point the way to tomorrow.

SIZE—Pontiac is a big car where it counts—with a long, road-hugging 122" or 124" wheelbase. On any road, at any speed, you enjoy the feeling of genuine fine-car size.

COMFORT—Pontiac's extra size means big-car comfort—room to stretch out and relax. Wide-stance rear springs and Shock-Proof chassis float you along in luxury style.

If you were to guess Pontiac's price on the basis of its style, performance and size, you'd surely guess hundreds of dollars higher than its actual cost. Pontiac measures up with the finest on any point of comparison—except price.

It's a simple matter of fact that you can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes!

After a close inspection of Pontiac's luxury and quality and a few miles commanding its mighty 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8, buyers from both ends of the price scale are switching to Pontiac in record-breaking numbers. Come in soon for the clinching facts and figures. You'll make the very pleasant discovery that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a big, powerful Pontiac—and step directly into the fine-car class!

One of the prime sources of talent for professional baseball is the American Legion baseball program.

Last year 237 active major league players were "graduates" of Legion baseball. Since its inception in 1926, 1,527 boys have traveled the glittering trail from the Legion diamond to the big league stadium.

Lou Brissie, former pitcher for Philadelphia and Cleveland and now Commissioner of American Legion Junior Baseball, estimates that perhaps 8,000 or more Legion ball players enter the minor leagues every year.

Every big league ball club has its share of Legion graduates. With the Tigers, among others, are Al Aber, Ray Boone, Jim Delsing, Ned Garver, Steve Gromek, Fred Hatfield, Harvey Kuenn, Red Wilson, and Jay Porter.

Curbs Delinquency
But vastly more important than its imprint on pro ball is the Legion baseball program's effect upon juvenile delinquency. It is regarded as an excellent curb on hooliganism.

This isn't some corn dished up by Old Diz. It reflects the sentiments of people like J. Edgar Hoover, West Point officials and major leaguers themselves.

A boy actively participating in a baseball game is removed from gangs and street corners and is less likely to wind up in serious trouble.

Character building is the principal product of the Legion's program, which instills into players 16 years of age and younger lessons in good sportsmanship, fair play, team work, self reliance and respect for rules.

Blankets Nation
Even if they didn't make the big leagues, more than 15 million boys have learned good citizenship in a program that extends throughout the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Hawaii.

In addition to playing a regular schedule, Legion teams get an opportunity to participate in state and national tournaments. Moreover, a photo of the boy selected as the "player of the year" is placed in a plaque along with those of baseball's immortals, at the Cooperstown Hall of Fame for a year.

Old Diz is proud to be numbered among the Legion's graduates.

I remember that when I was 13, I hitched a ride from our farm near New Goshen, Indiana, to try out for the Clinton Legion team. Near the end of an intra-squad game, I gave up six runs.

Everything was against me that day, for I was unable to hitch a ride home and wound up by walking the 12 miles back with my glove in my pocket.

Later on, however, I made the Terre Haute team and played third base for two years, learning the valuable lesson in the American Legion's Hickory and Horsehide program of how to get along with people.

LETTER BOX

Last week we printed part of a letter from Tom Thacker, who is in French Morocco. Following is the rest of his letter:

Tanger has a number of other unusual characteristics, too. Since it is truly international—being governed by a federation of which the US is a member—there are no money controls. Sidewalk shops buy and sell all types of currencies and maintain blackboards showing current rates in 20 different countries. Generally speaking, Americans gain in such transactions; when we were there, the US dollar would buy 367 francs as against the Moroccan price of 350; even the pound, standard through the British empire at $2.80, was selling for $2.73. Shopkeepers are accustomed to accepting just about any currency imaginable.

We went to Gibraltar by ferry on Monday, leaving the car in the hotel parking lot. The trip over took 2½ hours, during which time we traveled most of the distance eastward through the straits. Contrary to our belief (and I had been there before so should have known better) Gibraltar doesn't actually project into the channel. Really, certain points of Spain would appear to control the straits more than Gibraltar. Evidently, that is an illusion which is offset by the heavy fortifications on "The Rock" and the well-equipped harbor and dock facilities. There is also an air strip for commercials as well as military aircraft. It cuts across the peninsula—as indeed Gibraltar is a peninsula parallel to the Spanish border. To get enough length, one end projects far out into the water. A considerable amount of present day Gibraltar is filled in area where naval battles were fought 200 years ago.

Our stay was divided between the "Rock Hotel" which is the newest and nicest and the "Bristol" which must have been fairly nice a hundred years ago but today has more atmosphere than conveniences. As anywhere, most of the touring is outside, however, so that is where we spent most of our time. There are probably a few feet of the "Rock" which we didn't cover, but darned few. We even covered some areas where special passes were necessary, and issued to members of "friendly" nations in a quaint old office which Wellington may have used.

The high point of any trip to Gibraltar is the rock climb. It starts by cab and ends on foot. We visited the Barbary apes at their house far up the slope and were fortunate to find them at home. Like most Americans, we knew the usual legend that the apes, which are the only ones free in Europe, will desert the Rock when Gibraltar is lost to Great Britain. Beyond that, our knowledge was scant. Now that we have been there, it is obvious why they won't leave the Rock; no apes ever had it so good. During the late unpleasantness with Germany, the colony began to die off and a few additional apes were imported from N. Africa. However, only 2 of them are left; all others were born on the Rock.

All of us—kids and adults alike—were fascinated by the apes. We could easily see why Queen Elizabeth and her family last May went back a second time to see them. They ate from our hands and climbed on our shoulders and put on quite a show, all things considered. The older members weigh about 40 lbs while the babies—Prince Charlie and Princess Ann—are still quite small. There are now 2 colonies with about 20 apes in each. They cover the entire hillside, sometimes visiting the city at the bottom. Always they return home at night. It was difficult getting the kids away from the apes and on up the slope. However, what must be must be—Fortunately, sometime in the 16th century King Philip of Spain decided to end the bickering between Spaniards and Moors so had a wall built to divide the Rock in two. A set of steps along the wall provided spots for sentries. An iron railing was added quite recently and now furnishes the route for the last 600 steps to the top. This is a military road all the way up but it closed to tourists. So we used the steps.

If your feet hold out, the view is magnificent. The other side is 500 ft or so straight down, then slopes sharply off to the Mediterranean Sea. The pitch is emphasized by the construction of concrete catch basins on all slopes having no other value; there is no other source of water on Gibraltar. Of course, the trip up has one unpleasant sequel; the long drag back. I am not sure which contributed to our semi-invalid condition the next day; something did.

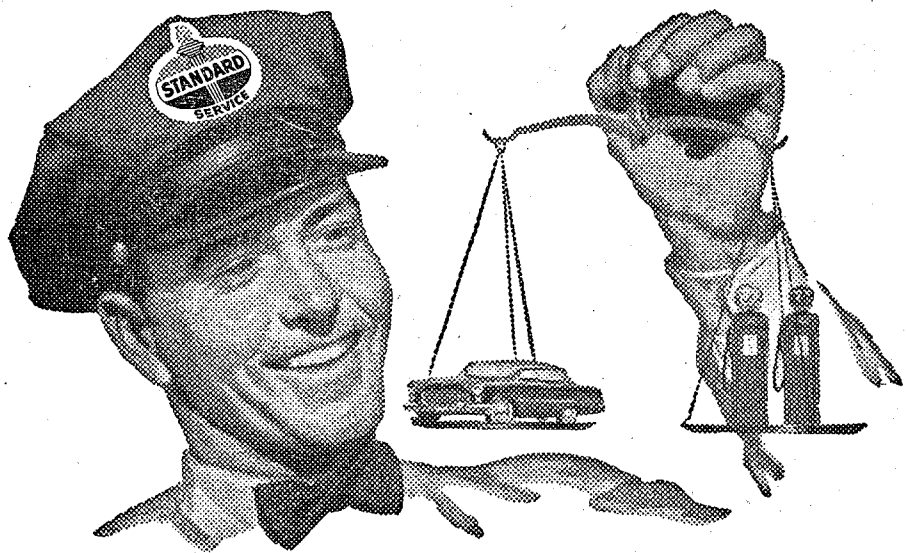

The military aspect of Gibraltar is quite amazing. There are said to be hundreds of guns, yet we only saw one, and it was being lowered into one of the tunnels and probably doesn't show by now. Cameras are not permitted up the slope—a disappointment because the apes would have made very interesting shots—but we couldn't have found a thing to photograph if we'd been spying. One experience gave us an idea what the inside of the Rock is like. A rock slide about 15 years ago closed the perimeter road on the east side—that is the side where there is practically no space between rock and ocean. So a tunnel was cut through and public vehicles use it. The result is dark and damp and eerie. I'm sure we were all glad to get back into daylight.

An incidental part of our tour around Gibraltar was a visit to the Moorish Castle—8th century construction and oldest structure on the peninsula—and a short swing across the border into Spain. Not far in—5th country in our 4 day trip, just enough so we could claim a The rest of the stay was rather prosaic—the pleasant enough—as we scouted the shops and visited the museums and watched the British guard mount which puts most of our military maneuvers to shame. Of course, their drill is designed for show, whereas ours is geared to simplicity.

Anyhow, we finished our tour of Gibraltar, back to Tangier where we spent a final day, then returned home. Incidentally, we visited the Naval Air Station at (Jump to Back Page)

SCHOOL HI-LITES

FIRST AND SECOND GRADE

Adeline Bowerman
We are planning to entertain our mothers this Friday. The third grade will present the play which they have prepared pertaining to their Mexican study.

We have found that Michigan has many first ranks in agriculture and fruit growing. We are finding out how our geographical location soil and climate are favorable for their firsts. We are making a farm scene and posters to illustrate these facts then in combining our social science, language and writing lessons, we are preparing a Michigan agriculture booklet.

We hope that many parents will be able to visit our rooms after the school assembly. Several rooms are preparing special units for Michigan Week.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADE

Grace Galmore
Our boys and girls are working hard getting ready for Michigan Week which will be celebrated all over the state from May 15 to 21. We are hoping that many parents will come to school that week to visit the rooms and attend the assembly program on Wednesday. In our room we have as a special topic — mineral and chemicals of Michigan. We are preparing a display of products and locating the cities where they are manufactured. We are also making pictures to go in a Michigan Booklet.

We were glad that Patricia Pearsall could be back in school Monday. We were sorry that Linda Sommerville will not be able to attend anymore as she has rheumatic fever.

Last Saturday my mother and daddy, my brother and I went down to the new dock and went fishing. There were a lot of fish down there. They were all fishing through the cracks in the dock. Everyone was down on the dock looking through the cracks. Everyone's nose was dirty from looking through the crack. We caught almost 42 fish. My daddy put them in a big gunny sack. There were rock bass and crappies. It was very much fun.

Thursday night I went over to my cousin's place. I had lots of fun. We went mushrooming. After that we went picking flowers. They took me home about 8:00.

Sunday was Mother's Day. I helped my mother with the house work. She said I helped a lot.

Port Layout for lunch and to break up the trip. It is another of the five major US installations in Morocco. Then through the capital city of Rabat and home. And for once, we ended up a vacation trip with a couple of days to rest before going back to work.

And that will be none too much, what with the increase in business at the Air Depot here and the sacred month of Ramadan coming on. The Moslems can't eat or drink from dawn to dusk during that period and efficiency becomes quite a problem — they comprise over half of our labor force. The supply job at Nousseur has increased about 80% since I arrived last August until we are now averaging 5,000 transactions — "line items" we call them per day. All of which promises to make a fairly active summer in these parts.

Sincerely —
Tom Thacker
