BOYNE FALLS HOSTS FESTIVAL

Everyone's Polish this weekend

It's that time of year again for food, music and dancing — all served up Polish style at the 24th annual Boyne Falls Polish Festival on Aug. 7-9.

But for those who haven't quite mastered the art of the polka, the weekend will also feature a three-on-three basketball shoot-out, horse and pony pulls, a 5K cross country run, a horseshoe pitching tournament and a four-wheel drive mud run. Of course the carnival and concessions will offer fun, food and games throughout the weekend too.

And it wouldn't be a festival in Boyne Falls without the Grand Royale Parade, scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 8, at 11 a.m.

shals, Inis and Ralph Harmon, were both born, raised and have lived in Boyne Falls their entire lives — except for a spell when they lived in Petoskey.

"We're pushing the 50 mark pretty fast," said Ralph of the golden anniversary they will celebrate on Aug. 12.

In fact, this year is chock full of milestones for the couple. Inis celebrated her 50th high-school class reunion this spring — Ralph's was last year, and the Harmon farm, where they still raise beef cattle, will mark its 100th anniversary this year. "We don't like to milk cows," Ralph said good-naturedly.

With all that under their belts,

THIS YEAR'S Grand Mar-

EJ will go with interim principal

The East Jordan School District will not hire a new high school principal this year, but appoint an interim principal from the staff to fill the spot left empty by Gus Bishop.

"We are incredibly fortunate in East Jordan to be in a position with a veteran and talented staff at the high school, and because of the nature of that staff we're going to be very comfortable with the utilization of an interim," superintendent Chip Hansen said.

The district received 18 applications for the job and interviewed two candidates: Don Everhart, an assistant principal at Alma High School, and Deann Jenkins an assistant principal at Pinconning High School.

Hansen said the district would have been comfortable hiring

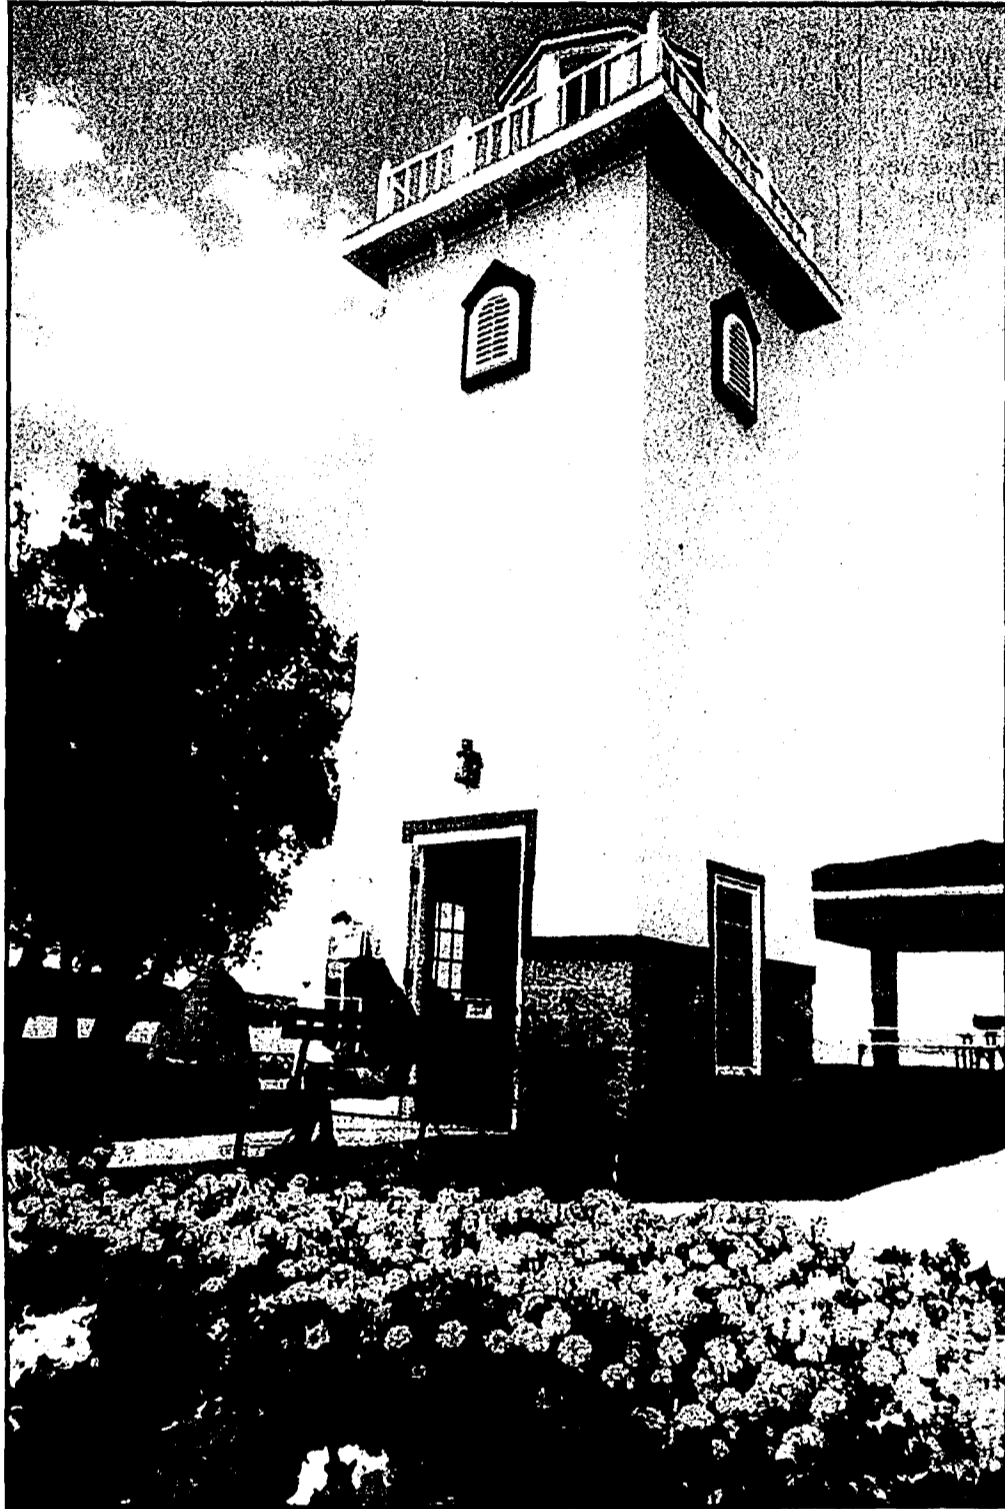

Everhart, but the candidate decided to stay at Alma where he has been promoted to principal.

"It's pretty tough when you get started in July," Hansen said of the hiring process. Next spring will hopefully insure a stronger and more qualified candidate pool, he said.

"We are just really fortunate to have a talented faculty and staff and be in a position where we can afford to wait," Hansen said.

The interim principal has not yet been named.

After five years as principal, Bishop stepped down to become full-time director of curriculum and instruction for the district, a job he previously administered on a part-time basis.

Summer color

The colorful touch of the Boyne Valley Garden Club is in full bloom at the Boyne City Marina. Catching up on her work at the harbor master's office was Dawn Archambault. The marina is just one of the locations where the garden club has worked its colorful magic. Among them are Old City Park, the Post Office, Veteran's Park, the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce office, and the Lake Street bridge over the Boyne River.

Sportsmen take a trip back in time

The Jordan River Sportsmen's Club Annual Rendezvous is Aug. 7-9 with 100 families or so participating in the historical weekend camping adventure.

The public is invited to come by to witness this living portrayal of the great rendezvous that took place during the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

Teepees, period clothing, camp fires, and muzzle-loader shooting will take visitors back in time as modern conveniences are put on hold for the weekend.

Old-fashioned sack races, apple-peeling contests (the longest peel wins), and horseshoe throwing contests are a few of the primitive games that will be enjoyed by modern-day folks.

The club is located in East Jordan, off Advance-East Jordan Road. Look for the directional signs. Visitors can stop by for free. The fee for campers is $20 per family and $15 for individuals.

For more information contact Paul Beauvais at 536-3208.

Sunset Park will fill with art Saturday

The Northern Michigan Artist Fair will be held on Aug. 8 from 10 a.m.-8 p.m. in Boyne City's Sunset Park, behind the chamber of commerce building.

For more information on the show or an application form, contact the chamber at 582-6222.

A love FOR THE classics

By GINA SOLTIS KENDELL

This weekend's 25th annual Antique Auto Show and Flea Market in Boyne City will feature 125 cars and 100 booths.

Indeed, it's been 25 years since a group of local car buffs officially registered as the Boyne Country Region members of the Antique Automobile Club of America (AACA).

But for longer than that they've ratcheted, upholstered and spit-polished their classics for display, and have become as much a part of the cars' histories as the cars themselves.

"Basically the collection of an automobile has to do with your youth," Bob Mathers said. "It has to do with what you had when you were young."

AACA members can instantly recall the make and year of the first cars they owned. Arnie Hudson drove a '41 Ford, Earl Bennett a '42 Chevy Coupe, Bud Sabin a '33 Ford, Bob Walker a '36 Ford, Don Hayden a two-door Ford, Roy Kindy a '56 Chevy, and Jim Shepherd a '36 Dodge.

Remembering family birthdays takes a bit more pondering. They don't allow muscle cars in the club. And that may be why there are fewer younger folks joining the group — they're more into speed, club members said.

OPINION

It's time to sit down and talk about common goals, problems

Boyer City has struggled for years trying to find acceptable solutions to its facilities needs.

While not as long in terms of time, Boyne Falls has also been trying to solve its building needs which are every bit as critical as Boyne City's.

But even though their struggles are similar, and only a few miles separate them, so far there has been no discussion between the two districts about working for a common solution.

The topic, for whatever reasons, has been taboo.

But maybe now is the time for that discussion to begin.

Boyer City has watched building proposal after building proposal go down to defeat. And just recently, Boyne Falls voters, by only four votes, turned down a proposal for $6.2 million to build a new school.

Both districts are now back to the drawing board trying to figure out what to do next. Boyne City is working with Beta Design in an attempt to come up with yet another proposal voters might support.

The Boyne Falls school board will meet with the community Aug. 13 to discuss why the proposal failed and what options lie ahead.

No review would be complete without the two school boards and community members sitting down and at least having a discussion about what common ground might exist.

Everyone always says we have to do what's best for students. Is it in the students' best interests not to even talk about possible consolidation?

Volunteers needed to continue the July 4th tradition

TO THE EDITOR:

Boyer City's Fourth of July Festival Committee would like to give heartfelt thanks to all of those who have made this year's festival so spectacular.

First of all, to Boyne City's fire and ambulance crew, city workers, and the police department, and their families who graciously give up their Fourth of July together, because these devoted people work from 6 a.m. to midnight so that everyone can enjoy the festivities.

A thank you to those who donated to the various fun-raisers...those who "adopted" their favorite firework, One Water Street and the racers at the Pineapple Challenge, and the Eta Nu Clowns with their balloon and flag sales.

Thank you to the various businesses that sponsored this year's activities: the Walter Rozycki Family, and Citizen's Bank for their Silver Sponsorship; to First Chicago NBD, Boyne Area Medical & Rehabilitation Center, Lexamar Corporation, and Old Kent for their Bronze sponsorship.

A gracious appreciation to other businesses that donated equipment: Charlevoix County Transit, Top Rank, and Boyne U.S.A. A special thank you to the Boyne Valley Lions who very successfully manned the Fireworks Safety Area, and to Clinton River Ski Club members who volunteer year after year where help is needed.

To all of the participants in the Grand Parade, the Tannery's Frog Race, the Independence Day Race, the decorated bike contest, the bands that played in the park, and to the Boyne City Yacht Club Parade of Boats, a special thank you, because without all of your participation and hard work, our festival would be mighty dull.

Finally, but most important, thank you to every single committee volunteer. There are close to 15 unselfish fun-seekers that meet five months a year, that plan and execute the best festival that northern Michigan can be very, very proud of.

July 4th, 1999 will be here before we know it, and though this festival ran smoothly, it is essential to recruit new volunteers. Please don't let this festival fade due to lack of involvement or interest on your part.

It's been estimated that close to 15,000 people come to Boyne City to see what can be done by a small community of 3,500 full time residents. All of the volunteers deserve to sense every "oohh and ahhh" that is heartfelt by all the spectators of Boyne City's Fourth of July Festival. You are the ones that make our job so very easy and so much fun.

Ann Parks and Liz Kroondyk,
Co-chairs, Boyne City's 4th of July Committee

A PROGRESS REPORT

Facilities group continues its work

By FLOYD WRIGHT

The Boyne City Educational Facilities Committee met July 30 with BETA Architects and continued the effort to resolve solutions to our schools' space problems. Twenty-one persons participated with valuable input. Ira Breneman was hospitalized and unable to be there. "Get well soon Ira."

BETA presented a revised, updated set of plans for Configuration "D", (K-5 elementary, 6-8 middle, and 9-12 high school). A lot of discussion ensued about the elementary site plan and where the additions would best be located to be a functional floor plan and still have an acceptable impact on the outdoor playground space.

It was decided that on the day of the next meeting (Aug. 13) we will meet at the elementary site and stake-out the four choices for addition locations to get a first hand feel for how they will fit on the site.

The middle school plan for configuration "D" is taking shape nicely on paper, and BETA will make a few refinements to that floor plan and site plan. The 9-12 high school plan got its share of discussion this time; and an auditorium/band room addition was presented for the first time. BETA will take discussion input home and make adjustments to the science wing addition, the remodeled technology/shops wing, and the new auditorium/band wing addition.

BETA also presented adjusted plans for configuration "G" (K-3 elementary, 4-5 upper elementary at the middle school, a new 6-8 junior high building, and 9-12 high school). Two significant factors became very evident. First, the existing elementary building would need no additions or remodeling, only some ventilation, electrical and flooring updating. Second, the proposed new 6-8 junior high building and outdoor facilities would be a very tight squeeze onto the existing available land space. A subcommittee was formed to study the building spaces and sizes needed for the 6-8 building; and also to compile an inventory list of all out-door land space needed (examples: football stadium, baseball, softball, soccer, and practice fields, playgrounds, parking lots, etc.).

A third configuration was introduced; that of K-3 elementary, 4-5 upper elementary, 6-8 in a new wing addition to the 9-12 high school. This differs from plan "G" by eliminating the new separate junior high building and making a new wing addition to the high school with the space and cost economy of having some shared facilities and services. BETA will take a look at this proposal and return on Aug. 13 with a preliminary plan.

BETA presented a calendar outline for the steps necessary to lead up to a millage election, and a March 1999 election will be achievable and has become the committee's goal. It means that we need to resolve the CONFIGURATIONS and PLANS choices this OCTOBER. These choices will be presented to the public in the form of a survey; the results of which will guide the committee and the school board in their decisions for a bond proposal.

Stick with us on this problem with school spaces, and share your thoughts with us. Join us at the next meeting on Aug. 13th. We will meet at 6:30 p.m. at the elementary school to stake out the proposed additions. See you there.

(Floyd Wright is a member of the steering committee for the school board's Educational Facilities Committee.)

A MOM'S LIFE

Predictable? Well-ordered? Are you joking?

By CINDI PLACE

Lately, I've noticed that many magazines and morning news shows are focusing on ways to make our lives more efficient. Stories entitled "Getting out of the house in less than 10 minutes," "How to organize your teenager," and the all important "How to have-it-all and do-it-all without sacrificing your femininity." Please.

First of all, any woman who has time to be concerned with her "femininity" certainly doesn't need advice on raising teenagers. She couldn't possibly have any. And as for getting out of the house in the morning in less than 10 minutes, well, that is accomplished at our house every school day. All you need to do is forget about cleaning hair, body or teeth, accept that your bed will never be made again and skip the supposedly most important meal of the day — wolfing down a sugar cereal, then throwing a glass of white water into your throat after it.

Now, I realize that the authors of these particular self-help rules are hoping to improve the quality of our lives, as well as make it more fun "to be me." But the reality is that when you have a household of two adults, four children, two dogs and various "temporary" aquatic animals, life is not easy. Nor is it quick, well-ordered or predictable. But it is always interesting.

Take the time that I decided we should, as a family, reorganize each of our bedrooms. At first, everyone was enthusiastic with the idea. Promises of new bed linens, with the appropriate cartoon character or sports star, kept the race to get these rooms clean and orderly exciting. But eventually I discovered that the unanticipated, and unwelcome, results of this cleaning frenzy included a mountain of "dirty" laundry, a new game called "guess what was in this glass last," and the possibility that the unsanitary living conditions of my children's bedrooms could constitute the creation of a new third world country.

Many of the ideas about how to better organize our lives have some real merit. Like suggesting that we set the breakfast table the evening before, going as far as to pour the cereal in the bowls so that all the kids have to do is find the milk. Problem with that idea would be the two dogs. Imagine my surprise when I wake up the next morning to empty cereal bowls, and two pooches with a sugar high.

Then there is the idea of organizing the children's backpacks so that all homework, lunches, notes to school and various other necessities are always where they need to be when they need them. Of course, this idea only works if the child remembers the homework in the first place. Or makes the lunch and puts it in the backpack.

Or, even more important, hasn't left the backpack on whichever school bus they came home on the day before.

Boyer's Old City Park needs more use

TO THE EDITOR:

Years ago, around the turn of the century when Anna Dietz was a child, she was invited to many birthday parties which were always held in a beautiful park in the center of Boyne City: City Park.

We are so very fortunate to have this park in our town, but it needs to be used and enjoyed much more than just on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. and on Saturday mornings.

It needs to be used often again for family picnics, birthday parties, baby showers and noon lunch hours. That "home town feel, small town appeal" can come to life there once again.

But before any of this can happen, the park needs more facilities to accommodate these guests. We need to provide more playground equipment than just the present one set of swings. The park needs additional picnic tables, trash receptacles, benches and new barbecue grills.

The vandalism continues to the benches, flowers and shrubs because the park is visited by few responsible adults and too much by uncaring juveniles, who among themselves refer to their secluded retreat as "Hippie Park." I do not know about you, but this is unacceptable with me.

Recently we used a garden hose to remove catsup which had been thrown all over the ceiling of the freshly painted gazebo. Flowers in the fountain are being uprooted and trampled and branches have been broken off newly planted shrubs around the gazebo.

If you do not realize that we adults are losing the use of this park as a family oriented recreational gem, check it out in the early evening of a Friday and see if you feel good about what you witness.

How can the Boyne City Commission, the Parks and Recreation Commission and members of this community pull together to work on this problem?

Curb appeal

The new curbing on Main Street in downtown East Jordan has become a permanent outline for the street. The road base is being built up and, according to city officials, paving may begin in the next few weeks followed by sidewalk construction.

Boyne DDA invites comments on design of river boardwalk

The proposed boardwalk along the Boyne River will be the topic of a special meeting of the Boyne City Downtown Development Authority Thursday, Aug. 6.

All businesses, residents, clubs, and organizations with an interest in the boardwalk are encouraged to attend. The meeting begins at 7 p.m. and will be held in city commission chambers at Boyne City City Hall.

Connie Pulcifer of Beckett and Raeder Inc., will lead the meeting. Beckett and Raeder, an Ann Arbor landscape, planning and engineering firm, was recently selected by the Boyne City Downtown Development Authority to design the boardwalk.

Pulcifer will serve as project manager for the boardwalk project. She also worked with the DDA when it was developing its comprehensive long-range plan two years ago when she worked for Johnson, Johnson and Roy.

"This is an informational and issues meeting," said Boyne City planning director Tim O'Leary. "Persons with concerns, questions or simply interest are encouraged to attend and give input to the project at this early stage of the design phase."

The boardwalk, as it is currently proposed, will be built along the river from Lake to Park Street. From Lake Street it will run on the south side of the river, then cross on a footbridge to the north side.

Among the issues that will be considered in the boardwalk's design will be how it connects to the downtown retail areas, how it connects with Old City Park and Veteran's Park and how it may link to a possible future trail system throughout the city.

The design will also include plans for improvements along the south side of the river from the point the boardwalk crosses the river to Park Street.

The DDA currently has $175,000 plus a $45,000 Coastal Zone Management Grant set aside for the design, engineering and construction of the boardwalk. When it sells the property it owns on the corner of East and Water streets, across from the Dilworth and next to Mather's Ford, it will put that money toward the boardwalk project.

Depending on the availability of funds and the cost to build the boardwalk, the project may be done in phases.

The DDA had hoped to begin construction of the boardwalk this summer, but it encountered problems securing easements along the river which has pushed back the start of the project.

Boyne City street work bid awarded to C.H. Smith

C. H. Smith Company, Inc., was awarded the construction contract for Boyne City's street projects, with a bid of $258,711, at last week's commission meeting.

Resurfacing and the replacement of some water mains, sewers and storm sewers will be completed on one block of Park Street from Pine to Cedar, on Second Street between Terrace and Division streets, and on Division Street from Second to Pleasant. Park Street will also be widened.

Construction was expected to begin Tuesday.

Other work being done in the city includes some curb construction on Ray Street from East to Lake streets.

Morrell has been playing guitar and singing since high school, when he organized a band that played the music of the Beatles, Doors and other popular bands of the '60's. In college, he switched to acoustic guitar and folk music.

He also plays classic rock and the music of James Taylor, John Denver, Jimmy Buffet and Dan Fogelberg.

Concertgoers are invited to bring lawn chairs and picnics to the evening concert.

In case of rain, the concert will be cancelled. For more information, call 582-7522.

Dance marathon benefits American Cancer Society

Feel like partying the evening away? Feel like striking a blow against cancer? Now you can do both in the same night.

Marathon dance teams, artists and crafters, corporate sponsors and all-around helpers are needed for the "Rockin' for Research" 12-hour dance-a-thon fundraiser for all of Charlevoix County, to be held from noon to midnight, Saturday, Aug. 22, at the East Jordan High School. All proceeds will go towards cancer research through the Great Lakes Division of the American Cancer Society.

Dance teams, backed by donations from local corporate and other sponsors, must use a "tag team" approach to keep at least one couple dancing to a variety of music by popular disc jockey "Radical Joe" for all 12 hours. Local companies and civic groups are urged to assemble their own dance teams or sponsor others willing to assemble a team. Some company teams are already challenging other companies to match their commitment, if not their dance-floor stamina.

Punctuating the tag-team dance marathon will be hourly auctions and raffle drawings, an arts and crafts fair, celebrity spokespersons, personal care information booths, karaoke contests, and food booths for snacks and beverages.

Artists and crafters and food booth operators interested in setting up a sales booth are asked for a $25 booth space donation and, if possible, to add a little to their prices for an additional contribution.

Volunteers are also needed for "behind the scenes" help and to assist in soliciting corporate donations and sponsorships.

For more information, call Kim Hejka at 536-0084 or Nikki Skrocki at 536-3181.

Charlevoix County Land Conservancy is celebrating

The Charlevoix County Land Conservancy and the Up North Big Band invite the community to join them in a celebration of the newly formed conservancy on Thursday, Aug. 13 at 7 p.m. at its offices at 108 Park Ave., in Charlevoix.

Marie Volovsek and her jitterbugging students will "cut the rug" at the Mason and Kammermann parking lot and entice old and young to join in the fun.

Bring a friend, a sprig of myrtle (for the rock garden, roots attached, please) and a blanket for relaxing under the Apple Tree — or just bring your good wishes and ideas. Lemonade and cookies will be served.

Meet old and new friends in the Charlevoix County conservation community while tapping your toes and popping your fingers to the cool sounds of the Up North Big Band.

In case of rain, the celebration will be moved to First Congregational United Church of Christ on the corner of State and Park. At 8 p.m. the party will move downtown to East Park to enjoy the potpourri of traditional music offered by Dr. Goodhans Home Remedy.

WELCOME TO EAST JORDAN

In search of a needle?

It looks like a farmhand got a bit wrapped up in his work baling hay, but some good-natured pranksters were the real culprits of this illusion found recently in a field at the intersection of M-66 and Rogers Bridge Road. The photograph was taken by Gloria Waller of East Jordan, who has converted the photo into a greeting card.

cident, 21 tickets and 11 verbal warnings. There were also two arrests, one for loitering and one juvenile run-away. The complaints included:

CRADLE CALL

TREY ALLAN PETERSON, weighing 7 pounds 13.9 ounces and measuring 20 inches long was born to Beth A. and Allan L. Peterson of East Jordan on July 4, 1998 at Northern Michigan Hospital. Grandmothers are Jean Peterson and LaVerne Shank of East Jordan. Trey has two sisters, April, 18, and Martina, 3; and two brothers, Tony, 19, and Jordan, 23 months.

Now Hear THIS!

Q. Dr. Koskus, a friend told me that a hearing aid may make my hearing even worse. Is this possible?
A. Research done by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and others, shows that most hearing aids do not amplify sound loud enough to cause a greater loss of hearing. However, some hearing aids used by the deaf and the severely hearing-impaired have the potential of causing hearing damage if the output of the hearing aid exceeds 132 decibels (dB). Your audiologist can accurately determine the extent of your hearing loss, and make sure that you do not receive a hearing aid which contributes to further loss.

For answers to your questions about hearing difficulties contact:

PEOPLE

They're Golden

The Hocquard siblings have all celebrated their 50th wedding anniversaries within a few years of each other, amassing more than 200 years of marriage between them. The first to reach the golden milestone was Don on May 10, 1996, and then Ruth on October 5, 1996. Next was Dick on June 14, 1997, followed by Maxine on July 24, 1998. From left they are pictured with their spouses: Vernon and Ruth Hausler, Maxine and Bud Bates, Don and Doris Hocquard, and Yvonne and Dick Hocquard.

Intern working with EJ chamber

Melissa McKenzie, a sophomore at East Jordan High School, is working at the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce as a summer intern. The position was made possible through a grant from Michigan.

"This has been a true internship in every capacity," executive director Mary Faculak said. "She's been my right-hand person all the way through." She added that it has been an excellent educational opportunity for McKenzie as well as the chamber staff.

The staffing change has allowed the chamber to extend its office hours to Saturdays from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.

McKenzie is the daughter of Mike and Martha McKenzie of East Jordan.

Shirley and Ray Olson

Olsons celebrating their 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Olson of East Jordan will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house hosted by their children and grandchildren, Saturday, Aug. 8, from 2-6 p.m., at their home, 708 Seventh St., East Jordan.

Ray Olson and Shirley Nowland were married Aug. 8, 1948 at the RLDS Church in East Jordan with the groom's father, Elder Ole Olson, performing the ceremony. Their attendants were the bride's sister, Yvonne Nowland Howe, and Harold Howe, friend of the groom.

Their children are Wava and Rich Dietrich of East Jordan and Debra Moore of Boyne City. They also have five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson are lifetime residents of East Jordan. Ray retired in 1990 from East Jordan Iron Works after 38 years. They also owned and operated Har-Ray's Shoes in East Jordan for 20 years.

Guests attending the open house are asked not to bring gifts.

By NANCY NORTHUP

GREG AND SUE BLACKALL of Boyne Falls hosted a combination party on Sunday, July 23. It was a "Welcome home from Finland, a high school graduation, and engagement" party honoring her daughter, Lisa Bulat and fiancé Steve Kubota, here from Monterey, Calif. Greg's family from Grand Rapids and friends from Grand Haven and also Sue's mother, H. Naomi Longenberger of Ringtown, Pa., gathered at the Boyne Falls Pavilion for this special time.

AN "IT'S BETTER LATE than never" call came in on Thursday. Susie Walley of Boyne City and daughter Sharon Horn met Deborah and Tresha Vergara in Bellville, Ill., over the Independence Day holiday. They spent four days at Our Lady of Shows Shrine. They also visited the Arch in Missouri and attended a Neil McCoy concert, enjoyed fireworks, the St. Louis Zoo, the Merance Caverns, and the Black Madonna of Zestochowa Shrine and Grottos before returning home.

A WARM "WELCOME NEIGHBOR" goes out to Steve Sage, who recently moved into Litzenger Place.

DEDICATED TO AFFIRMING LIFE BY PROVIDING COMPASSIONATE CARE

Hospice...It's Not What You Think

Dialogue

Q: When should a decision about entering a hospice program be made and who should make it? At any time during a life-limiting illness, it is appropriate to discuss all of the patient's care options including hospice. Understandably, most people are uncomfortable with the idea of stopping an all out effort to beat the disease. Hospice staff members are highly sensitive to these concerns and are always available to discuss them with the patient and family.

Q: Should I wait for our physician to raise the possibility of hospice or should I raise it first? The patient and family should feel free to discuss hospice care at any time with their physician, other healthcare professionals, clergy or friends.

Q: Can a hospice patient who shows signs of recovery be returned to regular treatment? Certainly. If the patient's condition improves and the disease seems to be in remission, the patient can be discharged from hospice and return to aggressive therapy or go on about his or her daily life.

Q: Does hospice serve only cancer patients? Cancer is not the only condition for which hospice care would be appropriate. Other illnesses or conditions include: Alzheimer's and Parkinson's; neurologic, respiratory and cardiac diseases; infectious and parasitic diseases; and other life-limiting illnesses that without medical intervention would run their course in six months or less.

Q: What support is available for bereavement and grief recovery? Caring for the body, mind and spirit of the individual is an integral part of hospice's care philosophy. Bereavement support groups explore normal grief reaction, remembering the person who has died. The groups also provide methods for coping with anger, sadness or guilt, and build strengths to deal with future issues. By providing weekly support groups where participants can freely express their feelings in a safe environment, hospice can help prevent undesirable behaviors, which may surface later in life as a result of unresolved grief issues. Hospice also equips children with coping skills necessary to deal with grief in positive and affirming ways.

YOUNG PERFORMERS TAKE STAGE FOR CHILDREN'S PLAY

'The Legend of Lohengrin'

The Jordan River Arts Council and the Jordan River Players will present an original children's play, "The Legend of Lohengrin," on Thursday and Friday, Aug. 6-7 at 7 p.m. and on Sunday, Aug. 9 at 2 p.m. in the East Jordan High School auditorium.

The story of "Lohengrin" has an ancient history, a tale of a mysterious hero who arrives to save a maiden's honor. His name and origins must remain hidden, even from the maiden he will wed. She must promise never to ask his name or his powers will end, as well as their relationship.

The play was written by Lenore Bechtel and adapted from Richard Wagner's 1849 opera "Lohengrin." Bechtel has been a major contributor to the Children's Summer Theatre Festival, now in its seventh season, and her latest play was selected from those submitted to the annual Playwrights' Competition, sponsored by the Jordan River Arts Council.

Terri Warnos, who directed "The Boy Who Left Home to Find Out About the Shivers" in 1995, "Puss in Boots" in 1996 and "The Real and Rightful Princess" in 1997, brings her strong interest in children's theatre to this new play.

Cast members include: Eric Jacqua, Ashley Cary, Alex Gee, Andrea Gauthier, Morgan Hefty, Katie Elliott, Natalie Hickman, Alice Neer, Morgan Hefty of East Jordan will portray King Heinrich in the Jordan River Players presentation of "The Legend of Lohengrin."

Elizabeth David, Mark Goethals, Josh Guivens, Tina Swan, Megan Warnos, Darrin Bluhm, Kayla Potter, Joy Potter, Hannah David, Kindra Carson and Peter Warnos. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for children. The play is also funded by the Charlevoix County Community Foundation.

Students receive financial help from foundation

Several 1998 graduates of East Jordan High School will find college tuition a little easier to handle, thanks to some financial help from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation.

The students were chosen to receive scholarships made possible through special endowment funds held by the Foundation. They include the Becky Bos Memorial Scholarship, Alice Garlock Memorial Scholarship, Leatha Larsen Memorial Scholarship, the F. Bruce Malpass Scholarship and several East Jordan Rotary Club scholarships.

RENEE PERRAULT was chosen as the recipient of the $1,000 Becky Bos Memorial Scholarship. The Bos scholarship fund was established to honor Becky Bos, a 1991 graduate of East Jordan High School who died nearly six years ago in an automobile accident. Renee will use her scholarship to attend the University of Michigan.

EMBER RANSOM was awarded the Alice Garlock Memorial Scholarship of $950. The Garlock Scholarship is given each year to the student having the best academic record in mathematics. Ember will attend Central Michigan University to study biology and environmental science.

MATTHEW SOKOLOWSKI and HEATHER MCLAREN were each selected to receive $500 Leatha Larsen Memorial Scholarships. The scholarship honors former East Jordan teacher and counselor, Leatha Larsen, whose commitment to students was instrumental in many continuing their education. Matt plans to attend Ferris State University for construction technology studies and Heather is undecided at this time.

ADAM MURRAY was chosen to receive the $2,000 F. Bruce Malpass Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship is awarded each year to the student who plans to attend Lake Superior State University and major in a science/technology related field.

Seven graduates have been selected as this year's East Jordan Rotary Club scholars. Their academic performance, leadership and extra-curricular involvement were key factors contributing to the honors:

MARK PENZIEN received the $5,000 William E. Malpass Rotary Memorial Scholarship, which he will use to attend Alma College and study science and math.

EMILY NIEWENDORP was awarded the Howard P. Porter Rotary Memorial Scholarship in the amount of $4,000 to study theater and German at Hope College.

EMBER RANSOM received a $3,000 East Jordan Rotary Scholarship. She will attend Central Michigan University.

CASSIE KRAUSE received a $2,000 East Jordan Rotary Scholarship. Cassie will attend Hope College this fall and major in art and English.

RENEE PERRAULT was awarded a $1,000 East Jordan Rotary Scholarship, which she will use to attend the University of Michigan.

REBEKAH FULLER and KELLY WOODARD each received a $1,000 Bryce Vance Rotary Memorial Scholarship.

Boyne graduate receives coach's scholarship

Bo Reinhardt, a 1998 graduate of Boyne City High School, has received a $500 Michigan High School Football Coaches Association Scholarship.

All-Stars bow out of tourney

Even though East Jordan's senior baseball all-stars lost two games in the state final's tournament, it will be a long time before Jon Bennett forgets the two-run homer he hit in the bottom of the seventh to tie up Monday's game in Montague.

"It was great," coaching assistant John Whiteford said. "With one out, Bennett evened the score at 6-6 forcing the game into extra innings."

But opponent Harper Woods came back to score three runs in the eighth to capture a 9-6 win, stripping away East Jordan's chance at the state title. Nathan Skop was the losing pitcher.

The team lost to White Lake 14-1 on Sunday in Whitehall with Bennett on the mound. Top hitters were Bobby Nichols with a single and double, Chad Wilson with a base hit and Bennett with a double.

"They hit the ball well and we made a few mistakes and they capitalized on them," Whiteford said. "They are all good teams and you can't make mistakes."

Harper Woods and Marquette were the two teams left vying for the state championship. Whiteford said.

Todd McNitt at 536-2477.

All players must have physicals to participate.

Soccer clinics set

East Jordan 4-H Soccer will hold a soccer camp for 5-14 year olds designed to improve soccer skills such as dribbling, passing and more, Aug. 10-14 from 6:30-8 p.m. at the Old Boswell Field (current soccer field on M-32, East Jordan).

The camp is free, but bring a soccer ball if you have one.

Call Mike or Danielle Baier at 536-7814 to register or to help with the camp.

COACHES AND REFEREES are needed for the fall 4-H youth soccer program in Boyne City.

Experienced and inexperienced coaches are welcome to participate.

Many soccer coaches are learning the game right along with their players. Two coaches clinics will be offered to go over rules and give coaches ideas for practices and managing games.

They will be held at the high school baseball field at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 12, and Thursday, Aug. 20. All coaches are urged to attend.

A referee clinic will be held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 19.

To register or for more information about the clinics, call the 4-H office at 582-6232 or Susan at 582-7897.

Player registration is complete and teams are being finalized for the season, so anyone wishing to play who is not signed up should contact the 4-H office immediately.

Hockey association needs refs and coaches

The Boyne Area Hockey Association needs adult referees and coaches for the 1998-99 season.

Referees are paid $10-15 per game while coaches are volunteers. Referees and coaches must attend a one-day certification clinic in August or September to participate in the hockey program. The clinics are held on Saturdays.

For more details or to sign up, contact Steve Anderson at 582-7930 or Ande Keller at 347-3704.

and having raised five children (now there are six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren), it seems the Harmons should be slowing things down.

But don't try ringing up Inis this time of year, because she'll probably be out among the blossoms. "I love gardening, especially flower gardening," she said.

The homemaker also babysits for two of her grandchildren quite regularly. "They're just precious, both of them." With a wink, Ralph claims they get their good looks from him.

Ralph, who spent 16 years as a county commissioner, is still involved in local government as chair of the Charlevoix County Parks and Recreation Committee. For Boyne Valley Township he serves on the Board of Review, the Building Committee and the Cemetery Committee. He also drives a school bus, and in his "spare time" is helping his son build a new log home.

OLGA LICK is this year's Honored Citizen. "Oh, I'm surprised," said Olga when a committee member showed up at her door with the news of her designation. "But I'm honored to think that you chose me."

She's as busy as can be too as a Grandvue volunteer and with the fire and rescue auxiliary which recently contributed $3,000 toward firefighter gear. She is also a member of the Lutheran Ladies Society of Boyne City which distributes quilts to those in need through World Relief.

Charitable works have been a part of Olga's life for years. In the late 1960s, she was instrumental in starting the Boyne Falls library. It was a real asset to the town she said.

She and her late husband Ervin also ran the Chamber of Commerce out of their home years ago. "It was to help out when skiers came up and needed places for lodging," she said.

Basically they would coordinate local homes for the vacationers to stay in, which Boyne Mountain couldn't accommodate. Times have changed since then admits Olga. But even beyond the ski season — year round — she said children would write asking for information about Boyne Falls.

Olga has lived in the town since she was 5 years old when her father moved the family up from Chicago to start a farm. She and Ervin raised two sons in Boyne Falls, who now live in metro-Detroit, and she has five grandchildren.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD Kaitlin Deming was named this year's Little Miss, and 6-year-old Kyle Wright is Little Mister. The two were chosen based on their drawings of what the Polish Festival means to them. Kyle, the son of Shari and Jeff Wright, drew children having a good time on a roller coaster. Kaitlin depicted spectators in lawn chairs watching the parade, a roller coaster, a fire engine and police car — all her own ideas, said her mother Darlene. Kaitlin's father is Craig Deming.

Car show

many things. You get time to look around," Kindy said.

During the summer months, the group takes tours to other shows, tooling along the coast of Lake Michigan to Mackinaw or Ludington. They try to stay off main roads.

"You have to drive the old cars. There's no cruise control," Sabin said. They don't participate much in car shows other than in Boyne City. They leave that up to the younger members. In the winter months the cars go into storage or get repaired and a few guys build the trophies for the following summer's meet.

The group got its start as a Charlevoix Emmet Chapter of a Model A restorers club. When the interest broadened to different types of cars, they joined the AACA. The guys don't fail to mention Harvey Varnum, now deceased, and Bob Hooper as key members of that early bunch.

Back then there weren't any vendors at the shows — instead they played games to entertain the crowds. Like trying to drive in a circle blindfolded while holding on to a rope out the window, which someone else was holding onto at the center of the circle — the rope being the radius.

Or they would drag a board by a rope, attempting to match up a line across the board evenly with a line on the ground. Sometimes they would have a slow-poke race from the post office to Lake Street, in which contestants, prior to the race, would adjust their carburetors every day to make sure their motor was in top form. No gas, no clutch and whoever crossed the finish line last was the winner. And then there was some sort of car on a teeter-totter game that would no doubt be discouraged today by a more litigious society.

This weekend's show will be geared strictly to the oohs and aahs of car browsing and trips down memory lane.

They say, "I had a car just like that when I was young," Walker said, and, "they don't make them like this anymore."

"The public viewing is probably the most enjoyable," Hayden said. "We can see the people appreciate what's there."

And although the 1990s have brought a craze for the nostalgia market, these guys aren't in it for the money. Restoration is a time and money intensive commitment in and of itself.

"Most of us just like cars. It doesn't matter what kind," Hudson said. He owns 17 antique cars — Model Ts, Model As, Studebakers — all in various stages of restoration. One of his Model Ts just won best of show in a Petoskey show. He's a newer member to the club, having joined only about three years ago, but he's been collecting since he was 18.

"Back then they weren't old," he was kidded by another member. Probably not the first time for that one-liner.

Each vehicle conjures up its own story. When they were bought. From whom. What kind of shape they were in.

Mathers owns eight antique cars. His 1946 Ford was built the first year car production started up again after World War II when factories had turned to producing war materials instead, he said. He didn't think he'd ever own his '30 Hudson — the rarest of his collection. After one fellow purchased it for mushrooming, and the top went bad, Mathers heard about it and bought it. Sabin overhauled the engine.

Mathers and Sabin have been pals for a long time, first working at a gas station together and then at the Ford dealership. "We've been friends all our lives. He's like a big brother," Mathers said, even though there's not much of an age difference. "When I was a kid I used to go out there and he'd help me fix things."

"If they've got problems they don't understand," Mathers said of the other car owners, "we send them up to see Bud."

Sabin motioned to another car in Mathers' driveway. "I remember bringing this up from Traverse City," he said. The top speed was 35, the tires were bad, and once he got to town, the front wheel blew.

Earl Bennett said his kids thought he wouldn't have anything to do when he retired (laughter from other members), so they got him one to putter with.

Sabin has four Crosleys.

"Why? I don't know."

The one he drove today was simply closest to the door. What about 25 or 50 years from now? "They'll still be looking at the same 50 cars," Hudson said. Nowadays cars are all turtle shaped, they said. There is no distinction.

"They're just like family," said Walker. He meant the cars.

The show will be held Aug. 8-9 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. in Veteran's Memorial Park in Boyne City. Spectator admission is free. For more information call 582-2214.

4-Hers getting ready for county fair

Dale, Christy, and Luke Reinhardt hosted the fifth annual 4-H Steer Field Day on July 25 at their Deer Lake farm. It was attended by about 50 4-H members and their families.

Luke has a steer for the competition at the Emmet County Fair on Aug. 22-29. Luke and his parents invited the 4-H members and their steers to the activity day.

The day started at 8 a.m. Norm Beale from Cadillac came with his hoof-trimming shute and trimmed all 12 of the visiting steers' hooves. The kids also used electric clippers to shave the animals' heads and necks and bellies. This is to prepare them for their show day at fair. The kids walked and practiced setting up their steers as they will at the fair. The kids and parents all had a busy and fun time working and learning about their steers.

The 4-H members of the Charlevoix Emmet Market Livestock Association want to invite everyone to the fair to see their 20 steers, plus hogs, lambs, feeder beef and veal. Steer show day is Tuesday, Aug. 25, at 6 p.m.; the swine show is Monday, Aug. 24, at 8 a.m.; the lamb show is Monday, Aug. 24 at 6 p.m. The veal and feeder show are 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Auction day for all animals is Thursday, Aug. 27, at 3 p.m. All are welcome to come, and any person or business can buy the animals. Anything over market price is tax deductible.

Ducky Derby tickets still available

There are still a few tickets left for the Ducky Derby to be held on Aug. 7 at the Elm Pointe Estate in East Jordan.

Tickets cost $100 each, and offer a chance at a $3,000 first prize, $1,000 second prize, and five prizes of $200 each. Proceeds benefit Elm Pointe's Holiday Decoration Committee.

The race is at 7 p.m. and will be followed by refreshments and hors d'oeuvres at Elm Pointe. For more information contact Karen Symonds at 536-2674.

Cardboard boats racing at Raven Hill

Amateur engineers and boaters alike will enjoy participating in Raven Hill Discovery Center's sixth annual Cardboard Boat Race.

Kids of all ages can design, build and race a cardboard boat at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 16 at Raven Hill's pond. The object is to stimulate creative design and encourage problem solving and the use of higher level thinking skills, as well as have fun.

Large waxed cardboard sheets for boat construction are available at Raven Hill for $5. Cardboard can be picked up during regular discovery center hours, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays, noon to 4 p.m. on Saturdays, and 2 to 4 p.m. on Sundays. Boats can also be built from cardboard not obtained from Raven Hill.

There are no restrictions on the boats except that they must be built mostly of cardboard and a person must be able to ride on or in them to race them. Boats compete first in heats of two for speed and then for endurance in the demolition derby.

Registration for the race can be called in to Raven Hill at 536-3369. Prized are awarded for creativity, participation, speed and overall endurance. Everyone is encouraged to come and compete or watch the races which start at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 16. The museum will be open its regular hours from 2-4 p.m. after the race.
