Jordan Valley protection does not mean limiting recreational use

Friends of the Jordan hold annual meeting

Friends of the Jordan president John Richter told those attending the group's annual meeting last week that State Land Reserve legislation, the topic of the meeting, has nothing to do with limiting or restricting recreational use, such as snowmobiling, hunting and fishing, in the Jordan Valley.

"That's not our intent at all," FOJ program director John Hummer said.

On the contrary, the legislation could permanently protect the Jordan Valley Management Area from unwanted development, and preserve the area for such activities.

Act 114 of 1998, an amendment to the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Act, was sponsored by State Rep. Bill Bobier, and passed by the house, the senate and by Gov. John Engler this summer.

The legislation allows state-owned land to be designated as reserved property upon which subsurface mineral or other interests cannot be developed or exploited, and protects the land from being sold, leased, or otherwise disposed of except by an act of the legislature.

FOJ has a legal right to petition the Natural Resources Commission (NRC) to make a portion of the Jordan River Valley a state land reserve. The NRC would put it on its agenda, and if approved, make a recommendation to the legislature. The legislature would make the final decision.

Guest speaker Bobier's advice to FOJ was to move through the petitioning process as quickly as possible in order to get a proposal through the Possible abduction was only a mix-up

The Boyne City Police Department's investigation of an attempted child abduction case was cleared up on Sunday after a citizen, who had seen a police sketch of the suspect in the newspaper, told the department that the sketch resembled a person they knew.

On Oct. 17, an 8-year-old child said that the woman drove up next to her, asked her to come pick flowers and to get in the car.

Officers contacted the Boyne City female identified by the citizen, who said her conversation with the child was in an attempt to deliver flowers to another person for Sweetest Day without being seen by the recipient.

Officers interviewed the woman and determined that there was not an attempt, nor any intention to abduct the child.

"I think the child may have exaggerated a bit," assistant chief of police Jeff Gettel said.

Gettel said the department received about five to six calls on the case after it was printed in the newspaper, but this tip led to solving it.

"It paid off," Gettel said.

Helping hands

In just over an hour, 120 East Jordan Elementary School third graders raked the yards of six neighborhood senior citizens, filling up 90 bags of leaves. The kids chose to do the yard work as part of the school's community project requirement.

ALL-NIGHT VIGIL WILL FOLLOW PRAYER ASSEMBLY

Ministerial Association brings prayer to election

The Boyne City Ministerial Association is holding a Prayer Assembly on Monday, election eve, from 7-8 p.m. at Boyne City High School.

The assembly will be followed by an all-night prayer vigil hosted by the Free Methodist Church. Sign-up sheets for the vigil are available at all area churches.

"The ministerial association felt it was necessary at this time for all concerned to gather together to pray," said the Rev. Paul Wise, pastor of Trinity Fellowship Church.

"This is not a political event in any sense. We are gathering to lift up our leaders in prayer."

Assisting Wise with organizing the Prayer Assembly are the Rev. Gary Bondarenko, pastor of the United Methodist Church; the Rev. Bob Faulman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Lane Eddy, pastor of the Free Methodist Church; and the Rev. Francis Partridge, pastor of St. Matthew's and St. Augustine's.

"Through prayer we are asking God to guide us for the important decisions that lie ahead," Wise said.

"It's always good to pray for elections. Christians especially should vote in every election," Bondarenko said. "In actuality, it's something any conscientious citizen should do as often as they can, and especially in these challenging times."

"We need to make wise decisions in electing leadership, and need to pray for wisdom in that. This election has a definite moral issue in it as well, with Proposal B. We believe in the sanctity of human life, that life is a gift from God, and this proposal seems to be flawed. There is room for distortion; it could get us in some slippery slopes in the areas it allows for."

Bondarenko also said that the ministerial association hopes to make the prayer vigil "a springboard for ongoing interdenominational prayer. This might be a big enough concern, sometimes you need an event to kick things off. We would like to see ongoing prayer for the city, state, nation, and world come out of it."

Now a larger volunteer group meets in the craft room at Litzenburger Place twice per week — once in the afternoon and once in the evening — to stitch remnants into usable and much-needed items.

Initially, La Berta arranged delivery of the goods, but now, with the help of RSVP, the handmade items are distributed to residents of Grandvue, Bortz, Boulder Terrace and to others — folks who are

A MOM'S LIFE

A hint that middle age is creeping up

By CINDI PLACE

We thought that we had anticipated everything. We dealt with sending our child off to college and losing the daily contact with her that we'd come to enjoy. We packed up momentos, spent several weeks dying to call and simply "check-up." We even stopped ourselves during telephone conversations from asking about homework and grades and all the things that suddenly were our eldest child's own responsibility.

And, I might add, we've come to enjoy this special time in our daughter's life; sending her away didn't mean losing her, rather we get to watch her in a completely different environment and enjoy her as a young adult. But the one thing we hadn't thought much about was the all-important first visit home.

We expected that being out on her own for a while would change her perspective on many things. And we hadn't completely forgotten what it was like to have few rules, even fewer guidelines and no one around to hold us accountable, other than ourselves. But we had forgotten about late nights, and social activities and wanting to spend time with friends.

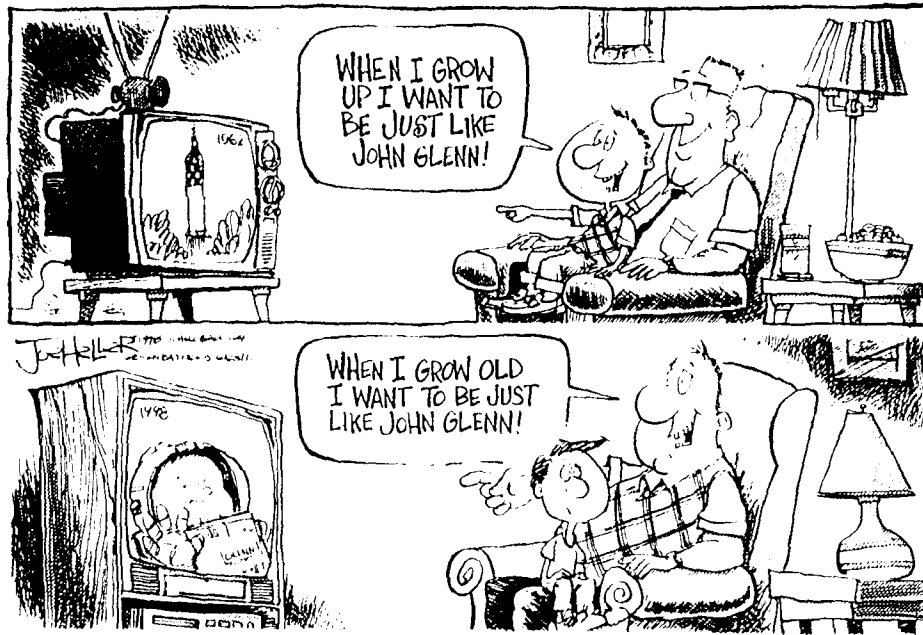

Luckily, we had planned ahead for this first trip back home in that we scheduled some "family time" as soon as our missing link landed. And I think she liked having an excuse to simply vegetate for an evening. But the next day began a marathon of activities that only the young could possibly endure. There were friends to see, places to eat, conversations to have that made me dizzy thinking about.

It was like she wanted to cram as many memories into two days as she possibly could. And she made a Herculean effort. We did have some inkling of the kind of weekend we were about to experience when, several days earlier we began receiving telephone calls from long lost friends inquiring about our daughter's plans and her estimated time of arrival.

And it wasn't too far into the first evening home that we got our first dose of the kind of life our college student was enjoying. We were watching a video, enjoying our time together, eating junk food and cuddling. But, as the time crept on the rest of the family began to slink off to bed, mumbling their apologies.

Bound and determined to spend this precious time with our daughter, my husband and I stifled our yawns and tried to stick it out. Between the three of us, no one wanted to be the one to call it a night. Finally, around midnight the father and I decided that keeping our eyes open one more minute was going to become impossible. So we left our eldest wide-eyed, watching television and folding laundry.

Apparently, while we weren't looking my husband and I had entered middle age.

Can't get away from the Three Men and a Tenor

By JANE BROCK

Friday afternoon I got out of work a few minutes late, which meant merely that we were going to get to Norma's in Alpena a little later than I hoped (and she was planning on us for dinner).

And then the kids were just starting the short list of chores that they had three hours to complete, so we got on the road still later, and I was disgruntled. But the kids were strangely immune to my crabbiness, having about them an unwarranted cheerfulness that over-ride my mood.

As we drove on through Gaylord (where we kept interrupting ourselves in amazement over the damage done to the landscape by the fierce winds of a couple weeks ago), Katie regaled me with details of an assembly she and Sam had attended at East Jordan High School.

It seems a group by the name of "Three Men and a Tenor" had been invited to relieve our children of an hour and a half of classroom time on Friday afternoon — a practice which I approve on occasion, don't misunderstand me.

But I was really afraid that I was going to resent this one, because I was going to hear every detail of the visit of the Men and Tenor! They are an a cappella group who have an amazing talent for doing things with their voices besides singing. They did, for instance, an "instrumental" number, a crowd of 6,000 screaming fans, and an a cappella safari piece that actually sounds as if it is full of animals.

They did Elvis, Johnny Cash and Bob Marley, who they felt should have had a chance to do some Eric Clapton, since Eric did a Bob Marley song. So with hat complete with dread locks they sing "You Look Beautiful Tonight," reggae-style. They taught Mr. Aten to do Elvis and shared their wigs with those less fortunate (namely, Mr. Inman).

I thought it sounded pretty neat — wished I'd seen it, even, and forgave the kids for not having packed their clothes when they came home from school. But I thought I'd heard all the details I needed even before they repeated it in excruciating detail for Aunt Norma!

It was a beautiful weekend, high 60s and so summery that we decided to take a walk on the beach in Alpena. Lake Huron was calm and clear, stretching out to meet the blue sky. We had the beach almost — but not quite — to ourselves.

There was a small group of other hardy beachcombers strolling across the sand; their eyes on the debris brought up with the waves, watching for a pocket-sized piece of driftwood. I know that for a fact, actually. Because all of a sudden Kate and Sam screamed, simultaneously, "THREE MEN AND A TENOR!"

And there they were, I think they were as excited as the kids. It must be fun (for a while, anyway) to be recognized by adoring fans. They didn't sing for us, but we chatted for quite awhile and begged them to try and get up north for the Freedom Festival, or maybe the Sno-Blast.

While I was exchanging e-mail addresses, Kate was engaging one of the Men in a dialogue straight from "The Princess Bride." It was a wonderfully fun encounter with what must be four of the most energetic men I have ever had the pleasure of meeting. I got a promotional tape, and felt that my kids' assessment of the talent of Three Men and a Tenor was correct.

Three Men and a Tenor will be singing at the Cheboygan Opera House Nov. 13, and we will be there. Hey, I've got to appease the teenage groupies in my house, you know.

Pfahlers had a great visit with the old team

TO THE EDITOR:

We would like to say "Thank You" to Frank Shaler and the Boyne Boosters for the tremendous undertaking of honoring the undefeated football team of 1968 and the coaches.

The Ramblers played a good game and thrilled the fans.

The half-time ceremony brought back many memories. The celebration after the game gave everyone a chance to get reacquainted.

We also want to thank the Dairy Queen for their special "Welcome" sign. We were more than touched. Thanks to everyone who made this "dream" come true.

Thanks Jim and Eleanor Stackus for the extra-special treatment.

Our hearts will always belong to Boyne.

Church members appreciate their pastor

TO THE EDITOR:

This is to publicly thank our pastor, the Rev. Lane Eddy, for his ministry to us of the Boyne City Free Methodist Church.

God has given him many talents which he uses in one way or another to advance God's kingdom. Whether it's giving a sermon, playing the piano or singing, counseling a young couple planning marriage, creating floral arrangements, or even decorating a cake, he is more than up to it.

When someone goes into the hospital, he's the first one to be there to pray with and comfort that person. And our home-bound members can look forward to regular visits from him. Pastor Eddy is an active and respected member of the Boyne City Ministerial Association, as well as a leader in the Northern Michigan Holiness Campmeeting Association.

Most important he is faithful to God in preaching the truth of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and in effectively witnessing to those with whom he comes in contact in our community.

Ably supporting him in ministry is his wife Glenys, who is also a fine musician and very active in the work of the church. So, on behalf of the members and friends of the Boyne City Free Methodist Church, we want to say we love you and appreciate you both. Thank you for all you do to encourage us to reach that "higher ground"!

All sins are not necessarily crimes

TO THE EDITOR:

Nearly 40 years ago I found my way into Alcoholics Anonymous where I learned, among many other things, that one of the most fundamental tenants of those who believe in a power greater than themselves is that it is entirely possible to hate the sin but love the sinner. I also found out that this particular truism is one of the most abused.

All these letters to the editor filled with hatred, scorn and utter damnation of President Clinton by ordinary people, the bible-thumpers and even some pastors who preach sermons condemning him tend to prove this point.

Contrary to what the present lynching mob preaches, all sins are not necessarily crimes nor are all crimes sinful. Sexual foreplay between two consenting adults may be considered sinful by some but it certainly is not a crime.

Us poor souls out here in the hinterlands have but seven cardinal sins to contend with. They are pride, lust, envy, anger, covetousness, gluttony and sloth. Inside the beltway of our capital they have still one more. This one is more deadly than all the rest put together. It reads "Thou shalt not get caught." Clinton got caught, or to be more exact, he first got betrayed by his partner in sin and then he got caught.

I read these letters and I hear about the sermons and I wonder "Are these people really Christians just practicing their faith or are they just a pack of hounds that have smelled blood and are laying for the kill?" Who amongst them can say that they have not also sinned even in a like manner? Is President Clinton's sin so much worse than their own? Do they really believe that when check-up time comes that one's station in life will tip the scales?

What a wonderful world this would be if our words and deeds truly reflected what we so virtuously profess to believe.

David Behling, and to Donna Erber and Lynda Christensen, for the nice lunch at the Christ Lutheran Church last Monday and just a host of people, neighbors, family and friends throughout the community and far away.

Only a small mound of coal remained at the Advance Power Plant until last week, when the rest of the stockpile was transported to Detroit Edison's Monroe plant. With the coal gone, removing the fly ash is the next step as the plant is dismantled.

Coal is gone at Advance

The huge mound of coal at the Advance Power Plant is gone.

The coal was purchased by Detroit Edison's Monroe Power Plant which began moving it last summer. Wolverine Power, owner of the plant, had hoped to have it done by late August but the process was delayed because of a problem with a coal handling unit at the Monroe plant.

The final 15,000 tons was moved last week.

The coal was trucked from Advance to a rail siding in Petoskey. From there it was loaded onto train cars and after following a circuitous route through Michigan was delivered to the Monroe plant.

Transporting the coal began in early June. There were 80,000 tons of coal to be moved, and approximately 2,000 tons a day were shipped.

While the 80,000 tons was a huge mound of coal for northern Michigan, it was hardly a drop in the bucket for the Monroe plant. It burns that much coal in less than two days. The plant, one of the largest in the country, burns 49,000 tons of coal a day, which is five shiploads.

Moving the coal was the first of four final steps for the plant, said

Craig Borr, vice president for Wolverine Power.

Now that the coal is gone, the fly ash, a byproduct of burning the coal, will be removed. The goal is to have the ash removed sometime next year.

The next step is to move the substation which is located next to the plant. Since the substation is still used by Great Lakes Energy, the move will take "a lot of work both from a safety and reliability standpoint," Borr said. "It takes a lot of coordination and planning."

Once the substation is moved, then other areas of the plant will be dismantled, Borr said. Physical changes to the site are at least a year away, he said.

The final step is cleaning up or "preparing the land for a potential purchaser," Borr said.

Currently two employees — John Rozycki and Craig Shaw — work at the plant. They are facilitating the work involved with the plant's shutdown.

The power plant closed in January 1997 after its owners decided it was more economical to purchase power than to produce it at Advance.

Jordan's friends have idea for education center

East Jordan city commissioners, at their meeting last Tuesday, discussed allowing the Friends of the Jordan River Watershed (FOJ) to put the old Trading Post building in Sportsmen's Park to use as the group's information and education center.

FOJ is considering acquiring the structure and moving it from its current spot off M-66 if it is financially feasible.

In other news, the city's streetscape is moving right along with new curbing going in on Main Street between Williams and Garfield. The parking lot across from city hall is being paved and the police station driveway was being poured this week.

Trees have been removed along Main Street between Williams and Garfield, in preparation for further landscaping. Also, some of the engraved bricks, purchased by residents and visitors through the Downtown Development Authority to help support the streetscape plan, have been laid in the downtown sidewalks.

ASK THE PRINCIPAL

By SUE STEPHENS
Boyne City High School Principal

QUESTION: What does Minor in Possession mean?
Before your children leave the house at night or on weekends, do you know where they are going, who they are going with, and when they will return?

According to Charlevoix County Assistant Prosecutor John Jarema, these are questions parents need to ask in light of the Minor in Possession law, now six years old.

What this law means is that if your high school student is a minor and is at a party where beer is served, even if your child has not been drinking and shows a 0.0 on a breathalyzer test, he could be charged as a minor in possession. This means you and your child will have to go to court, will have to pay a $60 fine, your child will be required to serve 60 hours of community service and will have to attend a substance abuse class.

Jarema said that with this zero tolerance law, even a minor who is not drinking but is at a party where alcohol is served will be charged with possession. If you are at the wrong place at the wrong time, you are guilty because of the words "constructive possession." Jarema said that, legally, "constructive possession" means an individual has the right of control over an object.

Jarema's best advice to minors is to leave a party the moment alcohol or any illegal substance comes out. Otherwise, they face the risk of being charged with possession.

For parents or those over 17, the penalty is even more severe. If you furnish alcohol to minors, a first offense will result in five days in jail and a $1,100 fine. A second offense will result in 20 days in jail and a $2,700 fine.

QUESTION: Why is there no closed campus at Boyne City High School?

Boyne City High School is one of the few high schools in the state with an open campus. For the safety of students, most Michigan schools have a closed campus. Ideally, Boyne City High School should have a closed campus too. However, the problem is that the cafeteria only holds 120 students and we have a student body of 450. We have divided fourth hour into two 30-minute periods which means that at any one time there are approximately 225 students eating lunch. That's why only juniors and seniors are allowed to leave for lunch. There simply is no place to feed and seat them all. We have students spilling out into the hallways and onto the front lawn to ease the numbers in the cafeteria.

The most important advantage to having a closed campus is assuring the safety of our students. They won't be driving during the school day.

Disadvantages are to local businesses who would not be selling to students during the lunch hour. Also, of course, some students will be reluctant to lose this privilege.

However, assuring our students' safety far outweighs any disadvantages.

(If you have questions about Boyne City High School issues, contact BCHS principal Sue Stephens at 582-6587 or mail them to The Citizen-Journal, P.O. Box A, Boyne City.)

not necessarily any older than the Busy Bees themselves.

"I have arthritis in my fingers," said Mary Brown as she and Mary Smith worked across the table from each other assembling a quilt. "I just do what I can do. Whatever I do, nobody else has to do."

"We're getting older and getting tired," La Berta said. Twenty members used to come, but death and nursing homes have dwindled the number somewhat.

The sewers fashion the small bean bags for hand therapy. The lap robes are for warmth, the tote bags to carry miscellaneous items, and the pillows to make wheelchair sitting a bit easier. They've also made adult bibs and, "if someone has a misfortune, we try to make them a quilt."

They've already given two hand-made double quilts to the victims of house fires. Two more have been completed and stored away for any other unforeseen tragedies.

"If we find out about someone who really needs something, we make sure they get it," La Berta said.

"When we give it to them and their face just lights right up — that's my payment," Shirley Griffin said.

"We work with what we get donated to us," Martin said. "We accept materials but we don't like rags."

They prefer cotton because it doesn't slide around, but don't want old clothing because it's usually faded. They aren't able to use much of what they receive because of those factors. Martin said they prefer big bedsheets that are clean and in good shape for the backs of quilts and lap blankets, and are always in need of quilt batting for filler.

Elizea Kipen and Joan Gien inspect a sheet to be used for the back of a lap blanket. It has a tear in it. They wonder if La Berta can mend it, or if it will have to be used for a smaller project.

The front of the blanket is a checkerboard pattern of yellow hues, with the block material clipped from different remnants. Joan asks Elizea if she might be more comfortable sitting down while she's sewing. A good suggestion, agrees Elizea, who eases herself onto a chair.

Mary Brown, conscious of her slower progress, mentions the stiffness in her fingers again. The arthritis is bad tonight.

"Just take your time and don't hurry," La Berta said. "Just do what you can do" seems to be their mantra. "That's all we can do," she said to Mary, "and don't worry about it."

Tonight the group is finishing up the quilt batts and backs of eight lap robes. "We all work together and that's why we get so many out," La Berta said. "I've got good help."

But they need more help and are seeking additional members. They need to be 55-years-old or older, but don't necessarily need to know how to sew. La Berta said she's taught a lot of them and there's a job for everyone.

"We're doing something for somebody else," Mary Smith said, "and we like to do it."

Those interested in joining La Berta's Busy Bees or in donating usable yarn, blankets, towels or other materials, can call 582-9550.

Coalition organizes meeting with insurance representatives

Senior managers of 30 area employers representing more than 15,000 employees and family members met last week to discuss the goals and the plans for the newly formed Coalition of Insured Medical Consumers (CIMC).

Northern Michigan employers expressed frustration and anger regarding the recent impasse between Burns Clinic and Blue Cross/Blue Shield. CIMC determined the interest of the medical consumer and premium-payer needs to be represented with one strong mind and one strong voice. The coalition agreed the primary goal of the organization was achieving a settlement of the situation between the clinic and the insurer while satisfying the demands of its membership.

In an effort to achieve the primary goal of resolution, CIMC has organized a meeting of the membership and will invite senior executives from Burns Clinic, Phycor, Northern Michigan Hospital, Burns Clinic physicians, Independent Physicians, and Blue Cross/Blue Shield to address the forum.

The meeting is Wednesday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the Charlevoix Country Club. It is anticipated that each person will have the opportunity to address the membership, and then be available to answer questions.

While the primary goal of CIMC is to facilitate settlement, the group will review and possibly implement secondary goals. Specifically, the group will contact employers in other communities covered by the service area, and invite those organizations to join the coalition.

In addition, contingency plans will be put into place to contact other national insurance providers and other clinical organizations to invite those organizations into the area to service members of the coalition.

CIMC was formed two weeks ago by eight area companies in reaction to the situation between Burns Clinic and Blue Cross/Blue Shield.

Former coach gets jail and probation

Former Boyne City High School baseball coach Steven C. Kehrer was sentenced Friday to serve 60 days in the Calhoun County Jail in Battle Creek and five years probation for sexually assaulting a 15-year-old female.

In August, Kehrer, 49, was convicted of fourth-degree criminal sexual conduct involving the girl. The assault took place in June 1997 at Kehrer's hotel room while the boys baseball team was in Battle Creek for a tournament.

Kehrer will be released on an electronic tether for four months following his jail time. At that time he must register as a sexual offender under the Sexual Offenders Act and enroll in a sexual offender treatment program. He may not have any contact with the victim and must pay restitution for any treatment she receives as a result of the assault, and he will not be allowed to have any care of any child 16 years of age or younger, or of any disabled adult.

The maximum penalty he could have received would have been two years in jail. According to assistant prosecuting attorney Justin McCarthy, the judge went below the probation department's recommendation for jail time by 30 days, but went above it by recommending the tether for four months.

Kehrer initially faced a first-degree criminal sexual conduct charge, which carries a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

But Judge James C. Kingsley of the Calhoun County Circuit Court decided there was not enough evidence for the original charge and narrowed it to the third-degree CSC. The jury pared it down further to fourth degree.

Kehrer's first trial ended in July with a hung jury.

STUDENTS GET A FLAVOR FOR THE FRENCH CULTURE

'A really great experience'

"Bon jour Marion," the middle school students said in unison to 18-year-old French exchange student Marion Duclos.

A resident of Balzac, France, Duclos is spending the year in Boyne City, through the Rotary Club of Boyne City's exchange program, and attending classes at the high school.

Middle School teacher Rob Bergquist invited her to his French I class to help give students a flavor for the culture who's tongue they are learning, and to hear French spoken by a true native.

The students prepared beforehand to ask Duclos questions in French. And for the most part she understood their halting French and responded confidently in English to questions about her lifestyle and thoughts on America.

Yes, she skis — but for only a week because it's a five hour trip by car to the mountains. And no, she doesn't ski in the French Alps. In response to what radio stations she listens to, indicating with her finger, she said, "I just push the buttons."

Like fashion, she said, music starts in the U.S. and then comes to Europe. She wrote on the board, NOIR DESIR, the name of a popular French band. She also said she's trying to listen to some musicals because they aren't performed in France. "We do plays like Shakespeare," she said. "I don't know anything about musicals."

"I'm not very good in one precise sport, except tennis," she answered to another question. But said she likes to try lots of different sports.

She has one 14-year-old sister. "I really love cats," she said. But not dogs. "I scuba dive, I like all the fish."

"This may be a little awkward," a student said, prior to asking Duclos a question in French.

Once asked, Duclos reassured him, "No, that's very good."

She, in turn, would ask "You understand?" if she didn't think her pronunciation or usage was correct. For the most part, it was.

A big difference between the two countries, she said, is the schooling. "For me, American school is very easy," Duclos said.

Her high school studies in France have concluded, but she explained she was required to study French, English, Spanish, philosophy, math, history, geography, sports and one elective — she chose drama.

Her school-day in France was between eight and nine hours long. There, she said, students don't work in groups, and they have at least three to four tests per week.

The biggest difference comes at the end of the senior year. Even if a student has had good grades, the final exams are what determine if they graduate or not. The week-long exams include a three to four hour essay in each subject. She said 20-30 students per year fail the final and do not graduate.

"It is a very, very hard exam," Duclos said.

She plans to pursue a career in international relations and chose America for foreign study to help improve her English. She had hoped to spend her year near the Great Lakes, or in the south, perhaps by Louisiana. The Rotary chose Boyne City for her.

She said she likes the lakes, forests and hills, and that it's very different from her city. She has enjoyed the colors of autumn as well. "There are lots of colors, and I was — wow!"

Duclos is currently staying with the Debbie and Tom Neidhamer family. Since arriving she has traveled around Michigan to the Soo, Mackinaw, Detroit, Lansing, Traverse City and Gaylord. "I would like to go outside of Michigan. I like traveling, meeting people, talking and exchanging," Duclos said.

"It's not easy every day, but in general I'm pleased," Duclos said. "This is a really great experience."

Marion Duclos visited last week with Boyne City Middle School French students.

A family legacy

Heavens, their pies are tasty

If you happened to be at the East Jordan High School Cafeteria on Saturday morning, you would have seen many busy Lioness members arriving for work in the early morning hours armed with rolling pins, razor-sharp paring knives and apple peelers.

Everyone had a job whether it was to mix crust, peel apples, stir the pumpkin mix and spices, or roll and flute crust, and the work began to fill the 335 pie orders taken earlier that week.

The Pie Bake is an annual event which began 15 years ago with proceeds going toward local community projects and scholarships through the Lioness Club. This year members raised more than $1,425.

Apple, cherry and pumpkin pies are made; some are baked and some are ordered unbaked and ready to freeze for the upcoming holidays.

East Jordan Lioness Club members are on hand early in the morning to work together on the pie orders but judging from the laughter and pleasant conversations, one can only assume that this is a fun time together for the Lioness Club membership.

Pie Bake chairperson Dee Skrocki shows off a freshly baked pumpkin pie.

STUDENTS SETTLING INTO LIFE AT EAST JORDAN HIGH SCHOOL
Their home away from home

By MATTHEW SHAW

As part of the Rotary Exchange Program, Paulo Santos and Ruth Meier are spending a year in the United States. Both students, seniors, are staying with Fred and Barb Malpass of East Jordan.

Paulo, 17, is a native of Recife, a town located in northeastern Brazil. He lives with his father who is the owner of a small shop, and his mother who is a secretary at a judicial court. After high school, he plans to attend a university in Brazil, though he hasn't decided which one.

Ruth, also 17, is from Villmergen, a town located in the northern part of Switzerland, near Germany. Her father works as a dentist and her mother takes care of the home. After graduation she would like to study psychology, but is not yet certain on a university or definite career.

One of the things Paulo likes the most about East Jordan High School is the community involvement. On the other hand, he doesn't like the length of the school days, three hours longer in the U.S. than in Brazil. Although he feels that school here is easier, it's sometimes difficult to understand the language. Similarly, Ruth described the school and community as "more family here." She dislikes, however, the extended class length (85 minutes). She, too, says classes at the school she attended in her native Switzerland were more difficult, partly due to the fact that her schedule is predetermined.

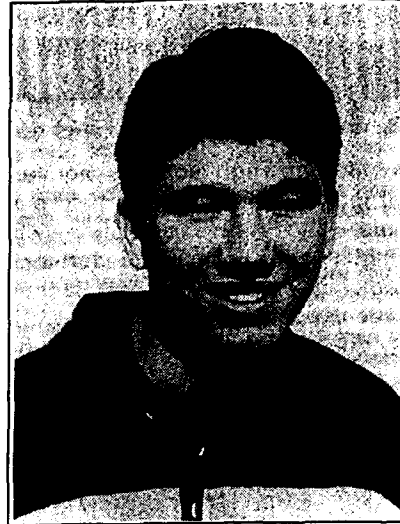

For recreation in Brazil, Paulo would go to the movies, play sports and go to parties with his friends — not unlike his lifestyle in East Jordan. Meeting people was difficult at first, because the occasional language barrier made it difficult to talk a long time. However, Paulo has made a number of good friends, due in part to his great sense of humor.

As a flautist, Ruth is a member of the high school band. She enjoys spending time with her friends and plans to join the ski team this winter. In her opinion, one of the most difficult aspects of being an exchange student is only being the exchange student. Often, she feels that she is viewed as only an exchange student instead of who she is. Paulo and Ruth are ideal (exchange) students. They are eager to learn and open to change. They are willing to meet new people and accept new cultures. And they manage to do all that without forfeiting any of their individuality.

(Matthew Shaw is a senior at East Jordan High School.)

BCHS schedules tour of colleges for seniors

Selecting a college, university or even a post-secondary educational program can be an intimidating process for most high school students. To help in this process, Boyne City High School began a program last year to provide upperclassmen an opportunity to visit select schools. "Seeing a campus and talking with admissions personnel first hand really gives students a chance to evaluate and fine tune their educational goals," said Kevin King, BCBS counselor. "As a high school administrator I am very supportive of these tours and know students will learn a lot from the experience," said Dr. Sue Stephens, BCBS principal. While it is not possible to visit a large number of colleges or universities during a given school year, several are chosen based on availability of appropriate programs and popularity with prior students. A variety of programs are reviewed and compared to student needs before actually being scheduled. The following is the proposed fall schedule for campus tours: Nov. 4 - Grand Valley State University; Nov. 11 - Ferris State University; Dec. 2 - Central Michigan University. For more information, contact King at 582-6587.

East Jordan and Boyne City girls rush out of the gate toward all-conference honors.

A run for the conference title

Red Devil boys finish 1-2-3

The East Jordan boys cross-country team scored 42 points less than runner-up Charlevoix to win the conference title at last week's meet at Boyne Mountain with six of their runners placing in the top 10.

"Our boys appear right on, but they will need even more for attaining their regional goal," East Jordan coach Matt Peterson said.

The Red Devils compete in the regional meet this Saturday at Benzie Central.

Tarn Leach led East Jordan's runners at the conference meet, winning by 32 seconds with a 16:05 finish. He was followed by Micah Middaugh and Kevin Penzien who took second and third place respectively, earning them, along with sixth place finisher Chris Bearden, all-conference status. All-conference honorable mention went to Dustin Tinney who came in eighth place, Matt Shaw who placed ninth, and Jeremy Booze with 14th place.

"The varsity boys ran great," East Jordan coach Dennis Snarey said. "Dustin and Matt really picked it up."

East Jordan's girls took third place in the conference with 54 points, not far behind Elk Rapids which won with 42 points, followed by runner-up Charlevoix with 46 points.

"The Elk Rapids and Charlevoix girls both ran very well today. This makes our regional goal an uphill battle, but we'll be ready for it," Snarey said.

Holly Petkewicz finished third breaking 20 minutes with a 19:53, and Catey Moses took seventh for all-conference ratings. Beth Purvis was eighth for an all-conference honorable mention. Heather Hammond came in 16th.

"Heather just keeps getting better and she's only a freshman," Peterson said.

Junior varsity boys nearly swept the top 10 spots, with Don Priest, Scott Fisher and Matt Birgy finishing one, two and three. Brian McNeil, Chris Bacon, Matt Smith and Brian Kirby placed fifth through eighth respectively.

"Check out those JV times. They would have taken fourth place in the varsity race," Snarey said.

The boys took second place to Traverse City Central at the Edwardson Invitational in Elk Rapids, running in the A/B race, instead of the C/D race.

"With conference on Tuesday, the boys were probably tired. They still were able to run tough," Peterson said.

Tarn Leach led the team with his sixth place finish at 17:44. The girls had an incomplete team and no team score.

"Our team had several members taking the ACT test. Four of our girls were out. Beth (Purvis) and Heather (Hammond) ran very well. I wish the other girls were there," Snarey said. "The course appeared long, that's why the times were slow."

Purvis took ninth place with a time of 22:43.

The middle school girls and boys' teams clinched conference championship titles as well.

"The middle school ended a very fine season," Peterson said.

Garrett Romero took third for the boys. For the girls, Haley Shaw took sixth and Tiffanie Bearden took seventh.

The boys, led by East Jordan runners all the way, kick it in heading toward the finish.

Ramblers make history

The Lake Michigan Conference Cross Country Championship was hosted by Boyne City for the first time at its home course at Boyne Mountain on Oct. 21.

And it wasn't the only first for the Ramblers.

For the first time in more than 12 years Boyne City had two runners earn cross country All-Conference honors. Boyne City has been building its program for three years after not offering the sport for more than 10 years.

While running powerhouse teams like East Jordan and Charlevoix were vying for team titles, the Boyne City runners were running hard to earn respect. Shawn Weisler and Jane Stieber worked their way into the top seven finishers in their races to earn all conference.

The Boyne City girls' team of Stieber, Emily Bricker, Charlotte Brandt, Emily Roland, and Laura Cassidy finished fourth behind Elk Rapids, Charlevoix, and East Jordan. The boys team finished last because it only had two runners to score.

Stieber broke 20 minutes for the second time this year with a time of 19:59, to place fourth. Emily Roland and Laura Cassidy both ran their fastest races of the year with times of 23:55 and 26:10, respectively. Bricker and Brandt also had solid performances.

In the boys' race, Weisler ran 16:47 for seventh place and John Gibbs ran 18:28 for 24th place.

"I would like to thank Boyne Mountain and all the people who helped make this event a success," said coach Andy Place.

The runners had little to rest before participating in the Diane Edwardson Memorial Cross Country Invitational on Saturday.

The team was looking forward to the type of tough competition it will see at the Regional Finals this Saturday at Benzie Central.

Stieber finished third overall in the girls Class C-D race. Bricker finished 43rd in a race with 93 finishers. In the boys' race, Weisler earned a medal by finishing 14th and John Gibbs finished 45th in a race of 89 finishers.

"These races were the largest races we've run this year," Place said. "The team is gaining more experience with each race. It is important for us to run in a big race in preparation for the regionals. I'm very proud of the five runners we had at the race."

Runners compiling history of program

The Boyne City Cross Country team is trying to obtain history of cross country at Boyne City High School.

The team is looking for personal records and the year the time was run from anyone who has run cross country in Boyne City. The team is putting together school records and a list of top performers.

Anyone who has information regarding cross country in Boyne City is asked to contact the athletic office or coach Andy Place.

"Tradition is a way to help develop a program," Place said. "We know several of the outstanding runners from past years, like Tom Pluister, Mike Hulled, John Brabbs, Steve Parsons, Mike DeSchraver, Jeff Eaton, Craig Askins, and Brian Richards. We need information to document the history of the sport. We especially need the women's records."

What a difference a few weeks can make. Jordan, winning 61-47.

"We knew East Jordan would be coming after us," Neidhamer said. "They are a better team than their record indicates. It was a tight game until we finally got a comfortable lead in the fourth quarter."

"The stats of both teams were similar except for Katie Jo Dhascleer's five 3-pointers. She hit the shots when we needed them."

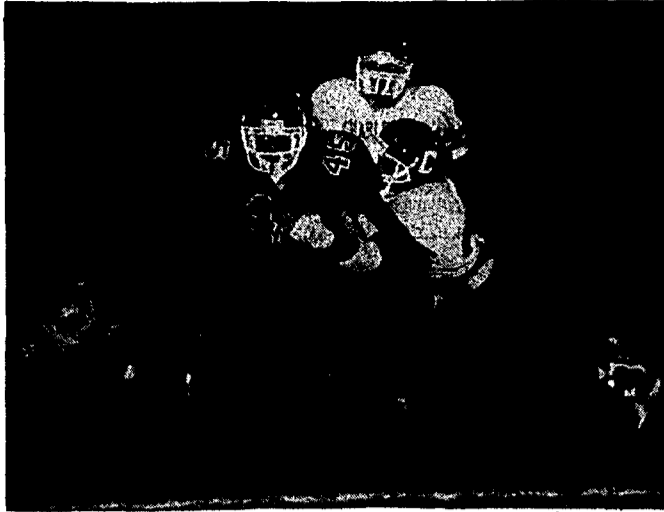

Dhascleer finished the game with 17 points, while Bernthal had 11.

Leading East Jordan was Suzi Malpass with 18.

The Ramblers, who played Elk Rapids Tuesdays, face one of their biggest challenges of the season next Tuesday when they play at Harbor Springs, the top team in the conference. The first time the two teams played, Harbor won 63-59.

The Ramblers are 10-5 overall and 6-2 in the conference.

Earlier in the week, the Ramblers made it two straight over East

Nick Riehl scored four touchdowns for the Ramblers, before he had to leave the game, on a stretcher, with a hip injury. It was not serious, but it is unlikely he will be able to play against St. Francis.

ST. FRANCIS VISITS FRIDAY

Boyne faces a test against the best

There are small things you notice about a team that provide a glimpse into its character.

One of those came last Friday for the Boyne City Ramblers.

They had just fallen short on their last drive of the night and knew they had lost a wild shoot-out, 50-46, to Charlevoix, their county rival.

Colin Carr, one of the most outstanding high school runners you will ever see, took another hand off and broke through the line, cut to the outside and was off to the races down the sideline on his way to yet another touchdown.

It would have been easy for the Ramblers to let him go.

They were disappointed. They had lost in front of a large home crowd. The unbeaten 1968 Ramblers were in attendance, and so was their revered coach Paul Pfahler.

The Ramblers wanted Charlevoix in the worst way. And there they watched Carr break free again.

They would have none of it. The Ramblers ran him down and caught him before he scored.

The Ramblers still had their pride.

And they'll bring it to the field this Friday when they host Traverse City St. Francis. The mighty Glads come to town with another gaudy season under their belt — a loss to Muskegon Catholic Central is the only blemish on their record — and the state playoffs in their sites.

The Ramblers have none of that to look forward to. When Friday's game is over, it's time to think of other things.

But first there is Friday and the chance to make the season right.

"We are really happy to have them," said Boyne City head coach Dave Bricker. "We are the last team to have a shot against them and having that opportunity is a rare treat."

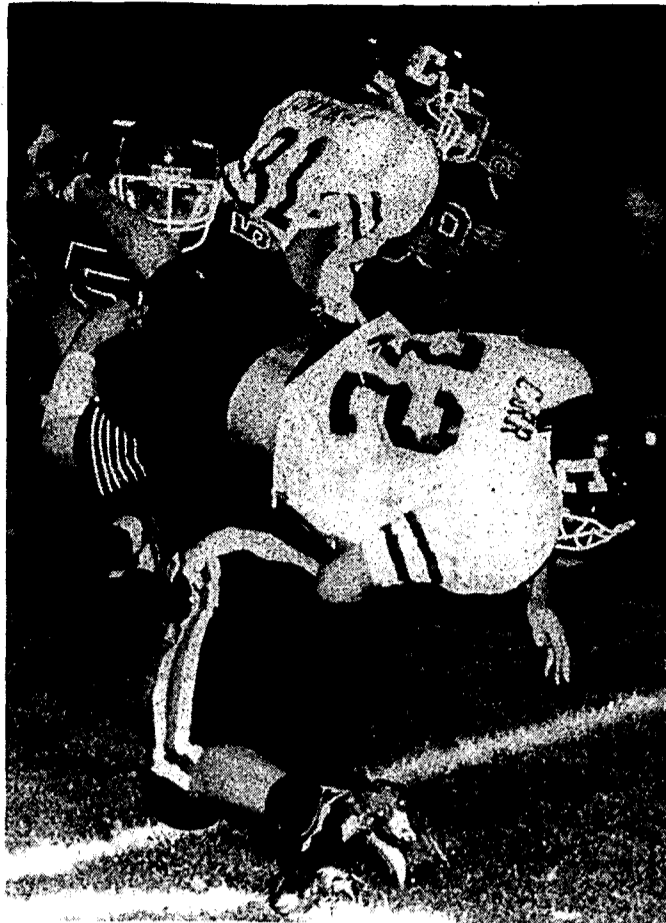

"We have a shot against them. They are beatable. Charlevoix scored 30-plus points against them. We can't make mistakes and they have to make a couple."

The Ramblers will also have one other thing on their side — no pressure. They are the underdogs.

That wasn't the case against Charlevoix. The two teams were evenly matched. The way the game started with Boyne City jumping out to an early 16-0 lead, it looked like it might be a blowout in the Ramblers' favor.

No such luck. Charlevoix stormed back and took the lead. At 4:54 of the second quarter, Charlevoix intercepted a Josh Bush pass and scored on the next play to cut Boyne's lead to 22-20.

On the ensuing kickoff, Charlevoix recovered an onside kick and a few plays later scored on a 30-yard touchdown pass to take a 28-22

The Ramblers came right back, and with time running out in the half, Nick Riehl scored. With the 2-point conversion, Boyne went into the locker room with a 30-28 lead.

They went up 38-28 in the third quarter when Bush connected with Andy Douglas on a 50-yard touchdown pass. Bush ran in the 2-point conversion.

That was the score heading into the wild fourth quarter. Charlevoix scored early in the period and with the 2-point conversion cut Boyne's lead to 38-36.

Then less than two minutes later Carr intercepted a Bush pass and ran it back for a 30-yard touchdown. That made the score 42-38.

The Ramblers came right back and Riehl scored on a 30-yard run. The 2-point conversion was good, giving Boyne a 44-42 lead.

On its next possession, Carr broke free and went 47 yards for his fifth touchdown of the night. The 2-point conversion put Charlevoix up 50-46 with 7:30 remaining, which seemed like a lifetime at the time.

But either the defenses stiffened or the offenses tired in the final seven minutes and the scoring stopped.

The Ramblers had a final shot, taking possession with 2:43 remaining and marched down the field only to have their drive stall deep in Charlevoix territory.

For the evening, the Ramblers had more than 500 yards in total offense. Riehl rushed for 140 yards on 19 carries and had four touchdowns and one 2-point conversion. He was injured late in the game and was taken off the field on a stretcher. He suffered a hip injury and was taken to the hospital where he was treated and released. Although not serious, his injury will most likely keep him out of Friday's game.

Sean Ku had 43 yards on 10 carries and Korky Persons gained 38 yards on seven carries. He also had a 2-point conversion.

Bush connected on 13 of 19 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns. He also rushed for three 2-point conversions. Douglas caught six passes for 179 yards and one touchdown, and Noah Stanek had five receptions for 48 yards and one touchdown.

EJ offense sputters in loss to Kalkaska

Two of the best games the East Jordan Red Devils have played this year came after a defeat.

After their Charlevoix loss they blasted Benzie Central the following week.

The next time came when they lost a heartbreaker to Boyne City in the final seconds of the game. Harbor Springs paid the price the next week.

If that trend continued, you would have given the edge to the Red Devils (who were soundly beaten by St. Francis the previous week) in their game against Kalkaska last Friday night.

The trend came to an end. Kalkaska jumped out to a 14-0 first half lead, and hung on for a 22-7 victory over the Red Devils.

"We didn't play well in the first half," said East Jordan head coach Allan Peterson.

The second half was a different story. The Red Devils' defense tightened on Kalkaska's first drive of the third quarter and on their first drive, the Red Devils drove down the field and scored on a nine-yard pass from quarterback Chris Murray to Chris Lifer. The extra point was good to make it a 14-7 game.

But that was all the scoring for the Red Devils even though they had a chance late in the game. They had the ball with a little more than five minutes remaining and started to move, only to have their drive stall around midfield. Because his defense was playing so well, Peterson decided to punt the ball, hoping the Red Devils would get the ball back with good field position.

The strategy did not work out. Kalkaska broke a long run to put the game out of reach.

The Red Devils, who rely on their running game, saw it contained for much of the night. Tony Prevo gained 65 yards on 11 carries, Nate Swan had 45 yards on seven carries, and Dillon Antaya rushed for 36 yards on 11 carries.

Quarterback Chris Murray connected on 2 of 7 passes for 34 yards.

Antaya was the top tackler with 16, followed by Chris Olson, Russ Steinhoff and Mat Whiteford with seven each.

The Red Devils, now 4-4, close out their season at home Friday against Elk Rapids.

Logger runners wrap up season this week

The Boyne Falls Cross Country team lost to Mackinaw City at the Loggers home course on Wednesday in the last conference dual meet of the season.

The Loggers will wrap up their season this week with the Northern Lakes Conference Finals hosted by Mackinaw City on Wednesday and the Regional Finals hosted by Benzie Central on Saturday.

Times were fast on the revised course, and many of the Loggers ran their best times of the season. Ryan Fiel led the Loggers with a seventh place finish in a time of 19:38. Following him were Jason Giem, eighth, Adam Utley, ninth, and Mike Dunlop 10th.

Giem, 19:55, and Utley, 23:23, ran their fastest times of the season. Paul Howard and Charlie Taylor also ran their best times of the season — 23:27 and 26:35, respectively. Chris Crego finished 14th.

Boyne frosh win two

Hitting only 5 of 21 free throws proved to be costly for Boyne City's freshman basketball team last week as it lost to Traverse City East 49-41.

"I thought the girls really played hard," said coach Michele Deming. "We need to continue working on our free throws. Overall, I was pleased. This is a great group of girls to work with."

Ashley Hadix and Lindsey Helsley each had 11 points for Boyne. Liz Bargas had 10. The freshmen are now 12-3 for the season.

Boyne City freshmen beat East Jordan 52-33 last week. For Boyne City, Liz Bargas had 14 points and Kelsi Brewer and Lindsey Helsley had 9 points each.

For East Jordan, Andrea Palmrose had 10 points and 14 rebounds, Renee Nowka had 8 points and Janelle Doebel had three assists.

Election '98

CANDIDATE PROFILES

Next Tuesday voters head to the polls for the 1998 General Election. Races of local interest are those for the seats on the Charlevoix County Commission representing Boyne City -- 3rd District -- and East Jordan -- 4th District. Following are profiles of 3rd District Republican incumbent Phillip Johnson and write-in challenger Michael Reid; and 4th District Republican incumbent Victor Patrick and Democratic challenger Charles Conrad.

Timmm...berrrr

Carving baseball and soccer fields out of the timber at Rotary Park is not what one would call delicate work. Beishlag Custom Forestry began logging the fields last week and is close to being done. The next step will be to remove stumps with possible grading done next spring. Money from the timber sale will be used to develop the fields.

Dog survives after getting hit with arrow

A large dog, found Saturday with an arrow protruding from its side in Marion Township, underwent surgery and is expected to survive. A family driving on Loeb Road in Marion noticed the large black and white dog in a field with the arrow in its side, and they called 911. The dog was transported to the Charlevoix Veterinary Hospital where he was treated. The dog's owner was located on Monday when he came in to the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department and reported the dog missing to the animal control officer. Anyone with information pertaining to this incident is asked to contact the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department at 547-4461 or the Charlevoix County Animal Control Division at 547-9570. A $200 reward is being offered for any information leading to an arrest.

Write-in candidate seeking Bay Twp treasurer's seat

Don MacLachlan of Bay Township is challenging Larry Bergmann for the township treasurer's seat as a write-in candidate. Bergmann won the spot in the August primary by defeating David Smith, the incumbent. Both Bergmann and MacLachlan are Republicans and have formerly held the township treasurer's job. Bergmann served for several years until 1992, when his wife, Helen, was defeated by MacLachlan. Then, due to ill health, MacLachlan was forced to resign, at which point Smith was appointed to the job. Upon MacLachlan's return to good health, Smith resigned and MacLachlan again took over the treasurer's job. MacLachlan is a trained accountant who worked for several years for one of the country's leading accounting firms.

Charles Conrad

BACKGROUND: Charles Conrad, 68, retired from 30 years as a government teacher at Jackson High School in Jackson. He settled in East Jordan in 1991. Conrad is married to Charlotte and they have four children. He and his wife are volunteers in East Jordan Elementary School and have been reading with first graders at the school for five years.

WHY ARE YOU RUNNING?

"I promised the Democratic Party chair that if I couldn't find somebody else to run, I would. My interest in doing the job is primarily to give the public a choice. I have no qualms about whether or not I can handle the issues that come before the county board." "I was utterly amazed that no one else wanted to run. I've always given community service. To be very honest, the prospect of being the lone Democrat sitting among a sea of Republicans doesn't excite me." "I've always been available to serve my community. This one happened to fall on me. That's how I ended up in the legislature, that was fascinating. I taught government for 30 years. You don't tell students what they ought to do unless you're willing to do it yourself."

WHAT SKILLS DO YOU BRING TO ELECTED OFFICE?

Conrad served a term in the legislature from 1965-66 and on the Jackson Community College board of directors for six years. Until last year, he served as president of the Charlevoix County Chapter of the Michigan Association of Retired School Personnel, and serves on two state-level committees. He also

Victor Patrick

BACKGROUND: Victor Patrick, is a part-time East Jordan police officer. He worked for the State of Michigan for 28 years as a conservation officer and before that worked for Muskegon County for nine years as a deputy sheriff, rising to rank of lieutenant before his departure. Patrick, 61, is a member of the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce, Ducks Unlimited and the Methodist Church in East Jordan. He is married to Mary Jane and has three children and one grandchild. He has served one term as a Charlevoix County Commissioner.

WHY ARE YOU RUNNING?

"To keep East Jordan in the limelight in conjunction with the rest of the county and to see that East Jordan and South Arm Township gets its fair share. I'm interested in promoting the area. The area is vastly rising and really on the move. I'm proud of the way the downtown area is really booming. I enjoy working with all the people."

WHAT SKILLS DO YOU BRING TO ELECTED OFFICE?

"Thirty-eight years in county and state government and law enforcement. The knowledge of my past experiences in dealing with the county government. I'm not a stranger to the county operations and I know the ins and outs between

Phillip (Phil) Johnson

BACKGROUND: He is married to B.J. and they have five children. He started Boyne Valley Printing Co. 20 years ago. He is a graduate of Boyne City High School and has lived in Boyne City all of his life except for two years he spent in the U.S. Army."

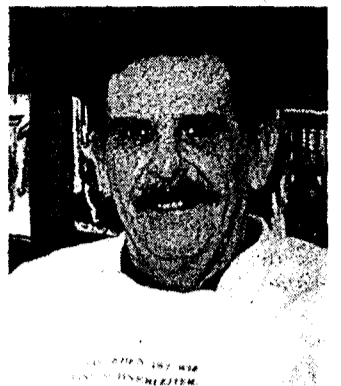

WHAT SKILLS WOULD YOU BRING TO THE OFFICE?

"I have 10 years experience as an elected Charlevoix County Commissioner. I have first-hand knowledge of problems facing counties, Charlevoix County in particular, such as landfill issues, union negotiations, building renovations, Humane Society building and jail expansion. I understand the problems departments are facing with increasing state mandates. I'm working to help alleviate staff shortages with manpower temporary help, while keeping staffing at reasonable levels. I was instrumental in working for and getting our three-county 911 system set up."

serves on the City of East Jordan's Board of Review.

IF ELECTED, WHAT ARE YOUR TOP PRIORITIES?

"My concern is that the way the office of county commissioner has been turned into a part-time job that provides benefits. My philosophy of public service is that at the most you compensate for financial loss, but you don't get in there to get a retirement and benefits. When I heard that the current board is getting these kinds of benefits, I shook my head. That's not the reason I'm running. I don't think people should serve at a financial loss — but this is public service, this is serving your community." "The environment and urban sprawl may be seldomly touched on by county government. I come up on the side of 'let's keep this place as beautiful as we can and resist using this county as a garbage dump for every place in the country.' I find this absurd. I retired up here because to me it's the most beautiful place in the world. It's not that I'm against growth, but there has to be some common sense."

Michael S. Reid Write-in candidate

BACKGROUND: Michael Reid was born and raised in the Petoskey-Boyne City area. He is married to Lisa, and they have a daughter, Madalyn. He is currently a Paramedic Instructor.

WHAT SKILLS DO YOU BRING TO THE OFFICE?

"I have eight years of public service experience as a paramedic, and three years experience as a public safety communications supervisor, professional educator and speaker."

IF ELECTED, WHAT ARE YOUR TOP PRIORITIES?

"1) Push for the opportunity for individuals and organizations to address the board. 2) Push for re-evaluation of wasteful benefits for com-

ANDY NEUMANN vs PHIL LUDLOW

The 106th District Race Facts

Neumann Campaign CLAIMS	The FACTS ARE:
Ludlow: Voted a pay raise for himself as a city councilman.*	City council members do NOT determine or vote on their rate of pay. Current rate is approximately $5.50 per hour.
Voted to raise property taxes.*	Property tax rates in Alpena have gone down for the past four (4) years.
Voted to raise the ambulance rate.*	The City of Alpena adjusts its rates to reflect the wage increases of the Alpena Fire Fighters union contract. Andy Neumann ironically is a member of this union.
Voted to raise the telephone tax.*	Alpena County Commissioners (of which Neumann is a member of) proposed a county-wide ballot vote on the tax. The voters approved the tax Ludlow. The tax was to pay for 911 services.
Is a wealthy restaurant owner.*	Phil actually owns less than 2% of Ludlow Enterprises' restaurant operations.
Why try to trick the voters rather than focus on what you will do in office?	We don't know.

Country Star becoming a Big Boy

The Country Star Restaurant on M-75 in Boyne City has closed its doors and by early next year a Big Boy restaurant will open in its place under new ownership.

"It's been almost 10 years," said Country Store owner John Czarniecki. "I'm tired and it's time to get out."

Czarniecki said he has spent 15 hour days, seven days a week in the restaurant since he moved from Allen Park to open it 9 1/2 years ago. "It's time to get a different life."

The new Big Boy chain owners, Brian Ludlow of Petoskey and his sister Jane Ludlow of Gaylord will remodel the site. "We have a lot of work to do, and it will most likely be mid-January before you can get a Swiss Miss Combination," Brian said.

"I have always liked Boyne City and the hospitality we have experienced here," Brian said. "However, until recently, the marketplace couldn't support the venture." He said he first received a call on the property 10 years ago but wasn't quite ready to take on the project.

"I have always liked Boyne City and the hospitality we have experienced here."

The store will have a mini conference room, salad and buffet bar, and will be open for breakfast lunch and dinner. It will feature an 1,800 square foot rental space which will occupy the southwest corner of the property.

The brother and sister team's last project was the Bear River Center in Petoskey which houses Mancino's, another restaurant concept operated by them. "I build them and Jane keeps them running," Brian said. "We make a great team."

The Country Star Restaurant employed about 25 people, most of whom, Czarniecki said, have gotten other jobs.

"It's a great town with great people. It's hard to say good-bye to everyone," Czarniecki said. He plans to stay in the area and have his wife, a registered nurse who works downstate, join him. "We love the area and this is where we want to be."

Cathy Chapman lines up the sites on her muzzleloader.

With site-in days, Sportsmen's Club can help hunters take aim

Before trekking out to the blind this deer season, hunters can stop by the Jordan River Sportsmen's Club annual Site-In on Nov. 6-8, and Nov. 12-14 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m., to have their gun scopes and iron sites adjusted for more accurate shooting.

DNR certified instructors Dennis Chapman and Tom Johnson, along with Frank Bartholomew will perform the sitings.

A gun's sites can shift off center simply from moving the gun or even from humidity, Johnson said.

"We have people that are skilled enough to get guns sited so that they're hitting the right point at 100 yards and have a good clean kill instead of wounding or completely missing. When you have your rifle shooting properly, it helps eliminate that chance," Chapman said.

Targets will be set up at 25, 50 and 100 yards. "Accuracy is all of it," Chapman said. "No matter what kind of gun you're using, accuracy counts. That's what I try to stress."

Those unable to bring their shots to the center of a target may be using the wrong ammunition — which can be dangerous — have a bad gun, or, Johnson said, they could just be a bad shot. Instructors will look at all of those factors when making adjustments.

The club's first site-in was held in 1993. "More and more people are coming, it's growing," Chapman said. "As long as the club opens the gate, it's here to say. It's a need that's out there. With as many people as there are out there hunting, it pays."

Club members also held hunter's safety courses in September, with 94 of 96 students passing with a 94 percent average. The two-day course was taught by 10 instructors.

Those attending the site-in must bring their own ear and eye protection and ammunition. The club will supply the target. The cost is $4 per gun, or free for those who buy an annual Jordan River Sportsmen's Club membership for $20.

The site-in will be at the club's grounds located off Advance-East Jordan Road, approximately three miles outside of East Jordan. Look for the club's sign at the entrance.

Judges like the taste of Boyne River Brewery's Brown Ale

Bear River Brewing Company and Boyne River Brewing Company were awarded medals at the 1998 Real Ale Festival held recently in Westmont, Ill. The two breweries are owned by Hilly & Hilly, Inc. of Boyne City.

Bear River's Petoskey Stone Pale Ale was awarded the gold medal in the strong bitter/PA category for bottle conditioned beers. Boyne River's Brown Ale was awarded the silver medal in the mild/brown ale category.

The 1998 Real Ale Festival is sponsored by the Craft Beer Institute and is considered to be the premiere American beer festival for cask and bottle conditioned beers. Over 75 breweries from 30 states participated in the competition.

The term real ale refers to beer that goes through a secondary fermentation in the container from which it is served, said Scott Hill, owner of Hilly & Hilly. "This differs from most domestic lagers which are carbonated prior to bottling or kegging and do not go through a secondary fermentation."

Folksy wins

The Plaid Petunias' Jean Alward and Cathy Cohen took first place in the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce scarecrow contest for their folksy moose with a rake for antlers, designed by Alward. A second place tie went to J&J Bakery and Deli and Northern Ladies Consignment Shop, with third place going to Nature's Harvest. East Jordan cheerleaders judged the contest which is run in conjunction with the annual Leaf Pecker's Open House.

The "Great Kitty Wells Show" will have two performances on Nov. 6 at the Boyne City High School.

SHOW IS A FUND RAISER FOR BC FIREMEN

Country Music Spectacular

The "Great Kitty Wells Show" from Nashville will highlight the Boyne City Firefighters 15th annual Country Music Spectacular on Nov. 6 at Boyne City High School.

Shows are at 3 and 7 p.m. Tickets can be purchased by calling 582-9194 and they will also be available at the door for $15.

Proceeds from the show are used by the fire department for new equipment and repairs to existing equipment.

Ron Foeller will be the show's emcee and Alex Houston and Elmer, a ventriloquist act, will also perform.

Wells, who has had 23 number one records, was named queen of country music in 1976 and is a member of the Country Music Hall of Fame. In 1991 she received a Grammy Award for Lifetime Achievement.

Construction gets started on county humane society shelter

Builders broke ground this weekend on the new Charlevoix County Humane Society building site at the corner of Brockway and Beardsley streets in Boyne City.

The 4,900 square foot structure is expected to be completed by February. It will feature 23 dog kennels, a cat area, an adoption viewing room and an education room for pet care programs. The current site in Charlevoix is 1,100 square feet.

"We're now in the middle of the community, and I think we'll be able to serve the community much better," president Helene Valade said.

The facility will also serve as Animal Control headquarters, with the Animal Control Officer based out of the building, and there will be an isolation room for strays separate from the adoption area.

The Society has raised two-thirds of the building's construction costs and is still accepting donations for the building.

"We're just really looking forward to it," Valade said. "The community has come through all the way."

new legislature.

The 22,000 acre parcel encompassing the Jordan Valley Management Area, was designated as such in 1975. That plan, conceived by the DNR and administered by its forest management division, set some policy usage and management guidelines for the area explained Hummer.

The State Land Reserve legislation states that to be eligible for the reserve designation, property must be 640 contiguous acres of state land. Hummer said they would like to see as much as possible of the 22,000 acre management area designated as a state reserve.

"Being the first holds a lot of responsibility," DNR representative Mindy Koch said. FOJ will be the first group to apply for the State Land Reserve designation since it was signed into legislation this June. They will work with the DNR to prepare the petition.

But there are unanswered questions that need examining as well, Koch said. For example, the act states the land cannot be sold leased or otherwise disposed of which means an easement couldn't be issued. "Is that good or not good?" she asked. This and other questions will be fleshed out between FOJ and DNR.

"We'll get a working group together to come up with the best proposal we can that will work with the Jordan Valley," Hummer said.

"We should not exclude owners of inholdings," Bud Jones added. "Let them be involved early on."

Those interested in working with FOJ in this effort can contact John Hummer at 533-5063.
