Serving East Jordan, Boyne City and surrounding areas

No longer welcome

■ Canada Geese getting the boot from some lakeshore areas

A flock of Canada Geese have become unwanted visitors again this year on some Lake Charlevoix frontage in Boyne City and the DNR will help capture and relocate the fowl for the second time in as many years.

Attracted by the neatly trimmed lawns and the nutritional content of the fertilized grass, the geese come to breed, nest and subsequently leave a mess behind on the lawns and in the water with their droppings, said Harborage Condominiums Association board member Roy Mastic. Because of how sandy the area is, the grass requires water and fertilizer to keep it growing.

"It's goose heaven, apparently," Mastic said.

He said it would seem that the nesting spots — on empty lots — would disappear as the shoreline gets developed.

But they still "find a way to build nests," he said.

At their meeting last Tuesday, Boyne City commissioners agreed to a request by owners of Harborage Condominiums, Harborage Marina Condominiums and the Water Street Inn, to send a letter to the DNR in support of removing the geese.

Within the next week or so, DNR wildlife biologist Brian Mastenbrook will work with the three groups to corral the birds.

The geese molt their wings in the beginning of July, rendering them flightless. This one-week window is when they will be captured.

Festival thrills

It was hooray for the red, white and blue and the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival parade for Bryce McCumber, left, and his brother Ryan. They landed prime curbside seats on Main Street in East Jordan for viewing the parade, with each entry bringing another thrill to the festively outfitted boys. The parade lasted more than an hour winding its way through town, over the bridge and ending at Murphy Field. See page 3 for more festival photos.

Outpouring of support overwhelming

■ In his fight against cancer, K.C. Smith has captured the heart of the community

A little boy got out of a van in front of K.C. Smith's house, handed the Smith's a $100 check, and identified himself as being from Mrs. Vondra's class.

A $2,000 deposit anonymously appeared in a bank account for K.C.

"I have no idea where it came from and I'm not asking," said Kirk Smith, K.C.'s dad.

A $25 check arrived with a note of encouragement from a stranger in California. The Korean War veteran, who lost his leg in the war, read about K.C.'s fight with cancer in the newspaper and was compelled to contact him.

The money, unsolicited, has been offered to 10-year-old K.C.'s family to help pay for expenses not covered by insurance, since he began his battle with osteosarcoma in the beginning of April.

Not only are there lodging, travel and other costs to cover, but K.C.'s mother, Crystal, has also quit her job at Carter's Food Center so she can be with K.C. during his extended stays at the hospital. Kirk takes time away from his job at Northern Warehousing as well, and said his boss has been understanding.

The tumor which was located close to K.C.'s right knee on his bone had grown to the size of half a softball despite chemotherapy, and three weeks ago his leg was amputated.

Even though the tumor has been removed, K.C. will still have to undergo another 46 weeks of chemotherapy, which will probably mean five days away from home at a time. He will likely be fitted with a prosthesis in one to two more months.

"His spirits are high. He wants to get up and walk really bad. He still wants to play sports and hockey," Kirk said.

"He's a tough kid. He's a hockey player."

It was K.C.'s favorite sport where the outpouring of support for K.C. Smith and his father Kirk, both sported close-cropped hair cuts following the chemotherapy treatments K.C. underwent for cancer.

Smiths began three months ago.

"Hockey started it all out," Kirk said. Members of Boyne Area Hockey Association held fundraisers as soon as they heard of K.C.'s condition. Other groups and individuals followed suit holding car washes, banquets and other fundraising events.

The Smiths are in awe and appreciative of the tremendous support from within the community and from those they've never met.

Because of it, they don't have to worry about their bills and can concentrate on K.C.

"I know if we lived in a big city, this all wouldn't be happening," Kirk said.

at a GLANCE

Monday's storm packs a windy punch

Despite winds clocking in at between 60 and 70 m.p.h. across Charlevoix County Monday evening, area law enforcement agencies did not receive any reports of serious accidents or injuries.

The National Weather Service received its first report of high winds around 8:15 p.m., and ended its severe thunderstorm warning at 9:10 p.m.

Other than a few reports of downed limbs on cars and some fallen trees in the Boyne City area, the gusts did not cause much damage.

Boats and docks at a Boyne City marina did sustain some damage with waves reportedly reaching 6 feet high on Lake Charlevoix.

Paper one day late next week

Due to the 4th of July holiday, the Citizen-Journal will be printed one day late next week.

Subscribers will receive their paper in the mail Thursday morning.

Deadlines for next week's paper are 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The Citizen-Journal office will be closed Monday.

They're grand in every way

■ Bill and Jean Grimm are marshals for Boyne City's 4th of July parade

"Her heart is full of love and compassion and she is always thinking of others first."

"He has always encouraged us when we faced trials large or small."

Those traits — befitting of good parents, loyal friends and committed community members — describe Boyne City's 4th of July parade Grand Marshals Jean and Bill Grimm in the eyes of their children and no doubt many others.

In a letter to the mayor written by their daughter Mary Bunker, she and her two brothers nominated their parents for the honor.

"It's a small way to say thank you for all they have so unselfishly and humbly given," Bunker wrote.

The Grimms have lived in the Boyne City area for 48 years.

Jean is a retired RN and also worked as an aid at Boyne City Schools for many years.

She has a gift for ministering and serving those in need. Her children recall the occasions when their mother invited those without a home of their own to dinner — preparing more than enough to share and even sending them off with clothing when needed.

She is "a treasure and a blessing," reads the letter.

Bill is a retired soil conservationist for Charlevoix and Emmet counties and also served as a city commissioner for the City of Boyne City for 16 years.

He was instrumental in designing the lakeshore stabilization program around Veteran's Park completed in the early 1970s and has served on many city boards as well. His tenure on the commission saw the development of the city's Air/Industrial Park.

Bunker recalls her father patiently listening then weighing all differing viewpoints laid before him as a commissioner and "praying for the right answer."

He "retired" from his commission seat after 16 years in 1997 saying, "The satisfaction of this job comes from being honest and truthful in all your dealings with the constituents, while working to make our community a better place."

Those words have always and still do apply to all areas of Jean and Bill's lives.

And while they established in their children, as Bunker stated, "Godly values through their example," the greater community has benefited from their example as well.

Jean and Bill will appear in the parade which begins at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday, July 4. Turn to page 7 for Boyne City's 4th of July parade agenda and festivities schedule.

LETTERS

Take the time to give praise on Sunday

TO THE EDITOR:

I am 13 years old and live in Boyne City. I am writing to voice my disturbance about the parade on the Fourth.

The Fourth of July is the birthday of our country. A time to recognize veterans and give thanks for what we are so very lucky to have. It's a day to celebrate the birthday of our freedom. We recite the Pledge of Allegiance daily. "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America. And to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Under God. Below God, ruled by God. When you say the Pledge of Allegiance, aren't you saying what you believe our country is? Isn't it something to take seriously? Think about the words you say every day. Under God. We are below God, we trust in God; God is the highest part of our country.

Why take away from the time we have to thank and praise Him for our country and the freedom that we have? Would it not be all the more patriotic to do things in the order our pledge says? I'm not asking you to delete all the activities involved with the Fourth, all that is being asked of you is to push back the starting time of the parade a couple of hours. Is that too much to ask?

Our society is consistently losing any and all respect for God. Crime rates are increasing, school violence is at a terrible high, and as a strong believer of Christianity I believe a lot of that has to do with the loss of God in our country.

It's happening all over, what used to be happy safe little towns are being turned into war zones. Hatred and judgment are overtaking the old warm welcomes of visitors. Let's not make Boyne City the next place to be ruined by these things. Take the 90 minutes it takes on Sunday mornings to give God the worthy praise He deserves. Especially on the Fourth. Give your praise to God for what we have! God comes before country! I hope to see many, if not all, of the citizens of Boyne City in church on Sunday morning, thanking God, before all the festivities. I know I will be.

Out of all the letters that have been written on the subject, I hope mine will touch your heart enough to help you decide what to do next Sunday.

Rebekah Redmer

Ferry should be free
to county residents

TO THE EDITOR:

Free to all Charlevoix County residents. That's what the Ironton Ferry should definitely be. The present double payment for each crossing is most unfair.

Why must residents pay twice for each crossing? Only because officials have been getting away with it for decades. Everyone else from anywhere else pays only once per crossing, but Charlevoix County residents pay via property taxes and at the time of each crossing.

Thanks, county commissioners, no thanks. You can remedy this most unfair situation via a simple resolution - you owe it to your constituents!

All that county residents would need to do is show their drivers license to prove residency.

So, how about some quick action guys, huh?

Karl Waldner

LETTERS

Too bad 4th of July must compete with church

TO THE EDITOR:

I read the letter of appreciation from the Boyne City Ministerial Association regarding the parade time being moved from 10 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

I was somewhat surprised that Rev. Gary Bondarenko's name was included since the Boyne Falls Methodist Church, which he pastors, begins at 9:10 a.m.

Our Bible study begins at 9:30 a.m. so we will not be at the parade. It really should be held on Monday.

Nancy Dunham

Explanation of flag colors was not quite correct

TO THE EDITOR:

This letter is in response to Pastor Russ Hager's article in your June 23 edition.

He is absolutely correct on the meaning of the 13 stripes and 13 stars but is way off base as to the symbolic meanings of the colors red, white, and blue. White signifies purity and innocence; red, hardness and valor; and blue, vigilance, perseverance and justice.

Also Pastor Hager's statement that July 5th is the legal holiday is incorrect. Sunday July 4th is the legal holiday, just check your calendar.

Let's not blame the 4th of July Committee and the City of Boyne City for the failures of the churches to hold on to their own congregations when other activities are going on around them. Let's remember, if it wasn't for the signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, you or I may not have had the privilege of addressing our views in this manner.

GARDEN PATH

Tune into our natural world

By ANGELA SHULTIS

"The Environment."

It's a catch-phrase these days, causing some to sermonize, others to cringe, and the rest of us to fall somewhere in between. But no matter how the words make you feel, the undeniable fact is that the environment is the one thing in which we all have a vested interest. The air you're breathing right now, the lawn the kids are playing on, that tomato you had on your burger at lunch; they are all impacted by how we take care of the place where we live.

I am not going to go on about the urgency of saving the planet, or the plight of the wetlands or what have you, though these are worthy topics. But as someone who loves growing things, I do feel the need to reflect once in a while on how what I do affects the world around me.

Most of us are "gardeners" in some sense of the word, whether it's a true passion, or just tending the lawn and a few shrubs. In any case, we are caretakers of a piece of the environment. And every piece affects the one next to it, and so on. No one's yard or gardening space exists in a vacuum; the boundaries we create are legal, practical, yet ultimately, imaginary. And for plants, animals, and other living things residing there, irrelevant.

Sometimes it's easy just to spray a few weeds, or a few insect invaders, and think it a relatively harmless and isolated act. And so it may be. But multiply it by repeated applications, and the possibility that everyone else may be doing it, some on a much larger scale, and just consider then the potential amount of poisons being introduced into the environment.

Maybe I've just been lucky — my gardening woes have been limited to the odd nibbling insect, more annoying than damaging, prolific weeds (are there any other kind?), and the occasional mysteriously withered plant. My dog probably does more damage to my garden than anything else. Perhaps if I'd had more severe infestations, or rampant disease, I might have been tempted to use drastic measures. But as it is, I just don't take my "right" to have a "perfect" garden that seriously. Especially when there are natural solutions available.

I'm not saying that no one should ever use chemicals in their garden. Certainly, there are cases in which the only viable solution to a problem exists in the form of a fungicide or the like; sometimes it's a matter of saving the whole garden, or a large portion of it, in which case it seems reasonable to use what may be the only effective means available. What I am saying is that in many cases it is simply unnecessary, and we should not be so quick to grab a spray bottle to save a few minutes of repeat weeding or to achieve that "unblemished" expanse of lawn.

It's really just a matter of getting good information. If you're interested in practical, organic solutions, call the Master Gardener's association, the DNR, or your local agricultural extension office, consult one of the many books available on the subject, or check it out on the Internet. Talk to other gardeners, too; some of the best solutions are discovered in local backyards.

But it's not just pesticides or herbicides at issue. There's also responsibility in planting. The purple loosestrife dilemma of recent years is a perfect example. It's been listed in many perennial guides that I have perused, and looks perfectly harmless, quite pretty actually, but just look at the havoc it caused for the Boyne River and surrounding area. We need to choose plants that complement and blend with the environment. Just as we pick things that are suited to the climate, we must consider whether they will co-habitate peacefully with the already existing flora and fauna, especially when what we plant has the potential to encroach on natural areas. Arming ourselves with knowledge, and being conscious of the impact of our actions is the best way to create a harmonious garden environment.

Gardeners, of all people, should have a natural affinity for the environment, being intimately acquainted with the value of the earth and its resources. Garden responsibly; all it takes is a little awareness and a desire to keep the world a beautiful place for all living things.

A MOM'S LIFE

Time picks
its own speed

By CINDI PLACE

What is it about the passage of time that makes it seem to speed up and then slow down?

In my mind, I know that every minute of every day is still 60 seconds long. And that it always takes 24 hours for a day to get from beginning to end. So why, under certain circumstances, does time seem to change tempo?

For example, a two-hour long family car trip can seem interminable, where two hours of quiet time without children can seem to pass in a minute. And when I tell our youngest child that I'll just be a minute when I leave to run an errand, he claims I am gone for hours. (Of course, this may be entirely possible considering that when I run errands I usually do so alone and therefore tend to drag my time out as long as possible.)

It seems like only yesterday that my husband and I were contemplating having children. Now they are here -- and growing up quickly. We wonder where all our time has gone. And I worry that if we can't even remember it passing, whether we used our time wisely.

Time flies. I wonder who came up with that particular phrase? But what better way to describe the speed with which our daily lives can progress. Of course, time doesn't move so fast when we're waiting for important news. Or the birth of a new baby. Or a really boring movie to be over. So why is that?

Have you ever noticed that spending time with old friends never seems to happen for long enough so that we can truly catch up on each other's lives? No matter how much time we have to spend together, we usually leave forgetting something. Which will give us stuff to talk about the next time, I guess.

Clearly, the more our interest is piqued the less we notice the passing of time. But I wish there was a way to control just how quickly certain aspects of our lives would come and go.

Because then summer, with all its beautiful weather and fun activities would never, ever seem to end.

GUEST COLUMN

On the lake, life couldn't be better

By BRODERICK WILLIAMS

It's a beautiful evening. Father's Day in Boyne City. We make our way out of the Harborage in a small but roomy sailboat. I help hoist the sail, fetch a screwdriver and other less-nautical duties. But that's fine by me.

I watch the huge pink-orange sun, looking like a ripe grapefruit, settle just above the out-of-place Wolverine Power Plant. I see the almost-perfect straight-line depth-change that runs clear out, toward and past Advance. The shallow run of the 'Voix has the color of aqua and with a 50 foot drop changes to deeper, richer blue, almost navy; no, not navy, indigo.

The clouds are thick and puffy, tinted with the evening's pink. A seagull glides, leaning left, holding momentarily, then flaps its wings to an erratic beat.

The people who I ride with, who own the boat, are friends who have become like family; they are showing friends of theirs the mechanics of sailing. So my services are no longer needed.

I stand on the bow watching Lake Charlevoix twinkle. The breeze, so warm and soft against my skin. I can't help myself and say, "This is what life's all about."

"Pardon?" asks a yellow-haired girl licking ice cream from her fingers.

"Nothing," I reply, dryly. How could I explain? My emotions were all caught up in a day of bliss. For a brief moment I was able to escape from the turbulence of the city. Leave behind my daily work routine and humdrum landscape. To hear and feel the gentle sway of the water.

I look up, past the lake toward the slow slumping green hills that frame the 'Voix. The last of the sun spills on the waters surface. I know after the ride I'll leave this precious land, my heart sinks; but I'll return, yes, very soon.

Dedication of new fellowship hall is Monday

It's already becoming difficult to remember what St. Matthew Catholic Church looked like before the addition of the fellowship hall, or even where the new extended parking lot used to end. And other than a slightly different shade of brick, it appears the hall has been attached to the Boyne City church all along.

After nine months of work, the church addition was completed right on time in early June with just a few finishing touches now remaining.

On Monday, July 5, at 4 p.m., the church will hold a dedication ceremony for the educational and social hall. The public is invited to join in the event which will begin inside the church, circle the building and culminate with a ribbon cutting and refreshments afterward. Bishop Patrick Cooney and neighboring clergy will be on hand for the occasion.

Certainly the need for the expansion has been apparent for some time, with the membership growing by 50 families in recent years.

The 8,000 square foot addition includes a fellowship hall which can be divided into eight classrooms — one for each of the children's catechism classes — by sliding moveable walls.

It can hold nearly 400 people — up from 180 seats in the basement hall — and with a kitchen, storage space and plenty of banquet tables, it will be host to church banquets, potlucks and funeral luncheons. The church is also considering renting the space to its own parishioners for family gatherings.

As in the past, it will be made available for the funeral luncheons of other area churches should they require more space than their own facilities offer, but will not be open to the public for use or rental.

Adjacent to the church's back entrance and to the hall, is a large gathering place, decorated with the 353 personally engraved bricks parishioners bought to contribute to the building fund. Also accessible from the gathering place is a new sacristy.

Barrier free sidewalks outside lead to three doorways, with the main entrance featuring a canopy for drop-offs and pick-ups which opens into the gathering space.

Easier access to the building was at the top of the church's priorities, especially since it has a large senior citizen membership. Maneuvering a short flight of stairs from the vestibule to the church and accessing the former church hall in the basement, had been difficult, if not impossible for some parishioners.

The new changes will accommodate the entire parish, "the young and old and it was much needed," said the Rev. Francis Partridge, pastor of St. Matthew's.

A fresh coat of paint and a thorough cleaning were given to the inside of the church itself, which was built in 1962.

So far parishioners have pledged more than $506,000 toward the $1.3 million addition. They must also fund the remaining half million dollars, a task Fr. Partridge is hopeful can be attained based on the success of neighboring parishes in Indian River and Harbor Springs. The church holds a 15-year, low-interest loan with the Diocese of Gaylord.

Boyne teen charged with making bomb threat at BCCHS

A 14-year-old male and former Boyne City High School student, has been charged in 7th Probate Court with writing the May 17 bomb threat inside the boy's restroom at the high school.

School administrators identified and spoke with two male suspects and each denied knowledge or involvement in the incident, according to Boyne City Assistant Police Chief Jeff Gettel.

The administrators then contacted Boyne City Police and provided the officers with the identities of each suspect, and why they were considered suspects.

Police interviewed potential witnesses, Gettel said, and then obtained a search warrant to seize any known handwriting of each suspect which was in possession of the school.

Two additional search warrants were obtained, ordering each suspect to supply the police with handwriting examples under police supervision.

The restroom door that had the threat written on it was removed from the bathroom stall. The entire door was transported along with the handwriting samples, by police, to the Michigan State Police East Lansing crime lab where analysis resulted in identification of one suspect as the writer of the bomb threat.

The juvenile petition was authorized by Charlevoix County Prosecuting Attorney Mary Beth Kur, and subsequently signed by the investigating officer, Gettel said.

The bomb threat was found during a school board meeting around 8 p.m. and the building was evacuated and searched. No bomb was found.

Early morning fire damages home

A house fire at the corner of North and East streets in Boyne City caused extensive fire and smoke damage to the home's interior.

The fire broke out in the early morning hours last Thursday and Boyne City firefighters cleared the scene by 4 a.m.

Firefighters reported that flames were coming out of the windows when they arrived.

"The firemen did a fantastic job containing it," Fire Chief Henry Erber said.

They were assisted at the scene by Boyne Valley firefighters and Boyne City Ambulance.

The home is owned by Zeke Bronson.

Two tenants, who were home at the time, suffered minor injuries and sought their own treatment.

The fire is still under investigation.

BOYNE POLICE NEWS

Michigan State Police arrested Riley Agee, 50, of Bay Township on Friday for breaking and entering a building with intent.

The arrest was made in connection to area construction thefts which have been occurring in Boyne City and the surrounding area since last September. Earlier this month, Boyne City police, with help from Michigan State Police and the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, recovered more than $30,000 worth of construction tools and equipment in Charlevoix County and in Waterford.

Agee posted his $5,000 bail in cash on Friday. He pled not guilty during his arraignment hearing Tuesday morning in Charlevoix County District Court. A preliminary hearing date is set for July 8.

Boyne City police have also submitted four warrants on Agee. Six are for possession of stolen property and one is for breaking and entering, and they will likely seek more charges in the future, according to Boyne City Assistant Police Chief Jeff Gettel.

The department received 93 other complaints last week including numerous calls from people who had locked themselves out of their cars.

Officers also handled several complaints of dogs either barking or running at large.

They investigated three suspicious persons, attended to four driving complaints, two assault complaints, and one disorderly person.

Four tickets were issued for speeding and also for no use of seatbelt and driving without a license. Tickets were also given to individuals for rollerblading or skateboarding in the downtown business district in addition to swimming off the shopper's dock.

Officers found a teen that had run away and returned him to his parents.

A lost purse was returned to its owner and a lost dog was also found and returned.

Officers investigated a report of indecent exposure.

They investigated an incident in which a boat rolled over. No one was injured.

They handled three incidents of kids throwing picnic tables in the lake.

OBITUARIES

Carol Hudkins

Carol Hudkins, 60, of East Jordan, died after a 10-year fight with cancer, on Wednesday, June 23, 1999 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility in East Jordan.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, June 26, at the Paullin-Penzien Funeral Home in East Jordan. The Rev. Eugene L. Baughan of the East Jordan United Methodist Church officiated.

She was born on Oct. 11, 1938, in Danville, Ill., the daughter of Walter and Katie (James) Kilby. On Sept. 19, 1983 in Charlevoix, she married Ace Hudkins.

Carol is survived by her husband,

Ace Hudkins, of East Jordan; three children, Deb (John) Dillman of Williamsport, Ind., Frank King Jr. of Lennon, and Cheryl Zamora of Pigeon; one stepson, William (Dorothy) Hudkins of East Jordan; six grandchildren; and two sisters, her twin Catherine Trimble of Williamsport, Ind. and Darlene Kilby of Danville, Ill.

She was preceded in death by her parents; one grandson, Jason King; one brother, Robert Kilby; and one stepson, Jim Hudkins.

Memorials may be given to Grandvue Medical Care Facility.

Florence Marvin

Florence Marvin, 86, of East Jordan, died Thursday, June 24, 1999 at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Her funeral services were held on Monday, June 28, at 2 p.m. at the Paullin-Penzien Funeral Home in East Jordan. The Rev. John M. Grathwohl of St. John's Nepomucene Catholic Church officiated. Interment was in St. John Nepomucene

Pioneer Cemetery in Jordan Township.

She was born on Aug. 10, 1912 in East Jordan, the daughter of Lewis and Anna (Stank) Marvin.

She is survived by one sister, Ella (Alden) Genshaw of Petoskey; one niece; and one nephew. She was preceded in death by her parents; and one brother, Arthur Marvin.

Clarence 'Bud' M. Staley

Clarence "Bud" M. Staley, 77, of East Jordan, died Friday, June 25, 1999 at his son's home on Ridge Road in Eveline Township.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, July 3, at 2 p.m. at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses on the East Jordan-Boyne City Road near East Jordan.

Bud was born on Dec. 17, 1921 at the family home on Wangeman Road near East Jordan, the son of George and Bertha (Jones) Staley. He graduated from East Jordan High School where he played the tuba and violin in the school orchestra.

He served in World War II in the South Pacific for 3 1/2 years. On Sept. 7, 1946, he married Gayle Conrad of Detroit. They lived at the family home on Wangeman Road until his recent illness.

In 1950, Bud became an ordained minister for Jehovah's Witnesses and faithfully served until his death. He also enjoyed the outdoors, camping, fishing, and hunting.

Bud is survived by his wife, Gayle Staley; two sons, Leslie (Darlene) Staley of Pinedale, Wyo., and Tom (Stephanie) Staley of East Jordan; one sister, Vera (Vale) Gee of East Jordan; 16 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren, soon to be four; as well as several nieces and nephews.

The family suggests memorials be given either to the Charlevoix County Hospice or the East Jordan Ambulance Fund. The family was served by the Paullin-Penzien Funeral Home in East Jordan.

Millennial Madness parades into Horton Bay

The mission of the Mothers Millennial Militia patrol is to assure safety on the streets of Horton Bay for the Millennial Madness parade.

On Sunday, July 4, 1999 at 1 p.m., neither rain, sleet, flood pestilence, infestation nor famine will deter Horton Bay from leading the nation into a new millennium.

"Millennial Madness" is the theme for the town's parade and it's sure to be a hoot.

According to parade organizers, archeologist and carbon-dating experts have recently determined that their revered prophet, Windigo, was born on the banks of Horton Creek at 1 p.m. on July 4, 0000 BC (not to be confused with July 4, 0000 AD).

So calendars will slip into the new millennium about one half year before the rest of the world when the 2000th anniversary of Windigo's birth coincides with the 1999 Horton Bay parade.

Bring your millennial feast, beverage, friends and most fashionable millennial apocalyptic parade attire and join the zany paraders as they glimpse into Horton Bay's past and peer into its future.

Historic apocalyptic events of the past millennium may be revisited such as the creation of the 51st state, Elvis sightings, volcanoes, professional sport franchise for Horton Bay, the discovery of fools gold, saber-tooth smelt, one-party government (the cocktail party) and the Mysterious Horton Triangle.

As Horton Bay passes into the new millennium, dragging its people and events with it, it will capture a sense of where it's been and where it's headed.

The deadline for parade entries is Wednesday, June 30. Applications are available at the Horton Bay General Store.

We would like to thank all those who made donations of money, trophies and time that made our tractor pull such a success.

From all of us at the Northern Michigan Antique Flywheelers Club, THANK YOU!

BACPAC

Thank you to the many generous and caring individuals, businesses, and organizations who contributed to the class of 1999's all night party. The graduates had a great time and appreciated all who helped.

We have the greatest community which is always showing its support of our schools and youth.

Many Thanks,
Boyne City BACPAC Committee

Children of all ages learned safety tips at the recent East Jordan bicycle rodeo.

Bike rodeo emphasized safety, fun

Kids and bikes are a natural combination come summertime, and the East Jordan Police Department wants to make sure youngsters play it safe when they go riding.

A recent bicycle safety and awareness program sponsored by the department brought 151 children to the Jordan Valley Express in East Jordan for a skills rodeo, bicycle safety inspection and a free helmet for all the children who participated.

"It was more than we expected," said program coordinator Officer Dan Reece of the attendance. This was the second year for the program. Last summer 130 children came.

Reece, who patrols East Jordan streets atop a bicycle, is more than familiar with the potential hazards of biking. He said head injuries are gradually increasing "and unfortunately bicycles are a part of all of that."

"We feel helmets are extremely important to protecting your head and the hands-on skills course gives you an idea of some of the areas you need to work on."

Although the rodeo — which tested stopping, balancing, turning and more — is geared to children, it's just as important for parents to understand the perils and how to avoid them.

Three 20" bikes, from Charlevoix's Big K Corporation and Ace Hardware, were given away as well as bike flags, water bottles, refreshments and a pizza party.

The police department appreciates the support of volunteers and these additional sponsors: Glen's Market of East Jordan, Charlevoix County Community Foundation, Mark Patrick of State Farm Insurance, Little Caesar's of East Jordan, McDonald's, East Jordan Co-op, Jordan Valley Express, D.A.R.E., Northern Michigan Welding Supply, local law enforcement, E.M.S. personnel, firefighters and the DNR for displaying their fire prevention Hummer.

Plans set for Camp Quality benefit weekend

RE/MAX of Boyne is joining the Boyne City Yacht Club in presenting the sixth annual Camp Quality Benefit Weekend, Friday, July 16 through Sunday, July 18.

The annual event generates donations for Camp Quality, a week-long summer camp and year-round support system for children with cancer.

This year's fund-raising activities begin on Friday, July 16, at Stafford's One Water Street on Lake Charlevoix in Boyne City with a Dinner Theater Event, "Boyne Meets Broadway," presented by the Boyne City High School Drama Department. The event begins at 5:30 p.m. with a cash bar and dinner begins at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $50 per person.

Saturday brings the Taste of Boyne Yacht Cruise at the Harborage Marina on Front Street, and the area's finest cuisine will be served. The cost is $60 per person.

Sunday closes the weekend with a four-person team golf scramble and the Million Dollar Hole-in-One Contest on Dunmaglas Golf Course at 1 p.m. Donation per person is $95 with green fees, cart, dinner, and various prizes and events included.

For more information on the weekend events, call RE/MAX of Boyne at 582-2400.

Academy jazz band performing at Old City Park

The Northwest Academy Jazz Band from Charlevoix will perform Wednesday, July 7, in the Evenings at the Gazebo concert series in Boyne City's Old City Park.

The band is under the direction of Gary Stutzman and has played throughout northern Michigan.

Bring your chairs and picnics and come to Old City Park at 7 p.m. In case of rain, the concert will be held at St. Matthew's Church, 1303 Boyne Ave., Boyne City.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Archery store opens in Boyne City

On Target Archery opened in Boyne City this month at 1100 Boyne Ave., the site of the former Triple T Archery.

The business carries the Hoyt, Mathews and PSE lines of bows as well as a pro shop of accessories such as quivers, releases, sites and cases. Its bow repair shop is certified for Hoyt and PSE warranty repairs.

An indoor range is open to the public for $3 an hour and the business offers a video simulated dart target system as well as archery lessons. Bow hunter leagues are available for adults, youths and adult-youth combinations.

The business was not bought from Triple T Archery, but is a new business altogether. The business is owned by George Britton of Boyne City, Scott Boss of Charlevoix and Doug Hill of Mt. Pleasant.

Britton also brings his golf skills to the store, offering on-site club repairs.

Store hours are 10 a.m.-7 p.m. daily and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday. Its phone number is 582-9088.

They had spent the morning carrying out their Boyne River Clean Up event. They picked up much litter along the shore and all along the river at Memorial Park and worked on over to the Old City Park and on up to Dam Road.

DAVE AND ROBIN Bricker and family recently returned from "a wonderful time" on a vacation trip to Montana. Among many points of interest was their visit to Glacier Park.

A WEDDING ceremony on Saturday, June 26, united Jodi Johncheck, the daughter of Harold and Sandy Johncheck, all of Boyne City, and Aaron Richards, son of Joanne and Dale Lee of Tennessee and Don and Lorretta Richards of Boyne City. The Rev. Kathy Cadarette, pastor at Greensky Hill United Methodist Church, officiated. An evening dinner dance reception was held at the home of Rick and Nancy Johncheck, the brother and sister-in-law of the bride. The newlyweds will be at home on Camp Daggett Road, with plans of a wedding trip later in the winter.

GLADYS AND ROBERT TISON of Missouri and Priscilla and Al Papani of Illinois joined their area families in wishing dad, Joseph Tison of Grandvue, a Happy Father's Day.

STEVE AND KAREN JAREMA of Boyne City are the proud parents of Austin John. Austin John is the first grandchild of Pat (Florenski) Jarema and the late John Jarema of Boyne Falls. Austin John was born on Steve and Karen's wedding anniversary, June 24.

WEDDINGS

Shenk - Dewey

Lisa Marie Shenk of Boyne City and Bryan Joseph Dewey of Kalamazoo were married Dec. 19, 1998 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Kalamazoo.

The bride is the daughter of Geoffrey and Suzanne Shenk of Boyne City and the groom is the son of Donald and Carol Dewey of Schoolcraft.

Muriel Collison was the matron of honor. Julie Shenk, Roxanne Pascente, Jo Eilyn Manning and Antoinette Dewey were the bridesmaids. Kimberly McCormick, cousin of the bride, served as flowergirl and wore a floor length emerald green dress and wore a halo of baby's breath and white roses in her hair. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Marc Dewey, brother of the groom, served as best man and groomsmen were Jeff Grant, Scott Newman, Scott Patton and Ken Dewey. David Merkle, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the couple's parents at the Radisson Plaza Hotel.

Lisa and Bryan Dewey

Lisa and Bryan spent their honeymoon in Cancun, Mexico. They have made their home in Kalamazoo. Lisa is a recent graduate of Hope College with a degree in science composite and elementary education. The groom is a graduate of Hope College and is a territory manager for Florstar Sales Inc., in Kalamazoo.

Purdys celebrating 50th anniversary

Betty and Bill Purdy will renew their vows at Boyne City's United Methodist Church on July 10, at 2 p.m., in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The couple was married at the Methodist Church in Clio on July 9, 1949 by Betty's father. His grandson and Betty's nephew, the Rev. Kevin Zaborney, will do the honors this time around with assistance from the Rev. Gary Bondarenko, pastor of the Boyne City United Methodist Church.

Boyne City has been home to the Purdys for 12 years.

You are cordially invited to the 50th anniversary running of the famous

Press on Regardless® Rally

September 10, 11, 12, 1999
Boyne City, Michigan

Come and join us for the 50th anniversary edition of the oldest continuously run rally in North America. From its first presentation in 1949, POR® has been a unique event. Over the years it has gone from a tour in the country to a "brisk" 24 hour TSD event and then to a closed road performance event patterned after the European championship rallies. After several years as an FIA listed event, it became the first World Rally Championship Rally in the United States in 1972. When SCCA started the Pro Rally series, it joined that series and was generally considered not only the oldest but also the longest, toughest and meanest event on the schedule. A few years ago, it became evident to the Detroit Region that organizing a Pro Rally 500 miles away from your home was not practical. At that time, POR® was returned closer to its roots, and became a TSD event once again.

This year's event will be a three-day, 650-mile rally conducted to the 1999 SCCA Tour Rally Rules. Because Total of Alma is unable to sponsor the event, the entire event will move to Boyne City, the home of Mac-Sam Specialties, the event sponsor. Having the headquarters in Boyne City will allow us to use more of the better roads of past ROR® events. Speeds will be somewhat slower than in past years. Time allowances will be liberal and there will be no double jeopardy. Most of the competitive roads will be unpaved. Two-track roads will be avoided where possible.

The rally will start on Friday morning. Registration, a "fun rally" and a welcome party will occupy Thursday afternoon and evening.

Entry Fees, payable to Detroit Region, SCCA: SCCA members $150, Others $160. After 8/25 add $25. After 9/2 add $50.

For more information, contact: Chairman: Jim Mickle at 810-677-1667 or jimickle@juno.com. Rallymasters: Tom & Greg Woodside at 248-828-3438 or tomwoodside@juno.com. Registrar: Mary Shiloff, 7307 Dyke Rd., Algonac, MI 48001 - 810-725-3057 or mshiloff@algonachs.algonac.k12.mi.us

This event will count toward the Detroit Region and Cen-Div rally championships.

Sanctioned and presented by Detroit Region, SCCA and Friends of POR®

Painting a colorful history of 'East Jordan Remembers'

Jeanne Fyke is adding a bit of color to East Jordan's history with the stroke of her paintbrush.

Black and white photos from "East Jordan Remembers," a collection of stories about the city's past, are the object of her oil paintings, but Fyke has enlarged them and enlivened them with color.

A completed work of a community band around the 1900s, based on a photograph found on page 17, is currently hanging at the Jordan River Arts Council for its Invitational Art Exhibition.

The muted yellows, browns and oranges in which Fyke recreated it, fit the somberness of the photo's subjects. The unsmiling faces, no doubt a practice of turn-of-the-century picture taking, seem ironic to Fyke. After all, the musicians are apparently on their way to playing lively music.

A band member — or perhaps just a sign carrier — holds a hand painted sign on a stick which reads "Band Concert To Night By-Gosh." The drum of a bushy bearded drummer with a top hat says "Reuben Concert Band."

Those two characters, along with a few select others are featured in the painting and Fyke replaced the storefront background of the photo with a murky blur.

"I basically do people — portraits or scenes with people in them. The scenery to me is just a backdrop," Fyke said.

And all her subjects are real or have been real — like the people in the old photographs.

Fyke has been painting most of her life and studied formally for a short while in Cincinnati and in London. She prefers to work in oils. "It takes longer, but it lasts longer. There's a lot of depth to it and you can get more into it," Fyke said.

Bob's Place in Alanson houses a mural of an old Pellston logging mill. She painted it for Pellston's pioneer days in 1975-76. Back then it hung in the town's school.

Commissioned pieces and others she has sold are scattered about in private collections. An abstract of a Levering antique store is displayed in her home. Her two largest pieces are housed in a friend's pole barn in Carp Lake.

A resident of East Jordan for three years, she and her husband Carl own Jordan Valley Satellite on Mill Street, having recently moved the business from M-66.

In the spirit of the Freedom Festival's "Then and Now" theme, she painted a family at a carnival "from back then" on her business's front window.

"I love East Jordan," Fyke said. "I got to looking at that book (East Jordan Remembers) and I like to paint and thought I'd put them in oil," she said.

She has completed two others — a blacksmith (page 7) and apples and potatoes being sold at a farmer's market (page 37). She will paint 12 altogether and may do a showing of the finished pieces at the historical museum at Elm Pointe.

"I enjoy painting. It's just fun," Fyke said. "If someone wants them, fine. But that's not why I'm doing it."

Fyke's painting will be on exhibit at the Jordan River Arts Center on Main Street in East Jordan through June 16, along with the works of 47 other local artists. The gallery is open from 1-4 p.m. daily.

Tip of the Mitt series combines art with resource awareness

Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council and Crooked Tree Arts Council are sponsoring outdoor painting series to link art appreciation with water resource awareness.

The series begins Friday, July 9, at Elm Pointe on Lake Charlevoix in East Jordan. Local painters Pat Tinney and Deb Shaw will lead the group following a 10 a.m. presentation about the lake by Ann Baughmann. Tippi of the Mitt's Wil Cwikiel will discuss aquatic inspiration in art and literature at 2 p.m.

The McCune Nature Preserve will be the site for the July 22 session with painters Jan Vandenbrink and Jean DeWaard from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Tippi of the Mitt's Scott McEwen will give a presentation on Minnehaha Creek and river ecology at 11 a.m.

Painter Margaret Tvedten will lead artists at the Petoskey Waterfront Park on Aug. 12 from 9-11:30 a.m. Doug Fuller will give a presentation on Little Traverse Bay at 9 a.m.

For more information, call Tip of the Mitt at 347-1181.

Nub's Nob hosts summer music festival

A sentimental journey from the swing days of Glenn Miller and Jimmy Dorsey to classic rock 'n' roll by the Diamonds will entertain northern Michigan audiences during the fifth annual "Music at Nub's Nob" summer festival.

The festival will feature three outdoor, theme-based evening concerts on July 16, 23 and 30 at Nub's Nob ski resort near Harbor Springs.

"Music at Nub's Nob" is sponsored by the Central Michigan University School of Music and CMU Public Broadcasting. The open-air concerts begin at 8 p.m.

The goal is to bring high-quality musical entertainment to the Harbor Springs and Petoskey area and to use the proceeds to support musical activities in northern Michigan and at CMU, said David Gillingham, interim director of CMU's School of Music.

Each of the concerts will take place under a festival tent on the grassy grounds at Nub's Nob. Those attending the shows are welcome to bring their own picnic dinner and non-alcoholic beverages to enjoy with the concerts.

The Diamonds, who shot to stardom with the 1954 release of "Why Do Fools Fall in Love," will open the concert series with "An Evening of Early Rock 'n' Roll."

On July 23, the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, named for one of the most influential bandleaders of the swing era, will perform during "An Evening of Big Band Classics."

On July 30, the Glenn Miller Orchestra, established several years after Miller disappeared as a passenger in a single-engine plane over the English Channel, will close out the series with "An Evening of Swing Era Music."

Tickets for each concert are $20. They may be purchased through the Central Box Office, Bovee University Center, CMU, Mount Pleasant, Mich. 48859, (888) CMU-0111 (toll free), or at First Community Bank in

CHECK IT OUT

A new chapter begins

By NANNETTE MILLER

AFTER TWO YEARS of hard work we have finally finished cataloging all of the books in the library. We are now ready to start using the Athena automation system for checking books in and out, placing reserves, tracking overdues, and maintaining patron records.

We want to make this change as easy as possible for staff and patrons. Here is how it will work:

We will continue the "No Fines" period for overdue materials through Saturday, July 3.

The library will be closed for staff training on the system on Monday, July 5.

Starting Tuesday, July 6, all patrons will be asked to verify address and other information on their library card application. Assuming the patron has no overdue books or outstanding fines, they will be issued a new set of library cards. One of the cards is credit card size and can be carried in a wallet, and the other is a smaller card that can be attached to a key chain. One of these cards must be presented each time the patron wishes to check out materials.

MichiCard users will have a Boyne District Library bar code affixed to their home library card.

THE SERVICE AREA of the Boyne District Library includes the City of Boyne City, all of Evangeline, Bay, and Hayes Townships, and the portions of Eveline and Wilson Townships that are in the Boyne City School District. A person may have borrowing privileges at the Boyne District Library if he/she lives in or owns property in the established service area.

People who do not qualify as residents of the library district and do not have a valid MichiCard from a participating library, may elect to purchase borrowing privileges. Non-resident cards will be issued to individuals or families for the fee of $36 per year, and may be purchased annually, semi-annually, or quarterly. This new non-resident policy allows summer residents to borrow materials for three months for only $9.

STOP IN the library after July 6 to receive a new library card and see how the Athena system works. It is a very user-friendly program, easily learned by patrons of all ages. Please have patience while we add patron information to the system and learn to handle the "snags" that are inevitable during any transition.

(Nannette Miller is the director of the Boyne District Library.)

Concert benefits Charlevoix County Land Conservancy

Classical guitarist Ken Bier and flutist Leslie Bier will present a benefit concert for the Charlevoix County Land Conservancy on Sunday, July 11, at the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix. The concert begins at 4 p.m.

A reception to meet the artists will be held immediately after the concert.

Ken Bier received his Bachelor of Music in Guitar Studies at Grand Valley State University where he studied with world-class artist Guillermo Fierens. He teaches guitar at St. Joseph's College in Indiana.

Leslie Bier received her Bachelor of Music Education at Grand Valley State University and teaches music at Eggers Middle School in Indiana.

THANK YOU

The Boyne City Police Department would like to say Thank You to all who helped make the Lee Loyd Benefit a great success!

An impressive debut

American Legion baseball team makes its mark at season-opening tournament

Boyer USA's American Legion team's first games of the season took place this past weekend at the Mt. Pleasant "Drillers Tournament." The team won two and lost two in the tournament.

Boyer USA's American Legion Charter is sponsored by Boyne City's Ernest Peterson Post 228 and co-sponsored by Boyne USA Resorts and several local sponsors. The team is managed by Marvin Potter and coached by Terry Elzinga and Ted Karaszewski. The players come from Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City, Boyne Falls, and Ellsworth.

"We have quite a cast of characters," said coach Ted Karaszewski. "This was a big question mark as we put this team together. Will all these kids get along? But they all did and they played pretty well together for the first time out."

Game one on Friday was Boyne USA vs. Petoskey. Boyne USA won the pitchers' duel between Petoskey's Luke Bailey and Charlevoix's Shay Hutchison by the final score of 2-1.

Boyer USA scored once in the first inning on a single by Dan Arner followed by a double from Josh Bush. Boyne scored again in the fifth when East Jordan's Nate Skop led off with a single then advanced to third on a single from Rob Vincent. Skop scored on a sacrifice fly by Bush.

Petoskey scored once in the seventh inning and threatened to tie the game with two runners on and one out. Ellsworth's Brent Van Steddum came on to close the door and get the save.

"Shay Hutchison pitched a heck of a game," said coach Terry Elzinga. "It was like he was possessed, a real big-time performance against a tournament-tested team. Our team made some excellent defensive plays all around."

Andy Douglas made several great catches in the outfield as did Charlevoix's Matt Horon. Skop, Ryan Fiel, Bush, Arner, and Nick Karaszewski all had great defensive games.

Hitting for Boyne was Karaszewski with a double and a single. Bush had a double while Justin Callahan, Skop, Arner, Vincent and Horon each singled. Winning pitcher Shay Hutchison went 6 1/3 innings, striking out five, walking six, and giving up two hits.

Game two of the tournament saw Van Steddum toss a one-hitter for Boyne USA as he struck out six and walked two while giving up two runs over five innings for a 10-6 win. Rob Vincent pitched the final two innings to get the save.

Boyer USA's offense exploded for 15 hits led by Skop and Fiel with a double and a single each. Arner had two singles. Douglas tripled while Bush added a double. Callahan, Van Steddum, Hutchison, Joe Jones, Vincent, Horon, and Karaszewski each singled.

In Saturday's two games, Boyne USA didn't fare as well against a Grand Rapids team called Wyoming Elite, losing 15-0 on a no-hitter in five innings. Boyne lost the second game against Traverse City Central 8-1.

"We were overmatched in the first game but we should have competed better against Traverse City," said Karaszewski. "We wasted a good pitching performance by Justin Callahan. We only managed two hits and made some mental mistakes."

Boyer USA plays Wednesday at Petoskey at 6:30 p.m. and Thursday at Boyne City against Cadillac. The game begins at 5 p.m. at the high school field.

Young anglers cast their lines at fishing clinic

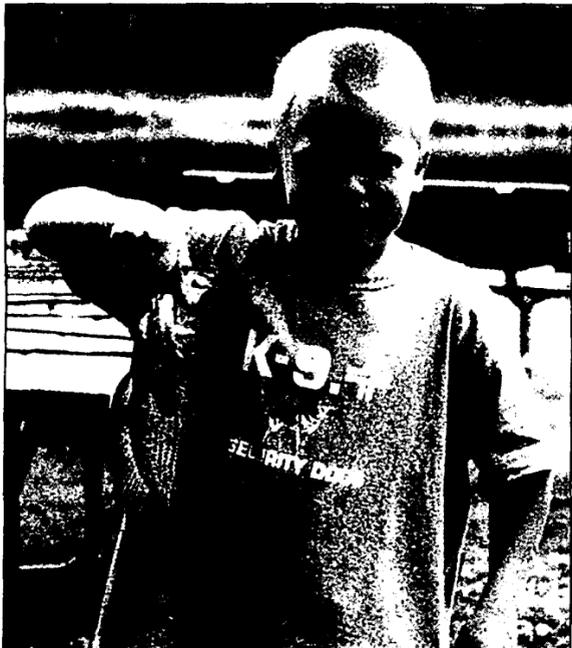

Some 70 children recently got their lines wet at Young State Park either learning to fish or improving their fishing skills during the fourth annual Kids Fishing Clinic sponsored by the DNR.

The event is designed to help kids develop an interest in fishing and to learn techniques to help them develop a lifetime interest in angling.

Three prizes and 15 door prizes were given away.

First place winner was 9-year-old Corina Hoekwater of Boyne City who reeled in a 14.1" white bass weighing 1.3 pounds. Another 9-year-old, Tyler Kenifeck, took second place with his 11.7", .8 pound rockbass. Jay Hoekwater, 10, of Boyne City took third place with a 9.6", .8 pound rockbass.

The DNR thanks all those involved in the clinic over the past four years and extends special recognition to this year's sponsors, Boyne River Bait and Outdoor Sports for donating bait and McDonald's Restaurant for donating drinks.

Boyer City basketball camps on tap

Rambler Basketball Camp for all boys entering grades fourth, fifth and sixth will be held Monday, July 5, through Friday, July 9, from 10 a.m.-noon each day at the Boyne City High School gym.

The cost is $25 which includes a basketball.

The camp is designed to teach fundamental basketball concepts and skills in a manner that provides a good experience for young players.

Instructors for the camp include members of the Boyne City coaching staff as well as current and former varsity players.

All proceeds from the camp will benefit the high school basketball program.

The registration deadline is June 30. For more information, contact Kevin Fitzpatrick, Boyne City varsity boys head coach, at 582-6875, or the Boyne City Community Education office at 582-6765.

THE BOYNE CITY YOUTH Skills Basketball Camp for girls going into fourth, fifth and sixth grades, will be held July 13-16 from 6-8 p.m. at Boyne City High School.

Camp will focus on fundamentals, defense, offense, skills and reinforcement.

The cost is $25 per player and includes a basketball or a T-shirt.

Boyer City Girls Basketball Camp for seventh through 12th graders will be held July 14-16 at the high school. It will focus on fundamentals, defense, offense, team concepts and individual moves.

A post session will run from 9 a.m.-noon and a guard session from 1-4 p.m.

The cost is $35 per session or $50 for both sessions and includes a basketball or a T-shirt.

Registration forms for either camp can be picked up at the high school. The deadline is July 7.

Mark Hancock sets the pace at speedway

Mark Hancock of Boyne City is in the midst of his best season of his racing career.

The 1997 Northern Michigan Dragway Super Pro points champion pushed his season money winnings over $7,000 with his Super Pro $500 victory Sunday. He defeated Alba's Randy Hoogerhyde in the final round. Hoogerhyde had accomplished the milestone of becoming the first snowmobile rider ever to reach a Super Pro final as his Arctic Cat ZRT fell to Hancock's Mustang.

Sportsman action found Kaleva's Don Heinzer taking the win over Robert Valleau of Traverse City. Scott Martinson of Cadillac beat Traverse City's Nate Kine in Snowmobile Trophy.

In Pro Trophy, Beulah's Kevin

Huntley took his first ever victory. Dave Acha of Interlochen was also a first-time winner in Street Trophy.

Northern Michigan Dragway will be closed for the 4th of July weekend. The next IHRA Summit Points event will be held July 11.

For information about Northern Michigan Dragway, call (231) 362-2894, or on race day 362-3439.

Keeping a lost art alive

Seven sharp tines give Cal Deming's spears the look of a devil's trident — with the exception, of course, of the four additional points.

But Deming is anything but devilish and the spears he makes in his Boyne City garage are used strictly for fishing.

"It's a lost art," he said of crafting the spears which he undertook upon retirement just over 10 years ago.

A hexagonal handle of ash and inlaid walnut is threaded to a shaft with a brass farrow. A three-pound lead weight gives it heft and the head is made of three sets of steel tines.

"Lots of hammering," goes into the final product, he said.

It closely resembles his grandfather's spear which he's keeping for posterity, much like the utilitarian ones he sells to others who, to Deming's amusement, "take them and hang them on the wall."

Years ago his grandfather showed him how to spear fish.

"Shove it, don't throw it," is how Deming explains the technique.

The colorful wooden fishing decoys he hand crafts are fated to the same plight as his spears — as accents on fireplace mantles or in dens. But he really doesn't mind.

Even Deming himself most often uses the simple red and white sucker for ice fishing — not wanting to mar the detailed designs he paints on others to create look-alikes of splake, pickerel, herring, perch, shark and the three-part musky which will "get a little more action," he said.

"You can probably pull in more pike with a red and white decoy," he said.

But any of them will attract up to 40 pound pike and musky, although he admits he's never caught a musky in his life.

His decoy designs are imitations from fish paintings he finds in books. He's always looking for good books and full-size pictures would aid in capturing more detail.

Then there are the shiny lures he stamps out of a dye. The ones with the blue designs are for steelhead, green are for lake trout and red for brown trout and salmon.

His Python lures — originally designed for use on Lake Michigan — are now shipped to Alaska to catch large salmon.

Ironically, even though he crafts the tools to catch fish, he doesn't get a line wet as often as he did in the past.

"It's not like it used to be," he said, noting that the number of boats using Lake Charlevoix now don't allow him the leisurely "come and go as you like" atmosphere he once enjoyed.

He made up somewhat for the lost time on a recent trip to Larsen Bay, Alaska on Kodiak Island where he put one of his hand-crafted harpoons to the test in the Pacific Ocean on a halibut weighing over 100 pounds. He only harpooned one, but caught plenty of other fish.

Based on a design drawing by his nephew, Deming has made eight harpoons so far. He left his niece and nephew a handful of them to use on the charters they run out of their lodge on the island.

"It's one way to land your fish," Deming said. Attached to the boat, the barbed hook allows for live fish, too large for the boat, to be pulled to shore.

His wife Helen pulled out one of the giant frozen salmon filets her husband brought back with him from an ocean fishing trip. Thick and fleshy, it will certainly supply more than one tasty meal for the couple.

Then it will be back to building the spears, harpoons, decoys and lures for those hoping to land the big one — or to spruce up a living room wall.

Cal Deming's decoys are pretty enough for a mantle, but are designed primarily for fishing.

PUBLIC NOTICES

CITY OF BOYNE CITY COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX

2ND READING AND CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF AMENDMENT A 42(1), RELATED TO NOISE, TO THE BOYNE CITY NUISANCE ORDINANCE A-42

At a regular meeting of the City Commissioners of the City of Boyne City, County of Charlevoix, MI held at City Hall in said City the 22nd day of June 1999 at 12 o'clock noon, the following amending ordinance A-42(1) to City of Boyne City Ordinance #A-42, Nuisance Ordinance was presented and approved as a First Reading, the following is a synopsis of that amending ordinance:

The City Of Boyne City Ordains:
Ordinance No. A-42, NUISANCES shall be amended to include the following:

AMENDMENT NO. A-42(1)
35.013 Section 13. NOISE

No person, firm, or corporation shall unreasonably make, assist in creating, continue to make, or cause to be made or continued, any noise disturbance. Noncommercial public speaking and public assembly activities conducted on any public space or public right of way shall be exempt from operation under this section. No person shall operate or play, or permit the operation or playing of, any radio, television, phonograph, drum, musical instrument, sound amplifier or similar device which produces, reproduces or amplifies sound in such a manner as to:

- (1) Create a noise disturbance across a real property boundary or within a noise sensitive zone. If such a device is plainly audible on the property of another or within a building other than that within which the device is located, and if a complaint is made to the City Manager, their designee, or Police Department regarding annoyance or disturbance as a result of such device, this shall serve as prima-facie evidence of a violation.
- (2) Play or operate such devices at any time with a louder volume than is necessary for convenient hearing for the persons who are in the room, chamber, vehicle or other place in which such an instrument, machine, set or device is operated and who are voluntary listeners thereto.
- (3) Create a noise disturbance in or on a motor vehicle on a public right of way, public space or space open to the general public, or in a boat on public waters.

No person shall use or operate for any noncommercial purpose any loudspeaker, public address system or similar device between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. of the following day so that the sound therefrom creates a noise disturbance across a residential real property, school, hospital area or any such noise sensitive boundary.

No person shall use any pile driver, shovel, hammer, derrick, hoist, tractor, roller or other construction apparatus between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. of the following day, except for work on essential services, within 600 feet of a residence or noise sensitive zone.

No person shall load, unload, open, close or otherwise handle boxes, crates, containers, building materials, garbage cans or similar objects between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. of the following day in such a manner as to cause a noise disturbance across a residential real property boundary or within a noise sensitive zone.

No construction activities, including excavation, earthmoving and the erection, demolition, alteration, or repair of any building shall occur between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m. if a noise disturbance can be heard across a real property boundary unless a permit is obtained from the City Manager or their designee.

No person shall sound or permit the sounding, from any place, of any electronically amplified signal from any stationary bell, chime, siren, whistle or similar device intended primarily for nonemergency purposes. Such devices, when used in conjunction with places of religious worship, shall be exempt from this subsection.

Owning, possessing or harboring any bird or other animal which frequently or for continued duration makes sounds which create a noise disturbance across a residential real property boundary or within a noise sensitive zone.

Offering for sale or selling anything by shouting or outcry within any residential area of the City, except in connection with auction sales.

Repairing, rebuilding, modifying, or testing any motor vehicle, motorcycle, or motorboat in such a manner as to cause a noise disturbance across a residential real property boundary.

The operation of air conditioning, air handling devices, refrigeration devices or other compressors causing a sound level in excess of the maximum allowed dBA measured at any property line in specified zoned districts as listed on the table below.

Any motorboat, launch or other water craft, the motive power of which is an internal combustion engine using gas, gasoline, naphtha or other like energy, operated on the waters within the city limits shall be equipped with a stock factory muffler, underwater exhaust or other modern or improved device capable of adequately muffling the sound of the exhaust of such engine. Such muffler shall be kept and remain closed, and such exhaust or device shall be kept in proper working order by any person operating or in charge of such motorboat, launch or other water craft, at all times when such engine is in operation. The motor's exhaust shall at all times be so muffled or suppressed as not to exceed the allowed sound levels in each respective zoned district as measured at the shoreline.

No person shall operate any sound amplifying device for the purpose of advertising or attracting the attention of the public. However, any government unit or bona fide nonprofit organization may secure a permit to use such a device. No permit will be granted for such use at any time or under any other conditions which, in the opinion of the City Manager or their designee, will constitute a nuisance.

Notice is hereby given that the Second Reading and Consideration of Adoption of Amendment #A42(1) will be held at the City Commission Meeting on Tuesday, 27 July, 1999 at 12:00 noon in the City Managers Office, 319 North Lake Street. A copy of the entire text of this amending ordinance is available at the City Clerk's office at the above address during normal business hours. This amendment shall be published within ten days following final enactment and shall take effect fifteen (15) days following final enactment. The Public is invited to attend this meeting and give input into the adoption of Amendment A-42(1) to Ordinance A-42.

First Reading: June 22
Second Reading: 27 July 1999
Effective Date: 11 August 1999

'Tis the season for scams

By SHERIFF GEORGE LASATER

In addition to bringing out swimmers and boaters, the warmer temperatures tend to bring out many of the scam artists who prey on unsuspecting and trusting homeowners.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department is warning homeowners to be on the lookout for unsolicited visits by contractors, particularly those who say they just happened to be driving by and noticed that your roof, driveway, windows, or whatever, needs work. Citizens are cautioned to avoid entering into agreements with contractors who contact them in this manner.

There are many cases of trusting individuals who have given sizable downpayments for repair work to be done by the nice young man who came to the door, never to hear from him or see their money again. In cases where work has been done, it may not have been done completely or correctly. Usually, attempts made to contact the person responsible prove fruitless. More than likely they have moved on to find another neighborhood ripe for the picking.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department recommends that citizens do the following before agreeing to have work done on their homes:

- 1) Always deal with a licensed contractor and ask for proof of licensing status.
  - 2) Get references of those you are considering to have do the work.
  - 3) Get written estimates and be wary of "special low prices."
  - 4) Get a written contract and have an attorney review it, especially if a large amount of money is involved.
  - 5) NEVER pay in cash.
- Also, remember that you have a right to cancel within three days of signing any contract solicited and signed in your home. You can do so by sending the contractor a registered letter stating your desire to cancel.

- If you have problems with a contractor:
- 1) Try to resolve the matter before making final payment.
  - 2) Contact the local building inspector on questions of workmanship and code violations.
  - 3) Consider going to small claims court on matters involving less than $1,500.
  - 4) If fraud is suspected, file a criminal complaint with the local police or sheriff's department.

In some instances you may have to seek the assistance of an attorney to resolve the matter. Seniors 60 years and older can contact the Agency on Aging for the telephone number of the legal services program providing legal services to the elderly in this area of the state.

One other note of caution. If you are visiting your local homebuilders show and are tempted to enter one of the many prize drawings offered, you should realize that by entering, your name will more than likely be put on a mailing or call list.

These lists are used by the company offering the prize to generate leads for potential customers. Mailing and call lists get sold to other companies generating more mail and calls to your home.

So, if you are already annoyed by unwanted mail and phone solicitations, look out because by entering prize drawings you could be opening the flood gates for more to come.

If you have any questions or concerns call the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department at 547-4461.

(George Lasater is the Charlevoix County sheriff.)

Circle of Care benefit earmarked for K.C.

Circle of Care is holding its second annual Benefit Variety Show at the Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix on Thursday, July 8, and will donate the proceeds to K.C. Smith.

The evening will feature a mock radio show at 7 p.m., "It Takes Two to Tango," which is a comedy mishap between men and women.

There will be plenty to do prior to the show from 5-7 p.m., with dinner available for purchase a la carte at reasonable pricing. Local arts and crafts will be on sale, a carnival of games will be available for children, and tickets will be sold for door prizes. Free child care is available.

There will also be an opportunity to make additional donations to help K.C.'s family with their medical expenses, or contact Cindy Mansen at 547-6862.

Tickets for the evening are $5 each and can be purchased by calling the church office at 547-9482.

Circle of Care chooses recipients who are in need of funding to help cover expenses incurred associated with medical treatment.

Geese

They will be herded with snow fence and chicken wire, bands will be put on their legs, and they'll be dropped off at beaver ponds, wetlands or other suitable areas in state forest land.

Last year 30 to 40 were taken to the Pigeon River Forest, northeast of Gaylord. It will be noted during the capture if any banded geese returned from last year.

"It's been something we've been doing a lot of," Mastenbrook said of moving geese. "But we're getting out of it now because it's such a big job."

He noted that there are plenty more requests for the service from downstate and that next year licensed goose control people will need to be hired to take care of business. They will still need permission from the DNR.

There are other techniques that can work, at least temporarily, to keep the geese at bay.

One way is to grow a tall strip of grass which they are reluctant to cross because it can camouflage their predators. But Mastenbrook said once they learn to cross it, it's no longer an effective barrier.

Fencing, though unsightly, is another deterrent, as is running fishing line 8-12 inches high.

Applying repellents to the grass, such as grape extract, is distasteful to the birds, and is a product the DNR and condo owners are investigating.

"None of these things are fool proof. They're pretty smart critters," Mastenbrook said.

"We're looking for some humane way," Mastic said.

"They're beautiful birds, but they're awful pests," he added.

And while some people try to scare them away, others feed them enticing the birds to make themselves at home.

Boyne school budget approved

The Boyne City School Board approved 1998-99 budget adjustments at its meeting Monday night increasing the district's fund equity by over $200,000.

Revenues came in at $10,254,966 and expenditures at $10,050,015. The average increases the district's fund equity to $1,351,646.

The board also adopted the 1999-2000 budget with estimated revenues of $9,982,146 and expenses at $10,708,613, leaving a budget deficit of $726,467.

A $200,000 pricetag for computers is included in the expenses, and is reflected in the budget deficit amount as well, although the expenditure will be postponed until after the audit.

The 1999-2000 projected budget deficit will reduce the fund equity balance to $625,179.

Car rally coming to Boyne City

Mac Sam Specialties in Boyne City has become the principal sponsor of this year's edition of Press on Regardless Rally (POR), the oldest continuous running rally in North America.

Because Mac Sam Specialties has joined the POR team, the 50th anniversary edition of POR will run entirely out of Boyne City, event chairman Jim Mickle said.

Originally, the POR schedule called for the rally to begin and end in Alma, with an overnight in Boyne City.

There are advantages for everyone in this change, Mickle said. POR will now be closer to its traditional rally roads and it will also receive added support from Boyne City.

"Running in the northern lower peninsula of Michigan, this year's three-day event will cover some 650 miles of the best unpaved rally roads in the U.S.," Mickle said.

POR will open Thursday, Sept. 9, with evening registration. Friday will include a ceremonial start from downtown Boyne City and will end with a BBQ chicken dinner prepared by the Rotary Club.

For more information about the 50th anniversary POR Rally, contact Mickle at (810) 677-1667.

Public property off limits for fireworks

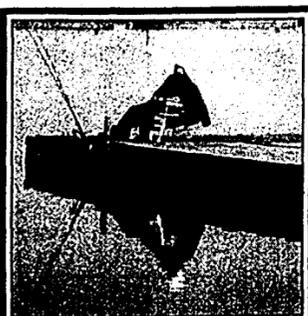

In hopes of a safe holiday weekend, Boyne City Police officers send out a reminder that fireworks, even if they are legal, are not permitted on public property in Boyne City, according to the city ordinance.

Assistant Police Chief Jeff Gettle said this even includes sparklers.

The ordinance also states that fireworks cannot be exploded between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Illegal fireworks are never allowed. The following are examples of fireworks prohibited in Michigan: cherry bomb, comet (mine), firecracker, M-80, bottle rockets, roman candles, silver salute (M-100), M250 and M-1000 (quarter-stick), torch, and any fireworks that spin or twirl.
