Serving East Jordan, Boyne City and surrounding areas

at a GLANCE

Registration begins for BCHS students

All Boyne City High School students will need to report to the high school media center from 9 a.m.-12 p.m., and 2 p.m.-5 p.m. for registration on the following dates:

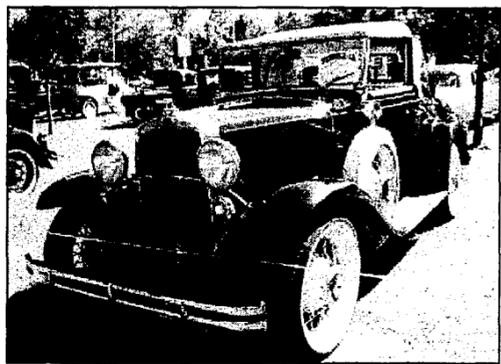

Seniors - Tuesday, Aug. 22; Juniors - Wednesday, Aug. 23; sophomores - Thursday, Aug. 24; freshmen - Friday, Aug. 25; and new students - by appointment on Monday, Aug. 28, and Thursday, Aug. 31.

During registration, all students will be asked to report emergency information and confirm their daily schedule. New students will be assigned a locker. Any student who has received credits from summer school must report them at registration.

All new students must have a copy of their birth certificate and immunization records. A copy of transcripts or report cards will also be helpful. To make an appointment, call 439-8127 on or after Aug. 21.

Commission on Aging changing its location

The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging is in the process of moving from its current location in Boyne City to a new office at 207 Antrim St. in Charlevoix. Starting Monday, Aug. 21, the Commission on Aging may be reached by calling 237-0103.

Oldies but goodies

It was a fantastic weekend for checking out snazzy old cars at the 27th annual Antique Auto Show, Flea Market, and Swap Meet in Boyne City. The event, sponsored by the Boyne Country Region Antique Automobile Club of America, featured some sharp vehicles, like this '31 Chevy Cabriolet, left, and some great flea market bargains to boot.

Mary Jason is interim BCHS principal

■ Sue Stephens will remain with district

At Monday night's meeting of the Boyne City Board of Education, the board approved a recommendation to name Mary Jason the interim principal at Boyne City High School.

Sue Stephens, who had held the position since 1998, will remain with the district.

According to Boyne City schools superintendent Dana Compton, Stephens will assist the district in their pursuit of the North Central Association transitions endorsement, with grant procurement, marketing studies, and curriculum.

Earlier this year, the board of education voted not to renew Stephens' contract, which expires at the end of the upcoming school year.

Immigration problem sends EJ priest home

Recently, many parishioners at St. Joseph's and St. John's Catholic Churches were surprised by news that the Rev. Mariusz Makowski had returned to his native Poland.

The priest left the country on Saturday, Aug. 5, in order to avoid a violation of his work visa, which was to expire the next day.

According to Candace Neff, a spokesperson for the Gaylord Diocese, when Makowski came to the diocese in November of 1999 from Marquette, the diocese had sent a letter to the Department of Immigration and Naturalization Services, asking for an extension of his work visa. The diocese had not been aware that new paperwork needed to be filed with the INS in order to extend the priest's stay.

Last week, knowing that the visa was about to expire, the church made the decision for Makowski to return to Poland while the appropriate papers are filed. "We didn't want to take any chances," said Neff.

Makowski has been in the United States for five years, having served parishes in Ironwood, Marquette, and Engadine. He was born and raised in Bydgoszcz, Poland, an industrial town of 400,000 people, where his mother and siblings still reside. He attended seminary in Poznan, Poland.

Makowski came to East Jordan four months after the departure of the Rev. John Grathwold, who in turn had been a temporary administrator, taking the place of the Rev. William McKeon. McKeon passed away in January of 1999 after serving as pastor for more than seven years.

In the papers that are currently being filed, the diocese is seeking a change of status for Makowski, from "R1," which allows a priest to stay in the country for five years, with a renewal every two years, to an "I360" or resident alien. The process should take about six months, according to Neff.

Neff said that she was uncertain as to why the general parishioners were not notified of the possible departure ahead of time, but noted that the parish is "very resilient, they really are great people."

The Rev. John Green, a sacramental priest, will fill in at St. Joseph's and St. John's for the next month, after which a temporary priest will be appointed for the parishes.

Leaving the classroom for the office

■ New EJ principal settling in

By ANGELA SHULTIS

With 12 years of teaching behind him, Cal Prins brings a love of teaching and a love of kids to his new position as the principal at East Jordan Elementary. "I loved teaching," Prins said, noting that moving into an administrative position was a "tough decision, to leave the classroom behind." Still, it's a direction he had long felt he'd like to pursue.

Prins grew up in the Grand Rapids area, and graduated from Calvin College with a degree in biology and physical education, with his secondary education endorsement. Wishing at that time to remain in the Grand Rapids area, a shortage of teaching positions led Prins to take a full-time substitute position in an elementary school. It was there, he said, that he "fell in love with the children." He went back and got his elementary endorsement, and was hired as a teacher in the Forest Hills school district. Over his 12-year stint in Forest Hills, Prins taught several grades, including fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh. "I thoroughly loved it," he said.

But during those 12 years, Prins had also gotten a taste of the administrative aspect, having been deeply involved in the construction of a new fifth/sixth grade building, both in the planning of the building and curriculum development. He'd also studied for and received his Master's degree in educational leadership. "I knew that down the line somewhere I'd like to head that way," he said.

In the last couple years, he'd been looking at the possibility of a principalship, but had not actively pursued a position. At the end of the last school year, though, Prins decided that he was "ready to take on the challenge," and, having found the East Jordan position posted on a website, decided to apply. "We camp up here almost every summer at Young State Park," he said.

After a "very extensive" interview process, Prins went home to Grand Rapids with a positive feeling, and, two days later, received a call from superintendent Chip Hansen offering him the position.

Prins, with the support of his family, was happy to accept and plan the move north. What most impressed Prins at his interview, he said, was the "sense of community," and the fact that, when walking the halls, the superintendent was "greeting kids and knowing them by their first name. I was really struck by that." And the rest of the staff, he said, also seems to have a great relationship with the families they serve. "It's amazing to me," he said, "talking to teachers

County voters approve millages

Residents of Charlevoix County passed two new millages on last week's primary election ballot.

A senior citizen millage proposal to permit the county to levy .4 mill to provide funds to support existing and implement new programs for the Commission on Aging was passed with an overall vote of 2,100 to 870. In Boyne City, the vote was 145 to 40, and in East Jordan, 124 to 33.

"I'm thrilled," said Susan Bergmann, director of the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging. The commission has budgeted for adult daycare, in-home footcare, and medication management, though it has yet to be determined whether the funds will be available yet this year or not until January 1. "We need to get lawn care and snow removal in operation by the first of the year," she said, and will also be working to get volunteers lined up for the new programs.

The millage campaign committee, headed by volunteer Ron Grunch, will continue to meet as a senior advocate group, and will be working on writing grants for the Boyne City Senior Center.

"Thanks for all the support from everyone that went out and voted," Bergmann said. "We're thrilled for all the seniors."

Also passed in last week's election was the millage proposal for a countywide recycling program. The .15 mill increase passed with an overall vote of 1,758 to 1,173. In Boyne City, the vote tally was 120 to 60, and in East Jordan, 94 to 56.

The millage will provide funding to implement a countywide recycling program, including new drop-off sites in Boyne City and Charlevoix. The recycling committee will meet this week to determine the timeline and details for setting up the new sites. "We probably will meet once a week to get the ball really rolling," said committee member Michelle Hewitt.

Voters also elected to approve a millage renewal for .25 mill to provide funds for the operation of the county transit system, with an overall vote of 1,829 to 1,080. The separate tax limitation proposal was passed 1,541 to 1,154.

Other election results:

Bay Township voted down a proposal to approve an amendment to the existing Bay Township Zoning Ordinance Article XVII, Nonconforming Uses, with a vote of 70 to 160.

Boyne Valley Township approved a .75 mill transfer station millage request, with a vote of 87 to 23. The township also approved the renewal of a .3 mill for operation of the Crooked Tree District Library, with a vote of 67 to 18.

Eveline Township approved a .7 mill renewal for fire protection, 160 to 139.

Melrose Township passed two millage proposals. Proposal I is for 1 mill for road maintenance, repair, and construction, which passed 91 to 58. Proposal II is a .3 mill increase for funding the Crooked Tree District Library, which passed 102 to 52.

In South Arm Township, a 2 mill increase for road construction and maintenance passed 77 to 71.

BETWEEN the LINES

Summer's promises hard to fulfill

By ANGELA SHULTIS

It's already the middle of August. We're still waiting for that perfect beach weather. Kids can see the start of the school year looming on the horizon. And many of us grown-ups are beginning, as we often do this time of year, to create a list of things we failed to do in that all-too-brief stretch called summer.

I know I am — every year at about this time I find myself feeling the pressure to fulfill all the promises I made to my kids, and myself, about what we were going to do this summer. Things on my list include both work and recreation. And, as always, the list was probably (well, definitely) over-ambitious.

There are the things we flat-out haven't done. We haven't camped in the U.P. We haven't taken the kids to the zoo. We haven't gone to Mackinac Island. We haven't gone canoeing. We haven't learned to kayak. We haven't been to Aten Place or Raven Hill. We haven't put up the fence in the backyard. We haven't painted the living room. We haven't power-washed the decks. We didn't go strawberry picking.

Then there are the things we've done, but just haven't done enough of. We haven't taken enough walks in the evening. We haven't taken the kids biking more than five times. We haven't gone to the beach more than four times (which, granted, isn't entirely our fault). We've only camped at our favorite location once. We haven't spent enough time sitting around a campfire.

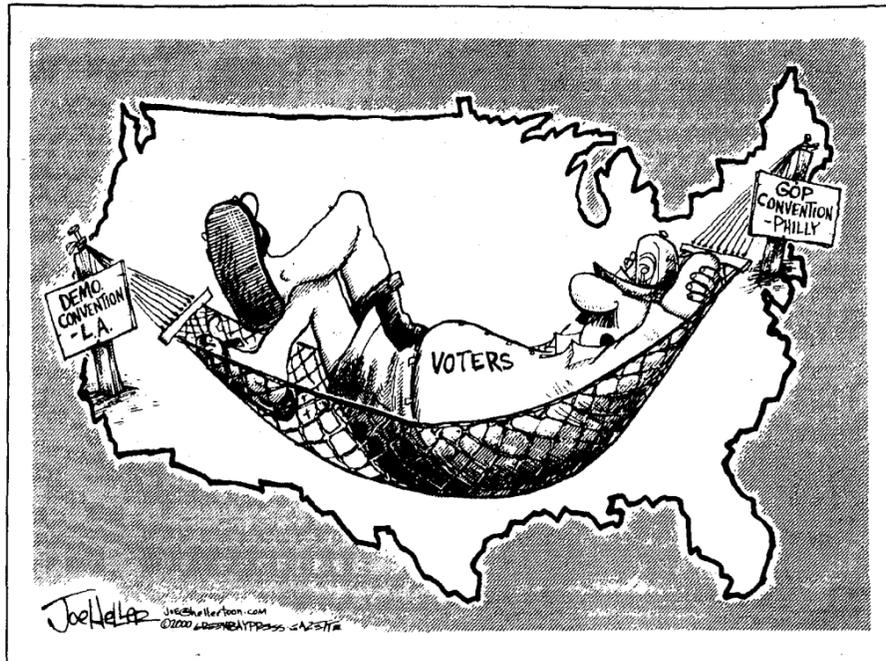

And that's just what I can think of off the top of my head. So now what? Do we wallow in our inadequacies? Mourn the passing of another summer that failed to live up to our oh-so-high expectations? Well, maybe a little. But then, perhaps there's another list to be made. What, exactly, did we do?

We did spend time planting in the garden with the kids. We did take a day to put together the new swingset. We did attend every festival that cropped up throughout the season. We did make it to nearly every Evening at the Gazebo concert. We did spend time laughing and hanging out on a regular basis with grandmas and grandpas and aunts and uncles and cousins. And we spent a whole bunch of weekday evenings at Dairy Queen.

When it comes down to it, we're all, I think, just a little too hard on ourselves. In this era of trying to "have it all" we tend to, even in our so-called "leisure time," overschedule and place the emphasis on how many things we can accomplish in a given period of time. Ticking things off a list, though, should not be the main thrust of our summer existence, no matter how many things we think we need to get done.

So, where does this leave us? Have we learned not to impose so many expectations on ourselves for one tiny little season? Well, probably not entirely. Next year it's likely that by the time winter's moving out, I'll be feeling as ambitious and invincible as I always do that time of year, and the planning frenzy will begin. But, I'll try to remember that while I may not accomplish all those big things I'd hoped to do, there's a lot to be said for all the little things that we didn't plan on. That just sort of happened. And that were a whole lot of fun.

But, that, of course, doesn't mean I don't have high hopes for this fall.

Giving someone a second chance

TO THE EDITOR:

One year ago this month my brother died of liver disease, and I have taken it upon myself to remind all of you to please consider signing a donor card.

I'm asking not for my brother, but for the over 55,000 patients that are now waiting for an organ transplant, and for the 2,000 new patients that are added to the waiting list each month, so that they can have a second chance at life. About one third of those patients who are on the list for a heart, liver, and lung transplant will die while waiting because of the lack of available organs. Of all the individuals that are waiting for a liver transplant, one quarter of them are children that are 10 years old or younger.

Communication plays a major role in the success of organ and tissue donation. Aside from signing a donor card you must also make your family members aware of your wishes. At the time of death, the person's next-of-kin will be asked to sign a consent form for the deceased's donation as well.

I own The White Rose of Women's Fashions in downtown Boyne City, and I will have donor cards available in the basket out in front of my store for you to pick up, or you can call 582-9701, and I will send you a card.

I realize that this is a very personal decision, so all I'm asking you to do is to search your heart, and know that not all angels are in heaven. By signing a donor card you may possibly give a child many years of riding their bike, vision to someone who can't see, and a future to many more.

Bush is up against Gore, not Clinton

TO THE EDITOR:

Just before George W's acceptance speech I listened to a background check of his life and how his father had bailed him out time after time from failed business ventures and how the Attorney General of Texas was the real power behind the throne of Governor Bush.

As I listened to the speech I was amazed, astounded and just plain flabbergasted that this man really considered himself capable of being president of the United States.

Something kept bothering me about him and his speech but I couldn't put my finger on it. I woke up in the middle of the night and there it was. It had reminded me of an old nursery rhyme. I reworked it a bit to fit the occasion.

*Georgie Porgie Puddin' and Pie

He promises this and he promises that
But keeps all the real goodies for his friends the fat cats.*

Enough already.

*Now the big boys have come out to play and Georgie Porgie can't have it his own way.
He'll scream and he'll holler and he'll get real sore.
When to his horror he finally finds out that Clinton's not running, the man is Al Gore.*

Now just one more thing. Can anyone explain to me how a right wing conservative republican can be compassionate, both at the same time? Come on Georgie, even Texas doesn't have that kind of critter.

A MOM'S LIFE

Exhaling is the hard part

By CINDI PLACE

It occurred to me recently that we mothers spend a great deal of time holding our breath. Even before our children are born, we forget to exhale when the nurse weighs us in. Or when we are told that we may have a problem. Or during an ultrasound. Or when we give our memory book to the adoption agency.

We continue to hold our breath when we check on our infants every five minutes, just to make sure they are breathing themselves. And when they get their first immunizations.

Do you know any mother who hasn't experienced breathing problems the first time their baby gives them a sweet smile? Or turns their head to look at them when he or she hears our voice?

How about those gasps of excitement when our child takes a first step, or says "Mama" for the first time (a word we may eventually wish they'd unlearn once in a while)?

The first day your child leaves for school will always bring heartaches and the need to close your eyes, breathe deeply and remember those sweet little faces as a one, two or three year old.

As our children grow older, our ability to deal with small crises appears to level out and for a short while at least, we may find ourselves able to go from day to day without hyperventilating. Much.

But then they become teenagers. They learn to drive. Go out on dates. Experiment with life. The parental breathing apparatus is once again being challenged.

Of course, we can tell ourselves that they are being watched and protected by a higher order. We can trust that prayer and good sense will guide their decisions. We can believe that we've done our best, and the rest is up to them. But, we will still forget to breathe.

I wasn't truly aware of this respiratory challenge of being a parent until recently when our two oldest children were both out late at night, driving automobiles. They came home at the same time and weren't even aware that I had been lying in bed, holding my breath, until I heard the front door open.

Then I felt myself exhale.

Drivers need to be aware of white cane law

TO THE EDITOR:

The Low Vision Support Group sponsored by the Friendship Centers of Emmet County feels that drivers need occasionally to be reminded about the "White Cane Law." This law states:

A driver of a vehicle shall not approach a crosswalk ... or any other pedestrian crossing without taking all necessary precautions to avoid accident or injury to a blind pedestrian carrying a cane or using a dog guide.

A driver who violates this law shall be liable in damages for any injuries caused the blind pedestrian.

A person in violation is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or by a fine of not more than $100 or both.

Most blind persons using a white cane are taught to hold their white cane straight out in front of them when crossing, making the cane more visible to drivers. This may not always happen so drivers need to be alert to any situation involving a white cane.

Our visually impaired senior members, as well as others, are out and about and appreciate doing so in safe conditions. Please remind your readers that the white cane is the traffic symbol for the blind and visually impaired.

Bay Township voters 'take the first step'

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to say a special "thanks" to the voters of Bay Township who cared enough to protect their rights by soundly rejecting the Bay Township zoning proposal Amendment, Non-Conforming Uses, Structures and Lots, by a vote of 160 No to 70 Yes. Otherwise these laws would have automatically went into effect.

This is a first step in the direction of the Bay Township residents dictating to township government that they value their rights to private ownership of our land and property and freedom from so many rules and regulations. This is a good example that the democratic process of government still works and freedom still reigns in our country. We will have the opportunity to vote on other zoning issues at the November 7, 2000 election that also would have adverse effects on many residents.

Thank you again for taking the time to be informed and involved and being a part of the process of protecting your freedom for you and your children. This will make a difference in all of our lives now and for years to come. God Bless.

Loding awards honor Boyne citizens

Several community members were honored recently by the City of Boyne City as recipients of the Marvin Loding Community Pride Award in the divisions of residential, business or industry, and community spirited. The awards were presented at the Aug. 8 meeting of the Boyne City City Commission.

IN THE RESIDENTIAL category, Ernest and Charlene Shedd won the honors for the renovation to their home at 432 Main St. According to the project's architect, Steve Wiseman, the home was "a complete renovation, from the foundation up." The home is in the style of a "stick Victorian farm house," with such additions as a side porch and a new portico. The facade of the home was completely redone, including a bullseye window and the addition of shingle to contrast with the clapboard. As a finishing touch, the home was painted in colors reminiscent of turn-of-the-century homes. The Shedd's permanent home is in Plymouth, Mich.

DR. GARY AND ALISON MELLON are the owners of the Pearle Vision building, located on the corner of Lake and Main Streets, which received the award in the business or industry category. The Mellons undertook an expansion and renovation of their building in the latter half of 1999, doubling the building's length and adding a new facade with a Victorian theme. The expansion allowed the Mellons to add staff and customer service space inside the business while giving the exterior a new look.

IN THE COMMUNITY SPIRITED category, the award went to the Boyne City Bandshell Boosters for their efforts aimed at saving and then renovating the bandshell in Veteran's Memorial Park. The group, under the leadership of Tammy Carlston, took up a petition to support the saving of the structure after the city commission had voted to have the bandshell removed. The group, to be torn down, I knew that it was time to put a stop to the constant removing of all things in Boyne that made our community unique and special," wrote Carlston in the nominating comments. "We as a community felt it was time to stop and reflect on the existing beauty and, with a little TLC, we will continue to enjoy all things that make Boyne

City one of the most beautiful places in the north."

The Marvin Loding Community Pride Awards were established in December of 1986 in honor of Marvin Loding, a former Boyne City Mayor who served as an alderman on the Common Council before the adoption of the city charter. Loding was a planning commissioner, was active on the Zoning Board of Appeals, the Commission on Aging, and served two terms on the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners.

Nominations are made annually to the planning board, the members of which make the selections by secret ballot. The awards are presented by the mayor each August.

and administrators, how much they know about the kids and the community." He also noted the level of enthusiasm the teachers and students were able to maintain, especially being at the end of the school year.

Since July, Prins has been in and out of the office, only recently spending his first full week on the job. His wife Missy and their children, Courtney, Brianna, and Jacob, are currently living downstate, waiting for their home to sell, with Prins traveling back and forth on the weekends.

And though the separation from his family during the week is difficult, Prins is gearing up for the year ahead, and identifying some areas to focus on.

One key area, he said, will be the gifted and talented program. "We're doing a great job," Prins noted, on meeting the needs of accelerated students, and he said the school is now also really focusing on how to "better serve the kids that are really struggling." And one major consideration is also, in the meantime, not to forget the kids in the middle.

In the long term picture, he hopes to focus on increasing parent involvement, which, Prins said, means being creative in how the school reaches out to bring parents in. Also high on his list of long-term priorities is to see greater achievement on standardized test scores, and implement testing in K-5 classes, in order to identify areas where more work is needed.

His philosophy, he said, is "real simple." For every decision that needs to be made, Prins asks himself, "is this going to be best for the kids?" The bottom line for any decision, he said, is to benefit the kids, and improve education. And as for his role as the principal, Prins said he considers himself "a servant leader."

"I'm serving the teachers," he said. His position is, "what can I do as the principal in this building to make your job better?" He also takes very seriously his role as an educational leader, in terms of taking responsibility to "know what's going on" in the world of education.

"That's what I like about the job," Prins said with a smile. "Variety, to wear a lot of hats." And, he added, he'll still have a chance to get down on the floor and play with the kids once in awhile.

Mary Jason

Jason, who has been the director of alternative programs for the district and has served as interim superintendent, is also the president of the East Jordan Board of Education. She was inducted into the Michigan Education Hall of Fame in May of this year.

"Mary had some real strengths to offer the position," Compton said, including "knowledge of the local area, communication skills, problem solving ability."

Compton said that the fact that Jason has already worked with a variety of programs at the high school level in conjunction with adult and alternative education made her an attractive candidate. Compton called the decision to offer Jason the position a "very positive move."

Jason's interim duties will begin immediately, and the length of the position will be at the discretion of the superintendent and the board of education. Once her term as interim principal is done, she will be re-assigned to her previous position. She will not gain tenure in the position.

At the elementary school, a new principal has been hired just in time for the beginning of the 2000-01 school year. Fred Sitkins spent his first day on the job in Boyne City on Monday. Sitkins has taught in grades one through five at Central Lake and Manton, and completed an administrative internship in Central Lake. He is a graduate of Central Michigan University, and holds a master's degree in elementary school administration.

Sitkins is a "strong, positive individual," said Compton. "The committee was very impressed with Fred. I felt very committed to him as a candidate. He came highly recommended."

String band in concert at Old City Park

Old City Park in Boyne City was filled nearly to capacity for last week's concert at the gazebo, with a huge crowd turning out to hear the Petoskey Steel Drum Band as they filled the air with their fun, island-influenced sound. On Wednesday, Aug. 16, the Northwood Trio will perform at the gazebo, followed by The New Five Cent String Band on Aug. 23. The season will close with a performance by the Northwind Brass on Aug. 30.

On Wednesday, Aug. 23, the Evenings at the Gazebo concert series will present the acoustic sounds of The New Five Cent String Band.

The group will perform in Old City Park in Boyne City at 7 p.m.

The New Five Cent String Band has played in the Grand Traverse area for over 10 years, and performs a wide variety of acoustic traditional music including American, Irish, and Cape Briton. The band's repertoire varies from waltzes to spirited hoe-downs and driving reels.

Band members include Bob Sadtler on fiddle, Dave Eggebrecht on lead and second fiddle, as well as guitar, mandolin, and vocals, John Warstler, who plays melody and countermelody lines on the mandolin, as well as guitar, tenor and five string banjos, and vocals, and Joe Bottenhorn who provides rhythm on guitar. They have made live television appearances and main stage appearances at Bliss Fest, the Hiawatha Traditional Music Festival, Farmfest, and the Dunegrass Festival.

The sponsors for the performance are Eta Nu and the Boyne Valley Garden Club.

Those attending the concert are invited to bring lawn chairs and a picnic to the performance. In case of rain, the concert will be held at St. Matthew's Fellowship Hall at the church on Boyne Avenue.

For more information, or to make a donation, call Cindy Kujawski at 582-7375.

CLUBS & ORGANIZATIONS

Boyne Valley Lions Club

At a recent Boyne Valley Lions Club meeting, guests from the Boyne City Senior Girl Scout Troop #280 presented an appreciation award to King Lion Ed Hennessey. Currently there are 26 Senior and Cadet Girl Scouts in the Boyne City Troop. Presenters were Scouts Crystal Pung and Jenilee Bunting who just returned from Mackinac Island where they serve on the Governors Honor Guard. Troop Leader Tami Whitley outlined the growth of Troop 280 over the past nine years since the Lions Club assumed sponsorship. "It's been a very rewarding relationship for our Lions Club," said Hennessey. "The Girl Scouts are ready and willing to assist us at various club functions and projects, such as the annual Mushroom Festival each May. We're proud to sponsor such an impressive, civic minded group of young ladies."

The Boyne Valley Lions Club has had an active summer. In addition to sponsoring the circus and assisting with the elementary picnics at Whiting Park, members of the club patrolled the fence at the 4th of July fireworks and donated $700 per year over a three year period to Raven Hill. Lion of the Year Awards for outstanding Lions for 1998-1999 were awarded to Jim Bunting and Gerry Gripenrog.

The Boyne Valley Lions club is a service organization which meets every Wednesday at noon at Boyne City Lanes. Individuals with an interest in joining are invited to attend.

Evangeline Chapter OES

CORRECTION

An article in the Aug. 9 issue of The Citizen-Jordan Journal erroneously stated that East Jordan city commissioner Tim Hoffman is a retired firefighter. He is a former firefighter, but does not hold a "retired" status. Also, Shane Williams was referred to as a former firefighter. Williams is still a firefighter, but has taken a leave of absence from the department.

Boy dies in tragic accident

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department is investigating an accident in which a 4-year-old Charlotte boy was killed.

The accident occurred in the Horton Bay Club on Thursday, Aug. 10. According to Sheriff George T. Lasater, the victim, Gabriel Howe, 4, was playing near a private marina boat launching ramp on Lake Charlevoix when a vehicle, driven by his father, Richard Howe, 53, backed over him. The family was vacationing in the area.

The sheriff's department was assisted at the scene by Boyne City E.M.S., which transported the victim to Northern Michigan Hospital, where he was pronounced deceased.

The preliminary report from the sheriff's office indicated that the accident was a tragic event with no other factors involved.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

KEN AND LEANA MAY, celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary on Aug. 6, were in Boyne City for several days this past week visiting family and friends. Ken, who has been corresponding on the Internet with former BCHS buddy Tom Detlaff of Sterling Heights, had arranged to meet him here on Friday. Tom had not been here for 15 years. Was he surprised at all the changes! Ken and Lena were among the many attending the annual Car Show and Flea Market over the weekend, returning home on Tuesday.

HOWARD AND PEG CROZIER had a family get-together recently. Attending were Howard (Butch) Crozier and wife Phyllis and family of Petoskey, Pat and Bob Tanis of Ludington, Ron, Patti, and Jess Crozier, Brenda and Harry Urman, and Hilary and Tyler, all of Boyne City, Kris Crozier of Virginia, Daphney Crozier and friend John Oley of Grand Rapids and Tish Snyder of Boyne City. All enjoyed a cookout, in honor of Kris being home.

MELANIE HUBBLE of Boyne City was honored with a baby shower on Sunday, Aug. 13, by her mother, Judy Lindsay, Diane Hausler, and Theresa Vondra. Thirty-six family members, including great aunts from the Hocquard side, gathered at the Villa de Charlevoix pavilion. All enjoyed a gift sharing time of many nice things for baby-to-be and a cookout on the beach. Melanie and Luke are expecting the arrival of their little one on Nov. 25.

CLARA BRISSON of Litzenger Place enjoyed celebrating her 89th birthday on Friday night with a pizza party for her friends and neighbors. A lively gathering in the community room it was, as she was showered with many lovely cards. On Sunday, her son Gary Brisson, his wife Barbara of Boyne City and her grandson Danny of Iowa and two sons, took her out for a birthday dinner.

FREE METHODIST CHURCH ladies and friends, Margaret Bennett, Ruth Hayden, Janet Mackie, Betty Nicloy, Sharon McGeorge, and Cindy Bullock spent a fun-packed Tuesday and Wednesday in Shipshewana, Ind., shopping, eating in great Amish restaurants, and all the other things that go along with just doing something different.

LATE NEWS of last week's Polish Festival guests of Anne Jenkins came in about what a great time she had with her grandsons, Jeremy Morey and Barry Lewis and friends, who came up from downstate. Other guests included the John Kliepoch family of Richfield, Ohio. All enjoyed Polish fun, food, and campsite gatherings around the Jenkins place.

GORDON AND MARY LOU Yahr of Lady Lake, Fla. arrived at his mother Ruth's, in Boyne City on Sunday. The family is awaiting Tuesday's return of sister and daughter, Sandra Newville, who underwent successful surgery in Ann Arbor this past Wednesday. Other afternoon callers were Ruth's sister, Edith Tillotson of Bortz, and her daughter, Donna Drake, of Big Rapids.

ON MONDAY, Howard and Peg Crozier and their grandchildren, Kris and Jessi Crozier, and Hilary and Tyler Urman took a trip to the Upper Peninsula and spent four days at their cabin near Curtis. Grandparents and grandchildren enjoyed times of playing cards and sitting around the campfire, telling stories.

THE REV. KEN BERNTHAL of the Christ Lutheran Church is recuperating well since his recent hip surgery and is ready to begin rehabilitation therapy.

SALVATION ARMY captains Scott and June Nicloy are now serving in Micronesia, on Pohnpl, an island near the Philippines. Scott is the son of Curtis and Carmelita Nicloy of Boyne City.

SHIRLEY COBLENTZ of East Jordan was baptized in Lake Charlevoix on Sunday by the Rev. Mark Bullock of the Free Methodist Church, before a group of 20 witnesses. "It was a wonderful experience!" she said. All enjoyed a late afternoon picnic at the Bill and Dorothy Sanderson home, following the service.

THE BILL AND JEAN Korthase family reunion was held at the Korthase farm on Saturday. The 70 adults and 18 children came from Georgia, Ohio, Illinois, Colorado, Muskegon, Grand Haven, Kalamazoo, Detroit, and Rochester Hills to attend. It was catered by Al and Jenny Lawson of Boyne City. There was a good time of family fellowship, good food, games for the children, and scapbook geneology of reunions of the past. Pictures were taken by Sue and Jenny Jessick of Harbor Springs.

ANNE JENKINS and her son Gary Wade Jenkins and family attended the Aug. 12 church wedding on Saturday of granddaughter and niece Jessica Morey to Paul Hudson, in Rockford, Mich. Julie Nadon and girls of Oak Run, Calif. also attended and returned with the family to Boyne Falls for a three-day visit.

SHERRY KORTHASE and son are here for about another week of visiting her mother Jean and family.

PHYLLIS TISRON and Sally Flowers attended a Silverman (Phyllis' mother's family) reunion in Rose Lake on Sunday. Descendents came from throughout Michigan, enjoying a pig roast and auction.

BRUCE AND NANCY LAWSON, who were here for the Korthase Family reunion, left on Monday to visit his sister, Barb and Dick Wheeler in the Upper Peninsula and then went on to visit Curt and Connie Bricker in Wisconsin.

NEWS BRIEFS

Grandvue wins gov.'s healthy workplace award

Grandvue Medical Care Facility recently received recognition with a Silver Healthy Workplace Award from the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness, Health and Sports.

Businesses nominated for the awards must show outstanding commitment to the health of their employees by establishing creative worksite health promotion programs with demonstrated success.

Grandvue sells T-shirts to employees to help fund its fitness center, and other items are sold, with profits going towards scholarships to send employee's children to camp as well as subsidizing other programs for employees who may not be able to afford the fee.

Representatives from Grandvue will be honored on Oct. 16 at an awards banquet to be held at the Lansing Center in Lansing.

Raven Hill offers class for teachers

Raven Hill Discovery Center will offer its last Summer of 2000 professional development class for teachers during the week of Aug. 21.

Teachers may take the class for three hours of graduate credit or undergraduate credit by registering through Central Michigan University or may simply take the class at a cost of $250 as an audit.

Science Instructional Design helps teachers develop a science unit of their choice that incorporates the science process skills, links science to math, language arts and social studies, and improves assessments. This is the fourth year that this class has been offered. The class will run from Aug. 21 through 23 as well as one day per month in September, October, and November to be determined by class participants.

Call Cheri at 536-3369 for more information or to receive a registration pack from Central Michigan University.

Chris Fall Knight teaching free paint class

Award-winning local painting instructor Chris Fall Knight will be leading a free Learn to Paint class in Boyne City on Saturday, Sept. 16. The class, which will be held at Boyne City High School, is part of a nationwide event sponsored by the Society of Decorative Painters, of which Knight is a member.

Participants will take home a free painting project, which will be a papier-mache heart box with a faux finish and leaves and vines painted in acrylics. No supplies are needed, and the class is free.

"Decorative painting is so hot right now," said Knight, who is donating her time to the project. She expects a good turnout, noting that a dry run of the event proved to have a "fantastic turnout."

There will be two sessions, 9 a.m.-12 noon or 1-4 p.m., though the actual project may take less time to complete. Space is limited to 30 people in each session, on a first call, first served basis.

Pre-registration is required. To register or for more information, call Knight at 582-7284.

Shriners sponsor free screening for children

In their continuing efforts to help children, area Shriners are having a free screening clinic at the First Congregational Church, 6105 Center Rd., Traverse City, from 9 a.m. to noon, Friday, Aug. 25.

Physicians will examine children to see if they can be helped by one of the Shriners' Hospitals. Qualified applicants will receive free medical care at a Shrine Hospital.

The Shriner's Hospitals are nationally renowned for helping children from the age of one month to 18-years-old regardless of race, color or creed for orthopedic or burn problems such as: cerebral palsy, curvature of the spine, spina bifida, residuals of polio, missing limbs, dwarfism, brittle bone disease, cleft palate, club feet, scarring and deformity of the face, reconstructive surgery for healed burns, and acute fresh burns.

Parents are asked to bring a copy of the child's birth certificate and, if parents are divorced, copy of the divorce decree, the child's immunization records, social security number and custody papers. In some circumstances, Shriners also provide transportation to the hospital.

For more information call 1-800-331-7709.

Concord Boyne begins soccer, basketball practice

Girls basketball and boys soccer teams at Concord Academy Boyne will begin practice on Tuesday, Aug. 22, at 12 noon. The practice will be for both junior varsity and varsity. For more information, call Nick Baic at 535-2718.

Every step counts for Memory Walk

Memory Walk 2000 is slated for Sept. 30 in northwestern Michigan.

The walks in Charlevoix, Cadillac, Traverse City and Harbor Springs will simultaneously start at 11 a.m.

Memory Walk benefits the Alzheimer's Association of Northwest Michigan serving families in Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Missaukee, Osceola and Wexford counties.

Participants can register as an individual or form a team of six or more family members, friends and co-workers. A lunch will be provided after the walk. Major sponsors for the event are Munson Medical Center, Traverse Bay Inn, Orchard Creek Assisted Living, Home Depot, Grandvue Medical Care Facility and Northern Michigan Regional Health System.

For more information about Memory Walk or Alzheimer's disease contact Deb Lewis, Memory Walk Chairman at the chapter 1-800-337-3827 or 929-3804.

Sign up

The East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce recently held a ribbon cutting for their bright new sign on M-32. The sign was created with the help of several East Jordan middle and high school students, including Jessica Crick, Erika Bennett, Reece Bartlett, Teddy Slough, Roger Burwell, Courtney Hammond, Tammy Zell, Kevin Whiteford, Katie Brooks, Rob Vincent, Ed Baker, Jenny Kramer, Peter Hammond, Joe Blaha, and Ashlie Bennett.

Construction crews have been working on a four-mile stretch of M-75 between Boyne Falls and Boyne City since late spring. According to the Michigan Department of Transportation, the project is progressing on schedule.

M-75 work moving along on schedule

While the subject of some controversy earlier this year, road construction on M-75 between Boyne Falls and Boyne City is moving along and progressing on schedule.

The work should be done somewhere close to the projected completion date of Oct. 20.

The east end of the project is already completed except for the top layer of asphalt, according to Rise Rasch, Traverse City Transportation Center manager for the Michigan Department of Transportation. Crews are currently working on installing pipes to improve drainage, and will then work on paving.

"People can look for [the project] to be completed by mid-to-late October," Rasch said. Flaggers will still be required to direct the flow of traffic through the remaining stages of the work.

The project began last spring, and includes increasing the thickness of and adding support to the roadway, and the removal or repair of existing concrete.

Drainage improvements and some shoulder work will complete the scheduled improvements. The construction project covers a four-mile stretch extending from US 131 in Boyne Falls to just east of the Boyne City city limits.

H&D Roadbuilding of Petoskey was awarded the bid for the work.

With the concern of the construction's impact on summer traffic to the area, Rasch noted that

"People can look for [the project] to be completed by mid-to-late October."

-- Rise Rasch
M-DOT Transportation center manager

"In general, M-DOT has kept to its commitment to have the road paved back every weekend, [so the] tourist traffic is not seeing exposed gravel road."

Rasch added that M-DOT has received only one serious complaint, regarding a contractor possibly working on a Saturday, which, she said, M-DOT followed up on and determined not to be the case.

According to Boyne City chamber of commerce director Debbie Thompson, the chamber hasn't heard any negative reports from area businesses or visitors regarding the construction.

"It appears to have been a really smooth transition for us," she said. "M-DOT has made this as easy as they possibly could for us."

St. Matthew's serving up a Polish feast

Ma's Polish Dinner and a silent auction will highlight the St. Matthew's Festival in Boyne City on Aug. 20.

A dinner, complete with Golabki (stuffed cabbage), Pierogi, Mizeria (cucumbers with sour cream), and kielbasa will be served.

Dinner will start being served right after the 11 a.m. Mass (approximately noon) and will be served until the food is gone. The cost is $8 per adult, $4 for children 5-12. There is no charge for children under 5.

The silent auction will be held in conjunction with the dinner. Bids can be put on items after the 5:30 p.m. Mass on Saturday and then after the 11 a.m. Mass on Sunday. Final bids will be taken until 3:45 p.m.

Items to be auctioned include a love seat and chair, two Fenwick Rigoristik rods and reels, two Big Jon out riggers, a bench from Country Now and Then, plane rides, computer lessons, antiques, baby bed, clocks, wrought iron plant stand, antique oak table, and more.

There is also a quilt/afghan raffle and a money raffle. Tickets will still be available on Aug. 20.

The event is open to all and proceeds will help pay for the new hall which benefits not only St. Matthew's but all of the community. If you need any further information, call Barbara Polinski, chairperson, at 582-7522 or the rectory at 582-7718.

Multi-talented singer performing Saturday at Aten Place

Kitty Donohoe will perform at Aten Place on Saturday, Aug. 19, as part of the Concerts in the Barn summer music series. The performance will begin at 8 p.m.

Donohoe was raised in a large Irish-American family outside of Detroit, and has absorbed the elements of both Corktown and Motown as a singer and writer. From singing in school choirs to being the girl singer in "garage bands," from bar-rooms to folk club stages, Donohoe's passion for singing has always been an essential element in her life. In addition to her vocal performance, she plays guitar, bouzouki and keyboard, and has recorded two albums, produced by Joel Mabus and herself, on her own label, Roheen Records. Both albums have received strong reviews, and a third album is in progress.

Aten Place is located one-half mile south of Cherry Hill Road on Old Mackinaw Trail in Boyne Falls. Concerts are non-profit productions with a $6 donation at the door as compensation to the entertainers. There are no sales of food or beverage on the premises. Patrons are encouraged, but not required, to share an appetizer or treat everyone is welcome to sample at intermission.

For more information, call 549-2076 or visit the website at www.atenplace.com.

Grief recovery program offered

A weekly program on grief recovery with the Rev. Buzz Walls, Hospice spiritual advisor, will begin Sept. 7 at the Boyne City Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Each Thursday through Oct. 5, the group will meet from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Gearing Up

With the end of summer in sight, the Rambler and Red Devil football squads are already hard at work, getting in shape for the upcoming season on the gridiron. Practices began on Aug. 7, giving the teams a couple of weeks to get up to speed before the start of the season. Boyne City's first game will be on Friday, Aug. 25, at home against Glen Lake, and East Jordan will kick things off the same day at Central Lake.

Press on Regardless car rally returning to Boyne

After a successful 50th anniversary event in 1999, the Press on Regardless will return to Boyne City, the home of its sponsor, Mac Sam Specialties, for its 52nd running, the weekend after Labor Day, Sept. 8 and 9.

The event will kick off with registration of participants at the historic Wolverine Dilworth Hotel on Thursday evening. Friday morning the participants will have their cars on display on Water Street from 8-9 a.m., when the first car will be waved off to start the Friday portion of the rally.

After some 350 miles of competition, the competitors will return to Boyne City for an overnight rest break. Saturday will have the cars out for another 200 miles of competition before returning to Boyne City and the Wolverine Dilworth for awards and dinner.

The Press on Regardless Rally is a two-day, 550 mile automotive competition held on the less traveled, mostly unpaved, roads of northern Michigan. It is contested by two-person teams in ordinary cars on regular roads, within the legal speed limit.

Not a race, the challenge is to drive on time - not early, not late. The teams follow a set of written instructions that provide directions and specified speeds to travel. Along the route, there are checkpoints that time the competitors. Since the Rallymaster knows how fast the competitors were supposed to travel, and how far they went, it is possible to calculate an exact time when they should arrive at each checkpoint.

The scores are based on the difference between when the competitor should have arrived and when they actually arrived. Points are given for being early or late; the POR is a contest of precision. If a competitor is late at one checkpoint, it cannot be made up by being early at the next. The score for each leg is separate.

Scores for all legs are totaled and the lowest score wins. There are several classes of competition, based on mileage measuring and calculating equipment, as well as experience and age of the vehicle. There is a place for everyone in POR who enjoys driving his or her car.

Sponsored by Mac Sam Specialties of Boyne City, this year's event has already drawn entries from across the country. As many as thirty or forty more are expected as the Aug. 25 deadline for entry approaches.

For more information or an entry form, contact Jim Mickle at (810) 677-1667 or jimickle@juno.com.

Development council forms to meet financial needs of hospital expansion

With Charlevoix Area Hospital's planned expansion project moving forward, area supporters have formed the Charlevoix Area Hospital Development Council, a group which will be instrumental in garnering the support necessary to fund the project.

Anticipating the recent rapid growth of Northern Michigan to continue, over the next two years, Charlevoix Area Hospital will be undergoing its largest building program in 30 years - a $6 million renovation and expansion that will double the size of the Emergency Department, build a new state-of-the-art Intensive Coronary Care Unit, double the size of the state-of-the-art obstetrics unit (Single Room Birthing Center) from four to eight LDRP (Labor, Delivery, Recovery, and Post-partum) rooms; and will allow for the addition of a third floor to accommodate medical patient rooms.

To help meet the financial challenge of the project - and to meet community needs into the future - individuals are working together to form the Charlevoix Area Hospital Development Council. Foundations, businesses, and individuals, have committed more than $2.5 million, including more than $250,000 from those who best understand this need: the hospital employees and medical staff. Charlevoix Area Hospital has committed $1 million from its general fund to the project, bringing the project's total to date to $3.5 million.

Several individuals are serving on the Major Gifts Committee of Charlevoix Area Hospital's Development Council, including Rebecca Haney, chair; Lou Hollow, honorary chair; Lowell Blossom, and Dick Joseph. They are being assisted by Mary Adams, Lori Jodar, Paul Weston, Mike Hiltch, Jr., John Frey, Floyd

Wright, Bob Kline, and Mike Dow, all members of the Development Council.

The Major Gifts committee is one of six committees that comprise the Development Council. Committee members are responsible for identifying the major donors and prospects in the community, and to establish, maintain and strengthen relationships with those donors and prospects. These prospects also include major corporations and foundations. To date, the Major Gifts committee has raised more than $700,000 from individuals and businesses with a commitment to the hospital and the area residents.

"The Major Gifts committee works on a one-on-one basis with individual donors," said Rebecca Haney, committee chair. "Our members are all dedicated to the hospital and not just to this project, but to the long-term commitment of ensuring that we have such a good hospital in our community for many years to come. We want this fine hospital available to us, and to our children and our grandchildren. That's why these people have committed their time and energy."

The Development Council, consisting of more than 60 people who are volunteering their time to help the hospital, is now directing its efforts to increasing the community's participation in the project.

Gifts of more than $10,000 qualify the donor for the newly established Bridge Builders Club, and gifts of $100 or more qualify donors for the Lighthouse Club. All donations to Charlevoix Area Hospital are tax-deductible. For more information on the hospital's Major Gifts committee, contact Kathy Johnson at 547-8502.

STATE OF MICHIGAN PROPOSED CLASSIFICATIONS OF STATE-OWNED MINERALS TO BE OFFERED FOR OIL AND GAS LEASING

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) will offer, at an oral-bid public auction, oil and gas lease rights of approximately 12,430 acres of State-owned minerals in those Michigan counties indicated herein.

Registration of bidders will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, November 21, 2000 at the Ottawa Conference Center, Hannah Building South, 608 West Allegan Street, Lansing, Michigan. Offering of lease rights will begin at 10:00 a.m. at a minimum bid of $13.00 per acre and will continue until all descriptions have been offered. Additionally, at the sale's end, and at the option of the MDNR, parcels not bid-in at $13.00 an acre may be re-offered at a minimum bid of $5.00 per acre.

Bids may be submitted by individuals of legal age, a partnership, corporation or other legal entity qualified to do business in Michigan. Prospective bidders should be prepared to submit such proof at the time of registration.

The total bonus bid must be paid on the same day the lease rights are bid in. Prospective bidders who do not have an established credit rating with the MDNR through prior leasing of State-owned minerals must pay at least one-half of the TOTAL bonus bid by cash, certified check, cashier's check or money order. A credit rating may be established by filing with Land and Mineral Services, MDNR, three letters of reference, one of which must be from a bank. In no instance will the MDNR accept "site drafts" even if noted as a "zero day site draft."

A sale catalog showing further sale particulars including a) the legal description of the lands proposed to be offered b) parcel classifications, is available through Land and Mineral Services, MDNR, PO Box 30448, Lansing, MI 48909-7948 telephone 517-373-7663 or at http://www.dnr.state.mi.us.

Written comments by interested parties relative to the classification of any description must be received by Land and Mineral Services at the address specified above NOT LATER THAN SEPTEMBER 10, 2000. Any requests for change in classification will be considered by the Department prior to offering the lease rights at public auction, with final classification to be set at the sole discretion of the Director of the Department of Natural Resources.
