Summer's pleasures

With the end of the season in sight, lots of area folks have been taking advantage of recent warm weather to fit in a little last-minute summer fun. Swimmers and boaters were out in full force at Young State Park last weekend, making the most of a lazy day on Lake Charlevoix.

Back to the classroom

■ Summer comes to an end for students on Tuesday

Back-to-school sales, football practices, and the rush to squeeze in one last fishing trip, are all signs that summer's about to draw to a close, and that, starting Tuesday, Sept. 5, the hallways of our local schools will once again be filled with the sounds of kids off to class.

In Boyne Falls, construction crews are finishing up their work on the new school building as staff members are organizing classrooms and office space. Construction on the school began in June of 1999 and has continued essentially on schedule for the duration.

Voters in Boyne Falls approved the millage for a new school in December of 1998. The school district recently hired a new superintendent, Mark Parsons (see story on page 3), and has a new principal, former Boyne Falls teacher Bill Aten.

Boyne City begins the school year in the early stages of a new building project, with construction of the new high school and completion of new parking areas dominating the current landscape. While the school did some enrollment projections in the spring, Boyne City school superintendent Dana Compton calls the numbers "real flexible."

He added, "until we get actual enrollments, it's tough to determine [the number of students]."

The district has hired several new staff members, including a new elementary principal. Following the retirement of several teachers last spring, as part of a retirement incentive program, the district made the decision not to hire staff to fill all of the positions held by those retirees.

"We knew right away we were not going to have as many elementary sections, and we had a group moving forward to fifth grade," Compton said. As a result, the district didn't need to replace as many of the elementary positions.

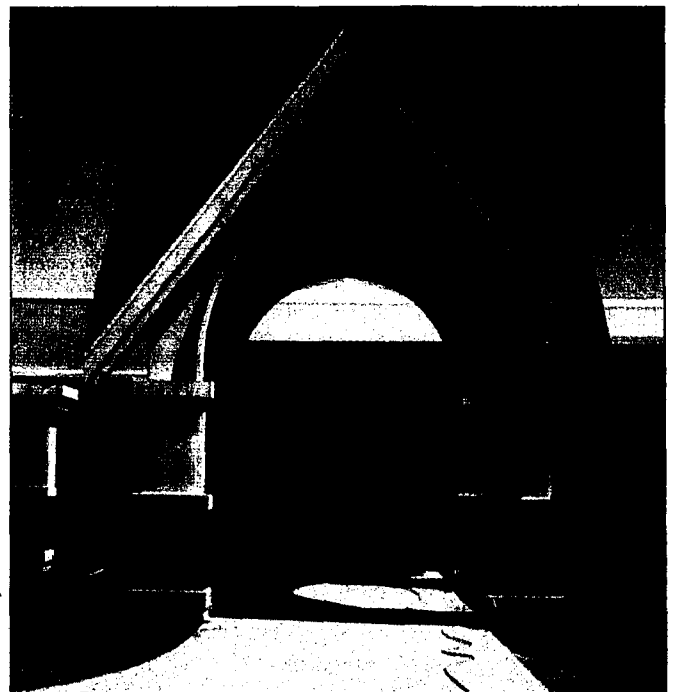

While things in East Jordan are a bit quieter, the school is anticipating growth this year, with a projected enrollment of 1,251 students in grades K-12, up 26 students from last year's official count of 1,225 in February 2000. Total students expected at the elementary level are 592, with 279 in the middle school, and 380 in the high school. Several new staff members have been hired, including new elementary and middle school principals.

Boyne Falls plans open house for new school

Community members will soon have the opportunity to get a look at the new home of the Boyne Falls Public School. The school will hold an open house in their new school building on Sunday, Sept. 10, at 4 p.m. The public is invited to do this," he said.

There will be a potluck meal, and those attending are asked to bring a dish to pass. The school will also provide food and beverages.

The PTO will be holding a silent auction during the open house. For more information, call Terry Erber at 549-2624.

This archway will welcome students into the new school at Boyne Falls on Sept. 5. Construction crews are still putting the final touches on the building, as staff members are readying classrooms for the first day of school.

Labor Day cruises in with weekend car show

Labor Day weekend in Boyne City means the return of the annual Car Show, to be held this year on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 1 and 2.

Cars will cruise-in on Friday night at 7 p.m., with trophies awarded for Best Chevy, Best Ford and Best Mopar.

Registration starts Saturday at 8 a.m., with trophies for all classes, and door prizes to be awarded. There will also be a model car contest, for ages 6-10, 11-15, and 16 & up.

On Saturday, Sept. 2, immediately following the car show, the public is invited to the Boyne City Big Boy at 1313 Boyne Ave. for more fun, games, contests and good times.

Proceeds from the show will benefit local charities. According to organizer John McLeod, the car show was able to give $3,500 to local groups and individuals. Past donation recipients include the Chamber of Commerce, Boyne Area Little League, Pop Warner Football, Boyne Area Hockey, Friends of the Boyne River, as well as two scholarships awarded to local high school graduates.

"We're looking forward to people coming down," McLeod said.

"We're looking to do it bigger and better. We just have a ball doing it."

McLeod also noted that donations and assistance from area businesses help make the event possible. "A special thanks to all the businesses in the Boyne area that donated or helped us to do this," he said.

This year's show is dedicated to the memory of Bud Handy.

Along with the car show, the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a craft show, to be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 and 3, in Veteran's Park in Boyne City.

For more information, call Great Lakes Motor Works at 582-9100 or the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce at 582-6222.

County voters will decide on Grandvue expansion

A $7.5 million bond proposal to fund renovations and an addition to Grandvue Medical Care Facility will appear on the Nov. 7 general election ballot.

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners approved the inclusion of the millage proposal on the November ballot at a recent meeting.

The millage shall be levied for a period not to exceed 16 years, said Grandvue administrator Penny Drury. The funding will be solely for renovations and additions, and does not include operating funds.

The renovations and additions focus primarily on increasing the privacy and quality of life for residents. It's about "being able to offer a much more appropriate, more dignified life for people that live here," Drury said.

Currently the facility features four-bed wards with bathrooms being shared by four residents. In the new plan, the four-bed wards will be converted into two-bed wards. In the semi-private

BETWEEN the LINES

A reminder that there's more to life than work

By ANGELA SHULTIS

You ever have one of those things on your list of things to do that you keep pushing back, imagining that you don't have time for it this week, not truly ever making the effort to make the time? One of those things that's not work, that should be fun, yet you still find yourself saying "maybe next week?"

Well, I have lots of those things in my life. And I'm the queen of putting things off, especially when it comes to getting out and just having fun. I mean, there's so many things that I have to get done, right? But occasionally, when I finally force myself to squeeze one of those activities in, I realize just how much I may be missing out on due to my propensity for procrastination and my tendency to let practical matters rule my life.

Last week, for example, my family and I paid a visit to Aten Place in Boyne Falls for the closing concert of their season. Before the summer began, I told proprietors Bill and Maxine Aten in casual conversation that I would be sure to make one of the concerts this summer. And I really wanted to. Of course, in my typical fashion, by the time the weekend rolled around, I either really did have other things I was obligated to do, or if not, I simply didn't feel like going out. Either way, I figured it could wait until next week.

Finally, though, last week I realized it was my last chance, and having received a gracious invitation from the hosts once again, I decided it would behoove me to get myself off the couch and just go. I'd heard marvelous things about it, of course, so the only thing that had been keeping me from it was my general lack of get up and go.

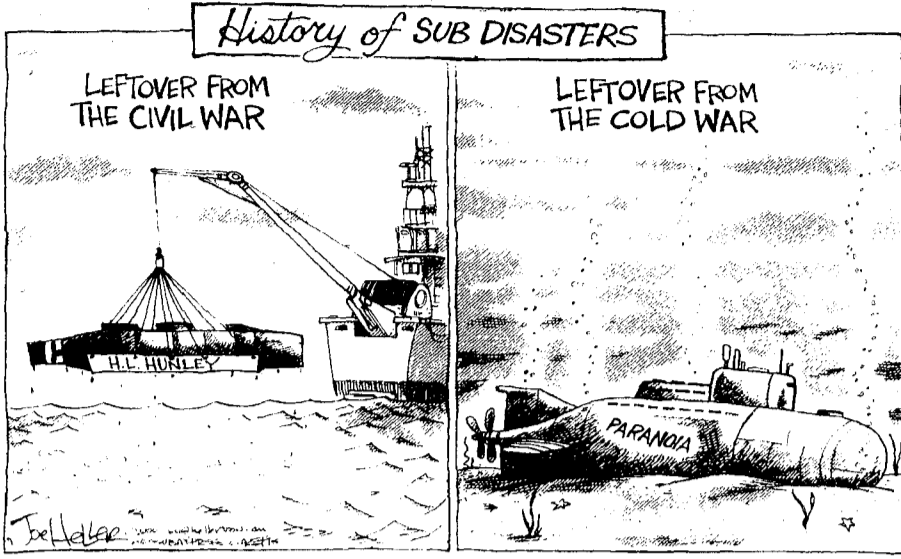

So we got up and went, kids and all, not completely sure what to expect, being mostly uncertain of whether or not the kids would be able to keep relatively still and quiet and not disrupt the poor unsuspecting performer.

What we found was such a lovely thing, that I still haven't thought of just the right words to describe it. A charming, out of the way setting, cozy barn, warm lighting, complete with a cat casually strolling the aisles. David Barrett, a really wonderful performer, took the stage at eight, treating the audience to the soothing sounds of voice and guitar, engaging the crowd with funny anecdotes and easy conversation. Looking around, I saw rapt faces of folks totally in the moment, and loving it. Even my kids, ages three and four, were lulled by the music and atmosphere. It was a delight.

Regrettably, we had to leave at intermission, remiss to do so but the kids were getting tired and my husband needed to get to work. It was difficult to pull ourselves away, though, from such a rare and wholly engrossing experience. As we walked to our car, my husband vowed that next year, we'll be buying a season pass.

It may seem as if I'm overstating things a bit — I mean after all, it's just a concert, right? But frankly, I'm not. Most of us probably have lives that are deeply rooted in practicality, necessity, getting things done. My schedule and sometimes my budget don't often allow for getting away and taking some time to forget about the daily stuff that bogs me down. So what was essentially a simple experience, and one that's been discovered by many more folks before me, became a moment for me I won't soon forget. A moment in which I was reminded, once again, that there's more to life than work and housecleaning and paying the bills.

It's a gift we all need to give ourselves once in awhile. The chance to be completely adrift in the moment, and enjoy the many great little experiences that are out there, waiting to be had.

A MOM'S LIFE

Getting two for the price of one

By CINDI PLACE

As parents, we like to think that our children will be intelligent, productive members of society. We hope that they will be able to find a career that interests them, while also being able to provide for themselves at some time in the future (the closer to the end of their formal education, the better of course.) We spend uncountable hours encouraging them to do their homework, study hard and think seriously about what they want to be when they grow up.

But, I don't think any parent is prepared for the time when one of their children turns out to be smarter, more intuitive or even just plain quicker than we are. And, in my case recently, we certainly don't like to have any of this thrown into our faces.

I was studying for an exam in one of my classes recently, when I received some unexpected help from my youngest son. Now, understand that the classes I am taking have been quite challenging. Our summer has been filled with the traditional angst and whining that accompanies a college student struggling to make sense of subjects they figure will never really matter in the "real world." And all this from the children's mother.

So when I sat down recently to take a pre-test before an actual exam, I decided to ignore the little body that had snuggled up next to me while I studied. Not long after I had begun answering the pre-test questions, a little voice next to me said, "I know the answer to number three, Mom." Figuring I'd humor the kid, I made the mistake of asking what he thought was the correct answer. Silly me, thinking I'd be able to correct the child and maybe even show off a little myself. He got it right. Okay, so maybe a lucky guess, right? No such luck; the question (regarding a social psychology theory) asked about ignorance, and the correct answer had the word "ignore" in it. Something I hadn't even noticed, as I struggled to pick the right answer myself.

A few minutes later, another quiet voice says, "I know the answer to number twelve too, mom." Again, he had the correct answer. Another logical choice, even though this one was a little less obvious.

So, I figure, all this studying, working hard and finding the funding to complete these college classes is going to be a real deal in the long run. If my son keeps this up, I'll be getting two for the price of one.

School starts soon: watch for children

By SHERIFF GEORGE T. LASATER

The first day of school marks a significant milestone in the life of a child. It's an exciting time for making new friends, learning new things, and for some, riding the school bus. Every day approximately 20 million students use school buses as transportation to and from school. Although school buses represent the safest form of highway transportation, there are a number of safety factors both students and drivers should be aware of. Hoping to ensure that the school year gets off to a safe and happy start, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office encourages caution whenever school buses are present.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), over the past 11 years, an average of 35 school-age children died in school bus-related accidents each year. In this average, nine were occupants on the school bus, while 26 were pedestrians. NHTSA also reports that an alarming two-thirds of all accidents occurred outside of the bus.

Children are often eager to get off the school bus because they are excited to tell their parents about all of the fun they had at school that day. It is crucial that parents re-enforce the school bus safety rules children learn at school. We suggest that parents drive their child's bus route with them and practice the proper safety precautions.

Throughout a child's life, there are a number of situations where parents will be unable to exercise control. However, there are numerous precautions they can take to help ensure their child enjoys a safe ride to and from school. The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office has some safety measures they encourage all parents to discuss with their children.

- Students:
1. Always arrive at the bus stop early.
  2. Prior to boarding, wait until the bus has come to a complete stop, the door opens, and the bus driver says that it's okay to board.
  3. Always walk on the sidewalk when preparing to cross the street near a bus. Make eye contact with the driver so that you are sure he or she sees you.
  4. Never walk behind the bus.
  5. If you are walking beside the bus, walk at least three giant steps away.
  6. Take extra precaution to make sure that clothing with drawstrings and book bags do not get caught in the hand rail or door.
  7. Never stop to pick something up that you have dropped when a bus is stopped. Wait until the bus has driven off to avoid not being seen by the driver.

Motorists:

1. Remember that children are unpredictable in their actions. Exercise extreme caution when traveling in a school zone.
2. If there are no sidewalks, drive cautiously. Be more alert to the possibility of children walking in the road.
3. Be more aware of children playing near school bus stops.
4. Slow down and prepare to stop whenever you see yellow school bus lights flashing.
5. Never pass a school bus when there are flashing red lights. This is a sign that children are getting off the bus.

For further information contact the Sheriff's office at 547-4461.

Many hands help transform playground

TO THE EDITOR:

After its first summer of growth, a monarch butterfly, goldfinch, several doves, some ladybugs, and a praying mantis were some of the first visitors to check out the new Boyne City Elementary School Outdoor Learning Grounds and Habitats Site. And thanks to the "black gold" from the city of Boyne City, and a rich helping of organic, composted rabbit and chicken...er, "natural fertilizer," we've even seen our first worm come in! Miracles happen!

Life is growing at our outdoor learning grounds. And what once could have been described as a biological wasteland is now graced by the beauty of green growing things that lift the spirit and bring a smile: blooming flowers in yellow, red, orange, pink, white, purple... little pumpkins and birdhouse gourds hanging from creeping, crawling, climbing vines... stumps that say "question"... green beans hanging from the fence... a hill to run up, down, around, or sit on top of (AFTER the grass grows please!). Milkweed, baby's breath, nasturtiums, daylilies, purple coneflowers, daisies, yarrow, marigolds, zinnias, bee balm, lemon balm, catmint, begonias, Dusty Miller, wormwood, baby hollyhocks, snapdragons, mums, and sunflowers, add up to a lesson in learning about "biodiversity" or biological diversity, healing the land to again support life, and co-creating an environment that says "welcome." Come see!

Thank you Michigan taxpayers who checked the Non-Game Wildlife Fund donation on your tax returns. We received a $1,000 grant from the DNR's Nest 2000 project that supports schoolyard habitat projects and is funded directly from your support of the Non-Game Wildlife Fund. This money gave us the incentive to get started and is targeted for bringing in native species of "big trees" into the habitats site this fall!

Many other deserve thanks: Ace Hardware and the Boyne City Co-op for seeds; Willson's Garden Shop in Petoskey for new seed starting trays; SEE-NORTH and Dan Poux for seed starting mix and Dan's expert help; Carter's, Glen's and Cherry Hill Greenhouse for many flats of flowers; Dana Compton and Leigh Woodbury for topsoil; Tom Haley for underground connections and drip irrigation; Gordon Burns for bulldozing berms; Dave Siegrist for Engleman Ivy; Steve Edwards for organic fertilizer; Randy Krusel for moving our mulch with his loader; a special thank you to the Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence for a $2,000 grant for the community playground and habitats site that will help us continue to grow; and last but not least, to my Master Gardener friend Sylvia Hyland, husband Dennis and four beautiful children, Zack, Derrick, Lanie and Jordan, my sincere thanks for putting your time, labor, sweat and laughter into helping bring our playground back to "LIFE!"

Go Green!

BOYNE FALLS HAS A NEW SCHOOL, NEW PRINCIPAL AND NOW . . . Welcomes a new superintendent

By ANGELA SHULTIS

Boyne Falls Public School is entering a new era, complete with a new school building and a new principal.

And, as of last week's school board meeting, the district added a new superintendent into the mix. Mark Parsons, in his first few days at the helm of the Boyne Falls school district, is enthusiastic about the possibilities.

"I'm excited about being here," he said, seated in his new office Monday amid files and boxes. He quoted the school's motto, "a little school with a big future."

"I really believe that," he said.

For Parsons, his arrival in Boyne Falls is the continuation of a career path he's traveled since college. Originally from Evart, Mich., 25 miles south of Cadillac, Parsons graduated from Spring Arbor College and spent 16 years teaching elementary physical education and coaching football, basketball, and softball in his hometown.

Then, along with his wife Patricia, Parsons set out to teach internationally, spending two years at the middle and high school levels in Monterrey, Mexico and three years in Saudi Arabia. In 1993, he returned to the United States, working as an elementary school principal for six years, most recently at Lakeland Elementary in Elk Rapids.

"A diversity of experience," Parsons said, helps an individual to understand all levels of education a little better.

"It allows an even perspective, a balance within the entire focus."

Parsons' experience is backed up by education; he holds two Master's degrees from Central Michigan University, one in physical education, one in educational leadership. He's certified in both elementary and secondary education.

Boyne Falls' new superintendent Mark Parsons will be spending the coming days preparing for the start of the school year in a brand new building.

The step from teacher to principal, and then principal to superintendent, came from a simple desire.

"I still believe I can make a difference," he said. "I've been involved in leadership roles in most of the levels [of education] I've been in, which created an interest."

Having experience at both large and small schools, Parsons found Boyne Falls appealing in that he'll have the opportunity to be involved in a hands-on way, K-12. "You're not removed from what's going on," he said, "you're part of what's going on."

And right now, there's a lot going on at Boyne Falls School. "Obviously the first challenge is to be ready for school on Sept. 5," Parsons said. He's been impressed by the hard work the staff, construction crew, and community have already put in to make that happen.

"It's exciting to come to a place that seems to have everyone working together," he said.

But beyond the big move, there will be other issues to address. In education, he said, it's important to always be reevaluating where you are, to identify what's going well and what may require some changes. "To look at what we've done and what we want to do," he said, referring to administration, staff, and the board, as well as the community.

He's proud of the school's improvements on MEAP scores, but notes that test scores are only one indicator. An important area to look at, he said, is to ask whether the students are not only prepared academically, but also, "are they going to be productive citizens? I don't know of any tests that measure that." It's important to Parsons, then, to establish a good relationship with businesses and community members, to help students connect with them and "see what it's like in the real world."

Parsons also puts an emphasis on safety. There are three components of safety, as he sees it — physical, emotional, and educational. Emotional safety is important for effective learning, he said. "I don't want them to be bullied," he said, but rather students should feel secure and comfortable in their learning environment. Educational safety means having access to varied resources, including things like distance learning opportunities and co-op programs, to help enable students "to branch out."

In the near future, though, the focus for Parsons will be on settling in and getting to know the school and community. He is currently commuting from his home in Elk Rapids, as is his wife, who has been hired as a library media specialist at Boyne City High School. The two plan to relocate as soon as they can.

"It's exciting to come to a place that seems to have everyone working together."

Boyne Falls Superintendent

Grandvue expansion on ballot

rooms, Drury noted, there is a wall as well as a curtained area, making the rooms more private.

There are only four additional beds being added in the plan, for respite and hospice care. The plan will also expand the building so that if, in the future, the facility decides to expand its physical and occupational therapy offerings, it will have space to do so.

Now the task at hand for Grandvue is to get word to the voters about the project.

"We're hoping to form a campaign committee and work with them," Drury said, noting that the facility has an auxiliary and lots of families and volunteers that will be anxious to be involved.

They hope to have representatives presenting information to local service organizations, and said that any organization or group that would like to schedule a presentation can call her.

A community open house is also in the works, and will probably be held in mid-to-late September.

Grandvue Medical Care Facility is a county-owned skilled nursing facility, and is paid for predominantly by Medicaid, along with Medicare and private funding.

Grandvue Medical Care Facility recently held its summer picnic. Here, resident Darlene Novotny, center, with her sisters Charlene Novotny and Tony DeVries enjoy the event's country western theme. The annual picnic is Grandvue's largest event of the year, and over 350 people were served.

Volunteers needed to build playstructure at Boyne elementary

With grants from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and the Boyne City All School Boosters, among others, fund raising for the new playstructure at Boyne City Elementary was completed in July, and the structure is on order from the manufacturer.

The equipment will be arriving soon, according to organizer Teresa Roberge, "hopefully the first or second week in September."

The project was first presented to the PTO, and after garnering support from the city, schools, and community, the planning began. A design day was held at the school, with students submitting their ideas for how they would like the playstructure to look.

The designer based the final plan for the metal, continuous playstructure on the students' submissions.

The installation will be a two-day project, and, said Roberge, will require community volunteers to complete.

"The person [from Landscape Structures] who designed the playground will be here to supervise installation," she said, which will take place on a Friday and Saturday to be announced. Those wishing to volunteer can call Roberge at 582-3694 to sign up. Roberge will call each volunteer when the dates for the project are finalized.

Judging from the community support the project has already received, Roberge is optimistic about the installation.

"I know we'll have enough people," she said. "It's been great. The community has been so supportive."

Every step counts for the CROP Walk

Event raises money to fight hunger

With a new motto of "putting caring into action locally and globally," many people in Charlevoix County are getting ready to walk for the hungry again this year.

The 17th annual Charlevoix County CROP Walk will be held on Saturday, Sept. 30, and walkers are hoping for a beautiful sunny day like last year's.

Walkers from Boyne City, Charlevoix, and East Jordan will walk approximately six miles, ending their hike at the Ironton Congregational Church where Boyne Valley Lions Club will serve a luncheon to the walkers.

Coordinators of this year's event were named in May at a meeting with Johanna Balzer, associate director of CROP Walk in Michigan.

Coordinators are Kay Smith, Charlevoix; Diana Walls, Boyne City; and Marge Teske, East Jordan. They have set a goal of 150 walkers for the 2000 Walk and hope to raise $17,500 to help hungry people, both in Charlevoix County and in countries around the world.

Though most of the funds raised will be used by Church World Services in overseas relief and development work, a percentage will remain in Charlevoix County, to be used by the three local food pantries in these communities.

Last year 136 walkers earned $17,210. Each of the food pantries in Charlevoix, East Jordan, and Boyne City received $1,434 last year for local use in combating hunger.

CROP Walks are interfaith, community events, part of the outreach of Church World Service, the disaster relief, development, and refugee resettlement ministry.

Walkers are urged to ask family, friends, and co-workers to sponsor them for this event. Sponsor envelopes are available from local churches.

For more information about the Walk, contact Kay Smith at 547-2920 in Charlevoix; Marge Teske at 536-3128 in East Jordan; or Diana Walls at 582-6485 in Boyne City.

Morning Mist

A low blanket of fog settled into the Jordan Valley on a recent cool morning, lending an ethereal beauty to the always striking scenery.

Boyne Boosters recruiting team for 24-Hour Relay

The Boyne City School Boosters are sponsoring a team for the 24-Hour Relay and are looking for Booster members who would like to walk in the event.

The relay is a fund-raiser sponsored by the Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence, which this year will benefit the fine arts at Boyne City High School, providing seed money to bring acts to the 600-seat auditorium being built in the new high school.

The Boosters will pay the $500 entry fee for their team. Anyone who would like to walk on the team should call Jeff Gaither at 582-5022.

Twenty-seven teams have registered for the event so far, according to co-organizer Pat O'Brien. "I'd like to see 35 to 40 teams," he said.

There are a number of sponsors, he said, looking for team members.

Anyone who would like to walk but doesn't have a sponsor can call O'Brien at 582-2400, Pete Friedrich at 582-3100, or Lynda Christensen at 582-9555.

Arts Council begins season with watercolor workshop

At the request of members and friends, the Jordan River Arts Council will begin the 2000-01 season by sponsoring an all-day on-site watercolor workshop, on Sunday, Sept. 10. A watercolor exhibit will open on Sept. 17 at the art center.

Catherine Carey of Carey and Co. in Petoskey will be the instructor. She is well-known in the area, and holds a degree in fine art from Central Michigan University. She has taught classes at McCune Art Center and Bay View in Petoskey, and for Elderhostel.

Those attending the workshop will take part in an all-day painting session in the Jordan Valley area. Participants will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the Jordan River Art Center at 301 Main St. in East Jordan. A map or transportation will be provided to the site. In addition, a lunch will be available compliments of the Jordan River Arts Council. Students must supply their own paints and brushes, and other personal equipment. Watercolor paper 140# will be available at $3 per sheet. Total cost for the workshop is $50.

"Because it is a one day session, color theory will not be stressed, but basic information will be available," said art council member Jane Diller.

In case of rain, painting will take place in the newly refurbished classroom at the center, with still life subjects being provided.

For registration or more information, call Diller at 582-6399 or Carol Ross at 582-9987.

Hospital guild awards scholarships

The Scholarship Committee of Charlevoix Area Hospital's Guild announced the recipients of the annual scholarships totaling $1,600.

Scholarship winners are: Nina T. Lieb of East Jordan, who is studying physical therapy at Andrews University in Berrien Springs; Lisa Hoadley, who is attending nursing school at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo; Keri A. Curtis, who is studying nursing at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey and who is working at Charlevoix Area Hospital; and Michael J. Czerkes, who is attending medical school at Michigan State University and plans to study at the University of Surrey in England for one year.

Each year the Guild gives four $400 medical scholarships for a maximum of four years.

The scholarship is open on a competitive basis to anyone holding a high school diploma who has been accepted into an approved school for a course of study leading directly into a health care profession.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

RUTH HARTWICK, Phyllis Tisron, and Janet Shepherd, all of Boyne City, were among those attending Saturday's visit to northern Michigan by U.S. Senator Carl Levin and State Rep. Andy Neumann. Following a well attended breakfast, all met at the Charlevoix Area Hospital's lower level conference room, to discuss senior health issues. A question and answer session followed, with concerns directed at the high cost of prescription drugs, making many seniors have to make a choice of buying food or buying needed and prescribed medication, and lack of hospitalization.

BETTY AND DON LESTER of California arrived in Michigan this week, after a nine year absence, to visit her sister, June Capelin and her daughter Jody Piper and husband Larry, in Boyne City, and her daughter Jan Olson and husband Chuck, in Gaylord. The sisters, brother-in-law, nieces, and their families had a great time.

BONNIE AND RON OLUND of Boyne City recently spent time in Clio with Bud and Jean Severn. All enjoyed a Detroit Tigers' win at the beautiful new Comerica Park.

HOUSE GUESTS this past week at the Boyne City home of Delcie Phillips were her son Lee and wife Sandra of Franklin, Mich. After their visit here, Lee and Sandra were going to be driving to the east coast, to spend some time at Virginia Beach.

LAST WEEKEND visitors at the Dan Wilsons of Stanek Road were Tracy and Jeff Engler of Alanson, Tommy Wilson of Clio, and Gloria and Jim Burns of Whittemore. All enjoyed the Tractor Show and Flea Market in Buckley on Saturday.

BOYNE CITY NAZARENE Church families gathered at the Advance home of Sally and Ed Pasque on Sunday afternoon for a potluck dinner and 15 of them were also baptized by immersion in Lake Charlevoix. A good time was had by all as they returned to Sally and Ed's for a hymn sing, bonfire and marshmallow roast.

DALE HOYT of Elk Rapids spent a couple of days here this past week, visiting his sister, Jean Korthase.

DANNY AND JULIE Schmittiel of Chicago were here over the weekend visiting their parents, Marie Schmittiel and Bill and Mary Dunlop. Also heard that Marie's birthday might be today—Wednesday.

PAUL HIBBARD of Millington and grandson, Cory Osmun of Flint left on Monday, after having spent a long weekend with his mother, Adell Hibbard. Other welcomed visitors were her daughter, Nancy Rennick, husband Don and daughter Carla, of Big Rapids, who had spent a week of camping at Whiting Park, her granddaughter, Cherily and Joe Osmium of Flint, and an overnight stay by her sister-in-law, Louis Allele of Vassal. Nancy was here until Tuesday, to take her mother to the doctor.

LEE STOW of Boyne City is doing well since her hip replacement surgery last month. She is now walking with no aids, getting out and about and enjoying visitors at home.

MYRRH JERKINS of Independence, Mo. surprised her mother, Anne Jerkins on Thursday by just knocking on her door! Both enjoyed the few days visit. Anne also received word of the "safe at home" arrival in Reno of her son Gary Wade and family, who'd been in the Boyne area throughout the summer.

SYDNEY CAMPBELL, 2 1/2 year old daughter of Lori and Dave Campell of East Jordan is improving, as her latest trip to Motts Children's Hospital brought good news. Instead of quarterly check-ups, she's home free, with six month check-ups. Sydney developed Neuroblastema (a tumorous cancer) when she was ten months old. "It's been a tough two years" said her grandmother. "but she's doing so much better now!"

THOSE WHO SPENT the weekend at Stanek's Blue Heaven in Curtis were Leona and Charlie and Holly Stanek, Betsy and Rick Olund, and Cody and Candice. Friday night supper guests were Bonnie and Ron Olund.

(To submit items to Nancy, call 582-9174 or e-mail her at nanup@mail.unnet.com.)

Following are profiles of new staff members at the Boyne City and East Jordan public schools. New staff profiles of Boyne Falls and Concord Academy Boyne will be featured in an upcoming issue.

EAST JORDAN

CHARITY HUFF will be teaching the Parent Readiness Education Project (P.R.E.P) class and Young Fives at East Jordan Elementary School. Huff is a graduate of Central Michigan University with a major in child development and a minor in language arts.

Huff did her student teaching in a first and second grade multi-age classroom in Petoskey and in the Char-Em Be-Four program. After graduation, she was a long-term substitute at East Jordan Elementary in the hearing impaired classroom. Huff has also worked with children at Camp Daggett, as a counselor, area director, and assistant director.

"I like the area and am excited to work in a community that supports its school," Huff said. "I am looking forward to welcoming children to their elementary school."

EVELYN KITCHEN is joining the staff at East Jordan Elementary as teacher in both the special education, and gifted and talented programs. In Indiana, Kitchen spent eight years as a kindergarten teacher, two years as an adult education teacher, and six years teaching special education.

Kitchen is an East Jordan native, and is pleased to be returning to her hometown. "I went to school K-12 at East Jordan," she said, "and as I planned my move from Indiana back to Michigan, it was my heart's desire to teach in East Jordan Elementary School. I am looking forward to a great year with my children and becoming a vital addition to this teaching staff."

Kitchen received her Bachelor's degree from Bethel College in Mishawaka, Ind., and holds a degree in special education from Indiana University.

JENNIFER CARY will teach special education at the elementary, middle, and high schools. She received her B.S. in special education from Central Michigan University.

"I chose East Jordan Public Schools because of its strong community support," Cary said. "I look forward to meeting my students and their families."

Cary completed her student teaching at Lakeland Elementary in Elk Rapids, and was the director of summer school for K-5 at Lakeland. She has also taught middle school special education at Forest Area Middle School.

STEPHEN EMERY will be taking over as the music director for grades 6-12 at the middle and high schools. Emery was the director of bands at Carsonville-Port Sanilac Schools and at Clinton Community Schools before coming to East Jordan.

"I chose East Jordan because of how impressed I was with the schools' leadership team and the music facilities," Emery said. "I look most forward to the multitude of musical experiences and opportunities I will share with my new students."

Emery holds a Bachelor's of Music Education from the University of Michigan and is working on a Master's of Music Education through Vandercook College of Music in Chicago.

LANCE BAILEY will be teaching physics, biology, chemistry, and Life Skills at East Jordan High School this year. Bailey received his B.S. in sports medicine from Pepperdine University and has a Master of Arts degree in curriculum and instruction with a science emphasis from the University of Colorado at Denver.

Bailey was a middle and high school science teacher in Denver, has worked in physical therapy and athletic training in Los Angeles, and was a commercial fisherman and guide in Kenal, Alaska.

"I chose to teach at East Jordan High School because of many recommendations from local community members and my positive impressions from meeting with Chip Hansen, Tammy Jackson, and faculty members," Bailey said. "I am looking forward to becoming involved in the community and becoming acquainted and working with students and parents of East Jordan High."

JENNIFER BUFFMAN is a first grade teacher at the elementary school. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Grand Valley State and was a Camp R.E.A.D. instructor in East Jordan.

Buffman chose to teach at East Jordan Elementary because of its "wonderful, helpful, and committed staff."

"I'm looking forward to meeting parents and working with four excellent first grade teachers," she said.

BOYNE CITY

Sara Richards

SARA RICHARDS will teach fourth grade at Boyne City Elementary School. Richards did her student teaching at East Jordan Elementary, and has been a substitute for the Char-Em School District.

"I chose to teach at Boyne City Elementary School because I am a graduate of the school system," Richards said. "I wanted to work with a dedicated group of professional teachers, and to teach and raise my daughter in my hometown."

Richards is a graduate of Central Michigan University. "I am most looking forward to sharing my love for learning with young people," she said.

Colleen Giuliana

MARY-JO POWERS joins the elementary school staff as a fourth-grade teacher. Powers holds a B.A. from Grand Valley State in social sciences, and has her elementary and early childhood certificates. She has taught K/1 in Naples, Fla., as well as preschool/Chapter One, second grade, and fourth grade at Wolverine Elementary.

Powers is looking forward to working in Boyne City. "My family lives in Boyne City and we want to become more involved in our community," she said. "Commuting to Wolverine each day leaves little time to be involved where I live."

"I can't wait to meet the families in Boyne City and engage their children's minds in school each day," she said.

COLLEEN GIULIANA will be the counselor at Boyne City Middle School. Giuliana was the K-12 counselor in Boyne Falls for the 1999-2000 school year, and was a high school and middle school counselor in East Lansing. She has also held positions teaching the fourth and sixth grades.

"I am very happy to be working at the middle school level," Giuliana said. "I look forward to working with students individually, in small groups, and in the classroom."

Giuliana received her B.A. in elementary education from Michigan State University, and her M.A. in professional counseling from Central Michigan University.

JENNIFER CASSIDY will be working at both the middle school and the high school, as an eighth and ninth grade special education teacher. Cassidy has been teaching special education for 12 years, and has taught grades K-12 in most content areas, with a focus on remediation, reteaching, and curriculum modifications. She has taught most recently in the Anchorage School District in Anchorage, Alaska. "I've also worked with Native American children and their families, as well as various other interesting cultures," she said.

Cassidy holds a Bachelor's in Fine Art from the University of Florida, and a Master's and Post Baccalaureate in special education from the University of New Mexico.

"It's wonderful to be back in my homestate, and to be a new member of this picturesque, friendly atmosphere," Cassidy said. "I look forward to what I hope to be many years here, and for my children to gain their full educational experience in Boyne City public schools."

CARRIE NELSON is a Spanish teacher at Boyne City

High School. She received her B.A. from Alma College in 1997, with a major in Spanish and a minor in business administration. Nelson is working on her Master's in education through Aquinas College in Grand Rapids.

"I chose to teach in Boyne City because I was impressed by the quality of the students and staff," said Nelson. "I am most looking forward to sharing my love of the Spanish language with students."

Nelson was a substitute at Boyne City High School for Spanish and history during the 1999-2000 school year. She has also worked at EBW, Inc., in customer service and international shipping documentation.

ANDY BRYANT will teach ninth grade science, tenth grade biology, and eleventh grade chemistry at Boyne City High School. Bryant has held positions as a 7-12 science teacher in Dutton, Mont., and as a high school science teacher in Chester, Mont. He also has experience as a junior high football and basketball coach, as well as a high school track coach.

"Montana was beautiful but it doesn't compare to what Michigan has to offer," Bryant said. "I am looking forward to working with the staff at Boyne City High School, as well as a new group of students."

Bryant holds a B.S. in education from Central Michigan University.

JILAIINE TOWNE-PATTON is the new community career specialist/school-to-work coordinator for the Boyne City Public Schools. Towne-Patton is a 1994 graduate of Boyne City; she graduated from James Madison College at Michigan State University in 1998, with a B.A. in political theory and constitutional democracy.

Towne-Patton has been a permanent substitute teacher with the district since 1999, teaching English and marketing. She chose to take this position because, she said, "first and foremost, I love people."

"I enjoy the students, staff, and community of Boyne City," Towne-Patton continued. "The opportunity to work and interact with many people is what I look forward to most. I have a passion for organizing, coordinating, and planning activities and events where others can benefit or learn."

Besides her new position, this will be Towne-Patton's second year coaching Boyne City Middle School cheerleaders. She is also the assistant high school track coach, and coaches at Boyne Area Gymnastics.

DAVID HILLS will teach social studies at the high school, and is the head coach of the Ramblers varsity football team.

Hills graduated from Northern Michigan University with a B.S. in business administration, and holds a Master's in teaching from Marygrove College. He spent five years as a teacher and football coach at Alpena High School before taking the position in Boyne City.

"I'm looking forward to teaching in a smaller school," Hills said. "You get to know the students better. There's a better opportunity to know more of the kids and have contact with a larger number of the students."

Robert Grover finds a big hole in the Central Lake defense and heads upfield. Grover scored one touchdown and rushed for 24 yards.

RED DEVILS START THE SEASON WITH A 20-0 WIN OVER CENTRAL LAKE

Picking up where they left off

Relying on a tried-and-true running game, East Jordan rushed their way to victory last week, pulling out a 20-0 win at Central Lake.

Taking advantage of some early turnovers, the Red Devils did all their scoring in the first half. On their second drive in the first quarter, Central fumbled, with East Jordan recovering the ball on Central's 20-yard line. Bill Bavers ran the ball for 18 yards, and then two more yards to score. Robert Grover kicked the extra point for an early 8-0 lead.

Central fumbled again on the kick-off, giving East Jordan the ball on the 19-yard line. Grover made the touchdown with a one-yard run into the endzone. The extra point was no good, bringing the score to 13-0 with 3:51 left in the first quarter.

Late in the second quarter, quarterback Ken Slough carried the ball on a 43-yard touchdown run, with Grover kicking in the extra point, giving the Red Devils their 20-0 lead.

The second half found East Jordan struggling a bit more offensively, said head coach Allan Peterson. "Central Lake played a lot better defense in the second half," he noted. "We weren't getting a lot of long drives." Still, East Jordan held their ground to take home their first win of the season.

Bavers led the Red Devils in rushing with 74 yards on 14 carries, followed by Slough with 50 yards on two carries. Branden Healy and Grover each had one carry for 39 and 24 yards respectively.

At quarterback, Slough attempted three passes and completed one.

On defense, Evan Chappuies led with 17 tackles, followed by Nate Diller with 11, Nick Karaszewski with nine, and Joe Cooper with eight. Jeff Kraemer and Karaszewski both had fumble recoveries.

East Jordan starts the season 1-0, and will face Mancelona at home on Friday, Sept. 1. "It's going to be a real tough game," Peterson said. "Mancelona beat Kalkaska real bad [last week]. They're a good football team. It's a good, tough game for us every year."

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Junior varsity earns win

The Red Devils junior varsity football team earned a victory in its first game of the season, beating Central Lake at home.

East Jordan's only score came on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Scott Murray to Kevin Roberts late in the first quarter.

"Central Lake was a very tough football team," said coach Todd Derenzy. "If not for some key plays on defense, the outcome could have been different."

Top players for East Jordan were Matt Huver, Roberts, Chris DeCamp, Steve Goodwin, Josh Sheridan, and Brian Diller. Top rushers were Huver with 13 carries for 73 yards, and Alan Arnott, with 30 yards on eight carries. The team rushed for a total of 136 yards.

Quarterback Murray completed five of seven attempts for 63 yards. Roberts caught two for a total of 38 yards, and was also a top tackler for the Red Devils, allowing 14 yards. DeCamp allowed 13 yards.

The team travels to Mancelona on Wednesday, Aug. 30. Kick off is 6:30 p.m.

The Ramblers were unable to stop an experienced Glen Lake team last week in Boyne City. The team will be regrouping this week to face Rogers City at home on Friday.

GLEN LAKE DEFEATS BOYNE 30-0

Tough opening for Ramblers

Boyne City High School opened its season Friday against tough competition in the form of a seasoned Glen Lake team, and came out with a 30-0 loss.

"Special teams is what hurt us the most," said head coach David Hills. "We lost the battle of field position. We had poor position the whole game."

Unable to sustain a drive in the first half, Boyne City was down 10-0 at half time. Still, Hills said the team felt they were still in the game, and "came out with a lot of energy." But they were down by 16-0 at the end of the third quarter, and early in the fourth, the Ramblers threw an interception that Glen Lake ran in for a touchdown.

"We were down offensively," Hills said. "We were not executing very well."

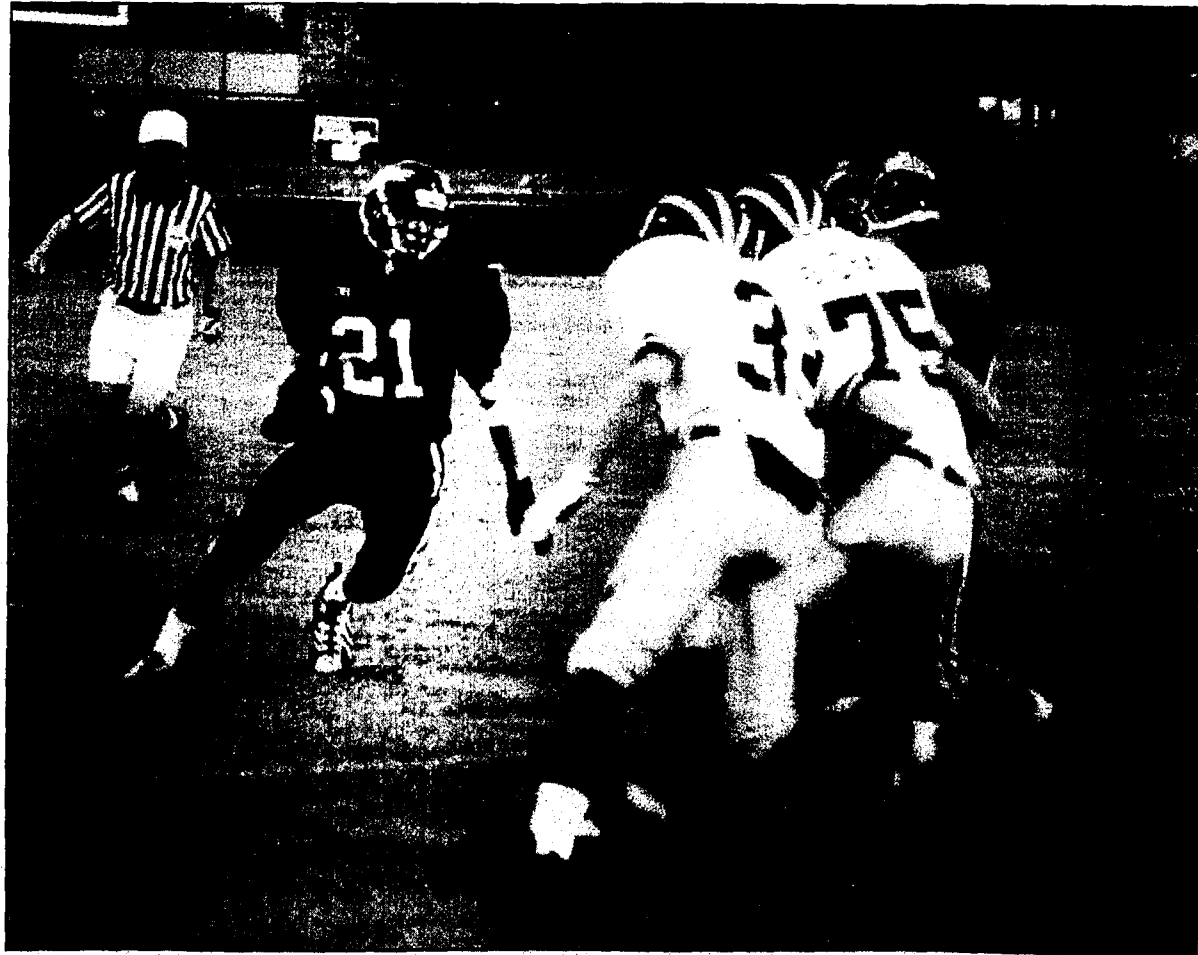

Defensively, though, Hills said the numbers don't tell the whole story.

"Thirty points doesn't gauge what our defense was really like," said Hills. "The defense as an entire unit played very well." Hills noted a good showing by linebacker Ben Karlskin.

Overall, "we behaved like a team that's been running a system for three weeks," while Glen Lake looked like a team that's been running their system for years, Hills said. "Our inexperience in our system showed."

Looking ahead, the Ramblers will face Rogers City this Friday, Sept. 1, at home. "Rogers City is distinctly different from Glen Lake," said Hills. "Glen Lake is not big but extremely fast. Rogers City is very big, but not quite as fast. We match better with Rogers City than Glen Lake."

Still, he said, the game "will be a tough challenge for us. They're a very good football team."

One bright spot for the Ramblers was the 50-yard punt return by Kyle Gibbons late in the first quarter. Gibbons was finally tackled at Glen Lake's 18, but the Ramblers were unable to capitalize.

Boyne jr's lose to Glen Lake

In its first game of the season, the Boyne City High School junior varsity football team took some lumps, losing to Glen Lake, 40-0. The game, according to head coach Dave Bricker, was "a game of turnovers and penalties. Every big gain was called back because of penalties."

For Boyne, Ben Hausler and Chris Grice both made interceptions, and Matt MacNaughton, Jeff Prested, Anthony DeNike, Adam McBee, and Chris Grice all made fumble recoveries.

It was, said Bricker, "quite a learning experience for the Ramblers." The team will play at Rogers City on Thursday, Aug. 31.

The Boyne City freshman football team lost their first game 36-12 against Grayling. Top defensive player for the Ramblers was Steven Franks. "Nice effort on the part of the Ramblers," said coach Dan Polleys. The freshman squad's next game is Thursday, Sept. 7 at Bellaire.

Ramblers are ready to run

At the start of its second year as a school-sponsored athletic program, the Boyne City High School cross country team is up in numbers and looking to the season ahead.

With 16 runners, the team has some big shoes to fill, with the girls taking top honors in the Lake Michigan Conference last year.

After graduating last year's captain, Emily Bricker, as well as all-state runner Jackie Cyr, "there are a couple of spots we have to fill," said head coach Andy Place. "We've got some girls that have been running well over the summer," he added.

"The girls are working very hard. I know they'll do their best."

Charlotte Brandt, the only senior member of the girls' team, is taking over as captain. She has "been running really well over the summer," said Place.

Brandt is one of the team's four returning members, along with Jane Steber, who was academic all-state last year, Mindy McCutcheon, and

"They're all great kids, working hard to improve themselves. That's what a coach looks for. From that comes the potential to do more."

--Coach Andy Place

Brie VanDam. New to the team are freshmen Emma Dunne, who ran in the middle school program last year, Katie Martin, and Hannah Decker.

"The boys are looking good," Place said, noting the addition of "a lot of new faces." Last year, with only five guys on the roster, the team found it hard to compete against opponents with better numbers. Nine boys are signed up this season, including five freshmen.

"That's been exciting," Place said. The lone senior, Kellan Smith, is a returning member and will be captain. Brad Winkler and Brian Miller are returning juniors. Junior Geoff Martin, and freshmen Sam McVannel, Justin Weisler, David Burns, Justin Conklin, and Randall Sutton will be rounding out the roster.

With several inexperienced runners on the team, Place is focusing on long-term lessons.

"We work to get the kids to understand running is a long term thing," he said, "not something that they're going to do for a short period of time and get great at."

Practices are geared to "bring everybody along at a speed they can handle, with varied workouts for varied ability."

With a young team, the season ahead is hard to pin down.

"Everything's too early to tell," said Place. "Different kids develop at different stages. We could have some major surprises."

The competition looks as tough as ever, with the East Jordan boys team coming off of two great years, as state champs and state runner-up.

"This year East Jordan [the girls team] is going to be much stronger... and the guys are already so good, they're in a whole other atmosphere," said Place. "Charlevoix is always very good."

And ultimately, he notes, "with cross country, you don't know how good the competition is going to be. Any kid who really works hard over the summer can make drastic improvements."

"I'm just really excited that we've got the numbers that we do," he continued.

"They're all great kids, working hard to improve themselves. That's what a coach looks for. From that comes the potential to do more."

Red Devils start off strong

With one meet under their belt already, the East Jordan High School cross country team is already gaining momentum.

The boys are coming off of a couple of extraordinary years as state champs in 1998 and state runner-ups in 1999. Still, coach Matt Peterson doesn't think this will create undue pressure for the team. "I don't think either of the teams feel any outside pressure," he said. "As always, they do have high expectations of themselves and the team, but they've kind of built that into the program." The team graduated eight boys since last season, with three senior boys returning, including all-state runner Tarn Leach, all-conference runner Micah Middaugh, and Pat Curtin.

Jeremy Booze will return to the varsity squad, after putting in an all-conference performance last year. Others returning to the team include Peter Warnos, Jeremy Penzien, Garrett Romero, Matt Smith, Brian Kirby, and Mark McKenney, with the addition of new face Soren Low, a Danish exchange student.

For the girls, numbers are up, with ten on the roster. Last year the team wasn't able to pull together a full squad. "This is a really good year for us," said Peterson. "The girls we had kind of spread the word about how much fun they're having." Last year's members are all returning, including Heather Hammond, who was all-conference and a state qualifier, and Jamie Baker, also all-conference. Also returning are junior Ruth Elliott, sophomore Krystal Birgy, and sophomore Amanda McMichael. Newcomers this season are freshmen Tiffanie Bearden, Haley Shaw, Heather Jones, Amanda Haney, and Diana Bearden. Peterson was happy with the girls' performance at the Benzie Central Invitational meet last weekend, taking third overall despite a couple of injuries. Hammond, Baker, and Tiffanie Bearden all medaled. "The girls performed really well," he said. "We're going to reevaluate as the season goes on, but this could be one of the best if not the best girls' squad we've ever had."

While the girls competed in their class C-D division last week, the boys took the opportunity to take part in class A-B division competition. "It's tradition for [the boys] to run 'up' in any meet that they can, just for the stiffer competition," Peterson said. The boys took fifth, and were beaten only by four class A teams. "It was a good start," Peterson said. "Tarn Leach ran a great race. Tarn and Jeremy Booze were both medalists. Jeremy Penzien ran almost two minutes faster than he did last year." Still, he said, both the boys and the girls expect to improve as the season goes on.

The team will compete at the Charlevoix Classic on Saturday, Sept. 9, which, said Peterson, "is more like a European cross country race," where runners must go over hay bales, run through fields, and even a mud hole. The Red Devils will face conference rivals like Charlevoix, St. Francis, and Elk Rapids. "We go there with a mind set to race hard, but we don't want anyone to get injured," he said. "It's a competitive race, but you don't leave there knowing any more about your standing."

Boys soccer makes its debut at EJ

After a disappointing turnout last fall, the East Jordan boys soccer team is a go this year, with 16 players currently on the roster.

Head coach Eric Richardson attributes at least some of the increased interest to the school's first girls soccer team last spring. "There was a lot of talk in the school [last spring] about people being excited about playing in the fall," he said. But, as he said, often those interested in signing up don't necessarily pan out in the end.

This time, though, with the future of the program counting on it, the interest was there. Richardson was especially encouraged by the fact that "everybody that signed up and was disappointed last year came back and signed up [this year]." And with no seniors, he said, "theoretically, everyone can come back next year and play. It's nice to know that next year, if most return... I'll know what they know."

And the team, though new, has strong points. "I'm actually impressed with some of the abilities of serious members," he said. "I think we're stronger than I thought [we'd] be on offense."

The team started practice on Aug. 14, and has been practicing every weekday. While Richardson was happy with the interest, he said that with only 16 members, it's tough to really play in practice.

"It'll be a good experience to play the younger teams in the tournament," he said. But, he conceded, "it's tough to jump into a varsity season," especially since many of the teams they'll face have had programs established for several years.

Still, the team will use its early games to get a feel for competitive play, and as a chance to look "at where our weaknesses are and what kind of shape we're in. It's the best way for kids to understand what it's going to be like out there."

The team got its first taste of competition in last Saturday's Petoskey Invitational. In their first game, against Petoskey freshmen, the team lost 11-0. "The team made the usual first game mistakes," Richardson said. In game two, though, things looked a little brighter, with the team scoring first against the Roscommon junior varsity, going on to lose 7-2. Game three against Houghton Lake junior varsity brought the team their first win, 7-2. Solid performances were put in by Scott Jones, with two goals, and Corban Shaw, who made seven goals, including six of the seven scored in their win over Houghton Lake. "Scott Reich did a great job in goal as our new goalie," Richardson said.

Looking ahead to their scheduled match against Elk Rapids junior varsity, Richardson said, "I believe [Elk Rapids] to be a strong, well-seasoned, and experienced team. They will attempt to exploit any weaknesses we might have." East Jordan will spend the next week working on fitness and conditioning, as well as defense.

They will travel to Elk Rapids on Wednesday, Sept. 6. Game time is 6 p.m.

Joyce Zavesky honored for community involvement

Joyce Zavesky recently received a community service award from her employer, Honeywell International, for her dedication to a variety of community organizations.

Joyce has been working with the Boyne City Little League since 1986 as a board member as well as in other capacities, and with the Boy Scouts where she had been a fund-raiser, scout leader and board member from 1989 to 1997. Since 1995 Joyce has also helped with what needs to be done with activities for children attending the one-week camp at Camp Quality. N.O.T.E.S. in Music is another area which Joyce has helped as a chairperson and secretary/treasurer among other things since 1990. She also helps with activities at the school, such as dances and the high school graduates overnight party.

Joyce and 32 other Honeywell employees from all over the world were recipients of the company's 2000 Community Service Award. The award was established in 1975 to recognize employees who have made exceptional contributions to improving the quality of life for others in their communities and neighborhoods. The award symbolizes significant personal commitment to the community and shows Honeywell's appreciation, encouragement and support of employee involvement in the community.

Honeywell Chairman and CEO, Michael Bonsignore, hosted the award ceremony, held in Albuquerque, N.M., and presented the award to Joyce. Recipients of the award received an elegantly crafted engraved crystal, a certificate of merit, and a special lapel pin.

In addition, Honeywell made a $500 contribution to the non-profit organization of the employee's choice. Joyce chose the Boyne City Fire Auxiliary to contribute towards a thermal imaging camera.

Women's resource center to offer parenting class

A parenting workshop, based on the best-selling book, How to Talk So Kids Will Listen and Listen So Kids Will Talk starts Sept. 25, from 1-2:30 p.m. at the Women's Resource Center, 423 Porter Street, Petoskey.

Parents will learn proven skills, such as how to set limits while maintaining goodwill, cope with their child's negative feelings, express anger without hurting, engage their child's cooperation and help their child become caring and responsible. Parents will also learn how to resolve conflicts peacefully and create a family atmosphere of love and respect.

The six-session workshop is sponsored by the Women's Resource Center and will be led by Joann F. Townsend, ACSW. The cost of the workshop is $75 per person, or $80 per couple; materials are included. If you are receiving any FIA funded service, including daycare or food stamps, you may be eligible to have a scholarship for this class.

The sessions will be held Mondays, from Sept. 25 - Oct. 30. Advance registration and payment is requested. Space is limited. To Register, call the Women's Resource Center at (231) 347-0067.

DALMAC riders camping in Boyne

Approximately 350 bicyclists will camp at Boyne City High School next week as part of the 30th annual Dick Allen Lansing to Mackinac (DALMAC) bicycle tour.

Founded in 1971 by former Michigan State Sen. Dick Allen, DALMAC offers riders a choice of five routes, ending with a mass crossing of the Mackinac Bridge on Sunday, Sept. 3. This year's routes range in distance from 313 to 507 miles. The group staying in Boyne City will arrive on Saturday afternoon and depart on Sunday morning for the Mighty Mac.

DALMAC aims to develop an awareness of bicycling and its needs among Michigan residents, to promote bicycling as a healthy means of transportation and recreation, and to encourage wider bicycle use. Over 1600 riders participated in the 1999 tour. Proceeds from the tour have enabled The DALMAC Fund to grant over $370,000 to bicycling-related organizations and causes since 1975. Over $25,000 was awarded earlier this year to various projects, including trailwork, public safety and extending bicycling opportunities to those with disabilities.

The DALMAC website address is biketcba.org.
