Serving East Jordan, Boyne City and surrounding areas

At A Glance

Auto accident claims life of EJ resident

An East Jordan man was killed over the weekend in an auto accident that sent three others to the hospital.

Dennis Lee Skrocki Sr., 50, of East Jordan, died in the accident, which happened at about 8:21 p.m. on Sunday, July 29, on Mt. Bliss Road.

According to the Antrim County Sheriff's Office, the crash occurred when a southbound vehicle carrying four people crossed the center line and hit a northbound vehicle head-on.

The driver of the southbound vehicle, Edward James Kotalik, 34, and his passengers, Skrocki, Sr., Dennis Lee Skrocki Jr., 31, and William Shane Kraemer Sr., 34, were transported by East Jordan ambulances to Charlevoix Area Hospital, where Skrocki, Sr. was pronounced dead.

The driver of the second vehicle, John Allen Kurbis, 55, sought his own treatment.

Further details were not available at press time. The accident is still under investigation.

The Antrim County Sheriff was also assisted by the East Jordan Police Department, East Jordan Fire Department, and the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department.

EJ Pop Warner holding final registrations

The East Jordan Pop Warner Football League will be holding final registrations on Thursday, Aug. 2, from 6-8 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 4, from 1-3 p.m. at the equipment room located behind East Jordan City Hall.

A used jersey sale will be held during physicals/equipment pick-up on Monday, Aug. 6, at 6 p.m., also in the equipment room. Participants that have had physicals before this date may bring in their physical form and pick up their equipment at 5 p.m.

For more information, call Yvonne Pentecost at 549-3777.

Fun in store at this weekend's Polish Festival

If you've got a taste for stuffed cabbage or a little spin around the polka tent, the 27th annual Boyne Falls Polish Festival should have just what you're looking for.

The festival will run Thursday through Sunday, Aug. 2-5, with Arnold's Amusement carnival rides opening on Thursday evening. On Saturday, the Grand Royale Parade will be held beginning at 11 a.m.

Other big events for the weekend include the Flying Star Semi-Pro rodeo, Thursday night's car show and cruise-in, the horse pull, and the four-wheel drive mud run.

For a full schedule of events, see pages 6 and 7.

Old-timers

The Northern Michigan Flywheelers held the 14th annual Tractor, Engine, and Craft Show last weekend at the group's fairgrounds between Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake. The show draws folks from all over, to enjoy a weekend of old-fashioned fun combined with some lessons on how it was done in the good old days, as well as to get a gander at some fine old tractors.

A step closer

■ Boyne School Board holds public forum to profile interim

The Boyne City School District is one step closer to installing an interim superintendent, with just about a month to go before the 2001-02 school year gets underway.

Last week, the school board held a special meeting, seeking public input on what the board should be looking for in an interim. Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District superintendent Mark Eckhardt facilitated the meeting, held in a casual public forum format.

The forum is an unusual measure, a departure from the typical process of determining candidates for an interim position, said Eckhardt, but one that the board felt was important in light of recent criticism of the board for communication problems. "Usually when you hire an interim, you don't usually get public comment," he said. "But this is good."

39TH ANNUAL PORTSIDE ARTS FAIR IS THIS WEEKEND

Fine art at Elm Pointe

Saturday, Aug. 4, will mark the opening of the 39th annual Portside Arts Fair, an event that has become a summer staple in East Jordan for both residents and visitors alike. The event, which will be held on Saturday from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 5, from 11 a.m.-4 p.m., will take place at the historic Elm Pointe Estate, located on M-66 north.

A juried fine art show, Portside will feature booths displaying works by about 90 artists and artisans from all over the country, in an idyllic setting on the shore of Lake Charlevoix's South Arm. Folks can arrive by boat or car, with free parking across M-66.

Guitarist Russell Donnellon will be on hand to provide musical entertainment throughout both days of the fair, and will have tapes and CDs available for purchase.

Concessions will also be available, provided by the Evangelical Lutheran Church, and a children's booth will feature fun activities for kids while parents check out the artwork.

The 11-acre Elm Pointe Estate was donated to the City of East Jordan in 1972 by former owners Augustine F. and George Westgate. Elm Pointe was added to the Michigan Historical Register in 1996.

On-site are the East Jordan Historic Museum and the Cyg Riley Art Gallery, which will both be open during the event for visitors to enjoy.

The juror for this year's event is Joseph Victor Deluca, an artist and Professor Emeritus of Art at Western Michigan University. Deluca has exhibited his work locally, nationally, and internationally, and has earned various awards and grants for his artwork over the years. He will award this year's Purchase Prize, as well as name honorable mentions.

Pieces chosen as Purchase Prize winners become property of the Cyg Riley Art Gallery in Elm Pointe, to be housed permanently as part of the Portside Collection.

pieces will be on display in the art gallery during the event.

Admission to the event is free, but donations will be accepted, with funds going to help maintain buildings on the site.

Bursting with COLOR

■ Lee Stowe's Boyne City garden is a work in progress

By ANGELA SHULTIS

Color is important to Boyne City's Lee Stowe, but right now, she has yellow to spare. With mounds of rudbeckia, loads of tansy, and plenty of butter-colored daylilies bursting into bloom all over her garden, Stowe is willing to give a little yellow away to anyone else who might need it.

To the casual observer, though, Stowe's garden is in perfect balance, a combination of soft, curving lines and eye-popping blooms, including a seemingly endless variety of multi-hued daylilies, one of Stowe's favorite. Her tastes have been cultivated over a lifetime of gardening, which, she said, was likely a result of having been raised by a gardener.

"I've been gardening all my life," she said. "My mother was a gardener. A lot of these plants came from her garden."

Though only in the area for the last 10 years, Stowe has brought many of the plants she currently tends from her previous home downstate. "I lived on the same piece of land for 72 years," she said, noting that her family had taken up some land from the government in 1833, where she lived until she married.

Then, she said, "my dad gave us a piece of ground" to build a house on.

Ten years ago, Stowe decided to move north to be closer to her children. With her husband having passed away 10 years before, Stowe had determined it was time to be closer to family. "It took me 10 years to decide [to move to Boyne]," she laughs.

In moving she left behind the family property, but she was not, however, prepared to leave behind all of her beloved plants. "It took six months to build this house," she said. "One week out of every month I came up with a car load of plants."

A lot of work, yes, but well worth it when you see the results bursting forth in full summer bloom. "I wouldn't have done it any other way," declared Stowe.

Along with many of the old plants, though, Stowe has expanded, trying new varieties and moving the borders of her garden outward. In the last few years, she's planted tree peonies.

"You do not cut these kind back," Stowe said, pointing out the woody trunks, in contrast to the more plant-like stems of the common shrub peonies. The flowers, she said, are huge, and all in all, they've been a successful addition. "They're doing wonderfully," she said.

She's also adding ornamental grasses, in anticipation of future days when she'll no longer have the ability to keep up with the demands of perennial gardening.

"Last year, I found out I needed two hip replacements," said Stowe, who added that she's had both during the past year. The time away from the garden took its toll, something she's still trying to catch up with this season.

"It's getting back gradually," she said, but she's still trying to simplify a bit, including phasing out her last few roses. "I hope to [garden] for many more years," she said, "but I'm 82... you have to be practical."

BETWEEN THE LINES

Excitement at Boyne library keeps building

By ANGELA SHULTIS

It's amazing how the effects of the gift bestowed upon the Boyne District Library by the Mary K. Peabody Foundation just keep going and going, like ripples from a pebble dropped into the water.

The excitement of the building project was, at the time, certainly contagious. It was difficult not to get excited as the plans, and eventually the building itself, took shape. I, for one, had a wonderful front row view of the day-to-day progress of the building project from my office window. Through the project, I can often recall talking to library director Nannette Miller on the phone about the project while checking out what workers were doing at that moment in time.

But once the dust had settled, the doors had opened, and the harried and hard-working staff were finally allowed to make the place their own, one might expect that things just went on, business as usual.

And certainly, there's a lot of truth to that. Folks came and went, checking out and returning books, gradually, I'm sure, spending less and less time gawking at the amazing transformation of the building and more time on the books inside. The staff continued on, doing all the things they'd done before to keep the library running smoothly. Things have quieted down, ostensibly, and the library is no longer a weekly, or even bi-weekly, feature in the paper.

But that doesn't mean that there's nothing to be excited about.

Anyone who's a part of any service, school, or government group around town has probably, at one point or another over the past few months, attended a meeting or function in the library's new Community Room. Library staff member Dava Maat recently told me that the room is used nearly every night. I personally have attended a school board meeting, a city commission meeting, and a couple of library functions in the room already. So my question to Dava was, how in the world did we get along without it? Talk about filling a need.

The library, too, with its newly-expanded staff and abundance of elbow room, has the opportunity to do so much more now than before the project. Witness the Wednesday Workshops and other community programs the library has had in recent months, and is planning for the near future. The recent Antiques Appraisal night, which boasted about 50 attendees, got rave reviews.

Area kids are also reaping the benefits, evidenced by this summer's Reading Road Trip program, a fabulous success by all accounts; the Boyne District Library group's attendance exceeded even the Petoskey library's program this year by a long shot. The preschool reading program was so popular that staff had to add an additional time to keep up with the demand.

And when kids' book author Jonathan Rand visited recently, the Community Room was, almost literally, bursting at the seams.

I could go on, but my point is this: with all the negativity seen so publicly of late, it's important to note that there are plenty of extraordinary things going on more quietly and behind the scenes, all over town. The Boyne District Library is one fine example of community support and strength at its best.

And don't forget, the library's Endowment Fund needs to keep growing along with the library in order to keep things moving forward. For more information, call the library at 582-7861.

You can help build a dream

TO THE EDITOR:

Since October 2000, the Boyne Area Creative Playground Committee has been preparing for the construction of an awesome 11,000 square foot wooden play structure to be built in Veteran's Park in Boyne City Sept. 19 through 23. The five-day event will bring the entire community together to make this dream playground a reality for our children.

The playground was designed by the imaginations and drawings of area children. More than $62,000 has been collected due to fund-raising efforts, grants, and generous donations from area businesses, individuals and service organizations. We are now over half way to our goal of $120,000.

Our current fund-raiser is the raffle of an 8x10 foot log playhouse. Many thanks go to Dave Mittig, Lee Kauranen, Gregg MacNaughton and Bill Davis of New Vision Construction in Boyne City; and Nord Schroeder, Dale Sutton and Matt Johncheck of Nord Schroeder Builders, who worked long hours volunteering their carpentry skills to create the cedar play structure in time for its trip down Water Street in Boyne City for the 4th of July parade. Materials to build the playhouse were donated by Town & Country Cedar Homes of Petoskey. The drawing will be held Sept. 1, 2001 at 2 p.m. at Boyne City Veteran's Park during the Boyne City Labor Day Car Show.

Tickets are $1 each or six tickets for $5 and are available at City Hall, Sunburst Marine, Boyne Country Books and Pearle Vision in Boyne City, by contacting any committee member, or by calling Scott McKenzie at 582-0486.

We are also selling pickets for the fence to be built around the play area. For $25 you can purchase a picket and have your child's or family's name engraved on it. Plaques for the sidewalk are also available for $100. Carters Community Cash receipts are being collected and can be left at canisters in various businesses and at City Hall.

We now need many volunteers, material donations and financial donations to complete this unique playground. Donations are tax deductible. You do not have to be a skilled woodworker or carpenter to help build this imaginative playground. Child care will be provided during construction.

If you wish to volunteer, or make a financial or material donation, please contact me (582-2889), Ann Parks (582-9076) or Scott MacKenzie. In the spirit of community and love for our children, please join us Sept. 19 through 23 to help build a dream!

Dedication

The Knights of Columbus, Boyne Valley Council 6314, recently dedicated three monuments placed as "Tombs to the Unborn." The group attended dedication ceremonies at St. Augustine's in Boyne Falls, St. Joseph's Cemetery in East Jordan, and St. Matthew's in Boyne City. The ceremonies were officiated by Bishop Patrick R. Cooney of the Gaylord Diocese.

Simple measures can help prevent "Swimmers' Itch"

Cases of "swimmers' itch" have been reported in the area, and the local health department is informing the public about measures they can take to eliminate or reduce exposure to the skin rash.

"Swimmers' itch is a skin rash caused by certain parasites of birds and mammals," said Joshua R. Meyerson, MD, MPH, medical director for Northwest Michigan Community Health Agency, which serves Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego counties.

Birds, snails, and parasitic worms are linked together in a very complex relationship, he explained. Parasites are released from infected snails and migrate through waters used for swimming. People who swim or wade in infested water may experience the itching rash. Children are often infected due to their habits of swimming or wading in the water and playing on the beach as the water evaporates from the skin.

Parasites may enter the skin of bathers or swimmers in different ways, Dr. Meyerson explained. "Some penetrate while the individual is swimming, while other species appear to enter only after the person has emerged from the water," he said. "In any event, entry is sometimes felt as a dull, prickly and itchy sensation."

A victim's first exposure to infested water may not result in the itchy rash. Repeated exposure increases a person's sensitivity to the parasite and increases the likelihood of rash development. In sensitized individuals, a small reddened area will develop at the entrance site of each parasite. After 24 hours, the reddened areas reach their largest size. Swimmers who have repeated exposures may see an increase in the size of the affected areas, especially if aggravated by persistent and intense itching.

Intermittent periods of itching will continue for several days. The victim suffers the most during the first four or five days after exposure. After a week, the itching and reddened areas usually disappear, leaving a spot that resembles a small bruise.

Those exposed to swimmers' itch should contact their physician or health care provider when the diagnosis is unclear, complications such as infection are present, or the reaction is intensely itchy and intolerable. Treatment is available for relief of the itching and secondary infection.

Meyerson said several measures can be followed to eliminate or reduce the problem.

First, avoid situations that encourage birds to remain in areas where people frequent the water. Feeding birds should be strongly discouraged.

Second, some species of snails deposit their eggs on concrete walls or on rocks that have been used as rip-rap to prevent shoreline erosion. The rocks serve as a base for snail eggs and protect against wave action. Avoid exposure to these rocks, Meyerson suggests.

Third, it appears that most swimmers make contact with parasites while swimming on the eastern and southern side of lakeshores. The reason appears to lie in the fact that the parasite of some species float to the surface of the water and drift with the wind to the shore. Because winds in Michigan are often westerly or northerly, people contact the parasites on eastern and southern shores.

Continuous swimming or wading along the shore should be avoided because large numbers of parasites can accumulate there. Immediate and thorough towel-drying after leaving the water, Dr. Meyerson said, can help. Floating parasites are sticky and attach to the body as the swimmer leaves the water. "When emerging from the water, the parasite enters the skin as the body air dries. By immediately and thoroughly towel-drying all areas of your body, you can help prevent the parasite from entering the skin," he said.

For more information, contact your health care provider or local health agency.

Stowe garden

Stowe may be 82, but a youthful one, probably owing in part to the work involved with maintaining her beloved gardens. The exercise, she said, is wonderful. "I swim all winter out at the pool in East Jordan, three days a week," she said. "But I don't even consider it in the summer. I'd rather be right here."

THE SECRET to successful gardening, she said, is a simple one. "You have to have the love of doing it," said Stowe. "It's a full time job and I love every minute of it. It's a passion, just like any other passion."

A little bit of luck doesn't hurt either, especially where the garden-loving local deer herd is concerned. Stowe's garden is remarkable in the fact that it's relatively free of the telltale bare spots and clipped off plants left behind when the deer have come calling. Even her hostas are lush and full, and there's not an electrical fence in sight. "I leave the stalks on the hostas," she said, "because I think it protects the plants."

Indeed, upon closer inspection, visitors will note that the stalks on Stowe's hostas are all chewed off at the top, but the leaves show no sign of damage. She's trying to get her son to leave the stalks on his hostas, in his garden, she said, though not with much success so far. He's always in a hurry to take them off, she said, "and all his plants get eaten up."

Scattering dried blood as a deterrent seems to work for her as well, Stowe said, in keeping the four-legged pests from feasting. "Nothing else works," she said.

Garden phlox is the one thing she hasn't been able to keep the deer out of, save for a couple she's now got protected with wire. "I learned that's the thing they love the best," she said.

FOR HER PART, Stowe's garden is based on picking out the things she loves best, including irises, rudbekia, and, of course, daylilies, along with a variety of other, true lilies. Rather than stick to a stringent, pre-determined planting design, Stowe buys what she likes and then uses her eye to determine where each plant needs to be. Surveying the garden in bloom, she said, gives her the opportunity to "say 'I need a white here, a yellow there.'"

She's also not afraid to move plants to accommodate her ever-evolving vision, a trait she also probably inherited from her mother. "People would say, 'how does she manage, [moving a plant that's] full-grown, in bloom?' But she did it," said Stowe, who also does it, with enviable results.

The end product is a look worthy of Mother Nature, with drifts of flowers blending one into the other, in a colorful expanse which includes her special favorites alongside a wide variety of other plants such as coneflowers, daisies, veronica, baby's breath, bellflowers, and a charming patch of gooseneck loosestrife.

Stowe's garden features not only glorious flowers but quaint touches, such as this tidy-looking storage shed, that become integral parts of the garden landscape.

Plenty of Stowe's time is spent on necessary chores, like deadheading, to keep the garden at its best.

Not that she hasn't had her flops, she said. But this is the way a gardener learns. For example, in recent years Stowe has tried to grow delphinium, and in that time, left unprotected, they've been killed by the harsh northern Michigan winters. "This year, I've decided I'm going to cover them, now that I know I can't [keep them alive unprotected]," she said.

Planting tansy, too, was a boo-boo that Stowe is still paying for, and certainly won't repeat. "It's so invasive," she said.

When she does have a little too much of something, and it's threatening to take over her garden, she doesn't have to look too far to find eager takers for what she has to spare. "I have granddaughters that live out of state that love to come [and collect slips]," Stowe laughs. "They both have gardens they call 'Grandma's Garden.'" The offer stands for most folks who show an interest, too. "I tell everybody the same thing," she said.

THOUGH GARDENING is a great passion for Stowe, the possibility of being able to do it year-round, oft-dreamed of by many northern gardeners, doesn't tempt her. "I look forward to it so much in the spring," she said, "and I do so much planning through the winter."

Anyway, she added, folks she knows in some warmer year-round gardening climates like Florida, for instance, "can't do a thing outside" in the summer.

"They're either in an air-conditioned car or an air-conditioned house." She's happy, then, to enjoy the season to the fullest, in a way many area gardeners, and most area residents in general, can relate to — making the most of the glorious possibilities.

Boyer school board one step closer to choosing interim superintendent

bers present had very specific requirements in mind for the potential candidate, Eckhardt reminded those attending that the interim candidate wouldn't likely have to meet the long-term needs of the district. "To use an analogy, this isn't going to be a marriage, it's going to be an affair," he said. "It will serve you, meet your needs for a short time," including, he said, getting through the building project, contract negotiations for the upcoming school year, and other financial considerations.

Some of the qualifications suggested in the meeting were: experience on a building project; negotiation skills; encouraging community involvement; people management skills; and skills in curriculum.

Eckhardt indicated at the meeting that he knew of five potential candidates who have shown an interest in the position, and was currently reviewing qualifications. At the meeting, the board officially appointed the Char-Em ISD to act as consultants in the contracting of an interim.

According to school board president Ed Vondra in an interview late last week, the board expects a recommendation from Eckhardt this week, and will likely appoint a candidate to the position at either the next regular meeting of the school board, on Aug. 13, or possibly at a special meeting to be determined.

Though most at the meeting were eager to give input, there was an overall feeling that it's time to move forward on putting an interim in place, especially in light of the short time before the first day of school. "We need to get this done and over with," said school board treasurer Jim Stackus, "so we can move on to other things." Board vice president Cathy Allen concurred, noting that "There's a month before school [starts]. We don't have time to waste..."

While the information gathered at the meeting may have been valuable for Eckhardt and the board, the experience was appreciated by some in the audience simply as a step in the right direction in terms of increasing community involvement in the board's decision-making process.

"Thank you," said Boyne City Foundation for Excellence in Education president Pete Friedrich. "I think [the meeting] was a good idea [and brings us] one step closer to the healing process."

Local citizen Floyd Wright added that "the board is to be commended for calling us in. I think they have listened to our input. They've done what they set out to do. Good job."

The position has been held by temporary interim superintendent Mary Jason since June, when she was appointed to replace departing superintendent Dana Compton. Compton had earlier resigned the position effective June of 2002, but later accepted a buyout offer from the school board, ending his employment in June of this year.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board also approved a recommendation from athletic director Steve Beyer for the district to participate with Student Assurance Services, Inc. for athletic student accident insurance, a change from the district's long-time insurance carrier First Agency.

Though First Agency offered to match the premium bid submitted by Student Assurance, the board decided to switch carriers in light of the fact that Student Assurance came in with the low bid first. In addition, said Vondra, the fact that Student Assurance Services is a local carrier influenced the board's decision.

The cost for athletic student accident insurance approved for the 2001-02 school year is $9,300 plus catastrophic coverage at an additional cost of $675.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY 4-H youth will participate in an international art exhibition in China. Nine Michigan counties, including Charlevoix, will be represented at the 2001 Sichuan Peoples Republic of China International Children's Painting Exhibition. Children from all over the world were invited to participate. Ten pieces of Michigan children's art were sent to China in May. Local young artist Alexus Nalbock from Concord Academy was selected to send her art to China. Also recognized for their outstanding work were Zach Thorpe from Concord Academy Boyne, and Bridget Peters, Jacob Wimmer, and Megan Zawisza from St. Mary's in Charlevoix. The children's artwork will be on display at Kettunen Center near Tustin, Mich. from late fall 2001 through Aug. 31, 2002. Children could choose any

He's got game

■ Frankie Roselli qualifies for Junior Golf Championship

By AMANDA RUIS

When Boyne City teen Frankie Roselli started playing in the Traverse City Junior Golf Tour, he had hopes of qualifying for the Junior Golf Championship in August.

His hopes were realized a few weeks ago when he took second place in a tournament at the Interlochen Golf Course with a score of 89. The second place finish qualified him to play in the Championship tournament.

Roselli, who moved to the area from Naples, Fla., and will be a sophomore at Boyne City High School in the fall, is very excited about his second place finish in the Interlochen tournament. "I did pretty good," he says. "I was frustrated on a few holes, but I knew it was a tough course."

Roselli says he puts in at least 15 hours of practice a week, mostly at Springbrook Golf Course in Walloon Lake, where he shot his personal best score the day before the Interlochen tournament.

Qualifying for the Traverse City Junior Golf Championship is quite an accomplishment for Roselli, who first started playing golf just a few years ago.

"I played with my grandpa when I was younger, and I started liking it more and more," he says. "I just like when you're just stepping up to hit the shot and you stick it right next to the pin."

Roselli will be the only Boyne City golfer playing in the Traverse City Junior Golf Championship, which will be held Aug. 6 at the Traverse City Country Club.

New program will help monitor Lake Charlevoix

Thanks to a grant from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation to cover start-up funds, the Lake Charlevoix Association is launching a new Ambassador program, intended to encourage attention to and the appropriate use of the waters of Lake Charlevoix.

Association volunteers will patrol the lake in their own boats, identified with a flag or boat-side sign with the word "Keeper." These Keepers will be monitoring water quality, checking for erosion sites, performing the annual boat count, upgrading the lakeshore database for ownership and type of shoreline, spotting individual examples of exemplary shoreline management for commendation, and just plain being visible and identifiable as a reminder of the importance of the lake's water quality.

Meanwhile, on shore, a telephone answering machine will be waiting to record questions and comments about Lake Charlevoix and its ecology. The Keeper on duty will check in with the machine, field the questions, and return calls. Anyone with questions or comments can call 547-4003.

Scott MacEwen of the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council will provide expert information for the Ambassador program.

Anyone with a boat who might be interested in participating in the program can call 547-4003. The program is also looking for a single, suitable boat for the Keepers for next season. Anyone who has a 20-24 foot boat, mostly open, to donate is asked to call.

HEALTH TIPS FROM MEDICAP PHARMACY

Children Are Exposed To E. coli At Petting Zoos And Fairs
The CDC has issued new guidelines and warnings for farm animal exhibits. They stress the need for more hand washing facilities and the banning of hand-to-mouth contact close to animals. Children touch goats, cows, and other animals and put their hands to their mouths either by eating, drinking, or sucking their fingers or pacifiers. Parents and care givers should be aware of the risks of E. coli and take the necessary steps to keep their children safe.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

KEELY STARK-BEHLING, daughter of Maxine and Rex Stark-Behling of Boyne City, and David Frye of Petoskey, son of Carol Winters of Carp Lake and Joel Frye of Levering, were married on Saturday, July 21, 2001, at the First Presbyterian Church. The lovely afternoon ceremony was officiated by Pastor Brent Hammer of Walloon Lake. A reception was held at the Hudson Township Hall where the 200 friends and relatives shared in this special time. Among those attending were the Stark-Behling's former exchange student, Julietta Manzanilla of Mexico City, aunts and uncle, Mary and Jay Hawley of Ogden, Utah, and Marcia Lazarz of Park Forest, Ill., who also visited parents, brothers and sisters. Jim and Anne Willson Littlejohns of Florida were here to attend the wedding and visit family Dave and Paygie Willson, Marcia Perkins, and Ruth and Dick Stark. The newlyweds took a honeymoon trip to Sapphire Valley, North Carolina.

NORMA AND LARRY BEAN and his sisters Mary Carson and Sally Looze, all of Boyne City, have returned from five wonderful days visiting brother Bob Bean and wife Noreen in Chicago.

DARLENE BRICKER has returned to Boyne after attending the Fiddler's Jamboree in the Upper Peninsula, near L'Ance. Joining her were her daughter and husband, Dixie and Bill Lahti and two children of Haslett, and Betty and Bob Brewer and daughters. On Saturday night, Frank and Connie Shaler also joined them. Darlene visited friends in Iron Mountain on Sunday, before making the trip home.

RUTH YAHR of Litzenburger Place entered the Charlevoix Area Hospital as a surgical patient this past week. It was expected that she would be recuperating at the home of her daughter Sandra Newville upon her release.

FAY AND JIM LIMRON of Boyne City were honored for their 60th wedding anniversary of Aug. 3, with a weekend of camping nearby. Their daughters Linda Felton of Boyne City, Betty Jean Austin of Durand, Diane Lutz of Colorado Springs, Colo. and their families made it a memorable event, followed by a special dinner out on Monday for the celebrating couple.

KIM MARTIN and children Madelyn and Benjamin of Grand Rapids spent the weekend in Boyne Falls with her mother, Louisa Northup and husband Nels. They joined the throngs at Charlevoix's Venetian Festival and also the Boyne City gathering of friends and neighbors enjoying the Swiss Steak Dinner at the VFW. Mid-week, Nels and Louisa spent a day in Midland with brother Murray and Jan and family.

CHARLOTTE MINER was admitted to the Charlevoix Area Hospital this past week. After several days there, she is recuperating at the home of her daughter and husband, Charlotte and Fred Simpson, expecting to be able to return to her Litzenburger Place apartment on Thursday.

VERLIN AND DOROTHY Thompson of Boyne City have returned from two weeks of experiencing "first time" thrills. Accompanying their brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. Lyle and Judy Thompson, they took their first plane ride to Alaska, to visit Lyle and Judy's daughter Becky and her husband, who are missionaries there. They climbed mountains, fished, had wonderful family-time visits and saw many many sights of interests.

IT WAS "ladies' time out" for a few Free Methodist church ladies and friends. Cindy Bullock and sister-in-law, Shirley Hunter, Betty Nicloy, Janet Mackie, Sharon McGeorge and Margaret Bennett traveled to Millersburg, Ind. where they stayed overnight at a great bed and breakfast place, ate in Amish restaurants and got their fill of the Shipshewana Flea Market bargains.

ANNE JENKINS has returned to her Boyne Falls home after an extended time of travel. She flew to Vancouver, British Columbia, where she attended the 80th birthday party of Ann Nadon in Penticton, B.C. Then, she went on to Oak Run, Calif. to the home of her daughter Julie and Wayne Nadon and family and was joined there by her sister, Grace Bailey of Mission Viejo. Leaving there, she visited her son, Gary Wade Jenkins and family in Reno, Nev. and completing the circle back to Iona for a visit with daughter June and Jim Morey. Her grandson Jeremy drove her home Sunday. He'll be staying a few days to prepare the Jenkins campground for the expected flow of avid fans of the upcoming Polish Festival.

KATHY RICE of Tecumseh arrived in Boyne City over the weekend to spend the week with her mother, Arlene Inman and family while her husband Jim is attending band camp. Kathy, a reading specialist, just finished teaching a summer school session in Detroit.

LISA AND MIKE KILKERMAN and three children of Ann Arbor arrived last Wednesday for a long visit with her parents Dot and Bill Sanderson of the Ferry Road area. Their son David Sanderson, wife Carol and three children of Petoskey came too and all enjoyed a camping by the lake reunion. And there were 12 lining the pews of the Free Methodist Church on Sunday morning!

SCOTT SUTLIFF returned to Berkeley, Calif. Monday after spending a long weekend with his parents, the Oral Sutliffs and sister and family the Kevin Fitzpatrick. He prefers being here in the summer rather than the cold at Christmas time. He enjoyed spending time with family and friends again.

OBITUARIES

Donovan Scroggie Fox

Donovan Scroggie Fox, 85, formerly of Boyne City, beloved husband, father, grandfather, and friend, died Saturday, July 28, 2001 at Munson Medical Center in Traverse City.

A family visitation will be held on Saturday, Aug. 4, at Reynolds-Jonkoff Funeral Home in Traverse City from 1-2 p.m.

A memorial service conducted by Pastor Jim Helman will immediately follow at 2 p.m.

Donovan was born on Jan. 17, 1916, in Petoskey, the son of Frank and Gertrude (Scroggie) Fox. He graduated from Boyne City High School at the age of 16.

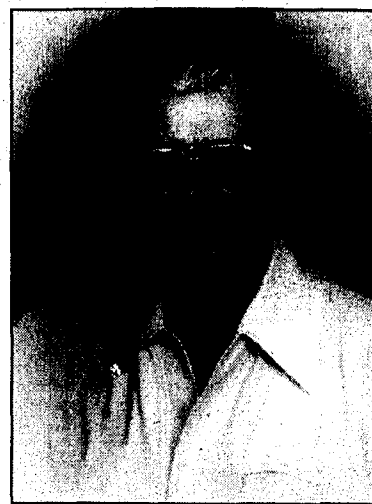

Upon graduation, he briefly attended Ferris State College until the death of his father brought him home to farm in Horton Bay.

On May 22, 1936, he married Lucille Elaine Sheaffer in Boyne City. Together they farmed until 1948 when they became affiliated with the Boyne City Fox Ben Franklin Store which they eventually bought and operated for 32 years.

During that time, Donovan served on the national Ben Franklin advisory board and also started one of the first ski businesses in Northern Michigan.

Donovan had a love of music and was a member of the Snow Belt Barbershop Chorus for many years. After retirement he continued to sing barbershop music in New Port Richey, Fla.

For many years he was also very active on the Boyne City School Board, serving in numerous capacities. He was a member of the Masonic Hall in Boyne City prior to retirement. He enjoyed traveling but found his greatest joy in following his grandson's athletic endeavors throughout the years.

Donovan Scroggie Fox

Donovan will be remembered for his gentleness, kindness to all people and his ever constant sense of humor. He indeed left this world "a little warmer, a little kinder, a little richer in love." (Nerburn)

Surviving is his wife of 65 years, Lucille Elaine of Traverse City; one daughter, Donna Lou (Larry) Manthey of Traverse City; and one grandson, Kyle Donovan Kilcherman of Ann Arbor.

He was preceded in death by his parents and sister, Margaret.

Memorials can be directed to the Alzheimer's Association of Northwest Michigan, 531 1/2 S. Union Street, Traverse City, MI 49684.

Kids and leaders gather 'round the trolley at the recent UM bible camp in Boyne.

Summer Bible school helps area kids learn to be good neighbors

The Boyne City United Methodist Church had a real adventure the week of July 22 when their Bible School theme, "Way to Go - Good Neighbor Tour" drew in around 30 children to experience the fun and the value of being a good neighbor.

Under the leadership of Linda Mansfield and Carolyn Crumbacher, and with assistance from several other members of the church, Way to Go provided a meaningful week's theme.

A lifelike trolley adorned the pulpit area, where much of the action took place. Emily Wright, the church's Youth Leader, taught the children new songs, and "Z", the camp's own Way to Go zebra, was there with questions and quips.

Every night the children learned a new word and the meaning of the word as it pertained to being a good neighbor, and every night brought a bible story, using the evening's theme word, with activities to instill the word in the lives of the children.

There were also games, crafts, lots of new and old songs, and refreshments.

The week's learning experiences culminated with a ride on the local trolley, stopping along the way to pick up "good neighbors" Flo Davis, Arvilla Dixon, Betty Kelts, and Ardith Hawley. Then it was off to the food pantry, where the group dropped off food the children had brought in all week, as a way to show they were good neighbors. Friends from the Lakeview Trailer Park also donated food items, bringing the total items given to over 400.

After the trolley ride, the children presented a program for their parents, grandparents, and friends at the church, and then enjoyed refreshments together.

The church trolley will be on display, as well as other areas of involvement in the week, at the church for anyone who would like to stop and see them.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Mary's of Boyne is second enterprise for owner of the EJ Shoppe

Mary's of Boyne, a new clothing store in Boyne City, opened its doors on April 30, and has enjoyed a successful run into the summer season.

The owner, Mary Faculak, who is also the executive director of the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce and owner of the EJ Shoppe in East Jordan, is very excited to own a business in Boyne City.

"It's been a wonderful experience," she says. "Both myself and my sales associates feel at home here, and the community and summer clients are very receptive."

She says her customers at the EJ Shoppe have been asking her to open a store in Boyne City, and that was a driving factor in her decision to open Mary's of Boyne.

Mary's features men's and women's clothing, including plus and petite sizes, and she will also be carrying children's clothing beginning in August. Faculak says her store carries such popular brand names as Koret and Susan Bristol, has an extensive jewelry collection, and features novelty items.

When that publication was sold, she moved into retail, working as a manager at Trademark Clothiers of Charlevoix before buying the EJ Shoppe 13 years ago.

However, more important than the clothing, she says, is the service.

"Our customers are the why we're here, and we're here for them," she says. "Our customers are well taken care of."

Faculak also points out that the walls of her store are decorated with paintings by local artists. All of the paintings are for sale, and it "adds a different dimension to our store," she says.

Faculak relies on her sales staff a great deal, since she is always on the go between the two stores, the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce, and her family.

"I'm a people person, and I'm happiest when I'm on the move," she says. "I like a lot of excitement."

Faculak grew up in Charlevoix on her family farm, and spent several years as a travel editor for the Northern Michigan Weekend.

She says the difference between the EJ Shoppe and Mary's of Boyne is that she built Mary's from the ground up, while the EJ Shoppe was already an existing store when she bought it.

In her spare time, Faculak enjoys writing, working on the farm, and riding any one of her six registered quarterhorses.

Mary's of Boyne is located at 108 Little Caesar's Pizza and Family Dollar, Jordan Valley Rehabilitation Center offers rehabilitative services to patients who have had orthopedic or neurological problems, sports injuries, strokes, and vertigo. Everyone from pediatrics to geriatrics is seen.

Heading up the staff at Jordan Valley Rehabilitation Center is physical therapist Mike Aenis. Assisting him is Amy Vipond, a physical therapy assistant. Both Aenis and Vipond will be helping patients with sports injuries, brain injuries, and everything currently being treated at Charlevoix Area Hospital's Physical Rehabilitation department and Boyne Rehabilitation Center in Boyne City.

"We can treat orthopedic patients, both pre- and post-operatively," Aenis said. "We treat patients with knee, hip, back, shoulder problems everything. We wish to provide more convenient physical rehabilitation care to our patients in the Jordan Valley community."

Water therapy and aquatic physical therapy will be offered as well at the East Jordan Community Pool by Linda DeGrow, physical therapist.

"Patients at Jordan Valley Rehabilitation Center will be treated using manual therapy, ultrasound, traction, electrical stimulation, exercise, and forms of therapy related to return to work activities," Aenis said.

"We have traction tables, a treadmill, a total gym, a stationery bike, weights, balance equipment, hot and cold packs, and the capability to do some minor wound care."

Jordan Valley Rehabilitation Center is accepting patients Monday through Thursday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday from 7 a.m. to 12 noon. The staff hopes to expand the hours soon. For more information, call 536-1451.

MULTIPLE FAMILY HOUSING PROJECT - Ordinance No. A-81

2nd READING AND CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF ORDINANCE A-81, MULTIPLE FAMILY HOUSING ORDINANCE, TAX EXEMPTION AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the City Commissioners of the City of Boyne City, County of Charlevoix, MI held at City Hall in said City the 24th day of July 2001 at 12 noon, the following Ordinance A-81 to City of Boyne City General Ordinances, was presented and approved as a First Reading, the following is a synopsis of that ordinance:

An Ordinance to provide for a service charge in lieu of taxes for a proposed multiple family dwelling project for persons of low income to be financed or assisted pursuant to the provisions of the State Housing Development Authority Act of 1966, as amended.

THE CITY OF BOYNE CITY ORDAINS:

This Ordinance shall be known and cited as the "City of Boyne City Tax Exemption Ordinance."

Preamble

It is acknowledged that it is a proper public purpose of the State of Michigan and its political subdivisions to provide housing for its citizens of low income and to encourage the development of such housing by providing for a service charge in lieu of property taxes in accordance with the State Housing Development Authority Act of 1966. The City of Boyne City is authorized by this Act to establish or change the service charge to be paid in lieu of taxes by any or all classes of housing exempt from taxation under this Act at any amount it chooses, not to exceed the taxes that would be paid but for this Act.

City of Boyne City acknowledges that Boyne City Limited Partnership (the Sponsor) has offered, subject to receipt of a Mortgage Loan from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority, to erect, own and operate a housing development, identified as Court Street Project on certain property located near Court, Park and High Streets, Section 27, near Chapman and Addis' Addition to Spring Harbor, in the City of Boyne City, to serve persons of low income, and that the Sponsor has offered to pay the City on account of this housing development an annual service charge for public services in lieu of all taxes.

Establishment of Annual Service Charge

The Housing Development identified as Court Street Project and the property on which it shall be constructed shall be exempt from all property taxes from and after the commencement of construction. The annual service charge shall be equal to 3% of the difference between the Annual Shelter Rents actually collected and Utilities.

Limitation on the Payment of Annual Service Charge

Notwithstanding Section 5, the service charge to be paid each year in lieu of taxes for the part of the Housing Development which is tax exempt and which is occupied by other than low income persons or families shall be equal to the full amount of the taxes which would be paid on that portion of the Housing Development if the Housing Development were not tax exempt.

Payment of Service Charge

The annual service charge in lieu of taxes as determined under the Ordinance shall be payable in the same manner as general property taxes are payable to the City of Boyne City except that the annual payment shall be paid on or before December 31 of each year.

Notice is hereby given that the Second Reading and Consideration of Adoption of Ordinance A-81 will be held at the City Commission Meeting on Tuesday, 28 August, 2001 at 12 noon in the Commission Chambers, 319 North Lake Street. A copy of the entire text of this ordinance is available at the City Clerk's office at the above address during normal business hours. This ordinance shall be published within ten days following final enactment and shall take effect fifteen (15) days following final enactment. The Public is invited to attend this meeting and give input into the adoption of Ordinance A-81.

It's annoying when hotels are filled and restaurants don't have tables and flights are oversold, but you can live with it.

What about when you have chest pains and the E.R. is already crowded?

Our community is growing dramatically and so are demands on the hospital. Over 16,000 people were treated in our E.R. last year and by 2015 the number is expected to reach 36,000. It has been almost 25 years since the last major capital campaign and now it is time to expand and modernize our facilities and equipment again, including construction of a new emergency department. The goal of the current capital campaign is to raise $15 million of the funding required to make necessary improvements.

Call today and pledge your support. Somebody's future might depend on it, maybe even yours. (231) 487-4800
