Serving East Jordan, Boyne City and surrounding areas

AT A GLANCE

Doug Stone to headline Country Music Spectacular

Country music stars Doug Stone and The Larkins will headline the Boyne City Firefighters 18th annual Country Music Spectacular, scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 23, at Boyne City High School. Showtime will be 5 p.m. Last minute tickets will be sold at the door.

BCFFEE to host "Top 100" party and dance

The Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence is inviting community members to "dance the night away," or just sit back and reminisce, to The Top 100 Songs of the 20th Century, at Boyne Mountain Civic Center on Saturday, Sept. 22, at 6:30 p.m.

The evening will include hors d'oeuvres, a cash bar, and a silent auction. A six-CD set containing the songs played through the evening will also be raffled off. The cost is $15 per person, with proceeds to benefit the BCFFEE Fine Arts program.

Tickets are available at Lynda's Real Estate, Boyne Country Books, the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce, RE/MAX of Boyne, Boyne City High School or from any Foundation member.

EJ chamber will host BAH event

On Wednesday, Sept. 19, the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce will host a special "progressive" Business After Hours, from 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Participants can register and begin the event at the E.J. Shoppe downtown, and then move on down the line for food, drinks, fun, and prizes.

The cost is $3 for chamber members, and $5 for non-members. The event is sponsored by the following businesses: The E.J. Shoppe, Vanity Faire (Sunnyside Up Tanning, Nail Nook, Tinea's Hair Connection), Two Dog Deli, and The Computer Center.

Boyne City gets ready for Harvest Fest

As the days grow shorter and cooler, Boyne City is gearing up for the annual Fall Harvest Festival. Scheduled for the weekend of Oct. 5 and 6, the festival will bring hordes of scarecrows to town, along with a harvest market of pumpkins, apples, honey, mums, jams, jellies, and other fall favorites.

Exhibitions of pumpkin sculpting and scissors wizardry for kids will also be on tap, along with a juried arts and crafts show on Saturday. An historic encampment, musical entertainment, and petting zoo will round out the family fun. Free trolley color tours will be available on Saturday. For more information, call the chamber at 582-6222.

A Nation Mourns

American flags across the country, including this one in Boyne City's Veteran's Memorial Park, continue to fly at half-mast a full week after the shocking terrorist attack on New York City and Washington D.C. As the country waits for authorities to bring the perpetrators to light, and to justice, local residents are finding ways to cope, and to help. For more photos and word on local reaction, see pages 3 and 4.

Residents try to find ways to cope

As the days pass since last week's horrific terrorist attacks on the United States, the country continues to work to recover from both the emotional shock and the physical reality of the tragedy. As citizens of New York and Washington D.C. struggle to come to terms with the devastation left behind, folks all across the country are also looking for ways to cope, including those in northern Michigan.

For many, the last week has been about first processing the terrible images that continue to come through us via news coverage that has dominated television, newspapers and magazines, and second, to find some way to take action.

Initially, though, for local citizens as for people worldwide, the reaction was disbelief. Gerald Evans of the Boyne City American Legion heard about the attack as he was in the car on the way to the Legion Hall. Upon returning home, he saw the TV coverage, and found himself, like most others, in a state of disbelief. "I couldn't believe it," he said. "It was almost like watching a movie, it almost looked like special effects." Countless other local community members reacted in kind, glued to their TVs and radios, waiting for the next piece of information, fearing the worst. Area homes and businesses went quiet, save for the radio updates and the occasional phone call from a loved one checking in.

Some, like Charlevoix County Community Foundation director Bob Tambellini, found themselves hit much closer to home. Tambellini's daughter, Daria, who lives in Brooklyn and works in central Manhattan, was a witness to the attack (see story on page 3), and for a brief, tense time, unable to reach her loved ones to let them know she was safe.

Despite the events of the day, others attempted to maintain some semblance of normalcy. Schools continued on with classes as scheduled. The City of Boyne City carried on with its regularly scheduled city commission meeting on Tuesday evening, though the mood was considerably different than a meeting on a normal night. According to city clerk Sue Hobbs, there had been discussion of cancelling the meeting, but it was decided to carry on, with Boyne City mayor Eleanor Stackus calling for a moment of silence and making a proclamation to lower the flags in the city to half-mast. Turnout was, as one might expect, minimal. "We pretty much just wanted to get

It's building time

After more than a year of planning, the Boyne Area Creative Playground project is underway. Construction of the 11,000 square foot playstructure, which will replace current outdated playground equipment, is taking place from Sept. 19-23 in Veteran's Memorial Park. Though construction has already begun, according to organizers, more hands are always welcome and needed in this true community project.

According to playground committee member Debbie Day, construction will be ongoing through the course of the five days, with work beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing until dark. The goal is, Day said, to have all work completed by 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Volunteers of all skill levels are needed, with skilled workers in highest demand for the initial stages on Wednesday, Sept. 19, and Thursday, Sept. 20. The five-day project includes all work, including finishing steps like sanding and staining, and organizers expect to need about 200 adult volunteers each day to make the project a success. Workers will be fed breakfast, lunch, and dinner each day, and childcare will be provided.

The construction is the culmination of more than a year's worth of planning and fund-raising, with a vision of creating a safe and creative, as well as centrally located, playground for area kids. The committee, led by chairperson Scott MacKenzie, signed on with Leathers & Associates for the design and execution of the project. Leathers, with more than 20 years of experience, has helped more than 1,000 projects reach completion for communities all around the country.

To make sure that the Boyne City playstructure really reflected the children of the community who will be using it, the committee arranged a Design Day in the school district in the fall of 2000. Kids were invited to submit their ideas, encouraged to draw anything that their "dream playground" might include.

Those drawings were utilized by the Leathers design team to create a playground that includes truly local elements such as morel mushrooms, a sailing ship with a wavy slide, and a lighthouse. The structure chosen will be constructed of wood-framing and recycled plastic for all contact surfaces.

After the design was in place, the fund-raising aspect of the project really kicked in, with an overall goal of $120,000. Committee members put the word out to area service clubs and organizations, and grants were applied for. Organizers also held fundraisers, including a Mid-Winter Ball, to give the community a fun way to contribute to the project.

To date, the committee has raised upwards of $80,000, including material donations, and will continue to work towards achieving the goal.

This week, though, the focus is on the creating. To volunteer, call Day at 536-7809 or Ann Parks at 582-9076.

Community members are gathering this week in Veteran's Memorial Park in Boyne City to help build the new community playstructure. Organizers expect to need many hands, indeed, anticipating a need for up to 200 people a day to make the project a success.

BETWEEN THE LINES

Words are hard to find

By ANGELA SHULTIS

There's so much, and so little to say. It's disconcerting to someone like me, who relies on the dependability of words for my livelihood, to find that there are none adequate to express what we're all feeling right now.

Regardless of whether or not we can name it, though, we all nod knowingly as we listen to each other speak of last week's terrorist attack, acknowledging that we're all experiencing that same numb and nameless thing.

We'll all remember, always, where we were when the news first broke. Here at The Citizen-Journal, our staff was busy with the always-hectic Tuesday morning task of readying the week's edition for the trip to the press. When I first arrived at work, school enrollment numbers and weekend sports scores seemed of supreme importance. Within the hour, though, as the DJ broke into the music to announce that a plane had hit one of the towers of the World Trade Center, that feeling began to move in. By the time word came that the first tower had fallen, a thick silence had fallen over the office. We spent the next hours, like millions of other Americans, listening and waiting, unable to fully comprehend what we were hearing.

The urge for many of us was to touch base with loved ones, even those nearby, far from the danger of what was happening on the East Coast. There was comfort somehow in knowing that those we loved were, at least, still here and okay. For others in the community, I'm sure, those impulses were less easily satisfied — with friends or family in the area of the disaster, I can only imagine how agonizing those hours must have been.

In the days that have followed, the initial disbelief has given way to a flood of stories — individual accounts, folks that had been there, had seen it with their own eyes, and those that had taken it upon themselves to charge into the wreckage to do whatever they could to help.

Most disturbing, I think, are the accounts of cell phone calls to friends and loved ones from the hijacked planes — final words of love and goodbye from people who knew, who were agonizingly aware, that they were doomed. I cannot imagine a more horrifying end than that which these innocent individuals suffered. The stories, I know, are almost more than most of us can bear.

But along with those stories are other images that give some comfort. Rescue workers pulling together, the height of courage and selflessness, to charge headlong into the horror. Thousands flocking to give blood, money and supplies to aid those who've been affected. Millions of Americans, forgetting suddenly whether we're Republican or Democrats (an astounding feat considering the petty squabbles and partisanship of recent years) and finding the common ground of love of country and commitment to the preservation of freedom. In a nation that's been reduced in recent times to infighting and ugly name-calling, it's a relief, almost, to see that we do, indeed, have some basic human beliefs that we can all get behind.

While on the one hand the crisis has brought out much of what I believe is the best of America, it has, lamentably, brought out some of what is the worst of America as well. Most notably the gas-price gouging, which occurred the evening of the attack, no less. Some local gas stations, including some in Boyne City, were among those nationwide that raised prices to outrageous levels as panicked motorists flocked to the stations, fearing even higher prices or a gas shortage in the days to come. After lowering prices the next morning, some oil companies issued statements, explaining that the rise in prices had occurred in the hope of discouraging a run on gas after notification from suppliers that gas supplies might be short. They were looking out for us, they say. I say bunk — anyone knows that rapidly rising gas prices will accomplish nothing in such a crisis but to bring folks straight to the pump. To take advantage of a nation of confused and frightened citizens in the name of profit is reprehensible — all those involved should be ashamed.

Despite such distasteful acts of greed, though, I think Americans in general have shown great unity across all generations, social class, and political affiliation. Our local communities, specifically East Jordan, Boyne City, and Boyne Falls, have all risen to the challenge with swiftness and compassion, driven especially by our young people. We continue to grieve, to be sure, but we're finding ways to overcome this, as we have overcome so many monumental events in our history.

The crisis, it seems, is far from over. There's talk of inevitable military retaliation, of impending war. And that feeling, a mix of fear and grief and shock and anger, is still very much there. Certainly, we've lost whatever innocence we had left. All we can do now, though, is watch and wait.

Ready to lend a hand for playground

TO THE EDITOR:

The Community Involvement Team at Harbor Industries has designated Thursday, Sept. 20, as a Day of Caring. Fifteen of our employees have volunteered to go over to Boyne City and pitch in at the new Creative Playground. A lot of our employees live in Boyne City and are eager to help out in any way they can.

Harbor Industries is a great supporter of local events and organizations and we want to "challenge" other businesses to do the same. I am a Boyne City resident and am very proud of Harbor's participation in this worthy cause.

Sincerely,
Debra Kelts
Harbor Industries

Pastors plan community service

TO THE EDITOR:

We, among the pastors active in the Boyne City Ministerial Association, are anticipating new challenges and opportunities in the many and varied arenas of our community life in the near future.

Along with you, we know we are at a transition point in our lives together with a new school year started, welcoming an interim school superintendent, and looking forward to selecting a new permanent superintendent. We also recognize the ongoing contributions of our leaders in local government, public safety personnel, and all the staff and volunteers it takes to keep our community moving forward.

To speak to these our concerns and hopes, the pastors and churches of the Boyne City Ministerial Association will be offering a Service of Thanksgiving and Prayer for God's Help. It will be held in the Boyne City Elementary School cafeteria on Sunday, Sept. 30, at 4 p.m.

Everyone in the community and the surrounding area is invited. We extend an invitation especially to students, parents, teachers, administrators and the school boards of all our school systems and home schools. We also wish to include the leaders of our city and township governments as well as employees and staff of those units. In addition we want to be sure to include those who protect us on our ambulance crews and our police and fire fighters, both hired and volunteer together.

Our desire is to recognize and thank those who serve our community in a public capacity. We want to pray for their protection and for their dedication in service to us all. We also want to pray for God's guidance for us in the immediate future of our community. We will ask God to bring unity over the important decisions to be made as well as charity and civility as we work toward solutions to the problems facing us.

The pastors of your community wish to offer what we can to help us all in a fresh start at the beginning of a new school year. Please prayerfully consider joining with us in this important service of worship.

In Christian care,
Rev. Carl Q. Litchfield and seven other Pastors of the Boyne City Ministerial Association

High school hosting open house

TO THE EDITOR:

Here is our best construction update yet — we have a new look at Boyne City High School, come and see for yourselves. Boyne City Public Schools would like to invite everyone in the surrounding community to come and join us on Tuesday, Sept. 25, at the existing high school at 5 p.m. to have a look at the renovations that have taken place over the summer.

It will be a great time for people to come and see all the new and exciting things that have taken place here, and will also afford them a chance to meet our new superintendent, Mr. Jim Cooper. Jim comes to us with knowledge of the area from his tenure in Harbor Springs, and with a passion to teach and care for our children. He looks forward to moving Boyne City Public Schools to the forefront of northern Michigan education. So come early, and have the chance to meet and talk with him.

This is also high school orientation night at the school, so many will be able to meet some of our new staff members, as well as some of your old favorites.

There will be snacks and punch for everyone, so come on in and check out YOUR renewed high school. Just another reason to be proud to live in Boyne City. See you there!

A PASTOR'S PERSPECTIVE

Don't let anger turn to hate

By RUSS HAGER

On Sept. 11, 2001 the world saw one of the most horrific, single-day events to ever happen in modern day. Islamic extremist terrorists hijacked commercial aircraft and then flew them into the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. We all sat around our televisions as the day's events started to unfold and the loss of human life started becoming a reality before our eyes. In anger, we watched as the citizens of Palestine danced in the streets and passed out candy in celebration of this heinous attack on innocent American citizens. Our one thought is we should go over and nuke them, that would teach them a lesson. Many of us would like to get our deer rifles out and declare open season. We are very angry at what has happened and we want revenge!!! But I must ask this question, what does the Bible say?

It says in Deuteronomy 30:19-20 "I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse. So choose life in order that you might live, you and your descendants, by loving the Lord your God and obeying His voice and by holding fast to Him; for this is your life and the length of your days, that you may live in the land which the Lord swore to your fathers to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give to them."

We are at a place in our history where we need to choose between life and death, blessing and cursing. I believe that we need to bring to justice those who are responsible for this horrible act of war. We need to defend our freedom and our lives.

This does not mean we are to exact revenge.

There is a difference between justice and revenge. In this scenario, justice is punishing those individuals, organizations and states that are involved in terrorism. Revenge would be going after innocent people living here in the United States that are of Arabic descent. Already we have heard stories of a Mosque that has been fire bombed. We have heard about a mother and children chased out of a Wal-Mart by angry shoppers. These acts must not be propagated and tolerated by our great society.

It says in 1 John 4:8 "God is Love." We must be willing to demonstrate the love of God to these people who live within our borders. To choose to love, as God loves, is to choose life. To choose to hate is to choose death. I would encourage Americans everywhere, do not let your anger turn to hatred but rather make the choice to love.

Jesus said that we are to pray for our enemies and not to curse them. I encourage you to not look at people of Arabic descent as objects of hatred but rather for what they are, human beings created in the image of God. To choose to hate them on the basis of their ethnicity is to lower yourself to the level of the terrorist who attacked America. To choose to love them and recognize them as fellow citizens is to choose a more godly path.

Let us listen to the voice of God and extend forgiveness and love, not hatred and revenge.

God bless America.

(Russ Hager is the pastor at the New Beginnings Assembly of God church in Boyne City.)

A NATION IN MOURNING

This flag flying at half-mast appeared atop the partially-constructed high school in Boyne City last week, accompanying countless other flags that have been put on display at homes, businesses, and even on vehicles all around the area in recent days.

■ STRIKING CLOSE TO HOME

For local resident Bob Tambellini, director the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, the recent tragedy at New York's World Trade Center quickly struck close to home. His daughter, Daria, works in central Manhattan and was, in fact, on her way to work when the attack came. Though he stresses that she was "never in harm's way," Tambellini said that she did actually observe the second plane crashing into the second tower of the World Trade Center.

At the time of the attack, though, the Tambellinis had no way of knowing just where exactly their daughter was. "We were horrified," he said, upon hearing the news.

They immediately tried to contact her but, of course, by that time no telecommunications were going through. Fortunately, though her cell phone wasn't working, Daria was able to get to a phone, getting hold of her sister in San Francisco when she was unable to reach her parents. "Her message was 'I'm okay,'" said Tambellini.

While the immediate drama for the family ended with the welcome news of their daughter's safety, the personal drama for Daria continued. Her father was able to relate some of her personal, first-hand accounts of what it was like to be on the scene of the disaster. "Her first reaction was that [what was happening] was not part of her world," said Tambellini, "like an Arnold Schwarzenegger movie. A lot of things blowing up, smoke and loud noises." Then, he said, came the realization of what was happening, a feeling she said is one that "takes your breath away."

"You begin to wonder how you can comprehend everything and the implications," Tambellini said his daughter told him. Especially when, she said, a lot of contradictory things were happening.

One of her strongest impressions, which only dawned on her after the fact, was that "there was no looting. No one was acting inappropriately. Everyone was coming together for one cause, one purpose."

Daria had to walk, along with many others, from Manhattan across the 59th Street bridge, out of the city. While officials weren't letting cars into the city, they were letting cars drive out. As Daria walked across the bridge with "hordes of people," motorists passing by were stopping and offering rides to complete strangers. The crisis, said Tambellini, took the "whole issue of coming into level with strangers to a whole other context. Everything you know and learn tells you not to, under normal societal conditions [make this type of contact with strangers]." In this tragedy, though, your "whole attitude changes. People got into cars."

At the same time, Tambellini related, his daughter found that "everybody was sort of talking to each other. It was, she said, an element everyone instantly had in common to talk about, which lessened the issue of being a stranger to the person next to you."

Though one can't downplay the fear that must have been felt in the hours that passed between hearing the news of the attack and receiving word from their daughter, Tambellini said that, as personal stories unfold, "ours is real insignificant" when one considers the magnitude of other families who are, in the aftermath, going from "medical center to medical center and church to church to try to reunite themselves with their family and friends, just trying to find out if they're okay."

■ HOW YOU CAN HELP

Dr. Bernadine Healy, president and CEO of the American Red Cross, has confirmed that the Red Cross will maintain its current blood collection efforts to honor those who have suffered from the terrorist attacks last Tuesday, to help those who need blood, and to comply with the president's wishes.

Last Wednesday, President George W. Bush instructed the Red Cross to continue to collect blood. The Red Cross has specific responsibilities under the Aviation Disaster Family Assistance Act of 1996 and the Federal Emergency Response Plan, both of which were invoked during the tragedy.

Countless thousands of donors nationwide are donating record amounts of blood. Before last week, the largest single-day collection recorded in Michigan's Great Lakes Region was 1,141 units on April 20, 1995 — the day after the Oklahoma City bombing. According to the Red Cross, that amount was surpassed every day last week, and the record set with 1,466 units on Wednesday, Sept. 12. A special Red Cross Blood Drive is set for Friday, Sept. 21, at Boyne Mountain Resort in Boyne Falls, from 12:30-5:15 p.m. For more information, call 1-800-GIVE-LIFE.

The call has also been put out for various types of donations to aid the victims and their families. Following are several organizations known to be accepting donations, as released by the Better Business Bureau:

■ LOCAL RESIDENTS COPING WITH ATTACK

through the agenda," said Hobbs. "Everyone wanted to be home."

And by nightfall, that's where most folks were — still watching, simply trying to make some sense of what they were seeing.

By Wednesday morning, though, as the dust began to settle, folks began to look for ways to cope with the terrible events of the prior day. Many churches opened their doors to those seeking a place to pray and reflect, and some held special prayer services.

Area schools were, of course, anxious to find avenues to help students understand and deal with the tragedy.

At East Jordan Public Schools, staff members met on Tuesday to begin preparing a district-wide strategy, which included increased counseling availability to support both students and staff. The greatest issue, said East Jordan Schools superintendent Chip Hansen, was to assure students that "they are safe here, and that when tragedies happen, it's a time to pull together."

Though nothing formal has been organized, the schools, said Hansen, are "seraching for ways the kids can be involved in supporting people touched by the tragedy," perhaps, he said, "a blood drive or service project, to get our kids engaged positively to help with the recovery." There is, he said, "an overriding desire on the part of many students and adults [in the district] to give blood."

By Friday, students at East Jordan Middle School had found a couple of ways to take action during a time when helplessness seems to be the prevailing emotion.

To show their support for the victims and their families, the students wore red, white, and blue to school, and also took up a collection for the American Red Cross Disaster Fund. "charging" students who wore hats to school a donation for the privilege. The single-day collection tallied a remarkable $457.60.

Students at Boyne City Elementary were likewise moved to action as a response to the events of the week. In an effort that grew from informal discussions between teachers and students, some classes were inspired to put their feelings onto paper, making cards and writing letters expressing their heartfelt condolences and wishes for healing, to be sent to families in New York and Washington D.C. (to see some of these cards and letters, please see

The students in Colleen Ameal's fourth grade class also decided to take their coin jar, in which they've collected coins for area charities, and take donations for the disaster relief. The idea quickly spread to the rest of the district, and is now even being extended to the community at large.

According to elementary school Americorps worker Sharon Harrington, designated coin-drop areas are set up around town, including Glen's, Boyne Country Books, Ace Hardware Carter's, Dairy Queen, Boyne Country Party Store, and Huntington Bank, and community members are encouraged to donate to the cause. An account will be open at Huntington in Boyne City for folks to make donations, and the bank may also participate in other fund-raising capacities. Fifth Third Bank in Boyne City has also stepped in with a $200 matching donation.

Funds will be collected through Monday, Sept. 24, and will be sent to the American Red Cross. "We're hoping for a great success with the coin drive," said Harrington.

Boyne Falls School has set its sights high, setting a fund-raising goal of $10,000 in two weeks, to be contributed to the American Red Cross as well, in an effort to "help our country heal from the recent attacks."

The school has also issued a challenge to others in the community to match their Cash donations are being accepted, and may be dropped off at the school or can be mailed to Boyne Falls School, 01662 M-75 South, Boyne Falls, MI 49713.

many area residents, who have flooded the Red Cross with calls to inquire about local blood drives.

According to local drive co-ordinator Jean Odgers, the local American Red Cross chapter in Petoskey has set up special blood drives to give area communities an opportunity to help meet the increased need for blood.

Upcoming drives include Friday, Sept. 21, from 12:30-5:15 p.m. at Boyne Mountain in Boyne Falls; Tuesday, Oct. 2, from 1-6:45 p.m. at East Jordan Middle School; and Monday, Oct. 29, from 8:45 a.m.-2:30 p.m. at Boyne City High School. Odgers added that cash contributions, needed to buy disaster supplies such as blankets, vehicles, etc., can be mailed to: The American Red Cross, Attn: Disaster Fund, 2350 Mitchell Park Dr., Petoskey, MI 49770. For more information, call 348-7666.

Students at Boyne City Elementary are coping with the recent American tragedy in the best way children know how — by expressing themselves through art and the written word. In an outgrowth from teacher-led classroom discussion regarding the terrorist attack, some classes have created cards and written letters expressing their feelings to the families who have suffered personal losses and trauma in the incident. The result, said elementary school Student Success Coordinator Wendy Thomas, are a pile of cards and letters filled with sentiments "truly from the heart." "They're so poignant," she said. "[Kids] have a resiliency beyond any we as adults can hope to have."

God Bless America

By Kyle Gibbons
In response to a high school football game in which I was a part of September 14, 2001

There I stood on an icy Friday night watching the American flag being raised. I could hear the national anthem being played in the background. The flag was hoisted all the way to its peak and slowly dropped back down to half-mast.

At that time I felt insignificant, I felt as if I were about to do something very useless. I looked at all the people suited up ready to play and I thought to myself...why?

Nevertheless deep inside I knew why we had to play, we had to take everyone's mind off what happened on the dreary day of September 11, 2001.

While standing there I prayed to myself my normal prayer. I prayed to stay healthy, to stay under control, and I prayed for my family and friends to get home safe, just like I always do.

Except this was a different prayer, larger than any prayer I've ever said before. I prayed for all the lives lost during the horrific terrorist acts, and I prayed for all the people that have not yet been discovered.

While standing in front of a crowded stadium I could feel chills rippling down my spine and spread throughout my entire back. I could feel cold wet tears running down my already bitter cheeks. I now looked at the American flag in a totally different way.

I've stood through many national anthems and never thought twice about the meaning behind the song. This time it was different, this time it hurt to see the flag. It hurt to think that a country could do this to another just to make a statement. It felt as if someone punched me in the stomach without reason.

It hurt to know that we will have to retaliate. It hurts to know that God does not approve of any of this. I've done many things that God would shun upon. I've disobeyed my parents again and again. I've cursed more than a few times, and the list goes on.

I stood there in the middle of the field staring at the flag knowing that it's a time for change. That flag meant more to me than just three colors on a piece of oversized fabric. It stood for America; it stood for all the people who sacrificed themselves for this country, our country. Now I realize what the word America truly means.

Dear New York . . .

The following letters were written by students in Kathy Kessler's fourth grade class at Boyne City Elementary:

Dear New York,

I am really, really sorry about the tragedy, we are really going to try to do whatever we can do to help. We are praying for you every minute we get to. My mom and dad are giving blood. Our classroom is giving our penny jar to you guys.

Sincerely,
Maddie Moeke

Dear New York,

I'm very sorry about the tragedy that happened to the Trade Centers. I will do whatever I can to help you. I will pray for you. We will donate pennies to you. I am very sorry.

Sincerely,
Nick Young

Dear New York,

I'm sorry to hear the people died. I hope some people are still alive. I don't know, I wasn't home. I'd do anything to help those people.

Sincerely,
Travis

Dear New York,

Those guys were mean to do that. I really hate them. I am sure you feel the same way!! I wish I could stop this. I wish I lived in New York!! It will be o.k. We should bomb them! We need to stick together like glue! We're all thinking about you.

Sincerely,
Greg Bruneel

Dear New York Citizens,

I'm so sorry about what happened to your buildings. Especially about all the people who died. It must be hard to recover from all the damage the planes have done. I wish I could help more (if I'm helping at all right now). I never thought anything so horrible could happen. I hope we don't have a war or anything. Thanks to all the brave people.

Sincerely,
Kelsey Krugel

Dear New Yorkers,

I'm sorry that lots of people were injured. I hope most of the people survived. I wish I could pay for all the damage but I don't have that kind of money. I'll be praying for you.

Sincerely,
Travis Harrington

Dear New York,

I am really sorry. I hope everyone is o.k. I wish you make the towers again. If you make it again, I would like to see it in real life.

Sincerely,
Casmear Lynn Baier

Dear people that live in New York,

I feel really bad for you because you got hurt really bad. I wish I could help and stop it. I feel really really mad, sad, and bad. Worse than that they crashed the plane and killed and hurt a lot of people that were in the plane and in a big building. I hope that you feel well and feel better and get well and you get better. I just want you to know I feel super duper sad.

Sincerely and love,
Tommy William Stevens

Dear New York,

I am very sorry that happened yesterday. One of my cousins was in that building. I still don't know if they found him yet. They at least need to find 10 or 11 live bodies. Have a good day.

Sincerely,
Derek Hyland

And one for Washington ...

Dear People of Washington,

I'm so sorry for what happened. I didn't find out what happened until I got out of school yesterday. I'm sorry for all the people you lost. My class may send you some pennies to help rebuild. That was a day we'll never forget. You're in our thoughts. Try to hang in there. I hope for the best.

Sincerely, Brooke Juday

Huntington Bank and United Way establish Sept. 11 fund to aid victims

The Huntington National Bank has announced the establishment of The Huntington/United Way September 11th Fund.

Money collected in Huntington banking offices will support the September 11th Fund created by the United Way and The New York Community Trust to respond to the pressing needs of the victims and their families.

To make a contribution to the Huntington/United Way September 11th Fund (account #04896310285) visit any Huntington banking office or use Huntington bill pay via online or telephone banking through November 16, 2001.

"This is a time of great sadness," said Jim Dunlap, president of Huntington's West Michigan Region.

"On behalf of Huntington, I wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the families and friends of the victims of this horrific tragedy. We believe the spirit of the American people, our economy and our markets are resilient.

"The memory of lives lost will make us stronger."

The fund will provide immediate support to established emergency medical assistance agencies, such as the American Red Cross. It will also utilize the resources of other nonprofit health and human service agencies.

A distribution committee formed by the two founding organizations will ensure that resources are deployed effectively throughout the affected communities, especially New York City and Washington, D.C.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

IN MEMORY of Tuesday's terrorist attack on New York and the Pentagon, 40 members of the Fraternal of the Eagles, Boyne City Aerie 1583 gathered for a 7 p. m. candlelight vigil on Friday, to honor the many people who lost their lives.

DOROTHY PETERS of Boyne City left over the weekend for the home of her twin sister and husband, Doris and Harvey Blosser in Alma. Doris has just been released from the Saginaw Hospital and Dorothy will be staying indefinitely, helping care for her. The sisters will enjoy being together, in celebrating their September 19th birthday.

RAMONA MCGEORGE of Boyne City is reported to be doing better, following a four-hour surgery at Northern Michigan Hospital. Still in the intensive care unit on the third floor, she might appreciate cards of encouragement, as she is expected to be hospitalized until Saturday, at least.

"THE BEST THINGS In Life Are Free" visit came to residents of Litzenger Place last Wednesday evening from the Boyne City District Library. A place for more than books, tenants learned of the availability audio cassettes, CDs, videos, magazine's, newspapers and many other services, including a monthly book cart, going door to door, every third Tuesday for residents here!

JUDY AND JACK GERIE of Boyne City visited his mother, Lena Gerrie, in Traverse City on Saturday and all enjoyed sharing lunch and the day. Lena, a longtime former resident of Boyne, sends a warm, "Hello" to friends in the area, as she has been living there for about five years. I am sure she'd appreciate hearing from friends and neighbors. Her address is: Lena Gerrie, 521 Cottage View Drive #207, Traverse City, MI 49684

WALT AND KRISTIN (Harvey) Risbeck welcomed the arrival of a son, Zachary Ryan, who was born Sept. 5, weighing 7 pounds, 6 ounces and measuring 19 inches in length at his birth. Proud siblings are Michilena, 7 L2, Samantha, 7, Alexandria, 2 L2, MacKenzie, 15 months and other family. Grandparents are former Boyne resident, Carol Harvey of Detroit and Steve and Peggy Risbeck of Missouri.

THE REV. WAYNE and Arlene Bullock of Stanwood were here over the weekend visiting his son, the Rev. Mark and family. On Sunday, the Wayne, now retired, was the guest leader in bringing an encouraging message to the congregation of the Boyne City Free Methodist Church.

A WARM "Welcome Neighbor" goes out to Ruth Witte, who moved into Litzenger Place over the weekend.

RESIDENTS OF Litzenger Place gathered at the circle drive entrance, in joining area churches and organizations in the 7 p.m. candlelight vigil on Friday, the National Day of Prayer, in remembrance of the victims of the terrorists attack in New York and at the Pentagon on Tuesday. Individual prayers went around and patriotic songs bonded a memorable occasion. Those who could not make it outside, stood at their windows with lighted candles and prayed at the 7 o'clock designated time. On Saturday night, spirits were lifted by music and words of encouragement of the Crooked River Gospel Team in the community room. Residents and guests alike, taking a break from nearly a week of tragedy, responded well to the change, like trying to get things back to the way they were. An intermission luncheon and good time continued. The playing of guitars began again. And, 83-year-old Margaret Myers, still possessing beautiful luminous brown eyes and a great sense of humor, even as she is using a walker, just could not let that toe-tapping music pass her by, as she prepared to go back to her apartment. Like a young girl, she started dancing, supported with her walker, kicking out her dance step, sashaying this way and that, perfectly timed to the music, as she bade farewell and out the door she went. The applause was great! The Crooked River Gospel Team has been invited-back, for their December potluck.

OBITUARIES

Scott Bryan Sommerville

Scott Bryan Sommerville, 43, died Saturday, Sept. 8, 2001, at home surrounded by his loving family.

Family services were held on Sept. 10. The Rev. Dr. Nick Twomey officiated.

Born Jan. 15, 1956 in Mt. Pleasant, he was the son of Max Dennis and Darlene L. (Colley) Sommerville.

Scott was resident of the Traverse City area for the last three years, coming from the Plymouth-Canton area. He graduated from Plymouth-Salem High School in 1974 and was a commercial and residential painter.

Scott liked all outdoor sports, was an avid fisherman, hunter, and golfer, and especially loved camping with his family. He enjoyed all winter sports including skiing and ice fishing.

Survivors nicked his parents, Max and Darlene Sommerville of Grawn; two sister, Kristi (Gary) Hogeboom of Grand Rapids, Jonie Sommerville of Brighton; children, Sherie (Dan) Leithard of Garden City, Tim (Amy) Gillihan of Ecorse, and Todd Gillihan of Big Rapids; grandchildren, Cory and Ryan Scott Leithard of Garden City, and Nathan and Teagan Gillihan of Ecorse; Scott's companion, Pam Utsler of Traverse City; aunts and uncles, Jack and Dorene Sommerville of Harbor Springs, and Gale and Fran Murphy of East Jordan; and many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Memorial contributions may be directed to Munson Hospice or the American Cancer Society.

The family was served by the Reynold-Jonkhoff Funeral Home of Traverse City.

Shan B. Riley

Shan B. Riley, 70, of East Jordan died Sept. 13, 2001.

Beloved husband of Dorothy. Loving father of Maureen (Dennis) Riley-Odine of Pinckney, Mich. Beloved son of Cygred Riley of East Jordan.

He was employed at Vickers Aerospace from 1954-1968 and was a Professor of Technical Engineering at Henry Ford Community College from 1968 until his retirement in 1993.

Memorial contributions may be given to a charity of one's choice. Arrangements entrusted to Bell-Borek Funeral Home, Hamburg Chapel.

CLUB NEWS

EJ Garden Club

The East Jordan Garden Club recently held an unjuried flower show, entitled "Butterflies are Free," at the Jordan River Arts Center on Main Street in East Jordan, with Shirley Vollbach as chairperson.

Over 80 residents enjoyed the flower show, which is an annual event for the East Jordan Garden Club. Light refreshments were served, compliments of garden club members.

Earlier in the month, the East Jordan Garden Club met and enjoyed the "Six Mile Lake Garden Walk" courtesy of George Alley and Lloyd Sherwood. Garden Club Members toured the lovely flower gardens featuring several varieties of daylilies, delphinium, foxglove, sedums, and many other flowers. According to club member Ginny Carey, sunshine and a pleasant summer afternoon helped to make this tour very enjoyable for garden club members and guests. Following the garden tour, a business meeting was held at the home of Jean Pardee.

The East Jordan Garden Club is a member of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan and the National Council of State Garden Clubs. For more information, call Lercel at 536-2855 or Ginny Carey at 582-5680.

Late Bloomers

Charter Members will be accepted for the Jordan Valley Late Bloomers evening garden club, on Sept. 20 at 7 p.m., lower level of the East Jordan Public Library. Charter officers will be installed by Ginny Carey. A plant or bulb exchange is planned, and visitors are welcome. This hands on garden club is sponsored by the East Jordan Federated garden club. For more information call Marge Best at 536-9220.

Boyne Valley Garden Club

The Boyne Valley Garden Club will meet at 1 p.m. in the Community Room of the Boyne City library on Sept. 27. The program speaker will be Dave Siegrist of Siegrist Farm and Greenhouse, Chandler Hill Rd., Boyne Falls.

Hostesses for the meeting are Ann Robins, Shareen Stevens and Judy Johnson.

Anyone interested in gardening or finding out more about the garden club may attend meetings which are held the fourth Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. Call club president Betty Shaver at 582-5545 for more information.

Up-and-coming activities will include putting up the scarecrow display on Oct. 1 in connection with the Fall Harvest Festival; mid-October clear out all flowers and clean up the beds; wire pine cones and make bows for Christmas wreaths; and come November members will begin to take orders for wreaths.

Friendship Club

The Friendship Club will have their annual Fall luncheon on Monday, Sept. 24, at the Senior Center in Petoskey.

Members should be at the Boyne City Hall at 10:30 a.m. to board the Charlevoix County Transit.

UMC Women

The Boyne City United Methodist Women will host their annual salad supper Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 6 p.m. All women are invited and encouraged to bring a friend. Cash donations will be accepted for the nurse's station at the Boyne City Elementary School, as well as clothing (socks, underwear, mittens, hats, etc.) The church is located at 324 S. Park St. in Boyne City.

Big winners

Last month, Clarence Stark, shown here with sons Derick and Travis, was the big winner of this Honda Rancher Four Trax 4x4 at the fourth annual Pig Roast and Auction held at Jake's Place in Boyne Falls. The fund-raiser is just one of the events sponsored by Jake's Place owner Kim Rotermund to benefit Wertz Warriors and the Michigan Special Olympics. Residents from all over the area contributed to the success of the benefit.

Boyne Cinema has new manager

Boyne Cinema has hired William Damsgaard to oversee operations at the theater, located at 216 S. Lake St. Damsgaard is a graduate of Western Michigan University, holding a BBA with a major in management and a minor in marketing. He also served in the United States Navy, and is a career advisor for the local Michigan Works! agency. Enthusiastic about his new position, Damsgaard noted that the cinema is "a great date destination with plenty of places within walking distance to visit before and after a movie to make for a complete evening." Damsgaard is looking forward to helping owner Nile Wells make improvements to the theatre, including improvement of sound quality and improved seating in all auditoriums. "I plan to have a lot of fun with this position, bringing the excitement of the silver screen into the Boyne Community," he said. Boyne Cinema is open in the evening seven days a week as well as for afternoon matinees on Saturday and Sunday. For more information, call the theater at 582-3212.

Arts center hosting printmaking exhibit

A special printmaking exhibition, "The Wen of Printmaking and Others," is coming to the Jordan River Arts Center Oct. 7 through Nov. 7. The exhibit will feature 50 original prints from the The Wood Engravers Network (WEN), an international group of printmakers with more than 200 members. In addition, members of the Michigan Printmakers Association have been invited to exhibit. In conjunction with the exhibit will be a lecture-demonstration, workshops, gallery tours with hands on experiences for students, in school printing programs and studio tours. Opening the exhibit on Sunday

Oct. 7, at 2:30 p.m. will be a gallery talk, "What is an Original Print?" followed with a demonstration by Chad Pastotnik, Deep Wood Press, Cedar River, Mancelona. Pastotnik works out of his studio where he publishes limited edition fine art prints and makes hand-bound books using letter press technique for the text. He has taught many classes in both printmaking and book binding throughout Michigan. His prints have been exhibited at the Art Institute of Chicago and the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and can be found in many private collections. Pastotnik, both a member of Wen and the Michigan Printmakers Association, will have his work included in the exhibition. Workshops have been scheduled for the following weekend during the exhibit. The first, Oct. 13 and 14 will be "Wood Engraving" (End grain woodcuts) by Jim Horton, Gravure Graphics, Ann Arbor. Pastotnik will also lead a workshop, "Intaglio Printmaking" (metal plates) Oct. 20 and 21. On Oct. 27 Meredith Krell, Printmaker, Charlevoix will offer a workshop, "Monotypes" using three different techniques. The workshops will be held at the Jordan River Arts Center.

In addition to the above workshops, two tours to the Deep Wood Press have been scheduled Dec. 10, 2-4 p.m. and 5-7 p.m. Transportation will be provided from beginning at the Art Center. Tours will also be provided for high school art students and an in school program will also be provided by area printmakers. The exhibit and related activities have been partially funded by the Cheboygan Area Arts Council and the Michigan Council for Art and Cultural Affairs. For more information or to register, call Jane Diller, 231-582-6399 or Pastotnik, 231-587-0506.

BOYNE CITY BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Boyne City Board of Education met Sept. 10 and approved a consortium of local school districts within the Char-Em ISD for the operation of the Great Lakes Academic Center Program, the Alternative Program for School-Age Parents and the Early Education Program. The board also approved a trip to Boston for the high school history class as well as a cooperative athletic agreement with Boyne Falls Public School for football. The board accepted the pledge of a gift of $13,000 from the Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence to be used to complete several projects at the athletic complex. These projects include a flag pole, two split-faced concrete block dug-outs, impact netting, masts and red clay top dressing for the baseball diamond; a concrete pad for the pole vault landing mats; aluminum player benches for the football field and rubber crossing mats for the all weather track and cheerleader areas. Other action taken by the board was the approval of a high school principal contract for Karen Jarema; approval of the Title IX (Indian Education) Program with Todd Parker as director; approval of an agreement between Boyne City Public Schools and the Char-Em Intermediate School District for supervision of the Alternative Education Programs for this school year; and approval of high school soccer as a club sport with the understanding that the organization will fund the program for a minimum of five years. Bob Carpenter of Robertson and Carpenter, CPA, reviewed the audit report and then the report was formally accepted by the board. Pete Friedrich announced that the Boyne City Foundation for Educational Excellence will be hosting a party to celebrate the Top 100 Hits of the Century on Saturday, Sept. 22. The dance will be held at the Boyne Mountain Civic Center and will begin at 7:30 p.m. Ken Schrader reported that the Technology Committee is working toward getting students more dependable technology in the buildings. They also discussed the possibility of hiring a technology person through the Char-Em ISD. Deb Noblett and Marty Moody stated that the marketing committee is currently working towards improving internal and external communications.

Janet Froats-Shepherd reported that the Building Configuration Committee has gathered information on each of our schools and is currently studying the data. It will update the board of education on a monthly basis. Jim Cooper, interim superintendent explained that the Building Configuration Committee is exploring all viable options for the district and will need as much time as possible in order to formulate its best recommendation. Cooper stated that a proposal to add a Curriculum Director position in the district will not be pursued at this time. The current administrative plan will be reviewed and potentially restructured in an effort to meet as many needs as possible. All board members endorsed the continuation of Middle School Teen Nights and praised it as a valuable program for students. After discussing contract negotiations during a closed session, the board reconvened and ratified the 2001-04 teacher and the 2001-04 support staff contracts. The next regular meeting of the Boyne City Board of Education will be held Oct. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school media center. County Hospice in need of volunteer help

The Charlevoix County Hospice, serving Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties, is looking for a few caring, compassionate individuals who would like to join its family of hospice volunteers.

Hospice will be conducting a volunteer training program starting on Monday, Sept. 24. The sessions will run for four weeks, meeting Mondays and Wednesdays from 4-6 p.m.

The first session will be a hospice orientation and discussion of the role of the volunteer. Each class will deal with a different aspect of training, including grief and bereavement, death and dying, communications skills, understand the family, spiritual care of the family, care and comfort measure, ethical issues and personal stress.

Hospice volunteers provide many services, including respite care to the terminally ill and their family.

"Anyone who has been a caregiver knows how important it is to have some time for themselves, and our hospice volunteers provide this very needed help by staying at the home so the caregiver can get away or just to rest," said Margaret Lasater, Hospice executive director.

"Volunteers provide much help, whether it is with patients, in the office or helping with the fund-raising - they are truly the cement of the hospice program and makes it unique."

Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer can call the Charlevoix County Hospice office at 536-2842.

EJ Girl Scouts to hold registration night at EJES

The East Jordan Girl Scouts will hold a registration night on Wednesday, Sept. 26, from 7-8 p.m. at the East Jordan Elementary School cafeteria.

The cost to join is $7, and scholarships are available for the registration fee.

Registration night is for new and re-registering Girl Scouts. Leaders and helpers are also needed in each level.

For more information, call Connie Roberts at 536-7195. The Girl Scouts of East Jordan are a member of the Girl Scouts of Crooked Tree council, headquartered in Traverse City.

GLE offering new on-line audit program

Great Lakes Energy is offering the Home Energy Analyst, a new on-line residential energy audit program available through Touchstone Energy.

The new service allows computer users to visit www.gtlakes.com to analyze their personal energy use and appliance energy costs.

The program's interactive tools will help residents perform an energy analysis of their homes by using energy data they can obtain from their recent electric, natural gas or propane bills.

Program features include:
Energy Profile: Create a personal energy profile report and receive specific suggestions for reducing energy costs.

Energy History: A month-by-month record of energy bills that homeowners can use to update their personal energy profile.

Energy Calculator: Determine the approximate annual energy consumption and cost for most home appliances, including refrigerator, stove, furnace, air conditioner, water heater, dishwasher, washer and dryer and others.

Energy Library: A comprehensive guide containing home energy information using easy to understand terms and illustrations. In addition, the Energy Library has an extensive set of Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) on energy use in the home.

The free service is made available by Great Lakes Energy through its involvement with Touchstone Energy, a national alliance of more than 550 electric cooperatives, in 39 states, that together are committed to serving over 16 million customers with integrity, innovation, accountability and commitment to community.

Great Lakes Energy is a customer-owned power company serving more than 100,000 member-customers in 26 counties on the west side of Michigan's lower peninsula.

Area high school students invited to annual College Night

Area high school students and their parents are invited to attend the 48th annual College Night at Petoskey High School on Thursday, Sept. 27, from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

More than 50 colleges, universities and trade schools will be represented as well as various branches of the armed services.

"With so many choices available for post-secondary education, College Night is an excellent opportunity to obtain first-hand information," said Kevin King, counselor at Boyne City High School.

"And it is not too early for undergrads to be involved in this process along with seniors."

The majority of Boyne City High School graduates, he said, continue in college, vocational school, or some other form of higher education or advanced training. Many of these graduates are accepted to their "first choice" school.

"This is possible through the thoughtful, cooperative planning by students, parents, and counselors. While this task can seem overwhelming, early planning can make the process easier and much more productive," King said.

For more information, call King at 439-8100.

Members of the Boyne Valley Garden Club recently visited Kinross prison, getting information about the garden from the inmates who've created it.

BOYNE VALLEY GARDEN CLUB GIVES SUPPORT TO KINROSS PRISON GARDEN PROGRAM

Inmates are 'Growing to Give'

By BETTY SHAVER

Recently, six members of the Boyne Valley Garden Club: Arthella, Dickerson, Sharon LeBuda, Jenny Lutterbach, Bernice Yandeville, Billie Stanley, and myself enjoyed an interesting and educational field trip to visit the gardens of the inmate Master Gardeners and Advanced Master Gardeners at the Kinross Correctional Facility in the Upper Peninsula.

To date 77 inmates have graduated from the Michigan State University Extension Master Gardener course, and 43 have gone on to become Advanced Master Gardeners.

This horticulture program was founded in 1994 with the help of Kinross staff coordinator Jim Couling, and MSU Emmet county extension agent Steve Fouch, who traveled to Kinross each week to teach the course. Inmates are required to pay for the course from the 16 and a half cents per hour wage they make working at the facility. The State of Michigan does not pay the $190 course fee.

The 62,000 sq. ft. vegetable and herb garden and a 7,500 sq. ft. flower garden are planned, planted and maintained by the Master Gardeners. The flower garden of annuals and perennials yield seeds for the next year's garden, which are started in their 12' x 36' grow house.

The horticulture Organic Gardeners is a non-profit, charitable organization dedicated to education and feeding the hungry. One hundred percent of their harvests are donated to those in need, which is over 40 organizations. Through outside participation they have helped beautify a children's library garden in Traverse City, supplied flowers for a plot in a community center garden and designed flower beds for the township and area schools. They are a worthwhile organization working hard to help others.

Last year their harvests reaped 12,238 pounds of assorted vegetables and herbs, 2,976 flower and vegetable seedlings, 2,500 packs of flower seeds, 100 strawberry plants and over 200 pumpkins.

Three hundred 2-year-old trees were grown and donated to the National Tree Trust, which helped to beautify and preserve the landscape in the surrounding communities. Horticulture has brought a new meaning and interest into their lives and inmates look forward to and take pride in working in the gardens during the authorized free times they are able to do so.

The Boyne Valley Garden Club has helped this worthwhile program by collecting and donating hundreds of recycled flower pots and seeding packs, as well as many used gardening magazines bags of organic fertilizer and potting soil.

In the spring, by request, they will provide seedlings or bedding plants to any group or organization. In appreciation for what the garden club has done for them, they have shared with the club 250 strawberry plants and 200 iris rhizomes. Some of these iris will bloom next year at Litzzenburger Place. Their organization theme is "Growing to Give."

These gardeners are not allowed to use any chemicals to combat insects and plant diseases, nor do they have any power garden cultivators. Each spring and fall the entire garden is spaded up by hand with shovels.

As one might imagine, there are not enough garden tools for 77 dedicated and eager gardeners to go around. All tools must be checked out and back in at the completion of the work period.

If you would like to help provide more garden tools for this group, such as shovels, hoes, rakes, pails, garden hose, clippers, trowels, etc., make a check payable to the Boyne Valley Garden Club and mail to P.O. Box 387, Boyne City, MI 49712. The materials will be transported to Kinross by the club.

GUEST COLUMN

Boyne library's community room serves diverse needs

By BECKY BRAND

Looking for a great meeting place for a new group or club that is forming? Interested in learning about scrapbooking photographs or researching your family tree? How about finding a great story hour for your pre-schooler or attending workshops on topics varying from antique appraisals to the WomenQuest expedition? The new community room at the Boyne District Library offers all of these things and much more. In the four months since the re-opening of the Boyne District Library the new community room has been used by many members of the Boyne City community for many different reasons. The 80 person capacity space is available for use by any community group at no fee, and fills a previously unmet need in Boyne City. At a recent Wednesday Workshop, over 150 children and parents attended a program featuring local author Christopher Knight, the popular children's author of the Michigan Chiller series of mystery books. The Wednesday Workshops are offered by the library on most Wednesday nights, starting at 7 p.m. and cover a large range of topics. Workshops planned for the fall include a parenting workshop, the WomenQuest Expedition, Grain Train Soy Cooking, and Charitable Giving. In addition to the Wednesday Workshops, the library staff also uses the community room for their pre-school reading programs. This summer the Reading Road Trip USA included stories and projects for over 135 children ages 3 through 10. Another reading program, Fall Pre-School Storytime begins on Sept. 18 and runs through Oct. 16. The list does not end with library sponsored programs. Many civic groups and clubs have also used the room or have on-going meetings scheduled. The Chamber of Commerce, Boyne City School Board, and the Boyne City Commission have all held meetings in the widely-used room. On-going clubs and organizations include Boyne City Scrapbooking Nights, Pine Lake Quilters, Friends of the Boyne River, Monday Study Club, Genealogy, and the Boyne Valley Garden Club. Clearly, the Boyne District Library Community Room serves many people for many different purposes, and is a great asset to the Boyne community. The library counts on money from the Endowment Fund to continue offering programs and interesting workshops; if you would like to give to the Endowment Fund, there are many options still available. Engraved brick pavers are being sold for $100 each, three-year pledges can be made, and one-time gifts are also appreciated. If you would like to make a significant donation to the Endowment Fund and possibly have the opportunity to name the community room after yourself, your business, or a loved one, please speak with Nannette Miller, director of the library at 582-7861. (Becky Brand is a member of the Boyne District Library Endowment Fund committee.)

NCMC announces speakers for 2001-02 Lecture Series

The 2001-02 Lecture Series at North Central Michigan College will kick off on Tuesday, Sept. 25, with an appearance by celebrated actor James Earl Jones. "An Evening With James Earl Jones" will take place at 7:30 p.m. at Petoskey Middle School. Jones, known for his roles in both film and theatre, is highly decorated for his contribution to the arts. He holds three honorary doctorates and in 1992, was awarded the National Medal of Arts by President Bush. He has also received the prestigious NAACP Hall of Fame Image Award.

Upcoming series' lectures include the following:

HERMAN BOONE, the high school football coach immortalized in the movie "Remember the Titans," will share his life experience on Monday, Nov. 19, in the Student and Community Resource Center on the NCMC campus at 7:30 p.m.

Boone coached the T.C. Williams High School football team to a victorious 1971 season in the midst of racial tension born of integration.

ARUN GANDHI, grandson of Indian leader Mahatma Gandhi, will lecture on Tuesday, Feb. 12, 2002, in the Student and Community Resource Center on the NCMC campus, at 7:30 p.m.

After resorting to violence to protect himself from racial confrontations in apartheid South Africa, Arun Gandhi was sent to live with his grandfather, who would teach him the powerful philosophy of non-violence. He has since come to the U.S. to complete research for a comparative study on racism in America.

NESSE GODIN, who has dedicated her adult life to teaching and sharing memories of the Holocaust, will speak on Wednesday, March 20, 2002, in the Student and Community Resource Center, at 7:30 p.m.

Survivor of the Shauliai Ghetto, the Stutthof Concentration Camp, four labor camps, and a death march, Godin is able to give a first-hand perspective to translate this enormous and horrifying human drama. Godin has been presented with the "Myrth Wreath" by the Hadassah Council, the Chaim Solomon Freedom Medal Award by B'nai Brith Argo Lodge, and the Women of Valor Award by B'nai Brith Women.

She has also been recognized by the Commission on Children and Youth and by Fort Richie and Fort Mead for her dedication to teaching the Holocaust. In 1998, she was presented the Elie Wiesel Holocaust Remembrance medal in recognition of her dedication to remembering the victims of the Holocaust and for teaching young people and adults the detriment of hatred.

All lectures are free of charge to the public. Doors open at 6:45 p.m. for each lecture; seating is on a first come, first serve basis.

For more information, call Greg Baird, director of student activities, at 348-6706.

Char-Em ISD to sponsor Developmental Screening

On Oct. 4, the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District is sponsoring a three-year-old Developmental Screening Clinic for all Charlevoix County children who will be entering kindergarten in fall of 2003.

The clinic is intended to provide parents with information regarding normal child development while having their child informally screened to identify any potential learning difficulties which may arise during the school years.

The clinic also provides an opportunity for parents to interact with other parents of three-year-old children. The clinic is a developmental screening and not for preschool enrollment. Children will be screened free of charge, with appointments made on a first come, first served basis. Children to be screened must have been born between Dec. 1, 1997 and Dec. 1, 1998.

The screenings will be held at the Community Reformed Church at the corner of US 31 and Meech Street in Charlevoix. Those interested in attending can call Pat Gauthier at 547-9947 for an appointment or more information.

Boyne City brothers Larry and Keith McBee were points champs for the season in their respective classes at Elmira's Northern Michigan Speedway.

HOMETOWN CHAMPS

After five seasons of racing at the Northern Michigan Speedway, the McBee brothers of Boyne City finished their top season ever, with first place finishes in their respective class. Larry McBee took first overall for the season in the Bomber Class, while brother Keith took first in the Street Stock A Class.

Members of the B.C. Pizza sponsored race team, which also includes local residents Bob Davis and Howard Stone racing in the Street Stock B and Street Stock A classes respectively, the McBees each have a different take on the win. Larry is a bit more laid back, noting that racing, for him, is just for fun. Keith shows a bit more of a competitive spirit -- "I've always wanted to win a championship," he said.

Both, however, started in the sport for the same reason -- to simply, they said, pass the time. "It's something fun to do," said Larry. Through the years, the team has been consistent, but this year turned out to exceed expectations. In addition to earning their respective points championships for the season on the whole, the McBee brothers also took high honors in the final race of the season, held on Sept. 8. Larry placed first in his class, with Keith placing third.

The secret to their success? Well, quite simply, showing up helps. "Being there every week," said Davis, makes a difference, with those racers who only come occasionally at an obvious disadvantage. Adds Larry, though, a lot of folks that show up every night don't have it made. "If you have a bad night," he said, "it's points down the drain."

The McBees, along with other season winners, will receive their trophies at the end of the year banquet, to be held at the Hudson Township Hall at the end of the month.

A tough win

Ramblers fight emotions for fourth straight victory

The mood was somber as the flag was lowered and the crowd quiet prior to the start of the Boyne City and Kalkaska football game Friday night at Boyne City.

It was an emotional time for players, coaches and spectators as they stood in silence trying to comprehend the horror that struck the United States on Tuesday.

difficult it was for the players.

The Ramblers kicked off to Kalkaska and on the visitors first play from scrimmage, they scored on a 75-yard run. The extra point was no good.

Kalkaska's lead would be short-lived.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Ramblers' Cole Andrews took the kick and raced 65-yards for a touchdown. The Ramblers extra point was no good.

For the Ramblers it was just the start of an offensive show that would follow, while Kalkaska would not cross the goal line again until the waning minutes of the game.

"We didn't play particularly well," Hills said, "but with all the things going on it was good to get the win."

"It was a tough week for everybody. Because of the events of the week we knew we wouldn't be as sharp." He also expected an emotional let-down after the Ramblers impressive win over Benzie Central the week before.

"We were a little bit rusty offensively," Hills said. "We had quite a few breakdowns. But we did pass the ball fairly effectively."

They did indeed. Quarterback Ryan Amesbury was nearly perfect for the night connecting on 8 of 9 passes Fans in the stands lit candles in a show of unity and support for the victims of last week's terrorist attacks on the U.S. Fifty percent of the proceeds from the 50-50 drawing at Friday night's game were donated to the American Red Cross, according to coach Hill. The Ramblers also were wearing stickers of the American flag on the back of their helmets.

Rambler Dustin Moore avoids a Kalkaska defender on one of his four pass receptions on the night.

"The events of the week had an impact on everyone," said Boyne City head coach David Hills. "A lot of times what we do seems trivial" compared to the events in the world.

"We tried to keep the kids focused on doing things right. Fortunately we came out with the win."

The first few plays in the Ramblers 38-12 victory showed just how for 164 yards and two touchdowns.

Andrews also had a game he won't soon forget. In addition to his 64-yard kickoff return, he was on the receiving end of a 20-yard touchdown pass from Amesbury, and rushed for two others. He ran the ball six times for 118 yards.

The Ramblers took the lead for good when Tim Follette recovered a fumble on Kalkaska's second possession. Two plays later Amesbury connected with Andrews on a 20-yard scoring pass.

The Ramblers scored on their next possession when Andrews scored on a 15-yard sweep to culminate a five-play drive. That scored gave the Ramblers a 19-6 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Ramblers then scored early in the second quarter when Amesbury kept the ball on an option play and scored from five yards out. The Ramblers final score of the half came on a 19-yard sweep by Andrews to give Boyne City a 31-6 halftime lead.

The Ramblers' final score came on their first drive of the second half when Amesbury connected with AJ Spaay on a 30-yard touchdown pass. It took the Ramblers just five plays to score, and in the drive Amesbury was 3 for 3 passing.

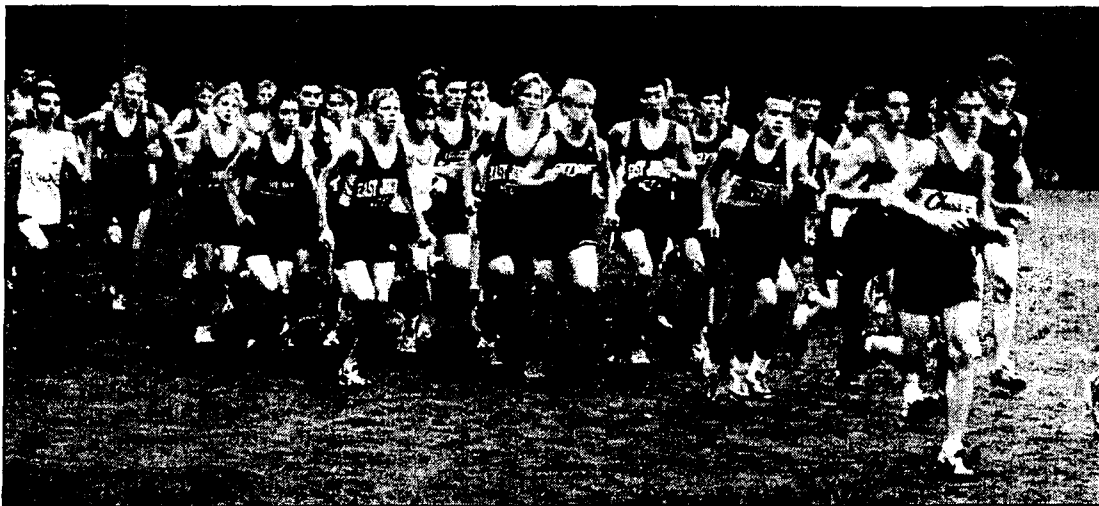

The Ramblers had 361 yards of total offense against Kalkaska. Dustin Moore had four pass receptions for 66 yards and he also intercepted his seventh pass of the year.

Defensively, Moore also made his presence felt with five tackles and one interception, his seventh of the year.

Greg Ordiway has eight tackles and a blocked punt while John Ku had four tackles and a fumble recovery.

The Ramblers had just one turnover.

Next up for the 4-0 Ramblers are the East Jordan Red Devils, who are celebrating their homecoming. Kick-off is at 3 p.m. on Saturday. The Red Devils are struggling this season but Hills know the Ramblers will have their hands full. "This is a big game for us," he said. "If there is any game they will get up for, this will be it."

They're off and running at the East Jordan Cross Country Invitational held last Wednesday afternoon in wet conditions. The East Jordan boys placed three runners in the top 10 to take second place, while the Boyne City girls, led by Jane Stieber, pictured at right, took first place.

Mistakes costly for Red Devils

It doesn't get any easier for the East Jordan Red Devils, who suffered a 47-8 loss to Benzie Central last Friday night.

Boyne City comes to town Saturday afternoon and whenever the two teams meet, emotions and intensity run high, but it will be even more so for this game as East Jordan celebrates its homecoming.

"We're looking forward to it," said head coach Alan Peterson. "Boyne is good and its going to be tough, but we like a challenge. We'll do fine."

The 1-3 Red Devils and the 4-0 Ramblers have had one common opponent this season - Benzie Central. The Ramblers defeated Benzie 35-7 on Sept. 7.

When these two teams meet, however, anything can happen. It is an intense rival between two schools with proud traditions.

Against Benzie, East Jordan looked like it would give Benzie all it could handle.

"In the first quarter, we played real well," Peterson said. "We had good drives. We did a lot of good things, then we would make a mistake."

The Red Devils first three drives all ended because of a turnover. Benzie finally took advantage of those mistakes and scored late in the first quarter. Benzie scored again in the second quarter, then in the final minutes before the half the Red Devils gave up two more quick touchdowns and instead of being down 14-0 they trailed 28-0.

"The defense looked really good early," Peterson said. "Then we got worn down and being young its easier to get worn down."

The Red Devils scored their only touchdown until late in the third quarter when quarterback Scott Murray connected with Jon Reese for a 17-yard touchdown. Corey Purvis scored the two-point conversion.

For the game, Murray was 5 of 9 for 71 yards and one touchdown. He also had a fumble recovery. Robert Grover rushed for 61 yards on 14 carries and Pat Bearden had 61 yards on 10 carries.

On defense, Kevin Roberts and Reese each had 11 tackles. Nate Diller, Bearden and Aaron Woodard each had nine.

Turnovers were a big factor in the loss for the Red Devils. They had three fumbles and two interceptions.

EAST JORDAN HOSTS INVITATIONAL

Rambler girls first, EJ boys second

The East Jordan boys placed three runners in the top 10 and five in the top 15 to earn second-place honors at the East Jordan Cross Country Invitational on Sept. 12.

Charlevoix took first-place with 27 points, followed by East Jordan with 45, Harbor Springs 75, Boyne City 120, Elk Rapids 131, Kalkaska-145, and Traverse City St. Francis 164.

Boyne City won the girls' compe-petition with 44 points, followed by Elk Rapids 64, Charlevoix 76, TCSF 81, East Jordan 111, and Kalkaska-166.

Jeremy Penzien led the Red Devils with a sixth-place finish in 18:00, followed by Garrett Romero (7th-18:15), Peter Warnos (8th-18:26), Nick Hansen (11th-19:03), and Corban Shaw (13th-19:08). Takayuki Kida (21st-20:00) and Kyle Carson (32nd-21:03) also placed for East Jordan. Chris Duff won the JV race with a time of 19:34 while teammate Paul Brusse placed 11th in 22:54.

"Corban and Nick ran very well, but we will need more if we are to challenge Charlevoix," said East Jordan co-coach Matt Peterson.

The East Jordan girls were led by a 13th-place finish from Haley Shaw (22:44), while Ruth Elliott (17th-23:02) and Tiffanie Bearden (20th-23:32) rounded out the top 20. Also racing for the Red Devils were Krystal Birgy (30th-24:46), Amanda McMichael (31st-24:51), Carolyn Elliott (39th-28:00), and Nina Romero (47th-31:27).

"Ruth Elliott ran very well today, but we haven't been healthy," said Red Devils co-coach Dennis Snarey.

"We coaches feel the boys are headed in the right direction, but need to keep pushing."

Chelsea Poindexter won the middle school girls' race in a time of 10:28, leading East Jordan to a first-place finish.

Teammate Samantha Hartsough placed fourth in 11:31, while Amanda Thomas (11th), Melissa Harald (13th) and Liz David (18th) finished in the top 20. Roselyn Spiewak (21st), Laura Schihl (23rd), Allie Romero (24th), Rebecca Gardner (28th), and Megan Kishefsky (32nd) also ran for East Jordan.

For the boys, Josh Pung (11th-10:26) was East Jordan's top finisher, followed by Shane Gardner (18th-11:23). Bruce King (25th) and Benson Massey (32nd) also competed.

THE TOP FINISH was a huge achievement for the Ramblers, who, said Boyne head coach Andy Place, had never before run the EJ Invitational with a full girls team.

"Usually, we don't have everyone ready to run or injuries prevent us from fielding a full team," said Place.

Top finishers for Boyne City were Jane Stieber in second, with a time of 20:56.85; Mindy McCutcheon in fifth with a time of 21:43.86, and Emme Dunne in eighth with a time of 22:22.76.

Other members of the girls team are Bric VanDam, Carly Stieber, and Meredith Clemens.

The Rambler boys took a fourth as a team with 120 points, a finish that Place said was good considering that "our regular number two and number three runners did not finish."

Brad Winkler was the top finisher for the boys, in 12th place with a time of 19:04.96. "Brad and Brian have been consistent," said Place, and "Geoff Martin ran better than last week and has potential for improving."

David Burns had a personal best time of 21:11 and took a fifth place finish in junior varsity. "David was over four minutes faster than last year at this race," said Place.

Other runners, Place added, also made improvements over the team's first race.

In the middle school race, top finishers for Boyne City were Amy Anderson in fifth place with a time of 12:00.20, followed by Lindsey Mansfield in sixth with a time of 12:16.47.

Lon Kowalske wins seventh Ye Nyne Club Championship

Lon Kowalske won his seventh consecutive Club Championship at Ye Nyne Olde Hollis Golf Club on Sunday, Sept. 9, beating John Povolito on the first hole of their sudden death playoff.

Kowalske birdied his last hole in regulation to force the playoff, eventually leading to his 16th overall club championship. Kowalske and Povolito, both of Boyne City, each shot one over par, actual round 71s, leading to the sudden-death finish.

Bob Prebble, of Boyne City, captured the Senior Club Championship, shooting an adjusted score of 70. East Jordan's Bill Chase netted a 71, and Fred Lehto and John Buckmaster, both of Boyne City, followed with 72s in the Senior Flight.

In the Championship Flight, Povolito won with a net 68, while Dave Sherman of Boyne City netted a 69, and Dave Peck of East Jordan, with a net 70, rounded out the top three.

Brian Williams' net 67 gave him a victory in the second flight, followed by playing partner Art Robinson with a net 70, and Steve Peck with a net 71. Williams, Robinson, and Peck are all of Boyne City.

Charlevoix downs Boyne in home opener

It was a tale of two halves for the Boyne City Ramblers last Thursday night in their home opener against Charlevoix.

For much of the first half, the two teams played even before Charlevoix made a late surge to take a seven-point lead at the half. In the third quarter, it was a different story. Charlevoix outscored Boyne City 26-12 on its way to a 72-43 victory.

"We knew Charlevoix would be tough, but we don't feel they are some 30 points better," said Boyne City head coach Michele Deming. "It really comes down to defense."

And that's an area of the game the Ramblers will be focusing on during practice in the coming days. Boyne City and East Jordan played Tuesday night, but the Ramblers game against Kalkaska on Thursday night has been rescheduled to an October date so they will have plenty of time to practice.

Against Charlevoix, Michelle Metzger and Kristi Gaither led the Ramblers with 14 points each. Metzger also had 12 rebounds and Gaither had six.

THE RAMBLER JV basketball team lost a closer one to league rival Charlevoix, 55-52. Whitney Spaay led Boyne City with 11 points and 10 rebounds. Karlene Gaither added 10 points, while Kayla Eaton contributed nine. The Ramblers are now 3-2 overall, 0-1 in conference play.

BOYNE CITY'S freshmen team enjoyed a big 46-43 win over Charlevoix. Ashley Gibbs led the team with 15 points followed by Kathleen Adkison with 7, and Malory Lehto and Emily McLane with 6 points each.

The win improved the Ramblers' record to 4-1.

Red Devils can't overcome slow start

East Jordan fell to 1-3 with a tough 60-46 loss to Kingsley.

The Red Devils started slow, going one for eight in the first quarter and sending one of their top players to the bench with early foul trouble.

At the half, Kingsley led 37-16, but the Red Devils made it interesting as they came within six points at the end of the fourth quarter.

"I will give the girls credit for working hard the second half and closing to a six-point difference with 1 1/2 minutes remaining," said East Jordan coach Dan Pepin.

"Forced to foul and to take chances didn't work for us and resulted in some free throws and easy baskets for Kingsley in the last 90 seconds."

Courtney Hammond led the Red Devils with 22 points, despite being sidelined for most of the first half due to foul trouble.

Lisa Talboys added eight points and seven rebounds, while Jackie Haley and Andrea Palmrose each scored six points.

Haley also led East Jordan in the rebound department, grabbing eight boards, while Palmrose added seven and Hammond, six.

East Jordan was scheduled to travel to Boyne City on Tuesday night to begin conference play, and will face Ellsworth on Sept. 20.

BAY TOWNSHIP NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE

The Bay Township Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 2, 2001 at the Bay Township Hall, 05045 Boyne City Road in the Village of Horton Bay.

The purpose of the public hearing is to hear comments from the public on a proposed text amendment to the Bay Township Zoning Ordinance to provide for and regulate B & B's (Bed and Breakfast Facilities) as a special use in all zoning districts. The text provides: the facility be in a single family dwelling; have no more than 6 rooms for guests, have lavatory and bathing facilities available to all guest rooms; have the appearance of a single-family residence; have only one (1) sign of twelve (12) square feet or less; serve meals to overnight guests only; create no excessive noise, traffic or other nuisance; provide parking on site; cover no more than 50 percent of the parcel with structures and parking areas; for the screening of refuse and garbage collection areas; prohibits snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles, boats, etc. to be used on site; requires a site plan showing the total property and also the relationship to adjacent property.

A definition of "B & B" will appear in the Ordinance. The provision allowing a B & B as a matter of right in the Village Overlay District will be deleted and it will become a special use as in their districts.

Persons may comment in person, or send written comments for presentation at the public hearing, by mail to Bay Township Planning Commission, 05045 Boyne City Road, Boyne City, MI 49727 or by facsimile transmission to (231) 582-3594. In addition, written comments may be e-mailed to wildwind@voyager.net. Written comments must be received not later than 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 2, 2001. A copy of the proposed amendment may be viewed by calling the Bay Township Clerk at the Bay Township Hall (231) 5823594, or visiting the Boyne District Public Library or Horton Bay General Store.

Secretary, Bay Township Planning Commission

TAX EXEMPTION ORDINANCE MULTIPLE FAMILY HOUSING PROJECT CITY OF BOYNE CITY, MICHIGAN COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX

Enactment of Ordinance No. A-81

At a regular meeting of the City Commissioners of the City of Boyne City, County of Charlevoix, Mich. held at City Hall in said City the 11th day of September 2001 at 7 p.m., the following Ordinance A-81 to City of Boyne City General Ordinances, was presented for a second reading and enactment. The following is a synopsis of the approved amendment No. A-81:

An Ordinance to provide for a service charge in lieu of taxes for a proposed multiple family dwelling project for persons of low income to be financed or assisted pursuant to the provisions of the State Housing Development Authority Act of 1966, as amended.

THE CITY OF BOYNE CITY ORDAINS:
This Ordinance shall be known and cited as the "City of Boyne City Tax Exemption Ordinance."

Preamble.
It is acknowledged that it is a proper public purpose of the State of Michigan and its political subdivisions to provide housing for its citizens of low income and to encourage the development of such housing by providing for a service charge in lieu of property taxes in accordance with the State Housing Development Authority Act of 1966. The City of Boyne City is authorized by this Act to establish or change the service charge to be paid in lieu of taxes by any or all classes of housing exempt from taxation under this Act at any amount it chooses, not to exceed the taxes that would be paid but for this Act.

City of Boyne City acknowledges that Boyne Lake View Limited Partnership (the Sponsor) has offered, subject to receipt of a Mortgage Loan from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority, to erect, own and operate a housing development identified as Boyne Lake View Project on certain property located near Court, Park and High Streets, Section 27, near Chapman and Addis' Addition to Spring Harbor, in the City of Boyne City, to serve persons of low income, and that the Sponsor has offered to pay the City on account of this housing development an annual service charge for public services in lieu of all taxes.

Establishment of Annual Service Charge.
The Housing Development identified as Boyne Lake View Project and the property on which it shall be constructed shall be exempt from all property taxes from and after the commencement of construction. The annual service charge shall be equal to 3 percent to the difference between the Annual Shelter Rents actually collected and Utilities.

Limitation on the Payment of Annual Service Charge.
Notwithstanding Section 5, the service charge to be paid each year in lieu of taxes for the part of the Housing Development which is tax exempt and which is occupied by other than low income persons or families shall be equal to the full amount of the taxes which would be paid on that portion of the Housing Development if the Housing Development were not tax exempt.

Payment of Service Charge.
The annual service charge in lieu of taxes as determined under the Ordinance shall be payable in the same manner as general property taxes are payable to the City of Boyne City except that the annual payment shall be paid on or before Dec. 31 of each year.

A copy of the entire text of this ordinance is available at the City Clerk's office during normal business hours. This ordinance shall take effect Sept. 28, 2001.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

By SUE HOBBS

IT IS APPARENT, from the questions city staff is getting, that there is some misconception about where the money is coming from to pay for the playground. Someone had asked why they didn't have water and sewer service, yet we were building a playground? The answer is that there are no tax dollars going into the playground. This structure will be built on city property, but all funds for construction are being raised by the playground committee and the structure will be built by volunteer labor.

CONSTRUCTION CREWS last week were pressure testing the water main from the intersection of Groveland and Line streets to Silver Street and individual service lines are being hooked up to the new main. Cleanup will be started immediately after the storm sewer work is done on Groveland Street. As a reminder, construction is still underway so there may be unplanned water shut offs until the work is done. City policy is to notify all affected homes, however, if there is a break in the water main, the crew has to immediately shut down the line. At that time, a crew member should go door to door and let those residents know approximately how long the service will be off.

THERE WAS a sanitary sewer overflow on Saturday, Sept. 1, along West Michigan Avenue, between Charlevoix and North Lake streets. Residents along the affected area were notified to not swim for several hours in front of their property. The lines were cleared and, hopefully, there will not be a reoccurrence.

(Sue Hobbs is the city clerk assistant city manager for Boyne City.)

BOYNE CITY SOCCER

The new Boyne City High School soccer team played its first game Thursday, losing to Harbor Springs 5-0. The first scheduled game on Tuesday, Sept. 11 against Forrest Area Schools was postponed to Oct. 15.

Harbor Springs had 15 shots on goal and Boyne had five. The Rams were up 2-0 at the half, and after three quick goals to start the second half, Boyne kept the ball out of its net for the rest of the game.

Rambler coach Nick Baic saw some positives despite the loss, and thought the team "played pretty well."

"Part way through the second half, we started applying more pressure offensively, but we had trouble finishing," Baic said. "We are a fairly young and inexperienced team and we'll improve with every game. It will be fun watching the players develop. Tyler Barys had a great game and Jeff Bonneville made some nice saves at keeper."

Boyne City's next game is Friday, Sept. 21 against Charlevoix's Northwest Academy. Shanahan Field off Martin Road is the site for the game, which begins at 4:30 p.m.

Boyne City Soccer Travel Teams

Boyne City's girls travel team played two games Saturday at Rotary Park in Boyne City. In the first game, they played to a tie against Elk Rapids, 0-0. Leslie Sweet played well at keeper blocking 4 shots. Boyne had 3 shots on goal. Petoskey won the second game 4-1 with Ali Danforth scoring for Boyne.

Boyne City's U-12 boys travel team played two games in Traverse City Sunday. In their first game they lost to Traverse City 4-3. Boyne took a 1-0 lead on a goal by Philip Conklin. Traverse City tied it up just minutes later. Scott Hansen scored next on a nice pass from José Hernandez to put Boyne up 2-1 at half time. TC scored quickly in the second half to tie the game at 2-2. Conklin scored once more on a breakaway goal, but the 3-2 lead didn't hold up as TC scored two more goals to win 4-3.

Boyne City lost another close one to Petoskey in the second game 2-1. Scoring for Boyne was Ryan Clubine on a nice crossing pass from Dylan Dunne. Playing tough defense for Boyne were Nathan Clubine, Beau Kroondyk, Mac Brennan and Tyler Uрман. Adam Daneff, Hansen, Brendan Baic, Conklin, Ryan Clubine and Peter Carleton combined on offense to out-shoot Petoskey 12-10. Hernandez made his debut in goal with a couple of nice saves.

Rotary Park was the site for more games on Sunday, as the Boyne City U-15 Co-ed travel team hosted Petoskey and Elk Rapids. They ended the day with a tie and a win.

In the first game against Petoskey, Megan Keiser found the net first to put Boyne up 1-0. Petoskey scored quickly on their ensuing kick-off to tie the game. The second half was scoreless, keeping the final score at 1-1.

Boyne City overpowered Elk Rapids in the second game, winning 4-0. Scoring for Boyne were Eli Barys, Matt Keiser and Aurora Ryan. Ben Kroondyk had an assist. Justin Knysz played strong at goal both games. Dan Sutton played well at mid-field.

FIX-UP

Take The Chill Out Of Your Heating Bills This Winter

Taking energy-saving measures can cut up to 30 percent from your annual heating and cooling bills, say home-energy experts. Best of all, while you scrimp on energy, you can splurge on comfort and help the environment.

- Get a tune up. Inefficient, under-performing heating/cooling systems guzzle energy and drive up energy costs. Even the best systems can go out of adjustment. Call in a professional heating/cooling contractor to inspect and service your system to help ensure that it runs efficiently.

- Watch the performance. Now you can have your heating/cooling system's daily performance professionally monitored. Monitoring helps ensure efficient operation and promptly alerts you and your contractor of problems, so you can get them fixed quickly.

- Turn down the heat. You can save energy in winter by turning down your thermostat when you sleep or when you're away. An Energy Star*-labeled programmable thermostat, like one from Honeywell, does this automatically for you and may help shave off up to 30 percent on your annual heating and cooling bills. New technology lets you adjust your thermostat by telephone, so you can save energy from afar.

- Do ducts right. Leaking air ducts can sap the overall efficiency of your heating and cooling system by as much as 20 percent. Properly sealing the leaks in your duct system can boost efficiency and lower your energy bills.

- Get in your comfort zone. Heat only the areas of your home that you're using. Zoned temperature systems help manage utility bills year-round by delivering heat and cooling when and where it's needed.

- Moisturize the air. Using a humidifier during the winter can make the air in your home feel warmer, allowing you to stay comfortable and save energy at lower temperatures. Plus, proper humidity protects your woodwork from damage due to excessive dryness.

- Choose Energy Star* appliances. They meet the highest efficiency standards. Selecting Energy Star*-labeled appliances for all your heating and cooling needs could slash your energy bills by up to a third, says the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

- Change your air filter. Dusty, dirty filters can clog your heating and cooling system's airflow and make it work harder. Change your filter monthly.

- Clean up. If you don't have a whole-house air cleaner, consider installing one. A good air cleaner traps more particles from the air passing through it than a standard filter does. That helps your furnace or heat pump run more efficiently, which puts less strain on your utility bills. Plus, you'll enjoy better indoor air.

For more information on do-it-yourself and professionally installed products that save energy, visit www.honeywell.com/yourhome/. Or call toll-free (800) 345-6770, ext. 522.

Lady Loggers hang on to beat Mackinaw

It was a battle, a struggle, a closely contested game. By the end, it was a struggle, a lead almost blown, and a sigh of relief that it was over for Coach Doug Tippett and the Boyne Falls Lady Loggers.

Mackinaw City had its sights on taking down the Lady Loggers, and to that end it stayed hot on the tail of Boyne Falls, matching them press-for-press and nearly foul-for-foul.

The Comets managed to take the lead away after the first eight minutes, 11-10. The Lady Loggers kept the pressure up and on, keeping the residents of the Log House on the edge of their seats as the Lady Loggers came back to take a 28-27 lead at the half. The lead was not without its costs; both Emily Korthase and Amanda Raphael were nursing three fouls into the break.

Kim Wagner boosted the Logger lead out of the break, and, after the Comets came back to within one, Korthase scored twice to push the Logger lead to 36-31. The Comets cut the lead to one again, but another surge to the end of the quarter got the Loggers within eight minutes of a game and a win, 42-35.

Boyne Falls stayed tough, even after Jenny Kuhn fouled out with just over three minutes to go and the Comets cutting the lead to 47-44. Erika Jarema popped in her free throws to up the lead and help start a run that would kick the gap up to 55-45 with 69 seconds to go.

Raphael then fouled out, and three seconds later, so did Rachel Lewin. Lillian Florenski grabbed a big rebound to slow the Mackinaw City surge, but pressure, free throws and a timely bucket cut the Lady Logger lead to a precarious 55-53 margin with 24.4 seconds to go.

Mackinaw City went for the lead, but the shot missed and the Lady Loggers grabbed the rebound. Unfortunately a turnover gave the ball back to Mackinaw.

With 11 seconds to go, the Comets got a break, drove the lane, but lost the ball. Jarema grabbed it and dribbled away the final seconds of a breathtaking 55-53 win.

Kim Wagner finished the game with 15 points, seven rebounds and five steals. Raphael had 11 points, six rebounds and five steals. Kuhn had six assists and six steals and Stephanie Dzwick had nine rebounds.

The teams combined for 71 free throws, and it was the two more Boyne Falls made that made the difference.

"We escaped," Tippett said. "We played into their hands and it was frustrating. I hope we learned from it."

"We'll have to play a whole lot better when we get to Ellsworth and Harbor Light (on the schedule)."

The Lady Loggers were without Kayla Reynolds, who injured her ankle the day before in practice. No return date for her has been set.

Annie Pemicano scored 12, but it did not stop Mackinaw City in the JV game, the Comets winning 33-26.

Road trips are the way of the Lady Loggers this week. Visits to Vanderbilt on Tuesday and Lake Leelanau St. Mary's (played at Leland) on Thursday are in store.
