

Annual school election Monday

Last year it was June 14; the year before that it was June 8. This year, the day the fate of the county's schools goes on the line is next Monday, June 12.

IN TWIN VALLEY voters are being requested to help finance a budget of $2,320,000, a 7½ percent increase over last year's budget. The millage request is for 13.3 mills based on the new district valuation.

The school system is operating during the current term on a budget of $2,157,000, with local financing figured at 16.8 mills based on the old valuation.

Also on the ballot Monday will be the names of six men running for three openings on the school board.

Seeking four year terms are Rex Judkins, Oral Sutliff (incumbent), Harvey Crozier, Jr., and Sam Reid. Two of these men will be elected.

Seeking the single opening for a one year term are incumbent Bob Reidel and Karl Waldner.

IN BOYNE FALLS voters are going to the polls for the second time to look over next year's millage. They turned out in record number April 4 to defeat a 21 mill request for next year. The figure on the ballot Monday is 17 mills.

The proposed 1972-73 budget for Boyne Falls is about $275,000 compared with the current $234,691. About $10,000 of the increase in the proposed budget is to repay a deficit incurred this year when expected state funds were withheld.

Five persons are seeking two four terms on the Boyne Falls School Board. Sylvester Czerkies is the only incumbent seeking re-election. Others seeking one of the two spots are Arden Hausler, Sue Hobbs, Herman Niedling, and Gerald Franckowiak.

Graduation

Murder trial costs are high

CHARLEVOIX - "I'm sure glad Charlevoix County isn't paying for it," Clarence Rabach, Charlevoix County clerk said recently concerning the murder trial now taking place in Charlevoix Circuit Court.

"I couldn't come up with a cost figure on the trial," Prosecutor Tom Kizer of Livingston County said Tuesday. "But it will be less than a million dollars like the Angela Davis trial is rumored supposed to have cost."

While the murder trial being held in Charlevoix may not cost a million, it will be hard felt by Livingston County taxpayers (population, 58,000). One Charlevoix official threw out a rough cost guess of "at least $150,000."

Among the expenses being incurred are: 1) a $15 per day juror fee for each juror. After the second day of jury interviews, (almost 100 eliminated) that cost alone is estimated at more than $1,500. 2) Attorney's fees. 3) The transportation, lodging, meals, fees, and other expenses of the Livingston County court entourage of 12 persons and of a possible 37 prosecution witnesses. 4)

Defense costs.

Strict precautions for a fair trial are being taken by Livingston County Judge Paul Mahinske who has instructed even the prospective jurors not to talk about, read about, or listen to news reports about the trial. "Not even with your spouses," Judge Mahinske said.

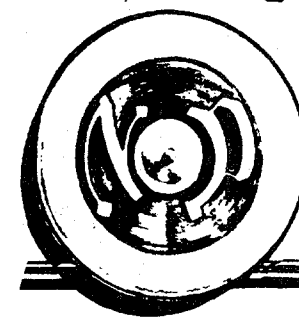

"If you happen to do so, I expect you to bring it to the attention of the court," Judge Mahinske advised.

The judge also told those being interviewed for jury duty that they are to present to the court in writing with the names of other jurors with whom they might have driven to court, "for the court record, so we can see who rides with whom," he explained.

The murder trial, expected to last at least two weeks, is being held in Charlevoix County on a change of venue from Livingston County. Judge Mahinske decided that too much pre-trial publicity had been given in the Livingston area.

Accused in the murder of a 17 year old Flint girl last October are Mrs. Janet Lee Musser, 17, and Raymond L. Humbel, 22, both of Flint.

Twin Valley adopts resolution to limit operational millage

EAST JORDAN - Meeting in special session here Tuesday evening, just prior to East Jordan High School commencement exercises, Twin Valley School Board members adopted a resolution restricting operational millage for the 1972-73 school year to only "that amount necessary to raise the revenue to meet the budget that was presented to the County Allocation Board in May."

A statement released by the board following their special meeting reads...

"The Charlevoix County Allocation Board allocated .9 mill more than previously anticipated to the school districts of the county. This was allocated to the school districts with the good faith that the local districts would refuse local voted millage whenever possible, thus providing tax relief to taxpayers.

While the state legislature has not seen fit to pass a school state aid bill yet, it is possible to compute an approximate state aid figure for next year from what is known about the bill that is presently in the legislature.

With this as a background, the Twin Valley Board of Education has passed the following resolution:

RESOLUTION: "The total voted operational millage that will be levied for the 1972-73 year will be reduced at least .9 mill from the 13.3 request and only that amount will be levied that is necessary to raise the revenue to meet the budget that was presented to the County Allocation Board in May, 1972."

It is hoped that the taxpayers of this district will have the faith in their Board of Education that this tax relief will be forthcoming.

General meeting

EAST JORDAN - Chamber of Commerce officials and directors here will host a general membership meeting this next Tuesday evening, June 13th.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. and be held in the upstairs community meeting room of the East Jordan Co-op.

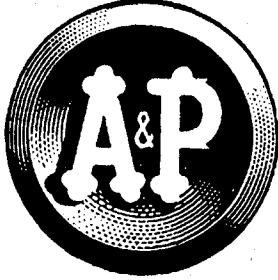

One of the items on the agenda is expected to be a report on the upcoming 4th of July holiday Jordan Valley Festival, and the setting up of some type of schedule for the annual festival.

The meeting is open to the public.

The men who want to serve you

TWIN VALLEY - The future of the Twin Valley school district is being brought before the people once again here Monday, as voters are being asked to approve a 13.3 mill operational budget and choose three new school board members.

The request for 13.3 mills is to produce local revenue for a projected 1972-73 operating budget of $2,320,000, about 7 1-2 percent higher than the 1971-72 budget of $2,157,582.

Last year's operational millage request with the lower district valuation, was 16.8 mills.

Six candidates, all from the former Boyne City district, are vying for three vacancies on the school board.

Oral Sutliff and Bob Reidel are board members who are seeking re-election. Mr. Sutliff is hoping to be elected to a four year term and Mr. Reidel, to a one year term.

Others seeking the two four year posts are Rex Judkins, Sam Reid, and Harvey Crozier, Jr. Running against Mr. Reidel for the one year position is Karl Waldner.

Below is a brief description of the candidates and some of their thoughts on why they are running.

Sam Reid

Sam Reid, 23, now of Boyne City, is a graduate of East Jordan High School and has attended Ferris State College.

He is employed at the Boyne City A&P Store as head stock and receiver. Sam lived in East Jordan 15 years before moving to Boyne five years ago. He is married and he and his wife have two children, ages four and one.

He also is an executive board member of the retail store employees union.

His comments:

"The majority of the people in the area cannot afford a central high school, so I am not in favor of it."

Rex Judkins

Rex E. Judkins, 37, is a lifetime resident of Boyne City, and a 1952 graduate of BCHS. He attended business college in Bay City for two years and studied higher accounting.

Rex is single. He has been employed for the past 17 years in the accounting and data processing departments of the East Jordan Iron Works.

He is a charter member of the Boyne Valley Lions' Club, and serves as secretary of two Boyne City bowling leagues and also of the Boyne City Bowling Association.

His current feelings and comments: "I sincerely feel the current Board has been doing an excellent job in the running of the Twin Valley School District, trying earnestly to provide the best education possible for the funds available.

"School costs, as all other costs, have been naturally going up. This blame, if any, cannot be put upon the local board.

"On a central high school, I sincerely feel the pulse of the people must be measured extensively.

"I feel a central vocational education facility would be a fine addition to Twin Valley.

"On any and all of these programs, the funds that may be available from outside sources must be taken into consideration, possibly relieving the burden from the local taxpayers.

"Again, the local board, administration, along with the Citizens' Advisory Group has done much in this line to try to take advantage of any funds and assistance available."

Karl Waldner

Karl Waldner, a resident of Wilson Township, is self-employed as a residential planner. He and his wife, Janet, have five children.

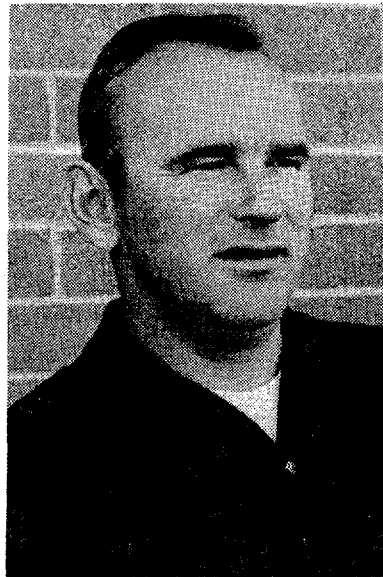

Karl has attended the University of Stockholm and the Royal Academy of Design in Stockholm, the Cranbrook Academy of Arts in Bloomfield Hills, the University of New Mexico and Eastern Michigan University.

He has submitted the following statement:

"When our East Jordan-Boyne City school administrators talk about operating millage they refer to the frosting on the local education money cake. The state returns half of all sales tax plus other monies as state aid to schools and the county returns a healthy piece of the property taxes to create this big money cake. It is damn near enough without the frosting to run our schools as a successful business might be operated. But administrators all like frosting. And they have misinformed the taxpayer for so long about the realistic needs and costs thereof that they apparently believe their own propaganda. My view is that we, as parents and taxpayers, must now "educate" the administrators. Thirteen and three tenths mills for the East Jordan-Boyne City school systems is grossly too much. Even half --6.5 mills is generous.

My policy as a board member would be to expose stupidity, do-nothingism and unrealistic costs in the interests of the children and the majority of people in the East Jordan-Boyne City school systems."

Harvey Crozier, Jr.

Harvey E. Crozier Jr., 39, is a lifetime resident of Boyne City. He graduated from Boyne City High School in 1951, attended North Central Michigan Community College in Petoskey for two years, joined the air force in 1953 and was honorably discharged in 1957. He is working in the field of construction.

He is married to the former Shirley Green of Little Rock Arkansas, and they have four children, ages five through 14. The family lives on Crozier Road in Wilson Township.

Mr. Crozier is a member of the Wilson Township Board and is an active member of the 4-H Club and in Post 228 of the American Legion.

His reasons for running:

"I am dissatisfied with the way the Twin Valley School system has been run, and I feel the merger itself was pushed on the people.

I am opposed to the construction of a central high school. We have a new school in Boyne City now. It doesn't make sense to build a new one.

If your family gets larger, you don't build a new house unless you happen to be a millionaire. Instead you add on, or adapt your house to fit your bigger family. And I don't think this school district is a millionaire one.

As far as the proposed vocational education center is concerned, I like the idea to a point, but I have the suspicion that the board intends to use it as a stepping stone towards building a central high school.

Finally I think there is a lack of communication between the school board and the people. The people are supposedly running the schools, and just because a school board member wants something, that doesn't make it right."

Bob Reidel

Bob Reidel, 49, is a Wilson Township farmer who has lived in the Boyne City area his entire life. Bob is married and he and his wife have two daughters attending BCHS and a son attending North Central Michigan Community College at Petoskey.

Bob is chairman of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services, is a member of the Boyne City Co-op board of directors, and is a member of the Lutheran Church Board.

One of two men who are seeking re-election to the school board, Bob has served on the Boyne City Twin Valley Board of Education since 1959.

He says he is strongly in favor of the construction of the vocational education facility for the Twin Valley district. He offered no comment regarding the construction of a central high school.

Oral Sutliff

Oral Sutliff, 35, is secretary-clerk of the Charlevoix County Road Commission.

He is a life-long resident of Boyne City and graduated from Boyne City High School in 1955. He and his wife, Eleanor, have two children, ages 8 and 5.

Oral has served as a volunteer fireman in Boyne City for the past 10 years.

His comments:

"The vocational education facility will relieve overcrowding in both communities, and for this reason, along with the fact that voc.-ed. is a great asset in preparing high school kids for jobs, I definitely am in favor of it.

State assistance would not have been available for vocational education programs in either community separately.

As far as the central high school is concerned, I'm still playing it by ear. If, in five or ten years, overcrowding necessitates the construction of new facilities, it seems more practical to me to build one central school than two separate schools at a higher cost."

CMU professor to be guest speaker at "Tell It Like It Is"

BOYNE CITY - Dr. Donald Breckon, Assistant Professor of Health Education at Mt. Pleasant's Central Michigan University, will be the guest speaker at "Tell It Like It Is," an open-to-the-public session of the Boyne City Drug Council next week.

The session will be held next Tuesday evening, June 13th, at 8:00 p.m. in the high school library.

President of the Boyne Drug Council, Dick Cote, this week described "Tell It Like It Is" as a report back to the community. "We plan to report to the people at next Tuesday's meeting on the local drug scene as it now is," explained Cote.

Featured at Tuesday's session will be Dr. Breckon, who is one of the leading authorities on effective teaching approaches in drug education in the state.

In addition, a panel comprised of various professional law and medical personnel will also be on hand to field questions and make comments.

To discuss sale of legion building

EAST JORDAN - Discussion of closing the bar of the American Legion here and possible sale of the legion building, will head the agenda this Friday evening, June 9th, when American Legion Rebec-Sweet Post No. 227 members meet.

The meeting will be held at the legion and will start at 8:00 p.m.

All members interested in the future of the American Legion Club in East Jordan are urged to attend the special meeting.

Cyclist hurt

CHANDLER TOWNSHIP - Doug Winnell, 25, of Charlevoix, was treated at Little Traverse Hospital Sunday afternoon after being thrown from his motorcycle while open-field riding in Chandler Township.

Winnell was transported to the hospital by two friends who told police his motorcycle hit a rut.

Iron Works fire costs up to $75,000

EAST JORDAN - A four hour fire that raged through the north end of the East Jordan Ironworks late Thursday night has caused an estimated $60,000 to $75,000 in damages "excluding the cost of labor".

Assistant East Jordan Fire Chief Don Bowers reports that the fire alarm sounded at 9:40 p.m. after sparks from a welding unit had shot through a crack in a makeshift wall and ignited a nearby pit of iron cleaning solvent. No one was injured.

"We had 14 men fighting the fire; Boyne City sent over a crew of 12 or 15 men; and the fellows working at the Ironworks also pitched in to help fight the blaze," Bowers said. "We fought it with both water and high expansion foam until 1:30 a.m."

Don said temperatures inside the building reached anywhere from 2,000 to 3,000 degrees, melting electrical conduit, and gas lines, and twisting steel beams.

"The problem was keeping the heat down as well as fighting flames," Don explained. "We'd get the fire out, but the roof beams would be so hot that they'd ignite the fire again."

The $75,000 damage estimate reportedly was quoted from an insurance adjustor. Ironworks spokesmen comment that the figure is "as good or as bad as any. It could be twice that or half that. But there was a lot of electrical damage that effected more than the immediate area."

Most production at the foundry is reported back to normal. No workers have been laid off because of fire damage.

Cycle crash

BOYNE CITY - Two nineteen year old Petoskey youths suffered cuts and abrasions after colliding in a motorcycle accident here at 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

Boyne City police report John Mackie was riding his cycle behind Howard Harmon on Harris St. south of Wenonah when Harmon's bike spun around 180 degrees and collided with Mackie's.

Harmon told police his throttle stuck, causing him to lose control.

Answers

DAVE FULTZ

EDITOR'S NOTE: Twin Valley Superintendent Dave Fultz will answer any questions about school operations (not including personalities), that are mailed to him at the Twin Valley Administrative Office, 215 East Water Street, Boyne City, 49712. Questions need not be signed.

QUESTION

Can't the question on the ballot be worded any differently regarding the millage? The way the question is worded scares many people into thinking they are voting the added millage on top of what they are already paying.

ANSWER

The wording of the question on the operational millage ballot is determined by statute. We must word the proposal on the ballot as the law states. The question on the ballot on June 12 will be: "Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Twin Valley School District, Charlevoix and Antrim Counties, Michigan, be increased by 13.3 mills on each dollar ($13.30 on each $1000) of the asessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in said school district for the year 1972, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating expenses (this increase is 3.5 mills less than the 16.8 mills for operating purposes which expired with the 1971 levy)?"

You are correct in that the first part of the wording of this question could scare voters into thinking they might be voting a 13.3 mill increase on top of the present 16.8 mills. However, this is not the case. The last part of the proposal states very definitely that this is 3.5 mills less than the 16.8 mills which expired with the 1971 tax levy.

The ballot actually permits the voter to vote yes or no on whether he or she wishes the school district to levy 13.3 mills, 3.5 mills less than this past year, for the operation of the schools for the year 1972-73. The Board of Education has already voted to reduce the debt retirement levy in the old Boyne City District by .5 mill. Thus, this would be a 4 mill reduction to taxpayers in that area of the district.

QUESTION

I understand the proposed school budget for 1972-73 is a 7.5 percent increase over last year. Can you tell me why?

ANSWER

This 7.5 percent increase is less than the increase of most governmental units. Some of these budgets in this area are increasing by over 20 percent. The 7.5 percent increase in the school budget is due to:

1. Approved increased rates in utility costs (gas and telephone).
2. Approved increased rates in hospitalization insurance for all employees. This amounts to an 11 percent increase.
3. Increased Workman's Compensation costs.
4. Cost of living increase in all supplies and materials.
5. Increased bus costs.
6. Improvements to the program, especially in the junior high curriculum. This includes the addition of three teachers.
7. Salary increases due to schedule.

Bikes stolen

BOYNE CITY - Two mini-bikes, valued together at $407, were stolen from Floyd's Ruppe Center along M-75, sometime Sunday night or Monday morning, state police report.

The theft was discovered by dealer Floyd Wisniewski, who found his back door had been forced open.

The matter is under investigation.

KNOW

THE # FACTS

There Are Some Summer Residents Who Would Have You Believe 13.3 Mills Are Equal To 25 or 26 Mills In Taxes To All District Residents. THIS IS NOT TRUE! Several Changes Vary In Each Township And City And In Many Cases With Individual Property.

I Wonder If Summer Residents Have A Concern For Our Kids?

What's happening in the Boyne Falls School District?

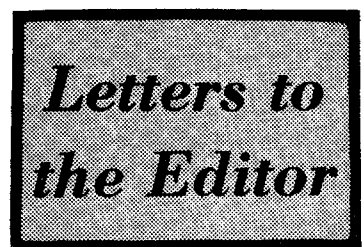

Dear Editor,

What's really happening in the Boyne Falls School? As a concerned parent and taxpayer I would like to have answers to the following questions:

1. What became of the public meeting the people requested to be held before the next millage election?
2. Why do we hire two principals when accreditation requirements state "one per 500 students?" Boyne Falls spends money for an additional one we don't need. Just think what that salary could do in terms of books for our library, etc.
3. There is rumor that our students will be bussed to Petoskey for driver's training when highly qualified people have applied for the driver's ed job? Why? Are we going to Petoskey at such a discount?

We've always had our own program. School official members elected to school boards should inform the people of the school district on matters that concern us. Taxpayers that go to the polls with many unanswered questions find it hard to say "yes" when they don't fully understand what they're saying "yes" to.

One of many concerned taxpayers. (Name withheld at writer's request.)

Taxpayers are picking up Pols law suit tab

Dear Editor,

Sir: Taxpayers, today, are like lambs led to the slaughter. Politicians currently have the power to raise their own salaries and to bestow on themselves numerous fringe benefits not ordinarily available to "Joe Doakes". How do they get away with it? The answer is simple and resolves entirely on the dependence of Pols upon the forgetfulness of voters. The writer has an elephantine memory and I wish many more citizens were so endowed. A couple of State Senators are now instituting a law suit against the State with the sole purpose of keeping their jobs. But, Mr. Smith, the lawyers fees of this suit are being paid by you and me. It is interesting to note that all of the skunky Pols in Lansing have free use of legal services from Mr. Kelly and utilize these fringe benefits to a large degree.

But, Mr. Smith, do they pay income taxes on the value of such services? Probably not.

A recent most flagrant instance of immorality on the part of Pols was the decision of Warren, Michigan, hogs to more than double their salaries and to hell with Government restrictions on this sort of crap!

Now, in a different vein, I am inclined to comment on Mr. Nixon's protracted absence from our Country. Sure, the promotion of International Treaties is admirable, but, I, for one have a hard time remembering when the U.S.S.R honored a Treaty. In the spirit of the famous song entitled "Won't you please come home Bill Bailey", I would like to rephrase this to read "Won't you please stay at home Mr. Nixon, we need you". Our problems are multitudinous, in particular the financing of education.

A tribute to Dwight Smith and his band

Dear Editor, Would you please print this tribute to Director Dwight Smith of the East Jordan Concert Band?

For many years we have been admirers and patrons of the East Jordan High School Band. We have received so much enjoyment and our lives have been so enriched by this contact we would like to share with the East Jordan residents a tribute to Director Dwight Smith and the East Jordan Concert Band.

We have attended all concert District Festivals, Mass Band Festivals and any other activity in which the band was involved. When they won a coveted I rating, we shared in their joy, and occasionally, when they were disappointed, we shared this also, but at no time, whether they emerged victorious or disappointed, did their conduct deserve anything but a big I rating. This can be attributed to discipline, great dedication and pride in being part of an organization which has worked hard, enjoyed being together and had a common goal.

Recently we traveled with the band to the State Festival held in Flint, when top bands compete with other bands in their class for that all important I rating. Their joy in receiving their I was something to witness and their victorious return home was really climaxed by the police escort which met us outside the city and lead us into East Jordan. As one band member remarked, 'What could be greater than this!'

Several weeks later we accompanied them on their 2nd concert tour in Canada. They gave concerts in London, Prescott and Hamilton schools with high school enrollments up to 1500. As the superintendent in one school remarked - it seemed almost impossible that a band of their caliber could come from a high school of only 300. In each school we were given every courtesy and made to feel most welcome.

Thursday night and Friday morning was 'fun time' at Niagara Falls - no one could have packed in more sight seeing, pizzas and souvenir hunting! At eleven o'clock, after loading the busses, we were on our way home to good old East Jordan - tired, penniless, but still enthusiastic.

This letter would not be complete without mentioning the humor and friendship of our two North Star bus drivers, Myron Hurd and Ken Swanson, the pleasure of Glenda and Marlin Sweet's help and the excellent leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Smith.

Anyone failing to take advantage of an opportunity to see and hear this band misses one of East Jordan's finest hours. Three cheers for the East Jordan Concert Band and their Director Dwight Smith who are special ambassadors for the City of East Jordan.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Emory Cole
Mrs. Greg Boswell

Senator Bayh has support of the NRA

Dear Editor,

It might interest you to know that in spite of Sen. Birch Bayh's headline hunting, as you call it, his legislation has the support, in principal, of the National Rifle Association.

However, neither is it the object of this letter to comment on the merits of hand gun control legislation. The attainment of political mileage at the expense of public issues in not the prerogative of the Democratic Party alone. But somehow, according to our predominately Republican orientated press, it always comes out that way. Perhaps this is so because the Republican Party uses more devious methods to attain the same ends.

A good example is the efforts Senator Griffen has been making to WOO union leadership by sending out letters to local union officers advising them of his proposed legislation for pension re-insurance. Senator Griffen's past record on pension re-insurance has been totally negative which justifiably raises the question of the sincerity of his efforts at the present time.

Congressman Ruppe is likewise seeking political mileage by introducing the employee Protection Act of 1972.

The UAW was the first union in the country to advocate self-supporting (no cost to taxpayers) pension re-insurance to fully fund pensions when plants are terminated. As long as ten years ago Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana was prevailed upon to introduce a pension re-insurance bill. This and subsequent bills are pat-

"If It Fitz. . . ."

Women talk that way

Jim Fitzgerald

Hazel and Irene are walking on a busy downtown block and Hazel says: "Do you know what I am doing to stop perspiration?"

15 miles later, Hazel and Irene are walking on a deserted beach. "No," answers Irene, "what are you doing to stop perspiration?"

25 miles later, Hazel and Irene are in an airplane flying out of Lum International Airport. "I am plugging my pores with those new Feminine Acupuncture Sweatsticks," Hazel says.

1,578 miles later, Hazel and Irene are boarding a camel in Cairo. "Don't the Sweatsticks punch holes in your clothes?" Irene asks.

25 miles later, Hazel and Irene have stopped at a Standard pyramid to use the restroom. "No, silly," Hazel says. "I don't insert the Sweatsticks until after I'm dressed, mostly in fishnet fashions."

89 miles later, Hazel and Irene are riding a ferris wheel at the grand opening of the Sphinx Shopping Center. "But what about the underarm problem?" Irene asks. "Don't you get tired holding your arms out like airplane wings all the time?"

98 miles later, Hazel and Irene are boarding a barge on the Nile, watching carefully for asps. "It is only a problem when I have to turn corners fast," Hazel explains. "If a person is the right height, I chop off his head."

And so it goes, 'round the world in a 60-second TV commercial with Hazel and Irene.

You may find these commercials full of the pause that perplexes. You may think the advertiser is insulting your intelligence. You may think it is impossible and incredible that Hazel and Irene would take so long to say 7 simple sentences about feminine hygiene.

You are obviously a bachelor.

The Sweatstick advertiser has simply done what was necessary to fit his message into a time slot he can afford. Rather than give you a phony pitch, he has shown you exactly how women talk. But he has edited out all conversation irrelevant to his purpose - the selling of Sweatsticks. Otherwise, it would have been a telethon.

You see, dear bachelor, it is entirely possible that it could take thousands of miles, from downtown Lum to the Nile, for Hazel and Irene to say those 7 sentences about Sweatsticks. But interspersed among those few commercial words would be several million sentences concerning why that fat woman would wear such a hideous bathing suit, the color of the paint in the coffee shop in Lum International, the dangers of picking roses in a fishnet blouse, the rudeness of the Arab who had the key to the pyramid restroom, the impossibility of getting home in time to fix dinner for Joe. . . and on and on.

To put it briefly (a male trait), women don't just interrupt each other. They interrupt themselves. And then they interrupt their interruptions. If Paul Revere had been a woman Richard Nixon would be a prime minister and Hazel Revere would still be telling the woman next door where to buy a good lantern.

If my wife reads this tonight, she will accuse me of putting down women. Probably. I won't know for sure for about 2 days, the normal span of time between the opening noun and the closing verb.

Onward and Upward.

Letters to the Editor

turned after the federal insurance of bank deposits (FDIC) which insures bank deposits up to maximum of $20,000. It is estimated that complete pension re-insurance could be financed by a small tax on private pension plans estimated at one-tenth of one per cent.

Senator Griffen confronted with a tough campaign for reelection has chosen to support a pension re-insurance bill as part of that reelection effort. His bill copies in part the provisions of the Hartke Bill which he had promised but never did support in the past.

The current re-insurance bills supported by UAW are a senate bill authored by Democratic Senator Williams and Republican Javits and a house bill authored by Democrat Dent of Pennsylvania.

It seems that both Senator Griffen and Congressman Ruppe are "Johnny come lately" with their efforts to gain the support of the working man.

Best investment for future

Dear Editor,

I have been a taxpayer in Eveline township for more than twenty-five years and a registered voter for more than ten years. Like many others I am opposed to the recent increases in property taxes. However, I have always voted for requested funds to operate the local schools because I believe that funds spent for education are the best investment a community can make for the future.

I hope that all thinking citizens will support the requested Twin Valley school millage on June twelfth.

Yours truly,

When You're Ready

There is an old man

Mike Ready

While the attention of most of the state, and certainly the greatest part of this week's paper, is focused on the problems and activities of the young - graduation, school elections, summer activities, etc., my thoughts have drifted to the other end of the human age spectrum.

I suppose everyone knows an old person who is amazingly strong and clear - minded, considering his or her age. I'd like to pay tribute to one I know, and through him to all old people who are fighting the physical and social pressures urging them to do nothing, say nothing, and be nothing.

Behind our house in Charlevoix there lives an old man in his unfinished basement home. His wife died about a decade ago. They had no children, so he lives quite alone.

Karl Korth is 83 now, tall and strong still. His mind is sharp and he is proud.

Like most people his age, Karl is no longer a "productive member of society". He doesn't make cars, sell shoes, or service refrigerators. But he maintains responsibility and takes care of himself.

Karl has been fortunate enough to enjoy good health. But that is no accident. Daily four mile walks, work around his home, and good eating habits aren't part of everyone's life.

But what impresses me most is the sharpness of Karl's mind. That is no accident either. Besides taking care of bills and other necessities, he plans and executes projects in and around his home. He has been awarded placques from the City of Charlevoix for having the most attractive yard in town. He even beats me in cribbage.

Without meddling or ever being pushy, he is there to help anyone anytime he can. He advises and helps us with a joint garden project. He helps wife Jan plant flowers around the yard, and he shows amazing patience with our kids in his flowers.

Karl is enjoying his old age in more traditional ways too. He has the squirrels tame enough to eat out of his hand. When the weather is good, he frequently spends a few hours on Saturday evenings at Cal's Tavern in East Jordan for "a couple of shots, two beers, and a good chicken dinner."

There's nothing spectacular about Karl, or about many of the other old people in the area who defy old age and take care of themselves. But Karl has my admiration. I hope I can be the man he is when I'm his age.

Crapper smells to the high heaven

Dear Editor,

Your vulgar story as to what inventor gets credit for which mechanical device in the annals of defecation really smells to high heaven in this writer's opinion, who would think you could devote your journalistic talent to better ends.

The one bit of crud you stumbled badly over was your introduction to the story supposedly sent to you by a Mrs. Reynolds of Empe, Arizona. The real estate man did not interpret the young lady's abbreviation "W. C." to mean Western Church, as you have said, but her "W. C." meant Wesleyan Church as any one with the least knowledge of English jokes should know.

Your Mrs. Reynolds might do better to confine herself to matters pertaining to education, and leave the story telling to those having a talent in that line.

More on crappers

Gregg Smith

What is there about the crapper that arouses the friendly instincts of humans to make comment concerning this necessary bit of home furniture?

Since this series started a couple of weeks ago, I have made more new acquaintances who are prone to comment that they liked the historical commentary about the origin of the crapper. And the other evening, in a very dramatic exhibition, my good friend Pierre Brunet demonstrated why crappers added so much to the high cost of staging the winter Olympics in Sapporo, Japan.

Pierre is a very svelte and proper Parisian with the courtly manners of a French diplomat. Thus, it was somewhat of a surprise when he began to comment (in his best Parisian accent) about the plumbing arrangements that had been made at the stadium in Sapporo, last winter.

Pierre is, by profession, a mechanical engineer who makes his living (by preference) as the skating coach of such greats as Carol Heiss, and now Janet Lynn, the Illinois gal who's eyed as a shoo-in to take the next Olympic figure skating competitions.

We were just finishing dinner at Pierre's hogan on Springwater Beach when he commented on all the apparent interest that this crapper series had stimulated, and he said:

"You know in Japan, they had to put both western style toilets as well as Japanese toilets in stadium."

In view of present day plumbing costs, you can well imagine how this added to the cost of the Olympics. It requires two men to handle a gasket on a western one-seater; a minimum of 4 men -- no less -- to handle each of the John jobs -- western and Oriental style.

According to Pierre, the Orientals have never become accustomed to setting on the luxurious type western one-seater. Their crappers consist of a bowl that is installed in the floor -- at floor level -- and often in the middle of the room.

It is sort of an elongated thing, and has valves at one end. Near as I could gather from Pierre's description, it was sort of a vitrified enamel trench.

The Orientals, instead of sitting, must squat to enjoy this satisfying interlude of personal hygiene. The flush is accomplished by turning the valves, and presumably the "thing" all disappears down the hole at the far end of the ground level potty.

Like any articulate Frenchman, my friend Pierre must wave his arms around in order to speak understandingly. Thus Pierre's great students of past years should have observed the Old Maestro demonstrating the school figures of a Japanese crapper.

Ted Kearle, head football coach at Michigan Technological University, Houghton, was flown to East Jordan's annual athletic banquet by Ed Burrows, Jordan athletic director, and Harry Watson, Jordan's flying mayor.

As guest speaker, he said that when the plane was near Pellston airport, he overheard Harry Watson call control and ask what time it was. The radio operator came back with this explanation.

"It's 1800 hours if your flying east on North Central airlines; it's 1700 hours if your flying west on any airline; and you put the big hand on 12 and the little hand on 5 if you're Harry Watson of East Jordan."

That brought down the house.

Nearing Grand Rapids, last week, after a nice weekend in the North, Mrs. Dave Nicolette, who's "Dr. McAdams" in professional life, suddenly remembered that she had left a roast she had just purchased from Grays (Boyer City) in the oven.

There wasn't much that could be done about it -- just then.

So her husband, Dave Nicolette, news editor, Grand Rapids Press, said he'd drive up to their cottage at Walloon the next day and assay the damages.

He arrived the next day, expecting to find the interior of the cottage festooned with charred bits of beef roast hanging in cobweb-like formation from the rafter.

Instead, the Nicolette young ones, had thoughtfully turned off the gas. All that was in the oven was a well dried out roast. All's well that ends well.

The school election

Next week, Monday, June 12, district school electors will go to the polls for the purpose of approving or disapproving a "replacement" proposal issue that will permit the district to collect 13.3 mills for operational expenses.

The new operational millage proposal is actually less than the 16.8-mill expiring levy but, due to increased state equalized valuations, it will mean a hike in varying percentages that individual property owners will have to pay in taxes.

Your elected representatives who serve on the board of trustees of the school district have set a figure of 7.5 percent in the budget to cover such increased costs as electricity, fuel, postage, janitorial supplies, writing and toilet papers, chalk and erasers.

The school business, like every other business, is the victim of U.S. monetary policies which have operated on a charted inflationary course -- since former Pres. Roosevelt set out to prove that he was the first of the big spenders.

But before we Twin Valley School District electors become obsessed with the idea that we are the sole educational unit that's being asked to dig a little deeper to support our school system, we should look around us.

We're not as big spendthrifts as we might seem.

According to the Michigan State Dep't. of Public Instruction, Michigan taxpayers, statewide, paid an average of $822 per pupil in 1970-71. In Twin Valley, taxpayers spent an average of $691 per pupil according to school authorities. Thus, we spent an average of $121 per pupil less -- than the state average.

The budget hike of 7.5 percent will still keep us out of the ball park in educational expenses -- in comparison to the state average.

Just how much will the proposed operational millage cost?

If you are a householder with a valuation of $10,000 on your home, the amount you paid under last year's millage -- for school operational expenses was $150.00.

If the new millage is approved, your school tax would be up $11.25 for the 1972-73 school year. You'd pay $161.25.

Since most householders pay on valuations somewhat less, $5,000 for example, the increase in operational costs would be about $5.63 per household.

This doesn't seem like excessive costs to us.

We've noted that the school district has, in recent months, generated a certain image of progress in such matters as an expanded vocational educational program, adult instruction classes, and remedial reading. We've carried accounts in the pages of this publication concerning students who were learning in vocational programs.

There is also another reason that school support must be strengthened just to hold the district's present level of operation.

Due to the state aid formula, Twin Valley School District is in line for a $186,000 decrease in state aid due to its increase in state equalized valuations. That's all part of the price we must pay for progress. And that's what a lot of Northern Michigan School districts are beginning to discover -- all because of a tax law that has become almost unmanageable.

That law requires that taxes be set at one half the cash value of a property. Because land in virtually all of the upper portion of the state has begun to assume its true value, the tax problems are now beginning to emerge.

But as stupid as the law may seem now, at one time it seemed to suit the purpose for which it was intended. And there's one thing we must say in its behalf at this time -- it's the only law we have by which school government can derive the funds to keep schools open.

Postal service has long way to go

Over half of all packages now go by the independent United Parcel Service (UPS) rather than parcel post. Look at the rates and you'll see why:

	UPS	PP
1 lb. to Detroit	.55	.65
5 lbs. to Detroit	.75	.85
1 lb. to Chicago	.57	.70
5 lbs. to Chicago	.85	.90
1 lb. to New York	.60	.75
5 lbs. to New York	.98	1.05

That's only part of the story. If you're in business, UPS will pick up your packages. You don't have to go to the post office, or even the corner mailbox.

What's more, any businessman using UPS will tell you that UPS service is better. UPS can be depended upon to deliver a package to New York or Florida within 3 days. The post office takes from 3 days to 2 weeks (parcel post service is much slower and more erratic than first class mail).

What's the answer of the postal brass to that? Well, they'd like to see UPS put out of business. It's unfair competition.

Third class mail is an interesting story too. This class which includes circulars and other advertising, saw its rates boosted to a minimum of 5 cents per piece.

As a result, we are now seeing the rise of independent services which deliver advertising door-to-door at a lower price. They aren't allowed to put the stuff in mailboxes so they put it in plastic bags and hang it on doorknobs. Even some rural areas are now being served by private motor routes which put their stuff in tubes like those used by newspapers.

First class mail remains strictly the province of the Post Office only because it is illegal for private business to transport or deliver it.... The Post Office is now talking of modernization. In the past, this too often meant changing the color of mailboxes from olive to blue, and putting stamp vending machines in the lobby. This time they say it's for real. Computers, machine sorters and other exotic equipment.

We hope it works. But we can hardly believe the Post Office is serious about efficiency when it continues Saturday delivery. Enormous savings could be made by 5-day rather than 6-day delivery service. Canada went to it years ago.

Another waste is the great number of post offices. In southern Michigan there is usually a post office every 6 to 15 miles. That came about in the horse and buggy days because a mailman and his horse couldn't deliver mail more than 5 or 10 miles away.

The Eisenhower administration tried to close some of the smaller post offices 15 years ago but got stopped by Congressmen. Admittedly, a post office just down the road is convenient, but it's a luxury that does nothing to speed service.

We think the public will agree to lopping off some of the fringe luxuries of the postal service. That's better than slow service and high prices.

Day camp

EAST JORDAN - At a recent meeting of the East Jordan Day Camp personnel, groups were formed and units of the camp were discussed. The camp will be held June 19 to 23 at a new location, known as the Brown Creek site.

This year's camp will consist of five units - the second grade Brownies, third grade Brownies, fourth grade Scouts, Juniors, and this year's newcomer, the Kiddie Keep.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. John Zoulek, camp director, who introduced Mrs. D.K. Holland of Cadillac. Mrs. Holland is the Girl Scout Field Director of this area and also Day Camp Coordinator.

Camp personnel practiced lashing, taught by Mrs. Holland, and then planned menus with the aid of Mrs. Tom Breakey, camp purchaser.

It was announced that the last staff meeting will be held on-site, Monday, June 12 for a training day. The group will do a run-through of an actual day in camp, which will last from 10:30 to 2:00. A noon meal will be prepared over an open fire. This will also acquaint the leaders with the camp areas and give them an opportunity to work together before camp begins.

Girls track meet

PETOSKEY - Rogers City girls took first place here in the Michigan Huron Shores Girls Conference track meet, recently held at Curtis Field.

Charlevoix placed second, St. Ignace third, Gaylord fourth, Cheboygan fifth, Boyne City sixth and Petoskey last.

Top point getter for Boyne City girls was senior Nancy Kujawski, who placed first in the 50 yard hurdles and shot put. She also took a second in the softball throw.

Kopp - Sorenson united

ALANSON - Joan Linda Kopp of Charlevoix became the bride of Timothy Brent Sorenson, Boyne City, in a ceremony solemnized Saturday afternoon May 27 in the garden of her parent's home in Alanson. Rev. Duane Ferris officiated at the double ring rites in the presence of 100 guests.

The newlyweds' parents are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kopp, Alanson, and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sorenson, Boyne City.

John Ranney and Patty McPeak presented a guitar and vocal duet.

Mrs. George Mills, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Virginia McAlvey and Kay Lewis were bridesmaids.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose her mother's wedding gown, a white sheer silk with sweetheart neckline and three quarter length sleeves. A velvet bow held her elbow length veil of illusion and she carried a hand bouquet of violets.

MR. & MRS. TIM SORENSON

Her attendants chose floor length green and white gingham dresses which were accented with flocked roses, wide waistbands, and bell sleeves. They carried bouquets of tulips and narcissi.

The groom chose Richard Oostmeyer for the best man. Todd Sorenson, brother of the groom, and John Kopp, brother of the bride, were the groomsmen.

A lawn reception was held immediately following the services. Mrs. Kopp greeted guests wearing a street length blue chiffon dress and blue lace coat with white accents. Her corsage was a white orchid. The groom's mother chose a green flowered floor length gown with white accessories.

After a one week honeymoon in Canada the couple are at home in Charlevoix.

The bride is a registered nurse employed at the Charlevoix Hospital; the groom is presently employed by the Pleasant Valley Construction, Boyne City.

Guests attended from several Michigan cities.

To stage district meeting

BOYNE CITY - The Lower 11th District American Legion and Auxiliary No. 228 will hold a District meeting at the American Legion Hall here Sunday, June 11, at 2:00 p.m. A dinner will be served at 12 noon.

EAST JORDAN - The descendants of Hansen and Alida Hutton held a reunion at the old Hutton farm on N. M 66 on Saturday, May 27, with present owners Mr. and Mrs. Curt Roberts as hosts. Mrs. Hutton was a former school teacher in Charlevoix County.

Present were: the C.H. Whitehead family, Gainesville, Texas; Glen Whitehead family, Allen Park; Robert Beaubien family, Dearborn; Elgie Dows, Mio; William Kusey family, Mio; Walter Drouse family, Clio; and William Oakes family, West Branch.

Elect county Democratic head

CHARLEVOIX - Janis Dietrich has been elected President of the Democratic Women's Club. Vice President is Kris Skornia of Boyne City. Other officers are Lorraine Warner, Secretary and Nancy Cebulski, Treasurer. Committee heads were also appointed at the May 31 meeting; they are Martha Drake, Program; Rosemary Horton, and Jean Loper, Membership and Social; Gertrude Sandahl, Telephone; Lois Wasoski, Letter Writing; Nancy Cebulski and Kris Skornia, current Project Committee heads.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Doris Schaller of Petoskey who informed the women of the various peace groups presently active in Michigan, with emphasis on the Another Mother for Peace organization. Another Mother for Peace is a non-partisan association whose goal is to eliminate war as a means of settling disputes between nations, peoples and ideologies.

The membership also signed up for the bake sale section of their booth at the Flea Market in Charlevoix on June 17. Future activities will include encouraging and supporting candidates for local office.

CHARLEVOIX - Proposed wild rivers protection for the Jordan River received almost unanimous support at public hearings last week.

A handful of property owners objected to the Dept. of Natural Resources' proposal that no new building be allowed within 200 feet of the river. However, other property owners endorsed the zoning setback and some conservationists questioned if it is enough.

Concern that the wild rivers designation will attract increased attention to, thus pressure on, the Jordan Valley was expressed by some.

Trout Unlimited and the West Michigan Environmental Action Council asked that the DNR immediately implement river-use controls, as part of the wild rivers plan, to suppress the increasing number of canoes.

Inexperienced canoeists, it was pointed out, are a serious threat to the wildness of the Jordan because they break-up, or force removal of, trees, logjams and other "obstacles" which they constantly ram into due to their inability to handle their craft. They're constant overturning on curves results in disturbance of aquatic life and habitat.

TU and WMEAC and others also called for the DNR to establish a 400-foot building setback, as authorized in the wild rivers law. Several persons said that property owners should get a tax reduction on the land they own within the 400-foot zone, which would not be developable under the wild rivers zoning.

Robert Bahrman, Petoskey, said snowmobiles, trail bikes and other motorized vehicles should be required to stay far enough from the river that their roar does not disturb the naturalness of the environment.

John Ozga, a Charlevoix teenager, responded to the few property owners who objected to the DNR's recommended requirement that their homes be 200 feet from the river: "I don't think 200 feet is too far to have to walk (from your home or cottage) to see a beautiful river."

Mrs. Teddy (Thora) Kotowich, East Jordan, said her husband has guided on the Jordan for 45 years. "We certainly have seen the changes in the last ten years," she said. She added that she is afraid the changes will be much worse in the next ten years if a strong plan isn't enacted to save the river.

Dr. David Pray, an East Jordan dentist, said he has fished, and earlier guided, on the river for 40 years and sees changes taking place very rapidly.

Kit Carson, a retired local builder, said he built the first cabins on the river - in 1926 and 1927. "I think it is a wonderful idea to stop the building," he told the DNR panel, headed by regional field chief Troy Yoder, officiating at the Charlevoix and Bellaire hearings.

Harry Doene, a DNR planner, told critical property owners there is no evidence their property will depreciate in value if zoning is enacted to protect the river. Just the opposite has been the case in other states which have established wild rivers programs, he said.

In response to one property owner who said her lots are only 215 feet deep, Doene said exceptions to the setback requirement might be made.

The West Michigan Environmental Action Council, in a written statement, asked the DNR to view the objections of property owners in context with the public interest:

"We urge the DNR to weight all opposition to more stringent regulations (a 400-foot setback) in terms of the total public interest," the WMEAC stated. The selfish interest of only a handful of persons will be adversely affected by adequate zoning, whereas thousands will benefit for generations. There should be no compromise, under pressure from individuals, businessmen or ineffective, weak local units of government.

"If local government is not prepared to enact and aggressively enforce adequate zoning - including a 400-foot, no-fill setback - we insist that it is the DNR's responsibility to do this... as specifically authorized under the law. Careful consideration in dealing with local ordinances should be given to whether these units of government have the resources or will to property administer and enforce such ordinances," the WMEAC advised.

The group also called on the DNR to purchase two 80-acre tracts in the very headwaters of the Jordan. "The price of buying them and the threat of their being put to new uses which could permanently threaten the river and valley becomes greater every day the DNR delays," the statement warned.

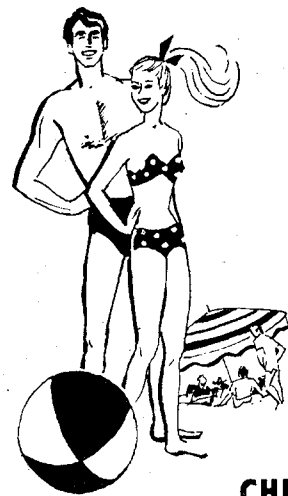

The WMEAC also commented the DNR for its long-standing program of buying up Jordan Valley acreage when it was offered for sale, sometimes paying top-dollar to beat a developer from moving in. Only because of this program, the statement claimed, "does the Jordan still run as pure and wild as it does."

The DNR's final wild rivers zoning recommendations for the Jordan are expected to be presented to the Natural Resources Commission in June or July. If the Commission approves them, local units of government will be given one year to enact the zoning. If they do not, the DNR will. - North Woods Call, May 31st issue.

New U. S. 31 won't cross South Arm

PETOSKEY - Although a decision on the new route of U.S. 31 and U.S. 131 apparently is still some time away, state Highway Department experts appear to favor a merging of the two highways southeast of Traverse City.

The new road would then swing northeast through Mancelona, follow the present route of U.S. 131 through Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake, bypass Petoskey to the east and then parallel I-75 to the Straits.

The route - known as Alternate E - was one of several discussed recently at a public hearing on the new road held by the State Highway Department.

Although the exact route is undecided, Alternate E would solve more traffic problems than any other route, according to Bob Adams, the department's public hearing engineer.

Adams said the department has never considered bridging the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix at Ironton for the new highway, although area arm-chair highway experts predicted that is where the road would go.

However, the team of road experts said that all communities served by the new route would have "spurs" leading to their business districts from the new highway. Location of the spurs, however, won't be decided until the route of the highway is established.

Taking part in the hearing at Petoskey's Junior High School were Adams, Bill Rowden, director of the Northwest Regional Planning Office; John Ouder Kirk, team leader; Ted Becker, environment specialist; Stan Bakita, project planner; Dick Esch, traffic specialist; and Charles Whitmore, a member of the hearing team.

Adams said that planning of highways is done on a regional basis in order to best serve the needs of the most people.

Highway Department studies show that most major roads in northern Michigan - including I-75 - are wholly inadequate.

Holiness Camp starts

BOYNE CITY - Annual Northern Michigan Holiness Camp Meetings will start here this Friday, June 9th, at their North Park Street location.

According to Rev. Derwood Maylee, services will be held each evening at 7:00 p.m.

The Holiness Camp is slated to wind-up Sunday evening, June 18th.

Featured evangelist will be Rev. Quinton Everest, pastor for 38 years, who founded "Your

REV. QUINTON EVEREST

Worship Hour," a broadcast which reaches millions of people throughout the world.

Missionary speaker for the Holiness Camp will be Rev. Jim Ogan, directory of the Lay Bible Institute in Ecuador.

Rev. Daniel E. Woodward, evangelist, musician and youth worker, will be the Holiness Camp's song evangelist.

He has served as a pastor and evangelist for more than 20 years, most of the time in Ohio.

Democrats elect delegates

CHARLEVOIX - Charlevoix County Democrats convened here Friday to choose five party members to represent them at the state Democratic Convention in Detroit this weekend.

The representative delegation includes Warren Ballard, East Jordan; Nancy Cebulski, Charlevoix; Jean Rosewig, Walloon Lake; Margaret Duerr, Charlevoix; and Charles Duerr, Jr., Charlevoix.

Mr. Duerr is a party candidate for the local seat in the Michigan House of representatives, and he will serve as county delegation chairman.

Four resolutions also were approved at Friday's meeting. County Democrats called for...

The immediate withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Indochina and the release of prisoners of war according to the articles of the Geneva conference.

-- Replace the property tax as a means of supporting schools with a graduated income tax.

-- Strive for more stringent controls regarding school bus construction, periodic inspection, and use.

-- That the powers of the state tax commission be restricted.

HOW IT MAY LOOK IN THE FUTURE - This stone riprap separating water from shore north of the Boyne City launching ramp may be the model for a 2600 ft. soil conservation project extending from the mouth of the river through Veteran's Memorial Park. Final plans for the new project are now being drawn up and work is expected to begin soon. The project is being sponsored and financed jointly by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and Boyne City, with the approval of the Army Corps of Engineers, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and the Michigan Water Resource Commission. Soil Conservation service will pay an estimated $14,000 of the $16,500 project.

Purchase property for city housing project

EAST JORDAN - The 30 unit low income and old-age housing project for East Jordan residents is finally getting underway, according to an East Jordan Housing Commission press release received Tuesday.

After receiving preliminary plan approval from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the local commission has begun picking up options on land they believe suitable for project construction. The release did not indicate where the sites are located.

If you think all automobile insurance policies are just about alike, take a moment to answer these questions. Does your present policy cover you while you're walking? Does it include your children while they're away at school? Does it limit your yearly mileage? If you're not sure of what's included — and excluded — from your car insurance, give us a call. We'll show you what "altogether" car insurance can do for you.

"But our housing commission members can be very patient people as they consider the worthwhileness of the project," he emphasized.

EAST JORDAN - Because of the increase in property valuation, the East Jordan city sewer assessment was lowered from six mills to five Tuesday by the city council.

In other city council activity Tuesday, no one appeared for two public hearings, thus giving the go-ahead for rezoning land on the east end of Mill St. for use as a trailer park and also for the closing of Sherman St. between Ontario St. and the south city limits.

--Set July 6 as the date for a public hearing on the closing of an east-west alley between Nichols and McKenzie Sts. on the city's west side. The request was made by the East Jordan Housing Commission.

BOYNE RIVER CAMPSITE - One hundred and forty-one Boyne City and Boyne Falls girl scout and brownie troops have signed up to participate in the scouting Day Camp to be held here next week, June 12 through June 16, scout director Judy Gigante reports.

Boyne City scouts will be transported to and from the campsite by bus each day, Monday through Friday next week. Buses leave the tennis courts at 9 a.m. and return at 3:30 p.m.

Boyne Falls scouts will be brought to camp by car pool from the Boyne Falls School, also beginning at 9 a.m.

Highlighting the Day Camp events will be an afternoon of Indian arts and craft instruction taught by Sue Shagonaby of Harbor Springs; a visit from Smokey Bear Thursday, and a visit from State Senator Bob Davis.

Parents are invited to stop by and see how the girls are doing Thursday afternoon from 1 until

7. Several items are still needed for the camp, according to Mrs. Gigante. Anyone able to supply the following is asked to please call Judy at 582-7136: stove and refrigerator racks to be used as campfire grills; No. 10 cans, and large kettles.

Any changes in the day camp schedule will be announced over the Petoskey radio stations, but camp advisors have indicated camp will continue through light rains.

Lakeshore Stabilization

SOIL EROSION PROBLEM - This pretty well tells the story concerning the need for stabilization of the Lakeshore in Boyne City Veterans Memorial Park. Last year and this years high water levels in the Great Lakes and Lake Charlevoix along with numerous wind storms has accelerated the erosion of the Park's shoreline. In some areas of the Park the shoreline has eroded at least 6 feet since the first of the year. At one point, the eroded shoreline is less than 50 feet from the cities sanitary sub station and Lake Street. Futile attempts to curtail the eroded banks can be seen by the row of large pieces of cement. Shoreline erosion is not only confined to the Boyne City Veterans Memorial Park area but to all the shorelines on Lake Charlevoix, South Arm Lake and Lake Michigan. It is hopeful, that installation of control measures for this project may provide new solutions or methods that individuals could install at a lower cost than those presently being installed. (Photos and information provided by Bill Grimm, local agent of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.)

City lowers sewer assessment Tuesday, from six to five mills

--Sent a note of thanks to the East Jordan Ladies' Bridge Tournament Club for their donation of $75 towards the purchase of a spring toy (probably another hippopotamus according to city superintendent Dennis Stepke) to be installed at the city beach near the trailer park.

--Refused a request from the city fire department to turn over the city-owned surplus snorkel or high-ranger truck to the fire department.

Fire Chief Bernard Hammond indicated the department would make the necessary repairs on the unit and that the city would be able to use it in the future if they would hire trained firement to operate it.

Council decided to retain and maintain the truck at city expense and allow the fire department to use it whenever they want to.

--Took no action on a letter from Art Train supporters in Petoskey for financial of manpower assistance in operating the Art Train at the Petoskey depot site August 17 through 20.

--Discussed when warrants should be issued against city residents who have failed to clean up junk on personal property after repeated violations.

Petty officer awarded Navy Cross for heroism

NORFOLK, VA. - Navy chief petty officer Milton W. Confer, 36, husband of former East Jordan girl Patricia Looze (her maiden name) was recently awarded the Navy Cross, the nation's second highest award for bravery.

The citation, from the Secretary of the Navy, is for "extraordinary heroism" on February 13, 1970, when officer Confer was serving as an advisor for two Vietnamese river patrol boats.

Confer was reported to have manned machine guns, and directed rocket fire even after being wounded by enemy gunfire.
