At A GLANCE

Jordan River Art Center to host Native American dancer, artist

Tony White Feather, formerly of Oklahoma and now of Conway, will present Anishnabeg Ikedo (Indian Talk) Sunday, March 3, at 2 p.m. at the Jordan River Art Center. A Native American dancer, he has also become well known for his creations of traditional dance regalia. For his appearance at the art center, he will be wearing one of his creations and speaking on native culture and spirituality through storytelling and dance. Tony Davies and Joe Medicine will assist in the presentation.

Tony White Feather is also known as Tony Miron, the artist. He offers works in a wide range of media with his unique style crew quill, rapidograph, pastels, charcoal, pencil, and wood burning. He has created many works of art for movies and famous persons. "My greatest thrill came when I designed and painted a coat for Willie Nelson," White Feather said. His work can be found in many art galleries, libraries, tribal centers, churches, colleges, casinos, and museum throughout the United States.

He has created a sacred shield with flute in mixed media especially for the exhibit, "Looks Good, Sounds Good." Other artists whose works are found in the exhibit are Jim Galbraith, John Steven, Dan Roache, Liz Kantzer, Rick Kolb, Len Cowgill, and Tanya Roth. More than 100 instruments representing many cultures, instruments made by Michigan artists, plus antique instruments are exhibited by classifications - percussion, woodwinds, brass, and strings. A hands-on educational exhibit is in the lower gallery with instruments available.

This performance marks the closing of the music exhibit. Refreshments will be served. The art center is located at 301 Main St. in East Jordan. For further information call 536-3385 or 582-6399.

The exhibit with performances has been partially funded by the Cheboygan Council for Art and Cultural Affairs.

Though the weather's been unpredictable, Mother Nature has been able to perform some pretty amazing tricks with what she has to work with. This luminous winter scene took place on the Boyer River after a frigid night last week.

City of East Jordan looking at budget cuts

Water rates and the status of the police department are two issues sure to be the subject of heated debate in the coming weeks as the East Jordan city commission considers the proposed 2002-03 city budget, presented last week by city administrator David White.

In the proposed budget, which was the subject of some preliminary discussion at last week's regular commission meeting, water rates proposed reflect a 50 percent hike, while in the police fund the layoff of one officer is recommended. The budget, said White, is "very conservative." As he notes in his written budget message, "the loss of state shared revenue and the increased costs of various items to the City make this a very austere budget."

Commissioner Tim Hoffman, citing numerous public comments he's received, voiced strong opposition to cutting a police officer from the force. "Are we growing?" Hoffman said. "What is this telling people coming here and opening businesses. If it were up to me, there would be two police officers in the car all the time."

In his written message, White said of the proposed cut, "The lay-off of any personnel is always a very hard decision to make, the Police Department is the largest budget in the General Fund and thus will be affected the greatest. The action of layoff is always a hard decision and has not been taken without much thought and review."

At the meeting, police chief Jerry Alward pointed out that the department hired its last officer in 1998. Since then, complaints have increased from 2,672 in 1999 to 3,203 in 2001. "If anything, I was hoping to get some part time help," Alward said. "We're doing nothing but getting busier."

To keep the position would mean adding $47,000 to the budget for salary and benefits, which, White indicated, would mean cutting that money from somewhere else, in the budget. But, said White, "there's always a way to find funding if it's a priority of the commission." Other commissioners gave no opinion on the matter, noting only that they needed more time to review the budget before giving such a directive.

In the Water Fund, an increase of $1.74 per cubic foot is recommended, a 54 percent hike and much more, pointed out commissioner Shane Williams, than the 17 percent increase recommended by the MDEQ auditor who recently reviewed the annual water report. According to White, however, the rate increase recommended by the DEQ did not address the deficit at which the water fund has run in recent years. City clerk Lori Campbell added that the water rate would still be in line with those being charged by surrounding communities.

Still, said Williams, "I don't think anyone on this commission will vote for (the proposed rate increase)."

Williams also questioned the efficiency of the water system, which this year was figured to be 62 percent, when two years ago it was running at 82 percent, and a year ago, at 81 percent. White responded that while the DPW has been "quite aggressive" in searching for underground leaks, some still exist and are being tracked down.

Other budget highlights include:

Anticipated expenditures from the General Fund total $1,793,935, with anticipated revenues of $1,490,840, pulling an additional $303,095 from the Funds on Hand to cover costs. This leaves the General Fund balance at $365,760, down from $668,855. The total, though down from last year, still comprises an acceptable 16 percent fund balance, according to White.

A decrease in the Constitutional/Statutory State Tax from $330,216 to $289,000, estimated as the governor is taking money away from cities to balance the state budget.

An expected revenue of $114,000 from MDOT for a new bike path on

Group wants to restore Advance power plant site

Though a grassroots committee has been working on a proposition to reclaim the Wolverine Power Plant property in Advance for public use for more than a year, the effort has, in recent weeks, picked up in urgency.

According to Eveline Township resident and treasurer Deb Jason, one of the community members spearheading the effort, the time for action is now.

Recently the committee, tentatively dubbed the Committee to Restore the Wolverine Power Plant Property, submitted a letter of intent to Wolverine Power, based in Cadillac, receiving a less than encouraging response. According to the letter, the non-profit, privately owned electric cooperative is not interested in participating in the development of the property, nor does it desire to make a partial donation, being a tax-exempt entity.

The company, Jason said, is taking bids for the property, which has been vacant since the closing of the plant in 1997, through the end of March.

Time, then, is of the essence.

Though money is the bottom line, to the tune of anywhere between $6 million and $7 million, cash had nothing to do with the inspiration behind the effort to acquire the property to begin with.

"Why I started was that there seemed to be a lot of interest in protecting the land," Jason said. "The more people I talked to, the more said 'That's a great idea, you should do something about it.'"

So, with the help of a few extra committed hands, she

Status of Boyer City Schools superintendent search uncertain

Though the Boyer City Board of Education has asked interim superintendent Jim Cooper to stay on for at least one more year, the decision, as it turns out, is in the hands of the state attorney general.

After a very positive review, and based on feedback from both community and staff, board president Ed Vondra said that the board hoped to keep Cooper on board for the 2002-03 school year. "There was an overall feeling of great confidence [in Cooper's ability to attend to] day-to-day operations," Vondra said of the board's evaluation of Cooper, at a recent school board meeting. Areas of potential improvement identified are "minimal in number and scope."

The offer, though welcomed by Cooper, has not found such a warm reception from the state retirement board. As a retired superintendent from the Harbor Springs district, Cooper is allowed by law to return to working as a superintendent without affecting his retirement, per legislation passed last July with the blessing of the Michigan Department of Education. The state retirement board, however, is not as agreeable; though the request had already been approved by state superintendent Tom Watkins, the body has asked the state attorney general to review the matter. Until a decision has been handed down, the Boyer City School District continues to be without a superintendent for the coming school year.

Which, of course, leaves the school board in a tough spot. March is historically the ideal month to search for a superintendent, which means that if a search is to be launched it will have to be launched fairly quickly. For now, though, according to Vondra, it's a waiting game, and the board is still hopeful about the potential outcome. The hope is that a decision will be made prior to the board's upcoming March meeting, still a couple of weeks away. If not, the board will be faced with some tough decisions. Still, Vondra said, that possibility has not yet been addressed; the board will likely discuss the next step at its upcoming meeting.

The board's next regular meeting is scheduled for Monday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the high school media center.

Listen up snowmobilers, a ban could be in the future

TO THE EDITOR:

Snowmobilers, listen up. SNOWMOBILING BAN BEGINS IN BOYNE. That will be your front page headline in the near future if some of you don't change yours ways now. Trespassing, speeding, riding in parks that are off limits, riding in the cemetery, and not staying on designated trails is not scoring points with anyone.

As a city commissioner for 12 years I was always on your side in any discussion about snowmobiling in Boyne City. I was there to smooth things over whenever problems arose because of inappropriate snowmobile use. "It's the minority, it's just a few of them, don't let them wreck it for everybody, there are some good snowmobilers, separate trails would eliminate the problems."

I was your voice at city hall for a long time, and frankly I don't know that you have a voice at city hall anymore. Your actions speak for you now, and what they are saying is not good.

To keep the rights that you enjoy right now you need to use them with respect. You can and will lose them if you are not careful.

To improve and enhance your rights, for instance a designated state trail, you need to build support not tear it down.

This could easily be your last warning. Property owners and citizens are mad. Local policymakers and police agencies are frustrated. It's all going to come down on you and your rights. Other cities have banned snowmobiling. Boyne can do it in the blink of an eye. Three aye (yes) votes on a snowmobiling ban and it's all over. Drive out of your yard and receive a fine. No ifs, ands, or buts. You'd better have a trailer.

The city has always had, and will always have much bigger issues with which to deal. If you continue to be a thorn in their side they will pull you out and give you a flick.

Talk about this. Make copies and pass it around. If you have an illiterate snowmobiling friend, read it to him or her. Voluntary change, or forced change, the choice is yours.

The headline is in your hands.

Boyne VFW will no longer host the Buck Pole

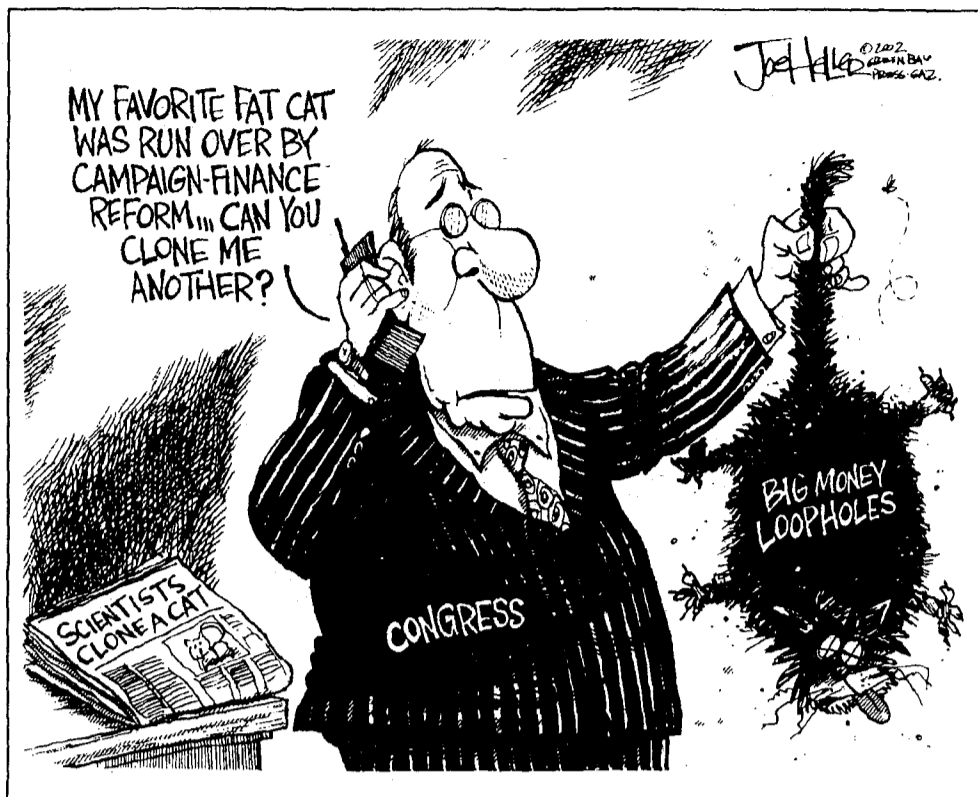

TO THE EDITOR:

Due to lack of participation by the sponsoring organization, the Boyne City VFW will no longer host the buck pole. This year made two years that the sponsors haven't cleaned up after themselves. We at the VFW have lost rentals due to the fact that the wood's out there, and we've been left with liability issues. Recently, a snowmobiler hit the pile of wood thinking it was a snowbank.

It's a sad thing that the community can't work together and have something. The VFW kindly thanks all the people who participated and put in all the time, and we're sorry it had to end up this way.

Anybody who wants to cut up the wood (about two cords of dry cedar) and take it is welcome to do so.

Efforts of many gave EJ Youth Basketball a successful season

TO THE EDITOR:

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the many volunteers who contributed their time, talent and energy in support of the East Jordan Boys Youth Basketball Program this season. Thanks to the efforts of many, more than 80 youngsters enjoyed a season of "fundamentals and fun."

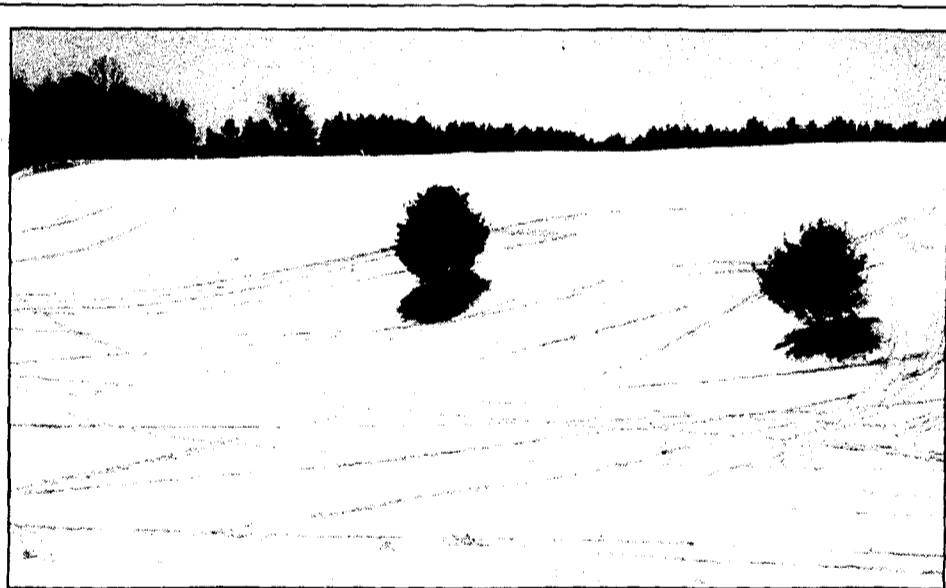

Special thanks to Bob Hartsough, Irv Manville, Bob Nemecek, Rod Tinney, Steve Hines, Todd Ingalls, Versile Spence, and Ron Warnos for coaching the youngsters, and to Billie Jo Williams, Anne Petrie and Laura Hansen for their help with keeping the clock and stats. Thanks also to Ray Fisher, Ken LaVanway, Tony LaVanway and Matt Weisler for all of their help and support.

Finally, a BIG thank you to all of the parents and grandparents who came to the gym every Saturday to watch the games. The kids know you're there, and they hear your applause and words of encouragement.

Thanks again everyone!

Chip Hansen

Making tracks

Though days of adequate snow have been few and far between this winter, last week's brief snowfall was obviously enjoyed by area snowmobilers, who wasted little time in taking to the trails and, in this case, open fields, to put a few miles on their sleds.

A Mom's Life

Grown children bring home some pleasant surprises

By CINDI PLACE

Over the years, I thought I'd come to anticipate each of the different stages of our "parentage." I mean, after four children, we've been through the teething years, potty training, pre-teen angst and the agony of first dates. We've sent two children off to conquer higher education and are even looking forward to (with some trepidation, I'll admit) our first wedding. And we're not nearly done.

But something I hadn't anticipated was what happens when one's children return home all grown up. I still remember the first time I came home for a visit myself, toting my husband and new baby along with me. After an hour of acting all grown up, showing off my newly acquired motherhood skills and enjoying my status as a married person, I made some typically (for me, at least) smart aleck comment. I remember my mom saying something like, "Thank goodness, I wondered where my daughter went."

So, it should have come as no surprise to me that when our children returned home as adults, having left as mere children, our conversations would take on a decidedly mature twist. But it did. And I certainly wasn't prepared for the walks down memory lane, as our kids talked about family events with a completely different interpretation than what their parents remembered. Many "remember whens..." were followed by stories that were completely new to their parents, but apparently quite familiar to the siblings. These visits home by our children were not quite what I'd thought they'd be.

What I expected was a son who still needed to have his laundry done, who had to be told to turn off the television before going to bed and who would forget to let us know when he was coming home. I figured our now officially adult daughter wouldn't need any more advice or help from her parents, or at the very least wouldn't really welcome our interference. But what I got was totally unexpected, although joyfully welcome.

Apparently our son has learned to do his own laundry and, after having to pay his own electric bills for a few months, he appreciates the need to conserve energy. In fact, he can be a bit annoying when he reminds us to turn off the lights.

And our daughter, well, suffice it to say that it was her mom that she called when she was hurting and needed emergency dental advice.

Seems that getting wisdom teeth and gaining wisdom do have something in common.

Habitat for Humanity wants to help make Boyne City home

With one piece of donated property and a family anxiously awaiting their new home, Habitat for Humanity will begin construction this spring in Boyne City. Its hope, however, is not to complete just the one home, but to give two Boyne City families new roofs over their heads.

To that end, the organization is putting out a call for land donations in Boyne City.

While Habitat for Humanity in the past has purchased "affordable" property for its projects, rising land costs in the area, particularly in Boyne City, have made it nearly impossible for the group to find a lot to purchase. Land donation, then, is the group's most viable option to get that second home built.

The first piece of property, a lot on State Street donated by Lucille McKown, will be the location of a home for local resident Sherry VanAtta and her children. A second family has not yet been selected, but with the organization always processing applications, an eligible family shouldn't be too hard to find.

According to Habitat for Humanity's Mary Margaret Hornbaker, land donations are a tax write-off for the giver, making the option an attractive one for a current land-owner. In an example offered by site selection committee head Melissa Marchand, for a land-owner who's owned a piece of property long-term, and who may have paid very little for it to begin with, selling the property could mean profit consumed by capital gains tax. By donating the property, the tax benefit could potentially be more beneficial than the sale, as real estate is often treated in the same manner as a gift of stock. If the owner has held the appreciated real property long-term, a deduction may be available for the full fair market value of the property, and the giver may avoid tax on the appreciation. Marchand recommends consulting a financial advisor for details.

With groundbreaking of the planned Habitat house slated for early spring, the push is on to secure another Boyne City location, and secure it fast. While the organization currently has two available lots in Alanson, in the interest of conserving labor and resources, Hornbaker said the organization would ideally like to complete two houses in the same area.

The Northwest Michigan Habitat for Humanity was incorporated in 1991, and has since built eight houses, including two in East Jordan and one each in Boyne City, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, and Alanson.

A non-profit organization, the Northwest Michigan Habitat for Humanity is recognized by Habitat International as its local affiliate for Charlevoix and Emmet counties. The organization has established as its overall objective, the building of modest single-family homes for deserving families in need in the two-county area.

Families are chosen to be homeowners on the basis of three criteria, including need, a demonstrated ability to assume the financial responsibilities of home ownership, and an understanding and acceptance of the concept of partnership that underlies the Habitat ministry.

Habitat is not, stresses board member Ken Visser, a giveaway, but instead a joint venture between Habitat and a family, with "sweat equity" an absolute neces-

Employees of Honeywell in Boyne City recently presented the Northwest Michigan Habitat for Humanity with a check for $2,500 towards their homebuilding efforts in the area. Habitat currently has plans to build one house in Boyne City this year, with the site already donated, and is hoping to acquire property to build a second home as well.

Each homeowner family is required to invest sweat equity hours into their home, either through office work or actual construction. "The reason for sweat equity is [for the homeowner] to learn skills, develop relationships, and develop pride," said Visser. "If we told them just to clean up after us when we're gone, they probably already know how to do that, and they're not going to meet anybody."

Besides land donations, Habitat is also seeking volunteers to assist with labor and other necessary tasks. The organization is also always accepting applications from potential homeowners. For more information, call Hornbaker at 348-6926.

Next week, The Citizen-Journal will profile the VanAtta family, which is partnering with Habitat for Humanity in the construction of their home on State Street this spring.

is. "It's the committee that stands behind 'I should do it.' They're phenomenal."

The motivation is simple. "Any outside development of this property will change the landscape of this township for years to come," Jason said. The property boasts 1,900 feet of Lake Charlevoix waterfront with a multitude of potential public uses, as well as access to the historic Porter Creek.

So far the effort, while sincere, has been fairly low-key. After formulating their goal, Jason and Joanne Beemon took their plans to the Eveline Township Board. It took a little convincing, but ultimately, the board passed a resolution supporting the formation of a committee with the intent to purchase the site, saving at least 50 percent of the property for public use.

If purchased, the property would be owned by Eveline Township, but any potential development would be accomplished in partnership with other business and community members; the township, Jason said, "is not interested in being in the marina business or in development."

Recently the committee, which is made up of members both local and from as far removed as Charlevoix and Petoskey, has been concentrating on the planning for a town meeting, slated for mid-March, to get community input.

Jason and committee members have formulated several options to be presented and discussed, ranging from total restoration of the 25-acre parcel for use as a park, to total development. Ideally, the committee is zeroing in on the possibility of a "Village Center" development, with a park, marina, and possibly some commercial space.

The views of the public, however, are key; besides the town meeting, the committee is also planning to gather data through a survey of Eveline Township residents.

One possible misconception about the effort is that the use of the property would be strictly for a public park, when in reality, the committee is very open to possible partial commercial, even residential development.

The fact is, said Nate Jason, "not all development has to take place on the 100 feet closest to the lake." The committee is hoping for a "balanced use," said member Pete Palajac, owner of the Advance Store.

While planning for what could be continue, though, the practical matter of finding a way to acquire the property still remains, a huge undertaking by all accounts.

With Wolverine's response to the committee's letter of intent earlier this year, the focus of the committee, Jason said, shifted from planning for a town meeting to "figuring out how to raise the money."

Funding, they hope, will come primarily from grants and private donations. The committee has also sought help from higher governmental powers, including congressman Bart Stupak, state representatives Walter North and Andy Neumann, and governor John Engler, and asks that interested parties contact their government representatives to support the effort.

Though they're certainly at the beginning of an uphill climb, Jason is nothing but hopeful. Even if another bid is accepted on the property, the committee will not suspend their efforts.

"Even if a bid is in on the property doesn't mean we're out," Jason said. "They'll still need to get permits and zoning for what they need to accomplish."

"There's a huge amount of public support for this," she said. "People are constantly saying to me 'Thank you for doing this.' It motivates me to keep going."

Anyone with questions or input is encouraged to call Jason at 582-4834 or e-mail her at advancepark@yahoo.com.

Boyer Falls business saved

On Tuesday, Feb. 19, Boyne Valley firefighters were called to the scene at Erikson's 131 Auto Repair, located at 2525 US 131 in Boyne Falls. Firefighters were able to quickly bring the blaze under control, limiting damage to the east wall of the shop area, along with some smoke and water damage. No one was injured in the incident. Building owner Scott Erikson already had workers cleaning up and making repairs by Thursday, with plans to reopen as soon as possible, maybe as early as this week.

Community foundation gets a boost from the Frey Foundation

When a group of civic leaders launched the Charlevoix County Community Foundation in 1992, the Frey Foundation was one of the first organizations to come forth with financial help. Now, as the local community foundation nears its 10th anniversary, Frey has once again confirmed its support with a three-year pledge totaling $150,000.

The 2002-2004 commitment, which brings Frey Foundation support to $875,000, will be used to support endowment building, grant-making, and general operations.

"All of us are very grateful for the Frey Foundation's continued support," said Bob Tambellini, president and CEO of the community foundation. "Their investment in our organization gave us needed stability during our start-up period, helped us become more visible in the area, and allowed us to accomplish a lot in a relatively short time."

In past years, the Frey Foundation has spurred local philanthropy by providing support to community foundations like the Charlevoix County group. As a grassroots charitable organization, the Charlevoix County Community Foundation addresses local issues, responds to timely needs, and makes grants to many kinds of projects that contribute to the overall well-being of the area.

"We're pleased to help the community foundation grow," said Milt Rohwer, president of the Frey Foundation. Calling Frey's financial support a vote of confidence in the future of the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, Rohwer continues, "Because there's been such a positive response from local people, prudent stewardship of funds, and a variety of innovative grants, the community foundation has already had a significant impact on the area."

The Frey Foundation, based in Grand Rapids, is one of Michigan's largest family foundations.

Like other community foundations throughout the country, the Charlevoix County Community Foundation receives contributions from families, individuals, civic groups, and area businesses. Donors can earmark their contributions to help support certain causes such as scholarships or arts and culture, or leave their gift open-ended, so foundation trustees can decide how best to use it. All donations, regardless of their size, become part of the community foundation's permanent endowment. Since only a part of the endowment's investment income is used to make grants, foundation funds continue to grow and serve the area for many years to come.

In its first ten years, Charlevoix County Community Foundation assets have grown to almost $7.5 million, and has distributed more than $3 million to a host of programs serving the area. For more information about the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, call 536-2440, or write P.O. Box 718, East Jordan, Michigan, 49727.

Maple Street from State Street to the Community Park.

A line item expenditure of $5,000 in dues to the chamber of commerce, double last year's.

The removal of $20,000 originally planned from last year for city hall renovations. The item was removed from this year's proposed budget in an effort to cut expenditures, with additional funding to be put back in next year's budget presentation.

No transfers out of the general fund monies to help enterprise funds, for the first time in "many years."

A rate increase at the Tourist Park for the 2003 season, per staff. According to White's budget breakdown, "the current rates will not be able to cover costs if they are not increased for the 2003 season."

Concluded White in his written message, "It is not easy to recommend increased fees and reductions in personnel. These are trying times and uncertain times. This budget allows the City of East Jordan to maintain many of the gains over the last six years."

A broad, six-year Capital Improvement budget includes Community Park improvements in fiscal years 2003-04 and 2005-06; Phase II of the Industrial Park construction in 2005-06 and 2006-07; Mill Street and M66 work as part of the DDA Streetscape project in 2003-04; sewer work on Maple Street from State Street to the city limits in 2004-05; and a new fire station in 2003-04.

Commissioner Jerry Cihak voiced concerns over the size of the fund balance, and though White called the budget conservative, commissioner Bernie Hammond concluded that, "leafing through this budget, there's going to be a lot more [cuts] than the police department when we're done."

The commission is scheduled to meet twice more in regular sessions prior to holding a public hearing on the proposed budget, after which time the budget will be voted on by the commission for approval.

Most sports heroes have popularized the use of performance enhancing supplements containing adrostenedione, creatine, and ephedrine. However, the long-term effects of these over-the-counter drugs are not known, and the FDA issued warnings on ephedrine use in 1996. The Healthy Competition Foundation is calling for more education regarding this topic, and more conversation between parents, athletes, and coaches to prevent problems.

By NANCY NORTHUP

LOUISE MOSES of Spring Lake spent last week with her sister, Caroline McCleary of Boyne City. Caroline was also hostess to Mr. and Mrs. Don Moses of Spring Lake; Chris McCleary, Shawn and Natalie McCleary and family, all of Wyoming, Mich.; and her sons, Mike and Patrick. All were present to welcome her into her new home on Division Street.

DEBRA SWAN, certified massage therapist from "A Touch Of Health" at the Boyne Valley Medical Clinic, will be laid up for at least a month, recuperating at her home in East Jordan, due to a fall on ice last week and breaking her leg.

LAST WEEK on Feb. 18 Christopher Grice turned 17 years old. With having Monday off the kids had a party on Feb. 17 for him and Anthony DeNike (Anthony is 17 also). At Grice's house there were about 20-25 kids there to help celebrate. Chris and Anthony had about nine boys stay the night with them and all had a good time. Chris' brother Bill had a couple friends stay too. A belated "Happy Birthday" goes out to both of them!

BEVERLY PAQUETTE of Boyne City spent last week in Petoskey babysitting her grandchildren, while their parents, Scott and Mary Paquette, were taking in the Olympics in Salt Lake City, Utah. They had a great time and said it was very well organized, for all the people who were there.

SIXTY PEOPLE ATTENDED the East Jordan Senior Center Sunday, for their annual Sweetheart Dinner fund-raiser to benefit the center and its many needs, like tables and chairs. These people enjoyed a great turkey dinner, donated by the EJIW, with all the trimmings. Door prizes were given, donated by Hair Cottage, Busy Bridge, Back Door Florist, and Advisory Board. If you attended, you saw that our Jean, Terri and Evelyn from the Boyne City Senior Center helped out with the dishing out of the meal. And we thank all who attend our dinners and show support in some way!

CODY BULLOCK and Mitch Carlson, Wolf Cub Scouts of Boyne City's Pack 49 and Den 2 troops, were honored during the morning worship service at the Free Methodist Church. Upon completing the God and Country Program, Den Leader Rich Carlson awarded them each with a "God and Me" medal, which was proudly pinned on them by their mothers, Colleen Carlson and Cindy Bullock. A cake and punch fellowship followed the service.

HEARTFELT SYMPATHIES go out to the family and friends of two long time Boyne residents, Anna Dietz, who passed away at Bortz Health Care and Thelma Williams, who passed away at Boulder Park Terrace in Charlevoix over the weekend.

MY FAVORITE Floridian, my daughter

Cammy, called Saturday night to share a mini-Northup Family reunion, a dinner at Carraba's in Palm Harbor. It was great to talk to nearly all of them. My brother Murray of Midland is there on an eight-day golfing spree (got rained out a couple of days.) Attending were Murray, Bill and Cody Northup, son Rick, daughter Cheryl and Eric Helsing and their infant daughter Jenna, all of Valrico, and Cammy and Michael and Sarah Foster of Palm Harbor. They sure were having a good time being all together.

DAVE AND ROBIN BRICKER and other Boyne City Middle School teachers attended a Math Conference in Lansing over the weekend. Last weekend, some of the Bricker family and Mom and Dad went to Grand Rapids where Emily Bricker is attending Aquinas College, as it was siblings visitation week. On Saturday night, the family enjoyed dinner out, in celebrating Dave's February birthday.

TODD AND KAREN NEWVILLE and children Chris and Katy of Boston, Mass. were here for a three-day visit with his sister Michelle and Kevin Potter in Charlevoix and his dad, Doug and Joyce Newville in Boyne City as well as other friends and relatives.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON the Oral Sutliffs and the Gene Farleys were among several people from the area who enjoyed the "Irish Rovers" concert at the Cheboygan Opera House.

Gary L. Hawk

Gary L. Hawk died just before dawn Wednesday morning, Feb. 20, 2002 at Martha Jefferson Hospital, Charlottesville, Va., succumbing after a courageous two-year battle with cancer. A memorial service was held at the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Church, with a reception following.

Gary and his family were supported throughout his illness by an extended family of friends. He was sustained by a rich community of musicians who shared his talent and passion for traditional old-time string band music. An accomplished banjo player, Gary enjoyed playing at festivals, jamming with friends, and performing with his string band, Faster than Walking.

Gary was born March 11, 1947 in Akron, Ohio. He was adopted at birth by Gerald and Louise Hawk and he grew up in Wadsworth, Ohio. He cherished boyhood memories of summers in West Virginia with his grandparents and other relatives. He was an athlete, Eagle Scout, and a strong scholar. He attended Ohio State University on a full scholarship, however his studies were curtailed by a serious motorcycle accident. He eventually completed an M.A. and Ph.D. in clinical psychology from Kent State University. Dr. Hawk was medically retired from the University of Virginia where he was an Associate Professor and Director of Psychology at the Institute of Law, Psychiatry and Public Policy. From 1986-1989 Dr. Hawk worked in the Office of Forensic Services at the Virginia Department of Mental Health, before that he was a psychologist at the Michigan Center for Forensic Psychiatry and lived in Ann Arbor.

Gary will live on in the heart of his wife of 17 years, Jennie Moody, also a UVA faculty member, and his two precious sons, Kyle and John. He will be remembered by a wealth of family and friends. He was preceded in death by his adoptive mother, Louise, and his father-in-law, Steven Moody. He is survived by his father Gerald Hawk, brother James (Lynn) and sister Barbara (Greg). On his wife's side he is survived by her mother Rita Moody, sister Stephanie and brothers Patrick (Carol), Timothy, Michael (Sherrie), Martin (Connie), Thomas (Kelly) and Scott, and special friend of the family, Michele Guitier. Gary's extended family includes numerous nephews, nieces, aunts, uncles and cousins on both sides.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests that contributions can be made to the Gary Hawk Memorial Fund in Support of Fellowship Training in Forensic Psychology, c/o Institute of Law, Psychiatry, and Public Policy, P.O. Box 800660, UVA Health Systems, Charlottesville, VA 22908. Donations of blood to the Virginia Blood Services are also encouraged as Gary benefited greatly from this gift of life.

American Legion Post 228

At the regular meeting of Ernest Peterson Post 228, held Feb. 7, letters were read from Matthew Brong requesting financial assistance to attend the Presidential Classroom in Washington D.C., and the Boyne City Fire Department asking for a donation to their student fire prevention program, conducted in area schools, to purchase materials. The Post voted to assist Matthew Brong with $250 on the condition that he attend another Legion meeting upon his return from D.C. and give a full report and answer questions. The Post voted to donate $50 to the B.C. Fire Department for materials.

The Post received a 100 percent membership banner and a thank you letter from the Community Christmas Basket Committee. Elsworth Marsh received a certificate of achievement from the Salvation Army for his efforts in December.

Information for publication was sent to area newspapers regarding Veteran of the Month Norman Kerr along with an overview of the January meeting. The Adjutant reported that bingo attendance is still down but should begin to improve. Chaplain Fred Gondzar gave an in-depth report of area veterans who are sick, disabled or deceased.

Ira Breanneman reported on his high school visits to Boyne City and Concord Academy regarding the meaning and reason for Veterans Day and found that few students understood its significance or had the resources to become informed.

The 19th District meeting will be March 10 in Mancelona and the spring conference will be March 15 and 16 in Midland.

The meeting was preceded by the Vetern of the Month ceremony for Harold Kerr followed by a potluck supper in his honor.

The next regular meeting will be March 7 at the Post home.

East Jordan Rotary Club

East Jordan Rotary Club is pleased to announce the induction a new member to the Club at the weekly meeting on Tuesday, February 12.

Campbell is a life-long resident of East Jordan and has held the position of City Clerk since October of 2000.

Red Devils stumble in lost to Elk Rapids

It was a disappointing game for the East Jordan Red Devils at Elk Rapids Friday night.

First there was the score. Elk Rapids jumped out fast and furious building a 22-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and never looked back on its way to a 69-39 victory.

Secondly, and more disappointing to head coach Lance Bailey, the Red Devils "did not come out ready to play."

"It was a tough game," Bailey said. "It was probably the first game of the season we were not there, ready to play. I'll take responsibility for that."

The one bright spot was the play of Kevin Roberts. "Kevin played well," Bailey said. "He found his shooting touch and rebounded well." Roberts led the team with 11 points. Roberts was followed by Corban Shaw with eight points and Scott Jones with seven.

The loss to Elk Rapids was the second of the week for the Red Devils, who lost to Glen Lake last Tuesday, 61-54.

The second quarter was the achilles heel for the Red Devils, who were outscored 15-5, and trailed at the half 26-16. In the second half, the Red Devils again found their scoring touch but they could not overcome Glen Lake's lead.

It was a historic night for Glen Lake as its coach, Don Miller, recorded his 500th career win. He has coached for 29 seasons.

The Red Devils' Scott Jones, who scored only six points in the first three quarters, did all he could to spoil the party in the final period, scoring 12 points to lead the team with 18. Also hitting in double figures for the Red Devils was Steve Kempton, who scored 12 points. Shaw had nine while Roberts and Bill Tison each had six.

The Red Devils close out the regular season on Friday when they host Harbor Springs. Then they will turn their attention to the district tournament which opens Monday in Mancelona.

It's possible that by the end of the week, the Red Devils could be at full strength for the first time in several weeks. Takayuki Kida, who has been sidelined with an ankle injury, could be in uniform on Friday.

But even with all their injuries healed, "getting on the same page will be real hard," Bailey said.

The Red Devils will play Mancelona at 8 p.m., with the winner advancing to the semi-final game against Boyne City on Wednesday. The Ramblers drew a first-round bye.

A huge crowd was on hand for last Friday's Ramblers-Rayders matchup. The game was the second to last varsity basketball game to be played at the Boyne City High School gym, with the new school, and new state-of-the-art gym, slated to be completed by this fall.

15-1 ROGERS CITY FALLS, BUT HIGH-FLYING RAYDERS SOAR

Ramblers down one Goliath

After their early season struggles, it would have been easy for the Boyne City Ramblers to throw in the towel and just play out the season.

They didn't go that route. Instead the Ramblers are playing the best basketball of the season and as the district tournament rolls around next week, who knows what success might come their way.

Even though their overall record is 6-12, the Ramblers are 5-4 in their past nine games and two of those losses were against Charlevoix, including last Friday's 91-63 defeat.

"We haven't changed a lot in the program," said head coach Bill Brown.

"The kids are just playing harder. They are giving the extra effort and they are being successful with that. All the credit goes to the kids."

That extra effort was never more evident than last Tuesday night when the Ramblers defeated Rogers City 73-61 at home. Rogers City came into the game with a 15-1 record.

Early in the game the Ramblers fell behind, but they hung tough and trailed by less than five to start the second half. They then caught fire. Thanks to a tough defense and hot outside shooting, the Ramblers built nearly a 20-point lead and put the game out of reach.

"What a game," Brown said. "The kids played hard, the best they have all year. All the kids played to their potential. It was a physical game, but everyone pulled through and did a great job."

"Everyone who stepped on the floor did a nice job." Ryan Amesbury led a balanced scoring attack for Boyne City, scoring 24 points. He also had six assists. Beau Detcher was a force inside with 13 points and 13 rebounds. Brian Metzger scored 13 and Cass Dolbow had 10 points to go with his eight rebounds.

With momentum on their side, the Ramblers had visions of being David and slaying the Charlevoix Goliath on Friday at home before the largest crowd of the season.

It didn't happen. Charlevoix, ranked all year near the top of Class C, showed why it has yet to lose this season.

Its press, depth and offensive firepower were simply too much for the Ramblers.

"The kids played hard," Brown said. "We can't fault them for that. Defensively we have a hard time matching up with them. Their depth is their key to winning."

Dolbow led the Ramblers with 13 points and eight rebounds. Metzger had nine, while Ben Hausler and Detcher each had eight.

For Charlevoix, six players were in double figures led by Scott Parrish with 19 and Jim Shepherd with 16. It's possible Boyne City and Charlevoix could meet again in the district tournament, which opens Monday in Mancelona.

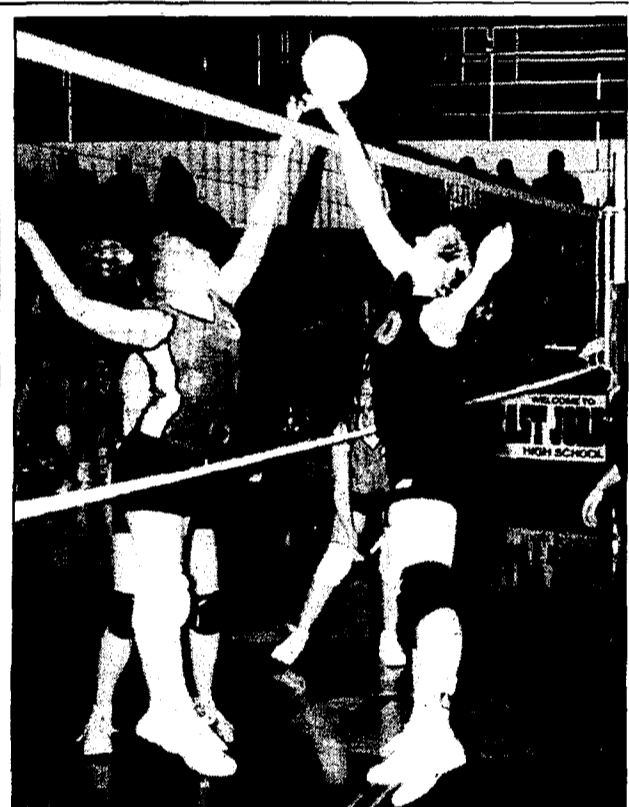

The Ramblers drew a first-round bye and will face the winner of East Jordan and Mancelona. The Ramblers play both those teams this week to close out the regular season. They played at East Jordan Tuesday and host Mancelona on Friday. It will be the last varsity basketball game in the high school gym.

If the Ramblers win the semi-final game it's possible they could meet Charlevoix for the district championship Friday, March 8.

But that's a big if.

Cass Dolbow and Ryan Amesbury, 24, put the squeeze on Rayder Keith Daly as he drives to the basket.

East Jordan's Jessica Crick tips the ball over the net.

EJ netters top Elk Rapids at home

Last week, East Jordan hosted Elk Rapids in the Red Devils' final home game of the season, taking the win in two games, 15-11 and 16-14.

Senior co-captain Bethany Wilson had her best offensive match of the season, finishing with six kills and three aces. Fellow senior co-captain Jackie Haley had six kills, two aces, and two blocks. Rachael Bennett played strong defensively with five digs, and Krystal Birgy put in an all-around solid game with one kill, one ace, and six digs.

"The team played with a lot of heart," said East Jordan head coach Paul Nachazel. "It was nice to see the team play with intensity throughout an entire match."

BCHS to host conference cheer championship

Boyne City High School will be hosting the Lake Michigan Conference 2002 Winter Cheerleading Championship on Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 6 p.m. in the high school gym. This is the first time in several years that Boyne City has hosted the event.

"Most schools in our conference do not have the mats or facilities to host a cheerleading competition," said Boyne City co-coach Andy Place. "We really appreciate East Jordan lending us their mats. We could not do this without their cooperation."

Five of the seven teams in the Lake Michigan Conference will be participating. Harbor Springs and Traverse City St. Francis do not have winter cheerleaders.

East Jordan is the perennial favorite, as the Red Devils have won the competition 5 of the last 7 years. The only other team to win was Boyne City in 1997 and 1998.

The competition uses the Michigan Cheerleading Coaches Association (MCCA) format for sideline cheerleaders. The teams will be competing in two timed rounds. The emphasis of the first round cheer is leadership. The second round cheer features stunts and dancing.

A panel of MCJA certified judges evaluates the teams. The judges use a scale of 1 to 10 to rate the teams in several categories ranging from to difficulty. A safety judge is also used to ensure the teams are using National Safety Federation standards in their cheers.

These same teams will be competing again on Saturday, March 2, in Petoskey for the MCCA Regional Championship. The Class C division will begin at 7 p.m. The Regional is the qualifier for the MCCA State Championships, and will be held in Petoskey.

Loggers earn big win over Alanson

The Boyne Falls Loggers picked up another win Tuesday night in a non-conference contest at home against Alanson defeating the visitors 72-48.

Boyne Falls, now 13-4 overall, had a 15-point lead at the half, 43-28, and never looked back.

The Loggers made good on 29 field goals, four of which were three-pointers, and were 10-20 from the free-throw line.

Archie Griffen led the Loggers in scoring with 23 points, followed by Mike Dunlop with 16. Nate Burks added eight, while Adam Utley and Matt Skop each contributed seven points.

The Loggers hosted Wolverine Tuesday and will face Ellsworth on Friday, also at home.

Boyne City High School skiers Matt Mercier, above, and Kyle Barden, right, both were named all-conference at the recent conference meet.

Area skiers named all-conference

Boyne City and East Jordan ski teams participated at the Conference Meet last week at Boyne Mountain. The Boyne City boys and girls both placed second overall, with the East Jordan boys and girls each placing fifth overall. All-conference skiers from Boyne City were Jesse Grove, Matt Mercier, Riley O'Brien and Kyle Barden, with Mindy McCutcheon and Brandon McNamara receiving honorable mentions. East Jordan's Margaux Rowley also received an honorable mention.

Boyne Little League holding registration

The Boyne City Little League has announced a revision in the age requirement for interested players this spring. The league originally announced that participating boys and girls must be ages 6-16 by Sept. 1 of this year to play; instead, participants must be ages 6-16 by Aug. 1. The league has also added an $80 per family fee cap, with the base cost of $40 per child. Final registration sessions for the 2002 season will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 27, from 5-8 p.m.; and Sunday, March 3, from 1-3 p.m.

All registration will be held at the Boyne City Hall Auditorium. No sign-ups will be allowed after the final registration on March 3. For more information, call Todd Schumaker at 582-0658 or Pam Price at 582-7269.

EJ YOUTH BASKETBALL

Two games were played in the third and fourth Grade Division of the East Jordan Youth Basketball League on Saturday, Feb. 23.

In the championship game, the Teals capped off an undefeated season by stopping the Greys, 28-10. For the Teals, Jared Danbert had 16 points, Nathan Peterson and Matt Werner, four apiece, and Derek Malpass and Nathaniel Wilson each had two. J.D. Bennett was the top defender and Robbie Crick and Morgan Tinney were the top passers. For the Greys, Travis Braman had eight points and Teddy Snowden added two. Jacob Baier played great defense and Jacob Kovel was the top rebounder. Tony Pentecost was the top playmaker. In the consolation game, it was the Reds over the Blacks, 24-22. For the Reds, Grayson Myas led the way with 14 points, while Tyler Hartsough added six. Derek Boyer and George Patton had two each. Steven Walczak was the leading defender. For the Blacks, Josh Williams had 12 points with Andrew Nemecek and Wesley Petrie adding six and four, respectively. Zack Crothers led the rebounders and Nathan Antosik was the top defender.

BOYNE AREA HOCKEY RESULTS

Boyne Area Bantams

On Sunday, February 17, the Bantams hosted the CharEm Sharks for a pair of games. Boyne's only goal of the first game came in the second period, when Ryan Hennessy scored. Josh Grove and Josh Aown earned an assist. CharEm took the game, 3-1.

In the second matchup, Boyne turned it up a few notches and the teams skated to a 2-2 tie. Boyne's goals came from William Brown with an across the net pass from JP Fiedorek, and Ryan Hennessy, with a pass from Russell Williams. Boyne outshot CharEm 31-25. Goalie Nate Herrera had 23 saves.

On Saturday, Feb. 23, Boyne skated in a Bantam tourney hosted by CharEm. In their first game, they faced Traverse City #3. TC scored two quick goals, then Eli Barys, assisted by Ryan Hennessy and Josh Black, put Boyne on the board. TC put one more in to make it 3-1 at the end of the first period. The teams took turns scoring two each in the second period; Trevor Mapes assisted two Hennessy shorthanded goals, to make it 5-3 at the end of the second. The third period belonged to Boyne, as they climbed up the steep side of the mountain back to the top, scoring five unanswered goals to earn the 8-5 win. Scoring in the final period were Mapes, Russell Williams, and Hennessy with two. Assists were by Chris Aepelbacher, Josh Aown, two from Williams and three from Hennessy. Boyne outshot TC 33-24. Noted for outstanding defensive effort was Evan Keller. Nate Herrera was between the pipes.

In their second game of the day, Boyne faced a fresh TC #1 team, who had drawn a bye. In the fast-paced game, TC drew first blood 16 seconds in. Boyne battled back with three goals, a pair from Trevor Mapes assisted by William Brown, and one from Ryan Hennessy, assisted by Josh Grove, which put the score 3-1 at the end of the first period.

Each team picked up three more goals by midway though the second period, Boyne's from Eli Barys, JP Fiedorek, and Russell Williams, assisted by Hennessy, Mapes, and Barys. The pace became telling, though, as tired legs succumbed to fresh legs in the third period when TC scored three more to take an 8-6 win.

Sunday, Feb. 24, the team traveled to Kalkaska to play the Thunder Bay

Firehawks.

The Firehawks scored first, but their two-minute lead would be the only one of the game. Ryan Hennessy, Eli Barys, and JP Fiedorek scored in a rush in the first period, assisted by Russell Williams, Hennessy, and William Brown. Boyne put in three unanswered goals in the second period despite a goalie switch by Alpena: two by Barys, and one by Williams. Assists came from Barys, Hennessy, and Tyler Kalbflesch. After a quick Alpena goal in the third period, they pulled their goalie and scored with a swarm on the net. But Boyne scored twice more, one by Williams, assisted by Josh Grove, and the other an empty netter from the top of the circle from Barys. Backed by goaltending from Nate Herrera, the team earned an 8-5 win. Coaches noted outstanding efforts of Josh Black on offense, and Josh Aown on defense for "taking it on the shins."

Boyne Banshees

On Feb. 16 the Boyne Banshees played two games against the Alpena Thunder Bay Warriors, with Allison Aown in goal. The game ended in a 1-1 tie, with Leresia Killinger scoring Boyne's only goal.

Game two ended with the Warriors winning 4-1. Boyne's goal was made by Thereseann Zimmerman and assisted by Kelly Clark.

"The Boyne Banshees are coming together as a well-defined team," said coach Chris Adkison. "These girls are classified as Midgets (ages 15-19), but the players are aged from 11-16. They've played mostly Midget teams this year and are holding their own."

NEWS BRIEFS

Local Be-4 programs receive national accreditation

Two early childhood programs within Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District were recently granted accreditation by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). This prestigious recognition is only achieved by approximately seven percent of early childhood programs nationwide.

Programs receiving the prominent honor include:

- Be-4 Center East Jordan Program, located in East Jordan Elementary School.

- Be-4 Center Boyne City/Boyne Falls Program, located at Boyne City Elementary School.

These programs now proudly display the NAEYC torch – the sign of the NAEYC accreditation. Parents who look for the torch when choosing childcare or early education programs for their children will find programs which have made a commitment to excellence for young children and families.

The Be-4 Center programs in East Jordan and Boyne City are operated by the Early Education Department with Char-Em ISD. Each classroom serves 18 preschool children from the local school districts of Boyne City, Boyne Falls and East Jordan. The teacher at both sites is Nancy Decker and assistant is Kelly Kline.

NAEYC accreditation is a rigorous, voluntary process by which early childhood programs demonstrate that they meet national standards of excellence. Child care centers, preschools, kindergartens, and before and after school programs are eligible to seek NAEYC accreditation. Approximately 15,000 programs are engaged in seeking accreditation.

Programs seeking accreditation undergo an intensive self-study, collecting information from parents, teachers, administrators and classroom observations. They receive an on-site visit, conducted by early childhood professionals especially trained by NAEYC, to validate their self-study results. A team of national experts who grant or defer accreditation independently reviews all of this information. When awarded, accreditation is valid for three years.

Technical assistance and funding for the accreditation process was provided through the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District CHILD Project, due to a grant from the Frey Foundation. CHILD stands for Communities Helping In a Child's Learning and Development.

NAEYC accreditation began in 1985, with the first program accredited in 1986. NAEYC is the nation's oldest and largest organization of early childhood professionals dedicated to improvement of quality early childhood education. NAEYC established accreditation in response to the growing number of American children spending large amounts of time in group settings away from home.

Arts funding group to hold regional grant workshop

The Rural Arts & Culture Program, which has grants of up to $10,000 available to fund projects by arts and cultural organizations in Michigan during 2002-03, will host a series of regional workshops to assist organizations in program plan development and grant applications. Locally, a workshop will be held on Friday, March 8, at the East Jordan Portside Art & History Society, from 9:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.

The Rural Arts & Culture Program (RACP) was developed by the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs (MCACA) to strengthen and showcase the unique arts and culture of Michigan's rural communities through community-based collaborations by funding activities that relate to community or regional arts, culture, heritage, and history.

RACP grants are available for projects in 39 Michigan counties that have not traditionally received MCACA funding, including Charlevoix and Antrim counties.

The East Jordan workshop will focus on RACP project guidelines and application process, successful past projects, technical assistance, and resource sharing and networking.

Registration is $10 with lunch provided; participants are asked to register in advance by calling the RACP project office at (517) 432-3358.

Rural Arts & Culture Program grant applications are due May 1, 2002, for projects occurring Oct. 1, 2002-Sept. 30, 2003. RACP guidelines will be available at the workshops and from the project office (517) 432-3358, the website www.museum.msu.edu/ruralarts, and via e-mail at ruralarts@museum.msu.edu. The Rural Arts & Culture Program is coordinated by the Michigan State University Museum.

Girl Scouts of Crooked Tree hosting High Tea

In celebration of the Girl Scouts' 90th Anniversary, Girl Scouts of Crooked Tree is hosting an Anniversary High Tea on Tuesday, March 12, from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. at the Top of the Park in Traverse City. The cost of this event is $50 per person and is open to the community at large. Because seating is limited to 100 guests, individual and table reservations must be made no later than March 5. Call the Girl Scout Service Center at (231) 947-7354 or (800) 968-5205 for reservations.

Guests at the Girl Scout Anniversary Tea will be pampered by the staff at the Park Place and introduced to a wide selection of tea and hors d'oeuvres while supporting the largest volunteer organization for girls in the world – Girl Scouting.

Girl Scouts of Crooked Tree, assisted by 1,000 adult volunteers, serve 4,000 school-age girls yearly in Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Mason, Missaukee, and Wexford Counties.

Scholarship offered to BCES students for MEAP success

As a local parent and businessman, Boyne City's Jeff Wellman wanted to find a way to give a little something back to hardworking students at Boyne City Elementary.

This year, Wellman decided a good place to start was with a $250 scholarship, to be awarded to the fourth-grade student who scores best on the MEAP standardized test.

With the approval of school administrators, the scholarship is expected to be awarded this spring, after scores for the recently completed MEAP tests come in.

Concord eighth grade to present "Time and Time Again"

Concord Academy Boyne's eighth grade will perform the musical "Time and Time Again" on Feb. 28, March 1, and March 2, at 7 p.m. each evening. The play tells the story of Vic Ames (Sean Mills), a failing high school senior dreaming of a record contract. Thrown back in time by another student's science project, Vic finds himself meeting his parents in their own high school days. The two-act family musical features 50s music and choreographed dance routines. Doors open at 6 p.m., with tickets available. Ticket prices are $3 for adults, $2 for students, and $10 for families. For reserved seats ($5), call Pat Howard at 582-0194. The school is located at 00401 E. Dietz Rd. in Boyne City.

NOTICE OF SHOW CAUSE HEARING AND JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE HEARING NON-PAYMENT OF PROPERTY TAXES

On March 1, 2001 real estate with unpaid 1997 and/or 1999 property taxes was forfeited to the Antrim County Treasurer pursuant to the General Property Tax Act, Public Act 206 of 1893, PA 206, MCL 211.1 to 211.157, as amended.

The Antrim County Treasurer is acting as the Foreclosing Governmental Unit in proceedings to foreclose on this property for unpaid property taxes.

There are two hearings scheduled to finalize the foreclosure process. This publication is intended to provide additional notice to parties of interest in these parcels as to the nature, time, and location of these hearings.

A Show Cause Hearing is scheduled for February 11, 2002 1 PM at Board of Commissioners Room, 203 E Cayuga St., Bellaire MI 49615.

Any person with an interest in the property forfeited to the county treasurer may appear at the show cause hearing and redeem that property or show cause why absolute title to that property should not vest in the Foreclosing Governmental Unit.

A Judicial Foreclosure Hearing is scheduled for February 19, 2002 2:30 PM at the 13th Circuit Court, 205 Cayuga, Bellaire Mi 49615

At this hearing the Foreclosing Governmental Unit shall ask that the court enter a judgment foreclosing the property as requested in the petition for foreclosure. A person claiming an interest in a parcel of property set forth in the petition for foreclosure, who desires to contest the petition, must file written objections with the clerk of the circuit court and serve those objections on Antrim County Treasurer, the Foreclosing Governmental Unit. The docket number of the petition is 01-7752-CH

If you are a person with an interest in property being foreclosed:

- ! You have the right to redeem this parcel from the foreclosure process by payment of all forfeited unpaid taxes, interest, penalties, and fees prior to the expiration of the redemption period. You should contact the Antrim County Treasurer for the amount required to redeem.
- ! You may lose your interest in the property as a result of the foreclosure proceeding.
- ! The title to the property shall vest absolutely in the Foreclosing Governmental Unit unless all forfeited unpaid delinquent taxes, interest, penalties, and fees are paid within 21 days after judgment is entered in the foreclosure proceedings.

PLEASE NOTE :

The following list represents parties that appear to have title, lien, or other apparent rights to the parcels being foreclosed by the Foreclosing Governmental Unit.

This notice is required to be given by law, even if the party no longer claims or desires an interest if it appears they hold any undischarged, apparent, or potential title or lien right to the property.

Listing of a party does NOT necessarily indicate that they are the owner of a parcel or that they are liable for the property taxes.

This list is NOT an offering of property for sale. These parcels are NOT being sold, auctioned, or otherwise made available by virtue of this notice.

There is no procedure for purchasing these parcels from the Foreclosing Governmental Unit at this point in the foreclosure proceedings. Those parcels that are foreclosed and not redeemed may become available at public auction in July, September, and November of 2002. These parcels remain the property of their current owner until redemption rights have expired. No party should make any attempt to inspect or enter upon these parcels assuming them to be for sale. This may constitute trespassing and subject the offender to criminal prosecution. The street address of the parcels listed is based on local records and is not guaranteed to be the actual location of the property.

The amount due listed indicates the balance which was due as of forfeiture on March 1, 2001. The current amount required to redeem must be obtained from the Antrim County Treasurer, as additional penalties, fees, and interest have accrued since forfeiture.
