Though the weather was anything but spring-like, folks dressed in layers and turned out for the 42nd Annual National Morel Mushroom Festival in Boyer City over the weekend. On Saturday, mushroom hunters were out in full force, including Mary (Stark) Braman, at left, an East Jordan resident who holds the distinguished honor of being the first-ever mushroom hunt champion back in 1960. For more on the festival, see page 5.

Boyer City schools looking at budget deficit

When it comes to this year's budget process for Boyer City Public Schools, finding ways to cut the fat has been the name of the game. According to interim superintendent Jim Cooper, who gave a report on the status of the budget process at last week's regular school board meeting, the process has been a challenging one this year. Administrators and staff are looking to deal with a projected deficit of approximately $700,000, a figure arrived at based on anticipated expenses and revenues for the upcoming fiscal year.

The amount, Cooper said, "is definitely pretty significant." While the district has approximately $1.5 million in fund equity, theoretically available to dip into for a balanced budget, whittling that equity amount by nearly half could put the district in jeopardy in case of emergency needs throughout the year, like a new school bus, for instance.

The anticipated deficit comes as an outgrowth of a number of factors, the biggest of which is a downward trend in enrollment in recent years. Coupled with an uncertain future in state funding, the trend is forcing administrators and the board to make some difficult decisions in the coming weeks. "Though it sounds cold, the reality is in the budget, every student has a price tag," Cooper said. "Each student equals about $7,000." A declining enrollment, he said, "is the biggest part of what's caused the deficit."

"The other part is just not aggressively addressing that. We have some tough decisions to make."

With personnel items comprising

We need to get a handle on it now or it really will turn into a problem
down the road.”
--Boyer City interim
superintendent Jim Cooper

just over 80 percent of the budget, cuts may very well come in staffing first. "We are looking at realigning some jobs, especially in areas of support [staff], realigning alternate education. We're looking at extracurriculars, athletics. You name it, we're looking at everything."

Except academic programs, at this point, Cooper was careful to point out. The goal, he said, is to keep any recommended cuts "as far away from students as possible." But, he added, "there may come a time when recommendations will impact students."

Administrative cuts and layoffs could be part of the picture, but are also something that Cooper said the district is looking "to minimize."

"I'd like to tell you that no one will be laid off," Cooper said to the board, "but I can't tell you that at this point."

Any cuts are conjecture at present, as administrators wait to finalize retirements for the year, as well as get the most current information on things like special education and Title I/At-Risk funding at the state level.

While the potential deficit is a big concern, Cooper emphasized that the picture is "not all doom and gloom, but it wouldn't be fair if I didn't say it's a problem. We need to get a handle on it now or it really will turn into a problem down the road. I'm comfortable that we can [get a handle on it]."

Cooper expects that the proposed budget will be finalized in the next week, with a budget hearing set for Monday, June 24. The meeting will be open to the public, with public input encouraged. The time for the meeting will be posted in area papers prior to June 24.

ON A BRIGHTER note, Cooper also updated the progress of the please see BUDGET on page 4

Services planned to honor veterans

Area communities will be taking part in services and ceremonies this Memorial Day, Monday, May 27, to honor local veterans for their service to our country. Following is a schedule of some events currently planned.

IN EAST JORDAN, coffee will be served beginning at 6 a.m. at the American Legion Hall, located at 305 Main St. Services will be held throughout the morning at the following locations: Calvary Cemetery, Pesek Cemetery, Bohemian Cemetery, Densmore Cemetery, Sunset Hill Cemetery, and Grandvue. Lineup for the Memorial Day parade will be held between 10-10:30 a.m. at the GAR Park on Main Street. Scouting troops and little league teams are encouraged to participate. The parade will begin at 10:45 a.m. and will travel down Main Street to Memorial Park. Guest speaker for the military service will be local veteran Colonel Nick Lilak.

After a military service in the park, troops will head to Christopher Taylor Memorial Bridge to honor those veterans who died at sea.

All events are organized by the American Legion Rebec-Hosler-Sweet Post #227 and the VFW Post #7580. For more information, call the American Legion at 536-9217 or the VFW at 536-7580.

In addition to the formal services, another special tradition will continue, as the Jordan Valley Glassworks will be setting Nijiwa floats (blown glass globes) marked with the names of area veterans throughout the area for residents and visitors to find and keep, in memory of those who served their country.

BOYER CITY will kick off the day's events with a Memorial Day Breakfast for VFW and American Legion members as well as their auxiliaries, sponsored by the Boyer City School Boosters, at Boyer City High School. The public is invited to attend.

Graveside services will be held as follows:

8 a.m. Ceremonies at Boyer Falls Memorial Park
 8:15 a.m. Walloon Lake Memorial Park
 8:35 a.m. Evangeline Township Cemetery, Clute Road

10:30 a.m. Memorial Day Parade
 Parade route: American Legion Hall north on Lake Street to Veteran's Memorial Park. Ceremonies will immediately follow.

For more information on the Boyer City events, call the American Legion at 582-7811.

Appreciating veterans

Last week, veterans of Boyer City's Ernest Peterson Post 228 held their annual Veterans Appreciation Day Open House, inviting the public and area youth to visit for a chance to get up close and personal with both the veterans and their equipment, uniforms, and more. More than 450 students from area schools visited the event. Pictured above, American Legion member Fred Leyh quizzes a group from Concord Academy Boyer on the origins of various military headwear. Several area law enforcement agencies also participated, giving students an opportunity to check out law enforcement gear and speak one on one with officers.

IN MEMORY

Each Memorial Day, The Citizen-Journal is pleased to run the names of deceased area veterans to honor their service to their country. The lists are compiled in Boyne City by city clerk Sue Hobbs, and in East Jordan by local resident Ken Richards. Anyone with additions or questions about these lists is asked to contact Hobbs or Richards.

Let Freedom and Liberty
Ring

Perhaps the highest calling one can answer to is to risk one's own life for one's country. In times of national crises, thousands of men and women have heeded the call and given of themselves for the good of our nation. This Memorial Day, take a moment to reflect on the freedoms we enjoy as Americans and give thanks to those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

BOYNE CITY HIGH SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION UPDATE

(The following information has been provided by The Christman Company and The Boyne City Board of Education.)

In the past two weeks the crews have accomplished or started the following aspects of the project: The final grading of the site and placement of the topsoil around the building is underway. Crews have poured the remaining concrete floors in the auditorium, along with the building of the platforms in the light ports B215 and B212. The last of the structural steel has been set at the main entrance, and the aluminum wall panels above the same are being installed.

Workers have been installing the angle and metal deck in the light port rooms, as well as installing the roof ladders. The translucent wall system, and the remaining aluminum windows have been installed. Crews have started the installation of the aluminum store front and the curtain wall systems. The hanging of the wood doors and installing the hardware on the same is well underway, and crews are installing the last of the carpeting and VCT in the classroom wing. The plaster ceiling system in the shower rooms is being finished, and the toilet partitions in the locker rooms and the auditorium restrooms have been installed. The lockers in the vocational area and the kitchen area have been installed as well.

In the next two weeks crews look to accomplish the finishing of the topsoil placement and grading, along with pouring the concrete sidewalks around the building. They will be washing the block walls in the commons and lobby areas, as well as pouring the concrete floors at the entryways. The installation of the aluminum storefront and the curtain wall system will be completed. The last of the interior glass in the classroom, athletic, and vocational wings will be installed.

The framing of the metal stud walls in the auditorium will be underway, along with the installing of the acoustical wall panels in the stage house. The ceiling tiles in the kitchen area will be dropped, as well as the tiling of the kitchen floor. Crews will finish painting area "B", and paint the ceiling in the commons area. They will be installing the rubber stair treads and landings in the classroom wing, and tile the bathrooms near the dressing rooms. Installation of the stage rigging in the auditorium will begin as well.

Things continue to move along on schedule as crews start the finishing up of the major components, and move into the finish type work. The outside has changed quite a bit, with the dropping of the fencing and the topsoil grading taking place. As the entrances come to completion, the major transformation taking place on the outside will be complete.

CHECK IT OUT

Pavers will soon find their place

By NANNETTE MILLER

Many people are wondering, and with good reason, what happened to the brick pavers they purchased. Nothing has happened to them, and that is the problem.

We have been waiting for Petrie Construction to finish up some work on the drains in the area where the pavers are to be placed. That work was done last week, and now we are waiting for the city to give its approval of the work. Then we will be ready to order the pavers from Emmet Brick & Block and plan the installation.

Douglas, a staff member and Master Gardener, and I have a vision for the paver area. We want to create a pleasant courtyard where people can sit and read, have lunch, or take a break from whatever meeting is underway in the community room. We have some roof runoff issues that must be resolved, a problem of slope, and a few other details that need attention before we can begin to realize this vision. We are working with the Boyne Valley Garden Club on planting ideas, and I plan to get the newly forming Friends Group on board with the project. You can help support the Friends, and the library, by visiting the Book Sale this Friday from 12 noon to 5 p.m., or Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Rest assured that the pavers will be installed this summer. The good thing about this delay is that there is still time to purchase an engraved paver if you have not done so already. A paver makes a thoughtful and permanent gift for friends or family, a meaningful memorial for someone who has passed on, or just a way to leave your mark in the world. Pavers cost $100, $80 of which goes into the Endowment Fund to cover future operating expenses of the library.

Keep watch this summer for the building of the Library Courtyard. Donations are welcome to help with the project, and contact the library if you are interested in naming the courtyard.

(Nannette Miller is the director of the Boyne District Library.)

Area residents invited to take the '100 Miles in 100 Days' challenge

Charlevoix County residents are being challenged to walk 100 miles or participate in an equivalent form of exercise during 100 days this summer.

The "100 Miles in 100 Days Challenge" is organized by Charlevoix Area Hospital, in cooperation with the cities of East Jordan, Boyne City and Charlevoix. Designed to encourage residents of all ages to walk for the fun of it, reach for their "personal best," and improve their health and fitness, the event will award a $100 grand prize to one lucky participant. Each city will also give out individual prizes.

Participants will be asked to keep track of miles walked and exercise activities in a daily log. According to Marge McGoff, co-chair of the Charlevoix Area Hospital Development Council, which is helping to sponsor the event, walkers are invited to mail their logs to the hospital at the conclusion of the 100 days to be eligible for prize drawings.

Area residents and summer visitors can sign up for the challenge at a number of locations including the Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix city halls, Charlevoix Area Hospital, the hospital's rehab centers in Boyne City and East Jordan, community pools, and fitness centers. The fee to participate is just $1, or a canned good that will be donated to each city's designated food pantry. Several area businesses are encouraging their employees to participate in the walk including: Big Rock Point, the Jordan Valley District Library, the Charlevoix Public Library, The Dental Clinic, Harbor Industries, Honeywell, Industrial Magnetics, Lexalite, Lexamar, and St. Mary's School.

In Charlevoix the event will officially kick off the 100-mile challenge with a one-mile walk at 5:15 p.m. on Thursday, May 23, near the Chamber of Commerce office in the downtown park. In Boyne City and East Jordan the event will be launched on Thursday, May 23, from the marina in downtown Boyne City and City Park in East Jordan respectively. Walkers need not be present for the kickoff events to participate in the challenge.

For more information about the 100-mile challenge, call the Charlevoix Area Hospital Development Office, 547-8502.

Boyne schools looking at deficit in 02-03 budget

planned utilization of the current middle school, which, as of the planned fall opening of the new high school, will not be used by the district as classroom space. The Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District has committed to using a portion of the space for early childhood programming, including the Be-Four program. According to Cooper, the ISD has received a grant of $250,000 for three years to fund early childhood programs at the location, with approximately $50,000 set aside for basic "bricks and mortar" improvements to comply with early childhood education requirements.

While the grant means that the early childhood component in the building will be fully funded for three years, it does not mean that the district is locked into committing that space.

Other potential uses for the remainder of the building are as space for the teenage parent program, as well as "a couple other early childhood programs." Cooper said two human resources agencies have expressed interest in renting office space in the building as well, and he's had "informal conversations" with staff regarding the addition of a community education piece in the building.

The building became available for outside uses when the district moved from the originally-proposed four-building configuration, with an upper and lower elementary, a middle school, and a high school, to a three building configuration, in keeping with enrollment concerns. The new high school will be utilized as planned, with the current high school serving as the middle school, and the elementary school retaining its current status.

Rabbit hunt

EDITOR'S NOTE

In an article entitled "Ah, those elusive morels," featured in The Citizen-Journal's special mushroom festival section, there were several typographical errors. The errors were the result of a scanning error, and were not the fault of the article's author, local morel expert Tom Johnson.

Jane Stieber made it official last week, signing on with Northern Michigan University to run cross country, starting in the fall of 2002.

BOYNE CITY HIGH SCHOOL CROSS COUNTRY STAR JANE STIEBER IS

Ready to make a run for the future

Last week, Boyne City High School senior Jane Stieber capped off her remarkable high school cross country career by signing an agreement to participate in the sport at Northern Michigan University. For Stieber, who already had a four-year academic scholarship to the school earned through an intensive, AAA Scholarship Competition, the signing was the icing on an already tempting college cake.

And though some have expressed surprise at her decision to take her talent to NMU, a Division II school, Stieber is fully confident of her decision, readying for the challenges NMU will offer both academically and athletically. Allowing that there's a huge gap between Division I and Division II competition, Stieber said, "I'd never want to run Division I. I have a feeling that this is right for me."

Many of those who watch Stieber run might think that for her, running must be a lifelong passion, something that she's always done. The truth is, however, that she came into the sport quite by accident, and not for lack of resistance.

"I was never in any sports," she said. "I didn't consider myself an athlete." In middle school, though, someone convinced her to sign up, but her effort was halfhearted. Bound to choose two running events and one field event, Stieber went so far as to pick the shot put to avoid having to run for the long jump.

"I never ran more than a mile in middle school," she said, but when it came time to be heading off to high school, BCHS coach Tom Nagurka made a big impression on Stieber. She recalls sitting in the bleachers at the track, after listening to one of coach Dave Bricker's "trademark 45-minute spiels," to hear what Nagurka had to say about the high school team.

"It hit me," she said. "I thought, 'wait, I don't play basketball, I don't do anything. This is something I could do.'"

That summer, Stieber, who already ran occasionally with dad Jim, began to run with nearby neighbor Kelsi Brewer, who also ran cross country throughout high school. Later, as Stieber's stamina increased, she began to run by herself, upwards of four miles at a time.

That's when things really took off, with Stieber tallying an astounding 300 miles in the time between eighth and ninth grade. "I don't even know why I did it," she said.

From that point on, running was simply something she did. Not always without a wrong turn here or there. For example, there was the Fourth of July race her first summer of running, where she made a wrong turn and ended up on the 10 K route rather than the 5 K she'd planned on. Turning around and backtracking, she said, laughing, "I ended up with, like, 18 minutes for two miles." At the time, though, "it was the end of the world."

Fortunately, the embarrassing moment didn't keep her off the trails, and so she joined the high school cross country team as planned, making All-Conference all four years of her high school career. After taking things to the next level in her freshman year, also making All-Region, Stieber suffered a setback the next year, a "sophomore slump" of sorts. After a phenomenal first year, by 10th grade, she said, "I was unconsciously used to being first. I realized, 'it's expected of you now.' I had a hard time dealing with it."

When, as a freshman, an athlete breaks two school records in their very first meet, they're set up with big expectations from those around them, and themselves. "I had to come to grips with that."

She was disappointed to not make All-Regional that year, but by her junior year, she'd come to terms with herself and her running. "I matured more," she said. "I had a much better time dealing with not always being the best."

Though she'd qualified to compete at the state meet all four years of her career, it wasn't until her senior year that she really got down to business. Prior to that, she said, she'd never been convinced that she could make her mark at states. As a senior, though, that changed; at the beginning of her final season, she set her sights on a state medal, telling herself, "I'm going to do this," she said. After a tough season, Stieber found herself ailing and weak at the conference meet, having difficulty even finishing the race just 10 days prior to the regional competition. "At the conference meet, I just crashed," she said. Still, she made All-Conference, albeit, by "the skin of my teeth."

By regionals, thanks to an adjusted diet full of red meat and iron and calcium supplements, and lots of support from mom Mary-Anne ("Mom was the greatest help," Stieber said. "She was on top of it. She's always awesome, but that week she was especially awesome."), she had bounced back, running to a fourth place finish, her highest ever at the regional competition.

At the subsequent state meet, "I was totally composed. It was a beautiful day, and I went out and didn't give in." Placing 16th overall, Stieber did in fact medal and finally achieve that coveted All-State designation.

By no stretch of the imagination, though, has running been all about titles and medals for Stieber, and her attitude going into college-level running is the same. "I'm going in looking to improve myself," Stieber said. Making the varsity or travel teams would be great, she said, but is not what the entire experience hinges on.

And though she's excited about running at NMU, it's the entire college experience that has her counting the days. "I'm really excited to be in a new environment," she said. "High school was awesome, but I'm ready to take it to a new level." As for majors, she's still uncertain, though the possibility of pre-med or psychology are things she's considering. As good a runner as she is, Stieber is no slouch academically, being a member of the National Honor Society and co-valedictorian of her graduating class, among other things.

"Whatever is God's plan for me, it will all pan out," Stieber said. "I'm really excited to see what I can do."

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

TODD FALL, son of Louie and Pat Fall of Boyne City and Dawn Lilley, daughter of Jerry and Barbara Lilley of Princess Anne, Md., were married on Saturday, May 18, 2002. The lovely ceremony, followed by 35 guests attending, with the Rev. Kenneth Bernthal of the Christ Lutheran Church officiating, took place in the lobby of Boyne City's Dilworth Hotel. The couple, both here from Framingham, Mass., chose her sisters, Christie of Salisbury, Md. and Candice of Orlando, Fla., as her maids of honor and his brothers, Troy and Tim, of Cincinnati, Ohio, as best man and groomsmen. A dinner reception followed the ceremony, in the Dilworth Room. A rehearsal dinner was held on Friday evening at the Wilson Township Fall Park. Guests coming from Minnesota, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and the local area, to attend this special event included the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Helen McMains of Princess Anne, Md. After a wedding trip to St. Lucie in the Caribbean, the newlyweds will be at home in Framingham, Mass.

A WARM "Welcome Home!" goes out to long time Boyne resident Howard Darby and wife Doris, who have spent the winter months in Florida.

MRS. INGA CASPER has returned to her Litzenger Place apartment. Appreciating being home, she wanted to express her thanks for all the kindnesses of cards, flowers, and visits while she was in the hospital and home confinement. "It brightened my days!" she said.

LOUISA AND NELS NORTHUP of Boyne Falls enjoyed a Sunday afternoon soccer game by grandson Gabriel in Marshall. Then on Monday, they watched his older brother, grandson Gannon, compete in a junior high track meet. They also had a fun time playing Mexican Train with daughter, Lynnell, the boys' mother.

PHYLLIS TISRON, Janet Shepherd and Janenne Harrington were among the many women attending the Win-some Women Retreat at Mackinaw Island Wednesday and Thursday of this past week.

ON MOTHER'S DAY Nan Kritcher went over to the East Jordan home of her daughter, Denise Ricky and family for Mother's Day dinner. All enjoyed sharing a nice quiet dinner and visit as well as playing Monopoly and a couple games of cards.

BECKY AIMESBURY has returned to Kentucky after combining her Mother's Day gift and her vacation, with a week of visiting Mom, Peg Aimesbury.

FORMER EAST JORDAN/Petoskey resident, Don Trojnak, recently residing at the Emmet County Facility Care in Harbor Springs, was admitted to Northern Michigan Hospital this past week.

A WARM "Welcome Home!" goes out to Anne Jenkins of Boyne Falls, returning from the winter in Zephyrhills, Fla. Her first stop in Michigan at the end of April was at her daughter June and Jim Morcy's in Ionia. From there, they all went to Greenville, S.C., in the interest of their daughter and granddaughter, Jessica Morey Hudson, who graduated from Bob Jones University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree. Arriving at her Kuzmik Road home this past Tuesday, Anne was more than pleased upon receiving a card for her May 22 birthday that also contained dried mushrooms that had been picked near the home of her Ann Arbor friend!

THE FELTON Family of Boyne City combined last Sunday's Mother's Day with celebrating Linda's dad, Fay Limron, on his 81st birthday. Also celebrated at a great dinner at the Felton home was the 29th of their daughter Michelle's fiancé, Todd Gorney of Petoskey, as well as the May birthday of another family friend, Scott Cutler.

BOYNE CITY High School graduate of the class of 2002, Brad Winkler, was honored on Saturday, May 18, with an open house, by his parents Chuck and Janine Winkler. Many fellow classmates, neighbors and relatives shared in celebrating this special time. Among those attending were his brother, Christopher, who just graduated from Hope College with a Bachelor of Arts degree. Brad will continue his education at the University of Wisconsin in the fall.

THE UNITED METHODIST Church in Boyne City honored eight high school graduates at their worship service this past Sunday. A first time event was to also honor the three college graduates attending. Congratulations continued at a reception following the service.

LAST TUESDAY, Betty Kelts was released from Northern Michigan Hospital. After an overnight at home, she and her daughters, Jo and Janet, and granddaughters Ipo and Heather all attended the Win-some Women Retreat on Mackinaw Island. After breakfast on Thursday, Betty had a fainting spell. After being returned to Petoskey, it was determined that she did not have a stroke. All of that has cleared up and she is doing well, except for her original foot problem. She remains there for further testing but is hoping to be released at least by next Tuesday.

FORMER BOYNE CITY resident, Esme (Thayer) Lance has returned to Oregon after visiting relatives and friends all over Michigan. While here, 63 family members and friends honored her with an 80th birthday party, May 11, at the Lakeview Village Clubhouse. It was a special time for all, as it may be a long time for her to be able to make the long trip again.

FLO KOMINSKI of Boyne City was the surprised recipient of a party in her honor! On Saturday, May 11, her daughter Rosie and Mark Kessler of Bowling Green, Ohio, and everybody else went to great lengths, keeping the celebration of her 75th birthday party a big secret! Daughter Lisa and Mike Carlson of Larson's Bay, Alaska stayed out of sight, until party time and daughter Sharon of Kodiak, Alaska, unable to attend, had sent 75 beautiful yellow roses about then too. Among the many attending were Flo's brothers and sisters and several members and friends of the VFW Auxiliary. Lisa and Mike spent the week here, returning home May 18.

Yet at the same time, I am very ready for a change of scenery and look forward to making new friends. It is nice to know that a large job is nearing its completion."
FUTURE PLANS: "I plan to study political science/government in college. Most likely, I will attend James Madison College at Michigan State University. I have, however, not given up hope completely that I may yet be admitted to Yale University, where I am currently on the waiting list. Provided I am medically qualified, I plan to pursue a military career through the Reserve Officer Training Corps, most likely in the Army. I am also giving serious thought to pursuing a law degree. Eventually, I would like to work somewhere in the federal government."

I feel overwhelmed by a full range of emotions from apprehension to elation to contentment and confidence that everything will work out the way that it is supposed to. With each passing day I come more to grips with the idea that the 'facts of life' of moving onward and upward are fast approaching rather than simply dismissing those 'facts' as obscure notions of the distant future. As graduation nears, I am making my best effort to ensure that I will leave Boyne City High School with no regrets."
FUTURE PLANS: "I plan to attend Northern Michigan University (on a full academic scholarship- one of ten of NMU's "Presidential Harden" awards) in the fall where I am enrolled in the Honors and pre-med programs. # Getting kids INVOLVED

■ East Jordan Middle School finds success with new, expanded after-school offerings

East Jordan Middle School students have been busy broadening their horizons this school year, and not just in the classroom. According to middle school principal Michael Haynes, students have participated after school in everything from street hockey to chess.

Offerings for after-school activities this year were broadened in a concerted effort to draw students into looking at school as an all-around enriching experience, as well as encourage overall student wellness. "The key is that we get parents and teachers involved, the community involved, [and find] fun ways to get the kids here after school for a healthy activity," Haynes said. While traditional offerings like school athletics have long been in place, not all students are interested in playing organized, competitive team sports. "If the kids don't play something official, we worry whether they'll get involved," he said.

Once staff, with students' help, identified some areas of interest, they got to work on establishing several after-school offerings, including a running club, Spanish club, chess club, snowshoeing, dance, street hockey and taek-wo. The activities, with the exception of the dance and Spanish classes, are offered free of charge to students, and are led by staff and community members. Grants from organizations like the East Jordan Learning Alliance, the Malpass Foundation, and the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, help defray other costs involved in the various activities. "We're grateful that those three organizations [especially] are behind everything we do," Haynes said.

Likewise, administrators are grateful for the support of staff and parents in making the programs successful. "The whole thing couldn't happen if we didn't have the support of the teachers and community," Haynes said. "It wouldn't happen if we didn't have parents who are supportive."

The extended offerings are in keeping with a national trend towards schools providing more and more experiences outside of the traditional academic structure. "Schools are rarely seven-hour institutions anymore," Haynes said, adding that many kids who already participate in athletics are "here all day." After-school programming gives kids outside of those organized sports a chance to get more out of the school experience as well, especially important perhaps at the middle school age range, when kids are just figuring out what they're interested in. "If we get them liking doing things [in middle school] that can lead into things at the high school," Haynes said, noting that many students who don't "get hooked" on some extracurricular activity by the sixth grade go on to have minimal participation in activities outside of their required school day. "That's the shame," he said.

It's a good age to target, too, in terms of making that kid-adult connection. "Students see that teachers and other adults are human," Haynes said. It's also an opportunity for a student who may not have found another outlet to shine; teachers often get to see a student who they've "never seen in that light, excel or displaying a good attitude."

With the success of this year's programs, Haynes hopes that next year, offerings will change and expand to suit the student's needs and interests, including, perhaps, cooking and hiking clubs. The commitment, said Haynes, is not one the school is planning to let go. "The school's putting in a lot of time to help kids be successful."

Street hockey has been one of the most popular offerings in East Jordan Middle School's attempt to increase after-school options for students. Staff and community members participate by supervising and instructing activities in a club-type format.

Tae-wo is another popular program, with both students and staff members participating. The after-school class was funded in part by a wellness-oriented grant from the East Jordan Family Health Center through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation.

PRAYER HELPS HEART PATIENTS

A study done at Duke University Medical Center revealed that heart patients who were prayed for while receiving coronary stents did better than those who got stents alone. Patients had a 25-30% reduction in adverse outcomes when they were prayed for, compared to those who only received standard care. Neither patients nor their families knew they were being prayed for. Duke cardiologist Mitch Krucoff said, "we now know that clinically meaningful, high quality research can be done in this area." A larger study is already under way.

First a grand slam, then a no-hitter

■ A triumph seldom achieved in a career

Most baseball players only dream about hitting a grand slam home run or pitching a no-hitter.

Few ever realize that dream. Some lucky ones may achieve one, but having both in a career is rare.

That makes Boyne City's David Vasquez's achievement last Tuesday against Inland Lakes even more remarkable.

Not only did he hit a grand slam in game one of a double-header, but he turned right around and pitched a no-hitter for the Ramblers in game two. And not only was it his first grand slam, it was his first varsity home run.

Both games were victories for the Ramblers. Game one was a slugfest with Boyne winning 16-6 while game two was a 6-0 win.

"What a night David had," said Boyne City coach Beano Archey. "David got into his rhythm early and kept Inland Lakes off balance all game. Catcher Nick Follette called a very smart game and the defense made some great plays to help David get his no-hitter."

"We played very smart ball in both games and our defense did not commit any errors all night."

Vasquez struck out seven.

Offensively he also helped his cause with two singles and two RBIs. Beau Detcher also had two RBIs and one single. Nick Follette and Jeff Prested also singled for the Ramblers, who jumped out to a 2-0 lead after the first inning, added a run in the fourth and put the game away with two in the fifth.

In game one, the Rambler bats were booming as they collected 11 hits. The Ramblers jumped out to a 5-1 lead after the first inning, added two more in the third, seven in the fourth and two in the fifth.

In addition to Vasquez's grand slam, Cole Andrews had three singles and two RBIs, Dustin Moore had a double, single and three RBIs, Nick Follette had a double and two RBIs, Scott McDowell had a single and two RBIs, Ryan Amesbury singled and drove in a run, and Detcher and Bryon Kroondyk each singled.

Kroondyk was on the mound for the Ramblers making his first start in a while, and he "threw well until starting to tire in the fourth," Archey said.

Kroondyk pitched 4 1/3 innings, allowing nine hits while striking out three. Detcher came on and pitched two-thirds of an inning and did not allow a hit.

With the two victories the Ramblers are 16-7 overall. They will face East Jordan Thursday.

Boyne City's David Vasquez achieved two feats only dreamed of by most players. In two consecutive games last week as the Ramblers faced Inland Lakes.

East Jordan bats not connecting

Despite a strong pitching performance from Jon Reese, the East Jordan Red Devils dropped a 3-1 decision to Elk Rapids in the first game of a doubleheader last Wednesday hosted by the Red Devils.

In the second game, the offense came to life for both teams, but again East Jordan found itself on the short end of a 9-6 score.

In game one, Reese went the distance, striking out 11 batters, walking one and allowing four hits. Elk Rapids scored two runs in the second and one in the sixth, while the Red Devils managed just one run in the third. Brian Diller had the Red Devils' only RBI.

"Jon pitched very well and we played a strong defensive game," said East Jordan coach Bruce Harger. "We just couldn't get our bats going."

"We continue to improve defensively, we just have to combine that with better hitting."

In addition to Diller's RBI single, Robert Grover also singled.

Game two saw the Red Devils fall behind early to Elk Rapids, trailing 8-2 after the fourth inning. Elk Rapids scored another run in the sixth before the Red Devils mounted a four-run rally, thanks to Kevin Roberts' three-run home run.

Scott Murray and Diller also had a single and RBI.

Murray started for the Red Devils but he gave up six runs in two innings. Grover pitched the final four innings, allowing three runs on three hits, while walking one and striking out one.

"Murray had a hard time finding the strike zone, walking six in two innings," Harger said. "Grover pitched well in relief."

On Thursday, the Red Devils hosted a double-header with Harbor

Springs, with Harbor taking the first game, and East Jordan taking the win for game two.

Tim Murphy was on the mound for EJ in game one, striking out five and giving up seven hits and three runs. Top hitters for East Jordan were Grover with a home run, Reese with a double, and Tison with a single.

"We just couldn't get our bats going," Harger said, with the Red Devils losing 4-2.

Game two found Bill Tison in his pitching debut, giving up two hits and striking out two.

Top hitters were Reese, with a single and a two-run homer, Curt Derenzy with two singles, Tison with a double and a single, and Kevin Roberts and Jeff Fish with a single apiece. Final score was East Jordan, 9-2.

"We had no other available pitcher, and Tison did a great job," Harger said. "We hit the ball much better this game."

Monday night, the team traveled to Traverse City to face TC St. Francis, wrapping up a double-header, 5-2 and 6-4.

Jon Reese took the mound in game one, striking out 13 and giving up two hits and eight runs.

Leading East Jordan at bat were Derenzy, Grover, Reese, Murray, Roberts, Diller, and Tison, each with a single.

In game two, Diller started for three innings, giving up one hit, walking two, and striking out four while allowing one run.

Grover pitched the final three innings, allowing three runs on three hits and striking out five.

East Jordan will next travel to Boyne City on Thursday.

The team is 5-11 overall for the season, and 3-7 in the conference.

Tough week for Red Devils softball

The Red Devils varsity softball team couldn't get a break last week, losing double-headers against Harbor Springs and Elk Rapids.

On Thursday, East Jordan had Amanda Brodin on the mound, striking out nine and allowing three runs.

Amy Schroeder led at bat with four singles, followed by Erica Carey with two singles, and Stefanie Skop and Jackie Haley with a single each.

In game two, Brodin struck out six and gave up seven hits.

Top hitters were Rachael Bennett with three singles, Schroeder with a double and a single, and Skop with a single.

Calling game one a "well played game," East Jordan coach Meg Kitson noted that "we just need more timely hits. We had runners on but could not push anyone across the plate."

Earlier in the week, East Jordan played Elk Rapids, suffering two shut-out losses, 5-0 and 10-0.

Brodin pitched both games, striking out five and giving up three hits in game one, and striking out four and giving up 10 hits in game two.

Schroeder led at bat in game one with a single, and also contributed a single in game two. Other hitters in game two were Skop, Brodin, Carey, and Kandra Carson with a single each.

The team will face Central Lake at home Wednesday night.

Free physicals set for East Jordan athletes

East Jordan Public Schools recently announced the schedule for 2002-03 athletic physicals. Free athletic physicals will be held on Tuesday, June 4, at East Jordan High School, according to the following schedule:

If you last name begins with: A-H, 6:30-7 p.m.; I-M, 6:30-7 p.m.; N-S, 7:30-8 p.m.; T-Z, 7:30-8 p.m.

These will be the only times physicals will be given free of charge. Any student wishing to participate in any athletic programs at East Jordan Middle School or High School during the next school year is required to have a physical prior to participation.

Physical sheets can be picked up in the middle or high school offices, and should be filled out and signed prior to reporting to the physical.

EJ varsity soccer keeping busy schedule

On Monday, the East Jordan girls varsity soccer team hosted Fife Lake Forest Area, pulling off the 2-0.

Junior Josephine Cook scored EJ's first goal, with Marie Banck taking the second goal halfway through the second half of the game, intercepting a pass from her midfield position.

Last week, the team lost a game to Benzie Central after a scoreless first half. Benzie broke the tie 19 minutes into the second half, then scoring two more times to defeat EJ 3-0.

Red Devil goal keeper Cayla Tinney made 16 saves for the game. "One save in particular was spectacular," said coach Pete Elliott. "(with Cayla) diving to just deflect a low corner shot just outside the goal post."

Forward Renee Nowka led the team in shot-taking, and midfielders Ruth Elliott, Banck, Amanda Kline, and Amanda Haney were noted for good play.

On Wednesday, East Jordan lost to Suttons Bay, 6-2. Nowka scored both of the Red Devil goals, with goalkeeper Tinney taking the assist on the first goal. Tinney also made 19 saves in the game. Fullbacks Carolyn Elliott and Stefanie Hammer and midfielder Janelle Doebel were cited for strong play in the game. "It was a fun game to watch as the East Jordan ladies really stepped up their game," coach Elliott said.

"It would be easy to praise many of the ladies for their outstanding and hard play."

Earlier in the week, East Jordan hosted Traverse City Christian, losing 8-3. Co-captain Nowka led offensive play with two goals and seven shots. Kline scored the third goal. Goalkeeper Tinney tallied 16 saves for the game.

The team was scheduled to travel to Elk Rapids on Tuesday.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Horton Bay General Store getting new life

The Horton Bay General Store has long been the focal point of the small, close-knit community, and new owners Chip and Claudia Lorenger plan to see that role continue well into the future. The couple, who has owned JD's Deli in Boyne City for 15 years, purchased the store last fall and will re-open the establishment for business Memorial Day weekend.

Their vision is one of the past, with a total interior makeover and employees donning 1800s garb. "Our main interest is to restore the history of Horton Bay," said Chip. "To bring back the memory of the Horton Bay community as it was."

The walls of the store are covered with historic photos of the village, and near the rear of the store is a "shrine" of sorts to Ernest Hemingway, who summured as a boy in Horton Bay. Decked out in antiques, the shop's walls are also adorned with a couple of old metal signs discovered in the renovation process, one advertising

"McCool's Ice Cream" from the Northern Creamery Company, the other declaring "Eat Chicken Dinner Candy, 5¢." The signs were being used to level floorboards; Claudia has returned them to a more dignified life, and would love to hear from anyone who might know a little background on the items advertised.

Shelves will be stocked with various grocery goods as well as giftware and household necessities, in an attempt to get as "close in 2002 to an 1800s general store as possible," Claudia said. The store will stress "Made in Michigan" products, featuring things like quilts and soaps made locally, and bottled milk from Kalkaska. A deli counter will feature a variety of meats and cheeses for all occasions, and a bakery counter will be filled with baked goods made on the premises.

In the back of the store, a coffee and tea house has been arranged, which will in the near future serve high tea. Future plans include the addition of an old-fashioned soda counter, serving authentic soda fountain treats, as well as a Victorian Christmas theme, complete with sleigh rides.

"Everything," however, said Claudia with a laugh, "is subject to change without notice."

As renovations continue, a "painting party" will be held this summer, with food and refreshments provided to those willing to grab a brush and lend a hand.

Opening its doors over the Memorial Day holiday, the store will be open from 6 a.m.-8 p.m., seven days a week through the summer, with abbreviated winter hours. For more information, call the store at 582-7827.

'The Centre' now offering mental health services in Boyne City

Like many other area residents, recently transplanted Bernadette Beyer had not initially set out to move permanently to northern Michigan. Having been a regular visitor to the area, however, Beyer and her husband built a home here two years ago; soon, the encouragement of friends and area residents got Beyer, a psychotherapist, thinking about making a permanent move.

Last week, Beyer opened The Centre, where she will provide a range of mental health services. A licensed marriage and family therapist, registered play therapist, clinical supervisor, and teacher/consultant, Beyer has been in clinical practice since 1978 after receiving her Master's in Marriage and Family Therapy from the University of St. Paul. Prior to her move to northern Michigan, she was a senior clinician and supervisor at Eastwood Clinics, the largest Mental Health and Substance Abuse Clinic in Southeastern Michigan. Previously, Beyer was an elementary school teacher and administrator, and has previously combined her teaching and therapy skills to teach on the university level as well as provide workshops for community organizations.

While Beyer is experienced in many areas of mental health care, including individual psychotherapy, marriage and family therapy, and group therapy she has a special interest in play therapy, having worked with children as young as two and a half years of age. Play therapy, according to Beyer, is intended to provide children and adolescents a means to resolve issues, ranging from anxiety, grief, and behavioral issues to Attention Deficit Disorder and abuse/addiction situations.

"What toys do is provide an indirect, less threatening way to talk about problems," Beyer said of the therapy method. She is one of the founding members of the Michigan Association for Play Therapy (MIAPT) and served on that organization's executive board for several years. Beyer was the recipient of the first Outstanding Achievement Award of the MIAPT.

The goal of The Centre, Beyer said, is to be a place where the clients feel that the focus is on them. "A hope, she said, is to make her office "a place to help them listen to their heart, and identify within each person the resources to grow and develop. My role is to help them do that."

Beyer is an approved provider for some area insurance carriers, and also offers a sliding fee scale for her clients.

The Centre is located in Suite 3 of the Water Street Mall, 5 W. Main St., Boyne City. For more information, call Beyer at 582-0670.

Grandvue project on schedule

Since celebrating the groundbreaking for Grandvue Medical Care Facility's current construction project, the facility has undergone some very visible changes.

"We're under siege," joked activities director Cheryl Sothard at a recent meeting of the Grandvue Auxiliary.

Grandvue Administrator Penny Drury, who gave the auxiliary an update of the construction project at the same meeting, agreed with the assessment that the current state of the facility's grounds are less than pleasing.

"There have been big changes already," Drury said. "It's not the prettiest."

Perhaps it's not pretty, but it certainly is progress. Upon completion the project will mean more privacy for residents, more hospice and respite suites, and more outpatient services.

While most of the project is moving forward as planned, one major change is the addition of 20 more beds in the Alzheimer's Unit. Initially, there was no plan to create any additional beds anywhere in the facility in the current project, with the goal being simply to create more space, converting four-bed rooms into two-bed units, and double bed rooms into private rooms.

When the Grandvue board became aware that the state might permit them to have an additional 20 beds (the number of beds available at the facility is dictated by state regulations), it was an opportunity the facility couldn't pass up.

Being in the early stages of an expansion project anyway, the addition comes at no additional cost to taxpayers, being absorbed into the total cost of the project."We're really excited about that," Drury said.

"We're thrilled to be able to add more beds in this project."

Diabetes calls for yearly eye examinations

By STEVEN HUFFORD, OPTOMETRIST

Dear Dr. Hufford,
Upon my last physical examination, my doctor told me I had diabetes. One of the things he suggested I do is have a yearly eye examination. Why is this necessary?

Larry D.
East Jordan

Diabetic eye disease is the most common cause of blindness in people between the ages of 25 and 65 years old. It is caused by the disease weakening the small blood vessels of the nerve layer on the back of the eye (the retina). With this condition it is common for retinal blood vessels to leak fluid or blood, causing the visual images that the retina sends to the brain to be distorted or blurred. Diabetic retinopathy occurs in three phases and the rate that it advances is directly affected by the amount of sugar in the blood.

Phase 1: Pre-diabetic retinopathy.

Here the retina is healthy and just needs to be watched yearly.

Phase 2: Background retinopathy.

Some leaking of fluid and blood causing the retina to swell and thicken. It is usually mild and may not cause blurred eyesight.

Phase 3: Proliferative retinopathy.

The retinal blood vessels become more severely damaged and eventually clog so that blood stops flowing to the retina. To make up for this, the retina sprouts new blood vessels. These new vessels are very fragile and bleed easily. Blood inside the eye becomes so severe it causes loss of vision and scarring of the retina.

The good news is that with the advancements of the medical laser, diabetic retinopathy can be treated if caught in time. It is very important that the treatment occur at just the right time, so if you are diabetic you need a dilated eye exam every year.

Questions or comments for Dr. Hufford can be sent to Hufford Vision and Eye Care, 225 State St., Boyne City MI 49712.
