EJ 'Haunted House' is a Freedom Fest fund-raiser

With Halloween just around the corner, the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival Committee is getting ready to treat folks to an evening of chills and thrills with "Screams From the Dark," a 'haunted' event to be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25 and 26, at the East Jordan Civic Center downtown.

Billed as a 'haunted maze of terror,' the event will be held each evening from 7-10 p.m., with younger children encouraged to visit from 7-8 p.m. After 8 p.m., according to organizers, all the ghouls will be out.

The cost is $2 per person. All proceeds will benefit the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival.

Candy for the event has been donated by Arlie's IGA and Glen's Market.

For more information, call the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce at 536-7351.

Autumn anglers

Fall is salmon time, and that fact draws crowds of hopeful fishermen to rivers all around northern Michigan. Here, anglers line a local bridge and streambank in the hopes of reeling in a big one which at least one lucky young man, left, did with aplomb.

Former Allen Park administrator is interim city manager for Boyne City

Four weeks after the Boyne City City Commission voted to terminate the contract of city manager Eric Strahl, the commission voted to hire an interim city manager to take over duties until the position can be filled permanently.

Scheduled to begin work on Wednesday, Oct. 16, Richard Huebler was approved by a 5-0 vote of the commission at its last regular meeting. Huebler was present at the meeting, presented as the "favorite candidate" by mayor Eleanor Stackus, who stated that they'd selected Huebler for consideration out of several names of potential interims provided by the Michigan Municipal League. Huebler spent 20 years as the city administrator of the City of Allen Park, where he was responsible for 177 full-time employees and worked with a budget of $17 million. Most recently, Huebler served as the Interim Managing Director of the Monroe County Road Commission, where he was responsible for 108 full-time employees and a budget of $30 million.

Huebler's resume lists extensive experience in coordinating grants, personnel management, emergency management, union negotiations, charter revision, and master plan studies.

He is a life member of the Michigan City Management Association, and has served as the vice chair of the Michigan Municipal Foundation and on the board of trustees of the Michigan Municipal League.

Huebler assumes the interim city manager's position as an independent contractor, as opposed to an employee, and will be paid the rate of $50 per hour plus out-of-pocket expenses. As an independent contractor, Huebler will not be eligible for benefits.

The advantage to the city of paying an hourly wage, Huebler said, is that "I'm in my office when I'm getting paid."

According to city commissioner Chuck Vondra, the wage is comparable to what the permanent position normally pays. "This is within dollars [including benefits] of what we pay a city manager," he said.

Seeing the opportunity to work in Boyne City as a "challenge" and an "opportunity," Huebler predicted that during his stint as an interim city manager, "we may open some windows.

Downsizing may be only option for Freedom Fest

It could be a turning point for the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival, and whether it's for the better or worse depends completely on the community of East Jordan.

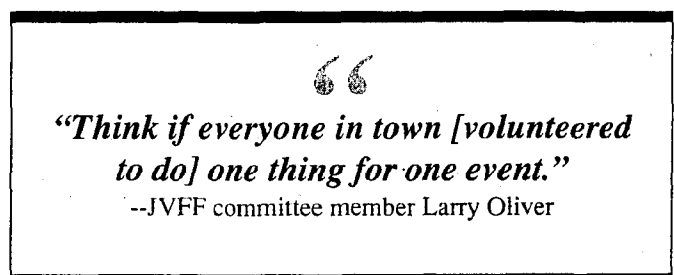

Earlier this month, the Freedom Festival committee announced its decision to cancel the fund-raising Harvest Moon Dinner, scheduled for Oct. 5, due to sluggish ticket sales. Earlier this year, lacking an organizer, the committee had to cancel the annual Freedom Festival Car Show. "I myself know nothing about cars," past president Anne Crick said with a laugh, stressing that anyone who would take on organizing the event would need to be someone "that knows car shows."

"We didn't want to do it badly," she said of the last-minute decision to scrap the event for the year.

According to Crick, the cancellations are indicative of what's become a crisis situation for the festival, in terms of manpower and financial support. Though lagging contributions can be attributed to wide-ranging economic issues, the downward trend in volunteer support is harder to nail down.

"Something's not quite right with the Freedom Festival," said chamber board member and Freedom Festival volunteer Larry Oliver. "There's not a lack of volunteers [in the community]," Oliver notes that while the community has been historically and continues to be volunteer-minded, the Freedom Festival is at a point where some fine-tuning is necessary to bring volunteers on board. The key will be isolating the problem so that the appropriate adjustments can be made.

Though he's acted as a volunteer co-ordinator in the past for the event, the committee is currently seeking someone to take over that role, and is also in need of a couple more board members, including a secretary.

Equally crucial is the need to bring some sub-committee chairpersons on board, or be forced to cancel events. At this time, those events include such long-time favorites as the Youth Parade, Car Show, Craft Show, and traditional Sunday activities.

"It is serious," Oliver said. "We definitely have come to [cancelling events]."

After two years as president, Crick has decided to stay with the committee as a board member while long-time volunteer Gina Oliver will take over duties as president.

No autopsy results yet on Chandler Twp body

After a search for a missing person last week ended with the discovery of a body in Chandler Township, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office is continuing its investigation into the unexplained death.

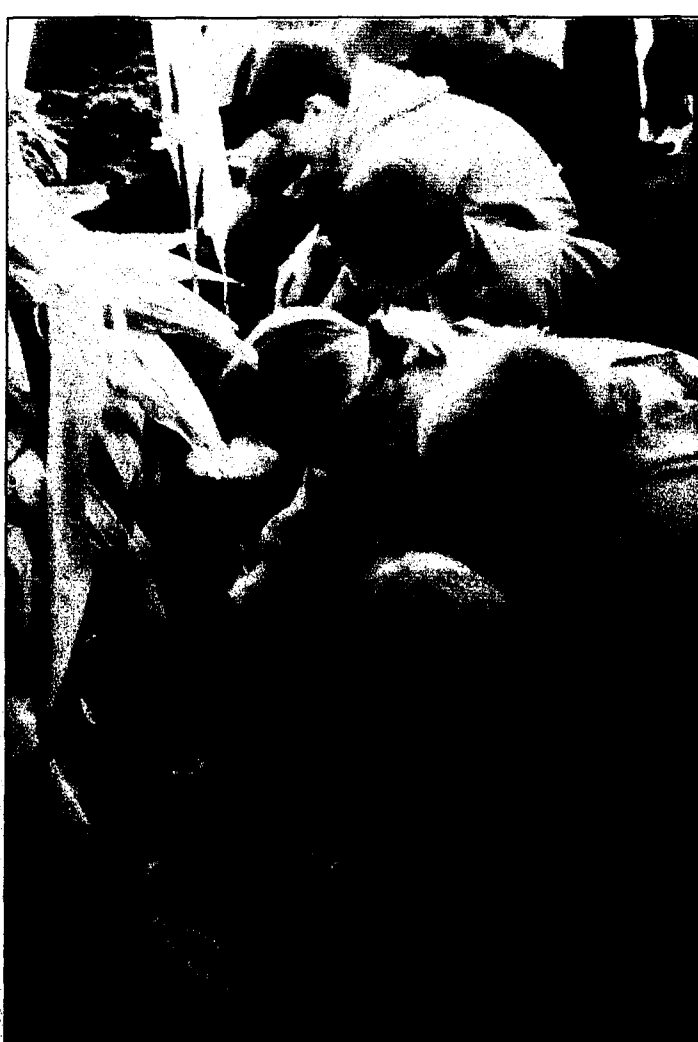

According to Sheriff George T. Lasater, the Sheriff's Department was contacted on Monday, Oct. 7, regarding a 37-year-old downstate woman who was missing from her campsite in Chandler Township, where she had been camping with a companion.

After requesting assistance from the Michigan State Police K-9 Unit and a U.S. Coast Guard Helicopter, an extensive search was conducted, concluding on Tuesday, Oct. 8, with the discovery of the body of the missing person by Melrose Township fire chief Dennis Howard.

The body has been identified as that of Teri Lynn Delarosa of Wayne County.

Subsequent to the discovery, Delarosa's companion, identified as Kurt A. Krueger, 32, of Taylor, Mich., was taken into custody and held in the Charlevoix County Jail on a fugitive

Fall planting

A community effort

Construction on Boyne City Habitat for Humanity home moving forward thanks to donations and volunteers

After breaking ground in the spring, construction on the Habitat for Humanity home on State Street in Boyne City is progressing, weathering all the expected, and unexpected, bumps in the road such a project is apt to encounter.

"We did run into a snag as far as hitting water," said Northwest Michigan Habitat for Humanity director Mary Margaret Hornbaker last week. "It was really kind of a fluke [as the house] sits up so high. That held us up a little bit, and sent us back to the drawing board on how to do the basement."

The problem, however, was a temporary one, and work continued, with the house making great strides over the summer, thanks to generous donations of time, materials, and funding. "There's been an outpouring of volunteers and donated labor," Hornbaker said, though she admits that in the summer, "it's a little bit harder to get a lot of volunteers" during that particular season: "people are busy in the summertime."

Still, Hornbaker and company have not been disappointed. Local contractor Byron Noiroit and his employees recently donated more than $1,100 worth of roofing labor, and Ballard's employees have been giving their time to install the heating system. And these are just two examples of professionals taking the time to pitch into the project, according to Hornbaker.

Non-professionals have been just as likely to jump on board, including students at Concord Academy Boyne, who just two weeks ago spent a Saturday putting siding on the three-bedroom home. "It was so wonderful seeing all of these students, parents, and teachers participating," Hornbaker said. "Even before lunch was served, they started singing. They got rained on, and then it cleared, and then they got rained on."

In addition to siding, the students pitched in to clear out "years and years of dirt" and brush obscuring a stone wall and stairway leading up to the house. "The group was really working hard on all of that."

Once completed, the house will become home to the VanAtta family. Mom Sherry applied to take part in the Habitat program more than a year ago, and was notified in the spring of this year that she and her four children were selected for the Boyne City house. Not a giveaway program, VanAtta is required to put in 50 hours of "sweat equity" prior to the start of construction, and an additional 200 hours during the construction phase of the project. While all labor and materials for the house are donated, the home is not free, over and above the 250 sweat equity hours. VanAtta will be required to pay on an approximately $60,000 mortgage over 20 years, interest free.

Though the original time line for the home optimistically pegged move-in time to be fall, Hornbaker said that now "we are so hoping and praying to get Sherry Van Atta and her kids in their home by Christmas."

And though the community's been generous thus far, more hands, and funding, are needed to see the project to completion. In addition to labor and assistance in covering construction costs, Hornbaker said, "we are always, always looking for folks to provide lunches for our work crews. Or they might be able to stop by with a jug of cider and donuts." Every little bit, she said, helps the project move forward.

For those interested in getting involved in Habitat on a larger scale, Hornbaker also noted that there are vacancies on various committees of the Northwest Michigan Habitat for Humanity. The organization is also moving forward on new home in Petoskey, and has "the very ambitious goal" of building two homes in Harbor Springs next year. For more information, call Hornbaker at 348-6926.

persons though, there's a whole range of duties that volunteers are needed to help with, and something to suit everyone interested in giving even just a little bit of time. "To be a volunteer, you do not have to attend monthly meetings," Gina said. Things as simple as hanging fliers, stuffing envelopes, or making phone calls amount to a big help for the board and chairpersons. "Helping to decorate or cleaning up [from an event], even once a year," Larry said, will make a difference. "Think if everyone in town did one thing for one event."

Also, he added, "volunteering to help with the Freedom Festival doesn't mean you have to help during the Freedom Festival. The Freedom Festival [Committee] does function 12 months a year."

Getting families on board may be key, a notion that both the Olivers and Crick are ready to pursue, both in terms of planning fund-raising events and garnering volunteers. "For the kids, the parents seem to want to spend their money," Gina said, citing the enthusiasm organizers have seen in the planning of the upcoming haunted house fund-raising event, scheduled for Oct. 25 and 26 at the Civic Center. "This is a kid-oriented town," Larry said.

Another under-tapped area is that of having businesses and organizations take on sponsorship, volunteer-wise, of events. "We're not looking for the financial backing, but for someone to chair and run [the events]," Crick said, adding that the board will be available as a resource to any volunteer or group of volunteers taking on a new task. "The board is here to help," she said.

The bottom line is that if volunteers don't step up to the plate, whether it be offering an hour a year or to take a place on the board, the Freedom Festival may never be the same. "We need people to put on [events] and people to attend," Larry said. "I hope [people] realize that we've cancelled two events and we're not afraid to cancel more [if necessary]."

For more information or to volunteer, call Gina Oliver at 536-9886.

BCHS alumnus to christen new performing arts center

It's only appropriate that the event selected to open the new Boyne City High School Performing Arts Center would be one with a special hometown connection.

On Saturday, Nov. 23, New York tenor Matthew Chellis, a Boyne City High School alumnus, will return to his hometown to give a performance of operatic arias, lieder, and selections from musical theatre.

The son of Vard and Arlene Chellis, Matthew went on to the University of Michigan after graduating from BCHS, earning degrees in both business and music. He continued his studies at Manhattan School of Music, where he earned a master's degree, and then furthered his studies at Julliard School of Music.

Currently performing internationally, Chellis is under contract with the New York City Center Opera, and teaches at New York University.

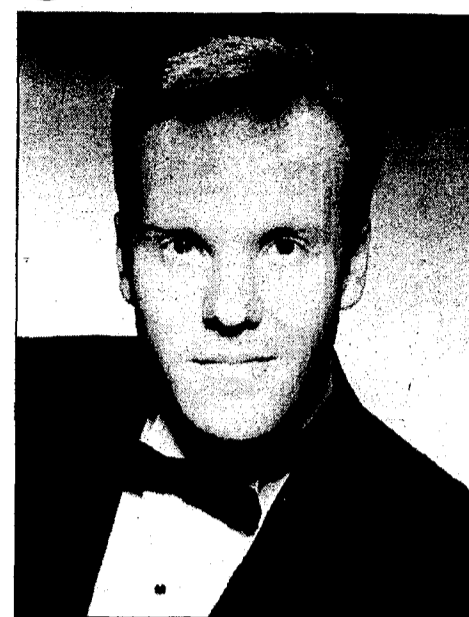

He has performed at world-class venues, including Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center in New York City. He has, among his credits, played the role of "Che" in Andrew Lloyd Weber's musical Evita.

Tickets for the Boyne City High School performance are available through the Crooked Tree Arts Center, and are $20 for adults and $8 for children. All proceeds will benefit the Boyne City High School Drama Program and the Performing Arts Center.

IN ADDITION to the public performance, Chellis will also present two public Master Classes, to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 19, from 4-6:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Petoskey, and on Wednesday, Nov. 20, from 6:30-9 p.m. at the First Congregational Church in Charlevoix.

Area studio voice teachers are invited to register one student and may elect to list an alternate.

A total of 14 students, aged middle school to adult, will be selected to perform an operatic aria, lieder, or a work from musical theatre literature. The selection must be no longer than three and a half minutes in length, memorized, and performed with a live accompanist provided by the student or his/her teacher. Due to the nature of the class, taped accompaniment is not acceptable.

To register a student, contact Fran Tollas at 347-8829 by Oct. 15.

There is no audition required; students will be admitted by teacher recommendation.

Area choirs and voice students are invited to attend the master classes; there will be no charge for audience members.

For more information, call the Crooked Tree Arts Center at 347-4337.

Sheriff Lasater making county resident proud

TO THE EDITOR:

As an older member of the community, observing some of the behavior that goes on around me, it is sometimes easy to bemoan the loss of civility, respect, honor, duty and genuine gratefulness for the blessings bestowed upon us simply because we are Americans. The history of our country and the wisdom of the founding fathers in establishing our form of government and our free economy are no longer taught in our public schools nor much celebrated in our civic and private institutions. As a people, we seem to have become self-centered, obsessed with our own safety, our own importance and our own bit of politically inspired advantage or hand-out. And to hell with everyone else! Indeed, one of our major political parties has descended from President John F. Kennedy's ringing inaugural address, "Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country," through Lyndon Johnson's free spending, vote buying Great Society to the sink-hole of Bill Clinton's total disregard for the truth, the rule of law and the dignity of the Presidential Office. Meanwhile, we have today's spectacle of sniveling, partisan politicians visiting with terrorists, fear mongering, posing as statesmen while obstructing, slandering and otherwise impeding the will of the people.

Boy, do I tend to get wound-up; and all I was trying to do was lead up to George Lasater's recent great, but not unexpected, display of how a sheriff should handle his job.

Duty, Honor, Courage... those are the traits we look-up to, admire and hope we get in our public servants. These are the very qualities the citizens of Charlevoix County have in their sheriff. They were there in the recent event that cost Sheriff Lasater a broken jaw and a few teeth. They have been evident many times in the past. Thank you George, we're proud of you and we're glad you're our Sheriff!

WRC thanks men who promote equality in relationships

TO THE EDITOR:

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month, and the Women's Resource Center of Northern Michigan would like to take this time to issue a thank you to the men in our community who believe that equality in a relationship is a source of pride, not embarrassment. To the men who lead by example and teach their children that degrading and/or abusing young girls and women is never acceptable; to the men who speak out against sexism in the media; to the men who are willing to confront family members and friends who are controlling of their partners; to the men who understand that domestic violence is a serious problem and that it affects the entire community, we say a hearty and warm thank you! We appreciate your continued efforts to end domestic violence once and for all.

City worker seeks answer from commission

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing this letter to put forth our reasoning behind the disposal of wood from city property and right-of-way.

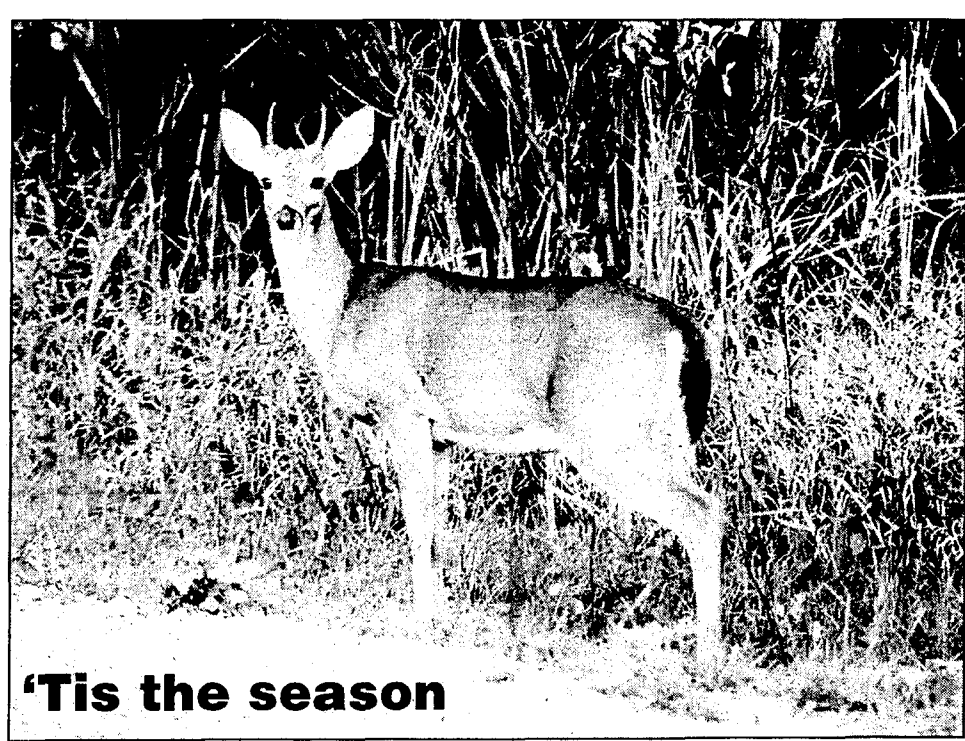

It has been past and present policy of this department to dispose of wood material under Sec. 6.1e of the City Purchase Procedure Manual. It has, in the past, been that wood would be scrapped because of the time that would be involved in the process needed for storing and handling wood, that in the past, the wood was just hauled to North Boyne yard and burned in our winter burn pile. Because we believed that the wood from Old City Park was to be chipped, we asked that it be given to Myron Spaay, who in the past has helped the city in cleanup and disposal of trees in a quick and efficient manner.

We believe that the past and present practice is the most cost efficient and time efficient manner, and has always been done in the best interest of the city.

We would hope that the commission, with reading this letter and looking at the policy would see this to be true, and in like would say that no crime was committed in the disposal of wood past and present.

Thank you.

'Tis the season

With local deer herds on the move as winter nears, area motorists need to take extra care and be on the look-out for white-tails like this little buck spotted on a local roadside. Autumn is the peak season for car-deer accidents to occur.

MANY THANKS

Hard-working farmers make Boyne City market a wonderful summer tradition

We wanted to take a few minutes to thank all the hard-working farmers that participated in this year's Farmer's Market in Boyne City.

Once again the produce was top notch (are you listening Glen's and Carters?) and very plentiful. The spirit of these fine people, their smiles and their selection really define the hometown appeal. We hope that this tradition will continue for many years to come - it's what makes living in this area so worthwhile.

All of your hard work and preparation are truly appreciated.

Thank you.

Cindi and Frank Malin

NMHSA extends thanks to volunteers for their hard work and dedication

On behalf of Northwest Michigan Human Services Agency, I'd like to extend our sincere thanks to Darlene's Restaurant in East Jordan for hosting our annual volunteer luncheon.

As always, the food, accommodations, and service were excellent; it's always a pleasant dining experience at Darlene's.

Most importantly, I want to thank our volunteers for their dedication to helping us with food distributions. Without their help, our programs would not be the success that they are.

We are honored to work with such fine people, who, year after year, share so much of their time and effort in helping people in our communities.

BCBS class of 1962 enjoys 40-year reunion

By GREGG SMITH

As class reunions go this one came sooner than anyone expected. That was the consensus of members of the Boyne High School Class of 1962, as they gathered on a recent Saturday evening at the Hotel Dilworth for a night of reminiscing and reflection.

Guests of honor were junior high English educator Florine Davis and longtime Boyne City "super fan" Gen Varnum.

Mrs. Davis is still recognized as the doyenne of grammatical sentence structure for her infamous blackboard diagramming sessions, an experience whereby countless Boyne junior high English students learned the difference between subject, verb and predicate. Reminded of those unforgettable exercises at the reunion, she responded with equally accurate recollections of specific class deeds and misdeeds. In some cases, she'd even saved the papers of the perpetrators. "Clearly her wit and recall was as sharp as ever," observed several class members of the popular school mentor.

Mrs. Varnum, known throughout the North for her tenacious and voluble advocacy of Boyne athletic teams, was presented a framed 1961 block B "state champs" letter, denoting the year the Rambler football team won the state Class C championship. She thanked the class for the presentation, and assured them she's still roaming the sidelines and keeping officials in check.

The reunion, attended by 33 of the class' 67 members, was coordinated by Don Owen of Boyne City, and Kathy (Yahr) Dagley of Lapeer, Mich. Owen, a 35-year veteran of Control Engineering in Boyne, along with Joel Hott, a Lansing attorney, emceed the event with a witty repartee of one-liners that covered hair loss, bulging waist lines, sensory and other body function impairment. Of course there were the inevitable references to "remember when . . . ?"

Classmate Connie Cilva won the award for traveling the farthest distance. She traveled from the Albany, N.Y. area, where she's employed with the state as an economic analyst. Pam (Hegerberg) Schmidt, accompanied by her husband Dick, was a close second. The Schmidts reside in Chesterfield, Mo. The Rev. Larry Thompson and his wife, Judy, were also in the running. They had worked at a Bible camp in Alaska over the summer, but now are residing in Mayville, Mich.

Deceased classmates were acknowledged and include Elizabeth Renkiewicz, Tony Boris, Bob Snyder, Dick Leckrone, Marion Carmichael, Pauline (Holowasko) Wendt, Gladys (Ecker) Johncheck, and Larry Nesson.

Discussion of a future possible three-class reunion (BCBS classes of '60, '61 and '62) surfaced throughout the evening; graduates of those classes are urged to contact Don Owen if they're interested in staging such a gathering.

Concluding an evening of anecdotes and fond reflections, classmates agreed to hopefully meet sooner than ten years, and thanked Don and Kathy for their efforts in putting together a first class reunion.

open some doors, and see what's out there, [and] there may be some new thinking in the process."

As for the city's rocky recent past, with public outcries over the demotion of a city employee by the former city manager as well as the handling of other personnel issues, Huebler stresses the need to move forward, rather than looking behind.

"History should be a lesson we have learned, and now we're going forward," he said. His management philosophy includes, he said, the idea that "managers should be teachers. We should always be teaching our employees and helping our employees to be better employees, with the appropriate goals, missions, [and] accountability."

"A manager can't do everything, can't micro-manage. With proper leadership, [employees will] be motivated."

"I'm very satisfied with our candidate," said commissioner Ron Grunch prior to the vote approving Huebler's hiring.

Last month, the city commission retained the services of the Michigan Municipal League to assist in the search for a permanent city manager. According to Stackus, some advertisements have been posted, and "resumes are coming back." The city anticipates that the process will take approximately three to six months, and is anticipating the first interviews to begin as early as Nov. 15.

EJHS senior honored for 'breaking traditions'

East Jordan senior Lacey Taylor recently traveled to Lansing as a 2002 recipient of a "Breaking Traditions" award, intended to recognize students who have been successful in a career and technical education program area non-traditional for their gender.

With four years of woodworking technology study at East Jordan High School under her belt, Taylor certainly qualifies for the honor.

Nominated by her woodshop teacher

Mike Gee, Taylor has received top finishes for projects in MITES (Michigan Industrial and Technology Education Society) craftsmanship fairs, and has been recognized as a top CTE student for the past several years.

Gee's nomination pegs Taylor as a student who is willing to share her knowledge with others, and has motivated other students to select the courses.

An honor student, Taylor is the salutatorian of the class of 2003, and is involved in athletics as well as community projects.

Instructor Mike Gee was on hand as Lacey Taylor accepted her award in Lansing recently. Taylor was selected for excellence in woodworking, a program "non-traditional to her gender."

BOYNE CITY HOSTS CHARLEVOIX AFTER THUMPING HARBOR SPRINGS

On their way to the playoffs

They're in, and with room to spare. With their dominating 48-7 win over Harbor Springs last Saturday, the Boyne City Ramblers officially earned a ticket to the Michigan High School football playoffs.

With their six victories, the Ramblers earned a spot in the post season party for the second year in a row.

But their work is far from over for the regular season.

Between now and the opening round of the playoffs, Boyne City fans will be in for quite a treat. This Friday Charlevoix comes to town and then on Oct. 25, St. Francis pays a visit which most likely will be a battle for the Lake Michigan Conference championship.

While Charlevoix is struggling this season, this is one of those games when David can slay Goliath.

Charlevoix comes into the game with a 2-5 record after defeating Elk Rapids last Friday 42-0.

"The kids will need very little motivation," said Boyne City head coach David Hills, who in his third year as head coach is 1-1 against Charlevoix.

"I think this is truly one of those games you can throw out the records. This is going to be a very competitive game. It is just one of those games that what has happened in the past doesn't matter."

The Ramblers' last two victories have been less than challenging, with the starting offense playing only three of the last eight quarters. "There are two schools of thought," Hills said. "We are either well rested or out of sync.

"But I am pleased with how we started the game (against Harbor Springs.) It was a lot like Elk Rapids. We came out and executed pretty well.

"Hopefully Charlevoix is a tough game where our kids have to battle and we are fortunate to come out on top."

There were a couple of similarities between the Ramblers' game at Elk Rapids and Saturday's contest against Harbor Springs. First, both schools were celebrating their homecoming. Second, it didn't take the Ramblers long to score. Against Elk Rapids, it was the first play from scrimmage. At Harbor Springs, it came on their sixth play. But in both games it was senior running back Ben Hausler.

Against Harbor Springs he opened the Ramblers' scoring barrage with a 56-yard touchdown run.

Chris Grice kicked the extra point to give Boyne a 7-0 lead.

On its second possession, the Ramblers found the end zone again. This time Hausler scored on an 11-yard run. Grice's extra point was good. On its next possession Boyne scored its third touchdown when Grice took a screen pass from quarterback Beau Detcher and ran 55 yards to the endzone. Grice's extra point was no good. That was all the scoring in the first quarter.

In the second period, Grice scored on a 49-yard run and Nate Burks caught Detcher's pass for the two-point conversion; Detcher scored on a four run; and Grice scored his third touchdown of the game, a 36-yard scoring run. At the half, Boyne led 42-0.

The Ramblers' final score came in the third quarter when Nick Sulak scored on a 14-yard run.

For the game, Grice carried the ball 14 times for 138 yards and three touchdowns. Hausler had eight carries for 103 yards and two touchdowns. Sulak carried five times for 33 yards and one touchdown, while Detcher had three carries for 21 yards and one touchdown.

On defense, David Austin led the Ramblers with eight tackles and two fumble recoveries. Anthony DeNique had six tackles while Paul Simeri had five tackles and one interception. Don Peters, Brenton Rozycki and Mike Mercier each had five tackles.

"We are very pleased with our progress this season and we are very happy with where we are," Hills said.

"The kids have continued to get better." Friday's kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

"We are very pleased with our progress this season and we are very happy with where we are."

League stars go head-to-head in EJ

It was a hot time on the basketball court as the two sizzling stars of the Lake Michigan Conference, East Jordan's Courtney Hammond and Kalkaska's Maria Kasza, matched up head-to-head last Tuesday.

The scoring was plentiful all game as the two shot out the lights from end to end.

Kalkaska took a 23-14 lead after the first quarter, but East Jordan hung tough and only trailed by seven at the half, 40-33.

The second half was not as kind to East Jordan as Kasza stayed hot and helped her team boost the lead to 57-37 with eight minutes to go. Hammond tried to lead East Jordan back, but the home team could only cut the deficit to 72-59.

Hammond managed 15 of her points in the first half, then did not score in the third as foul trouble plagued her.

She finished with 25 points, while Kasza led the Blazers with 36.

Jessica Skop scored 12 points. Amy Schroeder had to watch the game on the Devil bench, due to an injured shoulder that kept her out and limited the Red Devil opportunities.

"Our girls kept their heads in the game. I'm happy," said East Jordan head coach Lisa Parrish. "The girls didn't give up."

NEXT UP for East Jordan is a home game against Traverse City St. Francis on Thursday.

For much of the first half, the East Jordan defense was able to reign in the St Francis offense. The second half, however, was a different story. At right, quarterback Tom Krause is chased out of the pocket as he looks for a receiver downfield.

It's must-win time for Red Devils

What had such a promising beginning disappeared into a sad ending for the East Jordan Red Devils.

East Jordan hosted Traverse City St. Francis last Friday knowing a win would move them ever closer to a playoff berth.

Beating St. Francis is not an easy task, and to that end, East Jordan head coach Greg Bowden pulled out a rarely-seen move that put the Glads on their heels and the Red Devils in the end zone on their first possession. Quarterback Tom Krause lined up behind center, just like you are supposed to, in the middle of the field. The rest of the team, however, was positioned way to the sideline, a formation that had the Glads dazed and confused.

A quick pass to Robert Grover behind that wall, and a few key blocks and shifty moves later, the Red Devil running back was in the end zone and the home team had a 6-0 lead to celebrate.

The lead held into the second quarter, when things started to go very wrong for the Red Devils. Bad thing one was Grover getting injured midway through the second quarter, diving for a first down. When it was over, Grover was carted off by ambulance and a huge chunk of emotion went with him.

Four plays later, St. Francis scored to take a 7-6 lead.

The second half was all St. Francis as the Red Devils were mentally side-tracked for the rest of the game, missing their leader on offense and defense.

"He (Grover) is a big weapon in our offense," Bowden said. "He's a team leader on offense and defense."

Grover, according to East Jordan Athletic Director Steve Hines, suffered what's called a "stinger." He was examined Friday at the hospital and allowed to go home. On Monday he was cleared to practice, and he is expected to be in the lineup this Friday.

In the second half, St. Francis scored on a 10-yard pass and two short runs to post the win, 27-6.

Grover led with 17 yards rushing and 57 yards receiving.

The offense bogged down in the second half.

"The playoffs start now for us," Bowden said. With two games remaining, the Red Devils need both to earn a playoff berth.

Kalkaska will host the Red Devils Oct. 18, and each team needs to win to keep their respective playoff hopes alive. Then, the Red Devils come home to parents' night on Oct. 25 and Elk Rapids.

Lady Loggers win two in conference games

BY MANDA SEWEJKIS
Student Writer

The Lady Loggers had a busy week as they conquered two conference teams.

Early in the week, the Loggers traveled to Alba for a conference game, winning 50-42. Megan Pernicano led in scoring with 14 points, and was followed by Manda Sewejkis with 12 points.

Sewejkis led in rebounds with seven. Also, Kayla Reynolds had five steals.

The Loggers took over in the first half scoring 13 points over Alba's six points. The Loggers held the lead at half with a 20-16 advantage.

The Loggers hosted Wolverine on Thursday for another conference game. Sewejkis led scoring with 15 points that helped lead the Loggers to their victory. Pernicano added 11 points to the scoreboard as well.

Sewejkis had 12 rebounds and three steals, while Kari Morey added 14 rebounds and Pernicano had four steals.

The Loggers took the game in the first quarter scoring 13 points over the Wildcat's two. The Loggers kept the lead in the second quarter scoring seven points while Wolverine only scored five. "We played a better team game," said coach Al Gasco. The half-time showed a score of 20-7 on the scoreboard in favor of the Loggers. Boyne Falls kept their lead through the third and fourth quarter. "It gave me the chance to play girls that don't always get to play a lot," said Gasco. The final score was 47-17. The Loggers now have a 5-6 record and a 4-2 league record.

There was no JV game either night because neither Alba nor Wolverine has a JV team.

Special honor

Longtime East Jordan High School football coach Al Peterson, who ended his career with the school last year after more than 25 years in the program, was honored by the school for his many years of dedicated service. In a special ceremony held during halftime of last week's game against Traverse City St. Francis, EJHS athletic director Steve Hines presented Peterson with a commemorative framed photo of Boswell Field.

Two losses for Lady Ramblers

After being overwhelmed by Harbor Springs last Tuesday, the Boyne City Ramblers had a choice to make.

Were they going to regroup and get their game back on track or would their confidence be shaken and their struggles continue?

Their answer would come two days later when St. Francis came to town.

Even though the Ramblers, after leading for nearly the entire game, lost 53-51 on a last-second shot, Boyne City head coach Mairie Tomkins was pleased with his team's performance.

"This was our best game this year," he said. "The girls played with heart and emotion. Unfortunately we were not real solid at the end of the game."

In addition to the game, the Ramblers also lost senior Amber Lehto, who suffered a knee injury. She is expected to be out at least a couple of weeks.

"We will be counting on our younger players to step up and fill Amber's shoes," Tomkins said.

Against St. Francis, Kim Foster led Boyne City with an outstanding all-around game. She had 20 points, seven rebounds, four steals and four blocks. Lyndsay Tomkins had 11 points, six rebound and three assists, while Lehto had seven points and six rebounds.

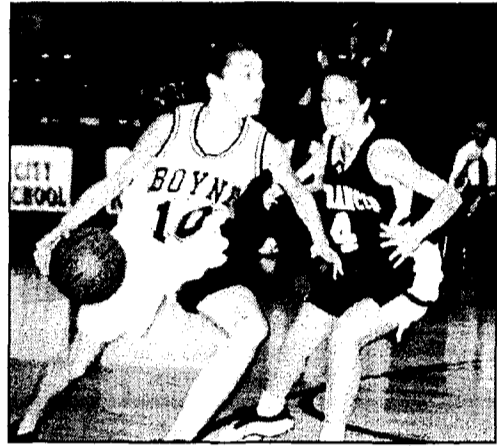

For the game, the Ramblers shot 58 percent.

Against Harbor Springs, the game was out of reach for the Ramblers after they fell behind 22-2 at the end of the first quarter. Harbor went on to a 71-33 win.

"We started flat and dug a hole early and couldn't recover," Tomkins said.

Sarah Hall scored 10 points and Foster had eight to lead Boyne City.

The Ramblers are 1-5 in conference play and 2-9 overall. They play Thursday at Elk Rapids.

Decker takes first at Fairview Invitational

Hannah Decker was the girls over-all winner at the Fairview Invitational Cross Country meet as the Rambler girls team finished second in the Class C division.

Decker ran her personal best 20:48 to lead the team for the second straight meet.

"Hannah ran an excellent race. She and Carly led the race at the start. This is the first time Hannah has won a Cross Country race" said coach Andy Place.

This was the first meet that the Boyne City girls had enough runners to compete as a full team.

Riley O'Brien and Kim Foster came out to help fill in the team and were successful in their first meet. The team ran without senior captain Brie VanDam.

The other finishers for the Ramblers were seventh Carly Stieber 22:10, 14th Riley O'Brien 24:21, 17th Kim Foster 24:44, and 25th Marion Sposito 26:33.

All five girls earned medals. Sposito, who is an exchange student from France, ran her best race by over two minutes.

On the boys side of the meet, Boyne City finished third behind Kingsley and Mio.

Randall Sutton paced the boys team with his personal best time of 17:55 to place 16th in the race. "Randall looked very relaxed running. It was a good race for him" said Place.

Sutton and Ian Smith have been alternating as the top Rambler runner throughout the season.

Smith finished 24th in a time of 18:27.

Other team members were 40th Sam McVannel 19:44, 47th Justin Weisler 20:11, 56th Rob Noeske 21:32, 58th Aaron Harbaugh 21:42, and 63rd Bill Kurtz 22:42.

"Rob took over three minutes off his previous best time. Aaron and Bill took a minute off their season bests. Overall, it was a good race for the team."

The middle school girls finished 1-2-3 for a third time this year. This time in a slightly different order as Lindsey Mansfield edged teammate Amy Anderson for first place.

It was Mansfield's first win of the season.

"I'm very pleased with their racing. The top three finished within 12 seconds of each other. Alyssa Burns has been a pleasant surprise this year," Place said.

Mansfield's time for the two mile course was 15:17, Anderson 15:20 and Burns 15:29.

Joel Mueller finished 12th with a time of 17:54.

The running Ramblers will be competing in the Lake Michigan Conference meet in Kalkaska on Tuesday, Oct. 15.

The middle school runners will be competing in Gaylord on Wednesday.

EJ soccer team loses to Harbor Springs, McBain

The East Jordan boys varsity soccer team suffered two losses last week, first to Harbor Springs and then to McBain.

On Thursday, Oct. 10, the Red Devils were defeated by McBain NMC with a final score of 5-0. East Jordan head coach Pete Elliott cited seniors Matt Weisler and Morgan Hefty for strong play.

Earlier in the week, East Jordan lost 3-0 to Harbor Springs, with freshman goalkeeper making 14 saves for the Red Devils.

"[The] midfield and fullback players played with a lot of heart, making many great plays including three saves," Elliott said. Junior Nate Brewer, Elliott added, "played his best game of the season making a difference for us in fullback."

The team's record is 3-12 overall. The Red Devils were scheduled to host a league cross-over game on Tuesday, Oct. 15.

'Make and Take' Day on tap at Raven Hill

Electricity will be the focus on Saturday, Oct. 9, when Raven Hill Discovery Center hosts the second of four "Make & Take Days" for kids ages 4-14.

While parents are enjoying the local arts and crafts fairs, their children can spend time at Raven Hill exploring the hands-on activities in the museum, visiting and learning about the animals and making a telegraph set to take home.

Participants will wire up a circuit and learn how to transmit a message using Morse code to use this at home to send secret messages to their friends.

Future "Make & Take Days" will be Nov. 9 and Dec. 7. The sessions will run from 10a a.m.-12 noon and from 12:30-2:30 pm.

Admission is $15 per child per session. Pre-registration is required.

Raven Hill is located between East Jordan and Boyne City off C-48 at Pearsall Road. To register for a class or for more information about programs at Raven Hill Discovery Center, call 536-3369.

Helping hands needed to staff Challenge Mtn resale shop

The Challenge Mountain Resale store in Boyne City is currently looking for volunteers that would like to spend as much or as little of their time as they can to helping the cause of Challenge Mountain.

The Resale store is the main support of all that the organization does to aid the mentally impaired, physically disabled, and at risk youth in the community. Without the work that the volunteers provide to the Resale store, none of the activities would be possible. All proceeds go directly to aiding those who need help.

According to Challenge Mountain Executive Director Sue Moody, "the Resale store is so very important to all we do at Challenge Mountain. We depend on the dedicated volunteers both at the Mountain and the store for all the hard work they do. It is often not recognized that the resale store volunteers are such an asset and we couldn't do what we do without them."

"We are seeking volunteers for all shifts with excellent hours, evening hours if that is preferred and Saturdays," Moody said. "If you can spare any amount of time, it would help so much. Most shifts run shorthanded at this time, so additional volunteers will be such a benefit to all those involved."

Positions needed are for cashiers, sorters, stockers, and more. A visual merchandise person is needed to do store windows on a twice monthly basis. Evening shifts are available as well as day time shifts.

A volunteer training date will be held on Saturday, Oct. 12, at the resale store located on Boyne Avenue between the BP and Riverside Tire. Scheduled from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., the training will cover all aspects of volunteer work with Challenge Mountain, different jobs, and numerous other subjects.

Call 535-2141 to register or to learn more about volunteering at Challenge Mountain.

Allergens can cause 'pink eye'

By STEVEN HUFFORD, OPTOMETRIST

As I explained in my last column, "pink eye" is a slang term that is used for the many types of conjunctivitis. Conjunctivitis is an inflammation of the conjunctiva, a clear tissue that covers the white of the eye. There are many different types of conjunctivitis, one of the most common is allergic conjunctivitis.

Allergic conjunctivitis can be caused by a variety of different allergens and they all affect the eye a little differently. Simple allergic conjunctivitis is best treated by removing the allergen producer, such as the cat or dog, washing the hands (to prevent the reintroduction of allergens to the eye) and cool compresses can help settle down the inflammation.

Seasonal conjunctivitis is another allergic conjunctivitis which I see a lot this time of year. This can be mild or severe, depending on the individual and the amount of pollen in the air that day. Along with the swelling of the conjunctiva, seasonal conjunctivitis also causes redness and watery, itchy eyes. Usually it occurs in both eyes.

Because it is more difficult to clean all the air with which we come in contact, this form of conjunctivitis is harder to manage. We treat seasonal allergic conjunctivitis by gradually increasing the strength of prescription drugs until we find the strength needed to keep it in check. This treatment is continued until the season is over or the first frost occurs.

The third common form of allergic conjunctivitis is Giant Papillary conjunctivitis or G.P.C. It is almost always a side effect of over wearing contact lenses or wearing dirty contact lenses. Its symptoms include mild itching and a mucous discharge. It can also cause decreased lens tolerance or wearing time and increased lens movement with blinking. The underside of the upper lid is swollen and bumpy, causing these symptoms. Relief is achieved by new lenses and reduced wear time. In severe cases contacts must be discontinued for a period of time.

In the next column, I will write about more types of conjunctivitis.

Questions and comments can be directed to Hufford Vision and Eye Care, 225 State St., Boyne City, MI 49712.

HEALTH TIPS FROM MEDICAP PHARMACY

POISON IVY, OAK & SUMAC

Contact with the oil (urushiol) from these plants can cause an itchy, blistering rash. It spreads easily and sticks to almost any surface, including clothing, a pet's fur or any object that has been in contact with it. The oil is active for months so wash any items that may have been exposed. Treatment includes first rinsing the exposed skin thoroughly with water. Next wash the skin with soap and water. Cleansing can help prevent further spreading. Your pharmacist can recommend over-the-counter creams for temporary relief. In severe cases, prescription medications are available.
