RAMBLERS OPEN PLAYOFFS AT HOME AGAINST CALUMET

Pursuing the big prize

Playoff football returns to Boyer City when the Ramblers host Calumet in a Division 5, Region 1 predistrict game Saturday at Brotherston Field.

The Ramblers concluded the regular season with a playoff-like game at home last Friday when they lost a heartbreaker to St. Francis 23-20. If Saturday's game is anything like the conference show-down between the Ramblers and St. Francis, it should be quite a show.

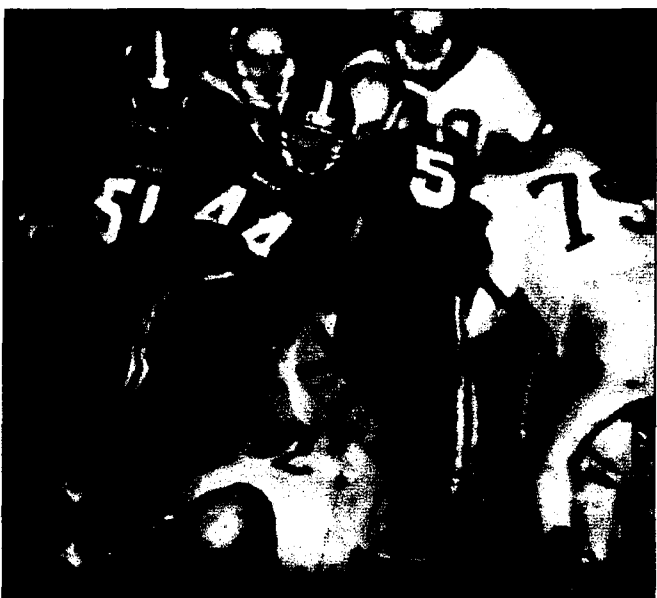

"It is disappointing to lose a game that close," said Boyer City head coach David Hills. "It's difficult to lose a game like that when we played better than they did in the second half."

But don't get the idea the Ramblers may suffer an emotional letdown.

"We are playing at a very high level and we have another game," Hills said.

That game comes Saturday at 1 p.m. when Calumet, located north of Houghton in the Keweenaw Peninsula, makes the long trip to Boyer City.

Calumet comes into the game with a 6-3 record and according to Hills has a "good-looking football team."

Chris Grice, who gained 163 yards against St. Francis last Friday night, 115 of them in the fourth quarter, will hope to pick up where he and his teammates left off when they host Calumet Saturday.

They have size — one tackle is 6' and weighs 295 pounds, the other is 6'-4" and tips the scales at 250. They also have a "pretty athletic quarterback,"

Hills said, and their running back is being scouted by Division II schools.

Tickets for the game are $5. Tickets will be on sale Thursday and Friday from noon-1 p.m. in the high school lobby. They can also be purchased at the gate on Saturday. Boyer City athletic passes are not valid during the playoffs.

The winner of Saturday's game will play the winner of the Benzie Central-Kalkaska game on Saturday, Nov. 9. If Benzie wins, they will host the game.

This is the second year in a row the Ramblers have qualified for the playoffs, and who could forget the run they had last season, making it all the way to the semi-final game in Big Rapids before they were defeated by Jackson Lumen Christi, the eventual state champion.

Longtime EJ school board member resigns

At last week's regular meeting of the East Jordan Board of Education, the board accepted, with regret, the resignation of longtime board member Dr. John Kempton.

Kempton, an East Jordan dentist, tendered his resignation after more than 11 years of service as a board trustee.

Though Kempton feels that over the years, "I gained a lot more than I gave," he stated that he'd "put aside some personal and professional priorities for quite awhile now."

Now, Kempton said, it is time to concentrate on redirecting his energy into those areas.

"It has been an honor and a privilege to serve the district in this capacity," Kempton wrote in his official letter of resignation, read at the meeting by board president Mary Jason.

Also in the letter, Kempton cited the milestones the board and district have reached over the years, including NCA and transitions accreditation, the MST program, and the EXCEL Program.

He's also proud of the community connections in place, including school-to-work programs, Kids Club, and Camp EJ.

"Two significant bond issues have passed, stimulated by population growth and program enhancements to increase educational opportunities for students," Kempton's letter notes. "It has been most gratifying to witness and be a part of this most positive journey."

As a personal highlight, Kempton cited the privilege of handing diplomas to graduates of East Jordan High School, including his own child.

"I leave with confidence that our students leave the district better prepared to be successful and I know that this board and administration is committed to continue that objective," Kempton said in his letter.

School superintendent Chip Hansen, echoing school board sentiments, is sorry to see Kempton go. "John has been an excellent school

HUGE savings

■ Favorable interest rates will benefit EJ schools

The East Jordan School District has taken the next step on its way to beginning a major construction and renovation project, with the sale of general obligation bonds associated with the school bond issue.

The sale, according to East Jordan School Superintendent Chip Hansen, attracted eight bidders, producing what he called "a competitive bidding environment that produced great results for our school district and taxpayers."

In a special meeting last week, the East Jordan Board of Education accepted the 4.1567 percent interest rate bid submitted by Robert W. Baird & Co., of Milwaukee, Wis.

The interest rate is significantly lower than the projected interest rate of 5.25 percent, which translates into a reduction of overall interest expenses associated with the bond issue to $3,312,482 and a savings of $1,073,368 to the taxpayers of the school district.

The savings, Hansen said, will be returned to taxpayers in the form of reduced debt retirement millage rates over the 15 year term of the bond.

The Board of Education has already reduced the debt retirement tax levy from the .99 additional mills, projected prior to the election, to .80 mills, reducing the overall debt levy from the pre-election projection of 4.14 mills to 3.95 mills.

"We're very pleased with the outcome of the bond sale," Hansen said. "The number of bidders indicates the level of competition in the marketplace, and that competition obviously paid big dividends for the tax-

'WALKING IN TWO WORLDS'

■ Program helps Native American students succeed

Gary Wayne Gibson, director of the Native American Education/Title VII in the East Jordan School District, isn't crazy about being referred to as "traditional."

The term, according to Gibson, calls for him a "holier than thou" image that he'd just as soon avoid. "I just try to follow the good ways of my people, and what works in my life, I pass it on," he said. "I don't believe in labeling."

Passing it on is, indeed, what the Title VII program is all about. Created in the early 1970s, the program is the product of early treaty agreements through which Native Americans surrendered land to the United States government. In return, one of the things the Native Americans requested was that the education of their children be provided.

Unfortunately, the trust laid in that request being satisfied was betrayed, for a time, as insensitive and inappropriate approaches to assimilating Native American children into a European-based lifestyle were mandated. "Some things backfired in the way the United States and even Canada tried to educate our people," Gibson said. "Boarding schools, church-run schools didn't work."

"That [type of] schooling actually set back Native American families 20 to 30 years," added Connie Marshall, who has spent nine years as coordinator of the Native American Education for the Charlevoix and Petoskey schools.

"[Students were in a] strange setting, had their hair cut, their language changed. And when they got out, they didn't have parenting skills," since they'd been separated from their parents. The methods of schooling also resulted in a high drop-out rate for Native American students.

Fortunately, through its inherent strength, Native American culture has survived, and with the establishment of the Title VII program, a venue has been created to help impart important elements of that culture to its children. According to a panel of experts participating in a forum organized by the National Education Association and the National Indian Education Association last year, the status of Native American students is challenging, but hopeful, due to the fact that schools are having "more and more opportunity to self-determine what American Indian Education should be," said Linda Sue Warner, chief executive officer of the Indian Community School of Milwaukee.

"We want to underscore the importance and value of these students, as well as their unique status and needs," said NEA president Bob Chase.

"In our desire to help all children succeed, we need to develop strategies to ensure that [Native American] students are not overlooked in our quest for quality public education."

In East Jordan, the need for the program is apparent in the number of students who participate.

"We have 10 percent of the population of East Jordan schools," Gibson said, totaling about 133 students in the three school buildings. The level of participation is significant, considering the continued reluctance for some Native Americans to admit their heriitage. "It's not too far away, the name-calling, [resulting in the] hesitation to identify yourself," Marshall said. "There's a hesitation to connect with anything [related to the] government."

In recent years, though, that attitude has begun to change, a fact that Marshall attributes in part to a return in general to tribe recognition.

The services offered by the Native American Education program have also made a difference, offering a sense of community where perhaps there had been none before. "There's a need for support, including cultural support," Gibson said.

The goal of the program is to increase the students' sense of "identity, pride, and self-worth," while enabling them to be successful in a mainstream setting. Gibson often uses himself as an example in presentations, addressing the idea of the Native American as "walking in two worlds."

Gibson sometimes presents to students wearing his tribal regalia representing his Native American world, and then changing into his casual dress clothes in which he conducts his work in the mainstream world.

Serving any student who has Native American heritage, the program also serves as a source of academic support, with a homework lab available after school three days a week for tutoring and assistance with regular schoolwork, as well as a venue for referrals to other agencies when assistance, for either the student or their family, is desired.

One week out of the month, Gibson does cultural activities with the students, either bringing in a presenter to speak on some aspect of Native culture or through cultural activities conducted by Gibson himself.

The program also organizes and conducts cultural events that include family and community members, such as the upcoming "Ghost Supper" (Jiibaakwe) on Nov. 14. It's that cultural component that Gibson sees as crucial in reaching the area's Native American students, as well as the simple fact of being around an adult who they can identify with, and who provides a good role model.

"Here, they feel safe," Gibson said, looking around the large room in the elementary school that's been provided for his classroom space.

"They know there are people around them that they can identify with. When they see us in the hall, it puts a smile on their faces."

And it's not just the Native American students who are smiling. Another aspect of the program is reaching out to the non-native student population, in terms of educating them on the history of Native Americans as well as helping them to understand what it means to be Native American in the modern world.

Gibson and Marshall are both resources for the teachers and staff in their respective schools, and have both provided materials and given presentations to various classrooms. "After we come in and do a presentation," Gibson said, which often includes introductions to Native American language, "they'll say hi to me in my language [in the hallways]. To have students trust that and honor that," he said, makes a difference to all students. And, he said, "it might open an avenue for a non-native student to share his culture."

And though "traditional" is not Gibson's favorite term, he does believe wholeheartedly in the importance of tradition. "It's missing so much in a lot of our world," he said.

Looking to the future is important as well, specifically in helping these students realize their dreams. "Our students can be doctors, lawyers, astronauts," Gibson said. The key, he said, is giving them the confidence and security to graduate from school, and the desire to continue their education.

"We're still adapting to this culture," Gibson said. "Some of us have adapted very well, some of us struggle. It's a process. To keep that

The Ghost Supper, or Jiibaakwe, served annually at East Jordan Elementary School, is a way to bring the community, both Native and Non-Native, together.

A dinner to connect with the community

"Ghost Supper."

For local Native Americans, the event, also called "Jiibaakwe," means a chance to connect with their community and, in some cases, make amends.

Typically hosted by an individual family, the event entails the host family serving food to whoever comes to their door.

"I believe this is one of our inside societal tools to promote our community," said Gary Gibson, coordinator of East Jordan's Native American Education/Title VII program.

According to tradition, the supper is put on in honor of departed family members, with the idea that despite whatever problems individuals might have with one another, "you have no ill feelings towards people once that person comes through the door." Families serving the supper typically serve the best food they're able to provide, usually to seatings of around 12 to 15 at a time.

The East Jordan Public Schools' Native American Education Parent Committee and Title VII program are holding their annual Ghost Supper on Thursday, Nov. 14, from 6-9 p.m. at the East Jordan Elementary School cafeteria. The event is open to the public. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a dish to pass. For more information, call Gibson at 536-0053 ext. 5117.

MDNR encouraging public input on Jordan River management

By LINDA GALLAGHER
Contributing writer

Approximately 40 people attended a meeting hosted by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources last Wednesday night at the Jordan Valley District Library to review the agency's proposed management plan for the Jordan River watershed.

Soon to be retired MDNR Fisheries Biologist Ralph Hay of Traverse City conducted a one hour slide show of the contents of the draft management plan, then took public comment from the audience.

The lengthy document, which took four years to put together, was co-written by Mike Meriwether of the Antrim Conservation District in a partnership project between the soil district and the MDNR, said Hay.

"This document is a compilation of all the written material that's out there about the Jordan Valley watershed, which comprises 23 miles of the Jordan River, three natural lakes, and all adjoining public and private lands. Based on that information, in cooperation with a number of other government agencies and a wide variety of special interest groups like the Friends of the Jordan River, we put together a number of suggested options for future management of the area," Hay explained.

The plan suggests three types of management options: options that would protect and preserve existing resources, options that require additional survey information, and options to rehabilitate degraded resources.

Among the options being offered are: (not listed by priority)

- Protect underdeveloped properties from intensive development through property tax incentives, conservation easements, zoning, and public purchase of open space

- Protect the flow of the river and tributary streams from the effects of land-use changes, and increased development by working with planners, zoning boards, developers and landowners

- Oppose the construction of any additional dams on the watershed, and work with the private landowners of the three existing dams within the watershed to have them removed. One of those dams is in place on the Green River at the Green River Trout Farm.

- Construct additional sand traps to rehabilitate fish spawning habitat and to prevent sand loads from entering Lake Charlevoix. Four sand traps are already in place in the watershed.

- Limit oil and gas development, and road and utility crossings in the stream corridor, and study the effects of those that exist now.

- Remove the electric lamprey weir in place since 1999 off Mt. Bliss Road, using other lamprey control methods, or provide for fish passage over the weir in the spring.

- Survey the watershed for direct and indirect sources of pollution that affect fish spawning habitat and develop plans to correct problems once they are identified.

- Protect native naturalized species from predation and competition from introduction of pest species such as sea lamprey, zebra mussels, rusty crayfish, purple loosestrife and Eurasian milfoil.

- Survey beaver populations and effects on stream temperatures and flow. Identify control measures to control beaver where effects are detrimental to fish and aquatic invertebrates.

Allowing the passage of steelhead into the upper portions of the Jordan River, which may be detrimental to brook trout populations, and other suggested options, such as closing portions of Pinney Bridge Road, expanding the Natural Rivers portion of the river, and increasing public access to Deer Creek have been controversial topics with both area recreationists and landowners in the past.

Hay admitted, "That's why we're offering the public an opportunity to have input into this document, which is, at present, still in draft stages."

MDNR Fisheries Habitat Biologist Tom Rozich, who attended the public comment meeting, said the department can change the management options at any time.

From the heart

Students at Boyne City Elementary School made some special promises last week, participating in creating a "Heart of Promises" on the schoolyard fence. The activity was undertaken in conjunction with the story of "The Red Ribbon," which touches on the ideas of selflessness and caring for others. Each student, after hearing the story, was asked to make a promise of their own, symbolized by the red ribbon they then tied onto the fence.

Jon Bos

Jon Bos, age 61, passed quietly away at home on Oct. 17 after a valiant fight with cancer. He was able to say good-bye to many of his friends and provide comfort for their sorrow.

Jon moved to Whitefish, Mont. in 1975, after many colorful years in Chicago, Aspen, and Vail, Colo. A recent visit to Vail for its 40th year celebration was a high point in Jon's last month with us.

Jon burst onto the Whitefish scene with the original Hellroaring Saloon and Montana Noodle Company. The Whitefish Lake Restaurant followed in 1978. At the time of his passing he was still operating the Hellroaring Saloon on Big Mountain that he relocated in 1983. He had several other successful restaurant ventures along the way.

Jon was an idea man and many of his ideas are still with us today - The Taste of Whitefish and the tradition of Halloween as we know them today are two examples. Others are the Bash for Cash, the Summer Games and the Ski/Golf Tournament.

He became Whitefish's favorite Santa, arriving for the tree-lighting ceremony at the Whitefish Lake Restaurant and visiting numerous homes and parties during the season. He left a lasting image in the lives of many of our children of what Christmas is like in Whitefish.

To those who knew Jon, they will remember his love of hunting with his dogs and his buddies. Cooking, golf, skiing and baseball's spring training all were part of his life.

Jon enjoyed a good party better than most. He was a loyal friend to many and endeared himself to young and old as everyone's favorite curmudgeon.

Jon leaves behind his loving wife Pat LaTourelle; as well as his mother Marjorie Bos; his brother Mike and wife Karen of East Jordan; his brother, Tom and wife Linda of West Des Moines, Iowa; his stepbrother Glen Kowalski and wife Eva Nell of Whitefish, Mont.; his stepbrother, Mike Kowalski and wife Elizabeth of Corpus Christi, Texas, and many nieces and nephews.

True to Jon's approach to life, his passing was remembered with a celebration of his life at the Whitefish Lake Restaurant on Oct. 23. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to local Ducks Unlimited, Pheasants Forever or the Glacier Twins.

HEALTH TIPS FROM MEDICAP PHARMACY

HEALTHIER LIFESTYLE LOWERS DIABETES RISK

Recent studies in Finland and the U.S. revealed that overweight people can lower their risk of type 2 diabetes by getting regular exercise, following a low-fat diet, and losing weight. The changes made in lifestyle by those in the study were not drastic. Participants decreased fat in their diet and increased their intake of fruits and vegetables. They cut down on sweets, but didn't give them up altogether. Weight loss was between 5 to 7% of body weight. The exercise was moderate, most simply walked 30 minutes a day.

ELECTION PREVIEW

A LOOK AT BALLOT PROPOSALS AND CANDIDATES FOR THE MICHIGAN STATE HOUSE AND STATE SENATE

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

105TH DISTRICT

BRADSTREET - REPUBLICAN

Name: State Representative Ken Bradstreet
Age: 52
Position: State Representative, 105th House District
Family: Married to Barbara for 32 years, proud father of six children and grandfather of five.

If elected, what changes would you like to see implemented?

As the state representative for the past four years, I have worked on a number of legislative efforts that have benefited the 105th House District.

I have introduced family friendly legislation that would increase the personal deduction on the state income tax, allowing families to keep more of their hard-earned money.

During the last four years, I have sponsored legislation that would bring an estimated $2 million dollars to Antrim County from state oil and gas production royalties. The legislation, commonly referred to as the Severance Tax, would require that a quarter of the state revenues derived from oil and gas royalties be directed to the local units of government from where the minerals were extracted. This would generate more than $2 million for Antrim County and its local governments.

Why have I chosen to run for this position?

I ran for the position of state representative four years ago in order to affect legislative policies at the state level that reflect conservative northern Michigan values. These values of personal liberty and personal responsibility are shared by most of northern Michigan's citizens.

Having a large family, I am concerned about the type of world our generation will pass on to them. Will it be a world of ever-increasing high taxes and big government control, or a world of freedom and opportunity?

What is the most important issue facing your community today?

The issue of property rights has become a rather hot topic, especially in Antrim County. A tension exists between property rights and the government at all levels trying to function as the controller of private lands.

It's a conflict between a person's dream for his or her own property versus a conflicting dream of some neighbor or elected official for that same property.

Private property rights is one of the basic freedoms that our founders enshrined in the Bill of Rights, holding that government control of private property should be limited to what government is willing to pay for.

Ken Bradstreet

WEBSTER - DEMOCRAT

I was raised in a large family. My father taught me the trades of welder and metal fabricator. My mother was a teacher.

I attended the University of Michigan, received a B.G.S. with concentrations in Economics, Business, and Political Science. I received a Master in Business Administration from Lake Superior State University.

I am self-employed in the metal fabrication industry and work with special needs students at Concord Academy Boyne.

My daughters attend Boyne City Elementary School and my wife works for Vital-Care.

Through academics and experience, I have prepared myself for a role in government. I have been fortunate to be Melrose Township Clerk and Supervisor. I believe local governments are the grass roots of our democracy. Through the experience of working on township and county problems, I have learned that many of the answers to local issues are found in Lansing.

I have run a positive campaign and enjoyed involving myself in debate at public forums. I have not and will not accept P.A.C. money and will seek to see it eliminated from elections.

I will protect the property rights of individuals while seeking a balance with the community, and will ensure that those that remove natural resources do not shortchange the public.

I recognize that businesses can no longer carry the burden of health insurance and the role of state/local government in health care must change.

I advocate less of our tax dollars going to Washington and remaining in our state. I have held myself to independent thought and will remain beholden to no one other than the citizens of my district and Michigan. I will be responsive to you. I believe in and defend the Second Amendment, as I do every amendment of our Constitution. The right to bare arms is woven into the fabric of American society, as are the right to free speech, religion, and the press. The pursuit of happiness is our declaration and our endeavor. We live in a community of individuals and must respect one another. To this end I strive.

Mike Webster

STATE SENATE

37TH STATE DISTRICT

ALLEN - REPUBLICAN

I am a life-long resident of northern Michigan. I have a small business background working in my family clothing store, The Captain's Quarters, in Traverse City. I am married and have a young daughter. For the past four years, I have served as state representative for the 104th District, encompassing Grand Traverse and Leelanau counties.

As one of a handful of freshman representatives to chair a committee, I headed up the House Education Committee my first term. The first bills I addressed gave teachers greater ability to manage their classrooms and reduce school violence. I worked hard to require filters on all school computers to protect our students from Internet predators. School funding increased over 20 percent since I took office. Education will continue to be a priority in the Michigan Senate.

I currently chair the House Commerce Committee, which has given me a deeper insight into Michigan's economy. I am a strong advocate for the elimination of the Single Business Tax, and sponsored legislation to expedite its elimination. I support the continued reduction in the personal income tax. I have worked to stimulate meaningful job creation by developing incentives for businesses to locate in northern Michigan, such as brownfield redevelopment projects and renaissance zones.

It is imperative that our pristine environment is preserved. I supported banning drilling under the Great Lakes. Initiatives fostered through the Republican-created Land Use Committee will promote managed growth and protect open spaces. Local governments need the tools to manage growth responsibly. I sponsored the law that doubled the mileage of trout streams, preserving critical trout habitat and limiting shoreline development.

Health care will continue to be a major focus of the next senate. I support making prescription drugs more affordable to seniors through the continued expansion of the Elderly Prescription Insurance Coverage program. My first law expanded a program for small businesses to pool together and purchase health insurance at reduced rates.

I will use my experience to build on these accomplishments and promise to continue fighting for northern Michigan in the state senate. I ask for your support on Nov. 5.

ESTES - DEMOCRAT

With the retirement of Senator George McManus, I have elected to serve the citizens of the area by running to be your next state senator.

I am 52 years old, have been married for 28 years and have three grown children. My undergraduate degree is in accounting and I have a master's degree in business administration.

I have an extensive background in the private sector where I have served in various financial capacities.

In addition, I own and manage an orchard and tree farm in various locations in Antrim County.

Part of my extensive community involvement includes service as trustee and worship leader at First Congregational Church, treasurer of Great Lakes Community Mental Health, Kiwanis member and board member of the Ruffed Grouse Society.

Since moving my family to Traverse City in 1987, the woodlots and fields of Antrim County have become my second residence due to the great deal of time I've spent tending to my planting of hardwoods, pines and nut trees.

Two years ago I served as chairman of the Grand Traverse County Republican Party. However, I've now elected to run for the senate as a Democrat because the Engler Republicans have moved the Republican party toward serving special interests rather than the interests of the average citizen.

Since John Engler took office, state debt has grown from $1 billion to $15 billion. In the last four years alone, $1.5 billion in cash surpluses have shrunk to zero. At the same time, the governor and the legislature have rewarded themselves with huge pay increases.

It's time for a change in Lansing and it's time to elect someone with the financial background to assist in solving the state's financial problems. Your vote for Michael Estes will send a responsible voice of reason to Lansing.

Michael Estes

BALLOT PROPOSALS

Official Ballot Language Proposal 02-1

A REFERENDUM ON PUBLIC ACT 269 OF 2001-AN ACT TO AMEND CERTAIN SECTIONS OF MICHIGAN ELECTION LAW

Public Act 269 of 2001 would:

Eliminate "straight party" vote option on partisan general election ballots. Require Secretary of State to obtain training reports from local election officials. Require registered voters who do not appear on registration list to show picture identification before voting a challenged ballot. Require expedited canvass if presidential vote differential is under 25,000. Require ballot counting equipment to screen ballots for voting errors to ensure the accurate tabulation of absentee ballots. Permit voters in polls to correct errors. Provide penalties for stealing campaign signs or accepting payment for campaign work while being paid as a public employee to perform election duties.

Should this law be approved?
YES _____ NO _____

YES - Those that support a YES vote agree with legislation passed by the Michigan Legislature which would remove the option on Michigan's General Election ballot to vote a straight-party ticket with a single vote. They say that voters should evaluate the candidates for each office, not just vote for one party's slate of candidates. They feel that straight-party voters tend to miss the nonpartisan section of the ballot and vote only for the partisan races when they check one party.

NO - Those that support a NO vote believe that the Michigan tradition of allowing voting of a straight-party ticket should continue. Voters spend less time in the voting booth when they vote for a number of candidates with a single vote. Thus, lines at the polls will become longer if voters must vote for a number of candidates individually. They say the straight-party vote supports political parties, and encourages people to vote for the party as well as the candidate.

Note: that Proposal 1 is a referendum on a bill passed by the Legislature and signed into law by the Governor. Citizens obtained the required signatures to place on the ballot the question of whether the voters of Michigan agree with the action of the Legislature & the Governor. Under the rules for a referendum, the law does not take effect unless a majority of voters agree with it by voting "yes." Straight ticket voting is, therefore, still an option on this year's General Election ballot.

Official Ballot Language Proposal 02-2

A PROPOSAL TO AUTHORIZE BONDS FOR SEWAGE TREATMENT WORKS PROJECTS, STORM WATER PROJECTS AND WATER POLLUTION PROJECTS

This proposal would:

Authorize the State of Michigan to borrow a sum not to exceed $1 billion to improve the quality of the waters of the state by financing sewage treatment works projects, storm water projects and water pollution projects. Authorize the state to issue general obligation bonds pledging the full faith and credit of the state for the payment of principal and interest on the bonds. Provide for repayment of the bonds from the general fund of the state. Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

YES - Those that support a YES vote believe that Michigan's local communities need a stable, long-term source of funding to help them rehabilitate deteriorating sewage collection and treatment programs. They believe it is appropriate for the state to sell bonds to establish a fund from which local units of government can borrow money at a low interest rate to do the major construction necessary to reduce the flow of stormwater into sewer systems and to repair on-site septic systems.

NO - Those that support a NO vote are concerned about the impact additional bonding will have on the state's credit rating and its ability to repay the bonds. Interest on the bonds will be paid from the state's general fund and Michigan's budget is already under enormous pressure. Opponents feel that only certain areas of the state will benefit and the $100 million a year for 10 years authorized by the proposal doesn't begin to address the problem.

Official Ballot Language Proposal 02-3

A PROPOSAL TO AMEND THE STATE CONSTITUTION TO GRANT STATE CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEES THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS TO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING WITH BINDING ARBITRATION

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

Grant state classified employees, in appropriate bargaining units determined by the Civil Service Commission, the right to elect bargaining representatives for the purpose of collective bargaining with the state employer. Require the state to bargain in good faith for the purpose of reaching a binding collective bargaining agreement with any elected bargaining representatives over wages, hours, pensions and other terms and conditions of employment. Extend the bargaining representative the right to submit any unresolved disputes over the terms of a collective bargaining agreement to binding arbitration 30 days after the commencement of bargaining.

Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

YES - Those that support a YES vote believe that classified state employees should have constitutionally-guaranteed collective bargaining and binding arbitration rights. They believe that the current scope of bargaining at the state level is too limited. Presently local government employees can bargain collectively and local police and fire personnel also have binding arbitration rights. At the State level only the Michigan State Police have such rights (granted in a 1978 constitutional amendment). Supporters feel that all government employees should be treated equally.

NO - Those that support a NO vote believe that control of state spending belongs with the Governor and Legislature. They note that an arbitrator considers only wages, benefits and the overall governmental budget, not the broader best interests of the community and isn't answerable to voters. They argue that the public sector, unlike management in the private sector, does not have one group of people who control both personnel and spending. They say state employees are currently well-paid and receive good benefits.

Official Ballot Language Proposal 02-4

A PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO REALLOCATE THE "TOBACCO SETTLEMENT REVENUE" RECEIVED BY THE STATE FROM CIGARETTE MANUFACTURERS

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

Annually allocate on a permanent basis 90% (approximately $297 million) of "tobacco settlement revenue" received by state from cigarette manufacturers as follows: $151.8 million to nonprofit hospitals, licensed nursing homes, licensed hospices, nurse practitioners, school-linked health centers and Healthy Michigan Foundation; $102.3 million to fund programs to reduce tobacco use, Health and Aging Research Development Initiative, Tobacco-Free Futures Fund, Council of Michigan Foundations and Nurses Scholarship Program; and $42.9 million to the Elder Prescription Drug Program. Guarantee recipients funding at 2001 appropriation levels plus additional state funds on an escalating basis for nonprofit hospitals, licensed nursing homes, licensed hospices and nurse practitioners.

Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

YES - Those that support a YES vote believe that 90 percent of Michigan's share of the tobacco settlement revenue should go to organizations which provide health care, research programs to find cures for tobacco-related illnesses and smoking cessation education. They feel a constitutional amendment will guarantee this use of the revenue. They believe that the Legislature's past decision to spend this money on the Michigan Merit scholarships shows that the Legislature should no longer have control of the distribution of the money Michigan receives each year as part of that settlement.

NO - Those that support a NO vote believe that the tobacco settlement revenue should continue to be part of the regular state budget decision-making process and should not be pre-determined by putting specific spending requirements in the Michigan Constitution. Opponents point out that approval of this proposal will require the state to cut $215 million from the current budget or find revenue elsewhere. They say that the requirement in the proposal to maintain current medicare spending to hospitals and other health care organizations will require future additional state budget cuts.

Tuesday, November 5 - Remember to VOTE
Polls are open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Chamber orchestra opens its season at Boyne Performing Arts Center

The Great Lakes Chamber Orchestra will begin its second season with a concert at the Boyne City High School Performing Arts Center on Saturday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m., preceded by a Youth Concert at 3 p.m. (see related story).

The Boyne City concerts will be followed with a Nov. 3 performance at the First Presbyterian Church of Harbor Springs at 4 p.m.

For the concerts, guest conductor Matthew Hazelwood, director of the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra, will direct the varied program of orchestral works, including Haydn's 59th Symphony, Mozart's Violin Concerto in G Major, Elegiac Melody #1 by Grieg, Albinoni's Adagio for organ and orchestra, and a contemporary Concerto for Marimba by the Brazilian composer Ney Rosauero.

Soloists for the concerts will include Ginger Kowal, concert master of the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra, on violin, and Chihiro Shibayama on marimba, and Pete Sims, music director at the First Presbyterian Church of Harbor Springs.

Through the course of the season, the chamber orchestra has more performances planned in Boyne City, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Kalkaska and Cheboygan. The season runs through May of 2003.

THE GREAT LAKES Chamber Orchestra was created last year when artistic director Margaret Beck joined executive director Robert Pattengale in bringing together orchestral musicians from across a three-county area for the purpose of bringing the experience of orchestral performance to northern Michigan.

Beck retired to East Jordan from her professional life as a violinist in the Kennedy Center Orchestra in Washington, D.C. She is the founder of the Virginia Chamber Orchestra.

Pattengale, who retired as professor of music from Minnesota State University, Moorhead in 1997, served as harpsichordist and program annotator with the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra for 25 years.

The Great Lakes Chamber Orchestra has benefitted from grants from the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation and the Ann Kennedy Irish Charitable Fund administered by that foundation; the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs regranted by the Cheboygan Area Arts Council; the Jordan River Arts Council; and the Pathways Arts Council of Kalkaska. More than 50 individual supporters have donated to the orchestra's cause.

The orchestra is relying on donations at the door for its concerts this season. For more information, call Pattengale at 347-1548 or Beck at 536-0919.

Students invited to youth concert

Students from throughout northern Michigan are invited to hear the Great Lakes Chamber Orchestra present a Youth Concert at the Boyne City High School Performing Arts Center on Saturday, Nov. 2, at 3 p.m.

The concert will feature solo performances by two Interlochen Arts Academy students, Ginger Kowal on violin and Chihiro Shibayama on marimba.

The Youth Concert is underwritten by a grant awarded by the Jordan River Arts Council through its program for introducing arts experiences to students throughout the area. There is no charge to attend this concert.

For more information, call Robert Pattengale at 347-1548.

International Book Arts Exhibit opens at JR Art Center

The International Book Arts Exhibit opened Sunday at the Jordan River Art Center, in East Jordan.

The illuminated manuscripts of John Fraleigh of Gaylord, hand-lettered one-of-a-kind books by Mary Jane Zako of Harbor Springs, and work by Millie Janka of Boyne Falls are among the featured exhibits.

Chad Pastonik of Deep Woods Press in Manvelona is the curator, and presented a demonstration and lecture during Sunday's opening.

Though book artists from Michigan are emphasized in the exhibit, there are also entries from Canada, Scotland, England, France, Australia, and elsewhere in the United States. Only limited-edition books (from five to 200 artist-printed copies) have been accepted, and there are no offset, gleece, or computer-generated printing.

Trained docents will turn pages daily to encourage return visitors to the exhibit. Viewers will not be able to handle the books physically unless serious purchase inquiries are made. Most of the books on display will be for sale.

The exhibit runs through Nov. 24, and is open daily from 1-4 p.m. Other times can be arranged. The art center is located at 301 Main St., East Jordan.

To arrange a time, or for more information, call the art center at 536-3385. The International Book Arts Exhibit is partially funded by the Cheboygan Area Arts Council through the Michigan Council of Art and Cultural Affairs.

IN CONJUNCTION with the exhibit, Pastonik will be teaching a variety of book-binding workshops, including Intro to Bookbinding on Oct. 31; Japanese Bindings on Nov. 7; Album Binding with Post and Nut on Nov. 14; and Multi-section Binding on Nov. 21.

The workshops are all scheduled for 6-10 p.m. on their respective Thursday evenings, and the cost is $30 for one workshop, or $100 to participate in all four. There will be a small materials cost in addition to the class fees.

For more information on the workshops, call Pastonik at (231) 587-0506 or the art center at 536-3385.

Fall family fun

Lots of little ghosts and ghouls turned out last week for the Boyne District Library's annual Fall Family Fun Night. Over 100 people attended the event, which included stories and songs by guest readers

Fred Sitkins and Cindy Kujawski (pictured above), as well as library staff member Dava Maat. Families were treated to donuts and cider as well, and received a craft project to take home.

Artist lends her talents to Lighthouse Club

East Jordan artist Jan Luptowski unveiled her latest work during the Lighthouse Club reception held at Charlevoix Area Hospital Oct. 15.

Nearly 100 members of the 600-member club were in attendance at the reception to tour the hospital's new emergency department and get this year's print, the third in a series of Charlevoix Lighthouse depictions being created by local artists.

"I'm so pleased to have been asked," Luptowski said regarding her

Jan Luptowski

Lighthouse print. She created her print, she said, as she envisioned the lighthouse as seen under the Northern Lights, a different interpretation from past artists Sue Bolt and Pat Tinney. "After 9/11 life got way to serious. I try to lighten things up," she said.

Members of the Lighthouse Club include those donors making a minimum gift of $100 or more annually to Charlevoix Area Hospital. During the past several years Lighthouse funds were used for the hospital's expansion project to relocate and enlarge the emergency department, expand maternity and relocate medical patient rooms and the Intensive Care Unit. Currently Lighthouse funds are being used to purchase equipment for the new spaces.

Following the reception attendees were invited to tour the new Emergency Department and many had the opportunity to view the helicopter pad located on top of emergency.

The hospital opened the new Emergency Department on Oct. 1. Other areas of the expansion should be open before the new year.

For more information on the Lighthouse Club, the expansion or the Lighthouse Print contact the hospital's Development Department at 547-8502.

Ramblers were oh so close

■ Boyne City falls just short in battle for conference championship

All season long, Boyne City head coach David Hills has told his players that if they keep the game close until the fourth quarter, they have a good chance of winning.

"That's the quarter we play best in," he said.

And last Friday, that was no exception and no one played bigger than Chris Grice, the Ramblers senior running back, and his offensive line.

Behind center Matt Ku, guards Brenton Rozycki and Paul Simeri, tackles Zack Carlston and Dusty Marquardt, and tight end Jordan Voice, Grice and senior running back Ben Hausler ran through huge holes in the Traverse City St. Francis defense and the Ramblers came within a few yards of earning their second straight Lake Michigan Conference Championship and their second straight perfect conference season.

But it was not to be for the Ramblers, who with a first down on St. Francis' 12 yard line with two minutes remaining in the game, could not push the ball into the end zone.

The result was a 23-20 loss.

Often times games like this don't live up to all the hype that precedes them. This one may have exceeded expectations. Those fans brave enough to cope with a nasty evening of cold temperatures and a steady drizzle, were treated to an outstanding high school football game played by two outstanding teams.

With the St. Francis defense closing in, Boyne City quarterback Beau Detcher is flushed from the pocket in the Ramblers' 23-20 loss to St. Francis last Friday night.

"I thought it was a great game played by two very well coached teams," Hills said.

No one would disagree.

Even with the wet conditions, there were few turnovers and the Ramblers played the entire game without a single penalty.

"The field was wet but I don't think it had a big impact on either team," Hills said.

What did have an impact on the game was a bizarre final minute of the first half and the overall dominance of the Ramblers in the fourth quarter.

As the clock was winding down in the first half, St. Francis had possession at midfield. Quarterback Adam Clark was flushed out of the pocket and while running to his left, the right-handed quarterback threw the ball to an open receiver for an apparent touchdown. An illegal receiver downfield penalty, however, negated the play and the Ramblers had dodged a bullet.

But on the very next play, St. Francis broke a running play and carried the ball deep into Boyne territory before the runner was pushed out of bounds as the clock showed the half had ended.

The officiating team ruled, however, a second still remained in the half when the ball carrier was run out of bounds, and it set the clock with one second. That was just enough time for St. Francis to kick a field goal and take a 16-7 lead.

The field goal proved to be the difference in the game.

St. Francis scored first in the game, driving down the field on its opening drive. The Ramblers tied it up on a 10-yard pass from Beau Detcher to Voice after Simeri had recovered a St. Francis fumble.

St. Francis came right back on its next possession and scored to take a 13-7 lead.

In the second half, St. Francis mounted a strong drive on its first possession but failed to score when a field goal attempt sailed wide.

The Ramblers on their possession drove the ball down field and capped the drive when Grice scored from three yards out with 8:40 remaining in the third quarter.

The Ramblers' joy was short lived, however, as St. Francis scored on the first play after the kickoff when Colin Quinn broke free for a 54 yard touchdown to give St. Francis a 23-13 lead.

The Ramblers, though, were not to be denied. Behind the strong running of Hausler, who broke free for a 48-yard run down to St. Francis's 3-yard line, they scored when Grice went in for his second touchdown of the night. Grice kicked the extra point to move the Ramblers to within three, 23-20 with 6:30 remaining in the game.

The Rambler defense then rose to the occasion, forcing St. Francis to punt. The Ramblers took over on their own 29 with just under five minutes remaining.

Sticking to their running game, the Ramblers peeled off big chunks of yardage and drove down to the 12-yard line when they had a first down with about two minutes remaining. On the drive, Grice carried the ball six times.

But this is where the defense of St. Francis stiffened and shut down the Ramblers to preserve the 23-20 win.

For the game, Grice carried the ball 25 times for 163 yards, 115 of them in the fourth quarter, and two touchdowns.

"It just all came together," Grice said of the Ramblers' second half dominance. "We felt like nothing could stop us. We were out there giving it our all."

Hausler rushed for 71 yards on 11 carries, while Detcher connected on 4 of 14 passes for 39 yards.

Defensively, Simeri had 14 tackles and one fumble recovery, Rozycki had 10 tackles and Marquardt seven.

Red Devils end season with big win

With a slim hope still alive for playoff contention, East Jordan hosted Elk Rapids in the regular season finale for both teams.

The Elks were not expected to be much of a challenge, and they lived up to expectations, falling 46-0 before an enthusiastic crowd of Red Devils fans and family.

Tom Krause again did a solid job at quarterback, ensuring the Red Devils of two more seasons of stability at that position, while Robert Grover ran roughshod over the Elks early on and finished his senior season on a high note.

Alan Arnott finished up, delivering decent runs that will turn the tide next season when he becomes the senior running back.

Other seniors who completed a 5-4 season with a sound victory were: Scott Murray, a stoic defensive player; Kevin Roberts, one of the defensive lynchpins that will be sorely missed; Joe Cooper and Bryan Diller, each a rock in the middle of the chaos that is lineman play; with seniors Justin Black, Daryl Richards and Tim Sothard providing moments of service in the pinch as needed; and Jon Reese a trusty receiver.

Next year's squad will ride Krause's arm and smarts, with Arnott, AZ Ahmed, Josh Sheridan and Matt Huver the backbone to a team with winning experience and the drive to make coach Greg Bowden's second year at the helm even more successful than his first.

Grover closed out his four-year career with a performance he won't soon forget. He rushed for 236 yards on 10 carries and scored two touchdowns, one on a 56-yard run - East Jordan's first play from scrimmage - and the other a 65-yard run.

Willie Skrocki scored two touchdowns, rushed for 39 yards and kicked four extra points. Alan Arnott also scored twice and rushed for 58 yards.

Lady Loggers down Northport

By MANDA SEWEJKIS

The Lady Loggers captured a victory on Friday defeating Northport 52-39.

Leading the Loggers to victory were Megan Pernicano with 15 points, and Kayla Reynolds with 13 points.

Reynolds also had seven steals, and Annie Pernicano added six more. The top rebounders were Manda Sewejkis with 10, and Megan Pernicano with nine.

Boyne Falls got off to a fast start, building a 17-11 lead after the first quarter. The Loggers continued to work hard in the second period and led 34-19 at the half.

The Loggers now have a 6-9 overall and a 4-4 league record.

The junior varsity had a tough loss on Friday losing 44-38. Katie Grubaugh led Boyne Falls with 15 points.

The basketball was a hot potato as Boyne City and East Jordan players fight for possession during last Tuesday's game at Boyne City.

The long arm of Courtney Hammond stands between Amanda Westrick and the basket as she drives down the lane.

East Jordan starts fast in win over Boyne City

East Jordan earned two victories last week, defeating Boyne City and Kingsley.

Against the Ramblers last Tuesday, the Red Devils came out sizzling, putting the fire to the Ramblers in the first quarter to build a 19-8 lead. For the second quarter, the efforts of Jessica Skop and Sierra Roberts helped maintain the lead into the half, 31-20, and then expand it in the third quarter, 49-32. Jill Derenzy, Brittney Hanson and Claire Niewendorp helped finish matters in the fourth, wrapping up the 72-48 win.

Courtney Hammond scored 35 points, Amy Schroeder added 12, Roberts nine, Skop six, and Derenzy five for the Red Devils in the win.

Kim Foster led Boyne City with 12 points and Amanda Westrick had eight.

Boyne City won the junior varsity game. Kingsley came to East Jordan Thursday and the visitors jumped out to a 14-6 lead in the first eight minutes.

It didn't last. The Red Devils got a little hot under the collar and came scorching back, overtaking Kingsley in the next eight minutes to lead 28-20.

The Red Devils surged some more in the third, pushing the lead to 46-29 with eight minutes to go and foul trouble all over.

Less than a minute had gone by in the fourth quarter when Hammond fouled out. Roberts would follow that path a few minutes later.

That left matters in the hands of Jackie Brun, whose jumper cut off a Kingsley run. Schroeder then hit three free throws to stunt the Kingsley attack and secure the Red Devils' 56-41 victory.

"I'm very happy with how the other girls stepped up and stopped Kingsley (after Hammond and Roberts fouled out)," said East Jordan head coach Lisa Parrish.

"They kept it together and protected the lead well."

"A good team win."

Hammond finished with 26 points, Schroeder and Roberts each scored nine, with Skop netting four points.

Kingsley won the JV contest, 72-34. Amber Wiser scored 14 for the Red Devils, Tabitha Grover nine and Jalessa Baier added five.

Runners qualify for state meet

Hannah Decker of Boyne City and Chelsey Poindexter, Tiffannie Bearden and Garrett Romero of East Jordan qualified for the state cross country meet to be held this Saturday at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

The runners earned a ticket to the state meet for their performance last Saturday at the Division 3 regional cross country meet hosted by East Jordan at a cold and rainy Community Park.

Romero finished fifth in the boy's race, while Poindexter was fifth, Bearden 11th and Decker 13th in the girls' race.

The East Jordan boys, led by Romero, finished eighth while Boyne City was 13th. Benzie Central won the meet, followed by Hart and Kalkaska. Luke TenHopen of Kalkaska won the boys' race.

Romero finished with a time of 16:53, Nick Hanson was 26th, 17:51; Chris Duff, 39th, 18:23; Paul Brucee, 64th, 19:40; Andrew Crumbaugh, 66th, 19:44; Josh Pung, 20:17; and Jason Palmrose, 87th, 21:06.

On the girls side, Elk Rapids won the meet, followed by Charlevoix and Benzie Central. East Jordan finished sixth. Boyne City competed with only four runners, and did not score as a complete team.

For East Jordan, Poindexter finished with a time of 20:51, followed by Bearden, 21:02; 29th-Amanda Thomas, 22:22; 46th-Amanda McMichael, 23:59; and 88th-Amanda Evans, 24:15.

This is the third trip to the state finals for Romero and Decker, a junior, who is also a starter on the Boyne City varsity basketball team. Decker was a member of the girls teams that qualified for the State Finals for two years, including last year's fifth place team finish.

Decker ran 21:35 for the 5K course. Brie VanDam, senior team captain, finished in 20th place in a time of 21:45. Sophomore Carly Stieber finished in 24th place in a time of 22:07. Marion Sposito had her best race of the season in 26:40.

The overall girls' winner was Danielle Stein of Kalkaska in a time of 19:34. Five of the top six finishers were from the Lake Michigan Conference schools. Two other Lake Michigan Conference schools, Harbor Springs and St. Francis, qualified girls teams for the Division IV State Finals.

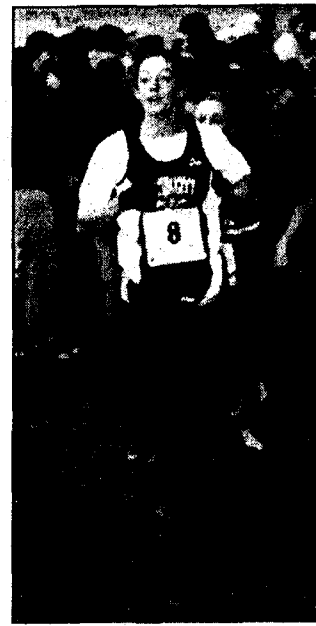

Five of the top six runners in the boys' Division III race, were also from Lake Michigan Conference schools, however their teams did not qualify. These athletes will compete as individuals in the state finals. Harbor Springs qualified their boy's team for the state Finals in the Division IV race.

The Boyne City boys team finished 13th overall. The team ran without Ian Smith due to illness. Randall Sutton was the top finisher for the Ramblers. Sutton finished in 53rd place in a time of 18:43. Other runners were 72nd-Justin Weisler 20:13, 76th-Sam McVannel 20:19, 94th-Rob Noeske 21:34, 98th-David Burns 22:15, and 99th-Ben Place 22:27.

"Justin Weisler and Rob Noeske had their best races of the season," said Boyne City coach Andy Place. "It's really good to see Justin running well again. Rob has had a very good first season."

East Jordan's Garrett Romero and Chelsey Poindexter finished fifth in the Division 3 regional meet Saturday to qualify for the state meet Saturday in Brooklyn. Also qualifying from East Jordan was Tiffannie Bearden, who finished 11th.

Boyne City's Hannah Decker, who when she is not running starts for the Lady Ramblers' basketball team, finished 13th at the regional meet to qualify for the state meet.

Raven Hill starts scholarship fund

Raven Hill Discovery Center is offering the "SOAR with Raven Hill" scholarship fund.

The new fund was launched to assist area residents who are financially unable to take full advantage of the many opportunities offered at the center.

Since opening its doors in 1992, Raven Hill has made connections that have helped more than 70,000 adults and children understand difficult concepts, said Raven Hill founder Cheri Leach. Yet there are many for whom these experiences have been out of reach financially.

"We get many requests for reduced fees for general admission or for field trips," Leach said. "Often a teacher will have to pass up an opportunity to bring his/her students because many in the class cannot afford to pay."

"This fund will provide opportunities for many more people in the community to take advantage of all that Raven Hill offers without depriving Raven Hill of needed resources. We depend on fees for our services as well as memberships and donations to keep the center going."

Raven Hill's mission is to build life-long connections for children and adults that link science, history and the arts in a hands-on learning environment, Leach said. That mission is manifested in a variety of ways.

Though the museum experience is the most well known, Leach said, Raven Hill also offers class field trips, outreach programs, professional development for teachers, summer enrichment classes for children, and art classes for adults. Field trips usually include a tour of the museum and one or more additional activities tailored to meet that class's needs and interests.

Outreach programs are also customized to fit the needs of a particular class, area of study or curriculum. Professional development offerings include Central Michigan University graduate courses, curriculum development, specialized workshops and mentoring.

With the SOAR fund, Raven Hill will be able to accommodate requests for reduced tuition on classes or fees for field trips, providing opportunities for those who need assistance in realizing their full potential, Leach said.

To contribute to or for more information about the fund, contact Raven Hill Discovery Center at (231) 536-3369.

Program offers help in dealing with the holidays

The holidays can be a difficult time for those who have experienced a loss.

On Thursday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. Hospice of Northwest Michigan, in partnership with Northwest Michigan Community Health Agency Hospice, is offering a program that will give suggestions on how to "Handle the Holidays."

The program, to be held in the large classroom in the lower level of the Charlevoix Area Hospital, is open to anyone who feels a need for help to get through the holidays.

Pastor Carl Litchfield, hospice spiritual advisor, will talk of the "Griever's Holiday Bill of Rights" and C.O.P.E., a simple plan for handling some of the stresses associated with the holidays. Participants will receive a booklet containing a holiday planner and other tools to use.

There is no charge to attend. For more information about this program, or any hospice services, call the hospice office at 536-2842 or Northwest Michigan Community Health Agency Hospice 547-6092.

"We've got to be thankful for the leadership and foresight that was provided by the members of the Facility Review Committee," Hansen said. "There was an overriding sense that there would never be a better time to sell the bonds and do the project, and they were right."

Last month, voters approved a $7,920,000 bond issue for additions and improvements at all three current school buildings. Construction is projected to begin in the spring of 2003, and the hope is to have work completed by the fall of 2004.

Have A Spooktacular Halloween!

Parents are cautioned to be extra aware of their children's safety during the Halloween season, especially with so many activities taking place after dark. The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department offers these safety thoughts:

- Parents should escort small children to homes in the neighborhood, visiting only people they know.
- For older children, it is a good idea to put safety reflecting tape on their costumes to make them easier for motorists to see them at night.
- Remind children to look both ways before crossing the street and to use the crosswalk wherever possible.
- Carry a flashlight.
- Advise youngsters to approach pets with caution; wearing a costume may frighten the animal and cause it to attack.
- Make sure a child's vision is not blocked because of a mask, overhanging wig, or hood.
- Only give and accept wrapped or packaged candy.
- Inspect each treat before permitting your child to eat it. If you should find any contaminated food or safety violations, please report them to the sheriff.
