At A GLANCE

Boyer City, Concord seniors to graduate this weekend

Boyer City High School seniors will take that final step of their high school careers on Sunday, June 6, at 4 p.m. at the school.

Concord Academy Boyer grads will make their commencement on Saturday, June 5, at 1 p.m. at the school auditorium.

For senior photos, see pages 6-10.

Candidate profiles in next week's paper

Local districts will hold regular school elections on Monday, June 14.

In Boyer City, two school board seats up for renewal are uncontested. Incumbents include Ed Vondra and Deb Noblett.

In East Jordan, four candidates are running for two, four-year terms, including incumbent Debra Bartlett, Michael Burr, Richard LaVanway, and Gary Walker. A third seat, for a two-year term, is being sought by incumbent Jim Jordan.

In Boyer Falls, two four-year seats will be on the ballot, sought by incumbents Sandra Erber and Joe Skop, Jr., as well as challenger Lucas Goodwin.

Next week, The Citizen-Journal will run candidate profiles.

Boyer City Elementary principal Fred Sitkins had a birds-eye view of the school's third grade students, having been taken on a ride in the Re/Max balloon on the school grounds last week. The balloon was inflated on the playground as part of a special program for third-graders, followed by a slide show presentation explaining some of the finer points of travel by balloon.

Seeking support

Boyer District Library will put millage request on ballot in August

After budget cuts earlier this year necessitated paring down library staff and hours, the Boyer District Library will be asking residents to support a millage proposal, in order, according to director Nannette Miller, to put library hours, and more, back on the right track.

The library will seek .35 mills on the August ballot, to bring the total library millage to 1.0 mills. At the current collection rate of .66 mills, a home with a taxable value of $50,000 (a $100,000+ home) pays $33 per year; the increase, if approved, will mean a total of $50 per year, an annual increase of $17.

The bottom line, Miller said, is that the library

Friends of the Boyer River retain attorney on river discharge issue

Though earlier this year Boyer City Commissioners voted to approve a wastewater discharge into the Boyer River, the Friends of the Boyer River, in partnership with a number of other environmental-centered organizations, are still expressing displeasure with that outcome.

In May, according to Friends of the Boyer River member Larry Maltby, the organization retained counsel, in the form of attorney James Olson, of the firm Olson, Bzdok and Howard, to legally support the group's position on the wastewater discharge. Olson has successfully defended issues on the Cedar River for the Friends of the Cedar River, and issues involving the Jordan River Valley for the Friends of the Jor-

EJ home fire claims a life

A house fire in East Jordan on Tuesday morning claimed the life of a young East Jordan man. James Theodore "Ted" Slough, 17, died after fire consumed his home while he, along with three family members and a house guest, slept. According to Charlevoix County Sheriff George T. Lasater, Slough's older brother, Ken, discovered the fire, awakening the other members of the family, which included their parents, homeowners James and Kathryn Slough. All exited the residence except for the younger Slough.

The members who were able to exit the home were taken to Charlevoix Area Hospital by East Jordan EMS, and were treated and released.

Slough was a senior at Northwest Academy in Charlevoix, and was set to graduate this Friday, Lasater said. He had previously been a student at East Jordan High School.

The sheriff's department, along with the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal and the East Jordan Fire Department, are continuing to investigate the fire, to which emergency personnel were called at 2:21 a.m. on June 1 on Slough Road in South Arm Township. A cause had not been determined at press time. The home was a total loss, and nothing, according to Lasater, was salvageable.

At East Jordan High School, crisis teams were already meeting by 6:30 a.m. on Tuesday, according to schools superintendent Chip Hansen. The team, he said, "worked on our plan to help our students and staff members struggling with the loss. It was a pretty somber day throughout the district."

Though Slough transferred to Northwest Academy to pursue his love of music in his senior year, Hansen said that the young man was still close to many within the East Jordan district. "He was just a gentleman's gentleman," Hansen said. "Our hearts go out to the whole Slough family."

Funeral arrangements were pending at press time.

Irene Gettel, pictured here with daughter Sarah, the new owner of the Lumber Jack Grill restaurant in East Jordan, wants to keep people close to home in a cheerful environment. Gettel is just one of a slew of new business owners in East Jordan giving the small town their best shot this spring.

BOOM TOWN

New businesses are taking root in a revitalized East Jordan business climate

By JANE E. BOOZE
Contributing Writer

East Jordan has come a long way from its early boom town days; the old pictures show streets barren of trees, a small downtown, its architecture borrowed from the big city, and neighborhoods that still sport functional barns behind the houses. These days it's a little greener, but still bustling with activity, and retaining the community feel of the original small town. Recently, some of those early downtown buildings have come into new life befitting their nostalgic grandeur.

There are 12 new businesses operating in East Jordan which have opened within the last year, and a couple more are set to open in the new Main Street Building (formerly the Dahlquist Building, renovated by Floyd and Todd Wright). The town seems to have taken on a collective new life, with a focus that is as cohesive as it is varied. Without exception, the business owners that have located in East Jordan (not all downtown) seem to believe that the town is on the move toward a commercial, artistic and culinary revival.

Plans coming together for Boyne City's 4th of July party for 10,000

Boyne City is gearing up for its annual Fourth of July Festival, which this year promises all the fun, food, and fireworks that local residents and visitors alike have come to know and love.

Though it falls on a Sunday, this year's event will take place, as always, on July 4. "The festival will always be on the Fourth of July," emphasized festival committee co-president Liz Kroondyk. The parade is scheduled for 10 a.m., as usual.

Other events planned for the day include the 25th annual Independence Day Race, the Eta Nu Clown Balloon and Flag Sale, the children's bike and costume contest, and the Grand Parade.

The 26th annual Water-side Art and Craft Show will take its place in Veterans Park on Saturday and Sunday, joined on Sunday by a petting farm for the kids.

The always-popular Rotary Chicken Barbecue will be held in Veterans Park, and the Annual Rubber Duck Race and Soap

Box Derby will also make return appearances.

Bands in the Park will provide musical entertainment throughout the afternoon and evening, with the Boyne City Yacht Club Parade of Boats and, of course, fireworks, rounding out the day.

New this year is the Boyne City Volunteer Fire Department's Waterball Challenge, set for 3 p.m. in Veterans Park, a surefire way to beat the heat.

Though children's games are still on the schedule, organizers are seeking approximately four volunteers to take over the running of the games. "We're looking for a person or organization to spearhead the children's games," Kroondyk said, adding that the role is "about a two-hour commitment that brings lots of smiles to the little kids." Organizers already have the games, ideas, and information on ordering prizes, but just need someone to take over the effort.

Volunteers in all areas are welcome, as are donations to support the event.

For more information or to volunteer, call Kroondyk at 582-3389.

Preceding this year's Fourth of July events are the All Class Reunion at Veteran's Park and the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce's Wine and Cheese event, both set for Saturday, July 3.

For more information on parade registration, call Vera Post at 582-7123; for the running race, call Barb Bryant, 582-9196; or for the All Class Reunion, call Ann Parks at 582-9076.

About 20 students worked on the construction of the new home.

June 3 is open house for BCBS Building Trades home

Boyne City High School's Building Trades program will host an open house of this year's home on Thursday, June 3.

Constructed by 20 students from Boyne City and East Jordan, under the direction of instructor Tom Neidhamer, the home is the 32nd built in the community by the program.

The home, located at 917 Roosevelt St., Boyne City, is a two story Cape Cod with three bedrooms, two and a half baths, a full basement, and front porch.

Students built the home in a two-hour block each morning throughout the school year.

"It's a great program," Neidhamer said. "The Char-Em vocational millage really supports our program, and this is an example of programming that offers great opportunities for our kids."

The open house will be held from 4-9 p.m. The public is welcome.

For more information, call Neidhamer at 439-8119.

At last

It was a special Memorial Day weekend indeed for seniors at Boyne Falls School, as the students took part in commencement ceremonies on Saturday night. Decked out in colorful leis, mementos of the traditional senior trip to Hawaii, the students were joined by proud friends and family to celebrate the occasion. Above, Kandace Kowalksi, Steve Ward, Kelly Strong, Brad Brewster and Megan Pernicano await their moment in the spotlight. At right, school superintendent Mark Parsons shakes hands with new grad Melissa Anthony, while school board member Phyllis Marchinkewicz looks on with a smile.

June 3 silent auction will support Boyne Area Gymnastics and Dance

To support ongoing programming, Boyne Area Gymnastics and Dance is holding a silent auction, with bidding to take place on Thursday, June 3, from 5-9 p.m.

Items to be auctioned include gift certificates for dinner, golf, oil changes, haircuts, and a last will and testament. Also up for bid are a gymnastics birthday party, homemade cheese-cake, horseback riding, a kayak adventure, a balance beam, a TV, and much more.

For more information, call facility director Kari Streelman at 582-9787.

The Mickeys to christen new EJHS auditorium

Nashville recording artists Amy Sherman and Julie Mickey will return to their hometown on Saturday, June 19 to officially open the new Community Auditorium at East Jordan High School.

A brief dedication program is planned for 7 p.m., to be followed immediately by The Mickeys, 1994 graduates of East Jordan High School.

"We're delighted that Amy and Julie were available for the grand opening," said Superintendent of Schools Chip Hansen. "Their hometown is very proud of them, and we can't wait to see them perform in the new Community Auditorium."

The Mickeys' debut CD "finding our way," was released last year on the twins' own record label, RiverBeat Music, and their single, "Old Kentucky Wind," has been a number one hit on the European Independent Country Chart.

Having recently returned from a tour of Germany, The Mickeys will be off to Europe again following their East Jordan show, touring Switzerland, Italy and Germany.

Tickets for the June 19 show are on sale now, priced at $10 each, and are available Monday through

DOING STATE OF THE ART WORK, BCHS VISUAL IMAGING IS Getting noticed

BY LAURA CASSIDY
Contributing Writer

Upon entering Boyne City High School one of the most eye-catching objects is the interactive kiosk. The four television screens making up the kiosk reflect a bold vision, something that would normally be located in the lobby of a large corporation or in a mall, not in a high school foyer. Boyne City High School is in fact one of the first schools in the nation to house a kiosk.

Designed by students in the visual imaging program "Team BCVI," under the leadership of teacher Randy Calcaterra, the kiosk won several awards at a competition in Las Vegas, Nev. The public relations tool allows students and the community to explore happenings in the school system.

Not only has Boyne City's visual imaging team been recognized for its kiosk, but it has received several other awards as well.

Two works produced by members of Team BCVI were nominated for Student Emmys, national awards given out by the same organization that grants television's prestigious Emmy Awards.

A music video composed, directed and edited by junior Jacob Warstler, entitled "Niles, the Lighthouse," was nominated for an award along with approximately 20 other student productions nationwide. Warstler, who plans to pursue a career in the film industry, has valued his experience this year as part of the visual imaging program. He believes his work has given him a jumpstart into the field and will enhance his college applications.

Another nomination went to the video "Boyne Tough," designed by seniors Nick Sulak and Jordan Voice, which features highlights from the football season with music and graphics to enhance it.

In 1949, Richard enlisted in the US Air Force and served as a Radio Operator in the Arctic Circle, Greenland, and later in Tucson, Ariz. On Dec. 26, 1950, Richard married his wife of 53 years, Vera Stasiak at St. Bernard Catholic Church in Detroit.

Richard and his partner built and managed Roblo Inc., now Control Engineering, and later worked as a Manufacturing Supervisor at United Technologies, where he retired from in 1991. He was a member of St. Matthews Parish in Boyne City and choir mem-

Lyle Wilkins Ross

Lyle Wilkins Ross, 86, on a beautiful sunny day, May 28, 2004, died peacefully in his home with his wife and son by his side. Funeral Services were held on Wednesday, June 3 at the Stackus Funeral Home, with the Rev. Robert Faulman officiating. A Masonic service took place immediately following the funeral. Interment was held in Maple Lawn Cemetery.

He was born Sunday, April 25, 1918. Known affectionately by his grandfather as "Scotty," Lyle had devoted most of his life to the creation of wooden toys and other hand made crafts in his shop. Although many were given to friends and acquaintances, others sold at Christmas shows at the Boyne City High School gym and 4th of July shows at Veterans Park which he and his wife helped to organize. Lyle was made Technical Sergeant after his enlistment in World War II and was severely wounded in the shoulder during a battle that took place in the Saar Mountains just before the Battle of the Bulge. Being 5'8", and only 150 lbs, he had to walk around in a 35-lb body cast for a year. He took knitting lessons for physical therapy to his fingers. At 60, he had a serious lung operation. Very soon after the war, Lyle joined the VFW, and was immediately made Quartermaster. He was a lifetime member of the Disabled American Veterans and Commander of Purple Heart. He was Treasurer of the Masonic Lodge for many years and made "Man of the Year" during his membership. Lyle had a beautiful voice and found his place in the Methodist Church choir as a tenor, in Cadillac. He also served as an Usher of the Methodist Church in Boyne City. As a young boy, Lyle shagged balls and caddied at the Charlevoix Country Club, and carried a newspaper route. Lyle's gifts and talents will be remembered by his generosity, humility, and courage to face tough challenges with a happy heart.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara June "Sayles" Ross; two sons, David Joseph Ross, attorney and Steven Lyle Ross, PhD; two granddaughters, Karoline May Ross and Stephanie June Mysicka; and one great-grandson, Alexander Mysicka. ### CORRECTIONS

In last week's issue of The Citizen-Journal, an article regarding the approved hotel project on North Lake Street in Boyne City reported that the issue would go before the Boyne City City Commission for final approval. The matter will not, in fact, go before the commission; the approval granted by the Planning Commission is the final approval on the project.

Last week's Citizen-Journal included an item about Boyne City graduate Tim Wellert, recipient of the Marie Zoberski Scholarship. Wellert was reported to be a student at Northern Michigan University; he is in fact a student at Michigan Technical University.

Boyne Thunder to be unleashed July 16 & 17

Boyne City Main Street Program is taking summer excitement up a notch by hosting the first BoyneThunder Poker Run. Friday and Saturday, July 16 and 17. About 45 high-performance offshore boats, up to 50 feet long, will take part; during the poker run, each participant will collect one randomly-selected playing card, enclosed in a sealed envelope, at each of five locations. Upon returning to the starting point, the envelopes are opened and played like a poker hand.

The best hand wins first prize, and the next two win second and third cash prizes.

BoyneThunder begins in Boyne City and continues on to East Jordan, Charlevoix, Beaver Island and Bay Harbor. The boats will motor back to Boyne City for the event's culmination, which includes a Thunder Feast by the lake.

"Some of these incredible boats are capable of speeds well over 125 mph," said event organizer Howard Newkirk.

The sleek, high-power boats arrive in Boyne City on Friday, July 16, for burn-in runs and public viewing at the City Marina. Offshore teams and the public are then invited to gather at Garrett's on Water Street for a bash full of food and entertainment by David Cisco. The party will feature a unique walk-about auction, which includes nautical performance gear and local entertainment packages.

BoyneThunder continues on Saturday, July 17 with the 120-mile offshore poker run; a jet ski poker run from Boyne City to East Jordan and back; a classic wooden boat show in Veterans Memorial Park; the annual BoyneThunder Sailing Regatta; and Lake Charlevoix powerboat Champagne Cruise.

The evening will culminate with Thunder Feast, a community/boater cookout with live entertainment in Veterans Memorial Park in Boyne City, and a city-wide walking "Pub Crawl" with suitable prizes.

The event supports Camp Quality, a program to benefit children with cancer, with some proceeds also benefiting the Main Street Program.

Volunteers needed to make Fourth kids games happen

TO THE EDITOR:

As of yet, we do not have any volunteers to organize and run the children's games. Our committee is tapped out and there are no new volunteers this year to hand this fun job over to.

There are close to 300 children that come to these games each year. Wouldn't it be sad if the games didn't happen this year? It's approximately a two-hour job, the prizes are easy to order, and the games are in storage, just waiting for a small team of fun-seekers to organize it.

There is a former "game organizer" that is willing to guide someone through the process to make it happen. Call Gayle at 582-2424. Please help us get the word out that a few (4) volunteers are needed to make it occur!

Sincerely,
Liz Kroondyk and

Public hearing set on proposed marina in Boyne

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality has announced a public hearing regarding the proposed marina at the property located at 1 Water St., Boyne City, on Monday, June 21, at 7 p.m.

The hearing, to be held at the Boyne City Senior Center located in the Boyne City City Hall, 319 N. Lake St., will be held in order to give community members a chance to voice their views on the project. The proposed project includes a marina for broadside dockage of up to 14 boats, including a 24-foot ramp, a 180-foot section of trestle docks, a 20-foot long floating dock piece, and four 50-foot long floating dock sections, for a total of 424 feet.

Library millage

Why? The reasons are many. First, in the wake of the $2.3 million gift from the Mary K. Peabody Foundation that resulted in a completely renovated and expanded building, the costs of running the library have simply increased. "Running a library that is three times larger and has air conditioning, 20 computers, an elevator, and top-notch lighting, has more than doubled the costs for operations," Miller said. While .75 mill was adequate for the smaller original building, the current collection rate of .66 mills (thanks to the Headlee Rollback) is not sufficient, she said, to sustain the new library, which has operated on a deficit budget since opening in 2001.

Dramatically increased utility costs have taken their toll, and the endowment fund, set up as a condition of the Peabody gift, has not grown as expected. "It didn't reach its goal" initially, Miller said, adding that at about $125,000, "it's about halfway there." The market downturn after Sept. 11, 2001 had a negative impact on the fund, which has not, Miller said, "reached a level to be of any real help to the library at this time."

"It's still not the same as the contributed value." In March, the library board and staff made significant budget cuts, cutting 14 hours per week, reducing staff, and cutting back on material purchases. "We've already cut the book budget by a third," Miller said. "We have done everything we could. We've cut the book budget, cut the newsletter, cut hours, staff."

Ultimately, Miller said, they've found that it isn't enough. Even after the cuts, "we still had a deficit, just not as large a deficit."

If the millage passes, she said, the library will be able to restore service hours, increase the materials budget to its former level, and budget for technology upgrades and standard building maintenance. The library will also be in a position to apply for federal funds to enable participation the statewide library project, dubbed MeCat, that includes an online catalog of library collections around the state. It will enable users to access the catalog from home, work or school, as well as check their personal library account for fines, to reserve items, and to renew items. "It has been a goal of the library Board of Trustees ... to upgrade to a circulation system that allows our patrons this service," Miller said. "We need to be in a financially stable situation before we can commit to the requirements of available federal grants."

If the millage fails, the library will have to make further cuts in hours and services, and may begin charging for services that have thus far been provided without charge, such as interlibrary loans, use of the Community Room, and Internet use.

Visual imaging

"Visual imaging is a great new program that school adopted," Sulak said. "It definitely led me to a career change."

Five additional student works were awarded "Best in Show" at the annual student film festival hosted by the Detroit Institute of Arts. Competing against large metro-area schools, Boyne City High School took home five of the 26 awards, the most winning entries one school has had in the festival in the previous 10 years.

Prize-winning works included two public service announcements produced for local television, the Boyne City High School interactive kiosk welcome video, the Team BCVI DVD introduction and a short film about a thrilling prison escape. Honored students were Warstler, Hannah Decker, Riley O'Brien, Sean Shooks, Aaron Markel and Lyndsay Tomkins.

Yet another victory for Team BCVI has been a real-life application of students, visual imaging skills. The team completed a corporate identity video for a Charlevoix company, LoadLifter. Having read about the group's successes in the newspaper, the company approached the visual imaging team with a dilemma: the company has two patented custom carriers used to haul oversized objects. Because they are unconventional in design, the company has difficulty explaining their function to clients.

After a series of meetings with the business, the team shot, designed, animated and edited a short video that visually explains the company and its products. The company expects that the video will generate a quarter-million dollars in sales in coming months.

Team BCVI will conclude its highly successful year with the second annual Senior Send-off production, a project Calcaterra calls "very advanced, involved, and professional."

"The kids did a fantastic job," Calcaterra said. "They had a lot going on and they came together to finalize it. It's really very well done."

The full-length DVD featuring two hours of highlights from the class of 2004 will premier after the graduation ceremony on June 6.

REMEMBRANCES

A graduation of yesteryear

According to contributor and local historian Bob Morgridge, Boyne City High School has the distinction of having the first graduating class in Charlevoix County, the Class of 1888. Pictured here are two graduates, Lula and Minnie Morgan, daughters of early settlers Zachariah and Mary Morgan. For more information, Morgridge suggests consulting Olga Erber's "History of the Boyne City Schools," in Morgridge's book, "Settlers to Sidewalks: A History of Boyne City." courtesy photos

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHP

IN HER OWN words, Boyne Falls High School salutatorian of the class of 2004, Melissa Anthony expressed many thoughts of her "Open House" party on May 30, and I quote, in the following: "It always seemed so cool to go to other people's open houses. 'Man, I can't wait till I get to have mine!' I used to say. Well, today I got my chance. Kinkajous and koalas, as well as over 25 other native Australian animal pictures adorned the walls of my garage. Joining their fellow Australians were pictures of the famous children's group, The Wiggles. I happen to love their show, and plan on living in Australia with them and the animals some day. Opposite the animals and Wiggles were pictures of me growing up. Tee ball pictures, sports pictures and elementary birthdays all joined the collages. Next to them are collages I made of our senior trip to Hawaii. Every year the senior class of Boyne Falls goes to Hawaii and I had more than enough pictures for the three collages I made of our trip! Along with the collages I had some of my softball gear, including my batting helmet, bat and catchers mask. Also on that table were my awards. My mother kept every award that I ever received; the book they are in has well over 60 awards at the present time." Family favorites lined the food tables, such things as BBQ meatballs and venison, and plenty of family and friends attended. "It will be sad not to go back to Boyne Falls in the fall. When they say that high school flies by, they mean it's a jet plane!"

SCOTT HOBBS is walking! Last week, on Monday Scott took two steps. Two days later, he was walking about five feet. Yesterday he picked up his left leg, while lying in bed, and put it over his right leg. His mind is clear. The CAT scan on his brain showed no bleeding; no damage; and good healing. After further surgery, he will then move to St. Jude's Hospital for rehab. He and his family realize what a blessing this is and appreciate the prayers and concerns of so many and, in continuing encouragement, plus Scott really likes hearing from everybody. His address is: Scott Hobbs, 2211 Pacific Avenue #A202, Costa Mesa, CA 92627.

CONGRATULATIONS goes out to Renee Kane, who has graduated and received a Master's Degree in physical therapy from the University of Montana in Missoula. She is now preparing for her boards exam, and say her parents, Mick and Sharon Kane of Boyne City, "She will soon be entering a new endeavor, work work work!"

HILDA JOHNECHECK of Greenwood, Ind. spent a week of her spring vacation visiting her family here in the Deer Lake/Camp Daggett Road areas.

RICHARD DUNSMORE of Redford Township spent the Memorial Day weekend here with his sisters, Gloria and Ray Anderson and Ann and Harley Parks and families.

HEARTFELT SYMPATHIES go out to the family and friends of Kate (Kathy) Hunt, who passed away this past week and also to Lyle Ross, who passed away this past Friday night. Both were well-loved Boyne City residents.

SANDRA AND WAYNE BUCHNER of Flint spent the Memorial Day weekend in Deer Lake with her parents, Maxine and Gordon Hunt and family.

MRS. JEAN ERBER of Boyne City spent the Memorial Day weekend in the Soo, with her daughter Christine.

GOOD IT was, seeing longtime friend, Anne Jenkins, formerly of Boyne Falls, now living in Ionia, who was here this week with grandson Jeremy Morey and her son Gary Wade of Reno. Anne also enjoyed a visit with Linda Arno, lunching with Fay Bearss and family at Friske's Market in Charlevoix, attending Boyne Falls High School open houses and just "catching up" on good times with others since last fall's move.

SOMETIMES "vacation time" at home, can be the best of times, and that's the way it was this past week, for Lisa Luebke of the Boyne City Housing Commission. She stayed home and played "Grandma" with granddaughter, Haylee Luebke from Mt. Pleasant. The whole family enjoyed Haylee, who will be two years old in August. Grandma Lisa said, "It was a very relaxing week and I enjoyed lots of quality time with Haylee."

HER VOCAL coach, Gail Gerrie, presented Beth Holland for her first year voice recital Friday, May 28. The recital was held at Walloon Lake Community Church on Friday. Beth received her first year pin and a lovely bouquet of pink flowers. Beth's mom, Ann Holland, received a red rose from Beth. Her grandparents and family and friends present were very proud of her hard work and lovely voice.

Almost 100 percent of the new business owners are local, a few are welcome transplants, but many have lived their lives here. All are willing to risk capital in East Jordan because of a firm belief that they are able to provide something that meets a certain need in this area, and keep citizen's earnings circulating in their own hometown.

IRENE GETTLE, the new owner of the LumberJack—renamed the LumberJack Grill—recalls that she and her husband, Jeff, had their first date at a table in that very restaurant. She also realized that though she and Jeff had a romantic history with the LumberJack, they still left town when they went out to dinner. She wants to keep people close to home, to make them and their families feel welcome in a cheerful environment staffed with—exclusively—smiling faces (including her daughters). To facilitate that, Irene plans to open up the wall facing the head-water area, exposing to passersby a family restaurant on the order of Applebee's or Ruby Tuesday's. And while the LumberJack will still offer the old favorites ("I've never heard a complaint about the food," Irene said), she plans to keep abreast of current trends and meet the needs of a lunchtime crowd that wants a healthy meal—fast. Be sure to check out her up-to-date website for coupons and specials (www.lumberjackgrill.com).

JAN DEAN, OWNER of Jan's Corner Café, doesn't see her neighbor as competition. She has been in the restaurant business long enough to know that people like variety and is looking forward to opening her own restaurant in the location of the Round Table. With its windows looking across to the marina and the building's fresh face-lift, Jan has brightened up the restaurant, and is planning on a lodge-type décor. Most importantly, the down-home feel has to stay intact, with neighbors meeting in the early mornings for coffee and visiting friends from table to table, while enjoying wholesome, good food. Jan has the experience and expertise to keep it the same as always and at the same time better than ever.

STILL IN THE food line, the Jordan Inn is now open for three meals a day, and its kitchen boasts some of the finest chefs in the region. Mary "Jane" Krumholz is justifiably proud of her wonderful menus, which are replete with fresh ingredients and gourmet selections, to be enjoyed in a dining room that is warmly opulent and reminiscent of a slower-paced, more gracious era. But the Inn is also a bed and breakfast, with 11 themed rooms. "They create themselves," Krumholz said of the décor, displaying a nautical room that took its character from a pair of antique wall sconces featuring jaunty tall ships. Krumholz is warm and welcoming personally, and brimming with ideas that promise to draw people to East Jordan and the community she has come to love. (The old house's updates extend to every comfort and include a barrier-free ground floor room, handicap accessible—and coffee served elegantly in the parlor.)

ACROSS THE STREET, the mood changes quickly to the present at the Napa Auto Parts store, where owner Jeff Legato works behind the counter alongside Rich Clark (you can almost hear Shorty somewhere back there, too). Jeff started the store in East Jordan after Napa had encouraged him to for a year, but he has been in business in Petoskey for nearly 15 years, including 12 as a business-owner and three with Napa, after they bought him out. There is a need in East Jordan, which Legato feels will be best met by the fact that he has a full line of automotive inventory, and with the store in Petoskey, he is able to provide same-day availability on almost any item. He knows that to stay in business he must have the support of the locals, but he believes that he can earn that by being service-oriented and on the strength of his inventory and prices.

ACROSS FROM THE Main Street Center, Angela Gee, at The Pamper Palace, is excited about the new things she and co-owner Marla Steinhoff have planned to spoil their clients. Steinhoff has a new treat prepared—the Facelift Massage Facial, and Angela has ordered a fun selection of jewelry, featuring Italian charm bracelets. But the Pamper Palace prides itself on insisting that for pampering to be real it has to be healthy. The Pamper Palace is a licensed, FDA-approved and sanitary business. "It is all about education—our own and our customers," Gee said, stressing that she wants her customers to understand the benefits of healthy skin and nails. She and Steinhoff both believe in continuing education classes so that they can bring the newest best services to their customers.

ACROSS TOWN, M & M Hunting and Outdoor Gear and Jordan Valley Homes share a building and parking lot. Mike Tompkins, owner of M & M, has all the good stuff—from black powder to fishing supplies, camping gear and anything and everything for hunting. He is proud of his inventory and his attitude toward his customers. "Being good to customers is the biggest thing," he said. "You have to be willing to bend over backwards to get them anything they want so that they don't have to drive to Gaylord or Petoskey." Tompkins is able to maintain competitive prices by keeping his overhead down, working the store himself and employing family members if he is unable to be there. "If you're nice to people, they'll come back," Tompkins said, summing up a philosophy shared by his co-entrepreneurs.

JORDAN VALLEY HOMES is a spin-off of Moblo's Hilltop Excavating business. Owners Kathy and Glenn Moblo, with their son Robert, maintain both businesses, allowing them to provide a latchkey service that will take a customer from undeveloped land to a finished house, where the Moblos are able to do the excavating, basement, garage, provide the house and do the general contracting. Kathy says that they will even find the property if they know what the customer is looking for. And because they are family owned, and Jordan Valley Homes is completely owner-staffed, the overhead is low and they are able to offer the homes at very competitive prices, as well as service them locally. "We live in this community," Kathy said. "We don't want people unhappy." They sell, emplace and service Fleetwood Homes as well as Commodore and Hi-Tech.

CATCH-A-TAN, in the Glen's Plaza, is the labor of love of Tresa Twitchell. Twitchell is committed to providing her customers with a quality product and a high level of service. She stopped halfway through a wallpapering project (brown paper bags and wallpaper paste, resulting in a leather-like surface) to express her satisfaction with her decision to locate her family and her business in East Jordan.

She works hard to provide a friendly climate, listening to her customers, asking questions so that she is able to provide the best services. She believed when she started that there was a need she could fill, and after eight months in business she says she is very confident that she can and will meet that need—and is even considering expanding. "The items that I carry, I use. Religiously," Twitchell said. "It's very earth-friendly."

OUTSIDE OF TOWN on Rogers Road, Tammy and Chris Oliver are earth-friendly, also. They are customer-friendly, too, and work closely with their clients to ensure that folks get the trees, shrubbery, hanging plants, annuals and perennials that are best for their particular application. Chris's family has had ties to the greenhouse and nursery business for fifty years, but it was a roadside conversation that led to Mom and Pops Greenhouse and Nursery. Chris was cleaning out his father's garden and had a load of irises and lilies in his truck on the side of the road, which he offered his neighbor. The neighbor suggested that he start a nursery. No land, Chris explained; the neighbor said that he and his wife had been looking for someone to work their homestead acreage—and Mom and Pops was born. Family-run (their son works the nursery when he gets out of school), Chris and Tammy have been able to maintain competitive prices. While they look forward to having tourists stop, Chris and Tammy's nursery is geared toward local, repeat business and satisfied customers. They are comfortable with the other growers and florists in town, believing that they don't so much compete as complement other businesses, selling primarily nursery stock and perennials.

REMEMBER THAT ROADSIDE conversation? The neighbor in question was Bill Ashley and his wife Carolyn, whose mother's family originally homesteaded the property on Rogers Road where Mom and Pops and The Cinnamon Tree are located. The property has been in Carolyn's family since 1869 and is known as the Rogers Homestead, and it now is the site of two new East Jordan businesses. Bill and Carolyn's venture, The Cinnamon Tree, is a craft store that markets the work of about fourteen local artists and artisans. The Cinnamon Tree is replete with Bill's ceramics, as well as local soaps, Wagbo syrup, paintings, knitted scarves (each uniquely created by an ornithologist, who provides explanations of nature's inspiration for her color combinations) and glass work. Bill believes we live in the most beautiful area of Michigan, which he thinks

When Tresa Twitchell, left, of Catch-A-Tan started her business eight months ago in East Jordan, she was convinced that there was a need to be filled. Turns out, she was right -- and she's already considering expansion

accounts for the unusually large artistic presence in this small town. He hopes to continue to provide an outlet for local artwork, and is very committed to the area and to promoting business and art in East Jordan.

BACK DOWNTOWN (at the location of the former Plaid Petunias and the Jordan River Fly Shop), Jennifer Aenis is doing her part at the Café Casa and Galleria. Mingling with the rich smells of real latte, cappuccino and espresso are the equally rich visuals of local artists' paintings, wall hangings and unique artwork, such as cigar-box purses and pieced kimonos. The back of the store is Aenis' interior decorating workspace. She opened the coffee shop to meet a local need, and to base Inner Structures, the interior decorating business she has had for five years. She has created several vignettes with furnishings that not only provide customers with a luxurious setting in which to enjoy their coffee, but also demonstrate her decorating skills with the tactile and visual richness of fabric and the role of light and color.

THE VARIETY of new ventures in East Jordan is as profound as the selections at the various restaurants, or the diversity of artwork at the Café and Cinnamon Tree. From auto parts to acrylic nails, artwork to tanning accelerators, real estate to hospitality, intrepid business folks have taken a risk on this little town. Jennifer Aenis said she was drawn to the small town that would like to grow but retain its small-town-ness, and Jane Krumholz said she came to East Jordan for the Inn and fell in love with the folks. And God bless the locals, like the Moblos and the Olivers, who were reared here, believe in East Jordan and were willing to bet their bottom dollar on it. It's a new boom; while the quality of these East Jordan proprietors is a throwback to the Good Old Days, their services are state-of-the-art.

River outfall

The motive behind the move, according to Maltby, is relatively simple. "When the commission voted to put [the outfall] directly into the river, we were out of options," he said. "Up until that point we were appealing to public opinion. We felt we needed representation now."

The purpose, he adds, is for the Friends, and by extension the newly-formed Coalition to Save the Boyne River, to "get an interpretation of the law, the laws that govern the way surface waters are treated in the state.

"We're afraid shortcuts are going to be taken [in the permitting process]," he said. "We're worried about that... We want to make sure all of the 'I's are crossed and all the 'T's are dotted, to go forward with the very best science and studies we can obtain."

Ultimately, the group contends that a discharge to the river or wetlands is unnecessary, seeking instead a long-range plan "to remove discharge from Lake Charlevoix to a land-based discharge."

"It's not just a Boyne City issue, it's a Lake Charlevoix issue," Maltby said. "A discharge to the Boyne River is just like a discharge to Lake Charlevoix."

"It's bigger than just Boyne City."

According to Boyne City water/wastewater superintendent Dan Meads, the move hasn't affected the City's progress towards implementing its planned wastewater facility and treatment upgrade. "We're continuing with our plans, basically," Meads said. "We've been working with the state on this for over four years. The State suggested [the river outfall] in the first place."

The treatment plant, as planned, Meads said, "meets the [State] criteria for protecting the river and lake. The system we're building is high-tech. It's the best alternative we can come up with.

"The State has to make sure any discharge we put anywhere is going to protect the public and environment. That's part of the permitting process."

Options are still being explored for the mode of the outfall, Meads said, in response to concerns raised by the Friends of the Boyne River and the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council, including rapid infiltration or wetlands discharge. "We're still doing studies to see if it's feasible," Meads said. "If we can do it we would do that; if not, putting the pipe in the river is basically a last resort."

Meads expects results from those studies by late summer or early fall.

Maltby, for his part, hopes that whatever the outcome, that the Boyne River can still be spared a discharge option altogether. "We're looking very long range," he said. "The best possible outcome would be to not discharge waste water to either the Boyne River or adjacent wetlands."

Improve yourself through healthy curiosity

By Ernie Harwell

I've always believed that one of the best things a person can do, from a mental perspective, is to develop a curious mind about life.

One of my favorite hobbies is asking people about their families, where they grew up, their jobs, whatever. I joke that I'm the biggest busybody around, but the truth is that I like finding out about people, what experiences have shaped them, what makes them tick. It's great fun and a wonderful way to learn and build relationships with people.

There are other things we can do, too, to exercise our minds. Next time you come across a word you don't know, instead of skimming by it, find a dictionary and learn about it. What does it mean? How did it originate? How is it used? It might just stick in your head for the next time you're searching for that perfect word or phrase.

Traveling is another great way to expand your horizons and see how other people live. Our country is so beautiful and diverse, and full of learning opportunities. I also highly recommend traveling abroad, if you're able, because it can really give you a new perspective on the world and life.

When we cultivate our minds, we improve ourselves and become more well-rounded. And that's a healthy way to be.

And remember, take care of your health before it's longgggg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. ## Boyne City bats go quiet against Gaylord St. Mary's

By PHIL TROMBLEY
Sports Writer

The hits were hard to come by when Boyne City pitcher Caleb Helsley and Gaylord St. Mary's hurler John Spyhalski hooked up for a real pitcher's duel in Gaylord on Friday, May 28, as the duo gave up just three hits between them in a six inning thriller.

Spyhalski won the matchup, tossing a one hitter at the Ramblers and fanning nine batters to lead the Ski Valley champions to a 2-0 victory over the Lake Michigan Conference champs.

Helsley allowed just two hits in his, struck out eight hitters and gave up just two walks while losing the heartbreaker.

St. Mary's scored single runs in the first and third innings to give Spyhalski all the room he needed.

The Snowbirds broke open another close game in the nightcap scoring five runs in the fifth inning to take the game by a 5-3 margin.

Boyne City took a one-run lead in the bottom of the first frame and scored two runs in the final half inning, but the Snowbirds were able to shut down the late game Rambler rally.

Follette struck out eight, walked two and surrendered six hits while taking the loss.

"Central Lake did a good job in game one keeping our hitters off balance, but our bats did much better in game two," said Boyne City coach Beano Archey. "We showed a little more patience and that helped quite a bit."

Red Devil soccer closes regular season

By PHIL TROMBLEY
Sports Writer

East Jordan's varsity soccer team closed out the regular season play with a 12-0 loss at Harbor Springs on Thursday, May 27.

In spite of the one-sided loss, East Jordan coach Peter Elliott had some praise for the Lady Devils' efforts in the game.

"Sierra Roberts played with intensity all game and after being moved to fullback she did a good job of stopping the attack from her side. Carrie Hart gave her all while she played and freshman Jeanne Schultz worked hard in the midfield earning the praise of her teammates," Elliott said.

Grayling 1 East Jordan 0

Grayling scored the only goal of the game off of a corner kick with just five minutes remaining in the second half to hand East Jordan's varsity soccer team a heart breaking 1-0 loss at home on Monday, May 24.

Fullback Carolyn Elliott hit the goal post with two of her three shots and led the team in both steals and intercepts. Forward Michelle Britt led the team in shots on goal while working hard to pressure the Grayling defense.

"This was a good game for us and the ladies worked very hard right to the end of the game," Elliott said. "We are disappointed with the loss, but not the effort that these young ladies gave."

The Lady Devils will open district tournament play tomorrow night in Traverse City when they take on the winner of Tuesday night's Traverse City Liberty vs. Glen Lake match up.

Tomorrow's game is scheduled for a 5 p.m. start.

In memory

Despite the gray skies and falling rain, folks in local communities turned out on Monday, Memorial Day, for local ceremonies remembering veterans who've answered the final call. In East Jordan, services, held under the auspices of the American Legion Rebec Hosler Sweet Post #227, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #7580 and their auxiliaries, included the symbolic tossing of flowers into Lake Charlevoix's South Arm, commemorating those lost at sea.

State senator Jason Allen (R-Traverse City) gave the address at East Jordan's services Monday, above. At right, Boyne City's Memorial Day ceremony's at Veterans Park included the singing of the National Anthem by Gail Gerrle, music by the Boyne City High School Band, an address from American Legion Post 228 Commander Jerry Evans, and a rifle salute.

Racers came from all over on Sunday, May 30, to take part in the first-ever Memorial Day Drag Races at Boyne City Airport. Sponsored by the Boyne City Police Department, the race is expected to become an annual event.

What a drag

The Memorial Day Drag Race in Boyne City turned out to be not only fun for the racers, but for a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators as well. The event is a fund-raiser for the airport and the Boyne City Police Department.

BC takes two wins over Gaylord St. Mary's

By PHIL TROMBLEY Sports Writer

The Boyne City varsity softball team took both ends of double header with Gaylord St. Mary's on Friday, May 28, with a 4-1 win in the opener and a 6-0 victory in the second game.

The Lady Ramblers won the first game with a run in the first inning, two runs in the third and one in the fifth, while The Lady Snowbirds managed just one run in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Cadie Britton got the win for Boyne City, fanning three batters, walking two and scattering seven hits in six innings on the mound.

The Lady Ramblers scored their four runs on four hits as Emma Persons had two singles, Amanda Westrick had one single and Tori Crum had one single.

Britton got the shutout in the second game yielding four hits in six innings. Boyne City scored three second-inning runs, a run in the third and two in the fourth as seven different batters got hits in the game.

"We played well and we had some good plays to prevent them from scoring. We played some solid defense," said Boyne City coach Sandy Clausen. "We are doing a good job of getting the bat on the ball and not striking out."

Westrick (double), Haili Friedrich (single), Michelle Metzger (single), Persons (single), Crum (single), Molly Hausler (single) and Susie Wellert (single) accounted for the Boyne City safeties.

Central Lake 14, 7 Boyne City 4, 8

Boyne City posted a come from behind 8-7 win in the second game to salvage a split on the road with Central Lake on Wednesday, May 26.

The Lady Ramblers trailed the contest 2-0 going into the fifth inning before they scored three runs to take a 3-2 lead.

The Lady Trojan countered with three runs in their half of the fifth to retake the lead, but the Lady Ramblers pushed across five more runs in the final inning to pull out the victory.

Britton was the starter and tossed the first three frames before Jesse Raber came on in relief to get the win with one strikeout over the final three innings.

Metzger and Emily McLane led the Boyne City bats with two singles each, while Crum chipped in with a double and Persons contributed a single.

"We took a while to get started, but in the sixth we had four of our six hits and we finally came alive," Clausen said.

A free swinging Central Lake team pounded out 15 hits to hand Boyne City a 14-4 loss in the first game of the night as the Lady Trojans scored nine runs in the second inning, two in the third, one in the fourth and two more in the fifth to overwhelm the Lady Ramblers.

Central Lake pitching held Boyne City to six hits in the game as Metzger (two singles), Lyndsay Tomkins (triple), McLane (single), Persons (single) and Crum (single) led the Boyne City hitters.

"Central Lake was crushing the ball," Clausen said. "We weren't making any errors, we just weren't able to keep them from hitting."
