At A Glance

Cyclists will 'Ride the Charx' this weekend

The fourth annual Ride the Charx bike ride will be held on Saturday, June 26, in Boyer City. The event, which offers four routes of varying lengths to appeal to riders at all levels of experience, is expected to draw upwards of 300 folks to the area.

Riders will enjoy extensive sag service, provided from the start of each race until 1 p.m., and snacks en route. Routes offered include a 20-mile ride, 43-mile ride, 62-mile ride, and 105-mile ride, all of which take riders through the beautiful countryside of Boyer and Lake Charlevoix. The registration fee also includes a full lunch catered by Lester's BBQ, from noon-2 p.m. in Veterans Park.

The cost is $22 per rider for the non-profit event. Lunch-only tickets are also available for $10 apiece.

Registration forms are available in Boyer City at North Country Cycle Sports, BikeFix, Outside Edge, and the Boyer Area Chamber of Commerce.

Information and registration forms can also be found on the ride's Web site, www.lmb.org/nmb.

Ambulance millage is focus of township meeting

Boyer Valley Township will host an informational meeting on Wednesday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall, to discuss the possible millage proposal in support of a new ambulance service.

The one mill proposal would make it possible for the township to upgrade its emergency medical service, including the purchase of one transport vehicle, and schooling and certification for volunteer emergency medical services personnel to fulfill qualifications for a Basic Life Support service.

The township currently has a First Responders emergency medical service, which does not include patient transportation; at present, the township contracts with the Boyer City Ambulance Service for patient transportation needs. A township ambulance service, said Boyer Valley Fire Department chief Mike Richards, would not eliminate the relationship with Boyer City Ambulance but rather work to enhance the service. "If [Boyer City] went ALS, we could work hand in hand," Richards said last fall, when the possible millage was first announced.

The public is invited to attend the Wednesday night meeting, at which time township officials will be gathering input and answering questions.

For more information, call Richards at 590-9230, or township emergency medical services head Bruce Glem at 499-8855.

A MUSICAL HOMECOMING

East Jordan natives The Mickeys, Julie Mickey and Amy (Mickey) Sherman, above, officially christened the East Jordan Community Auditorium, located at East Jordan High School, at the facilities official grand opening over the weekend. The event included not only a concert by the hometown heroes, but also a dedication ceremony. At right, project architect Jon Walter presents East Jordan Board of Education president Mary Jason with a plaque marking the occasion, which schools superintendent called "a magical moment." The event included the announcement of the establishment of the East Jordan Community Auditorium Endowment Fund, through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. The public has its say

A standing-room only crowd voices opinions on proposed marina

It was a full house at Boyer City's City Hall Auditorium, as local citizens gathered to put in their two cents on the marina proposed at the end of Water Street.

The Department of Environmental Quality public hearing on the project was held Monday night, with around 100 in attendance. The subject: a dock behind Garrett's on Water Street, proposed by property owners Greg Krueger and Joe Thomas as One Water Street Investment LLC, to include a 24-foot ramp, a 180-foot-long section of trestle docks, one 20-foot long floating dock piece, and four 50-foot-long floating dock sections, an overall length of 424 feet. The dock, which includes plans for the four, 50-foot sections to be removed off-season, would offer broadside dockage along the most waterward 200-foot section.

The public meeting was called by the DEQ in response to a request from the City of Boyer City.

Once given an opportunity to speak; those present expressed views that were both strong and polarized.

"I want to voice my strong support for the project," said local resident and business owner Todd Wright; conversely, resident Penny Hardy added her words, "If we let everyone come and do everything they want to do, what we have here will be spoiled forever."

And so it went.

Concerns ranged from the effect the marina would have on fishing in the area to the issue of obscuring lake views, always a hot-button issue in the community.

"Where [developers] want to put the dock is where all of the local fishermen fish, and it blocks the view corridor from the street," said resident Shirley Howie, a contention that was echoed by several who spoke at the meeting. Assuring that the dock would remain available to the public, rather than being made private or restricted at a later date, was also a concern. "I want to see the 80-page addendum [to the plan] that's going to say it's free and it's public," said resi-

THE JORDAN VALLEY FREEDOM FESTIVAL IS THURSDAY-SUNDAY, JUNE 24-27

Celebrating freedom, East Jordan style

From food to floats to fireworks, there's a little bit of something for everyone at this year's Jordan Valley Freedom Festival, set to kick off on Thursday, June 24, and run through Sunday, June 27.

Organizers have put together four days of family activities and events that combine old favorites with some new faces.

The excitement begins on Thursday at 5 p.m., with Inflatables set up downtown, and both Firemen's Waterball and Battle of the Bands on tap at 6 p.m.

On Friday, the fun continues with the second annual Freedom Festival Flea Market, a food court in Memorial Park, the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival Car Show Preview, a horseshoe tournament, and performances by High Action Bikes. For the musically inclined, Dominic and the Big Breakers will perform from 5:30-6:30, followed from 7-9 p.m. by the always popular Lip Sync Contest in Memorial Park.

Saturday is the main event, featuring the annual Youth Parade at 11 a.m., the Grand Parade at 3 p.m., music by Mojo & the Boogiemens (at 5:30 p.m.) and Chelsy Oaks (at 7 p.m.), and, of course, "fabulous festival fireworks" by Zambelli Internationale at dusk. For those looking for physical challenge, the day will include a Triathlon, a women's Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament, and the Gemini Lanes Horse-shoe Tournament.

Those with an appetite will appreciate the annual Chicken Barbecue, to be held at noon at the BC Pizza/Rainbow Restaurant, with half of the proceeds to benefit the Freedom Festival. Rounding out the day are more High Action Bikes, a craft show, and a variety of other entertainment op-

Preserving the past

Local genealogist looking for input on project to record the history of the county, one township at a time

Professional genealogist Carol McWain Goodenough has spent countless hours teaching classes in Boyer City, East Jordan and Charlevoix libraries. During that time, however, it has come to her attention that there are no complete histories of the county, assembled by township. It's a situation that Goodenough, with the help of other interested volunteers, intends to rectify.

On Monday, June 28, Goodenough will host a project feasibility meeting at the Boyer District Library, to be held at 7 p.m. Anyone with an interest in Charlevoix County history is invited to attend; the focus of the meeting, according to Goodenough, will be to decide if such a project should be pursued, and brainstorm what type of project it should be and how to carry it out. Possibilities include one or several books, CDs, videos/DVDs, or some combination thereof.

Goodenough has been a permanent resident of Charlevoix County for three years, prior to which she spent every summer here, at what is now their permanent residence in Eveline Township.

The McWain family, she said, has

Ambulance head post filled in Boyne

After a long search process, Boyne City city manager Michael Cain has recommended candidate John M. Lamont to fill the post of ambulance director post for the city. City commissioners were scheduled to confirm the hiring at their regular meeting on Tuesday. According to Cain, Lamont was selected out of a pool of 13 applications. Earlier this year, a four-member panel reviewed applications and narrowed the field down to four candidates to be interviewed, finally settling on the lead candidate, LaMont. Lamont brings 30 years of EMS experience to the position, most recently as executive director of Allied EMS Systems Inc. in Harbor Springs. He has also served as executive director of Life Link, Inc. in Petoskey, and EMS coordinator for the District Health Department #3 in Petoskey.

The ambulance director's position was vacated late last year, with the departure of former director Barb Flansberg. Barb Kerridge has held the post since December of 2003 as acting director.

Kids can discover new trails this summer at the Jordan Valley District Library

The Jordan Valley District Library is launching a summer reading program this July, open to readers and read-to-me kids.

With a theme of "Discover New Trails @ Your Library," the program is aimed towards kids ages 5-12, and will include special events, prize drawings a scavenger hunt, and more.

Theme programs will be held on Wednesdays from 10:30-11:30 a.m.

The planned schedule includes:
July 7 — Joel Tacey, comedian
July 14 — Cheri Leach of Raven Hill Discovery Center, live animal program

July 21 — Gordon the Magician
July 28 — Vikki Gasko, ventriloquist. Registration for the summer reading program begins on July 1.

The library is located at 1 Library Lane, East Jordan, next to the East Jordan High School.

For more information, call the library at 536-7131 or visit its Web site at www.jvdl.info.

HORTON BAY'S POLITICAL PARTY

Entries sought for annual Horton Bay 4th of July parade

The Horton Bay Parade Committee is seeking entries for the much-anticipated annual parade event, set for Sunday, July 4, at 1 p.m.

Organizers are inviting interested parties to take part in the parade "in the heart of Horton Bay's political dynasty," and join in "exploring the peculiar, the legendary, the storybook, the chivalrous, the courtly, the elegant, the elusive, the eternal, the poetic, and the curious elections" in Horton Bay.

All entries must be in good taste for the family event; no commercial or seriously political entries are permitted. Motorized vehicles, including fire trucks, antique cars, and farm machines, are also prohibited, unless creatively decorated or towing entries.

All entries are subject to the approval of the Horton Bay Parade; all are allowed a two-minute presentation

Parade line-up is at 12 noon.

Entries must be turned in to the committee on or before Thursday, July 1.

Entry forms are available by contacting John Rohe at 347-7327.

Invitational exhibition to open June 26 at JRAC

The Jordan River Arts Council will open its Annual Invitational Arts Exhibition On Saturday, June 26, from 1-4 pm at the Arts Center with an Opening Reception for the artists, members, friends and the public.

Local artists who work in glass, paintings, drawings, fibers, collage, mixed media, ceramics, and sculpture will have work on display, many of which will be for sale.

The exhibit offers an opportunity to see the new developments in the local arts community and to renew acquaintance with old friends and enjoy the Freedom Festival Parade and other attractions.

The Gallery will be open daily from 1-4 pm, except July 4, until the show closes on July 23. Artists, members, friends and the public are welcome at the reception where refreshments will be served in the air-conditioned gallery. For more information call the center at 536-3385 or Howard Ellis 536-2125.

The center is located at 301 Main St., East Jordan.

Scholastic book fair to benefit Boyne library

The Boyne District Library is hosting a Scholastic Book Fair, from July 13-15, for book lovers of all ages. The book sale will be open on Tuesday and Thursday, July 13 and 15, from noon-7 p.m., and on Wednesday, July 14, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. On Thursday, Clifford the Big Red Dog will make a special appearance from 1-3 p.m.

Books will be available covering a range of interests, for readers from preschool to adult. The sale will feature a "buy one, get one free" special throughout. Additional items, such as posters and bookmarks, will also be available. The sale will be held in the library's downstairs Community Room. For more information, call the library at 582-7861.

ALSO ON TAP at the Boyne District Library are the kids' summer reading programs, offered each year free to the public. It's not too late to sign up children ages preschool through middle school for this summer's reading fun. For preschoolers, the library offers a weekly StoryTime, on Mondays, June 28 through July 26, at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. or 2 p.m.

Elementary Summer Reading is for kids finishing kindergarten through fourth grade, and will be held on Wednesdays, from 9:30-10:30 a.m.

Middle School Summer Reading, for kids finishing fifth through eighth grades, is an independent reading program with Book Bingo cards to be completed for prizes.

There is no charge, but pre-registration is required. To register, call the library at 582-7861 or stop by at 201 E. Main St., Boyne City.

Playhouse raffle

The Fourth of July Festival Committee in Boyne City is once again raffling off a hand-crafted wooden playhouse, created through the hard work and generosity of local residents. Materials were donated by F.O. Barden Lumber Co., with labor donated by the Boyne City High School Building Trades class. Tickets for the raffle are a $1 each, and can be purchased from members of the Fourth of July Committee or at the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce, where the house is currently on display. The drawing will be held on July 6 at 2 p.m. at the chamber. Proceeds will benefit the festival.

STUDENT NEWS

AMBERLEE LIFER of East Jordan was one of only 100 Michigan high school students chosen to participate in the week-long program of intensive government study during Albion Colleges recent Operation Bently.

The group was involved in the simulations of city government and the Michigan State Senate including meetings with Genna Gent, director of communications for Governor Granholm, Senate Democratic floor leader Mark Schauer; State Representative Doug Hart; Democratic Party Co-Chair Melvin "Butch" Hollowell; and a number of other state and local political officials.

Lifer is a sophomore at East Jordan High School. She is the daughter of Raymond Lifer and Trisha Lifer.

A circle of Friends

Group raises funds, creates friendships, at the Crooked Tree libraries

Plenty of libraries have Friends groups, typically comprised of hard-working, book-loving volunteers seeking to support the libraries they love. The Crooked Tree District Library, however, with branches in Walloon Lake and Boyne Falls, has something a little bit unique: a six-year-old group, with a core membership that's 12-15 people strong, and a membership list of supporters numbering around 100. More than that, said Friends of the Crooked Tree District Library member Babs Hanahan, "it's like a big family."

It's a sentiment that's echoed by secretary Cynthia Hermann as well as president Cindy Young, and, likely, by the rest of the membership as well. "It's a wonderful group," Young said. "It's brought together a very diverse group of people who have this common interest."

Formed in 1998, after learning that the community would receive a new library facility thanks to a gift from the Mary K. Peabody Foundation, the group maintains to this day the primary goal of fund-raising, both to support a growing endowment fund as well as programming and physical needs of the library.

The group has provided a variety of supplies and services to the library, including materials for kids' reading programs, shelving, and computer equipment. "Fund-raising is still our main focus," Young said. "We just love to look around to see things the library might need."

It's not just since the new building was constructed, however, that the community has had a soft spot for the library. According to Young, "this area has always had a strong library." Becoming a district library in 1977, the library existed well before that, in various locations, including occupying a room at the fire hall, at the old school, and at an old church.

The Friends of the Crooked Tree District Library love to share its library with others. To that end, the group is hosting an open house event at the Walloon Lake branch on Monday, June 28, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m., to coincide with the Crooked Tree Home Tour in the area.

Though much support comes from the influx of summer residents to Walloon, the library has, the members emphasize, a year-round niche in the community. "Kids get off the school bus at the library once or twice a week" through the winter, Hanahan said. "We definitely have a year-round business."

While the decision regarding the library's direction and programming are left to director Susan Conklin and the library's board of directors, the Friends are content to provide whatever support is necessary, much of which has come in the form of an unusually long list of successful fund-raisers.

It's a string of successes that most non-profit organizations would love to call their own. From the Library Lover's Dinner, held in conjunction with the Walloon Lake Inn to the always eagerly-anticipated Geranium Sale, the Friends seem to have an uncanny knack for tapping in to fund-raising events that tickle the fancy of those inclined to give.

Possibly the group's greatest accomplishment, asserts

Hermann, is the publication last year of a book, entitled "Walloon Yesterdays," featuring the pictures, postcards, and memories of present and former Walloon residents. The book has proved a worthy fundraiser in and of itself, the culmination of three years of work which included the Friends members as well as a number of other contributors.

Other fund-raisers have been less grand, but equally important, like postcard and calendar sales, and, one year, the creation of a coloring book. The group has also worked together to create a regular newsletter, mailed to patrons.

Young attributes the many successes and wealth of ideas to brainstorming by a group of folks with varied backgrounds, each bringing a different perspective to the table.

Cooperative efforts with a willing director likewise contribute to the group's success. "We have a great working relationship with the director (Conklin)," Young said. "We have a real open line of communication."

From Conklin's perspective, the Friends group make's a big difference in the long-term health of both of the library's branches.

"At times when you need a volunteer, it's great to have an active group," she said, adding that most of the members are also regular library visitors who make themselves readily available. "It's good to know that you have this volunteer base. They're all capable and willing to do all kinds of things."

"I just think we're a group of friends," Hanahan concludes. "The name is perfect."

For more information, to make a contribution, or to join the Friends group, call Young at 582-9803 or the Walloon branch of the library at 535-2111.

Open house set at Watershed Center

The Friends of the Jordan River Watershed (FOJ) invites the community to attend an open house at the Jordan River Watershed Center, next to Sportsman's Park, during the East Jordan Freedom Festival. Tours of the Watershed Center and the Nature Trails will be held from 5-7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, June 24 and 25, and from noon to 6 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday, June 26 and 27. Telescopes and binoculars will be available for viewing the eagles and their fledgling.

The mission of Friends of the Jordan is to conserve the natural resources and protect the environmental quality of the Jordan River and its watershed. With the cooperation and assistance of the City of East Jordan, volunteers and much help from local business and industry, Friends of the Jordan moved the historic (circa 1870) Vance Building to its new home beside the grassy marsh of the Jordan River. FOJ developed a 10-phase plan to restore the historic storefront and create an educational/environmental center wherein students, residents and visitors can learn about the unique natural features and history of the Jordan River Watershed.

Youth Advisory Council grants announced

When the Charlevoix County Community Foundation's Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) surveyed their peers last year, they found their greatest concerns included alcohol and substance abuse, and lack of recreational facilities. This spring, with these issues in mind, the YAC recommended awards totaling nearly $30,000 to republish a book to help counsel teens with substance abuse problems, as well as funding assistance for a variety of sports facilities from a skate park to a non-motorized trail. There were 13 non-profit organizations receiving YAC monies for 14 programs within this funding cycle. The organizations, the successful projects and amount of the grant awards are as follows:

- Bay Area Substance Education Services (BASES) — $3,000 to support the reprint and update of the publication "Young People in Recovery."
- Camp Daggett — $2,600 to replace a variety of recreational equipment needed to expand programs, add variety and increase safety for the summer camping program.
- Challenge Mountain — $2,000 to add environmental education activities in a new program pairing seniors with at-risk youth called "Bridging Bridges in the Volunteer Gap."
- Charlevoix Area Skate Park — $7,000 towards the construction of a skate park facility in Charlevoix to ensure a safe place for skate-boarders and in-line skaters.

- Child and Family Services — $1,350 to provide materials and instruction for foster parents to prepare a scrapbook style record of the life of the child in their care.
- East Jordan Public Schools — $228 to provide lunch for the East Jordan honors students during the third annual spring cleanup of the Jordan River.
- MSU Extension, Charlevoix County — $1,500 to provide stipends for low-income, high-risk youth to participate in 4-H programs.
- MSU Extension, Charlevoix County — $500 towards the "Take a Day On" program to promote leadership training and volunteerism among youth in Boyne Falls Public Schools.

- Northwest Michigan Human Services Agency — $425 to provide local match support for the Head Start "Reading is Fundamental" program.
- Raven Hill Discovery Center — $4,220 toward the "Backyard Environmental Education" BEE project that focuses on improving teacher and student science processing skills of observing and measuring.
- Top of Michigan Trails Council — $3,000 to provide engineering costs for the proposed Charlevoix to Boyne City non-motorized trail link.
- Crooked Tree Arts Council for VSA Arts of Michigan — $2,500 to support a barrier-free arts festival for special needs students.

- Planned Parenthood of Northern Michigan — $487 to support the continuation of the "Out of the Locker Room" program for teenage boys.

The Charlevoix County Community Foundation's Youth Advisory Committee has now distributed almost $415,000 to programs benefiting young people since the group started making grants in 1994. Money for grant making comes from a special endowment called the Charlevoix County Youth Fund held by the Community Foundation. The fund was spearheaded with financial support from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and has assets of more than $1 million.

Members of the Community Foundation Youth Advisory Committee are Britany Crandall, Danielle Cary, and Rachel McDonough from Beaver Island; Erin Moriarity, Reed Ameel, and Riley O'Brien from Boyne City; Megan Pernicano, Ashley Mauchmar, and Darryl Kowalski from Boyne Falls; Zita Anderson, AnnaKate Trubilowicz, and Matt Teuscher from Charlevoix; and Patrick Teske, Tabitha Grover and Sierra Roberts from East Jordan.

The next deadline for submitting a grant request to the Foundation for youth related projects is Oct. 1, 2004. For more information about grant making opportunities, or the Community Foundation, call 536-2440.

Social Security benefits should go only to legal citizens

TO THE EDITOR:

How much of your own Social Security benefits are you willing to give to an illegal alien from Mexico? Right now, the Social Security Administration is holding high-level talks with Mexican government officials. They plan to pay Social Security benefits to illegal aliens from Mexico, directly from your Social Security Trust Fund.

The Washington Post was first to reveal this scandal and the story gets worse as more details emerge. High-level U.S. and Mexican officials have already held several meetings since November 2001 and they insist these meetings are "informal" and "preliminary." But an internal Social Security Administration memo obtained by The Washington Post says the agreement "is expected to move forward at an accelerated pace," with the support of both governments, and could be in force any day now. This clearly shows work is further along than either government is willing to admit and the clock is ticking on your Social Security and on mine.

As reported by The Washington Post, there's no doubt this plan will "put tens of thousands of Mexicans onto the Social Security roster and send hundreds of millions of dollars in benefits south of the border." An independent research group goes further, to warn that the government's figures "seriously underestimate the number of Mexicans who would seek Social Security benefits."

It's unbelievable that our government would hand out Social Security benefits to illegal aliens, but that's exactly what our government plans to do and we're not talking about American citizens who came here legally from Mexico, or who are descended from Mexican immigrants, and who paid into Social Security during their working lives. Instead, this plan will give Social Security benefits to Mexican citizens, including illegal aliens! Did the bureaucrats forget that senior citizens pay taxes, too and that senior citizens also vote? And now they tell us — with a straight face — that they want to take a billion dollars from Social Security and pay it to non-U.S. citizens?

You and I must remind the politicians we elected to represent us in Washington, D.C., that senior citizens will not let them get away with this vote-buying scheme because you and I both know the politicians are doing this to attract the "Hispanic vote" with our Social Security money that was paid for with our tax dollars over a lifetime of hard work! There is only one way to deal with a politician who has his hand in the cookie jar. Expose him, and shame him into doing the right thing.

To block this major threat to your Social Security, Congressman Dana Rohrabacher has introduced a bill called H.R. 1631, "The No Social Security for Illegal Immigrants Act of 2003" and this bill will stop what Congressman Rohrabacher declared is "the greatest threat Social Security has ever faced." Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. We need to know what's going on in our communities, state and nation, and be ready to take an active part in preserving our freedoms and liberty. If you agree with what I have written, then tell Congress now! At the Capital call Representative Stupak at (202) 224-4822, Senator Levin at (202) 224-6221 and Senator Stabenow at (202) 224-4822. This is your chance to have your views heard and your voice could be the one to make the difference.

Area soldier tells his side of the war in Iraq

(Editor's Note: This letter was written by the nephew of local resident Debbie Juday, who forwarded it to The Citizen-Journal.)

TO THE EDITOR:

From an American soldier, in response to a debate going on in his family about Iraq:

If you were here you would see that most Iraqis do want us here. We have freed them from an oppressive and evil man. He is like Hitler. The man has gassed his own people for years. If someone were to disagree with him or even thought to have disagreed with him they would come to their home which has no electricity, no water, very little food and rape their wives and kill their children in front of them. Then imprison them for god knows how long. With one of his many palaces he built on the Tigris River he could have gave running water and electricity to a city of 10,000 people. I can't count on my fingers how many palaces he has on that river.

I am proud to be here and I am proud of my commander and chief. He has been blowing of the UN since the gulf war and Clinton didn't have the [guts] to do anything about it except launch a few missiles here and there. Our air force patrolled no fly zone and were shot at by anti-aircraft weapons all the time. Now we have the strongest country on earth. Let someone shoot at one of our pilots and get away with it.

Since I've been here we have shut down terror camps so those that say he didn't support terrorism are full of [bull]. We found mobile chemical labs, mortar with chemical war heads. They built so many weapons since the gulf war that they were not supposed to it would be impossible for me to list them. I have had about 10 of my friends shot over here fighting for the freedom of not only the Iraqi people but the people of this whole region and they believed in what they were doing.

We don't want to read how bad it is for us over here, we NEED the support, especially from family. I left my son and my wife to come to this country and that is hard enough. I read and hear how wrong I am all the time for being here. When you say we're wrong for being here you are saying I am wrong for being here. And the last thing I need to hear when I could get shot or blown up is someone in my family doesn't support me or what I do.

Things have calmed down a lot, I'm sure you know that. But that doesn't mean it's a walk in the park. Last week they shot a rocket in to where I live and the thing hit eight connexes from mine. So I'm not really all that safe even in the place that I sleep. But we don't just fight

MANY THANKS

Care packages are reaching local soliders

(Editor's Note: This thank you from local soldier Kelli Howard was forwarded to The Citizen-Journal from Maxine Hough of the American Legion Post #228. Howard is currently stationed in Iraq, and was among the recipients of care packages donated by local residents to soldiers overseas.)

I just wanted to say I recieved the packages you and the legion sent... THANKYOU!

We are fine here. Really hot! We're going to start doing night operations to keep a little cooler.

I hope all is well at home. Take care and, again, thank you!

GUEST COLUMN

There is help for those suffering from anorexia

By TAMMY CROY MCMILLIAN

Summer begins with an excitement of friends and fun; however, for some older youth, a nightmare lurks. Anorexia Nervosa.

The average age of onset for Anorexia Nervosa is 17.5 years, and 90 percent are females. Anorexia Nervosa (restriction of foods) and Bulimia (binging on large amounts of food and vomiting) constitutes one of the highest mortality rates among psychiatric disorders. Often, depression and anxiety can accompany both Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia. Research suggests that sufferers of Anorexia Nervosa are at risk for premature death by starvation and suicide. In the mental health profession there is debate about how or why Anorexia Nervosa begins. There are youth who bought prom dresses, monitored eating for a few days before the big night, and were out with friends for pizza the next day. Unfortunately, for a few, something was triggered, severe food restriction takes hold, and pizza becomes a terrifying enemy. I categorize the first group as "Learning from Beauty Culture - Transient Dieters" and the second group high risk for Anorexia Nervosa — the spiral picks up momentum with each pound lost.

Anorexics report feeling better about themselves each day they are able to restrict foods. It is as if self-esteem has become confused with starvation. The preoccupation for weight loss or a "drive for thinness" becomes all encompassing for the older youth. Excessive counting of calories acts as a gauge leading to more and more food restriction. Often, Anorexics believe that 200 to 500 calories [a day] is too much! Anorexics report that they MUST know how much they weigh because they have an extreme fear of becoming fat. (Interestingly, those diagnosed with Anorexia Nervosa do not suffer from obesity prior to the illness.) With each passing day, the Anorexic begins missing meals, not eating with friends or family and finds any excuse to avoid an occasion where food is available. One youth told me that she started putting her food in a plastic bag during dinners so she could hide her food restriction from family. Often food is hidden in places throughout the home and thrown away later in the night. Also, excessive exercise becomes the youth's way to "purge" calories. Eating small amounts of food is immediately followed by jogging, sit-ups, using work out equipment, and biking.

Commonly, eating disorders begin with Anorexia Nervosa and then lead into Bulimia where a cycle of both eating disorders take over.

Youth begin bingeing on large amounts of food after long periods of food restriction, which is attributed to the feelings of starvation. Self-induced vomiting removes the food from the body leaving noticeable swelling of the salvia glands and broken blood vessels in the eyes. Sometimes, youth begin using food purging because family and friends have commented on the food restriction and weight loss. To avoid questions, the Anorexic increases eating to stop any attention to her body. Meanwhile she is vomiting the food to satisfy the drive for thinness and fear of becoming fat. The negative effects of Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia are complex. Some of the outcomes can include long-term psychological problems, menstrual dysfunction, electrolyte imbalances, and stress fractures to the skeletal system, infertility, premature osteoporosis, and death.

HOW TO HELP:

1. Stay away from "body comments"—did you know that telling Anorexics that they are thin brings about more desire to lose weight?
2. Stop the use of "fake foods" in the home, such as meal substitutes in liquid and powder form, or energy bars. Remember diets do not work — get into meal planning action not dieting reaction! Give real food a chance.

3. Do not encourage diet aids such as diet pills, stimulants, gym formulas to enhance weight loss. Any weight loss program needs to be monitored by a youth's physician.

4. Do not encourage diets. If a youth's body health is in question, ask their doctor for direction. Youth who hear negative comments about "hips, butt, thighs, and stomach" and see routine dieting have an increased risk of eating disorders.

5. Early intervention is the key to treating this illness. Once Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia become entrenched, the illness is difficult to relinquish. The eating disorder that started at 17 years old moves well into the 20s, 30s and 40s for the majority of sufferers.

6. Support treatment. Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia require mental health professionals who have expertise in eating disorders to ensure proper intervention.

Many youth report wanting out of the eating disorder but they do not want to gain weight. This is the trap — fear of becoming fat, but the fear of dying as well.

The vicious cycle, the body deteriorates, depression becomes severe, and the family can feel like their world is being shattered not knowing how to help. Intervene by getting help today.

Don't let the disillusionment of power presented by Anorexia Nervosa trick family or friends into silence.

(Tammy Croy McMillian, MSW, ACSW, CSW is an eating disorder specialist. She is a third year PhD Student at Loyola University Chicago and has a mental health practice in Boyne City.)

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

OLD NEWS but good news and a great testimony of "Where there's a will there's a way" came in about Lloyd Kelsey. He and his wife Joyce moved to Boyne City's Hi Life Lane a couple of years ago and are winter-time snowbirds of Gulf Shores, Ala. Lloyd, 78, an avid horseshoe player, could not throw them this year, as he'd had a recent foot operation, chose another way to "Stay in the games" at the Gulf Shores Beach Club -- he joined a Bocce Ball team. There were 32 teams, with two men on each team and Lloyd won first place in the tournaments. Pictured in the Village Post, he looks pretty proud, as he well should be! His grandson, Daniel Mancuso, placed third.

TINA (VAN ALSTINE) HORN of Colorado and her three children, Lona Ruby, 15, Corey, 14, and Allysen Maree, 11 months, are here visiting her family Lloyd and Ruby Van Alstine of Boyne City. They are planning to be here for one month and visit other family members and enjoy the wonderful 4th of July festivities in Boyne City.

LARRY AND NORMA BEAN of Boyne City enjoyed little vacation time. They went to Lexington, Ky. for their granddaughter's wedding on June 19, then from there on June 21 they drove to Pittsburgh to visit with her sister, Alice, and husband for a week.

ERIC MOORE of Boyne City is a patient in Northern Michigan Hospital, following emergency surgery due to his acute appendicitis attack on Thursday.

ALICE BELL, a friend and neighbor to many Litzenburger Place these past four years will be missed. Alice moved on Saturday to Ypsilanti, to be closer to her daughter.

THE SMELT CITY Auxiliary is looking forward to a good turnout for their infamous Swiss steak dinner on Saturday, June 26, at the VFW. The good time of gathering and serving will be going on from 5-7 p.m.

CONGRATULATIONS go out to the Rev. and Mrs. Dave and Cindy Crumbaugh, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Saturday! Much to the surprise of Cindy, Pastor Dave and his daughter, Alisha Collins, who is working on her Master's degree in Kansas, planned the whole event at the Crumbaugh home. There were many there from his former church in Gladwin as well as friends and family from the area, witnessing them renewing their wedding vows, officiated by the Rev. John Spohn, who had married them 25 years ago. All enjoyed festivities of congratulating the "newlyweds" and the grilled and other delicious dishes in having a wonderful time, including Alisha's 13-month-old daughter, and the Crumbaugh's granddaughter, Scheeli Collins.

BILL AND JANE (NORTHUP) Charvat of Winter Park, Fla. are in Boyne City, on business as well as visiting relatives here.

THANKS TO Youth Directors Charles and Janine Winkler of the United Methodist Church in Boyne City, this past Wednesday's "Fun Night" was a huge success! All, including the elderly, the youth, and visitors attending enjoyed the voluntary "talent" performances of special reading, music, joke telling, singing and refreshments.

GRADUATING SENIOR Jennifer Sheldon of Concord Academy Boyne was honored with an open house on Sunday, June 13, at Whiting Park. Hosted by her grandmother Sally Brown, the party included many friends and relatives enjoying the fun. The late afternoon storm did not dampen activities!

KAYLA REIDEL and Leslie Meads of Boyne City are among those attending the Annual Girl's State event, held at Michigan State University this week.

HEARTFELT SYMPATHIES go out to the friends and families of Gordon Crandall, of Horton Bay, James Addis of East Jordan, and Francis "Fritz" Jarema of Boyne City, who all passed away this past week.

JENE ATHEY, son Jeff, and friends Lee, Niko, and John of Boyne City spent overnight Friday with his parents, Rosie and Mark Kessler in Bowling Green, Ohio. On Saturday, all joined the thousands attending the Nascar races in Brooklyn, Mich. over the weekend.

BOYNE CITY High School class of 2004 graduate Lacey Jean Leaman was honored with an open house yard party by her parents, Dave and Judy Leaman. Classmates, family and friends enjoyed sharing this special time with her. Stacey plans on working throughout the summer and entering North Central Michigan College in the fall.

WELCOME BACK to Boyne Country! Tom and Lore Cosier are glad to have their daughters, Lydia Cosier, Elizabeth Klaassen and her daughter Salome Klaassen arrive safe after a long trip from the Good Seed Mission in Gambia, West Africa. Salome, who will be two years old in July, is a lively blue-eyed darling who loves to sing and "read" her books. Gail Gerrie and girls Angel, Amy and Hannah, spent Sunday afternoon catching up with the missions exciting work and progress. Elizabeth's husband Hermann will be joining the family later this summer in time for the birth of their second child.

APPRECIATION goes out to the considerate and cautious drivers of large and small vehicles, especially with the influx of traffic, due to the summer season. There are now more area power wheel chair drivers as well as bicyclists on available sidewalks, who still need to cross at street corners. Absolute caution by bicyclists, vehicle and power chair operators will create safety for all to get to wherever it is you are going!

EXTRA HEALTH TIP: SUNSCREEN PROTECTION

Nearly 90% of skin cancers are associated with sun exposure. While outdoors, be sure to protect all exposed skin from the sun. Don't forget your nose, ears, lips, bald spots and the back of your neck. Read the labels on sunscreens carefully and purchase products that protect against both UVA and UVB rays because both can damage your skin. Look for a sun protection factor (SPF) of at least 15. Apply sunscreen thoroughly 30 minutes before going out and reapply every 2 hours, especially if swimming. Toss out sunscreen that may be more than 2-3 years old.

Local shooters to represent Michigan at national competition

Two members of the Charlevoix County 4-H Shotgun team will be representing Michigan at the National 4-H Shooting Sports Competition in Columbia, Missouri, June 28-July 2.

Sixteen-year-old team captain Matthew Haver, a senior at Boyne City High School, and 15-year-old Jonathon Haver, a sophomore, applied for and were appointed to positions on the Michigan Shotgun team. As a part of this four-member team, both boys will be competing in skeet, trap and sporting clays. The other two team members are Chris Haver and Ethan Heiden, both 14, of Lenawee County.

While in Missouri, the team members will have an opportunity to meet with the US Olympic shooting coach from the Olympic training center in Colorado.

Both Matthew and Jonathon have been active in the last five years in their local club, having competed in several shotgun events, including 4-H and the 4-H State Shoots, MUCC State Skeet and Trap, MUCC State Sporting Clays, the Michigan Junior Traveling League, Ducks Unlimited, and a Scholastic Clays Target Program. The two have brought back several medals and plenty of shooting experience.

This week, both will be shooting between 300 and 500 rounds at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club in preparation for the competition.

Matthew and Jonathon are accepting donations to help offset travel and shooting expenses; anyone who would like to make a tax-deductible donation or contribution can do so through the front desk at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club, or directly to: Matthew and Jonathon Haver, 06440 Camp Daggett Rd., Boyne City, MI 49712, or by calling 582-7739.

Matthew and Jonathon Haver, both students at Boyne City High School, have participated in shooting clubs in the area for five years.

been in the Boyne City area since the late 1880s. "Many histories have already been written but I am concerned that we are losing records that may never be recoverable," Goodenough writes in a letter that she's circulating throughout the local area. "They are sitting in individual's homes, in township halls, in boxes in libraries and in the basements of city and county halls." Those who have ideas or wish to participate are invited to attend the June 28 meeting. Those who cannot attend, but who would like to take part, can call Goodenough at 582-7042 or e-mail her at cgooden123@aol.com. The Boyne District Library is located at 201 E. Main St. in Boyne City.

Marina hearing

dent Marty Moody. Those in support of the project, however, maintained that the dock would be good for businesses in the downtown area, contributing to the overall economic health of Boyne City. "I think these guys need to be commended," said local business owner and resident Leanne Arthurs, noting that her downtown store is frequented by transient boaters. "If we work together as a team, I think it can be a win-win situation here." "I think this is an amazing opportunity," said resident Steve Voice, an environmental consultant and boater. "This is something that is a tremendous benefit to the City." It was noted that what makes the proposal most attractive is the fact that it will be funded solely by private dollars. "I don't have to pay these people anything to create a public good," Arthurs said.

would have on other docks in the vicinity, a problem compounded by the existence of old pilings adjacent to the proposed marina. "We have no issue with a dock as a neighbor," Scroggie said. "The issue we have is it's the only way in to our waterway." On the other side of the issue, State of Michigan Waterways Commission chairman John Winn stated support for the issue on behalf of his organization. "We're losing transient boating slips at an alarming rate in this state," Winn said. "[The proposed marina] is good for boaters and it's good for the State of Michigan." Developer Krueger, who opened the meeting with a brief presentation of the plans, asserted his own take on the situation, maintaining that it is his contention that the marina as proposed does not encroach on anyone else's property. "We were very cognizant of the disputed 'Bermuda Triangle' (the property over which the City asserts ownership), and we were sure to place the dock well within our own riparian and our own property rights," Krueger said. "My dock is my passion," he concluded. "I love boats and I love to have people come to the city by boat." According to the DEQ, the hearing pertained only to the construction permit, being considered under Part 301, Inland Lakes and Streams, of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Act, 1994 PA 451, and another arm of the department would later be involved with issues regarding a marina operating permit. The department will accept comments regarding the proposal for 15 calendar days following the meeting. Written comments can be sent to DEQ, GLMD, 2100 W. M-32, Gaylord, MI 49735. Refer to file number 03-150002-P. According to DEQ environmental quality analyst Brian Bury, who facilitated the meeting, all comments will be reviewed during the permitting process. If no questions or problems arise during that time that require further information from the applicant, a decision could be made within a month.

East Jordan celebrated the grand opening of its Community Auditorium in style last week, with a concert by hometown favorites Julie Mickey and Amy (Mickey) Sherman, and their band, The Mickeys. The two, 1995 grads of East Jordan High School, have spent the last few years first pursuing an education and then living and working on a career in music in Nashville, Tenn. The East Jordan appearance found the group between tours of Europe, where they've had great success with their first CD, finding our way. At left, Amy gazes out into the darkened theatre, attempting to make out the faces of the nearly 500 patrons who packed in to see the performance, while Julie, below, offers her melodious vocals to the crowd. Below left, Amy autographs a program for an eager young fan.
