Car show, drag races on tap for Labor Day in Boyne City

It's all about autos in Boyne City, as the annual Labor Day Car Show rolls into town, sponsored by Great Lakes Motor Works.

The event features a cruise-in and show on Water Street on Friday night, Sept. 3, followed on Saturday, Sept. 4, by moving the festivities, and the autos, to Veteran's Memorial Park.

The weekend will also include the second annual Boyne City Drag Races, set for Sunday, Sept. 5, at the Boyne City Airport.

Sponsored by the Boyne City Police Department and the Boyne Valley Lions Club, the event will run from noon-6 p.m., featuring side-by-side eighth-mile drags.

The entry fee is $30 for car, truck or motorcycle. Admission for spectators is $10, or $5 for under 12. Pit passes are $5. Seventy-five percent of the proceeds benefit the Boyne City Airport, while 25 percent benefit the Boyne City Police Department.

For more information or to register, call Boyne City police chief Randy Howard at 582-0352 or e-mail to amy@boynecity.com.

Area students getting back to school

Though students in Boyne Falls were back in the classroom as of Tuesday, Aug. 31, other area schools will begin classes the day after Labor Day.

IN EAST JORDAN, classes will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 7, on a half-day schedule. Middle school students will start their day at noon, with dismissal at 2:49 p.m.; high school students start at 12:10 p.m., with dismissal at 2:54 p.m.; elementary students will begin at 12:20 p.m., and be dismissed at 3:04 p.m.

The bus fleet will run on the first day of school, with pickups scheduled between 10:30 and 11:45 a.m.

BOYNE CITY students will also start classes on Tuesday, Sept. 7, with a half-day.

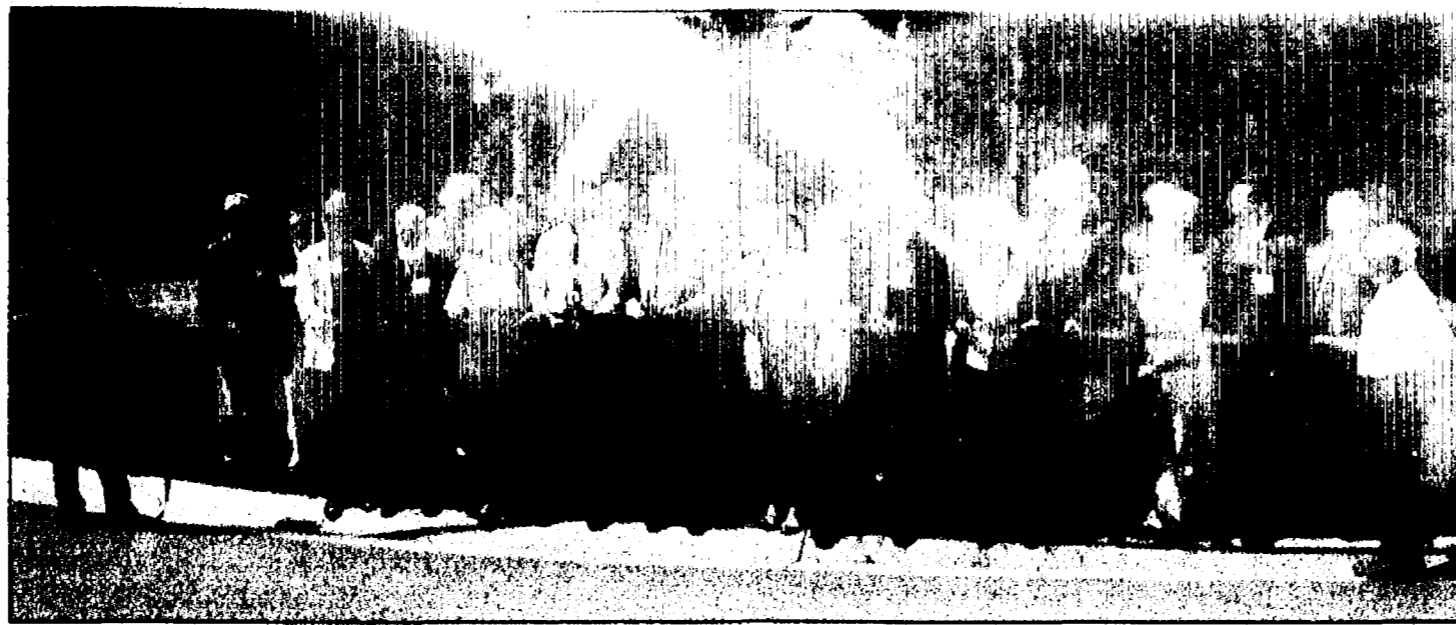

Classes will begin at 8:25 a.m. for all students, with dismissal at 11:13 a.m.

CONCORD ACADEMY BOYNE will begin the year on Tuesday, Sept. 7, with a half-day. Start time is 8:10 a.m., with dismissal at 11:45 a.m.

Paper will be a day late next week

Due to the Labor Day holiday, The Citizen-Journal will publish a day late next week.

The paper will be available on newsstands on Thursday, Sept. 9, and will be mailed to subscribers that same day.

MAKING IT OFFICIAL

Dignitaries from the local to the state level turned out last week for the official ribbon-cutting at the entrance of Phase II of Boyne City's Air Industrial Park.

Phase II of BC industrial park complete

Four years after construction began, the completion of Phase II of the Boyne City Air Industrial Park was marked by appropriate fanfare, with an official ribbon cutting and comments by dignitaries from the local to the state level.

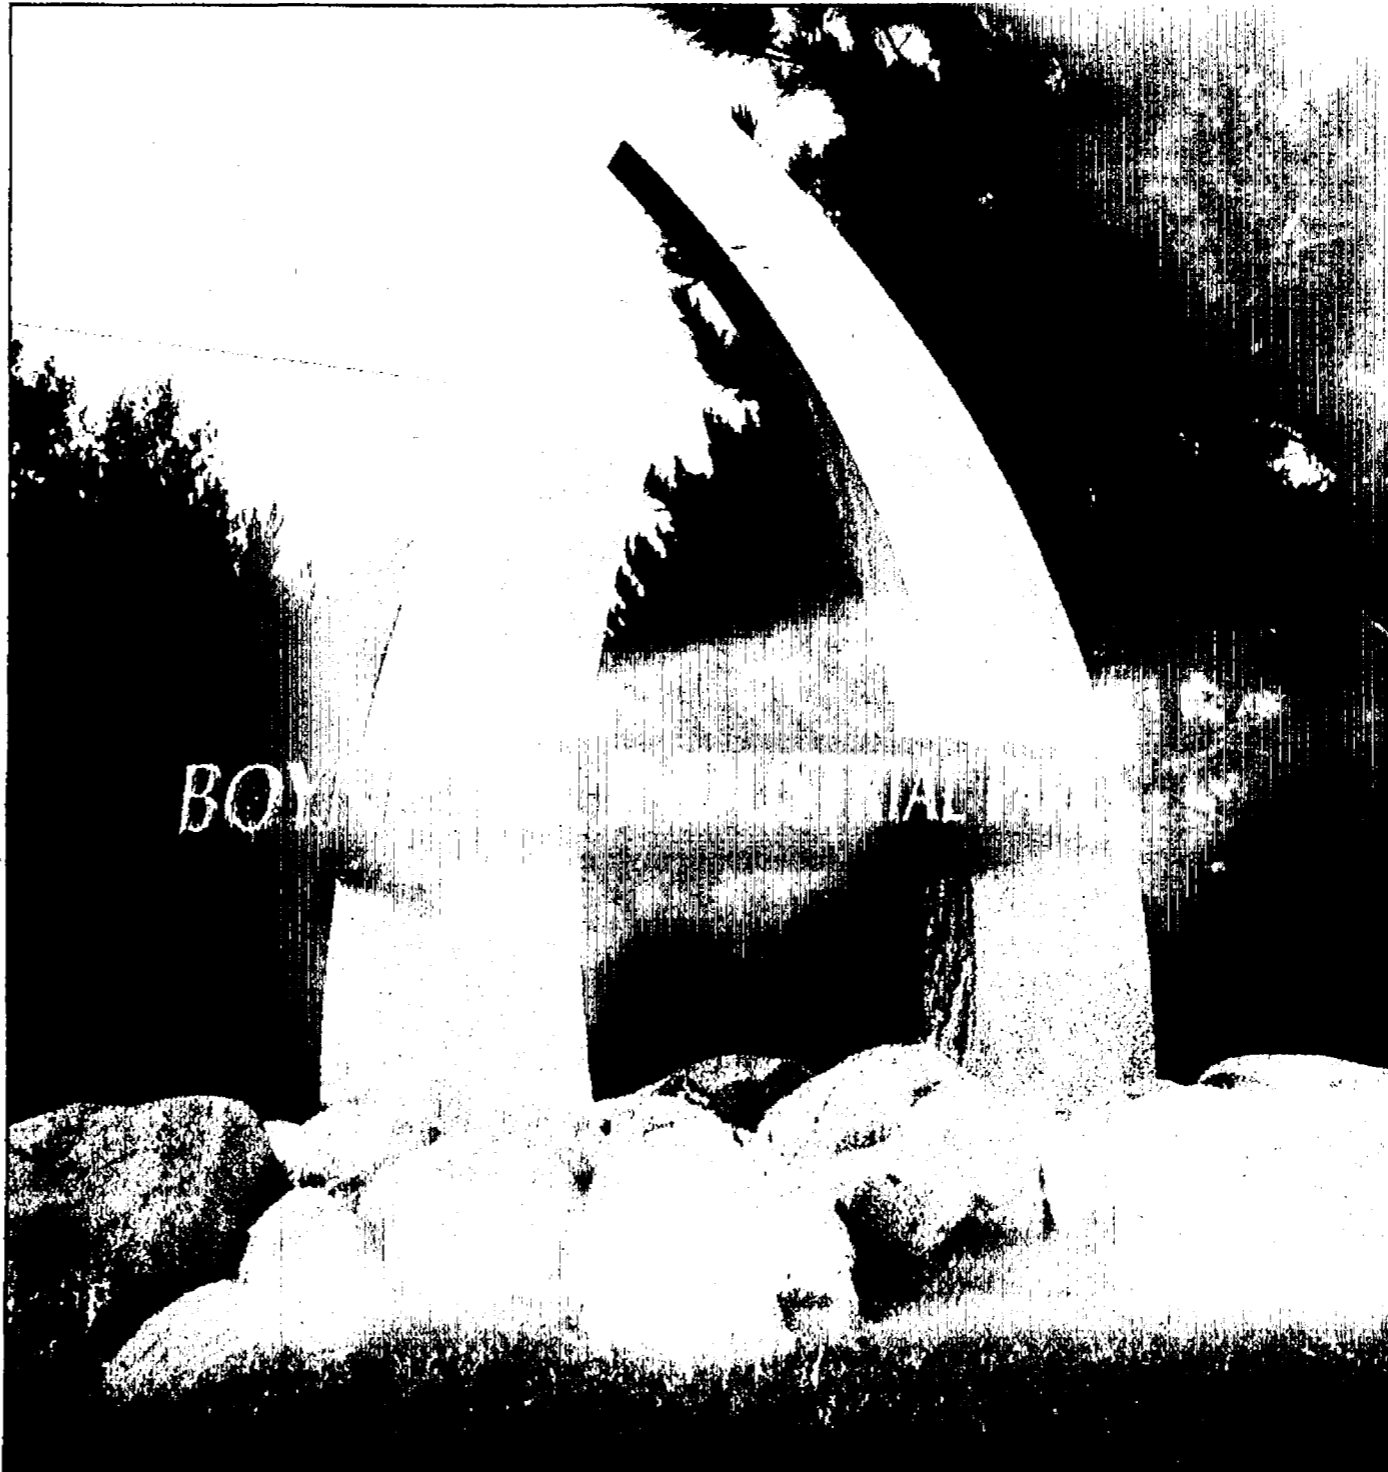

"The park has long-term implications for the economic vitality of the whole area," said Boyne City city manager Mike Cain in his opening remarks at last week's dedication. "We have everything it takes to make this a viable location [for industry]."

"This is a wonderful testament to our community," said State Senator Jason Allen (R-Traverse City). "We have a very viable downtown, good quality of life, good public services, good public safety. This helps us market our community."

Cain noted especially the creation of jobs made possible by such a park. "Without the investment [from businesses] that comes with this, without new jobs, this is all meaningless." By that criteria, with 159 full-time, year-round jobs created so far by Phase II, the project has plenty of meaning, indeed.

Funded by $1,300,350 in Community Development Block Funds and $835,000 in Economic Development Administration funds, the Phase II park expansion added 16 new lots on 50 acres onto the existing 11 lots included in the original portion of the park. Grant funds were used to create the infrastructure, such as roads, water, sewer, natural gas and electricity, to support the needs of potential new business construction at the site. As part of the grant agreement, the city pledged that 100 new jobs would be created in the industrial park; in return, the state would "forgive" a portion of the loan monies. With one and a half times that many jobs created in four years, the City has satisfied that requirement, with half of that $1.3 million loan being "forgiven."

The timeframe for that job creation is, according to Northern Lakes Eco-

Local artisan Bruce Janssen, who did the signage for the original portion of the Industrial Park, also created the graceful sign/sculpture marking the entrance of the second phase.

omic Alliance director Tom Johnson, right on target. "Industrial parks are typically built over a period of a year or two, and then they typically take, normally, a 10-year period to sell them," he said. "That's very typical across the state, and it's true down in southern Michigan as well."

At its completion, Phase II of the Boyne City Air Industrial Park boasts

Getting started

Site work marks start of Boyne Falls School expansion project

With footing foundation work already underway, students at Boyne Falls Public School started the school year on Tuesday with a glimpse at the future, which includes more space to accommodate a growing student enrollment.

The expansion project, approved by voters in April in the form of a $2.65 million bond proposal, includes classroom additions to both the elementary and middle school wings, as well as the addition of a new lab at the high school wing. Other improvements will include an expanded cafeteria, additional storage space and restrooms, and a new bus garage. Technology upgrades are also part of the construction package.

Earlier this month, according to Boyne Falls school superintendent Gary Urman, the footing foundation bid was awarded to Farrington Construction in Traverse City. The por-

JRAC, district library exploring possibilities at Carnegie building

For 17 years, the Jordan River Arts Center has called the Carnegie Library building in downtown East Jordan home. Throughout the duration of that time, the Center's governing body, the Jordan River Arts Council, has leased the space from the Jordan Valley District Library for $1 a year. The agreement, through that time, has served all parties well, by all accounts.

Recently, however, it has become clear that the future of that arrangement may be in for some adjustments.

Women are soldiers, too

By MAXINE HOUGH

SPCA Jennifer Lehto, who is a member of Boyne City's American Legion Post, has been home on leave, (an R&R in military terms) for two weeks. Soon after arriving at her home in Springwater Beach, she came to the Post to be welcomed home by her fellow Legionnaires; she was invited to be with us in the Polish Festival Parade and did officially begin the parade by leading us in the Pledge of Allegiance. After spending close to two weeks with family and friends, she agreed to an interview for The Citizen-Journal. Thinking no one person could think of enough comprehensive questions to ask of a woman soldier in Iraq, the interviewer turned to people in the community for help. Each person was challenged with "If you could ask one question of Jennifer, what would that be?" Following are the persons, their questions, and Jennifer's answers.

Dean Kleinschrodt, Commander, American Legion Post 4228, Boyne City:

Is being in the Army anything like you expected it to be?

Basically, yes. But they never fail to surprise you with a curve ball.

Jerry Evans, Past Commander, American Legion Post #228, Boyne City:

How well accepted is the support from our Legion Post and your home community?

The support is wonderful and is not only accepted but needed.

Peg Crozier, American Legion Auxiliary:

Boyne City's Jennifer Lehto, left, with friend Jessica Clements. According to Lehto, Clements was later seriously injured, and is now at the Veterans' Medical Center in Minneapolis.

How are you treated by the Iraqis? How do you feel about the comments from people back here that our soldiers shouldn't be in Iraq? The Iraqis are patient and respectful ... as we must be with them. Most

OBITUARIES

Donald D. Russell

Donald D. Russell, 74, passed away Aug. 25, 2004 at his home after a two year battle with cancer. In keeping with Don's wishes cremation has taken place and there will be no funeral at this time. A private family gathering will be held at his home at a later date.

He was born and raised in Boyne City, the son of Marion and Vivian Russell. He graduated from Boyne City High School in 1948. He served four years in the United States Navy and was a veteran of the Korean War.

On Sept. 6, 1958 he married Katherine Mayrand in Petoskey. They made their home in Grand Rapids and Indian River before retiring to the Boyne City area. He was a lineman for Consumers Energy for 38 years. He enjoyed both hunting and fishing but the most important part of his life was his family. He is survived by his wife, Katherine (Kay) of 45 years; son Eric (LeaAnn) Russell of Olympia, Wa., son, Michael (Regina) Russell of Ishpeming; daughters, Linda and Lisa Russell of Boyne City; grandson Tristan; siblings, brothers Jack Russell and Gordon (Lorraine) Russell of Grand Rapids, sisters Kathleen (David) Smith, Sparta, Bonnie (Frank) Kaminski, Boyne Falls, Doreen (David) Larson, Boyne City, Karen Russell, Boyne City, Michelle Meader Lakeland, Fla., brother-in-law, Al Witte, and many nieces and nephews. Don was preceded in death by his parents; sisters, Mary Witte and Nancy Shepard and sister-in-law, Bernice Russell.

In lieu of flowers the family suggests that contributions be made to Hospice of Northwest Michigan.

Arrangements were made by Stackus Funeral Home of Boyne City.

Ready to break ground

Official groundbreaking ceremony set for Tuesday, Sept. 7

After more than two years of grassroots fund-raising, the East Jordan Bandshell will become a reality, with an official groundbreaking set for Sept. 7, and construction planned to be completed this fall.

The public is invited to attend the brief groundbreaking ceremony on Tuesday at 7 p.m., at the bandshell's location in Memorial Park, downtown East Jordan.

Work on the structure, designed with a railroad depot theme to fit with the historic railroad engine that also occupies the park, is expected to move along fairly quickly. "Our timeline is to be completed this fall," said bandshell committee chairman Carl Bloom. "That will give us the winter to do proper signage, a donor board, etc."

"We'll have an official dedication in the spring, and be ready to go for next summer," he said.

The total project cost estimate was originally $80,000, but through generous donations of labor and materials, the amount was reduced to somewhere between $65,000-70,000.

"We're having very generous contributions made by local contractors, and we're using all local workers."

--East Jordan bandshell committee chairman Carl Bloom

"We're having very generous contributions made by local contractors," Bloom said, "and we're using all local workers."

The project began at the impetus of former city commissioner Bernie Hammond, who long had dreamed of a new bandshell in the location. In 2002, the East Jordan City Commission approved the location, shortly after which Hammond stepped down as chairman of the bandshell committee, handing the reins to Carl Bloom.

Late last month, Bloom appeared before the City Commission, to request either additional space or a setback variance in order to accommodate the overhang of the building's roof. Commissioners, once again voicing support for the project, granted the additional space to the project. "I think the bandshell is a great project," said commissioner Todd McNitt in recommending the additional space be made available.

The fund-raising effort has been low-key, with a balance growing slow and steady through donations garnered without any major fund-raising event or activity. The project, Bloom said, at present has about $61,000 in cash, with $7-8,000 in hard pledges.

"We're ready to move ahead," he said. "We feel real good about the project." Besides the actual construction, moving ahead also means plans to establish an endowment fund through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, in order to provide for "perpetual maintenance and upkeep," Bloom said.

JRAC exhibit will feature "Malleable Metals"

The Jordan River Arts Council will open the 2004-05 season with a brand new exhibit, "Malleable Metals," set to open on Sept. 18 at the Jordan River Art Center in East Jordan.

The exhibit will feature the wide variety of techniques of metalsmithing used to create functional and nonfunctional works of art, using different types of metal. Area metalsmiths have been invited to participate in the exhibit, and related demonstrations and workshops have been planned.

The opening, set to coincide with the arts council's annual meeting at noon on Sept. 18 in GAR Park (across the street from the art center), will include a potluck with grilled chicken provided, a subsequent short business meeting including the announcement of officers, followed by demonstrations by a number of area artists. Metalsmiths scheduled to participate include Steve Anderson, a traditional blacksmith; Linda and Jerry Aydlett, jewelry; Art Brown, steel furniture and wall hangings; Tim Leach, casting; James Quinlan, stainless steel; Tim Sowada, forged Damascus steel knives; and John Unger, recycled and sculptural items.

In addition to those mentioned above, other artists taking part in the exhibit, set to run at the center from Sept. 18-Oct. 15, include: Laura Barber, jewelry and decorative arts; Ritch Branstron, recycled metal; Kevin Cashen, Viking-type swords; Daniel Roache, cut metal and painted sculpture; Steve Smith, metal table; Joel Stoppel, furniture; and Mike and Leslie Wolfe, iron work, decorative and functional.

Also on exhibit will be an engine model made by the late A.D. Graham, handmade knives from the collection of Jim Nowka, and metal art from the collection of Jane Diller.

Workshops will include Precious Metal Jewelry on Sept. 21, by Linda Aydlett; Mobiles on Sept. 25, by John Unger; and Knife

Traditional blacksmith artist Steven Anderson of Atwood, seen here in the blacksmith shop of Mackinac Island, will demonstrate his skills on Sept. 18 at the opening of the "Malleable Metals Exhibit" at the Jordan River Art Center. Several of his works will be in the exhibit.

Forging on Oct. 2, by Tim Sowada and Kevin Cashen. For more information or to register for workshops, call Jane Diller at 582-6399 or e-mail jjdesign@tw-valley.net.

The event has been partially funded by the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and planned by John Stevens and Jane Diller, and John T. Unger.

For more information on the upcoming exhibit, call the art center at 536-3385. The Jordan River Art Center is located at 301 Main St., East Jordan.

Kids can lift your spirits

By Ernie Harwell

If you ever need to get a different perspective on life or boost your spirits, talk to your children or grandchildren. I think being around children is helpful for everybody.

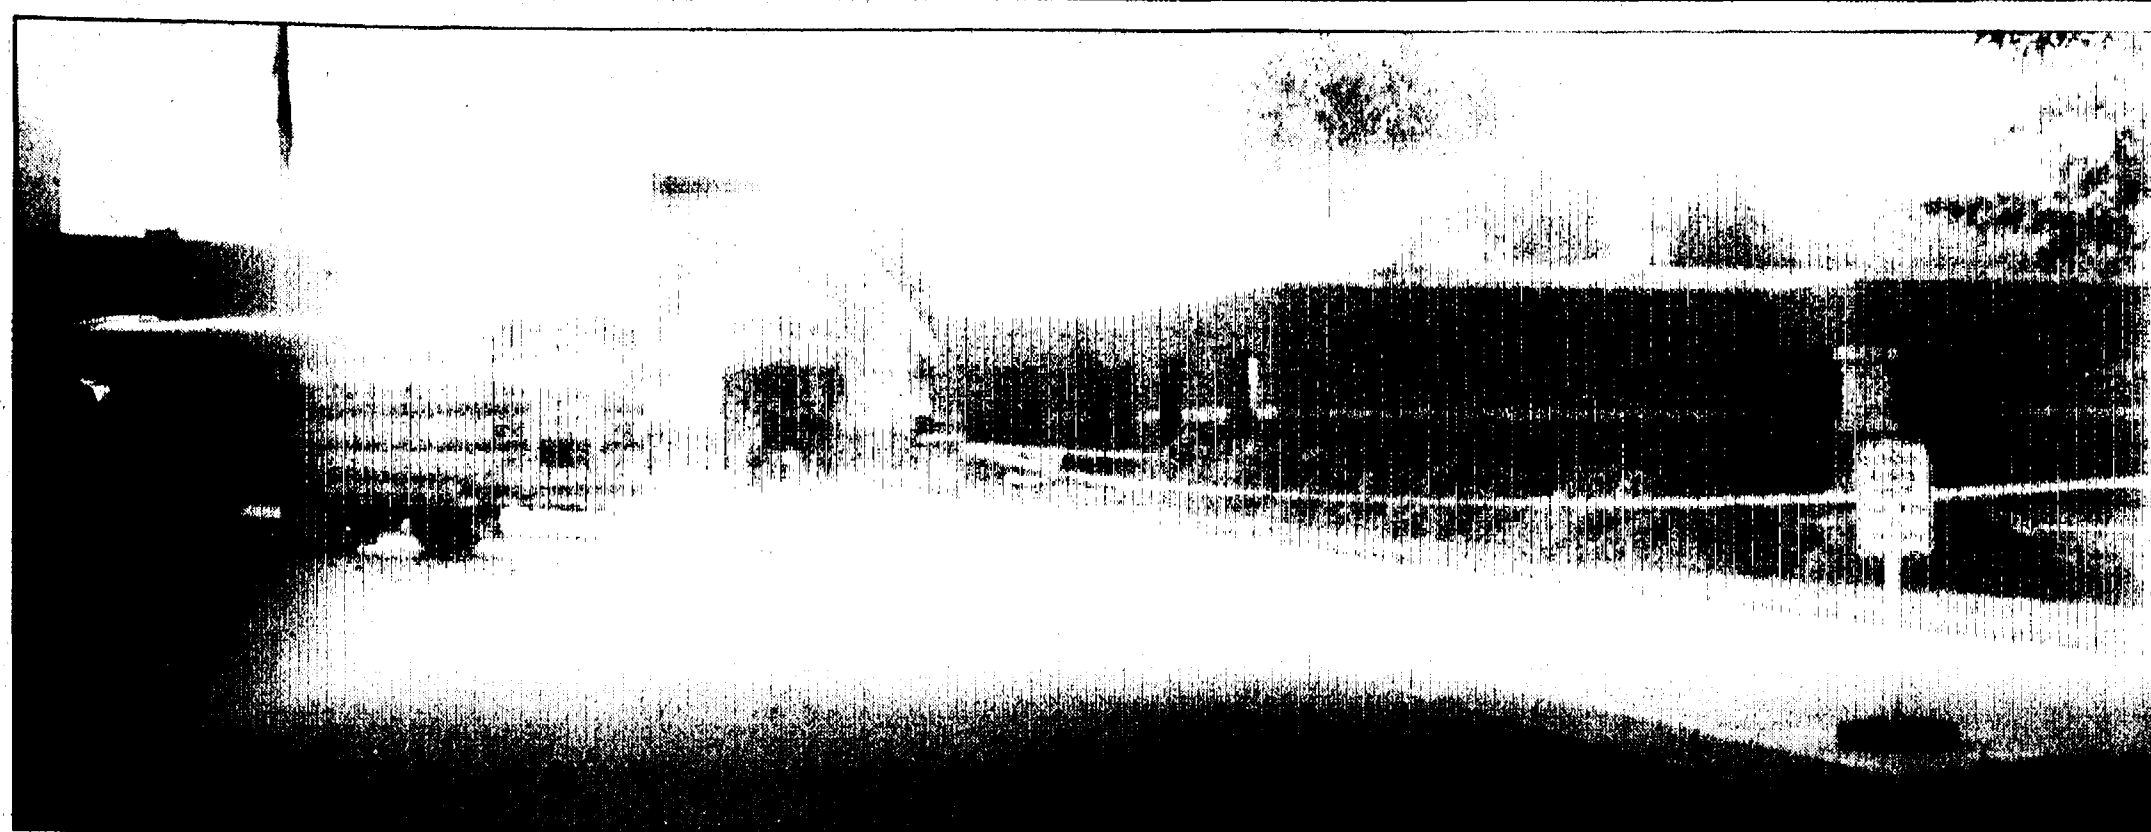

Children bring an honesty and an outlook of life that we don't see in older people who might tend to get a little cynical. Kids aren't like that; they appreciate honesty and sincerity in people. And they have the same qualities themselves. It's a lot harder to fool a child than it is an adult.

I've always felt that when you deal with children you should treat them as adults. They won't lie to you, and they have an enthusiasm that hasn't been jaded; they still have a bright outlook about things. They think that things can be done. They'll go right into things, whereas older people have a tendency to fall back and not attempt something that might broaden their horizons.

So spend time with the youngsters, we can all learn from them. And maybe they can learn a little bit from the older people.

And remember, take care of your health before it's longgg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan and Blue Care Network, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. His latest book, a collection of his baseball columns entitled "Life After Baseball," is available at local bookstores or by calling 1-800-245-5082.

Students at Boyne Falls Public School arrived for their first day on Tuesday to find construction site work already underway near the school entrance.

tion of the project, dubbed Phase I, is expected to take only a matter of two to three weeks.

Plans and specs for the Phase II bidding process, which includes actual construction of classroom space and other additions to the main building, were completed last week. Bids on that portion are due Sept. 15.

On Sept. 16, Urman said, school and project officials will start interviews with the apparent low bidder and major subcontractors, if available, to allow a period for questions on both sides.

"It's all part of the whole pre-construction process," he said.

Phase II is projected to be finished by October of 2005, though the expectation is that it will be complete enough for use by students and staff at the opening of the 2005-06 school year.

Phase III, which includes construction away from the main school building and includes project components such as the bus garage and a utility/concessions building, will likely go out to bid "soon after the 15th" Urman said, adding that the final portion of the project will depend in part on how the bidding for Phase II turns out.

Thus far, Urman said, the bidding and early construction process has been relatively problem-free.

"Things to this point have gone well," he said, giving GMB Architects much of the credit for keeping things running along smoothly. "[Architect] Marty Ruiters has been very professional, very thorough."

The construction project comes only four years after the completion of a new building, dedicated in September of 2000. The need for expansion, according to school officials, came as no surprise; the additional space was in the original plans for the building, but had to be cut due to state bonding regulations.

A growing student enrollment has necessitated, four years later, that the space be added. Last year, the student body tallied 335 students, up from 287 in 1999, a gain of 48 students.

The numbers continue to rise, as this year's kindergarten class numbers will top 35 students.

For taxpayers, the bond issue turned out to be palatable: passed in April, it simply maintained the 6 mills already being levied to Boyne Falls taxpayers.

Earlier in the year, the Boyne Falls Board of Education had approved a resolution to decrease the then-current millage on the building by 1.6 mills, then subsequently asking voters in a special election to simply approve an increase of 1.6 mills to support the new construction project.

Based on consistent long-term growth in the district's State Equalized Value, the millage is expected, according to school officials, to decrease over time.

The district has averaged more than 10 percent SEV growth per year for the four years prior to the passing of the bond proposal.

Tryouts being held for JRAC production

The Jordan River Arts Council is holding open tryouts on Wednesday, Sept. 8, and Thursday, Sept. 9, for roles in its first theatrical production on the stage of the new East Jordan Community Auditorium, "Never Too Late."

The dates of the tryouts were originally set for Sept. 1 and 2, but were changed due to venue availability.

Six male and two female roles are open, and auditions will be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the Community Auditorium, located at East Jordan High School.

"Never Too Late," by Summer Arthur Long, will be directed by Charles Hershberger and produced by Barb Worgess.

Rod and Pat Tinney will join Andy and Pat Poineau in set design and construction.

Rehearsals for the production will be held Sept. 21-Nov. 17, with performances planned for Nov. 18-20.

For more information, call Chuck Hershberger at 536-3365.

Tailgate fund-raiser will benefit Boyne basketball program

A Tailgate Dinner Fund-raiser will be held on Friday, Sept. 3, at the Boyne City High School cafeteria. Scheduled to run from 5-7 p.m., the dinner precedes the Boyne City Ramblers home football game against Rogers City.

Sponsored by the Boyne City Basketball Program, the dinner boasts a menu of hot dogs, chili, chips, beverage, and dessert, for $5 per person.

Entertainment will be provided by Up North Music.

Proceeds from the event will help the basketball program purchase an automated shooting machine.

Robin Lee Berry will close out season at Aten Place

Local performers will close out the 2004 Aten Place Concerts in the Barn series, as Robin Lee Berry takes the stage with special guests Jim (Father Bliss) Gillespie and Bob (Brother Bob) Schneider, from the Blissfest Music Organization.

The concert is set for Friday, Sept. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will be a CD release party for Berry, whose newest body of work, "Ahna, Kick a Hole in the Sky," became available earlier this summer. She will perform selections from the new CD as well as old favorites.

A singer/songwriter who moved to northern Michigan in 1981 to raise children, write, record and perform music, Berry sings about love, life, children, growing up and growing old, and the successes and disappointments that evolve through living life. In addition to several of her own independent releases, Berry was included in 2002 on the compilation disc "Going Driftless: An Artists' Tribute to Greg Brown," whose royalties benefit The Breast Cancer Fund.

Brown himself characterizes Berry's voice as "clear spring water gushing out from a deep place in the earth. It goes right to your heart."

Aten Place is located one-half mile south of Cherry Hill Road on Old Mackinaw Trail in Boyne Falls. Aten Place concerts are non-profit productions with an $8 donation at the door as compensation to performers.

A special offering will be made for Berry's concert: buy her newest CD and get in free.

Sheriff urges parents and drivers to put safety first this school year

Every day more than 20 million students nationwide use school buses to get to and from school. To ensure that the community is safe from tragedy this school year, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office recommends a number of safety precautions for both students and other drivers.

"It is very important that parents reinforce the school bus safety rules their children learn at school," said Sheriff George T. Lasater, who also suggests that parents drive their child's bus route with them and practice the proper safety precautions at home.

Parents should teach their children the following rules of school bus safety:

- Always arrive at the bus stop early.
- Prior to boarding, wait until the bus has come to a complete stop, the door opens, and the bus driver says that it's OK to board.
- Always walk on the sidewalk when preparing to cross the street near a bus. If there is no sidewalk available, walk as far away from the road as possible.
- Make eye contact with the driver so that you are sure he or she sees you.
- NEVER walk behind the bus.
- If you are walking alongside the bus, walk at least three giant steps away.

• Take extra care to make sure the clothing with drawstrings and book bags do not get caught in the hand rail or door.

• Never stop to pick something up that you have dropped when a bus is stopped. Wait until the bus has driven off to avoid not being seen by the driver.

Motorists:

- Remember that children can be unpredictable in their actions. Take extreme care when traveling in a school zone and drive slowly.

• Slow down and prepare to stop whenever you see yellow school bus lights flashing.

• NEVER pass a school bus when the red lights are flashing. This is a sign that children are getting off the bus.

• If there are no sidewalks, drive cautiously. Be alert to the possibility of children walking in the road or crossing the street.

• Be aware of children playing near school bus stops.

• Learn and obey the school bus laws in your county.

For more information, call Lasater at 547-4461.

Boyne City came through for Sally Roselli

TO THE EDITOR:

The deepest part of my heart cannot express enough thanks, and praise to the community of Boyne City.

The benefit that was held for me was such a success! Everyone that was there and everyone that has contributed, I cannot thank enough! Joyce and Ray Zavesky, and Debbie Hufford, are the sweetest people in the world. They organized the benefit and need a special thank-you. There are friends, family and just acquaintances that I need to thank. I don't want to leave anyone out. There are all the donations from businesses and individuals that were used for the silent auction that need thanks. I heard about all the fantastic desserts that were made by some very special people. I heard someone videotaped the night for me. I heard it was like the whole community was there!

I thank God every day that I live in a wonderful community as BOYNE CITY. A benefit like this just would not happen anywhere else! I hope our little town stays as good hearted, and close with our neighbors as we are now.

We cannot understand why things happen as they do. I was unable to attend my benefit. I was in The Comprehensive Cancer Center in Ann Arbor having surgery. Just to let you know, the surgery did not go well. They were unable to remove the cancer. I am a very strong lady. I can fight this with God's blessing along the way. Again, my thanks to everyone involved, it helps more than you know!

Love, thanks, and God Bless

Local resident seeks a return to compassion

TO THE EDITOR:

My name is MaryAnn Flanick. I am a 37-year-old chef and published author of poetry. I recently moved to Boyne City to finish my autobiography. I entitled this book "The Spirit That Dwells Within" because I view life so differently than I did four years ago.

Four years ago I endured something very tragic and that tragedy would prove to change my life forever. I learned about life the hard way. I was not always the kindest or most compassionate person. In fact I wasn't even a nice person. I walked around with my nose in the air and not hesitating to pass judgement on anyone.

However, that all changed on Sept. 3, 2000. I found myself facing my worst nightmare. This tragic ordeal lasted for 10 months. During this 10 month period I was faced with the loss of my family and almost the loss of my own life. I also not knowingly was about to be given a new life. During this 10 month time, my spirituality grew. I learned what compassion for humanity was all about. I felt the pain of others, I know then that I was given a gift from the spirit that dwells within. I no longer judge another human and when I see a person in need I do not hesitate to act.

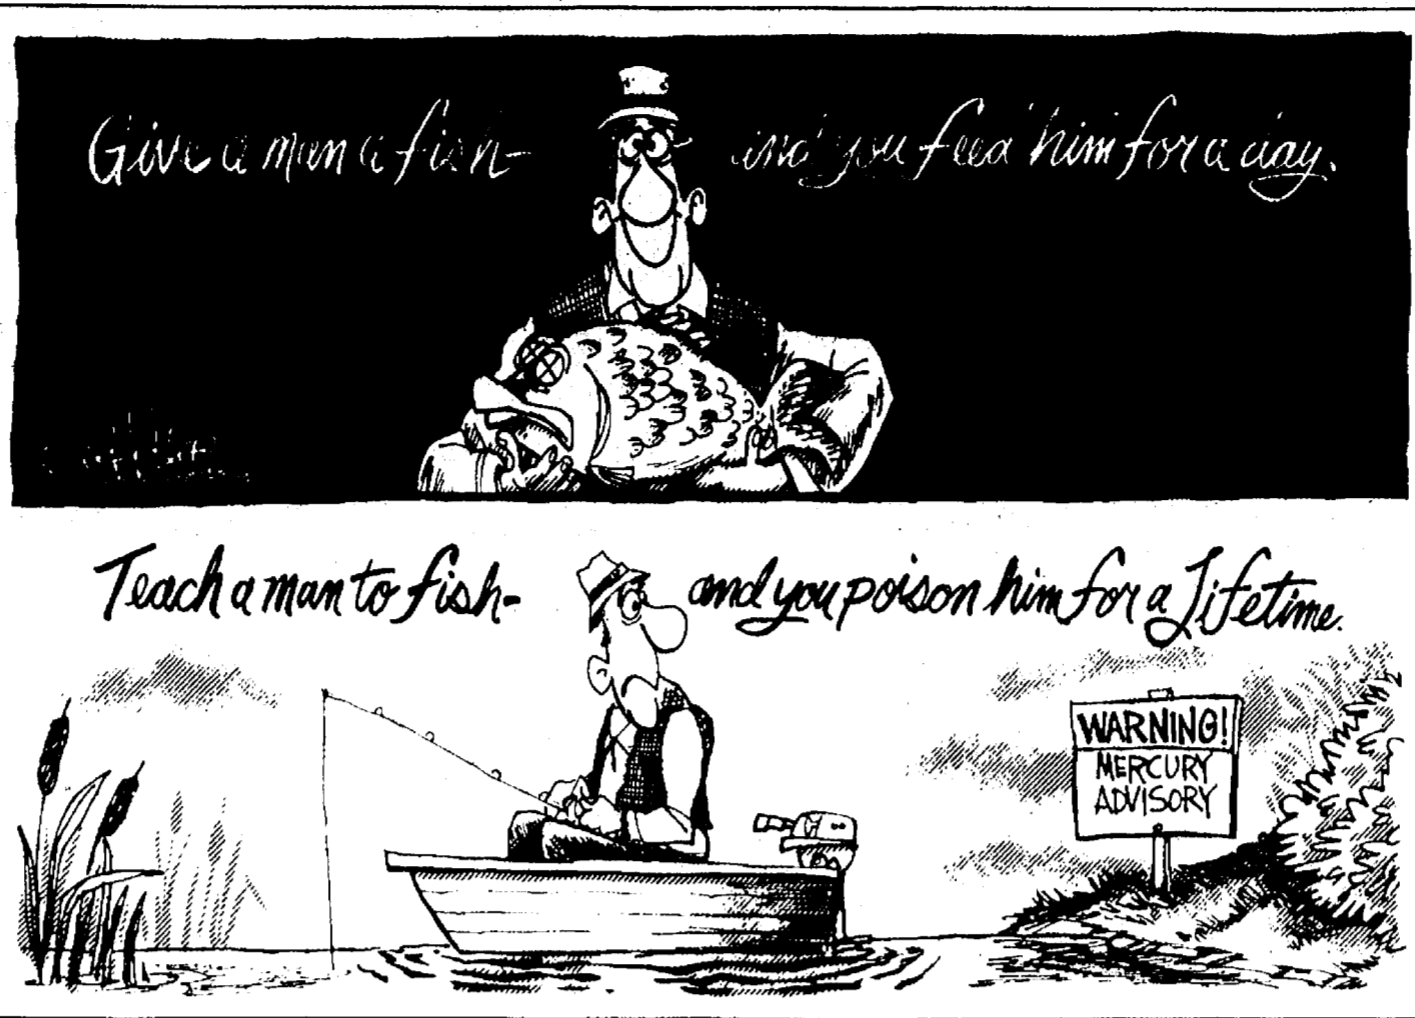

But I also see how kindness and compassion are on the verge of extinction, almost obsolete. People are not as trusting anymore or quick to lend a less fortunate person a helping hand. I'm beginning to believe that kind and compassionate people are becoming a minority and to me that is a shame. There is no one person who is better than another. We were all made from God.

However I would very much like to thank Mrs. Becky Voice of ReMax, Buddy and Sue Christensen of the Dilworth, Dr. Gary Mellon of Eyes on Main and Chip and Claudia of Horton Bay General Store. These six people reached out to me, the unknown, the now person in town. They took a chance on me whether it would be giving me a job or simply steering me in the right direction. But most of all they also restored my faith in kindness and human compassion.

I ask that we, life from God, do not let kindness and compassion fade from our lives. Because you never know just who you may be helping.

Thank you and God bless.

LOVE, LIFE, LAUGHTER

Desperately seeking a cure for "Kindergarten Momitis"

By MINDY S. GIEM

Please excuse me if I'm not myself this column. I seem to have come down with something. I'm having trouble sleeping at night, and my appetite isn't very good. My eyes get watery and my throat is unusually tight. Let me grab a Kleenex.

When I went to the doctor and explained my symptoms, she nodded sympathetically and handed me my diagnosis and a box of tissues. Don't worry — I'm not contagious. That is, unless you have a 5 or 6-year-old child. You see, I have a classic case of Kindergarten Momitis, commonly found in mothers whose first child is starting school.

This ailment is very tricky to treat. It often infects its victim three or four years before symptoms are recognized, usually when pushing a stroller past an elementary school and saying something like, "I'm glad we have a few years before we have to worry about that." The germs zero in on those words like a magnet, and the unsuspecting victim continues on her way.

The second stage of the illness usually occurs two or three years later, as fall rolls around and older children are getting ready for school. One look at the back-to-school ads in the paper and the victim feels a tightening of the throat or experiences mild stomach pain, accompanied by the realization that these bigger children are not so much older than her own child.

The symptoms become more frequent throughout the year. October walks to the playground can bring on watery eyes. Cuddling up in bed on cold winter mornings leads to loss of appetite. Spring bike rides are accompanied by allergy-like sniffles. The momitis germ also causes a ringing in the ears, sounding suspiciously like "Not next year," or "Last time, last time," which can increase the severity of the other symptoms.

The illness continues to grow in strength, attacking its victims in the spring as they receive a notice that their

MANY THANKS

Volunteers and sponsors made the first-ever Boyne Thunder a reality

A heartfelt thank you to all the participants in Boyne Thunder on July 16 and 17 in Boyne City.

This event, sponsored by Boyne City Main Street to support Camp Quality, introduced a new group of people to our wonderful venue on Lake Charlevoix.

Thanks to a large group of volunteers and sponsors the event was extremely successful. Countless volunteer hours were donated by residents from all over the Boyne City area. You graciously gave up a beautiful July day to marshal boats on the water, direct visitors in the park, and entertained our guests at various activities. I can't possibly name all of you individually, but your friendliness and enthusiasm will ensure a prosperous repeat performance on July 15 and 16, 2005.

To our contributors and sponsors both large and small we appreciate your support of these very worthy causes.

There are too many to acknowledge in this space; however, a very special thank you goes to the Beson Family Foundation which not only contributes very generously to the financial support of Camp Quality but also provided the boat ride for the Camp Quality children on the day of the event. We look forward to partnering with all of you again next year.

On behalf of Boyne City Main Street and Camp Quality, thanks.

Time almost up for "Treats for Troops"

Kilwin's and the veterans at American Legion Post #228 have been thrilled at the response to our Treats for Troops program, whereby one half pound of Kilwin's fudge, purchased for only $4, can be mailed to a Boyne Area soldier serving in Iraq. Kilwin's takes your money and adds your name to the list, then an American Legion member picks up the boxes of fudge and mails them to our six Legionnaires serving in Iraq.

Last week Richard Lyman, Church of the Nativity in Grand Rapids, Lyle and Shirley Etcher of Boyne City and Bill and Sandi Wood of Mt. Pleasant all placed orders for fudge, which added up to six — exactly one box for each of our troops serving in Iraq! This program of "Treats for Troops" will end Labor Day. Please stop in Kilwin's and place your order before then.

Thanks to Shirley Mathers/Bob Mathers Ford for paying the postage on a package to Iraq last week.

On behalf of our fellow Legionnaires serving in the armed forces in Iraq, the veterans of American Legion Post #228 thank the people of our community for their continued support.

Maxine Hough

P.S. In answer to questions regarding the shipping of fudge: first of all, Kilwin's doesn't do the mailing, the Legion does. We are not shipping chocolates — those melt. Fudge, including chocolate flavored, has enough additives and binders in them that they hold up pretty well in heat. Each individual slice is hand wrapped in saran wrap before it is put in the box. All camps have some kind of refrigeration, so if some come through kind of mushy, they just need to be put in the fridge for a while to get it "back in shape." That's what we're hoping. Kilwin's mails nationwide to Arizona and Florida, etc. in the summer, so we don't anticipate any problems.

BOOSTER UPDATE

Year is full of possibilities for Boyne Boosters

(The following information has been provided by the Boyne City All School Boosters.)

Another school year is upon us and the Boyne City Schools Boosters are gearing up for a full season of activity, involvement and support. At the August planning meeting, the Boosters board of directors came up with a series of goals (as is done every August) they'd like to achieve before June 2005. Several of these goals seemed to encompass one major theme: increased community awareness and participation. It also remains important for the Boosters to continue in their goal of supporting programs within the schools that would otherwise not have the opportunity for success.

Admittedly, the Boosters have been blessed with loyal supporters from every corner of our school system, including administration, teaching/support staff, parents and students. The teachers that come to the Boosters with a request for support of a particular program or piece of technology or equipment strive to make their classrooms more informative and perhaps more creative. There are also those community members and businesses that provide a constant source of energy and support for the group that never goes unnoticed and is always appreciated.

However, the realization is that much of the Boyne City community, although aware of the organization, don't really know what the Boyne City All Schools Boosters is truly all about. The group has a remedy, or several remedies that will help you get to know who they are, what they do, what and whom they support and most importantly — how you can be a part of it all.

"The monthly meetings are a great place to get to know this organization," said Boosters president Jeff Gaither. "Everyone who has an interest in our school community is encouraged to attend, starting with the September meeting." The Boosters typically meet on the first Wednesday of the month, except when a conflict occurs. This year the schedule is as follows: Sept. 8 (first meeting of the school year and election of officers and members at large), Oct. 6, Nov. 3, Dec. 1, Jan. 5, 2005, Feb. 2, March 2, April 13 (one week later due to spring break), and May 4. The June and August meetings will be set later in the school year and there is no meeting in July.

Besides their presence at home games encouraging sports fans to try their luck on the 50/50 raffle, the Boosters will soon have the traditional savings certificates to offer. "This is one of our largest fundraisers," said Booster member Pat O'Brien. "It is the support from the community that makes this project so successful." There are additional businesses participating this year and the coupons will be available later in September, giving the purchaser more time to take advantage of the combined savings potential of more than $800. One of the elements of the Boosters fundraising activities is that there is always the opportunity to get something from your contribution or participation. You give something and you get something. As with the savings certificates: you purchase the sheet of coupons for $20 and get immediate savings at local businesses. Everyone benefits.

Our Boyne City Schools Boosters organization has by far one of the best reputations for involvement, fundraising activities and giving back to the schools compared to other similar groups within our school district. It is important for our Boosters to maintain this level of commitment. However, current Boosters members have been noticing less involvement from parents with students in the elementary and middle schools and would like to see a big change in this area. "Some of our members have been involved since their kids were three and remain involved even after those kids go off to college," commented Jeff Gaither. "Don't wait until your children get into high school to get involved with the Boosters. Take an interest now so you can be a part of shaping the future of our students in Boyne City."

By NANCY NORTHUP

BOB HARMELING, his son, Dr. Mike Harmeling and Bob Dunne, a great trio of songs, guitar and banjo music, gave their very best, in performing a variety of musical numbers during Boyne City's "Stroll the Streets" events on Friday night. As the gold, pink, purples and blue hues of Lake Charlevoix's infamous sunsets enhanced a perfectly beautiful evening, there were crowds, young and old, sitting or standing wherever they could, even with some bringing their own chairs, or passing by, shopping a little and returning to hear more, just out beside Country Now & Then and their expansion, "Up The Lazy River." And, by the way, belated "Happy Anniversary" to owners of that classy store, Karen and Ray Guznick, who observed their 38th that very day! Further on down the street, in front of Boyne Country Books, a very talented 14-year old ninth grader-to-be, Victoria Szlag, on her golden Harp, also drew in crowds as she played. Victoria hails from Sault St. Marie, and is the niece of Boyne City's Kim and Aaron Westrick.

META ZINCK was in Grand Rapids earlier this month to attend the graduation of her grandson, Matt Sagorski, from Central Michigan University. Matt is the son of Bob and Brenda (Zinck) Sagorski.

HERE ARE this week's winners in the 100 Miles in 100 Days. Some are really logging the big miles, nearing 20,000 miles walked in the "Get Moving, Michigan" program. Many might like to congratulate these people if you see them: Carl Cotanche, Boyne City, Pedometer; Susan Vrondran, Boyne City, Honeywell super mug; Karen Spruce, Boyne City, IM pocket knife; Rita Hurchick, Charlevoix, socks; Maryann Beaumont, Charlevoix, wrist wallet; Marilyn Carpenter, East Jordan, tangerine lip gloss. If you are one of these lucky winners, let Kathy Johnson of the Charlevoix Area Hospital know how you want to arrange to pick up your prize.

Boyne City's can be sent over to the Boyne Rehab Center and East Jordan's can be sent to Jordan Valley Rehab. Charlevoix prizes can be picked up at her office.

IRENE RICKARD is now residing at Boulder Park - Room 28 and doing very well in her recovery.

PEGGY AND KEITH MCGEORGE of Ohio were here over the weekend, visiting her mom, Gen Varnum and other relatives and were also among those attending the wedding of Duane McGeorge at Big Bay, in the Upper Peninsula.

JESSICA FROATS, daughter of Jerry Froats of Boyne City and Stacey Harms of Baton Rouge, La., and Corey Eaton, son of Fran and Donald Eaton III of Boyne City, were married on Saturday, Aug. 14, 2004. The lovely outside ceremony, amidst lovely flowers was held at their Clute Road home on that beautiful day, was officiated by her Aunt Janene Pung of East Jordan, with James Vargo as best man and Chelsie Cole as Maid of Honor. Many friends and relatives were present for this special occasion. The bride's Aunt and Uncle, Wendy and Coburn MacNaughton, and their son Matt, all of Lake Leelanau, catered the reception following the ceremony. Grandparents of the newlyweds are Jim and Janet Shepherd, Ruth and Jerry Froats Sr. and Marie and Donald Eaton II, and the bride's great-grandmother is Phyllis Tison, all of Boyne City.

HEARTFELT SYMPATHIES go out to the many friends and family members of Boyne City's Donald Russell, who passed away this past week, after a long bout with cancer. In passing along a few words that came in from former BCHS graduate and "History Buff" Don Smith, "My father Wallace A Smith, the first General Foreman, to Boyne City in 1948 when Consumers Power Company bought the Boyne City Power Cop Donald Russell started as a ground man on one of dad's crews. Not sure any more but it might have been Foreman Marsh Corey's crew."

LEONA AND CHARLIE STANEK, Betsy Rick, Candice and Cody Olund spent Saturday to Tuesday the weekend of Aug. 20 at their Blue Heaven at Curtis. On Saturday evening, all attended a McPherson Reunion on Lake Milakokia and visited with their aunt, Florence Caswell who had just celebrated her 92nd birthday. On Sunday, they visited Marcella and Rolland Ford at their cabin on M-28.

HER BROTHER and family surprised Lee and Phil Cloyd on Saturday! Lee's brother Jim Antaya, his wife Cindy and their daughter Nicole came up from Roseville for a surprise visit. They all went to BC Pizza for a nice dinner and visit and also were joined by her sister Bea Antaya, from Grosse Pointe, and a niece Marie Harris, and her daughter Olivia and sons Nick and Thomas. "We had a wonderful time. I love visiting with my family!" said Lee.

ISABELLA JUNE OLUND, who was born July 30 at Northern Michigan Hospital in Petoskey, has finally returned home, on Thursday, Aug. 25, after two weeks in Ann Arbor and 13 days at Munson Hospital in Traverse City. Before coming home, her mom, Jessica Olund underwent gall bladder surgery but they are all home and doing well.

JILL WILLIAMS and friend Stan Nickhah of Orange Park, Florida are here, visiting her mom, Janet and Jim Shepherd and other area relatives.

ON FRIDAY, the 27th of August, Gladys Shepherd, her daughter, JoAnn Follette, and granddaughter, Jody Gasco made the trip to Grand Rapids to see Gladys' 96 year old sister, Ann Tusch. The sisters had a nice visit, and all enjoyed the whole trip!

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Knight-Dennis

Gretchen Vogen Knight, the daughter of Dave and Krista Knight of East Jordan, and Zachary James Dennis, the son of the Reverend Michael and Diane Dennis, were married Saturday, June 19, 2004 at Bethany Lutheran Church in Charlevoix.

The Reverend Michael Dennis performed the 11 a.m. ceremony in the presence of 150 guests.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless ivory satin Oleg Cassini gown featuring rum colored detailed hand beading at the neck, waist and hem. An elbow length champagne veil with pencil edging accompanied the gown, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies, white hydrangeas and lavender gypsophila.

Music was provided by the Galliard Trio: Prudy Kurtz, violin, Peggy Beck, viola; and Marlys Manthei, cello. Katie Goebel was the vocal soloist.

Maids of honor were Elizabeth Damon, cousin of the bride, and Bridget Knight, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Lauren Skinner, cousin of the bride and Elizabeth Dennis, sister of the groom. They wore Victorian lilac embellished satin/georgette mock two piece gowns with a lace-up back. Each carried a bouquet of white hydrangeas and lavender gypsophila.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dennis

Flower girls were Claire Lichte, Maria Lichte, Elle Lichte, Molly Sweeney, Erin Sweeney, Shannon Sweeney and Heather Gayle, all cousins of the bride. They wore pale pink and lavender princess style dresses and carried white baskets of lilies.

The best man was Matthew Dennis, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Joshua Dennis, brother of the groom, Jason Thompson and Ben Beaumont, cousins of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon reception was given by the bride's parents at the Terrace Inn of Bay View. Host and Hostess were Eric Vogen and Sonja Baertsch.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the First Baptist Church of Charlevoix.

Zachary and Gretchen spent their honeymoon in Walt Disney World of Orlando, Fla. The couple is now making their home in Hudsonville, Mich.

Zachary graduated from ITT Technical Institute in 2003 and is employed by Market Technologies, Inc. of Grand Rapids as the director of information systems. Gretchen graduated from Western Michigan University in April of 2004 with a bachelor's degree in Advertising and Promotion and is employed by Marketing Tools, Inc. of Grand Rapids as an account coordinator.

HEALTH TIPS FROM MEDICAP PHARMACY

ALLERGIC TO DUST MITES?

Many people experience allergy symptoms caused by dust mites in their home. Dust mites are organisms that are in household dust but are too small to be seen by the naked eye. They are a leading cause of asthma and allergies in the United States. If you think your area rugs might be making you itch or sneeze, place them out in direct sunlight for a few hours. An Australian study found that doing this killed any living dust mites and their eggs. Impermeable mattress and pillow covers offer some protection. Washing bedding frequently in hot water also helps.

American Legion Post #228

At the regular meeting of Ernest Peterson Post 228, held Aug 5, the following communications were read: thank you cards from the James Dana family and the Bob Stutzman family for funeral services conducted by the Post; a request from the local firefighters was honored with a $100 donation, a request from Post 9 for a maintenance expense donation for a WW II submarine LISS Silversides was honored for $100; a letter was read from Legionnaire Kevin Crandell, serving in Iraq, thanking the Post for the care packages. The Honor Guard conducted graveside services for Irvin Kent, Daniel Aimesbury and Joseph Napont. They conducted Veteran of the Month ceremonies for Don Spalding and Ron Leist and led the 4th of July parade. The Service Officer reported two contacts relating to the VA health system. The Chaplain reported on area veterans who are sick, disabled, shut-in or have answered the final call. The Adjutant reported that, due to public support, bingo is doing good and that membership renewals continue to come in with 106 paid for the 2004-2005 Legion year. Publications were submitted to the local newspapers for Veteran of the Month and an overview of the July meeting. The Sons of the American Legion donated $50 to the Make A Wish Foundation and member Ron Crozier donated the cost of safety glasses for the SAL Shooting Program. Materials have been collected for the target backstop which is being constructed. Troop Support Officer Maxine Hough reported on care packages, local publications informing the public of special needs of our troops serving in Iraq with addresses, read letters from Iraq and informed the Post of the deal she cut with Kilwins to ship fudge to Iraq where if you buy two you get one free which is shipped to our troops. Sgt. Jennifer Lehto, home on leave from Iraq, thanked the Post for the care packages she had received and gave a short report on conditions in Iraq. The Lions Club continues to donate items for our care packages and the Post thanks them for their efforts. The next regular meeting will be held Sept. 2, at the Post home, at 7:30 pm and will be preceded by the Veteran of the Month ceremony at 6:15 pm to be followed by a potluck supper. Care package donations are being accepted at the Post on Tuesdays, preceding and during bingo, from 3-10 p.m. and continued public support is requested and appreciated.

can lifestyle. I keep distant from most Iraqis knowing how women are seen and treated in their country. It's easier that way. Everyone is entitled to their own opinion... enough said.

George T. Lasater, Sheriff, Charlevoix County:

Do you feel you are getting the support you need from the people back home? Yes. Everybody has been so superb.

Angela Shultis, Editor, The Citizen-Journal:

How do you deal with things women have to deal with in a man's world? By bonding with other women, being bold and eating a lot of chocolate.

Eleanor Stackus, Mayor, Boyer City:

What can we do here in Boyer City to help you in your stay in Iraq? Receiving letters in the mail is always a good morale booster. Even if you don't know the person. It would be neat to receive mail from the people of Boyer, just to say hello and we think of you always.

Doug Shields, Supervisor, Evangeline Township:

Has being on leave given you a deeper appreciation of being an American? Has being in Iraq changed you, if so how?

Yes, there is a deeper appreciation. I have learned to take less for granted: family, friends, life, myself.

Scott MacKenzie, Director, Boyer City Chamber of Commerce:

Do you feel the support and love from all the people back home? Yes, especially after coming off R&R. Even strangers! It means a lot when they shake your hand or extend a hug and say "thank you" and "take care." It is very heart warming.

Gen Varnum, Boyer City Ramblers Booster:

How close have you been to enemy fire? Always too close for comfort.

Nancy Hellman, Volunteer, Raven Hill Discovery Center:

Do you have any interactions with the local people? Most of the interaction takes place in a controlled environment so it's safe. But we still are able to converse and talk about whatever comes to our minds. They are very interesting... as I'm sure we are to them. Most of the time they are hard to understand so we use small words and a lot of body language and voice pitch to get our point across.

Sandi Larson-Wood, Teacher, Mt. Pleasant High School:

What is your daily routine? My life in Iraq consists of work, work, and more work. We also get adequate sleep and some social time in between.

Maxine Hough, (Women are Veterans Too) American Legion Post #228:

What three things will you remember most of your time back home? Being with family and friends. Being in the Polish Festival Parade and leading the Pledge, sleeping late and relaxing.

Robert Drebenstedt, Charlevoix County Veterans Affairs Officer:

Is hygiene a problem for women soldiers in Iraq?

I couldn't say hygiene is a problem—we always find ways to clean up. It's just the basic luxuries you take for granted like cool water in the summer and hot water in the winter. Sometimes showers are dreaded especially in February when the hot water tank pooped out for the 100th time. We learned a bottle of water and a few baby wipes can go a long way. There are always things to improve on, but it could be so much worse. We are at War, not summer camp!

(Maxine Hough is a member of the American Legion Post #228 in Boyer City.)

V.F.W. Post 3675

Effective Aug. 19, 2004 William G. Bricker will be the new commander at Post 3675 of the V.F.W. Anyone who would like to rent the hall can call Bricker at 549-3708 or Bob at 582-6374. Veterans of Afghanistan or Iraq are welcome to join the post. For more information

Food writer Deanna House returns to area libraries

"Recipes for Health and Wellness" will be the topic of Deanna House's program when she returns to the Boyer District Library on Thursday, Sept. 2, at noon. Deanna, well known for her "performance style meals" and humorous delivery will provide recipes and samplings of a variety of foods that are found on cancer prevention lists.

Sponsored by the "Circle of Strength," cancer support and education program of the Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation, House will demonstrate the preparation of recipes designed to improve and maintain a healthy lifestyle while presenting appetizing alternatives to day to day meals. Those attending the program will have the opportunity to watch the preparation of the meals, receive recipes and taste samples of the prepared items.

Prizes play an important part of House's program, as she presents small awards for birth dates, birthplaces, hometowns, interests and whatever other side topics present themselves.

House will also appear at the Jordan Valley District Library on Wednesday, Sept. 1 at 12:30 p.m., with a program entitled "Low Fat Foods Aid Cancer Prevention" and that same evening in the cafeteria at Charlevoix Area Hospital in Charlevoix, with a program on "Antioxidant Sampling."

Tickets for the program are $5 per person, $4 for those 60 years and older or those recent participants in the "Get Moving Charlevoix County - 100 Miles in 100 Days" program. Reservations are not required, but help insure there is enough food for sampling.

Call the Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation office at 547-8502 to reserve space.

Those unable to attend may also call the Foundation office to have copies of the recipes from all three programs mailed to them.

House is a freelance food writer appearing regularly in the Kalamazoo Gazette and The Grand Rapids Press newspapers and she is the author of four cookbooks.

She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Stout and has taught junior high, senior high and adult home economic classes.

NEWS BRIEFS

Grief support program is offered by local hospice

The Hospice of Northwest Michigan is hosting a series of five weekly sessions this fall for those coping with loss.

The grief support program will run on consecutive Tuesdays from Sept. 14-Oct. 12, from 4:30-6 p.m. each night at the Community of Christ Church, 777 Vogel St., Boyne City.

The program, designed to help participants grow through grief and learn the five tasks of grief work, is sponsored by the hospice, Northwest Michigan Community Health Agency, Charlevoix Area Hospital, and Northern Michigan Community Mental Health Agency. Facilitators for the program are hospice spiritual advisor Pastor Carl Litchfield; bereavement coordinator Margaret Lasater; and social worker Julie Spencer.

Anyone who has suffered a loss or who is helping a loved one deal with a loss is invited to take part in the free program.

Those interested in attending are asked to pre-register at the hospice office at 536-2842.

Friday is last night for "Stroll the Streets"

The Boyne City Main Street Program will host the final Stroll the Streets event of the season on Friday, Sept. 3, from 7-9 p.m. on Water Street, downtown Boyne City.

The night will feature fun for the whole family, including musical entertainment, face painting, and balloon twisting. For more information, call the Main Street office at 582-9009.

CD proceeds will benefit women's crisis centers

Singer/songwriter Kristin Glasgow will be on hand at Water Street Cafe in Boyne City on Sunday, Sept. 5, from 11 a.m.-7 p.m., for autographs and CD orders on her new CD "Eyes of An Angel." A portion of the proceeds from each CD will benefit the Women's Resource Center in Petoskey and the Turning Point Crisis Center in Mount Pleasant.

The event will also feature self-defense demonstrations for women.

Water Street Cafe is located on Water Street in downtown Boyne City. For more information, call 582-9929.

Car crash, footchase, leads to arrest

An auto accident in Melrose Township turned into a footchase last week, as officers responded to the personal injury crash on Aug. 24 at 8:50 p.m.

According to Charlevoix County Sheriff's Deputy Robert Scholey, the sheriff's office is investigating the incident, which began with a car crash on US 131. According to a witness at the scene, the vehicle, operated by an Illinois man, swerved several times and lost control on the soft shoulder of the road, rolling over. Following brief contact with witnesses at the scene, Scholey said, the man fled on foot into the woods.

After several deputies from the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office, Boyne City Police Department, and Michigan State Police Troopers pursued the suspect for approximately two hours in the woods, a plainclothes deputy took him into custody near Clarion Road in Melrose Township.

The suspect was subsequently arrested on multiple charges stemming from the incident. Speed and alcohol are believed to be factors in the crash, Scholey said. The accident remains under investigation.

The Boyne Valley First Responders Unit, Boyne City Ambulance, and Frank's Towing Service of Boyne City assisted at the scene; the Boyne Valley Fire Department, Boyne City Police Department, and Michigan State Police assisted in the search.

Life, love, laughter

local school is holding its kindergarten round-up. Immediately vision blurs and breathing becomes difficult. Partial amnesia may set in as the victim struggles to remember simple things, such as the age of her child.

During the summer months the momitis germ attacks the psychological aspect of its victim who is now much too weak to fight it. One moment the victim may feel extreme joy, looking forward to all the wonderful things her child will experience in school, while the next moment she plunges into despair at the thought of her child in an environment where she cannot protect him. These mood swings continue throughout the summer, reaching a peak in August. Symptoms may temporarily vanish as the victim and her family keep extremely busy with activities, such as picnics, bike rides, camping, and other family oriented functions.

As September nears, the victim is exhausted, as much from trying to fit too many things into too little time as from lack of sleep. Eyes often appear red-rimmed and breathing may be erratic, resembling a sob. Her mood swings can affect the entire family, especially children around age 5 who wonder why their mother is so clingy. Other family members may need to give extra emotional support during this time.

Kindergarten momitis hits its peak around Labor Day. The exhausted victim barely has the strength to carry around the necessary box of Kleenex. Watery eyes and sniffles, along with upset stomach, are constant. The victim may need assistance with any activities that require a steady hand, such as photography, as her hands have acquired a constant quiver. Often, after many hugs to her 5-year-old child as he gets on a school bus or walks to school for the first time, the victim suffers a brief but severe breakdown.

While there is no drug or shot to cure Kindergarten Momitis, there is one natural course that seems to offer relief. In the afternoon a kindergartener may pry the victim from her seat by the window, give her a hug, tell her how wonderful school is, and say the three healing words, "I love you." This treatment, if done correctly, is 99 percent effective. Victims will take time to regain their strength, and may suffer a relapse as any other family members approach school age.

According to library board president Chris Curtin, the arts council approached the library a couple of years ago, expressing a desire to take possession of the building. At that time, Curtin said, the library itself was just beginning to look at space needs (leading up to the current debate between expanding the current library adjacent to East Jordan High School or building on the library's property on M-66).

Though discussions have continued on and off in the ensuing months, the library board, Curtin said, has "been dragging out feet, kind of. We're concerned about being fiscally responsible." The concern, she said, is in regard to the suggestion that the library give the building to the art center, rather than sell it, a move that she said has been advised against by legal counsel. "Our attorney advised us that a non-profit organization cannot give a building away," Curtin said. "We must sell the building for fair market value."

Still, no move had been made to proceed seriously. The issue became forced, however, when, at a recent library board meeting, new board member Harry Watson, a longtime public servant in East Jordan and Charlevoix County, suggested the building be given to the City of East Jordan, calling it a "liability." Though Curtin said she doesn't know "why exactly that was expressed," it meant that the board needed to take another look at the situation. An appraisal, Curtin indicated, is being sought, as is a final tally of the funds the arts council has invested in the building through extensive upgrades and renovations over the years. "We're really dedicated to doing what's right for both the library and the arts council," she said. "We got very complicated."

Though Bloom maintains that early on, the library had offered a transfer of ownership, they later indicated that they would not be able to give the building to the arts council, but instead would need to figure out the value of the building.

"It drug on for a whole year," he said, "so I kind of backed off." Subsequently, Bloom said, the library contacted the council again, wanting to know if they were still interested. They were. Since then, the council has come up with a figure in the $120,000 range as an estimate for work and funds the organization and its volunteers have put into the building.

Though Bloom is discouraged by the confusion regarding the options for ownership of the building by the arts council, he's really just hoping for an answer, any answer, soon. "We just want to have some security," he said of the arts council; ultimately, he said, it doesn't matter who owns it, as long as the arts council can stay put. "We've been in limbo for three years," he said.

Curtin, however, maintains that the board is proceeding with caution only in the interest of fiscal responsibility. "We have 7,500 patrons," she said, with a "responsibility to all of the taxpayers, not just the people that live within the city limits."

"We're still working and want very much to pursue working with the arts council to do what is fair to benefit both," Curtin said.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE CARNEGIE LIBRARY

In 1915, the Carnegie Library in East Jordan was built through a grant from the Andrew Carnegie Foundation, at a cost of $10,000. A gift to the community of East Jordan, the library was built on property owned by local businessman W.P. Porter. In 1972, the W.P. Porter Trust sold the land and building to the East Jordan Public Library board for $1. In 1988, the East Jordan Public Library board sold it to the Jordan Valley District Library Board for $1. In 1988, the Jordan River Arts Council began leasing the facilities for just $1 per year.

AFTER 14-6 WIN OVER NEWBERRY, BOYNE CITY PREPARES FOR ROGERS CITY

Defense shines in season opener

By NATE THOMPSON
Contributing Writer

The Boyne City Rambler defense was air tight in its opening contest against Newberry on Friday night.

Take away Newberry's lone scoring drive in the third quarter, and Rambler head coach David Hills said the performance would have been stellar. "I was very pleased with the kids' overall effort," he said. "And I thought our secondary also came up big. There were just a couple technical breakdowns that need to be corrected, but overall, they were impressive."

Both teams worked out some early-season jitters and except for the Ramblers' opening drive of the game when they put together three long running plays before committing a turnover, both offenses struggled to move the ball.

Hills said he is concerned about his young offensive line, which missed too many blocks. The upcoming weeks in practice will be important in their improvement for key games down the road, he said.

Boyne City broke the scoring drought early in the second quarter, thanks to its defense, as Newberry coughed up the ball deep in its own territory. The loose ball was picked up by Reed Ameel who ran 12 yards for the touchdown. The extra point was no good.

Newberry would answer midway through the third quarter, but only after the Rambler defense made the visitors fight for every inch. Newberry took the second half kick off and drove deep into Rambler territory and had a first down at Boyne City's two-yard line. At that point, the defense said "no more."

With four tries from the two, Newberry was stopped each time and turned the ball over to the Ramblers on downs.

Unfortunately for Boyne City, Newberry's defense was nearly as good. They stopped Boyne City cold and forced the Ramblers to punt from their own end zone.

Taking over inside the Ramblers' 30-yard line, Newberry then came charging right back. After a long pass play, Newberry was quickly knocking on the door again as the visitors had a first down on Boyne City's three-yard line. This time, Newberry found a hole in the defensive line, but it took three plays before quarterback David Carmody took it in with just over four minutes remaining.

The Newberry defense was also strong on Friday night, as Rambler receiver Dillon Olmstead, above, found out in the endzone.

A key defensive stop on the two-point conversion kept the contest tied. Geary Ryder broke up the pass that would have given Newberry an 8-6 lead.

The Ramblers took the momentum of that stop and converted on offense. After returning the kickoff to their own 43, the Ramblers moved the ball inside Newberry's 30 yard line before their drive stalled and they decided to punt. It turned out to be a very effective play, with the punt rolling dead at Newberry's two-yard line.

The Rambler defense rose to the occasion again, forcing Newberry to punt from its own end zone. The punt went high but not very far, giving Boyne City the ball at Newberry's 19 yard line.

The Ramblers took advantage of the opportunity when junior quarterback Grant Ameel hit receiver Jordan Sweet with a 20-yard scoring pass. The same combination would be responsible on the successful two-point conversion, which put Boyne City up 14-6.

Boyne had a couple more opportunities in the fourth to add to its lead but could not capitalize. The Rambler defense would not allow any last-minute scoring drives from Newberry and the first win was in the bag.

Hills said he was impressed with Grant Ameel's performance at quarterback. Ameel completed 5-of-10 passes for 52 yards and one score. He also rushed the ball seven times for 31 yards.

Will Brown led the offense with 70 yards on 17 carries, while Reed Ameel carried the ball 12 times for 57 yards. Sweet finished the contest with four catches for 44 yards and the Ramblers' lone offensive touchdown.

Defensively, Reed Ameel led the way with nine tackles and the key fumble return, and David Austin also tallied nine tackles.

The Ramblers welcome Rogers City to their home field on Friday. Hills expects a tough matchup from a team that features a "number of good athletes who are strong at the skill positions."

Game time is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Red Devils open with a big win over Ellsworth

The East Jordan Red Devils took decisive action during their first game of the season, topping Ellsworth 52-35 at home.

"This was a good game to get the jitters out of the way," said East Jordan head coach Lisa Greenier. "I am happy to start the season with a win."

Leading the team in scoring was Sierra Roberts with 15, followed by Jessica Skop with nine and Kayla Brock with two. Brock led in rebounding with 15, followed by Roberts with eight. Roberts also led the team in steals with seven.

On Thursday, Sept. 2, the Red Devils will host Gaylord St. Mary's, followed by a Tuesday, Sept. 7, home game against Boyne City.

It's hands-off for East Jordan Red Devil Kristi Werner, as she and an Ellsworth player collide on the court. The Red Devils won big on their opening night, 52-35.

Phase II

three established tenants situated on four lots, including Federal Screw Works, SimTech Filters, and Great Lakes Golf.

Phase I of the Industrial Park, opened in 1986, attracted 10 companies in less than 10 years, and is now home to businesses that employ 550 people.

"We are happy to expand into Phase II and provide the opportunity for more job creation," Cain said.

The challenge is, as always, getting the word out about the opportunities available to potential employers as to the benefits of locating not only in the industrial park, but in Boyne City.

The park, according to Cain, is advertised on the City's Web site, and in regional publications, as well as at the state level through the Michigan Economic Development Corporation and the Northern Lakes Economic Alliance. "We do things like put industrial sites on the MEDC's top properties list," Johnson said. "We put out a regional brochure that lists the quality of life amenities and business amenities. Quality of life is a major reason people are interested in the area, and it describes a number of business assets as well." The NLEA markets its three-county coverage area as a region, working with potential employers to pinpoint the best location for their particular business.

In what has been in recent years a somewhat dicey national economic environment, the industrial park setting has, on a number of levels, remained an attractive option to businesses.

"The basics of marketing the area remain the same," Johnson said, "but it is harder to market when economic times are down.

"At the same time, companies are still expanding, still growing, still starting up, and you have to be there to work with them. Manufacturing is a very viable part of our economy, we just have to work harder to keep it that way."

According to city manager Cain, the community, specifically the Boyne City Economic Development Committee, is currently looking at new ways to market its newly-expanded industrial park. "It's been an issue we've talked about since I came on board [a year and a half ago]," he said. "The EDC is looking at additional marketing tools such as CDs, new publications."

Though such marketing will be key to the future success of the park, good things are already happening. "We're really happy to see clients in there that we have now," Johnson said, "and we've had some interest as well in the last year.

"Boyne City has got a lot of manufacturing employment, which creates a diversified economy. It's good land use because it's all condensed in one particular area. It's a real positive amenity for the community overall.

"It's an overall win."

Area artists take part in sculpture invitational exhibit

Local players finish in top 20 at world disc golf competition

The Professional Disc Golf Association held the 2004 Pro/Am/Junior World Championships Aug. 9-14 in Des Moines. Two northern Michigan Junior competitors played eight rounds of Disc Golf on different courses. TR Pluister of Bay Shore played in the Junior under 19 years division and David Gross of Boyne Falls competed in the Junior under 16 division.

Pluister finished in 20th place with a total of 510 throws for 144 holes; Gross in 18th place with 480 throws (Gross's division played from the short "forward" tees). Pluister was sponsored by No Obstacles Disc Golf of Bay Shore and his family, and Gross by the Northern Waters Disc Golf Series, the local DARE program, North Country Chain Chasers, the Jarema family, Scott Ellis, and Gross's family.

"We want to thank everyone who made this all possible," said Dave Fuller, president of the Northern Michigan Disc Golf Organization. "We want to commend the two youths for the hard work and steady play it takes to make it to, and play in, such an event. We hope it inspires more local youths to take up this fun and growing sport."

The event saw over 950 total competitors in professional and amateur age based divisions from around the globe, including Sweden, Japan, England, Canada and the United States.

Tom (TR) Pluister, left, of Bay Shore and David Gross of Boyne Falls finished 20th and 18th in their respective divisions at the Pro/Am/Junior World Championships

Dear Folks at the Michigan Spine and Pain:

I'll have to admit I was a bit skeptical about what I could expect from coming to the clinic. I have had back problems for some time and at my age, I felt there probably wasn't much that could be done. My family doctor referred me to a neurosurgeon who thought surgery might help, but that was only a 30% success rate, so that wasn't an option.

My first visit to the Clinic was encouraging by the way I was treated by the staff and the thorough evaluation of my case. I was scheduled to start my therapy with Amy and she was excellent. I think I expected to have some discomfort following the therapy but there wasn't any.

My back hasn't felt this good in years!!! Thank you all SO much.

Sincerely,
Gary Agle

Summer scenes

Though days of warmth were few and far between, the summer of 2004 has been full of color, from the magenta glow of a setting sun over Lake Charlevoix, far left, to the cheerful colors of garden blooms, left, to the bright bounty found each week at area farmer's markets, like Boyne City's, above.

FAMILY REUNIONS

The Howard family reunion was held Aug. 14 at the Chandler Township Hall east of Boyne Falls with 198 attending. Music was provided by Judy Slocum with the Chandler Blue Ridge Band. Herbert Howard Jr. and Dale Weber played guitars and sang.

A very special thanks goes to the Larua Belle Pyke family who donated a tent in her memory. A special thanks to Ken Alto for his extended help in the kitchen. Sheldon Buckmaster was the auctioneer for the auction.

The oldest was Helen Howard of East Jordan, second oldest was George Raub of Lewiston. The youngest was Seth Sumner of Petoskey and second youngest was Talyor Ellen Romowski of Gaylord.

A calendar of assorted pictures from Howard families, arranged by Karla Buckmaster and printed by Ed Sumner, owner of Seeley's Printing Service, was given to each family. Family history was exchanged. A luncheon was served.

Unable to attend the August reunion, there was a reunion on June 5 at the home of Dennis and Micki Howard attended by Virginia Ratliff of Greenup, Ky.; Vernon and Leona Plummer of South Shore, Ky.; Dr. Steve and Katherine Vallance of Lawrenceburg, Ky.; and Debbie Vallance of Wurtland, Ky.

States represented were Florida, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Michigan, South Carolina and Wisconsin.
