COMING EVENTS

EJ Business After Hours tonight

Tonight, Oct. 19, the East Jordan Chamber Business After Hours will be held at the Main Street Center in East Jordan from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. It is sponsored by Charlevoix State Bank, the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce, the East Jordan Family Pharmacy, Riverside Title, John Ferguson, attorney, Jordan Valley Rehabilitation and Main Street Properties, LLC.

The cost is $3 for members, $5 for prospective members.

Let's make a Halloween deal!

The Compassionate Hearts Halloween fund-raiser, with a Let's Make a Deal theme is this Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Boyne City Knights of Columbus Hall. Entry fee is $10 per person, and tickets can be purchased at Country Now and Then or at the door. The door opens at 6 p.m. — come in costume and ready to make a deal!

One hundred percent of proceeds go to help people in need in our area.

Dr. Knysz on health issues

Dr. Pamela Knysz of Boyne City will be speaking on health issue concerns for men and women at St. Matthew's Catholic Church hall on October 24th at 7:00 p.m. Public is invited.

All-you-can-eat spaghetti dinner

The East Jordan Rotary Club is sponsoring a spaghetti dinner on Tuesday, Oct. 25, from 4:30 to 7 p.m. at the East Jordan Snowmobile Club on Mt. Bliss Rd., off M-32.

The cost of the dinner is $6 for adults, students and seniors are $5, and under 5 eats free. Dinner will be all-you-can-eat spaghetti, bread, coleslaw, assorted pies and a beverage. There will be carry-out available.

The annual fund-raiser helps support community Rotary projects such as Little League, Boy Scouts, Care Cen, Share Food Pantry, Youth Leadership conferences, International Exchange Students, and local scholarship programs.

Plan to attend and help support East Jordan Rotary Club.

Boyne City public planning meeting

The second public planning meeting will be held on Oct. 25 at 4 p.m. at the city hall. The purpose of the meeting will be to get public input on the city master plan project, part of the overall comprehensive city plan, Plan-It Boyne City.

Everyone who has an interest in Boyne City's future is encouraged to attend this meeting.

First Presbyterian Trunk or Treat

First Presbyterian Church of Boyne City is sponsoring "Trunk or Treat" on Halloween from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Pine Street will be closed between East and Park Streets and church members will park along the street offering candy and other treats from their trunks to trick or treaters. The new fellowship hall will also be open, offering coffee, cider, and donuts to parents as well as children. In case of rain, "Trunk or Treat" will be moved into the fellowship hall.

Fire prevention, safety: BC dedicates week

BY JANE BOOZE
Editor

Every October the National Fire Prevention Association designates a week as National Fire Prevention Week, with fire fighters across the country adopting a common theme and reminding people to avoid the hazards that lead to house fires now that the heating season is upon us.

Last week the city of Boyne City issued a proclamation that made Oct. 9-15 the Boyne City Fire Prevention Week.

This year's theme is "Candles with Care: When you go out, blow out." This reflects documented research by the NFPA that indicates a significant increase in home candle fires — while most other causes have declined.

But Boyne City fire chief Dennis Amesbury, and the other newly elected fire department officers, including assistant chief, Jack Bush, captain Ramie Leist and lieutenant Buddy Hayden, agree that this winter may see an increase in other fire hazards, as well.

With the impending increase in fuel prices, Amesbury said that there will be a correlated increase in the use of alternate fuels, such as wood and electric or kerosene space heaters. With these alternate heat sources come an increased risk of domestic fire.

If there is a single warning that the fire department would give

The Boyne City Fire Department elected new officers recently. Dennis Amesbury remained the fire chief; Jack Bush is assistant chief; Ramie Leist moved from lieutenant to captain, and Buddy Hayden became the lieutenant.

Color coordinated

The Jordan Valley and surrounding areas were in all their autumn splendor by last Saturday, with trees assuming more color as the weekend progressed.

Fatal traffic accident

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office is investigating a one-vehicle traffic crash that took the life of an East Jordan resident last week. The crash took place on C-48, approximately one half mile east of the Antrim County line, at close to 11 p.m. on Oct. 13.

The driver, Kevin Whisler, 21, of East Jordan, lost control of the 1993 Pontiac he was driving. The vehicle left the roadway and struck a utility pole. His passenger, 24-year-old Jeremy Bingham, was pronounced dead at the scene by the Charlevoix County medical examiner's office. Whisler was transported by North Flight helicopter to Munson Medical Center in Traverse City.

The road was closed for approximately five hours while Great Lakes Energy replaced the utility pole, which had dropped its major transmission line wires over C-48 directly over the crash scene.

The sheriff's department was assisted at the scene by the Antrim County Sheriff's Office, East Jordan Fire and Rescue, Banks Township Fire Department, East Jordan Emergency Medical Services and North Flight.

The crash remains under investigation.

Screams from the Dark!

BY JANE BOOZE
Editor

The East Jordan Freedom Festival is holding its traditional pre-Halloween screamfest at the Civic Center's fourth annual haunted maze, which starts Thursday, Oct. 20, when the doors creak open at 6:30 p.m. and close at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights the show starts at 7 p.m. but stays open until 11 p.m. The haunted maze, also known as "Screams from the Dark," is the festival's biggest fund-raiser, and a far cry from the red-white-and-blue city-wide June event.

The maze takes ten days to set up, and was started last week when four trucks filled with benign-looking lumber rumbled up to the back steps of the East Jordan Civic Center and began unloading what promises to be the scariest maze yet, transforming the Civic Center into an unrecognizable ghoulish-infested haunt for a crew of amazing and dedicated volunteers.

Before the first daring person steps foot into the maze, a team of about 50 people will have spent more than a week working on it. Every night they are building "rooms" and hallways to the specifications of another set of volunteers: the ghoulish-masters themselves.

There are more than 30 "players," people who are creating a frightening vignette among the maze's passages, and between the construction and the players, more than 20 volunteers are high school students. Freedom Festival president Gretchen Bender said that one student alone put in 80 hours last year. The volunteers eat dinner every night at the Civic Center in the week and a half preceding the opening night, with people bringing dishes to pass, and a makeshift break room filled with food for the workers. The workers themselves are not only students, but local business people and retired individuals who lend a hand with construction, or pass out flyers to attract intrepid ghost-chasers to visit the haunted halls.

Last year the haunted maze raised more than $2,000 for the Freedom Festival, and this year will be even better.

"These people are eccentric — they enjoy doing Halloween," Bender said. "Glenna Hanney is the chair. Her love for Halloween

Airport receives new flag, pole

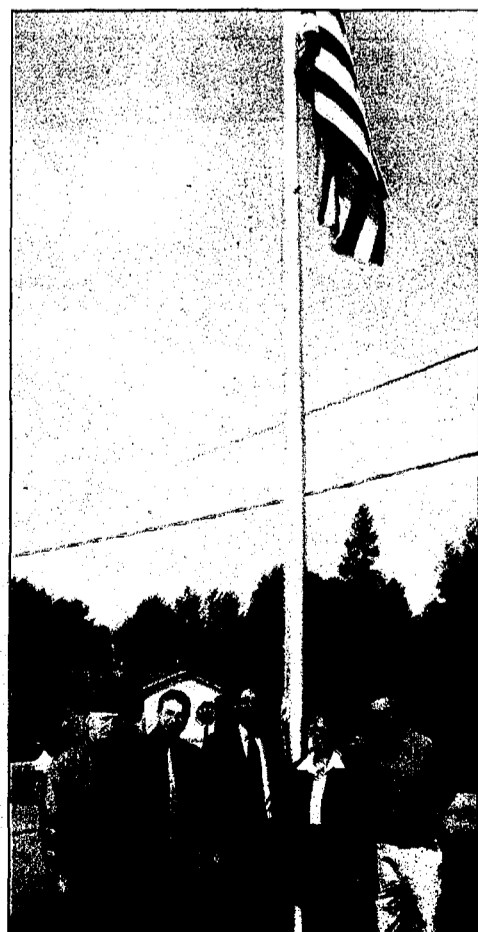

It was a beautiful day for a flag-raising at the Boyne City Airport last Friday. Accompanied by the Boyne City High School band, and with the able assistance of the American Legion Post #228, a new flag was raised on a new flagpole, to snap proudly in a sunny breeze.

It started with a suggestion by the Airport Advisory Board chair Bill Grimm.

"I mentioned the idea to the board and Leon (Jarema) took the bull by the horns and went around town and hit us up for donations," Grimm said. Much of the money came from personal donations from board members, and Jarema got additional donations to cover the cost of a new pole and flag, which ran somewhere between $1,500 and $1,800, according to Grimm. "That's how that started. I have a (heck) of an advisory board," Grimm said. "They worked their buns off."

Once they got the pole, the board decided it didn't want to just install the pole and raise the flag — it wanted to celebrate. With the help of committee members and the city manager, Mike Cain, the festivities were arranged, and included city officials and dignitaries, as well as state representative Kevin Elsenheimer and state

Raven Hill's 'fall opportunities for learning'

Cheri Leach of Raven Hill encourages residents and visitors to come out to the discovery center located at 04737 Fuller Rd. for an opportunity to "explore the artist within."

Raven Hill is presenting open studio classes for adults on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, where students will (almost) be able to experience the Midas touch as they turn clay into a pure silver pendant in the Precious Metal Clay class; create a beautiful silk scarf using the ancient dyeing and folding technique called Shibori; or make their own hot glass beads and turn them into one-of-a-kind bracelets. As always, Cheri said, all the projects are make and take.

Classes run from 1 - 3 p.m., and cost $15 an hour, plus materials. For more information, call Cheri at (231) 536-3369, or E-mail info@ravenhilldiscoverycenter.org.

Boyer Valley Lions help with hurricane relief

The Boyer Valley Lions will be collecting eye glasses for the victims of Hurricane Katrina over the next few weeks. While the Lions usually donate glasses in other parts of the world, currently the effort will benefit hurricane relief efforts.

People wishing to donate their used eye glasses may drop them in the Lions boxes placed in Boyer City at Carter's, Glen's, Huntington Bank, Bank One, Fifth Third Bank, Challenge Mountain, and Eyes On Main.

(Ed Bobowski of the Lions has collected more than 19,500 pairs of eye glasses in the Boyer area over the last several years.)

Visions of Valley at JVDL

Jordan Valley District Library is currently displaying the winning entries of the Friends of the Jordan photography contest, "Visions of the Valley." The photos taken throughout the year celebrate the natural wonders of the Jordan River Watershed. The photographs will be on display until the end of December. The library is open seven days a week. Visit the website at jvdl.info or call (231) 536-7131 for hours.

Story hour

Preschool story hour is offered at the Crooked Tree District Library every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in Boyer Falls and Walloon Lake through the fall season. Books and stories are at the top of the order, followed by crafts or an activity, and winding up with a snack. Puppets and special visitors are also known to pop in occasionally. All are welcome, and registration is not required. Story hour is a great way to encourage a love of books in young children, and also provides opportunities for making new friends.

For more information, call either library at (231) 535-2111 or (231) 549-2277.

Church kicks off 40 days event

Walloon Lake Community Church in Walloon Lake launched its 40 Days of Purpose Campaign Oct. 9, joining a worldwide network of thousands of churches.

There are over 50 small groups already formed for discussion and there is still time to join. At the center of the campaign is the fastest-selling hard cover non-fiction book in history. "The Purpose Driven Life" has sold more than 16 million copies since the book's release in 2002. Books and other resources are available.

During the 40 Days of Purpose campaign at Walloon Lake Community Church, the truths about God's five purposes for people — worship, fellowship, discipleship, ministry, and evangelism — will be communicated throughout more than 40 different areas of ministry within the church. The senior and junior high youth groups and children's ministry will also be "On Purpose" with exciting and fun activities.

Everyone is invited to the Sunday services at 8 and 11 a.m. as well as the Wednesday evening family dinner at 5:30 p.m. 40 Days of Purpose follows with adult groups and a variety of children's and young teens activities at 6:30 p.m. Small groups will meet in host homes area-wide at various times throughout the week. Call (231) 535-2288 to sign up. You can also visit www.WalloonChurch.com for more information.

Marvin Preserve grows

Charlevoix County's Florence Marvin Memorial Preserve received a 12-acre addition bringing its size to 132 acres. The new addition was purchased from Gail Elston and her family, protecting the headwaters of Nemecheck Creek. Nemecheck Creek flows into Deer Creek, a tributary of the Jordan River which eventually drains into Lake Charlevoix.

"The protection of the headwaters of our creeks is essential to maintaining the water quality of lakes and streams in northern Michigan," said Mary Kay O'Donnell, the Conservancy's director of land protection.

"The Elston family did a wonderful job in caring for this land and protecting this creek. We would like to thank Gail Elston and her family for their willingness to work with the Conservancy to make this acquisition a reality."

The rolling hills and old two-track roads that meander across the Marvin Preserve make it a beautiful destination for hiking. Check out the Conservancy website at www.landtrust.org for directions and maps to visit this property and others.

Garden club taking wreath orders

Wreaths, wreaths, wreaths, the Boyer Valley Garden Club is again taking orders for festive holiday wreaths. These beautifully fragrant, natural wreaths range in size from 16 inches (small) to 36 inches (extra large). They are perfect to adorn doors, mantles, any room in your home, or as a gift for someone special to be enjoyed throughout the holiday season. Contact any garden club member, Alice Marshal at (231) 582-6492 or Gary Francis at (231) 582-1129 to place your order. All orders must be received by Friday, Nov. 12.

Donna Sventko, Sally VanDomelen, Linda Force and Kathy Sheehan will host the Oct. 27 meeting beginning at 1 p.m. in the Community Room of the library. The featured speaker will be Gary Marvin of Marvin Garden Center in Charlevoix.

Now is the perfect time to venture through the "garden gate," and learn more about gardening as well as meet club members. For more information, please call president Gary Francis at (231) 582-1129.

Fall from the sky

BY JANE BOOZE
Editor

"Fall from the sky" takes on a whole new meaning when you're flying in autumn. It really is a unique perspective on fall colors to see the changing of the leaves from the front seat of a small bush plane dipping low over the Jordan Valley, and winging high above the waters of Lake Charlevoix.

Chuck Story is an old-time bush pilot by his own description. He flies a Maule M-5 airplane that could seat four, but those four would necessarily be narrow and fairly limber. It is a bush plane, accustomed to landing on soft ground as opposed to a paved runway. It is strong, able to carry great weights, lifting off from rough terrain.

Story has been all over Alaska and Canada, flying into places fraught with peril, such as teeming (harmless, but ghostly) water snakes, and pup tents infested with feasting raccoons. Not all is perilous, and not all peril is occurs naturally. Story has had some near misses in the 200 hours he logs on his plane each year, but mostly his flight career has been one of great enjoyment.

He said he was "hopefully addicted" from his first flight.

The Maule lifted off the Boyne City runway last week, with passengers intent on collecting fabulous fall color photos of the Jordan Valley, Chandler Hills, Boyne Mountain, Lake Charlevoix, and the surrounding hills crowned in autumn splendor.

There is no substitute for seeing your own hometown and home areas, from the air. The world flattened out, Columbus notwithstanding, and almost immediately we felt distanced from the traffic, schools, and businesses that went on conducting daily routines. Those valuable routines diminished in importance in direct relation to their size. Boyne City and East Jordan, and the hills that separate them, were nearly obliterated by foliage, and most of it was either still green, or a dull red or brown. There was almost no brilliant fall color yet.

This may be because we flew on an overcast day: the cloud ceiling was low above us, and Lake Charlevoix reflected back in steel gray stillness. We could see into the clear water, see the definite delineation between the shallows and the deeps. As we circled Oyster Bay, we could see the bones of sunken vessels — one thrusting its ribs through the surface from a shallow grave, the other buried in blue depths, but clearly visible from the air.

Boyne City as seen from the passenger seat of Chuck Story's Maule M-5. The line between shallow water and deep was clearly visible, as was the beauty of both East Jordan and Boyne, with their tree-lined streets and fall colors.

Boyne City showed signs of activity, with new construction and the blank spaces on the shoreline where the power plant and the former United Technologies building across from Glen's Market on Lake St. The waste water treatment lagoons were impressive from the air — big, neat, and swimming with geese.

Over East Jordan we could see sand clogging the harbor area, so clearly visible from overhead. But we were also struck by the tidiness of town, in particular the massive Iron Works, with its swept-looking yards and how it sits at the edge of still-pristine waters. Where you could so easily see runoff or discoloration, there is none.

We flew over houses, recognizing friends' and family's homes from a distance and an unfamiliar perspective. It was a wonderful experience.

Story flies folks up over their homes and businesses, swooping low to give them opportunities to photograph their property. He loves to fly, and is grateful for an occupation that demands it. He is also a photographer himself, and will sometimes have pilot friends take him up so that he can man the camera end of things.

Story has a home on Lake Charlevoix, at Hemingway Pointe, and we fly low over it to catch a glimpse of the cottage tucked into the trees. He used to land a float plane near that cottage, until a wind storm whisked it into the beachside trees. It was a total loss, that unmanned, abbreviated final voyage.

So now it is the Maule that carries us over the water, homes, businesses. We look below to see the Citizen-Journal office, and then reluctantly leave the sky and make our way back to work.

Story, however, just stops briefly to drop us off and refuel before taking another group of sojourners across the straits to Mackinac Island. He said he could fly forever, and, it seems, is never long out of the clouds. A self-described hobby writer, Story tells a timeless story of flight:

"If, just after dawn, you stood the bow with a planing hull and cut the crystal sleeping calm, you have flown with me. Low, so slow, just barely above the bush, through my open doors trees flow beneath my wing like the grasses of an endless lawn. Lakes, ponds and creeks refract the sun and lay like sparkling aqua jewels upon the emerald green. My cub is not the eagle, but the butterfly. On brightly colored, fragile wings I drift upon the gentle breath of God."

Editor's Note: Chuck Story takes passengers, doing fall color tours until mid-November. He can be reached at (517) 281-5674.

Two Thayers receive awards

Charlevoix County Farm Bureau recently recognized an outstanding 4-H member as well as an exceptional 4-H leader to receive respective 4-H awards. These two awards went to Josh Thayer, 4-H member, and his mother, Dawn Thayer, 4-H leader.

The Member of the Year award, given to Josh, recognizes a member for his or her work in 4-H. Josh has represented Charlevoix County 4-H as an active member for the past 10 years, participating in Country Kids 4-H Club, and the Emmet-Charlevoix County 4-H Market Livestock Association. His project areas have included: market livestock (sheep); recycling; consumer education; economics; business and marketing; arts and crafts; community service; volunteering; and veterinary science. Josh received Grand Senior Lamb Showmanship and was the Grand Overall Showman at the 4-H Market Livestock show at this year's Emmet/Charlevoix County Fair. Josh also was awarded Best of Show for his homegrown lamb.

Josh's mom, Dawn, has been what presenter Tim Matchett of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau called, "truly an example of what excellence in 4-H leadership adds up to."

She has been a Country Kids 4-H Club leader for 10 years, and has spent approximately nine of those years on the 4-H Council board, with several years served as treasurer, and several as secretary and treasurer.

Dawn has been responsible for many fund-raisers, including silent auctions, pasty and 4-H bottled water sales.

She has also been a role model, with four of her Country Kids receiving a 4-H award in the last five years. She has been involved in the Market Livestock Association as a board member, officer and lamb barn superintendent. She received the 2001 and 2002 Charlevoix County 4-H Council Volunteer of the Year award.

Both mother and son were presented with their awards on Sept. 24, in a post-dinner award presentation at the Char-Em Early Childhood Education Center.

Boyne's Classic Instruments wins award

Classic Instruments of Boyne City won the best new street rod product of the year at the National Street Rod Association's biggest show in Louisville, Kentucky. The NSRA gives away best new product awards in three categories: up to $100 retail; $101 to $500 retail; and $501 and up. Classic Instruments' "All American Gauge Package" won the category of $501 and up. This was the 36th annual street rod nationals and drew in 11,333 hot rods of the 1948 and older venue. Classic Instruments is a specialty instrumentation company that produces gauges for the hot rod niche market.

HEALTH TIPS FROM MEDICAP PHARMACY

B12 MAY REDUCE OSTEOPOROSIS RISK

Vitamin B12 may play a role in reducing the risk of osteoporosis. According to a study at Tufts University, participants with higher blood levels of B12 had higher bone mineral density than those with lower levels of the vitamin. As people age, it becomes more difficult to properly absorb adequate vitamin B12 from food due to less stomach acid. Researchers suggest that those over 50 eat fortified foods or take supplements containing B12. Check with your doctor or pharmacist as to the correct dosages before beginning supplementation.

The fall of a sparrow

Another young man died needlessly this week, and East Jordan's loss is as deep as the sorrow we feel at his passing. The promise of Jeremy Bingham's youth will never now be fulfilled in adulthood, never will the gifts he brought our small town be fully realized. He leaves a hole no one can fill, and a hurt time alone can assuage. We mourn with his family and community this week.

We are parents. We can't even think about getting that midnight call or knock on our door. We can hardly bear to think of the loss Jeremy's family is fighting their way through right now. We don't know how to help bear their burden, and we are guiltily grateful that we do not personally know the weight of that burden. We hear the names of the dead and we are stung with the knowledge that it could have been our own son or daughter in that vehicle. Too many parents have suffered this much.

LAST CALL

One minute their son or daughter is alive. Maybe he made his mother laugh just that afternoon — half against her will. She should be mad at him — perhaps he broke her grandmother's vase, kicking a ball in the house, and said he will replace it and cajoled her into laughing, even though she knows there is no replacement available. Still, she laughs. She loves him more than the thing.

Maybe the last thing she heard her daughter say was in anger, a slammed door, a harsh word. Maybe the mother said something she would like to unsay. No way to take it back, to make amends for a last word that wasn't ever meant to be a last word.

Or maybe the mother and daughter planned for this night, this homecoming, this prom, this special date. Maybe they worked on her hair together, or she borrowed a special pair of earrings, or they lamented over the size difference of their feet. She left with an airy wave of the hand, and that was it. Goodnight Mom, Dad. Yes, I will be home on time, yes, we will be careful. Or just, Oh, Dad, as if all those admonitions are foolishness.

But we know they aren't. We know that young people equate being able to go fast with being able to drive well, and that they do not know that in the blink of an eye, or the glance away it takes to change a radio station, all could be lost.

A deer, a curve in the road, an icy spot, a mis-steering, and the life so loved, so cherished, is erased.

The empty, aching loss, the hurt, the inability to make time spin backwards, a rewind button that would undo every mistake, every misstep — or at least give the chance to say, I loved you with all my heart. I loved every baby step you took, every sweet smile you gave, every tooth you lost, every wave of those chubby baby hands, forever gone. I have loved you more than my own life. I will love you now, and past now and onto forever.

And we know this other thing: Young people do not know, as we do, how fragile they are. We have always known. We knew when they were tiny, and we kept them from hurts and dangers, fished coins and small toys out of their mouths, pulled their precious hands from stove tops, coaxed medicine down unwilling throats.

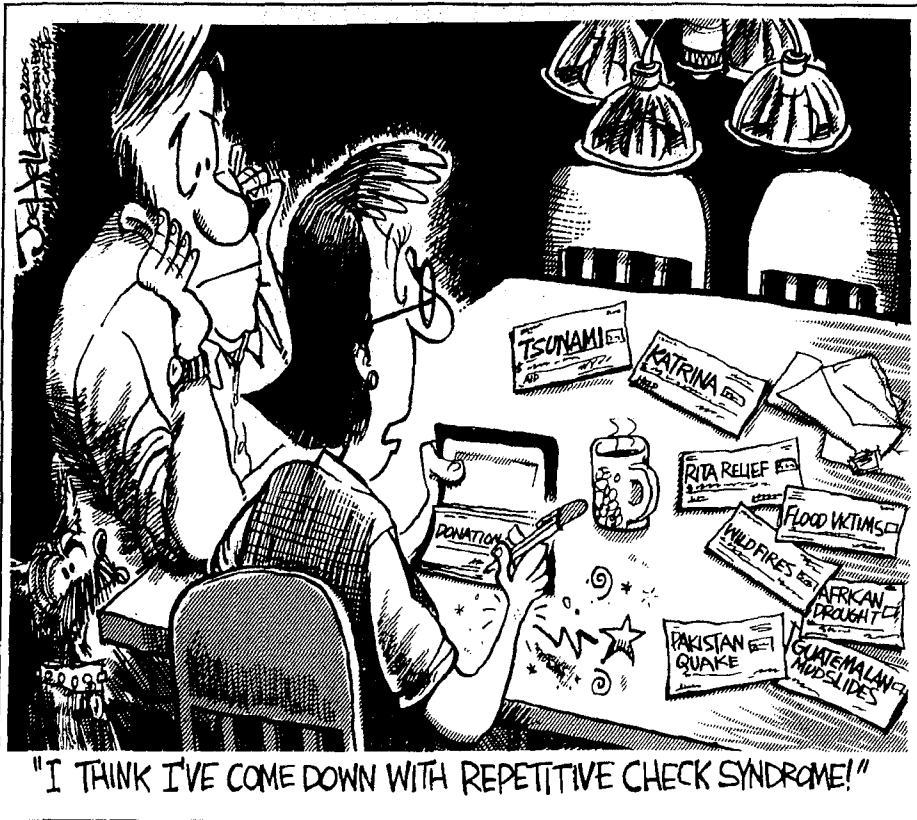

But now they are grown up. It has been months since I have seen my own son. This week's tragic loss makes me feel an urgency to remember the last words I heard him say, to recall the grip of his hug and store it away in a chest with his baby clothes, so I can't ever lose it — no matter what. He is alive, a thousand miles away from me, but alive, and I still have a chance to hear that voice, thank God, oh, thank God.

The dangers are out there. Not just speed and vehicles, but the dangerous choices they will make themselves that put their lives at careless risk.

I don't know how to say I'm sorry to the Bingham's. I don't know how to tell our sons and daughters their lives are worth so much more than the moment, but are a sum uncounted, a value undetermined and unknowable. I wish that telling them to slow down, or just to stay home would change their minds.

I wish young people knew that the loss of a 24-year-old is a tragedy too big for a mother to bear, too big for a family, too much for a community never immune to such loss. We needed Jeremy. We will never know fully what we missed, but we know we needed him, and he is gone.

I wish young people knew that these things are true, and heeded them, and took care. You are needed. You are so worth safeguarding. Treasure the treasure that you are. Take care of yourself. Drive carefully. Come home soon. Godspeed, Jeremy. We miss you with all of our hearts.

Cure for a guilty conscience

TO THE EDITOR:

To whoever went into my rec room on M-75 South in Boyne City stole or ripped off my large antique mirror:

It was from my father's barber shop years ago in Boyne City. It meant more to me than money, and was bolted to that wall 45 years ago — the mirror is more than 100 years old.

The State Police and the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office know about it.

You left the bolt in the wall. It's a very heavy mirror with a 4 1/2" frame of walnut, and not a mark on the beveled mirror glass.

I would like your conscience (if you have one), to bother you or get the best of you; I would like you to return it. It was very valuable to me.

Loraine Robinson
Boyne City

Editor's Note: If you have information regarding this mirror, call the Citizen-Journal at (231) 582-6761. The call is confidential.

MANY THANKS

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the East Jordan Bandshell Committee, I wish to thank all of those who have contributed time, effort and money to this project.

One year ago, we broke ground and now the building is 90-percent complete. It was used by the Freedom Festival in June. The Jordan Valley Community Band performed there each Thursday evening in July. We know use will grow with time.

The final stage of the project is being planned. Before year's end a maintenance fund will be established with the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. This will ensure its upkeep with no tax funds needed.

Anyone who would like to support this project is welcome to do so. Please contact me at (231) 536-7602, or East Jordan City Hall at (231) 536-3381. Once again, thanks to all who have helped.

Carl Bloom, chairperson
East Jordan

LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEERS

The Victim Services Unit of Charlevoix County is in the process of starting a unit and is looking for volunteers who are motivated by a true desire to help people in times of need.

The Victim Services Unit is a group of trained volunteers dedicated to help victims of accidents at the scene of the accident work through the crisis. Victim Services volunteers free up law enforcement and emergency services personnel to do their job, without leaving the victim, or the victim's family alone, avoiding further victimization.

The purpose of this program is to comfort and help victims as well as assist with referrals to appropriate agencies and various other forms of service available to assist with their needs. This program is for onscene law enforcement and short-term support only. Training is provided through Michigan Sheriff's Association.

For more information, call Lois Haske at (231) 582-2285.

WE WELCOME YOUR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The best read letters are brief and on a topic of local interest. Our deadline is Thursday at 5 p.m. Letters will be printed on a space-available basis. Comments can be sent to Jane Booze at citizen@voyager.net or editor@voyager.net.

NEIGHBORS

• JOHN MANCUSO OF LAS VEGAS visited Boyne City 30 years ago. Last week he returned to visit his son, Daniel, who now lives here. They enjoyed golf at Crooked Tree, Boyne USA, and Bay Harbor. John was very impressed with the growth in the area. No scores were reported, but John may be returning to ski at Boyne USA.

• MOSE AND DARLEE MATTHEW OF WALL OON LAKE got home from Tennessee this past Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. They went to Norris to join the many attending the Fall Homecoming at the Museum of Appalachia. It was wonderful for them, seeing old friends, as well as all kinds of crafts and hearing lots of bluegrass music.

Nancy Northrup

• LITZENBERGER PLACE RESIDENTS appreciated the visit of the Eta Nu of Boyne Women's Group on Friday. This fine bunch of gals are volunteering to take signed-up residents to go shopping at Wal-Mart or even drive them to doctor appointments. What a great community we live in!

• LUNCH WILL BE SERVED AT NOON, Thursday, Oct. 20, at the Boyne Area Senior Center. On the menu is Butter Crumb Cod. Bingo will follow lunch, and everyone will win. Come and join the fun. Friday, Oct. 21, they will serve Stuffed Pepper. Cherry cheesecake is planned for dessert. Monday, Oct. 24, they will be serving lunch at the Litzengerber Place at noon. Chicken is on the menu for the day. There will be a speaker before lunch regarding diabetic health, and Bingo to follow. Tuesday, Oct. 25, come for Goulash and salad bar. Before lunch join in on a time of discussion of diabetic health. Wednesday, Oct. 26, they are serving Chicken a la King — plan on apple pie for dessert. Before lunch, massage sessions are available: 10 minutes for $5; 15 minutes for $7. An appointment is necessary, call (231) 582-6682 for a time. Thursday, Oct. 27, they will be serving Sloppy Joes on a bun. The flu clinic planned for that day has been cancelled; please watch for the rescheduled date.

• BETTY KELTS AND SON, JERRY, were among the hundreds of Michiganders attending the 80th anniversary celebration of the beautiful Camp Daggett on Sunday. In spite of the chilly day, Betty said, "I wouldn't have missed this for anything! I was a happy camper here 67 years ago, and I love reunions!" Ice cream and cake and a variety of refreshments were served to the more-than-expected turnout of young and old folks. Many enjoyed boat rides, horse drawn hayrides, carving pumpkins, and other interesting craft events.

• JAKE AND PATTY (DAVIS) JACOBSON of Cody, Wyoming are here at their "Wee House" cottage in Horton Bay, enjoying the fall colors and friends in the area.

• PAM (HEGERBERG) SCHMIDT OF CINCINNATI, and her son and daughter-in-law, Arnie and Donna, and their son, Michael, of St. Louis, Missouri, spent several days here this past week visiting visiting mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Virginia Hegerberg here at her Boyne Ridge home.

• MERLE AND MARY CARSON of Boyne City had a nice couple of weeks in Lake Placid, New York, where colors are a little earlier than ours, so they got to enjoy that area and then return to find it as beautiful, if not more so, at home. Also spent a couple days with daughters, Sandi and Karen, in the Flint area.

• INAUGURAL GRAND BRIDAL EXPO at Charlevoix's historic landmark, Castle Farms, was an outstanding success. Nearly 50 vendors and hundreds of brides came together at Michigan's only chateau on Sunday, Oct. 16.

• SUNDAY, OCT. 16, the Boyne Area Senior Center held a fund-raising dinner at the East Jordan Senior Center with about 80 seniors attending dinner. Music furnished by Country Cousins was enjoyed by all present. A 50/50 cash drawing was held along with several door prizes won by those present.

Compassionate Hearts celebrates Halloween

Compassionate Hearts, the charity organization founded by Boyne City's "Crazy" Sally Pasque, is hosting a Halloween party for the purpose of raising money to be used to help local children and families.

Pasque started the organization when she recognized that lower income families may have needs that include food, shelter and clothing, but that basic health care needs, such as dental work and prescription costs can also pose a problem. Compassionate Hearts' goal is to meet the needs where ever they exist.

To meet that goal, Pasque holds a couple of fund-raisers throughout the year. She hosted a clown contest earlier in the summer, and is about to launch her second Boyne fund-raiser, with a Halloween party to be held Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Boyne City. The Halloween party will have a "Let's Make a Deal" theme, as well as door prizes, lots of food, a 50/50 drawing and cash bar. One hundred percent of the proceeds will go to help those in need, according to Pasque, who is planning the event.

Tickets are $10 a person, and are available at Country Now and Then. For more information, call (231) 330-3872.

OBITUARIES

Dorian G. Adgate

Northern Michigan ski resort pioneer, respected real estate broker, and business leader Dorian Adgate, 78, passed away peacefully at his Walloon Lake home on Oct. 15. "Dee," as he was known to his family and friends, was born on January 29, 1927, in Saranac, the only child of Glenn P. and Olga (Blaser) Adgate. He graduated from Saranac High School in 1945 and served in the U.S. Navy for 2 years immediately thereafter. Dee met his future wife, Betty Wilkinson, at Michigan State College in East Lansing, from which he graduated in 1950 with a degree in business administration. Dee and Betty were married in Jackson, Michigan in Sept. of 1950, and they recently celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary. Along with his wife, Betty, Dee is survived by his daughter, Susan Welborn and husband Kevin, and their two children, Alexandra and Amanda. He is also survived by his son, Cary Adgate and wife Jody, and their two children Sterling and Ireland.

After college, Dee was employed for a few years in Lansing by the Burroughs Corp. as a salesman, during which time his two children, Cary and Suzie, were born. Then, in an incredible feat of entrepreneurial daring, Dee acquired almost 200 acres of wilderness in the eastern part of Charlevoix County in 1956, and moved his young family north to start the Thunder Mountain ski resort, which he successfully operated until 1967, when the resort was sold to the Boyne USA family of resorts. Dee's vision and management style created a friendly atmosphere which, combined with the challenging hill, made Thunder Mountain a favorite among both locals and skiers from around the state alike.

In the early 1960s, Dee managed the historic Walloon Lake summer resort, Shadow Trails Inn. After leaving the ski business, Dee became a real estate broker, first for Gerald Fineout Realtors in Walloon Lake, and then with his own company, Dorian G. Adgate Realtors in Boyne City, until his retirement in 1985.

Dee was tirelessly dedicated to the welfare and happiness of his family, and he will be remembered by all who knew him well for his impeccable integrity. He always placed "doing the right thing" ahead of his own personal interests. Dee loved the northern Michigan outdoors, and was a lifelong nature lover. He enjoyed fishing, hunting, hiking, golf, and corn roasts at the beach with his family. Dee was an animal lover extraordinaire, and especially so with his dogs. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorials to the Charlevoix County Humane Society or to the Walloon Lake Trust and Conservancy. There was a memorial service on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at Stackus Funeral Home in Boyne City. Public visitation with the family was at 1 p.m., followed by a service at 2 p.m.

Tom Waggoner

Tom Waggoner, 72, of San Diego, passed away on Friday, Oct. 7. Tom was born on May 22, 1933, to Keith and Leah Waggoner in Boyne City. He graduated from Boyne City High School in 1951, as valedictorian of his class. The next four years were spent at Michigan State University, graduating in 1955 with a Bachelor of Science degree. Tom spent the next two years in the U.S. Army, with much of his service time spent in Germany.

Tom began his career as a lab technician at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey. From there he moved to Grand Rapids, where he worked for MedTech. This was followed by a move to Chicago, where he worked at a major hospital. His last move was to San Diego, where Tom spent approximately 30 years, until his retirement, working as a lab technician and a licensed pathologist at Sharp Memorial Hospital.

Tom loved nature - the outdoors, the birds and animals; he loved the climate of San Diego, the mountains, and the Pacific Ocean, which will be his final resting place. Tom was a talented artist, often translating the beauty he saw in nature into a painting. He wrote poetry and collected fine proof stamps and engravings.

Tom had made his own burial arrangements. He was cremated, with his ashes being scattered in the Pacific Ocean.

Tom was preceded in death by his parents. He is survived by a brother, Larry, of Boyne City; by two special friends, Susan and Richard, of San Diego; as well as many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Rest in peace, Tom! With all my love, your brother, Larry.

The Boyne City Child Study Club, started in 1945, recently celebrated its 60th birthday with some charter members.

Boyne City Child Study Club celebrates 60th

A Sunday gathering at the Wolverine Dilworth Inn brought together members of the Boyne City Child Study Club from past and present as the club celebrated its 60th year of supporting parent education and child nurture, recently.

Ruth Sheets, a founder of the Child Study Club in 1945, shared her memories of starting the club which was modeled after a similar organization down state. From the mothers of pre-school aged children who met for the first time at the very same Dilworth Hotel on December 10, 1945, to the mothers of school-age children today, the purpose of the club has not changed.

Sheets was joined by Florine "Flo" Davis, Vernice Nelson, and other members of the group who had enjoyed membership over the years. Many current members of the club attended as well, enjoying the stories of the club's activities over the years.

The Boyne City Child Study Club is dedicated to providing opportunities for mothers to dedicate one night a month to enhancing their parenting skills by hearing from a knowledgeable speaker or participating in fundraising events which will benefit children of the region. The club donates $70 to each of more than a dozen organizations, including reading programs at Boyne City Elementary School and Boyne District Library, Camp Quality, and both Boyne City area pre school programs.

Mothers of school-age children are eligible to join. Although membership is not restricted to Boyne City residents, the club's activities benefit primarily Boyne City children.

The club earns money by raffling a one-of-a-kind quilt hand-painted by the children of club members, membership dues, and a fun white elephant sale among the membership and their friends. The club is considering other fundraising options as well with the goal of raising their contributions to $100 per year for each organization which it supports.

"Our creed is 'Unite for the purpose of parent education and child nurture,'" said Beth Kartes, president of the club. "We meet monthly from September through May to educate ourselves and improve our parenting skills, and to raise money for projects in our community which benefit children."

"As we discovered during the 60th Anniversary Tea, our goals as parents have not changed," said Lisa Sitkins, vice president and treasurer of the club. "The club started with stay-at-home moms and is now composed primarily of women who work outside the home, but there is no doubt that we hold the same values for our children as the women who founded the club in 1945."

If you are interested in attending the next Child Study Club meeting on Oct. 17, contact Lisa Sitkins at (231) 582-1778 for more information.

Amber Kotalik, 14, a Boyne City High School freshman, shot her first deer on the evening of Sept. 24, during the youth hunt. This 9-point buck was shot while Amber was hunting with her father on the family's property.

Fall enrichment classes begin

The East Jordan Public Schools will introduce you to spreadsheets using Excel. This class will assist you in becoming proficient in the creation of spreadsheets, as you learn to create, format, copy and save, and display information on charts and graphs. Instructor: Heather Jackson. Location: East Jordan High School BMT Lab Room #20. Dates: Wednesdays, Oct. 26 through Nov. 16, with the exception of Nov. 9. Time: 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Cost: $40.

• Dog obedience training: This is a beginner class, perfect for that new puppy, new pet owner, training your dog to hunt, and even the old dog that needs a bit of discipline. Children are encouraged to participate in this class. Bring vaccine record and proof of a negative stool sample to the first class. Instructor: Laura Bath. Location: East Jordan Elementary School small gym. Dates: Mondays, Oct. 24 through Dec. 5, with the exception of Oct. 31. Time: 6 - 7 p.m. Cost: $40.

• Pilates: This exercise program works the body from the inside out, to create balance, ease of motion, strength, flexibility, and a strong physical core (backs and abdominals). Wear loose, comfortable clothing, no shoes. Exercise pad or sticky mat are recommended. If you have health issues or back problems, consult your doctor before beginning this exercise program. Instructor: Gena Cross. Location: East Jordan High School, Room #50 (old band room). Dates: Mondays and Wednesdays, Oct. 24 through Dec. 14, with the exceptions of Nov. 9 and 23. Time: 4 - 5 p.m. Cost: $65.

• Survival Spanish for travelers: Learn the basics and you will be able to barter, shop, go to a hotel, a restaurant, the airport, talk about sports and recreation, ask directions and understand the answers, as well as learn some individualized vocabulary. Instructor: Joan Vine. Location: East Jordan High School Spanish Room #5. Dates: Wednesdays, Oct. 26 - Dec. 7, with the exceptions of Nov. 9 and 23. Time: 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Cost: $50.

• First Aid & CPR: Earn your CPR and First Aid certification with this course, designed to teach you to help save a life. You will learn the steps necessary to perform adult, child and infant CPR, along with the basics for First Aid, such as splinting, bleeding control, shock management, care and treatment for a heat or cold emergency. You will also learn to recognize the signs and symptoms of a heart attack or stroke, and what you need to do until EMS arrives. Instructor: East Jordan Emergency Medical Service. Location: East Jordan EMS Training Center, 203 Mill St. (beside Subway). Dates: Thursdays, Nov. 3 - 13. Time: 6 - 10 p.m. Cost: $55, plus an additional $10 to be paid to East Jordan EMS for materials and CPR certification.

• Microsoft Excel: Would you like to use your computer to manage your personal finances, or just learn more about this program for your job, or to make yourself more employable? This course would introduce you to spreadsheets using Excel. This class will assist you in becoming proficient in the creation of spreadsheets, as you learn to create, format, copy and save, and display information on charts and graphs. Instructor: Heather Jackson. Location: East Jordan High School BMT Lab Room #20. Dates: Wednesdays, Oct. 26 through Nov. 16, with the exception of Nov. 9. Time: 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Cost: $40.

• Swing dancing: This is a basic beginning class for teens and adults. No previous experience is needed. Participants will be taught the basic, double and triple swing steps, as well as a few fancier moves and sequences to give the dancers the confidence to at least "fake it" on the dance floor without injuring themselves or others. Recommended shoes: jazz sneakers, tennis shoes (might have too much grip), or leather-soled, Oxford-style shoes. Instructors: Jeannine Sladick and son, Peter Sladick. Location: East Jordan Elementary School small gym. Dates: Thursdays, Nov. 3 and 17; Dec. 1 and 8. Time: 7 - 8 p.m. Cost: $40 per couple.

• Saturday morning dance studio: This is a series of classes run Saturdays from Nov. 5 - 19, with additional classes scheduled based on interest. Instructor: Jeannine Sladick. Location: East Jordan Elementary School small gym. Cost: $20 per class.

• 9 - 10 a.m.: Ceili dancing: This Irish social dancing class is family-friendly, for participants third-grade and up. No previous experience is necessary for this wonderful aerobic alternative to your usual routine — not too taxing on your body. Participants will learn mixers, circles, and longways social dances in the Irish style. Recommended shoes: jazz shoes, jazz sneakers, tennis shoes, or comfortable leather-soled shoes.

• 10 - 11 a.m.: Beginning Irish step dancing: no experience needed. Recommended for ages third grade through adult. Participants will learn basic soft-shoe Irish step dancing. This will be a high-energy, very aerobic class. Recommended shoes: jazz, ballet, or jazz sneakers (tennis shoes are not recommended). Please wear clothing for stretching, moving and sweating — jeans are not recommended.

• 11 a.m. to noon: Clogging. No experience needed for this class recommended for third-graders and up. Participants will be taught the basic Appalachian style of old-time percussive step dancing. This is a high-energy, uplifting style of dance that gets your body moving from head to toe, even though the focus is on the sounds of your feet. Well worth a try! Recommended shoes: jazz sneakers or Oxford-style, leather-soled shoes.

For more information on any of the enrichment classes, call Debbie Harm at (231) 536-0053; ext. 5371.

Area grads awarded scholarships

This fall, college tuition will be a little easier on the pockets of area families, thanks to scholarships totaling over $120,000 recently awarded through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation.

There were 95 Charlevoix County graduates chosen to receive scholarships from special funds held by the community foundation. All funds were established by local citizens - to honor family members, civic leaders and educators. Among the students from Boyne City, Boyne Falls, and East Jordan receiving scholarships are:

homeowners regarding the use of alternative fuels, it is this: install and use the heat source according to manufacturer's instructions.

Fireplaces and wood stoves must be installed to code, and in many cases need to be inspected and approved before use, or they will not be covered by insurance should a fire occur.

Kerosene and electric space heaters, according to Amesbury, are fine for certain uses, but should not be used for permanent household heating. In addition, homeowners should be careful that space heaters are not placed on carpeting or rugs, or near flammable items such as curtains.

"People have got to remember to shut them off and not use them continuously," Amesbury said. The firemen recalled a housefire that created a tremendous amount of damage when some children were huddled under blankets near a space heater. No one was hurt in the blaze, which started when the discarded blanket was left too close to the running heater.

In addition, kerosene heaters give off carbon monoxide, an odorless, invisible and deadly gas. When heaters are used without proper ventilation, the gas alone is a serious winter hazard. Homeowners are encouraged to have a carbon monoxide detector in their homes, and it should be installed about 12 inches from the floor. Smoke rises, but CO2 is heavier than air; if it has reached the height one would install a smoke detector, it will be too late to alert anyone to the danger.

In addition, the BCFD officers said that homeowners should have their chimneys cleaned and inspected before use. Make sure the chimney is uncapped and free from creosote build-up, nests or other obstructions. Also ensure that the heat exchanger is not warped or cracked, and be aware that snow build-up can also obstruct chimney ventilation.

Heat tape on roofs is another fire hazard. The firemen recommend that homeowners do not apply heat tape directly to shingles, and that the tape is not used continuously. Also the heat tape should be checked for integrity — is there wear or cracking or breaks?

Furnace filters should be changed, and dryer vents should be cleaned at least once a year. This is a simple task, the firemen said, and can be easily accomplished by a homeowner, using the exhaust feature on a vacuum cleaner or Shop Vac to blow dust and debris out of the vent. In addition, lint traps should be cleaned out after every drying cycle, before another load of clothes is dried.

A dust fire from a dirty lint trap or dryer vent is a fast-burning fire.

Finally, Amesbury recommends that homeowners who heat with wood use only seasoned wood, as green wood creates a faster creosote build-up in the chimney.

"Don't dispose of ash into plastic or paper. Use metal, with a cover, and store it outside," he said.

The Boyne City fire fighters are also working on a fund-raising project again this year, hosting a Halloween Eve Haunted House for the eighth year at the fire hall.

The fire fighters used to do a Christmas event for the area children, but found that it was hard to compete with other holiday events around Christmas, so, when Glen's Market decided to abandon its haunted house, the firemen got the props and their own Halloween treat came into being.

The firemen do the whole event in one day, from set-up to clean-up. Last year about 460 children visited the haunted fire hall.

"It's a good time," Amesbury said. "We work our hind ends off, but it's fun. A lot of kids come."

"We are always open to ideas or suggestions," he added.

The Boyne City fire department is a volunteer department. In the summer, daytime fires can be hard to man, as the volunteer force available during the day dwindle to 8 - 10 people. Some of the firemen are laid off in the winter, so the workforce increases. Wintertime is also an opportunity for intensive training, and the fire department adds tabletop exercises and hazardous materials training to their regular training schedule.

senator Jason Allen.

"This town is good for cooperation," Grimm said. He believes that one of the reasons is that the city's approach has been to always tell the truth. When something needs to be done, if the story is told, people support a need. The airport is a testament to that philosophy.

Cain joined the senator and representative, the mayor, Eleanor Stackus, and airport board member Leon Jarema, in congratulating the board on its many achievements.

"Like an airplane gathering up speed as it travels down the runway in preparation of taking flight, so too has the Boyne City Municipal Airport been gathering up speed as it progresses towards its goal of becoming one of the best little airports in Michigan," Cain said.

Cain noted a list of improvements to the airport in the last two years, including five new hangars; added security fences; the development of airport emergency plans and pilot safety programs; expanded taxiways and utilities for future development and current service improvement; pavement remarking and crack sealing; the drag race partnership with the police department; a segmented circle around the wind sock; and new signage, weather station and computer work station in the terminal.

"And today we literally top it all off as we dedicate this new flagpole, reflecting our pride in our nation, state, community and airport," Cain said. "Whether by road, by water, or by air, we want coming to and doing business and living in Boyne City to be as convenient, safe, and welcoming as possible. We are proud of all that has been accomplished here, ... as we reach for our goals and soar like the eagle on top of that pole."

is incredible, and her ideas are amazing.

"At the meetings, it's crazy for me. I just sit there and listen — they are so creative."

Bender said that the dedication of these volunteers is as amazing as their creativity, as she described driving by a volunteer's house before maze construction had started at the Civic Center.

"It was misting rain, and they were outside with spotlights, building things for the maze," she said. Volunteers pick a "room" — and the maze motto is, anything goes. They duct tape lines where they want the walls and specify other construction needs, and the builders build per instructions. Then volunteers can start moving into the rooms on Monday prior to the event, and the cast changes. There is constant activity, with volunteers borrowing from each other, everything from a staple gun, to a home made instrument of torture.

"You need a casket? Somebody's got a casket you can use. You need an electric chair? Someone has one," Bender said.

Bender said that as they enter their fourth year, the Screams from the Dark should be more intense than ever.

"We know what works, know what's good — and how to help people flow through," she said. This year there will be a Gatekeeper, helping time the traffic.

"There are about 15 new people this year. New people are good, with new ideas," Bender said, but also stressed that the show needs the veterans, the ones who already know what works, and how to get the biggest fright factor.

"People put their lives on hold and do this. They eat dinner there. It's a huge commitment," Bender said, adding that it is never too late to volunteer for the fun,

if time-consuming. Parents are encouraged to take young children on Thursday night, as the

Rams defeat Devils, 6-1

Harbor Springs scored three first half goals and added three more after the intermission to defeat the East Jordan varsity soccer team 6-1 on Oct. 11.

Jeff Keyser scored East Jordan's goal, while Benjamin Toth picked up the assist on the play.

RJ Green played a strong game in the midfield, transitioning the game forward many times. Goalkeeper David Waterson made 19 saves in net and Peter Sladick made two saves from the fullback position.

"This was a much better game than our last meeting with Harbor Springs. Every game out our confidence is picking up and hopefully it will peak for the district tournaments," said East Jordan coach Pete Elliott.

"Our passing in the midfield and coming out of the fullback line was much better. It was a good game for the crowd and one the guys can feel good about," Elliott added.

EAST JORDAN 3 CHARLEVOIX 3

The Red Devils rallied for two second half goals to take Charlevoix to overtime on Monday, Oct. 10, but after two extra sessions the game ended in a 3-3 tie.

East Jordan opened the scoring 12 minutes into the first half before Charlevoix countered with three straight to led the contest 3-1 at the ten minute mark of the second half.

Brandon Lacount scored twice for the Red Devils, while Benjamin Toth scored once.

Goalkeeper David Waterson made 19 saves.

East Jordan will be home against Kalkaska today and host Elk Rapids for Parent's Night tomorrow.

Ramblers to close out regular season this Friday

BY PHIL TROMBLEY
Sports Writer

The Boyne City varsity football team continues to pile up the yardage, while racking up the victories as the Ramblers hone their game with an eye towards the post season tournament.

Boyne City, ranked in the top ten in the state's Division VI ratings, defeated Harbor Springs 47-7 on Friday, to earn its seventh win overall and its fifth win in the Lake Michigan Conference. The Ramblers at 5-1 are one game behind league leading Traverse City St. Francis.

The Ramblers rushed for 366 yards on the ground and had 426 total yards while powering past the Rams.

"We came out and took care of business. We scored early and often and we were able to get lots of kids on the field, which was a good thing," said Boyne City coach Dave Hills.

"We are playing well," Hills added. "We are blocking well up front and getting some big plays."

The Ramblers scored four touchdowns on the ground and added one through the air to build a 34-0 lead after one quarter.

Boyne City scored on runs by Robbie Jensen (four and 43 yards), Will Brown (three yards) and Taylor Voice (eight yards), while quarterback Grant Ameel found Voice for a 55 yard scoring pass.

Charlie Courtright, the leading Rambler runner with 69 yards, scored on a one yard dive in the second quarter to make the lead 40-0 at the half.

Boyne City got a third quarter 11 yard touchdown run from Dan Sutton to cap the scoring.

Harbor Springs avoided the shutout with its lone touchdown coming with 33 seconds remaining in the game.

Brown added 59 yards and Voice chipped in with 47 yards to bolster the Rambler running game, while Ameel hit one pass in three attempts for 55 yards passing.

On the defensive side of the ball Jeff Moore and Brown paced the Ramblers with eight tackles each. Josh Konecki had seven tackles and Scott Morrow had six.

Boyne City will close out the regular season this Friday at Kalkaska. "They are a much improved team and they are very tough to play at home," said Hills about the match up.

Boyne City's Andy Sutton fends off a defender in last week's game against Harbor Springs. The Ramblers are ranked in the top 10 in the state's Division VI ratings.

New 2006 fishing regulations approved

The Natural Resources Commission (NRC) recently approved eight new fishing orders (FOs) for regulation changes that will go into effect for the 2006 fishing season, which begins April 1.

At the upcoming Nov. 3 meeting of the NRC, five additional FOs are expected to be approved by Department of Natural Resources Director Rebecca Humphries to also take effect for the 2006 fishing season. All of the regulations will appear in the 2006 Michigan Fishing Guide and the 2006 Michigan Inland Trout and Salmon Guide. The information and regulations published in both fishing guides will be in effect for two complete fishing seasons - April 1, 2006 through March 31, 2008.

Highlights of the changes include:

- Spawning Closures: The spawning closure on Prairieville Creek, an inlet to Gull Lake in Barry County, was removed since Gull Lake is no longer managed for Atlantic salmon and the Type I trout regulation currently in place for Prairieville Creek adequately protects spawning trout and rainbow smelt.

- Designated Trout Streams: Stony Creek in Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties were added to the order to protect spawning brook trout. Adding this water to the list of Designated Trout Streams provides for cold water protection under the state's water quality rules and allows for protection of trout during the fall spawning period when the stream is closed to fishing. Thread Creek in Oakland County was removed from the order since continuous water temperature monitoring indicated marginal temperatures for trout occasionally exceeding 80 degrees during mid-summer.

- Northern Pike: The following lakes were added to the list of waters where northern pike may be taken at any size: Lake Thirteen in Clare County; Big Creek Impoundment and River Lake in Crawford County; Pickerel Lake in Crawford and Oscoda counties; Lake Lancer in Gladwin County; Bass Lake in Kent County; and Lake Ogemaw in Ogemaw County. The following lakes were removed from the list so general hook and line regulations will apply: Pickerel Lake in Dickinson County; Harper Lake in Lake County; Hamlin Lake in Mason County; and Meauwataka Lake in Wexford County.

- Gear Restrictions: Changes to the gear restrictions order were made to allow anglers to suspend a weight below a hook tied directly to the main line (without using a three-inch dropper line) on certain waters. The method of using this gear is called "drop shooting" and will now be legal to use on inland lakes, the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

However, the gear restriction is still in effect on all rivers, streams and drowned river mouths where snagging potential is highest. The list of drowned river mouths by county is: Kalamazoo River and Silver Lake in Allegan County; Betsie Lake in Benzie County; Arcadia Lake, Manistee Lake and Portage Lake in Manistee County; Pere Marquette Lake in Mason County; Duck Lake, Mona Lake, Muskegon Lake and White Lake in Muskegon County; Pentwater Lake, Silver Lake and Stony Lake in Oceana County; Macatawa Lake and Pigeon Lake in Ottawa County.

- Special Muskellunge and Pike Regulations: Several waters were removed from the special muskellunge and northern pike regulations listing. General hook and line regulations will now apply to these waters. The waters removed are as follows: Lower Crooked in Barry County; Austin Lake, Eagle Lake and Crooked Lake in Kalamazoo County; and Big Star Lake in Lake County.

- Lake Trout in MI-6 Lake Superior: Lake trout regulations in Lake Superior management unit MI-6 were changed to a 15-inch minimum size limit and a three fish daily limit. The change makes lake trout regulations consistent throughout Lake Superior.

- Hook and Line Regulations: The hook and line regulations were extended on the Saginaw River from LaFayette Bridge downstream to its confluence and the portion of the Kawkawlin River downstream from the Euclid Avenue Bridge has been added during the wall-eye spawning runs. On these waters during the period from March 16 through the Friday before the last Saturday in April, it is unlawful to fish with artificial baits. Natural baits may be fished only on single pointed hooks not more than a half-inch between the point and shank, and no beads, spinners or reflectors may be attached to the line within six inches of any hook.

- Sturgeon Regulations: Minor adjustments were made to the lottery drawing procedure for the Black Lake sturgeon spawning season. Changes will benefit anglers interested in this type of angling opportunity and will allow Fisheries Division to streamline the lottery drawing process.

Penalty shot difference in Grayling win over BC

Grayling scored the winning goal on a second half penalty kick situation to hand the Boyne City varsity soccer team a 2-1 defeat at home on Thursday, Oct. 13.

The Vikings held a 1-0 lead at halftime before Ethen Mapes tied the contest with an unassisted effort at 13:45 of the second half.

"Grayling out-played us and they deserved to win," said Boyne City coach Nick Baic. "I know our guys can play better soccer than what they've been playing lately. We need to play at a higher level consistently."

Boyne City will host Charlevoix tomorrow.

Last second shot lifts Rayders over Ramblers

BY PHIL TROMBLEY
Sports Writer

Charlevoix led Boyne City through most of the game on Oct. 11, but it took a last second shot by the Lady Rayders to seal a 67-66 conference victory.

Charlevoix led the contest 23-13 after one quarter, 37-27 at the half and 50-42 going into the final period before Boyne City mounted a comeback effort that saw the Lady Ramblers take a three point lead with three minutes to go.

With 56 seconds remaining in the game Boyne City used its final time out to set up a final shot to ice the victory.

With just 7.6 seconds on the clock Charlevoix intercepted a Holly

"The girls did such a great job," said Boyne City coach Scott Hausler. "They never quit and they always kept their heads up and played hard."

For Boyne City Stanek had 13 points and 20 rebounds, Jessica Knysz had 15 points and 15 rebounds and Haili Friedrick had 16 points.

Boyne City (8-4 overall) will travel to Grayling tomorrow and host Harbor Springs next Tuesday.

BASKETBALL

Thomas, Roberts lead Red Devils to 70-53 victory over Boyne City

Lady Red Devils Meghan Thomas (19 points, seven rebounds) and Sierra Roberts (17 points, six rebounds, four steals) led East Jordan to a 70-53 Lake Michigan Conference basketball victory over Boyne City on Oct. 13.

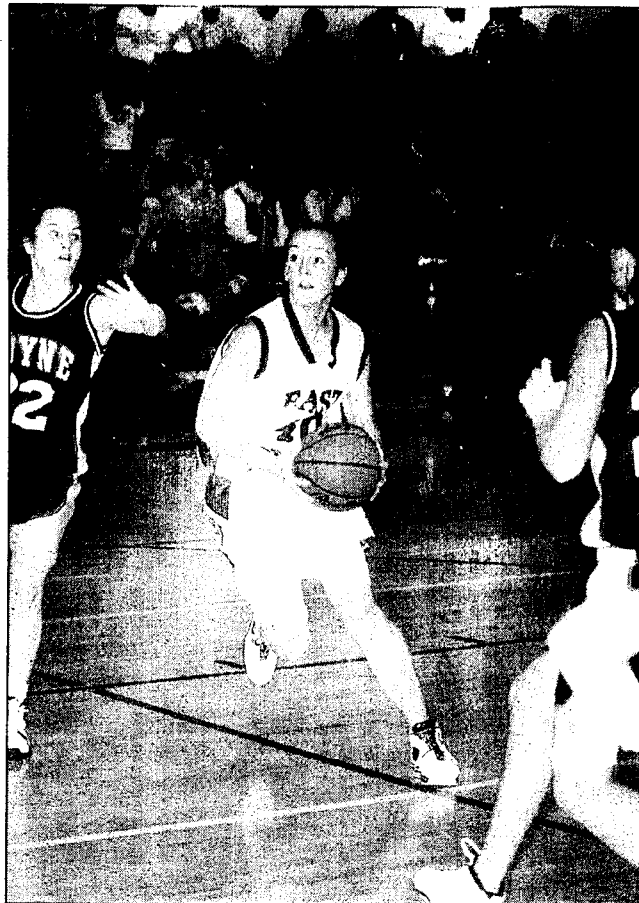

East Jordan held an early 15-11 advantage after one quarter, while moving ahead 37-26 at the half and 55-39 at the end of three quarters.

"We had a great team win tonight. Meghan and Sierra had a fabulous week and both have really stepped up," said East Jordan coach Sean Ferguson. "Kristi Werner, Jessica Roberts, Jaleesa Baier and Kayla Hines played great defense in the backcourt."

Holly Stanek (14 points, 20 rebounds), Jessica Knysz (ten points, 13 rebounds) and Trisha Tomkins (11 points) paced the Lady Ramblers.

"East Jordan is so well coached that you just have to be ready to play hard every time you see them and we weren't ready," said Boyne City coach Scott Hausler.

Katherine Rowley added eight points and five rebounds for East Jordan, Werner chipped in with six points and Jessica Roberts had four steals.

Meghan Thomas of East Jordan drives into the lane for a lay-up as a pair of Boyne City defenders converge on her.

EAST JORDAN 56 GAYLORD ST. MARY'S 46

Sierra Roberts led all scorers with 21 points when East Jordan defeated Gaylord St. Mary's 56-46 on Oct. 11.

Roberts also had nine boards and nine steals; Thomas added 14 points, ten rebounds and ten steals; Hines contributed eight points and Werner had six points.

East Jordan held leads of 15-12, 31-20 and 41-32 at the end of the first three periods.

"What a great win for our program.

St. Mary's has tremendous tradition and we are really happy with how we played, especially on the defensive end," said Ferguson.

Kayla Spyhalski (18 points) and Samantha Dunn (11 points) paced the Lady Snowbirds. East Jordan will be home for its next two games against Traverse City St. Francis tomorrow and Kalkaska next Tuesday.

FOOTBALL

St. Francis too much for East Jordan

A powerful Traverse City St. Francis football team put 56 points on the board in the first half of play en route to a 69-6 Lake Michigan Conference win over East Jordan on Saturday.

Gliadiators Egam Quin and Patrick Rigan both caught a pair of touchdowns from quarterback Gen Wheelock, while running back Chad Biggar ran for two scores to lead the offensive onslaught.

Wheelock also ran the second half kickoff 88 yards for a touchdown.

The win left St. Francis (7-1 overall) on top of the league standings with a 6-0 record, while East Jordan dropped to 3-5 overall and 2-4 in the conference.

The Red Devils avoided the shut-out when Justin Wilson found Andrew Streufert for a touchdown strike with five minutes left in the first half.

Wilson threw for seven completions in 14 attempts for 114 yards passing. Streufert caught five passes for 102 yards receiving and added 82 yards in kick returns.

"We could not run the ball against them and that was our main problem. We were forced into a lot of passing situations," said East Jordan coach Kris Ernst.

"Our kids played hard and they have a lot of respect for that team. They have a lot of class and they are very well coached," Ernst added.

The Red Devils will face Grayling at home this Friday for Parent's Night.

"They [Grayling] have to win to make the playoffs, so they will be motivated," said Ernst. "It's our Parent's Night and our seniors will have some motivation to win their last game."

Boyne Falls posts best times of season

Despite some cold and windy conditions all of the runners on the Boyne Falls cross country team posted their best times of the season at the Leroy Moxie Invitational held at Fairview on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Shawn Kilmer (8th, 18:33) paced the Loggers in the 54 runner boys field followed by Justin Grubaugh (21st, 19:43), Kevin Knight (33rd, 20:25) and Josh Grubaugh (35th, 20:49).

Sharmal Wheaton (22nd, 25:19) led the Lady Loggers in followed by Roslyn Fiel (24th, 25:51), Carissa Reynolds (27th, 26:51) and Annie Pernicano (29th, 27:11).

Boyne Falls will run at the Northern Lakes Conference finals today in Ellsworth and travel to Mt. Pleasant this Saturday.

BC runners compete at Fairview Invite Ryan Kasper finished fifth overall and Jesse Place turned his fastest time of the season when the Boyne City cross country team competed at the Fairview Leroy Maxwell Invitational on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Kasper ran a time of 18:11 to pace the Ramblers, while Place broke the twenty minute mark to finish 22nd with his time of 19:45 and Taylor Korthase finished 42nd in a time of 21:39.

Lindsey Mansfield (6th, 22:15) led the Lady Ramblers followed by Erin Haley (8th, 22:20) and Amy Anderson (9th, 22:25).

"We hope that this will be the last race this season that we will have to run short handed. All of our runners are peaking as we wind down the season," said Boyne City coach Andy Place.

Melrose Township man pleads guilty

From May through Aug. of this year, numerous residences and businesses in Melrose Township, Charlevoix County, have been the target of criminal activity. The crimes involved several businesses being broken into, with money stolen as well as other items either being taken or damaged. Residences were broken in to and clothing and personal items including hunting equipment, golf carts and a backhoe were stolen.

Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office detective Chuck Vondra investigated these crimes and developed a suspect in Joshua Lee Hadd, age 20. Vondra received a tip regarding where the suspect in these cases could be found. When Vondra arrived at the location, he found an ATV and a trailer, which had been reported stolen in Emmet County. Vondra waited in the woods on a two-track road and apprehended Hadd when he came back to check on the stolen items. Vondra made the arrest and sought felony warrants from the Charlevoix County prosecutor's office.

Prosecuting attorney, John Jarema, authorized five felony warrants for two counts of breaking and entering a building, both having a penalty of 10 years in prison, and three counts of larceny of $1,000 to $20,000, each carrying a penalty of five years in prison. Hadd was arraigned on felony charges and pled guilty as charged. Sentencing is set for Nov. 11.

"The defendant pled straight up to the charge, which is a direct reflection of the excellent police work by detective Vondra," Jarema said. "The quick response and thorough investigation by the sheriff's office should help put the victims' minds at ease that this criminal is off the street."

Sheriff George Lasater said that he is very proud of "Vondra for his tenacity that resulted in the apprehension of this subject."
