East Jordan salutes veterans

By CHRISTINE GwidT

EAST JORDAN — Memorial Day is bitter-sweet. It traditionally signals the beginning of the long and blissful days of summer. There is usually a parade and kids with ice cream cones, and with any luck, a smattering of fat white clouds in a blue, blue sky. All of these were evident in East Jordan on Monday.

But, the most pervasive mood was one of deep allegiance and gratitude to the men and women who have given their lives in the service of our country.

The parade passed by and the people lining the street fell in behind and followed to Memorial Park where the service was held. Col. Raymond Moore, Chaplin of the Michigan National Guard (ret.), gave the invocation and benediction, and See EAST JORDAN, page 2

Man charged with arson of house

BOYNE CITY — A man is accused of setting fire to a house in which he lived by the Charlevoix County Prosecutor's Office, following a determination by the state fire marshal that the fire was intentionally set.

Cordell Lester Cambric, 53, of 2082 Timber Ridge Trail was arrested by the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office on May 22, and charged with three counts. Count one is arson of a dwelling, a 20-year felony; count two is arson of insured property, a 10-year felony; and count three is a charge of habitual offender. Past convictions are for burglary and possession of controlled substances.

A preliminary examination is set in Charlevoix county for June 5, when it will be determined if probable cause exists to try Cambric on the charges in circuit court. A $200,000 bond was set.

The April 22 fire destroyed the house and spread into the surrounding wooded area. No injuries were reported. Boyne City Fire Department, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Charlevoix Township Fire Department and Boyne Valley Fire Department were all involved in fighting the blaze.

BOYNE CITY — Memorial Day began early for area veterans. Following breakfast hosted by the Boyne City Boosters at the high school, they visited seven cemeteries before participating in the parade and the service in Veterans Memorial Park.

Under a blue sky, the crowds watched and applauded as veterans walked in the parade down Lake Street to the park. A stop was made on the bridge over the Boyne River to pay tribute to those lost at sea.

The Boyne City High School Band in their red and white uniforms looked and sounded grand in the parade and at the service.

Following behind the service men and women, people settled in at Veterans Park and quietly listened to the words honoring those veterans who died in service to the country.

Case against Boyne dismissed

By B. J. HETLER

BOYNE CITY — A lawsuit filed by developer Devlon Properties, Inc. Against the city of Boyne City in August 2006, was tossed out of court on May 18.

Devlon Properties had claimed money damages when the city revoked its permits that allowed construction of a residential hotel and restaurant known as "Boyne Beach Club."

The city revoked the permits in May 2006, because they had expired, according to former planning director, Dan Reed. A city ordinance states that construction of a project must commence within one year from the date of the issued permits. The city claimed that no such construction had begun. According to city ordinance, Devlon was therefore required to reapply if it planned to pursue its lakefront project.

School "Leap Frog Program" reconized

BOYNE CITY — Boyne City Elementary School received an Education Excellence Award recently for developing an innovative program to improve student achievement. The Michigan Association of School Boards bestowed the award and Gov. Jennifer Granholm, state Sen. Jason Allen and state Rep. Kevin Elsenheimer issued an honorary proclamation to the school.

As Michigan struggles financially and many school districts face cutbacks, school administrators and staff have created and implemented a system that has dramatically enhanced student performance without requiring additional funds, materials or staff. Dubbed "Leap Frog" because students may move in, out and among various groups, elementary school principal Fred Sitkins explained that support staff travel to each grade level for two 30-minute sessions throughout the day creating student-teacher ratios sometimes as low as 3 to

1. In these sessions, students who may be struggling with reading comprehension or vocabulary are given additional time and specific attention. Teaching is shared among the staff, providing small group instruction in areas most beneficial to the participating students. Each grade level has two

Students meet elected officials

BOYNE FALLS — Charlevoix County Republicans hosted their annual Lincoln Day Dinner at Boyne Mountain which was well attended by over 150 people. Among those in attendance were students from East Jordan and Boyne Falls government classes and state, township and county elected officials.

Dick DeVos was the guest speaker. He currently is the Michigan Republican Finance Chairman. He received many words of thanks for his candidacy in the governor's race. There was a great deal of encouragement and support to run in the next race for governor. Dick told the group that trade and profit were not welcome words to all voters. Senator Jason Allen and Rep. Kevin Elsenheimer spoke to the audience with an update of events in Lansing centering around the Michigan budget and the need to look at alternative solutions other than more new Michigan taxes on the shoulders of taxpayers.

All Republicans are welcome on Sunday, July 8, at 1 p.m., for the annual Republican potluck picnic at Whiting Park. Circle that day on your calendar for the best grilled chicken in the north. There will be many door prizes and a fun time is had by all.

But, Devlon claimed that it lost construction time and consequently money because its permits were revoked and the re-application process would delay its project. The city reissued the permits on Oct. 3, 2006.

In asking the court to dismiss the case, attorney for the city, Todd Millar, argued that Devlon had no cause of action, because the permits were reissued. Charlevoix County Circuit Court Judge Richard Pajtas agreed and ruled that Devlon's appeal was moot.

Devlon also claimed that the city violated federal and state constitutional civil rights and due process. Judge Pajtas ruled that Devlon had no constitutional claims because it had not commenced construction on the site.

Devlon claimed that demolition of a building on the site and marketing efforts qualified for the beginning of construction, but the court did not agree.

Devlon Properties and its president, Jim Hevey, plan to build on the property at 475 N. Lake St., across from the shopping plaza. The land would be the site of a 111-slip marina and private beach, as well as a hotel and restaurant.

Evelyn Gould was in the crowd, but for 30 or more years she said she had carried the flag in the parade.

Woody Austin, a U.S. Navy GM3 who served in the South Pacific during World War II, watched the proceedings.

A special tribute was made to Maxine Hough, former commander of the American Legion Post in Boyne City, who died at the age of 84 on May 18.

A Boyne City Middle School student, Andrew Blossom, summed up Memorial Day.

"It's good to be reminded of our American veterans," he said.

Ray Fisher of VFW Post 7580 introduced guest speaker, Capt. Terry Kupovits, Capt. Kupovits, a 31 year veteran of two services, delivered a moving address citing the loyalty and courage displayed by our troops, historically and currently.

"For the most part, these are ordinary people doing extraordinary things to protect our country." Kupovits said. "Remember this — no matter how you feel about the war — you can hate the war, but love the warrior. All of us are saddened by the loss of so many young, bright men and women."

The day was clearly a tribute to the sacrifices that they have made, and continue to make.

scheduled Leap Frog periods per day, the second focusing on math skills.

"Learning is a function of time," Sitkins said. "With this program, students receive a second dose of instruction. It's like an elementary school version of a SWAT team. We target specific areas of difficulty for intense focus and work toward eliminating discrepancies between students without placing them in a particular group for their educational career."

Since implementing the program in the fall of 2005, the results have been striking. Tracking their progress throughout the school year and beginning with 53 percent of the students working at or above standard and 47 percent below, by the spring semester the percentages had adjusted to as high as 80/20. The number of students scoring below average on the district's assessment was reduced by half.

"The combination of Leap Frog periods and after-school support have produced the greatest academic gains we have ever experienced," Sitkins said. "This program has also provided the opportunity for enrichment periods for students who are performing above grade level and traditionally under served."

The award for exemplary school programs was presented on May 14 during the regular meeting of the Board of Education.

Omega-3 Fatty Acid & Dementia

The omega-3 fatty acid DHA (docosahexaenoic acid) that is found in fish oil may lower the risk of dementia. Scientists followed 900 people with an average age of 76 for nine years. After accounting for other risk factors, the participants with the highest blood levels of DHA were 47% less likely to develop dementia than those with lower levels. The high-DHA group reported eating fish an average of three times a week. Fatty fish like salmon, herring, mackerel, and sardines are good sources of DHA, but it is also available in supplement form. Senior center to burn mortgage BOYNE CITY - Sunday, June 10, Boyne area seniors are inviting the community to Sunday dinner to celebrate burning of the mortgage. The dinner is also a fundraiser to create an endowment fund for future maintenance and an irrigation system. Dinner will be held 12 to 2 p.m.; cost for adults will be $8, with children under 12, $4.

Fundraising began in January 2001 when Boyne Area Seniors became a 501(C)(3) tax-exempt foundation. The new senior center represents a $980,000 investment. With the participation of six townships, Bay, Eveline, Evangeline, Wilson, Boyne Valley, Melrose, and the City of Boyne City, voters approved .35 mills for 3 years that raised $754,000. Tax exempt donations can be sent to Boyne Area Seniors, PO Box 964, Boyne City, Mich., 49712.

Boyne Area Seniors have leased the Senior Center to Charlevoix County Commission on Aging. The COA provides staffing and serves home cooked meals daily. Northwest Michigan Hospice provides services from the Senior Center. Many community events are now being held in the facility. The senior center is available to rent for wedding receptions, funeral luncheons, showers, family reunions, and special events. For rental information contact Nels Northup at 231-549-5647. The telephone number for the Boyne Area Senior Center is 231-582-6682.

Hospice of Little Traverse Bay breaks ground

PETOSKEY - Hospice of Little Traverse Bay broke ground last week for the construction of Hiland Cottage, a seven-bedroom hospice residence and community grief and loss center. Community members were invited to attend the groundbreaking ceremony held at the future site of the hospice house with a reception following at the Bay View Inn.

Hospice of Little Traverse Bay board chair Mike Nuorala, fundraising chair Roger Lintz, executive director Lisa Ashley, building chair David McBride and Northern Michigan Hospital president Tom Mroczkowski.

"You're all here today taking part in a historical moment," said fundraising chair Roger Lintz during the Hiland Cottage groundbreaking ceremony last Thursday. "I want to thank them (campaign committee) personally and those who have been so generous in their giving, through monetary means and through their time."

Named for long-time hospice advocate and board member Hiland Hall, the 18,000-square-foot, two-story building will house all hospice operations on the first floor, including administration, counseling staff and volunteers. The second floor will have seven patient bedrooms, a kitchen, a meditation room, a family/children's play room, a beauty shop, a library and an office for nursing staff. Hiland Hall's wife, Joedy Hall, was in attendance at the groundbreaking with her son and daughter-in-law.

Hiland Cottage will be located in Petoskey off of Balsam Avenue near the Northern Michigan Hospital Lockwood-MacDonald campus. It will provide a place of comfort for patients and their families as they experience the end-of-life transition together.

The facility will also house all Safe Crossings Community Support Services, which includes community support services such as bereavement programs for children and teens, adult grief support groups and individual counseling.

These programs are offered free of charge to anyone in the community who has lost a loved one regardless of their participation in hospice services. Funding is provided by grants, memorials and other community gifts.

Hospice care is available to anyone, of any age who has a life-limiting illness. Those who would benefit from a hospice facility are those whose caregivers are unable to maintain care for the patient at home, for those without a caregiver available or those whose symptoms are such that they need 24-hour care to maintain their level of comfort. Hospice of Little Traverse Bay provides care to residents of Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties.

For more information on hospice care or the hospice house project, visit the Hospice of Little Traverse Bay Web site at hospiceltb.org or contact Hospice of Little Traverse Bay at 231-487-4825.

Some really big news this week is that Shirley Howie was the lucky winner for the Buy into Boyne. She won the first place, which was $2,000. She was really surprised and really happy.

Eleanor Stackus more than appreciates everyone for their prayers and thoughts and so many other acts of kindness while she was in the hospital and upon her returning home, where she will be recuperating for the next couple of months.

All went well, and was great news for my husband and family.

Lloyd and Joyce Kelsey have returned to their Boyne City home after spending the winter in the Fort Meyers area of Florida.

Congratulations go out to Clark and Linda Rouse of Boyne City, who celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday, May 20.

Walter and Rita Leist of Wilderness Park and Everett and Donna Leist of Boyne City called on their cousin Edna May last Friday and all shared an enjoyable afternoon

Dan and Julie Schmittiel of Chicago were here earlier in May, celebrating Mother's Day with her mother, Mary Dunlop and family, and with his mother, Marie.

The Sunday dinner at the Boyne Area Senior Center this past weekend was a great success. There were 100 there for a great dinner, thanks to the good cooking of Andy Colyer and his helpers and the center's director, Terry Powers. The Cousins Music group was at their best, with old songs, sing alongs, peppy music for line dances and swaying music for the waltzers. Everyone was having a great time, as luck would have it, the winner of the 50/50, $27, went to Ginny, the female singer of the Cousins group, but she put it back in kitty for the seniors.

The family of Naomi Shepard of East Jordan is honoring her with an open house on Saturday, June 2, in celebration of her 90th birthday. It will be held at the United Methodist Church from 1 to 4 p.m. All are welcome to share in this milestone event.

Bill and Jane (Northup) Charvat of Winter Park, Florida, have been here this past week.

Last weekend the, Corner family of Grand Rapids were here visiting the Clarence Millers.

Katie Vobach of Davison spent a week in Boyne City with her aunts, Connie Urman and Linda Chew. Grandma Mary Carson had them all over for a cookout on Wednesday night. Katie returned to her home on Saturday.

On Monday, the annual "Let's Get Moving Northern Michigan!" program got off to a great start. The walk 100 miles in 100 days, promoting a healthier lifestyle, for Emmet and Charlevoix County residents is sponsored by Northern Michigan Hospital, Charlevoix Area Hospital and Michigan State University Extension program. It is a regional fitness initiative to get people moving. There was lots of enthusiasm at the Boyne Area Senior Center, as the Commission on Aging Newsletter Director Susan Cook got everybody signed up and geared with pedometers and got the walkers lined up behind leader Sally Kleinschrodt. Off they went, up Division Street, to get their first mile in. They were joined in this first day walk by city manager, Michael Cain. Returning to the center for lunch, a drawing for their efforts rewarded Bunny Garlock with a gift certificate to Glen's and Joyce Kelsey and Sally Cyr won two, weekly certificates to Curves. Just for the record for Charlevoix County centers, the Boyne area had 28 walkers, East Jordan, 13, and Charlevoix, 12. Good job, Boyne Area seniors.

"I WONDERED HOW BOB BARKER WOULD KEEP HIMSELF BUSY AFTER RETIRING FROM 'THE PRICE IS RIGHT.'"

A small town with a Sonic would be nice

The car started to chug. Temperature gauge was good, tank not empty, battery and alternator have been replaced — yet the car comes to a stop in front of a farm house.

A car pulls into the driveway and someone asks: "You need a hand?"

That moment, was an instant I was glad to be living in a small town.

Things may not have gone so easily in the city. A teenage girl and mother stopping to help a stranger, that looks like he just woke up and with a pitbull on a leash — not a desirable combination for those looking to do good.

Had I still been in a bigger city, three types of people may have been willing to stop — extreme dog lovers, truly kind people and the people that drive vans with no windows. No thanks, a 2-out-of-3 chance isn't worth avoiding a walk.

Fortunately, this time around, my car stopped in the small town I now live in, when my fuel pump seized. Later, I found out they were the family that operates Ruthie's, across the street from the Antrim County News.

BRIEFCASE FULL OF BRU

By Troy Bruzewski

I wasn't surprised someone stopped, or helped, as I too came from a small town. Kawkawlin is my home, a small town on the north border of Bay City. Small town life, with everything in the city just five minutes away. People helped each other out, and folks from nearby Bay City, would be coming to our place to get some country living experience.

My friends from the city would come to my house just to ride our tractor, get in the passenger seat of our dune buggies, or look out the back window to see trees rather than another house. The two dozen miles between my house in Kawkawlin, and my friends' homes in Bay City, seemed like a time warp of sorts.

One time, in the early 90s, I gave my friends Pepsi in glass bottles. They said how long it had been since drinking pop from a glass bottle. I asked what they usually drink from, they said "plastic bottles of course." "Really? You drink right from the two-liter?"

Now, I laugh about not drinking from 20-ounce plastic bottles. Rather, drinking from a glass bottle, that will snag your tongue in the top, if you don't just let the pop come down from a tilted angle.

Then, at my first newspaper job in 1997, I had culture shock. I was hired as a sports writer at The Saginaw News. It was the break of my career, but it took a little adjusting.

One of my first nights, I volunteered to pick up pizza and pop. After giving my order number, I was buzzed into the security door at the pizza place, then purchased pop at the gas station by sliding dollars under bulletproof glass, to the attendant.

We're not in Kawkawlin anymore.

But the city has it upsides — restaurants, nightlife, activities. But a Pepsi from a glass bottle would have been nice, too.

When I spoke with Mancelona baseball coach Jim Vanwagoner last week, about his house burning down, he expressed how glad he was to live in a small town, with people willing to help.

So am I. But if you could bring in a Sonic and Bob Evans, it would help me out a lot.

It's important to be prepared

By SEN. JASON ALLEN
GUEST COLUMN

Be prepared. That's the motto of the Boy Scouts.

"Be prepared for what?" someone once asked Lord Baden-Powell, the founder of Scouting.

"Why, for any old thing," said Baden-Powell.

That advice still rings true. As a former scout, and now serving as a state senator, I've always believed in the value of being prepared. In an age when terrorism and natural disasters continue to make headlines, it makes more sense than ever to be ready for emergency situations.

By investing a few moments now, you and your loved ones can have a strategy in place. Homeland Security Secretary Michael Chertoff put it well: "By simply taking a little time to sit down together and make an emergency plan, families can help answer important questions, such as where to meet, how to communicate with each other and what to do in the event of an emergency."

This extra layer of safety can come by taking three sensible steps: be informed, develop a plan, and make a kit.

Be informed. Find out what kind of disasters, both natural and man-made, are most likely to occur in your area. Inquire about emergency plans at places where your family spends time, such as work, daycare and school. If no plan exists, volunteer to help create one.

Develop a plan. It may be easier to make a long-distance phone call than to call across town, so an out-of-town contact may be in a better position to communicate among separated family members. Be sure that every member of your family knows the designated phone number and has a prepaid phone card to call the emergency contact.

Make a kit. When preparing for a possible emergency, think first about the basics needed for survival: fresh water, food, clean air and warmth.

An emergency supply kit should have at least a three-day supply of non-perishable food and one gallon of water per person per day for at least three days, for drinking and sanitation. Experts also recommend a first aid kit, flashlight, extra batteries, and a battery-powered radio.

Depending on your family, additional items to consider are: prescription medications, infant formula and diapers, food and water for pets, and important documents, such as insurance policies and bank account records in a waterproof, portable container.

Another handy tool is chlorine bleach. When diluted nine parts water to one part bleach, household bleach can be used as a disinfectant. Or in an emergency, you can use it to treat water by using 16 drops of regular household liquid bleach per gallon of water.

Blankets, fire extinguishers, matches and personal hygiene items are also wise choices.

Disasters come in all forms. Blizzards, power loss, floods, tornadoes, even acts of terrorism. Make sure your family knows what to do in case of an emergency.

It always pays to be prepared.

Sea lamprey control planned for Bear and Jordan Rivers

US Fish and Wildlife Service personnel will apply lampricides to the offshore areas of Bear and Jordan Rivers in Charlevoix and Emmet counties to kill sea lamprey larvae burrowed in the bottom sediments. The applications will be conducted between May 30 and June 6 in accordance with State of Michigan permits. Each application will be complete in 2 to 3 days. The actual application dates will be determined during the scheduled treatment period based upon local weather conditions at the time.

Sea lampreys invaded the Great Lakes in the 1920s and have been a permanent, destructive element of the fishery ever since. Sea lampreys attach to fish with a suction cup mouth, rasp a hole through the fish's scales and skin, and feed on blood and body fluids. The average sea lamprey will destroy up to 40 pounds of fish during its parasitic phase.

Sea lamprey larvae hatch from eggs laid by adult lampreys in gravel nests, and drift into silty bottom areas where they burrow and live for several years. Also, larvae sometimes drift out of streams and settle in the immediate offshore arreas near stream mouths. Failure to detect and subsequently eliminate larvae allows the lampreys to transform into parasitic adults and kill Great Lakes fish. Infested tributaries and offshore areas must be treated every three to five years with lampricides to control sea lamprey populations.

Most stream treatments are conducted by using the lampricide TFM, but in deep waters offshore of stream mouths crews use Bayluscide 3.2 percent Granular Sea Lamprey Larvicide, another lampricide approved by the US Environmental Protection Agency and Health Canada Pest Management Regulatory Agency. This lampricide is specially formulated onto sand granules and covered with a time-release coating. The formulation is sprayed over a measured surface area of water by boats where it sinks to the bottom, rapidly dissolves, and causes the larval sea lampreys to leave their burrows and swim to the surface where they can be collected to verify the extent of the infestation and assure their destruction.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Health Canada Pest Management Regulatory Agency have reviewed human health and environmental safety data for lampricides and in 2003, concluded that the lampricides (Lampricide and Bayluscide) pose no unreasonable risk to the general population and the environment when applied at concentrations necessary to control larval sea lampreys. However, as with any pesticide, the public is advised to use discretion and minimize unnecessary exposure. Applicators are trained and are certified by Michigan regulatory agencies for aquatic applications of pesticides.

The program is contracted through the Great Lakes Fishery Commission to the US Fish and Wildlife Service and Department of Fisheries and Oceans Canada. The Commission initiated chemical control of sea lampreys in 1958. Since that time the highly successful program has contributed significantly to the maintenance of the $4 billion Great Lakes sport and commercial fisheries. Without continued control efforts these fisheries again would be in jeopardy.

The Commission is committed to delivering a sea lamprey control program that practices good environmental stewardship. To support the continued safe use of lampricides the Commission recently conducted a series of studies at a total cost of $6 million to assess the effects of the lampricides on human health and the environment. In addition to these studies the Commission has implemented a research program to develop alternative control techniques. US Fish and Wildlife Service and Department of Fisheries and Oceans Canada are currently evaluating the release of sterile male sea lampreys as a control measure in the St. Mary's River. The Commission also is developing a strategy to increase the number of barriers on lamprey-producing streams, and is conducting research into barrier design, traps, attractants, and biological controls.

Additional information about sea lampreys and sea lamprey control is available online at www.glfsc.org. TTY users may reach the Marquette or Ludington Biological Stations through the Michigan State Relay Service at 1-800-649-3777.

Red Cross completes disaster readiness exercise and evaluation

PETOSKEY – The Northern Lower Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross recently completed their first Chapter Disaster Readiness Exercise and Evaluation. On Tuesday, April 17, the chapter was visited by representatives from National Headquarters who administered the drill, assessing the chapter's preparedness and responsiveness to a potential disaster in our area. During the drill, the chapter assessed their ability to respond to an event that affected 50 families, in this case a tornado, using the apartment complexes near Wal-Mart as an example area affected.

The "tabletop" exercise used a time simulated environment mimicking the timeline forecasted in the case of an actual event. In response to the tornado, the chapter set up a mock Red Cross headquarters, contacted volunteers, external partners to obtain permission to use their facilities as shelters, and obtained other support in the form of mass feeding, to name a few.

Staff and volunteers came together, performing in roles they had not played before and working as a team to coordinate resources, shelter, feed, and raise funds. Overall the chapter discovered they have great competency in a number of areas and were praised for their ability to think outside the box.

Dave Guterrez, a Red Cross representative from the Great Lakes

Service Area and administrator of the drill, praised the chapter for thinking of things they had not foreseen, saying, "The volunteers and staff of the Northern Lower Michigan Chapter have extensive knowledge of their area and resources. We as drill administrators had not considered that the actual Wal-Mart store could also be affected, limiting our feeding resources. The chapter quickly realized this potential eventuality and came up with alternative sources to accommodate mass feeding."

Betsy Hanson, executive director, noted that "this drill was an excellent opportunity for us a chapter to experience 'first hand' what would be asked of us should a disaster of this size actually occur. We were able to realize our strengths and weaknesses in an exercise format, to better prepare us for the real thing."

After concluding the drill, the chapter is moving forward improving upon their existing disaster response plans and knows that should an actual event occur, they will be prepared to come to the aid of our community.

If you would like any information about the American Red Cross and their products and services, please contact the Red Cross offices at 231-348-7666. Or if you would like to discuss becoming a Disaster Action Team volunteer, please contact Kevin Bavers in the Red Cross offices.

BOYNE CITY RAMBLERS, BOYNE FALLS LOGGERS AND THE EAST JORDAN RED DEVILS

Falls baseball splits two doubleheaders

By TROY BRUZEWSKI
SPORTS EDITOR

ELLSWORTH - The Boyne Falls baseball team won one game, in each doubleheader it played last week.

Andy Reynolds pitched a 6-1 win over Ellsworth Monday, May 21. He allowed five hits and struck out three. Jared Mathers led the offense with a pair of hits. He also pitched the second game, and looked to be picking up a win. But the Lancers came from behind to earn a 7-6 win.

Mathers allowed two hits and had 11 strikeouts. Tyler Reynolds came in relief and took the loss.

Mathers again had two hits, in the second game, as did Chad Deming.

"Both games, after the second inning, our bats went silent," Boyne Falls coach Chris Fiel said. "And errors hurt us, especially in the second game. We did not capitalize on a brilliant pitching performance by Jared Mathers."

Thursday, the Loggers hosted Vanderbilt, which turned the tables and won the opening game, 7-5.

Ryan Matelski had three hits for Boyne Falls, Chad Deming had two.

Mathers got the win, that avoided him against Ellsworth, in the second game. He had nine strikeouts in a 7-4 win, that evened the Loggers' season record at 11-11.

Matelski, David Gross and Tyler Reynolds had two hits each.

Marr, Gettel lead Pellston sweep

EAST JORDAN - Ryan Gettel and David Marr combined to pitch wins and lead the East Jordan bats in the baseball team's doubleheader sweep over Pellston Thursday.

Gettel allowed eight hits and had six strikeouts in the 6-5 opener win. The Red Devils scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth, to win. Gettel had a triple, Matt Pater had two hits and an RBI.

Kevin LaVanway started the second game, going four innings and striking out six. In the fifth inning, he gave way to David Marr, who was the pitcher of record in the 14-11 win.

Marr pitched the last two innings, striking out six and allowing one hit. He also had three hits, including a home run, to help his cause. He finished with three RBI for the Devils.

Gettel, Alex Bajko and Scott Hansen had two hits in the second game, which improved the Devils' record to 14-10 overall this season.

Season closes with two losses

EAST JORDAN - Maribeth Poindexter was one of the few highlights for the East Jordan girls soccer team, in its final week of the regular season.

Poindexter had over 50 saves in two games, but the Red Devils still lost both games. Monday, May 21, the Red Devils hosted Harbor Springs. The game was scoreless for the entire first half, and the first 10 minutes of the second half, until the Rams scored to make the game 1-0. They added an insurance goal later and won 2-0.

Poindexter had 31 saves for East Jordan. It was the second consecutive game it held the opponent scoreless in the first half.

Thursday, she had 26 saves in a 5-0 loss to Elk Rapids. The previous meeting between the two teams this season, was a 9-1 Elk Rapids win.

East Jordan coach Pete Elliott says this year's team set a school record, and nearly had a second.

"We kept our opponents to the lowest average goals scored against us, in the eight years of the program," he said. "We also were one goal from tying the most goals scored in a season and are tied for best average points scored per game, with our best year."

Rambler girls second at LMC meet

By GREG GIELCZYK

KALKASKA — Depth is hard to beat in track and field.

In fact, it's almost impossible to overtake a team that can score points in every event. Charlevoix had only two girls win Lake Michigan Conference championships last Wednesday, May 23 at Kalkaska High School.

But the Rayders picked up points in all 17 events in locking up the league title, 145-123 over the Ramblers. Harbor Springs finished third (91) and Traverse City St. Francis fourth (85).

Ramblers' coach Andy Place was filled with pride of his team's effort after the meet, despite his team's coming up short of bringing home the conference championship.

"Coach Mary Plude, of Charlevoix, has a huge improvement over our last couple of years. This was truly a team effort, as 16 of our 20 girls helped in the scoring."

"We had our best meet of the year. We feel blessed to finish ahead of such talented teams as Harbor Springs and East Jordan. Our girls really stretched their athletic talents. Our second place finish is a huge improvement over our last couple of years. This was truly a team effort, as 16 of our 20 girls helped in the scoring."

The Ramblers were responsible for setting three new meet records, which helped them stay on the Rayders' heels throughout the day.

Natasha Bell had a tremendous day, setting conference meet records in both the 100-meter (12.61 seconds) and 200-meter dashes (26.06 seconds).

For good measure, she also won the long jump with a personal best leap of 15 feet, 9 1/2 inches.

Jessica Nichols shattered the third meet record for the Ramblers when she won the 300-meter low hurdles in a time of 48.15 seconds, surpassing the previous mark of 48.47.

"We nearly burned Jessica out with the 100-meter, 200-meter, 300-meter hurdles and the 1600-meter relay," Place said.

Perry Fish stepped up in the throwing events, winning the shot put (32 feet, 8 1/2 inches) and finishing second in the discus with her personal best throw of 104 feet, 7 inches.

Lacey VanAlstine provided some support to Fish in the throwing events with a fourth place in the discus, uncorking a personal best throw of 99 feet, 3 inches.

Kristina LaVake (29-8) and Laura Lounsbury (28-9) both threw their personal bests in the shot put to finish fifth and seventh, respectively.

Caitlyn Wonski was the regional champion in the pole vault (9 feet), and the 1600 relay team of Bell, Lounsbury, Wonski and Nichols finished third (4:27.02).

"The team showed tremendous character," said Place. "Conference runnerup is an awesome way to end the season."

Skrocki sets LMC meet record in 100 hurdles

KALKASKA — Ashley Skrocki is good now.

Imagine how much better she could be in two years, when she's a senior at East Jordan High School.

The thought strikes fear in the hearts of many Lake Michigan

Conference runners who go against her in the 100-meter high hurdles and 300-meter low hurdles.

East Jordan coach Dennis Snarey is hoping that she hasn't reached her peak yet, nor that she will quit working hard to get her times down.

Skrocki recorded an LMC meet record in winning the 100-meter high hurdles last Wednesday, May 23 at Kalkaska's track when she finished first in a time of 15.24 seconds.

East Jordan was fifth overall with 60 points. Charlevoix scored 145 points for first, and Boyne City took second with 123. Harbor Springs came in third with 91.

Kristi Werner, a senior, also had a fine day for the Red Devils. She placed third in the 3200-meter run with a time of 13:20. Snarey's challenge next year will be finding another solid distance runner.

Alicia Oliver reached the finals of the pole vault and wound up taking fourth place, clearing 7 feet.

The Red Devils' 3200-meter relay team of Werner, Kaitlin Keane, Oliver and Meghan Thomas finished third with a time of 10:29.87. Thomas, a junior, also took a fourth place in the 1600-meter run with a time of 5:40.24.

In the boys' meet,

East Jordan finished seventh with 30 points. Charlevoix took first with 160.5, Harbor Springs second with 105 and Kalkaska third with 101.

East Jordan's highest individual finish was a second place by Travis Nachazel in the 100-meter dash with a time of 11.43 seconds.

Voice dominates pole vault

By GREG GIELCZYK
SPORTS WRITER

KALKASKA — How high can he go? Boyne City pole vaulter Taylor Voice doesn't know, but the Ramblers' three-time state qualifier keeps reaching for the heavens every meet.

Voice continued his domination of the event this season with a first place finish at the Lake Michigan Conference track and field championships on Wednesday, May 23, in Kalkaska by smashing the previous meet record by clearing a height of 13 feet.

Voice's performance was typical. He's consistently finished in the top three in the pole vault all season, and has designs on doing the same in the state finals on Saturday in Grand Rapids.

"He's done well all season, but he is really starting to come on here at the tail end when you really want to see him peaking for the state meet," Ramblers' coach Tom Nagurka said.

"Although he didn't vault as he as he had hoped, you can see that Taylor is starting to put all the mechanics together that are needed for a serious run at a state championship in this event."

Voice contends for the Division 3 state title on Saturday, June 2 in Comstock Park just north of Grand Rapids. If he can better his performance in the LMC meet, he could bring home a gold medal.

Ethen Mapes, a sophomore, tied for seventh in the pole vault at 10 feet. Voice also reached the finals in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles, and wound up fourth with a time of 42.6 seconds.

Also scoring for the Ramblers was Ryan Spence with an eighth place in the 100-meter dash with a time of 12.12 seconds. Boyne City's 3200-meter relay team was fourth in 9:13.39.

"Looking at the results for all the individual athletes on the team, it has been a very successful season," Nagurka said. "It all has to be put into perspective, as half of our team was new to the sport, and of those returning from last year's team, half of them were underclassmen.

"Putting up large numbers of underclassmen against other team's juniors and seniors is tough, but good experience. As the boys grow, they'll only become faster and stronger.

"Every athlete on the team improved in each of his individual events over the course of the season, and in the end, what more can a coach ask of an athlete but to improve?"

STAFF COMMENTS: "I would like to nominate Becky Grabowski for student of the week. Becky is very smart, diligent, responsible and kind. She thinks problems through and works hard at them until she has a solution. She is often the first one to come up with the correct answer. Becky also works very hard to stay organized and turn in all of her homework. If she is absent she figures out what she missed on her own and turns it in immediately. But, by far, the most important characteristic Becky shows is compassion. She would never hurt a flea, only says kind things and is a friend to everyone. I am so glad that I have gotten the chance to teach Becky. She really is a joy to know." Mrs. Kloss

DNR WEEKLY FISHING REPORT

The following is the weekly fishing report, as provided by the Department of Natural Resources, for the Northwest Lower Peninsula region:

Walloon Lake — Smallmouth bass seem to be the target and most are having pretty good luck when casting shallow divers, plastic worms or grubs along the weeds or in the shallows. Some undersized walleye along with some bluegills and perch were taken while still-fishing or drifting with worms.

Thumb Lake (Lake Louise) — Anglers switched tactics over the last week putting their efforts into trolling for splake instead of fishing the shallows. Fish were caught using deep divers, stingers and stickbaits in waters 8 to 50 feet deep.

Elk River — Fishing for steelhead is slow but the persistent anglers are catching some up at the dam. Try spawn on the bottom or casting. Suckers are really stacked up at the dam. Smallmouth bass are in the harbor and at the dam.

Boardman River —

Smallmouth bass are being caught when casting spinners and bodybaits. Only a handful of steelhead are still in the river, but those fishing the mouth have caught brown trout and lake trout.

Crystal Lake — Good numbers of perch have been caught but the fish are running small. Good whitefish action was reported on the east end of the lake.

Onekama — Those trolling spoons up near the Barrel and in front of the pier heads have been catching a few chinook and steelhead in 20 to 40 feet of water. Hot colors were chartreuse, orange and gold.

Portage Lake — Panfish and bass are starting to move up into the shallows. Anglers are catching bluegill, crappie and rock bass. Those looking for large and smallmouth bass seemed to have better luck on the drop offs on both the east side and the south end of the lake. Crankbaits and spinner baits have worked best. Northern pike continue to hit throughout the day.

water temperatures continue to slow fishing. Pier anglers had no luck when using spawn or casting spoons. Night anglers have managed to catch a few walleye. Those trolling were able to pick up a few fish when trolling down towards Pentwater and the Project were water temperatures are warmer. They are catching mainly brown trout, but a few chinook salmon are also starting to show up.

• Those who study such things say that the best-selling Girl Scout cookie of all time is the Thin Mint, followed by Samoas (also known as Caramel DeLites) and Peanut Butter Patties.

• In some parts of Alaska, Eskimo ice cream is considered to be quite a treat. That may not seem too odd — after all, who doesn't like ice cream? Consider the recipe, though: caribou fat, seal oil, flaked boiled fish and berries whipped with snow. Mmmmm, tasty.

• William Howard Taft served only one term as president of the United States, but he was a busy man, nonetheless. He served as tax collector, solicitor general, governor of the Philippine Islands, secretary of war and chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, too.

Thought for the Day: "Many a man in love with a dimple makes the mistake of marrying the whole girl." — Stephen Leacock

Challenge: skis to chairs

BOYNE FALLS - For years, Challenge Mountain has looked for ways to use old ski and snowboard equipment the organization can no longer use or is donated to the resale stores and is not able to be used by the program. It seemed a waste to discard equipment of this type. With some ingenious planning, Richard Katz of Challenge Mountain decided it was time to do something about the growing pile of skis and snowboards.

Katz went to work designing chairs from the equipment that could be easily replicated. The organization's executive director then approached the Orion School to see if they would be interested in earning funding for their school as well as for the organization. The students of Orion spend a lot of time at Challenge Mountain in the winter and many are involved with summer programs as well.

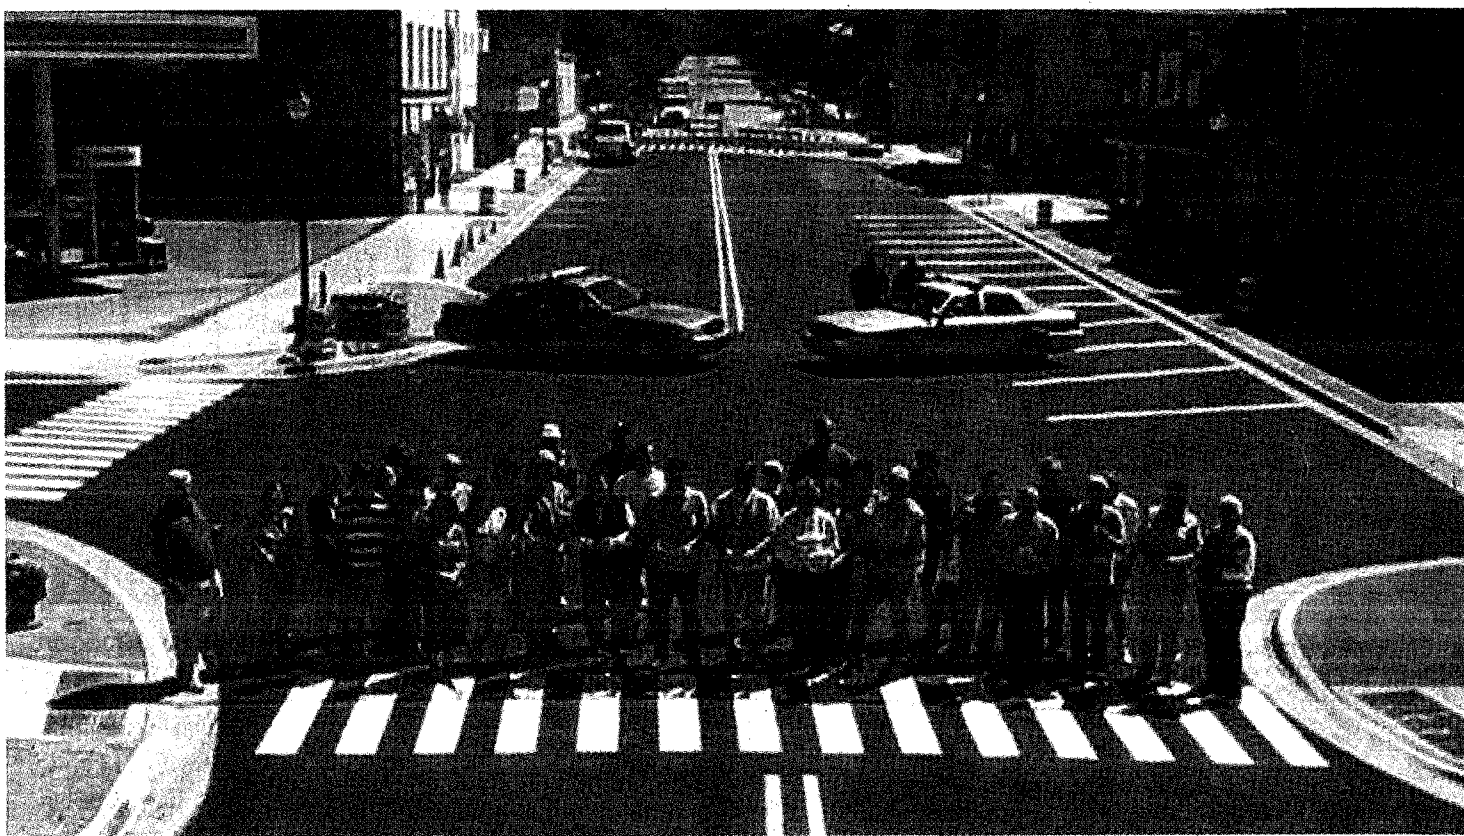

Since winter, students from the Orion School in Boyne Falls, a Char-Em ISD school, have been hard at work raising funds for Challenge Mountain and their school. The students use recycled skis and snowboards to construct furniture from the wintersports equipment. The chairs and other furniture items are extremely well constructed and are selling quickly. The two groups earn funds from the sales of the ski and snowboard furniture.

According to Katz, "This program is not just about building chairs. I have seen incredible differences in the youth that are involved. They have grown so much since we started this. These youth are developing strong friendships, work ethic, team work abilities and a lot more. I am so proud to be working with them."

To view the furniture, please go to the Challenge Mountain website at www.challengemtn.org or either one of the resale stores, in Boyne City or Petoskey. You may purchase the model or even request a particular color. Youth size ski chairs are also available and darling for that special child or grandchild.

Sue Moody, Executive Director said, "This program needs your support. The students have worked diligently making the chairs and are in need of additional equipment. The equipment does not need to be in the best condition, it can even be mismatched. It takes approximately five sets of skis to make a chair, more to make benches. The program is also in need of wood for the frames of the chairs. You have to see this furniture to believe it. They have done a fabulous job and the price is much less than others that you can find online or in other areas. If you would like to donate equipment, you can drop it off at either of our resale stores."

Come visit Lake Street again, for the first time!

You are cordially invited to come down and experience the brand new South Lake Street in downtown Boyne City. In just under two months, this key stretch of our historic downtown has been completely transformed. It is now open and looking great. From building front to building front everything is new on Lake Street, and much of what lies below it too! Lake Street has new street lights, new sidewalks, new trees and planters, new parking and new utilities to handle the needs of Boyne City for decades to come. While you are checking out the street, be sure to check out the many fine Lake Street merchants, and their neighbors throughout downtown Boyne City.

We know the construction has been a challenge at times. But working together, we have made the best of it and successfully gotten through this phase of the project with our town and our temperaments intact. And look what we have to show for it!

This truly was a cooperative effort between the business owners, the contractor, H&D Inc., the engineering firm of C2AE, the Boyne City Main Street Program, the Michigan Economic Development Corporation and the City of Boyne City. The project was opened on schedule and completed on budget.

Some fine tuning will still need to be done. The trees are scheduled to be planted the week after Memorial Day, along with other finishing touches.

As we move forward, we thank the entire community for its patience, cooperation, and support as we continue to work together to build a better Boyne. One project down and only three more to go until we are done for this year!

Again, our thanks to everyone for making this the success it is.
