Boyne City parking pains

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - A growing pain for nearly every city is the need for more parking in the downtown area.

A recent city action by a majority of city commissioners that exempts certain property owners from providing parking spaces otherwise required by the zoning ordinance has raised the ire of some downtown business owners and residents.

At a May 22 city commission meeting, commissioners Ron Grunch, Mayor Eleanor Stackus and Jerry Douglas approved a parking exempt boundary district that allows property owners within the boundaries to pay into a city parking fund instead of providing parking spaces, if the city planning commission approves. The exemption benefits the One Water Street proposed development that would be required to provide 147 parking spaces based on the size and use of the site, according to the city zoning ordinance. The developer's plans were approved by the planning commission for 89 spaces. The developer must pay into the city parking fund for the remaining 58 spaces it is not required to provide. The fee property owners would pay to the city's parking fund in lieu of providing spaces is under review.

Downtown business owner Bob Huff of Huff Pharmacy said that not requiring One Water Street to provide the full 147 spaces would infringe on existing parking spaces. He said it would have a negative impact on businesses downtown when people cannot find a parking space.

"You are making concessions on property that was ours in the first place," Huff said. See PARKING, page 2

Cemetery vandals sentenced

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - Three juveniles were sentenced on May 30, for malicious destruction of tombstones and larceny at the city's Maple Lawn Cemetery on March 25.

The juveniles are under the Charlevoix County Probate Court's jurisdiction.

Two of the offenders had previous records and sentences included secure detention. Secure detention places juveniles in a locked, armed guard facility. Following time served in secure detention, the sentences included non-secure detention that often involves intensive treatment for behavior problems.

One juvenile with a prior record was placed directly into secure detention from the May 30 sentencing hearing. He is serving 20 days and will then serve 15 additional days in non-secure detention. Subsequently, he will serve under house arrest with treatment.

The other juvenile with a prior record was sentenced to 40 days in secure detention and began serving 20 days immediately, with 20 days held in abeyance. He was also sentenced to serve 30 days of non-secure detention that is held in abeyance.

Both of the juveniles were also sentenced to 80 hours of community service work. The victims decide the community service to be performed. The victims are relatives or friends of the deceased whose tombstones were damaged, or who had monuments stolen.

The third juvenile had no previous record. He was sentenced to 60 days of combined detention with 20 days of secure detention and 40 days of non-secure detention. He will perform 60 hours of community service work.

The probate court contacts the victims to determine their desires for restitution.

Oh, happy day

By B. J. HETLER

BOYNE CITY - One student waiting in cap and gown to enter Boyne City High School's gymnasium described graduation day as a "big relief." Another student said the day was "nerve-wracking," but every graduate looked happy as they exited the gymnasium after graduation ceremonies Sunday.

Valedictorian, Lindsay Baic, spoke to her fellow graduates about the lessons learned above and beyond basic studies.

"The other lessons we've learned are about responsibility, respect, communication, and teamwork," Baic said. Responsibility includes being responsible for yourself, respect means to respect elders, peers and self, listening is key in communication and teamwork teaches important interaction, Baic said.

Salutatorian Emilee Moeke told her peers she was "overcome with dread" when she learned she would have to speak at the graduation ceremony. But, she learned that giving in to that emotion may cause her to not try.

"We must focus on the rewards, because there are no rewards if one doesn't try," she said.

School district superintendent, Bob Alger, encouraged the 94 graduates to grasp new opportunities.

"Keep your eyes, heart and mind wide open, take chances and don't be afraid to fail," Alger said.

EAST JORDAN - The 2007 graduating class held their commencement ceremony in Boswell Stadium at East Jordan High School on Sunday. Family and friends filled the bleachers as 97 graduates were honored for scholastic achievements.

Principal Tamala Jackson introduced Superintendent R.A. "Chip" Hansen, who welcomed all assembled to the 116th East Jordan High School graduation. Principal Jackson announced the honor students, followed by the choir selection, "For Just a Little While," led by faculty member William Sommerfeldt. Following the choir's piece, Mr. Sommerfeldt conducted the band in a rendition of "Novena."

Salutatorian Jessica Roberts took the dias and spoke about her high school experience and what lies beyond.

"Happiness is to be found along the way," Jessica said. "Enjoy the journey and embrace the possibilities."

Jessica is the daughter of Roxann and Rick Roberts of East Jordan and plans to attend Michigan State University, majoring in pediatrics. She graduated with a 3.96 grade point average.

Valedictorian Jill Drenth then addressed the crowd and described what made her high school years memorable.

"Stereotypical clique boundaries are blurred here," she said, remembering her first high school impressions. Jill paid tribute to her teachers and classmates for a rewarding school career, adding, "Education continues forever."

Jill maintained a 4.0 grade point average and will be attending Saginaw Valley State University as a nursing student. Her parents are Steve and Gail Drenth of East Jordan.

BOYNE CITY - A new film from Boyne City High School's visual imaging class will be shown in the high school auditorium at 7 p.m., Thursday. said to commissioners. "You shouldn't be doing this (One Water Street) project. You're doing this project because somebody has a lot of money." Area resident Vasco Zucchiatti voiced concern that commissioners were setting a precedent by not requiring the full number of spaces from the One Water Street developer.

"If you allow all of this to happen, you're setting a precedent and the next guy who comes along will want the same thing," Zucchiatti said. "If you do it for one, you have to do it for another." But commissioner Jerry Douglas said the city is trying to create a walkable city. Mayor Eleanor Stackus agreed. "I think Main Street (Program) has done an excellent job of creating walking downtown," she said. "I personally don't feel we have a parking problem in our community."

Recent counts by the city indicate public on street and lot parking spaces downtown number 662 spaces. Private spaces downtown, such as at the hotel or other businesses, number a total of 729, according to city manager Michael Cain.

Cain said the total of 1,391 spaces does not include spaces at Veterans Park and the city hall complex or Peninsula Park. Commissioner Ron Grunch voiced his support of the parking exempt boundaries and for the exemption given to One Water Street developers. "One Water Street is really sticking their necks out with the economy today," Grunch said. He pointed out that the project would create jobs. "If we think we're going to keep this community going with manufacturing, it's not going to happen. I think the project is good for Boyne City."

Essay winners awarded

The Boyne Area Kiwanis provided breakfast to the winners of the 2nd Annual Eddie Essay Contest winners. Fifth grade students at Concord Academy and the Middle Schools in Boyne City and Boyne Falls answered the question: If you had $50 to give to your favorite charity, which would it be and why?

This Kiwanis effort teaches the children about the importance of giving and informs us all about the many great charitable organizations that we have in our community. The Eddie Essay is named after a Kiwanis member's brother, Ed

Hughes, whose life and spirit exemplify the nature of giving.

A committee of Kiwanis members selected a winner from each school as well as an overall winner. The one to two page essays were evaluated on the basis of content as well as grammar, spelling and sentence structure. The students read their essays aloud to their proud parents, teachers, principles and Kiwanis members. The fifth-graders inspiring words touched many hearts at the Awards Ceremony on May 10. See for yourself as you read their essays.

Representatives from the charitable organizations also attended the breakfast honoring the winning students and received donations of a $50 contribution from the students made possible through Kiwanis and co-sponsors from area businesses and Eddie's family. The winning essays were written by Emily Matelski, from Boyne Falls, entitled "My Food Pantry;" Jill Solomon, from Boyne City, "Pennies for Patients;" Rebecca Pensyl from Concord Academy, "Hospice"; and the grand prize winner was Rosalyn Cassidy writing about "The Cancer Crusaders." The grand prize winner was given a $100 check to contribute to the NMCC. Huntington Bank honored each of the winning essayists with a $50 savings bond.

The Boyne Area Kiwanis Club is committed to helping children in the community through healthy activities, education, and fundraising. The club meets at Robert's Restaurant in Boyne City every Thursday morning at 7 a.m.

For additional information and specific guidelines to the Eddie Essay Contest, contact Bernadette Beyer at 231-582-0670 or Mike Webster at 231-535-2957.

Rosalyn Cassidy (grand prize winner), Emily Matelski, Jill Solomon, and Rebecca Pensyl, show the awards presented to them by the Boyne Area Kiwanis Club for their winning essays.

Jill Solomon presents a $50.00 check to "Pennies for Patients."

Eddie essay about hospice

BY REBECCA E. PENSYL
BOYNE FALLS
PUBLIC SCHOOL

If I had fifty dollars to give I would give it to Hospice because they help people with their illness. I have had Hospice help with my Nana. Hospice is a great organization for anybody with a fatal illness. Hospice has different workers for different needs of their patients.

My Nana had Hospice come in to her apartment and help my mom take care of her. A home health aid and nurses came in to give my Nana her medicines and to take care of her medical needs. Hospice is a great organization. They made it possible for my Nana to die at home.

Hospice has different workers for different things. They have nurses, volunteers and home health aides. All of the jobs are important in this organization. Volunteers are a big part of Hospice. Volunteers bring the unique gift of themselves to support the dying patient and their family. The nurses and home health aides go into homes to take care of the patient. They help give them baths, their medicine and make sure they are medically doing okay. They are all very important to Hospice and the patients.

Hospice also provides medical equipment such as hospital beds, oxygen and bathroom needs. They also provide physical, speech and occupational therapy. Hospice tries to make it as easy as possible for their patients.

I think Hospice should have the donation because they help their patients and their families through these sad times. They make their final days as easy and peaceful as possible.

Eddie essay about cancer

BY ROSALYN CASSIDY
BOYNE FALLS
PUBLIC SCHOOL

If I had $50 to give to any charity, I would give it to Northern Michigan Cancer Crusaders because I know someone who has cancer. She had breast cancer, but then got better. Now she has brain and lung cancer at the same time. Her name is Linda Gardner. She is a member of NMCC and she has been so thoughtful and is so giving to others who have cancer. NMCC helps people who can't pay for their medical bills and don't have the money it takes to get better. No matter how bad she feels she still goes to volunteer for all of the activities.

Linda has been through some pretty rough times but she keeps going. She is not one of those people who uses their sickness as an excuse not to help others. She has also been so strong through this battle. The thing about cancer is you don't know what can happen to you; anything can happen - it's such a big mystery. I read this one book called Sudaku which takes place during the time when the Atom bomb hit Japan in World War II. Sudaku is a little Japanese girl who got cancer from the bomb blast and stayed in the hospital a long time. She met a friend there who had cancer at the same time.

He died before her. One night she fell asleep and she never woke up the next morning. Sudaku made thousands of origami cranes to symbolize peace for the world. She asked her friends and family to hang them up all along the walls of her hospital room so that everyone could think of peace instead of the sadness of cancer. Linda

Gardner is a lot like Sudaku. She spreads peace and kindness to all people who have been diagnosed with cancer by volunteering her tune for NMCC.

Cancer is a horrible thing. It's like a really bad with your family worrying about you non-stop. It's the same as AIDS; everyone's at risk. There is no pill to take so you won't get it. Some people don't really care about this disease as long as they don't get it, they don't realize what other people are going through who have it. What about the people who do have cancer, fighting for their lives everyday?

I saw a chart that showed how many people survive cancer, 4 out of 100 or 4 percent. $50 may not seem like a lot of money, but it's like a crane. If one person gives $50, then another person might give, and the generosity will spread. I want to lend a helping hand, just like Linda.

My food pantry

BY EMILY MATELSKI
BOYNE FALLS
PUBLIC SCHOOL

Did you know that the Boyne City Food Pantry is one of my favorite charitable organizations? I like them because I believe that everyone, even the ones who can't afford it, deserve food. That helps the people in our community a lot. If you would like to donate or buy some food then you go right to 401 State Street in Boyne City.

I chose this organization because right now I know about all of Michigan's jobs going under. Especially, because of the families who have to buy food, clothes, and provide shelter for everyone in their house.

Every year the Girl Scouts (I am a Girl Scout) donate cookies to this food pantry. One year we even made birthday bags filled with cake, presents, and party decorations, so whoever needed them could have them.

Wouldn't it be great to donate fifty dollars to the food pantry? That money could go towards food in which people could buy for a small or no amount. The food pantry could also use to build a playground for the youngsters near the pantry. Then, if people can not afford a playground, they could play there.

Okay, sorry, but I have to go. Now I am going to donate food to the Boyne City Food Pantry.

Pennies for Patients

BY JILL SOLOMON
BOYNE FALLS
PUBLIC SCHOOL

There are many charities in the world. Some are for cancer, the homeless, the Red Cross and a lot more. It is also important to give to charities because think of some kids that might be in the hospital with a fatal disease. If you were one of those people, wouldn't you want things to make you feel better? If you think about it there are many things people have to give up because they have fatal diseases. A lot of it is from people with cancer. That's why if I had 50 dollars to give to any charity I would want to give it to Pennies for Patients.

Pennies for Patients, is a charity, where you donate money for people with cancer. What they will do is give each class in a school a box for that class to donate money to Pennies for Patients. The class with the most money raised gets a pizza party. Millions of dollars have been raised. Fifty dollars would help this charity because it might help get closer to finding a cure or maybe it will help a patient in the hospital or just make someone

I chose this charity because many people in the world that have cancer or have died from cancer. People who have family members or relatives would not want them to die because it is hard to lose them. Another reason why I chose Pennies for Patients is because someone I know has cancer and he is only 6 or 7 years old! What is really surprising is he will probably live a short life. He may not even live until next year. Wouldn't that be hard for his family and his relatives?

I chose Pennies for Patients because so many people have cancer or have died from it and would like them by giving them money.

Happy and proud "campers" are the Boyne Area Seniors and their advisory council members Tammy Whitley, Todd Sorenson, Ron Grunch, Janet Shepherd, and Nels Northup. The Boyne Area Seniors will be inviting the Boyne area community to Sunday dinner to celebrate burning of the mortgage. The dinner is also a fundraiser to create an endowment fund for future maintenance and an irrigation system. Dinner will be held from 12 to 2 p.m.; cost for adults will be $8, with children under 12, $4.

Fundraising began in January 2001 when Boyne Area Seniors became a 501(C)(3) tax-exempt foundation. The new senior center represents a $980,000 investment. With the participation of six townships, Bay, Eveline, Evangeline, Wilson, Boyne Valley, Melrose, and the City of Boyne City, voters approved .35 mills for three years that raised $754,000.

By Nancy Northup

Boyne Area Seniors have leased the Senior Center to Charlevoix County Commission on Aging. The COA provides staffing and serves home cooked meals daily. Northwest Michigan Hospice provides services from the Senior Center. Many community events are now being held in the facility. The senior center is available to rent for wedding receptions, funeral luncheons, showers, family reunions, and special events. For rental information contact Nels Northup at 231-549-5647. The telephone number for the Boyne Area Senior Center is 231-582-6682. Tax-exempt donations can be sent to Boyne Area Seniors, P O Box 964, Boyne City, Mich., 49712.

All in all, they have been working pretty hard to get this mortgage paid off, so be sure to share this special mortgage-burning event with them.

Plastic plant containers are not recyclable

To the editor:
Plant Plastic???

Hello all you enthusiastic beautifiers of the earth. The spring planting season is upon us. You can hardly wait to get your fingers on the blooming plants and sprouting vegetables available in nurseries, garden shops, and every street corner in your neighborhood. There is only one downside to all of this passion to introduce these sprouts and seedlings to your garden plots..... their containers. Unfortunately, plastic plant containers are not recyclable. Sorry. They need to be collected and placed with your household waste and not in the recycling containers. They contaminate the recyclable plastic, and then none of the load is recyclable. That wastes all of our efforts to recycle. Please help us by properly disposing of your plant plastic. Happy gardening.

Insist that breach of contract be corrected

To the editor:

A contract by definition is "An agreement between two or more parties, especially one that is written and enforceable by law." On Aug. 14, 1935, our government made a contract with the American citizens - a contract that if we paid into the Social Security system for our entire working lives, our money would be returned to us, with interest, in our retirement. Now Social Security is heading towards bankruptcy, our benefits are in danger and liberals in Congress refuse to take action to fix the failing system. In fact, unelected State Department bureaucrats want to give our Social Security to illegal aliens from Mexico. Are we asking the wrong questions during election years? Our representatives in Congress neither pay into nor collect from Social Security because the benefits are not suitable for persons of their elevated status in our society so, years ago they voted in their own benefit plan that works like this: when they retire they continue to collect the same pay until they die, (even when convicted of a crime while in office and are behind bars) and it may increase from time to time for Cost Of Living Adjustments (COLA) that is much higher than we receive. For example, Senator Byrd and Congressman White, and their wives, may expect to collect $7,800,000 with their wives collecting $275,000 during the last years of their lives calculated on an average life span. And what is their cost for this excellent retirement plan? Zero - nothing, and "We The People" pick up the tab for this plan that includes a gold card medical package as well. The Social Security system can be repaired by making one change - pull the Golden Fleece Retirement Plan out from under the Congress and put them into the Social Security system with the rest of us. We could then sit back and watch how fast they get their hands out of the Social Security Trust Fund, increase the COLA and make the system work as it was intended on Aug. 14, 1935. We will reap what we sow and if we plant the seeds of knowledge and awareness in our fellow citizens, we can make a difference, but only if we become involved and insist that this breach of contract be corrected.

variety of issues from the inevitable financial and housing decisions to the challenges of caring for aging parents from a distance. Lagerstrom will also cover family dynamics and available government programs.

Wayne State University and has worked in public health, home healthcare and hospice throughout her career. Currently, she manages the hospital's community-based services for the elderly and disabled.

WEEKLY Health Tips

By Steve Czerkes Pharmacist

Nuts Are Heart Healthy

There is growing evidence that nuts can be part of a heart-healthy diet. Nuts lower the LDL or "bad" cholesterol level in the blood. They are also high in omega-3 fatty acids which can help prevent irregular heart rhythms that can lead to heart attacks. They also contain arginine, which increases production of nitric oxide. This in turn helps keep artery walls flexible and less prone to blood clots. Nuts are also a source of fiber and a high fiber diet may help prevent diabetes and heart disease. Nuts are very high in calories so they should be eaten in moderation and in place of unhealthy foods.

Voice finishes third in pole vault

By GREG GIELCZYK
SPORTS WRITER

COMSTOCK PARK — Boyne City senior pole vaulter Taylor Voice rivaled Mother Nature when it came to making some noise at the Michigan High School Athletic Association Division 3 track and field finals at Comstock Park on Saturday.

The storms that had been forecast eventually swept over the four venues, and the accompanying lightning forced meet organizers to halt the proceedings several times.

Despite the distractions brought on by the weather, and having the meet stopped and re-started multiple times, the competitors remained focused.

Voice certainly had no trouble keeping his goal of a state title in his mind.

Although he was denied the gold medal in the pole vault, Voice did send a bolt of lightning through the Ramblers spectators in attendance — and certainly his coach, Andy Place.

He finished third in the event, with a vault of 14 feet, 0.10 inches and thus earned All-State recognition, breaking his own school record twice as he went through the preliminaries.

The only miss he had was at 14 feet, 3 inches. Kyle Lund of Lakeview won the state championship at 14-9, and runnerup Monahan Brad of Hudson went 14-6.

Voice was All-State last year as well with a fourth place in the pole vault.

Boyne City finished with six points on Voice's third place. Detroit Country Day edged Williamston, 70-69, for the team title.

Natasha Bell became the first Boyne City female sprinter to become All-State, finishing seventh in the 200-meter dash with a time of 26.98 seconds.

She also made it to the semifinals in the 100-meter dash.

"This is an awesome accomplishment," said Place. "She has been running great all year, and she deserves the All-State recognition. The competition at the state meet is tremendous.

"She had to run some of her best times all year to advance to out of the preliminary heats. She competed in the 100-meter dash at the state meet last year, but did not make it out of the preliminary heat.

"Her goal at the beginning of the season was to make it to the 100-meter semifinal heat. She did that, and more, this year. I think the 200 meters is her best event."

Bell was the regional and conference champion in both the 100 and 200 this season.

She was also part of the 1600-meter relay, which did not run until nearly 9 p.m. due to the weather delays.

Devils get their due

By TROY BRUZEWSKI

MANCELONA - Pete Inman expected a good game from Mancelona, but didn't expect Charlevoix to lose.

The East Jordan baseball coach knew if the Red Devils defeated the Ironmen in the district opener Saturday, they had a good chance of facing Lake Michigan Conference rival Charlevoix in the final. The same team that finished ahead of East Jordan in the final conference standings, despite losing to the Red Devils this season.

The Devils earned the win over Mancelona, then defeated surprise winner Boyne City in the final to earn their first district title in several years.

Matt Pater pitched a complete game in the opener, a 3-1 victory for the Devils. He had four strikeouts and scattered six hits. Ryan Gettel led the East Jordan attack, with three hits and two RBI, including the game-winner.

Trailing 1-0 to the Ironmen, Gettel hit a two-RBI single in the second inning, to give the Devils enough for the win. But in the seventh inning, he scored an insurance run off a Mancelona throwing error.

Inman says pitching and defense were what led East Jordan to a third consecutive win over Mancelona this year.

Also running on that team for the Ramblers were Casmear Kerr, Caitlyn Wonski and Jessica Nichols.

It was the first time Nichols, a senior, qualified for the state meet during her excellent track career. The team ran close to their best time of the year.

"Jessica really had an outstanding season this year after coming off an outstanding volleyball season," Place said. "She is a tremendous all-around athlete."

"She ran her personal best in the 100-meter dash. She also ran a good 300-meter low hurdle race. She is our school and LMC record-holder in the 300 low hurdles."

Wonski, a junior, finished 10th in the pole vault last year, but struggled to a height of 9 feet this year. She vaulted a personal best of 10 feet earlier in the season. She is a two-time regional and conference champion in the pole vault.

"I am very proud of our athletes," said Place. "We have had a great season. Our All-State athletes contributed a lot to our team, but our successful season was truly a team effort."

Devils

"Pater pitched a terrific game, when he got in trouble, he fought his way out," Inman said. "And when it counted the most, in the late innings, he sent them down 1-2-3."

"Defensively, it may have been our best played game of the year."

The lone Mancelona run was driven in by Greg Blanco, who also pitched a solid game for the Ironmen. When these two teams met in a doubleheader this season, Blanco didn't pitch too much, which was strategic.

"When we played this season, we already had our draws for districts and knew we'd be playing each other," Inman said. "Blanco only pitched one inning in that doubleheader and neither of us wanted to show everything we had."

East Jordan advanced to the district final, where the Devils and coach expected to see Charlevoix. But an upset win by Boyne City, put the Ramblers in the final.

The Devils also swept Boyne City in the regular season and had a likewise result in the final, winning in four innings 15-0.

After Boyne got out the first East Jordan batter of the game, the Devils rattled off four runs. They followed that with three more in the second inning and eventually winning by mercy.

Tom Pentecost pitched four innings of no-hit baseball, striking out three and allowing one walk.

Pater led the offense with three hits and RBI, Jeff Keyser had three hits and two RBI and David Marr added a pair of RBI.

"I was really expecting Charlevoix, but we got Boyne City and we got on them early," Inman said. "(Boyne) got the first out on a routine play, then we started scoring and put it away."

The district title advances the Devils to the regional at Kalkaska Saturday and will be on the other end of a season series record. They face Elk Rapids in the regional, a team that swept the Devils this season.

"We lost two games to them, but they were two good games," Inman said. "We lost one 3-1 and another 4-3. We were in both games and had opportunities to win. It should be a good game."

FISHING REPORT

The following is the weekly fishing report, as provided by the Department of Natural Resources, for the Northwest Lower Peninsula region:

Rogers City — Fishing this week has picked up with limit catches of lake trout taken. The better fishing has been from Calcite all the way down to Adams Point and beyond when fishing as shallow as 20 feet and as deep as 80 feet.

They have been eating gobies which like to live in and around the rocks so try fishing the areas with a rocky bottom. Surface water temperatures are now in the upper 40's.

Presque Isle — Fishing has improved, and the good spots have been between the lighthouses and off North Bay. Those fishing the shallow waters have taken atlantic salmon when using planer boards with green bodybaits or spoons.

Thunder Bay River — A few walleye were taken up near the Ninth Street Dam. Anglers are trolling and fishing from shore or the bridge. Freshwater drum and rock bass have also been caught.

Harrisville — Lake trout are hitting in 50 to 70 feet of water. Anglers are trolling out about five to seven miles and using artificial baits.

Van Etten Lake — Walleye have been caught between Loud Island and Pierce Point when drifting crawler harnesses or trolling with crankbaits. Some are trolling around Loud Island for northern pike. A few perch have also been caught.

Oscoda — Boat anglers are starting to catch lake trout just outside the pierheads in 100 feet of water. Pier anglers are catching walleye when drifting crawlers.

Tawas — Walleye have been caught when vertical jigging near the Yacht Club. Pier fishing was slow, but the bass fishing has been excellent.

Au Gres — In addition to phenomenal walleye fishing from boats, shore anglers have taken fish when casting near the mouth of the river.

Houghton Lake — Walleye fishing has been good with fish taken in the early morning or late evening. Both large and smallmouth bass have been caught on crawlers. Crappie fishing was fair and bluegills were slow.

Most of the fish caught have been taken in 6 to 8 feet of water.

Bear River — At Petoskey, pier and shore anglers caught some smallmouth bass when using crawlers near the mouth. The fish were 2 to 3 pounds each. Fishing should get better as the water temperatures rise.

Thumb Lake (Lake Louise) — Few anglers are targeting splake. Large and smallmouth bass have been caught when casting tubes, jigs, crankbaits or crawlers in about 12 feet of water along the west side of the lake. Bluegill fishing has been good. Try using crawlers or casting with spinners in the backwater areas around the island and the northwest corner of the lake while staying in waters up to about 6 feet deep. Yellow perch and rock bass have also been caught.

Traverse City — On the East Bay, good lake trout fishing was reported off the Bluffs and on the Humps off Dock Road. Whitefish action has been slow as the fish are still in waters 240 feet deep or more.

Perch were caught off Old Mission and the carp can be found on the flats on the east shore. Fishing has been very good for lake trout on the West Bay. Whitefish are being taken at the Red Buoy #8 when jigging with Swedish Pimples. Chinook have been taken at the Gravel Pit on the east shore.

Boardman River — Suckers are abundant in the river below the Union Street Dam. Smallmouth bass have been caught casting hardware or using crawlers.

Long Lake — Walleye anglers are still taking some keepers when trolling a red and chartreuse crawler harness in 12 to 35 feet of water on the north end of the lake. They are using drift socks to slow them down. Some are dragging a crawler harness with one hook and a leech on the southern end of the lake while others are trolling with Wiggle Warts or Hot-n-Tots in natural bait colors. Perch are still being caught in 30 to 50 feet of water on both the north and the south ends of the lake.

Crystal Lake — Good size whitefish are being caught in 40 to 50 feet of water on the east side and on the south end of the lake.

Ludington — Pier anglers have had no luck. The baitfish are just starting to show up in the harbor, so the fish should start moving in soon. Boat anglers are catching chinook and lake trout. Most are going up to the Point, but a few are trolling south of the harbor down to the Project. Brown trout are still being caught on spoons and flies along the beach.

Strange BUT TRUE

- Have you ever seen a sesquipedalian? You certainly have — in fact, there's one in this very paragraph. "Sesquipedalian" simply means "long word."
- When you picture Elizabethan England, you probably don't conjure up a mental image of terribly hygienic people. In fact, it's reputed that the queen herself bathed only twice a year.
- Colgate toothpaste is good for more than just cleaning those pearly whites, evidently. Domestic scientists claim that it's also great for cleaning piano keys and removing scratches from glass.

- It was Atari founder Nolan Bushnell who made the following observation: "Business is a good game — lots of competition and a minimum of rules. You keep score with money."

Muscle cars and memories

Like a scene from "Back to the Future," this ghostly racer emerges from a cloud of burned rubber.

Jim Hellebuyck puts pedal to the metal in his "SS" Chevy.

The "Burn Out" is always a focal point of the BCPD Drags. This Jeep was a crowd favorite that turned in some of the fastest times of the day.

Muscle from years gone by line up to flex once again at the BCPD drag races.

Police Chief Randy Howard gives final instructions at the drivers meeting moments before the drag races get under way.

Cub Scouts and flags and the innocence of youth — a big part of a day of remembrance.
